Polio Appeal Gets More Than $5,000, County Report Discloses

The March of Dimes campaign in Floyd county, raising the heaviest quota ever assigned in a polio drive, has been successfully completed, and there is more to come. Yesterday at noon Jimmy Wil- son, county campaign manager for the infantile paralysis fund, had reports showing $5,230.43 already in the bank. There still was to report the counter collections in the plas- tic containers in Floydada business establishments, due to be collected late yesterday. Also, at least two events yet to take place are due to

Conference On Industry Need Held at Abilene

Believe Polio Is Whipped

Floyd county people appeared to be buoyed up by the belief that the national foundation now has licked polio. If this year's research and experi- ments prove successful the public is being told that polio foundation authorities believe that a way to combat infantile paralysis has been found.

Beginning at 9 o'clock a. m. the conference continued throughout the day until 5 p. m. Transportation problems, includ- ing facilities and rate adjustments; what the location-seeker looks for in selecting a town for his factory; the first things to do in developing a sound and realistic program for industrial development; an appraisal of the region's assets and liabilities; the human resources, includ- ing labor market; how to prepare and present general and specific surveys; financing and organizing; all came in for discussion.

New Rules, Regulations of High Plains Water District Issued

(by Jim Compton)
New rules and regulations govern- ing the waste of underground water, drilling and spacing of new wells, and reworking or replacing of old wells, have been formulated by the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District Board of Directors.

Several amendments to the rules were made necessary this year, said District Manager Tom McFarland. Also, he said, clarification has been needed in parts of the old constitu- tion and by-laws.

The new rules and regulations be- come effective Sunday, February 7. One of the most important changes in the rules concerns water waste, McFarland said. In the past, because of lenient rules, much water has been wasted. Not de- liberately, but unconsciously, he hastened to add. The new rules and regulations definitely define the term waste as applied to under- ground water, and provisions have been added for its prevention.

RESIGNATION OF AL FUCHS IS PROBABLE

The probability that municipal utilities manager Al R. Fuchs will retire from his post with the city this spring to enter private business was indicated yesterday by Mayor J. A. Patterson.

The highly successful utilities manager has told the council that he is likely to take this step and has suggested that the council be on the look-out for a successor. There is nothing official about the matter as yet and the council does not have the resignation of Mr. Fuchs in hand. It may be several weeks before there are further developments in the matter. "The situation is good at the present and the council is not likely to be in a hurry to choose a successor," the mayor pre- dicted. "The city even has in mind what Mr. Fuchs might change his mind, in which case we wouldn't want to have any negotiations going on."

The mayor said Mr. Fuchs had mentioned the matter to the council for the sole purpose of keeping the council apprised of his plans, and in position to meet the prob- lem of choosing a successor in case the change developed as planned.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

We Have Noted that high plains people realize the communists are clever and that handling of foreign affairs is difficult at best. The communists are clever and determined, as Senator Monroney said in his speech Saturday night in Lubbock. The struggle is to hold back the threat of slavery which has engulfed people of many nations that cover the face of the globe. Perhaps this fact is better understood by our inland people than it is by those who live closer to Communism and see its stark implications at their doors. The people of our area vote 'em in and vote 'em out but after the election is over it is our country and our government.

Hate is Dominant in so many parts of the world. Religious hate, racial hate, hate born of wars and conquests. How to meet the threat of it. What a great world this would be if hate could be turned into amity and greed into a policy of do as you would be done by. Some how there must be a way that the seeds sown by the Man who trod the shores of a hating and strife-torn nation will begin to bear fruit more abundantly. Progress has been slow. But hope continues to run high, despite the lack of tangible results. Surely some day the wall of hate will begin to crumble.

Evidently the Congress finds something wrong with the often-advanced idea that all incomes below $1,000 should be exempt from taxation. The present law is $600. The change to $1,000 minimum would eliminate the handling of several million reports by the internal revenue collectors and their deputies. On many of these low incomes a refund must be made. The actual net income to the federal treasury is negligible, we are told, while the cost of processing each of them is high. On top of this, of course comes the unanswerable argument that an income that small should not be taxed in the first place.

Farming Methods have come in for a lot of study on irrigation farms. Many of the musts and mustn'ts of dry land farming won't do on irrigated land, the operators have found out. Attitude toward deep plowing, for instance, the use of the one-way plow. Also the return of humus to the soil, looked upon as desirable on dry land, is seen as imperative on the irrigated piece of ground. In connection with the return of humus to the soil, the gins and the farmers in some sections have worked out a plan to make a giant compost heap of the burrs, dirt and the moats that come from the gin during the season. Later this compost goes back on the cotton land by the use of big trucks and spreaders. This process is going on now. The farm operators think the practice will pay dividends in soil improvement as well as in higher productivity.

