

Pupil Transfer Date Advanced

Parents and guardians of Floyd county scholastics this week are being advised of the change in the rules governing scholastic transfers from one district to another this year.

County Superintendent Clarence Cuffee said transfers must be made before the first of June. Heretofore the deadline has been August 1.

Pupils in the high school grades or in grades not taught in the home district may be transferred to another district the same as in former years, the only difference being the change in the last day for the applications to be made.

The change, similar to the change in the dates for scholastic enumeration, is made to speed up the administrative work of the state school system so as to have all detail work completed and ready when the school year opens. It is looked upon by school administrators as a good move to avoid confusion and delay.

Don't Confuse Repellants And Insecticides

COLLEGE STATION, April — Insect repellent preparations and home insecticides are popular controls for insect pests, but should not be confused one for the other. Repellents are applied to the skin or clothing to keep insects off and insecticides are used to kill insects, explains Neal M. Randolph, extension entomologist.

Home gardeners, outdoor workers, campers, picnickers or families sitting in the yard will find repellents helpful in warding off mosquitoes, gnats, chiggers, ticks and other annoying insects.

Repellent preparations, usually in liquid, lotion or cream form, are available at drug, hardware and grocery stores. Randolph says among the most satisfactory chemicals are dimethyl carbate, dimethyl phthalate, ethyl-hexanediol and indalone. The container usually lists the chemicals in each preparation.

Unlike many old repellents these substances have little or no odor and give protection several hours. Mosquito, fly and gnat repellents should be applied directly to the skin. Rub uniformly on to exposed areas and repeat every two or three hours. Be sure there are no skin abrasions and do not apply near the eyes.

Chigger and tick repellents are most effective when applied to the clothing, but not to your best clothes. The chemicals are likely to spot or stain and even damage synthetic fibers.

A few drops dabbed around the top of the socks and shoes gives protection against these crawling insects. They also may be applied to openings in the clothing around waistbands, cuff and collars.

Hopper and Chinch Bug Infestations Likely This Year

COLLEGE STATION, — Grasshoppers, one of the nation's major agricultural pests, may be more abundant in some areas this year. Barring weather and other natural conditions that might affect their populations, infestation surveys conducted last fall indicate these insects will need to be controlled over wide areas of the United States to avoid excessive crop and range damage.

On western ranges the survey showed grasshoppers in such numbers to warrant large-scale control efforts on 4,700,000 acres in parts of 13 states. If 'hoppers' develop normally, entomologists expect the greatest need for organized control to be centered in the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles, in north central New Mexico, south central Colorado and in central Idaho.

Other western states with potentially serious grasshopper infestations are Arizona, California, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, Oregon, Utah and Wyoming.

America: Nation on Wheels

The United States, with about six per cent of the world's population, has 78 per cent of the world's automobiles and 51.6 per cent of its trucks and buses. Plentiful and economical supplies of oil which America's privately managed oil industry makes available to fuel these motor vehicles, helps make this possible.

LOOK ON THE OTHER SIDE

The young daughter was very boisterous, and her father wanted it quiet, so he could read. He clipped a large war map from the paper, tore it up into bits like a jigsaw puzzle, and told his daughter to sit down and put the map together again. This, he thought, would keep her occupied for several hours.

The little girl was delighted and took the handful of torn paper. In just a little while she was back, the map all neatly arranged and perfectly put together. "See here, Daddy, here it is!" she shouted, as she ran up to him with the map on a magazine.

John Bley Has Studebaker and Oliver Dealership

John Bley is the new owner of Plains Equipment Company having purchased the business from J. W. Fannin, and is in charge of operations.

Name of the firm will be changed to Bley's Motor Service and it will continue as agency for Studebaker cars and Oliver farm machinery.

Mr. Bley and wife and daughter, Gloria Fay, are at home in west Floydada having purchased the Dr. Bess place, 740 west Grover.

The Bleys chose to make Floydada their home when they became interested in the new business venture. They also have property in Lubbock.

The Bleys are not new to west Texas, having lived in Plainview some 18 years. They were in the grocery business there for 14 years before moving to Arkansas where they spent the year just past.

12 Indictments Charge Felony Violations

The sheriff's department have had a busy time of it for two weeks or so, principally in the investigation of burglaries in widely-scattered areas of the county.

Yesterday the results of their investigations were placed before the Floyd county grand jury, resulting in the return of 12 indictments.

The indictments, returned into open court late yesterday were as follows:

Bill Jett, R. B. Mize and Winfred Boone are charged with burglarizing Andrews Blacksmith Aiken, Handley's Shop, Lockney, Knox Grocery, Lockney, and Consumers Oil at Lone Star, all on March 29. Fourth man not apprehended also indicted in all these four cases. (Four indictments in these cases).

