Texas 4c Rate Lowest Levied In Southwest (Editor's Note - This is another of a series of articles containing information gathered by the Highway Policy Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.)

Although most of the $1.8 billion spent on roads by Texas from 1940 through 1951 was provided through the motor fuel tax, Texas' 4-cent per gallon levy is lower than the rates assessed in Louisiana, Oklahoma, Arkansas and New Mexico.

Gasoline taxes levied by Texas and four adjacent states compare as follows: Louisiana, 7 cents per gallon; Oklahoma, 6.5 cents; New Mexico, 6 cents; Texas, 4 cents.

The Texas rate has been stationary since 1929. The state first levied a gasoline tax in 1922 - one cent per gallon, with one-fourth going to schools and three-fourths to roads.

The Texas gasoline tax may be refunded to non-highway users upon proper application. In the year ended August 31, 1950 a total of $17,014,869 was refunded. This was 16.3 percent of the total gross receipts from the tax.

In that year Texans paid a gross total of $104,453,081. After re-unds the net receipts totaled $87,438,212. This was divided, as pointed out in a preceding article, as follows: roads 2.6 cents per gallon; schools, 1 cent; bond assumption, 4 cent.

Refunds in the fiscal year 1949-50 were classified as follows:

This report is taken from the figures made for the comptroller of accounts and banking commissioner of Texas by the banks at Floydada, Lockney, Matador, Petersburg and Quitaque on December 31.

The exact figures representing the totals for the five banks are: Loans and discounts, (with Commodity Credit loans thrown into the total) $7,302,223.89; Deposits $20,831,233.25; Cash and quick assets $13,932,663.00; and total capital accounts $1,167,229.28.

Members of Floydada Chamber of Commerce will vote next week on five new directors for their organization. Olin M. Watson, Jr., C-C manager, said that ballots will be mailed out over the week-end and are due to be back in the office no later than January 19.

Second year directors will be Bob Gibson, L. L. Jones, Aaron Carthel, Guy Ginn, Herschell Swepston, Clement McDonald. From the directors a president and other officials of the organization will be elected by the board to take office March 1.

and Mrs. W. D. Newman, White Deer, Texas, and Mr. and Mrs. E. L.
Judy, Floydada.

There may be just as much resolving as is customary this January, only less talk. But one thing's sure.
There's scarcely any conversation on the subject of New Year's resolutions for 1953. We've pondered over this considerably as we tried to walk off the holiday surplus.

It could mean that this year people are thinking less of themselves and more about general welfare than usual. Or maybe the prospect of change has caused an upsurge of optimism, so that we are forgetting our shortcomings and concentrating on whatever talents we have that may help to build a strong new faith.
At least we may hope this is the meaning.

Personally, we've never thought a calendar date much of an inspiration for making resolutions anyway. We find a great deal more incentive to break a bad old habit, or make a good new one, in such things as:

A man's unconsciously admiring look at his wife (am I as good a wife to my husband as that woman is to hers?);

Real modesty in a person of great ability (am I too cocksure, all sales-manship and no genuine value?);

A bright, sunny spirit in someone with no worldly goods (do I complain about little things, forget those for which I should be thankful?);

Thoughtfulness that takes real output of time and energy (have I got my life so crowded that I have no time for kindnesses?);

Whether on New Year's Day or as we see our faults mirrored in others, the process of starting over again is a good one. And we hope the custom of making resolutions has not faded, but merely gone into eclipse.

heights of horses is four inches long.

Stockman Woman's Editor Tells Story of Home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Turner

Randall Stockman guess that the home was one gun type frame
 stately little porch

Cabinet below the drafting board conceals a comfortable roll-away bed which converts this room quickly into a spare bedroom. To the left of this unit is a built-in gun cabinet. Below it is a pullout board which Turner uses to clean and oil his guns. Below this are cabinets for supplies.

On the other end of this storage wall is another unit. There's a file drawer for farm records, cabinet for bills and receipts, and deep shelves and dividers for card tables, tennis rackets and other recreation equipment.

There's a built-in desk with fold-away typewriter. And there's another closet for keeping sports clothes. On the floor is a woven grass rug which Turner brought back from Puerto Rico.

Adjoining the den is the glass brick sun porch with planter boxes. Here is Mrs. Turner's hobby shop. A door to the outside makes it easy to bring water in to the plants. Also there is a large storage wall here for "odds and ends—my Fibber closet" according to the lady of the house.

Each bedroom has a storage wall with sliding doors and built-in chests. Guest bedroom was the old living room with big arched opening. They set in a storage wall with a built-in china closet on the dining room side.

U-shaped kitchen has swing-out double doors with shelves at corner cabinets—a double Lazy Susan to keep equipment within easy reach. There are built-in ventilated vegetable bins, and shelves with vertical dividers for trays and lids. There's a double sink and a ventilator fan above the range.

Adjoining the kitchen is a service room with pantry ventilated from below and open to the attic. Mrs. Turner has 376 quarts of food on the shelves and 119 quarts in the nearby freezer.

Mrs. Turner explained, "I raised vegetables just accidentally this year. I put them out and neglected them, but they just grew."

There's a breakfast table and chairs in this room for hasty meals and to feed the "hands." Here also, Mrs. Turner has her automatic washer and ironing equipment.

Next to it is the rear entrance room which has a sink for washing vegetables and milking vessels. There's a closet for work clothes and another for cleaning equipment.

The hide-away stairway to the new attic drops down in this room. "Up there we keep luggage and other seldomly used equipment," said Mrs. Turner.

