Floydada's Medical Facilities Adequate, Study Discloses

Floydada has better medical facilities than most communities of this size was one of the points brought out at the Chamber of Commerce Health and Safety committee meeting on Thursday.

The committee was told that hospital facilities were adequate and that most patients who took advantage of the hospitals in Floydada were pleased with the service.

The group did not find that there was any special local health hazard that needed investigation. However, the town needed a good clean up, they said.

Crews Are Alerted To Harvest Onions

Rain, Hail Wind Batter County

Only harvesting of this week so far reported, has come from the onion fields. A crew sent onions through the sorting machines at the Q.A. & P. vegetable sheds, all from the fields of L. D. and Jim Simpson.

4TH O' JULY MONDAY

Except for the houses that directly serve the planting-weary Floyd county farm operators, Floydada business establishments generally will observe Independence day, July 4th, as a holiday.

Government offices, county and city offices will be closed as well as bank and post office, department stores and shops.

It will be the first break for many employees since the first of the year although numerous establishments observed Memorial day.

Most of the implement houses will be forced by circumstances to keep their forces, or a part of them at least, alerted for service to field machinery, some of which will be harvesting, some planting and some cultivating.

MORE DUE TODAY

Assuming there is no more rain over-night workers will resume gathering the onions again today in a limited way, and two or three other fields will open up tomorrow.

The sorters and graders are due to have heavy runs as soon as the weather will permit.

L. D. Simpson, who had onions at the sorting sheds Monday, said they were having the hail-damaged crop culled closely and offering only as commercial grade. He said about 30 per cent of the crop out of this hauled out field was being culled.

The commercials have a slight bruise, the culls a more pronounced bruise, but all are sound and they will keep well.

Naturally the growers are hunting a market for the culled onions. Commercial and No. 1 onions are expected to find a ready market.

Excellent onions offered last year from Floydada is making the local crop this year sought after.

"If we can build up a reputation for a good product we'll have easier selling in the future," was Simpson's comment. Nor was he critical of the rain situation that slowed down the harvest.

"We like the rain and have no complaint. We'll have dry weather enough to gather our crops," he thinks.

10 OR 15 CROPS

In all there are 10 or 15 fields, large and small, from which the onions will go to market from this county this season. This is almost double the number of growers over 1954.

Approximately 100 acres of onions have been hail-damaged to date. The acreage of undamaged onions as of Wednesday was something upward of 250 acres.

The area apparently grows superior onions and the market is not glutted with offerings at this time.

HARVEST WHEAT

Reports of rain, hail, wind and storm damage which would leave the idea that the county was blanketed with ill fortune, is belied by the fact that combines last week-end operated in the Barwise area. Friday there was a big day's run at the elevators there.

USS - LST Will Be Re-Named 'Floyd County' in Ceremonies at San Diego

The USS Floyd County will be one of the ships of the nation's navy to carry the flag across the oceans and take its place in the far-flung line of defense for America's shores.

Ceremonies re-designating the USS LST-762 the "USS Floyd County" will be held Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in San Diego Bay.

It will honor six Floyd counties which dot as many states in the union—Floyd county, Texas, Floyd county, Kentucky, Floyd county, Virginia, Floyd county, Iowa, Floyd county, Georgia, and Floyd county, Indiana.

News that the re-naming ceremonies will be held was received by O. M. Watson, jr., manager of Floydada Chamber of Commerce, last week-end.

Commanding Officer John A. Bachert, Lieutenant, USN, extended an invitation to "senior county officials" of Floyd county to attend the re-naming ceremony on board the ship.

Similar invitations were sent to Rome, Georgia, New Albany, Indiana, Charles City, Iowa, Prestonsburg, Kentucky, and Floyd, Virginia, county seats of the other five Floyd counties.

County Judge W. E. Grimes, who wired regrets that none of the Floyd county officials could be present, also advised that Royace A. Maddox, of Ventura, California, had been commissioned to represent Floyd county in the ceremonies.

Maddox was reared in Floyd county. He is a son of Mrs. J. R. Maddox of Floydada and the late deceased Sheriff J. R. Maddox. For 20 years he has been a restaurant operator at Ventura. His most recent visit to the home-town and relatives here was in early May.

Maddox has consented to take part in the ceremonies, journeying from Ventura, 200 miles distant from San Diego, to do the honors for his home county.

THE FLOYD COUNTY HESPERIAN

Published by the Hesperian Publishing Co., Inc., at 212 South Main St., Floydada, Texas. HOMER STEEN, Editor.
THURSDAY, JUNE 30, 1955

Established 1896 by Congress as second class mail matter at Floydada, Texas. Under the act of Congress 1897.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ VIEWS AND COMMENT ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

Charles City Is the county seat of Floyd county, Iowa, Rome is the county seat of Floyd county, Georgia, and New Albany county seat of Floyd county, Indiana. Two other states in the nation, besides Texas, have a Floyd county. They are Kentucky, where the county seat of Floyd county is Prestonsburg, and Virginia, where the county seat of Floyd county is Floyd. This makes six in all, counting Floyd county, Texas. This information came to light last week-end when the Chamber of Commerce began looking it up to see what other towns might be represented Saturday in the re-naming of the USS LST 762 in San Diego Bay, California. The Floyds evidently were well-represented in the early-day history of the nation and they had a way of getting around. The Floyd county, Texas, Floyd was a Kentuckian who came to Texas to "fight for his rights." He fell in the ill-fortuned battle of the Alamo.

Quite a novelty, the experience of "open house" at the Post Office. And quite a number of people saw how the machinery of the post office operates in serving them. Postal rules permit nobody but employees behind the partition that separates the work shop from the lobby except under certain conditions. A very good idea, whoever had it, to give the people a glimpse of their post office from the inside. It is laid out for a workshop. The way it is laid out the men who handle the job can do their job so fast you can hardly mail enough mail to swamp them.

