The New Look for the Lighthouse Electric Cooperative headquarters at the corner of Fifth and Virginia streets, has just been completed at a cost of $50,000.

Expect Hundreds For Open House

The Lighthouse Electric Cooperative headquarters personnel is a busy crew this week, along with the directors and their wives, as they make preparations for a mammoth celebration on Tuesday of next week.

On that day—Texas Independence Day, March 2—the doors of the "new look" headquarters building will be thrown open for an open house.

All the 2,300 or more members of the cooperative, living in portions of seven counties, are being invited to be present and the general public also is being welcomed, said Melvin Henry, manager of the organization.

For several months in the latter part of last year the cooperative working force used leased quarters at the American Legion auditorium while their home was being re-done, functionally and ornamentally as well.

The new arrangement departmentalizes the quarters of the office and working crews.

Betterments Cost $50,000 The changes, interior and exterior, have been completed at a cost of approximately $50,000. The files, equipment and materials were returned to the coop's own quarters three weeks ago. In the interim everybody has gotten situated, Henry said, and is ready for visitors to see the place. Hundreds are expected to take advantage of the opportunity to see the new plant.

The main entrance to the building leads into the lobby where seating room has been provided in a cheerful atmosphere for 100 or more persons. On the west end of the lobby is located the demonstration kitchen. To its right is the office of the farm home advisor, the first time this official has been furnished such an office. To the extreme right is the general manager's office.

Off the lobby is the desk and quarters of the cashier and receptionist, and down the hall respectively are quarters of the accounting department, the engineering department field advisors department, offices of the field crew and the materials clerk. Off the material clerk's quarters are the thousand and one items, heavy and light, which are used in daily renewals, changes and extension of service.

In addition to the headquarters offices and quarters the cooperative maintains a yard adjacent to the Q & P switch yard where heavy materials, poles and the like, are stored.

Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, incorporated, formerly the Floyd County Rural Electric Cooperative, until its name was changed last spring, owns and services 1821 miles of service lines in portions of seven counties. Its customer-members number more than 2,300 families, as they let a contract yesterday for work to begin Monday and to be completed in 10 working days, a turn key job of five and half miles of ditch dug, pipe treated and laid, covered, and ready for the installation of meters at the wells.

They expect the first car of pipe to be on the ground Tuesday.

John P. Moss, president of Floydada Gas Cooperative, gave out this information yesterday afternoon.

Harold V. Knapp, of Plainview, is the contractor. The price is based on unit work. The contract let yesterday will total about $48,000, with the possibility that a few more wells will be added before the contractor finishes.

DOLLAR DAY MONDAY

Dollar day for the month of March comes March 1. The event has come to be fixture in shopping circles.

Dollar day is well-represented in the advertising columns of this issue of The Hesperian.

GOAL OF $700 SET FOR HEART FUND CAMPAIGN FOR FEBRUARY

With emphasis on the hope that contributions may speed solutions of the problem of heart disease, the Floyd County chapter of the South Plains Heart association announced that a goal of $700 has been set for this county in the 1954 Heart Fund campaign during the last week of February.

Judge Johnston, campaign chairman, also disclosed that the organization of volunteer campaign is nearing completion, and said that all indications point to an early attainment of the goal. He added:

"Money we contribute to the Heart Fund may be viewed more in the light of an investment than a donation.

"We are investing in research with the hope of ultimately finding the causes and then establishing controls over diseases of the heart and circulation, diseases now responsible for about half the deaths in our county.

"We are investing in education, looking toward a broader understanding of the heart problem and the destruction of harmful misconceptions, and looking as well toward the speediest possible transmission of new research findings to physicians.

"And finally, we are investing in community services designed not only for protection of healthy hearts but also to help restore heart disease sufferers to positions of usefulness.

"Our slogan will be 'Help Your Heart Fund — Help Your Heart.' It is an appropriate slogan, especially in light of the fact that the individual is the real beneficiary."

Judge Johnston pointed out that a major portion of gifts subscribed here will support local and state heart programs, with the remainder going to advance the nation-wide program of the American Heart Association.

Sometime in the near future, the local chapter plans to conduct cardiac surveys for the citizens of Floyd county.

March 8 and 9 Dates of Farm Bureau Drive

Important issues now before congress will be discussed at a District Farm Bureau meeting March 2, at the Lubbock hotel in Lubbock, Texas, according to Albert Scheele, publicity chairman of the Floyd County Farm Bureau.

Officers, members of the legislative committee and the publicity chairman of the Floyd county Farm Bureau have received invitations from Texas Farm Bureau President J. Walter Hammond. In urging them to attend, the state farm leader stressed the importance of the meeting as it relates to national legislation affecting agriculture.

"Farm Bureau members have spent a good deal of time and effort in developing the policies of the organization," Hammond stated, "These policies, to be worthwhile, must be executed. For that reason, and because of the nature of the meeting agenda, it is vital that we have Farm Bureau leaders from each county in attendance."

The meeting is one of a series of 12 policy execution sessions being held over the state. Subjects include agricultural price supports, natural resources, labor-management and foreign trade.

The meeting for counties in this district will begin at 10 a.m. District Director H. L. King of Brownfield will preside.

Among those planning to attend from Floyd County are the following: Chester Carthel, Pres. E. L. Turner, vice-president, Harry Morckel, secretary, Homer Bartram, Robin Fortenberry, A. J. Foster, J. S. Hale, Jr., Harry Cartman, Vernon Hodel, R. B. Kellison, R. C. Mitchell, Jack McIntosh, Helmut Quebe, R. L. A technical discussion of the use of legumes, commercial fertilizers and soil testing will be made by Duke Thornton, agricultural chemist of Texas A&M college. Thornton for several years has made a continuing study and carried on experiments having to do with these practices.

