RETAILERS TO TALK BETTER STORE FRONTS MARCH 23

The Retail Trades Committee of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce has scheduled a store front forum for March 23 featuring C. W. Goldner, southwest division manager of the Kawneer Co.

Goldner will speak to Floydada businessmen on the latest ideas for store front and business property modernization.

The date for the meeting was set this week with the Chamber of Commerce and the Kawneer Co. of Dallas.

Goldner has recently returned from a store front conference in Chicago and brings with him to Floydada the newest pictures, drawings and displays for the modernization of business houses. He will also demonstrate materials used in those plans.

With a modernization program now under way at two Floydada business firms and a marked interest in new store fronts the Retail Trades Committee hopes that this meeting will encourage other businessmen to join their campaign to make Floydada a more attractive shopping center.

Around fifty Floydada businessmen and property owners are expected at the meeting.

Hundreds Visit Schools of City Friday as Open House is Held; School Work Praised by Visitors

Open house at the schools in Floydada proved a success in every way when hundreds of the schools patrons visited the ward schools on Friday afternoon and in the evening at the High school.

The big day climaxed Public Schools week in Texas for Floydada. A. D. Fultz, principal of the Andrews Ward school, estimated that 750 persons visited that school between the hours of 2 and 4 p.m., viewed exhibits and visited the different rooms to see the new improvements.

At the high school open house was observed at 6 p.m. until about 9:30 with some 500 persons registering and visiting the new addition, the new Graves gym and the displays. Refreshments were served in the school cafeteria.

A program was rendered by the speech department at 8 p.m. assisted by the high school chorus and the band with musical numbers.

At Andrews Ward Parent-Teachers association members acted as

R. Earl Allen, pastor of the First Baptist church of Floydada, has been singled out to receive the honorary degree of doctor of divinity at Howard Payne college, it is formally announced this week by Dr. A. A. Bran, vice-president of the 65-year-old institution of higher learning at Brownwood.

Date for conferring the doctorate on the Floydada minister has been set for Saturday, March 21, at 1 o'clock. The ceremonies will take place at Walker Memorial library. Dr. Thomas H. Taylor, president of the college, will confer the degree.

Seven Candidates for Aldermen, Two, Maybe Three, for Mayor

As of Monday the voters of the city of Floydada had two avowed candidates, and one possible, for mayor, and seven candidates for five places on the board of aldermen.

The "possible" candidate is Walter G. Collins, whose name was petitioned on the ticket by 34 voters. The petition, however, did not bear the signed consent of Mr. Collins to having his name used. Before going through the record of poll tax payments to determine whether the petition had the legal number of names on it the council decided to find out what the proposed candidate's action would be. Accordingly they:

Voted that if the petition bears a sufficient number of qualified voters' names and the applicant signs the approval and the statutory oath of allegiance by the 14th day of March, his name will go on the ballot as a candidate for mayor.

The other two mayorally candidates are J. A. Patterson, who is asking to succeed himself, and W. J.

Waller.

For the five places on the city council the new candidates filing are George Sherrill, Parnell Powell and Carl L. Minor, Jr.

Of the present council members only Dr. C. M. Thacker did not ask for a place on the ballot. The present councilmen who filed for places are J. C. Wester, D. T. Mayo, Lewis Norman and Leonard Matsler.

Complaints, several in number, that some farmers are cultivating beyond the boundaries of their fields, into the right-of-way of county roads, and using the roadway to make their turns, have begun to come in to the Commissioners court, and are even percolating into the office of the county attorney, it was learned this week.

One report to the court said that considerable damage is being done to the dirt roads where the clods picked up by machinery, was being deposited on the roadway and making driving dangerous.

Another report said that a plow, pulled up on a paved road to make the turn, had plowed into the paving with lister points.

One of these instances was on a road where there is an 80-foot right-of-way, the commissioners were told.

The Commissioners, sitting Monday of this week, took cognizance of the reports but took no official action. Members of the court apparently rely on their ability to work out something harmoniously. Some farm operators "work" the sides of the rights-of-way for weed control, they declare.

'We Will Reach Quota,' Report On Red Cross

"We will reach the quota set for Floyd county in the Red Cross campaign in grand style if reports from community commitments continue as they have been," E. C. Carter, fund campaign chairman said early Wednesday morning. All reports have been over their quota with one community 35% over, he said. An overall check as to the advancement of the March campaign indicates still some contacts to be made before a complete report can be made. He expects this report to be complete by the latter part of next week, he stated.

Parnell Powell, fund chairman in Floydada, says he is pleased with the work of his committee consisting of Mrs. J. W. Reue, Mrs. Orville Newberry, Mrs. Billy Henry, Mrs. Greer Christian, Mrs. Wayne Robinson and helpers, in districts within the city. In the down-town area his appointees are M. S. Robertson, Tommy McIntosh, Emery Robertson, Geo. Bickley, Gene Collins, Jr., Joe Arwine, Olin Watson, J. W. Reue, Russell King, Carl L. Minor, Jr., Jess Covington, Glenn Auburn and Mrs. Sam Spence.

"Collections here have been good," he said. Working with Mr. Brown in Lockney are J. B. Seale, Bob Miller, Austin Merriweather and R. E. Patterson.

Editor Edgar Hayes of the Lockney Beacon said Wednesday, although he had no official figure of funds in the communities near there the work is being done and he feels assured the Lockney quota will be reached.

