M. J. McNeill Named For FHA Committeeman

Malcolm J. McNeill, Floydada, was appointed to the Farmers Home Administration committee for Floyd County this week. Delbert L. Kasahn local supervisor for the agency, announced today.

"How Happy Floydada is to have this new exchange!" said Mayor Lewis Norman Saturday in the first dial conversation over Southwestern Bell's new exchange lines, to J. H. Chowning, Southwestern Division Manager of the telephone company at Fort Worth.

Exchange Switch Over Made To Dial Without Incident

Everything moved along Saturday midnight according to plan and Floydada's new telephone exchange, the most modern thing in its class in all of Texas, was put into operation promptly at 12:01 a. m. Sunday morning.

Miss Gilbert said. The hour marked her retirement from the service after 33 years, nearly half of which has been spent as chief operator for the Floydada Exchange.

Manager Oakley said. An increase of 25 cents per month per station will go into effect with the August billings, he said. The Hesperian was quoting an understanding reached three years ago as regards rates. Had the new rates gone into effect at that time there was not any increase for rural lines contemplated.

NEW RATES effective with the switchover will be reflected in the telephone bills on August 11, it has been announced. The revised rates begin at $9 for business telephones. This is an increase from $7.50 per month. Federal taxes add to these figures.

HARTSELL FAMILY REUNION

The Hartsell family reunion will be held on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 4 and 5 in this city. On Saturday night the clan will gather at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hartsell, southwest of this city and on Sunday the group will go to MacKenzie Park in Lubbock for dinner and a day of visiting.

Interest Picks Up In Mid-Week

If the stay-at-homes go to the polls in Floyd County Saturday in the same ratio as those who voted absentee the primary vote will be the lightest in several years.

Two years ago 196 absenteees cast ballots and 2,909 votes were cast out of a possible 3,900. This year 155 absentee votes were cast. This ratio would bring up a figure of 2,680 votes Saturday.

Locally there are only two races of county-wide interest, the contest for district attorney and sheriff.

The polls open at 8 o'clock Saturday morning at every voting place in the county. The polls close at 7 o'clock Saturday night.

The county Democratic chairman and the newspapers of the county will collaborate in compiling the official returns Saturday night. The usual 100 per cent cooperation of election judges is foreseen.

Little League Park Progress Noted In Week

Following a fund raising campaign last Wednesday work on the proposed Little League Park in Floydada was started by a group of volunteer workers. Activities the first day consisted of surveying, plowing, leveling and cleaning up the premises.

The second work day on Monday of this week workers dug holes for the posts and set same for the fences and backstops. Other working sessions are planned for the next few weeks. Interested persons may join these by contacting George Sherrill.

PLANS FOR the park show the layout is to be an ideal one. All measurements are to be to Little League specifications and construction is to be of a permanent nature. Fences are to be of pipe and wire with the pipe also tying in to the watering system. Sherrill says the pipe posts are to be welded to a two inch pipe which is to run along the top of the fence. This pipe is to be installed so as to have enough fall to be drained easily and will carry water for the irrigation system and to the drinking fountains.

cast of not more than 2680 can't be correct and the vote is more likely to reach close to 3,000.

To the 155 votes which are in and accounted for may be added most of 20 absentee ballots still to be received through the mails.

Absentees voting this year represent 15 of the county's 21 precincts. Workers in the sheriff's race and in the district attorney's race have put on a spurt of activity this mid-week and the governor's race has got a tremendous shot in the arm with ex-Governor-Senator W. Lee O'Daniel opening up with the old-time free wheeling vigorous style.

The actual poll tax payments in the county this year was 3,242 and 107 exemptions were issued. "Overs", however, make up unknown contingent of several hundred votes.

Judge Chapman's race for associate justice of the Court of Civil Appeals also will attract many voters who otherwise might stay at home on election day.

Local contests: For District Attorney: John B. Stapleton, incumbent, and H.A.C. Brummett;

For Sheriff: Earl Cooper, incumbent, and Walter Hollums;

For Commissioner of Precinct No. 1: J. K. (Keller) Holmes, incumbent, and John B. Fowler;

For Commissioner of Precinct No. 3: W. C. Plumlee, incumbent, O. R. Beard and J. C. Ginn.

For County Chairman of the Democratic party: Ben P. Ayres, incumbent, and Edgar R. Hays.

THE HESPERIAN'S election board as it went up Monday morning got only a light sprinkle. Every year except one since the mid-tens the board has got heavy soakings between the time it was put up and torn down. The management plans to mark the board up early so as to tempt the rain gods to wash it off clean.

Parts of the county have had all kinds of rain but The Hesperian has campaigned for a general soaker.

5 Descendants Of Houston At Work for Price

AUSTIN — Five of Sam Houston's direct descendants are working to get Senator Price Daniel elected Governor this year. General Houston served as Governor nearly 100 years ago, following service in the United States Senate.

The five descendants are Mrs. Daniel, the former Jean Baldwin of Houston, who is the great-great-granddaughter of Texas' immortal hero and the Daniels' four children — Price Jr., 15; Jean, 13; Houston Lee, 11; and John Baldwin, 8.

Houston Lee Daniel was named for his illustrious great-great-grandfather and was born in the same place as his forbear — Rockbridge County, Virginia. Senator Daniel was stationed there in the Army at the time.

The Daniels children are hard campaigners for their father in this summer's Democratic Primary race. Price Jr., who has his eye on a future in politics himself, campaigned with the Senator in South Texas recently and put in a couple of television appearances. The 19-year-old youngster is a live-wire campaigner, especially in seeing to the distribution of literature on the Senator's whistle-stop trips.

The Senator's entire family was with him recently on a Central Texas tour.

HITLER PAID FOR A DOCTOR; ONLY U. S. ARMY BENEFITS

ABERDEEN PROVING Ground, Md.—Because a German infantryman was ordered back to Berlin from France in 1940, American soldiers are getting expert psychiatric advice in solving their adjustment problems. The order allowed Bernhard J. F. Kramer of 102 Murray St., Binghamton, N. Y., to complete his interrupted medical studies, with the German Army helping to foot the bill. It didn't pay off in another medical officer for Hitler's soldiers, however. The war ended before Kramer's subsidized education was complete.

Now an American citizen with seven additional years of medical training in this country to his credit, Captain Kramer of the U. S. Army is a psychiatrist with the Mental Hygiene Consultation Service of the Ordnance Training Command.

SOLDIER SNAKE HOBBYIST MISSES THEM IN GERMANY

BERLIN—First Lieutenant Dan-dridge Malone likes Berlin except for one thing: There are no poisonous snakes here. Malone, who has caught approximately 2,500 alligators, snakes, and sea turtles, has very little opportunity in Berlin to enjoy his long-time hobby. Malone, of 1128 Yates Avenue, Orlando, Fla., is with the Second Battalion of the Sixth Infantry Regiment. He has been a herpetologist (student of reptiles) for the last 11 years. In that time, he has caught 250 poisonous snakes — before they caught him. Among the poisonous snakes that Malone has caught were rattlers, water moccasins, coral snakes, and copperheads. He has been bitten by snakes, but never by poisonous species. He catches his prey with a snake-stick, which consists of a noose at

Clean Up Can Add Room to Premises

Plenty of storage space! That is a housewife's dream—and no matter how many closets she has or how roomy an attic or cellar she never seems satisfied. But maybe your income provides more storage space than you think. Clean-up time is a good time to find out. Here's how you can do it.

