

Placid Oil Company Leasing Activity Adds Prime Local Interest in Oil News of Week

While Standard of Texas continues to experiment with their Adams No. 1 oil discovery immediately west of Lakeview, the entry of Placid Oil Company into the picture this week added considerably to local anticipation of seeing some additional actual drilling take place in the area.

Placid Oil Company, Shreveport, Louisiana, has taken a 160-acre lease in Jesse Bryant survey No. 328 with a test obligation.

American Republic corporation is lessee of the three-fourths interest in the Inger Anderson and the Jesse Bryant surveys. Standard of Texas has the lease on the M. G. Bryant tract. The M. G. Bryant tract adjoins the Adams estate lands on the northwest, and the two Bryant tracts lie between the Adams land and the B. L. Breed half-section on the south.

On the south 160-acres of the Fowler survey where the fee title is in James Anderson, K. C. Bates, owner of one-half of the minerals, under the northwest 40 acres has been leased to Ralph E. Fair, Anderson has not leased the southwest 40 acres so far as the records disclose.

No danger of Texas going Republican in November. But there is danger that Governor Shivers will not have strong enough backing in the game he is playing with the National Democratic leaders who would like to have us be quiescent about the tidelands and swallow FPEC and a few other big city and labor boss isms at one and the same time. If the folks who are afraid of being called names can make themselves be heard loudly enough they will spoil the governor's chances of dealing with the powers that be. We can't afford to have another president who will veto a tidelands measure, which we may have if enough pressure cannot be brought. All the things you get done inside the Democratic party now are compromises. The party, little as you think about it, has more minorities than a dog has fleas, and always has had. The only thing that these many minorities have in common is that they have abiding faith in the common people. All the other things they agree on, practically all the other things, are the result of give and take. Those who would concede the point first and talk about it afterward will find their interests disregarded again the same as they found four years ago, when Texas Democracy loudly proclaimed it's loyalty and got pushed in the face for its trouble.

The situation at this time is not in any manner comparable to that of 1928, when Texas went Republican. Then there was an underlying reason, one little discussed. You could not have told that Floyd county was going for Hoover in August of 1948, nor the day before election day for that matter. The current ran too deep. What we mean, as for the present national political conflict, is that there is no reason for Texas to go Republican and it will not. But we do not need to concede the point and be vest-pocketed. They woo New York state people because they don't have the electoral vote of that state in the bag. Why not let them woo Texas a bit?

The governor and the "Shivercrat" delegates at the national convention would have been thrown out on their ears if the convention had not decided it was a dangerous thing to do. And Maury Maverick would have returned home the boss of Texas democracy. Mr. Shivers played the game of bluff with the left wingers, enough so they decided they'd better get along with him. The game is not over, and the tide of battle is running strong with the governor. The many leading newspapers of the state which have gone off the deep end for Eisenhower are helping a lot. The stakes are high. A quieted title to the tidelands is the principal one that you can count in dollars and cents.

Frost date. One of the old-timers' ways of forecasting the frost date is to time it 90 days from the first "norther" of the summer. According to this "rule" would the date be October 30 or November 4? The talent, meaning two or three fellows who do not have much else to do except philosophize, lean toward the October 30 date. They say that "norther" traced all the way back to Canada and took three days to sweep down across the country and get to Floydada. They say the Monday morning blow up was just a wind from the north.

Whereas The Hesperian three weeks ago carried a story that Floyd county cotton production this year is likely to run as high as 112,000 bales, Edward N. Knapp, the plains representative of Anderson, Clayton Company, reports the crop could run as high as 160,000 bales here. That was the August 1 prospect, he said, which was so good it could hardly be better. If there is any change, of course, it would be toward the worse side. Also, cotton has gone up on the market quite a bit the past two weeks. What the crop is likely to net a grower depends largely on whether the market falls to 25 cents or so, the floor price, or whether it stays up or goes up some more. Cost of producing cotton has mounted so fast that some men who raised 300 or 400 bales last year found themselves borrowing money to finance another crop this year. This was particularly true of men who leased cotton ground in 1951 and are having to do the same in 1952. Cotton is and always was a cruel master. But the prospect of lots of money quickly makes it a prime favorite year after year.

