

General Light Rainfall Brightens Crop Prospect

Central, West Texas Soaked

In preparation for the spring plantings, winter grain and cover crops have been greatly aided by slow drizzles and showers in the four-day period from Sunday night through Wednesday.

At Floydada 68 hundredths to 85-hundredths. Other reports vary from 7-tenths to 1.05 inches over the county. But there was no indication late yesterday that the storm period is due to bring this county the soaking rainfall so badly needed.

First appreciable fall came Sunday night as a giant unrelenting of rain clouds covered south and southwest Texas to pour out the greatest February rain those areas had had in 30 years. The big rains moved up to within 150 miles of the high plains, and the overcast with some moisture spilled over into this area.

Drizzle, fog and overcast have continued throughout the four days since, but despite Weather Bureau predictions the additional rains that would mean a good season have failed to develop.

If the usual pattern is followed the rain clouds should clear within 24 or 36 hours and sunshine prevail. It would be worth a million dollars in irrigation money saved if the usual pattern is not followed and big rains should fall.

Dry land farmers, who devote time for more rain at this time are joined by irrigation farmers, many of whom have deep-plowed ground which needs five inches of rain fall.

The rainfall in portions of the west and southwest has been the most generous of many years, especially for the month of February. The Edwards Plateau, the Davis Mountains and a wide stretch of country lying north of these areas and west of the Brazos River, got big rains.

Likewise the Big Bend and the Rio Grande Valley had rains which were just at the right time to fill a sore need.

Ample rain has been falling east of the Brazos for several weeks since the beginning of the new year.

The rains which fell throughout the Abilene and the San Angelo farm and range country have had marked effect on the level of the waters of the Brazos water shed. One day last week several Floydada joint owners of a house boat on Possum Kingdom Lake came home reporting a 20-foot rise in the level of the lake to within eight feet of the top at the dam.

"They 'rescued' and re-anchored their house boat, which had broken a part of its moorings, otherwise it would have been buried in the fast-rising water."

Little League Meeting Called

Rush Wheeler, president of Floydada Little League, announced plans for a called meeting to be held Monday, Feb. 25. All men interested in little league baseball in the Floydada area, especially fathers of boys in this age group, are urged to attend. Time is 7:30 p. m. and the place is the county court room.

Much important business is to be taken care of at this time. Included is the election of officers for the new year, plans for completing the new ball park and getting organized for the 1957 season.

A large attendance is needed to properly carry through with this project. "Though much of the hard work has been done we cannot afford to sit back until the job has been completed," said Wheeler.

George Sherrill has been the prime mover in constructing the new little league park. He and his crew of volunteer helpers have planned and leveled the land, constructed bleacher seats, installed pipe posts and pipe rail for the fence, secured water connections for the park.

Among things still to be done is the planting of the grass, finishing of the fence and back stop, building of dugouts and a host of smaller jobs.

Little league play gets underway immediately following the close of school and an early start will be needed to get the park in shape.

Teachers Meet Monday Evening

The Floyd County unit of the Texas State Teachers will hold a business meeting and banquet at the Floydada High School cafeteria on Monday evening, Feb. 25, it was announced this week.

The meeting will start at 7:00 p. m. and a program will follow the business meeting. All Floyd County teachers are urged to be present.

H. G. Barber of Floydada is president of the county unit and Mrs. J. D. Copeland of Lockney is program chairman.

Winds To Meet Muleshoe In Bi-District Clash

Coach Paul Huntington's Floydada Whirlwinds will meet the Muleshoe Mules in the bi-district round of the state basketball playoff. The winds, winners of district, play the district 1AA champs to determine which is to advance to the regional tournament.

Site of the game will be Plainview high school gym and the date is Tuesday, Feb. 26. Game time is 8:00 p. m. and admission has been set at $1.00 and $0.50 for students.

Not too much is known of the strength of Muleshoe though they have been scouted in recent games. The Mules won last games to Tulsa in their district play, and also won and lost to Lockney in inter-sectional games. Floydada split even with Tulsa in their two game series and downed Lockney three times this season.

The Floydada-Tulia, and Lockney-Muleshoe games were all played very early in the season and probably shed very little light on the situation. Followers of both clubs say they improved very much in the past few weeks.

Muleshoe has about the same size as the Winds. They may have a little height on the locals, and they have good speed. The game should be a toss up with victory going to the club that is hottest when the buzzer sounds.

The Floydada boys wound up their regular schedule Tuesday night at Abernathy and the local girls team has a lone game with Slaton tomorrow night before they can call it completed. Coach Paul Huntington was looking for a good game for his boys this week-end but as late as Tuesday had not found an opponent.

Floydada enjoyed an open date last Friday while other members of the circuit were doing battle. On

No Hearing As Express Agency Withdraws Plea

Petition to discontinue express service to Floydada and Lockney by Railway Express Agency was withdrawn last week-end and the hearing scheduled for Tuesday morning of this week in Floydada accordingly was called off.

Rubber stamp notice from Texas Railroad Commission received by Mayor Lewis Norman Saturday was as brief and unexpected as was the first notice from the commission that such a threat was posed by the express agency.

Letters of protest from two score local business men, prepared for filing with the examiner at the hearing as well as oral testimony had been arranged by Floydada Chamber of Commerce Secretary O. M. Watson Jr., in the battle in which local business interests expected to put up to retain the service here.

EXPRESS service is maintained to Floydada and Lockney, since the discontinuance of passenger service on the railways, by an overnight Santa Fe freight out of Plainview. The Lockney packages are set off nightly by a member of the crew. Local deliveries at Floydada are made by a part-time employee, who holds down a regular job with the Q & P Railway as a clerk.

Jewelers, drug, bankers, florists, department stores, abstractors, lawyers, and real estate men would be the hardest hit by discontinuance of express service. It was developed in interviews by the Chamber of Commerce and local newspaper workers.

A SPRINKLE of business is also given the express agency by machinery dealers, fish and fruit dealers, electrical concerns, grocers and printing plant.

These would be adversely affected as would a considerable number of people who get packages of express at the agency's door.

Local investigations seems to bear out the claim made that Railway Express Agency operates into Floydada with little fixed expense, and that it's relatively small business here should be operating at a profit.

Although puzzled that the plea for discontinuing express service here should have been filed in the first place and even more puzzled that the petition should have been withdrawn without a hearing, Mayor Lewis Norman and C-C Manager Watson expressed gratification that the threat had been avoided.

Bill Norris New Head Of Rodeo Association

Floydada Rodeo Association, members of which also include Floydada Roping Club, chose Bill Norris as their president at the annual meeting held Saturday afternoon, succeeding Jack Johnson.

They also chose Loy Lee Trice for vice president and Johnnie Roberts as secretary-treasurer. These with Jack Johnson, Bud Pope and Jimmy Jones were named directors.

Discussions revolved around such matters as the purchase of roping calves for the season and anticipation of taking part in the annual Old Settlers reunion.

Safe Crackers Failed to break in to this one though they did damage the door beyond repair. Shown here examining the safe at Floydada Junior High School are principal A. W. Coltharp, and Chief of Police Horace Cage. The burglars struck Friday night, but were scared away or gave up before reaching the cash box.