AS YOU CLEAN each room, look for piles of old boxes, hats or shoes, that are no longer wearable broken furniture, magazines and newspapers from bygone years — in other words, all useless objects which may have accumulated in closets or corners, attic or cellar.

As you come across them, be honest with yourself: if you haven't used them during the past year, you won't use them this year, either. Don't continue to hang on to them "just in case"—throw them out!

You will probably be amazed at how full your rubbish barrel will be—and at the extra storage space you've provided for yourself.

BETTER STILL, you will also have made your home safer from fire, because according to the National Board of Fire Underwriters, combustible rubbish is a serious fire hazard.

No doubt about it, the time it takes you will be time well spent!

FREEDOM IS NOT an American invention: it was found in the folklore of the ancients, in the resistance of the cave-man, in the philosophies of Greece and Rome, and whenever other men fought the tyranny of their men.

But the American Declaration of Independence was the great symbol of human freedom, the revolutionary etude of all the hopes and dreams of humanity. Never had mankind been deemed worthy of so many duties and responsibilities. Then came the greatest oratorio of all political history—the American Constitution. Those early settlers of the eighteenth century, those implacable lovers of freedom, knew that in order to defend their ideas, it was not sufficient merely to protect their land and possessions, but to defend spiritual things like liberty and justice from those who would destroy them, they must erect a temple, impregnable as the eternal hills. Drawing inspiration from the sages and prophets of all history, Washington, Jefferson, Adams and Franklin created a monument that towers above panics and parties, wars and confusion. May it stand as timeless as the stars in the Heaven above.

Future Promises "Wreckless" Driving

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

IT'S PROBABLY TOO MUCH to expect, but with state and local officials all over the country launching an unprecedented crackdown on speeders and reckless drivers, the time may soon come when "wreckless" driving will be the order of the day.

Meanwhile, science, tying in with a vast new highway construction program, is preparing for the future. Work has already begun on numerous electronic devices calculated to reduce the accident potential to a minimum.

Imaginative safety experts envision the day when it will be possible to travel by car from New York to Los Angeles in one day without fear of mishap. Plates in the pavement of a multi-lane super-highway will emit electric impulses to control direction and speed once a dial in your car is set.

Miss Smith

Radar-equipped automobiles will save thousands of dollars and millions of lives. A radar screen installed directly below the grill work will send out a radio signal to halt your car as soon as anyone or anything looms in its path.

Other devices will keep tabs on cars in front of you and behind, making collision impossible, prevent cars from cutting in from the side until their place in the traffic stream arrives, and pull you over to the right at pre-arranged rest stops.

A network of expressways will tunnel under city streets, bore through mountains and span lakes and rivers with specially designed bridges.

Main arteries will be triple-decked with high-speed radar-controlled traffic on top, commercial vehicles in the middle, local and pedestrian traffic at ground level, and, suspended over all, a monorail for suburban commuters.

Helicopters will hover over high-speed highways with limited access to remove disabled vehicles.

Built-in road illumination will render headlights unnecessary. Snow and sleet will melt as it hits the pavement.

Fantastic? The automobile itself was so considered 50 years ago.

Increase School Lunch Funds By Twenty-Two Pc.

COLLEGE STATION — Texas public schools will get about 22 percent more funds from the U. S. Department of Agriculture than last year to serve noonday meals under the National School Lunch Program.

The increase of $43,453 brings the total to $4,636,808 for the coming school year.

This announcement was received today by Dr. J. W. Edgar, Commissioner of Education, Texas Educational Agency.

First quarter allocation of this money will be made to Texas this month, according to John J. Slaughter, chief southwest food distribution division, Dallas.

This office of the Agricultural Marketing Service deals with the states in this region on the National School Lunch Program.

Slaughter explained that the 22 percent increase in the Texas allotment was the result of an increase of $16,700,000 over last year's appropriation by Congress.

Federal funds are shared by the states on the basis of the number of children between the ages of 5 and 17, inclusive, and the need for assistance in the state as indicated by the relation of the per capita income of the United States to that of the state.

Slaughter praised the Texas Educational Agency for the way it has developed and administered the school lunch program.

Closed Wounds Are Dangerous

AUSTIN, July 19 — A disease 2000 years old is still with us according to Dr. Henry A. Hollie, Commissioner of Health. The disease is tetanus or lockjaw and is caused by bacteria found in earth, garden mold and manure. The bacteria are normally found in the intestines of animals, such as horses, cows, sheep and goats.

Tetanus bacteria thrive where there is no free air or oxygen. That is why a puncture wound such as that caused by nails, splinters or gunshot is the most dangerous. Especially is this true when the injury occurs in a barn yard, cow pasture, or where field manure has been used.

All such wounds should be taken seriously. They should be opened, cleaned, and dressed by a physician.

If tetanus develops, such signs as restlessness, stiffness of the neck, a tight jaw and beginning stiffness of the arms and legs may be observed. Usually such symptoms develop about five to eight days after the injury. Children may have convulsions and there will be fever.

It was not until late in the 19th century that a preventive measure was developed. At first, this protection against lockjaw was given separately. As years passed and research continued, doctors perfected a vaccine or preventive measure to protect the person early in life.

Now this protection is given at the same time that immunization is given for diphtheria and whooping cough, and the combination is known as the "triple vaccine." It is given to a child in the last half of its first year of life, or earlier. Booster doses should be given at intervals to keep up the protection and especially after any puncture wound.

Army Kids Eager 'Pioneers' As Unit Moves To Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska — "Where are the Eskimos?" "Can you really see moose right in the camp?" "Are there any bears?" "Does the sun really shine all night?"

These are but some of the questions asked by the families of Army personnel arriving here as part of Operation Gyroscope. The 2nd Infantry Division from Fort Lewis, Wash., is replacing the 71st Infantry Division in Alaska. In turn, the 71st Division is gyroscoping to Fort Lewis.

Mothers, fathers and their offspring look wide-eyed through the windows of the train as it pulls into the depot, wondering what this "last frontier" has in store for them. And they bring their pets. Recently two horned loads, resembling miniature ancient dragons, made the long trip enclosed in a cardboard box. Rumor has it that the two creatures will be the beginning of a long line of natural Alaskan mosquito eradicators.

Every group of newcomers is met by the previous one and even though the earlier arrivals have been here but a few weeks, they regale the neophytes with tales and stories that have the flavor of true sardough sagas.

U. S. SOLDIERS IN GERMANY SUPPLY GLASSES FOR DP

NELLINGEN, Germany — Eight-year-old Dianne Geisler is able to see much better now.

Because she can, the men of Company C, 94th Engineer Construction Battalion, couldn't be happier.

Dianne is a Displaced Person. She lives in camp here with her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Geisler.

Mrs. Geisler works here for American families. She mentioned Dianne's eye trouble to some of the soldier families, pointing out there was no money for an eye examination for Dianne, or for the badly-needed corrective glasses.

The men of Company C went to work immediately, raised a fund of $110, had Dianne's eyes examined, and bought the special glasses for her.

THERE ARE NO SLACKERS IN THIS ST. LOUIS FAMILY

ERLANGEN, Germany — The Deters family believes in doing its bit for Uncle Sam.

Specialist Third Class Harold Deters of (404 W. Rip Street) St. Louis, Mo., is in the Army — the eighth member of his family to serve his country in little more than a decade. He is a member of the 59th Armored Field Artillery Battalion here.

