One Reason why farmers do not have too big an acreage in bundle crops this year is that it is about as expensive a crop as you can raise and the returns per acre are about as low as any crop you raise. Nowadays the twine to bind bundles with is as high as a cat's back, cutting is $3 an acre and shocking a dollar an hour. After you spend that money the feed is still in the field and has to stay there awhile before you can make final disposition of it, either to stack or to haul to a buyer. That bill is in the neighborhood of three cents a bundle. On top of that to get the most out of it as feed it needs to be ground. Anything that has much labor in it has two strikes against it as a money-making crop.

Mostly Political. Every election year the people who hold elections are reminded again that there are many people who do not know how to vote, or if they do their ballots do not indicate as much. This year in practically every box were ballots that would have taxed Solomon himself had he tried to solve the mystery of what was the intention of the franchise holder. This was because of the double manner in which a ballot could be voted. Many voters started voting the old fashioned Texas way changed about halfway down the ballot and then changed back again. Or they started by using the check mark in front of the name and then changed over to the old style. Evidently they then put their ballots into the box without checking back to see what they had done. The judges, whose job it was to find out the intent of the voter and thus record it, lost quite a bit of time in solving one riddle right after another. Tip to absentee voters: You were among the worst. The special canvassing board worked from 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon until midnight with only 154 votes. Get your little book down and study it. Your vote is needed. And you need to vote so the election officials can tell what your intentions are. It can be done!

The Fact is that some people just never are going to learn how to vote. They are told over and over again by election judges, year after year, and have to be told again the next time. It seems simple if you have a mind that runs that way. But to others it is quite a task. That may be a part of the answer to the query, why do many, many people not vote? It may be they don't know how and are embarrassed when they have to admit it.

More than a thousand Floyd County people did not vote in Saturday's primary. Explanation may be contained in two or three theories. One of these would be lack of interest because there were not enough contests to appeal to all. Two or three hot state races might have increased the vote a few hundred. One of the interesting theories to cogitate upon is the possibility that a good many may have stayed out of the primary with the intention of voting the Republican ticket this fall. A third is that Saturday came on a week-end when people had been fed up on politics instead of having their appetites whetted. A fourth contributory factor definitely was that a good many farm operators got busy in their battle with the weeds and just didn't have enough hours in the day. Seven o'clock came before they realized it.

The Conservatives, middle of the roaders, whatever they may be called, had control of most of the precinct conventions Saturday. The attendance was much smaller than in the May conventions. We are speaking in terms of Floyd county. The state convention in September, to which the county will name delegates when they meet Saturday, will have all to do with naming the state party officials for another two years, meaning 31 senatorial district chairmen and co-chairmen, as well as a state chairman and co-chairman. If we have it in mind correctly the September convention can undo all of what the May conventions may have done in this regard.

Big Pump Jack. You don't have to be in a hurry since it will be there quite a while. It's down at the Adams farm, where Standard of Texas has rigged up the Minnie Adams No. 1. The installation is a ten or fifteen-thousand dollar thing. Contrary to the usual thought of a pump in a water man's mind it towers into the air 18 or 20 feet, the walking beam is a massive thing and the pump has a stroke of seven feet. They say the installation uses the same pattern as a water well at the bottom of the column with a check valve, cylinder and all.

Bundles for livestock may turn out to be a short commodity this fall. Too much cotton, too much wheat, too much combine feed for the cattleman to feel too good about the outlook for January. He likes something to fill his cattle to go along with wheat grazing even if the grazing is very, very goog. If the pinch gets too tight he'll just go to town with his stock, of course, and wait for another day. But that goes a great deal against his inclination and will be done only as a last resort. When a cattleman sells out he is out of business just like the grocery man is when he sells out.

The egg is a perishable product. It cannot stand rough treatment nor maintain the high quality and grade is possessed when laid if given improper care.

Historical Picture 'Quo Vadis', Scheduled Days at Capada Drive-In Beginning Sunday

For the first time in the history of the Capada Drive-In Theatre in Floydada presents a spectacle of movie goers bound through this drive-in is the greatest of them all. The greatest of them all you recall in your history the great Roman Empire, Nero and his courtiers was the greatest of slave girls, of men just to please the wick-

Robert Taylor and Debora Kerr... have lead parts in "Quo Vadis" to be shown four nights here beginning Sunday.