CORRECT POSTURE is important whether you're at an office desk, in a cozy TV chair or behind the wheel of a car. This fact is being emphasized by the Public Health Committee of the Texas State Chiropractic Association which is sponsoring Posture Week throughout Texas May 1-7.

Local Short Story Success Is Told

The Creative Writers met Thursday night in the library reading room of the courthouse. The club was elated over the news that Mrs. Q. D. Williams had sold her magazine rights to a child's story. The story sold above the current rate for this type publication. Mrs. Williams read the story to the club.

The story is entitled "The Doggie Calf" and was purchased by the Child Training Association of Chicago, Illinois, for publication in the magazine, "Children's Activities."

Mrs. Williams wrote the story four years ago with hopes of selling it as a child's book. Only recently had she submitted it as a short story.

The Creative Writers will meet again April 29. Anyone interested is invited to attend the meeting.

TOUGH CROWD

A man was walking past the police court one day and dropped in to see a friend who was presiding judge. The judge invited him to sit on the bench with him. As he sat down by the judge, he looked around the crowded courtroom.

"I see you have a remarkably tough lot of customers to deal with this morning," he said to the judge and loud enough for most to head.

"Shss! Shss!" replied the judge. "Not so loud. Those are the lawyers you're looking at."

For The Birds

Washington — A change in style of Army hats nearly a century ago may have inspired the old saying, "It's for the birds."

On August 15, 1855, the Army issued an order outmoding the old style Army hat and introduced a new one.

The new style headgear — cut from black felt — was topped by black feather ornaments — three for major to general, two for lieutenant to captain and one for enlisted men.

It may have been this hat which also inspired some soldier to refer to his comrades in arms as "my fine feathered friends."

The U. S. Army last year added 1,801 physically handicapped workers to the total already employed in Department of the Army headquarters and installations throughout the world. Of this group, 1,240 are veterans.

Don't Worry About The Bull

A young man, one of a group of picnickers, climbed over a fence to gather wild flowers for his girl. He noticed a huge bull regarding him suspiciously.

E. A. Williams New President of Lions Club

Floydada Lions club held their annual election of officers last Thursday at a business session that took place of the usual weekly program. Earl Crow, president, presided with George Spears, secretary-treasurer, reading the nominations which were made several weeks ago.

Officers named were E. A. Williams, president; Bill Baker, 1st vice-president; George Spears, second vice-president; Kenneth Rimmer, secretary-treasurer; Gene Collins, jr., Lion tamer; Claude Weathersbee, tail twister. The new officers will take office July 1. Also elected were two new directors, George Allen and J. G. Wood.

Other business discussed was a new clean up date in Floydada set for week of May 16 in place of the original date which conflicted with the closing of school and activities of the Old Settlers reunion.

This week-end four delegates and the club sweetheart will attend the district 271 convention of Lions at Amarillo to be held April 23 and 24. Those scheduled to represent the club are Jess Wood, George Spears, Lyndell Roberts, Earl Crow and Norma Dunn.

Week For Clean Up May 16-22

The work that a good many citizens begin hurriedly to perform about their premises when the clean up brigade heaves into sight on clean up day is the work they should have already had done the week before.

This summarizes the thinking this week of the Lions club, chamber of Commerce and city officials with reference to clean up week May 16 to 22 in Floydada.

The Lions and the chamber of commerce are working jointly to make clean up week in Floydada a real clean up period this year, said Olin M. Watson, jr., manager of the chamber of commerce. In this effort they have the blessing and pledge of support from the city.

One hundred posters, 200 streamers, radio talks, newspaper stories and other public announcements will be used in the campaign to make the public clean up conscious. The campaign is timed for the spring days when a good kill of weeds can be had, when the urge to clean up, paint up, brighten up is strongest.

Also it is planned for the week just before school commencement and the pioneer re-union. There will be special events for every day in the week, to be climaxed by an inspection day.

Appointment of committees by Lions club president Earl Crow to carry through on the project is due to be made next week.

McLean Physician Stricken at Wheel; Wife Averts Crash

Quick action by a McLean woman, Mrs. H. Webb Finley, saved the car driven by her husband, a retired physician, from a possible smash-up Monday after Dr. Finley suffered a heart attack at the wheel.

The Finleys were returning from a visit with their son in Lubbock when he suffered the attack about four miles south of Floydada. Mrs. Finley took control of the car and brought it to a halt without mishap.

Dr. Finley, 70, was taken to the Peoples hospital by Harmon ambulance with the assistance of a highway patrolman. The doctor was later transferred to St. Mary's hospital in Lubbock where his condition was reported to be satisfactory late Monday.

REPORTS INDICATE MRS. FAULKNER IS RALLYING

Mrs. Otto Faulkner, of Long Beach, gravely ill for weeks, is responding to surgery and medical treatment satisfactorily.