Just before the high noon break a county agent turned farmer will talk on profitable soil building practices for Floyd county. He is Robert H. Gibson, former county agent of Floyd county, now superintendent of the Paymaster farms at A&E on the most ambitious farming project being carried on in this county.

The afternoon speakers, following the Porter talk, will be R. V. Thurman, irrigation specialist Extension Service, who will talk on the latest developments and methods of irrigation, and A. W. Young, head of the agronomy department at Texas Technological college, who will discuss the highly important subject of new crops for high plains farmers. With cotton and wheat allotments being them for 1954 Floyd county farmers are seeking ways of keeping their acres busy.

At noon those who attend will be guests of the Lockney Chamber of Commerce at a barbecue.

FLOYD COUNTY 4-H CLUB CALVES PLACE AT AMARILLO David Mount, son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Mount, and Eugene Beedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beedy, South Plains, were two Floydada 4-H Club boys whose calves placed at the Tri-State stock show in Amarillo on Monday.

Palace Cantor Feature Dated For March 3-4-5

An appealing and sentimental technicolor cinema, which tells the interesting story of Eddie Cantor in a film called "The Eddie Cantor Story," will be seen at the Palace on March 3, 4 and 5.

Keeffe Brasselle stars as Eddie Cantor in the picture, while Ida is portrayed by Marilyn Erskine. The story is told principally in song, with upwards of 20 tunes featuring and sung by Cantor himself.

From the time Cantor's career began as a boy on the East Side in 1904, singing on street corners to Zeigfield Folies and eventually to radio, the story goes on through Cantor's career. Even the crash of 1929, which wiped out his fortune, is in the film.

Song after song that Cantor made famous will be heard.

A pleasant touch is the brief appearance at the end of the film of the real Eddie and Ida.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(by Nellie Witt Spikes)

Doorbells are like a magic game. Or the grab-bag at a fair — You never know when you hear one ring.

Who may be waiting there.

Beginning on Sunday a week past, our door bell rang. May and Henry Kimbrow of Harrold stopped for a short visit. May is the daughter of Mr. Spikes's sister, the late Ella Paschall of Vernon. The next day we opened our door to Harve and Naomi Harris of Tatum, New Mexico. I went to school with Harve at Emma but this was the first time I had an opportunity to really visit with his good wife. We have attended two birthday dinners at the home of this couple and the memories are very sweet and precious of a lovely time. Mrs. Harris has never know the word "I can't." "We were having a hard time when our children needed to be sent to school and on to college," she recalled. "Our son was even married, with two children. I told him he could go to college. He had lost one eye, he did not see how the finances could be met. I believed in him, as I believed in all the rest. He went to college and got his degree. He went without many things. We helped in the small ways we could. Harve trucked in vegetables and fruit to sell, we divided some with our son. We sent him a cow to milk — he made good as I knew he could. I never let my children let go of an education, something I never got." You have a wonderful education, I thought as I listened at her. "You have educated your hand and your heart, told her.

"We gave our children the moral support they needed even more than the financial which was very meager. Good helped us and we never let go." Six children ready for college at a time when the cows died in the cold of the snowy winter, skinned by Harve for the meager returns. At a time when the stalks of green growing feed withered in the dry of the summer heat, the maize heads died in the "boot." A time when mothers and fathers stayed awake at nights wondering how the family could even be fed and clothed. Six children grown and with homes of their own today, giving back to their country the faith and inspiration that was given them so liberally by a mother who carried water from the well, scrubbed plank floors, melted the ice from the water buckets in the winter, looked after the cattle as Harve went on journeys to make a little money to help out.

And how very appreciative are these grown sons and daughters of our friends! "The King Pin" they call their dad, honoring him and their mother with love and admiration. Now Harve and Naomi live in town in a brand-new house with modern conveniences. But they have not retired. Mrs. Harris goes to church with her husband, takes others, gets hold of doubting young boys and girls who want a higher education. "You can do it, if you want to," she tells them. Go ahead, I believe in you."

And another day we answered the door bell. Mother and sister Lois smiled at us on the other side. How happy we were the whole day. We recalled the Sunday of the Seventh of this month when we met at the party house on top of the hill at MacKenzie park to do honor to our own loving mother, who was enjoying telling her part in the day, her happiness as she greeted the sons and daughters she reared, their families who came, her sister and two brothers, nieces and nephews, friends and other relatives.

All week we answered the summons. Wilda and children came; Mrs. Lizzie Ellis, Mr. Spikes's sister and daughter, Ruby Gilson, and of course, Wilma and her family who live across the alley from us. What a wonderful week, also one day was black with dirt and howling with eerie sounds of the wind. One of the nicest tributes to our beloved plains was given as the dirt poured in the studio where Paul Harvey was giving his broadcast while the wind made the music (?) in the background. "Don't be ashamed of this sandstorm or others that come," his voice came clear over the storm. "Other lands which people love and visit have their disadvantages. There must be much in this wonderful country for people such as the ones who live here, love it and are loyal to it," and much more of a tribute he gave us, making the sun shine in our hearts even tho the day was black outside and the sand cut our faces like whips. Thank you, Mr. Harvey.

"Sweet is death when it is an end to pain." So Jack Diggs was made well from pain and went to be with his beloved Annie, who left him so suddenly some ten years ago.

To the families of Jack Diggs and Jess Allen we quote:

"Christ has made death but a narrow, star-lit strip between the companionship of yesterday and the re-union of tomorrow."

Read in the newspapers, "Recession is when your neighbor loses his job; depression is when you lose yours." "Be careful how you vote; the job you lose may be yours."

"This is a wonderful year for the slogan makers. I could never think one up, but enjoy the ones that others do."