... can see it on the Capada Drive In Theatre. "Quo Vadis" has a three thousand, the Robert Taylor and Debora Kerr plays the part of the soldier, faithful to the discover what ruin is bringing to his then Marcus (Robert Taylor) to a revolt to destroy the cruel passions and the tyrant Nero. Men of Christians in the sacrifice of the girl to a wild, mad rescue the bull, a battle and you'll see the par-face of Jesus and touched his hand, the fisherman, called Simon Peter. Regardless of what religion you practice, the words of Peter in this scene carry a terrific impact. You'll actually hear the speech that Peter told when Jesus looked down to Peter. You remember this is where Jesus told Peter "Thou art Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church" and then Peter told the crowd that Jesus had guided his feet to Rome to build that church. This terrific scene, and hundreds of others that have been taken from history are presented as they actually happened.

This picture took over three years in the making. And a cast of over three thousand. And is three solid hours of the finest film entertainment. It's a family picture. It's colossal. You remember that back in this time imperial Rome was then master of the world. Her conquests radiated to Greece, Spain, Africa, Asia Minor, Germany, France, and Britain. For three hundred years these nations had gone down in turn before the sword of their conquerors, before the power of their Roman masters. Rome was the center of the empire.

But the inevitable happened. With power came corruption unsurpassed. No man was sure of his life. The individual was at the mercy of the state. Murder re-placed justice. Rulers of Conquered nations surrendered their helpless subjects to bondage. High and low alike, their helpless subjects, became Roman Slaves, Roman Hostages. There seemed no escape from the whip and the sword.

That any force on earth could shake the foundations of this pyramid of power and corruption of human misery and slavery seemed inconceivable. Then the miracle occurred on a Roman cross in Judea, a man died to make men free. To spread the gospel of love and redemption, and bring hope. Thirty years later, the anti-Christ known to history as the emperor Nero, undertook to crush this hope. "Quo Vadis" is the story of that immortal conflict and of the final victory of the Christian people. You'll remember it as long as you live.

"Quo Vadis" starts at the Capada Drive In Theatre in Floydada Sunday night and will have a four-day running.

Quo Vadis will be shown one-time only each night, August 3-4-5-6, beginning at 8:15, Mr. Mounts, manager of Capada said.

As a centerpiece on the highly polished bare table, in the dining room, were yellow water lilies in a crystal container on a reflector with blue lighted candles in crystal holders.

The yellow punch was served from a crystal punch bowl, encircled with ivy leaves. On the rim of the bowl yellow cannas were placed. The punch, with angel food chunks iced in blue and yellow, was served by Mrs. Charlie Lewis, assisted by Mrs. M. P. Goen and Mrs. Orland Howard.

Presenting and sending gifts were Mesdames C. A. Caffee, Maurice Campbell, J. A. Colston, Grady Freeman, Gilbert L. Fawer, I. T. Graves, Jim Morrison, W. H. Nelson, W. S. Poole, H. N. Powell, Claude Ring, J. B. Colston, W. T. Conner;

And Mesdames Bill Cross, J. B. Bishop, Baird Bishop, T. P. Collins, Kinder Parris, Bernie Parkey, W. H. Bunch, S. J. McIntosh, Jim Conner, A. T. Swepton, Fred Zimmerman, Sr., M. J. McNeill, Donald H. Pitts, R. T. Jones, Bill McNeill, Everett Perry, L. F. Gresham, Leland Hart, J. M. Willson, Jr., Fred Conner.

Mesdames John R. Tinnin, J. M. Birdwell, R. P. Graves, Herschel Green, J. R. Graves, Bob Finley, Loy Lee Trice, George Stiles, John Buchanan, Tom Hall, W. H. Roberts, Tom Bob Jarboe, Edd Muncy, W. B. Jones, Roe Jones, R. B. McCreavey, Fred Cardinal, Mrs. R. J. Lucius of Many, Louisiana, and Misses Billie Chowning, Joy Bunch, Ann Swepton and Nancy Buchanan.

