

Baptist Educational Unit Ground Breaking Set for Noon Sunday

Sunday, October 3, on the 56th anniversary of the organization of the Sunday school of the First Baptist church ground will be broken to start the new educational annex.

A near record attendance is expected for services in the morning hours to be followed by the ground breaking ceremony at high noon.

Dr. R. Earl Allen, pastor, said this week that materials are already being put on the ground for the work to begin. Completion date has been set for April 12, 1955.

Houses that have been used for Sunday school classes are authorized for sale. Maintenance committee is composed of J. D. McBrien, Howard Cline and Fred Battey.

The new structure will be a three story annex with the ground floor consisting of the chapel and parlors. It will also contain the assembly room for the Sunday school department for adults, 50 years of age and older, a kitchenette and rest room.

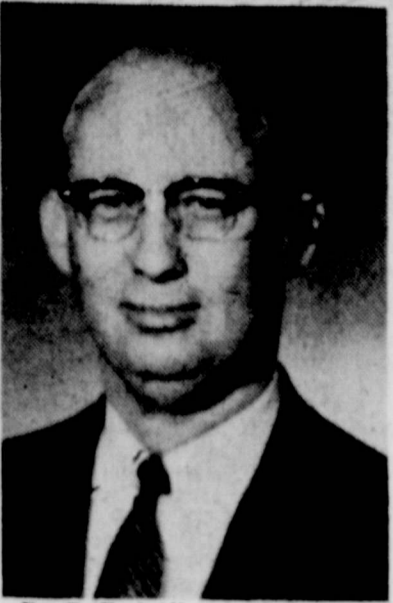

On the second floor beginners and primaries will have their Sunday school department with rest rooms, a complete nursery, kitchenette and a reception room.

The third floor will be for the young people between the ages of 25 and 35 years of age.

Rev. Allen reminds the people that Sunday school will be held at the usual time Sunday. All will be asked to march from the auditorium at 11:45 where the site will be staked and actual ground breaking will begin.

Dr. Strickland Will Speak

Speaker at the service preceding the ground-breaking will be Dr. Otis Strickland, president of Decatur Junior Baptist College of Decatur, Texas, it has been announced. He is one of the state's ablest preachers of the Baptist faith. This service will begin promptly at 11 o'clock and the ground-breaking will follow. This week-end the contractor will lay out the ground ready for the first spade.

Dr. R. Earl Allen . . . Under whose staunch leadership the First Baptist Church is making strides is seen as an outstanding pastor of the Texas Baptist Convention.

The present contract calls for an outlay of $130,000. The church needs about $5,000 to have half of the money in hand on the day of the ground-breaking. The pastor has announced that all contributions Sunday, unless specially marked otherwise, will go to the building fund in an effort to raise $5,000 to have 50 per cent on hand that day. All contribution envelopes in which offerings are made, after being recorded, will be put into the corner cone of the new unit.

More Parking Space

Since a portion of the presently utilized parking space will be taken up by the new building the church has acquired a space of 75 by 150 feet on the southwest corner of the block from John L. West and will use this area for parking space. Buildings which occupy the space are to be removed at once.

Highway Right-of-Way Petitions To Be Passed on This Morning

The order for the election on the proposition to issue $325,000 bonds to purchase right-of-way for projected state road building in Floyd County is due to be called today.

Petitions bearing approximately 80 names were in the hands of U. S. Highway 70 officials last night and will be delivered to the Commissioners court. It is anticipated the court will find the required number of 50 legal names on the petitions.

Members of the court favor the proposal and the order is due to have a unanimous vote when Judge Ralph C. Johnston presents it for consideration.

The petition which the court will be asked to consider is a revised petition which pins down the purposes for which the bond issue money can be spent. Objectors to the first petition said it was vague in that it did not say where the money should be spent.

After throwing away the first petitions the backers of the plan worded the petition to read:

"For the purchase of right-of-way in the following projects:

"1. For the purchase of right-of-way for widening U. S. No. 70 in Floyd County, Texas, from the Motley County line to the Hale county line;

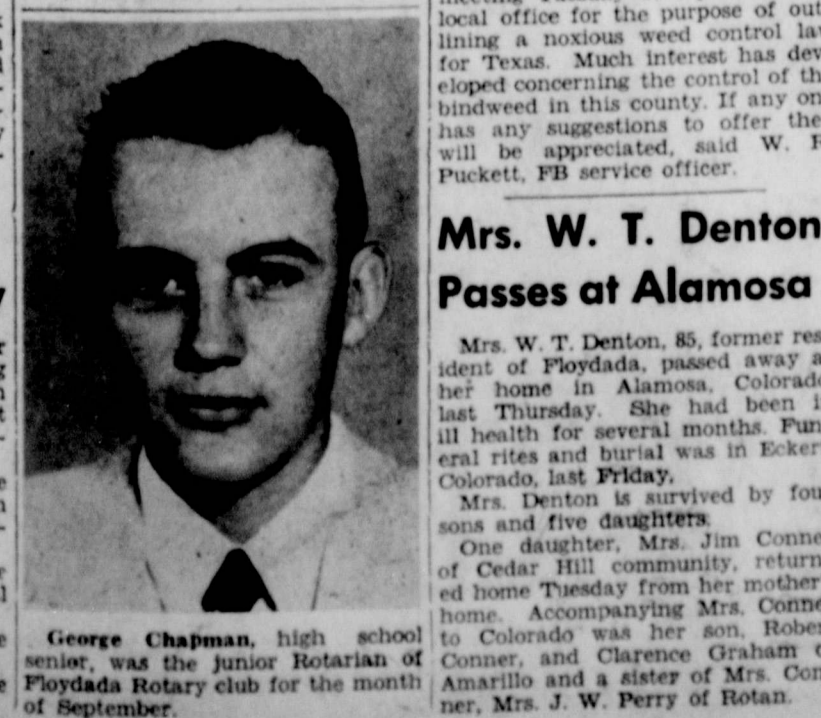

"2. For the purchase of right-of-way for widening U. S. Highway No. 62 in Floyd County, Texas, from the city of Floydada to the Crosby County line;

"3. For the purchase of right-of-way in Floyd County, Texas, for Farm-to-Market Road No. 97 from a point one mile east of the Cedar Hill School east to the Motley County line;

"4. For the purchase of 4 miles of right-of-way on Farm-to-Market Road No. 1065 in Floyd County, Texas."

