

Annual Soil Tour, Barbecue Set For Thursday, Sept. 11

The annual county-wide fall soil conservation tour will be made on Thursday of next week, September 11, it was announced this week by the supervisors of the Floyd County Soil Conservation district.

Perennial pastures; bench leveling; fall seeded legumes; castor bean crops; fertilizer applications, and under ground water pipe.

Joining in one way and another to assist the district supervisors of the conservation district are the Production and Marketing Administration, the Extension Service, Floydada Chamber of Commerce, Floydada Jaycees, the Lions club, the vocational agriculture departments of Floydada and Lockney schools, and the Lockney Farm management, the last named represented by W. J. Moore, Paymaster in superintendent, and Harold Lo-dan, superintendent of Lockview farms.

C. W. Fisher to Speak

Floydada Chamber of Commerce and Lockview farms who will be joint hosts at the noon-day luncheon, are making preparation to play host to 400 persons. It will be a barbecue dinner at the headquarters of Lockview farms.

Lyndell Roberts, president of Floydada Lions club, announces that C. W. Fisher, superintendent of the Spur Experimental station, will be the featured speaker at the noon-day lunch. Fisher, who has spent his years in the study of conservation practices, recently has won wide-spread recognition for his technique in mesquite control. His research in conservation, however, has covered a much wider range.

"All people of the county interested in agriculture are invited to accompany us on the tour," said L. D. Barte, superintendent, "and to help eat the barbecue dinner and hear C. W. Fisher speak."

The tour will leave the agriculture building in Floydada at 9 a.m. Thursday.

Window Display Contest

In connection with the annual tour and the accent on new practices in agriculture, will be the Junior Chamber of Commerce's annual window display contest for boys of the vocational agriculture departments of Floydada and Lockney schools.

The boys are to select their own windows, design and construct their own displays. The Jaycees will have the windows judged and make the awards of prizes.

Jersey Cattle Club Field Man Visitor

Jim Davis, field representative of the American Jersey Cattle club, was a brief visitor in Floydada Tuesday. He was enroute of Portales, New Mexico, where he will assist a Jersey judge in handling the records in classifying herds in that area.

Davis, whose home is at Denton, recently succeeded to the post heretofore held by D. T. Simons, of Fort Worth, with the national Jersey men's organization. Simons is continuing his work with the Texas clubs but has relinquished the job with the national club.

Davis said a price moratorium for a brief period is in effect or delayed registration of Jerseys and is urging that Texas dairymen who have neglected to keep up their records take advantage of it. Headquarters of the AJCC is at Columbus, Ohio.

Floyd County Due Break Record Again This Year With 150,000 Bales Cotton, Gibson Says

Despite a red hot August that played havoc with a tremendous number of thousands of acres of cotton in the southwest, County Agent Robert H. Gibson has raised his estimate of cotton production in Floyd county from 110,000 bales as of August 1 to 150,000 as of September 1.

A red hot August sun that broke all heat records of a decade, didn't hurt cotton that had plenty of moisture in the subsoil for a long tap root to penetrate and draw sustenance.

These figures, Mr. Gibson says, takes into account the probable damage legworms and bollworms will do, which farmers are now battling with dust and mist from airplanes and ground machines. It also takes into account the heavy damage dry weather has done to dry land cotton that got a late start or was planted on poorly-prepared ground.

Floyd county has 120,000 acres of irrigated cotton that should average 1 1/2 bales per acre for a total of 180,000 bales; it also has 80,000 acres of dryland cotton that will average 3/8ths of a bale per acre for a total of 150,000 bales, and the agent confidently calls it 150,000 in round numbers.

One of the tragic sights of the month has been the fast deterioration that had taken place in cotton fields in the unfavored areas that got no moisture during August. Even in areas that got considerable moisture the cotton has deteriorated extensively, throwing off practically all forms of less than quarter-mature size. Young cotton that had no deep taproot during the long heat wave is especially weather weary and will yield the grower little or no profit.

Battle Leaf and Boll Worm

While portions of the county have been spared practically all types of insect infestation, leaf worm and bollworm made their appearance in irrigated fields of the south part of the county. This area, where 20 to 25 planes and several ground machines have been spraying or dusting

FLOYDADA HAD 2.12 INCHES OF RAINFALL IN MONTH OF AUGUST

While portions of Floyd county had so little rain in August it was not recorded, Floydada had, against all appearances as of this date, 2.12 inches, a normal rain month.

Rain fell in Floydada on the 8th, 10th, 21st and 29th days of the month.

Relief from the sizzling heat came on the wings of a light norther the first day of September. The high temperature for that day was 88, contrasted with a high of 103 on Sunday.

Tuesday the high was 84 and Wednesday the high was 88.

Monday's low was 67, Tuesday's 53, and Wednesday the low was 58.

Switzerland Most Delightful, Jerusalem Most Interesting Spot on Journey, Says Dr. Thacker

A life long ambition was culminated this week, when Dr. C. M. Thacker returned home from a visit to the Holy Land and other countries in Europe.

Dr. Thacker in company with R. Earl Allen left Floydada on July 25 and returned home September 1 after spending 37 days on the trip and covering 23,000 miles. They were in a party of about 80 ministers and teachers.

The travelers made the flight from New York to Paris in two different flights. Dr. Thacker and Earl Allen leaving on Sunday night, July 27. The return home was also made by plane, leaving London on Saturday night arriving in New York City at 11 A. M. then on to Lubbock and arriving there at 11 a.m. on Monday morning. Mrs. Thacker and Mrs. Allen and daughter and the grandson of the Thackers, Bobby Muncy, met the two men at the airport. Dr. Thacker said the roughest weather they encountered on the whole trip was from New York City to Washington.