In the large bathroom, cabinets are built around the shower-tub. There's a linen cabinet and another closet which harbors the hot water tank in the upper half and holds laundry hamper below. This gray and white room has a red ceiling.

Floors are covered from wall to wall in living and dining rooms, hall and bedrooms with a soft rose beige carpet.

Walls, woodwork, draperies and other furnishings are in beautiful warm muted shades of green, gold, rose, white and brown.

The Turners mixed their own paints to get exactly what they wanted. They explained, "We wanted deep colors, but not harsh ones." For example, the cocoa-colored walls in living room resulted from their mixing white with Spanish brown.

To get the mustard color they wanted for the walls in the dining room, they added rose color to the chartreuse paint they used for the ceiling.

It was from these foundation colors of walls, woodwork and carpeting that the Turners selected draperies and upholstering fabrics for the blond furniture.

"This house is a perfect example of beauty and interest that can be achieved when folks dare to do with color," commented District Home Demonstration Agent Aubrey Russell who went with me to call on the Turners.

The central gas heating system, electrically controlled, is housed in the hall closet. Explained Turner, "We can get heat out of 4 sides if we want to."

There's new plumbing throughout and a completely rewired electrical system with 6 circuits of No. 12 and 14 wire.

The Turners modestly explained that the house was not difficult to do over because it was well built in 1925 on a good foundation, with 2 solid pine walls and modern low ceilings.

"We did not have to change the roof," Turner pointed out. "Except we added a gable in the back to balance the one in front. We leveled floors in a couple places and reinforced the attic, flooring a 10x12 foot space up there."

Turner bought the house after returning from service in World War II. A pilot in the air force, he served in the North Pacific, Alaska and Aleutians. He now holds the rank of lieutenant colonel in the reserve.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Turner are happy to be back home. His father's farm joins on the south. Her family live in this area.

They farm 320 acres on their own farm and 320 acres on his father's farm. Turner practices diversified farming, raising 185 acres of cotton, 90 acres of grain sorghum, 50 acres of Castor beans, 200 acres of wheat. He plans to have permanent pastures for his Angus cattle, sheep and and equality, the African slaves who worked on the coffee estates, revolted. After massacring their masters, they burned the plantations to the ground and, by this action, for a time virtually halted coffee-planting in the turbulent West Indies.

When news of the debacle reached Brazil, coffee became a magic word among planters whose fortunes had suffered from the blockade. Coffee plantations began to spring up through southern Brazil.

It took Brazil almost 100 years to become a leading coffee exporter.

Boyce House— I Give You Texas

Believe-it-or-nots of American political history (as given in Camp Clark's autobiography):
 Daniel Webster served in the House of Representatives from New Hampshire and in the Senate from Massachusetts.

James Hamilton Lewis was a Congressman from Washington and a Senator from Illinois.
 "Sunset" Cox served eight years in the House from Ohio, then many years in the House from New York. Clinton was governor of New York 22 years.

A former President of the United States served a short time in the Confederate Congress. He was Tyler. Edward Everett served four terms as governor of Massachusetts and was defeated for a fifth term by one vote! This defeat eliminated him as a Presidential contender.

He was offered a presidency, however — of the Greek republic. Everett, a scholarly man and accounted a great orator, is mainly remembered because he made a two-hour speech which nobody remembers anything from on the same occasion that Abraham Lincoln spoke for three minutes and the world will always remember the Gettysburg Address.

A father and son once served together in the United States Senate. The elder Dodge represented Wisconsin; the son, Iowa.

A misfortune doesn't have to be a misfortune. I knew a man who broke his finger and it didn't knit back right. It was doubled back permanently.

But did that discourage him? Not a bit. In fact, he became the best checker player in our county. Yep. When he was about to get one of his checkers in a trap, he'd make a move with his index finger and, at the same time, he'd slide up another checker with that crooked finger.

"Sweet are the uses of adversity," as the poet feller said.

I give you Texas Boyce House. Arkansas had the only trial court in the history of the United States from which there was no appeal—not even to the Supreme Court of the United States. A convicted man's only hope for clemency was the president.

The court sat in Fort Smith but it did not try Arkansas cases. Its jurisdiction was Indian Territory. Judge Isaac Parker presided and for 14 years there could be no appeal. (Then the law changed.) Eighty-three men were hanged.

Oldsmobile New Model Showing

Completely new in frontal appearance and offering other styling changes inside and out as well as many mechanical advances, the 1953 Oldsmobile models are being introduced Friday, January 9, by Oldsmobile dealers throughout the country. The Floydada dealer is Oden Chevrolet Company.

Among the important improvements in the new models, are further increases in efficiency of the "Rocket" engine, resulting in increased fuel economy and performance; compression ratio raised to 8 to 1, which also boosts the horsepower; a more efficient 12-volt ignition system; Frigidaire car conditioning that cools the car interior in the warmest weather, and "Pedal-Ease" power breaks to provide faster, safer stops.

The Frigidaire conditioning and power breaks are optional equipment available at extra cost. Two popular items first introduced in 1952, OM power steering and the Autronic-Eye automatic headlight dimmer, also are offered again as optional extras. Hydra-Matic Super Drive, the pioneer and most proven of automatic transmissions, also is on the optional list. Directional signals are standard equipment on all 1953 series.

Three series of Oldsmobile cars are presented in 1953. The Classic '98' series has been extended to 215 inches in length and is built in three body styles—the four-door sedan, Holiday coupe and convertible coupe. Four body styles are available in the popular Super '88' series — four-door sedan, two-door sedan, Holiday coupe and convertible coupe. Both the '98' and Super '88' are powered by a 165-horsepower "Rocket" engine. The economically priced Deluxe '88' series has two body types—two door sedan and four-door sedan—and is powered by a 150-H.P. version of the "Rocket" engine. Wheelbase is 125 inches on the '98' series and 120 inches on the '88' series.

