South Plains News

(By Mrs. Murray Julian)

SOUTH PLAINS, April 30 — Refreshing rain showers during the night Monday brought around an inch of moisture to the Portenberry, West and Respondek farms. Farther east Billy Stanforth, Grigsby Milton and others near there report around 1 1/2 inches. Temperatures during the day in the fifties, and around the forties at night have been prevalent the last week. Many farmers have completed their cotton planting, and may have to replant since the rain, or use crust-busters if their cotton is nearly up.

Novel Featurette At Palace Sunday

"Anything Goes" is the feature at Palace theatre starting Sunday, and an interesting addition to this popular film is a featurette of west Texas entitled "Copters and Cows." "Copters and Cows" a Warner Bros. featurette, in color by WarnerColor, is dedicated to a vanishing breed of men—the oldtime cowboy. This is the price exacted by today's age of mechanization.

In the Waggoner Ranch in Vernon, Texas, where cattle are counted by the tens of thousands, the cowboy has left his horse and taken to the air. The helicopter of today covers the vast range with a mile a minute canter. Today there aren't enough experienced cowhands left to do the work. The man in the air works with the man on the ground. They cover the five hundred thousand acre range with a speed and efficiency never seen before.

LIBRARY NEWS

(Mrs. Lee C. Gollightly)

Are you a "would be author"? If so you will want to take a look at the New Revised Edition of "Writer's Market" edited by Ruth A. Jones and Aron M. Mathiew. It lists 2,500 markets for free lance writers, where to sell stories, articles, books, serials, cartoons, verse, photographs, fillers and radio and television plays. It is the only complete and authentic book of markets. It also gives information on preparing your manuscript, getting the right foot into the editor's door, how to sell a song, and answers all the other many questions an author would need to know.

The Handbook of Skits and Stunts by Helene and Larry Eisenberg is ready for circulation. It has over 400 easy to do entertainment ideas.

The art exhibit will remain in the library reading room another week. Those displaying art are Linda Rucker, Clinton Fawver, Vickie Smith, Janice Elliott, Nixie Ann Giesecke and Danny Swepston.

He was carried to the Crosbyton hospital and was transferred to St. Mary's Hospital at Lubbock for surgery.

A. L. Jr., went to see his father on Tuesday of this week and reports he is resting very well.

Faster, Cleaner Start for Your Crops with a Champion ROTARY CULTIVATOR

Better Cultivation Pays Off in Yields

The CHAMPION Rotary Cultivator is the best insurance toward a bigger, safer harvest. The flexible sections, with off-set, cross-cut action, knocks out weeds, breaks up crust and clods, and saves the moisture for growing crops.

End sections fold up. Coupling is adjustable for close turns. Hitches can be reversed for transport and crust breaking only. Construction is rugged, for years of trouble-free service.

Come in and see for yourself how this CHAMPION Rotary Cultivator will make money for you. It's the cultivating tool that gives your crops a faster, cleaner start to the biggest yields ever.

Center News

(By Mrs. J. E. Green)

CENTER, May 1 — What a grand surprise we got this morning to find the yard under water! A nice rain came last night, the first this year. It is still cloudy and cool. We hope there is more in store for us. We got something less than an inch, but are we hopeful!

We had good crowds at church Sunday, in the 30's both services. Bro. and Mrs. Wesson, Judy and Terry were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ross.

Tommy Wesson was a Sunday dinner guest of Johnny Lynn Warren. Johnny Lynn was home from Wayland for the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Warren.

Also with the Warrens over the weekend was their grandson, Gene Warren of Dougherty. Gene's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billie Gene Warren and the twins came Sunday afternoon and Gene returned home with them.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Robertson and children visited in Lubbock Sunday afternoon with a daughter and family. Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Dunn and baby Debbie.

Mary Grace Dunn was a Sunday dinner guest of Donna Welborn. Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Welborn, Donna, Jo Ann and Mary Grace all visited the Bob Welborn family in town Sunday afternoon.

We were glad to have in our Sunday night services, some former Centerites. Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Ashton of the Campbell Community.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Denison had as guests for Sunday dinner their son, C. W. Jr., and family of Brownfield. The son, Gilmer and family of Lubbock did not come as planned because Sunday morning one of their small sons got up with mumps.

W. L. Hartline is working in Oklahoma for a few days. Mrs. Hartline and Jimmy visited in Plainview one evening last week with the daughter June, who is employed there.

The Greens visited the D. J. Boldings Friday afternoon and in the home of Mrs. Joe Evers Friday evening. Other guests at Mrs. Evers were Mrs. Charlie Neil of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Watson Sr. and Fred Battey.

Visitors in the Green home Saturday evening were Fred Battey, Mrs. Evers and Mrs. Neil.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sims spent Wednesday in Lubbock with their daughter, Mrs. Charles Horton, who seems to be slowly improving at the Abel Sanitarium.

