The Thunderbird has a powerful 160 h.p. Y-block V-8 engine and its low, graceful body is of all-steel construction. Equipped with a convertible cloth top which folds completely out of sight behind the rear seat, the Thunderbird can be purchased with a special composition hardtop, making it a complete all-weather car. Its overall height is 51.5 inches—nearly a foot lower than the 1934 Ford sedan—yet it has only slightly less road clearance. Most of its major parts are interchangeable with Ford's regular line of cars. The Thunderbird is scheduled for production by Ford Division next fall.

Molasses Flavors A Home Barbecue

Barbecued spareribs and chicken are a treat to brisk weather days. You think barbecued meats are elaborate of preparation, you're in for a surprise. The sauce is a sweet-sour blend of unsulphured molasses, tomato sauce, vinegar, mustard and onion. These ingredients, once combined, are ready to baste baked spareribs or broiled chicken. Mellow unsulphured molasses contributes to the sauce's rich reddish-brown color, and it balances the tart flavor of tomato.

Molasses Barbecue Sauce
1/2 cup unsulphured molasses
1 tablespoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
Combine all ingredients in saucepan. Bring to a boil; boil one minute. YIELD: 1/2 cup.

Barbecued Spareribs
Have 3 pounds spareribs cut in serving pieces. Place in shallow pan. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Baste with Barbecue sauce twice during last hour of roasting. YIELD: 6 servings.

Barbecued Chicken
Have a 1 1/2 to 2-pound broiler cut in half. Place in shallow pan; skin up. Brush with melted butter; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 1 1/2 hours; turn twice during baking. Baste with barbecue sauce during last hour of baking. YIELD: 2 servings.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:
A family doctor is your protection when illness or accident strikes. Caring for the members of your household over the years, he knows your "health history" and his skill is thereby supplemented by personal knowledge of you and your family. He is your best friend and advisor and will respond to your call. A good health measure is for families and individuals to acquire a family or personal doctor if they don't already have one.

Answer to Question No. 2:
It is important that the public health service in every community check on the health of food handlers in restaurants, groceries and butcher shops, for food handlers can readily transmit diseases, such as the common cold, and more serious diseases. Besides requiring food handlers to have periodic physical examinations, some communities provide instruction courses in sanitation for workers. These courses help food handlers to protect themselves and their customers against disease, as well as to care for food to prevent spoilage.

Answer to Question No. 3:
Yes, many non-profit health insurance plans have arrangements for individuals to join. Commercial companies have available a variety of health insurance policies for individuals. Of course, the premiums for individual policies are higher than those for group plans.

Attack Claims Harry Stanley Thursday Night

Harry R. Stanley, Floydada resident since 1916, died at the family home, 320 West Kentucky street, Thursday evening at 9 o'clock.

Mr. Stanley suffered a heart attack in March, 1952, but was in fairly good health up to the hour of his death. He worked at his job as barber at the Palace Barber shop all day Thursday. He lived only a few minutes after he became ill.

Funeral service for the deceased was held Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the First Baptist church with the pastor, Dr. R. Earl Allen, officiating.

Interment was in Floydada cemetery under the direction of the Harmon Funeral home. Pallbearers at the service were George Sherill, Leonard Smith, Charles Bedford, Walter Collins, Joe Martin and Herschel Hammonds.

Honorary pallbearers were members of the Sunday school class of which Mr. Stanley was an active member, with Earl Rainer, teacher.

Harry Stanley was born February 19, 1890, in Parker County, Texas, the son of N. B. and Ellen Manning Stanley. He moved to Floyd county in 1916 from Blue Grove, Texas.

In Matador, on August 27, 1917, he was married to Miss Mary D. Maxwell of Floydada and the couple had made Floydada their home since that time.

Mr. Stanley was Veteran of World War One, a charter member of McDermott Post No. 118, American Legion Floydada, and an active member of the First Baptist church.

The deceased owned and operated a barber shop in Floydada for many years and the last several years was also a real estate dealer. Over a year ago, Mr. Stanley sold his shop and since that time had been employed at the Palace Barber shop on West California street.

