Will Hold Stovall Office Building Open House Sunday

Stovall Bldg., Open House Is Set for Sunday

Occupants of the Stovall office building on West California Street, who have announced open house for the afternoon of Sunday, August 28, are making plans to entertain many callers.

The new quarters, occupied two weeks ago, have year-round air-conditioning from a central plant and are modern throughout.

On the east side of the building is the agency of Southwestern Life Insurance Company, operated by R. E. Fry and Billy B. Henry. This area has a waiting room or lobby with private offices for each of the representatives.

On the west side a larger lobby is adjacent to suites of rooms for attorneys Richard F. Stovall, the owner and Royce E. Ball, as well as affording large counter room and shelving for the records of the Floyd County Abstract Company, with working space and equipment for the abstractor, Onea Hamilton.

Mr. Stovall acquired the abstract plant a year ago. Pioneer abstracter R. C. Scott established the business more than 40 years ago.

Entertainment hours will be from 3 o'clock to 6 o'clock p.m.

Quarterbackers Fete Squad; Elect Gresham

The Whirlwind Quarterback Club held their first meeting of the 1955 season Tuesday night when they gathered at the football field. More than a hundred were in attendance as fans and team members enjoyed ice cold watermelon.

In the business session L. F. Gresham was elected president of the club to succeed Gayle Mayo. Elected to serve with Gresham were Ernest Carter, vice-president, Kenneth Rimmer secretary and Gene Collins Jr. treasurer. Chosen to complete the board of directors were L. D. Britton, Carl Jarrett, Fred Cardinal.

Retiring president Mayo reviewed the past year and told of projects which had been started for the new season. In the past year the club made expenditures of almost $1000 on the big items being assistance on the new lighting, score board and meals for boys last August.

This year the membership has already been committed to film as many as five of the football games and to assist with the football banquet.

The club's main projects will again be the sale of football programs and membership cards.

President Gresham set the next meeting date at Monday night, September 5, when the club will gather at 8 p.m. at the school gymnasium. All fans interested in the betterment of the school's athletic program are asked to be present.

Five of a Kind. Here is pictured an unusual mother-daughter succession that dates back for five generations. Eldest is Mrs. J. A. Summers of Floydada, 89, who is the great-great-grandmother of the youngest, Celeste Pauline Mitchell, right, 8 months, of Perrin. The in-betweens are Mrs. Polly Ann Hooten, 66, of Jacksboro, Mrs. Irene Middleton, 44, Perrin, and Mrs. Frances Mitchell, 22, Perrin. An unusual fact is that every one of the five pictured is the first child of her family in her generation. The picture was made by Bob White during a family reunion here this summer. ## 67 Footballers Begin Fall Training Grind

(By Kenneth Rimmer)
Answering the call of head coach Preston Watson 67 boys turned out Monday morning for football practice. The large squad of candidates were issued equipment and immediately went into their training sessions.

This week workouts have been held twice a day with the first period getting underway at 8 a.m. and the afternoon session starting at 4 o'clock.

All practice is being held at the high school just west of the gymnasium. Four coaches are working with the boys.

Observers who turned out to watch the "Winds saw lots of spirit on the part of the boys, and the coaches were shifting the material around to see what they could uncover in the way of gridiron talent.

The 1955 Whirlwinds will probably be the least experienced club to wear the green and white in the past four years. Coaches are faced with the problem of replacing 20 graduating seniors from last season's squad which was made up of 27 boys.

Seven Lettermen Back
Returning lettermen who are expected to see heavy duty are Marvin Rucker, Larson Fulton, J. E. Waller, Robert Stovall, Max Crawford, Gene Swanner, and Larry White.

Others who were out for the Monday morning session and eager to make a name for themselves were Stanley Burleson, Dale Redd, Buddy Watts, Rusty Timmin, Jim Womack, Vaughn Ginn, Elmer Williams, Winfred West, Grant Cooper, Gary Huckabay, Frank Potts, Kenneth Robertson, Edward Whitehead, Greer Lackey, Don Sparks, James Hartman, Carroll Guthrie, David Mount, Charley Viney;

Appraisal Sets School Values

PRODUCERS' RESPONSIBILITY

Official regulations governing the Variety Discount received at the ASC office this week make the 20-cent discount effective for the 1956 wheat crop to be planted this fall.

Identification of the variety of wheat going under price support will be the producer's responsibility and he will be called upon to make certificate.

Notice received Tuesday names blacklisted varieties: Blue Jacket, Red Chief, Red Jacket, Kanking, Chiefkan, Early Blackhull, New Chief and Yogo.

Hearings Sept. First to Third

In the tremendous job of revising taxable values in Floydada Independent School District and getting a tax roll completed representing a set of values, the first move was made Monday after the reports of the independent appraisers were completed last week.

This move came when the equalization board held their first meeting, adopted the appraiser's reports as the basis on which to figure values, and set September 1, 2 and 3 as the days on which taxpayers may appear and show cause why their renditions should not be revised.

Every taxpayer in the district is being sent a notice of the values assessed on his real property, approximately one-third being given notice to appear on September 1, another third on September 2 and another third on September 3.

For the first time in the history of taxation by the school district improvements on the farm land are being recognized and assessed for taxes.

Plats of the various pieces of farm land and of all improved property within the city limits of Floydada have been made and will be in the hands of the equalization board when they convene for their hearings. The values which the equalizers arrived at were set by taking approximately 50 per cent of the appraised values made by the appraisers.

Under the formula adopted a brick house in good condition was valued at $4.50 to $5 per square foot of living space, frame buildings $3 to $4 per square foot. Garages at $2 per square foot.

On a typical frame stucco residence in Floydada, the appraiser measured the house at 784 square feet and listed its value at $4 per square foot, and a frame garage of 216 square feet at $1.50 per square foot. The lot was appraised at $200. Total value $2,260. The property will go on the rolls at $1,100 or $1,200.

On vacant lots, not specially platted but listed, value was set, based on location, at from $100 to $400 for residence property. Vacant business property was assessed on the same formula.

The highest figure for any farm land, according to the appraisers figures are $50 per acre. This is for top land. The plats show per centage of the farm unit in lakes, the irrigation wells, if any, location of the residence, and other improvements if any. The values run down to $10 per acre.

No changes are being made on personal property values either in city or rural areas.

After adding up the various types of land which make up the farm, the value of improvements is then added. This will be a first for improvements, so far as farm land is concerned.

Time required to view and plot the land in 347 square miles of territory embraced by the school district ran into nearly two months.

The notices, which are being mailed out of the office of Mrs. Bennie S. Leibfried, secretary of the district, point out that the increase in school district taxes is due to the building program, increased enrollment and current expenditures.

Hollums Accepts Job With City

Walter D. Hollums, who until his resignation Saturday night, has been a deputy sheriff of Floyd County since January 1, 1954, said this week he had accepted a place with the city as a police officer, effective September 1.

He will receive a salary of $375 per month.

The city council in their meeting on August 8 voted three to two to offer the place to Mr. Hollums. Two members of the council who voted against the addition to the force said they regarded Mr. Hollums highly personally and as a peace officer and are glad to have him on the force if the city's budget can afford it.

