Floydada public schools will open the fall session September 1 with 54 teachers plus two cafeteria supervisors. All three schools will open on Wednesday, September 1.

The district school board held a session Tuesday night in which they completed the roster of their faculty, and made the decision that all schools in the system will open on Wednesday, September 1 — a mid-week opening date.

Superintendent I. T. Graves yesterday said the board's session also arrived at final decisions on numerous detail matters in connection with the rapid approach of the school year opening.

During the summer vacation janitors and workmen have had a busy season of maintenance. The school's plants will be in excellent condition to receive the biggest scholastic enrollment in the school's history.

Adding Two Teachers
Of the 54 teachers who will report for duty at the session of the faculty on Wednesday morning, August 31, at 9 o'clock, 11 will be new.

Nine of these will be replacements, two of them filling new positions created on the faculty. One new teacher is being added in the home economics department and one new teacher in the second grade at Andrews Ward.

Teachers elected to places on the faculty and their assignments are as follows:
High School Division
A. E. Baker — Principal;
Robert Aldredge — English and Science;

H. G. Barber and James Carroll; Vocational Agriculture;
Ira Colley — Mathematics;
Bob Copeland — Mathematics;

De Wayne Cleveland — History and Assistant Coach;
Joseph Hendricks — Industrial Arts and J. B. Business;
Paul Huntington — Safety Director.

Less Regulation, Less Confusion
Less regulation, less control and less confusion are expected to result in the change over from last year's one-way traffic system that was confusing to some and was resented by others.

A plat of the area that will be patrolled has been prepared by James Potts and J. R. King of the Rotary club community safety committee. The one-way traffic system in effect last year was a great improvement over the utter confusion that formerly marked school mornings and afternoons.

Now in process of preparation for the opening day of school are signs for No Parking and No Through Traffic. White belt rigging for student traffic handlers, and proper training are also scheduled for the pre-school days later this month.

JAYCEES TO JAIL Inspection Trip Next Tuesday

The Floydada Jaycees go to jail next week, Floyd county Sheriff Earl Cooper says, however, that the members of the local young men's organization will not be in jail permanently but will just make a short visit to the county's house of detention.

B. B. Henry, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, made arrangements this week for his organization to spend half of their meeting time next Tuesday at the county jail looking over county facilities for law enforcement.

"The Jaycees feel that every citizen should know what facilities his community has for enforcing the law. This will also give him a fuller understanding of where his tax money is spent," Henry said.

County officials say that they welcome group inspection of the county's jail and equipment. They point out that when the citizen is familiar with what the county has to work with, the problem of law enforcement is easier, both from the cooperation of the citizens and the pointed lesson to the law breaker.

The Junior Chamber also invites the public to share their jail inspection next week. Guests can either eat their noon meal with the Jaycees at the American Legion hall or take the guided tour at 12:30. Henry and Sheriff Cooper have urged Jaycees members to bring their children to Tuesday's meeting and include them in the jail inspection trip.

Name Officers of Legion Post
Members of McDermott post, American Legion, Monday night elected Allen Bingham to the post of commander, in an election which named a complete slate of officers for the year.

Along with Bingham were chosen: Wayne Collins, first vice-commander; Kenneth Bain, Jr., second vice-commander; W. Orville Newberry, adjutant; J. C. Wester, finance officer; Carl Minor, Jr., chaplain; Harry Morckel, historian; Darrell G. Ayres, service officer; Wells B. Henry, child welfare officer; and James H. Holmes, sergeant-at-arms.

Named on the executive committee were Walter Collins, J. M. Willson and Harry Morckel, custodian of Legion property will be Kenneth Tate.

The newly-elected officers will be installed by the district commander in the near future, it was announced, probably in the first week or two of September.

Mrs. Roy Hollar Librarian Resigns Post; Will Teach
Mrs. Roy Hollar, who has been librarian of the Floyd county free library since its opening slightly more than a year ago, has resigned her place and will take up an assignment in the Crystal City high school on August 30.

Notice that she is asking to be relieved was given the county board and the Commissioners court last week. Judge Ralph C. Johnston said that the court is accepting the resignation with regret. "Mrs. Hollar's leaving will be a great loss to Floydada and the other communities of Floyd county," said the judge.

In offering her resignation Mrs. Hollar expressed her appreciation to the people of Floyd county for their help in expanding the library's usefulness during the year she has been here. "I hope to have the occasion to visit with friends of Floyd county often," she said.

Brake Failure at Street Intersection Causes Accident
Mrs. Floyd Webb was bruised slightly Monday when her 1951 Studebaker was involved in an accident with a Cantrell fruit truck at Main and Houston.

Mrs. Keith Cantrell, driver of the truck was going north on Main at the intersection. The brakes failed and the truck plowed into the driver's side of the Studebaker, traveling west on Houston, causing considerable damage to the car. A hole was knocked through the door by the impact, the report of the accident said.

Estimated damage to the car was between $400 and $500. The truck received only a few dents.

Investigating officer was Police chief, Bob Smith.

Three Will Attend THDA Convention
Texas Home Demonstration Association members will hold their twenty-eighth annual convention in Dallas August 11-13.

Attending from Floyd county will be Mrs. J. T. Spears, Sandhill, Mrs. E. G. Norrell, Homebuilders club and Mrs. M. M. Julian of South Plains.

A full three days of activity is planned and the business session will complete the convention August 13.

Water Works, Sewer Expansion Work Begins to Get Under Way

Progress of the city's water and sewer lines expansion program is tied into the delivery of pipe and other materials for the job.

With machinery at hand here for several days the job was beginning to move somewhat last week-end with the arrival of some of the pipe for the sewer lines.

Allan Meador, of Oklahoma City, who was superintendent of the 1947 expansion job for the municipality's water and sewer contract, will be superintendent for Sherman Machine and Iron works on the work here again this year.

Meador had not gone into the blue prints of his work, but was lining up to get into the work as soon as he could get materials in sufficient quantities to justify a beginning.

One of the first things Meador will do after the easement is rati-fied will be to dig 2,200 feet of ditch for the pipe from the new city well to the ground level storage on the Ralls road. This will relieve the present emergency line from the well to the tank, run on top of the ground through six-inch aluminum pipe. Material for the underground line has been on hand for several days.

Meador said the major portion of his labor will be obtained on the local level. He has Lewis Woods of Marlow, Oklahoma, for his "machine man." Woods, his wife and child arrived last week.

The building program calls for about five miles of new water line, some of it replacing smaller lines in the down-town district, together with a considerable number of new fire hydrants and new lines in the residential area.

The sewer lines will cover a considerable area of the city not heretofore served, and a large part of the contract money will go for an adequate disposal plant, greatly enlarging the present facilities.

Approximately $142,000 will be spent on the new sewer and water lines and the disposal plant. The new storage tank will represent a cost to the city of slightly less than $38,000.

Money for the improvements has been provided through the issuance of water and sewer revenue bonds. Of a $300,000 issue $59,000 was used to retire a previous issue of revenue bonds against the waterworks, and $41,000 is being held in reserve for future expansion needs.

Spotted rainfall, that favored a large Dougherty area far better than any other section, fell over Floyd county in an unusual northeast to southwest movement of storm clouds Monday night.