All community and district chairmen are urged to complete the campaign as soon as possible, Mr. Carter said. Volunteer workers throughout the county and in Lockney and Floydada are well organized and the quota of $3,380 should be reached within the next few days, Carter said.

Electrician: "What are you bawling about, Junior?"

Junior: "A bee lit on me and one end of it wasn't insulated."

Most of the "outages" during the damp rainy weather were caused by insulators that had been shot and broken. Evidently they had been used for target practice by some thoughtless persons. Shooting at insulators, seemingly not harmful to any one, causes unnecessary work for those maintaining electric lines and greatly inconveniences the people receiving power and light from these lines.

At this time of the year electricity is being used to brood baby chicks, for pig and lamb brooders, in addition to regular farm chores. So any time you see someone using insulators for target practice remind them of the hazard they are creating.

The following is a story taken from the Safety and Job Training Exchange, a true story and could happen anyplace:

Heads You Win

Only prop needed for this game in a military hospital in Japan is an apple. The pair who can walk around the room longest without dropping the fruit wins. Empire is a Red Cross hospital worker. Hunter's Whim Results in Three Deaths

"The lives of three men were lost as the direct result of a hunter's whim to shoot at something. The something turned out to be the high voltage insulators on a 3-phase angle pole. His marksmanship must have been the best because all eight insulators on the double crossarm bore evidence of his accuracy. Then again, perhaps his accuracy wasn't so good because nearly 100 empty cartridges were picked up in the area, but his persistency was certainly high.

"The result of the barrage was that several insulators were destroyed completely, allowing one of the high voltage wires to swing free of the pole, looping down over a little-traveled road and clearing it by two or three feet.

"The hunter, perhaps dismayed by the damage he had caused, or perhaps unaware of the potential death trap he had created, left the area. Not wanting to pay for the damage, he failed to report it.

"Early that evening a fisherman came down this road on the way to his favorite spot on the river. He ran into the wire before he noticed it and as he stepped from his car, he completed the circuit to the ground. In a blinding, paralyzing flash of fire he fell forward, dead.

"The next afternoon one of his neighbors, one of a volunteer party looking for the missing man, came down the same road. Seeing the car he stopped to investigate and before he was aware of the fate that had befallen his neighbor, he contacted the low-hanging wire — and the hunter had gotten his second victim.

HOUSE MOVING MALLOW BROS.

2509-J 502 Joliet 1176-M 1008 Independence PLAINVIEW, TEXAS

"Later that afternoon, two more men of the searching party drove down this road, coming in from the opposite direction. As they stopped and got out to investigate by the feeble light of flashlights, the one ahead stumbled and fell over the death dealing wire and the tragedy was complete."

"Three lives needlessly lost — three husbands and fathers killed by an innocent looking wire which carries one of the most powerful forces known to man.

"This is not the first time that shooting insulators has caused serious injury or loss of life. It also causes unnecessary work for the men maintaining the lines and inconveniences the people receiving power and light from them. Shooting at insulators, while seemingly not serious, can create a condition as dangerous as a booby trap or other instruments of destruction. The potential results of this practice must be widely published, and whenever a person with a gun is noticed using an insulator for target practice, drastic measures need to be taken.

"In this case three men were killed because insulators were used for targets, three men were murdered just as surely as though the hunted had pierced the heart of each with a bullet from his gun."

Electrician: "What are you bawling about, Junior?"

Junior: "A bee lit on me and one end of it wasn't insulated."

Most of the "outages" during the damp rainy weather were caused by insulators that had been shot and broken. Evidently they had been used for target practice by some thoughtless persons. Shooting at insulators, seemingly not harmful to any one, causes unnecessary work for those maintaining electric lines and greatly inconveniences the people receiving power and light from these lines.

At this time of the year electricity is being used to brood baby chicks, for pig and lamb brooders, in addition to regular farm chores. So any time you see someone using insulators for target practice remind them of the hazard they are creating.

The following is a story taken from the Safety and Job Training Exchange, a true story and could happen anyplace:

A BAD TEMPER IS LIKE A PET LION-- SHOULD NEVER BE ALLOWED TO GET LOOSE!

You should never allow your farm equipment to stand unrepaired until you need it, then expect to use it or for it not to break down in the field. Now is certainly the time to schedule your equipment for repairs... save those costly field breakdowns for your repair service will not only cost more, but you lose time.

Allen, the layman-reverend who is preaching at the First revival meeting at the First church, in a scion of a family that dates back to the early days of settlement in the county line near Petersburg. Q. Allen is the son of Q. Allen and Lela Allen of Petersburg. John Wiley Allen was one of the early settlers on the land that now is the site of the town of Petersburg. He lived in a half-dugout until 1890. Half of his father's land is now in Floyd county and about 100 acres are in Hale County.

Life-size Wood Carving of Last Supper

Courtesy Christian Science Monitor

BOSTON, MASS.—All the specialized skills of some of the finest craftsmen of New England have been combined to create this life-size copy in wood of the famous painting "The Last Supper" by Leonardo da Vinci.

More than a year was used in preparing the great carving—18½ feet long and 8½ feet wide. The figures, of limewood, are delicately tinted to give a feeling of lifelike reality, and a giant frame of contrasting walnut gives it depth. The carving will be the point of central interest in The Upper Room chapel, now nearing completion in Nashville. It is expected that visitors who view the carving will be moved to spend a few moments in prayer and meditation in keeping with the purpose of The Upper Room—a devotional guide issued in 17 languages and used round the world. The chapel itself is part of the new headquarters building for The Upper Room, the world's most widely used devotional guide. It is believed that it will become a devotional shrine and point of interest for visitors of the Midsouth.

