Financial Aid Through FHA To Drouth Area

(Ed. Note: Numerous reports are current concerning the latest act of congress intended to give aid through the drouth crises to farmers and live stock men. Below is presented what is believed to be the latest authentic information. It comes from the office of FHA county supervisor Delbert L. Kassahn.)

Financial aid to drouth stricken farmers and ranchmen of Texas was promised immediately by State Director L. J. Cappleman of the Farmers Home Administration from his office in Dallas upon being informed by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson that details of Public Law 38, Section Two, the new special livestock loan, are complete and that lending procedure had been announced.

Funds are available from a revolving fund containing up to $150,000,000, and the purpose for which loan funds may be used include a long list of essential ranch operating purposes such as feed, grazing lease charges, crop land rentals for production of feed, purchase, hire and repair of farm machinery, building or repair of fences transportation of cattle to and from grazing lands; payment of one year's taxes on real and personal property, purchase of livestock for replacement or restocking, but not expansion of normal operations; for water supplies, living expenses, normal maintenance of farm and ranch buildings and other operating expenses, but not to refinance secured or unsecured debts nor to establish a man in livestock operations.

Interest rate on Special Livestock Loans for ranchmen is 5 per cent, repayment must be scheduled within three years, because of the difference in the type of loan. Present FHA County Committees will certify Special Livestock Loans until such time as the Secretary of Agriculture may set up Special Committees.

Crop Disaster Loans

Cappleman in his statement referred also to the crop disaster loans administered by the Farmers Home Administration that are being made at the rate of more than $1,000,000 a month now. $12,000,000 of these Disaster Loans have been disbursed in the last twelve months.

Lofty Quest for Uranium

EVEN MORE dramatic than the gold rush days is America's quest for uranium ore, now under way high on the rugged Colorado Plateau. At Uravan, below, ore mined in the Rockies is refined. Town was named for "ura" in uranium, "van" in vanadium.

ONCE PROCESSING IS completed, uranium, below, has a black, sticky form. Drying reduces the material to powder.

SANDSTONE near this typical mining structure yields carnotite. From it are derived traces of uranium ore.

MOUNTAIN-CLIMBING International trucks, one of which is shown in background, haul the ore to mills from nearly inaccessible mines. Miners examine ore for yellow streak, proof of uranium.

These loans made under Public Law 38, Section One, are available in all areas suffering from the effect of production losses caused by reasons beyond the control of the farmer. The Texas disaster area was proclaimed two years ago when lack of rain and other natural causes placed farmers in serious plight because of the losses sustained.

Regarding the regular FHA loan, $20,000,000 of the $150,000,000 appropriated by Congress in the past few days for drouth areas was added to the regular appropriation for Production and Subsistence FHA loans for the 1954 fiscal year. If an applicant presently owes an old Feed and Seed Loan, he is not eligible for a regular PMS loan.

The FHA Disaster Loan available under Section One of Public Law 38 provides funds for the production of crops and normal expenses of such production. Any farmer who has suffered a production loss and needs more credit than is available through his local bank or other lending agencies is eligible to apply for the FHA crop disaster loan.

Ready Right Now
Mr. Cappleman has instructed county FHA Supervisors to give priority to crop disaster and special livestock loans and to call into session county loan committees as often as necessary to pass on the applications and expedite the loan making procedure. He emphasized that money is available for the purpose of obtaining seed and other necessary supplies to start a new crop and to carry farmers and ranchers through this emergency, and take care of their normal needs.

The Farmers Home Administration is ready to receive applications and process loans immediately. The entire state is already a designated disaster area and loans can be processed without delay to purchase feed and to meet crop production needs in any county. While offices are already staffed, Cappleman said additional men needed in FHA offices in any areas of Texas to take care of the emergency disaster loans can be moved in from other parts of Texas at once. The regular disaster loan program is being used to finance the production of wheat and other small grain crops in the western area of Texas, he said.

Cappleman also pointed out that funds for the use of the regular program of the Farmers Home Administration are available, including production and farm operating, farm ownership, farm housing and water facilities. In addition, the agency insured mortgage loans are offered. This is a loan where private lenders provide funds for farm purchase, insured by the government. Each of the different types of credit are available to the limit of funds appropriated.