Mrs. P. T. Gentry of Slaton spent the weekend with her sister, Mrs. Walter Sims and Mr. Sims.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Noland, Joe Richard and Imogene were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Audie Noland and family.

Mrs. Noland visited Saturday afternoon with Grandmother Hucklebee and daughters.

We regret that we had to say goodbye Sunday night to our good pastor, Bro. Wesson, and his fine family, as he feels called to other fields of service. We feel the richer for having had them with us for almost a year, and wish them success and happiness wherever they are.

Come to church next Sunday. We will have preaching and other services anyway.

Mrs. Walter Crane, mother of Mrs. John Lewis, formerly of the Dougherty Community, is reported by friends of this city to be somewhat improved. Mrs. Crane suffered a stroke some two weeks ago at her home in Amarillo.

Floydada Players Show Up Well In Intra-Squad Game

Many Floyd County football fans saw the intersquad game of the Texas Tech Red Raiders last Friday night. All were expressing praise for the hustle and spirit the team showed and reported the game thoroughly enjoyable.

The three Floydada boys all playing on the "White" team were on the short end of the scoreboard by a single point, but all turned in a good performance. Their team though long in the yardage department found bad breaks at the wrong points and could not salvage a victory.

Don Barber and Jack Henry both saw plenty of service at the center position as did Stanley Vickers at his tackle post.

Don Barber, reported injured in the game, did have a wrist break. It was revealed by x-ray Saturday morning following the night's fray. Henry G. Barber, his father said.

The break was a clean one, however with the bones well joined. A half cast was used with the hand taped to the cast. Don is to report back to his doctor in three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Payne of Abilene arrived in Floydada Sunday to visit several days with her nephews and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edell Moore.

Tractor School For Club Boys Set For May 5

Final plans are underway for the tractor school, being sponsored by Floydada Tractor dealers, in cooperation with the Extension Service for Floyd County 4-H club boys, ages 12-21, for Saturday, May 5, at the Livestock Show Barn, east of Floydada at 1:00 p. m.

This school will include instructions on tractor safety, fuel safety, day to day maintenance and other facts that will be helpful in running a tractor more efficiently.

The contest will be divided into three parts. The first part will consist of a written exam on tractor safety and care.

The second part will be a daily maintenance inspection for beginning a days work with a tractor.

The third part will be a demonstration of operators skill which requires contestants to drive and back a tractor over a series of obstacles.

The winner of the contest will represent Floyd County at the district competition at Lubbock on May 12. Winners at Lubbock are then eligible to compete at the state contest at A. & M. College in June. 4-H CLUB boys who have signed at the county agents office are Dale Newberry, Keith Holladay, Warren Mitchell, Curtis Sanders, Doyce Stephens, Ray McDonald, Bob Dempsey, Johnny Witkowski, Maurice Ginn, Tommy Mitchell, Sammy Pierce, Larry Shapp, James Durham, Max Marble, Jerry Crawford, Bundy Campbell, James Hale, Billy Don Colston, Randa Hollums and Keith Thomas.

Want Softball League Formed

A meeting to discuss the possible organization of a Softball League Association for a summer schedule is planned for Friday night of this week, May 4, at the high school auditorium.

Wayne Cooper, who made arrangements for the use of the auditorium for the meeting, said the planners hope the organization will be perfected well enough that officers will be elected. Meeting time will be 8 o'clock.

"There has been considerable discussion of forming a county-wide league and if the idea goes over good, even inviting teams from Ralls, Crosbyton, Silverton and Plainview, to join in it," said Cooper. "These factors, of course, can be obtained only after the organization of an association."

A similar meeting called at about this time last year had low attendance, and at that time it was assumed that the interest was also low. However, Wayne points out there are lots of people who like to watch softball and plenty who want to play. Accordingly he hopes the attendance Friday night will show sufficient interest to justify going ahead with the plans. "It would help increase clean, wholesome recreation this summer a great deal," he said.

Possibility that the Floydada Association could work with interested people in other communities in the county also is pointed out. There are four fields in the county now properly equipped with lighting and facilities necessary for softball. Some or all of these communities might be interested in working out a plan for games this summer. These possibilities will be explored at the Friday night session.

The proceedings and actions of the convention are to be put in writing, as the returns of the convention, in 3 copies, all three of which are signed by the chairman and secretary of the convention; the chairman keeps one copy, and delivers the remaining two copies, sealed in an envelope, to the County Clerk before the time set for the County Convention.

Monday is the deadline for filing for places on the Floyd County ballot, Chairman Ben P. Ayres warns any prospective aspirants for office this week.

Only three names had been added to the list of candidates up to Wednesday in the last week, one of these a district candidate.

A check of the county executive committee made informally last week indicated that 19 of 21 precinct chairmen favor the candidacy of Senator Lyndon B. Johnson for chairman of the state delegation, to the national convention and favorite son candidate for the presidency.