A good illustration of the ineptness of official bureaucratic Washington has been given the past week. In every newspaper which would give such pronouncements space, OPS has been harping on the proposition that the cost of living has gone up and that it is going to go up some more, and quickly. The agency was born crying out that prices are going up, that things are getting out of hand. Their handouts practically urge people who have goods to sell to put a higher price on them, working people to demand higher wages. Congress answered the demand of OPS for more help to control people and their affairs by cutting down on OPS personnel. So long as OPS is given official life as it is at present operated it will continue to work for higher and higher prices apparently trying to hurry the day when people will get desperate and give the bureau free rein to harry and harrass. In our humble opinion OPS has had a lot to do with creating scarce buying and instilling a state of cupidity in the minds of businessmen and their customers. A studied campaign of it.

Please cooperate. In many communities over the United States people have been seeing flying saucers, and it is our idea that somebody in Floyd county ought to begin to see them, too. Is it that we are too busy or that we don't spend enough time out at nights? Somebody help out around here. Let's see some flying saucers. One Texas newspaper, the Amarillo News, is offering a prize of $500 for a picture of a genuine flying saucer. In Floydada apparently it would be safe to offer a prize for a real live person who claims to have seen a flying saucer.

Out and Combat Pay Regulations, Procedures

Service office Darnall G. out two measures made the recent sessions of the will be of interest to the Korean war and to of these is known as pay act, the other re- mustering out pay. Combat Pay Act the combat pay law the Department of follows:

The Combat Duty Pay act of 1952 provides for combat pay at the rate of $45.00 per month for all members of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine corps, and Coast guard for combat service in the Korean Combat zone.

Service in Korea does not necessarily entitle an individual to combat pay. Generally, to be entitled to combat pay during a month, the service member must have been subject to hostile fire for not less than six days during the month while serving with a combat unit of regimental size or smaller, or in a vessel or aircraft. However, if the member received incentive or special pay for aviation, submarine, parachute, medical or dental duty, etc., during a month, he is not entitled to combat pay for that month.

Service regulations will make provision for payment to individuals still in service and to beneficiaries of deceased personnel. The Department of Defense will in the near future distribute claim forms which veterans may make application for combat pay. Details as to where to

Grant Increase For Pensioners

Because of the difficult and time-consuming task involved in the examination of combat records covering the period of over two years necessary to determine entitlement to combat pay, delay in settlement of claims can be expected. Inquiries from veterans in regard to their claims will tend to further delay payment.

Mustering-Out Payment
Regulations and procedures governing mustering-out payments authorized by the recently enacted Veterans Readjustment Assistance Act of 1952 have been announced today by the Department of Defense.

Eligible for the payments are all enlisted grades and officers below the grade of major or lieutenant commander who were discharged or released from active duty under honorable conditions after June 26, 1950. Veterans of the army, navy, air force, marine corps, or coast or one of their components, including women members, are eligible.

The law provides for payment of $100.00 to veterans with less than 60 days active service; $200.00 for those with 60 days active service but no foreign service; and $300.00 for veterans with 60 days or more active service who have served outside the United States or in Alaska after June 26, 1950.

Lump sum payments will be made to eligible veterans who have already been discharged or released from active duty. Those eligible for the payment who are still in the armed forces will receive their payment in $100.00 monthly installments, the first of which will be paid on discharge or release from active duty.

To receive the payments, Veterans who have been discharged or released from Active Duty after June 26, 1950, without receiving mustering-out pay must submit proof of eligibility and report of separation from the service.

Grant Increase For Pensioners

All persons receiving old age assistance and aid to the blind will get a $5.00 increase in their grants beginning in October, according to Mrs. Johnnie Weaver, area supervisor for the State Department of Public Welfare. Exceptions will be those who are receiving both Old Age Assistance and Old Age and Survivors Insurance, since the automatic increase will be received by them through Social Security. A lesser increase will be available for youngsters who are receiving Aid to Dependent Children.

This increase in grants is provided for by recent congressional legislation which raised the federal contribution $5.00 beginning in October. This now makes a maximum grant of $55.00 instead of $50.00 available for old age assistance and aid to the blind. Naturally, this does not mean that everyone will receive the maximum grant of $55.00 any more than they are now receiving the maximum grant of $50.00. The amount of each grant is determined by the basic recognized needs of the individual less his income, and varies according to the individual situation. It simply means that beginning in October no grant can go higher than $55.00 instead of $50.00.

