

CITY AUDITOR RECOMMENDS HIGHER WATER RATES

Climbing Expense Is Cited In Report

The City of Floydada had a gross income of $234,664.09 from all sources in the year ending March 31, 1956, according to the exhibits and schedules contained in the report of the public accountant filed at the city office last week-end.

But the report reflects a fast diminishing net income and it contains the suggestion that rate increases or adjustments are in order in some departments notably the water department and garbage collection of the sanitary service.

The report was made by Harold E. Shile, of Amarillo, at a cost of $300 to the city.

The gross income is broken down into three principal accounts.

Income from current and delinquent tax rolls is shown $34,454.60;

Income from water sales, sewer and sanitary revenues and incidental income including occupation taxes and sales of materials, was $77,802.42.

Income from the electric department was $122,406.07.

OF THESE the water sales was the sole source of revenue which showed any material decrease. Water sales were $47,475 last year compared with $56,913.30 the year before.

Revenue from the city light department showed a gross increase of $4,925.82 over the previous year, with $122,406.07 as against $117,582.25.

The increase in the income from ad valorem taxes was slightly more than $1,000.

It thus is seen that ad valorem tax revenue plays a relative minor role in the city's income. Likewise it can be seen that if expenses of the various departments of the city can be held to a reasonable figure and good management can be combined with a proper schedule of charges for the services rendered the city will have a large income from its operations.

The auditor points out, however, that expenses are growing faster than income. Expenditures from the water and tax department, the work horse of the city for more than 30 years, this year exceeded income by $7,964.77 against a deficit last year of $3,300, and a net gain in 1954 of $6,739.30.

AT THE SAME time the revenue from light department operations was $33,757.89 compared with a net of $48,771.58 in 1954, when the gross income was $13,500 less. Comparison is not made here with 1955 when the city spent a whopping $60,000 in their change over from delta to Y circuits, and had no appreciable income above the transfer of sinking fund to meet interest and maturities on revenue bonds.

The auditor remarks that "a study of the tabulations reveals that the principal comparative decrease in revenue for 1956 took place during the summer and fall months." Also he points out in this connection "this decreasing source of revenue is also reflected in the cash balance of the water department." Comparing he points out that in 1953 the water department had net revenues of $11,214.71, whereas for 1956 year ending March 31 the water department showed a loss of $7,964.77.

THE AUDITOR compares Floydada rates with Amarillo rates, relating that "a customer purchasing water from Amarillo would pay $14 for 7,000 gallons while the same gallonage in Floydada will bring in $10.25 in the winter months and $10.25 under irrigation rates. Also he points out "the City of Lubbock has recently had a 27 per cent increase in water rates and their rates were originally higher than those of Amarillo." Continuing he says:

"Expenses are constantly increasing, both as to price of materials and labor, consequently it is evident that municipalities must increase the price for their services, and it is our recommendation that the City Council give serious consideration to raising the water rates to offset the increased cost of operations."

The auditor also thinks sewer and sanitary revenues call for some study of rates charged.

Bond Election Petitions Are Being Readied

Petitions for a $325,000 road bond election to use to purchase right-of-way through Floyd County for cardinal highway improvements is due to reach the Commissioners Court of Floyd County within the next few days probably before the week-end.

This was indicated this week when such a petition was being circulated both in Lockney and Floydada.

Changes promised by the Highway Department for routing the highway through Lockney please a great many property owners in that area who in two prior elections could not bring themselves to support the bond issue.

The issue in both prior elections were opposed by voters in most of the rural boxes of the county.

The effort to pass the bond issue is a desperation effort to meet the insistent demand of the Highway Department to inaugurate a big road construction program in the county on Highway 70 and on Highway 62.

The petition, circulated here the first of the week, recites that the funds raised will be spent for right-of-way on Highway 70 through Floyd County from the Motley County line to the Hale County line; and for right-of-way on Highway 62 from Floydada to the Crosby County line.

The revised petition is dated May 15.

City Is Losing Two Men June 1

Walter Hollums Monday night tendered his resignation to the city council of Floydada effective on June 1. He has been a city peace officer since last fall.

Hollums is an announced candidate for sheriff of the county and is resigning to give all his time to the campaign for the Democratic nomination, he said.

Another resignation effective at the same date will be that of B. V. Carver, who said this week that he has bought a camp at Lake Diversion near Wichita Falls and will take charge of it soon after the first of June.

Carver has been with the city water department as employe and superintendent for nearly eight years, the last two years as superintendent.

The council this week had not named a successor for either of the resigning officials.

Decision Against Morton Operation

Ben G. Morton, who has been sick for more than a month and spent something more than two weeks in hospitals in Floydada, Plainview and Lubbock, now is told he likely will not have to undergo an operation, which was first thought needed.

Morton returned last week from the Plainview hospital and has been spending his time principally in rest at the family home, 128 West Kentucky. He is dieting, taking exercise only moderately, and his recovery is not expected to be fast.

Court Must Choose Appointee To Fill Judge Grimes Post

The naming of a successor to County Judge W. E. Grimes will be the responsibility of the Commissioners Court.

The appointee they name will fill out the unexpired term of two years and nearly eight months.