THE PRECINCTS, the respective precinct meeting places, and the number of delegates each precinct will be entitled to seat in the county convention are as follows: Southwest Floydada No. 1, district court room, W. G. Collins, 12 delegates; Starkey No. 2, Starkey Club House, Tom Purter, 1 delegate; Almon No. 3, Almon Voting Place, Marvin Shurdel, 1 delegate; Sand Hill No. 4, Sand Hill School House, W. M. VIEWS AND COMMENT

In former days a Democratic voter who wanted to go into a precinct convention could feel reasonably secure that a representative candidate would be chosen to run for president in the national convention. There was a two-thirds vote rule in effect. But now it is different. A simple majority gets the nomination. The democratic party is traditionally a stormy party of divergent opinions but the same general objective. By and large it is still the same, only now with the hazards of boss domination, less representative of the Democratic electorate. That is why the yoke of the party pledge has become more galling. The old line Democratic leaders who insist on the pledge should "think on these things."

People are reminded of the hazards of the market place. This comes to mind in connection with the campaign in the big newspapers and over the air for installment buying of stocks. Buying of stocks and bonds has the same hazards as does buying anything else—houses, cattle or whatnot. Buy stocks high and if they go down you've lost your equity the same as you lost your cattle three years ago. Whether stocks are too high now we could not say. We will say, however, the stock market has been on a boom for years and the market index is far and away higher than it was in 1929 when the crash came. Like cattle did three years ago stock on the market could quit making money and when it does it will go down.

We note that next week is Chamber of Commerce week the nation over. We also note a recent statement of financial report from the Floydada Chamber of Commerce which showed that about $3,000 less was spent than could have been spent advantageously. The towns which put out more and not less money and more effort and not less, do better than those which do not. After all, any community situated like Floydada is only small because it is unwilling to pay the price for being bigger and better. This statement isn't in the Chamber of Commerce report. It is only between the lines that you read it. Fortunately the Chamber of Commerce is careful to stay within its means, to spend only the money which the membership willingly provides. Think it over. See if your budget should have an additional $10 a month in it for the Chamber of Commerce.

There'll be wheat, yes, and dry land wheat at that. But there is great disappointment in the failure of that April 1 rain to materialize. We could hardly have stacked the wheat on the ground it was raised on had that tremendous flow of moisture from the gulf only been triggered by a cold front from the northwest that got here two days late.

Daylight Saving Days. Daylight saving seems so well established and is so popular there seems no probability of any change. However there is a considerable percentage of the people in the southwest who are annoyed and will be indefinitely. Among whom we are which.

We're Getting Educated. The other day before the high school student body, likewise before as many local civic organizations as he could get around to, a representative of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company gave a talk with demonstrations on the forthcoming developments in communication by voice. The subject had added interest in view of the forthcoming July day when all Floydada telephones will be Yukon 3 (and four digits.) The telephone laboratories have even more advanced ideas on the shelf that have to wait their turn. At this time Southwestern (and all the other telephone subsidiaries of Bell) are pointing to the day when there will be dialing service to any station in America from any station in America. If you know the number you can call, and the longest elapsed time between the dialing and the answering voice from the other end of the line will be 20 seconds or so. One thing the present generation is not up to is a numbering system that carries up to nine digits. Every telephone station some day will have a nine digit number. The children of the present-day year-olds will be smart enough for that kind of numbering when they get grown. The telephone company has tried our generation out to see if we could make it. On repeated trials we "flipped our lid."

Matter of Organizing. The other day two men, with the aid of two helpers picked up after they reached the scene of action, served 1,500 people a complete barbecue dinner that was good, most satisfying, and with little waiting in line. Imagine yourself faced with the problem of feeding such a multitude. Take you a lot of time and great expense the first time you did it. Less later on and finally you'd do it with two experienced men and two helpers. Like anything else a big job becomes simple, when you plan and organize.

Watering from lakes with pumps, getting water at small cost out on the hillsides where crops are growing, will become more popular as time goes on. We are wondering how many law suits will grow out of corner located lakes where some water is on one side of the fence, some on the other. Some neighbors are bound not to agree about the ownership, the right to pump the lake dry, and the like. Wonder what turn the litigation will take and how the court will look on the equities in such a controversy.

The Rails Banner has started a movement among newspapers that is likely to sweep the country. It was in connection with the 44th anniversary of the newspaper, celebrated last week, that the day was observed by having the local bank remain open for business.

A metal ladder 12 feet long hangs over the side of a ship. The rungs are one foot apart with the bottom rung resting on the surface of the water. If the tide comes in at the rate of 5 1/2 inches an hour—how long will it be before the first four rungs are covered?

Students Elect Officials 1956-57 School Year

Keith Armstrong, son of Rev. and Mrs. Tilden B. Armstrong, was elected 1956-57 Student Council President of Floydada High School in an all-student body election held last Thursday morning.