Survivors include the wife, Mrs. Mary Stanley, Floydada, one son, James Stanley, Tulsa, three daughters, Mrs. Deibert Groves, Pampa, Mrs. Bill Holt, Floydada and Mrs. L. H. Smith, jr., Tulsa.

Six grandchildren and two brothers, Homer of Floydada, and H. C. Lutbeck, and two sisters, Mrs. J. E. Dickey and Mrs. Frank Boerner, both of Phoenix, Arizona, also survive.

Out of town relatives here to attend the funeral service were Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stanley and son, Dorman of Lutbeck, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Goodson and daughter and Mrs. Bill Tater, Cpl. Leland K. Bond and John Maxwell, all of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Buster Wakefield of Hart, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Hayes of Tulsa and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Oliver of Waco.

There's always more wickedness in the big cities because that is where the country boys go to celebrate.

Mortons At Rites Held For Brother

Mr. and Mrs. Ben G. Morton attended the funeral, Friday, at Burk Burnett for Abner T. Walling, brother of Mrs. Morton.

Mr. Walling passed away at the age of 64 in Wichita Falls General hospital, Wednesday at 3:45 a.m. after a week's illness. He had been a resident of Burk Burnett for a number of years.

Service was held in the Burk Burnett church of Christ with the pastor of the church, Elder Burkham, officiating. Interment was in Burk Burnett cemetery with the American Legion in charge.

Mr. Walling is survived by his wife, one son, John of Burk Burnett, one daughter, Mrs. T. T. Dickson of Texarkana, two grandchildren and three sisters, Mrs. Mollie A. Morton of Floydada, Mrs. Lola Cavanaugh of Plainview and Mrs. R. O. Thomas of Clarendon.

Practice Gets Under Way For Track-Field

Both junior high and high school boys are now working out for track and field events for the coming meets. For the high school boys the first big test will be the Canyon Reef relays at Snyder on March 13. Another meet on the schedule is the Caprock relays at Slaton on April 3 and then the district meet here on April 10.

Coach Preston Watson said Monday he would probably schedule a few practice meets before the above mentioned dates, but would have to wait until the boys were a little further along with their training and were ready to take on outside competition.

Little is known of the strength of this year's track team since they lost many of their key men from last year and some of those returning were on the doubtful list.

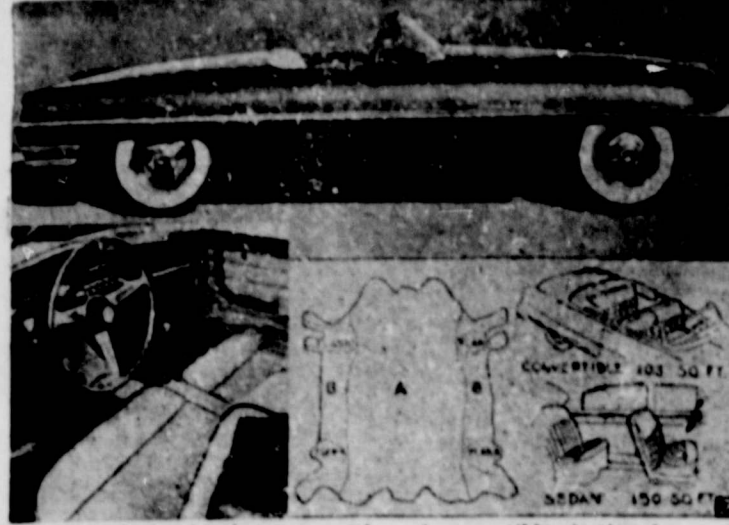

Norman Muncy has been bothered with a knee injury this year, but was looking good in practice Monday.

Ronnie Upton was not working out in early practice sessions because of duties on the farm.

Jack Womack is regarded as one of the best prospects and will be out to repeat as the district miler. Jack placed second at regional in Lubbock last year and should be improved somewhat by this year's meet.

The regional meet will be run off at Lubbock about April 17. The district meet scheduled for Floydada on April 10 will find some new names on the entry list since the Cattle and Convertibles—What's Your Guess?