News of Harmony

(by Mrs. Mather Carr)

HARMONY, January 5. — Joe Smith came in December 24 from Kingsville, Texas where he is stationed to spend Christmas with his wife and home folks.

Mid-week services were not very well attended on account of illness. Mather Carr gave the devotional.

There was a wedding shower Tuesday December 30 at the community center honoring Mr. and Mrs. Joe Johnnie Smith who were married some time past in Oklahoma. They received many beautiful and useful gifts. Mmes. Joyce Davis, Sherwood Ramsey, Floyd Trowbridge, Riley Holmes and Wesley Carr were hostesses. Mrs. Chloma Williams was at the piano and Sherry and Melba Jo Ramsey, Dwana Beth Scott and LaJuana Sue Williams sang. Mrs. Sherwood Ramsey and Mrs. Chloma Williams gave readings and Don Ray Ramsey dressed as a sailor and Janet Holmes dressed as a nurse pulled a big boat in filled with gifts to the couple and others carried in gifts. All were opened and passed to the guests to view. Refreshments were served from a beautifully decorated table.

Thursday, January 1 was a big day in our community when Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Ramsey celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers. Mr. and Mrs. Mather Carr were honored guests, as they were the only couple still living in the community when the Ramsays moved here.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Snodgrass spent several days last week in Jerico, Texas visiting Mr. Snodgrass sister, Mrs. Will Reeves.

There is still lots of illness in the community as follows. Mrs. Loyce Turner, Mrs. M. D. Ramsey, Horace Carr, Mrs. Claud Robinson and some of her children, Jerry Robinson has chicken pox. Marvin Smith and children and Charles Mather Carr and Floyd Throbridge.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Turner visited relatives in Lubbock Wednesday morning. They drove Wednesday night to Springlake and spent the night with the Fred Byerlys. They went to Hereford Thursday and they said it was pretty bad most of the time. Sometimes snowing like everything, but would clear up and snow again.

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Spence, Mr. and Mrs. Sam A. Spence, and daughter of Floydada, Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Pierce and children of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gary and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Turner were guests for dinner, December 26 in the Loyce Turner home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams returned to their home Tuesday, December 30 after spending some time with Mrs. Williams parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Watson.

Colonel Samuel M. Smith and family of Barksdale Air base, Louisiana visited in the home of Loyce Turner Friday, Col. Smith is the commanding officer of Barksdale Air force base.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Snodgrass, Mr. and Mrs. Carrick Snodgrass and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Miller left Sunday for Weslaco, Texas to visit Mrs. G. L. Snodgrass brother, Charlie Gound and other relatives. They plan to be away for several days.

Mrs. Mattie Heard and daughter, Velma and Miss Anna Carr of Petersburg, visited Friday in the Mather Carr home.

Joe Smith left Saturday for Kingsville, where he is stationed. He had 12 days leave with his wife and home folks.

Mrs. Reuben Rutherford of Plainview spent the week-end with her brother and nephew, Hal and Wright Scott.

An iconoclast is one who attacks cherished beliefs.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

by Nellie Witt Spikes

"For the LORD thy God, bringeth thee into a good land, a land of brooks of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills; A land of wheat, and barley, and vines, and fig trees, and pomegranates; a land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarceness, thou shalt not lack anything in it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of hills thou mayest dig brass. When thou hast eaten, and art full, then thou shalt bless the LORD thy God for the good land which He hath given thee." (Deuteronomy 8:7-10.)

This was the promised land where the Israelites were going from Egypt. This is the land of America today, a good land, a free land. A land where there is not a lack. It is the good land of our own loved plains. Wherein the streams of water come from the depths to give us plenty. How fortunate we are to live in this free land of America! But when we have eaten and are full, when we have dug in the hills and made fortunes, or gathered the crops from the soil, do we bless the LORD our God for the land He hath given us? This New Year of 1953 should find us on our knees thanking God and praying for the peace and plenty of the world.

Today, Monday, we pay our last respects to a good man, a fine old gentleman, a christian. A man who helped make this world a better place in which to live. Mr. J. R. Terrell has gone on to his reward and I am sure that many stars will glitter in his crown of gold that he won here on earth by his faithfulness and good deeds.

Sleep, It Is Best
That survives,
When martyred flowers breathe
out their little lives;
Sweet as a song that once consoled
our plan,
But never shall be sung again,
Is thy remembrance. Now the hour of rest
Hath come to thee. Sleep loved one, it is best. —Longfellow.

And we have lost another fine man, Mr. Byerly, who has done his share to make the path of life smoother for others. And for his loved ones I quote these lines:

"He gives his angels charge of those that sleep,
But He, Himself, keeps watch with those that weep."

The holidays were made happier by the lovely wedding of my niece, Junelle Witt of Plainview, to Ensign Lee Rehmyer of Amarillo, but now in Florida. The bride was so pretty and sweet as she walked up the flower-strewn aisle with her father. So many pretty pictures came to my mind the first time they brought her to the farm, a tiny baby, Guy taking great joy in showing her the animals on the farm. I saw him hiding Easter eggs and a happy little girl filling her basket. I saw her in a tiny playhouse with her dolls... later a laughing school girl... then a demure girl going away to the University at Austin for her higher education... now she was leaving her home for another... a home at present that will mean living just any place to be with her husband as he trains for the navy... but all these dear, sweet memories, her father and mother hold and now they will be eager for the day when she comes a'visiting. God bless you both, Lee and Junelle, and may the world be at peace and you can be in your own home.