During the Korean War three brothers served in the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps. Four other brothers saw military service in World War II.

Deters has a younger brother who plans to enter the Army soon, and an even younger one is looking forward to being a soldier.

Americans burn a lot of ammunition. In an average year we fire 2 billion, 800 million rifle cartridges; 625 million shot shells; 200 million centerfire cartridges. This does not include handloads. As Sports Afield magazine modestly points out, that's quite a blast of gunpowder.

Basic Safety Rules For All Boating Novices

This is your first summer as a boatman? If so, William Crandall, boats and motors editor for Sports Afield magazine, has a few words of wisdom for you:

The first fundamental the novice should get hold of is that not only does a boat not ride on wheels, but that there are innumerable other differences between auto and boat driving. Nearly everything about an automobile should be forgotten — start from scratch. Safety in boating does not consist of "driving slowly" and reducing speed for corners — collisions are one of your less frequent hazards.

What takes place before the boat leaves the dock is almost half the story of safe boating. Tools, gas, oil and life preservers — life vests are better — must be aboard. Clothing should be light and not entangling. Oars or paddles are required and an anchor is recommended. Weather must be considered, and wind is the most important part of weather as far as boating is concerned.

One of the first things to learn about small boats, particularly those under cruiser size, is that swamping or upsetting due to high waves is the most frequent cause of accidents.

Never load a small boat to capacity. And filling every seat of a small, open boat, particularly row-boats, is going well beyond capacity. Loading a small boat is important. Underway, the boat must not lean to one side or the other. Too much weight in either bow or stern will not only slow the boat under power but may result in swamping.

Passengers should always climb into a small boat one at a time, and sit down before the next one even puts a tentative foot on the bottom. Never have anything in your hands while boarding — put gas cans, tackle box, and so forth, aboard first.

A newcomer must learn how to avoid collisions with underwater objects. Start the motor where there is at least 6 inches of water under the boat and motor, and start in neutral. If the engine has no neutral, be sure the craft is pointed toward traffic-free water before pulling the starter, and that no wind will suddenly catch a light

Meals In Minutes With Canned Meat

Here's a dinner ready from start to finish in 30 minutes with canned corned beef hash as the mainstay and with tomato halves and zucchini as the vegetable fillip.

By knowing canned meat choices, you can increase menu ideas the short and easy summer way. Some 113 different products are offered ranging from baby food meals to wieners, from small cans of potted meat and tomatoes to 12-ounce luncheon meat, to big 14-pound hams. A pantry shelf supply of meats in cans permits quick menu variety.

The trick for the 30-minute dinner is a simple baking sheet assembly job. Zucchini slices are foil-wrapped and baked for 15 minutes while you open the can of meat and fix the tomatoes. The meat and tomatoes bake the last 15 minutes of cooking time along with the zucchini.

30 Minute Dinner

1 1/2 pounds zucchini
4 tablespoons butter or margarine, divided
1 can (1 pound) corned beef hash
2 tomatoes
1/4 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon oregano

Wash zucchini; cut in 1/4-inch slices. Place in 24-inch long strip of aluminum foil. Dot with 3 tablespoons of the butter; sprinkle with salt and pepper. Wrap aluminum foil around zucchini; seal tightly. Bake in very hot oven, (500°F.) 15 minutes.

While zucchini is baking, open can of corned beef hash at both ends to remove in one piece. Cut into four slices. Cut tomatoes in half. Dot with remaining 1 tablespoon butter; sprinkle with salt, pepper, sugar and oregano. Place corned beef slices and tomato halves on baking sheet with zucchini. Reduce heat to a hot oven, (450°F.) and bake 15 minutes longer.

YIELD: 4 servings.

POLITZ BLOCK, THEN AID U. S. SOLDIER'S ROMANCE

BAMBERG, Germany — Private George E. Blason of (313 Kellogg Street) Syracuse, N. Y., likes German policemen — and with good reason.

Blason, who has just arrived in Germany, met Ursula Libada, a German girl who was an exchange student, while attending the University of Louisville (Ky.).

Upon arriving here, he decided to call on Fraulein Libada, at an address in Bad Wildungen which she had given him.

But he found the house deserted. A neighbor offered to help — by calling the police.

Blason, who speaks no German, soon found himself in a patrol car with the "polizei," who spoke no English. Minutes later, he was ushered into a house to be greeted by a man who rated a smart salute from the police escort.

The host called, and Fraulein Libada entered the room.

The host was Dr. Hermann Schmidt, Mayor of Bad Wildungen and District Commissioner of Police — and uncle of the girl.

Assassins Are Zeroed Out By Secret Service

The protection given the President of the United States by the Secret Service might be compared with a iceberg what you see is only a fraction of what's there. So efficient is this Service that no Chief Executive guarded by its highly trained experts has ever been attacked, says the Readers Digest.

Don Wharton reports in the August Reader's Digest that during the 36 years prior to the Service's organization in 1901, three out of nine Presidents had been assassinated. In the 55 years since, there have been nine Presidents, no assassinations, and no case of a President in office being fired upon. Theodore Roosevelt was ex-President when shot in Milwaukee. Franklin Roosevelt was President-elect at the time of the Miami shooting. President Truman was inside Blair House when two Puerto Rican Nationalists tried to shoot their way in but failed.

Before assignment to the White House, agents must attend a specialized school where they analyze scores of assassinations, domestic and foreign, recent and ancient. They observe mental patients, become expert marksmen, learn judo, gun-wrestling techniques and defenses against all types of attack.

The Service has the world's largest file on paranoids. Every threatening or abusive letter to the President is analyzed, classified and cross-indexed. In the first three and a quarter years of the Eisenhower administration Secret Service agents investigated 4804 cases involving threats. Within recent months 147 persons have been arrested as dangerous to the President.

Every move of a Presidential trip is planned minutely in advance. Weeks before Eisenhower went to Geneva last summer, Secret Service men prepared a survey complete with maps, diagrams, blueprints, floor plans. They picked the villa where Eisenhower would stay, investigated every servant, selected couriers and telephone technicians, even arranged a safe garbage pickup.

A President's personal habits create unique protection problems. When Eisenhower plays golf, armed Secret Service men are close by, dressed as golfers. One man's golf bag conceals a short-wave radio so that he can talk with headquarters or with agents cruising in a car patrol.

During the 55 years of the Secret

Service's spotless record, assassins in other lands have killed nine kings, queens and crown princes, 11 presidents, 16 prime ministers and many other leaders, including Mahatma Gandhi.

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Pyffe left yesterday for a vacation trip to Lake City, Colo. They will join several other couples there from Floydada.

India Centenary Choir To Give Floydada Program Tuesday Night

A choir of 18 young Methodist people who have sailed halfway around the world to make a concert tour of the United States will give a program at the High School Auditorium Tuesday night of next week, July 31. The program will be presented beginning at 8:15 o'clock.

This is the Indian Centenary Choir, under the direction of Victor C. Sherring, Lulu Boles and Gil Calloway are traveling secretaries and Beryl Pullman is transportation executive.

Indian Centenary Choir is an organization commemorating one hundred years of Methodist work in India and Pakistan.

In a very real sense they are a product of a century of service. Methodist have given to India, a milestone reached in October, 1956. Typical of young India today they have graduated from Christian and public colleges or universities. Some have been teaching in mission schools. They bring a variety of interests and talent: from football to classical dance, from business administration and public relations to home economics, nursery education and political science.