Price-Cost Squeeze. The continued downward trend in farm prices coupled with the upward surge in production costs are making it a bit more difficult each year for the farmer to realize a profit from his operations. Attention has been called to this fact time and again by men whose voices should be heard in big business circles. The pattern is one which is not calculated to result in too good a national pattern of well-being. Too many urban people do not understand what is being done to the rural areas.

Land Prices Up. The ready-made (by drought) depression which has gripped much of the farm lands of the country has made it difficult for a considerable portion of the home-farm operators of the country to hold on awaiting favorable conditions. While irrigated farm land operators have done well these others have been able to keep on going only due to a quite unusual circumstance. Their land values have been rising so they have been able to keep borrowing more money against it to hold on to their equities, hoping for a run of more reasonable weather.

Texas' New Laws. Governor Shivers last week-end approved the last of the new laws which go into effect in Texas the next ninety days. They vary all the way from local bills of various natures to such matters as the organization and control of insurance companies, and the adoption of additional taxes to meet the demands of eleemosynary institutions, highways, schools and added pensions for the aged and disabled. A new farm to market road bill was included in the list, we understand, can become operative beginning next year. Hundreds of bills affecting only one or two cities and towns, or areas were in the hopper. The high plains weed control bill which affects only counties in this area and northward was among these.

Despite the development of many improved varieties, sweetclover, one of the oldest soil building legumes, remains the most widely adapted and recommended for use in Texas.

Brazos Valley Maize. Maize, when it was introduced into the United States in the early nineties through the research of the Chilled Experiment station, was looked down upon as a lowly importation. So far as the markets of the world were concerned it was indeed. But it did a good job for pioneering settlers in the broad plains country. It was adopted quickly. By 1900 you could find it in any western county that had any farming at all. Settlers who rolled in from the east in increasing numbers had a lot of contempt for it. Their horses could hardly stand it. They wanted corn. It was even rumored that maize was the cause of blind staggers among horses. Now the crop has been adapted to climes even as low and humid as way down on the Brazos, where it used to blight. And it is shipped for food to all parts of the globe. The thought occurs to us that it better had been shipped. A few loads of it are going to hit the plains market unless the signs fail, beginning in September.

Where Public improvements are wisely made they become permanent betterments of a community, and, regardless of the kind of "times" we have—good or bad—in the ensuing years, the community has the advantage of them, and they can't be taken away by the varying fortunes of business. This viewpoint seems to be taken generally in this school district, where the need for an additional school plant, and provisions for modernizing those already on hand are contemplated by the board of education. All local taxes are deductible from federal income tax, so they say, and in this respect at least, do not represent an added load to the taxpayers' liabilities.

Probably research has been going on for some time on the problem of the joint-crippling disease, but we have never noted a popular movement for a publicly-endowed campaign of research and the like. In Cancer Crusade, Heart Fund and others, the problem is publicized and dramatized to arouse the ordinary citizen. There must be a way to solve the problem of gnarled joints with their attendant miseries. Arthritis has millions immobilized, in wheel chairs, homes and hospital beds throughout the land. Not only these but the other myriads who grit their teeth and carry on though in constant, terrific pain. Solution of the problem of how to get stiffened joints back into use would bring about much happiness and renewed hope into as many homes as any other one accomplishment that scientists could work out.

Bindweed can be controlled on large acreages of cropland through competitive cropping, intensive cultivation and the use of 2,4-D. These are findings of Texas Agricultural Experiment Station workers. Other details of bindweed controls are given in a new station Bulletin 802 and it's available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station.

The American appetite for cheese has more than tripled during the past 30 years. Consumers have a choice of about 18 cheese types including many with foreign origins. Cheese provides a concentrated source of many needed nutrients.

Poultry raisers are finding it pays to "pamper" their birds during the hot summer months. It helps keep feed conversion high and production and profits up. "Pamper" in this case refers to good summer management of the laying flock.

A real friend is a friend who understands us and still is. — Anon.

Farm Price — Cost Squeeze

Texas farmers, plagued by a continuous downward trend in farm prices, are being confronted with still another economic obstacle; higher production costs.

Misleading reports of stabilizing farm prices fail to justify inevitable increases in farm equipment prices brought about by higher city wages and higher manufacturing costs.

Farm prices do, of course, show signs of more steadiness, but with present prices running about five percent below those of a year ago and higher costs on the horizon, any gain the farmer might expect to make is rapidly being cancelled out.

Some of this added cost can be avoided by careful spending and planning equipment purchases and on-farm construction ahead of time. Increased steel prices are bound to signify higher costs for finished farm equipment—probably by fall.

Thus, our farmers might do well to plan purchases now of plows and other heavy machinery, building materials, wire, fencing, and like products which may be subjected to increases later in the year.

An anticipated congressional boost in the national minimum wage might turn out to be a paradox to the farmer, who will probably notice an increased demand for his products on one hand and higher prices for things he must buy on the other.

This further tightening of the farm price-cost squeeze will not be comfortably relaxed until we are assured of fair parity prices to give the farmer a return for his commodities in proportion to his costs for equipment and production.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Galloway and family had as their guests last week Mrs. Galloway's parents, Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Dick, of Lubbock.

We Salute You, ERNEST CARTER, as a Great Life Insurance man

We salute you, ERNEST CARTER, for the tremendously fine job you continue to do day by day, month by month, and year by year. And we congratulate you on your many achievements—and the many honors which have come your way during your long career of insurance service to the people of Floydada and Floyd County.

We can't list all your achievements and honors here (Homer Steen and the Hesperian people might not allow us that much space) but we do want to note a few:

There's the Texas Leaders Round Table. Word has just been received of your reelection to membership in this exclusive group of Texas' top salesmen.

You were Man of the Month for May as you led the Company's entire field force in both life insurance and accident and health insurance sales. You helped immeasurably in earning Agency of the Month honors for your branch office at Lubbock. You are now in the Top Five leaders club for all sales for 1955!

