Mrs. E. H. Tooley, mother of the bride, served as her matron of honor. Bridesmaids were the bride's sisters, Mrs. H. P. Hill of Vernon and Mrs. W. O. Martin of Bogota, Colombia, South America.

Master Dan Hill, 8 year old nephew of the bride, was ring bearer and small Van Martin, 5 year old niece, was flower girl and scattered rose petals before the bride. Mr. Tooley escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage.

Mrs. Tooley wore a gown of light avocado silk and acetate, with ballerina length full gathered skirt and sleeveless surplice bodice. Her groomsmen wore brown, and she carried a huge bronze mum showered with small matching pom mums encircled in toast colored net.

The bridesmaid's dresses, slippers and bouquets were identical to the matron of honor's. Miss Mary Hill, soloist and candle lighter, wore a brown dress styled similar to the others and her flowers were a wrist-let of bronze pom mums.

The flower girl's dress also matched the other attendants', and her headpiece was of lime net with bronze pom mums on each side. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of figured material with turquoise background. Her corsage was of bronze mums.

The bride was gowned in a traditional wedding dress, worn by her eldest sister, at her marriage 16 years ago. The white satin gown was fashioned with a fitted bodice, high lace collar, leg-o-mutton sleeves fastened with tiny self-covered buttons which also extended down the back of the dress. The slightly flared skirt was floor length.

Her fingertip tulle veil was attached to a pearl beaded crown. She carried a white Bible, presented to her by her missionary circle in Clovis, which was topped with her bouquet formed by a yellow-throated white orchid, surrounded with white stephanotis.

At the reception in the Church Parlor, following the ceremony, the couple was assisted in receiving by the bride's parents, the bridegroom's parents, and the bride's sisters, Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Hill.

Guests were present from Canyon, Dawn, Floydada, Lubbock, Plomot, Lockney, Kress, Vernon, Fields and Clovis, N. M.

Two heart shaped cakes outlined with greenery, the bridesmaid's bouquets, and three - tiered candelabra holding yellow candles, formed the decorations for the reception table.

Wedding Trip

For a wedding trip to Santa Fe, N. M., the bride chose a wool suit of black, speckled with avocado styled with pencil skirt and boy jacket. Her torso - length blouse was of lime green wool jersey, her shoes and bag were tomato red suede, and other accessories were black.

Mrs. Baldwin is a music teacher in the Clovis Public Schools, and Mr. Baldwin is in the Air Force stationed at Kelly Field, San Antonio. She plans to continue teaching in Clovis until he receives his military discharge in June, 1956. The easiest of all skills for a woman's hands to recapture is that of handling a baby. After several years away from little ones, a woman half expects to feel a stranger to it. But for hands once trained to the task, the art of lifting tiny things — with fingers spread to support back and neck and head — returns quickly.

Most of the duties hands perform are fairly routine: preparing meals, making beds, dusting, mopping, mending — in a domestic vein; typing, telephoning, driving a car — in their public contacts.

But none of these "things" pick back, so to speak. Hands pick up pans, open refrigerator doors, hold a mop handle or a needle, and get only the expected response. With a baby it's different.

The tiny body squirms to express discomfort, relaxes or stretches luxuriously to express pleasure. One's hands become recorders to register the child's reactions to the treatment it receives. And no more satisfying answer comes for the child holder than the deep sigh which practiced fingers feel rather than the ear's hearing. It is the signal that all's well.

And what the hands record, the mind registers, the heart enjoys. Tiny feet pushing against an arm promise future strength. A small head rising from one's shoulder foretells a strong back. Little fingers closing around one's thumb express confidence and a sense of security.

A woman's hands are rarely still. Many of the things they do are trivial, a few are downright wasteful of time and talent. Some motions which seem unimportant contribute a great deal to the comfort of family members both large and small. But those hand motions from which she gets the greatest return are the ones that share in the developing of a young life.

Cowan of Cleburne; Mrs. G. D. McKibben, Jimmy and Kenneth of Canton; Mr. and Mrs. W. Z. Florence and family of Abilene; Mr. and Mrs. Poy W. Sand Hill News

(By Mrs. James Jeffress)

SAND HILL, Nov. 29 — The weather has been nice for field activity this week with the exception of that cold norther that blew in Sunday. The cotton is moving faster this week. Most everyone has started their strippers and all the gins are beginning to stack up. The cotton isn't making much through this fall strip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Spears and family spent the Thanksgiving holidays visiting relatives in Hilton, Okla.