Phrasing of the statutes covering similar circumstances has been so construed by the Texas Attorney General's Department and the Commissioners Court was due to be so informed in an opinion asked for by District Attorney John B. Stapleton.

Ben P. Ayres, chairman of the Democratic Executive Committee, whose committee met Monday morning, was faced with the unexpected possibility that the party might be called upon to offer a nominee to fill the vacancy caused by the untimely death of Judge Grimes. He spent much of Sunday checking the statutes and arrived at the conclusion that the committee had no role to play under the circumstances.

His conclusion was confirmed by telephone, when he asked the district attorney to obtain a ruling from the attorney general's department.

THE ORAL opinion by telephone to Mr. Stapleton was based on a ruling given in a similar case which occurred in another county downstate.

Accordingly no place for a candidate for county judge will appear on the July primary ticket of the Democratic party.

Members of the Commissioners Court, which was to have met Monday morning, held their session on Tuesday instead to dispose of the business of the county. Contacted Tuesday afternoon members of the court indicated they had "had some telephone calls and some suggestions" as to suitable persons who might be available for the post. They were awaiting the receipt of the attorney general's opinion, they said, expecting to have it on Wednesday.

THE PASSING of the county judge was an unexpected blow and the court had not had time to get their thinking in order on the problem. They spent three hours Wednesday morning in informal discussion of the problem, but no votes were taken. There are five definite receptive "candidates" and others probable.

Actually, there is no necessity for an immediate naming of a successor unless an administrative matter arises which requires the signature of the county judge. As for instance, the call for an election.

The four commissioners had a petition for a road bond election before them for a short time Tuesday. The petition was withdrawn, however, when it was determined that slight changes in its wording was desired by the petitioners.

WHETHER THE court could call an election in the absence of a county judge to sign the order and proclamation was one of the questions raised. If a petition signed by the required number of petitioners is filed with the court its members would have to take action within a reasonable time. Members of the court are inclined to the opinion the signature of the county judge would be necessary to call an election, it is said.

Plowing Mishap Fatal to Alpha Boothe Monday

Injuries sustained by Alpha Boothe, 44, Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock, when he was thrown from a tractor under a one-way plow, resulted in his death Monday night at 10 o'clock.

He succumbed at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

His wife found him lying helpless under the weight of the heavy plow Saturday afternoon at 5:30 when she became anxious over his failure to return home from his farm.

THE ACCIDENT occurred a mile east and two miles north of Muncy, Mrs. Boothe summoned help. Robert Muncy and W. B. Cates arriving first on the scene.

With the assistance of several men the plow was jacked up off the injured man. He had a broken leg and probable internal injuries.

Mr. Boothe was due to finish a plowing job shortly after noon. Mrs. Boothe was working downtown and went to the scene as soon as she was off duty.

The tractor had hit a post, Mr. Boothe told his wife. The impact threw him out of the seat and he was unable to escape the plow. He was struck several feet down the fence. The tractor engine choked down in the edge of a farm road.

The Boothes acquired the farm about two years ago. Mr. Boothe had engaged in the trucking business and had driven his six-wheel rig thousands of miles on southwestern roads. He was doing his own farming and being a farmer.

FUNERAL RITES were held yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the First Methodist Church with Rev. Tilden B. Armstrong, pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. Phil H. Gates. Burial was made in Floydada Cemetery under the direction of Harmon Funeral Home.

Military rites were observed at graveside by the Veterans of Foreign War and the American Legion posts. Color guards and color bearers were Dan Hodge, Acie Johnson, George Allen and Bud Turner. The firing squad was composed of Jim Word, Fred Cardinal, Bud DuBois, Don Daniel and Noble Fletcher. Darnell Ayres made the presentation of the flag and Bob Ed Dempsey sounded taps.

Born Feb. 24, 1912 in Elda, N. M., Alpha Boothe moved with his parents to Floyd County in the fall of 1912. He was married to Miss Florence Goodjohn, Aug. 12, 1934, in Floydada.

A trucker and farmer, he was a member of the First Methodist Church.

He is survived by his wife; one son, Virgil of Lubbock; two daughters, Gaynelle and Theresa of the home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Boothe of Anton; three brothers, Louis and Melvin, both of Anton and J. F. Jr. of Lubbock.

Rotary Executives Hold Sessions Here

Rotary executives-elect of 40 clubs comprising the 183rd District of Rotary International, together with representatives of Rotary International, past district governors, club presidents and members, wound up busy day-long sessions in their District Assembly here yesterday.

In the closing minutes of the assembly the Rotarians heard District Governor-elect Rex Webster of Lubbock in an inspiring outlook on the future of Rotary in the district the coming year.

Immediately preceding Webster's address the Assembly voted to meet at Lamesa in their 1957 District Conference on April 7, 8 and 9.

The registrations yesterday totaled 160 members. It was the first time since its organization in 1928 that Floydada Rotary Club had been favored with a district gathering of members.

At the noon-day luncheon the host club's president, Jimmy Willson, presided. The assembly heard Past District Governor Grady Halbert of Crowell in an address.

Attending and presiding at seminars during the day were District Governor-elect Rex Webster of Lubbock and Secretary Bill Hardin in receiving and caring for the guests.

Tuesday night more than 20 early arrivals enjoyed a great barbecue steak dinner in the backyard at the Grady Walker home.