Hollums' record as a peace officer dates back to 1937 when he was named a deputy under Fred N. Clark and served until 1943. He served 13 months at Pan-Tex in 1944-45 and, after an interval of seven years on the farm, as deputy sheriff under Earl Cooper in Floyd County from January of 1954, until his resignation Saturday night.

Present city force includes Horace R. Cagle and Bob Smith, with Roy Wood as night watchman.

Fair Directors Meet Tonight

Directors of the Floyd County Fair in their meeting tonight will gather at the oil mill fair ground site to view their work today.

After they look over arrangements that have been made they also will go over their final plans for the event.

Their evening meal together will be at the Lockney High School cafeteria.

President E. L. Turner said plans are far along and that all departments are indicated to have good exhibits this year.

Dates for the fair are October 13, 14, and 15.

FLOYDADA WOMEN ATTEND BROTHER'S RITES AT VERNON

Mrs. L. Y. Woolsey, Mrs. A. Elza and daughter Dorothy, and Mrs. R. A. Colston attended the funeral of M. Y. Towry, a former resident of Floydada, held Wednesday of last week at Vernon.

Mr. Towry was a brother of Mrs. Woolsey and Mrs. Elza.

Prize Winner

SHERRY RAMSEY, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Ramsey, will represent Floyd County in the District 4-H Club Dress Revue. She is shown here modeling the costume which won purple ribbon honors for her in the Floyd County Revue this month.

Graham Man Head Of Lockney Bank

LOCKNEY — Claud Holley of Graham, Texas, was elected executive vice-president of the First National Bank here in a director's meeting Wednesday night. Mr. Holley assumed his duties Thursday morning.

Mr. Holley will be in charge of the bank on a temporary basis, until a sale of stock or other developments occur.

SISTERS VISIT CHARLES MASSIE AT HOSPITAL

Mrs. W. C. Poston and Will Poston of Mineral Wells, and Misses Jane and Bettie Massie of Weatherford, were among the week's visitors with Charles Massie at Methodist Hospital. They spent Sunday to Tuesday with the retired Floydada grocer.

Mrs. Poston and the Misses Massie are sisters of the ill man. Will Poston is an old friend. J. M. Massie, his brother, thought there was probably some improvement in Charles' condition this week.

and Acres Irrigated of acres of irrigation County has increased by since 1950 to give a total of 210,413 acres.

The passing years have also brought about more soil conservation practices. While no farms reported crops planted for wind erosion control nor row crops planted on the contour in 1950, there were 919 acres planted for control of wind erosion and 35,194 acres planted on the contour last year.

The trend to suitcase farming has also hit this county. The number of farmers not living on their land has risen by about 90 farmers in the last four years. There is also a rise in the number of farmers working at jobs other than farming.

There were 1,184 farm operators reported in 1954, broken down in the following manner:

Full owners, 404;
Part owners, 303;
Managers, 7;
Tenants, 470.
The tenants are further divided as follows: cash, 23; share-cash, 29; crop-share, 361; livestock-share, 23; croppers, 9; and others, 25.

Farm Facilities Increase
On the whole, Floyd County farms have a large increase in farm facilities and equipment. There was a decrease in the number of milking machines and grain combines found on the farms. On the other hand, there are about 1,000 tractors more and over 400 more home freezers.

Other things which are used more than in 1950 are telephones, electricity, television sets, piped running water, electric pig brooders, power feed grinders, corn pickers, pick-up hay balers, artificial ponds, motor trucks and automobiles.

In a survey taken during the week of September 26 through October 2, 1954, there were 5,560 workers reported on the farms of this county. Of these, 4,184 were hired workers other than members of farmers families.

Tied To Cotton, Grain
Local farms are almost entirely cotton, grain and other field crops. There were five fruit-and-nut farms and five dairy farms in 1950 which have since stopped operating.

Other types of farms in the area are poultry and livestock, but there has been a decrease in these types during the past four years.

As to the livestock of the county there are fewer horses, mules, cattle and hogs, but there is an increase of about 10,548 sheep. The poultry industry has also decreased during this time.

Comparatively new crops which showed up in the county are soybeans, cowpeas, timothy hay and sweetclover.

The cotton crop of 1954 netted 92,335 bales, 21,506 bales more than 1949. Also raised were small amounts of apples, peaches, pears, cherries, plums, prunes, apricots, grapes, pecans and nursery and greenhouse products.

Subscription Prices: Outside Floyd, and adjoining counties — one year $2.50; six months $1.25; four months 90c in advance.

Subscription Prices: In Floyd and adjoining counties — one year, $2.00; six months, $1.00; four months 70c in advance.

THE FLOYD COUNTY HESPERIAN

Published by the Hesperian Publishing Co., Inc., at 212 South Main St., Floydada, Texas. HOMER STEEN, Editor.
THURSDAY, AUGUST 25, 1955

Established 1894 by Claude V. ... tered as second class mail at the office at Floydada, Texas, April 1897 under the act of Congress of 1879.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

Peas and Beans. As suggested some time ago (after the big late hails that dotted the county in June) the number of various types of truck and semi-truck crops that are being tried out experimentally on lay-out land is surprising. Probably the least talked about and the most planted are peas of one kind and another, principally black eyes. Some were planted on contract for a mature crop to be gathered by the combine, other acres to go to the cannery in the green stage. The big difference in the two ways of marketing is that the latter calls for a tremendous amount of hand labor. Assuming that the crops produce normally the pea planters should fare slightly better than had they planted maize and not quite so well as if they had not been cheated out of their cotton by the elements.

Talking of Taxes. Taxes, local taxes, are due to be much in the conversation within the next month or two. City taxes and county taxes are set on about the same basis as a year ago. But in the school district the story is to be a different one. The growing pains of the school system are due to be reflected in the take from the taxpayers' pocketbooks, inevitable if the system is to grow but not calculated to make anybody easy to reconcile to the fact that the new tax is a deductible item from income taxes. Perhaps a look around at some of the booming communities of the state will give an idea of how fortunate the individual taxpayer has been locally the past several years and also how much less his new bill still is to be than some of the others. In Big D, for instance, the city tax rate is $2.50 on top of a school tax of $1.45, making a total of $3.95 before the state and county tax is put on top of that. Don't think they haven't scraped the bottom of the barrel in the search for things to tax either. And now propose an additional tax on motor cars to finance a further tremendous right-of-way buying program.

For Highway building alone in Dallas the people have provided more than $14 million (in bond issue) in the past 18 months. Their highway building in that county has been in "high" for four or five years and still there is no end. The boom continues unabated and the need for more money to grow to the boom with new highways and expressways, sewer and water lines, and schools is still more and more pressing.