We'd Much Rather not read so many statements from the big men on the American business scene and in government circles, statements about the fine way things are going to go. It reminds us too much of the "two cars in every garage" talk that immediately preceded the debacle of late 1929. Not that we do not think the country has been bulwarked against some of the things that happened in 1929, but that we fear the big men are whistling to keep up their courage in much the same manner they did in that far-away day when everything went to pot. If the men high in business and government do not quit talking good times so much, they're going to have the man on the street scared. Good times talk, to be true, must come from the little people. They're the ones who know whether things are good or bad. Big business can do good for a good while after little business has been operating in the red.

Weather not right. The weather man is not running his business on the same pattern as he did after the drouths of World War I years and after, nor like in the nineties, nor like in the eighties. According to this pattern this wintry month ought to be whipping up the elements. In fact, December should have been a booger instead of a lamby sort of month. Maybe it will be February and March of 1954 like it was one year when snows and sleet hid the ground in early February and cattlemen did not have a dry lot until nearly April. It was a tough six weeks but the crops the ensuing season were great. Dry land farmers are sure ready for something like that.

Opportunity doesn't knock so often but temptation seems to pound away every day.—Anon.

Money, however, is the jack of all trades.

If all our misfortunes were laid in one common heap and each divided to take an equal portion most folks would be contented to take just their own and depart.—Exchange

A day would be considerably improved if it started as some time other than the morning.—Gilecrafter.

Small Per Cent of Autos Have Inspection Tags

Captain E. L. Posey, commanding officer of District 6 of the Texas Highway Patrol, with headquarters at Lubbock, has announced that highway patrolmen would begin issuing tickets to persons who operate an auto on the streets and highways after April 15 without a current inspection sticker.

The patrol captain said that the men in his command have all received orders to the effect as the result of a directive issued at Austin by Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety. Posey said that Garrison's order was made following definite instructions from the State Public Safety Commission that enforcement of the modified motor vehicle inspection law which was enacted by the last legislature would definitely begin following the April 15 inspection deadline.

Captain Posey also pointed out that local and county police officers are empowered to enforce the inspection law. According to the patrol commander, only about 26 per cent of the cars in Floyd county have been inspected to date. This means, he said, that car owners who have not yet had their vehicles checked will run the risk of being caught in a last minute "log jam" at the inspection stations if they delay longer in complying with the law. "Our patrolmen will continue to issue warnings to motorists whose cars do not bear a current inspection sticker through April 15," Captain Posey said in a prepared statement for the press and radio. "After that date, offenders will face court action."

"I start where the last man left off"

—Thomas A. Edison

Edison, to explain his incessant and tireless reading of scientific journals, technical papers, patents and books, said that he read to avoid useless repetition of old experiments. "I start where the last man left off."

What Edison knew, and perhaps said in an unquoted moment, is that thousands of men would be needed to "start where he left off."

"Just wait a little while," prophesied Edison, "and we'll make electric light so cheap that only the wealthy can afford to burn candles." Edison lived to see lamps that gave four times as much light and cost one-fifth as much to buy. And electric lighting has progressed far beyond that.

He recognized that an invention does not end a search. It begins a search.

The lamp was a beginning in forcing not only its own evolution but the evolution of meters, fuses, sockets, wiring, power distribution systems, transformers and generating stations.

He lived to see the company that was formed to carry on development of electric light and power evolve into one of the world's most important industrial research centers. Today General Electric laboratories employ several thousand men and women who are seeking new things on widely different fronts.

It is seventy-five years since Edison lit the first successful carbon lamp. He will be remembered for inventions that changed the world. But let him be remembered, too, for inspiring so many men to start where he left off.

You can put your confidence in—

Williams-Samples Weds Exchanged in Church Ceremony

A candle light service at the Methodist church Tuesday evening, January 26, the marriage of Miss Mona Williams and Ted Samples was repeated. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Williams of Amarillo and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Samples of Dallas City, Missouri, formerly of the city of St. Louis.

Friend Elden B. Armstrong, officiated in the double ceremony, at 8 o'clock.

William Finkner of Petersburg, officiant of the bride, rendered the traditional organ numbers and the traditional wedding songs. She also accompanied Finkner, cousin of the bride, who sang, "Through the Years" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Flowers were said before an altar of white mums and lace fern, by floor baskets of white flowers. Cathedral candelabra holding lighted white candles stood on either side of the arch.

Guests at the wedding were Mrs. Samples, of Lubbock, brother of the bridegroom, and Jimmy Williams, Amarillo, a brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

Rev. Gene Carthel served as best man.

Misses Sherry Ramsey, a cousin of the bride, and Joan Huckabay, lighted the candles. They wore formal in the chosen colors of blue and white.

Sister Is Maid of Honor
Miss Carolyn Williams, sister of the bride, as maid of honor wore a light blue taffeta, ballerina length dress, sweetheart neckline and cap sleeves with matching Juliet cap. She wore a wrist corsage of white rose buds.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Gene Carthel, Lockney, and Miss Marceleta Green, Floydada, wore gowns made identical as the maid of honor in taffeta of a darker shade of blue. Each wore a wrist corsage of rose buds and Juliet caps.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin, chapel length dress made with sweetheart neckline, with long sleeves, ending in points at the wrists. The bodice, pointed at the waist, had small covered buttons down front and on sleeves. The chapel length veil of illusion fell from a white satin scalloped headband. The bride wore white broadened pumps with her wedding gown. She carried a white bible topped with white rose corsage.