Dougherty town had 1.5 inches of rain, five miles south Jack Ross had 1.65, west at Bill Norman's the gauge measured 1.9 inches. The rain gradually lightened west and northwest. At Sam Green's on the highway, eight miles east of Floydada the fall was an inch.

The good rainfall lightened up northward. Sam Lide reported 6-tenths, compared with 1.07 at J. T. Poole's and 1.05 at Bill Smith's both south of Dougherty. Howard Drysdale, north of the highway, had 75-hundredths.

Norman said his crop was damaged to some extent by hail. There was good rain also in the north part of the county, and some hail damage report on the deep north side. The storm cloud had blowing dust ahead of it.

Floydada and the immediate area had from a trace to a quarter of an inch. But at Lockney the fall was reported variously at from 5-tenths to an inch.

To show how spotted the fall was Sam Fowler at Center estimated the fall there at half an inch. On northeast at the W. E. Burleson place only a trace of rain fell. An inch favored most of the Plomat area, according to incomplete reports.

Floydada July Water Use Far Above Average

In spite of the fact that water use for two days July 26 and 27, following the showers, was way down, Floydada people used a total of 33,107,000 gallons of water, considerably above a million gallons a day during July.

Meter figures given out the first of the week by Water Superintendent B. V. Carver showed the above figure as the total run for the 31 days, the average daily run being 1,065,000 gallons.

The peak pumping was on July 23, when 1,819,000 gallons was put through the master meter. The extreme heat kept lawn sprinklers, air cooling systems and bath tub faucets going at an unprecedented rate.

Carver's figures show one of two things, he declared:
(1) Either Floydada has a much larger population than the estimated 3,500 souls residing here; or

(2) Water use in Floydada runs far and away above the average for the state, usually figured at 100 gallons per person per day.

Figuring the population of Floydada at 3,500 persons the water use was more than three times the average for Texas at 304.25 gallons per person.

Figuring the other way round the population of Floydada would be 10,650 persons.

Carver is inclined to believe that the people of Floydada are big water users and the population of the community is not 10,650 persons.

Mrs. J. E. Watson Sick Four Years, Died on Saturday
Mrs. Dovie Watson, 69, wife of J. E. Watson, died here Saturday in the Peoples hospital after an illness of four years. She had been a patient in the hospital for a week.

Funeral service was held Monday at 3 o'clock in the First Baptist church with Rev. A. L. Shaw of Lone Star, officiating. Burial was in Dreamland cemetery at Canyon, under the direction of Harmon Funeral home.

Mrs. Watson was a native of Vineyard. She was born December 20, 1884, and was married to J. E. Watson in Healdton, Oklahoma, January 11, 1903. She and her husband came to Floyd county in 1917 and settled in the Pleasant Valley community where they were prominent wheat farmers for many years.

Survivors include the husband, one son, Jake Watson, two daughters, Mrs. Mitchell Jones and Mrs. J. A. Edwards both of Canyon, one brother, Jim Bailey, Wilson, Oklahoma, two sisters, Mrs. L. W. Stratton, Albany, Oregon, and Mrs. R. J. Battle, Lockney, also five grandchildren, W. Mitchell Jones, Jr., Bronte, Mrs. Alton Wallace, Crosbyton, Marshall Jones and Jerome Edwards, Canyon and Nancy Sue Watson of Floydada.

Palbearers were E. R. Harris, John F. Bugg, Roy Leslie, J. F. Patterson, I. C. Surginer and R. C. Yarrbrough.

WANT POOLED DRIVES? C-C Committee Asking Opinion Tonight at Community Meeting
A community wide meeting has been set for tonight at the court house to discuss the possibility of a Community Chest type organization in Floydada. The meeting has been called for 8 o'clock by W. E. Garrett, chairman of a Chamber of Commerce sponsored committee.

In addition to Floydada citizens who will attend tonight's meeting, county officials of the National Fund drives have been asked to be present and to give their organization's policy on joining a united fund drive in the community. They have also been asked to furnish the committee with the amount of money which they would expect to raise in Floydada next year. The Chamber's committee members have found that most of the local officials of the national campaigns are enthusiastic about a united fund drive but that some national headquarters do not approve of a united campaign.

The announced purpose of a community chest and other similar campaigns is to combine most of the national fund raising drives into one and thus eliminate the multiple fund drives which take place in every month of the year. If the united drive is adopted, Floydada citizens would be asked to total the amount they usually give to all national campaigns and give that amount during the united drive.

Floydada businessmen have been talking about a united drive for some years, and the Chamber of Commerce adopted the investigation of the community chest organization as a project for 1954.

"Organizing a united campaign is not easy as it sounds," Garrett pointed out. "It will call for the full cooperation of every Floydada citizen. That is why we urge everyone to attend tonight's meeting and help us work out this problem."

IEWS AND COMMENT

Judge Yarborough's friends in Floyd county certainly gave their man all the backing he was entitled to ask of them. For three or four weeks more than one good man gave their own affairs scant attention while organizing for the precinct and county conventions of the Democratic party, so important was it in their eyes to flay Mr. Shivers out of the governor's office and control of the party. That kind of activity is a happy privilege which we have in America and a good thing for the country. You don't have to agree with a man's politics to recognize this fundamental. When people study and think and work at public affairs they may start out from the wrong premise but they'll wind up, sooner or later, just about on solid ground.

Voting tapers off from the first primary by the time the second primary date arrives in a Texas Democratic election. This may not prove to be the fact come August 28, but in the past it has been true in every case we now recall. It seems to be too much to ask the general public to sustain heated political interest over a period of long weeks, whether the matter be one of men or measures.

One judge candidate has withdrawn from the state run-off race. He is Alan Haley, of Wichita Falls, who ran second in the race for a place of judge on the Court of Criminal Appeals. W. C. Graves of Dallas county led the ticket. All four candidates got a good, substantial vote. Often the western man finds himself at a disadvantage in a race where there is not a high injection of personalities, when he bucks a man from a big city more nearly in the center of the state's population. Half a dozen or so candidates have found this to be true in the past few campaigns—a Seymour man, two Lubbock men, to illustrate.

You have to keep up the fences at home when you are in politics. You may be doing an ever-so-good job in Washington or Austin, but if the people are not made aware of your abilities and your good works they are prone to forget. A good representative from the El Paso district who spent the campaign weeks in Washington on quite important committee assignments that he thought could not be put off, finds himself probably beaten by a capable campaigner who got out and saw the people. We often wonder, as we see occur every two years, why a man would announce for office and then not give himself a chance to win. A man who runs for office needs to pitch in to it just like he needs to get on the ball when he pitches a crop.

Meanwhile, Floydada and Floyd county people, keep on building and progressing. Floydada is in the throes of growing pains. We complain of scant housing of better type for the people who want to make Floydada home. We wonder why it isn't as easy to build a house in Floydada as it is in other cities and towns. We complain about the water situation. The un-met needs of areas of the community for more adequate sanitary facilities is deplored. We wonder why more people do not pave their streets, put in curbs, brighten up their premises, why the city permits gotch-eyed street signs—we wonder and complain and find fault. In a self-satisfied, complacent community you don't hear those complaints. And the authorities and powers-that-be shouldn't take umbrage. It is healthy and good. Some of the ideas advanced by the man on the street and in the coffee drinkers' round tables are based on mis-information and garbled facts. But they do indicate interest and the urge to get going. That kind of thing we do not deplore. We are all for it, especially for information on all affairs relating to general public welfare and policies to get a full airing.