THE TRIP is a corporate dream-come-true that began nearly two decades ago when music-lover Garnet Everley introduced in the Mission Girls' School, Mathura, India, several musical instruments and a department of music. In the course of years that followed one of the boys, Victor Sherring, was sent to the United States; he returned with degrees in music and a Bachelor of Divinity.

Folk music and Negro spirituals were introduced and enthusiastically received, a renewed search began for truly Indian Christian music. Indian hymns or bhajans were taken from villagers, set down and sung by Mathura choirs and successive generations of Mathura school children. Gradually Christian music throughout northern India received a new impetus.

From scores of applications a committee of advisors chose the 18 that were to become the Indian Centenary Choir, a musical group to present to America in song, cultural numbers and personal testimony a living picture of Methodism and India today. They are a studious group, too, and each is using his time in the United States for graduate study in his chosen field.

FOR TWO YEARS the Choir has been rehearsing, separately and as a group during vacations. When they reached New York they had just completed a six months' tour of India where they presented programs to thousands of their own countrymen. They sang over All-India Radio, in cities and villages, churches and hotels, schools and factories and hospitals and under shade trees - across the country from Delhi to Travancore, from Bombay to Calcutta. They piled their trunks aboard taxis, trains, buses and two-wheeled, horse-drawn tongas. They slept on benches and beds - and sat up all night. They sang as many as three concerts in one day.

In their suitcases are vari-colored saris for the girls' concert appearances, traditional shawani and Churidar pajamas for the boys. This is the picturesque fitted coat and tight jodhpur-like trouser outfit that Punjabi Jawaharlal Nehru has made famous.

THE CENTENARY Choir brought, too, more than a dozen musical instruments. The flute, violin and tambourines will be familiar to Western concert-goers. More unusual will be the all-important tabla and barrel-shaped dholak drums, the long-necked stringed sitar carved from a special kind of pumpkin, the sarode and cymbal-like chumpta. Of special interest are two little-known instruments, the ghungrata-rang and julta rung. The first are tuned dancing bells; the latter is a group of china bowls selected for the clear and varying tones they give when struck with a wooden mallet. All the instruments will be used in the orchestral performances, playing traditional Indian musical themes or rag with variations so dear to the Hindutani heart.

The Choir's vocal repertoire includes a number of Negro spirituals and folk hymns from different countries beside bhajans and songs in three Indian languages: Hindu, Bengali and Telegu.

Joseph Meister Received First Rabies Vaccine

AUSTIN—In a small laboratory in a suburb of Paris in the year 1884, a mother comforted a frightened boy as a bearded man in a white smock inserted a hypodermic needle into the lad's abdominal muscle.

The bearded man was Louis Pasteur, the brilliant French bacteriologist. The boy was Joseph Meister, from the province of Alsace. His mother had brought him to Pasteur as a last resort, knowing that only a miracle would save him from one of the most horrid of deaths.

Pasteur supplied the miracle, for the syringe he held in his skilled hands contained a fluid of his own concoction—an emulsion prepared from the spinal cord of a rabbit dead of rabies. At the precise moment he pressed the plunger on the syringe, the world had its most powerful weapon against a vicious disease which had plagued mankind since the dawn of recorded history.

Lived Many Years

Joseph Meister lived many years after the incident in the laboratory, despite sustaining 14 mad dog bites. He became celebrated as the first human being to receive vaccine against rabies. Prior to that time, the only treatment for mad animal bites was a red hot iron applied to the site of the wound as the victim writhed in agony.

Today, 71 years later, white-garbed technicians at the Texas Health Department make more than 5000 treatments of antirabic vaccine every year in a tediously exacting process requiring six months to complete. They use a modification of Pasteur's technique, but their product is vastly superior to his.

Six batches or "lots" are made in the spring and six in the fall. Each batch consists of 450 separate treatments, and each is carefully double-checked by the National Institute of Health before being released.

Still, even in this day of modern immunology, and despite the fact that countless thousands of lives have been saved by promptly administering it to victims of mad animal bites, the vaccine is not perfect. No vaccine ever is.

Says Mrs. E. B. M. Cook, in charge of biologicals production at the State Health Department:

Perfect Vaccine A Myth

The perfect vaccine is a myth, an unattainable ideal. We make our rabies vaccine from the brain tissue of rabbits. Some people are allergic to the material, just as some are allergic to penicillin or poison ivy.

It is curious fact, Mrs. Cook says, that any vaccine or therapeutic drug—whether it be for smallpox, whooping cough, polio, or pneumonia—may completely protect 999 people from the disease, yet cause a severe reaction, or perhaps even kill, the thousandth person it is given to.

Ordinarily it takes 14 shots of vaccine, administered one per day, to give protection against the bite of a rabid animal. Last year 2,379 of these "treatment series" were

Boys Careless About Service Registration

AUSTIN, Texas — More than 32,000 Texans registered at local draft boards in the state during the first half of 1936, practically all of them 18 years old.

Federal law requires men to register on their 18th birthday, or within five days thereafter. Colonel Morris B. Schwartz, state selective service director, pointed out:

Under present draft regulations and policies, no one is drafted under age 22 in Texas except volunteers and delinquents. But the law obligates males to register at 18.

Since the present law was enacted in 1948, all males born since Aug. 30, 1922, have had and now have a legal obligation to register, except those not yet 18.

A man who fails to register as required, upon prosecution and conviction, is subject to fine up to $10,000, or five years in prison, or both.

"Altering of registration certificates, or the carrying of registration certificates by unauthorized persons is subject to the same punishment," Colonel Schwartz said.

He pointed to the recent case of a youth in Houston who received a 10-month sentence from a federal judge upon conviction of having registration certificates printed for the purpose of selling them to youths under 18.

Some boys under 18 want the certificates, as it helps them to buy beer at public taverns.

In other instances local boards report laxness on the part of 18-year-olds who are not registering promptly.

600,000 4-H'ers Hunt Hazards

SAFETY is an important crop that is being harvested on the farms and in the homes of 600,000 4-H club members taking part in the 1936 National 4-H Safety Program.

Through 4-H projects and activities, club members in all 48 states are correcting hazards which are responsible for an annual toll of 14,000 lives and 1,200,000 serious injuries among farm residents, and an economic loss estimated to be a billion-and-a-half dollars.

4-H'ers conduct surveys to locate hazards, and then correct unsafe conditions. They present demonstrations on a wide variety of topics pertaining to farm, home and highway safety, and members give talks over radio and television and before group meetings. In addition, club members build booths and displays for exhibiting at fairs and in store windows.

Realizing that motor vehicle accidents are responsible for over 40 percent of all accidental deaths among farm people, 4-H'ers are increasing their participation in motor vehicle safety. In recognition of the outstanding safety work done by 4-H members, General Motors is again providing incentives in the 1936 National 4-H Safety Award Program. Included in the awards offered are four gold-filled medals for winners in each county; an all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago for the state winner; and $300 college scholarship for the eight national winners. Certificates and plaques are also provided for clubs reporting outstanding safety programs on county and state levels.

The 4-H Safety Program is conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service, and the awards arranged by the National 4-H Club Congress, Boys and Girls Club Work. Complete information on the program is available from county Extension offices.

Cotton Shows Insect Damage

Bollworms were found in increasing numbers throughout the area of the high plains last week, according to the Plant Pest Control Branch, USDA, which is working in cooperation with the Extension Service. Some small worms have entered small bolls through the looma, this report stated.