For something old the bride wore the wedding band of her grandmother, Mrs. M. D. Ramsey. Something new was the wedding attire which she borrowed, pearl earrings belonging to her mother. An Indian head penny, belonging to her father, with the year of her mother's birth, was worn by the bride in her shoe for luck.

Reception in church Parlor
Following the ceremony, a reception was held for the relatives of the bride and groom and close friends, in the church parlor. Miss Katie Hollums was at the bride's book.

The bride and groom, and their parents formed the receiving line. On the bride's table was a handmade lace cloth, a gift of the bride's grandmother, Mrs. L. A. Williams of Amarillo. The cloth was placed over a blue undercloth. Crystal appointments were used. Blue candles in crystal holders formed the centerpiece. A large white satin bow, made of the satin as the bridal gown, was arranged in front of the candles.

Miss Margaret Lovell was at the punch bowl and Miss Joan Huckabay served the beautiful three-tiered wedding cake. The confection was iced with white roses and topped with a miniature bridal couple.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore a two piece knit suit of turquoise with black accessories.

Graduate of Floydada High
The bride is a graduate of the Floydada high school, receiving her degree in January, 1954. She had been interested in all school activities, especially the Future Homemakers chapter. She had been a member of a 4-H club for a number of years. She was editor of the high school paper, The Whirl, during her senior year.

The bridegroom graduated from Lockney high school in 1952. He served 11 months during the Korean War, stationed in Guam with the U.S. navy.

Mr. and Mrs. Samples are now at their new home in Lubbock at 5805 Avenue H, where Mr. Samples is associated with the City of Lubbock Fire Department.

Guests registered from Amarillo, Kansas City, Missouri, Lubbock, Lockney, Petersburg and Floydada.

MONA WILLIAMS . . . daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Williams, became the bride of Ted Samples the evening of January 26.

Maybe girls shouldn't have been called girls in the first place. Such words as 'kitten,' for example, or 'purr' or 'mouse' draw suitable word pictures by their very sound. But not 'girl.' Even though we know it means 'maiden,' it still doesn't quite bring to mind a lovely young thing with creamy complexion, a lilting voice and natural grace. It rhymes with 'churl,' 'hurl,' 'unfurl.'

Then add to the poor start it gets from sound, think of the way we've tossed the poor word around. Women who grow older together keep on calling each other girls until they begin drawing old age pensions. Men, speaking lightly of the opposite sex, will say, 'but she's a lively old girl.' Even 'girlie,' once a quaint diminutive, now suggests a chorus cutie rather than a small, rosy-cheeked female child.

Worse still, today's girl, — even if she really is one — is likely to be referred to as 'gal.' If that word ever gets into a self-respecting dictionary, it will probably be defined as 'a young woman who is no longer a little girl.' But at the moment it is used of females of all ages. Anyone from high school age on through the venturesome 65-year-olds who are at present on safari in Africa may get pinned with this flippant title.

Even grown-up girls didn't get much of a break when the names were passed out, with such a label as, of all things, 'woe-man!' Who knows what we ladies may have been like if we had got off to a little better start with Mr. Webster.

Holloman-Donelson Wedding Vows Said In Slaton Ceremony

Miss LaQuita Joy Holloman, Santa Fe, N. M., and Ralph Wendle Donelson, Los Alamos, N. M., were united in marriage Saturday night in a candlelight ceremony at the First Methodist church of Slaton.

Mr. and Mrs. Welch L. Holloman, Slaton, are parents of the bride. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Donelson, Ft. Smith, Arkansas.

The Rev. R. L. Kirk, pastor of the First Methodist church in Midland, performed the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Webber Williams, organist, and Mrs. C. H. Casey, soloist, offered traditional wedding music.

The church was decorated with emerald foliage and white tapers. Father Is Escort

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original model of white imported Chantilly-type lace over net and satin. The portrait neckline was outlined with applique of lace embroidered with iridescent sequins, and the fitted bodice, with a high empire waistline, had long sleeves terminating in points over the hands. The fitted princessline skirt had a stiffened lower edge and voluminous folds that swept into a small chapel train. The bride's fingertip veil of silk illusion was attached to a bandeau embroidered with orange blossoms, iridescent sequins and pearls.

Bouquet of the bride was a shower arrangement of white iris on a white ribbon. She also carried a white handkerchief.

Is Honor Attendant
Mrs. Fred Cardinal, Floydada, cousin of the bride, matron of honor, wore a dress of purple velvet and nylon tulle over net and taffeta. The gown was fashioned with a strapless bodice topped by a veiled bolero. A card accented her waistline over an immense skirt of shirred tulle. She wore a velvet bandeau with a nose veil attached. Her bouquet was a shower arrangement of English ivy and yellow iris.