Jr. High Burglary Charged To Non-Resident Amateurs

Burglars broke into the Floydada Junior High School offices and Graves Gym last Friday night, but failed to take much cash for their efforts. The cold drink machines at the gym were broken and robbed of nearly $15, but the office safe was never completely opened and it is believed its contents are untouched.

School officials have been unable to open the safe themselves in the damaged condition and will have to wait for an expert to remove and replace the safe door.

Principal A. W. Coltharp said he was summoned to the school Saturday morning shortly after 7:00 o'clock by Willie Turner, caretaker of the building. Turner had discovered the break in as he went on duty Saturday. Chief of Police Horace Cage was summoned and he and Sheriff Walter Hollums and Deputy Ray Hardin went to the scene.

The burglars had entered the building by way of the front door where they forced the lock. On the inside they had broken into the principal's office by use of prying tools which damaged the door and facing. The secretary's office was entered in much the same way but with less damage and it was here they found the safe.

The school safe proved to be a pretty sturdy one as it was apparently worked over for some time with little success. Of the proof construction the safe was made of two steel walls with inches of concrete between them. The safe artists had pried or chiseled back the top of the outside wall of the door, burst out several scoops full of concrete and attacked the inside wall with their tools.

Had the money been in the top part of the safe they might have had with success, as a small hole was made, but the cash box was stored in the lower compartment and is believed to be there still.

The safe door is damaged beyond repair with the combination knob knocked off and the hinges bent in addition to above mentioned damage.

INVESTIGATING officers covered the scene thoroughly taking fingerprints, pictures and notes from the evidence at hand. No arrests have been made and no suspects named to date.

Officers voiced the belief that the job was done by out of town talent or at least by persons not too familiar with the school. There have been several such school jobs in the south plains area over the past two years that appear to follow the same pattern. Similar break-ins have occurred at Paducah, Matador, Roaring Springs, Wolforth and other towns.

and usually follow a school ball game of some sort, the thieves seeking the gate receipts.

Cage pointed out there was no Friday night game here, the prowlers had to break in to both offices before finding the safe and they were in the junior high building instead of the high school.

Coltharp said the safe probably contained about $50. Receipts from two junior high basketball games played during the week amounting to about $10 each and cafeteria change were all the money on hand at the time. Cash seemed to be the only thing sought by the burglars who could have easily taken valuable school equipment and supplies that were in their sight.

No other break-ins were reported for Friday night or for the week of officers said. Investigations of the matter are continuing by both the Sheriff's office and the City Police.

Farm Bureau Annual Drive Got Under Way Here Monday Night

Floyd County Farm Bureau, more than fifty of whose workers met here at the high school cafeteria for their kick off supper Monday night, are hoping to up their average membership to as high as 675 during the campaign underway this week and due to be completed in the month. Average membership for the past year has been 650.

This new goal was indicated by Robt. Lee Smith, president, who presided at the Monday night meeting. Smith outlined the policies of the organization and told some of the activities which have made Farm Bureau worthwhile to area farmers. He stressed necessity of an organization with enough membership to influence legislation by numbers.

S. J. McIntosh, who heads the local legislative committee at the state level told of the bills that have been introduced in the legislature which affect the welfare of the farming people. He reported that FB representative Gene Leach at Austin had read more than 700 bills which have been dropped in the legislative hopper. Leach expects that many more to be introduced before the session is over, he told McIntosh in Fort Worth last week.

Others who spoke included W. R. Puckett, who reported on his Jackson, Miss., trip to get up-to-date on insurance developments, and Oliver Grote, field representative, who talked briefly of organization field work.

Mrs. Oliver Grote led the group in singing. Invocation opening the session was said by W. R. Puckett.

Public Schools Week Plans Are Shaping Up

Plans for the observance of Texas Public Schools Week in Floyd County are shaping up and will be announced in detail next week. The seventh annual observance of this event will be the week of March 4-10.

In Floydada the big day will be Tuesday, March 5, when all four of the public schools hold open house and invite the public to see their displays and school work.

The Texas Citizens Committee for the Observance of Public Schools is working with school officials to make this an interesting and worthwhile occasion for all school patrons. They urge everyone to attend and see what their schools are doing.

The committee has as its chairman, Keller Holmes and is made up of Henry Barber, A. W. Coltharp, W. P. Nicholson, I. T. Graves, Bill Colston, Bill McNeill, Wayne Russell, Jack Stansell, T. C. Hollums and Harold Woodson.

Piggly Wiggly Plans Extensive Remodeling

The Piggly-Wiggly Super Market in Floydada will undergo extensive remodeling starting as soon as weather permits. This report came early this week from Bob Finley, manager of the local store.

Finley says there will be a warehouse built across the alley just east of the store. When this has been completed most of the present storage room will be taken into the front portion of the store to give added room.

The extra floor space will be used for a self service meat department and for additional frozen food space. Before the job is completed the entire interior of the store will be refinished and re-arranged to be more attractive and convenient for the public.

Much new equipment and fixtures are also planned for the store but some of these details are still to be worked out.

The Piggly-Wiggly staff moved into their present new quarters just 3 years ago but find they are already outgrowing the building. The planned changes will probably be completed within the next six weeks without permitting Tidmore Construction Company of Lubbock has the contract.

Collins Has Surgery For Unusual Ailment

Walter G. Collins, 635 South Main, who underwent surgery last Friday at Baylor Hospital, Dallas, is reported this week by his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wayne Collins, to be resting well.

Mr. Collins was a rare case to the doctors in Dallas. For several years, Mr. Collins has suffered on a lung ailment and doctors told him he had tuberculosis. About three weeks ago a spot was discovered on one of his lungs and an operation was requested by doctors at Baylor Hospital.

After the operation on Friday the spot removed from his lung was tested and was found to be a desert fungus, the identity unknown.

Mrs. Collins is with her husband in Dallas. If his condition keeps improving they will be home on Friday of this week.

Boxing Club Stages Fine Show For Local Fans Saturday Night

Floydada Boxing Club and their guests from Memphis, Tullia, Wellington and Amarillo put on a top notch fight night show for the local fans last Saturday night. It was the first home appearance of the local fighters who had been in training and boxing at neighboring towns during the boxing season for the past two years.

About 200 were present at the American Legion Hall and all expressed their pleasure over the fine performances in the 18 bouts they saw. Many who had followed the Floydada team to other towns during the year said the Saturday night fights were the best they had witnessed all season.

33 VISITORS IN SERVICES SUNDAY
WHAT IS BEHIND THE GREEN DOOR

Message for Sunday morning

Attend to show from the Bible just exactly what the green door. People are entitled to know the truth as Jesus said in John 8:32 "And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free." We believe in calling sin, sin.
As said, preacher you are just too plain spoken against sin, our example, never once compromised with sin.
Should we as his ministers of the Gospel. Jesus called the Pharisees, hypocrites. Oh, yes, they had a religion, but they did not have Salvation. They had many religious programs and organizations of today in form of a religion but have left out the most important, Christ as the head of the church Col. 1:18 "And Christ is the head of the body, the church." When Christ is the head of any church it ceases to be a church, but is an organization or a social gathering. Some will say, preacher I do not think you should speak that way, that is exactly what old Satan tells me. Acts 5:29 "We ought to obey God rather than man." We will obey the same way.