The wind was high and cold, the first day of the year, but inside the home of the M. D. Ramsays in the Harmony community, was peace and joy and beauty. For the Ramsays were having their friends for their golden wedding celebration. We were happy to be there and when we looked around and saw all the wonderful work in their beautiful home these two have done in the past year, we marvelled at their ability and perseverance. May the rest of your days be of pure gold.

CORPUS DELECTI

It is very difficult to determine how long ago a person died with the precision sometimes shown by fic- tional detectives. However, after death, a body cools from the normal body temperature of 98.6 F. at an average rate of about 1.5 degrees per hour. Therefore, taking the in- ternal temperature of the body subtracting this figure from 98.6, and dividing the result by 1.5 gives a rough idea of the time since death. This is affected by many factors, such as how the corpse is clothed or covered, and how fat it is. A num- ber of other chemical and physico- al changes that take place in the body after death are also used to estimate the time that it occurred.

Diesel vs. Gasoline Engine

The difference between a gasoline engine and a diesel engine is that in the gasoline engine, a mixture of air and gasoline vapor is sprayed in- to the cylinder and the mixture is ignited by an electric spark, which causes the explosion that pushes on the piston. In the Diesel engine air is introduced in the cylinder, and highly compressed by the piston which causes the air to be heated. Then a spray of fuel oil is squirted into it, to explode immediately, so no electrical ignition system is re- quired.

Three Whirlwinds Mentioned in All-State Selections

The Texas Sports writers associat- ion All-State Class AA football team selections recently announced nam- ed three Whirlwinds in their honor roll of high school players. Those named were Franklin Stovall, end, Bert Grimes, guard and Adrain Helms, back.

Though the Floydada boys were not on the first team, it is still con- sidered quite an honor to the high plains to get mentioned in the selec- tions.

The voting in the selections is by sports writers of the daily papers which are picked for the job. Some of the boys named to the team from the thickly populated central Texas received as many as 34 votes.

First Gibraltar Apes in America It's Still Money

Two Gibraltar apes, first ever to come to America from Britain's Mediterranean fortress, have taken up residence in the Washington zoo.

It may be the only time in history that England has permitted even a single member of the Rock's simian garrison to leave. The powerful, tailless beast have rarely been plien- tiful in the Colony. They are the only uncaged apes left in Europe.

Dr. Thomas W. McKnew, secre- tary of the National Geographic society, arranged the transaction, which took the form of a gift from Lt. Gen. Sir Gordon H. A. MacMil- lan, Governor of Gibraltar, to the Smithsonian Institution's National Zoological park. The United States navy brought the apes—scientific- ally speaking not apes, but a species of monkey known as macaques—ac- ross the Atlantic in the warship Diamond Head.

AFRICAN VIOLETS

African violet plants may fail to flower if they are not getting en- ough light. Low light intensity re- duces flowering, and makes the plants very succulent and green. Dur- ing winter, the plants may be plac- ed in the sun's light, but in summer they should be kept in a bright light though not directly in the sun's rays. They grow best in soil that is high in organic matter (about half peat) and with a medium nutrient level in small pots, less than four inches in diameter. African violets should not be exposed to temper- atures below 65 degrees F.

Nell Gilley Named in 'Women in Oil'

Miss Nell Gilley, is one of two women who operate three oil firms in Fort Worth, says Jean Cloud, who writes a feature for the Saturday issue of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Nell Gilley is the daughter of the late George Gilley of Floydada and his surviving widow. She spent several years of her girlhood here. Says Miss Cloud of Miss Gilley in the interesting feature:

Miss Gilley is secretary-treasurer of Farrell Drilling Company, Farrell & Company and Farrell & Company of Louisiana.

Mrs. J. E. Farrell is president and owner of the firms started by her late husband.

Miss Gilley joined the firms as secretary-treasurer 10 years ago. Previously she worked with George and Herman Brown in Austin where she organized and directed an oil and gas department for them. She also worked for Gay Hammond here.

Miss Gilley intended her life to be spent in the school room. She attended North Texas State College and West Texas State College. But after a few years of teaching, from primary grades to high school calculus, she decided her real interest was in oil.

Her duties now include bookkeeping, oil and gas reports, production and contact with the field. The firm's operations chiefly are in Louisiana and North Central Texas.

Miss Gilley studies painting and collects antiques.
 She lives at 900 Waggonman with her mother, Mrs. George Gilley, and has two cocker spaniels.

Harvey Dale Tardy, a student at Texas Tech, has returned to his holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Tardy.

Mrs. Ella Johnson had her son, S. Johnson, Mrs. Johnson and their daughter, Mrs. R. G. Miller and daughter of Graham, as her guests over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Tardy and son, Don, of Roaring Springs, were guests in the H. A. Tardy home on Sunday afternoon.

Wind Erosion Season Condition, Says SCS

The Soil Conservation Service reported today that the wind erosion season in Oklahoma has been a poor one since 1949. The soil condition is in poor condition since 1949.

For the soil, Taylor said only 20 per cent of the wheat planted in his area has sprouted. Sorghum stubble in the Amarillo area at present is furnishing protection but much of it is being over-grazed, Taylor reported. Cotton lands in that area are in poor condition.

South Plains Vulnerable
SCS area conservationist Homer A. Taff at Lubbock reported 1,680,000 acres in his 12 county area without sufficient blow protection. Most of this is cotton land which was mechanically stripped and sorghum land on which the crop was cut for bundle feed.