J. R. Webb, who lived in Floyd county and went to school at Floydada in the early nineties, was a brief visitor in Floydada one day last week. He was accompanied by Mrs. Webb. They were enroute to their home at Livingston, New Mexico.

Most Citizens Favor Clean-Up

Much favorable comment has been expressed this week on the clean up campaign started by the Floydada Lions club. Mayor Jess Patterson and Earl Crow, Lions president, stated that almost all citizens favor the clean-up idea for the colored section, and hope that much can be done between now and May 26 when the entire city of Floydada will hold their annual drive to clean up the town.

Mayor Patterson talked to many of the residents in the North Ward section and most of them are willing to cooperate 100%. In the few cases where city officials cannot gain the cooperation of the residents the possibility of having trash and junk piles or unsafe property condemned as fire hazards or threats to the public health is being investigated.

Garbage cans are still available at very small cost and can be purchased by contacting city officials or any member of the Lions club will secure these for you. More general use of the cans is urged to allow the sanitation department to speed up their work and take better care of the situation along the alleys of the city.

Farm Records Are a Big Help

COLLEGE STATION — Many farmers wish now they had better records of their operations in 1953, for figuring income tax returns should be the basis for farm practices and cropping plans.

The present economic calls for management practices lead to more efficient production. C. H. Bates, extension farm management specialist says a part of records will show the results in your present operations, reflect, for study, the year's losses, he says. And, records of what farm enterprises should be expanded or curtailed.

Bates says many good farm record books are available but especially likes the one prepared by staff members of the Texas College System. The Texas Record Book contains information for land, farm improvement, machinery and equipment, crops and feeds on hand, farm and expenses, farm products in the home and a summary of year's farming business.

An inventory, points out Bates, a farmer's check-up of what he has at the start and finish of each year. It's easy enough to keep a complete and accurate set of records, he says and they'll pay big dividends when it's time to evaluate your operations at the end of the year.

County agricultural agents furnish information on how to get the Texas Farm Record Book or it may be purchased direct from the Exchange Store, College Station, Texas.

One which occupied the time of court and a petit jury from the day of last week until Saturday night was that of Tom F. and C. P. Fulkerson. Both were indicted as a result of taking damages as a result of a fire on the Sand Hill tract on August 27, 1953.

The jury answered the issues in the negligence on the part of the parties. The case is due to further consideration of the trial of the cow theft charge.

Athletic Program For Spring Will Include Baseball

As soon as the present basketball season is over for Floydada high school the coaches and boys will swing into full scale practice for the coming track meets. The district meet will be run off here early in April with the regional meet at Lubbock a week later.

For the first time in several seasons the high school will compete in boys baseball, and have a schedule already drawn up for the north half of the district with teams entered from Olton, Abernathy and Floydada. Winner from this group will play the south half winner of the district championship. Winner from this district will play Hereford district for regional honors.

Problem of a place to play baseball in the spring has been facing the school since the fences at the softball park are too close for a full sized field. A good ballpark on the Andrews ward ground may be the answer to this situation and if this is accomplished all practice sessions and home games will be held there.

First game schedule is Olton here on April 16.

Harlem Roadkings Play Floydada Basketball Stars Saturday Night

Saturday night the Harlem Roadkings, negro wizards of the hardwood courts, meet the Quarterback club's five at the Graves gym at 8 o'clock p.m.

Bobby Grund brings out his 21st edition of the Harlem Roadkings as they display their clever passing routine, back hand passes, now you see it-try-and-find it basketball act.

The talent with new faces will team up with the ageless Cleo Johnson, who returns for his 14th season. A basketball team is very potent with a long set shot like any on the court, but this season the Roadkings will supply not just one shooter, but two more in Hiram Short and Bud Collins to rack up long thrilling baskets.

The traveling quintet is a strong defensive club along with the bombardment of basketball shooters so the negro wizards can get in their clowning antics of slow motion plays—baseball plays—football formations—and trick assortments of acts to keep the fans in an uproar.

Playing every night of the week in different gyms as the Harlem Roadkings do they do not have a home playing court, Johnson and the boys never fail to give the fans plenty of laughs and clowning antics even though they have traveled a long distance to make the

Farm Bureau Policy Parleys Set for March 2

The Floyd County Farm Bureau in a recent board meeting set the date for their annual spring campaign for renewing membership in the nation's largest farm organization for March 8th and 9th.

The membership committee, consisting of Chairman E. L. Turner, J. N. Richardson, R. R. Kellison, Harry Hartman, Harold Bennett, and the county president, Chester Cartmel, met Monday night at the local office and made plans for their kick off supper of March 8, at the high school cafeteria for the officers and workers and their wives.

At that time material and instructions will be given to the people, and a program in detail will be arranged and announced next week.

The board members have decided to support the efforts of the Floyd County Junior Fat Stock show, as was done last year by paying $2.00 to each junior first place winner.

The Farm Bureau doubled its membership in this county since opening the office in June 1932, and there is a marked increase in interest shown by the fact that many are renewing their membership upon notice without the solicitor having to call on them. W. R. Puckett, service officer, said this week.

Ready-to-Wear Balcony Opens

Completing their store re-modeling by departments, the J. C. Penney Company will have their ready-to-wear balcony opening beginning in the morning and continuing through Tuesday.

Elaborate arrangement has been made of the greatly increased floor space devoted to ready-to-wear for women and children.

Installing lights, fixtures, mirrors, dressing rooms, painting, carpeting—everything—will be finished in that department tonight, John W. Reue, manager, reports.

The store has been "torn up" mightily for weeks while the workmen piled their trades. Results are beginning to be evident. The Penney people are hoping for hundreds of visitors in their ready-to-wear balcony, and believe women will be highly pleased with this department.