The relationship between cattle and convertibles is time honored. Bossy has been giving her tough hide for automobile upholstery since cars first were made. Here's the sleek, new Dodge Firearrow, for instance, experimental sports model which features, according to W. C. Newberg, Dodge President, the "best ideas in American and European sports car styling." Now on tour the Firearrow will be exhibited at the major auto shows of America. It takes about 103 square feet of leather to upholster the average convertible, 150 square feet for a sedan. The above diagram shows how genuine leather is used. A: Seat cushions, inside backs and outside facings that receive strain or flexing. B: Facings, bands and welts that do not receive much strain. Flanks are used on nonwearing surfaces. How many cattle hides do you think are needed to upholster an automobile?

An average hide is about 45 square feet. It takes two and one-half to three hides per average car.

Olton Mustangs were moved into the district. Olton was very strong last year in the sprint and relay events and has many of their regional winners back for competition this year.

The modern girl is a genius; her grandfather mined gold with a pick and shovel, but she merely storkes a bold head.

District Sponsors 'Life' Program

By Jim Compton)

Major projects of the Underground Water District for 1954 is with the preservation of the district will sponsor designed to promote a cap on the old abandoned wells, all the old abandoned wells which potentially are their own right.

Tom McFarland says the survey throughout the district revealed an average of 100,000 gallons of water a day; or without exception, closed to comply with Article 1721 of the Penal Code passed by the 51st Legislature. Violation of such offense is punishable by a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $500.

The manager said the district board of directors hopes it does not become necessary to press charges against anyone simply because they won't eradicate a death trap. It will only take a few minutes to fill it, he said.

McFarland mentioned public response to an appeal last year to get rid of old ice-boxes and refrigerators, after several children across the country had died of suffocation when they crawled in them to play and the door slammed shut. "People went to work and got rid of many of the old ice boxes," he said. "They can do as much for the old abandoned wells. It might save the life of a child."

public on the importance of this life saving program.

The filling and capping of the old abandoned wells will not only save the lives of children, but will reduce water pollution and livestock accidents, McFarland said.

McFarland referred to Rule 5 of the high plains rules and regulations which concerns the covering or filling of old wells. This rule applies to all property owners in the 19 high plains counties actively participating in the district activities. The rule says in effect, that "Immediately upon completion of a replacement well, the old well shall be filled and abandoned; properly equipped in such a manner that it cannot produce more than 100,000 gallons of water a day; or without exception, closed to comply with Article 1721 of the Penal Code passed by the 51st Legislature. Violation of such offense is punishable by a fine of not less than $100 and not more than $500."

Soil Fertility Day Meeting Shows Way to Better Farming Methods

Spirited discussion of the economics of agriculture as well as technical discussions of fertilizing, irrigation practices, and the use of insecticides marked Friday's gathering of Floyd county farmers at Lockney.

County Agent W. G. Rodgers, general chairman for the soil fertility meeting, estimated the crowd at something more than 200 persons, principally farmers, with a sprinkling of business men of the county.

Bill Porter, the Kaufman county farmer, and Robert H. Gibson, the Floyd county farmer, talked in practical terms of maintaining the fertility of the soil from the farmer's point of view. Gibson has recently undertaken the job of farm superintendent at Paymaster farms, Aiken, after several years in vocational agriculture teaching and as a county agent.

Porter is farming the farm where the first agricultural experiments were carried on that was fore runner of the Extension Service.

Gibson talked of the practical problems he has encountered in maintaining soil fertility at Paymaster farm, Porter on "How we have managed our farm."

Emmett Dignan, the Denver, Colorado, banker, heartened his hearers by a straight-forward presentation of the need to maintain good farm conditions in marketing as well as production. He illustrated his claim that good prices for farm products are good for the nation with pointed logic which his farm hearers could understand.

He said the price of the raw product — cotton, for instance — had little to do with the final cost of the finished product in the hands of the consumer. He said farmers need to join the hunt for wider markets for their products. He calculated the great surpluses of food and fiber a blessing, not a calamity.