Dr. Thacker says the trip was wonderful and he enjoyed every part of it, but the high light was the visit to the Holy Land and the visit to Jerusalem, the main reason for the trip. Dr. Thacker is a Bible student and a teacher of a young men's class in the First Baptist Sunday school so his trip had more meaning by his having studied the bible and the historic setting.

The group spent seven days in Jerusalem they considered well spent, but for the four days the party spent in Cario, one day would have been sufficient, said Dr. Thacker. Cario is a dirty city and the food was terrible. Modern mode of travel, the automobile and the ancient oxcart could be seen in the city on same streets. The people as a whole were friendly to the group on the trip, but the Arabs and Assyrians were most unfriendly.

CLYDE GREEN HOME, EXPECTS DISCHARGE FROM ARMY SOON

Clyde Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Green arrived home last week from a 14-month stay in Germany with the second armored division of Uncle Sams army. Clyde was stationed at Bad Kreuznach. He is happy to be home. He is surely enjoying the hot weather.

He will receive his discharge within the next 10 days at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio.

SCOUTERS MEETING CALLED

G. E. Mayo announces there will be a meeting of all Cub Scout leaders and den mothers at the Chamber of Commerce office on Monday night at 7:30 o'clock.

Floydada Tot Has Polio; Hospitalized

William Eugene Smith, age five years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Trust Smith is a patient in the West Texas Polio center in Plainview.

William Eugene became ill last Tuesday and was carried to the Lockney General hospital for observation. Later on Friday he was admitted to the Polio center where it was found that he had a case of non-paralytic polio.

On Tuesday, William Eugene was thought by relatives to be improving, however he had been a very sick boy.

Mrs. Smith has been at the center since William Eugene was admitted there. Mr. Smith is an employee of the City of Floydada in the Water department, and the family home is at 620 Mississippi street.

Another poliomyelitis case from Floyd county is William Lee Wesley, 40, of Lockney, who was admitted to the polio center Saturday. Wesley's case also is non-paralytic, according to report.

LIBRARY MEETING MONDAY

There will be a regular meeting of the county library committee Monday afternoon at 3:30 in the library room in the court house, Mrs. J. H. Barnard announces.

All members are urged to be present.

HIS POINT OF VIEW

There is no need for me to go to the United States senate or for anyone else to go to Washington and expect to win the tidelands for this state if a majority of the people of Texas vote for a presidential candidate who in advance says that he favors the use of a presidential veto to prevent a majority of Congress from restoring the property and the principles of law.

In other words, if a majority of the people of Texas vote for Mr. Stevenson, he will take it as a mandate from Texans themselves that we do not really believe this property to be ours or that we really do not object very strenuously to it being taken away from our public schools.

The time has come for Texas Democrats to let it be known just how strongly they feel about the tidelands issue and whether they are willing to continue the fight or give it up as a sacrifice on the altar of party loyalty.

As for me, I think it is time for Texas Democrats to revolt against domination and control of the national party by those who are against our state, who ignore our views, and who trample upon our Annexation Agreement.

Cotton Seed hulls on the live stock man's premises so the cattle could graze around over them and eat as they needed to, especially in dry, hard winters, was one of the ways the live stock man used to see himself through. But the pink bollworm is changing this, has done so for a number of years. The threat of the pink boll worm is so great the authorities are agreed the only way is to destroy the hiding places of the insect, that is the stalk and trash in the field, and the burrs as they reach the gins. They say that at present the pink boll worm is fully the menace that boll weevils one time were. The authorities declare that the pink boll worm will destroy the Texas cotton industry unless the industry destroys first the pink boll worm. The waste is terrific but probably the end justifies the means. Most ginners who viewed the area where the pink boll worm holds sway seem to be well agreed with the authorities that the cotton growing industry and the ginning industry alike are definitely threatened. They also are agreed it will be a long, hard fight, with no let-down.

Only way we can see for the cotton grower and the live stock farmer to get on an equally agreeable platform is to have the rules of the game revised so that a farmer can have the burrs and moats piled out on his farm in the winter months under penalty of destroying them before the hatching season opens in the spring, the penalty enforced able by the same inspectors who have authority to take a ginner's license to do business for lack of compliance with the rules. Most any livestock man would willingly agree to such a plan and would live up to it faithfully, we believe.

Through the Years, a history of Crosby county, Texas, is a collection of historical features which very well record in word and picture the events which transpired in Crosby county from the first sagas on down through the years. For its compilation two sisters, Mrs. Nellie Witt Spikes and Temple Ann Ellis took the hundreds of manuscripts, pictures, anecdotes and memorabilia from the late seventies to approximately the present time, and appended them to a story of the area from the dawn of time written by Wesley Lizzard. The job of getting their material assembled occupied most of their time for a year. It is not exactly a historian's history but it does record most of the events that happened, politically, economically, socially. It has a hundred angles that will appeal to the student of early history, especially those students to whom the events have nostalgic appeal. To our thinking the two women have done what amounts to a monumental job in a most acceptable manner. Incidentally, they'll just about break even, financially, by which we mean their cash income, if they sell as many books as they hope to sell, will about equal their cash outlay. Their work will be thrown in. Book writing, especially on historical themes, often goes like that. Half a century from now the book will be invaluable. Right now it just barely pays its way.