In the 13 county area reported by area conservationist W. S. Goodlett of Big Spring 1,394,000 acres are unprotected and in condition to blow. Mechanically harvested cotton acreages with large areas of bare cultivated and range lands account mainly for the condition, Goodlett said.

In the northwest section of Oklahoma, A. T. Elder at Woodward said 500,000 acres of wheat land on which the new crop has made poor growth, are in condition to blow. Farmers using crop residue management practices however have adequate production, Merrill said that in the few dust and sand storms which have already occurred in the area only 83,500 acres have suffered moderate to severe damage. Of this total 29,500 acres are in the Big Spring area.

Many Awoke to Danger
"Many farmers in the areas of Oklahoma and Texas threatened by wind erosion are awake to the danger and are doing their best to get ready," Merrill said. They already are busy with emergency tillage operations on the exposed lands.

"However, our goal in this fight against wind erosion is the kind of farming being done by soil conservation district cooperators R. J. Partell of near Brownfield; Steve Brockman at Dimmitt; O. M. McGinity of near Spur and J. J. Loftis of near Frederick, Oklahoma. These men are keeping their land protected and making it more productive at the same time. There will be no blowing on their farms this season and on the thousands of other farms whose owners are using soil conservation district methods."

To All Our Good Friends and Customers For the very nice business you gave us in 1952

It was just one year ago we decided to discontinue Fountain Service. We felt it was the proper move to make but were a little worried just how our customers would accept the change. The fact that our business was greater in 1952 is sufficient proof that it was the proper move.

In our 30-odd years in drug business we have tried to meet every change and give best service possible, from the curb service days, on. If it was sandwiches or coffee we tried to give you the best.

THE REASON FOR OUR CHANGE

We found with our increase in business, lack of floor space and personnel, that it was impossible to do justice to all departments, so we concentrated on the most important.

Corbin Views Tax Levies as Grave Problem

Senator Kilmer Corbin, looking toward the convening of the Texas Legislature early in January, indicated this week that in his opinion the request for approximately $100 million for highway expansion program and an additional $30 million for boosting State teachers' salaries will continue a big problem.

"The Texas Legislature handles law making and tax levying, vitally important matters to every citizen," Corbin pointed out in opening the discussion. He didn't quibble as to the need for the highway expansion program or the teachers' salary boost. "As we drive over the highways of the state, we all see the need for more and better roads," he stated. Heretofore he pointed out that $30 million has been spent in a great farm-to-market road building program. The $100 million would have to be in addition to this sum, he warned.

"We can probably say, without fear of contradiction, that our main highways were not built for so much heavy traffic moving at such high rate of speed," Corbin stated. He added that safety precautions also pointed up to the need for wider, duo-lane high-ways.

Three Methods Available
The Senator said three methods could be used in an attempt to raise the additional funds, but at the same time he opposed two of the methods.

"There'll be a lot of talk about raising the gasoline tax," he said. "For every one cent raise in the tax per gallon of retail gas sold, about $30 million would be raised annually." But the Senator's opposition of this means was centered upon the fact that this would place an additional burden on the consumer, who is already supporting too much of the tax load.

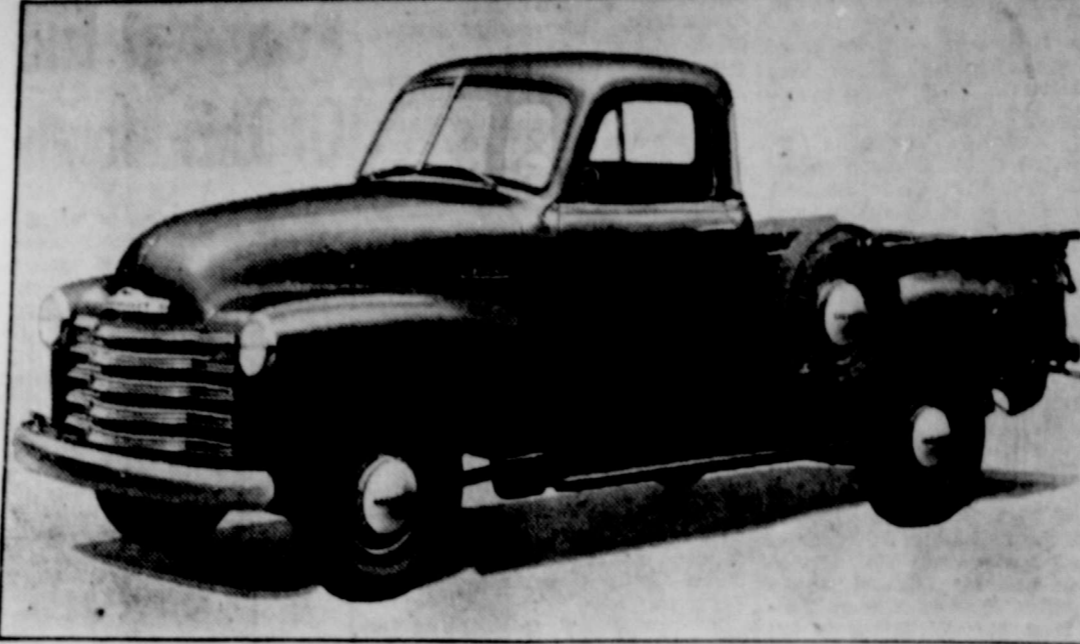

"Another method which will be suggested," according to Corbin, "is the wheel tax which would place the burden on owners of heavy vehicles." He pointed out that this method would probably be proposed by a "selfish interest."