Presidents-elect and secretaries-elect from the 40 clubs of the 183rd district represented Amarillo, Andrews, Big Spring, Borger, Brownfield, Canadian Canyon, Childress, Dalhart, Dumas, Floydada, Hereford, Lamesa, Levelland, Littlefield, Lockney, Lubbock, Memphis, Midland, Mulshoe, Odessa, O'Donnell, Pampa, Panhandle, Perryton, Plainview, Post, Ralls, Seagraves, Seminole, Shamrock, Slaton, Snyder, Spur, Stanton, Sudan, Sweetwater, Tahoka, Tulla and Wellington.

Sessions were held in the Baptist Chapel and lunch was served in the dining room there.

Memorial Plans Are Announced

This week it was announced by a joint committee of the American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars that a Sunset Memorial service is being planned for Memorial Day at Floydada Cemetery.

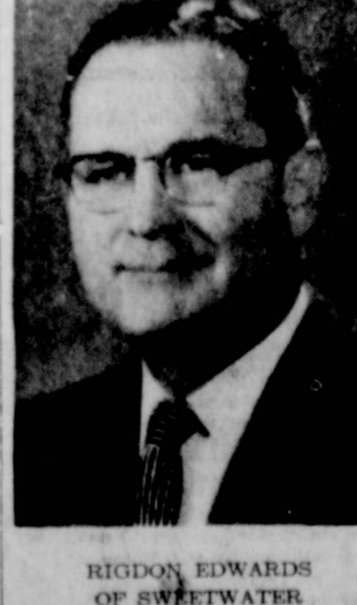

Details of the arrangements will be given out next week. Meanwhile the invitation is being made general to the public to join in the event, and make it a Decoration Day as well for all who desire to visit the cemetery, join in the memorial and visit the graves of the members of their families who have passed on.

The two service men's organizations will recognize the veterans by placing a flag at each of the approximately 240 graves of veterans that dot the cemetery. As the roll is called some member of the family present also will be given a token of remembrance.

The service will close with the lowering of the flag and the sounding of taps.

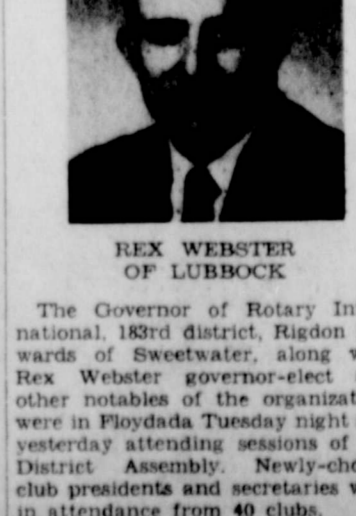

The idea that all the community is asked to take part in the memorial service is being stressed by the Legion and the VFW.

Dempsey Rates Fourth As 4-H Tractor Driver

Bob Ed Dempsey placed fourth in the district 4-H tractor operators contest held Saturday in Lubbock. Dempsey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Dempsey of Floydada, had won the county contest last week and earned the right to enter the district meet. Sixteen counties were represented in the Lubbock contest with boys ranging up to 21 years of age. Bob Ed's showing was considered very fine by Assistant County Agent Lynn Pittard and Vernon Witkowski, who accompanied him to the meet held on the Texas Tech campus. Slightly different procedure in the contest and the older boys entered from some counties made the going a bit rough for Dempsey who had sharpened up for the meet. Bob Ed placed first in two phases of the three on which he was judged, scoring 92 points in the written quiz he held a 12 point margin over his nearest rival. In the demonstration he scored 78 points to lead in this division also. Only in the driving portion of the contest was he beaten.

 MARK ALLEN

We've long respected the intelligence of the dog and the horse. At times we've even felt grudging admiration for the family cat. But only this week have we had occasion to wonder if birds, too, aren't smarter than folks.

Take this business of summer. People look at the calendar to know when summer comes. When the weather gets warm and roses bloom in all the dooryards, they begin to wonder. But if the calendar says it's May, they go trudging back to their year-round treadmill, until the calendar says June. Then it's fishing time.

But in our backyard Sunday afternoon, we heard a mocking bird express a much more reliable opinion of the season. His happy, relaxed song caught the mood of fishing as surely as does the dragon fly dancing above a sunny pool on a hot summer day.

Because of people, our schools are geared all wrong. For when Nature says take off your shoes, get out in the yard and get a suntan, what do the schools say? Bone up for exams! Your future is at stake! Get busy! Burn the midnight oil!

Is it any wonder that teachers get credit for being satanic slave drivers — while everyone loves a bird? By association with The System — set up by folks who judge seasons by the calendar instead of the heart — the teacher is guilty. Little do the very young realize that teachers — underneath their trim shirtwaist dresses and sensible shoes — are sometimes people, too. And what seems to be a fiendish charge to make their young charges stay in line is often a whip for themselves — to keep their own eyes on the blackboard instead of the trout stream.

Audit Report

utilities in garbage disposal rates as between residential services as compared with commercial.

Referring to the electrical department he points to a heavy increase in salary expense. He says: "The electrical department continues to show a profit. However, it does not support other services maintained for the citizens as does the water department. Decrease in net revenues from the Electric Department is largely attributed to increase in salaries which have increased from $25,513 for 1952 to $38,165 for 1956."