Mrs. E. P. Nelson, her mother, who has been at Long Beach for three weeks, gave this encouraging report in news from her daughter's bedside this week.

The family anticipates that Mrs. Faulkner will undergo further surgery about mid-May, in expectation of complete ultimate recovery.

Appointment of Mr. Irons as campaign chairman was made by Ben. H. Wooten of Dallas, general chairman for Texas.

FHS Students Election Friday

Floydada high school student body is in the midst of the annual campaign for important offices with the vote to be held Friday morning.

President and vice-president of the student council, the Whirl editor and the Whirlwind annual editor are to be chosen.

For student council president four candidates have been put forward. They are George Chapman, Walter Simmons, Jackie Henry and Doyle Grundy.

In the race for vice-president there is a list of aspirants. Seeking the post are Jerry Coltharp, Bobby Carmack, Dale Redd and Gaynell Armstrong.

Two candidates are seeking the Whirl editorship, Carolyn Downing and Christine Brints, while three are offering for annual editor. They are LaFaua Ballard, Darlene Bryant and Ginger Tharin.

The campaign speeches will be the order of the day in the first period at high school in the morning (Friday), and the election will take place immediately following.

The ballots will be styled in accordance with provisions of the Texas election laws and the vote will be conducted likewise, with the Student Council as the governing body, acting with faculty advice.

Students elected to the places will take over the duties of their offices at the opening of the school year in September.

FHS Senior Class Members Feted By Methodist Men

Forty-one of 51 members of the senior class of Floydada high school due to graduate this spring, were special guests of the Methodist men in fellowship hall of the First Methodist church Tuesday night.

The group, numbering 96, counting host members and members of Floydada high school faculty, heard a program featuring an address by Dr. Garnet Gracy, business manager of McMurry college, Abilene. What a college student should expect of a college and what the college expects of a student was his subject.

Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Graves, Estie Baker, with H. G. Barber and Miss Anne Swepton, senior class sponsors, were honor guests.

Gordon Bennett, executive vice-president of McMurry, presented the speaker.

Also present for the gathering was Harold G. Cook, president of McMurry, who was here overnight, guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson.

EASY EXPENSE

Oil magnate John D. Rockefeller the elder spent his money cautiously. At one time, after much deliberation, he decided to buy an automobile, recounts the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. He finally selected the car which impressed him most with its performance and appearance. He hesitated, however, before closing the deal.

"Is something wrong?" asked the salesman.

"I was just wondering," said Rockefeller, "how much it costs to maintain this car."

"That depends mostly on the price of gasoline," replied the salesman.

"In that case," said John D., relieved, "I guess I can afford it."

COVER HIM UP

An absent-minded gravedigger dug so deep that he could not get out. Nightfall came and the evening was chill. His cries of anguish at last attracted a drunk.

"Get me out of here shouted the gravedigger. "I am cold."

The drunk viewed the situation for a minute and then shouted: "No wonder you're cold. You haven't any dirt over you."

BRIDE'S PROFIT

A bride-to-be was showing her friend a list of guests to be invited to the wedding.

After her friend had read the names she looked puzzled.

"What's the matter?" asked the bride-to-be.

"Isn't it rather strange," queried the friend, "you have only put down the names of married couples?"

"Yes, that was Jack's idea. Don't you think it's clever? He says that if we invite only married people the presents will be all clear profit."

Baseball Opener Lost to Olton By Whirlwinds

The Whirlwinds lost their opening baseball game here last Thursday afternoon when they went down before the Olton Mustangs by a one sided 17-2 count. The more experienced visitors were held pretty good for several innings before they found the winning form and swamped the locals.

Coach Watson reported the game was worth much to the 'Winds in experience gained and they would be improving rapidly, but could hardly be expected to play on even terms with a team like the Mustangs this early in the season.

With track competition over for most of the athletes more time can be devoted to baseball and a much better showing is expected of the boys before school is out.

Next scheduled district game is er in 1884. In 1887 they moved to Collin county, Texas, in 1913 to Motley county, and in 1918 to Floyd county. They made their home in this county and farmed until her husband's passing in 1931.

GOLDEN CIRCLE S.S. CLASS

Mrs. Cooper had been a member of the Baptist church since early childhood and was a member of the First Baptist church here at the time of her passing.

ON THE HOUSE

Three alcoholics after celebrating awhile, discovered they didn't have a cent among them. Each needed a drink so badly he could taste it. Finally, one of them said, "I got an idea I think will work."

He went to a busy bar and had his friend wait outside. The first guy walked up to the bar and ordered a whisky. The bartender served him, tended to other customers and returned, saying:

"That'll be 50 cents, buddy."

"Why I paid you when you served me the drink," the first guy said. The bartender gave him a long look, shrugged his shoulders, and the guy walked out to his friends.