Guests were invited to call between five and seven o'clock.

Well, we've just about all become political pundits.

Thanks to radio and the press, we know the candidates better than they know each other. We can call their wives by their first names, give the ages of their children, and discourse learnedly on their chances for political success.

We also speak the language: No more shall we attend a committee meeting — we'll caucus. Never again will we agree on a plan — we'll make a deal. Hereafter, when we want to ask a question, we'll rise to a point of order. From now on, we'll send letters, friendly or business, to said person in the Great State of Something, never merely to Oklahoma, Massachusetts or Maine.

When our doorbell rings, we'll hastily turn on a recording of "Happy Days Are Here Again," open the door and greet our neighbor thus: "Will the Lady from the Great Green Stucco Next Door Kindly State Her business?" Or, "And what goes the Delegate from Across the Street Have to Say?"

All this will help fill the aching void left by the cessation of roll calls, fiery oratory and parliamentary procedure that we've washed-dish-washed-out of these past weeks. Having adjusted our housework to the technique of keeping one ear glued to the radio for almost a month, we now feel as the man who learned to walk on the side of a hill must have felt when he visited the plains.

Another little trick we've picked up from the politicians: Never again will we worry about a quarrel between friends. As the words wax hot, we'll smirk knowingly and stay calm. Because there's nothing to worry about. Without a doubt, whoever wins will be pledged the full support of the loser before we adjourn!

Patterson, Though Loser, is Grateful

J. A. Patterson, though a losing candidate, is grateful to his friends for their loyal support and appreciation of the courtesy with which he was treated by the people of the county during his campaign for sheriff.

Patterson said the first of the week he likes it here where he has lived for many years, and likes the folks. The fact that they didn't give him an office he wanted may have been the best thing for him. Anyway, it is democracy in action and he likes it that way win or lose, he said.

Patterson was eliminated in a three cornered battle of the ballots for nomination for sheriff.

TO THE CITIZENS OF FLOYD COUNTY:

Thank you for re-electing me to the Office of County Clerk. Your faithful and loyal support inspires me to render more prompt and efficient services, and I look forward to serving you another two years, confident that I shall receive your continued cooperation.

Respectfully,
Margaret Collier

Red Gregory is back at work after a nice vacation. They visited Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Rucker in Carlsbad, New Mexico. In Hot Springs, New Mexico, they visited with Mrs. Gregory's grandmother; and in Colorado Springs, Colorado, they visited with "Buck" Marricle who is stationed at Camp Carson, nearby — just about five miles from Colorado Springs. Buck was working at the co-op at the time he went into the service.

Lena Mae Anlauf, of Waco, Texas, our new home economist for this area spent Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday with us. Until her transfer she had been working in Oklahoma, Missouri and Arkansas.

Miss Anlauf and I gave a food demonstration Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Seigler, near Wake, in Crosby county. It is always nice to go to Crosby county.

Melvin Henry showed us — the big ones, for the entertainment of the men. It was a most interesting.

A letter recently from Mrs. Alvin Chowning were Kitchen visitors on Thursday evening.

Thursday evening we went to Mt. Blanco for a community meeting. A roaster demonstration was given before the meal was served. The film "Two Square Feet of Cooking Magic" was shown to a group of interested homemakers, giving them ideas on how their roasters might be used, not only for regular cooking but for picnicking. The subject for their program was outdoor cooking. After the demonstration barbecued weiners were served with potato salad, ranch style beans, pickles, punch and cake to a large crowd. The barbecuing was done on a charcoal barbecue grill made by the Darden Welding shop and loaned for the occasion. After supper

Janice Smith Tells of Trip To Washington

Janice Smith, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith, who last year was a trophy winner in New York City at the international music teachers convention writes of her trip to Washington, D. C. recently made, accompanied by her parents and brother, Ronnie. — Ed. Note.

Mother, Daddy, Ronnie and I left home July 2, for Washington, going by way of the skyline drive and Texas, Texas. We spent Wednesday night in Prescott, Arkansas. This was the warmest day of the entire trip.