The picture shows W. D. Irving, of Irving and Casson, New York and Boston, who have produced wood carvings for some of America's greatest churches and cathedrals. The wood carving was done from a model created by Earnest Pelligrini.

Mrs. Dollie Stone, Orba Miller Takes 90, Is Honored at Family Party

Mrs. Dollie Stone was honored Sunday by members of her family at a birthday dinner celebrating her 90th birthday, which was Friday, March 6.

Mrs. Stone makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. G. R. Strickland in Floydada.

The celebration also observed birthdays of four other members of the family: Mrs. Ernest Carter, Floydada, Mr. and Mrs. Reid Strickland, of Amarillo, and Herwin Strickland, Abilene.

A three-tiered birthday cake decorated in lavender and white, bore the names of the honoree and the four grandchildren who have birthdays during March.

Mrs. Stone, who has lived here for the past 10 years, was born in Tennessee. She moved to Texas in childhood.

She was married to Jack Stone in Hunt county, Texas, in 1884. Following his death in 1917 she continued to live in Wolfe City until coming to Floydada.

Present on Sunday for the family gathering were Mr. and Mrs. Reid Strickland, and sons, Gary and Larry of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Herwin Strickland, Barbara, Diana and Roy of Abilene; Mrs. Paul Miller and children, Dale Ann Strickland and Janet, and Mark Miller of Tulla, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Carter, Vanda and Mike of Floydada, and Mrs. G. R. Strickland.

Several friends remembered the occasion with flowers and visits during the afternoon.

Orba Miller Takes Bride In Denison Wedding Ceremony

In a pretty double ring ceremony on Saturday afternoon, March 8, at 2:30 o'clock in the Denison Church of Christ, Miss Maudine McMillin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. McMillin of Colbert, Oklahoma, became the bride of Orba Miller, son of W. E. Miller of the Sand Hill community. Woodrow W. Allen of Denison read the service.

Arrangements of native blossoms were featured in the setting for the couple who were attended by Mrs. J. B. Lewis of Plainview, sister of the bride and Arlon Miller of Floydada, brother of the bridegroom who served as best man.

A group of voices sang softly the traditional, "Always" as the bridal party arrived in the church, at the conclusion of the ceremony they sang, "Blest be the tie that binds."

The bride was lovely in a street length dress of white wool with white accessories. She was a white hat with veil and carried a bouquet of gardenias with satin streamers. Her attendant chose a beige suit with navy accessories.

Following the ceremony, the bridal party was honored at a reception in the home of the Woodrow Allens. Mrs. Bertram Jack, sister of the bridegroom, served punch and Mrs. Lou Ella McMillin, an aunt of the bride, served the wedding cake.

Prior to her marriage, Miss McMillin taught in the Denison schools. Mr. Miller has been associated with farming and cattle raising in the Sandhill community, where the couple will make their home on their

We hear a lot about Wonder Drugs these days — Understand there are drugs that can rout pneumonia before it gets half a hold. — Drugs that can cure arthritis, stop the common cold in the track, put bloom back into anemic cheeks — We hear of those that cause hay fever to disappear almost as quick as a sneeze — Anti-biotics, anti-histamines — We're never quite sure which is what — Anyhow we're glad to be living in the age of the Wonder Drug.

But — — — — —

What we long to see is the sure cure for talking too much. We'd approve a capsule that reminds us of good manners when someone leads with an insult. We await with eagerness the anti-suspicion pill, the vitamin for a lazy conscience, a chlorophyll for hate.

We'd like to be able to keep on a convenient shelf a small bottle of grudge antiseptic, a benign spray for things to remember and those to forget. We'd also like some all-purpose eyeglasses that would help us see what lies under the surface, and to understand all that we see. While we're about it, we'd like a harmless-tasting powder that would give us prescience on all things.

Good physical health is undoubtedly a wonderful thing. And we have science to thank for the tremendous inroads medicine has made on dangerous diseases and unfriendly germs. But the better we feel, the more perplexed we become when simple little human annoyances make us respect inhumanly, at the most unexpected times.

Whether from science or psychiatry, we really wouldn't care. But from some learned source, we're on constant alert for an anti-human-nature-histamine.

Floydada Couple Dinner Honorees

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Waller were the honorees at a surprise birthday dinner on Sunday at the home of their youngest daughter, Mrs. Cecil Richardson and Mr. Richardson.

Six of the Waller children were present for the occasion. Three were unable to attend. The Wallers were celebrating their 65th birthday.

Attending the family dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Waller, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Waller and J. E. Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Switzer and Don and Peggy, all of Floydada, Mr. and Mrs. Rae Thornton and Linda, Mrs. Bob Even and Kelley, all of Tulla, Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson, Shirley and Nancy, of Lubbock, and the Richardsons.

Several friends from this area attending the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lewis, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Johnson of Plainview, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Miller, Janie and Ronnie, Mr. and Mrs. Cager Pope, Jane and Joyce, W. E. Miller and daughter Verl, Mr. and Mrs. Arlon Miller and Lon and Mrs. Cora Pace of Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Snell and son, Steve of Lubbock visited here Sunday with their parents Mr. and Mrs. J. J. McKinney and Mr. and Mrs. Will Snell.