Everyone reported a big Thanksgiving and were well stuffed before they were over. I think we all realized that we had a lot to be thankful for.

Mr. and Mrs. Rafe Ferguson and family were in Burk Burnett Thursday enjoying dinner in the home of her father.

Both Bobby and Billy Carmack were home for the holidays visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Carmack. Billy was home from McMurry College and Bobby was home from Oklahoma Panhandle.

Others home from College were Kenneth Swanner and Gene Ferguson.

Jim Holmes was the dinner guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Billington Thursday.

We were sorry to hear that little Hunter Latham is on our sick list this week. We hope he is better soon. Also Neida Rhea was on the sick list this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Schulz and children made a business trip to Lubbock Tuesday.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Jeffress over the holidays were Mrs. K. E. McConnell and family of Denton, Arthur Todd of Ft. Worth, Bobby Jackson of Prosper, Jim Jeffress of Silverton, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Turner and family and Jim Holmes, all of this community.

Grain Sorghum Growers Meet Called Tonight

Considerable interest has been evidenced in the meeting of grain sorghum growers here tonight at the district court room.

W. C. Whiteley, manager of the Lockney Chamber of Commerce announced yesterday that the gathering would be addressed by Frank Moore, secretary-treasurer of the Hale County Sorghum Growers Association, of Plainview.

The Hale County viewpoint, together with the details of how to form a sorghum growers association will be discussed by Mr. Moore.

In addition to Moore, the crowd will have the opportunity to hear Jack G. King, associate county agricultural agent in agronomy, of Lubbock, who is doing research work in grain sorghums. Hybrid grain sorghums are now much in the public mind and King will bring the hearers up-to-date on progress in this research.

Whiteley is urging a big attendance at the meeting, which he called jointly with Ewald Quebe of Providence. All the pros and cons of the problems of the sorghum grain growers will be aired.

Among the matters on which free discussion is expected are the matter of price supports for the sorghums and acreage allotments.

Whiteley and Quebe are hoping the farmers will speak out. Whiteley said last week the meeting is not to be a cut and dried affair, but rather a hunt for a way out for the beleaguered producer of grain sorghums.

Williams Says Big Bend Park Is Impressive

More than a thousand were present for the dedication of Big Bend National Park in the Chisos Mountains of the Big Bend last week. N. W. Williams said upon his return over the week-end.

Williams went to the ceremony as a representative of Floydada Chamber of Commerce. He was accompanied by his brother, A. L. of Electra.

The ceremonies were impressive with representatives from the federal and state governments and from the Republic of Mexico. The Hon. Douglas McKay, secretary United States Department of the Interior made the dedicatory address.

Road conditions and accommodations are good in the basin, so far as they go, Williams said. Visitors to the park will be limited for a time, however, until the park service has a chance to make more of its area accessible. Big Bend is a

CONSTIPATION

Constipation in many cases is a very distressing and regular ailment. When the bowels become abnormally full a forward and downward pressure occurs against a nerve plexus which lies just in front of the bowels. From this pressure, many symptoms manifest themselves which make the person uncomfortable such as sluggishness, dull headaches, and irritable. The act of evacuation will relieve these symptoms but unless the cause of the constipation is corrected it will keep re-occurring.

In many cases of constipation the nerves leading to the bowels are under pressure from a spinal misalignment which in turn will not allow the bowel muscle to contract enough to force the stool out.

Upon the correction of the spinal misalignment the bowel nerves resume function allowing the bowel muscles to contract properly which results in regular movements.

A spinal chiropractic examination will reveal the cause of your trouble and the application of Chiropractic will correct it.