Appraisal for Taxes The new approach in Floydada Independent School District is said to follow the pattern of the change made in Lockney District, a matter of recent history. An appraisal of every unit of farm land and of every unit of residence and business property in Floydada is presumed to have been made. Each of the farm units has been checked by an experienced appraiser, and the premises platted. Not only is a value set on the land but also on its improvements. A per centage of this value will be taken by the district's equalization board as the correct value on which to base the tax levy. Since farm improvements have not been taxed for a quarter of a century or more either by the county or school district this is due to create somewhat of a furor. And some heated conversation, which the wise will be careful to avoid whenever they possibly can. Touch a man's pocketbook and you touch a vital spot. And that is what is going to happen. It was inevitable as indicated but will be none the less painful just the same.

Most Floyd County people are pioneers or descendants of pioneers. The pioneer takes the country as he finds it and bets his life and efforts on the future. Visioning the future he hardly notes the seaminess of the present. But more and more people are less and less inclined toward pioneering. Youngsters grow up and start families, and they begin to look for a place to take root. Usually they are the professional type and the specialists. They look for a place that has the good things ready-made. In their line they do not need to pioneer. When they come into a community looking for a niche into which they can fit, they check to see if the community measures up to their standards, not only as a good and pleasant place to make a home but also as to attitude toward the future. Being conscious of this new look of the new-comer and his unvoiced demands is important to the future of this community.

Need Regulation Again? Do the people of the country need Regulation W again? Are we crowding our luck too hard? Extravagant credit terms—some of the long term deals you read about are amazing—have induced the consumers to pledge themselves on installment payments to the tune of $12.6 billion, so the reports have it. This figure is for appliances and automobiles, et cetera, et cetera, not including pledges on long term credit for housing. Higher interest rates and other gimmicks to scare people off from going too deep into the red are being instituted by the treasury department and the federal reserve system. Regulation W was a war emergency and presumably cannot be applied at this time. There may be as complete disregard for the new interest rates and measures of the reserve banks in the immediate future as there was disregard of the high cost of money in the pre-depression days. Eleven per cent money didn't keep most everybody from going head over heels into debt at that time.

Good winter pastures will help relieve the cost-price squeeze which continues to tighten; provide minerals, vitamins and needed proteins; make possible a rest period for permanent pastures; supply green grazing when summer pastures are dormant and cut the cost of wintering livestock.

Most problems encountered in storing grain can be traced back to moisture. Excessive moisture in the grain when it goes into storage leads to insect, heat and mold damage.

Combine Pinto Would Be Ideal

(By L. A. Marshall)

It seems true, the further verification of the tall tales about the one eleven pinto beans. That is, there has been produced as much as 40 sacks of pintos per acre. This is when planted in 18 inch rows. If this brush bean will just stay put, and the pod will not split, we may combine this bean from the field like milo.

Now is the time to plant vetch in cotton and milo middles. If planted at this time it has time to get rooted good, so it will not freeze out. It will not only be a soil builder but will help keep the land from blowing away next March.

Try some vetch, then watch the crop grow on this land after you have plowed the vetch under.

We are happy and thankful for this bountiful crop on the South Plains this season, and I am sure you are too.

What I am trying to say is this: It's not much more trouble to make a thousand dollars per acre than just a few hundred.

It's not much more trouble to raise pedigreed and registered field seed than the common, and the pay doubles several times. If interested your county agent can supply you with the procedure. The Department of Agriculture or A & M furnishes to all seed dealers the names and addresses of all pedigreed seed raisers.

It sure pays to raise quality seed. For instance, pedigreed seed and registered grain sorghums bring $200 per 100 pounds for foundation stock.

Ever wonder what "Santa Fe" means?

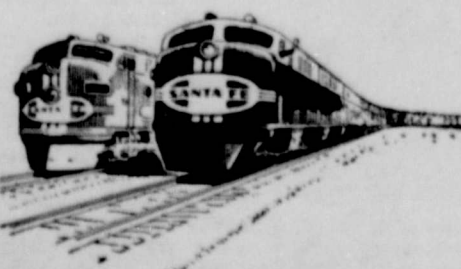

Back in 1901, about 40 years after the Santa Fe Railway was founded, the ancient Indian Cross-within-a-Circle design was placed in a square and the assembly was adopted as the official trademark of the young railroad.

The words "Santa Fe" means Holy Faith. Today, that faith and vision in America's future have built the Santa Fe Railway System into a vital network of steel, linking the West, Southwest and East with fast, efficient transportation services. These rails serve your town; help it grow and prosper.

And, no matter what your shipping or travel problems may be, Santa Fe will solve them. Your local Santa Fe agent is right here in your town to help you.

You can depend on him, as you can depend on the vast system he represents.

Good Fire Record More Potent Than 8 Cent Key Rate Reduction

A new key rate for fire insurance premiums in Floydada became effective on August 15, which is lower by 8 cents than the key rate that was in effect before the credit for the recent additions and extensions to the water supply of the city were made.

Policies written on and after August 15 reflect this new key rate, issued by the State Fire Insurance Commission, following an inspection made in early July. The new rate was based on data furnished by the City Water Department.

The new basis for figuring insurance policies will give residence property owners a saving of only 10 cents to 20 cents per $1,000 of insurance, but on business property and mercantile contents the saving will be approximately 60 cents per thousand of insurance carried. This is the estimate of local insurance agencies.

Fire Record Important

Contrary to former experience the rate charged for insurance in a community reflects the record of destruction by fire which the community suffers, more than it does the facilities for fire fighting which are available. Even the overall state record is figured into insurance costs.

The fire fighting facilities are demanded, of course, but how effectively they are used and how much fire prevention is practiced by the people themselves is a major influence when the state regulatory body begins plotting the curve of charges which insurance companies may make.

For instance, insurance men point out, the court house fire in 1948 was one of the most costly things that has happened to property owners here in quite awhile, so far as their insurance premiums are concerned. In the 10 years from 1945 to 1955 the curve of insurance premiums ranged from 100 down to 75, then following the court house fire, jumped to 115. After five years the figure is back to 90 once more.

Every reduction obtained through the betterment of water supply and fire fighting facilities takes another small bite out of the top figure for insurance costs, but, as said, the major influence is the record the people make in fire prevention.

One important factor in the fire insurance rate is the ratio of wood shingles on homes to composition shingles.

Changes from wood shingles to composition roofs in recent years has brought the ratio from 70 per cent wood to 40 per cent at the present time. Insurance men believe that a new survey might reveal the percentage is even lower.

The expenditure of the city for improvements in the water works system included several miles of new mains to cover more of the area of the community, and enlarged mains in other sections, as well as an augmented water supply and an overhead storage tank having a capacity of 250,000 gallons.

The cost of these improvements, along with more than four miles of new sewer lines and increased capacity of sewer disposal facilities represented an outlay of approximately $235,000.

The final report of the engineers who handled the job had not been made officially the first of a week. This report, together with a map of the water and sewer system, is due to be filed when the construction company has finished with odds and ends of the contract. A bond of $10,000 is held by the city covering the work yet to be done.

I would like to thank each one for the nice things they have done for me since I have been ill. Especially the good neighbors who have helped so much in every way and for the beautiful flowers, cards and so many pretty gifts. Again may I say "Thank You."

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Rape and Doris returned the last of the week from a vacation trip in New Mexico. They visited in Albuquerque with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Edwards and family.