A reduction of slightly more than $800 per month in salary expense in four departments of the city's services, made in April is noted. This reduction was made by a cut in the personnel and overtime. The reduction in overtime was from $800 to $275 in round figures in April from March.

Reserve funds have not suffered during the year. In the water and tax department the auditor shows the interest and sinking fund with $52,980.44 in Floydada and Dallas banks. In the electric department the reserve fund is $35,295.45.

BOND MATURITIES and interest in the water department take about $30,000 per year. In the year ending March 31 it took $20,877.35 to meet interest, bank charges and maturities of the electric department.

Incidental information revealed by the auditor's report:

The city's insurance bill alone was in excess of $4,000 last year. The city's total bonded debt is $840,500, which bears interest rates varying from 2 1/2 to 3 3/4 per cent.

The city has a total of $30,053.37 in delinquent taxes on its rolls. However, $12,860.19 is for years 1945 and prior and only $4,526.73 from the 1955 roll.

The water and tax department owns $10,000 of the City of Floydada 1944 refunding bonds issue.

Uncollected accounts for water and electric service March 31 were $7,061.72.

The city's property tax valuations for the year of 1955 stood at $2,521,870.

FHS 'Whirl' Is Awarded First Place at State

"This is to certify that The Whirl of Floydada High School has been placed in the highest rank of Texas high school papers of its classification for this school year."

So reads a certificate received by Billy Jack Eudy, sponsor of 'The Whirl', published by the student body of Floydada high on a voluntary basis.

The certificates signed by Traxel Stevens, director of the Interscholastic League is dated May 5. The rating was given in competition with papers from all over the state by the Interscholastic League Press Conference.

'The Whirl' has been in the awards class for four years but this is the first year it has received the highest rating awarded.

THE PAPER ranked in the fourth division with an Award of Merit last year. The year previous it rated third place ranking with the award of honor, and in 1953 'The Whirl' placed second. It has been under the continuous sponsorship of Mr. Eudy, who is head of the Commercial Department of Floydada High School.

Mr. Eudy considers the accomplishment of the local student newspaper staff a commendable one in particular because the youngsters do not have advantage of formal teaching in the art of writing and producing a newspaper. Their work and its sponsorship is on a voluntary basis as an extracurricular activity.

HEADING THE staff of 'The Whirl' is Mary Jo Smith, with Joy Porter as assistant editor. Reporters are Rena Willis, Carolyn Collier, Don Sparks, Max Crawford, Ann Hickerson, Mary Wilks, Patsy Johnson, Maxine Hatley, Linda Hull, Nita Jo Lightfoot, Edna Brown and Bonnie Upton.

The last edition of 'The Whirl' for the school year was issued over the week-end. It was Volume IV, No. 23.

Wheat to Cut? Signs Say Yes

Evidence that there is going to be a wheat harvest in Floyd County in 1956 and that the day is not far distant when the golden grain will begin to reach markets is made tangible this week by the movement of storage grains from some of the elevators to make room for it.

Davis Elevator in Floydada and Poole Grain Elevator in Deaugherty were among the maize storage houses which had obtained CCC maize shipping orders in the week.

One un-named elevator operator said it is not improbable that Floyd County will see some May wheat this year.

AFTER 45 YEARS One-Time Resident Visits Floydada

A girl who left Floydada with her parents at about 16 years of age to move back to East Texas, was back in Floydada again Friday renewing acquaintances at the place she had longed to see once again through the years.

She was Edna Scott, member of a farm family which lived three miles south of Floydada.

She is now Mrs. Edna Kerbow, the mother of three living daughters and one living son, two airman boys given to her country in World War II, and several grandchildren.

Guest for a week of her aunt, Mrs. W. M. Jackson, Matador, wife of a famed range boss of the old Matadors, she prevailed on Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Pat Sheridan, to spend a half-day with her here Friday afternoon. She recalled several names here from her girlhood days and visited about considerably.

The Scott family lived in Floyd County about four years. After they moved back to North Texas she was married to a printer and made her home in north and central Texas towns and cities.

Of the two sons she lost in the war one was killed in combat over France and is now buried in a cemetery there. The other was killed in an air battle over water and his body was never recovered. Mrs. Kerbow's fondest hope now is that she will have the opportunity to visit the grave of her son in France.

IEWS AND COMMENT

How Senator O'Daniel threw all the old Texas cliches for state campaigning into discard, went out on a new style of wooing to win the people's vote for governor still gives the old-time politician a throwback to the worst nightmare in Texas political history. Against his style nothing worked. Men who had built up to the point where success seemed almost a must got their come uppance when Mr. O'Daniel and his entertainers won the hearts of the populace to "win going away," as the saying goes. The governor's efforts 18 years and two offices later are being watched with interest, particularly the response of the public. For the senator did not do any of the things the conventions call for a governor candidate to do. The loyalist-liberals and the dissenters are alike in one respect. Neither speaks the language of Candidate O'Daniel. It was because the voters turned their backs on the old standbys of political oratory and went for the brash new man two decades ago that they still fear him. Can he repeat? It is to be seen. He did the impossible once.