The petition was circulated for a half a day in Floydada by Parnell Powell, president of the Highway 70 association here and by Marion Carpenter, a director of the association. Bob Miller had the petition in Lockney.

F-M road 97 named in the petition, is the new number given the

Trailer Violators Will Get Tickets

Highway Patrolman Thurman Keifer reminds farmers of this area that trailers being pulled at night must have a burning red light at the rear. They also must have two red reflectors, one on each side of the bed.

Mr. Keifer said "We must have warned farmers for the past two years and now we're going to be handing out tickets to those who disobey the law. We hope all trailers will have lights on them."

He also reminded farmers that it is a violation of the law to pull more than one trailer at a time.

Cotton Gins Report Above 2,500 Bales

Floyd county gins, 18 out of 19 of which are turning out a few more bales of cotton every day, had processed 2,640 bales as of noon yesterday, with the figures of two of their number not included. A survey made by The Hesperian indicates that a little of the May cotton has begun to move, and the number of fields that are sending cotton to the gins is gradually increasing. Harvest hands had entered 218 fields, sending cotton to the gins yesterday.

Grade and staple have been excellent, turn-out has been good and the market has held firm considerably above the CCC loan values. Cottonseed, however, took a drop from $61 to $58 in the week.

Aiken gins are leading the county with a total of 614 bales from 30 fields in that territory. McCoy Gin is second with 509 bales ginned Wednesday at noon. Most of this early cotton, but some of which was planted in May.

Lockney has ginned 441 bales from 56 fields with reports from two of the gins not included.

Floydada gins had a total of 431 bales from 37 fields.

Barwise has ginned 275 bales,

Edwards Adding Grain Storage

Henry Edwards elevator at Dougherty is another Floyd county elevator which is adding storage capacity for grain.

Work which began four weeks ago had progressed to the point this week where Mr. Edwards anticipates the storage bins will be ready to receive grain at least by the latter part of this month. The addition is supposed to be ready sometime next week but he doubts the time schedule will be met.

The addition will be in the form of five 11,000-bushel steel bins lined up to tie into the present elevator plant. All the machinery and equipment has been received. Present capacity of the elevator is 22,000 bushels, giving a total of 77,000 bushels when the addition is completed.

Not much forage grain is moving in the Dougherty area as yet, Mr. Edwards said. He is doubtful that all the storage capacity in the county will be filled this season, since much of the earlier grain will move out of the county.

Dr. Otis Strickland . . . will preach the ground-breaking sermon Sunday morning at the First Baptist Church.

not available Wednesday. Dougherty is having $50,000 worth of re-building done and has not started ginning as yet. The next week should see the work completed and the gin operating.

Once Thought Impossible

When this is multiplied by 1,000, the approximate number of electric cooperatives in the United States, just think what R.E.A. has done for the economy of our country, (not considering the fact that the farmer has done for himself a job once thought impossible); the salesman, the dealer, the distributor, the manufacturer and the laborer have also profited.

This does not include the nearly two billion dollars spent for wire, poles, insulators and other electrical apparatus; yet the whole program has not cost the tax-payer one cent, but has actually made the federal government 48 million dollars in profits from money loaned to the farmers. Add all this to the many benefits the farmer has derived from these loans and you have a picture that stretches far beyond the imagination — just try to guess how many fingers have been "in-the-pie" to make 18 million, 908 thousand light bulbs glow on the R.E.A. Systems over the United States.

We are proud of our small part in this program and wish to thank every one that has given so graciously and generously of their time and influence, in making our progress possible.

We hope that in the future we may have your continued cooperation.

Garden Of Evil To Show at Capada Starting Oct. 3

The star-powered CinemaScope adventure film, "Garden of Evil," will open at the Capada Drive-in theatre Sunday October 3. This highly publicized film has the magnetic, nearly hypnotic quality suggested by its title carried throughout by its taut drama. Gary Cooper, Susan Hayward and Richard Widmark co-star with Hu. H. Marlowe, Cameron Mitchell, Rita Moreno and Victor Manuel Mendocza carrying the main action of the Technicolor production. The setting is Mexico.

Doyle Mount at the Capada recommends the picture highly for its beautiful filming of the Mexican jungles, deserts, volcanic mountains and ancient villages, as well as the performance of the big cast of stars.

Local movie goers may enjoy "Garden of Evil" on the big screen at the Capada Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, October 3 through 5.

More Clear Profit From Defoliated Cotton

There could be a lot of truth in the story about the cotton puller who turned thumbs down on an offer to stay all year for half the cotton profits— Said he'd rather come back in the Fall and still get half!

If you feel that things could stand a little "rebalancing" and would like to realize MORE PROFIT for your year's work, there's a very good chance this information will be of concern to you:

Eight seasons of trying many different kinds of Defoliant has proven that different types of cotton and moisture conditions require individual consideration in selecting proper defoliant.

However, if an EARLY HARVEST is desired before bad weather; if you desire to eliminate deterioration, loss of grade and a $20 to $50 "dock" per bale, elimination of hand labor and its uncertainties—and still get grades to or better than hand-pulled cotton, I can be of help to you.

Guaranteed Application	Competitive Prices: $2.50 - $3.00 Per Acre
-------------------------------	---

You are urged to inspect these plots, which have been defoliated. You can determine the effect of my defoliating methods. I can then be of help to you in making specific recommendations concerning the proper defoliant for your crop. Feel free to call without obligating yourself.

FLOYDADA WOMEN ATTEND WEDDING OF WICHITA COUPLE

Mrs. Tilford Taylor and Mrs. Nora Norris were in Wichita Falls on Saturday, September 25, and attended the wedding of Miss Elsie Pierce of Wichita Falls and Mr. Billy C. Largent of Pampa.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Pierce of Wichita Falls and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Largent of Pampa, also the grandson of Mrs. Nora Norris.

The wedding ceremony took place in the chapel of the First Baptist church.

Mrs. C. M. Meredith, sr., who has been convalescing at her home from a broken hip, contacted pneumonia Sunday. Relatives said that she was improving some Tuesday and the pneumonia was clearing up.

Others in the group are descendants of the Sunday school organizers, except for, in extreme background the present pastor of the church, Dr. R. Earl Allen. Since the picture was made Mrs. White and Rev. Muncy have passed on to their reward.

The Pioneers Had Faith!