Frank Shipley of Clovis, New Mexico, visited his mother, Mrs. D. Shipley and brother, John Shipley and family, on Monday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hale are in Houston this week, where they are guests of Dr. Wayland Hale. They are also giving business matters their attention while in the port city.

Will Talk Castor Beans at Meeting on Friday Night

Thomas Hutchins, who is field representative of one of the Castor oil bean contracting companies operating in Floyd county, is calling a meeting of prospective Castor bean growers for tomorrow night. The date is Friday, February 26.

The meeting will be held in the county court room beginning at 8 o'clock p.m.

Last year Castor beans were harvested from about 1,600 acres in Floyd county. These acres produced 1,500,000 pounds of Castor beans that grossed the growers $135,000. A considerable number of the contracting farmers did well financially with the crop.

However, Hutchins said, they were operating on a 9-cent contract. This year, the government's floor under the bean crop, so far as is known, is 6 cents. "We want to talk things over and take a look at the situation," said Hutchins. "It is time to begin making plans and getting ready, talk about contracting acreage for another year."

DAUGHTER BORN FEBRUARY 21

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Teague are the proud parents of an eight-pound, four ounce daughter named Jennifer Carole, born February 21, in Lockney hospital.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. A. V. Womack, and the paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Riley Teague, all residents of Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Edell DuBois had as their week-end guests their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bud DuBois and children of Lamesa. The children, Larry and Sandra, remained for a weeks visit with their grandparents.

MARCH'S PLENTIFUL FOODS

COLLEGE STATION — Grapefruit, potatoes and onions will earn a position on the USDA's March plentiful foods list because supplies are heavy in the Southwest.

Other vegetables on the March list include carrots, cabbage and dry pinto beans, says John J. Slaughter of the USDA Agricultural Marketing Service.

In the fruit department, economy minded homemakers will find fresh and processed oranges, winter pears and raisins.

Canned cranberry sauce is still plentiful.

Many high-protein foods will be in larger supply during the month, namely; beef, eggs and such dairy products as milk, butter and cheese, peanuts, broilers and fryers and food fats and oils.

J. P. POSEY GRAVELLY ILL

J. P. Posey, of Lubbock, is gravely ill in a Lubbock sanitarium this week.

Reared in Floydada Mr. Posey at one time was cashier and manager of Lockney State Bank. For more than 40 years he has lived at Lubbock.

He had a ruptured appendix and was rallying only slowly the first of the week following the operation, Starks Green said yesterday, after a brief stay in Lubbock with his grandmother, Mrs. J. D. Starke. The latter is hospitalized there.

Green Resigns As Postmaster

Yesterday James E. Green, acting postmaster at Floydada for the past 11 months, announced that he has tendered his resignation from the post and has asked to be relieved on March 1.

He had not heard from the department as of yesterday afternoon.

When he is relieved he will give all of his time to farming, he said. "I can't do just to both the postmaster's job and the farm and have to give up one or the other."

Mr. Green was named acting postmaster early last year. In the interim between the resignation of Mrs. Barbara Smith on January 1 and Green's accession to the job W. B. Henry served as acting postmaster. Green's permanent appointment was due to be acted upon soon by the Senate committee when he offered his resignation.

Sons Will Host FFA Fathers

Members of the Future Farmer chapter of Floydada high school and their fathers will hear Johnny Mitchell, vocational agriculture teacher at Ralls high school tomorrow night in their father-son get-together.

The expectation is that 135 persons will attend the banquet to be held in the high school cafeteria. The annual event, in which the boys honor their fathers, is one of the highlights of observance of Naional Farmer week in the school.

The banquet begins at 7:30. Jerry Bob Harrison, president of the FFA club, is due to preside. Guests are expected to be together with the chapter advisors, H. G. Barber and Carroll, teachers of vocational agriculture in FHS.

ATTEND LOAN ASSN MEET

Olin M. Watson, sr. and Olin M. Watson, jr. of the Floydada Farm Loan association, were guests to the meeting in the last week-end of farm loan clubs and directors at the FFA Bank.

The delegates were guests of the bank on a side-trip to the bank on the "last."

Wayne Pierce, 14, son of Mrs. E. J. Pierce, had an accident Sunday at Pampa. He was riding his bicycle and was expected to go home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis McLaughlin spent Sunday in Lubbock visiting with the latter's sister and family, Mrs. J. E. Brown and daughter.

★ ☆ ★ ☆ ★ ☆ ★ ☆ VIEWS AND COMMENT

YES, WE MEAN FLOYDADA

That's the caption on an advertisement appearing in The New Yorker magazine angled at the smart set, February issue. The advertisement, inserted by The Nation's Business, to blow their own bugle, was intended also as a compliment to Floydada, to Olin M. Watson, jr., manager of Floydada Chamber of Commerce, and to several business people who last year made important contributions to the modernization of the town's business section.

The advertisement follows three paragraphs which tell the modernizing story briefly, with a paragraph of the advertising possibilities which are inherent in the columns of a periodical like The Nation's Business. The paragraphs relating to Floydada are the ones you'll like to read, if you're interested in Floydada. They follow:

"Floydada is a small town of 3,500 population in the Texas panhandle. A year ago the only modern building that the town could brag about was the new courthouse. The remainder of the business district would have rated well for the setting of a John Wayne movie.

"Then, for some reason, in less than a year, Floydada business establishments started some fancy face-lifting. Merchants began modernizing their buildings, changing their thinking about merchandising. The whole pattern of life in the town became transformed.

"It all began with an advertisement in Nation's Business, an idea, a drug store, and a bustling manager of the local chamber of commerce. The chamber man saw a Kawneer advertisement selling store modernization. It registered. He tried it out on the drug store owner. The drug store owner liked it. They called in a Kawneer representative. Then, pretty soon — the idea of a modernization campaign for the entire town!"