Club Program On Texas In Meeting At Troutman Home

The 1952 Study club met with Mrs. Noel Troutman as hostess last Thursday for a program on "Texas." Mrs. C. A. Caffee presided during the business meeting and named her committees for the next year. The two main committees named were the program and social committees. Mrs. Noel Troutman is chairman of the year book committee with Misses E. F. Stovall and P. W. Bell as members. For the social committee Mrs. E. J. Morehead was named chairman with Mrs. W. S. Poole and Mrs. R. E. Fry as members.

Plans were discussed for the 7th district convention of the Federation of Womens clubs in Hereford on April 9-10 and 11. The president was named as delegate.

Roll call was answered with jokes and facts about Texas.

Mrs. Caffee presented a book review, "The Iron Mistress," the life of James Bowie, one of the heroes of the Alamo. The famous Bowie knife, which was known as the iron mistress, figured in a prominent place in the life of Bowie.

The review was interesting, given in a most gracious and charming manner.

Members attending the meeting were Messdames Kenneth Bain, W. I. Cannaday, R. E. Fry, Edd Johnson, J. B. Jenkins, C. A. Caffee, E. L. Angus, O. P. Rutledge, E. F. Stovall, W. S. Poole, E. J. Morehead and Lon V. Smith.

The next meeting of the club will be on March 19, which will be guest day. The program will be on "Friendship." The meeting will be held at Fellowship hall of the First Christian church at 3 o'clock.

Willson Lectures, Convocation This Week at McMurry

Attending the Willson lectures in Abilene at McMurray college this week are Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson.

Among Northwest Texas Methodists, officials and alumni of McMurry the week is also being celebrated in honor of the tenth anniversary of Harold Groves Cooke as president of the college. Willson presided at a meeting of the board of trustees of the school at 12:30 Tuesday, preceding the opening of the lecture-ship Tuesday night.

The lectureships are the result of an endowment donated to the college by the Willsons in 1946. They are held annually and persons of national prominence have been chosen to fill the speaking engagements.

The lectures and the convocation are combined this year to celebrate the decade of progress.

Cub Scout Troop Organized
A cub Scout Troop was organized in South Plains on March 1, and the first meeting was held at the school house on March 2. Mrs. I. H. Parks and Mrs. Thornton are the Den Mothers, and since South Plains has only enough boys for one den, they are therefore a part of Silverton Pack, and one night a month they will meet at Silverton. The group meet each Monday afternoon at the school house, and Larry Smitherman is the Den Chief. Members of the Cub pack are J. Ronald Taylor, Bruce Julian, Don Thornton, Eddie Parks, Dennis Deavenport and Harold McLendon.

Birthday Party on Wednesday
Mr. and Mrs. I. H. Parks honored their younger son, Jay Frank, with a birthday party at their home Wednesday afternoon, March 4, at 4 p. m. Mrs. Parks carried out St. Patrick's Day motif in decorating the house and table. Jay Frank's big angel cake was beautiful in green and white. Seven green candles on the big white cake told how old Jay Frank was. The little friends gathered after school in his home to play games, and then his mother served cake and ice cream in the dining room to the children, and favors of Easter eggs, and bubble gum were given the guests. After refreshments were served, Jay Frank opened his gifts, and games were enjoyed until parents called for the children. Those who helped Jay

Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Calahan and children, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Calahan, jr., and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brown and Karen all were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Calahan, sr., on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Calahan had not been well this past week, and has been in bed several days.

Rainfall was varied in our vicinity on Sunday and Sunday night. Amounts were reported from different places, and in north of South Plains, Arby Mulder had two tenths, George Weast had half an inch. Seven tenths were reported at the R. G. Dunlap farm, and eight tenths at the Murray Julian place. On toward Floyd-dale about three fourths an inch was reported.

Added Castor Bean Acreage Promised Area

With an eye to possible acreage to take the place of cotton as a cash crop within the near future, 50 farmers heard the Pacific Vegetable Oil corporation's representatives tell their plan for planting Castor beans under contract in Floyd county this year.

The response to the proposal of this second concern to enter local growing and selling market indicates that another 2,500 acres of Castor beans may be planted in the area or at least that there will be a material increase in the acres planted.

Establishment of a local receiving center was promised by Alred Hoffman and Joseph Smith, who presented the PVO proposal Tuesday. They also said they had been promised ample harvesting machinery. Delivery at Floydada or at Plainview will be accepted, they said.

Experimental plantings on irrigation land last year resulted in nearly 700 acres being harvested in the county. Most of this acreage produced good yields and made the producer good returns.

Entry of the private operators into the area follows the experimental plantings last year, under which PMA made the planting and harvesting contracts. The War Board of Munitions, in particular, is anxious to get an American source of supply for Castor oil, needed in increasing quantities. The federal government got into the picture on this account. Wherever possible the job is being handed over to private operators.

Pacific Vegetable Oil corporation has been operating for many years and is viewed as one of the reliable companies undertaking to enlarge their operations from Castor beans grown in continental United States.

Mrs. Mark Martin Club Hostess at Lone Star Meeting
Mrs. Mark Martin was hostess to the Lone Star home demonstration club on March 3. The lesson, "Mrs. Smith, Uncle Sam and you," was directed by Mrs. W. T. Rankin, with these words from the late former president, Calvin Coolidge: "Patriotism is easy to understand in America; it means looking out for yourself by looking out for your country."
The quiz program was thought provoking.
Mrs. W. D. Nance and Mrs. E. O. Barnett gave a demonstration on preparing a skillet dinner. This was an excellent lesson well given and resulted in a tasty dinner, topped off with Mrs. Martin's excellent cake and ice cream.
We are glad to report that Mrs. Bailey Henderson is home from her stay in the hospital and we are hoping she will be able to be back with us soon.
A report was given on the county library.
There were 15 members present and one visitor.
Mrs. Clyde Baxter will be hostess at the meeting on March 17.