Conservation District News

Vetch is a winter legume. It is one of the best shallow rooted soil improving crops that we have. It has the ability to take nitrogen from the air and store it in the soil, when properly inoculated. It is the belief of many farmers and agricultural workers that you can "grow your nitrogen cheaper than you can buy it." A good crop of vetch returned to the topsoil adds much needed organic matter. It makes the soil more open and mellow. This helps more rainfall and irrigation water to be absorbed, thereby increasing yields on the following crops.

Now is the time to seed vetch in your cotton middles, before it is watered the last time. The Soil Conservation District has two legume seeders for this purpose that seeds two rows in each middle. District cooperators may contact the Vocational Agriculture teachers in Floydada and Lockney to make arrangements for their use. Vetch may also be seeded with a wheat drill.

Aubrey Holt of the Erick community has already seeded vetch in his cotton middles. Harold Bertrand of the Lakeview community is planning to seed about 20 acres of vetch with a wheat drill.

Vetch may be seeded as late as November 1. It can be cut and worked into the topsoil next spring in time to follow with grain sorghums. This is one way of meeting the needs of the land, and at the same time helps keep it productive. Also it will make you more money used properly in the crop. Another advantage is that it grows in the winter Spring so that a cash crop grown each Summer.

Polio Shots Given First School

County Health Officer G. Smith said yesterday morning had been authorized by the State for Infants and Children to give Polio shots during the first school year.

About 40 per cent of the children who got the first shot last spring did not show up for the second this summer. The shots can be administered by school nurses, and it will be necessary for the children to see their doctor, unless they do so, said Dr. Smith. The fee is free for those children in the original list.

You May Be An Accident Prone

Does someone in your family — or perhaps yourself — seem to have repeated accidents? It could be due to "accident proneness."

That's the phrase coined by the experts — psychologists, industry men and others on the theory that many accidents result from the victim's emotional make-up.

Studies by agencies interested in health and safety have shown that relatively few people are responsible for a high percentage of accidents.

Conclusion: a person who has one accident is more likely to be involved in another than a person who has had none at all.

State Department of Health studies confirm this. For example: A public utility company, trying to cut accident rates among truck drivers, ordered an investigation of every factor which could be contributing, from weather to reaction time of drivers.

Truck accidents increased despite an intensive campaign. But when drivers with bad records were shifted to other jobs, the company's driver accident rate fell to a fifth of the former rate.

The transferred drivers? They kept on having accidents in their new jobs and at home.

The experts have traced definite personality patterns in accident prone people. Almost invariably they are impetuous, following impulses without deliberation or planning.

Their decisiveness is, in reality, a drive for independence and self-reliance in the situation of the moment.

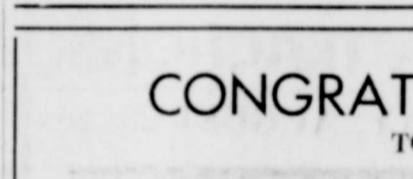

For the most part they have a history of neurotic traits in childhood. They simply reach a point, in their failure to handle an emotional situation, when an unpleasant happening becomes a physical and emotional necessity.

Result: an "accident." While admitting the part accident proneness plays, Texas state health officials would stress environmental hazards and biologic conditions like fatigue, temporary stress-produced inattention, impaired vision or hearing, and underlying disease.

Too much emphasis on accident proneness tends to obscure the need of correcting defects in industrial equipment, slum housing, inefficient traffic systems, and inadequate playgrounds.

There is another consolation for accident prone people. The same studies which show them to be susceptible to accidents also shows them to have illness rates well below the general population.

The wood of the paper birch is hard and very tough; it is extensively used for snow shoes, clothespins, tooth picks and spoons as well as wood pulp.

FW&D Employs Macyl Orman As Its Farm Agent

Macyl K. Orman, son of P. L. Orman of this city, has been chosen as agricultural agent of the Fort Worth & Denver Railway Company and assumed the post Monday of last week.

Announcement that Orman had been named to the post to succeed A. K. Hepperly, who has been promoted, was made recently by R. Wright Armstrong, vice-president of the railway company, out of Fort Worth.

Hepperly has been promoted to general agriculture agent of the lines and has headquarters in Denver. Orman is located in Fort Worth.

Orman's jurisdiction in the company's agricultural department will embrace the entire territory served by the Fort Worth & Denver from Galveston to Texline and throughout the south plains area.

Orman is a native of Floyd County, and holds a BS degree in agricultural education from Texas A&M, and an MS degree from Texas Technological College at Lubbock.

Following his graduation from A&M, he taught vocational agriculture for a year, entered military service, after which he received his Master's Degree and became Assistant County Agricultural Agent in Hale County with headquarters in Plainview in 1954. He presently is Commander of the Plainview Active Army Reserves.

Former Resident Buried at Gober

Mrs. I. H. Rogers, formerly of the McCoy Community, passed away at 6 a.m. Tuesday morning in a Dallas Hospital. She was the wife of the late I. H. Rogers of Fannin County and the eldest daughter of the late P. H. Pharr, who for many years lived in the McCoy Community.

Mrs. C. L. Berry, sister of Mrs. Rogers, left Wednesday morning to attend the funeral. She was accompanied by Mrs. T. L. Shipman.

Burial rites will be at Gober Wednesday afternoon. She is survived by six sisters and three brothers, also one son and two daughters.

Mrs. Weldon McClure and Margaret visited the M. C. Money home in Crosbyton and the Bill Jones home at Big Four Friday of last week.

Barbara Belding, Betty Belding Catherine Appling, Darwyn Brewer and Margaret McClure visited the Bill Hambrights, Edmund Browns and Joe Stoups Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. C. A. McClure spent Tuesday with Mrs. Brice Allen and daughters.

The Brice Allens, the Weldon McClures, the Robert Mosses of Memphis, the Hoyt McClures and the Ronald McClures enjoyed a watermelon feed in the back yard of the C. A. McClure home in Crosbyton Saturday night.

Margaret McClure was co-hostess with Roberta Reed and Geneva Ellis at an ice cream party at the H. E. Reed home Saturday night. About 25 young people were present.

Enlistees in the Women's Army Corps must be 18 to 26 years old, at least five feet five inches tall, weigh no less than 100 pounds and be high school graduates.

Boys' Ranchers get in shape for annual Rodeo. The boys participate in all events plus several acts. Two shows will be held this year on Labor Day weekend, September 4 and 5 at 2:30 each day. Tickets will be on sale at the Ranch and a special invitation is extended to all ex-Ranchers to attend the Homecoming activities.

A lot of people have been trying for many years to get the country club remodeled and this achievement is not something to be taken lightly. It is truly a great step of progress for Floydada.

Floydada is going to have the prettiest twirlers in the country this year. I checked up to see what I could learn about this year's crop of twirlers. There will be six of the young ladies twirling the batons for Floydada High this year. The girls will use the same uniforms that were used last year but fur will be added around the skirt and the boots.

The girls are Cheryl Crawford, Majorette, Sandra Collier, Jerry Floyd, Sue Nelson, Gaynelle Boothe, and Mary Wilks.

