Texas State College's concert band will appear in Floydada at 1:45 p. m. on Feb. 27. The concert group is made up of members of the 1104-1150 Band.

One of the outstanding soloists in the Southwest organization is conducted by Newman, head of the music department. He will be assisted on the tour by William O. Latson, assistant professor of music.

Two soloists will be featured for each concert, along with flute and trumpet trios. David Kaplan, instructor in woodwinds, will appear as clarinet soloist, and Alice Gordon, Amarillo freshman, will perform oboe solos.

In the flute trio are Gene Merritt, Clovis; Charlotte Call, Pampa; and Frances Risdon, Amarillo. The trumpet ensemble includes Joe Don Leach, Tulsa; Dick Whitten, Borger; and Bob Chew, Perryton.

Featured in the band's repertoire will be a band composition in four movements, "Sketches from the West," by Dr. Houston Bright, associate professor of music at WT. Other selections are "Il Guarany Overture" by Gomez; "Celebration Overture" by Creston; and "Pagani" by Persichetti.

Other stops on the band's tour are Tulsa and Crosbyton, Feb. 27; Slaton, Post, and Lamasa, Feb. 28; Seminole, Denver City, and Seagraves, Feb. 29; Brownfield, Slaton Junior High of Lubbock, and Morton, Mar. 1; and Muleshoe, Otton, and Plainview, Mar. 2.

30 Entries Are Expected at Junior Live Stock Show

Yesterday it appeared that the number of entries in the annual Junior Live Stock Show for 4-H and FFA members of Floyd County will reach 180 animals — fat steers, sheep and baby beeves — and that the interest and excitement may eclipse that of former shows.

Entries for the show are March 6, 7, and 8. Reporting for the organization, County Agent Bill G. Johnson said that Dr. Robert H. Black, head of the animal husbandry department of Texas Tech, has consented to judge for the show.

It is probable that there will be 45 steers, 90 fat barrows and 180 lambs in the show barn on East 12th Street when the committee begins its work at 8 o'clock the morning of March 7.

The first time the show is to include three days of live stock is the Junior Live Stock Show, to be held at the F. W. Hall, Monday, March 6, and all animals to be in place by 6 p. m. of the previous day.

A committee in all three divisions of the show will begin work at 8 o'clock the morning of March 6 to take out of the final animals that do not have their conditioning tags and to get into the show. Judging will follow immediately thereafter.

Meeting February 28

The superintendents of the show had not been selected and the selection is a general one for the stock show on the county fair grounds.

The beginning point is about one mile east of Cedar Hill.

Hospital Qualifies For Ford Foundation Aid

Belief that Peoples Hospital has met all the requirements of the Ford Foundation to qualify for the $10,000 grant tentatively awarded the hospital in January, was expressed here this week by F. C. Harmon, chairman of the board.

Sounding a generally optimistic note, Harmon said that all papers and forms showing the status of the hospital had been sent to the office of the Foundation. He anticipates an early hearing that will be favorable.

Only unfavorable aspect is the fact that the hospital is being assessed for taxes by state, county, school and city. Hospitals that qualify for the grant are indicated in general as tax free by the foundation to be eligible.

Mr. Harmon pointed out. It would not be an exceedingly hard job for the community to relieve the institution of its outstanding debt. Once debt-free it could operate to even greater benefit for the community and make its usefulness more apparent to all the chairman of the board said.

Little League Meeting Called

Russell King issued a call this week for all interested fathers to be present at a Little League organization meeting Friday, Mar. 9, at the Chamber of Commerce office.

King stressed the need for a large turnout and extended the invitation to fathers of League age boys and anyone interested in working with the league.

Further details will be announced next week.

Heifer Only Victim Of Highway Crash

A pretty whiteface heifer came to a sad end Monday morning about 1:30 o'clock near Muncy when she was hit on the highway by a car driven by Melvin Terrell, city employee of Floydada. He was driving south enroute to Floydada.

The animal was killed outright but Terrell escaped more than casual injury when he whipped out of the road to avoid a head-on collision. His car was damaged considerably. Sheriff Earl Cooper, who investigated the accident, said Terrell told the officer the heifer loomed into vision so quickly he could not avoid hitting her.

The calf was not marked or branded. She was presumed to have been butted or wandered out of a field in an adjacent field belonging to Bob Muncy.

"One Flock and One Shepherd" was the theme used at the World Day of Prayer observance when approximately 50 women of the city gathered Friday morning at 10 o'clock at the First Methodist Church.

Those participating on the program during the morning were Mrs. E. F. Stovall, leading the morning prayer; Mrs. J. C. Wester, Mrs. J. B. Jenkins, sentence prayers; Mrs. George Van Wickel, morning devotion entitled "The Model Prayer"; Mrs. C. B. Lyles, the purpose of the World Day of Prayer.

Mrs. David Batteny Jr., soloist, sang "The Lord's Prayer" accompanied by Miss Naomi Kiker.

