Dr. Alberto Gainza Paz, the Argentinian newspaper publisher, an exile from another country where it could not happen, was given a tremendous ovation in Texas last week-end. He was guest of honor and feature speaker when the new school of journalism building at University of Texas was dedicated. The exile, a man of great wealth, publisher of a Buenos Aires newspaper with a circulation more than twice that of any Texas paper, found out that when the government becomes your master instead of your servant you'll be dancing their tune or as an alternative make your escape from the country. Texans at Austin really made a fuss over the newspaper man. Amongst other things they made Dr. and Mrs. Gainza Paz honorary citizens of the State of Texas and at the half in the Saturday football game they presented the doctor with a 10-gallon hat. In this state that is the most you can do for anybody. The doctor ate it up.

An interesting development of the past week in the cotton fields of the Brownfield area is, as we get it, the telegraphed order from a federal agency declaring the price per hundred for pulling cotton, ordering the farmers to pay a certain price and making the price paid retroactive to an early date in October. Farmers who are used to reading with some complacency about the federal government making the railroads or some other employing organization pay certain wages retroactively, are rearing up on their haunches. They are engaged in an effort to get an injunction against a government agency which sets the wages they must pay after they have already settled off. Something about it is mixed up with Mexican nationals and an American-Mexican treaty. Treaties, as you know, take the place of local laws. Thus a treaty made without the knowledge of a man in Floydada could conceivably send him to jail while he tracked the law on the statute books of his own county. People should become aware of this situation which grows out of the efforts to reconcile the whole world all to live on the same plane and sacrifice or reconcile all their religious, business and racial inclinations and relations.

Perhaps it would be a good thing if all of us all over the world could get together on the same ideas—put forward by such fine, intelligent and well-meaning persons as grandmother Franklin Delano Roosevelt, for instance—but it would also be a good thing if these fine, good and intelligent people had their ideas put forward as suggestions instead of rules and laws and regulations. This is one of the dangers of the United Nations. Instead of concentrating on points on which all can agree, such as the need for peace and understanding in commerce and governmental affairs and understanding of the fact that people do have racial, religious and social prejudices and beliefs—instead of trying to live in the same world with these and letting us gradually grow out of them while we tolerate one another, living in amity in our respective orbits, United Nations appoints scores and scores of committees to investigate and recommend they have you and I do things that we know nothing about and have no voice in save and except that we do most of the paying. As Dr. Gainza Paz, the Argentinian points out, the United Nations is spoiling its usefulness by spouting and shouting, adopting rules and regulations. United Nations should be traveling right down the middle of the road, with one sole object, to enforce peace. But United Nations can't. It has to nose into every detail of peoples' relations, world-wide.

One would think that what Sancho Perez of Coahuila and John K. Doe of Brownfield agree or disagree on would come under the head of their own business. They ought to be able to agree or disagree and let it go at that. But they can't do it, because Washington and Mexico City have decided how they ought to do and how they shall do. These inter-American relations have nothing to do with United Nations procedure one would think, but they are made out of the same cloth and grow out of the same type of thinking that has Mrs. Roosevelt's committee on social problems of the world decide that everybody everywhere should by international agreement be made to lay down their prejudices and their hatreds and do like the do-gooders think they ought to do.

The Business editor of the Amarillo Daily News tells how towns in the area of Kansas City are reaching out and annexing farming country into their corporate limits. He says it is a matter of protection from big KC and its high taxes. Kansas City is pulling the kind of a grab now that Los Angeles did back in the twenties, according to Mr. Thompson, and the smaller communities are countering with an annexation program of their own. They offer the farmers lower taxes than Kansas City does.

Was it not the big cities and their high taxes which had to do with the downfall of civilization during the dark ages? Or is that a figment of imagination from careless reading of medieval history? They finally had taxed themselves so poor that they were easy prey of the vandals and all their pomp and glory was of no avail when the hard-handed despoilers swooped down upon them to darken the light of civilization for hundreds of years.

Funny thing about temper. You can't get rid of it by losing it.