Combining The Campaigns. Just saying that it would be a good thing to combine all the fund-raising campaigns in a community into one big campaign is easier to talk about than to accomplish. Whether Floydada or Floyd county is ready for such right now is the matter being explored by local business and civic interests. The study is spear-headed by a Chamber of Commerce committee. Strongest for the proposal are some of the men who have been called upon often and often to carry on the fund-raising campaigns, something like 10 in number a year. To be done right a fund-raising campaign requires two or three weeks of one man's time from his business of making a living, besides all the other time of all the other people. But there are objections to making a change in the scheme. Some communities put the idea over good. Others use it, then abandon it. You can't get all the arguments for or against up one tree, it seems.

The volume of land sales in Texas dropped sharply during 1953 for the third straight year. Buyers resisted asking prices based on peak years of agricultural income and general economic activity.

Holt and Green Named to State GOP Convention

Joseph H. Holt of Lockney and Starks Green of Floydada were named delegates to the Republican state convention by the county convention of the party Saturday afternoon. Alternates named are Lloyd Wofford and George Webster. The meeting was held in the grand jury room.

The state convention will have a total of 1,597 votes of which the 30th senatorial district will cast 27.

In the county primary vote on July 24 the total vote cast was 13, eight of which at Lockney, five at Floydada.

On primary election day the precinct conventions held named Bill Darden chairman of Precinct No. 1, W. C. Briggs chairman of Precinct 19, Starks Green chairman of Precinct No. 24, A. E. Frizzell chairman of Lone Star Precinct No. 8, Lloyd Wofford chairman of Precinct No. 5, East Lockney, and George Webster chairman of Precinct No. 18, West Lockney.

The state convention will be held on September 14 at Fort Worth's Will Rogers coliseum.

Tax Collections Above 96 Per Cent

This compares with the collections from the 1952 rolls to the same date a year ago, when the total was 97.6 per cent.

Curley Stephens' Grandson Making Sand Lot History

A twelve-year-old nephew of Cleo and Bill Stephens of Altadena, California, may turn out to be a chip off the old block in baseball. Recently the youth broke up a boys' league game in his home city with a two-run homer that won for his team 9-8. He climaxed a four-run rally for his team when he clouted the homer with a mate aboard in the ninth inning. Earlier in the game he kept his team in the running with a similar batting splurge.

Allan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Brown, and Mrs. Brown is the former Bonnarhea Stephens, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Curley Stephens, long-time residents of Floydada.

The suggestion that young Brown may be a chip off the old block comes from the fact his grandfather is legendary as a batting pitcher in the days when he was young and Oklahoma was young. The grandfather was a powerfully-built, curly-headed youngster in his baseball career in the burley days of old Greer county.

Summer Wedding Vows Exchanged At Las Vegas, NM

LAS VEGAS, N. Mex. — Double ring vows for one of the summer's loveliest weddings were exchanged Saturday at the Methodist church when Miss Donna Dellinger, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. E. H. Dellinger, Eighth Street Extension, and Ray M. Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray T. Cook of Floydada, Texas, were united in marriage. The Rev. Burton Stewart read the ten o'clock ceremony.

The wedding party stood before outstanding flower arrangements, including garlands of pink and white carnations completely covering the upper and lower altar rail and the choir rail. A row of white tapers also graced the upper rail in front of the pipe organ. Large baskets of deflexus fern, seven large arrangements of white gladioli, and tall candelabrum completed the altar background. Wide white satin ribbon and clusters of white carnations marked the bridal aisle.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in full length white bridal satin, designed with a fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and a short train. Her gown was shirred at the scoop-neckline, and on the skirt. She wore a small fitted cap of bridal satin and nylon net holding her fingertip veil. Her Rainbow Bible covered with the same satin as her dress, carried out the same design in shirring. Long streams of thaleanopsis orchids completed the bridal bouquet. For something old, she wore an old six-pence in her shoe that belonged to Ray Cook's grandmother, Mrs. W. P. Williams of Houston, Texas. She also wore a lavender which had belonged to her maternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Carl Osborn. The blue included her hose.

Matron of honor, Mrs. William Davis of Roswell, wore a ballerina length dress of orchid, designed with a bolero jacket and trimmed in satin. She wore a white shell hat with nylon ruching and flower pearls and white accessories. She carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses.

Bridesmaids, Arleen Rogers, Betty Phillips, and Patti Patten wore gowns of the same design as the matron of honor. They were in rainbow colors including pink, green, and yellow. All wore hats and white accessories, and carried arm bouquets of delight roses.

Flower girls, Mary Louise Devine and Elizabeth Ann Franken, wore organdy designed with hoop skirts and trimmed with velvet ribbons. The girls wore matching ribbons in their hair and carried tiny nosegays. They wore small gold crosses, gifts from the bride.

The bride's brother, Carl Dellinger, carried the rings on a satin pillow. Candle lighter was Grover W. Smith. Ushers were Guy Roy, Arch March, and Jimmy Cook. The bridegroom's uncle, Jerrell Cook of Amarillo, served as best man.

Mrs. William Fisher played classical selections at the organ. Dr. Paul Henry sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

For the wedding, Mrs. Dellinger wore a grey Italian faille afternoon dress designed with a beaded portrait neck line. She wore two-tone blue accessories and a bronze hybrid orchid. Mrs. Cook wore a navy blue linen lace dress and navy accessories with an orchid which matched Mrs. Dellinger's.

Following the wedding, a reception for 350 guests was held at the home for the bride's parents. The lovely fountain was decorated in a floral effect of sprays of stephanotis falling from each tier of the cake. The foundation spray in flowers was also carried out in the tall buffet arrangement with showers of pink and white carnations. Arrangements of white gladioli and pink and white carnations were used effectively throughout the house.

Mrs. Garnett Rudolph had charge of the cake at the bride's table which was laid with a lace cloth and centered with candles. Others who assisted were Mrs. John Scott and Mrs. Richard V. Hickman. Those pouring included Mrs. Clint Breedlove, Miss Margaret Kennedy, Mrs. John Veeder and Mrs. Aliene West. Beverly Robertson and Jeanette Montgomery were in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Carl Osborn was in charge of the gift display.

For her wedding trip to Colorado Springs, the bride chose a navy linen suit, piped in white, with white accessories and an orchid corsage. The couple will reside in Floydada until fall, then they will move to Lubbock to continue their studies at Texas Tech.

Attending from Floydada were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Edwards, Mr. and Mrs. K. Crouch, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Sandefur, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Patterson, Guy Roy, Grover W. Smith, Arch March.

From Amarillo were Mr. and Mrs. Jerrell Cook and son Jimmy, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Neil Watson, and from Snyder, Oklahoma, Mr. and Mrs. O. I. Cook.

The Womens Society of Christian Service met at the church August 3 for their regular monthly program and business session with nineteen present.

Mrs. Jack McIntosh was the leader of the program on "Seedtime and Harvest." Others on the program were Mmes. Geo. Stiles, Tom Hutchins, Olen Lyles and Howard Gregory.

Following the program the president, Mrs. C. B. Lyles, presided at the business session. The next meeting will be September 6. All members are urged to attend.