While the copy writer for Nation's Business might have been a bit better informed, we overlook such inferences that Floydada was, before 1953, fit in appearance only for a shoot 'em up western movie and that the town has not been a substantial one — we overlook them in appreciation for the nationwide coverage about our town. Overlook them, too, because of art for art's sake. Bare facts often are prosaic. The magic touch of a word here and there dramatizes the image, solves the writer's yen for artistry.

Use Water Now. People in town will note that most of the irrigation farmers have had or now have their wells going, putting an underground season in the soil. They think it gives their spring growth a better start than to wait until the sap gets started upward after winter. City of Floydada has the irrigation rate in effect during this month. It will be effective until March 15. The saving is worth making, the value to trees, shrubs and grass very material. Use water now. It will soak a lot deeper and do more good than irrigation during the heat of the late spring and the summer.

Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, having added its 50-thousand dollar touch to the better appearance of the town in which it headquarters, now plans an open house for March 2—Texas Independence day. Every one of their nearly 3000 members, and the general public as well, are being invited to see the revamped plant. Structurally a fine building, the interior changes made in it have been for functional reasons. The exterior change, of course, was simply a modernizing feature, to bring it up to date in appearance.

Another Modernizer Added. The public prints last week mentioned the modernizing program of J. C. Penney Company, where their quarters are being made equal to merchandising demands of 1954. Changes do come around as Mr. Penney readily knows and makes provisions for. Similarly the work of Phillips Petroleum Company at 300 West California, where they are completely re-doing their service station for Felt Patterson—new building, new everything. The old building was a good, substantial honest one but it wasn't "modern", that is up to the demands of present day merchandising.

Lighthouse Electric will have its open house Tuesday of next week. Having just completed a $50,000 re-do on their headquarters building to make it modern and functional, the members are taking the day for those who have the time to look it over. Their invitation includes others as well as members. The "others" include townspeople who are interested, and who isn't? Don't forget the day and date. You'll meet some interesting people, some of them your best friends.

Nice People Coming. Tomorrow night "The Law West of the Pecos" is to be presented by a talented group of amateurs from Matador at the high school auditorium. They are worthwhile people. Aside from the help you will be giving this benefit show sponsored by a local club by your attendance, there is the courtesy due neighbors. Let's be sure the visitors are aware of the warmth of neighborly attentions. If you've ever been in a home talent cast that traveled to another community you'll realize the importance of the "atmosphere," when the curtain goes up.

Sure Sign of Rain? Everybody hereabout is looking for a sure sign of rain. Maybe the sudden coming to life of the creeks below the caprock are harbingers of the long-looked for wet spell. The urge of the earth, the moon and the stars, for the rain-bearing warm clouds and the cold fronts to synchronize at last. Moisture rising in the ground to give the wheat out on the prairies a spurt of February growth may also be a corollary proof that "things" are getting straightened out again, weatherwise.

Present indications are that more laying hens and turkeys will be found on Texas farms during 1954. Pullets going into brooder houses now will not influence the egg market until next fall.

PROVIDING FOR MORE WATER

Supplemental irrigation is becoming more important every day to Texas farmers in areas where rainfall is decreasing.

Many growers in Central and East Texas are considering irrigation for the first time. Out in West Texas and the Panhandle area, the number of irrigation wells have experienced a tremendous boom in post-war years. The use of supplemental irrigation has increased greatly the yields of cotton, corn, vegetables and pastures even in the more humid areas of the South-west.

Farmers who plan such systems may not see the results until the results will be worth the effort. It's best to get a permit for water used in irrigating. The State Board of Water Engineers, 306 West 10th street, Austin, will send the necessary forms and instructions for making application.

If you have a permit, you'll be safe in the event a workable water code is put into effect. If you use water and deprive a man downstream of essential water, he can get a court injunction to stop you. You can do the same, if you're being deprived of water. Size of your reservoir will depend on several factors. A good rule of thumb is: Provide at least 2 acre-feet of impounded water for each acre to be irrigated, if you are planning surface storage.

Surface reservoirs and spring-fed branches probably will be more economical sources of water supply than water wells in East Texas. Cost of lifting water from source to delivery point must be considered when anticipating operating expenses. The greater the lift the greater the cost.

Initial equipment investment will vary with systems, ranging from about $35 per acre to $125 per acre. About $90 is average in many sections of the state.

Frequency of applying water will vary according to rainfall and type of soil. Generally speaking, sandy soils require about 1.2 inches of water every 6 to 8 days. Heavier soils, 2 inches every 10 days.

Pumping rate also should be considered. To apply one inch of water to an acre of ground, a pumping rate of at least 450 gallons per minute is required.

Why some combines cost $150 a year more than others

A $3,000 combine, left outside year 'round, depreciates $150 a year faster than one kept in a shed when not working. In 10 years, this loss would equal half the cost of the machine.

A recent university survey showed that the average farm machine lasts twice as long when properly stored. Can you afford to let the weather eat away your machinery investment?

In less than a day you can put up the entire framing for a 40'x60'

Rilco machine shed. The laminated wood rafters are as strong as steel and are held together by metal braces, so every square foot of Rilco machine shed is solid space.

"Exterior", marked on exterior, means the wood is permanently bonded with waterproof resorcinol glue.

See us soon and let us tell you how economically you can have a Rilco machine shed.

All material for this Rilco machine shed will cost only about a dollar a square foot and will pay for itself in a few years by cutting machinery depreciation.

Mr. and Mrs. Buck Marricle helped Mr. and Mrs. Bill Latham get moved to their new home in Plainview Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Marricle is their daughter.