To Relieve Misery of COLDS take 666 LIQUID OR TABLETS - SAME FAST RELIEF

Butter, wheat, cotton, corn, all in great abundance present an opportunity and a challenge, he said.

The technical discussions were made by Extension service specialists and experimental experts from Texas Technological college.

At noon-time the soil meeting crowd adjourned to the barbeque provided by Lockney business men.

Banker-Rancher Speaks

Emmett Dignan, the Denver, Colorado, banker, who had an important assignment on Friday morning's soil fertility program in Lockney, has a background of 30 years banking experience and the successful operation of a 200,000-acre ranch in Montana. He brought a wealth of information to his listeners. Since he is in daily touch with the livestock, fiber and food situations, many eagerly seek his views and recommendations.

Dignan is vice-president of the United States National Bank of Denver, his subject, "What is agriculture's future in America."

Mr. Dignan's talk gave a broad perspective of the world's food and fiber situation and touched on some of the programs being considered to keep both production and agricultural prices at a high level.

Arrangements for Mr. Dignan's appearance on Soil Fertility building meeting were made by A. K. Hepperly, agricultural agent of the Burlington Lines, which are cooperating with Texas A&M Agricultural extension service and county agents.

Porter Loves the Soil

One of the interesting personalities at last week's soil fertility meeting in Lockney was Bill Porter, Kaufman county farmer, who operates the farm which is the birth place of the demonstration which later became the agricultural extension service. Porter is the son of the man who had the big idea. He was reared on the farm.

Porter told how they have managed their farm. Of him J. W. Potts, assistant editor says:

"Bill Porter is a very practical farmer. He has done an outstanding job on the Porter farm with legumes, both for seed production and grazing, and was among the first to grow vetch for seed in Kaufman county. He planted a single row of vetch in the garden back in 1935 and the next year an acre. From this beginning has developed the vetch seed industry in the county.

"He loves the land and aims to see that the next generation will take over soil which is still capable of high yields."

It wouldn't be natural for Porter to be other than a friendly person who likes to help others. Yields on the Porter farm, according to reports, are still tops.

Mrs. L. H. Newell has had a relapse of the flu and has spent much of her time confined to her bed for several weeks.

Dog owners, old and young, have had a scare thrown into them lately by the rabies epidemic here and there. So now the three-year-old owner of Buttons the terrier must pen up his pet. Now Free-les, the half-blind springer, beloved member of the family next door, must be kept in the backyard for fear he'll get the bug and bite the postman.

From the dog's-eye-view, this is all a bunch of nonsense. They're the same dogs they were last week and the week before. Then they could roam the neighborhood at will, bark at imagined enemies and smell out newcomers to their heart's content. Now they must look at the world through fence pickets, prisoners of a distrustful society. It's pretty hard for a dog to understand.

Even dog owners have trouble at times going along with the demand either to vaccinate or pen up their dogs of the dangers of rabies, still they say to themselves, "But our dog is all right!"

If there were none but right-acting individuals — whether people or pups — restricting laws wouldn't be needed. But as long as there is disease — of heart, health or head — the innocent as well as the dangerous will have to accept some control for the sake of a safer society.

And while Buttons doesn't even know that mad dog across the state, yet his entire life is affected by the behaviours of his diseased cousin.

Whether they want to or not, looks as if both dogs and people must be their brother's keeper.

Dees-Thayer Vows Said Sunday At M. E. Parsonage

The parsonage of the First Methodist church was the scene on Sunday, February 23, at 2 o'clock for the wedding vows of Mrs. Neida Doris Dees, daughter of Mrs. Charles K. Bryan of Pacific, Missouri, and Ralph J. Thayer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Thayer, sr., of Carlisad, New Mexico.

The pastor, Reverend Tilden B. Armstrong, officiated with the double ring ceremony.

Miss Winona Halsey, maid of honor, wore a navy blue suit with pink and navy accessories and wore a pink and white rose bud corsage. Emory Cox, brother of the bride, served as best man.

The bride chose for her wedding a navy wool dressmaker suit with navy and white accessories. Her corsage was of white rosebuds.