County's Alfalfa Acreage Increased

Harold Wood, manager of National Alfalfa Mill at Lockney, yesterday estimated that the alfalfa acreage in the area served by the mill, has been increased this spring.

He told how easy it was, and No. 2 walked in to the bar.

He asked for a whisky, was served, and again the bartender took a while before he asked for 50 cents. The second guy protested he had paid the money when he was served. The bartender argued a while but finally accepted the story.

The third guy, drooling, rushed to the bar and ordered a whisky. As he put the drink before him, the bartender said:

"You know, the funniest thing happened to me just a while ago. Two guys came in here, one after the other and each had a drink. Then when I asked for the money both claimed they had paid me. Ja ever hear anything as screwy as that?"

The third guy downed his drink and said: "Listen, bub, I've got troubles of my own. Give me my change. I've got to catch a train."

Dogs Go To Korea

PUSAN, Korea — The Korean hasn't gone to the front though the dogs have gone to the front.

In fact, 26 of them are a short time ago.

All were German Shepherd members of the "Canaan" training days at Camp Colorado.

The dogs and their owners were officially called the Scout Dog Platoon — serving with the Seventh Division.

VIEWES AND COMMENT

Was it a Freak? The next two or three weeks are crucial, weatherwise, in the southwest. So says Senator Lyndon B. Johnson. Most of Texas has had a rain—some too much, some not enough, some just “teasers.” We’ll know quickly whether the rains were just a freak of nature or whether the backbone of our drouth will be broken. If it is a cycle of drouth-breaking rainfall, it will be brief but lifesaving. One thing for sure, he said. It will take a lot of rain to make up for the months and years of drouth. Ten or 12 inches, falling right and within an extended period of time—two to three weeks—will be needed to restore the soil.

Relief Measures Few. For the immediate future, if the rains fail to keep up, the relief measures available are few in number. Means of battling wind erosion are the principal ones. But for the long range the senator is urging that we need small dams to trap water when it rains and reservoirs to store it against drouth. “We especially need those dams upstream!” He says he has introduced one bill for upstream development. He says a senate subcommittee is studying that measure now. The senator has taken our text and is preaching from it, when he talks like that. We need upstream protection for building dams before the water rights are all gobbled up down below. There can come the time, and it may be already here, in instances, where you could make every plan for a dam and be stymied by a right which the Brazos River Authority or some other authority may have already been given and allocated to a big down-stream user.

About Dust Storms. The government keeps figures on dust storms in which visibility is reduced to a mile or less. We are still quoting in substance what Senator Johnson reports. In the “dust bowl” years of 1936 there were 68 such storms in Texas and Oklahoma; in 1937 there were 72 (the all-time high mark); in 1938 there were 61. In 1953 there were 41 dust storms in Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle. Up to March 20 of 1954 there were 21 dust storms. If the rains fail to come and the storms continue it will be the worst year on record.

Who Gets Subsidies? You can't keep the man on the other side of the fence from putting forward his best foot. But we'd like for Floydada business men and our farmer friends who are in doubt to remember something about subsidies they may not know, which we are about to tell, or re-tell. Principally we repeat this because farm people are getting the bad end of the publicity in the price support program—and if the farm people are not our people we don't have any. Farm representatives have told this over and over, but the voice of organized farmers is drowned out in the hue and cry, the sound and fury.

The story is this: The cost of the price support program on the basic farm crops from October, 1933, through June of last year, (a total of 20 years) was just about one million dollars a year. Total cost of the program for all crops for the 20-year period was a billion, one hundred million. More than half of this came through support losses on potatoes and eggs, no longer supported.

Who else got subsidies? Well, the total for 1954 will be over $15 billion. Of this sum agriculture is due to receive one half billion, for price supports, for school lunch program, international wheat agreement, the Sugar Act, and all other aids of every kind to agriculture. Business will receive slightly more than a billion; labor will get a quarter of a billion; veterans will get nearly four billion and a half, international aids over seven and a half billion. Under miscellany for this and that not having to do with agriculture the subsidies will come to more than a billion, five hundred million. The situation is reaching the ridiculous point where everything and everybody will be subsidized, if it goes on in the manner this is started. But to single out farmers doesn't make sense. Since all the endeavors of mankind are to be subsidized by the government, why ignore all the others and rant at the farmer?

Opportunity Is Here. The Hesperian has said that if all the business people in Floydada who drive madly to some other city to get their bookkeeping done for them, their reports made, their income taxes figured and reported, would get together and get them a good accounting firm to locate here they could add a force of 20 well-paid people (and their families) to their town's population. But for that matter we could add at least half that many people to the payrolls of the community if just the Floydada people alone bought their bread, pastry and milk locally. And if everybody in Floydada (not the country people, just the town folks) shopped Floydada first for their dry goods you'd see several new faces behind counters in the stores. To this add the furniture man, the hardware, the grocery and the druggist—all shopped first, not last—and you'd have to double the sales forces. As the Chamber of Commerce recently suggested, it is everybody's fault. It is a safe assumption that money made in Floydada, spent in big “friendly” cities, never comes back. There are ways and ways to win a competitive race. One of them is to condition your own nag and then back her.