Melvin Henry, manager, Class and I attended the Rural Development Conference held at the Agriculture Engineering auditorium, Texas Technological College at Lubbock, February 18 and 19. This conference was sponsored by Texas Electric Cooperatives for Groups 4 and 5. W. G. Newton, manager, South Plains Electric Co-op, Lubbock, was chairman of the conference. Address of welcome was made by Dr. Casey Fine of the Agriculture department, Texas Tech. Remarks were made by Leo Forrest, manager of the Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative who is president of Texas Electric cooperatives. W. G. Newton introduced representatives of participating organizations who made statements of their organizations' functions in rural development. There was a large number in this group.

Each person attending the conference worked with one of the committees. Through this means a wealth of ideas and information was condensed into a workable long-range plan of cooperation toward the more effective use of electricity in rural areas; and to better coordinate the efforts of the electric co-ops and those of electric equipment suppliers, producers and agricultural organizations in a long-range campaign for better living in rural areas.

The committees were rural industries; dairying; poultry and egg production; livestock raising; marketing agricultural products; heating and air-conditioning; soil and water conservation-irrigation and domestic water systems; farm and home lighting and wiring; home appliances; farm and ranch shops; financing; merchandising; public information and education; and service (basis for sound public relations).

The chairman of each committee read the report of his committee giving their recommendations as to how the efforts of the electric co-operatives might be coordinated with other interested groups toward adequate electric service for rural development; to raise the standard of living in rural areas; to increase the efficient use of electricity; to increase the income in rural areas in order that the rural people might be better prepared to live at home should conditions point in that direction.

John Shanklin, REA Representative, Albuquerque, New Mexico suggests:

Co-Operation
When shooing flies or hauling freight
"It's wiser to co-operate
For better work is sooner done
When we take hold and work as one
Now, that's the truth, all horses know;
They learned it centuries ago;
When days are hot and flies are thick,
Co-operation does the trick.
One tail on duty at the rear
Can't reach the flies behind the ear;
But two tails, if arranged with craft,
Give full protection, fore and aft.
Now fools pursue the likely course;
But wise men emulate the horse.
Two make a burden half as great
So, use "horse sense"—COOPERATE!

(Overheard among the Co-op — help?) by John Nay —
Nancy, stopping in the middle of making a cake — said she had to wait until the sun came out as the directions said to stir lightly.

Kathryn — "Don't you file your nails?"
Wanda — "No, I throw them away."

Corkey, riding in Wiley's car —
"Why doesn't your speedometer show how fast we are going?"
Wiley — "The hands on the dial are too busy holding on."

(by Mrs. Clyde Bagwell)

FAIRVIEW, February 23 — The women folk have not had much time for anything since Friday but to clean out dirt. It is still coming in. I think there was soil from several states in our house.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Rushing went to Blanchard, Oklahoma, Wednesday to attend the funeral of Lee's uncle 'Cap' Featherston. Uncle 'Cap', as everyone called him, at one time lived in this community. He was 86 years old at the time of his death. Mr. and Mrs. Rushing returned home Thursday. They spent Wednesday night at Vernon on their way home from Oklahoma.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Walls attended the funeral on Thursday in Amorrillo of J. R. Rountree. Mr. Rountree was a relative by marriage of Mrs. Walls family.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunn and children visited Tuesday night with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bagwell.

Thursday night, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Tackett were hosts to a few friends for home made ice cream and cake. Those enjoying the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Downing, Mr. and Mrs. Mose Simpson, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Giesecke all of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Payne.

Those visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Cosby, Jr. Sunday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Stewart and Jim Dan and Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wilson and Judy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee W. Burton and

Ed Pollan was eating a hamburger which tasted like poisoned meat so he started singing — "I'm heading in' for the last ground-up."

Wayne Collins said he always knew when a woman was an old maid in church by the way she said "Ah-Men."

Claude says he has stacks of money in a back room of his house. He adds that if the South had won, he would be a millionaire.

Advice to our favorite manager—Melvin. Don't forget if your "get-up-and-go" isn't so strong anymore; you can always enjoy remembering where it "got-up-and-went."

REMEMBER!
You are cordially invited to attend the formal opening of our new headquarters building, Tuesday, March 2, 1954, 9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.
So be sure and drop by sometime during the day to see our new building and to have a cup of coffee and a doughnut with us — we'll be looking for you.

its here
The New Improved Stormproof for 1954
TWELVE REASONS
stated specifically
why you should grow NORTHERN STAR COTTON
READ THEM!

1. An improved stormproof cotton that stays in the burr, with premium staple. Ideal for stripping.
2. Northern Star is one of the highest varieties in lint yield per acre of any cotton grown as shown by State Experiment Station and Farmer Variety tests over the U. S. Cotton Belt.
3. It is one of the quickest maturing varieties grown. In many places Northern Star is the "Last Cotton Planted and the First Harvested." If any cotton makes a crop, Northern Star will.
4. All of our seed are the results of one pedigreed high yielding line, which has consistently produced more lint per acre than many selections tested against it.
5. We supply you with seed which have been grown on good land, cultivated carefully, harvested when mature, ginned on our own gins, cured properly, cleaned, tested, and stored according to the best methods known in the scientific seed breeding business to maintain quality planting seed. Every precaution is taken to insure perfect germination.
6. Due to the wide differences in planting practice we have provided for you either fuzzy, saw delinted, or gas delinted Northern Star planting seed.
7. Northern Star Cotton plants have a strong main stem, deep root system, close jointed fruiting branches, light foliage and produce good bolls from 65 to 75 weighing one pound.
8. Northern Star Cotton makes a staple which measures from 1 inch to 1-1/16 inch under average rainfall conditions and longer where irrigation is practiced or humid conditions prevail. Its fiber strength averages from 85,000 to 95,000 pounds per square inch of cellulose. Strong fibers are essential for good spinning and weaving value.
9. Northern Star Cotton turns out from 38 per cent to 40 per cent at the gin when picked and from 25 per cent to 30 per cent where pulled or snapped.
10. Northern Star Cotton is a very popular variety where hand picking or spindle type harvesting machines are used and has given outstanding results where stripping is practiced. There is enough fluff to the fiber for the spindles to catch and remove the seed cotton clean from the burs. Where hand snapping and stripping is in use the boll stalks break easily, making harvesting more rapid.
11. Its hard staple cleans well in ginning, giving you a good grade.
12. All of our seed are grown under the supervision of the State Seed and Plant Board and our Registered acreage is of all the same strain of elite seed.