We enjoyed the pretty country we saw on across Arkansas where we saw our first saw mill in operation. The second night was spent at Nashville, Tennessee. The Tennessee hills were very pretty. It looked so funny to look straight down and see a little field of corn or tobacco on the side of a hill straight up and down.

We passed near the "Hermitage" (home of President Andrew Jackson) near Nashville.

The first tobacco I ever inspected closely was near Knoxville. We stopped at a little field and were looking at the tobacco; the farmer who was an old settler came out and brought us a potted plant. He said it was a Burly tobacco and made about $800 or $900 off his 1/2 acre patch. We asked him how they worked the little fields on the mountain sides. He said "With a hoe" and told us of a man falling off the mountain side out of his field and killing himself.

Skyline Drive Is Pretty
The skyline drive was very pretty on thru Virginia. The part of the state we crossed was mainly dairy. The pastures were beautiful, all the farm houses barns, and silos were huge, and the cows were very fat.

It was a picture to see the pretty dairy cattle grazing on the pretty green hillside. We drove within 13 miles of Washington and spent the night in Fairfax, Virginia, going on into Washington D. C. Sunday morning.

We met the Russell Crawford family and Milton Wiley at the Statler hotel Sunday afternoon. We waited for Mrs. Kirk and party who arrived by train later in the afternoon. All had supper and registered for the International examination we were to take beginning Monday.

The ten pupils started our auditions Monday morning. By late afternoon the Floydada group had all played but were to wait until Thursday to hear the outcome.

Teacher Takes Training

We were able to see very little of our music teacher as she was taking the "teachers training course" along with the other teachers from the various states and had been asked earlier in the year to serve on a panel composed of three teachers—one from Ohio, one from Maryland, Mrs. Kirk, and the president of the International Piano Teachers association, who is from Florida. It is quite an honor to be asked to serve on the panel — (the teachers tell of their different methods and ways of teaching).

Tuesday we went thru the White House and out to the Washington monument. In the afternoon we took pictures of the white house, capitol and other important buildings and etc. Tuesday night I played in the trophy winner's recital.

Wednesday morning we met Congressman George Mahon who took us as a group thru the capitol, House of Representatives and etc. In the afternoon we went on a chartered bus tour of the city making stops at Lincoln and Jefferson memorials and National Art gallery. It was while we were stopped at the Lincoln memorial that President Truman and chauffeur came by on his way to Virginia. Only a few saw him at a glance.

See Smithsonian Institute

Thursday we went thru a part of the Smithsonian Institute — walking all morning but seeing such a little of such a large place. Thursday afternoon we went on the cruise aboard the "SS Mount Vernon."

This was enjoyed by all. We sailed down the Potomac to Mount Vernon, which is the home of George and Martha Washington. We were able to go thru the house and over the grounds which were very, very beautiful. After spending the afternoon we boarded the "SS Mount Vernon" for Washington coming back by way of Marshall Hall park.

This night was the big night. The night of the banquet and when our grades were all revealed. The food was delicious, French food served by Chinese waiters. We were all delighted at the wonderful work the trophy winners did. I knew how happy they were. My score was 113 1/2 points. The little girl who got 3rd in my division made a score of 114 points. After the banquet we went to Mrs. Kirk's room for a visit. After then we all went to our rooms and packed, preparing to leave the next morning.

We started home Friday afternoon coming back by way of Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Maryland, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and arrived home Tuesday afternoon.