To assure that each eligible person on the old age assistance and aid to the blind rolls gets the full amount of the increase the first month it is available, John H. Winters, executive director of the Welfare Department, has ordered that checks beginning in October be written for $5.00 more than the amount authorized on that date.

Supervisor Weaver explained that since these increases are to be automatically taken care in Austin, it will not be necessary to get in touch with the local or Austin office of the State Welfare department.

By way of illustration, Supervisor Weaver explained that an aged person who is now receiving old age and survivors insurance and has been getting, for example, $34.00 old age assistance will receive $39.00 beginning in October.

TB and the X-Ray Bus

Time was when the TB victim innocently walked the streets of his town undetected—and undetectable. For who had the millionaire's pocketbook to pay for examining a whole town of a thousand people to sieve out one possible victim? Now comes the x-ray bus, able to be TB detective for whole cities, for a few pennies a person. Millions of people now have their TB worries erased when the doctor says "Okay."

How long did it take to get the x-ray bus? Well, for its part, General Electric had been working on x rays for 57 years. Costs of diagnosis have come down by better and better equipment. No year passes without some new development. So this was another big chapter in a long book of events.

Notice the nice way these buses get into service. They are usually purchased by voluntary contributions of plain people trying to get a job done.

It is always hard to write a definition of the "American Way." But this hand-in-hand achievement of state and national health associations, General Electric, and the local communities comes close to being a perfect example.

Junior Leader Contest Award to Floydada Boy

Over 250 assembled 4-H members, their parents and invited guests were present Tuesday night, guests at the annual three-day 4-H club encampment at the Panhandle-South Plains fairgrounds in Lubbock.

Earlier in the evening a 17-year-old Floydada boy, Troy Lee McNeill, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill McNeill, was presented the 4-H Club Texas junior leader contest award by W. H. Jones, district agent.

Jones gave the award to the "Floyd" ada youth in recognition of his outstanding work in nine years of 4-H club membership. The award was based upon McNeill's livestock production, crop production, and leadership qualities. During his nine years with the club, the Floydada Youth made a gross profit of over $27,000.

His selection in state contest was known last June, but the awarding ceremonies were delayed until this time, according to Jones. Little previous publicity was given the award, he added.

The award permits McNeill to attend the annual two-week American Youth Foundation training, at Camp Shelby, Michigan, as the boy delegate from Texas. He will leave for camp this Thursday. The award is sponsored by the United States Gas Pipeline Co.

Award winning is nothing new to McNeill. During his nine years as a club member, he has won several other honors and trips including excursions to Chicago 4-H Congress, and Logan, Utah, as a Texas delegate.

County Agent Robert Gibson was present with Troy Lee, when he was presented the award. A picture was made of him receiving it.

do their part of the job but it's up to the flock owner to provide the surroundings that make clean egg production possible. First, there must be plenty of nesting space—a nest for each four to five hens; keep plenty of clean absorbent material in the nests, such as straw, peanut hulls or shavings. Keep the floor of the laying house dry and be sure there is plenty of ventilation. If the hens are on range, be sure, says the specialist, they don't play in a mud-hole—they'll track mud into the nests and such holes are trouble breeders.

Gather eggs at least three times and preferably five times per day, says Beamblossom. Then get the animal heat out of the eggs as soon as possible; case the eggs after the animal heat is removed and always place the little end of the egg down in the case and go to market twice per week unless cooling facilities are available on the farm. If eggs are held on the farm, the holding temperature should be kept below 68° F., says the specialist.

If eggs must be cleaned, don't wash them. Use an abrasive such as emery cloth or a buffer. Rub only the soiled spot. Doing the little things that are often overlooked in giving the egg proper environment, says Beamblossom, is good management and a sure way to improve egg quality and income.