For something old she wore a strand of pearls belonging to her sister, Mrs. Albert Duncan; something borrowed was a blue garter from Mrs. Jack Kassehn and she wore a penny in her shoe for luck.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple left for a wedding trip to points in Colorado, and on their return here will be at home at 739 West Grover street.

The bride has made her home with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Duncan, for the past two years during which time she has been employed at the First National bank.

The bridegroom is a prosperous farmer and has made his home in Floyd county for several years.

Present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Emory Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Duncan and daughter, Rilla Sue, Mrs. Tilden B. Armstrong, Fred and Veda Thayer and Carrie Dees.

STITCH AND CHATTER CLUB MET WITH MRS. KEELING

The Stitch and Chatter club met February 23 with Mrs. J. C. Keeling. Members answered the roll call with a description of their wedding dresses.

Mrs. Will Campbell directed the recreation. Mrs. Keeling had the penny gift which was won by Mrs. Campbell.

The club supper will be near Easter.

A quilt will be started at the next meeting so all members are to bring print material.

Mrs. Keeling served refreshments to Mrs. Troy Wellmaker, a visitor, and the following members: Mesdames W. A. Campbell, D. M. Moore, Dick Nichols, Edwin Hammonds, Jack Johnson, L. G. Norrell and J. B. Turner.

The next meeting will be March 11 with Mrs. Dick Nichols.

last too long with several women in the family. The sewing did not end with the feminine side, ruffled shirts had to be sewn for the little boys, buttons sewed on the bottom were also made by the patient sewer. Men's every day shirts were carefully made and long summer drawers of bleached or unbleached stout drilling, or 'drillin' as it was called, for the men and boys with long strings to be neatly tied around the ankles.

Beds were piled high in the daytime with almost finished garments and yards of materials, buttons and hooks and eyes, yards of fine narrow laces and yards of narrow braids for finishing seams and carefully cut from a "bought" pattern some woman was fortunate to have and was happy to share with all her neighbors.

Many a pattern was cut from the Semi-Weekly News after Aunt Lucinda's funny article was cut out to be saved. The papers had to be hand-sewn together for skirts were long and gored. Oh, yes, there were the tight fitting "under bodies" to be made with their front of many button holes to be made. Today women buy them and call for a bra, while their mothers called for a camisole. Changes in fashions, customs and names.

Soft flowered foulards were bought for summer making, also and were as soft and smooth as silk. After the summer wardrobe was finished and the articles carefully folded in the big trunks, the women were not idle for other duties awaited them. And speaking about the trunks, a girl or a boy were almost grown in their estimation when they were given a trunk of their very own for their belongings, a place to put under lock and key the sweet notes and faded flowers and many a seemingly worthless thing, but valuable as precious gems to the young.

Heard over the radio, I am like Will Rogers but with this difference. He said all he knew he read in the newspapers, now all I know, or it looks that way, I hear over the radio or see over the television. But this is what I heard: "Hot Coffee" the sign read in a New York Cafe. "Easy Terms arranged." Do remember the tea-kettle of your childhood when coffee, I keep recalling it with only one E, maybe thinking that will make it a bit cheaper, was not given to children but mother poured a cup of hot water from the black nosed spout of the iron teakettle and added sugar and milk. I often heard it called, "Cambric Tea." A friend tells me a preacher came to their home and did not want coffee. "I will take a cup of Luce Tea," he politely said, leaving his hostess to ponder and finally ask what he called Luce Tea.

Fred Cardinal, who had surgery last week for a foot injury in Lubbock Memorial hospital, is now recuperating at his home in Dougherty.

Mrs. Clark Harris of Lockney was the guest of Mrs. Winnie Angus on Tuesday. Mrs. Harris and Mrs. Angus are long-time friends.

says...

My ELECTRIC dryer's so gentle—the life of my clothes has increased!

"What's more, my electric clothes dryer gives me 'all weather' drying any season of the year. My time's my own when it comes to picking a drying day."

"By just opening my dryer door, and putting in the clothes, I save an hour and a half every washday. My trips to the clothesline are over, which saves one hour, and I no longer have to sprinkle the clothes for ironing, and that frees me from a half-hour of work."