Lesson In Cookery. Since it is evident from the above that we know so much, we add a lesson in cookery, in regards to potatoes. It isn't the potato, incidentally, that adds the calories. It is the butter and gravy you pour over them. In other words, the popular belief that potatoes are fattening is not true. To get the most out of them cook with their jackets on. If they must be peeled, cook them in a small amount of water, making the parings thin, and serve promptly. Potatoes have a place in every meal. They can be baked, mashed, creamed, pan fried, French fried, put in stew, soups, salads, in pancakes and bread. Your home demonstration agent can tell you this and a lot more about potatoes. One objection to potatoes. You can't use a can opener, pour and serve.

Farm Magazine Salutes Floyd County Family

The Chester W. Mitchell family of Floyd county, is saluted as a Master Farm family in the May issue of The Progressive Farmer magazine. Their story is told in the article “He Used To Be A County Agent — Now He's A Master Farmer.”

Although he once gave advice to farmers as a county agricultural agent in Oklahoma, Mitchell likes being a farmer best. He began his farming operations near Lockney in 1946.

Mitchell is a strong believer in soil conservation. He was designated outstanding soil conservationist of Floyd county in 1962.

To improve the fertility of his soil, Mitchell started a fertilizing and legume plan as part of a rotation system. Cotton-milo-alfalfa-irrigated pasture with vetch as cover crop in 8 to 10 years makes Mitchell's rotation system. He has covered his entire place with alfalfa since 1946.

Mitchell has found deep plowing breaks up hardpan and helps water absorption and the control of weeds.

A believer in quality, Mitchell produces and sells certified milo seed. He believes the extra investment in his registered Duroc hogs and beef Shorthorns is justified. They take no more space than common quality livestock. They convert feed into animal products more efficiently and pay off better at the market. A complete set of records helps Mitchell keep a close eye on his business. Mitchell runs his 348 cultivated irrigated acres with the help of one man. His young sons Warren and Neil will help take over in a few years. Mrs. Mitchell and daughter Shirley Ann, keep the home running smoothly.

MR. AND MRS. A. A. MEREDITH

Stewart-Meredith Vows Said Sunday At Baptist Church

Mrs. Foy Cannaday Stewart of Austin and Wichita Falls became the bride of A. A. Meredith of Borger in an informal ceremony Sunday afternoon at the First Baptist church of Floydada. The Reverend Earl Allen spoke the marriage lines.

Daughter of Mrs. W. I. Cannaday and the late W. I. Cannaday, pioneer family of Floydada, Mrs. Meredith has been living in Austin for two years, after having lived in Wichita Falls for 25 years. The groom has been a resident of the Panhandle since 1914, having served as city manager of Borger for ten and a half years, before resigning last year to donate his services to direct the Canadian River Project. Before becoming city manager of Borger, he served as Administrative Officer for the Federal Government for nine years.

The bride entered on the arm of her son, L. G. Stewart of Odessa. Her gown was street-length of aqua silk, organza, embroidered in iridescent sequins, with matching ribbon hat. She carried a white prayer book topped with a white orchid. Mrs. L. J. Welborn of Floydada, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor. She wore pink lace with white accessories and carried a colonial nosegay bouquet.

Mr. Meredith was attended by his son, Robert N. Meredith of Borger, as best man. T. Z. Walker of Amarillo, son-in-law of the groom, and T. A. Norman of Austin, son-in-law of the bride, served as ushers.

Proceeding the ceremony, Mrs. Robert Meredith of Borger sang "At Dawning" and "Because," with piano accompaniment by Miss Ann Welborn of Floydada, niece of the bride. Miss Welborn also played a pre-nuptial medley and the traditional wedding marches.

A wedding reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the parlors of the church. Presiding at the refreshment table, centered with yellow carnations, were Mrs. T. Z. Walker of Amarillo and Mrs. T. A. Norman of Austin. Assisting in serving were Mrs. W. T. Morgan of Austin, Mrs. Robert Meredith of Borger, Mrs. Ernest Carter of Floydada, Mrs. L. G. Stewart of Odessa, and Miss Gayle Norman of Austin. Mrs. Glad Snodgrass of Floydada presided at the guest book.

After a brief wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Meredith will be at home in Borger.