Who'll lose most? Assuming that Mr. O'Daniel turns out to be the third man in the race which candidate — Dainel or Yarborough—will be cost the most votes. There is logic on both sides of this question, but our guess is that he will take more Yarborough votes and accordingly Yarborough should get more O'Daniel votes in a run-off than would Price Daniel. Should O'Daniel be in the run-off he will do better than the old-line students of politics think he can do.

Despite untoward weather the cotton is beginning to come through in pretty fair way, thanks principally to fact that the cotton men have learned a little trick of keeping their cotton ground from drying out around the cotton seed on a high windy day. After the seed settles in the earth overnight the operator goes back through the field with a four-wheel packer and firms the seed in the soil, to hold the moisture in. Others are using such gimmicks, also, as delinted and treated seed for quicker germination. The cotton men are even planting seed that have been treated to kill off the insect life that preys on the early, tender plants.

When you have to do something, you usually can. However, we know of a farmer who put himself out of business that way. He spent so much being efficient he went broke at it.

An expressman was handling a parcel on which the label had been badly torn. He had been warned to pay strict attention to labels, so he tried to put the pieces of the label together, and this is what he finally got:

HIT CAR AND WHEEL

It was plain to see that this was not correct. Expressmen and postmen often have hard nuts to crack, for some people are careless when addressing letters and packages. But this expressman handled the parcel as directed, because he read the label correctly. What would you have done, and what was on the label originally?

"Handle With Care," the expressman jumbled up the letters in putting the label together. It read originally:

BETTER BRAZOS VALLEY WATER

(A Contributed Editorial)

We people of the Southwest have become extremely conscious, in the past few years, about the precarious condition of our water supply for the future. We have given a good deal of thought to assuring adequate water for irrigation, for cities and for industry so that our economic growth may continue. But we haven't been thinking too much about the quality of the water we are going to store up, in the years ahead, with the dams that are rising astride our rivers. What kind of water do we have?

Some of it has its drawbacks. It contains salts and gypsum that, in large enough quantity, are unpleasant to the taste, unsuitable for some industrial uses and unhealthful for certain crops.

It is reassuring, therefore, to learn that something can be done to improve the water of our rivers—and that something already is being done. The Brazos River Authority, which is the oldest river authority in the country, has undertaken a comprehensive study that will lead to considerable reduction of the salt content of Brazos River water. Ultimately, the work will reduce also the gypsum content. Together, these moves will provide vastly better water for farmers, urban dwellers and industries of this great valley that lies across the center of Texas.

Brazos River water is far from harmful to crops. Nevertheless, the Brazos River Authority has conducted a study to track down the origin of much of its water's salt. The study was carried out by Texas A. & M. Research Foundation. It revealed that an area north of Jayton, Texas—near the corners of Kent, Stonewall and King Counties—contained salt flats that pour forth more than 40 per cent of the Brazos River's Salt.

Now the Authority plans to throw an experimental dam across a high tributary of the river. The dam, the engineers predict, will hold back the salt water so that the water can evaporate. The salt that will be left will be pure enough possibly to be commercial, if a market can be found for it. If this plan works, similar dams will be built across other tributaries that now flow salt water.

The Brazos River Authority's long-range plan calls for thirteen dams, some of which already are built. The next phase is a Six-Dam Program that will cost $181 millions. This program includes an allocation of $7,500,000 for salt and gypsum control. It is a project that will benefit everyone in the Brazos Valley—in agriculture, in cities and towns, in industry.

This year the pink bollworm will be a real threat to cotton says the Texas Cottonseed Crushers Association. They are passing on the information to farmers how to tell for themselves when they have pink bollworms in their cotton. The Hesperian has this week or will next a picture showing the appearance of the bloom when the pink bollworm hits it.

Children start school these days with a big advantage. They already know two letters of the alphabet—TV

Prison System Needs Guards

AUSTIN, Tex. — O. B. Ellis, general manager of the Texas Prison System, has asked the Texas Press Association for help in locating 40 urgently needed guards.

"Mounted guards for the Texas Prison System are desperately needed," said Ellis. "At this time of the year, when prisoners should be in the field at work, we only have 600 guards available. Our regular staff totals 649."

"The Texas press can render a wonderful service to the State by publicizing our needs — and our problem is serious," Ellis emphasized. "No previous guard experience is necessary as we train our own men. Therefore we will be happy to interview all physically sound men who are interested in joining our staff."

Men with good names and who want to work are especially desired. Preferred age is 40. But men from 21 to 55 are acceptable. Room, board, laundry and uniforms are furnished, along with a $2,700 annual salary.

"There is not a unit in the Texas Prison System that is not short of guards at the present time," said Ellis.

Pioneer Round-Up Plans Made

PLAINVIEW, May 7 — On Saturday, May 19, the town of Plainview will go all out to make the 28th annual Pioneer Round-Up, a true Pioneer Day.

This year, as in the past 27 years, Pioneer Round-Up Day will be sponsored by the Plainview Business and Professional Women's Club.

A full day spent in recapturing a bit of the spirit of the Old West, will be mainly for the enjoyment of the Pioneers.

The miles of floats depicting days of the old West, the hundreds of horses and an unusually large number of horseless carriages is expected to make this year's parade one of the best.

The old timer's Chuck Wagon supper will be prepared this year by one of Plainview's best known chefs.