THE FLOYD COUNTY HESPERIAN

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1955

VIEWES AND COMMENT

Parking Space Valuable. The Hesperian has hesitated to suggest parking meters for down-town Floydada, and still does. Parking space has not, at least probably not, become that valuable in our town. Additionally, we recall the time, not many years ago, when it was facetiously contemplated that we paint curb rows of motor vehicles along our streets so as to fool the passerby into thinking we had a lot of people in town; also for the purpose of helping the local business morale. Who knows, if the farmer does not prosper for the next few years as seems possible, but that we shall consider the same again. But parking space is becoming more valuable and the need for thinking and adequate provision for the future is now. The business man who parks at his own curb or his neighbors, and then complains there is no room for customers to park, makes conversation which is not unfamiliar. In many cities where no preparation was made a-fortemillions are being spent for private parking space and the owners of cars who must drive to their jobs pay a good fee for the use of the space their machines occupy while not in use. How would the run of mine business man of Floydada take it if he had to pay by the hour for the space his car takes up eight to 10 hours a day along the curb where his customers ought to have room to park?

This Is a Meany. The price of cotton needs to come down so that it can compete in the markets with the synthetics. The price of cotton needs to stay high so the producer of it and the men he employs can have assurance of a livelihood. Both cannot take place, one would argue. The cotton man thinks he is producing as efficiently as possible, but he has got to do a better job, or find markets for his cotton that the synthetics can't invade. He is being backed into a corner and is going to have to use ingenuity to meet his dilemma, either that or give up the fight. Synthetics and world production outside the United States are here to stay and take more and more of the world market unless the cotton man comes up with an idea that beats a protest to Washington.

Forecasting The Weather. The old timer, with his experiences of how things weather-wise have gone in past years, can usually tell with accuracy enough for his needs about whether it will be a late fall, a hard winter or an early or late spring. But the Weather Bureau, until it is ready to spend quite a bit more effort at it, will not be able to predict with much accuracy the close range weather. We are speaking of forecast for an area that extends roughly from the Randall County line to the Garza County line. This is about the line where the north pressures from the Arctic meet in rendezvous with the south pressures from the Gulf. No instruments or devices have been found which will measure the probabilities with more than passing accuracy. Sunday's "southwest winds 15 to 25 miles an hour" for instance, was a howling norther that hit Amarillo at 9 o'clock, Floydada at 10 or so, and Abilene in central Texas by noon-time. But often and often the line of demarkation plays along in Floyd and Swisher Counties for seasons at a time. Rain north, dust south, or vice versa. Whether the matter is the despair of the weather forecasters or is an intriguing adventure in official guessing probably depends on the type of man that makes up the forecast. His job requires him to say what the signs indicate. Doubtless he forecasts at times what he knows in his own mind is not going to happen.

Traffic Death Rate. In face of the fact that there are actually more traffic deaths now than formerly the death rate in traffic has been declining. This traffic death rate might be lowered even more by realistic traffic laws and signs. Perhaps Texas traffic signs are better than most to those in other states but even in Texas the laws and the signs put up in conformity lack a lot of being realistic, so much so that in many instances traffic men do not even try to enforce them. The rule is the same on four-lane divided highways and on two-lane curved roads, on 16-foot pavement and 40-foot. Result is the inclination of the motorist to pay less attention to any signs. Among the things that make the motorist unhappy is the stop light operating around the clock at sparsely traveled intersections, where rear-end collisions could be avoided by blinkers. The law maker, however, seems to be imbued with the idea that it is his job to order somebody to do something. Accordingly, he has a "stop" sign, where the motorist knows a "yield" sign or a blinker would be much more realistic.

Best payroll prospect for Floyd County now appears to be in the truck farming business. Whether farmers will go ahead and expand their recently inaugurated experiments with onions, lettuce, cabbage, tomatoes, carrots and the like, is to be seen. But in the absence of the factories which are burgeoning downstate but not locating here, a retailing community, like Floydada, sees more hope in truck fields for more people to serve than in any other direction.

There are compensations in bigness as well as objectionable features. As for instance, only bigness can make possible some of the current television broadcasts. The huge costs involved could not be absorbed profitably on some of the broadcasting ventures by any other than an organization or organizations having global clientele and prospects.

It may be easier to burn the leaves which clutter the lawns during this time of year but they're valuable if made into compost. The application of compost to the flower or vegetable garden next spring will increase the organic content of the soil, help keep soil temperatures down and conserve moisture. Compost is valuable too as a mulch. Don't burn 'em . . . pile and compost, leaves that is.