One of those hot days last week when we could hardly make it from kitchen to living room, we strolled around the block at dusk to try to cool off. A neighbor invited us to come sit in the yard, and introduced her five-year-old nephew.

He was as full of life as we were listless. He dashed into the house to bring out a box of stones, which we looked at, rock by rock, while he turned somersaults, asked questions, and capered around us. He made a dozen other trips into the house, got into outlandish positions around and under the lawn chairs. He climaxed his performance by squirming along on his back around the circle—a feat that would have taken at least two pounds off of some of the rest of us, if we could have performed it.

The energy he was throwing to the winds would have moved mountains if harnessed. Yet apparently it took no effort. Actually it seemed less trouble for him to wriggle about than it would have been to keep still—if he had ever considered that as a possibility.

As we watched the little elf, we forgot the weather, our own steaming forehead, and the surroundings. We recalled those wonderful summer evenings when we were ever so much younger—when the family moved chairs into the yard and we lay on our back looking upward. The soft hum of grownup small talk, the cool touch of the grass beneath us, and high above the blue dome sprinkled with stars—was something special.

Thanks to a five-year-old, we had a new spring in our step as we walked home that hot evening.

Expecting Window Peepers?

Our plane had taken off from the International Airport at Los Angeles with a full load. When we gained an altitude of 10,000 ft., passengers were allowed to release their seats belts and move about.

One lady of some 60-odd years disappeared into the powder room. She backed out hastily and summoned the stewardess. The girl fearing an air-leak in the small three-inch port-hole, glanced in but saw nothing wrong.

The passenger then pulled the stewardess aside and said in an audible whisper: "My dear girl, I can't say this plane offers much privacy. Did you know there isn't a curtain on that window?"

Capada Speakers Still Fascinate Youthful Thieves

Fascination of the speakers at the Capada Drive-In continues to get youngsters into trouble. The boys seem to want them to install in cars, tractors or some such and get the idea that after they are stolen the gadgets become anonymous enough that the thieves won't get into trouble.

Sheriff Earl Cooper had five or six 13 to 16-year-olds hunting up several discarded cases and parts over town Monday, attempting to re-assemble the speakers for return to Capada. The speakers had been worn-down from their posts Sunday night.

The sheriff turned the boys' over to their parents and Judge Ralph Johnston to set the penalties for the theft. The offenders ranged from 13 to 16 years old. The parts were picked up in practically all areas of the town.

Lights Off During Interval in Storm

Wind-whipped tree limbs in Monday night's storm cost the city's electric line crew a four hour job in the dark and had residents of part of the Bartley Heights and Bower & Price areas out of lights until a primary line was repaired and back in service.

It was the longest period any section of the community has been out of electricity energy for many years.

The utilities service people generally make the rounds of their lines every year to cut out growth of trees likely to interfere with electric or telephone service. This time the weather evidently caught the city napping.

Firemen and volunteers steered traffic away from the hot wires until the popping and spewing lines could be cut out of the circuit.

TEXAS CROP REPORT

Some 26.1 million acres of Texas land have been put into crops for harvest this year — more than any year since 1949.

Texas farmers had to shift a large number of acres of land to other crops to offset restrictions on cotton and wheat plantings this season but the crop land is still about three million acres above the twenty-three million finally harvested in 1953. Reductions in cotton and wheat were exceeded by a record acreage of sorghums. Plantings of corn, oats, barley, rice, sweet potatoes, and hay crops also were increased.

The 1954 season got off to a slow start in central, southern and south-eastern counties. This was due to delayed planting, irregular germination and slow early growth brought on by critically dry conditions. The Plains area and South Texas have been relieved by some rain.

Cotton in cultivation early in July was estimated at eight million acres or sixteen percent less than the 9,568,000 acres last year. Acreage allotment restrictions accounts for some of the reduction and the extreme drought is another factor.

Wheat production is estimated at 31,160,000 bushels with a final figure due soon. Last year's crop was 23,035,000 bushels. The 10-year average is 56,221,000 bushels.

Most recent estimate on all sorghum acreage for harvest as grain and forage was 8,661,000 acres — about 85 percent above the 5,240,000 acres harvested last year. This is the largest acreage on record and some 31 percent above the long-term average.

First forecast of corn for the season placed this year's crop at 38,448,000 bushels which would compare with 33,874,000 bushels last year. The 10-year average is 51,226,000.

Oats production may reach 42,412,000 bushels, topping 1953's 39,150,000 bushels and far exceeding the 10-year average of 26,309,000.

Rice acreage estimated at 620,000 is a record high. It is eight percent above the 1953 record. All hay production is expected to be 1,678,000 tons or about 1.6 percent below last year even with the increased acreage.

Prospective sweet potato production is at 2,475,000 bushels or three percent below 1953. Irish potatoes are predicted at 2,160,000 bushels, 13 percent below last year's 2,484,000 bushels.

Peanuts are growing on about 364,000 acres, some 6 percent more than last season.

Motley-Dickens Re-Union Plans For August 26-27

ROARING SPRINGS — General changes will be made but in general arrangements the annual Old Settlers reunion at Roaring Springs, August 26-27, will continue the same type of program.

Ward Rattan, president of Old Settlers Rodeo association, said this week that plans are under way for an outstanding rodeo performance.

One change under the direction of the rope and saddle division is the time set for the annual parade. It will be held Thursday afternoon (August 26) instead of the morning (new time is 5:30 p.m.) Mr. Rattan said the reason for the change in parade time was to protect the horses. Animals ridden in the parade and taking part in the rodeo performance may be brought to Roaring Springs in the afternoon, and be in fresher condition for the rodeo.

Prize lists and general rules are about the same as in past years. In the calf roping, day money prizes have been reduced from $75 to $60 in first, $50 to $40 in second, and $25 to $20 in third. Entrance fee remains $5 with $1 taken out for finals. The same reduction applies in the ribbon roping event. No entrance fee will be charged in the girls barrel race.

A cutting contest will be held during the rodeo. It will be a one class contest open to everyone, with elimination contest Friday afternoon. The four top horses will cut in the Friday night performance. Entrance fee will be $5 with jack-pot split three ways.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(by Nellie Witt Spikes)

Just two weeks ago we were in Vernon to attend a reunion of the Paschall family, the children of my husband's sister, Ella Spikes Paschall and her husband, Andy. No, Ella and Andy were not there to enjoy their children and their families, they are resting in the beautiful cemetery nearby. And as we stood at their tomb, we thought how very proud they would be of their fine family they loved so dearly.

Early Saturday morning Sam Paschall of near Lubbock stopped for Jeff, Lizzie and myself. We had a surprise for him as we tucked Margaret Nell in by us. Under his careful driving, his Cadillac took the curves and ups and downs of the road to Vernon, where we were soon at the home of Anabel and her husband, Tom Huffman.

Delicious smells were everywhere in fact we had a big roast and a cake near us as we travelled. Calvert and his wife, Mable, came from their ranch near Brownwood and in their baskets were delicious cake and roast "kid." Mable had some of the finest garlic bread you ever ate and with Claudia's baked ham, one could hardly stop eating and get on to more and more delicious food.

Now I am talking about eating and we had not gone to the park where we gathered. But when we did get there and had a chance to fill our plates, well, we did need sideboards, but we could always go back for more as the supply did not seem to diminish.