There's no longer need for troublesome dead furrows splitting your fields. The new Massey-Harris No. 33 Roll-Over plow lets you start on one side of the field and plow on the same "land" until the entire field is plowed. Just flip the lever when you come to the end of the field. The "top" plow automatically rotates into position and locks rigidly in place. 3 Indictments Allege Burglary By Ex-Convict

After five years in the penitentiary serving a sentence for burglary done in Floyd county, James Ray Turner, 31, is back ready to go through the mill again.

Sheriff Leland A. Hart said the latter part of last week he had statements from Turner admitting the Harve Powell Dougherty store and post office burglary, breaking into the farm home of Bobby McHams out of Floydada, and breaking into the Farmers Elevator company office in Floydada.

Turner is in jail at Kermit. When he was in Floydada the night of September 27 and is alleged to have committed the crimes here, he was also alleged to be driving a stolen automobile. He lives at Notrees, Texas. He was picked up in Kermit by the sheriff's department there with a safe in his possession. The safe belonged to a Ballinger firm. He is being held on two forged charges in Kermit at the time.

Sheriff Hart and an inspector for the Post office department interviewed Turner in Kermit on October 25. Indictments were returned by the grand jury, each alleging burglary. Local officers say that Turner also tried forcible entry into the Massie Wholesale grocery but give it up before he had made his way into the place through the floor. Presumably there will be a federal charge filed on the postal offense. He is alleged to have picked up money from the Dougherty office. The Floyd county jury did not indict the defendant on this count.

Turner had been out of the penitentiary only a short time, but, according to the officers had started a little crime wave all of his own. Among other things he is wanted at Waco on charges which were not indicated.

When Turner was sent up from this county five years ago is was after he had been put on probation here and had a suspended sentence at Canyon. He told officers he had escaped twice from the penitentiary during his five-year sentence, only to be recaptured and returned to confinement.

District Attorney John B. Stapleton said the charges filed here would be called up after Turner has finished in the court at Kermit.

AT CAMP ROBERTS

Most of the boys from Floydada, who left for Uncle Sam's army on October 23, are now stationed at Camp Roberts California. They include George Mize, Tom Bob Jarboe, George Reid May and Gilbert Van Collins, possibly others.

Mrs. J. C. Wester has returned home from a visit with her sister, Mrs. J. D. Weatherford of Mount Vernon and with relatives in Sulphur Springs. Mrs. Wester made the trip down state with Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Wester of Dallas who had been here for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Jones left today for Rochester, Minnesota to Mayo clinic for a checkup. They made the trip by air.

Armistice day in Floydada will be observed by the general public in a quite way this year. The post office, bank and schools and the stores will be closed. No special celebration has been planned, however the American Legion will sponsor a dance on Friday night in the Surginer building on the north side of the square.

Announcement that the Whirlwind athletic club will sponsor a preliminary golden gloves tournament during the latter part of February was made this week by R. W. Cottern, secretary of the organization.

Interest was so lacking as to be very mild in Floyd county in the general election Tuesday. Election officials noted that the voting was done almost altogether by elderly persons, youngsters of 21 to 40 being conspicuous by their absence from the polls.

Several Floyd county teachers and ex-students of West Texas Teachers college, Canyon, attended the annual homecoming there last Saturday. Among those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Cummings, Mrs. C. E. Pyffe, John B. Stapleton, Fannie Mae Rees, Katherine Daniel and Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Carter.

Turkeys from Floyd county and the east plains farms moved to town rather slowly this week, but with accelerated movement yesterday. Dealers, whose offers of 11 cents for turkeys beginning last week-end got no offers by Wednesday, had increased the ante to 14 cents.

Monday of next week is scheduled for the opening of a new business in Floydada. Mrs. J. Claude Henderson of Montgomery, Alabama, who with Mr. Henderson has recently moved here, will open the Knit shop. The new business will be located in the rear of the Vogue Beauty shop on the west side of the square.