Bridesmaids were Misses Patsy and Edith Holloman, sisters of the bride. Their dresses and flowers were identical with those of the matron of honor.

Bert W. Donelson, Los Alamos.

attended his brother as best man. Ushers were Marilee Holloman, Fred Cardinal, Floydada; and Arthur Gamble and C. H. Casey, Lubbock.

Reception Is Held
Following the wedding, a reception was held at the Slaton Clubhouse. The table was centered with a tiered wedding cake, surrounded by English ivy and yellow iris.

After February 9, the couple will be at home at 712 Iris, Apt. 23, Los Alamos.

The bride wore a suit of navy faille, with pink and navy accessories, on the wedding trip.

She attended Texas Tech University of Texas, and was a graduate in 1951 of the School of Pharmacy of the University of New Mexico. She has been employed as a pharmacist in Santa Fe.

The bridegroom is an engineer with the Zia Co., Los Alamos.

Rehearsal breakfast for the wedding party was given Saturday morning in the Slaton Clubhouse. Hosts were Mrs. G. R. May, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cardinal.

Pre-nuptial entertainment for the bride was climaxed with a personal shower Thursday in the home of Mrs. Roland McCormick, 2703-C 45th Street.

From John Nay's Department
Dear Sirs:
Do you mean that big square green box thing on the wall in the cellar with five watch dials on it and pipes coming out? If you do, I think it's broken because none of the hands is moving. The dial that says one half foot and the one that says two feet have no numbers on them at all. I don't see why, but I'm not going any closer to the contraption, on account of electric shock. The three other dials say 100 thousand, 10 thousand, and 1 thousand, but that seems way too high for a little place like we got here.

I turned on the hall light and went back down cellar, but still nothing was moving. I found another box over behind where I hang the wash up to dry on rainy days, so I better tell you about it. This thing has four dials, they look like clocks, excepting the numbers go only up to nine — and it don't tick. Two of them go from zero, one, two, on around to nine; and two go zero, nine, eight, around to one; maybe the last two were put on backwards. None of the hands is moving and I figure its either run down or broke. Something in there is humming, but I can't help that.

The squarest thing I know to do is to tell you folks how much lights we've been using since your man stopped coming around. Well, there's the small light in the front hall. Then we have three in the living room, but most of the time only one of them is burning unless we've got company. Then there's the one in the kitchen I cook by, and one in the dining room. I figure these two are lit only about an hour or two each evening, and the evening we went to Burleyville they weren't lit at all, only the small one in the hall, to see by when we got home late. The upstairs lights are on only for a jiffy while we're going to bed. Can't amount to much.

You might like to figure in an iron I run for a couple of hours on Tuesdays. There's only two of us, and the wash isn't what you'd call heavy. Fred has a brooder and some machinery out in the barn and I noticed a lot of wires running around there, but I expect it has something to do with the telephone. We scarcely ever use the radio, but now and then Fred turns on the Farm Bureau for a little bit.

I figure with daylight saving and all, we might owe you folks around a dollar. If this isn't satisfactory, you better send your man around the way you used to.

Yours truly,
Mrs. Sarah N. Pruke
(per Jack Cluett)

Wife of County's First Publisher Dies in Ft. Worth

Mrs. R. E. L. McLain, 85, of Fort Worth, wife of the first publisher of a newspaper in Floyd county, died last week in January at her home in the north Texas city. Funeral rites were said in Fort Worth on January 29.

Mrs. McLain was a resident of the aspiring community of Della Plain from 1887 until the latter part of 1894. Her husband was publisher of the Della Plain Review, Floyd county's first newspaper venture.

She leaves her husband, now nearly 90, four daughters and several grandchildren. She and Mr. McLain had been married 68 years.

A relapse in January following pneumonia during the holidays was the cause of Mrs. McLain's death.

Another death in the same family occurred four days before Mrs. McLain's passing. The husband of her Floyd county native daughter, Edith, Joseph L. Lindquist, of Clarksville, Arkansas, died suddenly on January 24.

Mrs. McLain's surviving husband was an own cousin of the late J. S. McLain. Two of J. S. McLain's daughters were among those present at the rites of the Fort Worth relative. They were Mrs. Montez Wiggins of Arlington and Miss Winnie McLain of Dallas.

Two Hale County Youths Held On Lockney Burglary Charges

Burglaries Friday night at the Whitey Baccus garage and the Hammonds & Company machinery house in Lockney were followed Saturday afternoon by the arrest of two young Plainview men in Dick-ens county on complaint of Floyd county officers charging them with the offenses.

At the Baccus office the safe was burst open with a sledge hammer and $65 taken, desks and filing equipment rifled and papers left scattered around.

At the Hammonds & Company office the knob was knocked from the safe with a heavy instrument, but nothing was taken. Escaping tear gas from the spoiled lock presumably drove the offenders out.