Marshal Says Change Coming In Farm Crops

(By L. A. Marshall)

I am glad to be home again after two weeks in the hospital. In a hospital is a good place to do some meditating. I wish to thank you who visited, sent flowers and cards. It reminded me of my own negligence of friends when they were in a hospital. After all we are living among the grandest people on this earth. The good Christian people are the salt of the earth. It is a blessing to even live among them.

We are living in an age of smart thinking. Never before, since men began walking the earth, has he made such progress toward happiness and civilization, eliminating hard work and getting the job done the easy way.

We are reminded of Proverbs, "As a man thinketh, so is he." Our attitude toward life is important. We can almost say, I am happy, and be happy; I am mad, and you are mad; sick, and you are. And our attitudes are contagious to all with whom we come in contact.

Another truth is that life is a lot of fun, if you can see it that way. One of the great joys of this life is trying to make others happy.

More Money Per Acre

Our farmers are the foundation of our nation. I have dedicated the rest of my life to this one thought: "Try to help our farmers make more money." (If they ever needed that help, it is now.) I have been talking along this line: "What can we raise on the South Plains that will pay more money per acre?"

Farmers who are trying along this line are as much pioneers (financially speaking) as the pioneers who settled this country. The boys who the last few years planted onions, tomatoes, pinto beans, cabbage, and other crops, they are making progress.

We all realize the markets must be developed as we go along. For the long look on down the road I think freezer plants all over the plains will be one of our goals. It is already established that Pintos will produce 4,000 pounds per acre, when planted 6 inches in rows 14 inches apart. We can plant in April and July or August and raise two crops per year and fertilize the land at the same time.

Flavor Wonderful

Pintos raised on the plains will cook as soft as any you ever cooked. These new One Eleven Pintos are larger than the old Pintos. They double in size after cooking. Just try cooking some of them. The flavor is wonderful.

There is one fact, or secret, to cooking Pintos. Never add salt until after the bean is cooked. The salt hardens the skin on the bean, keeping it from expanding, and makes the bean seem hard and tough. Do not salt beans until after you have cooked them. Try it.

We wish to have a meeting sometime in January of all the farmers who planted beans this year, and have each man give his experience good or bad. When he planted, cultivated and watered, how he harvested, etc. I think the final outcome will be: plant the beans with a Dempster, about 14 inch rows, drag heavy timber behind the drill leaving the ground perfectly flat then combine the beans without plowing. Beans must be planted thick enough so the vine will not lay down.

Wester Reports Campaign Gets Into High Gear,

Reporting that his "Mail Early for Christmas" campaign is really in high gear, Acting Postmaster Wester today gave some helpful hints on how you can be sure that your Christmas cards will reach everyone on your list before Dec. 25.

"When you use three cent stamps on your Christmas cards, you get first-class mail service," he said. "First-class friends deserve first-class mail and the use of first-class postage makes it certain that your Christmas cards will be delivered promptly."

Also, use of first-class postage insures forwarding service if the addressee has moved or the card will be returned to you if the recipient cannot be located. Then, too, on Christmas cards sent by first-class mail, you can include handwritten messages making your greetings more personal.

It is perfectly correct and, in fact, advisable to include your return name and address on each Christmas card envelope. This helps your friends to keep their mailing list up-to-date and insures correction of your list if the card is returned as undeliverable.

Acting Postmaster Wester warns that if any of your Christmas card envelopes are larger than 9" x 12" or smaller than 2-3/4" x 4" they must be sent by first-class mail because such cards require hand cancellation.

When your Christmas cards are ready to mail, you will do both yourself and the Floydada Post Office a real favor by putting the cards with local addresses in one bundle and those for out-of-town destinations in another.

Arrival Of Christmas Packages

The arrival of all packages between now and Christmas will be delivered the day they arrive and if you are expecting one or receive notice one has been shipped to you, do not call the Post Office to see if it has arrived.

If you desire this information and wish to receive delivery before the regular Parcel Post Delivery is made, the Postal Rules & Regulations state that a Special Delivery Fee shall be collected, a package not over 2 pounds 35c, over 2 pounds but not more than 10 pounds 45c.

clever and aggressive for that.

Handle Poisons Carefully

Red Squill is one of the poisons commonly used to kill rats, but this poison is not only death on rats, it is deadly for humans too. War-farin is a comparatively new poison designed for killing rats — but it, too, is equally dangerous to humans. Both these poisons must be handled very carefully, and put out where neither children nor pets can get near them. Any kind of such poison must be stored in very safe places to avoid accidents.