Cabbage loopers are increasing in numbers, with some degree of infestation in all fields examined.

But the principal increase in pest infestation is indicated as being by Lygus bugs, which have reached damaging proportions in scattered fields of Floyd, Hale and Lubbock Counties.

Lygus bugs damage squares and small bolls, and are rapid in their destruction of fruit when they occur in heavy infestations. Timely control is necessary to prevent heavy loss of small bolls, says Walton H. Jones, District Agent of the Extension Service.

Bindweed Killer Is Planning Camp'gn

Bill Lees, of Plainview, is planning to spend the next several months in Floyd County in a bindweed killing campaign, he said here last week-end.

Lees is with Doherty Weed Killer, a Plainview organization. He says the seriousness of the bindweed infestation is beginning to be realized by many farmers, especially the need to isolate the weed from the remainder of the fields in which it grows.

A food freezer adds new interest and practical value in meal planning, food buying and preparation. Types of foods frozen and stored include meats, fruits, vegetables, rolls, pies, cakes, cookies, candies, etc. Any homemaker who likes to feed her family economically, who likes to entertain occasionally and wants some freedom from meal preparation can accomplish all of these things by wise planning and management of her food freezer. She may freeze entire menus; she may cook ahead for special occasions or parties and more thoroughly enjoy her own entertaining because she is not over-tired. She can always be ready for unexpected guests. She can convert left-overs into planned dinners, and she can have an ever ready supply of snacks or quickly prepared refreshments.

Here is a recipe for bread and utter pickles — easy to make and most delicious.

Sweet Pickle Slices
2 quarts medium sized cucumbers
4 or 5 inch cucumbers one to two inches in diameter sliced about 1/2 inch thick. Do not peel cucumbers. It will take about 12 cucumbers to make this amount. Slice smallish onions to make 1 quart. Sprinkle combined cucumbers and onion slices with 1/2 cup coarse-medium pickling salt. Lift up so that all slices get salted. Let stand for 1 hour, then drain and rinse with cold water. Drain again.

In an enameled kettle put 2 3/4 cups cider vinegar, 1/4 teaspoon turmeric and 1/4 teaspoon black pepper. Be sure your vinegar is high quality (40 to 60 grain vinegar). Heat vinegar mixture to boiling. Add cucumbers and onions to the seasoned vinegar and reheat just to the boiling point. Pack in hot, sterilized jars. Run a knife down the side of the jar to de-bubble - add vinegar syrup to fill jar. Wipe off jar carefully, seal tightly. Store jars in a cool dark place.

Don't forget that Yreva Mai Ellis of Plainview and I are looking for-grows.

VIEWES AND COMMENT

This is Election Week, and perhaps now is the best time to remind people of our reading area that the persons who are in authority in Austin are those who were sent there by the vote of the people. This is also true of those who are in authority in Washington and Floyd County. They are the elected representatives of the people. They are a composite of you and you. So, if one is inclined to show distaste when using the word "politics" with the idea that politics is dirty we think this reminder is in line: Politics is only as dirty as the people permit it to be. Why should apathetic and indifferent citizens be shocked by poor and corrupt government.

In truth we cannot achieve integrity through legislation. Electing honest, capable persons to public office is the answer. The right to petition the legislature is a part of the bill of rights and cannot be abridged. The lobbyist, though ever so brazen, is entitled to be heard. If he is heard by men of ability, with backgrounds of qualification and character the good and the bad will be sifted. Selection of these men of character and ability will be up to the electorate. The electorate is to blame if demagogues and organized minorities prevail.

The governor's race has hit a torrid pace this week. Whether or not the candidates will be able to stir the voters from their apathy is to be learned. In prior weeks there has not been the interest indicated that would forecast a big vote. There are other important offices to be filled, of course. It would be trite to say that all qualified voters who are Democratic in their beliefs should inform themselves and take part in the nomination of the men who will fill these places. It has been demonstrated in the past decade that the men who are chosen for the legislature more nearly have the key to good government than any others. It has been found that some of the men in the legislature already belonged to somebody before they were chosen to represent the people, and went into office under allegiance to private or minority interests. Careless, indifferent citizens who were "too good" to vote, and those others who failed to inform themselves are responsible.

Senator Price Daniel is our choice for governor. He is running the kind of a race he said he would run. He may not be elected but he is the best timber out of the entire offering we have before us. The uninhibited Mr. Haley would be all right with us, eccentricities and all. But the man who is really gaining ground, in our opinion, is W. Lee O'Daniel. If there ever was an orator who can play on an audience like a musician plays on the keys of a piano he is one. His lone wolf style goes with his flair for saying the things that the thoughtless want to hear, and his superb showmanship. People have had time to forget what a "mess" he made of his job as governor and later as senator. He may well pipe himself into the run-off.

As for the remainder of the state ticket John Lee Smith of Lubbock is our choice for lieutenant governor, Will Wilson for attorney general, Judge James M. Norvell for associate justice of the supreme court place 3, (the lawyers voted a majority for him and they ought to know). We also prefer Judge W. A. Morrison over Judge Jesse Owens for judge of the Court of Criminal Appeals. Jesse James probably should be returned to the office of state treasurer and Earl Rudder over Ned Price for Commissioner of the General Land Office. For commissioner of agriculture we are of the opinion that the aggressive John C. White should have the call again, and of course we will vote for Martin Dies for congressman-at-large.

At the bottom of the ticket this year appear three "issues" which are provided for in the law and which were placed on the ticket in response to the petition of more than 150 thousand citizens. When it comes right down to it we will vote "for" on all three. Majorities as well as minorities have their rights.

Stop Maligning Youth. We say amen to a recent writer's statement that lurid publicity about a tiny minority of teen-age delinquents has blinded their elders to the solid achievements and the high ideals of the typical youngsters which constitute 95 per cent of American youth today. Ninety some odd per cent, right up close to a hundred per cent of our teen-agers have never been before the police or justice of the peace for even minor offenses. The youngsters are willing to work but are unable to find employment and as a result are not on hand when somebody does have something for them to do. More youngsters yearn for "something to do" that they feel will accomplish something than one would think from the youthful nonchalance you see exhibited at public places and about. They place a high value on education, most of them, and more than ever they are joining in numbers in church activities. They are taking part in community betterment projects. The fact is we believe that any kind of statistics are often misleading if you do not read understandingly, and the alarming figures which are played up in publicity gives the wrong impression. The activities of the kids themselves gives heartening evidence of the solid characters they are building.

East Texas cities are still struggling against the inevitable in development of the pattern of railway traffic. Areas which had all kinds of railway travel at their beck and call long before any railways even penetrated most of the high plains have been losing passenger train schedules one right after another. Used to more than their money's worth the towns keep insisting that the railroads paint faces on the passenger car windows and keep on whipping through at a heavy loss. West Texas towns bowed gracefully to the situation sometime ago. The railways saw they couldn't crack the passenger competition of buses and private conveyances, told their towns about it and asked to have their okay on discontinuing unprofitable services so they could concentrate on freight business. In Floydada business interests even looked on changes of schedule that called for moving some families from town in the interest of economy and good service.

Meat and milk production can be cut by insect pests which attack livestock during the summer months. Extension Entomologist C. F. Garner says such pests as horn-flies, spinose ear ticks and stable flies can be controlled with dips, smears or sprays made of proper pesticides. Local county agents can supply detailed information on recommended pesticides and treatment practices.