Guy and Claudia live in Vernon. Mae and Henry Kimbrow in Harrold nearby. Andy, Little Andy as we call him, came with his fine family of children and grandchildren from Irvin. Four stalwart brothers, Calvert, Andy, Sam and Guy, Ollie Paschall Scott lay sleeping in the cemetery by the side of her parents but her son, Henry, and his wife and children were there. May and Anabel, the two daughters had some of their children and grandchildren there. A fine family, makes one proud of America where such reunions can be had in safety and happiness.

Was it hot? Yes. But if it had not been so hot we would not have seen the thoughtfulness of Guy and Claudia's son-in-law Ed displayed as he watered the big fans, moved them here and there, poured big sacks of crushed ice in front of the fans on the floor. The ice melted in little streams over the concrete floor. Ed Michels and Mozelle were from Salt Lake City.

Did we eat too much? Yes, we did. And so would you if you had been there. Surely no one would want any supper after that big dinner. But, we all ate again and laughed and talked and enjoyed being together. There were several pretty girls who waited on us older ones. Boys ran here and there telling the little girls there were bears in the park and we did actually hear some of them growling as the little boys played out the part.

The next day there was another big dinner in the air-conditioned American Legion Hall. And to tell the truth we broke all vows not to eat too much and enjoyed everything as we did the day before and found we were not any the worse.

We told everyone farewell that we would come to the next reunion, that we would visit Calvert and Mable in the spring when the little kids were coming and listen to over one hundred bleating for their mothers. Promises we hope we can keep to visit in the future.

Up and down the road wound, ever west, more up than down, gaining a few feet till the caprock was reached. A pan of crushed ice was good, and I had to keep a jar of doodle bugs that Margaret Nell had patiently called from the sand homes with a stick and a promise. Doodle bug, doodle bug, come out of your hole and I will give you a chew of tobacco, as children of many generations have done.

I know I have wound round and round about this visit. But seems that it came to me just that way. I trust you will go to some reunion of your friends or family and thank God we live in a country where relatives and neighbors can live in peace with out fear of spying and telling on one another and having the fear and horror of concentration camps for our future.

One thing I noticed about this particular reunion was love and regard of one to the other, of the closeness of God in their midst. God bless and keep you and yours, this is my prayer for the Paschalls.

is my prayer for the Paschalls.

Thelma and Tom brought me some rocks for collection. They gathered them recent visit in west Texas. Good to know your friends you and what you like are being happy on their Thanks.

As A Farm Woman Thinks
(by Nellie Witt Spikes)

Just two weeks ago we were in Vernon to attend a reunion of the Paschall family, the children of my husband's sister, Ella Spikes Paschall and her husband, Andy. No, Ella and Andy were not there to enjoy their children and their families, they are resting in the beautiful cemetery nearby. And as we stood at their tomb, we thought how very proud they would be of their fine family they loved so dearly.

Early Saturday morning Sam Paschall of near Lubbock stopped for Jeff, Lizzie and myself. We had a surprise for him as we tucked Margaret Nell in by us. Under his careful driving, his Cadillac took the curves and ups and downs of the road to Vernon, where we were soon at the home of Anabel and her husband, Tom Huffman.

Delicious smells were everywhere in fact we had a big roast and a cake near us as we travelled. Calvert and his wife, Mable, came from their ranch near Brownwood and in their baskets were delicious cake and roast "kid." Mable had some of the finest garlic bread you ever ate and with Claudia's baked ham, one could hardly stop eating and get on to more and more delicious food.

Now I am talking about eating and we had not gone to the park where we gathered. But when we did get there and had a chance to fill our plates, well, we did need sideboards, but we could always go back for more as the supply did not seem to diminish.

Guy and Claudia live in Vernon. Mae and Henry Kimbrow in Harrold nearby. Andy, Little Andy as we call him, came with his fine family of children and grandchildren from Irvin. Four stalwart brothers, Calvert, Andy, Sam and Guy, Ollie Paschall Scott lay sleeping in the cemetery by the side of her parents but her son, Henry, and his wife and children were there. May and Anabel, the two daughters had some of their children and grandchildren

He shall receive as compensation for his services such fees and perquisites as may be prescribed by law."
 Sec. 3. That Section 18 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so as to read as follows:

Look at the 3-way bonus you get in the car that's sweeping the nation!