Wanted.—Riding attachment for shocking forage feed bundles. So far an acceptable substitute for forage feed as a filler for plains cattle has not been found, but until the farm commodity price structure changes or until a means is found of substituting for hand labor, bundles may continue to be scarcer and scarcer.

HIS EYES DEPEND ON YOU!

School days—and home work nights—are here again, and your child's eyes depend on you—and good lighting.

A good study lamp is tall, has a diffusing bowl, and spreads the light evenly over a wide area. Be sure and place the lamp so that the shadows run away from the light.

Your child's eyes—and his studies—depend on you—and good light. Eyes are priceless, but light is yours for pennies.

Legumes
To make plans for planting legumes properly, a student of the soil should understand the movement of plant roots and the circulation of water and air. Good remedies for this condition are deep rooted legumes or grasses which will punch holes in the sub-soil and aid the water-air-root conditions.

Another farming "bug-a-boo" is the type of land which has a heavy, dense sub-soil at a comparatively shallow depth. These sub-soils restrict the movement of plant roots and hinder circulation of water and air. Good remedies for this condition are deep rooted legumes or grasses which will punch holes in the sub-soil and aid the water-air-root conditions.

When plowed under the soil as a green manure crop, legumes increase the organic matter of the land. This matter helps hold the small soil particles together and improves the granular quality of the soil structure. High organic matter in the soil almost assures the best types of air circulation and absorption of water which is so essential to plant life.

The farmer who is unsure of the qualities of his soil can get professional help and advice. Soil samples taken from fields where legumes are to be grown should be sent to the Soils Laboratory, College Station, Texas, for analysis. This analysis will determine what kind and the amounts of fertilizers needed to make legume growing more successful in the various soil-type areas of Texas.

For Sale, Bargain: Stainless Steel Teeth

Not many people know it, but Uncle Sam buys millions of dollars' worth of stainless steel teeth. Don't get upset. They're not the chewing kind. They're the jet plane kind.

You see, stainless steel teeth are blades that fit inside the engine walls of jet planes. The blades help to drive air into the firing chambers. There are more than 1,000 of these teeth in each engine, and up to a little while ago each one had to be forged—a slow, fussy, expensive method.

The problem was dumped in the lap of G-E specialists, and they solved it.

The result is that today we roll a continuous strip of stainless steel, cut the teeth to length, and weld them to a base. Works fine. The cash saving: 55%. Critical material saving: 39%.

There's an extra reason to be happy about this, since all of us taxpayers have to foot the bills. Millions of dollars will be saved by the military services in future blade production. And the how-to-do-it is being shared through the U.S. Air Force with other jet engine builders.

Anne Self, Raymon Hackett Wedding Vows Read Friday

Marriage vows were read on Friday evening at 8 o'clock in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Meek for their niece, Miss Anne Self and Raymon Hackett, of Plainview. Elder Willie Fox of Amarillo, officiated.

The double ring wedding ceremony was performed before an improvised altar near the fireplace. Mixed garden flowers were placed in containers on the mantle and six small flower pots on stands, entwined with clematis vine were placed on each side of the fireplace.

The maid of honor, Miss Norma Self, sister of the bride, and the best man, Bill Turner entered with the couple. Miss Self wore a brown dress trimmed with lime green and she used brown accessories. Her corsage was of yellow carnations.

The bride chose for her wedding dress a two-piece model of beige with lace collar and bodice and wore navy and pink accessories. She carried a white bible, topped with a pink rose bud corsage tied with navy ribbon in love knots.

For something new, she had her bridal attire, something borrowed was the bible belonging to Miss Beth Walker, something old was a lace handkerchief belonging to the groom's mother, who used it at her wedding and something blue was her ear rings. The bride wore the traditional lucky penny in her shoe.

Mrs. Self, the bride's mother, wore a two-piece blue and white dress, and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Hackett, the bride-groom's mother, wore an aqua dress with white accessories and white carnation corsage.

Reception Follows Ceremony
A reception followed the ceremony, when wedding cake and punch was served to the guests from a lace covered table by Misses Beth Walker and Glenda Meek. A centerpiece of pink sweetpeas, and crystal punch service completed the table decorations.

The bride attended Floydada schools and was a member of the 1953 class, while the bridegroom is a graduate of the Petersburg high school.

The bride was employed during the summer months at the Bradford Jewelry and last summer and in the fall and spring was employed by White Drug company, in Floydada.

She is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oran Self. She was a popular member of the Floydada high school student body, having been a member of the Girls chorus and the Blue Notes.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 606 E. Paso street, Plainview.

"Fifty" Study Club Begins Year With A Picnic Supper

The 1950 Study Club began the new club year with a picnic supper at the home of Mrs. Lane Decker Tuesday night. Mrs. Watson Jones was co-hostess with Mrs. Decker.

Members present were Mesdames Jack Coffman, Gene Collins, Bob Copeland, Glen Day, Bill DuBois, David Kirk, Hollie McLain, Edell Moore, Kenneth Ring, Lyndell Roberts, Jimmy Tye, Claud Weathersbee, Edward Wester and Arthur Womack, Jr.

The next meeting will be September 16 with Mrs. Bob Copeland as hostess.

Anyone can take a picture. Just get a camera — with these new high speed films and other gadgets, they're practically foolproof; then aim and click.

For years we've watched camera-happy guys blind a speaker, distract attention from a bride, or get between the stands and the football play. Show-stealers, we thought; want to call attention to themselves. They don't really need to climb a telephone pole or creep down an aisle to get a good shot.

We took a few days off last week to master this simple skill. Needed a certain picture and there was no sense paying a commercial photographer.