Uncles of Local Man Are Victims In Highway Crash

Three brothers, Ezra, Elmer and Elvin Rushing of Bagwell, Texas, near Paris, were instantly killed about 10:30 Sunday night in a head on collision near Ropesville, on Highway 82.

Miss Joy Davis, riding in the car with the Messrs. Rushing, received possible internal injuries and broken bones.

Jack L. Brown of Lubbock driver of the other car was suffering internal injuries but neither Miss Davis nor Mr. Brown were thought to be in a critical condition by attendants at St. Mary's hospital, where they are patients.

Lawrence Crawford, mechanic at Floydada Implement company is a nephew of the three Rushing brothers. Mr. Crawford moved to Floydada about four months ago from Texarkana and lives in the Bering apartment on West Mississippi street here.

Mr. Crawford left for Lubbock immediately on learning of the tragedy.
The bodies of the three men were returned to Bagwell for burial.

Court Is Informed Pilfering 'Jobs' Done by Juveniles

Solution to the break-ins at Cantrell's Fruit stand, Kirk & Sons hardware, the Continental wholesale office and Allen's Laundry came this week with the arrest of two 18-year-old colored boys and the 63-year-old father of one of them.

All three were charged with receiving and concealing stolen property. They pled guilty. The boys were fined $25 and costs and their elder $37.50, when they were called up before Judge F. L. Moore Tuesday morning.

The two 18-year-olds had taken two rifles and some clothing from two little lads, 13 and 14 years old. The rifles, it developed, came from the Kirk place and the clothing from the laundry. The little fellows admitted breaking-in, in juvenile proceedings conducted by the judge. The little boys had been neglected, it developed in the hearing, Judge Moore said.

It's Later Than You Think

Everything is farther than it used to be. It's twice as far from my place to the bus line now, and they've added a hill that I've just noticed. The buses leave sooner too, but I've given up running for them because they go faster than they used to.

You can't even believe the time tables any more, and why ask the conductor?

I'll bet I asked him a dozen times if the next stop is where I get off, and he always says it isn't. I gather up my packages anyway just so I won't go by the right stop. Once in a while I make double sure by getting off at the block ahead.

The summers are hotter than in the good old days. Snow is much heavier, too, when I attempt to shovel it, and rain is so much wetter that I have to wear rubbers. I guess the way they build windows now makes drafts more severe.

People are changing too. For one thing, they are younger than they used to be when I was their age. On the other hand, people my age are so much older than I am. I realize my generation is approaching middle age, but there is no reason for my friends to be tottering into senility.

I ran into a friend the other night, and she had changed so much that she didn't recognize me. "You've put on a little weight," I said. "It's this modern food," she replied. "It seems to be more fattening."

I got to thinking about her this morning while I was dressing. I looked at my own reflection in the mirror. Seems they don't use the same kind of glass in mirrors any more. — Selected.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

Since The Hesperian has come out so strong for a good rain this spring—plenty of moisture to plant—it has been a great help to the morale of the country. To all intents and purposes, so far as the weather man is concerned, we have had in 1951-2 another 1933-4. Just an occasional place where the moisture and the man who planted got together at the right time in those years. Irrigation water spelled the difference between a 15,000 bale cotton crop and a 120-thousand bale cotton crop in 1952, no doubt of that. Enough reason why a man with an irrigation well should use the water he takes from under the ground with the greatest efficiency. But getting back to The Hesperian's strong position against further dry weather and in favor of a wet enough season to plant on, a check to be sure just about sets the season up. It's practically the same as in the bag. All we have to do is to wait until the signs get together. Then get out your slicker and go shut off the well. Sometime this spring.

American small business has a loosely-knit organization which they call "small business". Through this organization they assemble their own sentiment as regards current measures up for congressional attention. They do this through a mail vote. They attempt to get this record of their sentiments before the congressmen and senators. They play a role in what they term the vital questions of the day, six in number: monopoly business, monopoly labor, international cartels, monopoly agriculture, monopoly government, monopoly cooperatives. Of all the most perplexing is the international cartel. This latter is part and parcel of what is wrong in business and economy sick Europe. The government-backed cartel sure can play havoc with a market, choke a competitor, stifle free movement of goods. It is the kind of government-business gimmick not understood by most people in the southwest, including ourselves.

The Texas Rural letter Carriers association claims that the road program now before the Texas legislature "gives little thought" to getting the Texas farmer and small town citizen out of the mud. The letter carriers, state and national, are alarmed at the project-adequate road program, which they maintain, is seeking to develop a system of super-highways between big cities at the expense of a sound rural road program. The letter carriers also are against "an all-out road program" for the time. The taxpayer is getting only 43 cents for his road building dollar, says the reasoning of the letter carriers, hence they support the idea of preserving and protecting the primary highways as they are and concentrate efforts on expanding the present rural roads program.

Problems closer home than Chiang Kai-shek and the successor of Stalin at Moscow might well have the attention of the home guard for the next few weeks. During March and the earlier part of April the level of conduct of the business affairs of most cities, towns and school districts will be determined by the voters. Who'll be the mayor, who the councilmen? What will be the make-up of the next school board? Those should be studied by the voters and have definite, forward-looking attention when voting time comes in early April. Because personalities enter into these campaigns people are prone as they always have been, to vote their likes and dislikes, whereas often as not the least popular man is the better man for the job to be filled. A vote for a good, substantial man one dislikes often would be the wise course. In this connection it could be kept in mind as a fact that you are not doing a man a favor by electing him to the school board or the city council.