Formby Sees No Hope To Add To Interstate Road Mileage

PLAINVIEW — The Interstate System of highways, so much in the current news today, is a special 41,000-mile road system selected by the Federal Government and approved by Congress in 1945 Highway Commissioner Marshall Formby of Plainview explained today.

Formby said that he had been flooded with questions from people asking the difference between the Interstate System and the regular primary or trunk system of highways. He said many people thought that any US highway that traversed several states was an interstate route. While that may be the true meaning of the word "interstate," he said it is not the meaning that the Federal Government and Congress applied to the Interstate Road System.

The 41,000-mile system was selected as one that connects 90 per cent of the cities of the United States with a population of 50,000 or more. It is a system of roads that is designed for military purpose in case an emergency should arise. It is to carry traffic from border to border and coast to coast. The total number of miles on the system is set by Congress and can only be changed by Congress.

TEXAS HAS 2,900 miles of the Interstate System and right now Formby said he sees no hope of additional miles being given to Texas. "There are more than 22,000 miles of primary routes in Texas that are not on the Interstate System and the people should not think these roads will be forgotten," Formby said. "We are going to build an adequate highway system for all Texas." As a matter of fact, some of the primary routes will be built to the same high standard as the Interstate System.

Formby said the Interstate System would be built to the highest standards possible with 300 feet of right-of-way required in most places, no left-hand turns allowed and with overpasses at intersections. With the Federal Government putting up 90 per cent of the money for these Interstate routes, he said the Federal people will make every effort to control the exact location of the road. It is feared that some of the smaller towns will be bypassed by the Interstate.

THE INTERSTATE routes that were selected in Texas are generally

- described as follows.
- U. S. 66 across the Panhandle.
- U. S. 80 from the Texas-New Mexico Border near El Paso to the Texas-Louisiana Border near Marshall.
- U. S. 290, State 27, and U. S. 87 from near Van Horn to San Antonio.
- U. S. 90 from San Antonio to the Texas-Louisiana Border near Orange.
- U. S. 81 from the Texas-Mexico Border at Laredo to Fort Worth.
- U. S. 77 from Hillsboro to the Texas-Oklahoma Border near Gainesville.
- U. S. 67 from Dallas to the Texas-Arkansas Border at Texarkana.
- U. S. 73 from Dallas to Galveston
- U. S. 377 from Denton to Fort Worth.

Glassmoyer On Treck With to Arctic This Summer

Training machinery for this summer's operations is being set up at the TTC, Ft. Eustis.

Specialized Training For Landing Craft

Troops assigned to the project will receive specialized training in amphibious operations including operation of a variety of landing craft, including LCMs (landing craft, mechanized), LCU's (landing craft, utility), DUKWs (amphibious trucks), and World War II LVT's (landing vehicle, tracked).

Training will also be given on new vehicles such as the giant 60-ton amphibious "BARC" which will be employed in some locations to ferry exceptionally heavy cargo.

In the forthcoming operation, TC troops will discharge general cargo and bulk petroleum products of slightly lesser tonnage from cargo ships standing off "DEW Line" radar stations which extend across the Arctic rim.

Ships and lighters can operate in the Arctic "DEW Line" area for only a few weeks during August and September.

Round-The-Clock Work

During the critically short period when discharge operations can be carried on the Army troops will work around the clock landing supplies over beaches of widely varied characteristics from tidal mud flats to rockbound cliffs. Some 15,000 tons of cranes, bulldozers, forklift trucks and special cargo handling equipment will be used on the land side of the operation.

Troops of the special Army group will be divided into two task forces, one working from the Atlantic side and the other from the Pacific. They will be carried to their destinations aboard ocean going transports of the Navy's MSTs.

East-West Forces To Rendezvous

The eastern task force is scheduled to leave Ft. Eustis late in July, about the same time the western task force is leaving from the Seattle Army Terminal, Seattle, Wash. The two task forces will rendezvous separately in the operating areas early in August.

When the combined force reaches the landing areas, the Arctic summer will be past its height. Temperature will average about 39 degrees F. during daylight. Before the ships again reach the open seas in late September, the Arctic winter will be at hand.

Job Won't Be Easy

Icebergs, pack ice and floe ice will provide constant hazards to the operation. Additional difficulties will be presented by the fogs and the Arctic cyclones which are the most numerous during the Arctic summer. During 1955, as much as three weeks of the operating season was lost at some locations due to ice and adverse weather, and similar conditions may be expected in 1956. All elements are expected to return to the U. S. by early October.

Participating For Second Year

The training this year marks the second consecutive season that personnel from Ft. Eustis have been involved in this mammoth supply operation. Last year, a like number of troops were trained at this Pe-nninsula installation for work along the Arctic rim of the continent.

Unlike last year, when the Army personnel represented several different Army branches, the troops involved will be entirely TC personnel. They will be organized into two battalions newly formed at Ft. Eustis and undergo all of their specialized training at Ft. Eustis.

THE NEW Dial Telephones ARE ON THE JOB!

Floydada's new dial telephones are on the job!

At 12:01 a.m. Sunday this city's telephone system was changed from manual to dial operation. Although the change was made smoothly, in a matter of minutes, many months of work by scores of telephone people were required to make your dial system possible.

A new dial telephone building was constructed to house the new equipment. Hundreds of complex switches and other parts had to be precision-made. Thousands of feet of tiny wires had to be arranged.

As a result, Floydada telephone users can dial their calls, using the most up-to-date telephone system. On a second's notice, your system can make any one of thousands of inter-connections between the city's telephones.

We are glad we're able to give Floydada the best service available to meet its telephone needs, today and tomorrow.

Floyd County Fair Association Calling Crocheteers to Enter Nation-Wide Crochet Contest

Hollywood has its Oscars, television has its Emmy awards — and crochet has its trophies, cash prizes and free trips for the stars of hook and thread. Crocheters from the East Coast to the West, from the North to the South are vying for a place in the spotlight of the 1936 Nation-wide Crochet Contest. Over $5000 in cash prizes will be awarded to the winners in this 15th annual competition.

EVERYONE can enter this exciting Contest — men, women and teen-age girls. If you're handy with a crochet hook, then you can get in on the fun and profit of this nationwide event. Whether you've crocheted for years, or have only recently taken up the art, your chances for a prize are good. To be eligible for a national prize you must follow these three Contest rules: 1) Entries must be crocheted of mercerized cotton in any size thread up to and including 100. Mercerized cotton with a metallic strand is also eligible. 2) Entries must have been completed since Jan. 1, 1936.

3) Entries must have won a Nation-wide Crochet Contest blue ribbon at a participating state, county or local fair. This last rule means that you must first enter your piece at a fair where it will be judged in local competition.

You may enter articles in any of the following classifications: 1) Tablecloths, 2) Bedspreads, 3) Luncheon Cloths, 4) Centerpieces (14" and over), 5) Buffet & Vanity Sets, 6) Chair Sets, 7) Dollies (under 18"), 8) Scarves and Wall Panels, 9) Pot Holders & Hot Plate Mats, 10) Other Household Accessories, 11) Edgings & Insertions, 12) Fashion Accessories, 13) Ladies Over 65, 14) Men Only, 15) Teen-Age Girls.