Sellers Is State Winner Achievement Program

Oct. 30 — Sellers is the state winner in the 4-H achievement program. He is the only boy in the state to win the title. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Sellers and is well known in the state's Jersey dairies.

Sellers was released from the 4-H club of ice cream sales that Kenneth Sellers, a well-known dairyman, had organized. Kenneth's all-expense educational trip to the National 4-H Club Convention, Nov. 30-Dec. 4, at the Lederle Laboratories, American Cyanamid Co., New York, which also furnishes medals for county winners and college scholarships for national winners in the dairy program.

Kenneth is a graduate of Ralls high school and is completing his ninth year in 4-H work. He started his 4-H career by feeding beef calves but in 1945 began a program that has carried him to the top as a 4-H dairyman. He is also a farmer in his own right, and this year is farming 400 acres of irrigated land. His records show that he now owns 83 head of dairy cattle.

His Winnings Are Many

His winnings at shows over the state include 17 grade championships, 108 first prize ribbons, three showmanship awards, a trophy for the best fitted animal in a state show and other awards. He is probably proudest of his fifth place ranking won in the 1950 National Junior Cattle Judging contest held in connection with the All-American Jersey show at Dallas. He was a member of the Crosby county team which won this contest. Crosby County Agent W. R. Kimbrough was coach of this team and he has supervised all of Kenneth's 4-H activities.

Five of his cows of 1951 produced 57,082 pounds of milk and his top butterfat production record in 694 pounds in 305 days. These cows are part of a group of 11 head purchased from the world's famous Knolle Jersey Farm at Sandia, Texas.

Among the things Kenneth says he had learned from his 4-H demonstrations are the value of keeping accurate production and cost records on all animals; using trench silos to supplement year round pastures storing plenty of other feeds for winter use, disease and parasite control; feeding balanced rations for top production; careful herd selection and the use of proven animals in the herd for building up herd production and sanitation both with the herd and in handling the milk.

Kenneth has served as president of his local club and of the county organization and currently is the junior leader for the Ralls 4-H club. C. H. Verrett is the adult leader. He takes an active interest in all 4-H activities and is especially helpful to the younger members.

COVINGTON WILL CAMPAIGN AGAIN FOR AMERICAN LEGION

J. C. Covington, long a member of the American Legion, and who has been a leading member-getter for the organization for several years, will try to make designation as a "Hoot Owl" again this year as membership dues rolls around.

To qualify for the designation of "Hoot Owl," a member must sign up at least 100 members. Covington has done this consecutively for five years. A certificate and badge is issued annually for every member who qualifies by signing up his fellow members.

DOUGHERTY, November 3. — The Halloween Carnival at the schoolhouse was well attended and a most enjoyable evening was reported by all. The younger set enjoyed Ping-Pong and Horse Shoes. On behalf of the community club we wish to thank each one who helped make the carnival a success. Although the exact amount of net proceeds is not available to us at this time it is thought to be quite a bit more than the expense incurred in equipping the play room.

Delegation For State Meeting To be Selected

The nineteenth annual state convention of the Texas Farm Bureau federation is to be held Monday thru Wednesday at the Plaza hotel in San Antonio. Registration starts Sunday, November 9, on the mezzanine floor. The convention proper will get under way Tuesday morning.

J. Walter Hammond, president of TFBF, will be unable to attend the meeting this year for the first time in many years. The state farm leader is recuperating at his farm at Tye, Texas, after suffering an artery condition October 1 at a meeting of American Farm Bureau board of directors in Chicago.

W. R. Puckett, of the Farm Bureau county office, yesterday said that C. H. DeVaney, of Coahoma, vice-president of the Texas Farm Bureau federation, will preside at the organization's annual convention while J. Walter Hammond, of Tye, is recuperating at his home. Hammond had an attack October 1 while attending a meeting of the Farm Bureau board of directors in Chicago.

High on the convention agenda are problems dealing with water legislation, rural roads and many other state and national issues involving agriculture. Voting on resolutions will be at the last session Wednesday afternoon.