Library News

(By Mrs. Lee C. Goughly)

Charles H. Wilson's "A Teacher Is A Person" is an educational autobiography that strays outside the limits on both education and biography into the fields of humor and philosophy. Dr. Wilson uses his own classroom experiences to humanize and illustrate his ideas on education, which are definite and at times even unique. With a warm and humorous style, and a way of treating serious subjects irreverently, Dr. Wilson has written a most unusual and challenging book on his profession. He is a thinking man and more especially, a thinking educator, and his book will delight everyone who is interested in better schools.

"Indisputably the World's Number 1 Woman Writer" was Time Magazine's description of Rebecca West in a major piece about her. Now after a series of brilliant nonfiction works, she has produced her first novel in twenty years, "The Fountain Overflows." These books are in your County Library.

"Would you like to have a part in cleaning up and keeping our little city clean?" This is a question from the "Books on Bikes Club." For the past several Saturdays they have been working on a money raising campaign to buy more trash disposals (like the one on the Court House sidewalk) to be placed on the sidewalks of the downtown area and in the park.

The club had hoped to raise enough money to purchase at least 12 of the disposals, which are $43.24 each. At the present there has been $42.18 contributed by merchants and individuals. $98.90 would complete the amount needed. If you would like to help the "Books on Bikes Club" raise this amount, mail your check to "Books on Bikes Club," Floyd County Library, or call the library and one of the members will be happy to pick up your check.

We have heard many nice reports on the courteous business-like manner in which the club members have approached the merchants in asking for contributions to this project. When the campaign closes, all money received will be turned over to the City Council, who will order the disposals and place them in proper locations in the city.

AMMO - PHOS . . . A BETTER FERTILIZER

FUTURE CROP production will be more and more on better water management and better farm chemical management. Greater production per acre will require of fertilizers and other farm chemicals. To substantially reduce per unit cost of production for more profit.

AMMO - PHOS - high analysis, pelleted fertilizer - in addition to having solubility, chemical uniformity, drillability, economy, and availability also definite advantages.

IN AMMO - PHOS FERTILIZERS:

The phosphorus is the most available form you can buy and the method of ing keeps it available longer.

Quantitatively, it takes at least three times as much lime in the soil in con the phosphorus to revert (or fix) the phosphorus supplied by Ammo-Phos to revert the phosphorus supplied by superphosphate.

Enough sulfur will be supplied to the crop, when the recommended Ammo - Phos are used.

A. Sulfur is an important plant food for many crops because:

(1) It helps to regulate the moisture intake of plants.

(2) It gives increased root growth.

(3) It stimulates seed production and encourages more vigorous plant

(4) It promotes nodule formation on legumes.

(5) It tends to increase the oil content of cotton seed and increase ing value of cotton seed meal.

Tree Farming Plan Shows Money Can Grow With Timber

WASHINGTON — The Tree Farm movement started just 16 years ago is growing up.
From Montezano to Miami, from Kennebunk to California, landowners are waking up to the fact that money really grows on trees.

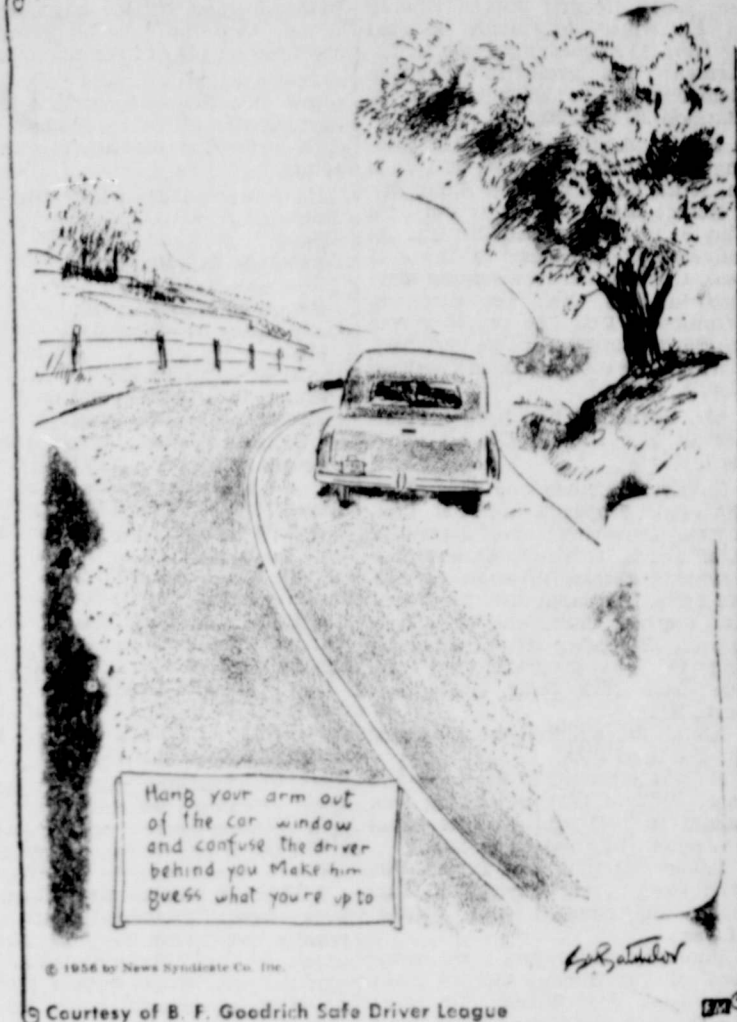

Interest in tree farming — the growing of timber as a crop — is best attested by the fact that to date 44 states participate in the voluntary, industry-operated American Tree Farm System of growing timber as a crop on tax-paying timberlands. The program enrolled more than 4 million acres during the past year.

Behind all this increasing fervor for good forestry lies the basic stimulant of good markets for wood products. Unless the farmer can sell his sawlogs, his pulpwood, his fence posts and his Christmas trees, he has little incentive to investigate the opportunities of good woodlot management.

For geographical reasons, there isn't always a local market for timber, but the overall market outlook around the country is bright. Already Americans use 5,129 articles made from wood — and the list is increasing.

In the United States today are some 4,461,274 "small" woodlot owners whose holdings are under 500 acres. They hold 61 per cent of the country's commercial forest land.

INVITING THE UNDERTAKER-

Courtesy of B. F. Goodrich Safe Driver League

Each year they take to market and sell $700 million worth of sawlogs, pulpwood, posts, turpentine, Christmas trees, maple syrup, and other forest products.

Because these small landowners control most of the nation's forestland, it is clear that increasing demands for wood open the door to greater opportunities for producing timber as a cash crop. The farmer who has paid little or no attention to his woodlot might well look into the advantages of forest management.

STEAM LOCOMOTIVES ON EXHIBITION

WASHINGTON — Railroad fans who bewail the passing of the "iron horse" will be interested to learn that the Smithsonian Institution has on exhibit all the known remains of all the steam locomotives used in this country before 1835.

This adds up to one operable locomotive, built in 1831, and parts of four earlier ones, according to a recent publication of the Smithsonian's U. S. National Museum. The locomotive is the John Bull, built in Britain for a New Jersey line now part of the Pennsylvania Railroad. It was placed in service November 12, 1831, and remained in active use until 1865. Since then it has been on display at most of the major fairs and expositions in this country.