Mrs. Ralph Johnson, speaker of the morning chose "The Key to our Prayer Life" as her topic.

At the noon hour a covered dish luncheon was served in the fellowship hall of the church.

The afternoon session was under the direction of Mrs. Kinder Farris. Skits Used To Illustrate

After quiet music by Mrs. W. D. Reeves, the group joined in the singing of a prayerful hymn, and Mrs. Farris gave several poems about prayer. She stressed God's messages to us, messages that may be found throughout the Bible if we would only take time to read them.

God's message as to how we may better shape our lives was illustrated by a costume skit, "Long Remembered", in which Mary and Martha discuss the Master's visit and his words to them on better living. Darlene Durrell was Martha and Fontaine Fowler was Mary.

The greatest message of all, the story of the resurrection morn, was told by Mary Magdalene to her friends in another costume skit, "Go-tell", presented as the next part of the afternoon session.

Ed Wester played Mary Magdalene, Patricia Hill was Sarah, Mrs. Sam Spence played Joanna and Mrs. Don Barrow was Susanna.

After a closing silent prayer, the group was dismissed by Mrs. Lyles.

Beef Council's Recipe Contest Winner Named

GALVESTON, Feb. 21 — Miss Elizabeth Gunther, a Fort Worth home economist, was revealed as the winner of the Texas Beef Council's second annual Texas Experts recipe contest here last night at the annual convention of the Texas Home Economics Association. J. D. Sartelle, first vice-president of the Beef Council, made the presentation before 300 home economists attending a banquet at the Galveston Hotel.

Miss Gunther's recipe for Spiced Short Ribs won statewide recognition among the food experts at the convention's "best beef recipe for 1956." The judges' unanimous decision was founded on the recipe's originality, economy, practicality and excellent flavor.

Her entry is fancy enough for a party treat - basic enough for a family meal - and pretty enough to please any hostess' eye. To balance the sweetness cooked into the short ribs, Miss Gunther suggests a menu containing a green vegetable and/or baked potato and a tossed green salad.

The following recipe yields six servings:

- 3 pounds beef short ribs,
- 1 1/2 cup flour,
- 3 tablespoons fat,
- 1 1/2 teaspoon salt,
- 1 1/4 teaspoon pepper,
- 1 cup water,
- 1 cup prunes,
- 1 cup dried apricots,
- 1/2 cup sugar,
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon,
- 1/2 teaspoon allspice,
- 1 1/4 teaspoon ground cloves,
- 3 tablespoons vinegar.

Dredge meat with flour and brown in hot fat, season and add water. Cover and simmer for 1 hour. Add prunes, apricots and mixture of sugar, spices and vinegar. Continue simmering 1 hour or until tender.

The first meeting of the planning committee will be held Friday afternoon, Feb. 24, here at the co-op office.

It might be interesting at this time, since we will be telling you from week to week about the activities of this committee, to tell you what REA is and what constitutes an REA Co-op.

The Rural Electrification Administration (REA) is an agency of the Federal Government set up by an Act of Congress known as "The Rural Electrification Act of 1936", to help farmers and other rural people to get electricity. REA is a part of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

REA makes long-term loans to enable rural people to build electric lines and, where necessary, to build and operate electric generating plants. It can also lend money to finance most of the cost of purchase by a co-op member of wiring or plumbing for his farmstead, or for electrical equipment. The co-op is Congress deemed it necessary to set up REA because in many countries most of the farms were electrified by 1935, which was not so in the United States, as only 11 farms out of every 100 had central station electricity.

An REA Co-op is a corporation, locally owned and privately operated on a non-profit basis — paying every tax anyone else pays except income tax. Income tax is paid on profit made and the REA co-op is a non-profit organization, all profits are paid back to the user in dividends — the user must pay income tax on his dividends. The co-op is democratically organized by rural people to bring electric power to its members at the lowest possible cost. The Government does not own or operate any REA co-op — the gov-

Gilbert Anderson, right, of Henderson, pins a diamond-studded service pin on Robbie Beall, Chairman-of-the-Board and Co-founder of 3 Beall Brothers 3 Department stores, in recognition of his 33 years service with the firm. The Beall Company was founded in 1923 by him and his two late brothers, W. F. Beall and A. A. Beall. Immediately following the above scene, Mr. Anderson received a similar pin from Robbie Beall for his own 29 years of service and his being the oldest Manager in point of service. The ceremonies were part of the Beall Company's annual Stockholders-Managers meeting held recently at Jacksonville, Texas Country Club, which was attended by Mitchell Parrish of the Floydada store.