A run-off vote was required in the race for the post of vice-president between Ronnie Downing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon L. Downing, and Snow Drop Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dunn. Downing emerged victorious in this voting when a run-off election was held Thursday afternoon.

Beth Crawford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Crawford of the Dougherty Community, was elected "Whirlwind" editor.

Carolyn Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Williams, will be the 1956-57 "Whirl" editor. She defeated Vanda Carter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Carter, in a run-off vote.

Other candidates running this year for the offices next year were Randall Jones for president, Linda Jones, Burdette Huckabee and Mava Johnston for "Whirl" editor, and Dennis Whitfill ran for vice-president.

According to the Junior edition of the "Whirl," a highly successful year in campaigning and election marked this year's electioneering. The nominating committee seemed to do a good job of selecting nominees.

Boost For Texas Poultry Products

The Texas Department of Agriculture is laying groundwork for a new and important marketing program aimed at helping the Texas poultry and egg industry.

Plans are for inauguration of a marketing service intent on improving quality of Texas poultry through inspection and grading, boosting the Texas egg industry through a grading and standards program, and thereby expanding market outlets for Texas poultry products.

Since there are at present no state laws which regulate quality or set standards for the sale of poultry or eggs within the state, Texas producers often run into marketing problems both in local and national trade. Lack of standards often causes Texas to be used as a dumping ground for produce from neighboring states which fails to meet the proper standards.

For lack of poultry inspection and egg standards laws, Texas cannot compete successfully on the national market with graded and inspected produce from other states.

Trade sentiment is strongly in favor of state laws providing for such poultry and egg inspection programs, and chances are excellent for their eventual passage.

However until such legislation is adopted, the proposed self-help program is needed to help promote Texas poultry products as quality merchandise on the national and home markets.

Such a plan, properly executed, could put thousands more dollars in the pockets of Texas growers. Through information and demonstration programs showing proper grading, handling, shipping, display and storage methods, poultrymen would learn how to market quality produce at a minimum cost.

Research would be made to determine causes and cures for seasonal glut and shortages of certain products with special emphasis on balancing the overall supply-demand situation.

Texas has long been a leading state in poultry production. In fact, the U. S. commercial broiler industry had its first beginning in the heart of the South Texas broiler area. In order to meet growing competition from other areas, highest standards must be maintained to protect Texas' interests in this big and important industry.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The practice of inter-planting cowpeas and mung beans in grain sorghum is very popular with farmers in this area. It is expected by Soil Conservation personnel that a large acreage will be interplanted this year and farmers should secure their seed as soon as possible.

Generally such peas as Chinese reds, Iron clays, Branham's, Whip-poorwill and New Eras are used for this purpose, although the so-called edible varieties could also be used. A planter attachment is required for cowpeas, but mung beans can be mixed with grain sorghum seed and no attachment is needed.

This practice is popular because: no cash crop is missed, it requires no extra work, the peas shade the ground better and in some cases less water will be needed because of less evaporation, tilth of the soil is improved, yield of following crops is increased and yield of growing crop will be increased. Seed should be inoculated before they are planted. The proper inoculant is a concentrated quantity of the particular bacteria required to enable the peas to fix nitrogen from the air into the soil. The peas will generally fix some nitrogen whether inoculated or not, but as inoculant costs very little for each 100 pounds of seed, the cost per acre is nominal. Particularly is this so when proper inoculation will likely cause fixation to several times more nitrogen. U.S.D.A. Farmer's Bulletin No. 2093 says cowpeas will on the average fix 90 pounds of pure nitrogen per acre. This is equivalent to 270 pounds of ammonium nitrate. Also inoculation will, in most cases, substantially increase growth and productivity of the plants.

Cowpeas and mung beans are a warm weather crop. Their planting date will vary with local weather and moisture conditions. Usually they should be planted between May 1 and July 15.

The rate planted will depend on whether the planting is on dry land or irrigated. Five to eight pounds alone in rows should be planted under irrigation. Three to six pounds on dry land interplanted and 12 to 15 alone in rows. Mung beans should be planted at the rate of five to eight pounds alone in rows and three to five pounds interplanted.

A good rule of thumb to follow when interplanting is to use one pound of cowpeas or mung beans for each pound of grain sorghum planted, if you plant eight pounds of sorghum per acre then plant eight pounds of cowpeas or mung beans.

No Action as Yet On Race Question At Minneapolis

(By Mildred Young)

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. May 2 — J. M. Willson, delegate to Methodist's General Conference since 1934, reports that the 1936 conference "is well into its work at the beginning of the second week. Legislative committees are at work and already their reports are appearing in the Daily Christian Advocate."

Willson, who is leading the lay delegation from the Northwest Texas Conference here, says the enthusiastic adoption of the report of the coordinating council's quadrennial program, emphasizing the local church and higher education, is typical of the forward-looking spirit of the General conference.