The oldest relic is the safety valve of this country's first rail locomotive — built as an experiment by Col. John Stevens, of Hoboken, N. J., in 1825. He ran the locomotive around a small circular track on his front lawn. Another relic is a wheel — said to be all that remains of the original De Witt Clinton. This famous locomotive in 1831 was the first to run in New York State, near Schenectady, on tracks now a part of the New York Central System.

Sudden Death Claims Pioneer At Home Here

Funeral service for Robert Clark Covington, 85, was conducted Saturday morning at 10 o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Floydada with Dr. R. Earl Allen, pastor of the Rosen Heights Baptist Church of Ft. Worth, officiating, assisted by Rev. Ed Bowles, local pastor. Interment was made in Floydada Cemetery under the direction of Harmon Funeral Home.

Sudden death came to Mr. Covington Thursday morning at 3:30 a. m. at his home, 124 East Hallie St.

Robert Clark Covington was born July 6, 1871, in Russellville, Ky. He moved from Kentucky to Texas in 1890. On June 21, 1894, he was married to Miss Orah Lee Stacy in Willsboro, Tex. The couple moved to Floyd County, Tex., in 1907. Mrs. Covington preceded him in death on Nov. 3, 1941.

Mr. Covington had been a member of the Baptist Church since 1900.

Survivors include two sons, J. C. Covington, Floydada and F. M. Covington, Dougherty; five daughters, Mrs. Travis Edwards, Olney, Mrs. Raymond Teeple, Silvertown, Mrs. D. W. Fyffe, Floydada, Mrs. Fred Jones, Stockton, Calif., and Mrs. Kyle Glover, Floydada; 15 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren; and one sister, Mrs. Gene White, Auburn, Ky.

All of the children were present for the final rites.

He was preceded in death by two sons, William Guy Covington, who passed in 1897 and Wallace Alvin Covington, who passed in 1940.

Palbearers were Ray Teeple, Bob Covington, Jack Covington, Don Goen, Bill Shurbet and Warden Mayes.

Honorary palbearers were members of his Sunday School class also: Rev. Joe Wilson, Dr. Geo. Smith, Felt Patterson, Faye Hart, Charlie Jarrett, Walter Wood, E. B. Chesnut, J. C. Leckie, T. J. Heard, R. A. Burrows, W. F. Culpepper, J. A. Hartsell and Earl Rainer.

The color of the American flag stands for courage (red), liberty (white), and loyalty (blue).

According to surveyor's measure, 36 square miles comprise a township.

Bi-District

Saturday night the boys played a make-up game with Slaton and won easily 63-43.

HIGH men for the green and white were Ronnie Downing with 22 points and Bill Patterson with 15. The Winds have been looking better with each game and team work has been paying off. Sharp ball handling by Don Colley, fighting spirit by Robert Stovall, rebound work of James Teague and Bill Patterson, and outside shooting by Ronnie Downing have all added to the tired up play of recent games.

The B squad boys also took their game with Slaton by a long score winning 71-37. Rainy Vickers was pace setter for the locals with 20 points.

District scores from last week-end showed:

TUESDAY night the Floydada boys closed out their district play with a convincing 49-23 victory over a stalling Abernathy team. The win left the Winds with a perfect 12-0 district record. James Teague led the scoring with 13 points and Don Colley chucked in nine for the winners. Buddy Gunn had six points for Abernathy.

Starting the game with a stall Abernathy held Floydada to a 2-1 first quarter lead but could not take a lead of their own to hold on to these tactics.

The green and white then started the second half with a stall and the ticking clock soon brought the antelope out seeking the ball and opening up the game for the fast-breaking Winds.

The Abernathy girls ran tough ahead over the locals 82-29. Marie Gunn led Abernathy with 44 points. Margie Turner led Floydada with 19.

Mrs. J. B. Jenkins, who underwent major surgery on Feb. 7, at St. Mary's Hospital in Lubbock, was returned to her home, 329 West Houston, last week-end.

Mrs. Jenkins is reported to be doing nicely but will have to take things easy for some time.

The Floydada sixth grade 4-H club met Feb. 19 at the Floydada Junior High School.

Sale Bill Recalls Pioneer History

Grover Smith, who is getting a clinical examination at Plainview Hospital, visited a Kinsman in that city the first of the week who gave him a copy of an old sale bill, published in 1840.

The sale bill included the following: "Having sold my farm am leaving for Oregon territory by team, will offer on March 1, 1840, all ox teams except two teams, Ben and Buck and Tom and Jerry. Two milk cows, gray mare and colt, one pair of oxen yoke, one iron plow with wood mold board, 550 lb. ft. fence rails, 60 gallon soap kettle, 60 sugar troughs made of white ash lumber, 10 gallons maple oil, 550 gallons sorghum molasses, mutton tallow, large lorn made by Jerry Wilson, 300 hoop poles, 100 split hoops, 100 empty barrels, 32 gallons Johnson-Miller whiskey 7 years old, 20 gallons apple cider, 40 gallon copper still, oak tan leather, dozen hoes, two handle hoes, 3 scythes and cradles, dozen wooden pitch forks, 32 calibre rife made by Ben Miller, 50 gallons soft soap, hams, lard, bacon, 550 gallons sorghum molasses, 6 head of foxhounds, all softmouth except one. At the same time I will sell 60 Negro slaves, 2 men 35 and 50 yrs. old, 2 boys, 2 mulatto women, 40 yrs. old. Will sell all to the highest bidder and I will not separate them."

Attractive natural scenery like that around boat docks at Tyler State Park has been preserved in skilled placing of the park facilities. Unusual are the park's 18-hole miniature golf course and a terraza dance floor to supplement the fishing, boating and swimming.

New Trophies For Stock Show Are Now On Display

Members of the Floyd County Live Stock Show Association and Floydada and Lockney business men are whipping together the loose ends in their preparations for the Junior Live Stock Show on March 5-6-7.

Among other things the addition to the stock show barn is nearly completed, with a great deal of volunteer labor donated.

The addition will make possible more stall room and also give more room for seating around the sales ring. The 4-H and FFA showmen are going to find an ideal layout for their show.

Something else is being added this year. In addition to the three showmanship trophies, presented annually by Wagon Wheel, there will be a grand champion trophy each in the steer and hog divisions and a champion trophy also for each of the three divisions in sheep entries.

All of the trophies are on display this week at Goen Drug. Of these the drug store is presenting the trophy in the steer division, OK Welders in the hog division. The sheep trophies are presented by Connie O'Brien, Chas. Boedeker and Robin Fortenberry respectively.

The trophies are all ready to be engraved with the names of the winners.

Mrs. Lewis Rites Will Be Conducted This Afternoon

Funeral service for Mrs. Annie B. Lewis, wife of J. G. Lewis, will be conducted this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the chapel of Harmon Funeral Home with Elder Ohmer Kirk, pastor of the Wall Street Church of Christ, officiating. Interment will be in Floydada Cemetery under the direction of Harmon Funeral Home.

Mrs. Lewis passed Tuesday morning at 4:50 o'clock at her home, 600 East Crockett. She had been in ill health about eight months.