ment loans the money which is paid back with interest, and it is not a burden to the tax payer. The members who use its services own and control it by electing a board of directors responsible to them who in turn hire a manager to carry out their policies. It must be managed efficiently, just like any other business, so it is necessary for the members to be informed and take an active part in its affairs. The members should come to all members meetings and vote on all matters which the members have a right to decide according to the by-laws which they have adopted. Seven Voting Districts The Lighthouse Electric Cooperative area is divided into seven voting districts. There is a director from each district; therefore our board of directors is composed of seven members. Each of these directors must be a member and a user of its electric service. He should have a reputation for honesty and be willing to devote the necessary time and thought to the business of the cooperative. He must have an understanding of business problems and be a real cooperator. The business of an electric cooperative involves many technical questions — completely foreign to anyone not familiar with the terms used and their effect on the operation of the co-op. Therefore, the longer a good director serves the more valuable he becomes to his cooperative. A director is elected by the members at their annual meeting because they are confident he is willing to serve his community — unprejudiced fairly and honestly. So any time an individual member is not pleased with the policies under which his cooperative is operating it behooves him to do some good hard thinking, avail himself of all the facts he can get, and then discuss it with his director and his fellow-members. The manager, hired by the board of directors, is in full charge of the actual operation of the co-op system. He takes his orders from the board as a whole — and not from an individual director. All other employees work under his direction. Meeting Planning Committee So you see it is necessary for a director to give a lot of time and thought to the board on which he has been elected to serve. The annual meeting each year is a must in order for the members to transact their duties, so the directors for the last several years have each named a couple from their district to serve on the annual meeting planning committee — some one they feel is interested in their cooperative and its success.

No Entangling Ties Declares F. B. Speaker

O. K. Hoyle, field representative of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation told members and guests of the county unit of the national farm organization here Tuesday night, of its aims and objectives and the means by which it is trying to get a fair portion of the national income for the farm families of America. He declared the strength of the Farm Bureau is in its basic concepts—a farm membership which gets its authority from the grass roots and operates without subsidy or silent support from any other source. Urging strengthening by more memberships Hoyle said that at this time the national organization is fighting pressure groups. "We don't like it but we have to take it," he said, explaining the farmer attitude to town members of his audience. The Farm Bureau works for a definite and constructive program, he said. An audience of 30 present was composed of members of the Farm Bureau principally and of several invited members of the banking, newspaper and business fraternities. Robert Lee Smith, county president, presided. In his introductory remarks he urged that the membership campaign due to kick off soon be given strong support to increase the membership materially in this county. He said the southwest is growing in membership and will be able to make its voice heard to a greater extent with the passing of time. Service director W. R. Puckett spoke briefly, pointing to the value of helping to develop the unity program. The meeting was held in the Commercial Hotel Coffee Shop where a buffet supper preceded the formal session.

Bean Problems Are Discussed

Floyd County Pinto bean growers who met in the district court room last Friday to discuss problems and future plans, heard D. W. Fyffe, local seed dealer, tell of some of the problems which have been met and solved and tell of possibilities under favorable conditions for another year. Out of the roundtable discussion came the belief that the recommended date of Aug. 1 was somewhat late to assure maturity before frost in this area. Early planted Pintos produced fair yields without discoloration, it was learned, while discoloration and rust was evident in some of the late plantings. Mr. Fyffe said that beans can develop to maturity in 65 days under favorable conditions. He said he was confident that 25 sacks per acre can be grown here in 20-inch rows. Fyffe urged farmers to plant beans on the ridge rather than in furrows as was the general rule last year. Planting on the ridge can prevent stain from rust which might be caused from irrigation, he explained. Fyffe also advised farmers who fertilize to use nitrogen free fertilizer since the pinto bean is a natural restorer of nitrogen. More than 20 were present at the meeting. Alligators are unable to swallow unless completely submerged.

Whiteflat Church Destroyed by Fire

The Whiteflat, Motley County, Methodist Church, a historic building erected in 1912, was completely destroyed by fire Sunday morning at 10 o'clock. Rev. L. D. Cleveland, pastor of Whiteflat-Flomont charge, had just lighted fires to warm the building for the morning service when the fire ignited. A faulty stove on the church rostrum is credited with starting the fire that consumed the building.

The annual observance of the birthday of George Washington by Floydada Lodge, A. F. & A. M., was marked Tuesday night by an address by Henry Teubel, worshipful master of the Tulia Lodge. More than 100 Masons were present during the evening and enjoyed a steak supper that preceded the formalities. Among the guests present from out-of-town were J. W. Gionts, of Tulia, Grand Senior Deacon of the Texas Grand Lodge, and Hugh White, Tulia, commander of the Knights Templar Commandery at Plainview. Harold Woodson, master of the Floydada Lodge, presided.

Lacy F. Martin Recovering This Week

Yesterday L. F. Martin, who was gravely ill over the week-end, was believed by members of the family to be recovering. Friday to Sunday he was despaired of and five blood transfusions were given. He began to improve Monday. His brother, Owen, and wife, of Marietta, Okla., have been here this week, as well as his sister, Mrs. Mary McKinney, also of Marietta. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Roger, Mrs. B. W. Snell and children of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Whitaker of Snyder visited in the J. J. McKinney and Will Snell homes Sunday.