Such a nice surprise to see Mr. and Mrs. Truman (Dimp) Fuqua in town. They were guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Fuqua, I always associate Dimp with "Arwine Drug. I don't guess two "soda jerks" were ever missed more than Dimp and Whimpy Thomas.

Margaret visited Bro. and Mrs. Clayton Watkins, Frankie and Corolyn Friday night after attending church at South Plains where Bro. Watkins was preaching in a revival.

Scouts Report Wonderful Trip

The 22 members of Troop No. 57 Lions Club-sponsored Boy Scouts of Floydada, worked off a lot of their requirements for merit badges on their nine-day mountain trip which was finished Saturday night on reaching home.

Camping and pioneering, as well as other merits, are likely to have accumulated for the whole bunch while some of the older boys worked off their hiking tests, said Scoutmaster James H. Word, who headed the adult group composed of himself, Gayle Mayo, Jewel Elza and W. N. Garrett.

Elza is the assistant Scoutmaster. Mayo the Cub Scout master. Mr. Garrett volunteered to make the trip when it developed the fourth adult would be seriously needed.

The boys caught lots of fish, did a considerable bit of horseback riding and came home with a bear story to tell," said Mr. Word. "They were all perfect gentlemen the whole trip," he added.

The troop camped most of their time at 30-Mile Camp southwest of Creed on the Rio Grande Reservoir. The area has had lots of rain in recent weeks and is unbelievably beautiful now, the men reported.

AROUND TOWN

(Jennie Henry)

Had a lengthy and interesting telephone conversation with Anne Wilson. Anne always has something interesting to talk about. Incidentally, I wish more people would call — then — I would have more to write about.

Anne was telling me about the program for the Women's Fellowship Hour at the Methodist church, August 30 at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Carl Minor Jr. will review the book, "Good Morning, Miss Dove" — and as Anne said, "Sue will be as cute as a bug."

Hostesses for the occasion will be Mrs. Olin Lyles, Mrs. Jack Coffman and Mrs. Willson.

Watermelon will be served and the general public is invited.

No One, but No One, can make stew like Jim Word and Gayle Mayo — so say the Boy Scouts who made the camping trip to Colorado.

Determined to fill the ever hungry boys up just once, they made enough stew for an army and evidently the army was there. In ten minutes the stew was gone, and the boys were standing around the stew pot sopping their bread in the little bit of gravy that remained.

Leonard Matsler surely got a jolt when his son, Mike, came home telling him that it was the best stew he ever ate.

Our hats are off to the four adults who made the trip with the boys—Jim Word, Jewel Elza, W. N. Garrett, and Gayle Mayo.

The furniture has been purchased for the club house at the country club and the committee hopes to have it here by September 5.

The committee, Mrs. Ed Holmes, Mrs. Jimmy Willson and Mrs. Jim Barnard, have been busy collecting green stamp books and small donations to help furnish ash trays and small accessories for the rooms.

If you have not yet turned your stumps or donations over to one of them, please do so by September 1. You can mail it to one of them or call, and they will pick it up.

New Wake Road Is Step Nearer

CROSBYTON — Completion of right-of-way for a proposed farm-to-market road on the East Plains was one step nearer this week, with the settling of one disputed piece of property. Three more landowners must make agreements before the right-of-way is finished.

The road would run from the end of the Wake FM road east to join the McAdoo-Roaring Springs road in Dickens County. A spur would also run north to connect the new road with the Dougherty road in Floyd County.

Following the report Thursday of a special commission appointment by the Crosby County Commissioners' Court, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Hickman signed an easement for the right-of-way crossing their property. The special commission allowed $625 for 2.5 acres of irrigated land and $236 for 2.36 acres of un-irrigated land, for a total of $861.

Other property on which easements have not been secured belong to the F. P. Bryan estate, Sam Covington and A. P. Crouch. These men have signified that they would probably be guided by the terms of the special commission. The proposed easements across the property of these landowners.

Ralls JC Rodeo September 1-3

Promise that the fourth annual Jaycee Rodeo at Ralls will be bigger and better than ever before is indicated by the advance plans being made for the event.

The parade the afternoon of September 1 at 4 o'clock which opens the event will be the best show opener so far, with 10 riding clubs and sheriff's posse promising to take part.

There will be three night shows, with Goat Mayo, who produces the Texas Cowboy's Reunion show at Stamford, the producer.

A dance every night of the event will have Tommy Hancock Roadside Playboys furnishing music.

The 35-member Ralls Jaycee club membership is being joined by nearly 200 other rodeo boosters in proclaiming the show.

A caravan of Ralls backers of the rodeo are scheduled to make Floydada and other towns of this area, advertising the rodeo on August 29.

Perfect Cotton For Plains Is Research Goal

hours to produce $100 worth of milk. That labor cost can be cut by 20 per cent if milking machines are used.

In hog production, size of the herd makes the big difference in labor required. That's because a large herd can use automatic feeders and waterers economically, whereas small herds can't. In Texas, labor input per $100 of pork products amounts to about 25 man-hours. And there's quite an investment involved in hog-raising.

Probably more has been done to mechanize the poultry industry in recent years than any other single phase of livestock raising. Production-line broiler raising takes 5 to 15 hours of labor per 100 birds, whereas the less-routinized raising of chickens to the same age for laying flocks takes 25 to 35 hours.

Very few of these labor-saving devices are practical unless they can be applied to large numbers because of initial cost. And many small farmers have neither the space required nor the capital for investment in a large number of animals.

Our agricultural researchers are working to find a solution to the problem, for only as a farmer is assured of an income on such assured commodities can he feel safe in continuing his perpetual game of chance with nature; a crop success or failure.

"Patient cross-breeding of good lines will eventually yield a nearly perfect cotton for the High Plains," believes Dr. Harold Loden, manager of the Paymaster Farm in Floyd County.

Dr. Loden tells of some of the shifts in cotton varieties on the Plains in the article "Cotton Breeding on Paymaster Farm" in the September issue of The Progressive Farmer magazine.

Three or four years ago, the stormproof varieties of Macha and Lockett Stormproof accounted for 70 to 75 per cent of the total acreage on the Plains. However, there is an expected reduction in these two varieties in 1955. Hi-Bred and Half-and-Half have also declined in popularity the past 8 to 10 years. The major increase in any variety has been in Lankart, which accounted for almost 31 per cent of the 1955 Plains crop.

More irrigation has brought increase of longer staples.

Paymaster 54 variety represents 11 per cent of 1955 planting in 21 South Plains counties. This year was released as improvement in Paymaster 54B.

Genes from two "wild" cottons Kekchi and Hopi, are important in the research for better cotton varieties. They are working on a cotton now to have the rapid fruit set of the Kekchi and early boll maturity of the Hopi. In effect, this would move the Cotton Belt north.

Two new varieties ready for commercial release this fall are Paymaster 101 and Paymaster Storm Rider.

Real Chuck Wagons Will Serve Meals at Old Settlers Meeting

Real chuck from real chuck wagons will be served at Roaring Springs August 25-26 (today and Friday) when Old Settlers hold their 32nd annual reunion at Pioneer Park.

