

Floyd County Voters Back Democratic Ticket

But Texas Goes For 'Ike' Again

For the first time in a third of a century Floyd County voters failed to go along with the majority of Texas citizens Tuesday night when they gave the Democratic ticket a substantial majority of 1767 to 1445 while the state as a whole was going into the Republican column by a majority that may exceed 175,000.

The five-star general with the boyish grin cracked the Solid South for the second time, taking his native state of Texas along with Louisiana, Oklahoma and Florida.

Wednesday morning's Texas Election Bureau count had recorded nearly a million and a half votes in the state. While the president was taking a lead that he never relinquished in the state as a whole Floyd County returns were showing a leaning toward Stevenson from the first partial report at 7 o'clock from Southwest Floydada.

In Floydada boxes the Southwest, Northwest and Northeast boxes gave Stevenson majorities ranging from one in Northeast Floydada to 94 in southwest Floydada. Eisenhower's majority in Southeast Floydada was 10 votes.

East Lockney, Providence, Fairview, West Lockney, were the other precincts in the county which gave the Republican candidate majorities.

HEAVIEST Democratic majorities were in Starkey where the vote was 41 to 1 and in Sterley where the vote was 41 to 3. W. L. Davis and Bert Bobbitt, Democratic committeemen of Starkey and Sterley respectively were outspoken supporters of the Democratic ticket.

The vote in the county was only slightly less than in the first primary and was considerably larger than the August run off vote. A barrage of effective campaigning preceded the election in the final three weeks before voting day.

FLOYD County will have eight votes in the Democratic state conventions for the next two years as a result of the good vote given the Democratic nominee, Fries Daniel, governor. He got 2,574 of the more than 3,000 votes cast, while Bryant, the Republican candidate drew 130 votes, and Ex-Senator Governor W. Lee O'Daniel polled 316 votes.

ON THE proposed constitutional amendments the county gave majorities ranging from eight to one for the aid to mis-sentenced victims to slightly more than two to one for constitutional re-allocation of taxes by Commissioners Courts. All the amendments carried similarly in the state voting.

The county absentee vote tabulated was 175. Absentees gave Eisenhower a majority of 11 votes. Contrary to the usual result this vote did not coincide with the final county results. In previous elections the absentee balloting has been a cross.

$425 Is Added To CROP Relief On Hallowe'en

A total of $425.00 was collected by the Methodist Youth Fellowship and other youth of Floydada in a truck-or-treat drive for CROP last Wednesday night, reports Kelly King, publicity chairman for the M. Y. F.

Contributions were obtained through a house-to-house appeal, giving a new twist to the traditional Hallowe'en custom of treating youth of the community to an overdose of candies and sweet foods.

The proceeds will be turned over to the Christian Rural Overseas Program and will be used to send overseas some of the dairy products and grains now stored in government surplus warehouses and bins. Surpluses are supplied free by the government to approved voluntary agencies handling and distribution of the surplus foods, through Church World Service, can be undertaken at a cost of less than a penny a pound.

Victims of hunger overseas will receive the CROP gift, through churches and church relief organizations in overseas countries.

Approximately 50 to 60 young people took part in the Hallowe'en collection and the social hour which followed. The collection was sponsored in this community by the First Methodist Church.

Senior Citizens Meet Monday Night

Monday is activity night for the senior citizens, when they meet for their first session in November. Mrs. Lee C. Goughly, Floyd County Librarian, will direct the night program according to L. A. Marshall, Senior Citizen president.

The Senior Citizens will meet at 7:00 p. m. at the First Baptist Church Chapel parlor. An invitation is given the community by the club members to attend Monday's meeting.

Future plans for the Senior Citizens include a talk on Nov. 26 by a representative of the adult education program of Texas Tech, a Christmas covered dish dinner, and an adult education study "You and Your Community" to open in January.

Two Thanksgivings Calendared for November

The observance of Thanksgiving Day has been brought to the minds of Floydada citizens as a dilemma. What day to observe Thanksgiving Day this year, Nov. 22 or Nov. 23?

Thanksgiving traditionally falls on the fourth Thursday in November. Although observed by the Pilgrim fathers in the early days of the nation, it did not become an official holiday until President Lincoln's proclamation in 1863.

FOR AT least on one occasion prior to World War II, President Franklin D. Roosevelt issued a proclamation on Thanksgiving which many Texans believed was in conflict with customary observance of the day.

But this year November has five Thursdays, the same as when President Roosevelt caused confusion among the people over Thanksgiving Day. The Texas Legislature has designated the last Thursday in November as the official date in Texas. Several weeks ago the Retail Merchants Association committee of this city voted to close their stores on Thursday, Nov. 29. Other local businesses that will observe this day include the County Agents, Floydada Public School system, City Hall, Pioneer Gas Company, First National Bank, and offices at the Floyd County Court House.

POSTMASTER Edward Wester said calendars in the post office bore the designation of Nov. 22 for Thanksgiving Day, following the traditional Fourth Thursday observance. He said the office would be closed on that day. Other firms that will be closed on the 22nd will be the A.C.S. office, the S.C.S. office and the Farmers Home Administration.

The ministerial fellowship of this city has not planned a community program for this year as they have not been successful in the preceding years but the churches will hold their Thanksgiving service at 11:00 a. m. Sunday, Nov. 18.

THE Post Office will be closed Monday, Nov. 12 in observance of Veteran's Day, which falls on Sunday, Nov. 11.

Cotton Allotment Has Been Set For County

The cotton allotment for Floyd County has been set by the Department of Agriculture and the figures for it have been made known to the ASC committee.

However, this committee is under strict orders not to divulge the information until "it has been recorded in the federal register."

Thos. J. Hutchins, manager of the local office was asked what the reaction is likely to be to the acreage announcement when it is made public. "I think the cotton growers of Floyd County are more likely to be pleased than not pleased," he answered.

The committee is expecting to receive permission to release the county quota any day.

At present the Fortenberrys plan to return to Floyd County in the spring to resume farming near

IRONMANS WILL MAKE HOME AT IOWA PARK THIS FALL

Mr. and Mrs. Noel Troutman, who have made their home at Floydada for more than a quarter of a century, have sold their residence here and are moving to Iowa Park.

Mr. Troutman, who is a building contractor, says he is retiring although he will build their new home at Iowa Park on lots he has already acquired, "and will do some work along."

His home on West Kentucky they have contracted to sell to Mrs. J. V. Daniel and are due to give possession sometime after the 15th of this month.

Iowa Park is Mr. Troutman's birth place and he still has relatives residing there.

Historic Ranch Has New Owner

That part of the Lewis Ranch in east Floyd County which includes the original preemption survey taken up by the late Mr. and Mrs. Lal H. Lewis in 1830, has a new owner.

The new owner is Robert W. Overstreet of Tahoka. The deed covers 1911.2 acres which John F. Lewis inherited as part of the estate of his parents.

Deeds transferring the ownership from Mrs. Ethel Lewis, widow of the late John F. Lewis (son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lewis) were put on record in the county clerk's office the first of this week.

Filing of the deed completed a transaction which was contracted four years ago. The John F. Lewis family continued to occupy the ranch during that period until this summer. Shortly before the sale of the ranch the Lewis' had built a new home which is included in the sale.

John F. Lewis was in the purebred Hereford breeding business at the time of his death. Mrs. Lewis has recently completed dispersing this herd. She and her family of three live in Canyon where she is serving as secretary of a Hereford herd improvement association maintained by cattlemen of the panhandle.

The 1911.2 acres comprising the tract now owned by Overstreet is made up of 12 tracts, ranging in size from 6.3 acres "vacancy" strip to a "long" section of 675.4 acres.

The Overstreets are Lynn County farmers. Mr. Overstreet also has charge of Hale County farm land. Their principal crop is cotton. They have been spending week-ends at their new ranch home as opportunity permitted.

The new home built by John F. Lewis about four years ago took the place of a rambling ranch house on adjacent ground which was built by Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lewis and in which a large family of boys and girls was reared.