It was a small band of Baptists who gathered at the two-room school house in Floydada in 1898 to organize the First Baptist Sunday school in the community. So that their children could have training in the way that they should go, they assembled under the leadership of their pastor. They laid a solid foundation on which the congregation has continued to build through good and bad years.

They showed their faith by their works. It can be said to their indomitable spirit and determination can be given credit for the great things which have followed on to the glory of the Master and the hastening of this October day. The congregation celebrates the 56th anniversary of that day with a ground-breaking for a church educational unit that is to be a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

This tribute to the Pioneers is made possible through the generosity of—

Bollworm Threat Studied

STATION, Texas—A spear points up Texas' enemy which has been a serious insect threat to the cotton industry.

The possible weapon is being studied by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station in cooperation with the Agricultural Research Branch of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The bollworm, which has been a pest for years, is now making its way across the state from the south.

The research program includes the use of chemical and biological methods to control the pest.

Mr. R. D. Lewis, Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, says that the bollworm has taken the southern cotton belt by storm.

The insect is the best control method for pink bollworm, he says. "Some chemical control is necessary, however, to give control. However, the insect's natural habits permit to apply chemicals to cotton bolls where worms are present."

In many areas treat seed cotton with insecticides to further spread of the worm. The insect is said to come from Mexico.

Research program now includes development of a sterilized stalk shredding machine which will kill a high percentage of pink bollworms present in the cotton.

Chemical engineers are in the process of building a sprayer to apply insecticides more effectively, reaching the base of the bolls and destroying the eggs.

Control of the insect because moths lay eggs in the base of bolls, sometimes at the edge of the calyx. As the moth they bore directly into the boll. If not killed the moths become moths.

The effort is being conducted in the research laboratories at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Physiological and physiological characteristics which might be applied to cotton plants to make them resistant to pink bollworm, and damage.

It is also thought that chemical compounds applied to cotton plants to make them resistant to pink bollworm, and damage.

Dr. Lewis says that the use of chemical compounds is being studied in the search for one which chemically terminate plant growth.

The same time stop development of future pink bollworm.

Some of any one or a combination of the tests would mean profits to Texas cotton farmers lost an estimated $28,000,000 during the 1951 season.

Weather prevented stalk shredding, allowing extra fall of cotton and a buildup of bollworm.

It is thought to be effective being tested thoroughly in the field.

CHAMPION MUDSLOGGER—Not even a sea of mud stops the Army's light tank, the Walker Bulldog. Here the 26-ton warhorse churns its way through one of the many obstacles on a test course at Cleveland, Ohio. On dry land, this powerful combat vehicle has a speed in excess of 40 miles per hour. It is manned by a crew of four and packs its Sunday punch in a 76-millimeter cannon.

Present research by the experiment station is being conducted in the Rio Grande Valley, at Port Lavaca and at College Station.

Curb And Gutter Case Dismissed

The charge that Doyle Mount and Tom Hutchins of the Wagon Wheel, new western store owners on highway 70 broke out curb and gutter in front of their store in violation of city ordinance, was dismissed in city court Wednesday morning.

After hearing evidence Mayor Patterson said it was insufficient to support the charge. Additionally it was pointed out the ordinance as adopted by the city council carried no penalty, the mayor said.

The ordinance of the city, passed at the insistence of the highway department when the 54-foot express way was constructed through the city limits, has been a matter of controversy between city authorities and property owners abutting the highway since the work started. The department engineers maintain the curbs are in the interest of public safety and, as the property of the public, should be protected by city authorities.

Capada Celebrates 3rd Anniversary Wed. October 6

Capada Drive-in theatre will celebrate its third anniversary Wednesday of next week, October 6, with a big party, at which free drinks will be served.

Other interesting plans are being made for the event, in addition to the thrill show, "Count the Hours."

This is a story of an innocent man condemned to die behind prison bars.

The special features will be in appreciation of the loyal support of the movie goers during the three years the drive-in has been in operation, Doyle Mount, manager, said.

ROSS - EYES

Ross-eyes is one of the distressing eye troubles which is unfortunate to have this error of life with a tremendous eye strain.

Ross-eyes is the result of failure of the eye muscles of the eyeball in such a way that each is directed to the same point at the same time.

Without nerves there could be no vision, without nerve impulses there could be no action, without nerve impulses there can be no thought. It is easy to realize abnormalities in these nerves would point directly to the affected parts.

Proper care can be of great benefit in the elimination of the strain to allow normal energy to the eyes, thus correcting the error.

NORMAL NERVE IMPULSES BEGET NORMAL VISION. NORMAL TENSION PERFORMS NORMAL FUNCTION, AND NORMAL FUNCTION IS THE ESSENCE OF HEALTH.

Follow Safety Rules; School Students Told

"Cross a street on careful feet." This should be the watchword of boys and girls who want to be safe in traffic, Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, president of the Texas Safety Association, and services advisor for the Gulf Oil Corporation, told the children of Texas today.

He was speaking in connection with the traffic safety program, Child Safety, which is being sponsored in Texas by the Texas Safety Association, the Texas Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council.

He told children that they can do a lot to prevent accidents on the nation's streets and highways by following safety rules.

"A driver who has to dodge a careless child may hit another car or a building, and cause a bad accident," Col. Tilley said. "Also, motorists sometimes can't avoid hitting a child who runs into the street unexpectedly, or rides a bicycle in an unsafe manner."

He listed the following safety rules for children to follow in traffic:

1. Obey all traffic officers, school patrols and traffic signs and signals.
2. Observe the rules learned in school about crossing streets safely and playing only in safe places.
3. When going to and from school, take the safest route.
4. If there are no sidewalks, walk on the left side of the road facing traffic.
5. Never use roller skates, tricycles, wagons or scooters in the street or road. They are for the sidewalk only.
6. When you ride a bike take the following safety precautions:
 - a. Ride with traffic and keep to the far right.
 - b. Never weave or stunt. Ride in a straight line.
 - c. When riding with others, ride in single file.
 - d. Don't carry passengers on your bike. Carry books and packages in a carrier.
 - e. In traffic obey all signs, signals and traffic laws.
 - f. Never hitch on to a passing truck, street car, automobile or any vehicle.
 - g. If you must ride at night, have a good light and rear reflector.
 - h. Keep your bicycle in good mechanical condition at all times.