If rats were starved out, by rat-proof construction, and with complete sanitation in our communities — around our homes and places of business, and all wastes and trash were properly disposed of in sanitary land-fills — we would make an enormous economic saving and eliminate a real threat to health.

South Plains News

(By Mrs. Murray Julian)

SOUTH PLAINS, Nov. 28—South Plains W.M.U. met at the church on Monday afternoon for bible study from the book, Favorite Bible Passages, with Mrs. Shelby Calahan teaching the lesson, Answering God's Call in an Hour of Crisis. Highlights And Sidelights From the State Capitol

(By Vern Sanford, Texas Press Association)

AUSTIN, Tex. — Pieces of the Texas political puzzle begin to fall into place. Who will run for what may be largely developed by the end of the year, months ahead of the usual schedule.

State Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton held a press conference Monday in Austin to announce formally his candidacy for governor.

Interested observers also are watching for an announcement from Atty. Gen. John Ben Shep-per. But chances are it won't be of a political nature. Reports have it that Shepperd may announce his retirement from politics at the end of his present term, to accept a position in West Texas.

For now, Shepperd said "no comment," when asked about his plans, but promised an announcement "later." At present he says he has plenty to do, filling his job as attorney general. "I've got some hot potatoes cooking, and I intend to finish cooking them," he commented.

Another possibility is that former University of Texas Chancellor James P. Hart would announce his gubernatorial plans in mid-December.

Supreme Court Justice Will Wilson is being talked more and more as a candidate for attorney general. State Sen. Searcy Bracewell of Houston is considered a prospect either for this post, or for lieutenant governor.

And a one-sentence card in the mails prophesies: "Obie Jones will be your next state treasurer." Jones is a state representative from Travis County.

Daniel Drive Grows

Movements to persuade U. S. Sen. Price Daniel to run for governor apparently are breaking out over the state.

In Navarro County, Democratic leaders who split over Shivers and Yarborough and over Eisenhower and Stevenson united in signing a petition endorsing Daniel. A similar situation developed in Childress.

A poll of the heavily conservative Dallas County Democratic Executive Committee by the Dallas Morning News showed Daniel a strong favorite.

Observers felt this increasing activity indicated Daniel has given his supporters encouragement.

Lindsey To Leave Politics

House Speaker Jim Lindsey apparently has rejected the lure of higher political office.

He is to succeed Gen. Ike Ashburn as executive vice president of the Texas Good Roads Association on Jan. 1. Ashburn, retiring from that position, will take over as chairman of the board.

Lindsey will complete his present term in the legislature, he said, but will not seek elective office next year. Elected speaker before his 28th birthday, he had been considered a possible candidate for attorney general.

Tax Portion For Schools Asked

Texasians attending the White House Conference on Education this week planned to plug for a new school-financing idea developed in a report on the preliminary state conference held in Austin recently.

Their goal: "A percentage of all federal income taxes collected in each state should be left in the state for school support."

Another possibility suggested in the report was to extend the tax-supported educational period for all students from 12 to 14 years.

Labor Poll Tax Drive

A drive to get a half-million union labor members to buy poll taxes is in high gear, says one of its leaders.

Poll taxes of union members are up as much as 70 per cent in some areas, said Jerry Holleman of Austin, executive secretary of the Texas Federation of Labor.

CIO, railroad brotherhood and Federation groups are working together on the project, according to Holleman.

Teacher Retirement Pushed

Some 8,000 Texas teachers bypassed traditional turkey dinners to spend their holiday studying professional objectives.

Topping their convention agenda were plans for an organized campaign to gain voter approval for the teacher retirement constitutional amendment which will appear on next November's general election ballot.

Passage of the amendment is necessary, said the Texas State Teachers Association resolution, "to insure teachers for the flood of additional pupils enrolling in Texas public schools."

Citizen Arrest Upheld

Sometimes even a private citizen can legally make an arrest, says the Court of Criminal Appeals.

One such instance involved an Air Force captain who stopped a weaving car and detained the intoxicated driver until police arrived.

A 2-to-1 court decision affirmed the resultant jail sentence and fine against the driver.