Delegates from Floyd county who have not been named today, will be chosen at a meeting of the directors of the Floyd County Farm Bureau at a meeting tonight. The meeting finds most of the farmers extremely busy in their harvest. It is indicated as probable that president Helmut Quebe will head the delegation of three or four delegates due to make the trip.

Mrs. Carrick Snodgrass poured hot apple cider for the members present: Mesdames C. A. Williams, Everett Miller, G. L. Snodgrass, M. Carr, Chas. B. Smith, M. D. Ramsey, John Hoffman, Riley Holmes, Mesdames Jack Parker, D. S. Battey, Zant Scott, Bob Hopper, Walter Hanna, Roy Hale, E. M. Rutherford, Aldine Williams, E. W. Turner, and Mrs. Carrick Snodgrass.

No Salt-Free Waters Below Red Beds Seen

CROSBYTON. — An unfavorable report has been received from the State Railroad Commission concerning the possibility of deep irrigated wells in the territory south of Crosbyton, Blake Briscoe, Chamber of Commerce manager, reports.

Mr. Briscoe had requested a report on water bearing sands in the wildcat oil test drilled some time ago on the Abell land south of Crosbyton. The Commission stated that the log on the well does not show any salt-free water below the red-beds.

One hope is held out in the report, however. The Commission pointed out that oil drillers are usually not much interested in the formation above 1,500 feet and that the logs to this depth are usually quite incomplete.

Mr. Briscoe has called a meeting for 3:00 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the office of Work Insurance Agency for the purpose of discussing further steps. All interested persons, particularly farmers south of the city, are urged to be present.

Concert Drive Is Successful

The campaign for membership in Floydada Community Concerts closed Saturday night with wonderful results. The workers and officers were well pleased with the results and felt repaid for their weeks work.

A total of 460 members were received into the concert association during the weeks campaign.

The president, W. E. Garrett, and two vice-presidents, Mrs. Carl Minor, Jr., and Mrs. Joe Holt of Lockney, each express appreciation for the workers and for the fine spirit and cooperation that made the campaign a success.

The concert artists have been selected by the board of directors, but as yet the dates of their appearance have not been confirmed.

The artists selected include Genevieve Rowe, who possesses a beautiful coloratura soprano voice, and has thrilled radio listeners in operas such as "Beauty and the Beast" and "The Devil and Daniel Webster." She is a favorite concert artist and has been heard in five New York recitals, as soloist with the Little Orchestra, in concert and oratorio all over the United States and Canada. She is a slim brunette and has a nice stage appearance, at ease with her audience and her self.

Another artist selected by the directors is Edmund Kurtz, a distinguished cell virtuoso. Recent seasons have carried him around the world, and he is renowned both abroad and in America.

The other artist is Mildred Dillinger, a concert harpist. She has proved that the harp is as exciting a concert instrument as the piano or the violin. She has appeared in recital with orchestras in the United States, Canada, Mexico, Great Britain and western Europe and has appeared on radio and television.

All three artists will please the public, the committee is confident.

Notice how peaceful everything is? Even the pollsters stayed off of dangerous limbs this time, so they aren't having to scream alibis as they did in 1948.

It was a good rousing fight, and most of us enjoyed it. Getting worked up over something besides baseball, taxes and l-v gave us a needed change, restored our perspective. And what if we did say some pretty harsh things — about the candidates, their families, their friends, our neighbors who were voting the other way?

They know when they got into a national election they'd get their noses rubbed in the dirt. No harm intended, of course. We just like to make it hard for decent people to stay decent and still run for office. And if they're thin-skinned it was best we knew it; they'd never last through four years if they couldn't take a right to the chin and still come out of the ring smiling.

Starting Wednesday, we had half-expected a deluge of diatribes and left-over epithets to come clattering down around us. After the current of hot air which kept them suspended these past few months was cut off, we thought those glittering generalities that have been shot into space would settle to earth.

But apparently all that pre-election propaganda has gone the way of space ships, and now we're ready to remember we're Americans.