'I Give You Texas' —Boyce House

Here and there over West Texas are a few crumbling ruins, marking the spot where a fort stood in frontier times. Doubtless many exciting and romantic events occurred in and around these outposts but only a few of the stories have survived. One is the story of two brothers.

They had enlisted in the Texas Rangers and were parting with their mother. She said to the older, "Jimmy, take good care of Dick and don't you come back without him." He promised her that he would look after his 17-year old brother and the two rode away.

The recruits were assigned to Fort Belknap. One day, a report came that a large band of Indians was committing depredations, so a force of 15 Rangers went on a scout, the brothers being of this number.

Five redskins were sighted and the Rangers gave chase. The leader, seeing that they were being led in between the walls of a canyon, shouted an order to turn back. But the command came to late, for dozens of Indians rose from hiding on both sides and behind the Rangers. The Texans fought furiously to escape from the ambush but only two were able to break through.

One was the older brother. He looked back and saw Dick fighting furiously on foot, for his horse had been killed. Using his clubbed rifle, the youth knocked a brave from his point pony and frantically attempted to seize the bride.

All this, James saw in an instant and there flashed into his mind the promise he had given when he left home. Determined to rescue his young brother or die with him, the Ranger spurred his horse into the midst of the conflict, shouted, "Dick, jump on!" and turned the animal. The brother sprang behind him and they lay as flat as possible while arrows and bullets sped at them as they dashed away. The horse was wounded three times but the courageous creature bore the two riders safely to the fort. Neither brother received a scratch.

The 12 men who were entrapped in the ambush were killed and scalped by the savages. The entire force of Rangers set out from the fort in pursuit, overtook the Indians on Top Mountain and avenged the deaths of their comrades by annihilating the redskins. The two brothers played a leading part in the battle.

When mustering out time came, James and Dick returned home safely; the former had made good his promise to their mother to take care of his younger brother.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

Wives tend to take good husbands for granted. They get so used to little kindnesses, to having "bossing" understood as "petting," and so on, they sort of forget how they may appear to strangers.

That's why it's good, once in a while, to have an overnight guest a man who knows the spouse well, but knows his wife hardly at all.

It really puts her on her mettle. Here's a man of about her husband's age, who has probably visualized what his friend's wife would look like (does she measure up, or is he disappointed?) He has a wife of his own and can just about figure the domestic picture over morning coffee (is she a good enough cook?).

He's a little homesick for his own family as bedtime draws near, and begins to make comparisons (does he feel sorry for his friend?).

The wife looks at herself critically, probably for the first time since the last house guest months ago: Does this stranger wonder why the spouse married me? Do I know too little, too much about my husband's work? Am I fat and dowdy? Skinny and sharp?

For a whole week then she mends his socks, looks to the buttons on his shirts, straightens his closet, turns down his bed. For a whole week she laughs at his jokes and takes care not to nag. Then it all blows over and life settles back into its comfortable pattern.

If good husbands could only see what happens inside good wives' minds when they import such an overnight guest, they'd never have another worry about keeping them in line. All a good man has to do is be sure that he is a good husband—and that he's got a good wife!

Dangling Wire Menaces Death

(By L. C. Meyer, Electric System Specialist, Accident Prevention Department, Employers Mutuals of Wausau)

It's too bad that a fallen wire doesn't have a little sign that pops out with "Do Not Touch" on it.

A wire on a rural line broke and fell near one end of a corn field. A device protecting this portion of the line automatically shut off the circuit. The property owner was cultivating corn, working his way slowly toward the fallen wire.

Not wishing to drive over it and perhaps damage it, he dismounted from his cultivator, picked up the end of the wire, carefully rolled it up and hung it over a fence post near a power pole to which it was attached.

He had no more than turned it loose and stepped away when this coil of wire suddenly became "alive" and arced and burned its way through all the strands of the woven wire fence.

Now let's go back and see what happened.

Our farmer friend wasn't the only one who had an interest in that fallen wire. The local power company had been notified that service in the area had been interrupted and promptly dispatched a repairman to investigate.

der. Judge Bellinger recognized the circumstances and caused the arrest of the man who had told the lad the story. The prisoner was Schultz.

Brought back to Texas, Schultz was tried and convicted. While in a Galveston cell awaiting the day of his execution, he said he would like to confess. He acknowledged the murder of the two settlers and also admitted several other cold-blooded killings in other states, of once being so close-pressed that he had escaped by crossing the Mississippi River in a canoe and joining the Murrell gang of robbers and cut-throats.

And he told of having killed Colonel Teal because, so the prisoner claimed, the officer had insulted him during an Indian campaign and he determined to get even.

Man Versus Insects A Continual Battle

Insects and disease are man's chief rivals for the food supply of the world, and nearly all injuries to plant life are caused by them. The competition between man and insects and diseases for ornamental and food bearing trees is unending. It has been increasingly recognized by the public, according to the National Arborist Association, which states that ornamental trees especially are getting more attention from their owners who wish to preserve their many values in comfort, beauty and welcome shade.

Many home owners, as well as municipalities are initiating special spraying programs to combat insects and diseases. The growth of spraying programs is due more to a awakened public interest than it probably is from an increase in insect problems, the association says. The Dutch Elm disease and Oak Wilt have been important factors in awakening public interest in shade trees and their proper care.

For practical purposes and examination of insect problems by arborists, insect pests can be divided into two groups, says the association. First come the chewing pests that eat the foliage or fruits, and second, are the sucking groups which pierce the outer layer of foliage or fruit and suck out the juices. The former are controlled by spraying insect stomach poisons on the foliage and the latter by poisons which kill insects upon contact with them.

Plant disease are another form of damage usually controllable by spraying. Professional advice of a trained arborist is advisable in learning the latest methods for controlling various types of plant insects and diseases. Many tree experts have a regular service for keeping shrubs and trees in healthy condition on home properties including pruning, spraying and fertilization.

Unaware of the actions of each other:

The farmer stopped his tractor at almost the same time the repair truck drew up some distance away. The farmer started to roll up the wire.

A repairman started to climb the pole to check the switch.

And the farmer had missed death by seconds!

Electricity is a relatively new miracle to many rural areas in the country. When handled properly it is, beyond any doubt, one of the wonders of the world. But it can become a deadly weapon when it isn't handled correctly, as the farmer almost found out. In order to protect yourself and your families there are a few simple procedures that should be followed at all times:

1. Consider every fallen wire as dangerous.
2. Keep a safe distance from any fallen wire.
3. Telephone wires and electric wires look the same—don't try to tell them apart.
4. Notify the proper authorities as soon as you spot a fallen wire.
5. If necessary, post a guard by the wire to keep others from coming into contact with it.