The two young men held on complaint are Donny Mauldin, 19, and Sidney Baker, 21, both of Plainview.

Their arrest was made by Sheriff Cooper and Deputy Sheriff Ray Hardin of Floyd county, and Deputy Sheriffs Cletis Dyer and John Shroshire of Hale county, with the assistance of city officers of Spur and the state highway patrol.

Arrested in and Near Spur

In the course of the arrests the officers also recovered a 1954 model automobile which had been stolen in Plainview. Young Baker was arrested as he drove the new model car toward Spur late Saturday. When he saw the officers he whipped the car off the main highway but pulled into a dead end lane, and was taken without difficulty. Sheriff Cooper and one of the Hale county deputies spied the car in the traffic about two miles from Spur on the Dickens road.

Mauldin was arrested while he sat talking with a young woman in a car at Spur.

After the formalities one of the boys was incarcerated in the Floyd county jail, the other at Plainview.

Tip Off on Speeding Charge

The burglary at the Baccus garage is indicated to have occurred before midnight Friday as there were no mud tracks in the office or vicinity. Mud had been tracked into the Hammonds place, indicating the attempt there had been made after a light shower blew over and deposited a layer of dampness about midnight.

Tip off that the Mauldin and Baker boys may have been the burglars was given by Olin Poteet, night officer at Lockney, who said he gave Mauldin a ticket for speeding about 3 o'clock Saturday morning. Poteet was driving down Locust street near the Jackson garage when he saw a car pull out from behind the Higginbotham-Bartlett Company yard and turn east. When he overtook the car, a 1950 model Ford, he talked with the young men and gave Mauldin the ticket. He reported the incident to the county officers the next morning.

When young Baker was arrested he had a grown man and two younger persons as passengers. One, the officer said, was his girl friend, the grown man her father.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Preception

By Annie Miller
Elisha's servants saw their foes. The armies sent to apprehend them; The prophet saw the hosts of God. There standing ready to defend them.

When shepherds heard God's angels sing. The sweet notes came distinctly clear. But none was heard in Herod's halls; No ear was attuned to hear.

God is not heard by deafened ears. But they who steadfastly believe And seek to find Him will at last. His imminence with joy perceive.

Well, hi, everyone, this misty Saturday morning the 30th day of January, 1954. Looking back it seems to me that the little town of Emma and the country roundabout was very quiet and peaceful. No long white envelopes with income tax reports went to the small postoffice, insurance bills were not paid by many.

Boiled down the main thoughts and plans of the man of the family were to get money for grub for his family, a load or two of coal from the railroad, a hundred miles and some two weeks of camping out and sleeping under the stars, unloaded in the back yard, mesquite wood from the breaks for rainy days when the cowchips were wet and sooty, a few clothes — not much money was needed but it was hard to get.

He might haul a load or so of freight for the merchant, he would sell a few calves, he even might get a job on a ranch and let his family tend to the watering of the few cattle.

As to the women they had all they could do in cooking the plain food they had in a way as to please their families. They washed their clothes on a wash board and hung them on the barbed wire fences to dry. They made all the clothing, including their husband's shirts and the red wool or thick cotton underwear.

They carefully saved every tiny bit of the scraps and made quilts, some of them for use and now and then they made one of exquisite beauty to hand down to proud granddaughters. They saved all meat scraps and made good lye soap. They made huge pots of hominy and dried sacks of corn and peaches for winter use.

Well I recall how sweet the attic room at grandfather Jones' smelled as I lay under the low shingled roof reading Aunt Mirt's latest Comfort magazine. Tempest and Sunshine, Her Only Sin, Em's Husband, how the titles come back to me. Many of the older folks spoke scornfully and piously against these paper back novels, and many of them were read in secret but I find some of the modern books commonly read everywhere, are so unwholesome they make these old time novels seem lily-white in comparison. Those writers of that day made their heroines pure as the driven snows, the heroes manly and handsome and true, the villains as black as the sooty underside of the iron dinner pot.

Now I started in to tell of the white flower sacks of dried peaches near my hand so I could reach in now and then and get one of them, hold it in my mouth to moisten its hard dryness, then chew it with relish as I read of the temptations of old time heroines.

Strange how one's mind rambles here and there like a dry leaf in a winter gale. I start in to tell of the peace and quiet as I saw it when a child and wind up with paper back novels. Well, don't you do the same when you start recollections?

Mrs. Ellis, Mr. Spikes and myself found Johnny Williams of KIDUB-TV very gracious and interesting in an interview he gave us on his Johnny On The Spot Program.

As for as we were concerned at the moment, all the people in the world were the ones in the studio, the boys who moved the cameras back and closer up, making funny faces at Johnny, the girl who was waiting to sing, the orchestra from O'Donnell who were also waiting their turn.

Of course we knew that our friends were watching, hoping we would be at our best. We knew friends would look over any mistakes, and we hoped the strangers would be lenient with such new-comers on television.