New Lawyers Sworn In

State Sen. Johnnie B. Rogers of Austin, after six years as a lawmaker, now has the right to practice law. He was one of 51 new attorneys who passed the fall bar examination and were sworn in by Chief Justice John E. Hickman of the Supreme Court.

In the same ceremony, Dr. J. L. Walker of Austin became the second physician in Texas to be admitted to the bar.

SHORT SHORTS: Architects contracts on a new state courts and state office building have been awarded, and final plans are to be turned over to the State Building Commission within nine months. . . . To show they mean business about "no cars for freshmen," the University of Texas officials have taken disciplinary action against a group of violators, some of whom lost the privilege of maintaining a car in Austin for an additional year. . . . If present trends continue, Texas construction for 1955 will exceed 1954 by 12 percent.

Children Main Victims of Dud Shell Tragedies

(This is the second in a series of five stories designed to acquaint the public with the danger of harboring souvenirs and duds which have not been rendered harmless by explosive experts.—Ed. Note.)

Children just do not have the proper knowledge or fear of explosives. What knowledge they do have is gained by seeing carefully staged explosions in movies and TV, which give them only the realization that shells, rockets, grenades, etc. make a wonderfully attractive "bang!" Also, they seem to know instinctively that they will go bang if they are thrown into a fire. The result often is sudden and shocking tragedy which rocks the entire community.

Many people believe that there is no danger in keeping war souvenirs, because they "know how to handle them safely." But they do not take into account the passage of time— or children. In most cases, rather than deteriorating, explosives become more powerful and more dangerous as time goes on and they are affected by changes in temperature and other atmospheric conditions.

Army Team Knows Technique

The Fourth United States Army, which embraces the states of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, Oklahoma and

New Mexico, is well equipped to dispose of any explosives in this huge area. Explosives ordnance disposal teams are stationed in each state, and are capable of rendering harmless anything from 22 ammunition to the atomic bomb.

These men possess invaluable skill, gained by experience on the battlefield, in special schools, in work on military ranges with unexploded projectiles, bombs, grenades, etc., and through constant study and experimentation on all types of weapons, foreign and domestic. They are ready and willing 24 hours a day to speed to scenes of danger from any types of explosives.

Often adults are guilty of the same irresponsible actions as their children. In February this year, an ordnance disposal team was called to Leesville, La., to investigate an explosion in the yard of a man who had been gathering scrap and burning off flammable parts in order to sell the remaining metal for junk. Their investigation revealed that a 3 1/2-inch anti-tank rocket had been thrown in the fire. Fortunately, the explosion caused no injury. When the ordnance men checked further, however, they found a larger, 5-inch rocket in the scrap remaining to be burned. Had it been tossed into the fire it would have caused untold damage to the residential section.

The ordnance men took it to nearby Camp Polk and detonated it in a special area where no damage could result.

Dynamite Cap Explodes

A few days earlier, two boys had been injured at Witten, La., in an exactly similar incident, when their father was burning scrap in his yard. The investigation showed that the explosive agent in this case was a dynamite blasting cap. A shower of fire and metal was blown directly into the eyes of the lads as they watched the fire.

With all their experience, the ordnance men are constantly appalled at the types of death-dealing "duds" and souvenirs which otherwise sensible citizens will allow in their homes or on their property. They know there are many such lethal objects scattered throughout the five-state area, waiting for just the right type of jar or just enough heat to set them off with a shattering roar—but—and that is what is so frustrating to the experts—they cannot step in to avert tragedy unless they are told where the danger exists.

Anyone wishing to get rid of a potential killer—a projectile, a rocket, a grenade, or any type of explosive—may call the police, the sheriff's office, or military installation. They will be relieved to have you call, and they will be sure to see that you are safe and that the duds are disposed of properly. It is a dangerous job, and his commission is not a small one.

DR. ALFRED A. BRIAN

Sudden Attack Is Fatal to Dr. Alfred A. Brian

Dr. Alfred A. Brian, 54, father of Al Brian, prominent in the Baptist ministry and educational work of the church for more than 20 years, was the victim of a sudden heart attack at 10:45 Tuesday night of last week at his home. He had just returned from a speaking engagement and joined his family when he became ill and died within moments after lying down.