You have always been a member of the Company's Honor Clubs and you have never failed to earn for yourself and Mrs. Carter the trips to the Company's conventions for the leading salesmen.

You now have more than TWO MILLION DOLLARS in life insurance in force—TWO MILLION DOLLARS worth of living estates for the people you serve. In addition you have accumulated hundreds and hundreds of your friends' protection they need against loss of income from illness and accident and the money they need for their hospitalization expenses.

You have graduated from all the Home Office schools, you have completed pertinent correspondence courses and you have finished the special insurance instruction at SMU's Institute of Insurance Marketing. No one is better equipped to give intelligent insurance advice.

You will finish 15 years with Great American Reserve on July 25, 1955. Your three diamond service pin will attest that fact to all whom you meet.

All these things we appreciate, Ernest. We salute you for the great good you have done for clients, your Company—and for yourself! We have a lot more pleasant years together!

Rev. Krebs preached both morning and night at the chapel. Sunday night was Rev. Krebs' last sermon to preach as pastor for the church. Brother Krebs isn't well and his family left Monday morning for the coast where he will take a rest for awhile. We do not know who will be our pastor.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown of Witharal, and Richard and Barbara Tucker of Modesto, California, attended services at the chapel Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Brown are the parents of Mrs. Krebs. Richard and Barbara Tucker are nephew and niece of Mrs. Krebs.

G. L. Snodgrass was ill Saturday and Sunday. We understand he is going to Lubbock this Monday morning to see a doctor.

Wesley Carr was also ill Sunday. Rev. Krebs and family were supper guests in the Mather Carr home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Rutherford and Mrs. Dyson of Floydada accompanied 35 Rainbow girls to El Paso Tuesday to attend Grand assembly. They returned home Saturday night. They reported a grand time but were very tired.

The most sad news came to us. We received word that R. E. Walser died suddenly Wednesday, June 22, of a heart attack. He was the husband of the former Frances Wingham. He was a farmer at Chillicothe when he passed away.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(Nellie Witt Spikes)

"And he did that which was right in the sight of the Lord and walked in the ways of David. . . 2nd Chronicles 34:2.

Grandpa Wheeler can have these words said about him, as did Josiah. He loved God and had always walked in His ways. Eighty-nine years he lived on this earth and made it a better place by his righteous living. He saw Texas when it was brand new to the settlement of Americans. He knew the hard times after the Civil War. He knew the good taste of corn pone baked in a fireplace. . . he knew the feel of rope lines in his calloused hands as he drove a mule down a cotton row. . . he knew the heat and sweat of putting up prairie hay in Lamar county. . . but always he knew the house plains of God and attended its services.

He loved the vast plains of Crosby county. . . he labored in the fields and rested at the close of the day, always remembering to give thanks to God. . . now he is at rest, at home with the Father he so well served and loved.

What a heritage he left to all who knew him! If he had left a million acres of this rich farming land, it would not have been near so much as what he left. Integrity, love, understanding, faithfulness; fruits of the spirit. But as the heirs of a million acres would have to care and plan and farm the million acres, so the ones grandpa left to inherit the fruits of his good life will have to cultivate and live right to benefit by his example. For his wife, who stayed by his side some sixty-eight years, whom I love and admire, these lines:

"E'en for the dead I will not bind my soul to grief; Death cannot long divide, For is it not as though the rose that climbed my garden wall Has blossomed on the other side? Death doth hide, But not divide; Thou art but on Christ's other side! Thou art with Christ and Christ with me; In Christ united still are we." Walter and Maude Powell. Mr. Spikes and I sat the storm out with a dim little light from a candle as comfort in the dark. At one time the house shook on the foundation, the dishes clattered in the cabinet, the floor shook under our feet.

Then about two minutes of deadly calm that was even more frightening than the gusts of wind, for we expected the worst might follow. But the deadly hail that cut like silver swords was the thing that paralyzed me. Pound and slash, some like big rocks, others small but persistent in their aim at every living thing, crippling and destroying as the lightning made it gleam.

Wilma says early every tree in town has either had an operation or is wearing a crutch or is staked out like a horse on the prairie.

Dead leaves rustled as if winter had struck them down. The Arizona cypresses leaned far to the south and oozed resin all down their bodies as an animal loses blood.

Paul was so proud of some thirty guineas he had at the farm. That afternoon he had witnessed a battle between their mother, a Northwest-ern chicken hen and a guinea chicken and her mate. The guineas stole the babies, hovered them in a rain the day before. But the chicken hen the next day struck like feathered fury and got back her babies, only to have all but five blow away in the wind.

We had a nice letter from Harve and Naomi Harris. They sent a story of Harve's life which we have enjoyed reading. In it we find much help to meet the situation now. Harve and Naomi had to quit the land they had in New Mexico and go here and there, "from one boom to another," Harve put it.

"The next seventeen years I wore out eight new trucks. We had many ups and downs, mostly downs. I sold fruit in practically every town in West Texas, all over New Mexico, Arizona, Colorado, Arkansas, Oklahoma and South Texas to the gulf. Just from one boom to another. Part of the time I made good money and at times very little."

Naomi took her children back to the ranch and Harve still trucked. Sickness, the depression, death, fire. . .

"I was fifty, almost, at that time, the best part of life gone. We had six children. I was in the worst shape financially than I had ever been."

"My home was burned, my mother-in-law burned to death, my wife and son in Lubbock hospital with burns,

I had no money. I owed all over the country, undertaking bills, grocery bills, drygoods bills, doctor bills, a loan on our home.

"Cattle was very cheap, we had a few sheep, they were a dollar a head, my truck almost beyond repair. But I remembered the old saying, there is hope where there is life. It is a long road that never changes. A winner never quits, and a loser never wins."