Peaches in the Home Freezer

COLLEGE STATION, July — Certain varieties of peaches are excellent for storing in the home freezer.

Food and nutrition specialists for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service say certain kinds and varieties of peaches give a better product than others. They suggest freezing the Elberta, Dixigem, Hale Haven, and the Frank, a cling peach.

Use only sound, ripe peaches for freezing — the fruit should be slightly riper than for canning, but certainly not soft or mushy. The specialists say tree ripened fruit contains more vitamins had richer flavor than fruits picked green and allowed to ripen before freezing.

Prepare the peaches as you would for eating. Keep them cool from the time the peaches are gathered until they are frozen.

Wash peaches in cold water, peel, and treat to prevent them from turning dark. The specialists say there are several ways to prevent discoloration: ascorbic acid (vitamin C) in tablet, crystalline or powdered form maybe used. Dissolve 1,000 milligrams (or ten 100 milligram tablets) per quart of sugar syrup which is used to cover the fruit. Powdered or crystalline ascorbic acid may also be added to the syrup using 1/2 teaspoon per quart of syrup just before pouring over the fruit.

Another method of preventing discoloration in peaches is to dissolve a fourth teaspoon of citric acid in a quart of cool water and let the fruit stand in the solution about 15 minutes before packing in sugar syrup.

There are some special commercial preparations of ascorbic acid for frozen fruits on the market. These usually contain added sugar and citric acid. When using commercial mixes, follow manufacturers directions and be sure to use enough liquid to cover the fruit.

Peaches are best packaged in a sugar syrup, although a dry-sugar pack may be used. Sugar or sugar symp helps peaches hold their shape, color and flavor.

To pack peaches for freezing, after they have been washed, peeled and treated to prevent discoloration, cover with sugar syrup in freezing containers, using 3 cups sugar to 4 cups water. The syrup is made by dissolving the sugar in boiling water, and chilling thoroughly before pouring over the peaches. For a dry sugar pack add 2/3 cup sugar to each quart of prepared peaches.

Allow about a half inch at top of container for expansion. Label container with kind of peach, type of pack and date. Information on freezing available at county Extension offices. Ask for B-175 Freezer. How To Freeze, How To Cook.

Rev. Raymond Spence gave an interesting lecture on this Monday night August 3, at the Baptist church in South Plains. There was a goodly number present at the meeting which was sponsored by the brotherhood of the church. Everyone enjoyed the slides and descriptive talk of Rev. Spence. We regret that the illness of Mrs. Spence will cause her to take a few months rest. She is now in Fort Worth. Rev. Spence will join her as soon as he has fulfilled his speaking engagements here. That will be around August 10.

The way the games stand so far the Lone Star boys are out in front, and the Fire Boys and South Plains are tied for second place.

The way to tell the difference between an automobile and a family car is to look in the back seat.

In an automobile, this section is reserved for — and kept in condition to receive — passengers. In a family car it can, in emergency, be used for one or more of the following objects: a station wagon seems to be the only answer for getting enough seats — next-to-the-window. Not long ago we followed one of these half-fish, half-fowl objects for several blocks. Lined up in a solemn row behind Mama at the wheel ere to staidstep youngsters, one on the jump seat, one on the back seat, each with eyes-left watching traffic. To the right were a large box of groceries and a lawn mower.

We used to think that a station wagon, for town use, was an affection. But no longer. It's about time someone did something to relieve the abused and overburdened family car!

Coke Party Scene of Get-Together For Old Friends

Mrs. Bill Norman honored her daughter, Mrs. F. M. Kinnier of Greenville, North Carolina, and her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Weims Norman, at her home in Coke party, Friday afternoon with a coke party.

Present for the afternoon were Misses Roberta Garrett, Doris and Francis Foster, Claudine Goen, Laverne Fowler and Wanda Kimbrough, and Mesdames Garvin Beedy, Dan Hagood, David Battey, Rex Smitherman, W. T. Conner, Bill Shurbet, Loy Lee Trice, Kenneth Poole, Travis Jones, Dale Goen, of Fairbanks, Alaska, and Quinn Martin of Matador.

Mrs. Kennier will leave August 20 with her husband, Major Kinnier for Florida where they will make their home for a few months, before the major is transferred to Newfoundland.