Open Ditch Water Distribution Adds Heavy Cost to Irrigation

(By W. L. Broadhurst)

On July 8 and 9, 1954, a test was made on the Joe D. Unfried farm near New Home in northwestern Lynn County to determine the loss resulting from running water in an open ditch from his irrigation wells to his field. Two wells were used in the study: well No. 1 is in the southwest corner of the quarter section and well No. 2 is 1,250 feet east of well No. 1. Water into the two wells was discharged and was diverted from the ditch to a field at a point approximately midway between the wells. Spouting flow meters were used to measure the discharge from the wells. A Parshall flume, which was furnished by the Soil Conservation Service and a two-foot rectangular weir were used to measure the discharge from the ditch to the field. The wells had been pumped 7 days and nights continuously into this same ditch before the test was started.

Well No. 1 is equipped with a 6-inch deep-well turbine pump and well No. 2 is equipped with a 4-inch deep-well turbine pump. The pumps are driven by small Allis Chalmers engines using butane for fuel.
 Well No. 1 produced 250 gallons a minute. The motor used 2.5 gallons of butane per hour. At 8 cents a gallon, cost for butane was 20 cents per hour or $4.80 for 24 hours. This unit used 1 quart of motor oil at 35 cents per quart and one pint of drip oil at 5 cents per pint. Total cost for butane and oil was $5.20 per day. Two hundred and fifty gallons a minute for 1,440 minutes in a day is 360,000 gallons a day at a cost of $5.20 equals 1.44 cents per thousand gallons.
 Well No. 2 produced 185 gallons a minute. The motor used 2.18 gallons of butane per hour. At 8 cents a gallon, cost of butane was 17 1/2 cents per hour or $4.20 per day. This unit also used one quart of motor oil at 35 cents per quart and one pint of drip oil at 5 cents per pint. Total cost for butane and oil was $4.60 per day. One hundred and eighty-five gallons a minute and eighty-five gallons a minute for 1,440 minutes in a day is 266,400 gallons a day at a cost of $4.60 equals 1.72 cents per thousand gallons.
 The combined discharge of the two wells (250 and 185) was 435 gallons a minute. Four hundred and thirty-five gallons a minute times 1,440 minutes in a day is 626,400 gallons a day divided by 326,829 gallons in an acre-foot per day pumped. In other words, the pumpage from the two wells was sufficient to cover 1.92 acres to a depth of one foot.
 The total flow from the 1,250 foot ditch at a point about midway between the wells was 366 gallons a minute. This indicated that evaporation and seepage loss from the ditch was 69 gallons a minute (3 1/2 gallons a minute for each 100 feet of ditch). Three hundred sixty-six gallons a minute times 1,440 minutes in a day is 526,940 gallons a day divided by 326,829 gallons in an acre-foot equals 1.61 acre-feet per day delivered to the field. The difference between the amount pumped (1.92 acre-feet per day) and the amount delivered to the field (1.61 acre-feet per day) was 0.31 acre-foot. The loss from this 1,250-foot ditch was 0.31 acre-foot or 3 1/4 inches over one acre every 24 hours.

 The cost of butane and oil was $9.80 per day to pump 1.92 acre-feet of water. The cost of pumping the 0.31 acre-foot that was lost was only $1.58 per day, but in 120 days it would amount to $189.60. This, however, is only an insignificant part of the loss.
 Mr. Unfried reported that the two wells were pumped an average of 120 days a year. If each day he loses from this 1,250-foot ditch enough water to put 3 1/4 inches on one acre of land, in 120 days he will lose enough water to put 12 inches on 37.5 acres. If the 37.5 acres would produce 3/4 bale of cotton per acre, that means a loss of 28 bales of cotton. If the cotton would net $50.00 a bale, it means a loss of $1,400 a year.
 If we add the $189.60 for butane and oil plus the $1,400 we did not produce, plus the extra wear and tear on the equipment, plus the cost of maintaining the ditch, plus the inconvenience of not being able to cultivate the field while the ditch is full of water, plus the additional time required to irrigate the field, his loss of 69 gallons a minute from the quarter mile of open ditch may exceed $2,000 a year.
 Wouldn't it mean extra dollars in your pocket and at the same time conserve water for the field? Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow E. Muleshoe, visited in the city home Sunday.

 Mrs. C. E. Milligan was in the past 23 days in bed, her health is able to be up and about.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

State Fair Time. When you speak of "the fair" you speak of the State Fair of Texas which had its beginnings in the late seventies and is only short of a decade and a half of being 100 years old. It once was not so big although the biggest in the United States for a quarter of a century or more. Pressmen and radio people have been guests of the fair for many years on the opening day in October. This year they are to be the same. However some of those who usually get publicity passes to see the opening day football spectacle will be out of luck this year. While the fair has been growing and the Cotton Bowl will accommodate nearly 80,000 people the pressure is so strong that the number of newspaper passes is being limited on the first come first serve basis. The press and the radio and television business has also grown since the fair started the practice of giving tickets, event on a limited basis. Big as the fair is it has its limitations. One of which is accommodating the press in the good old-fashioned way.

Fair Campaign Practices. A new committee or organization has been born in the east which has for its aim getting some of the mud-slinging, distortion and untruth out of the campaign this fall between the Democrats and the Republicans. Whether the thought is another born under the hat of some displaced press agent who needed a job, or whether it is not, the suggestion is intriguing. The committee, all incorporated and everything, will ask every candidate for office to sign a pledge to abide by "proper campaign ethics." Suppression of facts and playing on the fears and prejudices of voters would be taken out of the campaign. Everybody running for congress will get a chance to sign up. The spirit and kick would be left in the political campaigning. Only the dirt would be removed. Since this is a country now of pressure groups, a group that would press for truth in campaigning might not be amiss. It might, in the long run, keep the whole electoral system from being discredited.

The Pavement Gaps. So as to get our point of view in early instead of waiting so late that the mention of it will be no more than a gripe, we would like to express the hope that everywhere in the city that pavement is cut to make place for a new water or sewer line, the contractor or city or whoever is responsible, get such a good job of patching done that you can't tell where the cut was made. There has been some neglect and some consequent complaint in the past. Hard to get interest in paving among these Cadillac-minded people without having a hump in the pavement to remind them that "it wouldn't do any good."