Great Britain has one of the most extensive systems of welfare benefits of any country in the world. But let us quote from the London Economist: "Although the poor receive welfare benefits amounting to 57 shillings a week, they pay taxes amounting to 67.8 shillings per week. Tricks of the Trade to Get Quality Eggs

COLLEGE STATION — The egg is a perishable product. It cannot stand rough treatment nor maintain the high quality and grade is possessed when laid if given improper care. The use of good management practices in and around the laying house by the flock owners, says F. Z. Beamblossom, poultry marketing specialist for the Texas Agriculture Extension Service, will increase the income from eggs when sold on grade.

Trio of Books Depicts Army Role in First World War

Two great battles and important details concerning the armistice which ended World War I are brought into full focus for the camera of history in three new Army books.

The trio of books, presenting collections of original war documents for the first time, should interest veterans and historians alike. They are part of the 17-volume, official history series entitled "The U. S. Army in the World War, 1917-1919."

Documents providing the battle plans, field orders of Marshal Foch and General Pershing, correspondence between various headquarters of the Allied armies, and top-level German papers setting forth the enemy's plans are included in the pair of battle volumes—"St. Mihiel" and "Meuse-Argonne"—published October 23.

The other historical volume, "The Armistice," a 1,240-page collection of significant documents in connection with the war's four armistices, will be published on the 33rd anniversary of the great conflict, November 11.

The books illustrated with photographs and maps, can be obtained from the Superintendent of Documents, Government Printing Office, Washington, D. C.

Selected on a basis of significance, the documents in the books cover completely the Army's participation in the war and administration if peace terms. No similar American collection of documents for this period exists.

The two battle stories provide a detailed and realistic picture of the open warfare that supplanted the static, trench fighting which characterized the early phases of the first World War.

They provide the behind the scenes' command work of the battle at St. Mihiel, the first time American troops fought as an independent army under their own commander, as well as the communications and cooperation which went into the Meuse-Argonne offensive, the 12-army nutcracker which threw the German forces into full retreat.

Increases in the Federal automotive excise taxes—now costing motorists around $1,400,000,000 yearly—are scheduled as part of the new tax program to finance the expanded military program. To this total the Treasury Department proposes to add an extra "bite" of $1,295,000,000.

During the past war the American Automobile association, recognizing the need for revenues to offset the tremendous outlays for armaments, temporarily withdrew its opposition to the Federal levies, but strongly renewed its objections in the postwar period.

Now that defense expenditures are again skyrocketing, it appears inevitable that motorists will have to continue to pay the Federal automotive levies, including the 1 1/2 cent gasoline tax for an indefinite period. But in view of the heavy burden imposed by existing rates, motorists have every reason to object strenuously to any increases—at least until the Government's non-defense expenditures have been cut to the bone.

The adults of the party spent the day visiting, playing croquet, soft ball and dominoes. There were relatives gathered there that had not visited one another for 28 years.

Test for Deep Water Planned at Petersburg

PETERSBURG — The Krause wildcat well six miles northeast of Petersburg proved to be a duster from top to bottom. Rig was moved some ten days or more ago. But Petersburg Water association has made arrangements with the drilling company to plug the well back to within eight hundred feet of the top in order to make a test on the water formations. A close log was kept when the well was being drilled and several hundred feet of heavy water sands were encountered to a depth of 890 feet. The hole is now full of drilling mud. This will be cleaned out to see just how much water is available at a greater depth than we are now putting down wells. It is believed the "Grandpa water" has been located in this particular area.

Second Reunion of Bar N Bars

Glad Snodgrass, who attended the second annual reunion of former employees of the Bar N Bar ranch last Thursday at the ranch headquarters in Blanco canyon, had the pleasure of seeing a lot of old time friends of other years. A chuck wagon dinner was served with son-of-a-gun and everything that goes with it.

The reunion was held under the pecan trees, which were planted 50 years ago by Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Smith of the Smith House at Crosbyton. They lived at the ranch at that time. The old spring is still there, and the old-timers drank from its waters as of yore.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith, who entertained the first reunion a year ago, for all former employees of the ranch at their home in Crosbyton, were unable to be present this year because of illness.

John McDermott of Tucumcari, New Mexico, a former Crosby county sheriff, was present. He is serving as president of the group. A large crowd was present. All enjoyed the association of old friends again.