Thank you, very, very kindly, Mr. Williams for letting us tell a little of the early history of this wonderful high plains of Texas. We are sure you will get a better appreciation of its colorful history and advancement and get to loving it as next to your own dear home state.

Every day brings something to add to one's pleasure. Yesterday there were many, as oft times are, France Baker of Lubbock, once of Lockney, wrote us such a nice note of appreciation as old settlers. He wrote that his mother gets up early at her home in Lockney and turns the key in the door of her store that the Bakers opened up in the year of 1894. She stays the whole day long and she is 86 as years count, but far younger as you know in things of the spirit and love of living and working. This business, as far as France can learn is the oldest in Texas under the same management and ownership. All honor to you, dear Mrs. Baker, may the keys to your store open the door as we know — the key of a good life here on earth will open the door of Heaven. Thank you so much, Mr. Baker, for taking the time from your busy days to write Mr. Spikes and myself.

And thanks to you Mrs. Ida Terry for your sweet note.

Heard on the news: Some day in the near future snow will not have to be shoveled off walks. Colored dyes will be sprinkled on snow to melt it faster as white is longer in melting. Why have us go to the trouble of putting the dye on the snow. Why don't they — sprinkle the dye on the snow clouds? Not that I would like colored snow the better, but this is the day of labor-saving conveniences.

Ever add up the TAXES you pay with your TELEPHONE bill?

OUT OF YOUR TELEPHONE BILL last year was paid an average in Texas of $42.36 per telephone in taxes. Of this amount, almost half — $18.96 — was Federal excise or "luxury" tax. This tax we simply collected and turned over to the Federal government, at the rate of 15 per cent on your local service and long distance calls costing less than 25 cents, and 25 per cent on long distance calls costing 25 cents or more. If you subtract this tax from your bill, doesn't the actual cost of your telephone service look like an even better bargain than you thought it was? SOUTHWESTERN BELL... # coffee too high? try tea & save Don't misunderstand us. We like Folgers, Maryland Club, Maxwell House and the other famous brands. We like the folks who pack these fine coffees. But we've reached our limit. The price of coffee is too high. We just don't have the heart to encourage you to buy it. We firmly believe in the "tried and true" law of supply and demand — if there is less demand, the price comes down.

We assure you of this: we make no more money on coffee now than we did when it was 30 or 40 cents a pound cheaper. We sincerely hope, along with you, that the price of coffee soon returns to "normalcy." Until then — TRY TEA AND SAVE!

The New Improved Stormproof for 1954

TWELVE REASONS stated specifically why you should grow NORTHERN STAR COTTON

READ THEM!

1. An improved stormproof cotton that stays in the burr, with premium staple. Ideal for stripping.
2. Northern Star is one of the highest varieties in lint yield per acre of any cotton grown as shown by State Experiment Station and Farmer Variety tests over the U. S. Cotton Belt.
3. It is one of the quickest maturing varieties grown. In many places Northern Star is the Cotton Planted and the First Harvested. If any cotton makes a crop, Northern Star will.
4. All of our seed are the results of one pedigree high yielding line, which has consistently produced more lint per acre than many selections tested against it.
5. We supply you with seed which have been grown on good land, cultivated carefully, harvested mature, ginned on our own gins, cured properly, cleaned, tested, sacked, and stored according to the best methods known in the scientific seed breeding business to maintain quality plants. Every precaution is taken to insure perfect germination.
6. Due to the wide differences in planting practices we have provided for you either fuzzy, linted, or gas delinted Northern Star planting seed.
7. Northern Star Cotton plants have a strong main stem, deep root system, close jointed branches, light foliage and produce good bolls from 65 to 75 weighing one pound.
8. Northern Star Cotton makes a staple which measures from 1 inch to 1-1/16 inch under average fall conditions and longer where irrigation is practiced or humid conditions prevail. Its strength averages from 85,000 to 95,000 pounds per square inch of cellulose. Strong fibers are best for good spinning and weaving value.
9. Northern Star Cotton turns out from 38 per cent to 40 per cent at the gin when picked and 25 per cent to 30 per cent where pulled or snapped.
10. Northern Star Cotton is a very popular variety where hand picking or spindle type machines are used and has given outstanding results where stripping is practiced. There is a fluff to the fiber for the spindles to catch and remove the seed cotton clean from the burr. Hand snapping and stripping is in use the boll stalks break easily, making harvesting more easy.
11. Its hard staple cleans well in ginning, giving you a good grade.
12. All of our seed are grown under the supervision of the State Seed and Plant Board and Registered acreage is of all the same strain of elite seed.

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of The Hesperian, issue dated February 1, 1940)

Members of the Floyd County Council of the Home Demonstration clubs met Saturday afternoon for the purpose of installing new officers for the 1940 club year. Mrs. S. J. Latta had been re-elected chairman of the Council, with Mrs. A. H. Kreis as vice-chairman and Mrs. W. B. Jordan as secretary-treasurer.