The ranch is 20 miles north and east of Floydada on the road to White Flat. Portions of it lie on the plains, and portions "under the hill". The ranch residence is below the caprock.

C-C Manager Has a New Assistant

Mr. and Mrs. Olin M. Watson Jr., 816 West Mississippi, are the proud parents of a daughter born last Thursday evening at 6:50 o'clock in West Texas Hospital, Lubbock. The young lady weighed six pounds and 12 1/2 ounces. She has been named Lou Ann.

Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Caruthers of Paradise and paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Olin Watson Sr. of this city.

Lou Ann's father is manager of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce.

The mother and new baby are reported to be doing fine.

Floydada citizens are among the many West Texans who are currently exploring new avenues of educational opportunities and community betterment. Pictured here at a recent conference at Texas Tech discussing these possibilities are Mrs. Alma Holmes and L. A. Marshall, (center, rear) of a group of eight, called in by G. H. Peters of the Tech Adult education program. (Texas Tech photo)

Soil Bank Acreage Reserve Plan Offers 'Out' For 1956

Some Floyd County farmers who are interested in the Soil Bank Conservation Reserve plan of USD A, recently offered them through the ASC committee, are still going to be able to put their 1956 crop land in with a five or ten-year contract and collect $11 per acre for it this year.

The requirement: "The cropland did not have a crop harvested or grazed and was not measured as cotton or wheat for marketing quotas in 1956."

The contract thus signed will include 1956 and will run through Dec. 31, 1961, if a five-year contract and 1966 if a 10-year contract.

ADDITIONALLY USDA will pay 80 per cent of the cost of establishing the cover. The cost includes the preparation, seeding and seed. Actually, the farm operator who does his own work of seeding can cover the entire outlay with the 80 per cent.

The Floyd County committee is due to set the price for "establishing a cover" this week, but had not done so Tuesday morning. In some counties in the state this figure for establishing cover has been put at 36 per acre.

The farm operator does not have to "dust" in his cover crop immediately. He does, however, have to do this work "when it is determined by the County ASC Committee that sufficient moisture is available to warrant planting."

The farm operator will have to be governed as to the kind of grass seed to put into the cover crop by the ASC. This ASC committee, however, is suggesting that the man contracting the land for the reserve

OPEN THE DUCK SEASON

Of numerous hunters who braved Friday morning's early blasts of wind and dust to greet the opening of the duck season on one of the low "lakes" left in the county, were Dr. Charles C. Craig, Dr. Jack Jordan, Bud Goen and Dale Goen.

The high winds kept the ducks at low elevations and the men in waders got their limit as five ducks sailed in from adjacent fields, Bud Goen said. Pintails were the most numerous of the fowls, he said.

Floyd County Championship To Be Decided Friday at Lockney

Floyd County's two entries in the district 2AA football race will square away tomorrow night in the annual battle for the championship of Floyd County. Participants will be the Lockney Longhorns and the Floydada Whitebills. Game time is 8:00 p. m. and Mitchell-Zimmerman field in Lockney is the site.

A large crowd is expected for this rivalry game that will tax the capacity of stadium and field. Both school bands are due to perform at the half-time to add color to the contest.

The Longhorns are still very much in the race for the district title. They have only a single loss on their record which they suffered last week at Spur. Before this they had won seven straight as they defeated Hale Center 29 - 3, Dismitt 27 - 6, Tulsa 20 - 9, Halls 21 - 14, Abernathy 33 - 12, Slaton 31 - 8, and Post 6 - 0.

The Spurl Bulldogs scored the Longhorns 26 - 0 in their meeting Friday night.

The Longhorns are at present in a three way tie with Spur and Abernathy for the loop lead.

FLOYDADA on the other hand has very little claim to fame this year. They have three wins, four losses and a tie on their season record and in district play are battling an even 500 having won 2 and lost 2.

These Floyd County games are usually played on their own merit, however, and past performance counts little when both clubs are tired up. Though Lockney is being picked as a solid favorite the "Winds are conceding nothing until the final score has been chalked up and the last whistle blows.

The Lockney-Floydada series has been running in cycles during the past 10 or 12 years. In 1932 and in the years since the Winds have won four straight. Before '32 Lockney had a nice victory skin and then before that it was Floydada again.

BOTH Floydada and Lockney will be trying to bounce back from defeats a week ago and both are expected to pull everything in the book to try and gain the victory. Feuds of years past have not been evident in recent meetings of the two clubs. They have played some of the cleanest and hardest football on their schedules when they came together.

Coach Rudy Hall's Longhorns are not heavy or big as football teams go. The Horns are probably as light a team as Floydada has met this season. Lockney does have speed to burn however and the team has been playing together for several years and has gained excellent timing and team work.

SCOUTS report the Lockney team prefers the split T formation and likes to run the ball. They pass well when they need to, however, and can also use the punt and quick kick to advantage when the time is ripe.

Floydada has been having its difficulties this year. Lapses on defensive play have cost them easy and a sputtering offensive that has relied strongly on the forward pass has made them an in and out ball club. What they can iron out this week will determine largely how well they will do come game time.

No check was made with either team as to injuries, but it was expected they would be near top condition.

Lockney's usual starters are at wide Donald Parish, 162 and Nelson Wolford, 140; at tackles Kelly Harrison, 165, and John Hanst, 167; at guards Coy Kidd, 157, and Byrro Brock, 172; at center Jerry Workman, 165; quarterback Gene Handley, 140; halfbacks Jerry Williams, 140, and Clifford Hardy, 142; and fullbacks Bill Hase, 163.

FLOYDADA, it appears, will be a little below top strength for the (See County Champs, back page)

LIPSTICK LOGIC
LOVE ALLEN

A calendar year runs from January to December, the school year from September through May. The flower year, however, runs from Crocus to Chrysanthemum.

These two bright flowers mark the exits and the entrances to Winter. The brave little crocus, peering at the world through the melting snow of spring, promises warmth and sunshine. The many-colored chrysanthemums, standing tall and confident, paint a brilliant backdrop for fall's final curtain.

With the threat of frost last week, thousands of beautiful mums were cut and stored in guest bathrooms, protected porches and garages. Profuse arrangements appeared at weekend festivities. Some of the harder blooms, no doubt, will survive to adorn Thanksgiving tables. Unlike many pretty flowers, they last for days and adapt themselves to any occasion, from a bride's luncheon to a chili supper after the football game.

One of the prettiest sights we've seen this fall was a yard full of yellow and bronze chrysanthemums. Its owner invited guests to what she called an "open yard." As we entered the living room and saw the gorgeous array through open terrace doors, we understood why. Against a green fence, bright pyrantha bushes stood in front of them planted in a perfect semicircle around the small green lawn, tall yellow chrysanthemums formed a line of color. In front of these and growing shorter, rich shades of rust added a deeper note. And flitting above the row of small bronze flowers that edged the terrace, half a dozen monarch butterflies sported themselves as though invited to present a floor show.

In the warm sunlight of a Sunday afternoon, it was a sight to remember. Winter has its merits, but the song of our hearts as we close the chrysanthemum door must last until we reach the crocus gate next spring.

GRANDPA SOLVES MILITARY SERVICE SANS SEPARATION

NEW YORK — An Army Reserve sergeant has found a way to make military service a family affair.

Master Sergeant George C. Gramlich of (1006 Esplanade) the Bronx, at 53 is a seasoned soldier with 22 years of combined active and Reserve military service. He also is a proud grandfather with an understandable interest in the activities and welfare of his grandson, Thomas Silver Jr.

Gramlich wanted his grandson to have the experience of military service. At the same time, he disliked the thought of the separation from young Tom that the usual Army enlistment would produce.

Grandfather Gramlich, with an assist from the Reserve Forces Act of 1966, found a way out of his dilemma. He and his grandson entered in the 352nd Signal Support Battalion, U.S. Army Reserve, a hometown unit in which both may complete the balance of their military service.