It's Every Day for Chicken on Table

A casserole of chicken and broccoli.

Chicken is as American as baseball or apple pie with cheese. And, "chicken on Sunday" was traditional with our forbears. Now, however, chicken has a place in daily menu planning. Ann Clark, home service director, Admiral Corporation, suggests two recipes to give that Sunday glamour to that everyday chicken meal:

CHICKEN AND BROCCOLI CASSEROLE

2 cups cooked chicken, diced coarsely
1 package frozen broccoli
1 can cream chicken soup
1 cup white wine
1 cup potato chips
1 teaspoon salt
1 small can mushrooms—optional

Butter casserole. Place a layer of broccoli in the bottom of casserole. Add a layer of chicken. Mix the wine with the can of chicken soup and pour over chicken and broccoli. Cover top with crumbled potato chips. Bake in 350° oven 15 minutes. Serves 6.

TRUE SOUTHERN FRIED CHICKEN

2½ pounds fryer—cutup—fresh or frozen
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon salt
½ cup flour
1 lb. fat for frying

If chicken is frozen, thaw completely before you start to fry it. Chicken should always be cooked well done and on medium heat. This is one secret to always have good chicken.

Combine salt, pepper and flour. Flour chicken well on all sides. Heat 1 pound fat (no less) in 10" skillet on medium heat. When fat is completely melted add pieces of chicken immediately. Cook without cover for about 15 minutes or until chicken is brown on one side. Turn and brown on the other side. Turn chicken only once. If you think you must have a lid (because of spattering) leave the lid ajar to allow the steam to escape. Chicken cooked this way has a crisp, crunchy outside and juicy inside. Total cooking time 25 to 30 minutes.

WHY PARENTS LEAVE

According to the director of the Association for Family and Child Guidance, parents should be allowed to stay at home, since "staying at home is the basic emotion and has pressed some place."

If a lass or a lad simply has to be bad, because of compulsions, let it not be at school. Where the little fellow would spoil the poor dinner.

Let it likewise not be where the neighbors can be broken.

Or at church where the Of the preacher can be the horrible words that are en.

If a child must rage at a certain age, with hostile emotions, let it's best that he roam and explode at home. Says the "expert" — who's probably right — Richard Armour: Let any of these signs: headache, sore throat, upset stomach, neck or back. The earlier a polio is diagnosed, the better the chances for recovery and lasting damage.

Great strides are being made toward the development of a vaccine but until it is finally developed, GG believes this opinion valid:

"A high level of sanitation and personal hygiene is the individual's best defense against polio."

Play Safe With Kids Rule For Season of Polio

AUSTIN, — Polio isn't running wild in Texas this summer as it did in '52, but it is still smart to play safe with the kids, State Health Officer George W. Cox will tell you.

There are several common sense items parents ought to keep in mind during the polio "season." Dr. Cox lists them like this:

Don't get panicky. Keep in mind that half of all polio victims recover completely, and 30 percent of the other half recover with only slight weakness. Only 14 percent have lasting paralysis.

Not a Cure For Polio

Realize that gamma globulin is not a cure for polio. There is no cure. GG is intended only as a temporary preventive against paralysis. At best it is effective only for 5 weeks, after which it has all been eliminated by the body.

Gamma globulin has been tested on more than 54,000 children and the results are now under study, but once the polio virus has reached the nerve cells, GG cannot alter the course of the disease.

You can find out whether or not your child is eligible to receive gamma globulin by asking the health officer in your county. He is familiar with the formula for GG distribution in effect in Texas.

Cleanliness and Rest

Meanwhile, don't isolate your youngsters when you hear of a case of polio in the community. There is no point in letting them contact strangers, but they ought to be allowed in their usual circle of friends.

Keep them clean and see that they rest in the afternoon. A nap is fine, but even playing quietly part of the day will help conserve their strength.

Last, but highly important, call your doctor at the first onset of

PEOPLES HOSPITAL

August 1st there was an annual meeting held in which there were seven directors elected, only two of the former directors remaining on the board. All these directors are thoroughly sold on the idea that the hospital is an absolute necessity, essential to the welfare of the community it serves.

Are you sold on the idea?