Somebody has written that only the very rich and the very poor can afford modern hospitalization and medical service. The very rich have the money to get sick, says this writer, while the very poor get equally as good treatment through charity. It is the in-between class that is hard hit by the high costs. One of the problems of the in-betweeners is trying to get insurance that actually insures. While they are usually glad to get what they do get, there's always some items that come to $50 or $100 or so that the "policy does not cover." Do you expect to get rich off of a spell of sickness? Is the stock answer to the protest that you paid for protection.

We look on it as a dis-service to a community for a newspaper to espouse the cause of a candidate or set of candidates for local public office. Only in a case of grave emergency do we think a newspaper, such as The Hesperian has the moral responsibility of campaigning for or strongly espousing the election of one set of men over another set of men or one man over another. The rule, simply applied, is that the newspaper gets credit for personal pique or prejudice, or craving for power, not justified by the needs of the situation in the community. It wouldn't "cost" the newspaper as some people seem to think, in fact the attitude of taking a side for or against every man that runs for a local office might even make the publisher money. But it would not serve the welfare of the community well in so doing. So we think.

Texas producers sold more livestock during 1952 than the year before but total gross receipts were 13 percent less.

Fire Destroys Grain Elevator At Petersburg

PETERSBURG — The Heard elevator in Petersburg was destroyed by fire Monday night. It is believed the fire started in the head house, as it was burning in the top when discovered. Flames spread rapidly to other parts of the elevator. The elevator was built in 1928 with 35,000 bushel capacity. Loss is estimated by Mr. Heard at approximately $25,000. There were three or four cars of grain in the elevator, which was fully covered by insurance. The building was partially covered, said Mr. Heard.

The Heard Implement house, a warehouse and oil storage tanks of the Consumers Oil Association and Phillips 66, near by were saved by the gallant work of the fire boys. Mr. Heard has not decided whether he will rebuild the elevator back or not. He has another elevator on the railroad tracks just north of the depot, that will handle his grain business for the time being.

50 years ago
Southwestern Life was chartered to serve the people of Texas...
Today... more than
ONE BILLION DOLLARS
of Life Insurance in Force

ON MARCH 10, 1903, Southwestern Life Insurance Company was chartered to serve the people of Texas.

It began as a small business dedicated to the provision of sound life insurance and investment services to its three million Texas neighbors. True to these purposes, since July 4, 1903, when the first policy was issued, it has been growing in Texas and with Texas and for many years has been the largest insurance company in the nation which confines its business to its home state.

Today, as the Company observes the golden anniversary of its founding, it takes great pleasure in announcing that total insurance on the lives of Southwestern Life policyowners has reached and passed $1,000,000,000.

During a half-century Southwestern Life has helped hundreds of thousands of Texans provide a measure of financial security for themselves and their families through life insurance. More than a hundred and sixty-five million dollars has been paid to policyowners and their families in policy benefits. More than two hundred and fifty million dollars has been loaned to Texas real estate owners and many millions of dollars more have been invested in state and municipal bonds and corporation securities for the development of Texas.

The Company's place in the community and in the life insurance industry today is the cumulative result of these fifty years of business association with our Texas neighbors, the purchasers of Southwestern Life policies. It was and is their respect and confidence in the Company and its field representatives which enabled Southwestern Life to survive and to find its place in our free enterprise system. It is this friendship and good will which we cherish and gratefully acknowledge as we come to the end of these first fifty years and look forward to another half-century of responsible and fruitful service to the insurance-buying public.

Our 50th annual report, with many interesting side-lights on a half-century's growth, is yours on request.

ONE STAR Agriculture

Selected by Texas Department of Agriculture

TEXAS AGRICULTURAL LAWS

Farming and ranching serve a vital purpose in the nation today, and the demands made upon them have been great in time of war and peace.

The success of farming, or any kind of business, depends upon proper management. Farms and ranches must not only be properly managed locally, but they must also adhere to and be governed, in part, by laws promulgated by the Texas Department of Agriculture. How well these laws work will determine, to a large extent, the success of these agricultural enterprises.

At various times during the past few years, some discontent has been expressed on various phases of these laws. Since this year is a Legislative phase of these laws. Since this year as a Legislative year, then it is the logical time to study and remedy certain inadequacies which exist in the law. In some cases, the laws should be more stringent — others should be relaxed, perhaps. But no change should be made which would hamstring the operations of so large and industry as our agriculture. Instead, the laws must provide greater protection, not only for the farmer and rancher, but also for sellers and purchasers of agricultural commodities.

Yet, laws should not be made by one man or any one small group of men without the consent and advice of the persons affected. The Constitution of the United States guarantees that laws will be made by the people for the people — and this policy should be applied on the state level. The wishes of those to whom the laws will apply must always be considered before any new legislation is attempted.

In the case of agriculture, the man actually engaged in related farm work is more qualified to make known the needs and to better understand the problems at hand. For this reason, the Texas Department of Agriculture is vitally interested in having their views on new additions or subtractions in present laws.

When good workable policies are achieved through efforts of both industry and legislative action, then continued progress in agricultural fields is assured.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(by Nellie Witt Spikes.)