HELP WHEN NEEDED—Who are the people in our community who most need help? The young girl leading her blind brother to the wading pool during their first camping session at The Salvation Army Camp? Or is it the family without food for tonight's meal? The young boy arrested yesterday for theft? Or the young mother with insufficient clothes for her children? The unfortunate girl who will soon become an unmarried mother? All of these people, if they asked The Salvation Army for help, would receive it. Why? Because The Salvation Army's job is people, and no individual with a problem is turned away. The welfare services of The Salvation Army are provided locally through the work of the Service Unit Committee, made up of volunteers who are deeply interested in their fellowman. You help support these services when you contribute to your...

Roy Bass Says Should Accept Desegregation

Approximately 150 persons heard the clever and witty Roy Bass, Lubbock attorney, speak on the subject of segregation at the meeting of the Andrews Ward Parent-Teachers Association Monday night at the high school auditorium at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Bass, strongly against segregation, gave the law and background of desegregation ruled by the Supreme Court. He said, "since we have desegregation, I think we Christian people will need to accept it and live with it, and since it has been forced on the Negroes we will need to help them make the changes when and if they are allowed in our schools." Following his talk an open discussion period was given to those present. Coffee and cookies were served in the home-ec lab following the program. Mrs. Wilson Edwards, P.T.A. president, was well pleased with the attendance and she feels that those who did not attend missed a great treat.

Household Hints

Loosen a cake which has stuck to the pan by placing the tin over a bowl of boiling water. An ordinary paper plate glued to the bottom of a paint can will save splatters and is much easier to move than newspapers under the can. A dry cork will remove stains from silver or silverplate more quickly than almost anything else and it never scratches. If the cork is cut to a point it can be worked into crevices. —Santa Fe Magazine

Who's the Boss? Asks Army Master Sergeant

PORT MACARTHUR, Calif.—Crisp Khaki was the order of the day when Master Sergeant John L. Kinney reported here recently to reenlist for another tour in the Army. But, if this veteran of 14 years' service forgets and appears on the streets in a Marine Corps jacket and with a Navy cap perched on his head there's ample reason. No sign yet, however, that the 41-year-old sergeant from Correctionville, Ia., is confused over his assignment. He definitely is in the Army assigned to the Navy, attached to the Marine Corps and instructing the Allied Forces. Officially Kinney is a member of a team that travels to all "ports of call" to give instruction in Amphibious Communications. "Early walking and talking, however, imply no future superiority in either baseball or Latin. Look at your child as an individual and don't expect him to perform in accordance with a dot on a chart. If he is happy and interested in his surroundings, relax and enjoy him.

Pre-Measuring Cotton Land Is Offered Again

Cotton and wheat measurements, the wool program, cotton loans and grain loans are discussed in a news letter issued this week by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee of Floyd County, of which Buck Sams, Tom Porter and Gerald D. Lackey are members.

In the bulletin it is revealed that 2,281 CCC loans have been made on grain sorghum stored in warehouses, 19 on farm stored grain sorghum; 28 loans on warehouse stored wheat, three on farm stored, while one loan on corn stored on the farm, four on Pinto beans, three on barley and two on rye, have been approved.

As to measurements the bulletin says:

The cotton pre-measuring service will be offered again this year. If you want your cotton ground measured before planting time, you can make application to the ASC office in Floydada. The charge for the first plot $2.00 for each additional plot over one per farm.

If you do not want to pay this amount for pre-measuring, your cotton will be measured after planting without charge, as in the past.

1956 Wheat Measurement: Wheat measurement has already begun in most parts of the county.

If you intend to plant additional wheat, do not let it be measured until it is all seeded.

You will have until May 15, 1956, to destroy any excess wheat. A charge of $2.00 will be made to check the destroyed wheat.

1955 Wool Program: The 1955 Wool Program ends March 31, 1956. Be sure that all receipts are brought to the ASC office before April 30, 1956, and sign application for payment. This will include any wool sheared after Jan. 1, 1955.

New Grower Allotments: New Grower Cotton Allotment application must be filed with the ASC office by Feb. 24. Only producers having no interest in a farm with a cotton allotment in Floyd County will be eligible. Also the producer must make a major portion of his income from the farm.

1955 Cotton Loans: April 30, 1956, is the last day for putting 1955 Cotton in the Commodity Credit Corporation loan.

Plains Cotton Growers County Unit Is Formed

Thirty-one farmers and businessmen met in the county court room last Thursday night and organized the Plains Cotton Growers of Floyd County.

Marvin Shurbet was elected president of the group. Named to serve with him were Jerry Paul Cooper, vice-president, and Gene Collins Jr., secretary and treasurer.

Directors who represent the county organization in the area wide set-up are Bill McCluskey and Joe Posler.

The group plans to publicize cotton and its wider use, back proper legislation for the cotton farmer and promote better understanding between area farmers and government officials.

The meeting voiced opposition to the lowering of partly below 90% on cotton of 7/8 inch staple or less and also opposed raising of the standard grade from 7/8 to one inch.

More than 40 farmers from Floyd County were present at a meeting in Lubbock recently when 1200 plains cotton growers gathered and the organization was launched.