MOTHER SERIOUSLY ILL

Mrs. W. D. Reaves has been in Hubbard, and Temple Texas since January 19 with her mother Mrs. L. Barnes, who suffered a heart attack on that date. For several weeks Mrs. Barnes has been a patient at Scott & White Clinic in Temple. She is still in a very serious condition. Mrs. Reaves is the wife of Rev. W. D. Reaves, pastor of the First Christian church, Floydada.

Little Miss Barbara Courtney, a victim of one of the three most common forms of heart disease, chats with Dr. W. R. White, Baylor University president and chairman of the 1954 Texas Heart Fund, at Waco Heart Clinic. Eight-year-old Barbara was stricken with rheumatic fever last November and developed a serious rheumatic heart condition. Although now on the road to recovery, the smiling child still is unable to stand or walk — and must be wheeled or carried wherever she goes. Barbara is one of approximately 500,000 elementary and high school age children in the nation suffering from heart disease. Dr. White heads the 1954 Texas Heart Fund drive — which continues through February — to raise funds to support medical research, educational and community heart programs to help Barbara and her fellow-sufferers. Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Courtney of Waco.

Saturday's report made up on Monday showed that on February 29 the circulation in the central library totaled 123. This is our highest total for any one day since the library opened. Twice before the count has exceeded the 100 mark. Twenty-seven of Saturday's total was non-fiction which is also a very good record.

Little Miss Diana Gay Pope, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Pope, is spending the week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. U. Riggle.

LIBRARY NEWS

(by Mrs. Roy Hollar)

An interesting family party visited us last week. They were Mrs. J. A. Jameson and her daughter-in-law Mrs. J. B. Jameson of 520 S. Main in Floydada and Mrs. Raymond Watson and daughter Raye of Lockney. Mrs. Watson and her family are regular borrowers at the branch in Lockney and also the Floydada Library, while the Jamesons are frequent visitors in the Floydada library.

The first meeting of The American Heritage Group will be held March 4 in the county Library, second floor of the court house. Mrs. G. E. Mayo is chairman and you will find details of this meeting elsewhere in this issue of your local paper. We hope that you will attend these meetings of general community interest.

Mrs. Ted Chowning has presented the library with two copies of "The Silver Chalice" in memory of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Curry.

STORY HOUR: Story Hour was very well attended inspite of all the sand folks were cleaning out. Joy Porter told the stories and Mrs. R. C. Henry and Mrs. Hoffman sponsored the gathering for the 19-29 Study club. Games and songs were enjoyed.

QUIP OF THE WEEK: A gentleman viewing the sandstorm of last Friday from our library window suggested the following books from the shelf as appropriate for current reading: "Darkness at Noon" and "Land Below the Wind."

SEARCH STARTED TO FIND BEST JOB OF SOIL AND WATER SAVING

PORT WORTH. — The ninth annual hunt for Texans who have done most in soil and water conservation is on!

The Fort Worth Press, with 23 other Texas firms and institutions as co-sponsors in its Save the Soil and Save Texas awards program, has announced the prizes for the outstanding soil conservation district, the top conservation group, the best conservation farmer and many others.

Two new names appear in the list of sponsors. They are the Association of Texas Soil Conservation District Supervisors and the East Texas Agricultural Council.

The soil conservation district supervisors from the first have been eager supporters of the awards program. Their state association has headquarters at Temple.

The East Texas Agricultural Council will present a handsome plaque to the individual making the best showing in woodland conservation. Competition is mainly in the East Texas area.

Tarleton A. Jenkins, former regional information officer of the Soil Conservation Service, will serve as director of the awards program this year. Jenkins succeeds Delbert Willis who has become city editor of the newspaper.

Top award of $1000 in the state competition will be offered for the outstanding soil conservation district, with $300 going to each winning district in the five divisions of the state. A $500 prize will go to the outstanding conservation group. Regional winners will get $300 each in this contest.

Ford presents two new deep-block engines

They're the industry's most modern engines with free-turning Overhead Valves and integral valve guides... high-compression, low-friction design... and extra deep-skirted crankcases. Both engines are designed for long life with smooth, economical performance.

THE NEW 130-h.p. Y-block V-8

This new Overhead-Valve V-8 has an extra-deep block which resembles a "Y" in cross-section. This new deep-block design means greater rigidity for smoother, quieter performance... longer engine life. Other features which make this engine a long-lived, smooth, savingful performer are: new low-friction (short-stroke) design, Free-Turning Overhead Valves, new 5-bearing crankshaft, and new high-turbulence combustion chambers.

THE NEW 115-h.p. I-block SIX

Like the new Y-block V-8, this engine has Ford's deep-block design for greater rigidity, longer engine life. Also, like the V-8, you get Ford's modern manifold, low-friction design, high-turbulence combustion chambers, and Ford's Automatic Power Pilot. One advantage of both new engines is an amazingly flat "torque curve" which gives you top pick-up power through the whole range of driving speeds.

Safety Award Made to Oden By State Assn

The Oden Chevrolet Company of Floydada has received a Highway Safety award in recognition of the part the firm is playing in the current school year by lending an automobile for high school driver training purposes.

The award was made by the Texas Automotive Dealers Association, the State organization of factory authorized new car dealers.