Range wagons from the Matador ranch and the Red Lake Cattle Co. ranges will be camped on the grounds. Meals will be served at $1 with the proceeds going to the Old Settlers Association.

Rep. Elbert Reeves, president of the association, said yesterday that advance interest in the two-day meeting indicates the largest attendance in history.

One of the outstanding features of the reunion will be the two afternoons and evenings of rodeo performances. Two hand-made saddles top the prize lists.

One of the saddles was made by H. H. Schweitzer of Matador and will go to the top hand in the calf roping contest.

Carl Darr of Paducah made the other saddle which will go as top prize in the "old Men's" (55-years or older) breakaway roping contest. Both saddles are appropriately stamped for the event.

All events are strictly amateur. The reunion will start Thursday morning (Aug. 25) with a pioneer parade at 10 a. m. to be followed at 11 o'clock by the memorial service.

Three attractive silver and gold belt buckles, three pairs of spurs, three bridle bits and a Navajo saddle blanket are among the rodeo prizes. The belt buckles are engraved.

The matinee roping will be held daily at 2 p. m. with main rodeo event starting each evening at 7-30. Cash prizes up to $60 will be offered in the roping contests each evening.

Other features of the rodeo include bronc riding, girl's barrel race, and wild mare race.

Cotton Measure Is 85,725 Acres

Figures on cotton acreage measurement in Floyd County, completed by ASC crewmen this week, reveal that the county has nearly 10,000 acres more cotton left out of its 103,000-acre allotment than was estimated in July.

After re-planting time had expired County Agent W. G. Rodgers made a guess that 75,000 acres was left after the destructive elements had dealt crops blow after blow.

Tom Hutchins, ASC office manager, reported that crewmen indicated there is much late cotton and also that more of the early hulled cotton was left standing than was anticipated.

Meanwhile the row crops are showing serious need of another good rain. Irrigation wells are running around the clock but are unable to keep ahead of the burning sun and lack of underground moisture which marked the beginning of the season. Some dry land crop are being despaired of.

Several local showers continue to dot the county but the need is for a good general rain.

Among the areas which had good showers are a few farms west of Dougherty that got a sprinkle to two inches yesterday morning.

Highlights And Sidelights From the State Capitol

(By Vern Sanford, Texas Press Association)

AUSTIN. — Whether a special session of the legislature is called on school integration apparently hinges on a Texas Supreme Court decision still to come.

Filed by the anti-integration Texas Citizens Council in a district court at Big Spring, the suit seeks to bar payment of state funds to bi-racial schools.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd says the court decision holds the key to whether Texas laws must be changed immediately or already-integrated schools must back-track. Decision by the district court can be carried directly to the Supreme Court and possibly be settled by the time school starts.

Should the court hold payment to integrated schools can be made under existing laws, there apparently would be no urgent need to change them, at least in that regard.

Shepperd said he welcomed the Big Spring suit since it promises to clean up the difficult legal situation.

Gov. Allan Shivers says he will call a special session "if necessary." He apparently was awaiting three developments.

He asked his newly formed citizens' advisory council on school integration to investigate and report to him on several questions, including the need of a special session.

He asked Shepperd to prepare an official ruling on legal questions.

And the decision in the Big Spring court case may set up conditions to determine need of the session.

In July the Board of Education voted to continue regular payments to local districts, whether segregated or not. It left racial policy up to local officials.

Since then, some 30 districts have announced whole or partial desegregation plans.

A University of Texas student committee also has taken on the segregation problem with a poll of student opinion on acceptance of Negro students outside the classroom. Graduate courses have been open to Negroes since 1950. Regents have ordered full desegregation in September, 1956.

KKK Talk Challenged
Attorney General Shepperd's claim that efforts are underway in Texas to revive the Ku Klux Klan brought a challenge last week.

Sen. Jimmy Phillips called on Shepperd to name names, but Shepperd declined. Names will be given prosecutors and grand juries when sufficient evidence is gathered for convictions, Shepperd said.

State Senator Killed

Death of State Sen. Wayne W. Wagoner of Bowie cost Texas liberals one of their leaders.

Wagoner, killed in a three-car collision in Fort Worth, was buried last week in the State Cemetery at Austin with full military honors. Services were held earlier in the Senate Chamber.

A World War II veteran, he served two terms in the House before beginning his Senate career in 1951. Friends in Tyler recently had boomed him as a candidate for attorney general. He had been associated with Loyalist Democrats and had supported Ralph Yarborough in the latter's two unsuccessful races for governor.

Giles Pleads Guilty

One of the biggest news breaks of last week was Bascom Giles' plea of guilty in criminal district court at San Antonio to two charges in connection with a Bexar County block land deal.

Giles' guilty plea concerned charges of consenting to a $30,000 bribe. He pleaded not guilty to a third count, of accepting the bribe. The state waived this charge and Judge Buck Jones imposed a six-year prison sentence. It is to run concurrently with a three-year sentence given Giles earlier at Austin on a charge of theft of $6,800 from the veteran's land fund.

Giles has appealed the case, which affords at least 90 days' delay in final disposition of the sentence.

Awaiting trial in San Antonio were Arthur McKenzie and C. V. Wynn, San Antonio land operators, indicted for offering the $30,000 bribe to Giles.

Other suits now pending against the former land commissioner are a civil suit at San Antonio, seeking recovery of $35,000, and nine additional charges in Austin, on other transactions. He also faces trial in Zavala County on another land case.

Stevenson Reply Awaited

Adlai Stevenson is slated to speak in Austin on Sept. 28. At that time he may reply to Gov. Allan Shivers' repeated refusal to support him for president.

During the national governor's conference in Chicago, Shivers said he would again, as in 1952, refuse to support Stevenson if he were Democratic candidate for president.

Stevenson withheld comment "until I am in Texas," Shivers, he pointed out, was a guest in Illinois.

Stevenson's Austin appearance was arranged by the University of Texas great issues committee. It is billed as "non-political." Subjects of his talk will be "America, the Economic Colossus."

Too Much Money

Overpayment of drivers license fees has created a problem for the Department of Public Safety.

DPS staffers reminded the public that increased charges voted by the 1955 Legislature do not go into effect until Sept. 6. At that time charges will jump from $1 to $2 for an operator's license, $2 to $3 for commercial licenses, $3 to $4 for chauffeurs.

Meantime, the lower rates apply, and the department has quite a task returning excess money.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(Nellie Witt Spikes)

This Monday morning of August 22 is a beautiful one. The blue silk parasols of the morning glory vines make a solid covering over the green of the leaves, the roses bloom along the fence, the garden is growing and beginning its pay-off.

For awhile I thought the lice would get the cucumbers, but they seem to be letting up, and the little cucumbers are getting to be big ones for picking. The two rows of Top Crop beans are bearing and they are good.

After the hail I was so discouraged I did not even want to think of another garden. There were a few volunteer watermelon vines left. I let them alone. A neighbor came by with some fine seed of this delicious luxury, and we planted them along with some musk melon seed. There were some tomato plants left, also. Now our garden is a luxuriant growth of vines. Don't think there is any room for the melons to make, but they look pretty anyway.