The N-Ranch was organized after the Kentucky Cattle company, which used the Two Buckle brand, was sold in two pieces of about a 100 sections each. What remains of the south half, about 66 sections, is now known as the L7 Ranch. From the north half, owned by C. B. Livestock company, comes all the territory surrounding Crosbyton, the company being the founders of that city.

would build 40 modern homes. They also visited Crater Lake again, having seen it in 1950. But this year it was more beautiful than ever, the snow having been 69 feet deep around it this past winter. The west drift had not yet been cleared for traffic. However the snow plows were working, trying to push their way through those 20 foot drifts on July 22.

In Los Angeles, California, the McReynolds visited Mr. and Mrs. L. W. McReynolds and family, brother of O. M. McReynolds. They also saw the valley of the giant red wood and the Pacific ocean.

Like Old Homes Better

In Arizona they saw the Painted Desert and Petrified forest. In New Mexico they passed through the Hopi Indian reservation. It was a beautiful setting for Indian villages. Fertile valleys with red stone mountains on every side. The government had built nice homes for the Indians, but they are not willing to depart from their earlier way of living.

In Mexico the McReynolds passed through a flash flood, after a cloudburst in the red rock mountains ahead of them. The water came leaping and bolting down a ravine and under a small bridge across the highway. The opening under the bridge was not large enough to carry the debris that the mad rush of water was bringing with it, so the thick red muddy water was leaping up five feet into the air, at one end of the bridge. After a few seconds the debris cleared out and the water went under the bridge. So they passed on across.

Judy and Mike Cook of Amarillo visited their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Battey, while their mother and sister, Janice attended the Baptist Assembly camp here last week.

of O. M. molds In Tour

McReynolds family has been from a tour of eight states in portions of Colorado, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Arizona and California.

They saw the beautiful snow capped mountains of the Seven Falls and they visited Yellow Park and saw Old Geyser that has been since 1870 and throwing millions of boiling water into the air to a height of 100 feet. They also saw all of the other smaller activities there in what is known as the Geyser basin.

They saw the beautiful mountains of Wyoming and Montana where there is a lot of wild life, such as deer, elk, moose, bear.

They saw miles of green wheat and oat, also fields of Irish potato and sugar beets. They saw the Medford Sugar mill, the Medford saw logs made in the forests near by, and trees 364 feet high. In one of these trees

Election Party Has Usual Good Crowd Present

Minus only a few of the frills that mark biennial election parties on Saturday night after primary election day, The Hesperian's election party drew a full quota of standing room only customers.

Within minutes after Police officer Bob Smith had roped off traffic on the South Main thoroughfare the space was filled with lookers-on ready for the first figures to go up on the board. Judge Alton B. Chapman, S. W. Ross and Mrs. C. B. McDonald were among the volunteer helpers of the evening.

At 7:15 the first report was in, an incomplete return from Southeast Floydada. The figure-making went on until 1 o'clock when the last 35 votes were put on the board representing the finish of the count in the West Lockney box.

Until he was called home by the grave illness of his father, County Chairman Ben P. Ayres supervised the receipt of the unofficial reports. He was working in cooperation with this newspaper and The Lockney Beacon to give the public the latest information on the races at the earliest possible moment. Miss Mary L. McPherson served in the capacity of tabulator on the big sheets from which the official returns were later made up.

Mrs. Eloise Zimmerman was a house guest of Mrs. Calvin Steen, Sunday and Monday. She returned to her home in Wichita Falls late Monday evening.

Severity of Attack, Not Age Determines Heart Victims

The higher mortality rate from acute myocardial infarction in older age groups is due to a greater frequency of serious attacks rather than to the age of the victims, it was stated recently in Journal of the American Medical Association. Acute myocardial infarction, a common, serious heart condition, is the degeneration of the heart muscle due to the obstruction of a coronary artery.

Five doctors pointed out that although severe attacks are common in older persons, the prognosis outlook of a severe or mild attack appears to be unaltered by age.

"The pessimism commonly revealed in the estimation of prognosis in any elderly patient with this disease is unwarranted if based on age alone," it was stated. "Too often the persistence of such pessimism, even after satisfactory recovery, has condemned the elderly good risk survivor to a nonproductive, boring existence.

"Patients in this category, as well as those in younger groups, may be successfully rehabilitated toward regaining a measure of personal social, and economic independence consistent with their residual capacity."