"Take it at one one-hundredth," a successful amateur advised. "And open up the diaphragm for an inside shot."

Feeling professional, we gathered up camera, bulbs and flash attachments, and sallied forth. After trying several angles, we found the right one from atop a dining room chair. We snapped, but the bulb failed to flash. Off the perch to take inventory, we fixed the gimmick and tried again. A few trips on-and-off-the-chair later, we had several nice shots; could hardly wait to get them developed and choose the best one.

"Nothing on the films," the photographer explained. "With this camera you'd have to take flashes at one twenty-fifth. Come back in an hour and I'll work you out an exact chart."

Armed with new knowledges about distances and diaphragms we started out to retake the picture. This time a flock of gremlins messed up the results. Many dollars and per-spring days later, we still don't have that simple photograph. We aren't discouraged, but we do have a new idol. It's that great intellectual giant, that master of all skills, the Shutterbug!

MRS. BROWN HOME

Owens-Ward Vows Solemnized in Home Wedding August 24

The marriage of Miss Johnnie Owens and William E. Ward was read on Sunday, August 24, at 9 o'clock in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Owens.

Reverend D. J. Kinard officiated at the candle light ceremony which was held beneath an archway made of fern, daisies and gladioli.

Candle lighters were Charles Owens, brother of the bride, and Freddie Allen, a nephew. Roy Kinard acted as the bride-groom's best man.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length dress, of lace and net over satin made with accordin pleated skirt.

Her veil of heirloom lace was attached to a tiara of orange blossoms. She carried a white bible topped with an orchid tied with white satin streamers. For something old the bride carried a handkerchief, which was over 30 years old; something new was her wedding attire; something borrowed was pearls, belonging to her mother and something blue was the blue satin garter.

Mrs. Cantrell Marlon of Honor
Mrs. J. D. Cantrell, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a white nylon dress and her corsage was pink carnations.

Mrs. Owens chose for her daughter's wedding a navy sheer dress and with it she wore a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Ward wore navy crepe with pink carnation corsage.

A reception followed the ceremony when bride's cake and punch were served to the guests by cousins of the bride, Misses Millie Carnack and Jolene and Jerry Owens.

The wedding cake, which centered the table, was made by an aunt of the bride, Mrs. Edd Amstheuler of Dallas. It was made in the shape of an open bible, all in white, and placed on a mirror reflector. It had the name of the couple on one side or page and the words, "Whom God hath joined, let no man put asunder." The cake was decorated with small roses and sweet-peas. At the top two small wedding bells tied with white satin ribbon, finished the decor.

After a short trip, the couple are at home in Floydada, where the bride is employed by King Tractor & Motor, and the bridegroom is with Keystone Drilling company. Guests were from Dallas, Station, Lubbock, Lockney and Floydada.

The bride graduated with the class of 1952 of the Floydada High school.

Conservation District News COVER CROPS

Frank Probasco, who farms just west of Floydada and South of Aiken, is a conservation farmer who has found Vetch to be a good soil improving crop for him.

Let us take a look at how Mr. Probasco handled his vetch to find it so beneficial.

First, Mr. Probasco seeded his vetch on wheat land last September 25. He took advantage of the land between the time his wheat came off and the time to plant his grain sorghums in the Spring. He sowed the vetch for the specific purpose of improving the structure of his soil and the adding fertility as a result of the decaying green vetch.

Although Mr. Probasco only watered his vetch one time in March, he had a very heavy crop of green cover to turn under this spring.

The green vetch was turned under around the first of May and a grain sorghum was drilled in about 30 days later. He used a drill because he was afraid his lister would drag. However, Mr. Probasco thinks now that a lister may be used alright because of the rapid rate in which the green vetch broke down.

The grain sorghum on this field looks very good at this time.

Mr. Probasco has used some commercial fertilizer this year, but he said in the future he plans to obtain his fertility through the use of a legume because it is a lot cheaper and besides it improves the tilth of his soil and the following crop seems to respond more favorably.

He thinks enough of his last year's vetch to plant 100 acres this year.

Frank may water his vetch this fall to get an increased growth so he can get some fall, winter and spring grazing as well as improving the fertility and structure of his soil.

He is thinking about seeding rye with some of his vetch so he can harvest the seed.

The use of cover crops is a practice which has been proven and we would encourage farmers who are interested in improving the condition of their soil and who are interested in an increased yield to try this thing of "Cover Crops."

I would like to remind you that the Floyd County Soil Conservation District has some special equipment for seeding Cover Crops, pastures and alfalfa. If you are a co-operator with the Floyd County District, contact Mr. Barber or Mr. Price, vocational Agriculture Teachers at Floydada or Mr. Brewer, Vocational Agriculture Teacher at Lockney - if you would like to use this equipment.

Feature Added For Hog Show

O. M. Watson, Jr., announced this week that farm machinery dealers are being queried this week to learn if they want to make display of their machinery on the open grounds adjacent to the barns at the achievement day hog show is held.

Date for the show is September 20. It is achievement day both for PFA and 4-H club boys, who will show their swine for prizes that will be awarded. The hog show is a big event in the annals of the youthful swine growers.

Watson said ample room for the machinery on the grounds would make it possible for a big display of the various types of machinery being offered by dealers, and it is possible this could be made an interesting feature.

Social Security Benefits Increased

If you are one of the 3,500 South Plains people who receive monthly old-age and survivors insurance payments, September 1 and October 3 are two dates to remember.

Beginning September 1 you can earn as much as $75 a month and still cash your social security checks. About October 3 your benefit check for September will go into the mail, and practically all families receiving benefits will get increased amounts beginning with these checks.