Meeting in special session last week, the Floyd county Commissioners court called for bids for the construction of a new Agricultural building as an annex to the Floyd county court house and gave notice of intention to issue interest-bearing time warrants in the amount not to exceed $12,000 to cover cost of construction.

Misses Bert Ione Smith and Pauline McCarty were business visitors in Lubbock on Saturday.

Hal Reid Bethel, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Bethel of the Campbell community, and Miss Imogene Bedwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Bedwell of Quitaque, were married in Tulla on January 26.

Pleasant Hill club honored Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Evers, recent bride and groom with a shower in the Pleasant Hill school last Friday evening.

Mrs. R. F. Stovall, president of the 1929 Study club, presided when the club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Walter Wood at 622 West Missouri street.

Olin Watson, Jr., returned to his studies at Texas Tech, Tuesday after spending the vacation between semesters here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Olin Watson, Sr.

Mrs. Frank Williams of Haskell left for Matador after visiting her sister, Mrs. W. H. Hilton, for several weeks.

County Attorney John Stapleton has announced for re-election of his office and Milton (Buck) Sims announced for district clerk as did Roy A. Holmes.

Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Guthrie left last Friday for New York City, where they are spending the month of February. There Dr. Guthrie will take post-graduate work in the New York Polyclinic, Cornell Medical Center, Bellview hospital and Columbia Medical school. Dr. Guthrie is a member of the Floydada hospital staff.

Hesperian subscribers will get their money's worth this month. For the second time since the newspaper began publication nearly 47 years ago, there will be five Thursdays during the month of February. Once before, in 1912, there were 5 Thursdays during the year's shortest month. Prior to that time, the phenomenon had not occurred since 1872, when there were neither newspapers nor calendars in Floyd county and the buffaloes and Indians were not particularly interested. Unless leap year goes the way of Thanksgiving and gets into politics, there'll be another February with 5 Thursdays in 1968—but don't count on it. There may be another New Deal.

LIBRARY NEWS

(by Mrs. Roy Hollar)

Gift books have been brought in by Mrs. Maurice Campbell, Don Earl Davis, Mrs. Roy Meeks, Mrs. Sylvia Taylor, Mrs. John Hoffman, and Mrs. J. D. McBrien.

"The Dallas Morning News" reaches the library in the morning of each week day.

Mrs. M. B. Holmes, Route M, Lockney was eighty last Sunday. Among the honors done her was a book on pioneer life given to the Floyd County Library in appreciation of Mrs. Holmes by the Ed Holmes family.

Among the nice things that have happened to us recently was a letter from a young lady who had moved out of our county. From some distance she writes that she finds she has moved away a book which is now more than two months overdue. She asks the amount of the fine due and offers to return the book with the accumulated fine or to buy the book is that seems better. We were glad to tell her that fines never exceed the cost of the book and that we would be glad to have the book mailed back with the nominal fine.

When so many people literally "live on wheels" it is good to know of incidents where they keep touch in items like overdue books.

Memorial books given recently are: "The Edge of Time" by Loula Grace Erdman, given by Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Tye in memory of Mrs. Dora Reagan, and "The Silver Chalice," by Thomas Costain, in memory of Charles E. Neil given by Mrs. John Hoffman.

Mrs. Ivy Pearl Reber has resigned from the library staff to enter West Texas Teacher's College at Canyon. Dorothy Duncan took up full time scholastic work at high school at the beginning of this semester but still volunteers an afternoon a week at the library. Our appreciation and good wishes go with both these students.

Joan Huckabay, a 1953 graduate of Floydada high school is now working in the central library. Joan is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Huckabay of Sand Hill community.

Friends of libraries everywhere will be glad to know that Dallas public library is to have a new home. We hope to have a clipping to post showing the floor plan.

Story hour was well attended. The "Little Duck Song" never grows old and seems as popular as the numbers on the Hit Parade. Mrs. Gordon Downing brought refreshments and sponsored the hour. Barbara Perry told the stories and conducted the games. The happiest game seems to be "Come follow me to London." It is more difficult to be sure of the favorite story that matter if put to a vote would probably result in as many votes as there are people at story hour. Story hour meets at ten o'clock each Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Spikes, of Rails, were business visitors in Floydada Monday.

WINTER WEEDING

stop to think how much a farmer spends in weeding his crops? It is not just a question of getting unwanted plant growths in the fields. It also involves weeding efficient farm methods, cutting high production costs and getting unprofitable crops and weeds out of the way.

Now, during the winter season, another weeding job is to weed out the weeds in the barnyard. A farm barn is just one big box full of accidents waiting to happen. When winter field work and the farmer most of his time attending to the barn, these accidents multiply. The news-reports them every day. The first job is to find these accidents. Some of them may be:

Wheat and Cotton Announcements by the Committee

The developments of the ASC office is an announcement bearing on plant-land acres and announcements to new cotton grower applicants.