Sassafras, oh, sassafras, Thou art the stuff for me, And in the spring I love to sing, Sweet sassafras, of thee!

Mr. Spikes tells when he was a boy, his mother would send him to the woods to get sassafras wood to make tea. This was used in the spring of the year to thin one's blood that was supposed to get thick in the winter. When we first kept house, Mr. Spikes, not being able to go to the woods for sassafras, bought it at the drug store and I made tea. Now I did not really like it, even with plenty of rich cream and sugar, but I meekly drank it as he required the children to drink some. And the world was just getting out of the "Sulphur and molasses age."

But today scientists recognize the value of molasses as having plenty of iron and other minerals the body needs. Phew! the sulphur. Not quite so bad to take a dose, or as the older ones said long ago, "Dost" of medicine. And are you old enough to remember the calomel?

Physicians of the highest rank (To pay their fees, we need a bank) Combine all wisdom, art and skill, Science and sense in Calomel.

How'er their patients complain, Of head, or heart, or nerve, or vein, Of fever high, or parch, or swell, The remedy is Calomel.

So an unknown poet sang before 1853. I feel sorry for children that have to take shots, but I recall a child having to stick out his tongue for his mother with a big spoonful of nauseating castor oil, the father standing by with relentless look on his face, while the thick sticky stuff is being poured down a rebellious mouth, the last drop being pushed out by mother's fingers. The shots look good in preference.

I do not think it has been cold enough this winter to make our blood too thick and I hope Mr. Spikes does not read this article for he will just go down to the drug store and we will have sassafras tea for breakfast.

Johnny Jeff has begun to explore. He can wiggle, get up on his knees and push forward a little. He can sit in a high chair, held in with a cloth tied around his fat middle. He has learned if he drops play pretties mother will pick them up. This same thing most all mothers continue to do even till the children are grown if they do not use strong measures on their families which they seldom do.

"The big storm" which was due last night, stopped north of Amarillo, we are told. In the night I couldn't sleep. Everything was so very still after a high wind of Sunday. I listened for the storm to strike, the house to shake and fill with dust. I listened for the shrieking of a "fire siren" above the back door, which almost runs us distracted. If these noises had begun I might have been able to sleep, but the very quietness kept me awake and my nerves on edge.

It is the time of year to get out and dig. And the time for muscles to get sore and stiff from the digging. We grunt and complain, but if we have roses and lillies, we must prepare for them.

Thought for the week: "Not houses finely roofed or the stonies of walls well-built, nay nor canals and dockyards, make the city, but Men Able to use Their Opportunity." — Aristides.

As the blizzard did not get here, I had better get outside and dig some more, and the whole place needs to be watered, so will see you next week.

The "Grassfinder" . . .
A Hound for Hunting Grass

CHICAGO—Now you can read your newspaper while you are cutting the lawn! Taking all the back-ache out of summer chores is the above machine, the only power mower in the world that cuts grass and weeds by its own direction—unaided by human hands, ropes, wires or electronic remote controls!
The Fairbanks-Morse new "Grass-Finder" follows the grass line like a hound follows the trail. Once you've cut a border around the lawn and switched over to automatic control a sensitive mechanical "nose" guides the rear wheels to turn the mower in towards the uncut grass. Built for heavy continuous duty the Grass Finder cuts square corners, around trees, and irregularly shaped borders. It cuts as it climbs or descends on reasonably uneven ground.

Cox Welcomes
P-T.A. As Allies

The word which runs through the State Department of Health these days is this:
"Give the parent-Teachers association anything they want. They're helping every kid in Texas."
That's the way State Health Officer George W. Cox welcomed 400,000 new allies in the Department's campaign to establish tooth-saving flouridation programs in all Texas communities.
Members of the Texas PTA — all 401,541 of them — have pledged themselves to work for adoption of flouridation in all areas where natural floride content of the community water supply is below the level of 1 part per million parts water as is recommended by practically every reputable health organization in the country.

Following the lead of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers which adopted a pro-flouridation resolution in their convention just concluded in Chicago, a spokesman for the Texas organization said the entire membership is being urged to activity campaign for the measure
"which will mean fewer decayed teeth of our children."
Twelve cities are already conducting carefully controlled programs of water treatment against insidious tooth decay. If the PTA is successful in its promotion project, many other cities will be undertaking similar programs.
And future children of any community where water is treated in the proper ratio will be better off than children in other communities whose leaders have shorter vision.

Long years of study show that children who use fluoride-treated water have 60 to 65 percent fewer decayed teeth than children who are deprived of such water.
This, says Dr. Cox, is why the health agency is giving unqualified approval to flouridation, and why he enthusiastically welcomes the support of PTA.

Someone has said that there are no experts on Soviet Russia — only men in varying states of ignorance. Nevertheless, millions of people in the free world are speculating upon what may happen now that director Joseph Stalin is dead, and his successor has been appointed. Undoubtedly, the world situation will be more explosive and dangerous for a time. Stalin's pattern of action had become somewhat predictable. With Stalin in the saddle there seemed to be no way to break the stalemate between the free world and the communist world, but many of our leaders had come to believe that Stalin would not in his old age risk a big war with the United States which might destroy him and everything he had built up. Library Board Chairman Tells Qualifications of Librarian

The Texas county library law (Texas Civil Statutes, 1952, as amended thru 1951) reads, in part: "County Librarian — No person shall be eligible to the office of county librarian unless prior to his appointment he has received from the State Board of Library Examiners a certificate of qualification for office."