John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock social security office, points out that no application need be made for the increase in payment already being made. It will be made automatically.

A person who is on the rolls but is not receiving checks because he is earning between $50 and $75 a month should call or write to the social security office in order to get his payments started.

Self-employed people who receive the payments may average as much as $75 a month throughout the year and still receive monthly benefit checks, according to Mr. Hutton. Thus, a self-employed person who works in his own business and makes no more than $900 in a year will receive all the monthly checks. If he earns more than $900 in the year, benefits for one or more months may not be payable. The number of months for which benefits are not payable depends on the amount of work he does in his business and the amount by which his earnings exceed $900.

After a person reaches 75 social security benefits may be paid to him regardless of how much he is earning.

Mrs. Juanita Short, field representative from the Lubbock social security office will be in Floydada on September 10. She will be at the Post Office at 9:00 a.m. to discuss all matters relative to Social Security.

Frank Probasco, who farms just west of Floydada and South of Aiken, is a conservation farmer who has found Vetch to be a good soil improving crop for him.

Let us take a look at how Mr. Probasco handled his vetch to find it so beneficial.

First, Mr. Probasco seeded his vetch on wheat land last September 25. He took advantage of the land between the time his wheat came off and the time to plant his grain sorghums in the Spring. He sowed the vetch for the specific purpose of improving the structure of his soil and the adding fertility as a result of the decaying green vetch.

Although Mr. Probasco only watered his vetch one time in March, he had a very heavy crop of green cover to turn under this spring.

The green vetch was turned under around the first of May and a grain sorghum was drilled in about 30 days later. He used a drill because he was afraid his lister would drag. However, Mr. Probasco thinks now that a lister may be used alright because of the rapid rate in which the green vetch broke down.

The grain sorghum on this field looks very good at this time.

Mr. Probasco has used some commercial fertilizer this year, but he said in the future he plans to obtain his fertility through the use of a legume because it is a lot cheaper and besides it improves the tilth of his soil and the following crop seems to respond more favorably.

He thinks enough of his last year's vetch to plant 100 acres this year.

Frank may water his vetch this fall to get an increased growth so he can get some fall, winter and spring grazing as well as improving the fertility and structure of his soil.

He is thinking about seeding rye with some of his vetch so he can harvest the seed.

The use of cover crops is a practice which has been proven and we would encourage farmers who are interested in improving the condition of their soil and who are interested in an increased yield to try this thing of "Cover Crops."

I would like to remind you that the Floyd County Soil Conservation District has some special equipment for seeding Cover Crops, pastures and alfalfa. If you are a co-operator with the Floyd County District, contact Mr. Barber or Mr. Price, vocational Agriculture Teachers at Floydada or Mr. Brewer, Vocational Agriculture Teacher at Lockney - if you would like to use this equipment.

Feature Added For Hog Show

O. M. Watson, Jr., announced this week that farm machinery dealers are being queried this week to learn if they want to make display of their machinery on the open grounds adjacent to the barns at the achievement day hog show is held.

Date for the show is September 20. It is achievement day both for PFA and 4-H club boys, who will show their swine for prizes that will be awarded. The hog show is a big event in the annals of the youthful swine growers.

Watson said ample room for the machinery on the grounds would make it possible for a big display of the various types of machinery being offered by dealers, and it is possible this could be made an interesting feature.

Social Security Benefits Increased

If you are one of the 3,500 South Plains people who receive monthly old-age and survivors insurance payments, September 1 and October 3 are two dates to remember.

Beginning September 1 you can earn as much as $75 a month and still cash your social security checks. About October 3 your benefit check for September will go into the mail, and practically all families receiving benefits will get increased amounts beginning with these checks.

John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock social security office, points out that no application need be made for the increase in payment already being made. It will be made automatically.

A person who is on the rolls but is not receiving checks because he is earning between $50 and $75 a month should call or write to the social security office in order to get his payments started.

Self-employed people who receive the payments may average as much as $75 a month throughout the year and still receive monthly benefit checks, according to Mr. Hutton. Thus, a self-employed person who works in his own business and makes no more than $900 in a year will receive all the monthly checks. If he earns more than $900 in the year, benefits for one or more months may not be payable. The number of months for which benefits are not payable depends on the amount of work he does in his business and the amount by which his earnings exceed $900.

After a person reaches 75 social security benefits may be paid to him regardless of how much he is earning.

Mrs. Juanita Short, field representative from the Lubbock social security office will be in Floydada on September 10. She will be at the Post Office at 9:00 a.m. to discuss all matters relative to Social Security.

Pink Bollworm No. 1 Problem Of Cotton Man

Spreading cotton burrs back on the land means taking a big chance on getting a heavy infestation of pink bollworms, in the opinion of H. P. Prickett, area leader of the pink bollworm control project of the United States Department of Agriculture.

Speaking as a private citizen and not as an official representative of the department, Prickett warns that a heavy infestation, once established, is almost impossible to eradicate.

Same In Dormancy
"Some of the insect remains in a dormant stage each year, with most maturing during the following growing season," Prickett said recently. "However, some remain in the dormant stage for as long as 30 months."

Some South Plains farmers think that the pink bollworm has been here always, but Prickett's report does not bear this out.

He says that the insect came from Egypt in 1911 in seed sent to Mexico and Brazil, and the first infestation was found in South Texas as in 1917 after seed has been sent from Mexico to a South Texas cotton seed mill the year before.