In another month, no doubt, we'll all be wondering how the peoples of South America and Europe could possibly have got the idea we have no confidence in the man who has been elected President of the United States!

Round Up of Area Football News; 'Winds Have Outstanding Record

(by Kenneth Rimmer)

With the Whirlwinds idle last week and not making any more touchdowns we found time to add up the totals for the backfield men and ends for the season.

Name	TD	EP	TP
Helms	11	1	67
Clark	10	1	61
Carmack	7	19	61
Bearden	5	0	30
Stovall	4	1	25

Several scoring plays have been called back in games this fall that were just as good and in some cases better runs than some that went on the record. In this department Brooks Chapman is the high man. Brooks has crossed the goal line 4 or 5 times to date and had the play called back for a penalty.

In checking over the records of teams over the plains area we find several with high scoring records. Some of these have scored more points than the 'Winds, but nowhere did we find a defensive record that was anywhere near that of the Floydada boys. Seven points in seven games or an average of 1.0 per game is really guarding the goal line. The lone touchdown and extra point were made by Post in the first game of the season, and as we recall it now the 'Winds were penalized some 115 yards in this game. Penalties accounted for most of the first downs the Antelopes made and had much to do with the score. It didn't seem important at the time. Most of the fans that have followed the 'Winds this season didn't want to stay home Friday night and went to Lockney to see the Longhorns do battle with the Abernathy Antelopes. Lockney was defeated 12 to 18.

Dads Night at Lockney

Lockney football dads were honor guests at the big game last Friday with Abernathy. The Dads were seated inside the field to get a better view of their sons in action. Impressive halftime activities by the two bands were also presented to the large crowd estimated at well over four thousand.

Abernathy started strong and put the Longhorns in the hole in the first quarter. After the first quarter was over it was mostly a Lockney show, but bad breaks and penalties stopped several drives for the Longhorns that could have won the game for them. The Floyd county boys led in first downs, penetrations and yardage, but were left short where it counts first — in scoring. Baker, the Longhorns hard driving back, was probably the most consistent ground gainer for the night hitting the Antelopes for five or more yards almost every time he carried.

Conference Play Begins

Conference play gets under way this week for district 2AA. The 'Winds are favored to win the district, but haven't played a district game as yet. Hereford, who is the first opponent for the locals, has played about the roughest schedule of any team in the district. The Whitefaces have defeated Muleshoe and Friona, tied Levelland and Dalhart, and lost to Brownfield, Phillips and Dumas. To date the Hereford team has scored 46 points and yielded 89.

Tulia, the second conference opponent, has won three and lost four. The Hornets have scored 104 points to 158 for all opponents. Tulia defeated Spur 13-0, and lost 25 to 19 to Post.

The Canyon Eagles, the 'Winds last district opponent, at present are holding down last place in the seasons standing. Coach Floyd Murry's Eagles have had their trouble to date with mostly an inexperienced squad. The Eagles are rebuilding and do not have the same team that defeated the 'Winds last year. Canyon has won two games and lost four, scoring 56 points and allowing 162.

Scores Last Week

Dumas 53-Canyon 0; Abernathy 18-Lockney 12; Crosbyton 27-New Deal 12; Spur 25 - Post 7; Floydada, Hereford, Tulia, and Ralls were idle.

Planting
How Here

October 15 is bulb planting time in West Texas. The specialist recommends one-half cup to each 25 square feet of soil. Add a tablespoon of bone meal and a cup of sand one or two inches beneath each bulb when placed in the soil.

The depth may be planted seven to nine inches deep. Tulips are usually planted about seven inches, and bulbs of Dutch iris are smaller and planted four or five inches deep. Grape-hyacinth is still smaller and planted two to four inches deep. Iris which grow from rhizomes, are planted almost on top of the ground barely covered with soil. The crocus is planted only three inches deep. Place lilies which root at the base of the bulb five inches deep in the soil.

are erected according to specifications of the national electric safety code, which demands adequate clearance from all stationary objects, and from all moveable objects that can be reasonably anticipated. However, the code specifications cannot foresee such unusual development as well pipe being thrust 30 or 40 feet skyward.