"Questions on important matters are yet to come. First action concerning race was still incomplete at the close of Tuesday's business session. Thoughtful consideration and Christian concern prevails among the delegates," he said.

Mr. Willson is serving on the education committee.

The H. D. Club will meet Thursday, May 3, at the school house with Mrs. William Bertrand as hostess.

We got about one-half inch of rain last night. The telephone is not working so the news is very short this week.

LIPSTICK LOGIC
LOUISE ALLEN

The man, a cemetery superintendent, must spend a great deal of time alone in an atmosphere of timelessness. His salary is probably modest.

If he needed to feel he could excel in some way, he took a harmless if not too constructive method of doing it. At least he has risen above his fellow townsmen as a personality. "Now," he must feel, "I've done something no one else in the world has ever done."

Many will question his estimate of the present value of his handiwork. At $1,500 he has counted his own time at about $1 an hour. That's pretty modest for such skill. Depending on how artistic the colors and design, the pieces could be worth less, or a great deal more — if there were any demand for needlepoint car seat covers.

But if the doing of the job gave him a needed sense of greatness, of being "somebody" on his own merits, then the estimate is much too low.

PITTARDS HAVE NEW SON

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(Nellie Witt Spikes)

"I'll lend you for a little time a child of mine," He said.

For you to love the while he lives and mourn for when he's dead. It may be six or seven years, or twenty two or three.

But will you till I call him back. Take care of him for me?

He'll bring his charms to gladden you and should his stay be brief You'll have his lovely memories as solace for your grief.

I cannot promise he will stay, since all from earth return. But there are lessons taught down there I want this child to learn, I've looked the wild world over in My search for teachers true, And from the throng that crowd life's lanes Have accepted you. Now will you give him all your love, nor think the labor vain, Nor hate me when I come to call to take him back again?"

I fancied that I heard them say, "Dear Lord Thy will be done For all the joys Thy child shall bring the risk of grief we'll run. We'll shelter him with tenderness, we'll love him while we may, And for the happiness we've known, forever grateful stay But should the angels call for him, much sooner than we've planned. We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understand!"

—Edgar A. Guest

Leroy Cox, Buddy, as his friends knew him, was called from this life only a few short days ago. In his brief life Buddy had done everything he could to make the world a better place to live in.

His smile brought sunshine to hearts broken with grief and pain. He learned the lessons the Lord intended for him to learn, lessons of hope, patience, faith and understanding of others. He passed these lessons on to the ones who saw him bear his disease with a smile.

We will miss him but we will not forget him, and we love his family. They have been our good friends many years and we share with sympathy their grief.

We are better with the flu. That is we are getting so we do not have coughing contests every few minutes. Yesterday, Monday, I came to the conclusion that in years passed, and gone, the best remedy I could find to recover was to do a good days work.

I had been putting everything off this time, feeling sorry for myself, and not getting anywhere with the cold. I started out on several unfinished jobs. Got the washing done, dried the clothes in the bright sunshine, watered the garden and a few other things.

Last night I went to bed tired, but feeling much better and this morning I think the flu has flown.

When I grew up we had the La Grippe. But we had the word down to "grip" and it really had one in its grip. If a vise had been fastened on our bodies and screwed down, we would not have hurt any worse.

We had the feeling our bones were being broken one by one. A terrible experience. I do not know the difference in the influenza germ and the one that brings on the La Grippe but either one can make one very sick.

A few bluebonnets got by the winter and are blooming in the corner of the yard.

While I was sitting around with the flu I went through old letters and newspaper clippings.

I went out to the garage to an old battered trunk that once belonged to Uncle Billy Weatherby. Not exactly my uncle, but we all called him that.

He was a northern soldier drifted into Emma from his home in Maine and that is about all anyone ever learned about him.

I opened the lid, looked in the shallow tray. Here is what I found.

My hands pick up a package of letters and I began to read. My, my didn't my husband and I write silly letters when we were young. Wouldn't believe they were written by us but the names at the end gave us away.

Wonder what is in that old box? Some old dried honeysuckle, now fifty years old, they are crumbling. Was Jeff ever so romantic as to keep some flowers I sent him? I read the words on the marriage

Jennifer Kay Henry Honored on Birthday

Jennifer Kay Henry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Henry, was honored on her 11th birthday Monday afternoon with a party, given by her mother, between the hours of 4:30 and 8:00 o'clock at the Plains Baptist Encampment.

Following a wiener roast with all the trimmings the group present enjoyed an evening of baseball and various other games.

Those attending were Joyce Noland, Kenneth Smith, Janice Ginn, Ken Roberts, Lajuana Rimmer, Janice Trapp, Denny King, Jimmy Kassahn, Gloria Sparks, Derrell Lindsey, Jill Malsler, Franklin Goren, Suzana Collier, Kent Clark, Lynn Jackson, Craig Edwards, Barbara Hunter, Max Rucker, Pam Gresham, Rita Colley, Ronnie Amburn, Linda Lackey, Patty Patrick, Larry Mayo, Charlotte Caldwell, Bill Henry and the honoree, Jennifer Kay Henry.

certificate — Till death do us part — now the 27th of December we will celebrate our golden wedding if we both stick around until then.