The doctors based their conclusions on a study of 1,047 persons suffering from acute myocardial infarction, 843 of whom were men, and 204 women. The age range was 30 to 88 years, with the mean age of the men 56 years, and the women 60 years.

The patients were divided into two groups: good risks and poor risks. The latter group included those persons who had suffered previous myocardial infarction, uncontrollable pain, severe degree of persistence of shock, significant enlargement of the heart, gallop rhythm, congestive heart failure, and other serious complicating diseases.

"America" Has A New Melody

WACO. — The band director of Baylor University, a century-old school where anything new is eyed with skepticism, is plugging a start-up and brave musical innovation.

Donald I. Moore, a respected band expert for years, has come up with new music to "America."

That's the next thing to tampering with "The Star-Spangled Banner," a fact which doesn't faze Moore. He thinks "America" is a fine song that has suffered too long with a second-hand, outmoded tune. As few people realize, its tune is England's venerable "God Save the King."

Samuel Francis Smith who wrote the words to "America" back in 1831, needed a tune for his poem. Since America, socially, still was an outpost of England, everybody knew "God Save the King." Smith simply lifted the old refrain for his new words.

Moore, like many another musician, had often given fleeting consideration to the idea of providing new music for the old song. About a year ago, while he was cruising on the highway in his car, he began to mull the idea over seriously.

He doesn't know why it hit him that particular day. He doesn't have a radio in his car, thus wasn't hearing "America" in any form. But all of a sudden he decided to try some new music for the familiar words.

He did, or has. Not just one new version. Moore feels that none of the separate verses of "America" fit the ancient English tune, so he wrote a new tune for each verse. He tried to match the thought and natural rhythm of each one.

Explains Moore, "I've long felt that the grandeur of Smith's words is buried in the rather common-place hymn tune. I have tried to create a musical mood in keeping with the words in each verse, with the melody accenting the right words. The fourth verse, for instance, I treat as the prayer that it is, and have taken the liberty of adding a solemn 'Amen.' Mine is a concert version, not intended to replace the familiar old singing version. It is meant mainly for young people's groups. That's why it is set for a band rather than an orchestra. Most schools have bands, but few have orchestras.

It takes a little getting used to at first, but Moore's new "America" is a versatile, vigorous work. It is full of musical moods, from the quiet to the crashing, and finishing on the prayerful theme. As Moore says, it will never replace the slower, simpler old version which is easier for civic clubs and young children to learn to mumble, but he hopes it will soon have the appeal and the value for younger musicians of some of the more classical music.

Moore first displayed his new "America" publicly last April with the Baylor Golden Wave Band and chorus. The music critic for Waco's Tribune-Herald, Gynter Quill, said that "for the first time, to our knowledge, the combination of lyrics and music has made sense."

Moore has submitted his "America" to four music publishers, and two have reacted enthusiastically, he says. Another was interested, but wrote Moore he was wondering if the revised song might not be in for the fate of the hundreds of efforts at writing new music for "The Lord's Prayer." Moore is confident, however, that one of these days you can have "America" English-style or home-grown.

Fashion a Matter of Emotion, Not Reason, Professor Says

Fashion is on trail with a retired University of Cincinnati professor of Sociology as prosecuting attorney.

Exhibits A, B, and C in the professor's case against fashion are the heavy wool sports coats of men for summer, the frail winter shoes of women, and the queer hats of women.

From these illogical articles, Dr. Ernest L. Talbert, professor emeritus, draws the conclusion that "fashion operates mostly within the sphere of emotion, not of pure reason."

Dr. Talbert's biting analysis of fashion appears in his book is essays and reviews, "In the Spirit of Jefferson," just published.

If man were a creature of reason, the professor feels human clothing might be expected to have grown throughout the years progressively more useful, comfortable, durable, and beautiful. Instead of that, "When dress is at the peak of popular acceptance, it is considered beautiful," Dr. Talbert writes. "Later decades, taken up with a fresh style, many condemn it as ugly."

Dr. Talbert has a brick retort for the faction which maintains the "mental hygiene" value of changing styles. "It may also become a threat to sanity," he warns. "Following the mode may become a craze and an obsession."

"In times of social disorganization especially, when bewilderment and fear are widespread, fashions offers a remedy for sick minds, a futile method of alleviating anxieties and bidding for security."