All farmers and interested businessmen have been extended an invitation to join the group and meet with them. Next meeting date will be announced soon.

Damaged Streets Getting Patches

Paved streets in Floydada had begun to dry enough this week that repairs of the damage done by snow and in the early days of the month could be started.

Leonard Matador, street commissioner, had work started first on new paving on South Fifth Street and said that other weak spots in the paved areas would be reached as fast as possible.

1955 Cotton Crop

The official figure for cotton production in Floyd County for the year of 1955, with ginnings to Feb. 1 this year included, was set at 60,975 in a report issued last week by the Bureau of the Census, Department of Agriculture.

This compares with 106,611 produced in 1954 in the county.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

A temporary out for irrigated farm lands that have been lost to cotton and wheat under allotments could be putting the "lost" acres into corn. Most likely this possibility has been explored by farm operators. Hybrid corn has produced phenomenally in some instances here. Probably you have to have the know how for successful corn culture the same as for cotton. But most Floyd County people have a corn planting background and can "take to it" easily. There are no corn allotments in this area this year and there is a support price.

Department of Agriculture Commissioner John C. White and the Extension Service both have come out in warnings relative to hybrid corn seed and hybrid maize. Be careful, they say, to get good seed. There are good varieties of corn in plenty, but an offer of hybrid maize should be checked carefully. One warning says that hybrid maize for general planting this year is not available except in limited amounts from two sources. Within the next year or two it will be, but not for 1956.

Meanwhile the search continues for something or other that will bolster the income for 1956 from the farm acres that otherwise will lie idle. What the congress and the president will come up with in the form of a farm bill is expected to be disappointing to a man whose operating costs continue to look toward the moon. This may be especially for the short staple cotton man, if reports from senate committee hearings in Washington are correct.

That mountain hump in the Rockies cost the high plains another good rain this week. Monday the atmosphere above was saturated practically to the limit but a "high" a state or two northwest of us held off the triggering cold that could have dropped plenty of rain from a moisture-laden sky. What happened was that the rain and snow clouds "slid off to the east." A rain maker has got to find a way to get around that "hump." We can't have any more years like 1955 in the wheat business.

Politically the ins are wounded badly before the political season ever opens up in Texas. Especially a senatorial candidate will find himself on the defensive. Presumably candidates for representative in lesser measure. For a good many years the rule has been that you didn't go ask any board or commission for anything unless you took your senator along for moral support. The stakes have gotten higher and higher (Texas is tremendously wealthy though you may not have any of it). Where the stakes are high somebody in a moment of weakness succumbs. It was ever thus. And always a scandal eventually results.

The Political Outlook. Announcement that Senator Jimmy Phillips is withdrawing from the race for governor and the apparent determination by Senator Price Daniel that he will try for the post are the two outstanding developments in the political arena of the state this week. Senator Phillips said he couldn't get the financial backing he needed to cover the state in a campaign that would be adequate. Being a state senator may have had something to do with the decision of the gulf coast lawmaker. A Texas senator this year is going to be on the defensive because of scandalous developments of recent weeks, however clean his actual record may be.

Lights and taxes in Floydada are the cheapest things extant. Taxes are based on valuations set up 20 years ago and light bills are based on a scale of charges set 10 years or more ago. The world do move and the city, meanwhile, has taken on commitments demanded by the taxpayers. Not satisfied, the taxpayers are demanding even more. How the council will get the job done we are not sure, but definitely the commitment to furnish curbs around the area of Napoleon Park should be carried out. Park improvements there and at the northwest swimming pool site, together with a program of maintenance that will delight summer recreationists should be on the must list.

Not only these but an immediate project of putting all paved streets back into good condition is a major responsibility. The community can't let the property owners down who did pave nor those who may be called upon to pave later. The cheap street paving we have put down in recent years does not compare by a long shot with the earlier brick and concrete streets which have taken punishment for years and years and still give good service. The newer type of cheaper paving can't be done that way.

Collecting delinquent bills might be a good good way to raise some of the money needed to save several miles of asphalt and gravel treated caliche streets over the city. Also getting the delinquents off the list would relieve the load on the water and light plants. As regards delinquents the city doubtless has some cases where lenience is a virtue, but out of $6,000 or $7,000 worth of delinquents there appear to be some who are riding the city because they can. Calling on the council to accept responsibility for this unpleasant task is a sort of mean thing to do but the need for money, the serious need for so many worthwhile things to be done seems to justify it. Besides fairness to those who do pay promptly calls for it.

Factors other than farm income have been keeping farm land values high during the past two years. Despite the declining farm income, farm land values, since 1953, have climbed steadily to a new record-high peak.

If the farm shop is cluttered and crowded, it is probably a hazardous place to work. Now is the time to give the shop a spring house-cleaning.

4-H club work is the youth part of Agricultural Extension Service's educational programs. 4-H club members learn to do by doing and their classrooms are the farms, ranches and homes of Texas.