Naomi kept the children in school, Harve trucked. The ranch was stocked with good cattle, a few at a time. Harve and Naomi sent their children to college. Now they have a beautiful home in Tatum and do a bit of traveling. They say they never forgot God and He was their strength and comfort.

Harve says their experiences were like the ones of Job in the Bible.

What a lesson in keeping on even tho the way seemed hopeless. Pass on this lesson to your children, turn to God for strength and remember, "A Winner Never Quits, A Loser Never Wins."

 (By Mrs. J. E. Green)
CENTER, June 28—We had another good rain last night and this morning. We got at least three inches in all. We are also thankful that there was no hail with it. This will make the crops grow—also the weeds. The farmers sure have worked hard this year, replanting or killing weeds.
 We had a good crowd at church Sunday, but the Sunday evening dust storm narrowed down the evening congregation considerably. Bro. Tom Wesson of Wayland college preached. He and his wife and two children, Judy and Terry were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Frizzell.
 The G. W. Denisons went to Lubbock Thursday where they enjoyed a family get together at the home of their son Gilmer Denison and family. Present also was the other son, C. W. Denison, jr., and family of Brownfield, and all enjoyed a barbecue supper in the back yard. The guests returned home that night.
 Relatives of the T. R. Nolands who visited them one day last week were Mrs. A. M. Hughes and daughter Linda and a girl friend, Sara Leonard all of Edmond, Oklahoma.
 The T. R. Noland family went to Olton Tuesday evening where they attended the wedding at the First Baptist church uniting in marriage Rev. John Watt and Miss Doris Gray. Miss Gray and Ima Jean Noland were friends in Wayland college and Ima Jean was one of the bridesmaids.
 Mr. and Mrs. Earl Huckabee and Sandra made a trip to Lubbock Tuesday.
 Mr. and Mrs. Carter Welborn from Tennessee visited Monday in the J. D. Welborn home.
 James Robertson of Amarillo called Monday at his parent's home, the J. R. Robertsons.

 In a regular meeting Tuesday night at the Rebekah lodge, the retiring noble grand, Carolyn Hammit, presented the lodge with a beautiful altar scarf made of pink lace over slipper satin, the lodge emblems embroidered on the ends. She also presented four China candle holders for the altar bearers.
 In return for the many nice things she has done for the lodge during her term of office she was presented a lovely nylon night gown from the lodge.
 Tuesday night, July 5, will be installation for the new officers.
 Mrs. Ora King, lodge deputy, gave a school of instruction in the form of contesting sides. It was enjoyed by the group.
CENTER H. D. CLUB
 The Center Home Demonstration club met with Mrs. Woodrow Wilson on Friday, June 24. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Allen, who was ill, Mrs. Jordan presided.
 The member for the "medical check list" part of the program was sent to Lubbock for a check up, so maybe she'll tell us about it all next time.
 Mrs. Wilson gave the demonstration "Children's part in Handling Income" which was very interesting and enlightening. "The Tea with Lemons" was postponed till July 8 at Mrs. Burton's, when we hope our women will not be so busy.
 Punch, sandwiches and cokes were served to Mmes. J. B. Jordan, Earl Huckabee, J. E. Green, Misses Sandra Huckabee, Dee Ann Wilson and the hostess, Mrs. Wilson.
 Mrs. Leon Hart of Friona visited in the home of her mother, Mrs. W. A. Amburn and other relatives during the week-end.

Fragile Male Is Outdone By Sturdy Female
 Pity the fragile male—outnumbered, outwitted, and outdone by the sturdier female! And now the Bureau of Economic Research of the American Medical Association indicates that his is the more hospitalized sex.
 Is the female biologically more resistant to disease and death than the male? Is the male shortening his life by greater aggressiveness, greater exposure to stress and disease, or by ignoring the laws of health? Can anything be done to reduce male mortality? These questions merit study.
 It has been assumed that women are biologically more resistant to disease and death. The birth and death rates for males have always been higher than those for females. There are also striking sex differences in causes of death. The incidence of death from carcinoma of the lung is four and a half times as high for men as for women; for peptic ulcer it is four times as high; for suicide and homicide three times as high; for tuberculosis and syphilis two times as high; and for poliomyelitis 50 percent higher. Twenty-five times as many men die of arteriosclerotic heart disease before the age of 40 years as women.
 If the difference in longevity of men and women was due solely to the biological superiority of the female, the difference in death rate should remain constant. Actually the death rate for females has declined more rapidly than for males; the difference in life expectancy between the white American males and females has increased from 1.9 years in 1900 to 7.2 years in 1953.
 Men are probably shortening their own lives. Their greater aggressiveness and greater responsibilities result in more worries, stress, and contact with infectious diseases and physical dangers. Women are more likely to release pressures through tears, rest when they feel poorly, consult their physicians early when ill, and to follow instructions better than men. Women probably get better medical care than men, and more women are hospitalized in private hospitals.
 The reason for the greater hospital occupancy of males revealed in the recent A. M. A. survey is largely accounted for by the inclusion of military hospitals where patients are kept until they are ready to return to duty; the inclusion of veterans hospitals with service connected casualties; and the inclusion of state hospitals where more males with mental disease are committed than females.
 Much can be done to reduce the excessive male mortality. One investigator has suggested a nationwide inventory of the physical, mental and emotional assets and liabilities of the male. The attack on accidents and occupational diseases can be intensified. Research in cardiovascular disease and cancer can be pressed.
 Alleviating the stresses of competitive living in a materialistic age requires much education. The fragile male must be continuously instructed in the laws of health and encouraged to follow them.

Club Hears Report on 4-H Round-Up

Highlights And Sidelights From the State Capitol

(By Vern Sanford, Texas Press Association)

AUSTIN, Texas—Selection of a successor to Wright Morrow, Democratic National Committeeman from Texas, is imminent. Because he voted for Eisenhower for President in 1952, Morrow was barred from serving on the Democratic National Committee.