FARMERS OF TEXAS

are of Texas Agriculture hands. A prospective farmer followed in the footsteps of his father on the "home farm" to a farm to be inherited. His schooling program was extremely basic and he had no formal training in agriculture. The picture has changed. And the wide organization, the Farmers of America, is particularly interested in agriculture in the middle 1920's, the program has consolidated and spread over the entire United States and into the territories. In Texas alone, the 34th state to join, there are more than 35,000 young people engaged in this program to prepare themselves for a productive life in agriculture. Texas members in Future Farmer chapters accounts for about one-tenth of all the other states combined. Investments of Texas youths in chapter work total more than 13 million dollars. They have over $3 million invested in beef cattle and over $4 million in swine and dairy cows. P. F. A. members are handling poultry projects valued at approximately $700,000 and turkey projects at more than $200,000. They are caring for sheep and goats valued at more than $500,000. Last year, young Texas farmers planted 14,000 acres of corn and 25,000 acres of cotton. Other projects included raising horses, rabbits, oats, forage, fruit, potatoes, melons, vegetables and peanuts. Their largest crop was 48,000 acres in forage and their biggest money maker was the fruit crop which was valued at nearly $2 million. This record appears to be clear-cut evidence of outstanding work that can be accomplished through youth training programs. And what is more important, it is devoted to training in Texas largest industry—Agriculture.

Lockney District Values Set at $13 Millions

LOCKNEY — Appraisers employed by the Board of Education of the Lockney school district have completed their work of appraising the value of property in the district and have made their report. They reported a total actual valuation in the district of $13,136,098.

The board will determine the amount necessary to finance the recent bond issue and to support the school adequately and set the tax valuation at whatever percent of actual valuation is necessary, members of the board said. They have tentatively approved a 40% basis. This means that "first class" irrigation land, set at an actual valuation of $125 per acre by the appraisers, will have a tax valuation of $50 per acre. "Second class" irrigation land was set at an actual valuation of $90 per acre, "first class" dry land at $40 per acre, "second class" dry land at $30 per acre and lake land at $5.00 per acre. Under present plans 40% of these actual valuations will be the tax valuation for the district. Improvements and personal property will be assessed also with the exception of irrigation wells which are included in the land valuation.

City property, including the houses and business buildings, has been valued in a like manner and will be assessed in the same way.

The plan of equalization of taxes in the district was presented to a group of about 35 representative business men and farmers last week in a meeting at the high school. About ninety per cent of the group approved the plan, after the need was explained, board members said.

RUNNELS COUNTY RE-UNION

The Runnels county re-union of West Texans will be held at MacKenzie park next Sunday, August 3, it was learned here this week.

The affair will be an all-day gathering and all who attended are reminded to bring basket lunches.

Mrs. C. O. Spence of Floydada is secretary of the re-union association.

NEW BODY SHOP MAN

Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Withey and son have recently moved here from Lubbock. Mr. Withey is now associated with Cline and Rainer as body shop man.

The Whites are at present residing in the Bob McGuire house.

Mr. and Mrs. Menard Field have returned from a business trip to Benkelman, Nebraska. While there Mr. Field bought a Nebraska ranch near Benkelman.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Cardinal and daughter, Kathy of Springlake were here over the week-end visiting relatives.

City and Farm Water Problem In West Texas

LUBBOCK — The problem of meeting the long-range water needs of both High Plains farmers and city dwellers is the one most frequently presented—by both farmers and city officials—to the Hi-Plains Underground Water Conservation District, reports Home McFarland of Lubbock, manager.

Lubbock and Amarillo, the Plains population centers, are using or planning to use water wells in rural areas of Potter, Randall, Deaf Smith and Bailey counties, according to current reports.

Farmers in these five counties have told the water district that they are afraid the demands of big cities on rural water supplies will cause a lowering of water levels and consequently difficulty in pumping and depreciation of land values.

Among hardship cases already reported was one in Deaf Smith county, where the real estate value of an irrigation farm was reduced to that of a dry land farm when insurance loan investigators discovered big city wells operating on the property, McFarland said.

Both Must Have Water

And, while some provisions are being made for water conservation, the farmers fear that the day-to-day pumping over even three or four sections in a county will take its eventual toll on the underground water levels.

At the same time, McFarland explained, the farmers recognize the fact that the cities are obligated to insure a plentiful and economical supply of water, and on a long-range basis, for their homes and business places. But they hope that this can be accomplished in such a way that it will not work a hardship on the country's agricultural interests.

From an economic standpoint, they suggest, it would be much less costly—in both money and water—to develop water fields in such a way that the same wells can be pumped, perhaps alternately, over a period of many years, thus saving the cost of drilling new wells and the waste of pumping one section of land dry and then moving on to another area.