There are always a few who do not care for external trappings of any kind," approved Dr. Talbert, who long ago relinquished the standard professional briefcase for a utilitarian shopping bag.

Watch a woman's eyes and you get a pretty good key to her character.

Take, for instance, the things that cause a startled expression. Some few women reserve this look for really momentous situations, such as seeing their home on fire or one of the children on the verge of drowning. For others it's an everyday condition.

We know one big strong girl who gets it at the mere mention of giving up desserts. Another look as if she's dodging guided missiles if anyone suggests she walk more than three blocks at a time. For others, it's the suggestion that they arise at six a.m., make a speech, or launder their own clothes. Some women get it at the prospect of being ten minutes late anywhere, even to a picnic.

Many register shock if they see their husbands talking to an attractive woman. Even if the conversation is strictly business, the wife's expression still says someone's poaching.

Perhaps the worst cases are the traffic victims: the girls who see a crisis at every intersection. By the time they've driven—or more usually, ridden—across town, their eyes have flashed some two dozen potential calamities. Multiply this by 365 days in a year and the usual number of years in a lifetime, and you get some idea of the number of brain shocks those startled eyes have recorded.

We've often wondered what some of the women who "scare easy" would look like in a real emergency. It could be, of course, that these daily optical gymnastics keep their nervous systems limbered up for the sure enough catastrophes. Whereas, the calmer souls, who won't bat an

Be Sure Child Is Ready For School Duties

AUSTIN, Texas. — Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, urges the parents of all children who will respond to the school bell for the first time in September to be sure the child is physically ready for school duties.

First and foremost is the need for vaccination against smallpox. Parents should see that children are vaccinated before they are one year old of age; however if not done previously, at school age vaccination becomes absolutely necessary," Dr. Cox said. "If your child has not been vaccinated, have it done immediately for his own protection and that of others."

Immunization against diphtheria is also highly important, Dr. Cox declares. This disease which causes serious illness and death among young children can be prevented with toxoid. The child who has never been protected should be given this safeguard against a dreaded killing disease. Even though he may have been immunized as a baby, doctors and health officers usually recommend an additional dose of toxoid to strengthen immunity before entrance into school.

"In addition, before you send your child to school you are urged to take him to your family physician and dentist for a thorough examination," Dr. Cox adds. "You will want to know that he is in good physical condition and can compete with the other children on equal terms. If the check-up reveals any weakness or defects they should be corrected at once. Don't let your child start his school life with any avoidable handicap."

good reasons.
Surveying the three custom com- bines that were maintaining steady and mammoth bites of a 100-acre wheat field, John E. Smith of Creighton, spoke softly:
"Yessir, that's mighty fine wheat. Recon you can't find any better where you go."

Those listening, a Rapid City real- tor, a representative of the state employment office and one or two of the combine crew, were quick to agree. The South Dakotans looked on with pride and the combines with an appreciation of profit as the machines rumbled on past.
"Ought to go at least 35 bushers per acre," one man said.
"Don't say that, another protest- ed," I gotta $10 bet that it won't go less than 38."

Located about 16 miles northeast of New Underwood, the wheat field was purchased by Smith this year, after the crop had been planted. His purchasing price officially is a secret, but one old timer opined that the wheat crop, good as it was, would triple the price that Smith had paid for the land. No one offered a protest.

In addition to the land which produced the fine wheat, Smith has extensive interests in the Creighton area. He likes South Dakota for a variety of reasons, good grazing, good water and his success as a wheat farmer.
In the pictures, accompanying the write up, is shown John Edwards and T. J. Cardinal, formerly of Floydada, who also had moved to South Dakota, watching the wheat pour out of the combine storage bin into a truck.

Mrs. Emert Will Be Several Weeks In Plainview Hospital

Report from Plainview Hospital & Clinic the first of the week indicat- es that Mrs. Audrey Bertha Emert, wife of Tom Emert, injured in the automobile-truck accident east of Floydada two weeks ago, probably will be in the foundation for six to eight weeks.
Mrs. Emert has a broken leg, with chest and back injuries and multiple lacerations. She has been kept under observation also for other pos- sible injuries, according to Bob Hil- burn, of the hospital's public relat- ions staff.
Plimssol's line is the water line on ships.
Hogs have been known to kill and eat rattlesnakes.