A poultry disposal pit is not expensive to construct. It is a real labor saver and offers a simple solution to the problem of disposing of dead birds on the poultry farm. It can also be a mighty important part of the farm's sanitation program.

Use FHA Loans For Equipment

Approximately $3,130,000, or 48 percent of the production and subsistence loans obtained by farmers in Texas from the Farmers Home Administration during the past year were used to purchase equipment, livestock and make similar investments. Walter T. McKay, State Director for the agency said today.

Farmers are making these investments to set up the kind of farming systems that will make the most of their labor, land and other resources. Production and subsistence loans are also made for fertilizer, seed, tractor fuel, insecticides and other farm and home operating expenses. The loans bear 5 percent interest and repayments are scheduled in accordance with the borrower's ability to repay. Loans for crop production are repayable when income from the crop is received. Loans for capital investments are repayable over periods up to 7 years. The maximum loan is $7,000 and total indebtedness cannot exceed $10,000. Several steps are taken by the Farmers Home Administration to assist farmers in making the best use of their loan funds. Before a loan is made a complete farm and home plan is prepared by the farm family with the assistance of the agency's local supervisor. The plan shows how the farm will be operated, estimated yields and income, and a budget for farm and home expenses. Provision is made for the production of a large portion of the family's food supply and provision is made in the budget for household expenditures and medical care.

No loan is made unless the farm and home plan shows that the farm when properly operated under normal conditions will produce an income that will provide the family a good living and enable them to repay their debts.

Guides have been established with the aid of the Extension Service and other agricultural agencies that show desirable combinations of enterprises, the amount of land, quantity of livestock, amount and quality of pasture, and feed, acres of cash crops, and the yield per acre and production per animal that are needed for the successful operation of family-type farms in each given area. The guides are used in developing the farm and home plans.

In addition, at the end of the crop year a complete review of the year's operations is made by the farm family and the Farmers Home Administration supervisor to determine which farm enterprises were the most successful and what further improvements are to be made in the coming year.

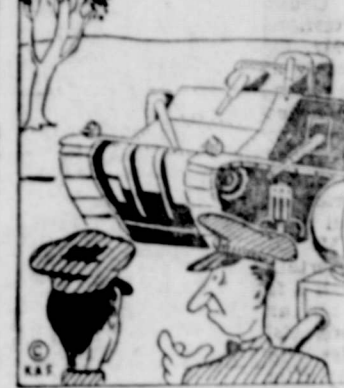

Credit is also extended by Farmers Home Administration for financing annual operating expenses. These loans are short-term credit designed to help farmers finance one year's operations. Annual production and subsistence loans may be made to farmers provided there is a sound basis for credit. This means that the anticipated gross income from farming and other sources must be sufficient to repay the loan, meet farm and home expenses not provided for in the loan and provide a reasonable margin above such amounts. This type credit is in addition to emergency loans available to farmers or ranchers primarily engaged in farming, McKay stated.

Highlights And Sidelights From the State Capitol

(By Vern Sanford, Texas Press Association)

AUSTIN, Tex. — President Eisenhower jerked the platform out from under the Republican Party in Texas, and his Democratic supporters in the Lone Star State, when he vetoed the now famous natural gas bill.

"To sign the bill," said the President, "would risk creating doubt among the American people concerning the integrity of governmental processes." This statement referred to a $2,500 campaign contribution offered a senator presumably for his vote favoring the measure.

Strong support was given Ike in Texas, when the native son ran for President, because of his State's Rights stand. Another factor was his expressed belief in the private enterprise system of free competition. This stand made Texans feel the President would sign the bill. U. S. Senator Price Daniel said, "The President has made a great mistake."

Gov. Allan Shivers, Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd and members of the State Railroad Commission joined in criticizing the President's action.

Jack Porter, the Republican party's national committeeman from Texas, said that he disagreed with the advice upon which the President's action was based. The veto will make Porter's job in Texas more difficult.

Public officials and oil men in general seem in agreement that passage over the President's veto is impossible. Therefore, Texas' next move may be a campaign to bring industries to Texas. This, because gas produced in a state and used by manufacturers located within that same state is not subject to control by the Federal Power Commission.

Ike's veto was a set-back to Senator Daniel who promised to report his future political plans by Mar. 1. "Delay in passage of the farm bill, and the Presidential veto of the natural gas bill, may mean that I will not be able to reach a decision as early as I had planned, regarding the governorship race," said Daniel. "But we may have to fight this out on the home front in Texas," he added — still paving the way for entry in the governor's race.

Two Question Marks

Two big question marks remaining in Texas current political scene are the intentions of Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey. No one seems to know what either will do.

Shepperd, only recently regarded as definitely planning retirement to private business, again is discussed as a possible candidate, either for re-election or for governor. His only comment has been that, "The frost is still on the dogwood," — interpreted as "it's too early for political announcements."