Does Heavy Damage
"Last year the pink bollworm did from 15 to 40 per cent damage to cotton in the Rio Grande Valley, taking up where the boll weevil left off, and the same thing could happen in other places," Prickett warns.

Spread of the insect is by various means, including riding in migrant workers cotton sacks, or, in the case of the mature insect, on masses of warm air which carry it up from the ground, and then carry it for some distance.

Poisoning is difficult, because the insect stays hidden during the day. The larva bores into the cotton boll, eats cotton seed kernels, then bores out and drops to the ground for the pupal stage. Both entry and exit damage cotton fibers.

Suggests Burning Burrs

Prickett says that the bollworm is now the No. 1 pest of the cotton world. In his opinion, burning the cotton burrs and using strippers on the fields are the best methods of control. He thinks sterilized cotton burrs are safe for return to the soil, though.

"In the final analysis, it must be the people themselves who decide whether to play it safe, or take chances with pink bollworm," was final comment.

Allen's Party Sees Damascus

(Ed. Note: Close up views of trouble and hate was afforded R. Earl Allen's party in the Holy land last week. Among other results of the suspicion of things American the party was subjected to close watch and censorship. Mail to the United States was so seriously slowed that Mr. Allen was at home Monday following the receipt of the letter below, which told of the last leg of their trip before starting home.)

(By R. Earl Allen)

(From Athens, Greece Received 8-30-52)

Our leave was made of Egypt by plane from Cairo to the beautiful city of Beirut, Lebanon. We were much more happy to get away than the ancient Israelites. When the plane cleared the ground, the group began singing the Doxology.

Cairo visited at any other season of the year and when not under revolution hysteria, would perhaps have been more beautiful and enjoyable. The hotel in which we stayed at Cairo was located in such a place that odors made eating unnecessary. To see as many hungry people as were on the streets kept you from having an appetite.

Beirut is an oasis of old on the desert. It is one of the most westernized cities of the eastern world. The blue Mediterranean that flows by the edge of town is one of the earth's most beautiful sights.

Time was brief in this place and allowed us only the opportunity for some contact with missionaries. The evangelical work is beginning to make an impression here. Due to the schools of evangelical christianity and the American university being located here, Beirut has a chance to set out definite influence into the nations that join them.

The forests of Lebanon are no more. The tall cedars of Solomon's day, which have become the emblem of Lebanon, are now extinct. There can be found some small group of trees at Barouk and Kadisha. The trees are the pride of the people. Baalbeck, city of the gods, is located in Lebanon. The city of past glory is in ruins. It was built by Roman emperors to the Sun God. It is now only a place of marble columns and foundations but, it is a paradise of historians and archaeologists.

We drove overland through the mountains from Beirut to the Damascus, the oldest city in the world. Much more danger was more evident on the road than flying the ocean. These taxi drivers play chicken with automobiles and they only pass on curves. The state department advisor told the group before we left the states that the bigger the car was, the smaller our chance of survival. We believe him now. Blowouts were common, but finally all 17 limousines arrived in Damascus without serious damage. I must admit that much prayer was made.

We never got into another taxi, without the word, "Slow Down" in the native language. One time, we couldn't get the driver to slacken his speed any other way. There were seven men in our car and we backed up our professor, shaking his fist in the driver's face. He drove as a sane man the rest of the trip, and it wasn't necessary to fight as fists seem to be a universal language.

Damascus is the city of yesterday. We went to the street called Straight, where Paul was carried to the house of Ananias after being stroke down by the Lord on the Damascus road. We read the story in the New Testament and sang a hymn, had a prayer and went out. Out from a quiet place to a city of unrest and head counting.

The feeling against the Americans is very high in Assyria. One preacher was arrested by the secret police for leaving the hotel. Another had to get out of the border within 24 hours for passing out a gospel of John in the native language. A taxi to the border cost $150.00 at the unusual hour.

There is absolutely no religious liberty in the Moslem world. Our film was taken away at the Assyrian border customs office by the Assyrian government. All 87 people lost valuable shots of film that cannot be retaken. Finally, after two hours of being held in the desert custom post, we started our journey across barren waste land and arrived in Amman, the capital of Trans-Jordan at 4:30 for our dinner. We were grateful to the Lord for His protection.

In Amman, we had our second "king" problem of the trip. The king of Trans-Jordan was removed from his throne by parliament of the country. We were again in the midst of another confused nation.

State Senator's Daughter Dies

CHILDRESS — Funeral services were conducted at the Newberry Funeral chapel in Childress Tuesday morning for Terry Susan Rogers, infant daughter of State Senator and Mrs. A. J. 'Andy' Rogers. Presiding minister was Rev. B. J. Martin.

She died late Monday afternoon in the Childress General hospital, and burial was conducted in the Childress cemetery by Newberry Funeral home.

Survivors include her parents, a sister Paula Ann, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Rogers of Childress and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred M. Scott of Austin.

MRS. BEULA OLIVE HAS MAJOR SURGERY AT LUBBOCK

Mrs. Beula Olive, saleslady at Solomons Jewelry, was taken seriously ill on last Monday evening at her home and was taken to Peoples hospital. Later she was removed to Lubbock Memorial hospital, where she had major surgery.

Mrs. Olive was very ill, but on Tuesday was reported as being slightly improved.

Her sisters, Mrs. W. M. Morris and Mrs. Sid Parkinson, the latter of Crystal City, are in attendance at her bedside.

A niece, Mrs. Clinton Fyffe, also has been in Lubbock with her aunt at different times during the week.