They are now together regularly for Army Reserve training periods. And the sergeant now has time which he never seemed to have before, to teach his grandson the proper use of firearms. A skilled marksman, he is the unit rifle instructor.

A man who had limbed too freely was late getting home and was berated by his wife for keeping her up. His alibi was that he'd taken the wrong bus.

"That I can understand," said his spouse, "but how did you find out you were on the wrong bus?"

"Well, I kind of thought it was," replied the confused man, "when I stood at one corner for a couple of hours, but what finally tipped me off was the fact that people kept coming in and ordering hamburgers."

Magazine Lists Top Ten Money Fleecing Schemes

Slick schemes to fleece you of your dollars account for almost 3% of all business, say the editors of Changing Times, The Kiplinger Magazine. Loud and successful, there are ten types of deals most prevalent at the moment.

The ten you should watch out for are: bait ads, fictitious list and comparative price ads; unsound earn-money-at-home schemes; high-pressure home-improvement schemes; questionable franchise deals, especially in vending machines; dishonest debt adjusters; unorderly-merchandise schemes; deceptively advertised obesity remedies; and "baldness cures"; questionable coupon book deals and fly-by-night cemetery lot promotions.

These deals often fool intelligent people. If you've ever fallen for one you may have made one of these common mistakes. You thought you could get something for nothing or believed merchandise could actually be bought at wholesale prices in a retail store; perhaps you thought yourself bargain-wise and sought out the most sensational offer; maybe you thought just to rid yourself of a pesky salesman or invested before checking up on the promoter.

Snake Stab
Bathshakes, copperheads, water moccasins and other pit vipers do not bite. They stab.

Mouth wide open and free-moving hollow fangs on either side of the upper jaw aimed for business, they stab their victim with a puncture much the same as a hypodermic injection according to the medical magazine Pfizer Spectrum.

Within minutes there is searing pain in the strike zone. Rapid swelling follows and fans out along the limb, which may swell to three or four times its normal size.

The object of immediate first aid is to prevent spread of the venom and remove as much of it as possible. A snake-bite kit contains all the first-aid equipment you need until a doctor takes over. If you have no kit, you can improvise.

Keep the victim absolutely quiet and apply a tourniquet around the limb just above the swelling to prevent the spread of venom. A belt, necktie or shirt will do the job.

With a sharp, sterile knife, make a series of incisions over the swelling, about an eighth of an inch deep, and a quarter to half inch long. You can sterilize a knife with a match, iodine, or alcohol.

Then suck out the poison and blood by mouth if a suction cup isn't available. The poison won't hurt you unless you have an open cut or a sore in your mouth. If the swelling advances, move the tourniquet higher up the limb and, if necessary, make another row of incisions.

Get a doctor as fast as possible. He can neutralize the venom with a counter-injection of antivenin.

MULE'S FATE

A Quaker Gentleman, even more mild-mannered and gentle than his ilk, was turtling down the road in a cart pulled by a mule, says the Louisville Courier-Journal. For no apparent reason the mule suddenly became balky. Just stopped.

The Quaker climbed out of the cart. He pulled at the collar of the mule and pleaded with him to get up and about. But without result; the mule remained in his balk.

Finally the Quaker reached the end of his rope.

"Mule," he said without raising his voice, "thou knowest that because of my religion I cannot beat thee or curse thee or abuse thee in any way.

"But, Mule," he continued, "what thou knowest not is that I can sell thee to a Methodist." —Anon.

DEVELOPING THE BRAZOS

MINERAL WELLS — The Brazos River's great flood of 1913 brought public reaction that ultimately caused creation by the state of the Brazos River Conservation and Reclamation District, which today is the Brazos River Authority. In large part, the Authority has sought to pay its own way. It has been careful that its projects would conserve water, help curb floods and produce income. Such are the benefits derived from the three major dams already located in the Brazos basin — Possum Kingdom, built by the Authority, and Whitney and Belton, built by the Federal government at the suggestion of the Authority. Besides these, there are many smaller dams on tributaries of the Brazos.

Sand Hill News

(By Mrs. James Jeffress)

SAND HILL, Nov. 6 — The weather has been unsettled for the past few days, so the harvest has slowed down a little. There is still a lot of cotton in the fields and some feed. The freeze got most of the vegetables. The cabbage and carrots are still good, and moving to the sheds slowly.

The pecans that the club ordered were received and weighed out Thursday afternoon. There were more sold than was meeting, so they are all gone. Those meeting at the school house to help with the pecans were Mmes. Pat Bullock, J. T. Spears, Lynn Miller, James Jeffress, Johnny Miller, Walter Knight, W. R. Billington, M. B. Swanner and H. F. Jackson.

The menu committee for the Thanksgiving supper which will be held Friday night, Nov. 23, met Thursday afternoon. They were Mmes. James Jeffress, H. F. Jackson and J. T. Spears. The menu will consist of chicken and dressing, cranberry salad, candied yams, green beans, hot rolls, pecan pie, coffee and tea. The food will be assigned at the next club meeting which will be Nov. 15. This meeting will be combined with a Stanley party which the club sponsors every three months. Everyone in the community is extended an invitation.

Mrs. J. T. Hucksaby and Mrs. Olin Baird were hostesses to a Tupperware Party in the home of Mrs. Hucksaby Friday afternoon. Everyone present enjoyed games then refreshments were served. Present were Mmes. Monroe Schulz, Mattie Baird, Gene Baird, William Mayo, Roy Slater, M. B. Swanner, Kirk Siler, Jr., Trapp Johnson, Simmons, Cates, Lawrence Stovall, Marvin Smith, Buddy Smith, Gladys Hammonds and the dealer, Mrs. Shannon.

Mrs. E. O. Adams was hostess to her young ladies Sunday school class, Friday night with a cake and slumber party in her home. Due to different reasons not many of the girls were able to attend but those attending enjoyed themselves. It was reported that they snacked and played records until the wee hours of the morning. Those attending were Molly Earp, Pearl Baird, Sarah Carey, and Jo Ellen Jackson. The girls were entertained because they won the Sunday school banner for the month with the highest grade.

Mrs. Dale Stringer and Stinson are spending a few days in Arkansas visiting with their daughter and sister and her family, Mrs. Dorothy Rhea. Dorothy and family are formerly of the community.

We were all glad Bro. Adams found a bed Friday night during the slumber party. Dale Stringer was kind enough to offer him one.

Mrs. J. T. Spears and children were in Plainview Saturday shopping.

Mrs. Kirk Elder Jr. of Ralls was here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Swanner Friday. Seems like Jo Ann hadn't been home in a long time and we miss her.

We are sorry to report that Donna and Patsy Schulz and Beverly Jeffress on the sick list this week. There may be others. Here's hoping you are all feeling better. It seems that a virus has been sweeping the community this week.

Mrs. M. B. Holmes has been moved to Peoples Hospital in Floydada this week and is reported as some better.

It seems the community's list of service men continues to grow. Some now serving in the armed forces are Jerry Gross, Jim Carey, Jim Womack, Gene Swanner and formerly from the community, Lynn Raley. Good luck to all you boys.

Homecoming was observed Sunday at the Sand Hill Baptist Church and those not attending missed a blessing. There was a good attendance. Quite a number of visitors were present. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Horton of Plainview and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Turner and family of Thivick were in services all day. They used to be members here. Other visitors were present in all three services. Highlights of the programs were the history of the church by Mrs. Tom Thomas, and Bro. Jessie Poe of Tulla was the guest speaker Sunday morning. A basket lunch was served at noon at the school house.

Joe Eary led the song services all during the day. Everyone was happy to have Wade Bowers back in the community. There was special music in the afternoon. Bro. Olaf Haile of Aiken brought the afternoon message.

Bro. Larry Young of Estacado brought the message Sunday night. Ken Swanner was home over the weekend visiting in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maryin Swanner.

All the club ladies should be thinking about the bazaar which will be held Dec. 4 at the Bishop Motor Co. We want our club to be well represented.