But, Gov. Allan Shivers doubts that anyone can be found to fill the prescription laid down by Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler.

It must be someone, Butler told Shivers in his now famous Washington "kitchen conference," who never bolted the party. It must be someone who worked for Adlai Stevenson's election. And it must be someone who can be approved by Shivers, House Speaker Sam Rayburn, and Senator Lyndon Johnson.

Possibility of replacing Morrow became a by-product of activity by top-level Democratic and Republican figures in the preliminary skirmish toward Texas' role as a battlefield in the 1956 presidential contest.

Chairman Butler spent six days in Texas, mostly under the guiding hand of the "Democratic Advisory Council," a group of liberal-loyalists appointed to take over Morrow's duties.

Butler declined an invitation by Governor Shivers to visit the executive mansion; Shivers did not accept Butler's invitation to come to some of his meetings.

Republican National Committeeman Jack Porter followed Butler promptly with a state workers' rally in Austin. He announced he was extending "not only an invitation, but a challenge" to the conservative Democrats who carried Texas for Eisenhower, to join up formally with the Republicans.

Porter predicted that President Eisenhower will be renominated, will carry Texas, Virginia and Tennessee again—and win in 1956.

"The Conservative Democrats," he said, "were invited by Butler to quit their party. They know they will have no more say in selecting a nominee next year than in 1952 or 1948."

Porter believes the Democratic party split is permanent.

ANDERSON TALKED

Resignation of Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert L. Anderson of Vernon started speculation whether he might figure in next year's governor's race as the conservative's choice. Or possibly he is in line for a place on the national Democratic ticket. This despite his service in a Republican administration.

Another name that crops up when conservatives are mentioned as likely candidates in the governor's race is that of Sen. Otis Lock, of Lufkin. He already has been referred to as the "jet age candidate" since his talk to the Jacksonville Rotary Club last week.

Senator Lock pointed out the need for streamlining state administrative agencies; urged improvement in spending methods; and "a sound, fair code protecting each person from excessive taxation."

With its population increasing and its economy expanding Texas can not meet its jet age governmental needs with a Model-T vehicle, he stated.

JOHNSON FOR PRESIDENT

There has been a remarkable array of national comment, in such publications as the Wall Street Journal, Newsweek, and the Washington Star, about Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson's success and his "availability" as the Democratic standard-bearer for President.

Governor Shivers himself came back from Washington recently praising Johnson, a loyalist.

A speech early in the week by Governor Shivers, before the New York Sales Executives Club, is another in the national network of his appearances in which he restates the basic doctrine of the dissident Dixie and conservative Democrats.

Governor Shivers had pointed suggestions for Texas schools, faced with the US Supreme Court desegregation decision.

"I do not think it necessary at this time for any district to take any step its board does not want to take, beyond studying the problems and its solution," he said.

He will name a statewide committee, to study problems of the desegregation ruling, and recommended that school districts appoint their own committees.

According to the Governor, the decision leaves a large measure of control to local districts, "where the problems should be worked out."

SHORT SHORTS

Efforts of former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles and of B. R. Sheffield of Brady, to have Travis County indictments in veterans' land cases quashed were rejected in district court.

Land Commissioner J. Earl Ruder said he will start a shakeup of the General Land Office in July. His decision follows testimony in a lengthy court of inquiry on the office's operation under former Commissioner Bascom Giles.

John C. White, commissioner of Agriculture, denied that Texas over-spent by $162,670 federal drought aid money in 1953—as claimed by the US Department of Agriculture.

Congressman Clark Thompson and Homer Thornberry announced a tour of Central Texas counties, by a House Agricultural sub-committee, to study acreage allotments for rice and cotton.

Governor Shivers paid tribute to Amon G. Carter as "one of the most dynamic Texans of his generation." Carter, long-time publisher of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, died on June 23.

Trials for George B. Parr, south Texas political czar—and 11 others from Duval County—on charges relating to school funds, have been set for July 5 in New Braunfels, on change of venue.

A Texas committee to plan the state's part in the White House Conference on Education, November 28-December 1, was named by Governor Shivers, Dr. Erwin L. Ripply, president of the Dallas School Board, is chairman. Its first session will be in Austin.

A state building commission bill was signed by the governor. It provides $6,000,000 for a new state courts building and a state office building.

LOCKNEY C-C MANAGER

LOCKNEY—C. W. (Dick) Whitley, newly-elected manager of the Lockney Chamber of Commerce and Board of Development, has assumed his duties here and moved his family to Lockney Monday. Mr. Whitley is setting up a Chamber of Commerce office in the Wanda Baker building, two doors south of The Beacon office.

Jerry Ed Bishop Is Wall St. Journal Writer In Dallas

The Tuesday, June 14, issue of The Wall Street Journal (Southwest Edition) published at Dallas, Texas, carried a single by-line on its front page—and the by-liner was Jerry Ed Bishop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bishop of Dalhart.

Jerry Ed has been with the Journal less than six months. However, he was a staff writer on Austin newspapers, and several years ago was a sports and feature writer for the Dalhart Texan. During part of that summer he also wrote a column.

Jerry Ed grew up in Dalhart. His column writing should have come naturally, because from 1936 to 1947 when his father was publisher of the Texan the father wrote a column called "Ed Aches." Jerry Ed, as a columnist, was a worthy chip off the old block.

Young Bishop is also a first lieutenant in the Organized Reserve Corps. He was an ROTC member at T. U., and was commissioned at the time of his graduation. He then did a two-year stint in active service, most of it in Korea where he won his promotion.

Jerry Ed is a grandson of Mrs. Jennie Bishop of Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lyles are the parents of a daughter born Saturday in the Peoples hospital at 12:45 a. m. The young lady weighed eight pounds and 10 ounces and has been named Ronda Louise. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Weldon McCormick and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Lyles.

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of the Floyd County Hesperian, issue dated July 3, 1941.)