1. You get the car that's styled for tomorrow —

2. You get the car that's a sure high resale value

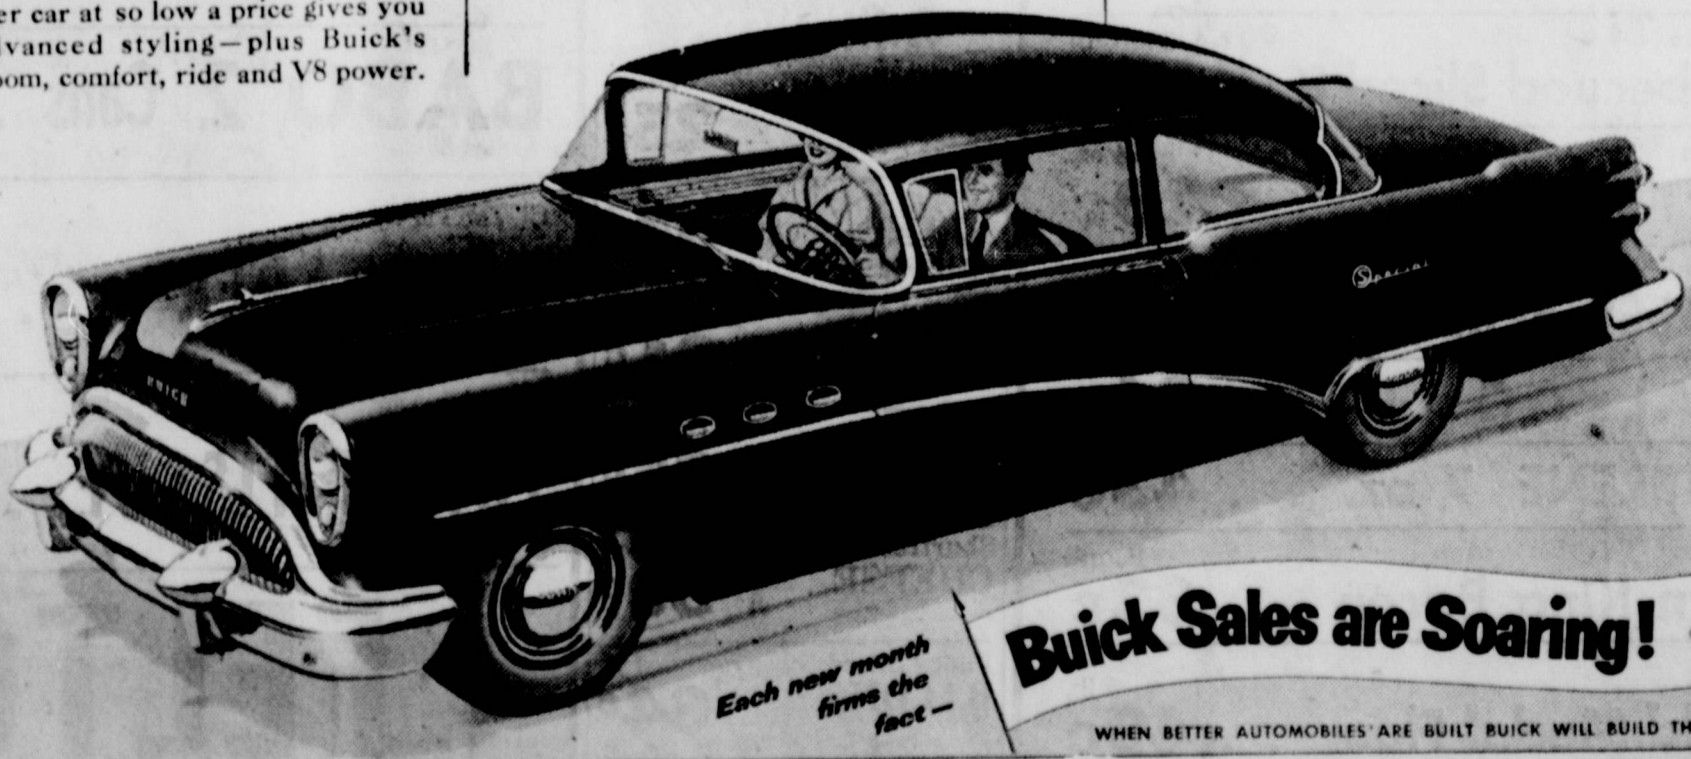

3. You get a bigger allowance from our volume business and for just a few dollars more than the so-called "low-price three"!

In Buick today you find the fresh modern beauty that will pattern the styling of other cars yet to come. That's a major reason for Buick's soaring success this year. But the clincher is Buick's low delivered price—lower than you think. No other car at so low a price gives you this advanced styling—plus Buick's great room, comfort, ride and V8 power.

Of this you can be sure: the new Buick you buy today will look modern next year, too—because that broad panoramic windshield will be appearing on other cars as a 1955 feature. So with the new Buick you buy now, you'll stay right up in the style parade for years to come—and command a higher resale price when you trade it in.

Regardless of price class, Buick today is outselling all other cars in America except two of the "low-price three." That's fact. So with this tremendous sales volume, we can offer you a higher trade-in allowance when you buy a new Buick. Come in, see and drive Buick the beautiful buy. Then see for yourself how our volume business means a far bigger allowance for you.

Charges Delay Crippling Soil-Water Program

AUSTIN — Gubernatorial candidate Judge Ralph Yarborough of Austin told a central Texas farm and ranch audience this week that "action now" is needed to preserve Texas' "precious water and soil resources"—not "five more years of crippling limping delay."

Yarborough, speaking at Johnson City, only a few miles from the multiple dams of the Lower Colorado River authority, said:

"One of the great governmental needs of Texas is a water conservation program of action now."

"Five years of delay in the midst of the worst drought in Texas history ought to be enough to convince everyone that action — not words — is needed."

The Austin attorney, a member of the original board of directors of the river authority, called for the construction of "50 great dams on the lower reaches of Texas' main rivers" for the two-way purpose of preventing flood destruction and conserving precious water.

He would supplement this basic program, he said, with the building of many smaller dams on the upper reaches of our rivers, and their tributary system and ponds and tanks on our farms and ranches."

Yarborough added: "I think it tragic that Texas soil and water conservation has been crippled by the constant backbiting of the United States government by my opponent."

"States' rights can be preserved in a cooperative harmonious local, state, federal conservation program."

Young Couple, Savings Wiped Out Build Home

When emergency medical bills wiped out their life savings in two months, Shirley Crabtree became more determined than ever to have the house she and her husband wanted for their family. She decided to build it herself. Although she had never held a hammer, says John L. Springer in Redbook, she plunged in, and today, five and a half years later, a six-room stone and clapboard house stands in Easthampton, Massachusetts, as testimony to her unremitting toil and determination. The story of the house that Shirley built—with the help of a cement mixer for Mother's Day—is told in the May issue.

"Shirley Crabtree is a blue-eyed strawberry blonde with an easy, infectious smile. But when her husband, Saville, told her they couldn't buy a house, she became a grim, determined woman.

"We'll build one ourselves," she said.

"Two months before, they had $2,000, a one-acre lot in Easthampton, Massachusetts, and blueprints for a six-room house. Then, one morning, Shirley was rushed to the hospital for a delicate mastoid operation. For six weeks Saville paid jolting bills for drugs, doctors, the hospital, and for boarding the children. When she returned to their overcrowded one-room apartment near the gas station where Saville worked, he told her that their money was gone.

"Most builders are able to lay the footing which supports the entire house in about an hour. But Mrs. Crabtree's footing went together inches at a time. When her housework was done at night, she and Saville drove to their home site. Their children, wearing pajamas, slept in the car while Saville dug the trench and Shirley mixed sand, gravel, cement and water to make concrete.

"Then came the laying of 32-ound, eight - inch - wide cinder blocks. Mortared together, these form the foundation and the house wall. Masons lay 200 in a day. The first day she tried, Shirley put five together.

"Shirley took a lot of kidding for that miserable beginning. But that winter she studied masons at work and visited builders' supply houses, asking questions and getting prices. When spring came, she worked like a professional.

"Professional masons laying cinder blocks have helpers to mix mortar. Saville couldn't help; he kept busy moving dirt to prevent underground water from rising. So he did the next best thing. One Sunday in May, he drove Shirley to the home site, where her Mother's Day present glittered in the sun. It was a cement mixer.

"From the day she began building Mrs. Crabtree thought long and hard before hiring outside helpers. An Easthampton mason had obtained a new franchise to install stone-like facing material to the outside of houses. When he quoted Shirley a price of $1200, she smiled grimly and left his shop.

"The mason often drove past the house after that. Each time, half a dozen cars were parked in front, while their drivers stood watching the woman on the roof. Finally, he stopped and asked her to come down. 'Tell you what,' he said. 'I'll do the job at rockbottom cost. I can advertise to your spectators.' She got that job for $500.

"The Crabtrees estimate that their house has cost $2,900 in cash. It has a living room, kitchen, dining room, utility room, den and bathroom on the first floor, and two bedrooms on the second, all finished in knotty pine. An Easthampton man recently offered $8,500 for the house. 'We wouldn't sell at any price,' Mrs. Crabtree says. 'Too much of our time, too much of our lives has gone into it.'"

Great-Grandsons Mutineers Live On Pitcairn

PITCAIRN ISLAND —The great-grandsons of the Bounty mutineers still live on the bleak and isolated Pacific Island of Pitcairn.

The island has no harbor or beach and the Pitcairners must row their 37-foot longboat through the heavy surf which constantly pounds the rock-bound coast to come a-mong the ships that anchor off the mile-wide island rising 1,000 feet above the South Pacific.

These descendants of men who carried out the most famous mutiny in history trade tropical fruit for clothes, medical supplies, and odd luxuries. The longboat carries the mails, too.

The secrets of the reefs have been handed down since the mutineers of Captain Bligh's Bounty settled on the island in 1790 after burning their ship.

The present skipper of the Pitcairn longboat is Andrew Young, a direct descendant of the Bounty mutineer of the same name. Like his great-grandfather, Young is an expert seaman and always mans the steering oar—a vital job.

Young doubles as the island's radio operator and postmaster. Every passing seas captain knows him. Young has maintained the radio link since the days of the crystal director and spark coils. Today his equipment is as modern as any in the South Pacific.