A survey showed that this community needs thirty-five beds, (Both hospitals do not have that many)

In the busy season the hospital is making a small profit (probably would make enough the year around to cover all expenses) but the cost of the building and equipment has not been paid by about $40,000. Some of this should be paid immediately.

There Are Still Many Pledges Unpaid in Part

If half of these were paid now it would put the plant in good shape. Will you do that?

This is a Community responsibility. Will you do your part?

Thousands of dollars are contributed annually to worthy organizations here and most of it leaves this community never to return. Will you sit idly by and let a must go unheeded at home.

The former board of directors have done a nice job with what they had to work with and we want to compliment them on their untiring effort.

We do not like to start begging for money but this thing is not any more our burden than YOURS.

Hold Up Phony Says Sheriff

MATADOR—Sheriff John Stotts is pretty apt to spot a phony. Last week (Monday night) a Lockney trucker reported to Sheriff Stotts that he had been held up and robber of $480 on the highway bridge south of Roaring Springs.

The man said he was enroute home from Ballinger where he had delivered a load of hay. He said he was stopped by a car on the bridge that blocked his passage. He told the sheriff two men were fighting and a woman companion asked him to aid her in stopping the fight.

He said the woman then drew a gun and was joined by the men who took his money. He gave a description of the holdup car as a red Mercury about 1953 model.

Sheriff Stotts told a Tribune reporter about the incident last week but added, "I don't believe the man was held up. He told too many different stories." As a routine procedure, however, the sheriff sent out a description of the automobile to the State Highway Patrol. Late Sunday he received a call that the car had been spotted in Ballinger.

Sequel To Story

Sheriff Stotts was in Ballinger early Monday morning and he was not in a happy frame of mind. The man who had reported the holdup was in the red Mercury with the woman and two men he had accused of robbing him.

Finally on threat of being taken to Austin for a lie detector test, the man admitted he had not been held up but that he had lost $300 in a "crap" game and was afraid his banker would not grant him another loan, so he invented the holdup story.

Sheriff Stotts said the man was released since he had only lied in an effort to conceal the money loss.

County Census of Scholastics Is Completed

Scholastic figures for Floyd county, released this week by County Superintendent Clarence A. Guffee, show a total of 2,459 persons in school ages.

The figures made allow for all known errors in census taking and enumerating, it was said at the superintendent's office.

After transfers Floydada district is given 1,257 scholastics, Lockney district 949 scholastics, South Plains 51, Sand Hill 50, Lakeview 44, Lone Star 36, Dougherty 41, and Providence 31.

One hundred forty-nine transfers were given approval by the county board. Of these 38 were into Floydada, 51 into Lockney, from other districts.

North ward school in Floydada will have 145 pupils in school if there is 100 per cent attendance of Negro boys and girls. There are 1,112 white students listed in the district.

The enumeration in this county does not include the Edgin area attached to Quitaque for school purposes, the Allmon area attached to Petersburg, nor an area on the county line west of Lockney that is attached to Plainview.

The superintendent's records disclose that one pupil was transferred from a Floyd county district to Crosbyton, three to Petersburg, one to Plainview, two to McAdoo, and one to Quitaque.

Highway Mishap Sunday Fatal To Lone Star Oil Man

Last rites for Albert Lee Harrison, 42, of Lockney, were held Tuesday afternoon in the First Baptist church in Lockney, with Rev. Goree Applewhite of Cedar Hill and Rev. F. P. Graham of Lone Star, officiating. Interment was in the Lockney cemetery under the direction of the Carter Funeral home.

Mr. Harrison, who operated a filling station on the Consumers Fuel association at Lone Star, was killed Sunday morning about 10:45 o'clock when his automobile in which he was driving alone, overturned three miles east of Lockney.

State Highway Patrolman Thurman Keffler of Plainview said witnesses told officers Harrison lost control of his car as he was negotiating a curve. The car went to the left hand side of the pavement and Harrison swerved to avoid a collision with a car driven by Ben McGee of Lockney.

McGee stopped his car and went to Harrison. McGee said the man was still breathing when he reached him but died in a few minutes. The Harrison car crossed a bar ditch on the right side of the highway and overturned several times in a cotton field. Keffler said, Harrison's body being tossed 15 yards beyond the wreckage of the car.