I open the box with the yellow and brown tresses cut from my children's hair. Take out a curl cut from my son's hair, soft light brown from the twin's. Here are some long baby dresses, yellow with age, long ago losing their form of a cuddly baby boy — a funny-made faded blue shirt the same boy wore. I knew almost nothing about sewing, two blue-checked little dresses trimmed in cross-stitch worn by the girls.

I add more tear spots to those I have made through the years on the little dresses and shirt — they were my little children for such a short, happy time.

Here is a package of department cards from the primer to college. How proud we were of most of them. This is a funny theme Wilson wrote about a young couple at a fair and a story about an octopus that was as "big as a house with eyes as big as barrels."

My I liked to have cut my hand on that old fashioned razor, no longer kept sharp and shining. It always took Jeff so long to whet that razor, especially if we were trying to get off to a picnic or such place.

I read a few verses in my blue plush autograph album. "Dear Nellie, when you get old and cannot see, put on your specs and think of me." And the one from my teacher, "Dear Nellie, be sweet and let who will be clever." She must have felt well by warning me that I was not clever.

Here is the red cap my son wore the first year at Texas Tech. What a thrill he got out of wearing it and marching in that first "shirt-tail" parade.

Another package of letters Wilson wrote when he went to Galveston to medical school. Dear Mother and Dad, I love you."

The big packages of V-Mail letters from England and France, "Dear Mother and Dad, I arrived somewhere over here safely. I love you."

Almost blinded by tears I feel the soft silk blouse I wore at our wedding. Its dropped yoke made of rows of ribbon and lace braid attached together by my eager hands, looking to the future that stretched ahead in a home of my own.

"For better or for worse," I hear the marriage ceremony.

I shut down the lid of the trunk on my treasures, not the cold yellow gold of the miser, not sparkling gems of the rich collector, things useless and worthless to any thief, but to me a treasure — a store of memories, both wonderfully sweet and infinitely sad.

By their aid I see the sunshine and the shadows crossing the prairie farm home. Feel the tender warmth of soft baby lips. Hear the childish voices in play. Smell again the honeysuckle, fresh and unfaded as packed in a box for mailing. In the depths of the trunk are my youth and the precious years that have passed.

During the war period when sugar was scarce, Walter Ellis split some on the floor. His dad scolded him for wasting the precious stuff, but Ruby said, "When we ever get plenty of sugar again, I will put some on the floor of every room and walk

IN STRAWBERRIES

Marshall Says Opportunity Is 'Sticking Out'

L. A. Marshall spent four days last week in Stillwell, Oklahoma, and Fayetteville, Arkansas, where he tracked down the world's leading strawberry variety and saw the farmers who are actually producing them at their work.

He came home more convinced that "opportunity is just sticking out" for plains farmers. He appeared on television in Lubbock Sunday afternoon elaborating the farm area with his message and Monday morning he was on radio in Floydada urging the same thing.

Having the right variety of strawberry, one that is prolific as well as one that stands handling and processing is so important, he thinks, that only a tested variety should be planted. This variety he found was developed and improved by the University of Arkansas in a continuous program lasting over the last seven years. In the university's experiment plots he saw some 30 varieties of strawberries. The "Blakemore" is the best of the lot.

"I HAVE grown three acres of strawberries in Floydada and I know they produce a fine quality of berry on the south plains," and addressing the farmers of the area he says:

"I wish you farmers who have an irrigation well and can spare an acre of land near the well, would try berries this year. The plants should be set now. It takes 4,000 plants to set an acre. They cost $12 per thousand. You can order the plants yourself or I will order them for you. I am not getting a profit on the plants. In later years you will thank Marshall for telling you about strawberries.

THE BLAKEMORE is an annual. The plants should be set out now, 18 inches apart in the row on listed land, then watered. When ready to set harrow the ridges down.

The strawberries multiply and cover the bed. The first crop of berries will come off next May. They beds are harvested for three or four years, then a new bed is set. They produce from 200 to 300 crates per acre. The berries this year are bringing 18 cents a pound. A quart weighs two pounds. You can figure it — 24 quarts make a crate.

We should have at least one acre in each of the irrigated counties to let you find out about strawberries.

There is also a profit of a thousand dollars per acre from selling plants at one cent each.

The strawberries are sold mostly to freezer plant markets. Floyd County wants the first plant there is organized on the south plains.

A VEGETABLE growers council is organized for the purpose of assisting all vegetable growers hunting a market for berries and vegetables.

Each county will have a representative on this council.