W. H. Mayo of the community was one of the winners at the new Furr's grocery store that opened in Lubbock Saturday. They were the lucky winners of one of the $20 bill of groceries.

Wednesday night will be business meeting night at the Sand Hill Church. Let's all plan to be present. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn of Plainview spent Saturday night in the home of Jim Holmes and Billie Gail. Mr.

"Ever since I became acquainted with this remarkable man, (Attorney General John Ben Shepperd) I wanted to dedicate a book to him and to tell my readers something about him. He is a vital force in the administration of justice and he has the vitality, the stamina, the vision, and the sheer courage to go places." So reads the dedication of a novel just published by author-attorney-criminologist Erle Stanley Gardner. The book, "The Case of The Terrified Typist" is the 89th volume written by Gardner and the first dedicated by him to a public official. Shepperd (left) discusses the new book with its author.

Tea And Style Show Today At Harmony Center

The Floyd County Home Demonstration Council will sponsor a county-wide tea and style show this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Harmony Club House. The theme to be carried out at the occasion is "Harvest Parade."

Each of the 14 home demonstration clubs of the county will have five adult models and two children to model if the club desires. Garments modeled will be those made by the club women during the year and will include coats, suits, dresses, skirts, blouses, dusters, hats, house coats and aprons.

Any club having a 4-H club winner will have the winner to model her garment.

The purpose of this occasion is to show the garments made in the advanced dress making course held in the county earlier this year and to encourage women to do more sewing in their homes.

Mrs. R. G. Dunlap is general chairman and working with her are Mrs. W. H. Bethel, publicity; Mrs. Zant Scott, food; Mrs. Tom Porter, entertainment and script; and Mrs. Elmer Norrell, stage.

No admission will be charged. Mrs. Dunlap urges the public to attend.

section of the county vote and has pointed the way to the final results for the whole county.

The tabulations at the office of County Clerk Margaret Collier, was completed shortly after 9 o'clock Tuesday night, and The Hesperian had completed its report to the Texas Election Bureau shortly after 9:30.

A tabulation of the Floyd County vote by precincts in the county is given in another column.

Tuesday noon it appeared that while Mr. Eisenhower had been given the greatest vote of confidence ever accorded a Republican candidate running for his second term, it appeared probable the president would have to work with a Congress having a majority of Democrats in both houses.

However, it appeared the president would have it easier working with his political opponents than with the right wing of his own party.

VOTERS will go to the polls again on Tuesday of next week, when the constitutional amendment designed to give aid to the disabled will be passed upon. Yesterday 12 absentee ballots had been cast in this election.

Wednesday Coach Watson said his starters were not sure but it would likely be Buttons Beedy and Buddy Waits on ends, Rusty Tunin and Elmer Williams or Vaughn Ginn at tackles, Ranny Vickers, Grant Cooper or Don Vickers at guard, James Teague at center, Ronnie Downing at quarterback, Don Colley and Robert Stovall at full-back, Frank Potts is improving some and may see action at the qb slot and if Huckabay is ok the regular backfield setup with Stovall at full may be followed.

Exemplary Conduct Praised by Police

A letter to the editor received by Cheryl Crawford, editor of high school news, chit chat and semi-gossip for The Hesperian, this week made her feel highly complimented. The letter came from Police Chief Horace R. Cage, who wrote praising Floydada youngsters for their good behavior and consideration for other peoples' property on Halloween night.

The letter, reprinted in full, said there was not a single instance of any of the young people getting "out of line."

Fact is, most of the youngsters set a good example for their elders, especially in their driving habits, said the chief.

Cotton Needs Hard Frost say Growers

Long enough freeze but not hard enough has been the story of the first killing frosts in Floyd County.

Temperature in Floydada was below freezing, standing at 30 degrees for eight hours Sunday night and again on Tuesday from 7 p. m. to 4 a. m. Wednesday.

Likewise there was over five hours Saturday night when the thermometer stood around 31 degrees.

The cold has served the good purpose of drying out furage feeds that have been mature enough to harvest but not dry enough. Several crops began moving Tuesday, but slowed up again Wednesday account of the humidity.

Cotton men, however, say the freeze has not killed off all the leaves, nor has it cracked enough of the bolls on late cotton. The temperature drop needs to go another five degrees now that the growth has been stopped, most cotton men say.

Fall Boating Differs From Summer Sport

Now is the perfect time for outdoor cruising — the heat of summer is over and the fish are biting again. Unfortunately many sportsmen don't enjoy fall boating and blame the weather. Actually, their fun is spoiled because they continue their summer boating methods. Fall boating is different, explains Willard Crandall, boating editor of Sports Afield magazine.

Almost any "family" boat will make a fall fishing craft, but some types of boats are better suited to this than others. Speed over cool water creates a cold wind, so the slower, small-motored outfit comes into its own in the fall. Particularly fine when it's cooler are the shelter boats—the cabin cruisers, the sedans and convertible runabouts.

Plastic windshields are a big help in the fall, and good convertible tops are available for the sportsman who wants to add one to his open utility or runabout.

There are many tricks to make cool-weather boating safer and more comfortable. For any extended open-water trip, take a portable radio so you can get the latest weather reports. Clothes should be worn outside. A life jacket — the new form-fitting water-ski type — is perfect for fall boating. Worn under the windbreaker, it makes wonderful insulation and it will still do the same job of keeping the wearer up should he go overboard. A light portable stove aboard is perfect for brewing hot coffee or soup.

One place tricks are not in order is with the motor. All necessary repairs should precede the trip — fall breakdowns are even less fun than summer ones — but a different oil mixture, or other tinkering such as changing carburetor adjustment, may only lead to trouble. With a modern outboard, start it exactly as in summer. If it won't go, try slowly increasing the choke. If it still won't go, it probably wouldn't go in summer either.

If you must tinker, check on the battery and lower unit lubricant. Both may be down after summer. Cold weather might require more battery juice, too.

Methodist Lay Leader Speaks At WSCS Meet

The streamlined 1957 Oldsmobile silhouette, more than two inches lower and nearly five inches longer than last year, presents as its most salient styling motif the new accent stripe. The accent stripe is available in eight colors that contrast with the body color. It originates just forward of the dip in the belt line and sweeps downwards and then through the rear fender panel to the taillight trim.

Joe Salem of Sudan was guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church, Monday morning at 10 o'clock in the parlor of the church.

Salem, introduced by Mrs. Carl L. Minor Jr., program chairman, spoke on the United Nations contribution to world peace and prosperity and showed a film of the United Nations fall festival recently held in Sudan.

The film shown amazed the audience to think a town of 1348 population putting on such a festival that has received recognition all over the world.

Mr. Salem is prominent as a lay leader in the plains area of the Methodist Church.

Preceding the program Mrs. T. J. Hutchins, president, presided over the monthly business meeting. Mrs. C. O. Lyles, secretary, read the minutes of the last meeting.

Business at the meeting included: cars will leave at 7:30 a. m. Thursday morning from the church to attend the W.S.C.S. sub-district meeting at Oklahoma Lane Methodist Church; to pay the guest speaker for the morning $5 to cover travel expense; to pay $25 to Miss Betty Campbell of Lanesa, who graduated from McMurry College, Abilene, in May, as a missionary to Cuba; and to send clothes to Haiti for the tornado refugees.

The next monthly meeting will be Dec. 3 in the parlor of the church.

The Ruth Circle of the W.S.C.S. will meet Wednesday morning, Nov. 14, in the parlor of the church. Mrs. Howard Gregory will present the program on "Problems of the Church."

News of Broadway

(By Mrs. T. E. Thornhill)

BROADWAY, Nov. 5 — Well, friends and neighbors, it seems that we do not know very much news. Everyone on East plains, when you ask them if they have any news, just say, we are still cleaning out the sand from Friday. We are happy to learn that it was not as bad everywhere as it was here. It was the most awful one we can remember, but we have been told that on Thanksgiving Day in 1926 there was one about like this. We don't remember it and hope we don't ever have another as bad as this one was. There are drifts of sand like snow drifts (when it ever snows). The cotton is so full of dirt, wonder if the gin can get it out.