Tax Natural Resources
Corbin is in favor of a proposal which would place the tax on natural resources and said he believed this would be the method adopted in the final outcome. He said the Legislature attempted to arrive at this in their last session when they passed a tax proposal of one-half cent per 1,000 cubic feet of natural gas. But this plan was thrown out as unconstitutional on the grounds that it placed an unfair burden on interstate commerce.

He then expressed the belief that this same bill can be re-written to place the tax on the production of gas instead of the gathering of the resource.

Senator Corbin also stated that he

Light Delivery in 1953 Line of Chevrolet Trucks

One of the most popular models in Chevrolet's complete line of trucks for 1953 is the light-delivery pickup, shown above with new optional side-mounted spare wheel carrier. Chevrolet offers this model in three body lengths with maximum payload capacities ranging from 1,500 to 2,900 pounds. Announced improvements in Chevrolet trucks for 1953 include increased horsepower—greater gasoline economy—and more effective brakes. A choice of 12 color options is offered was opposed to adding further taxes under the Omnibus Tax Bill, which already taxes fourteen commodities. He likened this tax to a sales tax.

The Senator foresaw several other legislative needs. He felt that the raising of teachers' salaries was a definite need. He believes that a congressional redistricting, much like the legislative redistricting approved last year, will be forthcoming. He also looks for a judicial redistricting.

Trucker—Railroad Fight

Increased benefits for the aged, the trucker-railroad fight, and increased personnel for the state bureau will be among the many problems confronting the next session of the State Legislature, Corbin stated.

In summing up, the Senator noted the cost of operating the State of Texas has risen from $186 million in 1945 to over $500 million in 1950. He stated that education and public welfare are the biggest costs, with highway running a close third.

In answer to a question regarding the present tax load, the Senator replied: "My experience has convinced me that we aren't going to get rid of any taxes we already have. But the people are beginning to wake up to the fact that the burden is on the small consumer. We should place more of the load on those who are equipped to pay—the big boys."

"If they're going to keep depleting our natural resources, they ought to pay for it," he added.

High Dome May Be City Cover

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. — "Weather-communities in the future are perfectly feasible, according to a professor of architecture.

Ambrose M. Richardson of the University of Illinois announced that his graduate architecture students already are working on a model of plastic pillows, helium-filled and joined to make a mile-high floating dome.

Next spring Richardson intends to try the idea with a small dome covering about an acre of land.

He said the next step may be covering ten or fifteen-acre areas such as football stadiums and baseball parks. Larger domes—made of thousands of transparent pillows each only a few feet square—covering whole communities would be only a step away.

Residents of dome-covered communities, the professor said, would enjoy true outdoor living with a year-round climate like that of the subtropics—but minus rains or bugs. The dome would let in the sun's light and heat while filtering out undesirable rays.

For summer, an opening at the top would bring currents of cool air from high up down into the dome, forcing out hot air from under its edges. Power plants and other smoke-producing installations would be kept outside.

Rain running off the dome's edges would collect to provide a pure supply for all uses including extensive sprinkling of vegetation inside where in most soils; furnish complete power for farms up to 100 acres, helper power for larger farms.

Outstanding in styling and performance, the new John Deere Tractors meet in every respect the exacting standard that have won the company its respected position in the farm implement industry.

Other advancements in the new model include: provision for use of both Touch-o-matic cylinders on the "40" Tricycle-Type for greatly increased lifting power on all implements using the three-point hitch; a similar increase in lifting capacity of the Touch-o-matic system on the "40" Standard; increase in reverse speed from present 1.6 mph to 2.6 mph; increased fuel tank capacity; and adoption of new-type radiator grill, using a special convaluted screen material that provides better non-clog protection for the radiator. Servicing of the battery has been made easier on the new tractors by new design of battery compartment. Important improvements make it easier to get on and off the tractors.

The Touch-o-matic hydraulic system provides "live" power for effortless raising, lowering, and precision setting of the working equipment, and on the Model "40" Tricycle-Type individual control of cultivator sections right and left or front and rear. There is a new load control system for improved speed and performance in uneven ground conditions; and fixed position control for the man who wants his equipment to work at a constant working position over the entire field.

Among the features of the "M" and "MT" models that have been retained are: four forward speeds; adjustable cushion seat; adjustable wheel treads to match the work to be done; built-in power take-off; and the independent self-energizing rear-wheel brakes for sure stops, short turns. Performance tests indicate that the new tractors will maintain the outstanding reputation of John Deere two-cylinder tractors for all-around economy.

Two new larger John Deere General-Purpose models, the "50" and "60," were introduced last summer.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

We are pleased that Mr. Acheson is headed out as secretary of state. We are not sure we'll be better pleased with Mr. Dulles, who is already talking too positively about too many things. But Mr. Acheson, honorable and honest and patriotic as he may be, has mental processes that we do not understand. He appears not to think the way the average American thinks. He speaks a language that is too far above our heads, perhaps. Anyway, when he speaks about his job, our foreign affairs, he makes us uncomfortable. It may be just that clipped eastern university upper room accent, which provincially, we resent. While the new administration already is beginning to give evidence 'it is going to operate the government behind closed doors, perhaps when Mr. Dulles and others do emerge to tell us what they want us to know they will speak a language which can be understood. We are glad that a change is coming in the state department.

There'll be quite a bit of talking and writing about taxes, especially the income kind, during the next several weeks. A few have theirs out of the way and have already started out on 1953 with reports made, debts paid, taxes figured. But most are not through. There is something in the law about the tax bill increasing 11 per cent or thereabout beginning November 1. Since it has to be reported and paid one had as well buckle down and get the agony of it over.