Cowboy Turned Blue Bonnet Seed Dealer

Texas Bob, the Mason county ex-cowboy who has turned blue bonnet seed salesman, was a week-end visitor in Floydada.

His real name is Alfred H. Lang. Reared after the manner of the cowboy Bob took too many beatings from broncs and wound up with a leg that had to be taken off.

In late years he has hit upon the blue bonnet seed selling business to make a livelihood. He had tried everything, he said, even to using a tin cup on the corner briefly. He quit that when he had too many people that couldn't afford it drop money in the cup.

Lang says blue bonnets are highly adaptable and that it is not correct that they will not do well on the high plains and most anywhere from Texas to California. They won't do well planted wild in this area, like they will in central Texas. They can be cultivated and handled on rich soil the same as they can be grown wild on thin soil. But you have to understand the flower before you begin to get good results.

Lang sells a small package of the seed at 50 cents per package. If you'd like to try them in a reason-

Two Wildcats Announced For Tests by Drill

Tuesday's daily press carried reports that two wildcat oil tests, one in the east and one in the south part of Floyd county, will be drilled by mid-1953.

Signal Oil & Gas company, the dispatch says, will drill by June 15, 1953, on a 300-acre lease out of Section 106, Block 1, A. B. & M. The reports locate the land as eight miles northeast of the Adams discovery well.

The other lease, reportedly held by Ralph E. Fair, of San Antonio, will also be drilled on or before June 6, 1953, the report states. The piece of land is described as the 160 acre Joseph Fowler pre-emption survey. It is located 1 1/2 miles southwest of the Minnie Adams No. 1 well.

The Signal lease is on the Tate Jones 300-acre tract a mile and a half west of Dougherty. The section of land of which it is a part is traversed by the Q. A. & P. railway. The lease filed for record in Floyd county is a straight commercial five-year lease for which the lessee paid $15 an acre, with annual rentals.

The land on which Ralph E. Fair is reported to be planning to drill belongs to James Anderson.

Adams Making 210 Barrels

The Adams No. 1, meanwhile, has continued to produce satisfactorily this week. The big pump was hooked up last week-end and has been going on a 24-hour basis. It is producing about 240 barrels per day. The tanks at the well are being emptied with tank trucks which haul the oil to Stanolind Oil & Gas company at Petersburg.

Crosby Wildcat Has Oil Show

Monday's oil reports included the claim that rainbow shows of oil were recovered in cable cuttings from the San Andres at the J. Holt Jowell and Associates of Midland No. 1 Williams, extreme south-central Crosby county prospector.

Total depth is 2,823 feet. It is slated to drill to 3,050 feet for tests of the Clear Fork.

Drill site is 300 feet from west, and north lines of the northeast quarter of Section 58, Block 3, WCRR Survey, 16 miles south and slightly west of Crosbyton.

McHargue 1 Girard

Drilling had reached 2,500 feet in the San Andres line at the Paul McHargue of Midland No. 1 Girard Trust Estate, wildcat in extreme south-central Crosby county.

Projected depth is 3,000 feet to test the Clear Fork. It is 1 1/2 miles south of the Jowell No. 1 Williams. Location is 330 feet from west and south lines of the southeast quarter of Section 42, Block 3, WCRR Survey, 14 1/2 miles south and slightly west of Crosbyton.

WetBack Sent Home

The border patrol picked up 17 "wet backs", Mexican Nationals, here last Thursday and sent them back to the border for deportation into Mexico.

There had been about thirty Mexicans chopping cotton for Gerald Cardinal and Johnny Hrabl. Of the group, 17 were the "wet backs" taken on Thursday. The patrol came on Wednesday and picked them up, and left Thursday for the border.

Schott Cap Job Is Contracted

An Amarillo man, Ivan Dement, was successful bidder for the 13.9 miles of Schott Caprock road running eastward from Silverton and due eventually to tie in with a road from Clarendon that leads west.

Dement's bid was $364,066.78, the lowest of seven. The highest bid was approximately $13,000 above that of Dement.