Mrs. Annie B. Woolworth was married April 14, 1927, in Portales, N. M., to J. G. Lewis. The couple have made Floydada their home since 1937.

Survivors include her husband; two sons, Clyde Waincott, Amarillo and Walter Waincott, Ft. Worth; and two daughters, Mrs. J. B. Rhoades, Benicia, Calif., and Mrs. Vera Jones of South Carolina.

To get your second wind means that the body has become adjusted to the need for more oxygen.

When filled with hot water, a thick glass will crack more quickly than a thin one.

Army Mules Don't Die They Just Fade Away

WASHINGTON—The Army mule doesn't die easily, but it's slowly fading away.

The United States Army's plan to put its last unit of combat mules to pasture in favor of helicopters will close an almost legendary chapter. Northern armies alone used 450,000 pack mules in the Civil War. Out of the American Expeditionary Force in the first World War, 5,000 were casualties.

Mules were used in World War II, but by and large jeeps took over during that period.

In 1940 the mule population in the United States totaled about 4,000,000, that of horses, nearly 10,500,000. Today, the combined mule-horse population has plummeted to a low of 3,962,000.

Study of Forces 'Whiskers' Help Binding Atom

NEW YORK, N. Y. — One of modern science's oddities—highly pure and perfect metal crystals known as "whiskers"—are enabling scientists at the Westinghouse Research Laboratories in Pittsburgh, Pa. to gain new insight into the enormous forces which bind atoms together.

In a paper delivered during the seventh New York meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, Dr. R. L. Eisner, Westinghouse research physicist, described a new technique for evaluating these forces by measuring the tensile strength of whiskers of iron and silicon.

Dr. Eisner's technique is one of the most accurate methods known for pulling apart the tiny crystals and measuring directly the applied force (stress) and the amount of stretch (strain) they undergo. Precise, delicate equipment is required, Dr. Eisner said, because the tiny strands of metal may be 40 millionths of an inch or less in diameter—about one hundredth the thickness of a human hair. Use of the method, the Westinghouse scientist reported, has cast new light on the nature of the interatomic forces which give all metals their ultimate strength.

"In whiskers, a metal exists in a perfect condition," Dr. Eisner said. "In contrast, any ordinary piece of metal contains countless millions of structural imperfections. Under stress, it is these imperfections which govern how and when the metal will break. They mask any attempt to measure the much larger forces which hold the metal atoms themselves together."

"By conducting tensile tests on whiskers, where these imperfections do not exist, we can pull the individual atoms far enough apart, without breaking, to get a measure of the interatomic forces. This enables us for the first time to check modern theories of interatomic forces."

The theme for the cooking school held in Lubbock last week at the Municipal Auditorium was "Rhapsody of Recipes." Mrs. Beatrice Beriman from the National Live Stock & Meat Board was lecturer-demonstrator and prepared some delicious looking dishes of food. There were two cookie recipes which Mrs. Beriman prepared along with the meat dishes and other foods that really are nice. I am wondering if some of you who read this column might like to try them too.

Spicy Apple Cookies

- 1/2 cup lard,
- 1 1/2 cups brown sugar,
- 1 egg,
- 2 cups sifted enriched flour,
- 1 teaspoon baking powder,
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda,
- 1/2 teaspoon salt,
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves,
- 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon,
- 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg,
- 1 cup grated apples,
- 1 cup raisins,
- 1 cup chopped walnuts,
- 1/4 cup milk.

Cream lard and brown sugar. Add egg and beat. Sift together flour, baking powder, soda, salt and spices. Add half of the sifted dry ingredients to the creamed mixture and blend thoroughly. Add apples, raisins, nuts and milk. Add remaining dry ingredients. Mix well. Drop by teaspoonfuls, about 2 inches apart on greased cookie sheet. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 10 to 12 minutes. Remove baked cookies from pan and while still warm spread with Vanilla Icing.

Vanilla Icing

- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine,
- 2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar,
- 1/8 teaspoon salt,
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla,
- 2 tablespoons milk.

Ginger Crisps

Shape dough into balls about the size of a walnut and roll in sugar. Place on a cookies sheet about 2 inches apart. (Do not flatten balls.) Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 15 minutes. Yield: 4 1/2 dozen.

Wayne Collins reports his father, Walter Collins, is improving nicely after undergoing surgery at Baylor Hospital last week. He is expected home "the last of this week."

Mrs. Sherty Neff is home from the Lockney Hospital and seems to be improving nicely at this time.

Carl Lewis said Tuesday morning, "We got stuck in the mud yesterday but we sure do like it that way."

Mr. and Mrs. Don Webster of Lubbock visited Monday night with Mrs. Webster's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hickerson accompanied a group of the youth from the Methodist Church to Lubbock skating on Monday night.

Something to think about: One kilowatt-hour equals 13 man-hours. Most of us cannot realize the amount of work electricity does in the home and on the farm. The usual thought is how many kw-h have been used and how much the monthly service bill comes to.

The kilowatt-hour is the unit for measuring the amount of work electricity does for you. It is as much work as a man can do if he applies himself steadily for a little more than thirteen hours. As you would pay the man for his work, so you must pay for the work of electricity; however, the rate of pay is much lower.

Bearing in mind that one kilowatt-hour is equal to 1,000 watts of power used over a period of one hour simply means that a 100-watt lamp can be operated for ten hours - you are actually using 100 x 10 or 1,000 watt-hours which is measured as 1 KWH. Most lamp appliances are marked on the name plate with the number of watts they use per hour.

And figured at today's price of $1 per hour for labor hired, 200 man-hours would cost $200. Willie Wreath would do an equivalent amount of work while consuming 200 KWH for a cost to you of only $8.08.

So don't forget - Electricity is one of your cheapest and best servants.

There is still one thing sacred in the masculine field. We have not as yet reached the point where, when a man takes a chug of tobacco, he feels he should offer one first to the lady.

RECOVERING FROM OPERATION

TELEPHONE TALK

by J. C. Oakley, Manager

A LOOK AHEAD

This is the first opportunity I've had to tell you this way this year, so I'd like to take you back to 1957.

We at the telephone company are proud to make it a good year — even better than last when it comes to speed, dependability, and your telephone service.

It's our feeling that our most important gift to you is the kind of telephone service you need — in 1957 and the years ahead. So anything we can do to make your service more pleasant and helpful, please don't hesitate to call.

Three for Two's A Bargain

Floydada people made more out-of-town calls in any previous year — a fact which is well of the value of our Long Distance service.

Many of you who made these calls for savings, too, by placing your calls station-to-station, that way, you saved up to one-third, because you made three station-to-station calls for about the cost of two person-to-person calls.

Here's an example of what I mean. You make three station-to-station calls from here to Lubbock for only 2.85 plus tax. Two person-to-person calls to the same city will cost 3.20 plus tax. That's a bargain rate available every evening after 7:00 p. m. Sunday.

Kitchen Helpers

There's a lot of truth in saying, "The heart of the home." It's certainly true that the homemaker spends about as much time in the kitchen as in any other room in the house.

I guess that accounts for the popularity of the wonderful new "kitchen helpers" — washers, waste disposals, and freezers. They're popular! Think of how much domestic conveniences save the homemaker.