Mr. Harrison was born in Leon county and had been a resident of Lockney since 1939. He was a member of the Baptist church there.

He is survived by his wife and four step-children, eight brothers and three sisters, Mrs. W. R. Smith, Jr., of Lockney being one of the sisters.

have been assigned to all farms on which wheat was produced in any of the years 1951, 1952 or 1953 and to eligible new farms.

Finally, the state chairman says, quotas will establish the amount of wheat farmers can dispose of through cash markets or government loan or purchase agreement programs. This is the portion of the wheat controls on which producers will vote on August 14. Detailed information on the wheat program is available at county PMA offices and McCan encourages all wheat producers to get the facts and then vote.

Heavy Increase Farm Mortgage Loans in Texas

Jake B. Watson, secretary-treasurer of the Floydada National Farm Loan association, has recently received a communication from Sterling C. Evans, president of the Federal Land Bank of Houston, concerning the drastic increase in demand for long-term farm mortgage loans in Texas.

Mr. Evans stated that a greater volume of loans has been closed during the first six and one-half months of 1953 than was closed in any year for twenty-nine of the bank's thirty-six year history. He believes one of the controlling reasons for this increase is the desire of farmers and ranchers to consolidate their short-term debts on a long-term basis. He also felt that the fact loans are still being closed at a 4% interest rate, regardless of the rather sharp increase in the cost of money is having some effect.

The bank now holds about 25% of all the farm mortgage debt in the state. Mr. Evans further stated that the land bank is now closing about 35% of the total number of loans being made in Texas.

The Floydada National Farm Loan association is one of the 141 associations located throughout the state of Texas that are sole owners of the Federal Land Bank. These associations in turn are owned by local farmers and ranchers.

Messrs. Raymond Rucker, O. M. Watson, Edell DuBois, Bill McNeill, and Menard Field are directors of the local association.

Preparations Speeded for X-Ray Mobile Unit

Plans for the Texas State Health Department's mass chest X-ray survey in Floyd county were progressing this week with the appointment of committees and workers for the four-day stay of the mobile X-ray unit. The survey is set for August 19 and 20 in Lockney.

The Floydada Chamber of Commerce will sponsor the survey in Floydada and the Business and Professional Women are making arrangements for the X-ray unit in Lockney. Twenty five workers have been contacted to aid the X-ray technicians when they set up their mobile unit in Floydada at the Chamber of Commerce office.

In their fight to beat Tuberculosis, Floyd county doctors urge every citizen who is fifteen years old and older to take advantage of this free health service. Only a few minutes is required to fill out the information card and step before the X-ray machine. If there is a positive report from the X-ray the individual is notified that he should see his personal physician. All information from the survey is confidential.

The State health department says that probably a half million people in the United States have Tuberculosis of the Lungs. One of the ways to make sure you are not one of them is to have a chest X-ray. The citizens of Floyd county will be given this opportunity on August 15, 17, 19 and 20.

Messrs. Raymond Rucker, O. M. Watson, Edell DuBois, Bill McNeill, and Menard Field are directors of the local association.

Worship at Denton Church Organized Ninety-Nine Years

Flower Mound is a community church in Denton county that has been in existence for 99 years.

On the first Sunday in August of each year a home-coming is held at the church and all members, old and new gather to renew their friendship and worship at the old church.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Robertson, at one time were members of this historic church. Last Friday, accompanied by their son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Robertson, and Mrs. Maude Shurbet, they left Floydada for Denton county to attend the homecoming on Sunday, August 2. The party returned home Monday.

In August, 1954, the church will celebrate its 100th anniversary and the Robertsons hope to attend that meeting.

The little church is named for a mound of flowers on which it was built. Years ago it was a berry of beautiful flowers, but the years and time have taken their toll, and the flowers are not as numerous as formerly. This is a Presbyterian church. It holds many memories for all who attended it in years gone by.

In Denton, the Robertsons visited a son and brother, P. P. Robertson and family, and they also visited with Mrs. Sallie McMurry, mother of Mrs. C. L. Minor, who has been ill for many months. Mrs. McMurry is confined to her room in the Denton hospital but seemed better and was happy to see her friends from Floydada.

Mrs. Shurbet visited her sister while in Denton county.