Loan of the training car was to Floydada high school in a program that each year is helping to turn out a constantly increasing number of high school students who are thoroughly versed in all phases of safe and courteous driving.

Additionally Oden Chevrolet has made available to the FFA chapter of Floydada high school for use in the activities of the chapter a Chevrolet pick-up. The machine is used under the supervision of H. G. Barber and James Carroll, teachers of the vocational agriculture department.

C. B. Smith, Austin, Safety Chairman, and E. J. Pennington, Galveston, President of the State Dealers' Association, termed the driver training program one of the most significant developments in the field of safety in recent years.

"Our youths form the reservoir from which drivers of the future are drawn," they said, "and if we are to have safe highways it will be through their education in the proper handling of motor vehicles." Nearly 300 members of the factory authorized new car dealers group received Safety Awards, according to Tom J. Crooks, Austin, Manager of the Association. Their participation in the driver training activity represents a loan of equipment each year valued at approximately $600,000, he said.

James Monroe was President of the U. S. when Florida was purchased from Spain.

Ever add up the TAXES you pay with your TELEPHONE bill?

OUT OF YOUR TELEPHONE BILL last year was paid an average in Texas of $42.36 per telephone in taxes. Of this amount, almost half — $18.96 — was Federal excise or "luxury" tax. This tax we simply collected and turned over to the Federal government, at the rate of 15 per cent on your local service and long distance calls costing less than 25 cents, and 25 per cent on long distance calls costing 25 cents or more. If you subtract this tax from your bill, doesn't the actual cost of your telephone service look like an even better bargain than you thought it was? SOUTHWESTERN BELL... ## WE COULDN'T AFFORD TO MAKE YOU THIS OFFER if we weren't dead certain what this tractor will do

Maybe you've heard about the deal we're making. You buy a new Oliver Diesel and we'll pay half the tractor's fuel bills—for 6 months' straight work on your farm. Any 6 months you say, even your six heaviest work months. Just bring in your bills to show what you spent, and we'll give you a check for half the full amount.

Now it stands to reason we couldn't make an offer like this if we weren't dead sure what this tractor will do. We know an Oliver Diesel will cut your fuel costs way down, down to less than half what they are right now. For one thing, you'll be burning only 6 gallons of fuel where your gasoline tractor burned 10. For another, you'll be buying your fuel for a much lower price per gallon. In fact, most users report their operating costs only one-third what they were before.

Your upkeep is low, too

You won't spend any more time or money maintaining your Oliver Diesel than you would with a gasoline tractor. It has the simplest engine of any tractor built; no carburetor, no plugs, fewer moving parts to give you trouble. When you do need service, it's often a simpler job, especially for the diesel-trained mechanics that we'll put on it.

No starting engine, no starting fuel

These Olivers aren't half-diesel, they aren't make-overs. They start and run on diesel fuel. Start right off, even in zero weather, or after a long lay-up.

Sizes? We've got them in any size you want—two-plow, three-plow, four-plow — and with all the features that go with other Oliver tractors. Now is the time to get your diesel, now while this offer stands.

BUY AN OLIVER DIESEL AND WE'LL BUY HALF YOUR FUEL!

STORY

What makes people happy? Millions of dollars have been spent trying to figure that one. Thousands of homes have split because somebody guesses the wrong answer.

We sat in the car outside a general store the other afternoon while the spouse was inside. A couple in their twenties came out with their arms around each other, so radiantly happy that we took a second look. She was holding a potted ivy plant and their interest seemed focused on this 50-cent buy. Maybe they had just built an ivy shelf, repainted the kitchen, or bought a long cherished coffee table. But whatever it was, that ivy represented a gratified wish.

Soon a white-haired couple strolled up. They examined the balled shrubs and trees with complete absorption. What looked like a couple of peach switches held their interest for long minutes, as they debated the six-foot versus the four-foot one. Presently they went inside and came out happily bearing a piece of wire screen two feet square. Whatever its purpose, that small investment had made two people happy for one afternoon.

A little boy, waiting for his dad, was allowed by his mother to get out of the car and play on the children's slides and swings. His face showed happy disbelief then sheer joy at this unexpected freedom.

dom. A one-year-old wallowed happily over his mother's shoulders and head in a car nearby as she calmly read the newspaper, never scolding him for wiggling or for rumpling her hair.

In the case of the couples, it was a shared pleasure; some plan they had agreed upon. In the case of the children, it was an understanding mother, who granted them some rights as persons even though they were small fry. For all of them, happiness meant someone had found the secret to good human relations.

Is it the people who put love and understanding ahead of dollars and cents that have the answer? We wouldn't know.

Gas-saving '54 Studebaker

Thriftiest car in America and a top resale value!

GET AHEAD OF THE PARADE . . . GET MORE WHEN YOU TRADE

STUDEBAKER styling is setting the pace for the motoring world. Get this out-ahead smartness. It's sure to command a high resale price.

What's more, the new Studebaker is America's most soundly built car—rugged and solid with top quality materials and famous Studebaker father-and-son craftsmanship.

Studebaker also gives you the world's most modern engineering. There is no bulging bulk—no power-wasting excess weight in a Studebaker. You save gasoline every mile.

Stop in right away and try out a far-advanced new 1954 Studebaker—America's only truly modern car—a Champion—or a Commander V-8.

Read what experts say!

"In the style department, Studebaker is 50 miles ahead of any other American car!"

—Mechanix Illustrated

"We have awarded Studebaker our Gold Medal for outstanding design and distinctive styling."

—N. Y. Fashion Academy

"Studebaker may now be setting the pattern for the next few years."

—The Wall Street Journal

"There can be no question about it—Studebaker has, with its new model, made every other American car look ten years older!"

—Motor World Magazine