There's another "kitchen helper" — the telephone. Mention that's growing in popularity, plus additional telephones. Kitchen phones save steps for busy housewives, and make it easier to get in touch with friends.

Additional telephones for any room are low in cost — just 1.00 a month, plus small onetime installation charge. Just call your phone business office.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

HOME-SICKNESS BLUES Reads About Home Town in Big City Newspaper Column

The urge to give a major face lifting to the business community, which hit Floydada two years ago, the leaving of which is still working, is not confined to Floydada alone. It is a nation-wide mood.

So Helen (Ring) Womack of Denver feels.

The big city in which she now makes her home is using the paint brush, hammer and saw in a business revival movement, according to Columnist Dwyer, who sees a remodeling spirit as the business pick-up that can cause anti-downtown shopping lites to vanish.

What got Miss Helen's eye was the mention of Floydada in connection with the campaign "From Chicago, Ill. to Floydada, Tex., urbanites are in the mood and have plans and works under way," says Mr. Dwyer.

Some towns have re-done as much as 70 per cent of their business districts, Mr. Dwyer reports. In Niles City, Mich., the result of the face lifting was a 30 per cent increase in business.

Enclosing the columnist's article, Mrs. Womack writes: "Imagine our surprise to find the dear old home town mentioned on the editorial page of Denver's morning newspaper—the Rocky Mountain News." Helen admits their nostalgic recollections of the former home in the sentence, "Sure makes home-sick Texans feel better to catch up on news about the folks back home."

Mrs. Womack is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ring of Dougherty. She and her husband are both former students of Floydada High.

VIEWS AND COMMENT ★ ☆ ★ ☆ ★ ☆ ★ ☆

Publisher J. L. Suits, of The Petersburg Journal, went to a newspaper publishers convention last week-end. When he learned that his wife had decided to go with him, he knew it would cut the fun in half and double the expense, he said.

The Quitaque Post has a new editorial staff in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. John Hope, both competent and conscientious newspaper workers, who in a few weeks have brought the newspaper out of the doldrums. People of the community are so proud of them that last week's issue had as much advertising space devoted to welcoming the new couple as was given to all other paid lineage. Heartening thing to see a good man take hold of an enterprise. Equally as pleasing to see a community respond.

The legislature this week is due to determine the fate of the bill which would provide for a majority vote for the U. S. Senatorship, post vacated by Governor Daniel when he resigned to become governor of Texas. Hardly anybody could give a valid reason against a majority vote for selecting a servant of the people. We would, however, be between a rock and a hard place had we a vote to cast in the matter, such as faces Senator Andy Rogers. We are for a majority vote for U. S. Senator or any other representative of the people. But we are against changing the rules of the game after the race is already begun.

Express Hearing dismissed. There was no hearing Tuesday on the Railway Express Agency's petition to discontinue service to Floydada and Lockney. No reason is given in a notice received by Mayor Lewis Norman last week-end from the Texas Railroad Commission calling off the hearing. The Community needs to dig in and find out why the agency wanted to discontinue giving service in the first place. No reason can be found by a cursory survey such as we were able to make. One would think the railroads are just on the retreat and this is another move backward. They may be justified, but we can't see it. So far as we are informed the Express Agency belongs to the railways.

Egg Grading Bill. The egg grading bill, now before the legislature, doesn't have any personal ambition tied up in it, nor is it highly controversial, it seems. So, although Texas is the lone state in the union without a law governing the marketing of eggs, the bill is likely to have hard sledding. Anything you can do toward urging your representative to back the legislation would not be energy misplaced. A bad egg in Texas at this time is almost as good as a good egg, except for the Pure Food Act. The produce industry has been unable to police itself.

Israeli Is Expensive. The bone of contention for a decade is Israeli, the new government carved out of the Arab states, with Jerusalem as the heart of it. Israeli is an expensive ideal, if ideal it is. Supported in the main by American Jewry who are spending their millions to keep it alive, and are working to keep the American government tied up in its continuing existence. It is a highly involved matter, this business of keeping Israeli going. Hatreds that were spawned before the dawn of recorded history are a part of the current yak, yak. The Middle East is no subject for a novice to have an opinion. They play their politics for keeps. There are no end to the complications.

Little as you may think of it the half dozen or more peach and plum trees which grace most of the home backyards in the area have a potent value for furnishing fresh and processed fruits for the larder. Last year's wonderful peach crop was a reminder after two or three years of bad breaks when early spring cold ruined the fruit crop in the bud or early blooming stage. We are reminded of this fact by the continued balmy weather of the past 10 days. Buds are swelling with Easter a long way off. Unfavorable outlook. But the weatherman has had his signs all mixed up for years now. Maybe—just maybe—the fruit will escape a killing freeze. As least, we wistfully hope so.

Dogs and Postmen. The Post Office Department has solved many a problem that otherwise would have made mail service less efficient. Although at a tremendous cost no system of taking care of the communication needs of a nation was ever devised so uniformly good as delivery of mails. One problem the department still can't solve is that of the city deliveryman and the biting dog. Every postman in a town where the letters and papers go to the homeowners door has a dog somewhere on his route that the proud owner is sure "won't bite" despite evidence of torn trousers and the teeth marks on the postman's shanks. When the department solves that one it will have done the impossible. We don't say they never can. But it seems an impossibility.

Good Friend has it figured out, he says. In sharing with Ike and keeping his books free of charge: A man with two children in 1939 made $3,000 and paid $30 and kept $2,970. To keep that much today he would have to gross $6,122.00, since tax would be $699.00 and loss by depreciation would be $2,483.00. If you made $5,000 in 1939 you kept $4,941.00. To keep that much today on the basis of rate and depreciation you would have to gross $10,583.00. It costs high to live in the best country in the world and we hope that our hair won't be made to curl by inflation, he says.

Certain organizations are pressing to have the workmen's compensation laws of the state re-written to give a better deal to persons who are unfortunate enough to get hurt in Texas commerce and industry. In principle this is a good movement. However, as Senator Grady Hazelwood says, a racket has grown up in connection with it. The law, as applied, appears to have been arranged by lawyers for lawyers and many racketeering law firms are living in great affluence off the misfortunes of workmen and the equal misfortunes of their employers and the casualty insurance companies. The senator says he is not going to support a changed workmen's compensation law until this racket has been cleaned up. When there is a lot of money around somebody is going to figure out a way to get part of it. The senator may have it rougher trying to cure the evil than he thinks.

Failure to observe manufacturer's directions when handling highly toxic insecticides and miticides is risky business, warn extension entomologists. Insecticide injury to man is most common through oral and respiratory intake or by skin absorption. The entomologists urge the use of special care when working with phosphorous compounds.

A Long Winter. You think you have things bad? Consider a bear with insomnia. Herald, Everett, Wash.

Marjorie Oden Plans Move To New York City

Miss Marjorie Oden, who spent last week here in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Comer Oden, is making a change of locale once more, this time from Chicago to New York City.

This time, however, she departs from the straight newspaper reporting, which has been her forte, to the editorship of a magazine for consulting engineers.

While here she said she would spend another month to three months in Chicago, boning up on the new type of work she is to do before assuming the work in New York City.