Unusually High Loads
Neither can code specification anticipate abnormally high loads being transported over streets or highways. But there are such loads, occasionally, and they sometimes run into energized lines, and into trouble. This is particularly true when men are riding on the loads. Power line crossings are designed to clear normal loads. Those who haul abnormally high loads — particularly, house movers — should measure their loads carefully, for clearance, and they should approach power line crossings with extreme caution. Better still, they should select routes where wires will not be encountered.

KITCHEN AND ★★★ FIELD NEWS

(from Floyd County Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc.)
by Nancy Morckel and Claude Weatherse

Kathryn Turner came back to work last Friday. She had been out since an appendicitis operation about two weeks ago.

The Wayne Lees have moved to 213 East Georgia Street. Wayne works for H. N. Roberts Engineering company of Lubbock.

Opal Rogers returned to work Monday morning.

Dale Smalley is an employee of the co-op again. He has been in Arkansas with his father who lives at Siloam Springs. (Red says Dale has rocks in his shoes so he can wear 'em.)

Mrs. Alma Pearsons, home service advisor with Ironite, will give ironing demonstrations November 13 and 14. There will be demonstrations in the morning and in the afternoon of each day. All dealers are welcome to use the REA kitchen. We are always glad to have specialists come our way to show their particular appliance and how to get best results in using them.

Power Line Hazards
As TV antennas go up, so does the death rate! — this is a grim fact, because so many amateur installers of TV antennas are totally unaware of the potential danger in nearby power lines. In two recent accidents, four men were electrocuted and two others were severely burned when the antennas they were erecting contacted high voltage lines.

A television antenna should never be installed where it might make accidental contact with a power line during installation; neither should it be installed close enough to an energized line so that it might be toppled into the line by a wind storm. When the metal of a TV antenna gets involved with electricity, unlimited possibilities for disaster are in the making!

There have also been numerous tragedies when well pipe, being removed or replaced, has contacted overhead power lines. In some cases the accidents would never have happened if the pipe had been taken apart at each joint. Power lines these power line hazards and remember them!

The Jim Jones' of Route 1, Floydada, Starkey community have a beautiful new home. The house-warming last Tuesday night brought a house full of friends and lots of useful gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Hagood of Canyon spent the week-end in Floydada with relatives.

Golden wedding celebrations are such nice affairs. Attended Mr. and Mrs. Will Snell's party on Sunday afternoon, October 26 at their home here in Floydada. Last Sunday afternoon attended Mr. and Mrs. C. A. McClure's party. Congratulations to both of these fine couples and may they have many more anniversaries.

The Willard Pollans' left early Friday morning for Dalhart to make their home, where he will be employed at Rita Blanca Rural Electric cooperative.

Wiley Rogers, line foreman, and Arthur Womack, Jr., lineman, returned Friday from attending the national job training and safety congress and the Texas rural electric job training and safety conference held at the Shamrock hotel in Houston, October 27 through October 31. The meeting was opened with a welcome address by Mayor Oscar Holcomb of Houston. There were a number of interesting and worthwhile work shops; the one they attended was "supervisory training for foremen," by Rex Sullivan, assistant state supervisor vocational industrial education of Alabama and A. L. Kramer, engineering extension service, Texas A. & M. college system.

On Wednesday there was an educational tour which was very interesting. Among the places visited were: The San Jacinto battle ground; the San Jacinto memorial monument and museum which is the world's tallest monument commemorating the heroes of the Battle of San Jacinto, April 21, 1836, and all others who helped to win the independence of Texas. Another highlight of this tour was going through the grand old battleship Texas.

GUESTS FROM VICTORIA
Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Pierce and son, Ronnie of Victoria, Texas, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Willis and sister Rena.

They also spent some time in Lubbock at the Texas Tech home coming and visited with Mr. and Mrs. Leon Landers and Sue Dean and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Willis and daughter, Brenda Gayle.