Wheat measuring Henry I. ASC office manager, said measurements started on February 1. About 1,250 farm units are to be inspected. The committee expected to start nine reports on the job the opening day. He said that the applications for new cotton grower allotments are on hand ready to be set up. February 5 is the deadline for applications by new growers.

The USDA rule is that both the owner of the land and the operator must sign the new grower application, and it is pointed out, if either the owner or the operator have an allotment in another cotton allotment they are not eligible for a new cotton allotment.

No figures are available at this time as to the number of acres of Floyd county land on which farm operations have indicated approved conservation practices will be undertaken this year, Mr. Martin said.

SPRING SEEDED ALFALFA
Some thought and preparation should be made before alfalfa is seeded. When it is planned to seed soils which blow easily to alfalfa in the spring, it would be advisable to use a nurse crop such as oats or barley. These are such as soils with high lime content and the sandy soils. The young alfalfa has a much better chance of coming up and getting well established when seeded with a nurse crop. It is also a good idea to use a nurse crop on the tighter soils if the land is foul.

Alfalfa is an excellent soil building crop. It should be grown in a rotation with row crops. Where water is not a limiting factor, a good rotation on a hundred acres in cultivation would be to put 25 acres to alfalfa for three years, then rotate to another 25 acres, followed by nine years of row crops. In a period of twelve years one would have covered his entire 100 acres with alfalfa. The hay usually sells for $25.00 to $30.00 per ton. Taken care of properly each acre should produce from three to four tons per year, or more. Row crops following alfalfa produce much more, experience has shown.

A graded system of borders could be used to good advantage. The length and width of the borders can be properly designed when the amount of water to be turned into the border, the soil unit and the slope is known. For example, when there is approximately 600 gallons of water per minute turned into the border, with soil unit 2 (hardlands, which is predominant in this county) and a slope of two inches per hundred feet, the length of the borders should be 1400 feet and the width 60 feet. Application time is eight hours, the time it takes four inches of water to enter hardland soils.

The sandy and high lime soils take water much faster than the hardland soils. Since alfalfa requires some 40 inches of water per year (much more than cotton or grain sorghums), these soils are ideal for producing alfalfa, as they usually have more available water per foot of depth. The soils with high lime content are well suited to alfalfa, since this crop requires lots of lime. In addition to producing a luxuriant growth of vegetation, the soil is tied down by a close growing crop, preventing it from blowing.

A good conservation farmer realizes the importance of maintaining his soil fertility and making the best use of his water. He also wants to put each acre to its best use.

Two farmers who have had very good success with spring seeded alfalfa are Don Bennett, Aiken, and Johnny Lee, Aiken. Mr. Lee had to chisel his young alfalfa to keep it from blowing out. It was seeded on a high lime soil. Mr. Bennett's alfalfa was seeded on a hardland soil.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Hardin of Levelland spent Friday here visiting Mr. Hardin's sister, Mrs. E. L. Angus and Mr. Angus. Mr. Hardin is manager of the Wallace Théatres in Levelland.

School Men Study School Appraisal

A. E. Baker, A. D. Pultz and I. T. Graves, of the Floydada schools, and County Superintendent Clarence Guffee attended a meeting in Lamesa on Saturday of local school administrators of District IV.

The meeting was a work shop to study the techniques of the appraisal of local schools. The work shop began at 8:45 o'clock and closed at 4:30 o'clock.

The Floydada group of school men returned home Saturday evening.

New Regulations

supplying oil or gas wells are exempt from this rule. Also, upon application, information pertinent to the drilling, construction or equipping of the new well must be furnished the district by the applicant. After the proper information has been furnished and approved, a permit may be issued.

Also, no well shall be drilled and equipped without the owner submitting a drilling log and registration data.

As for spacing of wells, which has always been a large problem to cope with, we think the new rules have clarified the situation greatly, McFarland said. Following are minimum specified distances between wells as incorporated into the new regulations: 4-inch or smaller pumps, 250 yards; 6-inch pumps, 300 yards; and 8-inch pumps, 400 yards. A special permit must be obtained for pumps larger than 8 inches.

Pumping rates will be regarded as follows: 4-inch or smaller pumps, 70 to 265 gallons per minute (gpm); 6-inch pumps, 265 to 390 gpm; 8-inch pumps, 390 to 560 gpm; and 10-inch pumps, 560 to 1,000 gpm.

The rules are so constructed, McFarland said, to allow users to apply for exceptions to spacing, provided they can present a sound basis for such.

These rules have been made, he added, with the interest of every water user in the district at heart. We hope they will provide for more conservation of underground water on the part of everyone in the bounds of High Plains Water District, he said.

Other rules such as those for re-charge wells, hearings, changed conditions, and well testing and inspections, have been changed in some respects and should be studied by water users, he said.

Provisions also have been made for the reworking or redrilling of old wells, he added.

"We hope that through the new regulations, more water will be conserved in the future," McFarland concluded. "It's not inexecutable," he added.

A NOTE OF THANKS
I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to my many friends who remembered me in my recent illness.
May God bless each one of you.