Before this goes to press the General Election will be over. Our most earnest prayer is that God will lead the people in this election to choose the man for president that would be best for our nation. With the war in the other countries, sure puts one to studying.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Winegar, Harvey Mac, Robert and Georgia Ann were Sunday visitors with Mrs. Winegar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Spence in Floydada.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Howard were Sunday visitors with his sister and family in Tahoka.

Quite a number of folks from our community attended the Hallowe'en Carnival in McAdoo Wednesday night.

Mrs. J. M. Bennett was on the sick list one day last week but at the last report was feeling much better.

Some had defoliated their cotton since one could not get hands to pull it, but since the sand storm you can not tell which fields were defoliated and which were not.

W. H. Leatherwood says he got lost for a short time in the storm Friday. He says it surely is not a good feeling.

The Harvest Carnival was held at the Crosbyton School Friday night. Everyone reports a wonderful time. Cheryl Starrett spent Saturday night in the Conda Starrett home.

Mr. and Mrs. Author Brazell of Freer, spent a few days last week with his sister, Mrs. Lizzie Winegar and his nephews and families, the A. L. and Kelton Winegars.

We were happy to learn that Mrs. J. B. Marley was dismissed by the doctor on Wednesday of last week. She had been under a doctors care since August when she was injured in a car wreck.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Thornhill had planned to spend the week-end in Kermit but due to the storm they didn't make it.

Mrs. Colene Thompson, Monica, Rodney, called in the home of Mrs. T. E. Thornhill on Thursday morning of last week.

Mrs. D. D. Thornhill visited with Mrs. Homer Smith and Bessie on Wednesday evening of last week and the ladies made Bessie a Hallowe'en costume.

It seems the youngsters got kinda wild with their Hallowe'en fun in Crosbyton on Wednesday night.

The M. R. Givens were Lubbock shoppers Saturday and visited with the Ray Givens while over there.

Mrs. A. L. Rathel, Jerry and Max visited Saturday night with the Richard Proctors in Crosbyton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Givens of Lubbock were Sunday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Givens, Teddy, Preston and Mickey.

Cecil Berry, Frances and Marshall took Mr. Berry's mother, Mrs. Maude Berry, to her home in Hillsboro Saturday. She has been visiting in the Cecil Berry home for the past two weeks.

Father of Mrs. Atteberry Buried at Bowie

Funeral service for Charlie Aaron, 68, was held Wednesday, Oct. 31, at Bowie.

A native of Johnson County Mr. Aaron had been a resident of Quannah for several years. He is the father of Mrs. Daisy Atteberry.

Travis G. Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rufus E. Young of the South Plains Community, arrived home the first of this week after receiving his discharge from the United States Army at Camp Chaffee, Ark. Travis served 18 months of his two years in Germany.

Cheryl's Chatter

(about events at Floydada High)

Kids of Floydada High School may swell so with pride they'll bust some buttons when they read this unexpected (by me) note from City Police Chief Horace R. Cage. The idea of somebody in authority complimenting us and being proud of us for good behavior slays me. Here is what Mr. Cage's note says in full: "The Floydada Police Department would like to commend highly the young people for the good conduct that prevailed in our town on Halloween night. We wish to thank the parents who gave parties or sponsored entertainment in any way for our youth, encouraging them in a wholesome celebration of the holiday."

"We wish to compliment our youth on being some of the finest youngsters in this area, not only on Halloween but at all times! The police department is in a position to know the conditions in some neighboring towns, and in comparison, we are indeed fortunate in having such a well-behaved group of young people. "Only a small minority are responsible for the few misdemeanors that occur while the large majority willingly observe the laws. Often the good behavior of our youth goes unnoticed while the bad, receives much publicity. For this reason, we wish to express publicly our appreciation for their cooperation in keeping order in our town. "Especially do we want to compliment them on the traffic situation. In fact, the adults of our town might very well learn some lessons from them; for one of our most bothersome problems is the small downtown traffic irregularities committed by adult drivers.

"Let's match our youth by observing more carefully the traffic regulations!"

(Signed) H. R. Cage
Friday night the "Winds" journey to Lockney for their last out-of-town game. This is also their last night game. Everybody should really get 'em' and attend the pep rally tonight! Lockney is not very far away so let's ALL go to Lockney and let our team know that we are backing them!

Plans are underway for the Floydada High School Homecoming next week. The different organizations will give socials for the ex-members.

Eisenhower beat Stevenson in a student election held at F.H.S. The Civics class sponsored this election.

The seniors are working like mad to make money for their senior class. Among various things they are selling nuts (everybody buy one for Homecoming, that means older people, too!), selling popcorn at the football games, selling tags, having cake sales, and hot dog sales. Don Norman, Elmer Williams, and Joe Noland have a new recipe for hot dogs. Very good!

The class picture came in last week and everyone was reading pictures. The students received their pictures in a class meeting. The seniors will get the proofs for their pictures within 10 days.
Speak, how does your car ride with no air in the tires?

Of course, the week would not be complete without another engaged couple on the scene. Kay Callaway is 'sporting' an engagement ring now. You can guess who the lucky boy is!

Robert Stovall had a dance Halloween night and Saturday night. Both were big successes. Wonder if the floor is cracked after the "Texas stomp"?

The after-game party at the Baptist Church was really nice. Some of the Post Kids stayed for it. Not many towns can get E.P. to do a personal appearance! Hal!

Did you know that "Willy" Shakespeare washed windows for a living while he was in London? "Hicky" said so, and also put it on his exam paper! Smart kid!

Snow Drop looks mighty happy since that week end visit from Elvis. She has a darling new haircut and looks real "smerty"!

The Basketball girls scrimmage Matador tonight, here. Good luck! Couples seen around on dates and in the halls of "Flus" have been as follows:

Sandra Roe and Bobby Christian, Gaynelle Boothe and Dale Lawson, Glea Adams and Rex Jones, Gloria Carthel and Jay Johnson, DeAnne Newberry and David Blair, Vanda Carter and Bill Keeling, Leora King and Don Norman, Judy Jackson and Ed Whitehead, Mary Cogdell and Bob Deik, Pat Hickerson and Gary Huckabee, Billie Holmes and Bobby Welborn, Annella Thurston and Kearney Edmiston.

Suzi Nelson and Norman Davis, Ann Jones and David Mount, Jerri Floyd and Grant Cooper, Juanell Wood and James Teague, Marisue Burleson and Button Beedy, Kay Callaway and Speck Brian, Sharon Edmiston and Keith Armstrong, Freida Smith and Kelly King, Sue McClung and Henry Self, Carolyn Cates and Buddy Watts, Max Harrison and Jaynette Marquis, Sue Kendrick and Billy Gilliland.

Carol Lawson and Don Colley, Linda Welborn and Vaughn Ginn, Burlene Huckabee and Delbert Tompkins, Janie Roberts and Kendra Julian, Sue Durham and Herbert Irwin, Genell Cantrell and George Blanton, Beth Crawford and A. C. Pratt, Virginia Day and Harvey Allen, and Nedra Jarrett and Eddie Childs.

Here's a joke about voting:

"Did you vote for the honor system?"
"Bet I did — four times."
Mr. Rudy: Will you girls stop exchanging notes in the back of the room?"

Virginia: Them ain't notes, them's cards. We're playing bridge.
See ya at school!

South Plains News

(By Mrs. Murray Julian)

SOUTH PLAINS, Nov. 5 — It was hard to tell who had the most fun on Halloween, the adults or the "children of the community. Every kind of witch, spook, ghost and other horrible looking creatures were roaming around South Plains knocking on doors and asking for "trick or treat!" There was only fun for all, with no pranks reported.