Low or fallen wires always present a serious hazard for passers-by. Even telephone wires may be entangled with power lines at distant points, and thus carry a fatal charge. Such dangers usually result from storms that have broken off limbs, or blown trees over into wires. They also result occasionally from lightning, from poles that are snapped off by automobiles, and from other less common causes.

Anyone who discovers a low or fallen wire should carefully avoid it, notify the electric distribution company, and if possible, he should stand watch at the danger point until help arrives, so that others will not contact the wire.

Tragedy also strikes regularly among kite flyers who use wire for their kite strings, and among those who fly model airplanes with wire controls. Children and uninformed adults should be warned of this danger, and the extreme importance of avoiding it.

Yes, for these and other reasons, the death rate is going up! and in almost every case the tragedy would have been easily avoided if the victim had just been aware of the potential danger. So let's all learn

independence of Texas. Another highlight of this tour was going through the grand old battleship Texas.

Slow Decision
Twelve per cent of the nation's voters did not make their decision as to how to vote until two weeks before the 1948 Presidential election.

Pensions
At least two millionaires are now drawing old age benefits under the social security act, but two-thirds of all government old age pensioners have no other income.

Boyce House Says I Give You Texas

When I was quite small (perhaps 5), my father ran a restaurant in the small town of Doe Run, Mo. I observed that when a man bought a cigar, he thrust the end into a metal box and there was a clicking sound as the tip was cut off and then he would light that end.

After seeing the cigar-clipper used dozens of times, I had a curiosity to find out of the machine would clip other things so I thrust in a finger. It would!

No doubt I let out a scream and my father came running. My finger was bleeding but only the skin had been clipped. I did not experiment further; my curiosity had been satisfied.

There was another bit of excitement in the restaurant one day. One customer used to romp with me and give me little presents and I thought highly of him. One day, I saw him in the cafe and started to run to him. Then a thing happened which was most amazing to a little boy.

My father picked up a baseball bat and drove the customer from the place. I could not understand. The man was a friend, yet my father had forced him to leave—and my father could do no wrong. I used to wonder and wonder about it. It must have been two years later before I was old enough to understand the reason: the man had been drinking and he had an open knife in his hand and my father was afraid that he might injure me.

A man who was crossing the ocean owned a valuable diamond which he planned to have set in a ring when he reached London. The ship was approaching the harbor and he was standing at the rail playfully tossing the diamond into the air. The vessel gave a lurch and the jewel fell into the ocean.

Three weeks later he was about to leave London to return to the United States. He ordered fish for lunch and was eating it with great gusto when he bit down on something hard. He removed the object from his mouth and—what do you think he found? A fish-bone—that's what he found!

Arkansas had a great deal to do with the history of Texas.

Archibald Yell of Arkansas resigned his seat in Congress to lead a regiment of cavalry in the war between the United States and Mexico and he was killed in the battle of Buena Vista. Senator Chester Ashley of Arkansas made a notable speech urging the annexation of Texas; and Arkansas' other Senator, Ambrose H. Sevier, was one of the commissioners who negotiated the treaty of peace between the United States and Mexico.

David Crockett and Sam Houston enjoyed the hospitality of Arkansas while enroute to Texas where they made such glorious history.

And the most generally accepted tradition of the origin of the Bowie knife is that the first one was made in Arkansas by James Black, a blacksmith in the town of Washington.

Your columnist spoke a while back at the annual dinner of the Chamber of Commerce, away up in the Panhandle at Dalhart. There were visitors from Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas—that section being closer to the capitals of five other states than to Austin. Oh, yes, there were some present from Texas, too!

Traveling with friends from Amarillo to Dalhart, we saw a touch of the primitive: two coyotes standing in a field with ragged patches of snow.

Did you ever see a fire-engine rush down the street—drawn by horses, their manes flying, their steel-shod hooves causing sparks to fly from the cobble-stone street, the driver standing up and shouting? When motors replaced the horses, my ambition to be a chief of the fire department died.

Game Night

Games of canasta, samba, bridge and "42" will be played. Favorite games will be played for about two hours.