People are growing up in the United States, or possibly it is just the point of view that is changing. There was a time when to be a golf player was to brand yourself as a member of the "smart set", and to belong to a "country club" was to make yourself above and beyond the common touch. So that, for instance, you would not do for governor, senator or president. Once not too many years ago an aspirant for governor lost a good many votes when it got out on him that he belonged to a country club. It was good politics for his opponent to play up the fact. Voters were allowed to look on him as a snob. He lost the race, though he might have lost, any how, of course. Now the president and everybody plays golf, and if the president should make a hole-in-one the executive press secretary would be the first to give out the good news.

Texans Sure Should take heed to "Beef-Vegetable Time," which begins today and lasts through October 9. In fact Texans should eat their vegetables and beef in the form of beef stew and learn to like it. The most plentiful things in Texas at the moment are beef and vegetables. The state has a tremendous lot of both that need to be taken off the surplus market. If we can't sell out of the hole possibly we can eat our way out.

National Fire Prevention week begins Sunday. With its recurrence we are reminded that our state's death toll could be cut in half if home were only the safe haven it is supposed to be. About 465 Texans burned to death last year. Of that number 300 were trapped inside their own homes by fire. More than 125 of these were children who either could not escape because proper exits were not provided, or else they had been left alone and could not get out without adult aid.

Don't leave children or aged people in the house alone. National Fire Prevention says also that Texas fire death toll could be reduced by more exits to bedrooms and proper ventilation. Gasoline, kerosene, open fires in the home are invitations to domestic disaster. The loss of a residence by fire is tragedy enough without adding a life for good measure.

Feed bills take a lion's share of the poultryman's money and if it is wasted by the hens, profits are cut. To prevent waste, use a water-proof type feed hopper and fill only to half capacity.

Farm fires last year took an estimated $139,-000,000 in property and 3,000 human lives in the United States. Fire prevention will be highlighted during the week of October 3-9.

Are American women the "luckiest women in the world?"

One hot morning recently, we went to a meeting with several of these so-called lucky ladies. We were to help with the club project. Many of them were pretty and vivacious and young; all were energetic and pleasant. Before we left, each had agreed to make one radio appearance, attend two evening rehearsals, make at least three trips downtown "arranging," and then give one full day to the project—all within two weeks.

It was the day the public schools opened, so most of the women had to "run by" the school after our meeting, to enroll Jackie or Sue or Bill. After that, one was off to luncheon and bridge. Then she would "run by" the grocery store to buy food to cook for a church supper that night.

One woman had got an early start—she took her first grader to school before coming to the meeting. Her car was stacked high with tables and chairs for a bridal supper she was giving that night. Some were dashing off with their husbands for a football weekend downtown. Some were having birthday parties for children, mamas, nieces. They were going to P-T-A, the beauty shop, the church. All in all, they were knocking themselves out with enough activities in a week to have satisfied their stay-at-home grandmothers for a year. As we watched and listened, we thought from the very "freedom" that is supposed to make her so lucky!

Yes, the American woman has been freed from the "drudgery" of the kitchen, the sewing machine and the laundry tub all right; but if she doesn't take care, she'll have ulcers and nervous breakdowns.

LIBRARY NEWS

(Ivy Pearl Reber, Acting Librarian)

Let me take you on a tour of the library today. Perhaps some of you have never had the opportunity to look it over. We will start with the reference shelf; it is nearest to the desk. This shelf covers a variety of subjects, from Grove's Dictionary of Music and Musicians to a Dictionary of Slang and Unconventional English. It helps to answer such questions as "Who was the Postmaster General in 1896?" Are there more Methodists than Baptists in the United States? and many others.

The adventure section is next on our list. It includes such old-time favorites as Robinson Crusoe and Moby Dick, and also many new books such as "Space Cadet". The ever popular horse and dog stories are also found in this group.

The Best-Seller table is almost always empty; that is, the books stay checked out most of the time. At the present time the library owns 18 of the books on the best-seller list in the New York Times. "Not As a Stranger" seems to be the best liked among them.

In the classified shelves we have books on philosophy, religion, social sciences, languages, pure science, useful arts, fine arts, literature, history, and travel. "How to Help Your Child in School" may be of interest to some parents this winter. Bentley's book of Wedding Etiquette is quite popular among the younger people. The Rivers of America is a very nice series of books on a historical theme.

Adult fiction is used more, perhaps, than any other part of the library. It includes mysteries by Erle Stanley Gardner, Mignon Eberhart, and numerous others. It ranges from very light fiction through historical novels and includes such things as Tolstoy's "War and Peace".

The biography shelf is growing steadily. "McCarthy and his Enemies" and "The Taft Story" are recent additions. Carl Sandburg's "Abraham Lincoln" is here also. Books for the pre-school children are on low shelves so that they can reach them. Books about Pilot Small, Timothy Turtle, and Flip the colt are best loved.

Juveniles have their own fiction, classified, and biography sections. Buffalo Bill, Kit Carson, airplanes, and mysteries struggle for supremacy among them. The library also has newspapers and magazines available for reference or just plain reading.

Come in, and I'll give you a "tour" in person.

Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Turner and Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Turner and son, Joe, of Dove Creek, Colorado, returned from Dallas recently where L. B. Turner had a check-up by his doctor. While there they also visited with friends and relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Rogers, Jr., of Lubbock, are the parents of a nine-pound son born Monday, September 20. The boy was named Daniel Lynn. His father is with the Lubbock police force. Grandparent is Mrs. D. F. Rogers of Floydada.

(By Vern Sanford)

AUSTIN, Texas—Texas insurance activity has boomed back into the news. This time it's a feud between the Board of Insurance Commissioners and Attorney Rene Allred, Jr. And it's destined for court action.

Flare-up between the board and Allred, attorney for the liquidating division, came after the board dismissed the attorney and hired Austin Attorney Emmett Shelton.

Allred refused to leave his post claiming that he was responsible to the courts which had approved him as attorney for Liquidator J. D. Wheeler.

He charged in a public letter to the commission that he had been discharged after he refused to delete the name of a commission employee from a suit he is to file. The suit is against persons connected in fraud charges involving the Texas Mutual Insurance Company of Beaumont.

The insurance board said it had never authorized the appointment of Allred. It also warned Wheeler that he would be considered "possibly liable" if he continues paying Allred's salary.