A growing number of editorials urging him to continue in public office have appeared in several Texas dailies. The latest have been the Lufkin Daily News and the Cuero Daily Record. It was the latter newspaper that broke the veterans' block-land-sales story. The Cuero Record commended Shepperd on his work in the veterans' land investigation.

For Ramsey the suggested possibilities include (1) running for governor, (2) running for re-election, (3) waiting for a possible U. S. Senate race, or (4) re-retiring to San Augustine. He has given no public hint.

Insurance Story

Texas' once-explosive insurance story is beginning to lag. Industry spokesmen hopefully termed the new stage a "truce period."

Both legislative investigating groups have adjourned. Though more hearings are expected, predictions are that they have about run their course in making headlines.

Carbons of 11 letters written by A. B. Shoemaker, head of the defunct

US Trust and Guaranty Co. to the then Commissioner Garland Smith, made headlines. However, the commissioners had reported earlier that they knew the firm was selling securities. What they didn't know was how to get them stopped.

Insurance commissioners are urging companies to file replies to solvency questionnaires ahead of the May 31 deadline, if possible. Those passing the test will be announced in groups, starting perhaps in March.

One company, which failed before the test, Texas Union County Mutual of San Antonio, was placed in permanent receivership by an Austin district court.

Newest name in the insurance picture is that of State Treasurer Jesse James. He is reported to be "dumping private ventures for which he might be criticized." He owns 1001 shares of stock in the International Life Insurance Co., which leases the major part of its building to the state. He has also been criticized for selling boats to the state.

James says he knew nothing about the International lease; and that he already has sold his boat dealership to his daughter and her husband.

According to the State Treasurer, he now can afford to get rid of all his private ventures since the legislative increased his pay from $419 a month take home to an annual $17,500.

Legislative Code Sought

Former Gov. Dan Moody of Austin heads a special state bar committee named to work out a code of ethics for lawyer-legislators. Serving with Moody will be Bill Kerr of Midland, Page Keeton, dean of the University of Texas Law School, and probably three others.

Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen, chairman of the house investigating committee, requested the bar study. He also suggested the Texas Legislative Council do similar research, including an evaluation of lobby laws and whether lawmakers are paid in proportion to their responsibilities.

Water Fight Hot

San Antonio and some 26 nearby towns are squabbling over Fight 1, one of the state's most controversial resources — water.

San Antonio wants an appropriation of some 100,000 acre feet of water per year from the proposed Canyon Dam and reservoir near New Braunfels. Officials in communities in a 10-county area in the Guadalupe River basin have organized an opposing campaign.

A hearing on the San Antonio application is scheduled by the State Board of Water Engineers for Mar. 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Shoemaker of Albuquerque, N. M., spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. R. P. Hall, Saturday Mrs. Hall and Mrs. Shoemaker went to Littlefield where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Will Taylor, long time friends.

Harold Snell, who had an emergency appendectomy Tuesday of last week at Nesbitt Hospital in Canyon, is reported by his mother, Mrs. Glen Armstrong, to be doing just fine. Harold came home Sunday and will return to West Texas this week-end.

Housework is easier... ...because of advertising

Housework isn't easy! Clothes must be washed, meals must be prepared and children can still make a two-minute shambles of a spic and span home. But think of the drudgery in Grandma's day: no refrigerators, washers or driers; no modern soaps and cleansers; and no miracle fabrics that never need ironing. Housework still isn't easy—but it's easier. And advertising helps make the difference.

Here, in this town, newspaper advertising brings you the news of new products, makes you want them and tells you where you can buy them. Local sales all over the country encourage manufacturers to make newer and better products to save you even more time and labor. It's a never-ending improvement, in which you always win! By helping to sell, newspaper advertising benefits you.

...and picking "what looks good to her"? Preliminary survey results are surprising!

In an East Texas suburban supermarket recently, the first test was arranged to study the average shopper's purchase methods. Since it was a "locally grown" product, the sweet potato was used as a Guinea Pig product.

Department inspectors arranged three bins of potatoes, clearly labeling each according to grade and quality. The U. S. Number 1 grade potatoes were marked at 10c per pound, U. S. Number 2's at 8c per pound, and the Unclassified potatoes at 6c per pound.

Actually, for the purpose of the test, all potatoes were of good quality, according to grade. The main difference between the first two groups was in size. The Number 1's

Lt. Weims Norman Is On Maneuvers In Arctic Region

BIG DELTA, Alaska — Army 2d Lt. Weims Norman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Norman, Dougherty, Tex., is taking part in the Army's Alaskan "Exercise Moose Horn" in the Big Delta area, 165 miles from the Arctic Circle.

During the four-week maneuver, several thousand troops will receive practical training in tactical operations and cross-country movement under simulated combat conditions. Winter temperatures in the region drop to about 50 degrees below zero.

Also, two methods of arctic supply, airdrop and giant over-snow tractor-trains, are being compared.

Lieutenant Norman is regularly stationed at Fort Richardson, Alaska, as a platoon leader in Company E of the 1st Infantry Division's 53d Regiment. He entered the Army in November 1954 and arrived in Alaska the following April.