After finishing her college work, majoring in journalism, Marjorie worked for two years with the Dallas Morning News in the editorial department. From that situation she moved to Racine, Wis., where she had many interesting journalistic assignments.

In recent months she strayed into the public relations field. Doing good in that work she found, however, that she didn't relish it and is making the new change because it will broaden her field and, incidentally, pay better.

Marjorie began news writing with The Hesperian, and some of her stories are still recalled in the local newspaper office as classics. One of these is the story of the old tire which expired while laying out in the hot sun on a summer day. The big boom came just as the sheriff came on the scene and there was a mighty tenseness for a brief moment, as Marjorie pictured it.

Prior to Marjorie's stay of a week at home her mother spent several days with her in Chicago. Mrs. Oden was not exactly enamored of the Windy City, Marjorie confided. Too much sticky suit and grime for a West Texan.

Humidifier To Improve Plains Cotton Classing

The go-ahead signal for installation of humidifying equipment in the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office was given by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C., recently to the four representatives of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and other agricultural organizations, who presented the plans. Lester Carter of Floyd County, director of the P.C.G., explained the representatives were selected from various agricultural organizations which met last November to discuss the classing situation and make plans.

George Pfeiffenberger, executive vice president of the P.C.G., Curtis Boyd, Lubbock, Kenneth Purcell, Brownfield, and John I. Bowling, Hale Center, went to Washington with the recommendations for cotton classing improvements drawn up at the November meeting.

Pfeiffenberger, who served as chairman of the meeting, said the U.S.D.A. agreed installation of such humidifying equipment would improve classing conditions.

The owner of the new classing building also has agreed to such changes and plans are now under way to provide the additional room. Present plans call for cotton to be allowed to humidify 12 to 24 hours before classing. The work will be done this year prior to classing of any of the '37 crop, officials said.

Pfeiffenberger also said the U.S.D.A. officials were favorable to the plan that cotton from different areas on the South Plains be classed by the same classers and would not be shifted about to different classers, if the group desired it this way.

Also the Washington officials said establishment of a classing review board consisting of a government classer, a Plains Cotton Growers classer and a cotton trade classer is acceptable. Details of this program remain to be worked out.

Many Visitors See New Home of PCA

The 114-member Production Credit Association had nearly 150 visitors at their open house Saturday. The event was staged to celebrate the completion and occupancy of the association's new $18,000 home on South Fifth Street.

Manager E. A. Williams and office assistant Mrs. Jackie Jarrett were assisted by President Leroy Durham of Lockney. Secretary-Treasurer Henry Clay of Plainview, Bill Burdick of the Plainview office and Clp Hudson, manager of the Dimmitt office.

Among the visitors were personnel of the Plainview office in numbers as well as local business and professional people of Floydada.

The new home of the credit association was occupied two weeks ago. It is completely air-conditioned, has a built-in vault and is seen as a most modern unit for the purpose which it is due to serve.

What are the dimensions of the present tract?
And that of the proposed tract?

Bill To Create Added Judicial District Filed

Representative Leroy Saul of District 89 and State Representative Jesse M. Osborn of District 96 have introduced a bill which will create a new Judicial District. The newly created District will be District 129, and will be comprised of Bailey, Lamb, Parmer and Castro Counties, with a population of approximately 50,000.

The division will leave in the 64th Judicial District Hale and Swisher counties with approximately the same population.

As the division now stands, according to Representative Leroy Saul, District Judge A. E. Bills will be with the new 154th District and the new Judge will be appointed for the 64th District of Hale and Swisher. The District Attorney will stay in Swisher and Hale counties since he lives there and a new attorney will be appointed for the 154th District.

The measure has the backing of the Bar Associations of all counties in the present 64th Judicial District. Saul stated that the study was started in 1955 due to the excessive load now being carried by Judge Bills with this proposed measure coming out as a result of that study.

Both Saul and Osborn would like to hear from the people of the District regarding this matter.

Decline of Duval Dukedom Shows How Publicity Withers Dictators

By-FREDERICK HODGSON

SAN DIEGO, Tex.—What was it that finally pulled the props from under George Parr's political dictatorship? The people? The State? The Federal Government? The newspapers?

They all had a hand in it! There were also the Texas Rangers, and a lot of freedom-hungry Duval residents both "Anglo" and "Mexican." And there were some Texas newspapers and newspapermen who risked life or limb, or both.

Without them, former Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd's assault on the iron-clad county of Duval might have been a grand and valiant flop. He knew that when the machine began to come apart, he started.

As it turned out, the newspapers were eager to print the facts about George B. Parr, if they just had some facts to print. When they had the facts, they pulled all the stops. That's when the machine began to come apart.

There was a spunky newspaper here and there that had been chipping away at the foundation all along, within the bounds of legality and discretion. The Alice Daily Echo wasn't afraid of the Boss. And when the facts began to emerge the Echo's proof-reader, a little woman named Caro Brown, turned reporter and won herself a Pulitzer Prize. But not without having her own life and that of her teen-age daughter threatened.

There was also Santos de la Paz over in Corpus Christi. He ran a little bi-lingual weekly called La Verdad, the Truth, and that's just what he tried to print about George Parr. Before it was over he wound up holding a giant libel suit, besides going to jail for getting over-eager and printing things he couldn't prove about some of Parr's friends. The libel suit turned out to be a legal trick to force Paz to reveal what he knew in a court hearing. The suit was later dropped.

Just about all the newspapers in Texas were as eager to get the truth out of Duval County as those close to the scene, and weren't afraid to print it.

That kind of spotlight withers a dictatorship the way a hot wind withers an orchid. And that, combined with more than 400 separate court actions all over Texas, is the reason George Parr's empire isn't the same old empire it used to be.

Parr used to deliver 100-to-1 majorities at the polls. That's why Duval was his county. The district judge, the district attorney, the grand jury, the sheriff—everybody took their orders from the Boss. But not any more. There's a new slate of officeholders, men whom the Duke did not choose.

The hundreds of gun-toting "deputies" are gone. The Commissioners Court and the school boards no longer take orders from Parr. He doesn't sign the checks anymore, or keep the records. There's no more easy money, no handouts, no payoffs.

County officials don't charge their personal household expenses, medical bills or gasoline to the county any more. They don't carry their daughters on the payroll as teachers while they're away at college. They don't get their deer rifles at county expense, or charge their kids' cough medicine and castor oil to the school district. Things are different in Duval.

They're different for the Duke, too. His two banks, depositories of county and school funds, long ago were taken out of his hands, closed down by the state. His 55,000-acre ranch, bought with county funds, has gone back to the county, and another 4,000-acre hacienda was auctioned off by the authorities to satisfy tax claims against the Duke.

Donato Serna, the man Parr jailed and clubbed with a flashlight for taking a picture of Parr's "deputies" is now County Auditor, handling the purse strings, requiring a sworn statement from every county employee that he did the work for which he is paid. There are no more fictitious names on the checks. Every recipient of Duval County funds now has to be a flesh and blood reality with a name and a face.

When a boss loses his grip on the purse strings, he loses friends fast. Those who still stick by him, and they are few, remain at his side because they're in the same trouble he's in.