The program is drawing an unusual amount of attention this year. Its title is "This is Your Life." Many an old timer is casting a quick eye, trying to pick the pioneer or pioneers, to be honored during the night's program.

Following the program, there will be the Square Dance that will end the 28th annual Pioneer Round-Up Day of activity.

Be sure of a stand of small grain... KILL ALL SPECIES OF WIREWORM WITH A SINGLE

dieldrin seed treatment

NEWLY SEEDED FIELDS make good feeding grounds for true and false wireworms and other soil insects. If there is not enough moisture in the soil to permit quick sprouting, seeds are vulnerable to insect attack for several days. But the threat of wireworm damage should be recognized at all times.

A dieldrin preventive seed treatment is a sure way to protect small grain seeds until they sprout.

LOW-COST PROTECTION

It costs just pennies per acre to treat seed with dieldrin, but dollars per acre to feed the wireworms untreated seed! A dieldrin seed treatment prevents "spotty" stands... eliminates the expense of time and money for re-planting or sowing extra seed for the wireworms to feed on... assures you of a longer grazing period. And dieldrin does not harm plant development.

COMPATIBLE WITH FUNGICIDES

Dieldrin is compatible with fungicides... can be applied at the same time to save the expense and work of a double treatment. You can buy dieldrin-treated seed from your seed dealer, or treat the seed yourself. Dieldrin can be applied as a slurry, dry, or in a grain drill. A convenient method is to apply dieldrin to the seed in the grain drill as you plant. Follow directions on the label for the particular formulation you buy.

LESS WORK AT PLANTING TIME

Seed can be treated now and stored until planting time. Dieldrin eliminates the rush of treating seed and planting within a few days. Dieldrin formulations are available throughout the small grain growing area. See your local supplier.

of Mrs. Bill Holladay in Bizarre Murder Case

Goad, 54, mother of Mrs. Goad, was discovered by the victim's brother-in-law of the vic- just returned to the store from a trip to Clovis, told police he had seen the store and saw Hoyer, 4 feet 4 inch lad be- ing in the store, and think I've killed her," Hoyer was pulling the woman. He then added, "Then I saw the butcher knife laying there. I picked it up and stabbed her with it."

SHE SAID both had been in the store since 9 a. m. At 11:30 a. m. her husband left to go to the bank and at approximately 11:45 a. m. she left the store to get some ham- burgers for lunch. "As I left the store, young Hoyer was just coming in," Mrs. Hine said. "He had been in and out of the store several times during the morning drinking soda pop and eating candy," she added. "I didn't think anything of it at the time, but he seemed to be acting when he entered." Mrs. Hine explained she had known Hoyer for several years and had been a steady customer in the store. IN A STATEMENT to police, Hoyer admitted he first choked the woman. He then added: "Then I saw the butcher knife laying there. I picked it up and stabbed her with it." Hoyer also told police in his state- ment that he "started planning it the first time I went in the store this (Saturday) morning to get a loaf of bread." Authorities said Hoyer admitted having had thoughts of killing Mrs. Goad several months ago.

But on being questioned as to why he had an "obsession to kill" Mrs. Goad, Hoyer answered: "Mrs. Goad has always been nice to me. She has never been mean to me." Hoyer asked police several times during the questioning: "Am I crazy to have done some- thing like this?" MRS. GOAD'S body was taken across the street to St. Anthony's hospital where she was declared dead on arrival. The body was re- moved to Boxwell Bros. Funeral Home. Hoyer was standing back against the wall staring at the victim when police arrived. A crowd had gathered after the arrival of the am- bulance, including Hoyer's father and brother, Robert, a star player on Palo Duro's state champion bas- ketball team. Hoyer's father works in a smelter. At police headquarters Hoyer was questioned. NOWHERE in his statement did Hoyer give any motive or reason for the slaying. Police said no indi- cation of robbery nor any evidence of criminal assault could be found. Under Texas' law, a juvenile cannot be tried for murder until he becomes 17 years of age. Hoyer is a ninth grade student at Horace Mann Junior High School. He was a good student and had never given any trouble at the school. Other acquaintances of Hoyer described the lad as a "mild-mannered, quiet" youth who never gave anyone any trouble. Police records show Hoyer had never been in any difficulties there. MRS. GOAD, a widow, had been a resident of Amarillo for 11 years. Her husband was killed in a car accident near Groom approximately four years ago. Mrs. Goad's first husband was Russell Young. The family lived in Floydada for many years until about 1938, their family being reared here. MRS. GOAD was born in Hills- boro and was a member of the Church of Christ. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. L. D. Hine, of Clovis, and Mrs. Bill Holladay, of Floydada; two sons, Bill Young, of Clovis, and Alton Young, of Larenco, Colo.; two bro- thers, Jack Bearden of Wink, and Mannie Bearden of Abbot; eight sisters, Mrs. Herman Lankford, of Waco; Mrs. Ernest Couch and Mrs. Ara Spruce, both of Ft. Worth; Mrs. Marie Billington, of Amarillo; Mrs. Lloyd Collis, of Lockney; Mrs. John- ny Bowman, of Waco; Mrs. Frank Shephard, of California; and Mrs. Bill Wilson, of Houston; her par- ents, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bearden, of Waco; and ten grandchildren. The funeral rites for Mrs. Goad were held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Johnson Street Church of Christ, of which she was a mem- ber. John Reese, minister, officiated. Burial was in Memorial Cemetery. The Holladay family returned home Tuesday after spending the week-end and Monday in Amarillo for the funeral and burial of Mrs. Holladay's mother.