GLOW, LITTLE GLOW PAINT

Beyond their novelty use on toys and lighting fixtures, phosphorescent and fluorescent paints have extensive application. Phosphorescent paint makes control valves, switches and dials visible on naval vessels in case of a power failure. Blacklights dials, painted with fluorescent materials, are standard on aircraft. Of the phosphorescent materials, calcium sulphide, gives a purple glow; zinc sulphide, a greenish-yellow glow; and strontium sulphide, a bluish-white one.

American Customs

American-style quilting bees have reached Korea. Hundreds of women in the Pusan area volunteered to engage in "Operation Quilt" to provide comfort for destitute Koreans against the bitter cold of winter. The United Nations Civil Assistance Command supplied 96,000 yards of twill, 2,900 bales of raw cotton, and plenty of thread and needles. The first issue will make approximately 16,000 quilts.

Don't forget that sweet potatoes are one of our most delicious frozen foods. Here is a good way to prepare them for freezing:
Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour. Cool. Remove skin. Cut sweet potatoes in 1/2 inch slices lengthwise of the potato, or cut in quarters. Roll in granulated sugar, package and freeze.

of discharge or separation papers are acceptable. One exception is the VA-guaranteed GI loans.

Veterans applying for certificates of eligibility for GI loans must present their original discharge or separation papers which will be endorsed and returned to the veterans.

VA also asked veterans to make sure, in submitting photostatic or certified copies of discharge or separation papers, that they submit copies of both sides of the document and not just the front.

Veterans who have been released to the reserves since June 27, 1950, should submit their report of separation or certificate of service, since they do not get discharge papers.

FORTUNE TELLERS

A fortune-teller told the mother of Hans Christian Anderson, who was regarded by the people of their town as "as fool and a lunatic," that he some day would be "a very great man." On the strength of that prediction, Anderson's mother advised her ugly duckling son to go out into the world to seek his fortune and thus fulfill the ambition he cherished. While there are still plenty of "fools and lunatics" who consult them, fortune tellers apparently have lost their magic touch. No great improvement seems observable either in the talents or in the appearance of their clients, even after several visits.

An old mountaineer once told us he had been shaving himself with a straight-edge "for nigh on to five years, and 'ain't cut myself neither time."

The bee that gets the honey doesn't hang around the hive.

CONOCO No. 1 — Telephone 20

There was a young doctor named Fred
Whose car made his practice go dead

He was great at prescribing,
But so late arriving.

The patients he had quickly fixed

Then I got Conoco's NEW 1-2-3
"50,000 Miles
No Wear" Service!

Now Doctor Fred's a happy "med"... thanks to one of the greatest services ever offered the motoring public—a service that helps engines last longer, perform better, use less gasoline and oil!

It's exactly the same service that kept test cars new in Conoco's spectacular
"50,000 Miles—No Wear" road test!

In that famous 50,000-mile test, with 1,000-mile drains and proper filter service, test car engines showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crank-shafts. Gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000.

Now you can get this same 1-2-3 "50,000
Miles—No Wear" Service, at your Conoco
Mileage Merchant's today!

HELPS YOUR ENGINE LAST LONGER, PERFORM BETTER, USE LESS
GASOLINE AND OIL!

HERE'S CONOCO'S "50,000 MILES—NO WEAR" SERVICE

At proper intervals, Your Conoco Mileage Merchant will:

Enrollment Up From Year Ago

First three-day enrollment in Floydada public schools is up 101 scholastics over the same period last year.

Figures released yesterday by superintendent I. T. Graves gave the high school enrollment at 346, against 321 last year; Andrews ward total at 704 against 649 last year, and North ward 90 against 69 in 1951.

Total enrollment for all three schools is 1,140, against 1,039 in 1951, a gain of 101 pupils.

Extensive new class room space was finished at the Andrews ward school the earlier part of this year and additional teaching space is being provided at both the high school and the north ward school at this time. However, none of this work will be finished for several weeks, and part of the North ward scholastic body is still in temporary quarters.

EDNA KAY WEST AT SCHOOL DESPITE KICK BY HORSE

Little Miss Edna Kay West, age 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. West of the Montgomery ranch had the misfortune to have a horse kick her in the face last week at her home, with the result that she is minus four front teeth.

Edna Kay was carried to the Peoples hospital, where x-rays showed no bones broken. She is now doing fine and started to school Monday.

Edna Kay had been riding her horse. When she took the animal to the barn lot the accident happened.

Dove Season Opens Farmers Dodging

Opening of the dove season this week brought joy to the hunters but not as much joy to them as worry and loss to farm operators and live stock men.

One of the unhappy farmer-stockmen yesterday was Lee Rushing, who "never did turn anybody in" but is sorely tempted now. The wanton carelessness and lack of respect for the owner of the land is an amazing thing, declares Mr. Rushing.

"They shoot from the road, they kill right up in your yard, and they make practice targets out of your windmills and houses," he said. One bunch Tuesday shot a hole in the gear box of one of his windmills. You have to watch to stay out of their way and just hope they don't wound or kill any of your cattle, he says.

An all-year worry of the farmers are the rabbit hunters who use spotlights and keep you dodging at night as well as in the day-time.

Death Claims

and the other relatives were notified of his condition. A niece, Mrs. Roy Stewart and two great-nieces, Mrs. Margaret Morgan and Mrs. Katherine Norman, all of Austin, were here about ten days ago, with their uncle, Mesdames Stewart, Morgan and Norman arrived yesterday for the rites.

Hugo Elmo Cannaday was born in Wynnboro, Texas, on November 6, 1880, and came to Floydada in 1911 where he made his home with his brother, the late W. L. Cannaday and family, until his death. Mr. Cannaday was a bachelor. He was a member of the First Baptist church and of the Masonic lodge.