Rain, hail and wind Saturday night and again Monday night did wide-spread damage to Floyd county crops, with only two limited areas indicating normal progress of harvesting and row crop operations. 25 inches of rain was reported at Lockney and 1.76 at Floydada. The rain around Sand Hill, Barwise Irick, Pleasant Valley, Allmon and McCoy ranged from 4 to 6 inches.

Plainview Production Credit association opened a branch office in Floydada, with office quarters on the second floor of the Readhimer building, Tuesday. Gip Hudson has charge of the office.

Miss Lanell Shirey daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. N. Shirey, became the bride of Roy Wilks, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Wilks, Saturday at 8 o'clock p. m. in Lubbock.

Austin Road company, contracting builder on the road job on Highway 207 from Floydada south to the Floyd county line, is expected to begin moving in equipment the latter part of this week to do the re-topping job awarded them six weeks ago by the State Highway department.

A. J. Jackson and family returned to Floydada the first of the week from San Angelo where he has been the past six weeks as manager of a locker system. He resumed his duties as manager of the Plains Cooperative locker.

Reverend Rudolph A. Renfer, pastor of the Presbyterian church, read the vows at 9:30 Sunday morning that united in marriage Miss Dorothy Dell Stovall and Hart Shoemaker of Abilene. The ceremony was solemnized at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. E. F. Stovall. R. E. Golightly, Dillon Patterson and Royce Turner attended the East-West football training held in Plainview last week. Mrs. Rex Brown spent last end in Hereford visiting her John McCleskey. Who's showing its heels to the high-priced cars?

The Motoramic Chevrolet!
The other low-priced cars aren't even in the running!

IT'S EXCITEMENT ON WHEELS!
The light turns green . . . you nudge the accelerator ever so gently . . . and you're gone! That's the way it is in the Motoramic Chevrolet. When your toe says "Let's go," a hoodful of high-compression horsepower explodes into action, sweeping you away from traffic tangles, making short work of steep hills, putting new fun in your driving life!

RECORD-SMASHING ACTION!
That's what you get with Chevrolet's new "Turbo-Fire V8"! In the recent NASCAR* stock car competition at Daytona Beach, Chevrolet showed its heels to all other low-priced cars. In the one-mile straightaway run, the first two cars—and six of the first ten—were Chevrolets! And in acceleration runs from a standing start against all comers, Chevrolet beat all low-priced cars—and every high-priced car except one!

Chevrolet's two new "Blue-Flame" sixes have plenty of sizzle, too. In fact, they're the highest powered sixes in the low-price field!

TREAT YOURSELF TO ADVENTURE
Come in and drive the car that is making 1955 famous! That's the only way you'll discover all the exciting reasons why Chevrolet's stealing the thunder from the high-priced cars!

Drownings Reported Last In Texas

June 30—There were 397 drownings in Texas last year according to figures released by the state Department of Health. Most of these deaths were of children under 25 years of age. The number dropped sharply after age 25. The highest number of drownings occurred in each age group up to 90 years.

Commissioner of Health, Dr. A. Holle, stated that most of these drownings could have been prevented if proper precautions had been taken. The season of the year when children like to take to the water is also the season for week-end boating trips. These are all forms of recreation, if common sense rules, and don't take chances.

The safest place to swim is the municipal pool where a life guard is on duty. The water is treated to kill disease germs and is kept fresh by a continuous change of water. Also there is no danger of wading into unexpected deep holes such as there is in ponds, lakes and rivers.

If you go boating and do not know how to swim always take along a life preserver. See that each child is so equipped. Be careful not to overload the boat. Changing seats or standing up in a small boat is dangerous business. If you should capsize, stay with the boat.

Watch children carefully while they play around small pools or even buckets of water. Small children often drown in stock tanks, fish pools, ditches and drainage canals. They even drown in bath tubs, because thoughtless mothers leave them there to play without supervision.

Consciously practice safety precautions and soon avoiding accident hazards will become second nature to you. Swimming, boating and fishing are healthful exercise if you do them safely.

DOUGHERTY H. D. CLUB

The Dougherty club met in the home of Mrs. Howard Drysdale Wednesday June 22 at 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Howe Hines, vice-president, presided.

Mrs. Ruth Daniel read the devotional from Deuteronomy 20: 1-14. Roll call was answered with a suggestion for 1956 year books.

The club decided to get material and make a dress for the Abilene patient whose birthday is July 7. Mrs. Howe Hines gave the council report.

A topic on the medical check list for vacation was given by Mrs. Ruth Daniels and "Childrens part in handling the income" was given by Mrs. Johnnie Cates.

Refreshments were served to one guest, Mrs. W. L. Crane and the members, Mmes. Ruth Daniels, Howe Hines, John Lewis, Johnnie Cates, Ned Bradley and the hostess, Mrs. Drysdale.

The Rose Still Grows Beyond The Wall

(Dedicated to the memory of Miss Reba Copeland)

Near a shady wall a rose once grew.

Budded and blossomed in God's free light.

Watered and fed by morning dew.

Shedding its sweetness day and night.

As it grew and blossomed fair and tall.

Slowly rising to loftier height.

It came to a crevice in the wall.

Through which there shone a beam of light.

Onward it crept with added strength.

With never a thought of fear or pride.

It followed the light through the crevice's length.

And unfolded itself on the other side.

The light, the dew, the broadening view.

Were found the same as they were before.

And it lost itself in beauties new.

Breathing its fragrance more and more.

Shall claims of death cause us to grieve.

And make our courage faint or fail?

Nay! let us faith and hope receive:

The Rose still grows beyond the wall.

Scattering fragrance far and wide.

Just as it did in days of yore.

Just as it did on the other side.

Just as it will evermore.

— A. L. Frank, author.