The Grass roots internal revenue tax collectors, meaning those who take your money and mine are away behind with their work. There are some things they haven't done anything about for years and years, that is some kind of collections. They are buried under their work and couldn't catch up completely in years if not another thing happened they had to attend to. One of the many small matters that slowed them down was when the congress made the dependency exemptions so low and allowed only the first $600 tax free. For a government that must have billions to carry on the money they collect from the lower brackets is not even pin money. But lowering the exemptions and allowance like they did put another several million people on the rolls. We note that some congressman or other says he is going to introduce a bill to raise the first bracket and raise the dependency exemption as well. This would be common sense as the deputy collectors have been saying all the time.

National taxes and national spending will not have the front pages altogether by themselves in the next several months. Already enough commendable things have been suggested in Texas (legislature meets right away) to make an additional dent of probably 300 million dollars. The governor and the more realistic members of the legislature are going to try to hold this bill down. They think a deserved raise for the state's employes can be arranged without raising additional tax money, at least for this year. But the schools and the roads have got to have some attention, they say. Apparently these are demanded by the people. The sentiment will be thoroughly tested before final actions are taken on these matters. Then there are many, many other good things to do. Tax bills to raise a half billion dollars will be dropped in the hopper. Who will be it and how they'll take the money off of whoever is tagged will be what the fur fly about when the ruckus starts. Most everybody that is on the tax paying end will settle for a minimum of need for the schools and a minimum of need for the roads, if the legislature will allow them to do so.

The most crucial issue which colleges and universities of America face are the movement away from religion, pure and undefiled, and government domination in higher education, says Dr. M. E. Sadler, of Texas Christian University, Fort Worth. Dr. Sadler has something there when he declares that "if the fires of religion burn out, the heart of democracy will cease to beat . . . The very heart of education must be the education of the heart." Despite the fact that there can be no conflict between pure religion and sound scientific knowledge, the unthinkable vast development in technical and material matters have swept people off their feet. The consciousness that God is the controlling factor in life "has been nearly lost from our lives. Things of the earth have become so compelling in their attractiveness, and we have fixed our eyes on them so intently we have forgotten to look up." Not only should religion have its proper place in church-related schools but in tax-supported schools as well. This can be done effectively without tying to any particular dogma or fetish of a religious creed or peculiarism.

Increased Performance in New Chevrolets

The low, sweeping lines of the 1953 Chevrolets are exemplified by this four-door sedan in the "Two-Ten" series, which this year offers increased performance, comfort and convenience in addition to a complete re-design. Apparent in this view are the enlarged front and rear vision, new fender and hood contours and a fresh grille treatment that enhance the rugged beauty of the cars. Four-door sedans are also available in the "One-Fifty" and the new Bel Air series.

gineered for greater operating economy and faster pick-up. The so-called "standard" engine also moves up to 108 horsepower, a gain of 17.4 per cent over 1952.

3—Two Chevrolet "firsts" in the low-price automotive bracket are registered in optional equipment available on all cars. Power steering, which reduces manual effort yet maintains traditional steering safety, makes its debut. The second innovation is the Autronic Eye, an electronic mechanism that automatically lowers headlamp beams for passing.

4—Roomier and stronger bodies with expanded visibility. All have curved, one-piece windshields from which the center divider has been eliminated.

5—Operating advances cover the automatic choke on all cars, softer, smoother brake action, easier steering, even more reliable starting in damp weather, static-free ignition, softer front and rear spring for improved ride, and higher capacity generator.

6—Unusual developments in the station wagon field. Three station wagons, one known as the Townsman and two as the Handyman.

7—An array of convenience items including key-turn starting, crank-type front door ventipane controls and almost one-fourth more luggage space.

8—A lavish choice of colors marked by brilliant new greens and blues are offered in 13 solids and 10 two-tone combinations.

The Chevrolet truck line for 1953, increased to a total of 74 models on 11 wheelbases, features, among other commercial advantages, greater delivery on a 115-inch wheelbase to a school bus chassis of 212-inch wheelbase, accommodating bodies of 54 passenger capacity the models answer virtually every hauling need. Improved performance, stronger frames and axles and better braking are some of the highspots that apply to individual series in the 1953 program of significant refinements. New and livelier colors, increased generator capacities, a wider range of options and distinctive series identification are also included in the line that has consistently led the industry in sales.

Conservation District News

Don Bennett is a believer in using cover crops in his crop rotation plan and is greatly increasing yields on his farm three miles southwest of Aiken.

Mr. Bennett states that cotton yields on land that had been in alfalfa three years ago was 3/4 bale per acre and yields on land that had not been in alfalfa was only 1/2 bale per acre. He believes the difference in yield would have been greater if we had not have had an early frost last fall.

Irrigation water was applied only once to the cotton on land that had been in alfalfa and the other cotton had one pre-irrigation and four irrigations during the growing season. Mr. Bennett plans to plow out forty acres of old alfalfa and plant it to grain sorghums this year. He also plans to drill new alfalfa on land that has not been in alfalfa to increase crop yields.

Mr. Bennett, in cooperation with the Floyd County Soil Conservation District, has drilled thirty acres of vetch in cotton middles. The vetch was drilled in September, just before the last application of irrigation water. The vetch was seeded by means of a legume drill, furnished by the Floyd County Soil Conservation District, that is designed to operate in row-crop middles without damaging the crop. He plans to plow the vetch up next spring and plant the land to cotton. The vetch will increase the amount of organic material in the soil, resulting in an increased rate of water intake.