We went to the Estacado Reunion yesterday, sister Lizzie going with us. When we got to the Park we drove around and around, looking for the sign. At last we got to the southwest part and drove up among a group of cars. Seeing they had stopped for the day and there was no way on, backing out had to be done as we neither were an Aiken nor an Adkins.

A bit gained here, an inch, or so it seemed to the front, at least we were through turning around and would have been perfectly happy if a man had not driven in, almost blocking our escape.

Then after some more driving around we parked, had to move the car and parked again. Mr. Spikes decided we had better move by a car that had parked on the edge of the grass. We had been told permission had been granted for this privilege. We got out, started to the Estacado group, a very nice law stepped up and politely said, "Lady we do not like for anyone to park on our grass."

"But we thought we had permission," we insisted. "You may park on the grass on the other side of the road," he said. So we did, but by this time I said if we had Lizzie in the car we would go home. Which would have been a great mistake for we had a lovely day. It was shady and cool, friends were happy to be together, old times were remembered when picnics of yesterdays were had. And the dinner was just grand. If you were there and tasted Mrs. Matt Kirksey's delicious corn pudding like her mother used to bake. Eula Parrish's tasty cake, well I had better stop you will be quite hungry.

The day ended on a happy unexpected note. A pleasant brown-eyed woman walked up to me and asked if I was once Nellie Witt. I could not even have an inkling of who she was but her smile made me know she was someone whom I had known well at some time in my life. She was Ella Quinn and as she had left Emma in 1901, we had quite a long way to go back. It seemed that we could have begun where we quit off, playing in a play house of our own making at the Old Emma School. Rows had been dug down a foot or so by our patient hands and a hoe. We brought bits of colored glass for dishes. The piano was a tin can that had once held ten gallons of precious coal oil.

We could have started at the lake north of the school and their home driven home an old slow poke of a cow who was almost too poor to walk the short distance.

We could have climbed in Jim Gwinn's covered wagon where he had his wares for peddling among the few scattered settlers, opened a bucket of butter cream candy, eaten too much of the candy mice and dogs, little people, houses etc., you remember how these goodies were shaped.

We could have swung in the barn almost touching our toes to the rafters.

Not enough time did we have but we were so glad to meet her nice family, her son, Gaston and his pleasant wife, the two grandsons Don and Dale, who were good-looking and so polite and thoughtful of their grandmother and her old friends.

"My husband said I would only meet with disappointment, I would find no one and nothing I once knew, but it has been wonderful. I found many of those who once were friends of my mother and father and myself, the old cemetery at Emma was still the place I remembered. I am glad I came." And so were my mother, my sister, Lois, Lizzie, Jeff and myself as well as the other Emma people who were there.

A sudden shower came up and all at once the meeting was over, but next year there will be an invitation in the mails from the Old Settler's Reunion for Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Dobbs, 814 SW 32 Street in Oklahoma City. And perhaps Mr. Dobbs will come along to meet the friends of his wife's childhood days.

With a smile and a good wish on his lips our friend Bish Travis went away. On the streets he had been, in the stories, seeing his friends, living to the fullest his friendly life, saying hello, how are you? No one dreaming it was also a goodbye.

To the last of the earthly way Bish had gone through the years with his friends, to the bedside, to the church for the last services to be rendered, on to the cemetery he accompanied them. Now his friends are filling the same place, going the last mile with him. Some day they also will go, then I can see Bish with his kindly greeting, his warm smile saying, "Hello, there, it is good to see you again."

Many sleepless nights he knew much pain he suffered. He never spoke of this as he went along his cheerful ways. Now—

How have I learned to sleep? He bade me rest

In the charmed circle of His loving arms.

I found there was no pillow like His breast.

And here I sleep, secure from all alarms.

Outside are storms, 'deep calleth unto deep.' But here, 'He giveth His beloved sleep.'

LIBRARY NEWS

(by Mrs. Lee C. Gouglity)

"Holidays Around the World" by Joseph Gaer is a new book in the library. This book is like all the parades of all the holidays rolled into one. It is filled with the games, pageants, feasts, gifts and greetings which people of the nations use to commemorate their festival days.

"Alaska Today" by B. W. Denison is an exciting and accurate record of present day resources and opportunities in the inviting land of the Northwest. This book is now available in the library.

Both clubs had good attendance last week. Mrs. Dee Copeland from Lockney reviewed "A Bear is a Bear" by Inez Hogan for the Junior Book Review Club.

In the Hobby Club, Mrs. Charles B. Smith reviewed "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch." Interesting handwork was provided for both groups.

Thanks to Mrs. Dee Copeland and Mrs. Hershel Cartmel of Lockney for furnishing refreshments for the clubs.

Twenty seven children attended Story Hour Saturday Aug. 13. Mrs. Billy Brown told the stories and Mrs. Sam Green helped with games and refreshments.

We wish to express appreciation to the Business and Professional Women's Club for a gift of $97.60 to be used for books. The check was brought to the library this week by Miss Leila Petty. If any of the members have a request for a special book to be purchased with the money, we would be happy for them to call or come in.

The following have given books from their home library shelves: Mrs. A. E. Hewitt, Lockney; Mr. M. F. Williams, Douglas, Walding, and Jerry Solomon.

Last week we had a nice letter from Mrs. Homer Winston of Brownfield congratulating the library on the "Books on Bikes Club." Mrs. Winston also sent a copy of "Time Flew By", a book written by herself under the pen name Juanita M. Whisenant. This book has been reviewed on the plains several times within the last month. Our young people will enjoy this fine book and we are indeed grateful to Mrs. Winston for this gift to the Library.

Results are proof. Case 132, male, age 29, entered a clinic in central Texas. Their "tentative opinion" of his case was possible ruptured spinal disc or arthritis. Was given xray therapy treatment and advised to have a bone fusion on 3 vertebrae. Patient refused bone fusion and came to our clinic in Floydada.

Entrance complaints: Upper half of spine stiff and sore, pain upon urination, constant discharge from right ear for 10 years, area under ribs sore.

Patient was given complete spinal analysis and was adjusted. In one week, ear discharge stopped. All other complaints gradually vanished. Comparative spinal examinations later showed his previous misalignment completely corrected.

Note the different types of troubles that all respond to adjustments.

Does This Constitute Waste?

The above picture was made of a milo field with rows 9/10ths of a mile long and with no steps taken to save irrigation water from emptying into county road bar-ditch.

This picture of water produced for irrigation uses was made after following the water for 2 1/2 miles from point where it left the land upon which it was pumped.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!

Waste of underground water as defined in Texas Law was amended in the 1935 session of the Legislature by adding the following section:

"(a) WILLFULLY CAUSING, SUFFERING, OR PERMITTING UNDERGROUND WATER PRODUCED FOR IRRIGATION OR AGRICULTURAL PURPOSES TO ESCAPE INTO ANY RIVER, CREEK, OR OTHER NATURAL WATER COURSE, DEPRESSION, OR LAKE, RESERVOIR, DRAIN, OR INTO ANY SEWER, STREET, HIGHWAY, ROAD, ROAD DITCH, OR UPON THE LAND OF ANY OTHER PERSON THAN THE OWNER OF SUCH WELL, OR UPON PUBLIC LAND."