There has been a meeting called by the Floydada and Lockney Chamber of Commerce for Thursday, May 3, (tonight) at 8 o'clock to elect a county representative to the council of some 10 or 20 counties.

Ronald Davis, of Mulshoe, is president of this council and is invited to attend the meeting tonight. The place is the county court room. Be there.

Mr. Marshall points out that his trip to Stillwell and Fayetteville, was made on his own initiative and at his own expense to see what he could find out. He is convinced he is on the trail of a fabulous idea that could mean millions to Floyd County farmers.

There are four good jobs at $17,500 a year. These positions include: Land Commissioner, Comptroller, Treasurer, and Railroad Commissioner. Here the incumbents, J. Earl Rudder, R. S. Calvert, Jesse James and W. O. Murray, have either little or no opposition. Just ask for it and the job is theirs. They are in like Flynn, unless other job applications arrive before the May 7 deadline.

There are several $15,000 jobs available, such as Agriculture Commissioner, three places on the Supreme Court, and one on the Court of Criminal Appeals. The Agriculture Commissioner's job is another two-year contract, but the court jobs are for six years.

Ag Commissioner John White hasn't said whether or not he wants to be re-hired, but most of the justices have. Re-applying are R. W. Calvert and Meade Griffin on the Supreme Court, and W. A. Morrison on the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Not an applicant for re-hiring is Supreme Court Judge Will Wilson. He has filed for John Ben Shepperd's job, as attorney general. It pays $5,000 more a year.

Then there are nine places on the Court of Civil Appeals, each paying $12,000 a year. Most of these incumbents are seeking a renewal of their contracts.

Jobs of 15 State Senators expire too, along with 150 House Members. These are just part time jobs paying $25 a day for 120 days, normally only every other year. The Senate job lasts four years, however, to the House's two.

Along with the House and Senate jobs is that of Lt. Governor. His salary is the same as the legislators'. Ben Rainey who now holds the position says he likes the work and would like to be re-hired.

Because most of these jobs pay well and carry with them honor and recognition, there is a penalty attached. You have to pay to apply, and the application fee is in proportion to the salary. Unfortunately you don't get a refund if you aren't selected for the job. This discourages a lot of applicants.

Those filing for the Governor's job pay an application fee of $1,250; for Attorney General, $1,000; Land Commissioner, Comptroller, Treasurer, Railroad Commissioner, $875; Agriculture Commissioner $750 — and the same for Judges of the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals. Civil Appeals Court Judges pay a fee of $600, as does the Lt. Governor.

Applicants for House and Senate jobs pay $1 to $100 per county, the amount being determined locally.

There are several other jobs of a similar nature opening soon, such as that of Congressman-at-Large. The application fee for this post is

A PROCLAMATION

On the first of May, fifteen years ago, the United States Treasury offered the people of this country the first Series E Savings Bond. Today our people own more than 37 1/2 billion dollars worth of E bonds, the most popular security in the world. They are currently buying more than five billion dollars a year of these bonds. More than 40 million Americans own E bonds and their current income twin, the H bond, sold since mid-1952. In the two series together, individual holdings are now more than 40 billion dollars.

This bond program is a shining example of Americans working together for the good of all. For it is a program of advertising, promotion and sales carried on by volunteers.

The symbol of these volunteers and of their bond program is the Minute Man of Concord, the citizen soldier of 1775 who "fired the shot heard around the world" for freedom.

In recognition of the benefits of this bond program to scores of millions of Americans whom it has led into and helped along the pathway of thrift; in recognition of the part it has played in financing the defense of our freedom and in protecting the purchasing power of our dollars, I therefore, as Mayor of Floydada, Texas do join other heads of cities in proclaiming the month of May, 1956, MINUTEMAN MONTH in honor of the Savings Bonds volunteers and for the encouragement of regular savings through these bonds by Americans young and old.

Given under my hand and seal this 27th day of April, 1956.

Lewis Norman, Mayor

$1,125. Martin Dies has the position now. Incidentally, it is the highest paying job next to the Governor's. Salary is $22,500 a year with a two-year contract.

Texas has 21 Congressional job openings coming up too. Salaries are the same as Congressmen-at-Large, but the application fee is less. It varies with each area. These are two-year jobs.

Another job opening possibility is that of U. S. Senator from Texas. Here there are some "ifs" attached. If Price Daniel resigns — and maybe Lyndon Johnson too. Both are campaigning now for other openings — Daniel for Governor and Johnson for President. U. S. Senators draw $22,500 a year for six years; filing fee, $1,125.

Applications for statewide jobs are filed with George W. Sandlin of Austin, chairman of the State Democratic Executive Committee. If you want to apply for any one of these positions, you'll have to file your application not later than Monday, May 7, and pay your application fee not later than May 10.

State Senators and Representatives and applicants for the U. S. Congressmen file in each county in their respective districts.