The crocheter of the entry that is judged superior to all will be named the Grand National Champion and awarded $500. In cash, a free trip to New York City, and a beautiful championship trophy. The Teen-Age Girl Champion and the Men's Champion will receive $100 each, all-expense-paid trips to New York City and trophies. While in New York, they will be interviewed and photographed by the press and will appear as guests on television and radio programs. Balance of the national prize money will be awarded to the First, Second, Third, Fourth and Honorable Mentions in each of the sixteen classifications.

FOR THOSE crocheters who are adept at originating their own designs, McCall's Needlework Magazine is offering $600 in special awards. These awards will be presented to the crocheters of the best pieces of original design entered in the 1936 Nation-wide Crochet Contest.

Start now to crochet your way to the top. Who knows? This might be your lucky year. For further information on entering your piece in the Floyd County Fair Association, contact the Women's Department Superintendent of the Fair, Mrs. R. H. Tinsley.

Savings Bonds Sales Expected to Reach Quota

Floyd County Savings Bonds Chairman announced today that the citizens of Floyd purchased $16,637 in U. S. Savings Bonds during the month of June. Sales for the first six months of 1936 were $146,519, which is 45.8 of its 1936 quota of $320,000.

Sales in Texas for the same period were $98,307,958, which is 46.2% of the 1936 quota of $217.5 million.

Chairman Joe Giddens reminded the people that by their continued purchase of Savings Bonds they are helping themselves and their government. By putting more of the National debt in the hands of individuals, citizens of Floyd County are helping the government in its efforts to maintain a strong and stable economy. Not only are the people helping the government, they are purchasing one of the strongest and safest investments in the world today. Series E Savings Bonds pay 3% interest, compounded semi-annually, when held to maturity and both the interest and principal are fully guaranteed by the U. S. Treasury Department.

"I feel confident," Chairman Giddens continued, "that the people of this County will get behind this worthwhile program and that Floyd County will make its 1936 quota."

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of the Hooperian issue dated July 30, 1942)

On the face of unofficial returns in Floyd County this week it is indicated that the county ballot will be headed by G. C. Tubbs, incumbent, and Morgan Wright, the challenger for county judge. In what developed into the second hottest contest in county-wide voting Lee Howard emerged the winner over both his opponents, J. N. Redd and Fred N. Clark, the latter now serving his third term in the office.

Also an easy winner in a four-way contest for the county clerk's office was Margaret Collier, young business woman and present deputy clerk. For assessor and collector Geo. B. Marshall was elected, John Stapleton for county attorney, Mrs. P. G. Stegall for district clerk, Mrs. O. M. Conway for county treasurer and W. D. Newell for county surveyor.

Joe Dolph Montgomery, son of Mrs. W. M. Dorsey, was married July 11 to Miss Ebba Esther Erickson of Anchorage, Alaska. He has been in Alaska 18 months as a teacher in the Anchorage school most of that time.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Smith are the proud parents of an eight and one-half pound daughter born July 24. The baby was named Freida Ann and is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Lloyd and Mrs. R. C. Smith.

HARMON FUNERAL HOME

F. C. Harmon Edell Moore

To the People of Commissioners Precinct No. 1;

In the primary election Saturday you will be selecting a commissioner to serve you the next four years.

I would like to be that man and this is an earnest appeal to get your help in this ambition.

In my rounds over the precinct I have tried to contact all of the voters and hope I did not miss the person who is reading this appeal.

I enjoy meeting and talking to people and getting acquainted, and so I can truly say I have enjoyed campaigning for commissioner. People have helped to make it more pleasant because they have received me cordially and treated me well.

I have had a chance to meet up with a number of old friends and acquaintances and it has been a pleasure to renew these ties. Also those who are strangers before have been courteous and have listened patiently. They have showed an interest in the county's affairs and in the importance of the office of commissioner.

My opponent is my neighbor and friend and I have no mud to sling. All I have to say he is running for his fourth term while this is the first time I have ever asked for any office.

My wife and I have found Floyd County a good place to live and call home. We have been living in Precinct One 13 years among fine people and good neighbors.

We have made a living from the farm and know the value of a dollar, so I feel like I would be tax-conscious and would be careful to spend public money for the best interest of all.

Thanking each and everyone for the courtesies and hoping you can give me your vote Saturday, I am, Sincerely,

JOHN B. FOWLER

Candidate for Commissioner, Precinct One, Floyd County

Miss Sandra Sams, organist, played the nuptial prelude and traditional wedding marches. "I Love You Truly," "The Lord's Prayer" and "Indian Love Call" were sung by Mrs. Warren Mathis.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original model of imported white, embroidered Swiss organza over net and taffeta. Designed with a portrait neckline framed with scalloped embroidery, the fitted bodice had tiny sleeves completed by gauntlets worn over the hands and terminating with a deep point at center front waistline. From this stemmed a magnificent skirt made of tiers of scalloped embroidery fully shirred.

Her veil of silk illusion, dotted with appliqued flowers held with rhinestones, was joined to a lace cap embroidered with iridescent sequins, rhinestones and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations atop a white Bible covered with lace and satin and showered with white satin streamers tied in love knots.

Miss Mary Kathryn Ford attended her cousin as maid-of-honor. She was attired in a frock of white embroidered organza over aqua fashioned similar to that of the bride.

The bridesmaids were Miss Beth McLaughlin, Miss Charlyne Brown, Mrs. Mack Hickerson and Mrs. Johnny Cline. They wore dresses identical to that of the maid-of-honor over pink and yellow taffeta. Serving his brother as best man was Robert Stair, Plainview. Ushers were Donald Kelm, Jim Wilmett, Warren Mathis and Max Marble, brother of the bride.

The reception following the ceremony was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Cox, aunt and uncle of the bride. The five-tier wedding cake was served from a table laid with lace over pink. The crystal punch service was surrounded with an aqua tulle ruffie flecked with pink rose buds.

In the house party were Misses Cleve McGhee, Plainview; E. M. Jackson, Floydada; Horace Jackson, South Plains; Sally Cook, Plainview; and Bruce Whitlock, Lockney, all aunts of the bride; Misses Jan Johnson, Amarillo; Judy Jackson, Floydada; LaJuan Henderson, Lockney; Mrs. Jimmie Heard, Hale Center; and Mrs. Bill McGhee, Lubbock. For a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colo., the bride chose a beige embroidered polished cotton sheath dress with matching jacket and beige accessories.

The couple is now living in their new home recently completed in the East Mound Community, six miles east of Plainview.

"You know, they say... How many times have you heard someone start a conversation that way? And often as not, the statement that follows is an unconfirmed rumor. It's just one means of opening up a sensitive subject.

At a luncheon the other day, some women were in an uproar about "the city" allowing a parking lot to go into a residence area. "And they say," related one woman, "that they're going to cut a street through that block, too." Then everyone began to speculate about what would happen to one of the homes which would be in the line of progress.

A few days later, we overheard one of the women from that group say: "It's a shame they're going to tear down that pretty house." The fact that the proposed new street was only the wildest rumor had already been forgotten, and "they" had become evildoers.

We heard a man say recently that he would like to see some research done on who "they" is. Said he was playing bridge with his wife the other night and she opened a hand short on point count. She went down several hundred. When he challenged her, she answered, "Oh, they're opening up eleven points now." His answer was, "Well, they sure murdered us on that hand!"

The "they say" business has become quite a joke around our house lately. The other day, the spouse came in with all kinds of interesting little tidbits of information. Finally we couldn't stand it any longer. "Where in the world did you hear all this?" we wanted to know. "Oh, I've been out with them this morning," he retorted.