ONE STAR Agriculture

Released by The Texas Department of Agriculture

INSECTICIDES AND HERBICIDES

Which is the greater hazard—insecticides or herbicides? Alarmists are telling the American people that insecticides are greater danger. They claim—and they're getting a lot of space in the newspapers and magazines—that we're being poisoned by new chemicals.

This problem was pointed out recently by Dr. Edward F. Knippling, president of the American Association of Economic Entomologists. Dr. Knippling maintains that such fears result from cases where insecticides were misused, with no regard for recommendations of entomologists. Toxicity hazard of any chemical is in direct proportion to how it is used, he claims.

Federal and Texas Department of Agriculture entomologists are aware that they must never underestimate their responsibility to the public in seeing that insecticides are used safely. When a new chemical is developed, they assume it is potentially hazardous to man and animal until adequate investigation proves otherwise. When tests are complete then recommendations are made for the safest methods of application.

When we consider that insecticides are man and crop savers rather than man and crop killers, it calls for an entirely different outlook on the insect control chemicals. We must realize that many diseases are transmitted by insects. Millions of dollars worth of crops are destroyed yearly by other types. Effective control programs, carried out through proper use of insecticides, then, are invaluable.

But there is another phase of control work carried out by the Texas Department of Agriculture which is sometimes confused with the insect elimination. This is the regulation by law of hormone-type herbicides.

Herbicides, such as 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T, are used primarily in the eradication of weeds and brush. These herbicides are NOT poisonous, although their use is controlled by Texas Herbicide Law, House Bill 59, (1951). This law is designed to protect crops which are susceptible to the chemical.

Hormone-type herbicides differ from insect poisons in that they engorge a broad-leaf plant, causing it to "grow itself to death." Careless use of the chemical can cause severe damage to crops such as cotton. Because of this, permits for its use must be obtained from the department in Austin. Officials act as advisors in chemical application and also estimate the value of crops affected.

ARTHRITIS?

I have been wonderfully blessed in being restored to active life after being crippled in nearly every joint in my body and with muscular soreness from head to foot. I had Rheumatoid Arthritis and other forms of Rheumatism, hands deformed and my ankles were set.

Limited space prohibits telling you more here but if you will write me I will reply at once and tell you how I received this wonderful relief.

identally damaged for future settlement. The worth of herbicides, like insecticides, is only as great as its effective use makes it. It can be a disaster when misused. Farmers who wish to take full advantage of the chemical are urged to obtain complete information on herbicides and pesticides by writing John C. White, Commissioner of Agriculture, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas.

★★★ FIELD NEWS

(from Floyd County Rural Electric Cooperative, Inc.)
by Nancy Morckel and Claude Weather

Back to work after a nice vacation of two weeks. A week was spent in Springfield, Missouri, with Harry's father and step-mother, my brother and his family, and other relatives and friends.

We went one afternoon down into the Shepherd of the Hills Country—the beautiful Ozark Hills—where so many have often followed the old trail around the rim of Mutton Hollow, the trail that is nobody knows how old, and from Lookout point watched the beautiful sunset as described by Harold Bell Wright in his story "The Shepherd of the Hills." Uncle Matt's cabin and Uncle Ike's postoffice are among interesting places one may still visit along this old trail.

Wiley Rogers is in Pitts hospital with double pneumonia. He is improving nicely at this time.

Mrs. Corkey Guffee is ill with "flu" at her home, 730 W. Lee street, Floydada.

Kenneth Rogers and family are visiting his sister Opal and other relatives here in Floydada. They are moving from Oklahoma City to El Paso.

Johnny Stutta is in the hospital with "flu."

So many lovely Christmas cards were received here at the office. We wish it were possible to thank each one individually, but since time does not permit we do want to say Thank You Very Much to each of you—it is always nice to be remembered and we do appreciate your thoughtfulness.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lee and sons spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Lee, Wayne's parents, at Comanche, Texas.

Wayne Collins went to Corpus Christi during the holidays. (He says he believes they have more water down there than we have up here.)

Bud and Kathryn Turner visited relatives in Oklahoma City during the holidays.

We had such a nice visit with the Noman Hamiltons at their lovely country home between Pryor and Claremore Oklahoma. Noma Lou attends school at Pryor and enjoys it very much.

James Welborn is a new employee on the line crew.

John Lloyd, Floydada, Route 2, has connected a new irrigation well.

Numerous Co-op cook books were sold during the holiday season for gifts. Mr. Steen has made more books so if you haven't gotten your copy remember they are still available.

Many co-op members will be moving around the first of the year. Be sure to notify the office at once of any change in your address.

We spent one afternoon with the Staley girls while we were in Springfield. Enjoyed Geneva's "popcorn cake," different and very delicious. They sent best wishes to all their Floyd county friends.

CHRYSLER'S New Yorker DELUXE

IT IS MORE CAR THAN YOU BELIEVED COULD EXIST...

If you're buying a car in the better ranges, there's a special reason this year to drive a Chrysler New Yorker before you decide. In this car are values you won't find elsewhere at any price today. Its great engine is not just surpassingly powerful, but new in performance and ruggedness. Its Power Brakes, full-time Power Steering and Oriflow ride give you not just better control... but a new kind of control, a new sense of safety. Its beauty is splendidly its own... splendidly right. Interiors are exquisite beyond compare—with fabrics and appointments that are the final word in luxury. Except for Chrysler's own Imperial, here is a car which is unequalled, and is unlikely to be equalled for years to come. Your Chrysler dealer cordially invites you to drive it at your convenience.