These jobs differ radically from labor and industry posts in that the job holder must apply again and again if he wants to keep the job indefinitely. And he must compete with all comers. Of course the application fee is just the beginning of the expense of getting the job. Also there are more bosses than employees, because the public, after all, has not only the first but the final say.

However, the pay is good, and there is a guaranteed annual wage. Personnel will be selected in July, August and November — with the public making the selection.

POLL TAXES INCREASE — Texas potential voting strength hit an all-time high this year. According to the state comptroller the 1956 total ran 2,410,188. Previous record was 2,338,261 in 1952.

PRECINCT CONVENTIONS — Saturday will tell the story on who controls the Texas delegation to the national Democratic convention. Large turnouts are expected at precinct conventions. Tension is mounting as spokesmen for each faction barnstorm the state. In some cases rival rallies have been held in the same town only hours apart.

Probable key to the outcome lies in the way some 19 or 12 counties go. These are the ones in which major cities are located. They control about 1,000 of the state's 1,898 delegate votes. Harris County (Houston) alone has 270. But rural counties are not being neglected. In a photo finish — not unlikely — they might make the difference.

BAR PROPOSES REFORMS — Three measures, aimed principally at limiting activities of lawyers in the legislature, are proposed by the State Bar of Texas: (1) Raising legislators pay to $50 a day for a 120-day session; (2) Prohibiting any

Diphtheria Has Low Listing As Texas Disease

AUSTIN, May 3 — Last year there were 269 cases of diphtheria reported in Texas. According to Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, this is a great improvement over 1946 when over 1500 cases were reported. The sad part of it is that none of these cases needed to have occurred.

There were 2,039 diphtheria cases in the United States last year. More important is the fact that the total number of cases may be greater this year. More diphtheria has been reported than was reported during the same period in 1955. During the first 12 weeks of this year, 514 cases have been reported compared to 426 last year. Texas has had 73 cases reported up to April 21.

"It is an accepted fact," Dr. Holle said, "that any community may control its death rate from diphtheria. Immunization has proven to be a safe and effective preventive measure."

Diphtheria appears more often during cold weather and often a secondary rise occurs in the summer. In former years practically everyone was exposed to diphtheria when young, and though many small exposures became immune. As a result very few adults developed the disease and most of the cases appeared among children. Now more people grow up without exposure and the development of naturally acquired immunity, so more adults get the disease.

Young children are practically susceptible to the disease. As soon as a baby reaches six months of age parents should take him to the family physician and have him immunized. Older children in families who have not had the protective legislator or candidate from appearing before any state agency; (3) Abolition of the automatic continuance of law suits for which legislators are employed as counsel.

CREDIT INSURANCE RATES LOWERED — Texas credit insurance purchasers stand to save more than two million dollars a year as a result of rate changes made by the Insurance Commission. Rates were reduced approximately 10 per cent by the Commission.

LET'S GET THE "KID STUFF" DRIVER OFF THE ROADS!

"Kid Stuff" drivers are adults who act like kids on the highway. They are smart-alecky, reckless, impatient, angry or self-centered. They are a leading human cause of nearly 100 traffic deaths and 3700 injuries each day. They must be stopped — by the law and by public opinion.

Careless driving is deadly KID STUFF. Published as a public service in cooperation with The Advertising Council.

treatment should also be immunized. Immunization is absolutely safe. There is but slight local reaction and practically no constitutional or troublesome after effects. To be certain that the immunization is complete the child should be taken to the physician six months after the toxoid is administered and given the Schick test. Booster doses may be needed periodically.

Be sure of a stand of small grain...

KILL ALL SPECIES OF WIREWORM WITH A SINGLE

seed treatment

NEWLY SEEDBED FIELDS make good feeding grounds for true and false wireworms and other soil insects. If there is not enough moisture in the soil to permit quick sprouting, seeds are vulnerable to insect attack for several days. But the threat of wireworm damage should be recognized at all times.

A dieldrin preventive seed treatment is a sure way to protect small grain seeds until they sprout.

LOW-COST PROTECTION

It costs just pennies per acre to treat seed with dieldrin, but dollars per acre to feed the wireworms untreated seed! A dieldrin seed treatment prevents "spotty" stands... eliminates the expense of time and money for re-planting or sowing extra seed for the wireworms to feed on... assures you of a longer grazing period. And dieldrin does not harm plant development.

COMPATIBLE WITH FUNGICIDES

Dieldrin is compatible with fungicides... can be applied at the same time to save the expense and work of a double treatment. You can buy dieldrin-treated seed from your seed dealer, or treat the seed yourself. Dieldrin can be applied as a slurry, dry, or in a grain drill. A convenient method is to apply dieldrin to the seed in the grain drill as you plant. Follow directions on the label for the particular formulation you buy.

LESS WORK AT PLANTING TIME

Seed can be treated now and stored until planting time. Dieldrin eliminates the rush of treating seed and planting within a few days. Dieldrin formulations are available throughout the small grain growing area. See your local supplier.