"Because washing and drying is no longer back-breaking work, I wash more often. This saves money for me, because I can buy fewer clothes for the children. The dryer passes all the tests of true economy, it saves time, money, work, effort, and the clothes."

"You can't neglect your children just because it's washday. But it was hard not to neglect them before I had a dryer. Now I have much more time for the children and my other household duties."

TRY BEFORE YOU BUY

For 15 days, in your own home, you can try an electric clothes dryer without obligation. Tell your Modern Appliance Dealer you want to TRY BEFORE YOU BUY and see for yourself, as Mrs. Hankla has, how much a dryer will do for you.

Chapter Youth Fete Fathers At FFA Meeting

Floydada chapter of the Future Farmers of America had 130 or 140 present for their get-together with their fathers at the banquet table Friday night of last week.

After the boys had presented their fathers and introduction of the visitors was completed they heard Johnny Mitchell, vocational agriculture member of the Ralls high school faculty in the principal talk of the evening. Mitchell extolled values in the vocational agriculture study for use in after life. He said rewards were rich in the good life of a farmer, sometimes in moderate wealth and always in other rewards.

Mitchell has been 11 years in the Ralls school system, and has seen several of his boys go out into agriculture and make good, he told the future farmers class of Floydada.

Jerry Bob Harrison, president of the chapter, was master of ceremonies. Dale Smith, with Carolyn Downing accompanying at the piano sang two solos and Joe Noland gave two singing and guitar numbers.

Henry G. Barber and James Carroll, advisers for the group, had brief parts on the program. Mr. Carroll presented medals to the members of the chapter who were

The New Improved Stormproof for 1954

TWELVE REASONS

stated specifically

why you should grow NORTHERN STAR COTTON
READ THEM!

1. An improved stormproof cotton that stays in the burr, with premium staple. Ideal for stripping.
2. Northern Star is one of the highest varieties in lint yield per acre of any cotton grown as shown by State Experiment Station and Farmer Variety tests over the U. S. Cotton Belt.
3. It is one of the quickest maturing varieties grown. In many places Northern Star is the "Last Cotton Planted and the First Harvested." If any cotton makes a crop, Northern Star will.
4. All of our seed are the results of one pedigreed high yielding line, which has consistently produced more lint per acre than many selections tested against it.
5. We supply you with seed which have been grown on good land, cultivated carefully, harvested when mature, ginned on our own gins, cured properly, cleaned, tested, sacked, and stored according to the best methods known in the scientific seed breeding business to maintain quality planting seed. Every precaution is taken to insure perfect germination.
6. Due to the wide differences in planting practices we have provided for you either fuzzy, saw delinted, or gas delinted Northern Star planting seed.
7. Northern Star Cotton plants have a strong main stem, deep root system, close jointed fruiting branches, light foliage and produce good bolls from 55 to 75 weighing one pound.
8. Northern Star Cotton makes a staple which measures from 1 inch to 1-1/16 inch under average rainfall conditions and longer where irrigation is practiced or humid conditions prevail. Its fiber strength averages from 25,000 to 35,000 pounds per square inch of cellulose. Strong fibers are essential for good spinning and weaving value.
9. Northern Star Cotton turns out from 25 per cent to 40 per cent at the gin when picked and from 28 per cent to 36 per cent where pulled or snapped.
10. Northern Star Cotton is a very popular variety where hand picking or spindle type harvesting machines are used and has given outstanding results where stripping is practiced. There is enough fluff to the fiber for the spindles to catch and remove the seed cotton clean from the burr. Where hand snapping and stripping is in use the boll stalks break easily, making harvesting more rapid.
11. Its hard staple cleans well in ginning, giving you a good grade.
12. All of our seed are grown under the supervision of the State Seed and Plant Board and our Registered average is of all the same strain of elite seed.

Hit Both Lice And Ticks With One Application

COLLEGE STATION, February—Lice and ticks on livestock may be controlled by the application of two insecticides in combination.

Lice are oftentimes present the year-round and ticks are generally a seasonal problem and appear about this time. When they're both on livestock, that's the time to let go with both barrels, says P. M. Fuller, Jr., assistant extension entomologist.