Norman's wife, Hope, is with him at Fort Richardson.

Farm Bureau News

(Chester Carthel)

Robert Lee Smith tells me that the response to the membership notices sent out through the mail to be returned has been very good. By returning your membership dues through the mail, you have saved some of your neighbors a lot of work. The Floyd County Farm Bureau wishes to express its thanks to those who have sent their membership dues in. To those who have not returned yours yet, we know that you want to be a member of the largest and strongest farm organization in the world, so we would appreciate it, if you can, to send yours in too.

There seems to be a little dissatisfaction in the county over the policy of the American Farm Bureau. I suppose that is to be expected. You know, if we were all completely satisfied with our conditions, then we would not be trying to do something about those conditions. The American Farm Bureau has some policies that do not agree with the Texas Farm Bureau, but those policies were adopted in Chicago last fall by a majority vote. We here in the southern region simply got outvoted.

You know I told you in a previous article that the midwestern region had more members than we did here in the southern region. They are in a position to out vote us in the national convention because of that. This one fact should encourage us to work a little harder to secure more members in this region. We have the potential membership here to far exceed that in the midwestern region. We are growing much faster here than in any other part of the United States.

Even with all of its weak points, Farm Bureau is still the largest and strongest farm organization in the world, and we receive many benefits from it that we might not be able to see just right off. Farm Bureau is supported wholly by the dues you and I pay.

I would urge you to take part in the various functions of your Farm Bureau and get to know Farm Bureau better. Help us to make it a better organization. There is no way of knowing the amount of good you can do.

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of the Floyd County Hesperian, issue dated Feb. 26, 1942.)

Floydada High School whirlwinds lost the first of their three-game series of basketball with Lakeview (Hall County) school Tuesday night here for regional championship when the visitors tore in from the start to take the scoring lead and won 35 to 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Greer Christian and son, Bobby Greer, left Friday for Santa Monica, Calif., to make their home. Mr. Christian has been employed with the Douglas Aircraft factory there the past few weeks.

Mrs. W. H. Simpson entertained with a dinner party Feb. 16 honoring her son, Jim, on his fifteenth birthday. Ten guests enjoyed the occasion.

Announcement of his resignation from the faculty of Floydada Public Schools, effective July 1 was made this week by John H. Myers.

With the departure for Fort Bliss this morning of 12 selectees for military service, Floyd County furnished its fourth February draft for the army. Those leaving were Marvin Harris, Estle Baker, Milton Terry, Carl Nelson, Lloyd Cumbie and Kenneth Bain Jr.

Floyd County has been designated among 24 counties in Texas to plant 3,000 acres of castor beans so seed may be available for planting in 1943, according to Jason O. Gordon, county agricultural agent.

Temperature over the high plains and panhandle are low again this morning, thermometer reading this morning at 7 o'clock being 20 degrees above zero here. A trace of rain fell late yesterday afternoon.

Three Towns Would Solve Water Problems With Dam On Blanco

After an enthusiastic preliminary meeting attended by more than 200 representatives of the towns of Post, Spur, Crosbyton, Rails and Lorenzo, an organizational meeting to test a site on Blanco Canyon for a dam and water reservoir was held Saturday of last week at Post.

The location chosen for the dam is immediately above the new bridge over White River at Calgary, 24 miles from Post, 20 miles from Crosbyton and 13 miles from Spur.

First core drillings expected to cost about $3,000 have already been authorized by the three towns of Spur, Crosbyton and Post and a preliminary meeting to form the water authority was held Saturday. The tests in particular will be seeking hidden deposits of gypsum. If none is found the practically unanimous agreement is that procedures will be taken to carry out the plan.

of the group formed Saturday. Perry Bell, of Crosbyton, is vice-chairman and Hobart Lewis, Spur, is secretary-treasurer.

Freese and Nichols of Fort Worth will conduct the core drillings.

Plans for the project include a lake behind the dam containing about 40,000 acre-feet of water drawn from a 206,000 square-mile drainage area. The dam is to be located 24 miles from Post, 20 miles from Crosbyton and 13 miles from Spur.

A spokesman said water supply for the participating towns probably will be tripled by construction of the dam, and estimated that a water cost increase of 33 cents per 1,000 gallons over present rates would pay for the entire project.

Three Elections Called For

Three elections and at least three years time will be needed to complete the project, says the Crosbyton Review. The first step following the core drilling would be to secure a petition bearing names of 50 persons from each town. These petitions, asking for the creation of a water district, would be presented to the State Board of Water Engineers.

If the State Water Board sets up the District, confirmation elections would then be held in each town.

If the people approve the formation of a district, they will also select directors, and a governing board would employ an engineering firm, secure all preliminary information needed and advertise for bids on building the dam, securing the reservoir, etc. Again, public approval by vote would have to be secured before contracts were let, and the vote would include means of financing the project.

Final vote would be taken upon completion of the project, when rates to be charged for water would be voted on.