Cheryl's Chatter

(about events at Floydada High)

The members of the band who went to Levelland last Saturday brought home eight medals for first division ratings. Those receiving medals were: Bobby Rainer with a saxophone solo, Sherre Darden with an alto clarinet solo, Kelly King with a flute solo, Jerri Floyd with a twirling solo and duet, and Cheryl Crawford (yours truly) with a twirling solo and duet. All the others received a second rating.

The seniors seemed to have a good time on their escapade. The band picnic is to be Saturday. They are going to Roaring Springs to spend the day. I hope everyone learned a lesson last year and won't sit in the sun so long. Quite a few of the kids have been going to Roaring Springs and they surely seem to have a good time.

The F.H.A. elected their officers for next year — the results were: Virginia Taylor, president, Dee Ann Newberry, vice-president, Margie Turner, secretary, Mary Cogdell, treasurer, Darlean Laminack, reporter, Judy Jackson, parliamentarian, Donita Milton, historian, Wren Patterson, song leader and Louise Pritchett, pianist.

The typing class has been typing (or trying) the Last Will and Testament. It's not unusual to hear some drastic threats emerge from the typing room. Mr. Eudy is requiring that it be perfect and that is hard to do. Everyone has already started making plans for their summer vacation. The Rainbow Girls are going to Grand Assembly in Houston the week of June 10-16. Band members are going to Gunnison in August. Cool, comfortable Colorado! What- ever we do I'm sure we'll have plenty of good fun!

Daters seem around the "drag" have been: Gene Lowrance and LaJuana Womack, Billy Gail Holmes and Bobby Welborn, Sherre Darden and Wintred West, Larry White and Gail Baxter, Jerri Floyd and Jimmy Collins, Bethie Wilson and Donnie Jenkins, D'Lene Wit- zowski and Johnny Tinnin, Bill Orman and Marisue Burleson, Kay Callaway and Bob Deik.

Graded Border System of Irrigation

(Randolph A. Kays)

On steeper slopes, where level irrigation is impossible without extensive land preparation, a graded border system of irrigation may be used. This method may be used on slopes up to two feet fall per 100 feet. It should, however, be used only on drilled or sown crops.

Borders should be spaced at regular intervals. The cross-slope between border levels should not exceed 0.1 foot and should preferably be level. The border height should be about six inches in order to prevent overtopping. Small temporary borders between regular borders may be used, to help take out side-fall. These borders will not ordinarily interfere with normal field operations. They should be established before the crop is planted, so that the land can be flooded and the crop sown upon the borders. Length is usually predetermined by existing field lines, but should generally not exceed a quarter-mile on the deep, tight soils predominant in this county. The amount of water applied will vary from 18 to 36 gallons per minute for each foot of width between borders, according to the length run and the soil type. Farmers may obtain technical assistance in designing a system for their land through the local Soil Conservation Service.

The disadvantage of this method is that it is less efficient than level borders. It tends to cause over-irrigation in some spots and under-irrigation in others. For this reason, more skill is required to irrigate graded borders. Also, some means of handling rainfall runoff must be provided.

V. H. Kellison, R. R. Kellison and John Miller are some cooperators with the Floyd County Soil Conservation District who are using graded border systems.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(Nellie Witt Spikes)

Death sends a radiogram every day. When I want you I'll drop in and then one day he comes with a master-key and lets himself in and says: We'll go now.

So three of our friends got their message. "We'll go now" and their going leaves a sorrow in many hearts.

I think of the day in 1908 when Jack Kirksey moved to the Plains with his wife. It was a beautiful land he had come to make his home.

The white daisies bowed in the wind, the blue spiderwort looked with blue eyes from its safe place near a mesquite tree. The mesquite tree reached out slim fingers of green and shook out its curls of yellow gold. But there was to be a change and Jack Kirksey grubbed out the mesquites, plowed up the blossoming prairie flowers, and soon small green butterflies were coming up and down the straight rows from the white woody seed planted in the moist earth and the cotton era was on.

He loved his home, his family and his friends. Perhaps these things were on his mind that day he drove onto the highway.

It was such a familiar place. Many years he had come over this same road, in hocks and buggies, in cars. In winter snows and summer rains, in droughts.

Perhaps for a doctor, always for groceries, for farm needs. On this road was as much a part of his life as was his farm. He knew both so well. How could he know this day was not to be much like the days he had made the road safely? How could he have known the road for him would end before he got to town?

But one thing our friend did not know: he was ready for the end of the road when and where it ended.

O, prairie mother, I am one of your boys. I have loved the prairie as a man with a heart shot full of pain over love.

—Carl Sandburg

We admired Judge Grimes of Floydada for his sterling qualities and we feel like the lines from the Apocrypha are very fitting: "Leaving his death for an example of noble courage, and a memorial of virtue not only unto young men, but unto all his nation."

And death sent a radiogram to Mr. Wood of Floydada, also, and he answered the call.