THE HARD WAY

After haggling for hours over which type of water main to install, the town council of Pacific Vista seemed hopelessly deadlocked.

"I suggest," said one member, "that a committee be appointed to confer with the city engineer at Los Angeles to find which type he has found most successful. If we can profit by another city's mistakes, I think we should do so."

Leaping to his feet and angrily shaking his fist, an opposing councilman shouted, "Why should we have to profit by the mistakes of Los Angeles? Gentlemen," he said, "pounding the table violently, 'I contend that Pacific Vista is big enough town to make its own mistakes!'"

JAM SESSION

Nine-year-old David hurried off to school one morning before his mother inspected his wash job. So when he sat down in the classroom, breakfast was still visible on his face.

The teacher frowned and said reprovingly: "David, you didn't wash your face. What would you say if I came to school one morning with egg and jam around my mouth?" "Nothing," he retorted smugly. "Nothing at all, I'd be too polite."

Fixed Ideas

Fixed ideas are generally giving way to logic, thanks to the powers of education.

And so it is that chiropractic, after 50 years of hard, tried scientific evaluations, is gradually finding its way into the realm of drugless healing wonders.

From a crude theory that the spine is the backbone of good health, chiropractic has developed into an exact science.

Where hundreds once spoke of its curing effects, millions today all over the world bless it for saving lives.

From a handful of practitioners it has grown into the second largest healing profession in the world.

It just didn't happen that way. Chiropractors had to prove their way and they have. They know a healthy body is dependent on a healthy, properly functioning nervous system.

They know what harmful effects result from a misaligned vertebra in the spine. Chiropractors know too that the vast majority of sick people can, under chiropractic care, be restored to normal health.

Council in 1942 by the late John Haynes in memory of his mother, and the camp has been known affectionately over the South Plains Council area for many years as Camp Mammy Haynes. The northern eight counties of the Council have looked forward for the last 12 years to this very vital step in the completion of the development of the property at Camp Haynes—so that more use can be made of it by the Scout troops and the Explorer posts of this Council. The plan of construction and the plan of use by the Council of Camp Haynes is that it is to be an advanced short term and overnight campsite for the use of all of the units of the Council.

W. R. Sewell of Lubbock, chairman of the Council's finance committee, has the responsibility for developing the organizational plans of the campaign, and Ray Mowery of Texas Technological college is to be the chairman of the overall operating and capital camp development part of the campaign.

This development program and these other expansion projects of a camping nature have long been awaited by the boys of this particular area. The present membership of the Council will approximate some 5,800 boys and over 2,000 adult leaders.

ALL-STEEL GALVANIZED BIN

This GUARDIAN 2-in-1 Bin will solve your storage problem!

Each year you have promised yourself that you will buy proper facilities for conditioning and storing grain and shelled corn. Each year you put it off—only to lose grain and money again! Sometimes bad weather has damaged your crops before you could harvest them. Other times they wouldn't dry, and some of your grain molded and spoiled, and you had to pay dockage on whatever was saved. Rats, mice and birds have ruined a good percentage of your grain. And last year, it was lack of storage space; there just wasn't any place to store your crop. (This year will be even worse.)

1. Farm storage facility loans have been extended another year—through June 30, 1955. You can now borrow up to 80% of the cost of new bins from your local bank, or direct from your ASC County Committee... 4 years, at 4%.

2. Fan equipment can be financed up to 75% on the same basis.

MODERN LIVING

With a home freezer means economical living . . . find out the facts for yourself during freezer fair. Check with your appliance dealer and see how you too can save with a market in your own Kitchen.

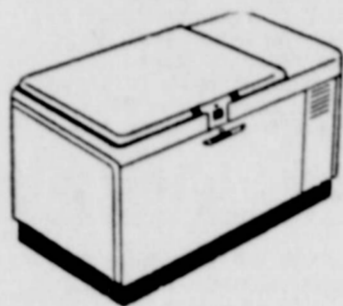

The time that the freezer really stands up and performs for you is when you are on a meal-preparing spot such as unexpected guests or arriving home from an afternoon out just a moment before your family expects dinner. The freezer reacts to these emergency situations calmly and economically.

The well-stocked freezer is always ready for unexpected company whether they arrive at dinner time or later in the evening when you need a snack.

Can Store Meals

Entire meals can be stored in a freezer either uncooked, partially cooked or ready to place on the table after warming. Meat can be cooked directly from the frozen state, so no delay is encountered in getting preparation under way.

Bakery goods are always in big demand when you have unexpected guests, and the freezer keeps almost any kind of bread or pastry in perfect condition. You can bake ahead in quantity and always be ready to serve pastry.

Electric Home Freezer Way

We say that the life of today's homemaker with her modern electrical equipment is very different from the life of her grandmother, yet today's homemaker who owns a freezer finds herself very frequently buying and baking in the quantities of her ancestor.

It is not only economical but time saving to buy larger quantities or prepare larger quantities of food and package them for the freezer in meal-size portions to fit the size of your family.

Freeze Whipped Cream

For instance, whipped cream can be frozen in individual servings by spooning small mounds on to a tray, frozen and packaged. Only as many mounds as needed may be taken from the freezer bag, and the rest remains for the next salad or dessert.

Many canned fruits are delicious eaten partially frozen such as fruit cocktail. Many times a homemaker can purchase gallon sizes, freeze the fruit in ice cube trays or muffin tins, then serve only as much as desired from the package.

Bake, Then Freeze

Baking may be done in double or tripple amounts, for it takes little more effort to make several cakes, pies, or pans of rolls than it takes to assemble ingredients and mix for just one. Baking becomes more fun, because the homemaker will experiment, trying those recipes collected and ideas of her own that she never had time before to try.

More variety in meal planning is possible, for the "left-over" problem can be eliminated.

Frozen Barbeque Flavorful

A large roast can be served once, then sliced and frozen in meal size portions. Its next appearance may be days later in the form of a flavorful hot beef sandwich or as barbecued beef. The barbecue sauce may also be made in quantity and frozen in the amount needed for individual meals. Even the extra meat juices from a roast or broiled steak may be frozen in ice cube trays, packaged in a plastic bag and used a few cubes as needed for gravies or for seasoning vegetable, soups, or for broths in which rice or noodles are cooked.

Fresh vegetables and fruits take only a fraction of the time for preserving by freezing compared to canning. The homemaker conserves even more time and money by packing in the way that fits the size and taste preferences of her own family. If they can eat their weight in fried okra, she can blanch the okra, cool and then cut for frying before packaging.

Meats Can Be Kept

Little effort is needed months later for the homemaker to prepare a vegetable for the table. It is most convenient if meats are packaged for quick defrosting. A double layer of cellophane, freezer paper, or good grade waxed paper placed between steaks or layers of chicken or fish will allow the homemaker to quickly break pieces apart and start cooking them from the frozen state, or after a very short defrosting period.

Hamburger patties may be made and packaged in the same way. Meat loaves may be frozen in the shape of the pan in which they are to be baked by placing the wrapping in the pan before forming the loaf. After the loaf has been frozen in the pan, it can be removed and the wrapping sealed. The loaf will fit perfectly in the pan for baking, yet you do not have your baking pan tied up in your freezer.