Halloween parties were held at the different rooms at school on Wednesday afternoon. In the rooms of J. M. Williams, Mrs. Ray Smith and Mrs. Oscar Hewitt parties with refreshments and treats for each and every child were held, with several mothers in each room acting as hostesses.

The home of Mrs. Arby Mulder was the meeting place for a party on Thursday morning from 9:30 until 11. the retiring governor, for the Legislature's consideration.

1. Full-time paid parole supervisors.
2. Authority to back up responsibilities placed on the governor.
3. Abolition of earmarked special funds.
4. A building for housing state archives.

Austin's biggest spotlight will, of course, be turned on the Capitol building come January. Arrival of a new Legislature will quicken the tempo of the city. Large turnovers in the summer primaries mean a horde of newcomers to both houses.

CRUSADE FOR ARCHIVES — Legislators likely will hear many pleas for a "permanent and proper home" for Texas archives.

Group after group has joined the crusade to protect the state's historical documents. Their theme, a remote Quonset hut is no fitting place to house the original Texas Declaration of Independence and William B. Travis' famous "victory or death" letter from the Alamo.

Besides being unhandy and unsuitable, say the crusaders, the hut is unsafe. It's the same building where Highway Department records burned two years ago. It's leaky, and some water already has seeped in and damaged some documents.

Texas State Historical Foundation is taking the lead in rallying its 1,400 members and other tradition-minded groups to seek legislative action.

WATER MONEY SOUGHT — Texas Water Resources Committee is working against time to have a statewide water conservation program ready for the next Legislature.

Already approved by the committee is a proposed $10,000,000 appropriation to buy storage space in federal reservoirs.

Three other proposals are being re-written and will be taken up at a December meeting. They are: (1) an anti-pollution bill to deal with contamination of underground water supplies; (2) a constitutional amendment to set up a $100,000,000 bond fund to finance local conservation projects and (3) an enabling bill to finance the bond revenue.

Also still being considered is a three-cent property tax with proceeds marked for water conservation.

Some observers have suggested that several plans operating all at once will be needed to finance the kind of water program Texas needs. Texas as League of Municipalities is backing a $300,000,000 program.

SAM HOUSTON SHRINE — Another request of the Legislature, this one from Huntville, will be laid before both houses in Austin, come January. Asked for will be $82,000 to add three new wings to the Sam Houston Memorial Museum, plus a $3,000 appropriation increase for maintenance.

GAS PRICING FORMULA — Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd has filed a "friend of the court" brief in the case of Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co. vs. The City of Detroit. He wants the U. S. Supreme Court to review a decision by the court of appeals for the District of Columbia.

Shepperd's complaint is that the appeals court decision compels the FPC to use a gas pricing formula that penalizes small producers. "The Federal Government should not have the power to fix Texas natural gas prices," Shepperd contended, "but if they assert that power, then the FPC should determine local prices on a local basis."

CHRISTMAS IS WHITE HOPE — Despite a steady four-month sales decline, Texas merchants still think Christmas will cure the year's average.

Opinion surveys by the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research show that "typical merchants are confident that holiday business will surpass 1955 and that satisfactory volume can be expected well into 1957."

Latest figures pointed the other way. September sales were down 12 percent from a year ago, and the year as a whole was 6 per cent under 1955. Slipping significantly from last year were: Automobiles, 28 per cent; Food Stores, 18 per cent; Furniture, 13 per cent; Building Materials, 13 per cent.

Bureau explanation in a nutshell: People bought so heavily in '55, they're having to use '56 income to pay off the installments.

FARMERS AT WORK — Wide-spread rains, though generally light, put farmers to work day and night. It was a chance to get winter crops in before the soil dried out again. But it wasn't soon enough, say agriculture experts, to prevent a hard winter for livestock owners.

"It's pretty late in the year for enough winter grazing to be produced. Herds will require heavy supplemental feeding," said a spokesman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "But with additional moisture, farmers and ranchers can begin their 'comeback' next spring and summer."

SHORT SNORTS — Frank A. Driskill is the new administrative assistant to Land Commr. Earl Rudder. Driskill, a Crockett businessman, succeeds Douglas Weitzel who went to Longview as an investigator in the district attorney's office.

Six major air-sampling stations will operate in Texas after the first of the year, reports the State Department of Health. Sites will be Dallas, Houston, Corpus Christi, San Antonio, El Paso and Point O'Connor on the Gulf Coast. Air will be tested for sources and types of contamination.

State assistance for Austin city finances was suggested by a Travis County grand jury last week. It was noted that the city furnishes police and fire protection and other governmental services to state institutions and buildings — all except from city taxes.

Texas contributions of $5,000 have been sent to Europe to help feed refugees in Hungary, according to John Gillies, Texas Director of the Christian Rural Overseas Program. Request has gone to Washington for approval of 1957 Texas cotton acreage allotments, the Texas Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee has announced. Figures were not released. West Texas cotton farmers say they will be unable to repay their obligations and make a normal income unless their acreage quotas are increased.

Lawrence E. Ledbetter, superintendent of the Capitol building and grounds, has retired after 38 years of state service. He was among 17 long-time employees of the Board of Control to retire at the same time. A new policy of that department makes retirement compulsory at the age of 72. Those leaving ranged in age from 70 to 82.

general manager. "DESIGNED to provide unequalled driving ease, comfort, safety and performance for motorists on America's turnpikes and freeways as well as on rutty, rural roads or city streets, they represent one of the most extensive model changes in the history of the automotive industry."

"We are confident they will present Mercury's greatest challenge for public favor."

Mercury's long, flowing lines are highlighted by graceful, sculptured side projectiles topping low rear fenders and terminating in massive V-angle tail-lights which make Mercury unmistakable on any road.

THE NEW Mercury "dream car" styling is based on the XM-Turnpike Cruiser — an experimental model — which was introduced last January and has won nation-wide approval on its coast-to-coast tour this year.

News of Dougherty

(By Mrs. W. J. Ross)

DOUGHERTY, Nov. 5 — During the past week the weather man has literally thrown the book at us with severe wind and dust storms, intermittent showers, fog and sleet showers; although the low temperatures of mid-twenties forecast for several days last week failed to materialize, we have definitely had frost.

The community was saddened by the passing of Mrs. H. T. Harris Saturday afternoon, Nov. 3, at the Baptist parsonage at Whiteflat. Mrs. Harris had been in poor health for several years, and was hospitalized at the Traweck Hospital at Matador Monday till Saturday afternoon. Her condition was listed as critical. Her

"Dream car" design for driving today is offered by Mercury in its completely new line for 1957. Representing one of the most extensive model changes in history, the 1957 Mercury has a unique styling theme highlighted by graceful, sculptured side projectiles topping low rear fenders and terminating in massive V-angle tail-lights. Entirely new, bigger bodies designed especially for Mercury are wider and longer and roomier, giving more passenger comfort. Overall height has been reduced four inches, yet head room has been increased two inches. A softer ride, better handling and roadability result from newly engineered chassis features, which include the industry's first air-cushion rear suspension on many models. A choice of a 255 hp. or 290 hp. V-8 engine is offered in Mercury's 15 new models in Monterey, Montclair and station wagon series. Pictured is the Mercury Montclair four-door sedan

Rail Rate Cut Made on Cattle Hay Shipments

AUSTIN — Farmers and ranchers in the 233 drought-stricken counties of Texas will save several million dollars as the result of drastic freight rate reductions put into effect by the railroads on shipments of cattle and on carload lots of hay.

This is the third time in four years Texas railroads have slashed rates as they cut prices to hard-hit ranchers and farmers. The two previous rate reductions resulted in a saving of more than $22,000,000 to Texas agriculturists.

The freight rate reductions were made at the request of President Eisenhower. A 50 per cent cut in rates for hay in carload lots was immediately put into effect.

Rates were also established for outbound movement of livestock from the drought-stricken areas to western feeding grounds which will permit free return transportation to originating points.

in 1953 was $20,000,000 when the railroads reduced freight rates on grains and dairy feeds. More than $2,000,000 was contributed in 1954 by the various Texas railroads when they slashed rates on hay in half.