Registration begins at 9 a. m., followed by the memorial services at 10 and other parts of the program lasting until noon at the First Baptist Church. A basket lunch will be spread at the headquarters building.

Farm Safety Week
July 22 to July 28

Farming is a dangerous job. So dangerous that nation-wide attention is being focused on the problem by declaring July 22 through 28 as National Farm Safety Week. The risks of the farm are both physical and financial. In one year about 15,000 U. S. farm residents are killed in agricultural accidents. Another 1,300,000 or more are injured.

Each farm is a separate sphere of management and operation which involves a wide variety of activities and working conditions. The heavy toll of accidents caused each year by these different farm tasks wipes out some 17 million man days of labor.

In some areas, Texas farmers may face one of the major accident creating situations—labor shortages. When hired help is scarce, the farmer takes on more of the work load. He toils longer hours and becomes tired long before the job is done. As a result, he is tempted to take risky short cuts or postpone needed repairs on machinery and buildings. This sets the stage for crippling accidents.

Farm machinery is the big killer. Careless handling of equipment causes many mishaps but even a careful operator may be hurt if he is running broken or worn machines. A good maintenance program for machinery could do much to keep down farm tragedies.

Another common cause of injury is farm animals. Some accidents with animals are unavoidable. Still, many result from impatience on the farmer's part or an under-estimation of the animal's dangerous traits.

Fires are a greater hazard on the farm than in the city. They cause some 2,800 of the 15,000 farm deaths each year. These fires occur at the rate of 300 per day, and most can be traced to defective heating units, flammable roofing materials, overloaded electrical wires and lack of protection from lightning.

But the farmer and city dweller share equal risks right in the home. Four thousand farm residents die each year from accidents inside the house. Thus, home safety is a prime starting point in eliminating accidents which rob families of their livelihood.

Now that another crop season is underway, a little more caution and advance planning may help assure

News of Harmony

(By Mrs. Mather Carr)

HARMONY, July 23 — Mrs. Mather Carr returned home Thursday from Gallup, N. M., where she had been with her sister who underwent major surgery. The sister was doing fine when we left.

News is scarce as we have been gone and have not learned what has happened.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Tucker and children, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Williams and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood Ramsey and children and Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Carr and sons and Jerry Cardinal enjoyed a picnic at Roaring Springs Saturday evening.

The fishers returned home Saturday evening tired and sleepy, ready for a rest. The largest fish they caught was an eleven pounder which was a carp.

Bro. Gates preached Sunday morning at the chapel. Bro. Kirk, the District Superintendent preached Sunday night and held quarterly conference after church.

Bro. Gates went home for dinner as his son, Dr. Joe Gates and family of Pampa were visiting his family. Two of the grandchildren stayed over for a week's visit with their grandparents.

 checked the betting odds, but still weren't sure. Major cause for uneasiness is that rapid growth and shifts in Texas' population have wiped out many of the old rules of thumb on what it takes to win.

 Fifteen years ago the rural vote was all-important. Non-metropolitan voters still are in the majority and they are "dependable" voters.
 However, the five major cities have between them nearly a million eligible voters — 917,209. In this big city market, labor claims a 450,000 to 500,000 "sphere of influence" vote.
 —But admitted it couldn't deliver that many in a bloc to anyone.
 Another big question mark is how much voters will be influenced by the three segregation-related referendum issues.
HOW TO VOTE ON REFEREN-DUMS — A check of voters who cast absentee ballots reveals much confusion about how to vote properly on the three referendums.
 Robert Cargill, chairman of the Texas Referendum Committee, puts it simply in these words: "If you are opposed to mixed schools, mixed marriages and illegal federal interference, vote FOR all three propositions."
 Due to the wording of the referendum, it is necessary for one to vote for the measures if he is against the subjects that each covers.
 For example, the first proposition reads "FOR (or against) specific legislation exempting any child from compulsory attendance at integrated schools attended by white persons and negroes."
 Proposition number two reads
 "FOR (or against) specific legislation perfecting state laws against intermarriage between white persons and negroes." Third proposition says "FOR (or against) the use of interposition to halt illegal Federal encroachment."
 The use of double-negatives is most confusing.
 Voters also should remember that they may split their votes on the referendums, if they wish. For example, if a voter were opposed to mixed marriages and illegal federal interference, but not opposed to mixed schools, he would vote FOR the two propositions, and against the latter.

RESEARCH LEAGUE HELPS TEXAS — In contrast with the campaign furor, the Texas Research League works quietly. Their aim is better state government. Election winners, whoever they are, likely will have cause to use the league's exhaustive fact-finding survey.
 Only three years old, TRL already has provided Texas taxpayers with nearly a million dollars worth of services. All for free. Big businessmen are footing the bill.
 Behind the organizing and financing of the league are nearly 500 business and professional leaders.
 Their names constitute a Texas
 "Who's Who." These men, with a bigger than average stake in Texas future, felt their billion-dollar-a-year state government should have the benefit of the same type of efficiency expert techniques that aid private enterprise.
 Ben C. Belt, president of Gulf Oil Corporation, Houston, is chairman of the 72-member board of directors. Alvin A. Burger, a nationally-recognized government research expert, is executive director.
 A modest office suite two blocks west of the Capitol houses the 21-member staff.
 TRL was set up as a non-profit non-political, educational corporation. It is prohibited by its charter from lobbying for the adoption of any of its recommendations. It can undertake a survey only at the request of the department concerned.
 Apparently these restrictions have not hampered its effectiveness.
 While its analyses may turn up faults and criticisms, state agencies are standing in line for its services.

Some of us supported him four years ago when he

SHEPHERD URGES ACTION — Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepherd has urged the House Investigating Committee to conduct full on-the-ground hearings to uncover election frauds in Duval and surrounding counties.
 Shepherd's comment on the situation came as the result of a wire Rep. Wade Spilman chairman of the committee, sent to C. B. Dick of Laredo. Dick had requested an investigation of absentee voting practices in Webb, Zapata, Jim Hogg, Duval and Starr Counties.
 In a wire to Spilman, Shepherd cited a group of bills introduced in the last legislature, at the request of his office, and the Texas Press Association. The measures, he pointed out, would eliminate such situations as now exist in the South Texas area.
 All the bills, Shepherd said, failed to win legislative approval.
 "Since 1933, we have tried to interest legislative agencies in the cleanup of Duval, and your committee will discover, as we did, that the same thing that happened there can happen in any county where a political boss can control election officials and machinery and the judicial processes," Shepherd said.
 The bills to which he referred would open meetings of public agencies, allow full inspection of public records, protect reporters' sources of information, require full publication of financial statements of counties and school districts, require an audit upon proper petition by taxpayers, provide punishment for false reporting of official finances or theft of public funds or records, and give venue in adjoining counties in case of theft of public funds.
MORE DROUGHT AID SOUGHT
 — A committee of 175 Texas agricultural leaders, called together by Ag. Comm. John C. White, is working for two-way expansion of federal drought assistance.
 Goals include a six-point credit program and direct subsidies of $10 a ton for buying hay and other roughage.
 County Judge W. S. Pickett of Karnes County heads an 11-member group designated to push the program.
RIGHT OF WAY BUYING UR-GED — Getting the "right of way" is the only major obstacle likely to delay the federal highway building program in Texas.
 Enough road building equipment now is on hand to double the present work capacity within two years, said members of the Texas Highway Branch of Associated General Contractors.