Such a combination, Fuller continues, effectively controls both lice and ticks and it means a saving of labor and materials for the producer.

Fuller recommends for beef cattle a spray combination of 5% toxaphene and 0.3% lindane or gamma BHC. Another double-kill combination, he adds, is 5% DDT and 0.3% lindane or gamma BHC. Single treatments of 5% toxaphene and ticks more readily controls ticks, ticks and lice.

These applications should be made every two or three weeks.

DDT and toxaphene gives longer residual control than lindane or gamma BHC, but the latter insecticides more readily controls ticks, Fuller points out.

Chlordane is not recommended for dipping and should not be used for more than three or four applications during a season because of its accumulative character.

To prepare a combination DDT-BHC spray, the entomologist recom-

WHIG OR DEMOCRAT?

An early "call" to Texas newspapermen to organize was issued in the old Marshall Star State Patriot on June 8, 1953 -- but history has not recorded whether the session was ever held or not.

The major problem is whether the Whigs and Democrats could associate at a press conference in Irvin.

ING DUST STORMS
The truth is, we didn't go wrong. We just haven't gone far enough in the right direction. We have done wonders in some sections, but our soil saving measures have broken down under the constant buffeting of a three-year drouth.

We need to exercise every known conservation practice to the "Nth" degree in all sections of our state. One good pasture or crop can be eradicated or buried by a nearby blowing field where no soil and moisture saving plan is in effect. Conservation is a state-wide, full time job.

The task now rests with the state, the county and the individual farmers. The Federal government has already announced it will not provide funds to initiate soil and pasture restoration programs which were recommended by the drouth states.

A study of 17 states, including Texas, showed that on pasture restoration alone, some $308 million would be needed. And this is merely for seed, lime and fertilizer required to restore about 39 million acres of land.

Actually, this 39 million acres includes only land within "major disaster" areas. The figure would be considerably increased if pasture-land were included where weather conditions have been bad but not severe enough to warrant designation as a disaster area.

Since we cannot turn to federal aid in this time of need, then Texas must depend upon its farmers to do the best they can under the circumstances. It is a job that must be done!

Texas Highway Map Is Issued

AUSTIN, Texas. — Publication of the Official Highway Travel Map for 1954 was announced in Austin today by D. C. Greer, State Highway Engineer, and it is now available for free distribution.

Incorporating many changes and new features, it is believed that this is one of the best travel maps the Highway Department has published. Greer stated. For the first time this year type has been used for all names and symbols appearing on the map, instead of the hand lettering previously used. This greatly improves legibility of all names.

A different size and type face was selected for the various categories of names that appear on the map; counties appear in one type, cities of similar population density will have the same size type; mountains will have their own lettering style, while rivers will appear in still another size and type face. Greer stated. In all, thirty-three different styles and sizes of type were ordered for the new map.

Over 1300 villages, towns, and cities are to be shown on the new guide. Each of these falls into one of the five population categories — towns of less than 1,000 persons, towns up to 5,000, those with 25,000, and cities with populations up to 100,000. After a city's population passes this mark, Greer said, it will be shown as a stippled outline of the city limits. Thirteen insets of Texas' largest towns showing highway routes through these towns are continued in the margins of the map again this year.

For the past two years the Department has been attempting to develop a relief base for the travel map that would succeed in showing the contours of the land to better advantage without adding to the expense of the printing. Greer said. This year a method has finally been developed to show a true relief which can be reproduced in brown, conforming to all standard cartographic relief practices.

Also to improve the legibility of the map and to allow for the showing of more detail, the width of the highway bands has been reduced in size on the 1954 map. This is a particular advantage around cities where several highways converge, Greer pointed out.

He went on to say that Texas is so large that any attempt to map it at a scale that will accommodate all information of interest to tourists would not be practical. The size of road maps has been fairly well standardized all over the United States, and any attempt to squeeze Texas onto the same size sheet of paper required by the average state must necessarily prohibit the use of much interesting information.