COLEMAN FAMILY MOVE HERE

Mr. and Mrs. Henry I. Martin and baby have arrived in Floydada from Coleman to make their home. Mr. Martin is the new PMA secretary. He started his work here last week. The Martins are at home at 229 East Tennessee street.

The blue haze softened the colors as a veil softens the red of a pretty woman's cheeks. We were awed and amazed at the magnificence of the view in every direction. More striking and beautiful than the Painted Desert. Deep canyons, red rocks, curves and steep places on a dirt road. Washes even to the very edge of the road, thrills at every turn. Why travel a thousand or so miles when such glory of landscape is only a few hundred miles away?

But as we are only out for a day's vacation we must hurry on. The country changes as we go further east and north. White sand and tree-covered draws, smaller cotton patches, peach orchards, Wellington, then to our destination, the eighteen acre peach orchard of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Bearden. We were welcomed as old friends, altho it was our first meeting. Mrs. Bearden, seeing how hot and thirsty we were, went into the house and brought out a pitcher of ice water and how good it was!

Could we get a few peaches? Well there would be a truck in a few days for some three hundred bushels and there must be plenty to fill this order for it was the big trucks that are needed to haul away the big crop of fine peaches. We got in a jeep for the white sand was deep, hung our feet out like we use to in the wagons and hacks. Trees were like we see in the catalogs, not a dead limb or ugly shaped tree to mar the rows of green trees loaded with peaches from dark green, through pink stages to ones red as we saw the canyon walls we had just left. What fun to pull the red beauties, how good the red ripe ones tasted. And how we visited with the owners as the basket was filled! It seemed that we had known them for years. They were our friends.

Under trees here and there we saw long lengths of garden hose, some 1000 ft. in all, with which the sub-irrigated land was helped out with more water. We saw the red-headed woodpeckers with the nest in a hole of the giant cottonwood, red birds and orioles tasted the peaches, and why not? They were worth tasting.

Sand Hill News

(by Mrs. James Jeffress)

SAND HILL, July 4 — Miss Billie Gail Holmes has been visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Glenn this week in Plainview.

W.M.U. Meeting
The W.M.U. of the Sand Hill Baptist church met Wednesday afternoon at the school house. An interesting program was given on "Leprosy." Those attending were Mesdames M. B. Swanner, Dave Chamblin, J. R. Turner, James Jeffress, Eli Horton, J. M. Williams, and Mrs. Herman Cates. Rev. Dave Chamblin was also present. Refreshments of cookies and punch were served by Mrs. J. R. Turner.

The next meeting will be Thursday afternoon, August 6, at 2:30 o'clock for bible study. The W.M.U. go back some day. As we turned down the paved road, some seven cottonwoods, tall and dignified as if they were proud to stand guard for the orchard, waved us away their leaves softly whispering, "come back."

The drive to Childress and on to Paducah, the blue streaks in the hills of red. Past farm homes where the electric lights were burning, thanks to the wise planning of men. We passed an old house, two story high, unpainted, not lived in, unwanted. We saw its staring eyes, black with disdain and with envy as it looked across the road at a modern house of rock. Age had not left the old home with dignity and peace as sometimes it does, and the old house still haunts us. Matador and the caprock again. How cool and pleasant was the breeze on our plains home country. Sheets of water shone like mirrors in the moonlight as it had rained the night before. Floydada again with its bright lights glowing with welcome in the dark of the night. Come, with its many friends, then Rails and home.

Only ourselves and the peaches to unload, not a suitcase to unpack, no bedding to put away, no big bills to be paid. Five hundred miles, the car registered, every mile of interest and sights that astounded us with delight, all within a day's drive of home.