The door of Death is made of gold. That mortal eyes cannot behold. And I am sure that Mr. Wood found his golden string that was given him.

I give you the end of a golden string. Only wind it into a ball. It will lead you in at Heaven's gate. Built in Jerusalem's wall.

—Blake

We have high winds from the south and southwest, hot winds. Now this Monday morn of May 14 we have high winds from the north, cold winds. The farmer's patience sats his meals in a hurry, wipes the sand from his eyes as he tries to see-if his cotton is coming up or drying out. Makes me think of the poem:

No state of life but must to patience bow. The tradesman must have patience for his bill. He must have patience who to law must go.

And should he lose his right, more patience still; Yes, to prevent or heal full many a strife. How oft, how long must man have patience with his wife.

We were happy to have John and Kate Fowler visit us yesterday. They were once our good neighbors when we lived on the farm. John handed us a white card on which was printed that he was running for commissioner of precinct one in Floyd County.

Well I couldn't exactly say that this month of May is the Merry Month that the poets sang about.

Early Season at Cotton

2,900 of the 20,000 cotton acres allotted had been planted the first of May and many of these allotments were returned for redistribution over the state. McMullen County has had less than one inch of rain since Jan. 1st. One 15.1 acre plot of the 1,500 was sown by May 1st.

Around Nueces County with Corpus Christi as the county seat, much of the cotton already planted was washed out by recent heavy rains. Counties to the north and northeast had the same problem.

These counties are typical of the state, but each area has its own problems. Moisture is badly needed in the dry-land farming sections of the Panhandle and West Texas where farmers soon will be planting.

Estimates of the cotton crop traditionally are released about the first week in August. A revised version of the 1955 crop was released this week when placed Texas production at 4,639,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight. Value of the 1955 lint production amounted to $611,388,000 based on the average price of 30.3 cents per pound for the season.

Cottonseed from the 1955 crop amounted to 1,687,000 tons or 2 percent above the 1,647,000 tons of 1954. The increased production was more than offset however by lower prices with value of cottonseed last year amounting to $77,433,000 or about three-fourths that of the year before.

Lint Support Price Is Down Eight to $16

(From the Cotton Gin and Oil Mill Press)

WASHINGTON, May 4 — Details of the 1956 cotton price support program worked out by USDA indicate reductions ranging from $3 to $16 a bale, an analysis by the Washington Bureau of The Cotton Gin and Oil Mill Press indicates.

The variations are based on the USDA system of discounts and premiums for the various grades and staple lengths. These are "adjusted" each year to reflect mill demand for the various lengths. Preliminary computation reflects the August-March average of 14 designated markets.

The sharpest price support reductions on cotton lint for this year were made on the extremely short and long staples.

Loan figures for this year, with comparable supports for 1955, by staple length for Middling grade.

13 16-in. 27.90, down 3.10; 7 8-in. 28.85, down 2.85; 29 32-in. 29.69, down 2.81; 18 16-in. 31.99; down 2.41; 31 32-in. 31.52, down 2.45; 1-in. 32.25, down 2.30; 1 1/2-in. 32.98, down 2.12; 1 1/4-in. 33.54, down 1.96; 1 3/4-in. 34.33, down 1.67; 1 1/8-in. 35.18, down 1.82; 1 5/8-in. 36.10, down 2.75; 1 3/16-in. 38.41, down 2.29; 1 7/32-in. 39.86, down 3.14, and 1 1/4-in. and longer, 41.81, down 3.24.

There has been some criticism of Secretary Benson that he failed to keep a promise made when he was trying to persuade Congress to retain flexible supports, to support cotton this year at 86 to 87 percent of parity.

Benson's promise, however, had another condition attached. That was that the bill also include a change in the support base from 7 8-inch Middling, to 1-inch Middling. That would have had the effect of lowering the actual support price between two and three cents a pound.

The actual support rate, when the 7 8-inch Middling base is retained, is approximately that which would have prevailed had the base been changed. Benson supporters contend, although the announced rate was lowered to 82 1/2 percent of parity.

Cotton men at USDA say that 95 percent of the crop normally is longer than the 7 8-inch base and that for all but a small portion of the 1956 crop, farmers will get something close to 87 percent of parity. Last year, they figure, farmers received supports at a crop average of close to 95 percent of parity.

Southern congressmen here contend that cotton growers got the short end of the deal on price support schedules. They point to the fact that Eisenhower told Benson the 82 1/2 percent of parity was the lowest he could go this year for cotton.

But, at the same time, he specifically directed Benson to raise his support levels for wheat, rice, milk and corn. For corn growers he added a provision that permitted them unlimited plantings and still get $1.25 a bushel (75 percent of parity) for all they grow.

Southern reaction in some quarters was to suggest that cotton growers be given the same choice—82 1/2 percent of parity for those who plant within their allotment and 75 percent of parity for those who want unlimited plantings. Both cotton and corn are in heavy surplus, and to about the same degree in relation to demand.

To some Southerners it looks as if Eisenhower had shown special favoritism for the Corn Belt. They deduced that he considered farmers in that area are more important politically than cotton growers, most of whom usually vote Democratic anyway.

Despite the complaints there seems little possibility that the cotton support program will undergo further changes this year.