Out-of-town guests here for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Lattimer, Mr. and Mrs. Neil G. Yours, Bob Meredith, W. O. Hamilton and Fred Herbst of Borger; Mr. and Mrs. Steve Matthews and Mrs. Wanda Jacobsen of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. T. Z. Walker, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Atkins, jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Loggren, sr., Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Loggren, jr., Mr. and Mrs. Garland Meredith and son and Mr. and Mrs. Garland Price of Amarillo;

Also Winfred Holbrook, of Plainview; Mr. and Mrs. Luther G. Stewart, of Odessa, Mrs. Ray Plake and Mrs. W. A. Plake and children of Portales, New Mexico; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Carpenter of McLean, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Norman and Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Morgan of Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Thompson and Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Merriman of Pampa, J. F. Allen of Perryton, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Glenn Grover of Wichita Falls.

LUNCHEON MEETING HELD BY WESLEY GIRLS CLASS

The Wesley Girls Sunday school class of the First Methodist church met at a luncheon April 14.

The theme used was Easter with Mrs. Richard Stovall presenting the Easter story. A hymn, "Power in the Blood" was sung by all.

Present were Mesdames Betty Tye, Walter Collins, J. B. Turner, David Battey, sr., G. L. Bryant, Noel Troutman, Roy Currie, J. D. Colville, Wilson Kimble, C. W. Burke, J. G. Wood, W. E. Grimes, D. T. Mayo, W. H. Bethel, G. R. May, J. M. Willson, sr., Ethel Sawyer, Tildon Armstrong, E. S. Randerson, V. W. Hennessie, R. E. Fry and Mrs. Edd Johnson.

Visitors present were Mesdames John Edwards Smith, Richard Stovall, Mrs. Koeman and Rev. Tilden B. Armstrong. Hostesses were Mesdames W. H. Henderson, Keller Holmes, Chas. Smith and Mrs. Frank Probasco.

Why is it so much fun to do a big job ourselves if we first count up how much it would cost to hire some one?

Take a man and his yard. He puts in a 20-hour week-end transplanting shrubs and geranium plants; he looks so much money not spending it on help, that he gallops over to the greenhouse and spends the same amount on three more shrubs and half a dozen tulips. The next day he feels so prosperous that he can overlook the stiff knees and aching back.

Or take a woman in her home. The window needs washing, now that spring has come. So she gets a price. At 35 cents a pane, let's see—Twenty windows, inside and out—humm—fourteen dollars. Gosh, I could have a new cotton dress. So she lets the regular housework go hang and for three of four days, just blows by the cookstove at meal-time, feels a little like a Christian martyr. But—she gets the windows washed. Then, happy over the saving, she runs downtown and finds a darling little cotton for only $19.95 (fair bonus for keeping the money at home).

There are several by-products of this do-it-yourself craze, however, that we may overlook. We exercise muscles that get mighty flabby in between bursts of money-saving energy. And we're gaining a little new respect for the workman who is "worthy of his hire." Half the time, we finish a job saying, "I sure wouldn't do it for 75 cents an hour for anyone else!" Then the next time we feel a desire to beat the game, we weigh the odds and, if we lose, feel better about paying to have it done.

Visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McLain this past week were their daughter, Mrs. J. E. Brown and children of Lubbock and a daughter-in-law, Mrs. J. H. McLain and children from Sandhill community.

Use of Annuals In Flower Garden Told Garden Club

At its regular meeting last Friday, Mrs. J. D. McBrien talked to the Floydada Garden club about the use of annuals in the flower garden.

Members answered roll call with some things that Floydada needs to improve the town, among the things suggested were the following ideas:

Park improvement program; A cleanup-campaign early in the season; Help the colored people to improve their section of town; A better way to collect trash so as to keep papers from the residential area; Business people to park their cars all day on streets where customers park; More civic minded citizens to help in the flower show late in May in June. Mrs. J. C. Keeling was the speaker.

Now you pay less for long distance telephone calls

The excise tax cut voted by Congress on your long distance telephone calls is good news.

It means that Long Distance calls now cost less than before April 1—12% less, in most cases.

You get the full benefit of the tax cut. Not a penny goes to the telephone company. That makes long distance an even bigger bargain.

100 Years of Insect control progress

Primitive "Swat That Fly" campaigns are now as outdated as the buggywhip. Today, scientists are calling on the awesome power of atomic energy to help fight man's perpetual battle against the insects. Using atomic energy as a tool to learn the secrets of insects in an ultra-modern development. Researchers believe it can help them determine insect resistance to insecticides and reveal the cause of insect outbreaks. This new step comes on the 100th birthday of insect research in the United States.

The science of entomology began serving the public in 1854 when New York State and the Federal Government each employed an entomologist. Dr. Asa Fitch focused his attention on New York's insect problem and Townsend Glover originated federal research on pests of cotton and citrus fruits.

Since that time, more than 10,000 species of insect pests have been the target of entomologists. The fight has involved research, quarantine and active area-wide control efforts.