There have been other things of interest but if I put them all in, the editor would not have room, so with this thought to Mr. and Mrs. Bearden I will leave you: The peace of great churches be for you, the peace of great books be for you. Bless you and yours.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

Currently we note that Dalhart, in a hassle with their telephone company, has hired some specialists, including a lawyer, an accountant and a firm of consulting engineers to help them in their attempt to forestall an increase in rates at that exchange. Acknowledging a serious lack in the knowledge of how to carry on such an affair, the same time we cannot but feel that for Floydada to follow this example in their current effort to forestall an increase in phone rates at this point would be a waste of money the municipality needs for other things. A good little man is not as good as a good big man, may express what we are thinking. The thing Dalhart is doing only lays ground for a long-drawn out contest that calls for more and more money to do more and more things that get further and further away from the root of the matter, which is that for most people the increase represents more money than they think they ought to pay for the service rendered. In Floydada the worst that could come from present controversy would be a $9,000 a year bill divided among about 1,000 customers. Lawyers and accountants and consultant engineers could easily run up a bigger bill than that annually. Best approach to take in our talk with Southwestern is simply that "you live here, too; you got yourself into a mess trying out a new scheme that looked good on paper. Why not take it like any of the rest of us take our mistakes?" If this argument does not work, maybe time will solve the problem. And if time does not, then certainly not lawyers, accountants, engineers. If the mayor and the council and the rest of us can't out-talk them we certainly can't out-law and can't out-figure the telephone company.

They tell us with a straight face that out of state tourists brought more money into Texas last year than the whole Texas cotton crop. Since we don't necessarily have to lose either it is pointless to argue whether or not the statement is true. The statement does point up the great value of the tourist trade is to the people of the state. Since so many of us make our living from the station pump and the things that go with serving the motorists' needs consideration of this important industry—to every community—is highly desirable. The Texas highway department, it is said, reporting on a survey of out of state tourists on what they thought about Texas, indicated they are pleased with everything about the state—roads, roadside parks, scenery—everything except they didn't like Texans. That makes something for the filling station man, the restaurant keeper and the motel manager to think about—to find out what it is the traveler doesn't like about them and remedy it.

DRAFT RULES AND REGULATIONS

(Eighth in a series of 10 on the draft law and its rules and regulations.)

Every man registered with a draft board, after his classification is determined by the board, must have an opportunity to appear in person before the member or members of the board designated for the purpose, provided he files a written request within 10 days after the board has mailed him a notice of classification.

Brig. Gen Paul L. Wakefield, state draft director, points to an exception. The registered man cannot request a personal appearance after a classification which is the result of a personal appearance.

No person other than the registered man shall have the RIGHT to appear in person before the local board. But the local board, in its discretion, may permit any person to appear before it with or on behalf of a registrant, except that no registrant may be represented before the board by anyone acting as attorney or legal council.

The registrant may bring an interpreter with him if he does not speak English adequately.

When he appears, the registrant may discuss his classification, direct attention to other classes in which he thinks he should be placed, point out information in his file which he believes has been overlooked or which he believes has not received serious enough consideration, or any other information.

Such information must either be in writing, or oral and summarized in writing. In either case, the information is placed in the man's file.

Regulations provide that the local board, or member or members hearing the case may impose such limitations upon the time which the registrant may have for his appearance as they deem necessary.

After a registrant is heard, the local board may determine to reopen the case or not reopen it, being guided by information received in the appearance. The registrant must be advised by notice of classification in either case.

Storage, on and off the farm is an aid to orderly marketing and farmers should plan and construct storage facilities if needed. Plenty of storage facilities on the farm also permit the holding of reserve feed grain and forage for drouth periods or other times when supplemental feeding of farm and ranch livestock becomes necessary.

What everyone suspects being a new television tower at the co-op office is just an aerial for the two-way radio system that is being moved in from KPLD and put on a tower at the back of the co-op building. It is hoped this present installation will improve the service. We surely are missing the two-way radios while the change is being made.

'Millions' In Souvenirs of Post-War Days

Anybody in Floydada or Floyd county worth a "million," this last week? You might be a "millionaire," if you have a few old German War bonds lying around the house in an old trunk or a old shoe box, say the stories going the rounds.

Jimmy Edwards, a Crosbyton butcher, discovered last week that he might be a millionaire and didn't know it. German bonds, mostly World War I souvenirs, might be worth something, after all. Edwards has some of them.

Last week, the announcement came that the defaulted bonds may be worth solid cash by the end of the year. Mr. Edwards hunted up his bonds and is holding on to them. The officials say on September 1, a new German-American "validation board for German bonds, will start examining and verifying the ownership of long-dormant securities.

As soon afterwards as enough valid bonds and rightful owners have been identified to establish a market value and permit orderly buying and selling trading in the 90-year-old German issues, will resume. Old paper having a face value of perhaps $300 million is believed to be held by some 100,000 Americans.