Most of the money will be spent getting the highway down the caprock, a two-mile stretch of mountains and gorges, and on the first five miles under the caprock where an immense amount of earth material will have to be moved.

Resident Engineer Jas. F. Potts said recently that the job would consume almost a year to complete. The contractor, in order to handle the job and complete it next fall, will have a very considerable blasting and hill moving crew on the job all of this winter. Holes must be blasted out of the side of huge hills or rock.

Deep chasms and gorges will be filled with this material, alternately blasting hills and filling gorges for a distance of two miles.

After the roadway is built to the valley below the contractor still has an immense dirt moving job for five miles, moving some 40,000 yards of earth per mile.

Surveying out the route and running lines on it required the work of a highway surveying crew for two years.

Famed Chorus Will Sing Here Tuesday Night

The Royal chorus, of Boles Orphan Home, Quinlan, Texas, will be present at the Church of Christ, located at 5th and Tennessee, at 8 o'clock, Tuesday August 3.

The Royal chorus, accompanied by their counselors, is currently engaged in a three months' tour embracing one hundred cities in Texas and bordering states.

The Royal chorus was officially organized in 1949, and since that time, has traveled extensively throughout the year, and intensively each summer, singing its way into the hearts of hundreds of people wherever it has been presented.

These young people are highly trained and skilled in discipline, vocal accomplishment, travel and public relations. They travel in their own commercial bus donated by the Central Texas Bus Lines, of Waco, Texas.

Their program includes songs of praise and devotion, familiar and well-loved hymns, and spiritual selections. The Royal chorus is directed by A. Hugh Graham, voice director, and member of the faculty of the Boles Home schools, Lewis Hogue, manager of the current tour, will give highlights of the program and purposes of Boles home.

Boles home is located approximately 50 miles east of Dallas, Texas, and is now caring for 271 dependent boys and girls. With a farm comprising 2,350 acres, a public school located on its own campus, and a college plan whereby students are enabled to attend college after graduation from high school, Boles Home young people are enabled to live well balanced and worthwhile lives in preparations for capable maturity.

The current tour began May 24, and will end September 1.

Earthquake News Calls Family Back To California Home

Mrs. Fred Williams and sons, Fred and Jerry, of San Gabriel, California who have been here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Watson of the Harmony community since June 21, left Sunday for their home, after having a letter from Mr. Williams telling of the recent quake there. Below is part of the letter:

"I guess you heard over the news broadcast about the earth quake this morning. I'm telling you I thought it was the end. It happened at 4:25 a.m. o'clock. I woke up and the bed was jumping all over the room, and the house was weaving all over. I jumped out of bed and fell over the night stand, next to the bed.

"I could not find the light and when I did I turned it on and it stayed on for two seconds then out it went. The dishes, doors and windows were rattling and a couple of pans that were on the stove fell off, and the mirror in the front room extends a very cordial invitation to everyone to attend the concert, and to enjoy the inspirational program.

hit the floor. The what-not shelf with your gadgets on it went all over the place. You should have seen me getting outside in my drawer-tail. I really thought our house was gone.

The wires and telephone poles were swaying and I thought the earth would never stop rocking. The town of Tehacapi, where the woman's prison is, was really hit hard. They have been showing pictures over T.V. all morning and the business district is almost leveled off. It's 65 miles from here. The news says lots of wires and poles down in Los Angeles. Glad you and boys weren't here to see it.

Italian Duet

colour seen through colour
A single lipstick out of which four colours may be created... You yourself make your own individual lipstick shades by applying one colour over another as an artist does. Each colour can also be used singly.

Miss Arden's own exclusive Italian lipstick formula is creamy with velvety texture and just the right amount of indelibility. Your lips are never dry or blistered—but stay smooth and lustrous.

Italian Duet lipstick in these combinations—100°

Paradise Pink and Desert Pink
Paradise Pink and Sky Blue Pink
Paradise Pink and Blush Rose
Blush Rose and Red Corals

Also a wonderful range of shades in single lipsticks at 1.00°, 1.50°, 2.50° and 5.00°.