LET ME THANK YOU

I deeply appreciate the expression of your confi- dence in me as shown by your most generous vote, which was sufficient for me to lead in 3 of the 4 coun- ties of this district. The handicap against me, in being a stranger to thousands who live outside Floyd Coun- ty, obviously, altered the results.
It was my aim and desire to meet and talk with every voter in the entire district, but this was a physical impossibility with the limited time I had away from my duties as County Attorney for Floyd County.
It encourages me beyond measure to know that such a great number of my friends in this district ex- pressed their confidence in me through their votes.
This occasion does not find me discouraged in the least, but on the contrary, more determined than ever to continue onward and upward in the practice of law which is my chosen profession, with the fullest con- fidence that I will be able at some future date to serve the good people of this district in an official capacity.
Throughout my entire campaign I endeavored to make the race for District Attorney strictly and solely on my own merits, and again I want to say: Thank you from the bottom of my heart for every courtesy and every favor which you extended to me.
Most Sincerely
ENOS T. JONES

Pioneers Meet Held at Ralls Last Friday

Ralls — Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, delivered the principal speech at the 27th annual West Texas Pioneers and Old Settlers reunion held here Friday, August 1.

At least 2,000 persons attended the one-day reunion that opened with registration at 9 a. m.

At 10 o'clock a parade consisting of sheriff's possees from Crosby, Garza, Floyd and Lubbock counties and riding groups from Idalou, Abernathy and Slaton saluted the pioneer settlers. Other morning events include an address by J. Edd McLaughlin, president of the reunion, a girls chorus from Lorenzo directed by Mrs. W. O. Cherry, a Lorenzo trio composed of Buster Herrington, Thomas McMillan and Jon Cecil Lynch; a speech by Judge Walter Davis of Lubbock and songs directed by Garnet Jones of Crosbyton.

Visitors brought basket lunches to be spread at noon. Members of the Lions club of Lorenzo and Crosbyton and the Rotary club of Ralls ate lunch with the old settlers.

Highlights of the afternoon program were an old fiddlers contest at 2 p. m. with Mrs. Dulaney Davis in charge. Downing's address was at 3 p. m. followed by music, a tribute by Rev. James Abernathy and a business meeting to select next year's officers.

The traditional visit to the cemetery at Old Emma closed the afternoon session. Each year the group holds memorial services at the final resting place for early settlers in the area.

Now while green beans, peas, squash and okra are in plentiful supply be sure and don't overlook the fact they freeze nicely for use next winter, and help make well-balanced nutritious meals.

Mr. and Mrs. Corkey Guffee visited Carlsbad Caverns over the week-end.

John Nay, co-op bookkeeper, says: Every man spoils the one he loves. He always grants her wishes. The rich man showers her with gifts. The poor man dries the dishes.

You can have fruits and vegetables all year round when you prepare and freeze them properly. Meats can also be kept for a long period of time.

Rigid containers made of glass or metal are good for all kinds of foods. Non-rigid containers are best for corn on the cob, asparagus, etc.

A tight packing of food cuts down air space. Be sure to place proper tags or labels on all packages or you will be like the man whose cello got flooded and the labels came off the cans—it's funny in the movies, but it can be exasperating in your home. The approximate weight of a bushel of peaches is 48 pounds and will yield approximately 24 quart cartons for freezing.

When the group of ladies from near Wake visited in the kitchen recently they gave me a recipe for a pound cake that is a favorite of theirs. I have made it and it really is delicious — so I would like to pass it to any one that particularly likes a good pound cake.

Mrs. Boyd's Cake:
3 cups sifted all purpose flour
2 cups sugar
1 heaping teaspoon baking powder and 1 teaspoon salt sifted together
3 times.
1 cup sweet milk
1 cup Crisco
4 whole eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla
Put all in large mixing bowl and beat 4 minutes at medium speed. This will make 2 small cakes — loaf or layers.
Bake in 350 degrees or medium oven.

Judy and Mike Cook returned to their home Sunday after spending the week with their grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Battley while their mother and sister, Janice attended the Baptist Assembly camp here.