He and his brother came to Floydada about 40 years ago and engaged in contracting and the lumber business. During the later years of his life, he engaged in ranching, stock raising, and managing his farms in this county.

Survivors include one brother, H. L. Cannaday of Wynnboro, the two sisters, Mrs. Welborn and Mrs. Stewart and two great-nieces, Miss Ann Welborn of Floydada and Mrs. Margaret Morgan of Austin and one great nephew, L. G. Stewart, Jr., who is in the armed forces, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. W. I. Cannaday of Floydada.

R. B. MITCHELL VERY SICK

R. B. Mitchell who has been a patient in Lockney General hospital for the past week, was removed on Tuesday to Floydada to the Peoples hospital. Mr. Mitchell's condition was reported by the family Wednesday as still bad.

His daughters, Mrs. Robert McGuire of Anton and Mrs. Dolly Young of Plainview are here with their father.

McCoy Reunion Held Thursday

On Thursday, August 28, former residents and school kids of the McCoy community held a reunion in MacKenzie Park. A great dinner was enjoyed by a large crowd, much larger than was anticipated, as it was the first "homecoming" for this group.

Mrs. W. W. Smith, 84 years of age was the oldest person present. Mrs. Smith now resides in Floydada.

Plans were made for a much larger attendance for next year, and the reunion will be held on the last Saturday and Sunday in August, 1953 at the park.

In the business session held, Raymond Hurst of Happy, Texas, was named president; Mrs. Thelma Jones, Floydada was made secretary; Leonard Smith, treasurer, and George Smith, vice-president, both of McCoy.

A committee named for general arrangements are R. L. Neil and C. L. Berry of Floydada and Coleman McSpadden of Lubbock.

Auto Inspections To Exceed 4,000

Yesterday it appeared that automobile inspection tags have been issued to slightly less than 4,000 in Floyd county and the number who will be able to get under the wire and operate their machines legally will run slightly less than 4,500.

Jim Riddle, state inspector for the district, yesterday estimated to a Rotary club audience that the area would average 90 per cent inspections for all cars.

Car inspection stations yesterday were reporting that many of the cars now being brought in need a lot of things to bring them up to par and it will be expensive to these owners.

Rev. S. L. Woods Nazarene Minister

Reverend C. B. Dickerman and family left Tuesday for his new pastorate at Higgitas Texas, where he will be pastor of the Nazarene church.

Reverend S. L. Woods and family arrived on Wednesday afternoon to make their home in Floydada. He will be the new pastor of the church of the Nazarene, moving here from Bowie, Texas.

Reverend Woods will fill the pulpit at the church on Sunday in his first sermon as pastor of the church.

Bill Womack Due Home Pretty Soon

Mrs. A. V. Womack said Wednesday the last letter she had from her son, Bill, was that his company and division were just waiting for a ship to come pick them up and bring them home. She is looking for Bill most any time now. Her last letter from him was dated August 18 and he said on account of the storms, they might be a little late.

Bill is in the 45th division, which has seen duty in Korea. He expects his discharge in October.

MOTHER ILL AT MATADOR

Mrs. Wiley Rogers has been in attendance at her mother's bedside at night and works at Clarks Cleaners during the day. Mrs. J. W. Clary, the mother, of Quitaque, has been ill for several months, but is very ill now in the Matador hospital. Her condition was improved on Wednesday afternoon, members of the family reported.

Guests in the home of Mrs. Scott King over the week-end were Dale King and wife and baby son, Scott of Umbarger, Mr and Mrs. Rusty Russell of Mineral Wells, and Terry Dale Smith of Fort Worth.

It seems that dolls that cry "mama" when you squeeze them have gone out of style.

Cone District Volunteer Tax Now Proposed

In a valiant effort to maintain a good school at Cone the trustees this week are proposing to the taxpayers of the district a volunteer tax on themselves to make building repairs to the school plant and to operate the school the coming term.

The school is feeling the pinch of increasing costs, in common with schools over the state, and the board has devised the volunteer plan to meet the situation. Their plan will obviate both a bond issue and a consolidation, the board declares in a letter to the taxpayers. There are two alternatives to the plan they propose:

(1) A bond issue, which will be unnecessary if the plan is followed;

(2) Consolidation with the Rails Independent district, where, the statement says, valuations are much higher.

The board says unless the taxpayers of the district go along with their plan the bond issue or the consolidation are the only alternatives.

The problem of financing is brought about by the fact that a common school district tax is based on county valuation and it cannot be exceeded. "In our case," the statement points out, "it is far too low."

In putting the voluntary tax into operation the amount to be paid by each taxpayer is based on the tax rolls of the district. It is the fairest plan they have been able to devise, says the statement.

Alfred B. Clark is president of the board, C. O. Gilbreath, secretary. Third member is Joe M. Jackson.

Cotton Harvest

scourge appears to be fairly well under control. The cost to the producers is running between $2.65 and $2.75 per acre, Mr. Gibson said.

Although the big crop of cotton is reaching maturity in the field there was no indication from ginners this week that the ginning season would open soon. A few days may see the first bales show up but the harvest on any considerable scale is at least three weeks away, said one ginner.

D. F. ROGERS CONVALESCES

D. F. Rogers, Jr., who had major surgery in Plainview hospital recently is recuperating at the home of his mother, Mrs. D. F. Rogers, sr., now and members of the family say he is doing fine.

D. F. is employed by the city of Plainview and has been living in that city for the past several months.