Board Chairman Garland A. Smith said that he felt the issue would be settled in court. The test is needed to clarify the law for the insurance industry and the public.

he said.

Would Disbar Laughlin
C. Woodrow Laughlin, 79th District Judge removed by the Supreme Court and later voted back in the July primary, faces a suit attempting to disbar him.

The State Bar Association filed the suit in Alice through Attorney Earl P. Hall of Austin. It contains 11 counts against Laughlin, similar to the 12 charges by attorneys responsible for his first ouster from the bench.

"I've been expecting this for two or three days," Laughlin said, when notified of the suit.

Decision as to whether the attorney, a central figure in Duval County controversies, is to be disbarred will be left to a judge and jury.

Negro Sues U of T
A 17-year-old Houston Negro, denied entrance at the University of Texas, has taken his case to Federal Court.

John Winfred Walker filed his case on behalf of other Negro students in the same situation.

Walker was turned down by the University on the basis of a policy that permits entrance of negro undergraduates only when their academic course cannot be pursued in the state's negro colleges.

Six Negroes have been turned down by the University this month. They planned to study engineering or architectural courses.

State Orphanage Home
Cossicana Home, 65-year-old state orphanage, should be kept in operation, ex-students of the orphanage have told state officials.

Twenty-one ex-students, including Robert W. Calvert, Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, presented their written petition to the State Board of Hospitals and Special Schools.

The Texas Research League had recommended abolishing the orphanage and placing orphans in foster homes.

The board said it has no present intention of abolishing the home.

State Colleges Need More
Texas colleges need $3 million more next year to provide first class education for students, recommendations of a state committee warn.

Finance committeemen of the Texas Commission on High Education, created by the legislature, made the report after checking 18 state-supported colleges.

The money is needed to raise the quality of education during the school year 1935-36. The commission also recommended $15 million more for major repairs during the period.

At present the colleges are raising about $7 million per school year through tuition and other sources, the commission said.

State Hospital Appropriations
Texas have been urged to request their legislative representatives to support appropriations for state hospitals.

Dr. James A. Sethes, administrator for the board, said his department is due to seek an increase of at least $1 per day per patient for care of the mentally ill and $2.85 a day per patient for tubercular cases.

At present the state is spending $2.01 daily per patient for mental cases and $4.15 a day for TB patients. State hospitals are now caring for 25,000 wards with 6,000 employees.

Bethes said the increased appropriations are being asked for the biennium starting Sept. 1, 1935.

Texas Draft Quota Down
Texas' draft quota for November is good news to 60 Texans somewhere. That's the number short of the previous draft call for October.

Quota for November is 1,062. A total of 2,566 men are scheduled to take physical and mental exams during the month. October exams will call 2,630 men. State Selective Service Director Paul L. Wakefield announced.

Walker Appointed By Governor
Governor Allan Shivers has announced the appointment of Zuel C. Walker, Cleburne attorney, as associate justice of the State Supreme Court. Walker will replace the late Graham B. Smedley.

Appointment of Walker, as well as naming of 10 district judges and two district attorneys by the governor, followed nominations of the state Democratic convention at Mineral Wells.

Well-Balanced Offense Over Spur Bulldogs 27-6

Watson and Cleveland's team proved themselves as a well-balanced offense Friday night as they rolled to a 27-6 victory over the Spur Bulldogs. The Bulldogs' offense was stifled by the well-balanced attack of the visiting team. The Bulldogs' defense was out of sync, and the Spur offense was in full control. The game was a display of football fundamentals, with the Spur team showing superior execution in both offense and defense.

was short lived however as a fumble in the backfield set the ball free and Spur gained possession on the 39. The Bulldogs advanced the ball to the 49 before they were forced to punt and McAteer booted to Stephens on the Floydada 5. Stephens returned to 30 with the punt before going down.

Floydada advanced the ball only ten yards to their 49 before they called on their punter, Waldo Baxter, who kicked to Alton Williams on the Spur 25. Williams returned the kick to the Spur 37.

Make 63-Yard March

Taking the ball first and ten on their own 37 Spur put on a 63 yard goalward march that netted them the first score of the game when McAteer scored from the one. The attempted kick by McAteer with Vickers who charged through to knock it down. Featured in the Spur touchdown drive was some fine passing by quarterback Williams that found the Whirlwind defense sagging on several occasions.

The Winds then put on their first offensive show of the game when they drove the ball from their own 20 to the Spur 9 before a fumbled ball bounced free and was recovered by Spur on the 1 yard line.

The Bulldogs drove out only to their 14 before they lost possession when Williams fumbled and Stephens regained possession for Floydada. The Winds then drove in to the 2 before Jackie Jarrett plunged over the first Floydada score. Joiner's kick was good and the Winds went ahead 7-6 to take a lead they never lost through out the remainder of the game.

Before the intermission the Winds had held Spur for downs on their 45 and forced them to punt. The kick went out of bounds on the Floydada 21 from which point the Winds put the ball in play. This touchdown drive featured a 50 yard run by Jarrett and was climaxed by a 13 yard pass from Waller to Jack Womack for the tally. Joiner's kick was blocked. Score Floydada 13 - Spur 6.

Good Defensive Play
Before the half ended Spur put on another brilliant drive that carried to the Floydada 12 but determined defensive play on the part of the Whirlwinds held the threat in check and the Winds owned the ball on their own 17 yard line as the half ended.

The third quarter was a slambang affair with both sides shooting the works, but neither hitting pay dirt. Floydada put on an eighty-yard drive that carried to the Spur one yard line where the ball went over on downs. Jarrett was robbed of another TD when he drove down the middle for nine yards only to have the play called back for a penalty.

Before the period ended, however, Floydada started a drive that was to pay off in the final period. Taking a Spur punt on the 32 yard line the Winds started marching goalward and early in the fourth quarter after a 68-yard drive Waller went through from the one for the score and then held the ball as Joiner converted to bring the count to 20-6.

Second Fourth Quarter TD
Swanner's kickoff went sharply to the right and was short as the Winds put the ball back in play. Robert Stovall went down fast and with some heads up play was able to recover for Floydada before the bouncing ball went out of bounds. The recovery gave the ball to Floydada on the Spur 38.

From this point the Whirlwinds drove in to the Bulldog 13 where Stephens added the finishing touches when he started around his own right end, cut back and went the distance. Joiner's kick was good again. Score 27-6.