Among the major accomplishments can be listed the successful campaigns against house flies and mosquitoes that began about 1900. A "Swat That Fly" program started that year had much to do with the present 90 percent decrease in the number of Typhoid cases, one of the many diseases carried by flies.

Serious efforts to control mosquitoes began when medical men learned the connection between disease and insects. As a result of entomological and medical efforts, there has been no outbreak of yellow fever in the United States since 1905.

Poed-wise, the codling moth that once took 50 to 90 percent of the apple crop now gets less than 5 percent of U. S. production because of the development and application of methods to control it. And 80 years ago, the Colorado potato beetle destroyed a major portion of the crop over wide areas. Arsenical dusts was first used to control this pest, and since 1946, modern insecticides and insect control methods have increased potato production per area by about 50 percent.

Borer Is Pest In Trees

George Elle, Professor of Entomology, Texas Tech

A troublesome insect pest of fruit trees in West Texas is the tree borer.

It attacks different species of trees to some extent. Many orchards are being destroyed by a greater number of trees.

The tree borer has run rampant in most of the fine, apple and Boliana popular areas. Many more are being destroyed than those that are not.

It is black and white, and lays its eggs around the tree. After hatching, the borer tunnels through the tree, creating an important inner bark hole.

In all borer control three things are important: (1) Make your first application of preventive spray early in the season before the adult has an opportunity to enter the tree and begin to lay its eggs.

(2) Spray at month intervals throughout the season. (3) Use a DDT spray of the correct concentration and cover the bark thoroughly.

prevent the infestation by spraying. Mix three tablespoons of a 25 percent DDT emulsion in a gallon of water and spray over the trunk of the tree. Pull the soil away from the base and make certain the entire bark surface is well covered. Do not spray foliage. Spray monthly beginning the latter part of May.

The peach tree borer attacks the stone-fruit trees. This pest works in much the same manner as the shade tree borer, but its damage is easier to spot. Bark of the lower trunk usually turns black and a gummy material exudes. Control is the same as for the poplar tree borer. Remember: Once the borer is in the spray will not reach him.

Another troublesome pest of fruit trees is the shot-hole borer, a tiny fellow that bores holes about the size of a buck shot in the bark of trees and branches. This borer causes branches to die one at a time. If you find shot-hole borers, spray the branches just as you did for the peach tree borer; then religiously fertilize and irrigate the tree for good growth to ward off more borers.

A small wood borer works in the trunk and branches of weeping willow trees so effectively that an old weeping willow is a rarity in West Texas. Again use the recommended DDT spray on the branches and trunk. Adherence to this spray program will allow your weeping willow to live.

In all borer control three things are important: (1) Make your first application of preventive spray early in the season before the adult has an opportunity to enter the tree and begin to lay its eggs. (2) Spray at month intervals throughout the season. (3) Use a DDT spray of the correct concentration and cover the bark thoroughly.

Verticillium Wilt, Cotton Disease, Gaining Ground

Verticillium wilt is considered a "growing problem for West Texas" in the May issue of The Progressive Farmer magazine. This cotton disease strikes when the crop is fruiting. It is a cool weather disease and usually becomes a problem when soil temperatures drop below normal.

It first gave serious trouble on the High Plains in 1949 and has continued to spread since then.

The disease lives in the soil. As long as soil temperature stands at 90 degrees, there is no outside evidence of "vert." The disease has 200 host plants. It avoids certain types of soil that contain a lot of salt or high sodium content.

The disease is usually carried to new areas by wind-borne leaves and trash. Land leveling also helps distribute it.

Some cultural practices help the cotton grower to live with the disease. In West Texas, more plants per foot give better yields. In this area, the high 2-row bed increases the soil temperature and reduces wilt damage.

Only moderately deep cultivation is recommended where wilt is a problem. Fertilizers seem to have little effect on this type of wilt. Well-balanced complete fertilizers are preferred to nitrogen alone.

In areas where it is no longer a common practice to rotate alfalfa with cotton, wilt has increased. "Vert" has spread rapidly on the High Plains since the area turned heavily to cotton. It is believed cotton acreage control will likely check the spread of the disease.

This is the 1954 Chevrolet Bel Air 2-Door Sedan. With 3 series, Chevrolet offers a model to meet every individual and family need.

These facts about the New Chevrolet can help you make an important decision

Don't you agree that buying a new car calls for careful consideration? Regardless of make, it involves a substantial amount of money and a lot of future satisfaction. This information can give you a better idea of comparative value and help you decide which make to buy.

A good customer of ours was telling us the other day how he sizes up a new car. Because he's bought a number of them over the years, we were interested in what he had to say. We think you will be, too.

Actually, what he does is to ask about seven basic questions. The answers give a pretty complete picture of the car and its comparative value. Here's what he wants to know.