Farmers Favor Wheat Quotas

Floyd county wheat growers returned an overwhelming "yes" in the wheat growers marketing quota referendum Saturday, voting 221 to 21 for the quotas, more than 10 to one in favor.

Estimate of the nation-wide vote, which favored the quotas, was above 77 per cent. This represented a greater vote favorable to the quotas than was given last year, when the sentiment barely exceeded the two-thirds required.

Floyd county farmers were so busy in their butchered up fields that many who would have voted otherwise stayed with their crops and planting.

At Cedar the vote was 32 to 7, at Lockney 55 to 7, and at Floydada 134 to 7.

GEORGE WILKINSON WITH CROUCH MOTOR BODY SHOP

George Wilkinson, who comes to Floydada from Amarillo and Memphis, is now associated with K. Crouch motor company where he is in charge of the body shop. Wilkinson has several years experience in this line of work and is anxious to get acquainted in this area.

The Wilkinsons are at present looking for living quarters in or near Floydada and plan to make their home here. In the family are wife Inez and three sons, Eddie, 11 years, Danny, 8, Bobby, 6, and two daughters, Billie Jean, 14, Dollie, 3. All but the youngest girl plan to enter the Floydada school this fall.

Unkind Weather

terric rainfall, made some additional inroads on Floyd county crops, to add up to another week of crazy patch farming.

Excessive rainfall, blowing top soil and some hail kept up the attrition on the growing crops in various parts of the county. A limited area around Baker, another east and south of Dougherty, a portion of Sand Hill, Starkey, and Floydada districts, to mention a few, had hail or excessive rainfall.

Occasional cyclonic funnels also dipped to earth and did damage to outbuildings and improvements. No injuries have been reported.

On the other hand there are some bright spots where the rainfall has not been more than needed and where crops are beginning to loom up in mid-growing season. Until Tuesday an occasional farm area in the extreme east plains part of the county still desired more moisture.

RAIN GENERAL

Tuesday's rain apparently was the most general the county has had this season. While torrents had fallen to make record-breaking figures in all the west part, there were still spots around Baker, Campbell and Dougherty where the crops needed additional moisture to keep the feed and cotton booming toward a good harvest season.

Generally speaking the dry land areas have more good cotton and row crops coming along at this time than do the irrigated areas.

Tuesday morning the rainfall varied from 1.1 inches to 3.5 inches county-wide.

ROADS OPEN

Highway maintenance foreman Sanford Webber said only two trouble spots showed up in the whole county Tuesday, so far as highway and farm to market road conditions were concerned. He said a big lake had formed across the Rock Creek highway in the edge of Briscoe.

county that temporarily disrupts service on that route north from this area and road blocks were erected to head off traffic until the water has time to subside.

A temporary condition on highway 207 immediately north of Floydada and another on Highway 207 south of Blanco canyon backed water across the highways.

Highest water level in a number of years on the Sand Hill highway also foreboded possible trouble there Wednesday.

The flat terrain for five miles westward from Floydada has made a considerable drainage problem for the highway workers during periods of excessive rainfall.

birthdates, anniversaries, and spouses' names.

The club during its 1954-55 fiscal year has had a remarkable attendance record, in the upper 10 bracket of the district. It has had some outstanding programs through the year, including the celebration of the 50th anniversary of Rotary International.

District governor of the 183rd district for the new year is Rigdon Edwards, of Sweetwater, Texas. A. Z. Barker, of Cleveland, Ohio, is the new president of Rotary International.

sheep—will be tried in the Panhandle.

Fifteen head of sheep, which have a general resemblance to the desert Big Horn, will be released in Palo Duro Canyon, southeast of Amarillo.

Big Horn sheep have been native to far west Texas but have occurred in decreasing numbers in recent years mainly because of decreased habitat, resulting from encroachment by domestic sheep, civilization pressure and prolonged dry weather.

The Aoudad variety, which originated in the Barbary Coast area of Africa, are slightly smaller than Big Horn and are sand colored. The males have a wide curled horn. They are accustomed to weather extremes and arid conditions, live along ledges and rimrock and "eat about everything."

The stock sheep were obtained in a three-cornered deal. North Dakota's Game Department had Aoudad sheep coming from the Hearst Ranch in California and wanted some wild turkeys. Texas trapped fifty-two head of turkeys in the Canadian River bottoms and swapped them for the sheep.

The Director of Wildlife Restoration said New Mexico has experimented successfully with Aoudad (pronounced Oh-Dad) sheep. Three years ago sixty head were released in the Canadian River Gorge country in Harding County in north-eastern New Mexico. They have increased rapidly, with more than two hundred head now in the main herd plus others in smaller groups.

That state has determined that Aoudad sheep are definitely resistant to diseases carried and transmitted by domestic sheep, as well as to other common ailments, and seem to be affected very little by climatic changes.

The Director of Wildlife Restoration pointed out that the Palo Duro Canyon country is wild and rugged in many places and that mule deer restoration now is being undertaken there. Part of the Canyon is maintained as a State park. The new game animal experiment is a part of the Commission's current restoration program which Spanish red-legged quail are being released in the Dress-Paducah area, and sage grouse are under order of release in the Trans-Pecos area.

PALACE THEATRE

Floydada, Texas

To Our Patrons:

When a theatre manager goes out on a limb to get a picture—in print—like I'm doing now, he knows he's got something special to offer his customers. He never has there been a picture more special in the entertainment department than "THE SEVEN LITTLE FOYS." Paramounts new VistaVision comedy Technicolor, starring Bob Hope with that lovely and exciting new Italian star, Milly Vitale.

It's a different Hope you'll see in "THE SEVEN LITTLE FOYS"—a Hope who does a real acting job in his portrayal of vaudeville's Eddie Foy, the most famous Pop in show business. Eddie was the trouper who swore he'd do a single all the way—on stage and off—but wound up mothering his seven wild hooligans the only way he knew... by putting them in the act.