Funeral rites were held in San Antonio Friday afternoon in Baptist Temple at 2 o'clock. Dr. R. Earl Allen, Felt Patterson and Parnell Powell of Floydada, attended the service and Dr. Allen assisted in the conduct of the funeral. Dr. C. M. Spaulding, pastor of San Antonio North Park Baptist Church, officiated. Dr. Elmore of Baptist Temple also assisted.

In addition to the immediate family and friends more than 150 ministers from various parts of the state attended the funeral.

Dr. Brian preached for a meeting at the First Baptist Church here in 1903, and had visited his son Al Brian in Floydada many times. Al left Floydada only last spring to take up the work as minister of music at the Central Baptist Church in San Antonio, after serving the Floydada church for three years.

Dr. Brian was Baptist superintendent of missions of San Antonio, a work he took over in April of last year. Prior to that time he had been a vice-president of Howard Payne College at Brownwood, the city of his birth. He was a graduate of that school and had been honored with a doctorate conferred there.

Dr. Brian was reared at Estacado, graduated from Lorenzo high school, and has numerous relatives and friends in that vicinity. He also has a sister who lives at Silverton. She is Mrs. A. A. Howard.

Among his pastorate were those of the First Baptist Church at Levelland and also at Littlefield. He was at one time missionary of Baptist District Nine, which includes several Baptist Associations of the high plains. He had the honor of being the first recipient of an honorary doctorate ever conferred by Wayland Baptist College.

In addition to the surviving wife, the son Al (A. A. Brian Jr.) who formerly made his home here, Dr. Brian is survived by a son Elton Brian, ministerial student at Wayland College, and a daughter, Miss Bobbie Brian, who is secretary of the North Park Church in San Antonio. Surviving also are four brothers.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(Nellie Witt Spikes)

When we entered the lovely warm room of Mr. and Mrs. John Willis of Falls and saw Mr. and Mrs. Sam Putney the guests of honor on their sixth wedding anniversary, these lines came to me:

Then come the wild weather—come sleet or come snow, We will stand by each other, however it blow;

Oppression and sickness, sorrow and pain, Shall be to our true love as links to the chain.

—Longfellow
It was indeed a beautiful sight, these lovers still, the fine sons and daughters gathered around, the beautiful granddaughters, and handsome grandsons, gifts of beauty and usefulness, delicious pink cakes with '90 on them. The lovely table, friends and loving kindred, gathered to honor this fine couple.

Such a fine example of Christian living have they set for others to see and want to follow. All praise to them. May the rest of their days be free from pain. As we left I realized that they were thinking as they sat there side by side, as they had gone through life, side by side, that:

I love thee, I love but thee, With a love that shall not die Till the sun grows cold, And the stars are old, And the leaves of the Judgment Book unfold.

—Taylor
The mail brought us pleasure and excitement lately. A sweet letter from Besie Moore Jonas of Pampa, some five or six letters from women of other countries wanting to get in touch with women in America to further the peace and harmony and better understanding of the world.

A letter from Mrs. Grady Moore who once taught school at McCoy with her husband. They are in Pennsylvania where Mr. Moore teaches science in a big college.

Their son was killed in Japan. O, there have been so many fine young men that have given their lives that we might have freedom. How have we repaid their sacrifice? Have we kept true to their faith in freedom? Or do we go on making a mockery of the laws of our land and carelessly letting freedom only mean the way we want to go selfishly on and losing the way set down by the Master when He said to help and love one another.

Mrs. Pittman's passing is sad. Many years we had the pleasure of knowing this fine woman and having her call us her friends.

These beautiful lines by H. Elvert Lewis are in her memory and for consolation for her children and the ones who loved her and are made sad by her going: God brings them home, His children of the light; They live the life abundant in

His sight. There is a break; their works do follow them Still are they builders of Jerusalem. In earth's unfinished task is no defeat; What God began, He will in Heaven complete. Low, here the valley of the Shadow ends, The shining uplands of God's great amends! God brings them home, now they behold His face, Receiving as they serve Him, grace for grace. The lowliest in the ranks of the redeemed Have great possessions - above all they dreamed The Prince of Suffering leads the beauteous throng, Each singer master of the perfect throne. Time can no more the worker's hand arrest. All that on earth was good, grows there the best. I see pictures in magazines of men's shirts with ruffles down the front. More and I remember the of my childhood were called E hot, now had out for a to be turned