How well do I like its looks?
That's one question, of course, that only you can answer. You're the one who buys the car and you, above anybody else, should be proud of its appearance.

All we can tell you is that we hear a lot of nice things about Chevrolet's new styling. People seem to like the new front-end and rear-end designs, and the way the bumpers curve even farther around the fenders. They like the new styling touches all around the car and the wide choice of bright new colors and two-tone combinations. A good many tell us that Chevrolet has a decided edge over the other cars in its field for smooth and graceful lines.

Who makes the body?
This question takes in much more territory than the appearance of the car. It involves the quality of the transmission and optional on all models at extra cost. In gearshift models, you get the more powerful "Blue-Flame 115" engine.

But, actually, the increase in horsepower is only a sort of by-product of design changes made for other reasons. Chevrolet engineers were after greater engine efficiency, not just greater power. So, you get improved acceleration, with greater and safer passing ability. You get quieter, smoother operation. You climb the steep hills with new ease.

How hungry is it for gasoline?
A car's reputation for, and record of, economy of operation is certainly an important consideration to most people. We'd be glad to have you compare Chevrolet in this respect with any car at any price.

And, in the case of this new Chevrolet, you do not have to sacrifice economy for finer performance and more horsepower. That's because the Chevrolet engines are high-compression engines. Their compression ratio of 7.5 to 1 is the highest in any of the leading low-priced cars.

This means simply that the engine compresses, or squeezes, the fuel mixture to a greater degree in order to wring more work out of it. That's how Chevrolet is able to give you an important gain in performance along with money-saving gasoline mileage—and on regular gas, of course.

Is it up to date in features?
We can't think of a new feature or development you might want that you can't have on the new Chevrolet.

As you can see the difference outside and inside. We'd especially like you to look over the new interiors. Just sit in the car, if you will. Feel the quality of the fabrics and notice the more generous use of vinyl trim.

In all these ways, you'll find evidence of superior quality and workmanship. And after all, isn't that what you would expect in Body by Fisher? As you know, Fisher is the largest and most famous manufacturer of automobile bodies in the world. Doesn't it stand to reason that Fisher can build extra quality into the Chevrolet body? It's there and you can see it.

What's under the hood?
You hear a great deal of talk these days about engine power. The truth is that the number of horsepower isn't nearly as important as what the horsepower does for you.

In this year's Chevrolet, you get increased power in two finer engines. There's the "Blue-Flame 125" engine teamed with Powerglide automatic

Now you can have Chevrolet's zippy and thrifty Powerglide automatic transmission on any model. You can have Power Steering on all models and at a new, lower price. You can have Automatic Window and Seat Controls on any Bel Air or "Two-Ten" model, and you can have Power Brakes on any model equipped with Powerglide. All are, of course, optional features at extra cost.

How popular a car is it?
When you come right down to it, there's no better way to judge the satisfaction a car gives its owners than by its popularity. How many people buy it and keep on buying it?

Well, as you may know, Chevrolet is by far the most popular car in this country. That's true today and it's been true for a good many years now. But it couldn't be true—or wouldn't be true—unless Chevrolet gave its owners an extra measure of satisfaction and value.

How much does it cost?
There's a short, sweet answer to that one: Chevrolet is priced below all other lines of cars. This lower cost is made possible by the greater production facilities and purchasing power of the world's largest manufacturer of automobiles. That's why Chevrolet can offer you all the advantages we've told you about here—and many more, too.

We'd be more than glad to have you see all these things for yourself and to try out this new Chevrolet on the road. We'll be happy to see you at any time.

J. C. Penney Co. Lays Plans For Big Expansion

NEW YORK, April 20 — Stockholders of J. C. Penney Company, nation-wide department store organization, heard at the annual meeting today that 1954 will see the company's largest new-store expansion in more than 20 years.

A. W. Hughes, president, said the company will open at least 30 new stores this year in communities where it has not previously operated stores.

In the planning stage are a total of 63 new stores including 46 which, he said, will be suburban or shopping center stores to meet the increasing demand for shopping facilities outside the larger cities.

In addition, 53 existing stores will be relocated in new buildings which, he said, were long served by Penney stores, compared with 17 last year.

Also, the company will continue an extensive program of remodeling and improving existing stores. Last year 176 stores were improved by refixturing or by adding selling space and at least this number will be improved this year, he said.

Optimistic about the future business conditions, Mr. Hughes told the stockholders: "No one could be privileged to share in the general operation of a nation-wide concern, located in nearly 1,600 communities, without having faith in the vitality of the American system and our free way of life."

"The continued increase in population, the movement to Suburbia, the urge to better living — all help to provide a constantly enlarged area of opportunity for our company. We believe that Penney Company is in an excellent position to take advantage of this opportunity."

John Reue, local Penney store manager, stated this week that the remodeling and improving of the store here was a part of this policy of investing in the future of America.