This ruling complies with standards recommended by the American Library Association, Chicago, Illinois and observed in the laws of the states of our union which provides desirable library service for their citizens. Some libraries in our state are administered by untrained librarians and several of them have been successful. But a new library being created today will greatly diminish the service to its people unless it is directed by a person with a college degree in Library Science.

Duty of Librarian
Article 1686 (Ibid) reads "Duty of Librarian." The librarian shall endeavor to give an equal and complete service to all parts of the county through branch libraries and deposit stations in schools and other locations where suitable quarters may be obtained, thus distributing printed matter, books, and other educational matter as quickly as circumstances will permit. The county librarian shall have the power to make rules and regulations for the county free library, to establish branches and stations throughout the county, to determine the number and kind of employees of such library, and, with the approval of the commissioners' court, to appoint and dismiss such employees. The county librarian shall be subject to the general rules adopted by the commissioners' court, build up and manage according to accepted rules of library management, a library for the people of the county and shall determine what books and other library equipment shall be purchased."

You are familiar with the training required of our home demonstration agent and our county agent. To be comparable to these splendid, useful, trained leaders our librarian must be a college graduate who has majored in the field of library science. Then we may expect her to be capable, to give genuine educational service to all ages and groups and to be a community asset.

College Librarian Courses
The undergraduate college or university training offered librarians consists of four, or five years (8 or 10 semesters) and leads to such degrees as bachelor of science in library science (B.S. in L.S.) or bachelor of arts in library sciences (B.A. in L.S.). There are between 30 and 40 approved U.S. colleges or universities offering library science degrees; a few others offer some library science courses for teachers in the public schools and for graduate students to train them to use research materials. Then, of course, masters' degrees and doctorate degrees in library science may be obtained from a few universities after additional years of study. The first library training school was established in 1887 at Columbia University, N. Y., by Melvil Dewey, the father of library science.

In the four year undergraduate course the first three years of college study are devoted to studying World literature, world history, economics, government, sciences (pure and applied), psychology, sociology, typing, one or more foreign languages, and an educational course of two. In other words, a well-rounded educational background is attained. The fourth year is devoted to library courses. In the five year training the student studies library science after four years of general college work, wherein a B.S. or B.A. degree has been earned with the major in science, literature, history, etc.

The library science courses offer such subject matter as: library administration and methods. The history of libraries from the clay tablets of Babylonia to the magnificent collections of our Library of Congress, Washington, D. C., Howard, Yale, Chicago, California, Texas, Universities, the national libraries of France and England and the other countries of the world; but not forgetting the county libraries, especially in California, Louisiana and the New England states — the leaders in the United States. (First U.S. public library—Boston—1653; Philadelphia's first library established 1732 on the initiative of Benjamin Franklin. In 1833 the first tax supported library in the U.S. was opened at Peterborough, N. H.) Children's books and story-telling; U.S. and state government documents; Book selection of all types and for all ages; Magazines and newspapers; There are several monthly guides published which give ready reference to this timely material. "Reader's Guide" covering the general magazines will be a great asset to our library. We can then borrow specific magazines or magazine articles for our clientele. Bookmending, culling of worn-out or out-of-date books, preparing worthwhile books for commercial re-binding; Reference and research work; one of the most challenging opportunities to give individual service to library users, business men, club members, students, etc.; The classification and cataloging of books; Making for every book in the library: author card, title card, subject cards—very valuable, bringing together all books, even parts of books, or pamphlets, on one subject. For instance, if you wish to read a book, or prepare a club paper, on psychology, Texas manufacturing of sulphur, the decline of rural schools in America, the life of Chopin or Eisenhower, etc., by consulting the subject card in the card catalogue you would quickly find all the book material in the library dealing with your subject. Working out subject headings is difficult without study and careful use of printed guides.

Librarian's Assistants
Our trained librarian will hire a few part-time assistants. The ability to type will be a valuable asset to those applying for part-time work. The assistants will do the routine typing, making posters, mend books, charge out books, and enjoy unpacking boxes of new books. One assistant, it is planned, will administer the Lockney branch during the several hours it is open daily. The librarian will visit Lockney and the rural schools frequently.

Making the Right Start
Many new and small libraries start off with inadequate financial support and with cast-off books. Mrs. Lucille Wilson of the Texas State Library has written up as follows:

"Floyd County is to be congratulated on several things, beginning with your last year organization which got the petition signed and the splendid appropriation made by the Commissioners court. But I particularly want to give your steering committee a pat on the back for working for gift money for books and not books themselves. You avoid a lot of worthless, cast-off books; at the same time you help give the citizens the idea that books must be bought, with hard, cold cash now and as time goes on."

An untrained library worker is rarely able to purchase books in a manner assuring good quality and fair balance. Reference books are expensive but invaluable, seldom provided in adequate coverage in small libraries, and must be carefully selected for the area served. Non-fiction selection is the heart of a genuinely readable library; a well trained mind is equal to the task. But even more important is the ordering of attractive, new, picture story-books in sturdy bindings by recognized authors and illustrators for the children, and more and better books for middle-aged children and "teen-agers."

The trained librarian knows how to stretch the book fund by consulting many standard lists, by evaluating the proposed purchase against the present book stock; by legitimately borrowing certain classes of material from nearby libraries, the state library, or the University of Texas Extension library; by securing free or inexpensive, but valuable, printed material from state and federal agencies, foundations, national organizations, etc.

The trained librarian will seek out new readers, and will study the interests, existing and building, in the entire county for all age-groups.