"The saving at this time will, of course, be governed by the length of the drought period," said Kenneth McCalla, general counsel for the Texas Railroad Association. "I think it is significant to note that the railroads are the only carriers which have made drastic adjustments to freight rates to aid our hard-hit farmers and ranchers."

Who says dream cars never come true?

Dynamite from Detroit

Coming! America's first production dream car — it will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

The old Detroit rule was to introduce new features gradually, to make little changes each year. Sometimes a new grille, an engine improvement, or new colors and trim.

We broke that rule. In fact, we broke all the rules. This is dynamite!

For you are not the only one who has dreamed of a totally modern car, a car that has everything you find at automobile shows, in illustrations, and in custom-built experimental cars.

Detroit has had that dream, too. And that's why the 1957 Mercury is the car that has honestly excited the most car-jaded, the most sophisticated of Detroit's automotive experts.

When you see the new 1957 Mercury, you'll see America's first full-production dream car—a car that will influence the shape of cars for years to come.

You'll see a dream car you can own and drive—a car that has far more than startling years-ahead beauty.

THE BIG M for '57 boasts dream-car features never before found outside a designer's dreambook: a Keyboard Control that makes ordinary push-button driving old-fashioned; an exclusive Floating Ride with a revolutionary new cushioning action you have to feel to believe. There are Mercury "firsts" everywhere you look. A Power-Booster Engine Fan in the Montclair series that saves horsepower other cars waste. And many more Mercury exclusives.

You'll see THE BIG M—the new Mercury for 1957 —soon. You'll see it. You'll drive it. The first dream car that can be yours. The dynamite is on its way from Detroit to your dealer's—now!

VIEWS AND COMMENT

Coxcomb Does Well. Flower garden growers in more numbers are finding coxcomb a late summer and fall success. The gorgeous red rooster's crown was in evidence in many yards this year. Some of them reached giant proportions—ten inches and more in length, as much as four or five inches across. Also a long established favorite is the bulb produced gladioli which persists under conditions good or bad, to make many-colored beauty in the flower garden.

Rather like humans everywhere to want to grow something your soil or climatic conditions are not adapted to while scorning the things that are sure-fire successes. The old-fashioned castor bean makes a background splash of color that pleases the eye in the late summer and fall, while the beauty of the crepe myrtle bushes in mid summer was never more apparent than in this dry unfavorable year of 1956.

Watch for soybeans to grow in favor as a field crop on Floyd County farms, particularly irrigated places. The tip off is in the preparation of grain dealers to handle the crop and discovery of new harvesting devices that materially reduce the shatter loss in the field. A few farmers have had soybeans for next year's planting by the nitrogen. They like the favorable attitude of USDA and the cornbelt congressmen to this crop and they like the way the land is enriched for next year's planting by the nitrogen gathering bean.

Except for silage we haven't found any farmers who are pleased with their results with field corn this year, even the hybrid varieties. For harvesting and marketing the fields we have heard from were disappointments. Production figures were far too low to warrant any enthusiasm. Perhaps research will lend itself to better yields. One good farmer said that the varieties of corn we have so far must have some rain during the growing season, regardless of ample irrigation water. We wouldn't know.

A good way to encourage industry in your own community this fall would be to see to it that your turkey is a Floyd County grown fowl. Several flocks, big and little, are as close as your telephone. Tell your grocer before you buy for Thanksgiving or you could buy direct from the grower. Don't get the notion you can't get the kind of turkey you want and drive hell for leather away off yonder like you do when you need a pair of shoes.

Speaking of shoes, we just can't believe the woman who says she can't be fitted in a stylish shoe in Floydada. We think she is telling a nice, ladylike fib but we dare not tell her so.

Duck hunters had it good Friday morning last. Those who braved high winds and dust to hunt out the few remaining lakes with water in them got all the ducks the law would allow. They could have gotten many more, especially of the pintails. How that could have been fun though in that weather is beyond our range of imagination. We would have had to have a lot of courage just to get out and tail up a poor cow, much less probe through the inky darkness and dust, wade out into a cold lake and wait for the fowls to sail in from the grazing grounds.

Two-Cent Cabbage. During the depression it was estimated by the housewife that when cabbage got as cheap as two and a half cents it was time to make sauerkraut. Floyd County home storage places ought to bulge with kraut this winter with the farmer selling his cabbage at $12.50 a ton and the grocer retailing at two cents a pound. Good thing about this crop, however, it can wait for a market unless a tremendous hard freeze hits. And a crop can be salvaged with a herd of sheep. Continued late growing season has made many cabbage heads too big for the retail market, but there are ways of salvaging the loss in bad market years. Cabbage in a good market year really pay off. One thing local growers found out this season, you can't neglect to battle insects.

Last year lettuce went begging but this season the few lettuce fields are paying off good, contrary to the experience with cabbage, tomatoes and peppers. The lure of the big money will keep enough experimenting going on until the storing and marketing facilities are provided when we confidently expect vegetable growing to become an established part of the farming program.

In some communities egg production as a commercial venture is taking hold. Speaking of the local attitude only, people who are in position to venture into this kind of business are not impressed. Egg production is a specialist's job and has some of the same objectionable features as dairying. You have to be on the job. Plains farmers like it different.

The Soil Bank has taken or will take millions of acres out of production, the nation turning to a program of scarcity to bolster farm prices. The nature of a farming man is to grow all he can grow, to produce abundantly. With half the world's population hungry there ought to be a way to get the haves and the have nots together. An easy thing to talk about, hard to do.

THE WORM STORY

It seems that a family of worms, consisting of Papa Worm, Mama Worm, and Baby Worm, dwelt in a field, according to a story that has been going the rounds of various newspapers and magazines.

One day the Worm family heard that a farmer was going to plow that particular field, and so they decided that the safe thing to do would be to move to another field. This they did.

The next day, when Baby Worm looked across to the old field, he saw the farmer was already plowing the field. Turning to his parents, Baby Worm exclaimed, "It's lucky we moved, or all four of us might have died!"

The question is, why did Baby Worm say "all four of us"? If you are quick-witted, you may be able to answer right "off the bat," but your answer may be wrong. If you are a deep thinker, it may take you a little longer, but you may get it right. No fooling, it's a tricky question!

—Baby worm couldn't count right.

Hay Price Increase Absorbs Benefits of Drouth Program

Dissatisfaction with the new drouth relief hay and feed concentrate program of the Federal Government is becoming evident from letters received by the Texas Department of Agriculture.

Farmers are complaining that the monetary aid received was immediately devoured by a corresponding increase in hay prices. A price study by the department seems to bear out this criticism.

After four months of negotiations, the Texas Emergency Drouth Committee succeeded in attempts to get the Federal Government to re-instate a drouth aid program in the state. The plan went into effect in October. It called for $7.50 per ton grants-in-aid for drouth area farmers on hay or roughage purchases. In addition, a price reduction of $1.50 for each hundred pounds of feed concentrate in government storage was granted needy stock farmers.

The state committee, composed of farmers and leading agriculturists, strongly recommended that the government also inaugurate some temporary form of price controls on roughage and feeds. This phase of the program was neglected when the plan went into operation.

Here are the results of price studies since that time:

In June, when a new relief plan was suggested, grass hay was selling mostly at $33.70 per ton. In July, when the federal government gave notice that it probably would start a program, grass hay went to $38.20 and in September — prices stood at $42.90. This $9.20 increase not only takes all of the $7.50 aid allotted farmers, but makes it more expensive than when no program was in effect.

The same was true as to legume hay. June prices went from $34.80 to $39.60 in July and then to $48.10 per ton in September — an astounding increase of $13.30 per ton. Hulls jumped from $15.80 to $24.20 and mixed hulls and meal from $35.80 to $42.80 in the same period.

Temporary controls would have gone a long way towards applying the relief money where it was intended.

Lt. (jg) and Mrs. Ray Brashler and baby of Honolulu, Hawaii, were seen visitors Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gene T. Arwine and daughter.