The cafeteria will be divided into sections for the different games and there will be a lady present to answer all questions on any game that might arise.

The club members are doing their best to please. Those who had rather play dominoes or just sit and talk, can do that too. The thing is to go to the party and take your change, (money, that is.)

If you call Mrs. J. N. Scrivner, or any member of the club, they will bring you a ticket, if you want your ticket before you get to the school.

Be sure and come tonight at 7:30 to the High school and have some fun, and help the library fund, the club urges.

C. P. Singletary

Mr. Singletary was a member of the Methodist church and was a retired farmer.

A brother, E. R. Singletary of San Diego, California accompanied the body by train to Floydada from California, arriving here on Saturday. Two sons, Bill and Clyde, and the widow, Mrs. E. P. Singletary and a daughter, Mrs. Earl Stockman all of California made the trip by car to Floydada.

The above-named, together with a daughter, Mrs. Frank Pratt, of Floydada, a sister, Mrs. D. A. Cates, of Clinton, Oklahoma, six grandchildren and one great grandchild, all of whom were here for the rites, are the survivors.

Cotton Harvest

(Continued from first page) machinery and let the waste lay in the fields to be plowed under and enrich the soil. The net to the raiser will be higher that way, they claim, even after the waste is allowed for.

Most of the cotton raised in the county is being ginned in the county at this time, Noel said. Reports from Matador and Paducah on the east say that some plains cotton is reaching those points and after the longer haul is considered, the raiser still realizes a net that makes the haul profitable. Quite a bit of cotton from the southwest corner of the county is going to gins at points west and southwest, Noel has been told.

Libya Is Newest On List Of Two-Capital Nations

Add to the limited list of countries having two capitals the world's newest independent state.

Libya, first to achieve independence under United Nations auspices (December, 1951), reports that government of its 1,250,000 people stems jointly from Tripoli and Benghazi.

At Tripoli, whose shores are immortalized for American in the U. S. Marines' hymn, the Libyan National Assembly makes the desert nation's laws. Six hundred winding miles eastward along the Mediterranean's African coast at Benghazi Libya's king, Sayyid Mohammed Idris el Senussi, conducts affairs of his enlarged realm from his modest palace in much the same way he ruled as Emir of Cyrenaica in past years. His kingdom is composed of Cyrenaica, Tripolitania, and the Fezzan.

Rated as one of nature's "step-children" in the matter of resources, Libya shares its dualcapital distinction with a wealthy Arab neighbor to the east, Saudi Arabia.

Mrs. Merle Redd of Sweeney, Texas, is here this week visiting her father, J. E. Swinson and sisters, Miss Nell Swinson and Mesdames, Earl Crow and T. M. Whitley.

IT'S TRANSISTORIZED

The answer to a cheerleader's prayer is a new "transistorized" megaphone which can amplify the normal speaking voice to a raucous yell. The megaphone is complete in itself, requiring no external connections of any kind. Key to unit's workability are two tiny transistors, made of the metallic element germanium, which do the amplification work of vacuum tubes and operate on power supplied by small batteries enclosed in the amplification unit. The new unit has a volume control which permits tuning the normal speaking voice from a shout to a barely audible whisper.

Morpheus was named for Morpheus, the god of dreams.

Mice Eat Up Runway
An example of what happens when nature's balance is disturbed is found in the necessity of closing the airport in Kurumen, S. A. The cause was a runway literally gnawed away by regiments of mice. Before the airport was opened there were many hawks and falcons here, and they kept the mice in check. The going and coming of planes, however, drove the birds away to a less noisy and busy region. The mice, unchecked, multiplied rapidly, un-mindful of airplanes. It is such interference with nature's ways that makes it extremely important that the approach to wildlife management be on a sound basis. The result of the airport was accidental and not anticipated, but so are many other activities of man that result to his own damage.

Keeping Track in Garden
If working in the garden is your hobby, keep track of what you planted and where it is. Paste the empty seed package to a clean wooden stake with a coat of shellac. Added protection is gained with a shellac coat over the outer surface.