Joint Meeting Of Clubs Ends Year's Program

(by Mrs. Lee C. Golightly)

Art pupils of Mrs. E. J. Baker and Mrs. E. B. Chestnutt furnished a very entertaining program at the last meeting of the Hobby and Book Review Clubs.

The clubs, meeting together, had a record attendance of over 80, variety of art consisting of oils, water colors, pencil, pastel, ink, crayola and china.

All of the art displayed won prize ribbons in the Caprock Art Show and the Floyd County Fair.

Another intriguing feature of the program was watching several pupils draw pictures on the black board with pastel crayons. There was no doubt about the popularity of Douglas Walding when he donned a "Davy Crockett" hat, and with a few deft strokes of the chalk, reproduced a very life-like "Davy Crockett" on the black board.

The following took part on the program: Elvis Lowrance, Rex Lackey, Douglas Walding, Darrell Lindsey, Glenn Ervin, Dorrell, Denny King, Rita Colley, Dana Walding, Nixie Ann Giesecke, Bruce Horton, Linda Rucker, Danny Sweepston, Clinton Fawver and Danny Daniel. We wish to thank Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Chestnutt and their pupils for this fine program that brought to a close the Hobby and Book Review Club season. We also wish to thank Cecil Hagood, who furnished refreshments for this last meeting.

The clubs, starting June 14, have met every Tuesday morning in the Library Reading Room and the Home Demonstration Rooms.

Many have co-operated in making the clubs a success. Excellent programs in the way of book reviews along with hand work have been thoroughly enjoyed by the youngsters.

Individuals and clubs have furnished refreshments for each meeting. Thanks to the Home Demonstration Club women for the use of the Council room as a meeting place for one club.

The Library records show that the clubs have helped in increase the circulation of books among our boys and girls, and it is hoped that the library will be able to sponsor the clubs again next summer.

Mrs. H. P. Jackson, chairman of the committee for the clubs, has been present at most of the meetings, helping in every way possible. All of the kiddies know and love her and are hoping she will be around next spring to get the clubs going again during the vacation months.

Pork, beef, broilers and fryers head the list of meats, according to Mae Belle Smith, extension specialist in consumer education. Also included are grapes, rice and fresh Italian prunes, a newcomer, but expected to be bountiful since production for the year has been heavy.

Potatoes, pinto beans, fresh and processed lemons and limes and canned grapefruit sections are all in heavier supply than a year ago.

Milk and other dairy products such as cheese, butter and nonfat milk solids will continue to be abundant because of the relatively high level of milk production in July.

Vegetable fats and oils and lard along with canned tuna also will remain in heavy supply, says Miss Smith.

She says the monthly list is based on a survey of supplies of foods in the major trade territories of the southwest area and is made by the area food distribution of the USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service.

To prepare peaches for your food freezer:

Select tree-ripened peaches. Peel rather than scald peaches—doing only a few at a time. Peel and slice about 1 quart at a time. Place in a bowl and sprinkle 1 tablespoon lemon juice over them to retard discoloring. Add sugar to suit taste—approximately 1 cup to a quart of sliced peaches. Turn peaches over and over in bowl with wooden spoon, handle gently. Put into containers and freeze.

Cantaloupe in food freezer — is good for fruit cups or salads during the winter months. Select firm, fully ripened cantaloupe. Cut in half and remove seeds. A French potato baller is ideal for scooping out the cantaloupe. However, if one is not available, remove rind, cut melon in slices and cube. Drain before packaging. Package in polyethylene bags. Seal and freeze immediately. Once thawed cantaloupe must be used immediately.

OLD PROVERB: "You can't keep trouble from coming but you needn't give it a chair to sit on." . . . .

The ant may be small and busy but he seems to get around to all the best picnics. . . . .
Judge W. E. Grimes, Mrs. Grimes, and son Bert, of Floydada, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Aylesworth of Dumas visited at Boy's Ranch on Sunday.

TIME-SAVERS:
"Cut cookies in strips, squares, or diamond shapes, and save rolling time that way."
"Line pie pans with aluminum foil to take pie away from home."
"Break egg into cup before measuring shortening."
"Cut rolls with biscuit cutter and stand on edge in pan for something different."

"To make tomatoes easy to peel—dip in boiling water for a second or two — return them to the refrigerator and peel just before serving."
"Cook when in the humor to cook"—with a freezer this is possible.
A good freezer slogan — "Keep it full and keep food moving."
Be a careful and good planner—you will be pleased the work and time you can save!

ORIGIN OF FRATERNITIES
The college fraternity system was inaugurated in the Apollo Room of the Raleigh Tavern in Williamsburg, Va., when John Heath Richmond Booker, Thomas Smith, Armstrong Smith and John Jones of the College of William and Mary on the night of December 5, 1776, formed the first Greek-letter society, Phi Beta Kappa, whose letters stand for a Greek motto usually translated is "Love of Wisdom."

The society adopted all the features which characterized the modern organizations — secret obligations, motto and grip. The first women members were elected to the society in 1875.
Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Calhoun and daughter of Texas City have been visiting with his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Fuller. They returned home Tuesday morning.

Finding Market For Vegetables

Squash, beans, cucumbers, cantaloupes and watermelons, which are showing up on the markets of the area are from small fields planted on haled out cotton land. They are finding fair markets, with cucumbers and beans meeting with best success.

Some trouble finding a wholesale market for squash has developed but this may be offset by local uses to some extent.

County Agent W. G. Rodgers said he is running into several plots of vegetables of one kind and another that are being handled to advantage on smaller farms.

One grower, he said, has run into a problem. His beans have been hit by bacterial blight. The blight is carried in the seed, experts say. These are table beans.

Meanwhile the onion growers have been carrying on their processing and selling sporadically as the markets developed for the various types they are offering.

The onion growers association is putting some extra fancy onions on the market this week.

Many of the vegetables which are grown in excess of immediate needs are being processed at the county canneries here and in Lockney.

Some of the larger plots replanted after the cotton season was over went into black-eye peas.

One farmer with a 140-acre allotment for cotton saved 50 acres his crop and has the remainder of the lay-out in blackeyes and other types of peas, some of which he is growing under contract.

watch For Castor Beans in Maize; Warning of CCC

County ASC office manager Tom Hutchins this week said he had had warning on the danger of Castor Beans in forage feeds, maize, kafir, etc., that they may be offered on the market this season.

Any amount of Castor Beans found in a load of grain will make it worthless on the market, says CCC.

One or two plains shippers last season found themselves taking a heavy loss when Castor Beans were detected in their shipments even after they reached the terminal elevators.

So far as Hutchins is informed the only way to be sure and be safe, if there are any of the beans in a field, is to chop them out before the combine gets into the field. Otherwise they will contaminate the grain. It cannot be eliminated after it has once been mixed with the feed, according to the warning that has been issued to county committees by Commodity Credit Corporation.