All items that render service to the traveling public are clearly designated including roadside parks, historical points of interest, state and national parks and tourist information bureaus. A mileage index, which shows the distance between principal cities in Texas, is also compiled for the users assistance.

The Department usually receives about one-half million requests each year for a copy of the travel map. Copies may be obtained free of charge from any of the district

... what they'll do about price supports
... what the weather's going to be like
... what kind of prices you'll get this year

but we do know this You're going to save a pile of money on tractor fuel if you get yourself a new Oliver Diesel. In fact, we're so sure your fuel costs will be way down that we're going to make you an offer like you've never heard before:

we pay part of your fuel ourselves!
That's right. You come in and buy a new Oliver Diesel wheel tractor, and we'll pay half the tractor's fuel bills for 6 months' straight on your farm. 6 months, a full half year. And we mean any 6 months you say. Pick your heaviest work period, work any hours you want, our offer still goes. When the 6 months are up, just bring in your bills to show us what you spent, and we'll give you a check for half the full amount.

how we can make this offer
Your Oliver Diesel will burn only 6 gallons of fuel where your gasoline tractor burns 10—and you know there's a big difference in the price per gallon.

But that's only part of it. Your upkeep will be low, too. The diesel is far simpler than a gasoline engine. No carburetor. No plugs. Fewer moving parts. So your Oliver Diesel won't need any more servicing than a gasoline tractor, and when it does, we've got the diesel-trained mechanics to do the job right!

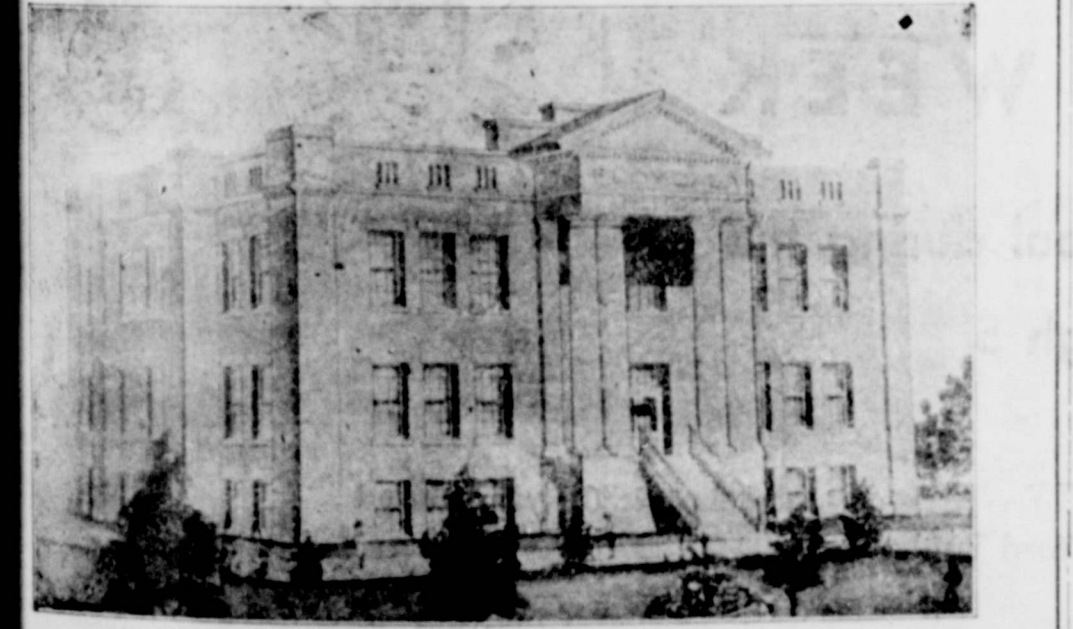

OLIVER diesels aren't make-overs
These Oliver diesels are no make-overs. They start and run on diesel fuel. And we mean start, right away, even in freezing weather, or after a long lay-up.

The Oliver is the only diesel you can buy in any power class, two-plow, three-plow, four-plow, any size you want. And certainly now is the time to buy yours, now while this offer stands:

BUY AN OLIVER DIESEL AND WE'LL BUY HALF YOUR FUEL!