Delks to Show New GMC Truck This Week-End

Show day for the new GMC trucks for 1957 will be Friday of this week at Delk Pontiac-GMC on North Second Street, the same as the date for showing the new models of the 1957 Pontiac.

The Delks are particularly proud of their new models this year. They expect the new GMC trucks to walk away with the honors. It carries an advanced look in styling and best-of-the-industry horse power for light and medium-duty truck users. A new 347 cubic inch V-8 truck engine with 206 gross horsepower will be in 1957 GMC light and medium-duty trucks, giving them a performance edge that leads the list of many dramatic new model changes.

"With our new V-8 we have one of the most important power developments in GMC truck history," says Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of General Motors and general manager of GMC Truck and Coach Division.

"Our 1957 V-8 trucks are so powerful that some models have one horsepower of pulling strength for each 15 1/2 pounds of vehicle weight. This power resource means they are able to walk away with a load without sacrificing nimbleness, maneuverability or roadability."

The extra power for the new GMC models also means an added safety factor as drivers will find a faster response in an emergency, Monaghan said.

Newly designed transmissions and axles provide longer life and greater capacity for these new trucks, he said.

The flair of the rear fender fin houses an integrated tail and back-up lamp and a safety reflector.

The Star Flight styling of the 1957 Pontiac is further accentuated by a wind-split molding in the rear fender. On the Star Chief models this torpedo-shaped wind-split is sheathed in stainless steel. A full range of excitingly modern colors is available on the 16 body styles.

THE EYE catching appeal of the 1957 Pontiac is not limited to exterior styling for the new cars offer the most luxurious color-keyed interiors in Pontiac history. Super Chief series models feature upholstery of colorful combination in "horizons" patterned nylon faced fabric and grained vinyl coated fabrics.

LIBRARY NEWS

(Mrs. Lee C. Golightly)

Some new books in the library are:

"The Suna Story" by Kathryn Hulme. It is the portrait of Sister Luke, a Belgian girl who turned aside from marriage to enter a famous nursing order. The chapters on Africa are the heart of the book; the spirit of Dr. Schweitzer walks through them. Edward Wells says, "to read The Suna Story is to be brought within the radiance of a noble, deeply felt experience."

"How To Believe" by Ralph W. Sockmah, D.D. is a book on faith. Here are some questions answered in the book: What is faith? What can we reasonably believe? Does it matter what we believe?

"Man Against the Jungle" by Ritchie Calder is the account of the hazardous mission which began in the equatorial jungles of Borneo and adventured through seven Asian countries to the mountainous recesses of Afghanistan. It is a heartening story of real international cooperation and achievement of the United States effectively at work.

And for the little folk, "The Story of Texas" by George Sessions Perry. He has written a story of great achievements, that can be read with pride by every American boy and girl. The illustrations by John Barron are as inspiring as the text.

Whirlwinds Drop From Contention With 32 - 13 Loss To Antelopes

The Floydada Whirlwinds were eliminated as contenders for the AAA crown Friday night as they fell before the Post Antelopes 32 - 13. It was the second district loss for the Whirlwinds and left the title chase tied between Lockney, Abernathy and Spur, each with a single loss.

The Floydada boys entered the game as slight underdogs but led through most of the first three periods. The hapless Whirlwinds were able to outgain the visiting Antelopes in the yardage department but could not match their scoring punch.

The green and white, choosing to "go for broke" from the starting whistle, saw their frantic battles backfire on almost every occasion as they set up Post in every single scoring drive the Antelopes mustered.

James Williams of the Antelope team did everything but take up tickets as he ran and passed the visitors to the lop-sided victory. Williams personally piled up 146 yards rushing and furnished the passing arm which gained another 42 yards.

WILLIAMS figured on every point Post made as he passed for the first TD, held for the extra point, ran the second six pointer, passed again for a score and then ran the point after, intercepted and went over to score, and finally plunged over from the one for the final tally

Floyd County Ex-Students of Tech Meet at Lockney

The Floyd County Texas Tech Ex-student Association held its annual home coming banquet at the Lockney High School Cafeteria last Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock.

R. C. Mitchell, president of the Floyd County organization, called the meeting to order. Ralph Johnson gave the invocation.

Following the evening meal, served by girls of Lockney High School, Mr. Mitchell introduced Polk Robinson of the coaching staff at Texas Tech College, as guest speaker of the evening.

Coach Robinson, basketball coach at Tech, told the exes of how he thinks his basketball team stands this fall and the future plans of construction at Texas Tech College.

At the close of the meeting, Mitchell appointed Mrs. Dorris Jones and J. S. Hale Jr. to secure a place for the next meeting of the association which will have in May of next year in Floydada.

The Winds were again held and this time Huckabay punted to Williams on the Post 2 yard line. After Post had been held at their 10 yard line they punted to Ronnie Downing on the Post 40 and he ran it back to the Antelope 26.

The Winds then mustered their first offensive that reached pay dirt when Downing passed to Buttons Beedy for 9 yards and the score Gary Huckabay ran the extra point and Floydada owned a 7 - 0 lead.

From this point on caution was thrown to the wind. Floydada did not punt in the remainder of the game.

Following the kick off Post was held and forced to punt from their 31 and they sent one to the Floydada 36. Floydada then had a pass intercepted and returned to the Floydada 43 where the Antelopes were in business for their first TD drive.

AS THE second period opened Post owned the ball on the Winds 22 with first and 10. After driving into the 29 Williams hit Noel White with a 20 yard heave that brought the Antelopes 6 points. Charles Morris then converted and the game was tied at 7 - 7.

Before the intermission Post had intercepted two more passes, one on their 10 yard line to rub out a Floydada threat and one on the Floydada 18 that would have brought the visitors another score except for the timely ending of the first half.

Opening the third period Floydada slugged their most impressive offense of the night as they drove quickly from their own 23 to the Post 4. Robert Stovall chucked up most of the yardage with a 52 yard

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of the Hesperian, issue dated Nov. 12, 1942.)

On Monday morning, Nov. 16, when the Floydada Public Schools resume their sessions after a week and two days time out for the school children to help in the cotton fields, the opening hour will be 10 o'clock. Superintendent Walter Travis said this week.

Frost and freeze three mornings of this week beginning Tuesday, added to somewhat drying weather otherwise, has resulted in putting many more harvesting crews into cotton fields. A better, drier sample of seed cotton is also going to the gins as another helpful result.

Thanksgiving holidays in Floydada Public Schools will be Thursday, Thanksgiving Day, and the following Friday, school resuming work on the Monday following.

Honoring the fourth birthday of her son, Robert, Mrs. Richard F. Stovall entertained with a party Tuesday afternoon from 3:30 to 5 o'clock. The children were entertained with various games.

Miss Mary Louise Medlen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Medlen, was chosen as one of the attendants to the queen on Homecoming day Saturday at West Texas State College, Canyon. Miss Medlen represented the Pi Omega sorority.

Gasoline rationing in Texas has been postponed to a date to be announced, and gasoline registration for passenger car owners has been postponed one week to Nov. 19-20-21; also the last day for delivering idle passenger car tires to the express company for purchase by the government has been set up from Nov. 12 to Nov. 22. This is the advice and instruction received late Tuesday by W. Edd Brown, chairman of the Floyd County rationing board.

The next Post score was set up by a fumble on the Floydada 30 and was finished off when Williams passed from the 11 to White behind the goal line. Williams added the PAT and Post took a 20 - 13 lead.

EARLY in the fourth quarter Post added the clincher when Williams intercepted a screen pass on the Floydada 35 and coasted over for the score untouched. The kick failed and the score was 26 - 13.

The final counter was scored when Floydada fumbled on their own 29 and Post set up shop at that point. Williams scored the tally from the 1 and Beedy blocked the point try to leave the score 32 - 13. Before the contest ended Post had come into possession two more times, once on an interception on the Floydada 41 and once on a fumble recovery on the 22.