Sandwiches May Be Frozen

Sandwiches may be made up in a week's supply. "Production line" style with the family members helping out, or box lunches might be assembled. Sandwiches in a lunchbox will thaw out by lunch time. For quick thawing of sandwiches to be used at home, try open-faced styles that can be heated under a broiler unit, or finished just before serving by adding lettuce or tomato along with the top slice of bread.

A party can be a party for the hostess, too, if the fancy sandwiches are prepared days or weeks in advance and frozen. Fancy cakes, candies, cookies, and other desserts for birthdays and holidays take to the freezer, also.

When a homemaker really uses her freezer to its fullest advantage, it can solve many of the problems presented by our modern way of living. It can be a super market at your finger tips, and it never closes.

KITCHEN AND ★★ ★★★ FIELD NEWS

from Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Inc., by Nancy M. Ckel and Claude Weathersbee.

Blow a Fuse?

An overloaded circuit will blow a fuse. Too many appliances operated on a circuit at the same time will overload the circuit. A short circuit will blow a fuse. Bad cords on lamps and other electric appliances will cause a short.

A simple test will show what is causing the fuses to blow. Shut off electricity by pulling the main switch. Then remove the fuse that has been blown and screw into its place a light bulb. Turn on the current. If the light bulb burns normally, there is a short circuit somewhere. If it burns dimly, the circuit is overloaded. If it does not burn at all, the circuit is all right.

Electricians warn that the above method is not infallible, but that it is a pretty fair test.

Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Neff and Aubrey spent the week-end in Hereford with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Aylesworth of Dumas visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Grimes and her brother Bert over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pollan and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Warren and Louis Earl have returned from a trip to California and other places. In Piru, California Edwin visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McBee. Mrs. McBee broke her hip a few weeks ago. She had two operations on this hip and a third was to be performed this week.

Claude Weathersbee is back from a two weeks vacation. Most of the time was spent at home. They visited with relatives at Snyder and Post during the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Jr. Womack and sons attended a birthday party for his sister Ella Louise at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Womack in the Sand Hill community Saturday night.

LIBRARY NEWS

(By Mrs. Roy Hollar)
Friends of the library might be interested in reading an editorial published in the "Saturday Review" of June 26, 1954. The article is entitled "The Private Life of the Public Library." It discusses regional planning using the State of Idaho as an example of thinly settled country where large areas may best be served by Bookmobile service to a wide area. Texans could read this to advantage. Bookmobile Service is discussed in another section of the editorial and a third section is given over to Children's Services.

Three other topics reported upon are audio-visual services, prison libraries and library materials for Mary Ann was our visitor from Lawrence Library; the American Heritage Project is included in the discussion of adult discussion groups to end the article. We trust that many of you will use this magazine for a few days and read about our 25 million citizens who keep 350 million volumes in circulation for pleasure, profit and inspiration.

Story hour which did not meet on election day was in full swing last Saturday. New faces present were Richard Marvin Funk, John Max Bradley and Mary Ann Huckabee; Mary Ann was our visitor from Albuquerque, N. M. There were about 30 people present.

Mrs. Jack Coffman brought refreshments for the group. Mrs. Gordon Downing and Mrs. R. C. Henry met with the group for stories and games.

The time spent in selecting books to take home is a lively period. There is much comparison of books and very small people often become acquainted with a number of books before a selection is made. Special favorites are checked out again and again to the same people.

Story Hour will not meet on August 28 since the run off will be in process and the court house offices will be closed.

We are indebted to Mrs. Roy Fawver for a book gift this week. It was a real pleasure to have Miss Erin Gamble of the staff of the Cleveland, Ohio, public library visit us on Saturday. She has followed the development of a plan for a library for Floyd county from the beginning and has been among our generous contributors. We enjoyed her visit.

HAS MUSIC INSTRUCTION FROM FAMOUS TEACHER

Mrs. Pearl Pagan returned home Saturday from an extended trip and visit with her daughters, Mrs. Donald Thomas, Fort Worth, and Mrs. J. N. Sims of Houston.

While on the trip, Mrs. Pagan attended the master class session and had private music instruction under Dr. Leo Padolsky of Sherwood Institute in Chicago.

Bill DuBois was returned from the hospital to his parent's home last Saturday and his mother reported that he was doing fine. Bill is able to sit in a wheel chair a little at the time.

Shivers Thanks State's Voters

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. — Expressing gratitude for the support that gave him a near-majority vote in the July primary, Governor Allan Shivers opened a runoff campaign for re-election this week, confident of victory.

"There is no question that we can and will win," the Governor said, as he announced plans for an around-the-clock battle.

"I'm going to wage an all-out campaign personally," he said, "and my friends over the state promise they will do the same. I will continue to discuss the issues and there will be no mud-slinging.

The Governor made his first statewide radio broadcast since the election on Tuesday night. He discussed the drought, emergency relief steps which are being taken to relieve drought conditions, and water and soil conservation.

Discussing the runoff campaign earlier in the week, the Governor said, "All we need to do is to get out our vote to win. It just takes work and there is no substitute for it, in a campaign or in anything else."

Analyzing the balloting in the first primary, the Governor said the returns proved his charge that his opponent was a "captive candidate of the CIO and NAACP."

Ralph Yarborough carried every large CIO box, Shivers said, and every Negro precinct by ten twenty to one. "But I carried his home box three to one," the Governor pointed out.

Saturday, Wanda reports her husband as doing fair and he will be in a wheel chair for about two weeks when they hope he will be able to be up on crutches.

Crash Victim Was Sister of Mrs. L. E. Kiker, Floydada

Funeral service for Mrs. Myrtle C. Gordy, 60, of Goodnight, sister of Mrs. Luther Kiker of Floydada, was held Sunday in the First Baptist church at Canyon with the pastor, Rev. Straus Alkinson, officiating, assisted by Rev. A. B. Moseley and Rev. J. D. Mansfield.

Mrs. Gordy was killed Thursday evening in a one-car accident as she and her sister-in-law, Mrs. Ray Cheyne, were returning home from Claude. The accident was blamed on a low tire which caused the car to swerve and go out of control. Mrs. Gordy was thrown from the car as it turned over. Death was instantaneous. Mrs. Cheyne was not injured.

Survivors other than Mrs. Kiker are three brothers and five sisters. Mr. Gordy passed away in 1950.

Burial was in the Dreamland cemetery in Canyon.

Floydada Vacation Party Views Movie Town and Players

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Warren and son Lewis Earl, and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Pollan and children returned home last Wednesday from a ten-day vacation trip to points in California. The high feature of their trip was a visit into Movietown where most of the western movies are filmed. They were introduced to Lullibye, comedian co-star of Gene Autry, Tonto, Indian friend of the Lone Ranger and the owner of the famous Corgan Ranch, Crash Corgan.

They visited with a twin sister and husband of Mr. Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Riley McBee in Pyoue, California. The McBee family will be remembered in Floydada as former residents. Mrs. McBee has been confined to bed several weeks suffering from hip.

The group were guests of Mrs. C. G. Boone of Abilene, and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. of Fernando Valley, and Mrs. Warren.

It was quite an occasion. Rice and Mrs. Warren. They seen one another for years.

Our heartfelt thanks to those who extended comforting sympathy help in our recent sorrow. Beautiful service, floral and the other kindnesses deeply grateful.