During the post-war German currency inflation period, German currency and securities were sold by the shoe-box full in the United States. Many Floydada people bought. Brief inquiries around this week did not bring to light any present-day "millionaire" holders in Floydada.

DICK SMITH, MANAGER

Self-Employed and 65? Check Up On Benefits

There are many self-employed persons between the ages of 65 and 75 who should file an application for social security benefits immediately because net earnings for 1953 have dropped far below their earnings for 1951 and 1952, according to John G. Hutton, manager of the Lubbock social security office. Even though these people are continuing to operate their businesses and will make over $1800 in self-employment in 1953, it is still important that an application be filed to establish a retirement benefit based on high net earnings in 1951 and 1952.

It is possible for a self-employed person between these ages to net $900 annually and still receive his monthly social security benefit check. In the cases of those clearing over $900, but not more than $1725 annually, there is still a possibility of one or more monthly payments for the year. Mr. Hutton urged that persons in this group contact the social security office to discuss their individual cases.

All persons who are past 75 should file an application whether they are working for wages or are self-employed since these people may draw their social security no matter what their earnings from wages or self-employment income.

Mrs. Juanita Short, field representative of the Lubbock Social Security office will be at the Post office in Floydada at 9:00 a.m. on August 12 to assist in all matters pertaining to social security. Self-employed individuals should bring their copies of their 1951 and 1952 self-employment tax returns when discussing their cases so that more accurate information can be furnished in each individual case.

STUBBLE MULCHING

A moisture penetration check was made in the vicinity of Blanco community on two pieces of wheat land following the recent rains. They were both on about the same slope. One piece of land had a fair cover of wheat stubble and the moisture penetration from about four inches of rain was only nine inches. The other piece of land had a good cover of stubble and had been chiseled before the rain. The moisture penetration was another three inches with enough free moisture in the first foot to penetrate another three inches making a total penetration of fifteen inches.

Considering that the soil would hold two inches of moisture available to plants per foot of depth, the fifteen inch penetration would have 2 1/2 inches of available water, where as the nine inch penetration would only leave 1 1/2 inches of water available for plant use.

The average annual rainfall for the Floyd county SCD is about 20 inches. The four inches above would normally be one-fifth of the total annual rainfall. From this information we can readily see that the farm that was not chiseled would retain only 7.5 inches effective rainfall, or about 37%. The chiseled farm would retain 12.5 inches of effective rainfall, or about 62 1/2%.

Assuming that each inch of water will produce one-half bushel of wheat, which is a conservative figure, the additional 5 inches of water on the chiseled farm would produce 2 1/2 bushels per acre more than the non-chiseled farm. Applying this figure to a 320 acre wheat farm, the increase of stubble mulching and chiseling over one-way or no land preparation, would be 800 bushels. And 800 bushels times $2.00 per bushel equals $1600.00. Does it pay to chisel?

Stubble mulching increases production by increased water intake, and by covering the soil and protects it from high winds, shading the ground and reduces evaporation, breaking the fall of the raindrop, thus preventing soil from being splashed into suspension and carried off by any run-off water. The organic matter on the surface helps prevent crusting and makes it easier to obtain a good stand on planting.

All of these things put together mean an increased income plus good protection to your soil which should maintain a highly productive soil for an indefinite period.

INSECT DAMAGE RESEARCH
The Texas Department of Agriculture
Timber losses caused by insects surpass those due to fire in many parts of Texas. Some years, our national loss from the cotton boll weevil exceeds 500 million dollars. Other insects that have caused losses exceeding 100 million dollars in a single year include grasshoppers, cattle grubbers, corn earworms, greenbugs, bollworms and European corn borers.
In the past 10 years, more than a score of new organic-type insecticides have been tested and marketed. There are hundreds more awaiting further study. Results, thus far, of entomological research have been a big factor in increasing crop yields, yet the above losses demonstrate the need to discover ever better control procedures.
Results of research, when applied on farm, ranch, forest, and in the home, will prevent waste and suffering by controlling more than 600 major destructive insects as well as the pests that transmit diseases of plants, livestock and men.
We need research—and plenty of it.
Robert Koch isolated the bacillus which causes tuberculosis.