You'll love Bob as you've never loved him before because he shows a side of his acting self he's never shown before. You'll love the wonderfully warm, richly human story of "THE SEVEN LITTLE FOYS," its laughs, its off-beat romance, its music, its great big heart. And while you're laughing your head off at it, don't forget to remember—we're talking to you so!

Sincerely,

JACK DEAKINS,
Manager Palace Theatre

Do You Have A Subluxation?

A subluxation is a term used, which means in simple language, a bone in your spine which has slipped out of its normal position is producing pressure on nerves.

When this occurs many ill health conditions may occur pending upon which nerves are under pressure.

Your brain sends impulses over nerves to all parts of the body. This is what keeps your heart beating, your lungs expanding, your kidneys eliminating. Any function in the body you can think of is controlled by these impulses coming from the brain. You can easily see what may happen when you have nerves under pressure. The impulses will not get thru in a sufficient amount, which will result in improper function.

A spinal analysis will reveal the location of nerve pressure. See your chiropractor.

THERE IS AN UNLIMITED POWER WITHIN — MAKE SURE YOU ARE UTILIZING IT.

One thing that never ceases to interest us is what people buy with their money. Whether they have much of it or little, they're likely to be spendthrifts in some ways, miserly in others.

Two women who compared notes recently discovered that one didn't care twopence about pretty dressing gowns, but her spouse brought her a new one on the slightest excuse. The other, with a weakness for housecoats and negligees, said it was next to impossible to wangle one, but she had only to hint she wanted a dress or a suit and she was whisked off to town to select it.

We heard a mother laughing the other day about her own daughter and son-in-law. "They're generous to a fault in the big things," she chuckled, "but downright stingy on little household items."

A doting aunt, who pinches pennies on luxuries for herself, mailed ten packages of fritos to her small nephew in New York, because he couldn't buy them there. The purchase was fifty cents, the postage sixty-four!

That reminds us of some of our own business deals. Such as spending $1.50 to have stones replaced in a $1 costume pin and a bracelet, which was bought on sale for fifty cents. Or shipping ninety cents worth of candy to a relative across the continent, postage 53 cents, when she probably could have got sweets more to her liking at the neighborhood grocery.

When it comes to money, Americans at least are rugged individualists. What they consider important is much more likely to have value in terms of sentiment than of hard cash. In an age when it's easier to do things by vote than not, people's ideas of what to do with their "spendin' money" this far has miraculously escaped being standardized.

Surprise Shower Honors Mrs. Mize

A surprise pink and blue shower and coffee was given Wednesday morning of last week in honor of Mrs. George Mize. The party was held at the home of Mrs. Ham Smith, Jr., with Mrs. Jimmy Tye, Mrs. Hollis McLain, Mrs. Preston Watson and Miss Della Glassmoyer assisting.

After the presentation of the gifts, coffee was served to the following: Mrs. Watson Jones, Mrs. W. E. Garrett, Mrs. Ed Wester, Mrs. Jimmy King, Mrs. Kelly Hagood, Mrs. Don Skaggs, Mrs. David Kirk, Mrs. Jack Jordan, Mrs. Lon Davis, Jr., Mrs. Jack Coffman, Mrs. Carl Minor, Jr., Mrs. Billy Brown, Mrs. Edell Moore, Mrs. Sam Spence, Mrs. DeWinn Fyffe of Syracuse, New York, and the honoree, Mrs. Mize and the hostesses.

South Plains News

(By Mrs. Murray Julian)

SOUTH PLAINS, June 27—The Community club will hold their picnic supper at the ball park Friday night at 7:30 instead of July 4 as formerly planned. General camp for District Nine will begin July 4 at the Baptist Encampment. Many miss the all day meeting and the people from here will not want to miss the message of Dr. Levi Price in the evening. Remember the picnic here July 1 at the ball park. Everyone bring a basket supper of things your family likes, and share it with your neighbors. There will be games for all age groups.

Mrs. Lloyd Fincher spent Thursday night here at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Larry Faus and family and returned to her home in Lamesa Friday.

Carol Reeves, from Lubbock, spent

Friday night and Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sim Reeves. Mrs. Ernest Smithman's niece, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hawkins, and David John, Linda, and Timothy, from Sweetwater, arrived Monday of last week to visit with the Smithermans. They also spent part of the week with other relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Childers.

Club Meeting At Taylor Home

The South Plains Home Demonstration club held their last of June meeting at the home of Mrs. J. F. Taylor with Mrs. Bill Beedy as co-hostess Wednesday, June 22. Mrs. Dunlap presided at the meeting and Mrs. Parks gave roll call which was answered with, what I do when I can do what I want to. Mrs. L. T. Wood gave the council report, and told that the Floyd county Fair would be held this year on October 13, 14, and 15.

The delegates chosen for the T. H. D. A. meeting at Fort Worth will leave on August 2 from Lubbock. Mrs. Higginbotham gave an article on Medical Check List for Vacation time. Mrs. West gave a humorous reading on Club Fever.

At the next meeting at Mrs. Bryan Karr's the 4-H girls will make and serve the refreshments and conduct the program. This will be July 20. Each member will bring a gift of linen for the Girls Home.

Games were led by the leaders. Articles brought by the members were bought by the highest bidders. The hostesses served tea with cookies and candies to Mesdames R. G. Dunlap, I. H. It's The FINAL Cost That Counts

THERE IS NO SUCH THING AS A "BARGAIN" IN INSURANCE! You get only what you pay for. If you buy "bargain" insurance you may wake up to find that you have deprived yourself of vital service and protection when you need it most.

It's always smart to consider more than the first cost. For instance, in buying a car, you think of the cost of its upkeep, its trade-in value, its mileage on the road. You weigh these extra considerations, determine the final cost, and then make your choice.

The same reasoning applies to your insurance. Weigh those extra considerations and find out what the final cost will be. In every case, we think you'll find the final cost will be lowest if you...