The Bulldogs threatened two more times before the game ended. McAteer almost broke into the clear on the kickoff but was downed by Waller on the Floydada 37. The Winds defense again rose and held but a fumble shortly afterwards gave Spur the ball on the 31 and they headed goalward again. This time racing the clock they tried to move through the air but time ran out before they were able to test their strength again and the game ended with a 27-6 count favoring Floydada.

Statistics of the Game

In the statistics the Winds racked up 20 first downs to 14 for Spur, total yards gained on offense for FHS was 494 yards to 254 yards for Spur. Of this yardage the Winds gained 318 yards rushing and 86 yards passing while Spur gained 126 yard rushing and 128 yards passing. The Whirlwinds were penalized a total of 30 yards and the Bulldogs a total of 19 yards. The punting average minus the run-backs showed FHS with a 23 yard average and Spur with a 26 yard average. Waller connected on 4 of 5 passes while Spur passers hit on 9 of 17. Marvin Rucker turned a fumbled ball by the Winds into a 7 yard gain when he pounced on the bounding pig hide to keep a drive going.

A fine defensive game was turned in by most all of the Whirlwind team. Pass defense against the Bulldogs was a little leaky at times.

In individual yardage gained Jackie Jarrett was high man with 126 yards in 14 trips for an 85 yard average. J. E. Waller took the runner-up spot with 92 yards in 20 trips for a 4.6 yard average. Longest gainer for Spur was McAteer with 35 yards in 11 runs.

Winds credited with the largest number of stops in defensive play were Stanley Vickers, Glad Norman and Robert Stovall.

Starters for Floydada were Bobby Carmack, Cloyd Stephens, Robert Stovall, Gene Swanner, J. E. Waller, Jack Womack, Keith Marble, Jackie Jarrett, Marvin Rucker, Gary Carthel, and Stanley Vickers.

District Teams Win Two, Lose 3

District 2A failed to break even again this week as they won two games while dropping 3. The two winners, Floydada and Olton, continued to look strong. Three teams in the district have failed to win a game and continue to sink in the regional ratings.

Tulla is believed to have a fairly strong ball club, but is developing a little slower than expected and has had a rather rough schedule. Little is known here of the strength of the Muleshoe team. They have been beaten by two good ball clubs and dropped one to class A Sudan.

Lockney is in the midst of their most dismal season in recent years. The Longhorns young team may not develop in time to win many games this season, but will probably be strong within the next year or two. District play gets underway October 22.

ONE STAR Agriculture

Released by The Texas Department of Agriculture

COTTON PRICE OUTLOOK

Cotton growing is always a gamble. But if the Texas farmer can afford to gamble a little more than usual this fall, then he may find the odds for getting a good price are better now than anytime since 1950.

Drouth and limited cotton acreages have cut 1954 production prospects down below the amount expected to be used by domestic and export consumers. As a result, cotton farmers may find they have a "seller's market" for the first time in four years. This could be especially true of better grade cotton.

Domestic and export demand for cotton is expected to exceed the predicted 1954 crop by nearly 2 million bales. Total U. S. production is forecast at about 11,832,000 bales. Consumption is predicted at 13,700,000 bales. If this holds true, then textile mills may have to buy from Commodity Credit Corporation reserves to meet their needs.

A farmer with a new crop of cotton has a more desirable product than this stored surplus. Furthermore, the interest and storage charges on CCC reserves should tend to make manufacturers seek out the new crop first.

The spread between this year's crop and the expected demand may become even wider. Texas production on September 1, was estimated at 3,375,000 bales compared to 4,317,000 last year. But the drouth is deteriorating dry land cotton rapidly and this figure is already out of date. There is no accurate way of estimating just how much less the crop will be.

In such a situation, cotton prices could ordinarily be expected to firm up to between 38 and 40 cents before the year is out. The dollar value farmer, then, should seek out the very best market for his cotton and not be over anxious to sell too quickly unless it is really necessary.

Plains Boy Scout Council Has Development Camp Haynes As a Major Goal for Coming Year

Outcome of the annual... funds in the 20-county area will depend whether... develops Camp Haynes... Silverton the ensuing... J. M. Willson, Jr., vice... the council... has the plans all... develop the 80-acre tract.

just awaiting the funds to carry on the project.

The tract was given to the Council by the late John Haynes in memory of his mother in 1942. The camp is located in a huge canyon area, beautiful because of the roughness of the terrain and because of the contrasting coloring of trees and rocks. The Little Red River runs through the canyon and the Scout Council has a fine dam which has created an excellent water area for fishing and boating.

The camp will serve the boys of the Council as an advanced short term, overnight and week-end camping area. The plans for development call for three developed troop campsites, each capable of handling 36 Scouts and leaders at a time.

Campaign Goal Is $100,000
But the development will depend on the success of the annual campaign for operating funds in the 20-county area in October and November. The total construction cost is estimated conservatively at $7,000 at the campsite. This figure will be included in the Council's campaign for its regular operating budget this fall. Total campaign goal, according to Joe T. Salem, president of the South Plains Council, is $100,000.

W. R. Sewell of Lubbock is chairman of the Council's finance committee; and Ray Mowery of Texas Tech is chairman of the overall operating and capital development part of the entire program.

Willson Lectures At OCU Next Week

Dr. Louis Hadley Evans, nationally renowned Presbyterian minister, will appear on the campus of Oklahoma City University September 27-October 1 through the sponsorship of the Willson lectures.

The Willson Lectures were established at OCU in 1952 by Jim Willson, Floydada lumberman, who gave $15,000 to the university to endow the project. The Willsons have set up similar lecture-ships at other schools over the southwest. This year the Willson Lectures are being held in conjunction with the Oklahoma Methodist Pastors' school. Consequently Dr. Evans will be speaking twice daily to students ministers, and visiting lay people from all over Oklahoma.

Dr. Evans, minister-at-large of the Board of National Missions of the Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A., has served as the Willson lecturer on other college campuses the past several years.

For 12 years, Dr. Evans served as pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Hollywood which was then the largest Presbyterian church in the world. He has been written up in "Life Magazine" as one of the twelve outstanding religious leaders in America.

He is the author of "Youth Seeks A Master"; "The Kingdom Is Yours"; and other publications. Mr. and Mrs. Willson are expected to be on the OCU campus next week for the lectures.