Not all of Parr's friends-in-distress stayed with him, however. County Judge Dan Tobin, long-time Parr supporter who was heavily indicted himself by Duval grand juries, pulled away from the Duke and in effect joined the forces opposing him. In the same way, Parr lost his control over the Commissioners Court. That, plus a half-dozen elections Parr couldn't control, lined up the county and school district offices against the once-mighty Duke who used to give orders to them all.

The biggest change, though, is in the names on the county and school district payrolls—the many non-elective employees who can either serve the county or rob it, depending on who's in charge. The Duval County government is no graven train any more.

Duvalians long ago lost count of the more than 150 hangers-on, parasites and "cooperative" employees who have either resigned their jobs in panic or have been chopped off the payroll by Serna. His budget-trimming knife is razor-sharp. The Parr supporters who used to be carried on the books as "road consultant" and "ride inspector" at two or three hundred a month, some of them have been relieved of their duties.

I pointed out in an earlier article that Duval's tax rate used to be the highest in the state. It began to come down when the parasites started resigning. Election costs have been reduced as much as 90 per cent, while the number of voters has just about doubled.

County services, meanwhile, have improved remarkably. Parr critics whose ranches were all but inaccessible because county machinery wouldn't grade their roads now are getting home in 30 minutes over country lanes that it used to take two hours to navigate.

The Benavides school kids got one of the biggest breaks of all. Four Parr men resigned from the board three years ago when school records were impounded, and the new board found the district about $50,000 in the hole, in spite of a gigantic tax intake. Many improvements had been made and paid for on paper, but not in actuality. The new board figured they could make vast physical improvements and undertake major construction projects and still put the district back in the black without raising taxes. Like the county, the school districts have been audited and re-audited in the last three years, after being without fiscal check-up for decades.

All this examining of records has had results. George Parr's sun is setting, and his shadow stretches long and thin over the rubble of his falling empire. Half a dozen grand juries, no longer hand-picked and controlled, have hung hundreds of indictments around the necks of the Duke and some 40 of his followers.

On January 29 a jury in New Braunfels found Parr guilty of stealing funds from the Benavides School District and sentenced him to five years in prison. The previous day he was declared bankrupt by a Federal court.

Three of his followers, convicted of conspiracy to steal from the county, have appealed their cases. The rest have used a dozen legal loopholes to postpone their trials, including the hiring of a Texas legislator as legal counsel. A legislator, under Texas law, can't be taken away from his lawmaking duties to try a case. When the 54th Legislature adjourned, the lawmaker dropped out of the Duval cases without having been in court.

Right up to the time he finished his term January 1, Shepperd kept men in Duval County at the request of District Attorney Sam Burris, to work with grand juries. Men like soft-spoken Willis Gresham, jovial Sam Ratliff, youngish Frank Pinedo, and efficient Ralph Rash. Most important, he kept bulldogish Sydney Chandler there, an eternal thorn in the side of the Duke. Back in Austin a battery of barristers in the Attorney General's office worked around the clock many times to keep ahead of George Parr, who was nobody's fool.

All these men have become symbols in Duval County. Symbols of the new order, of the democratic process, of the Constitution, of the law of the land as opposed to the law of the pistol and the whip.

The presence of the Law in Duval has changed even the conduct of the county's decent citizens. The old fear has been lifted. Election day used to be the day everybody hid indoors, while the Duke's faithful marched to the polls to vote as instructed by the pistoleros who patrolled the polling places. You didn't go near them if you wanted to avoid serious unpleasantness. It was long years ago that the last man was killed at the polls on election day, but maybe that's only because the machine's opposition got smart and quit showing up to vote.

But now everybody votes in Duval, and they vote the way they feel. The impounding of the ballots after each election to assure an honest count is standard operating procedure. People know that every ballot is now secret, and it makes a powerful difference in the way Duval voters mark the little square.

In any well-run dictatorship it's the natural leaders of a community that fall to the bottom and are kept there. But when the shake-up comes they rise back to the top. Before Shepperd had been in the county a month, citizens had formed the Duval County Clean Government League and started a campaign for reform. A hundred or so Duval women who said they were fed up with locking their doors at night and wondering if their husbands would come home alive, organized the United Mothers and Wives of Duval County.

In stories to follow, we'll take a closer look at the "new" Duval County, and at the proposed laws which will help prevent another "Dukedom" from springing up within the borders of the nation's largest state.

Agriculture And State Legislature Are Inseparable

The Texas Department of Agriculture owes its existence and operation to members of the Texas Legislature, past and present.

The only major state agency created by statute, the department's every function has been directly dependent on the state's lawmakers from its earliest beginning.

This year with the meeting of the 55th Legislature, important agricultural legislation has been set before the lawmakers either for passage, amendment and passage, or rejection.

The men whose direct responsibility is the consideration of these measures, which include a proposed egg grading and standards law, strengthening of seed controls and other regulatory measures, are the standing committees on agriculture in the House of Representatives and the Senate.

Agriculture committee members are in most instances legislators representing areas where agriculture is an important industry. They are directly concerned with helping the economy of their constituents and are vitally interested in and well-informed on Texas Agriculture and its problems.

A cross-section of these Legislators shows representatives from every section of the state. We are fortunate in the 55th Legislature to have the experienced and cautious as well as the young and aggressive on our Agricultural Committee.

Chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture is Sen. George Moffett of Chillicothe, senior member of the upper chamber whose record stands out as one of hard work and honesty.

Assisting him as vice-chairman is Sen. Culp Krueger of El Campo in the heart of Texas' vital rice belt. Other Agriculture Committee members include Sens. Carlos Ashley of Llano, Neville H. Colson of Navasota, Frank Owen III of El Paso, Andy Rogers of Childress, Jarrard Secret of Temple, Preston Smith of Lubbock and Doyle Willis of Fort Worth.

Heading the companion House Agriculture Committee is young and enthusiastic Rep. Harold Parish of Taft, assisted by L. L. Armor of Sweetwater, vice-chairman. Additional members include Reps. Paul Brashear of Cisco, Ed J. Cloud of Rule, Carl C. Conley of Raymondville, W. T. Dungan of McKinney, Bill Hollowell of Grand Saline, L. L. Holstein of Pandora, J. C. Hooks of Livingston, John Huebner of Bay

City, Moyné L. Kelly of Atton, Harold G. Kennedy of Marble Falls, Glenn H. Kothmann of San Antonio, Truett Latimer of Abilene, George W. McCoppin of Texarkana, Grainger W. Melhoney of Wheeler, C. T. Matthews of Yoakum, Walter C. Schwartz of Brenham, Herschel Sherrill of McDade, Sam E. Wohl-

Adopt A "Shop Early" Policy On Inspections

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, prevailed upon Texas automobile owners to "do their shopping early" this year in an effort to reduce the last minute rush for inspection stickers at the close of the 1957 motor vehicle inspection period. The deadline is April 15.

On information received from George W. Busby, chief of the department's Motor Vehicle Inspection Division, the state police director said only one-third of the state's four million vehicle owners had obtained their 1957 inspection stickers to date. He urged motorists to have their cars and trucks inspected now, as a means of saving time for themselves and to avoid a last minute congestion at inspection stations throughout Texas.

Last year, as was true in most preceding years, vehicles overcrowded inspection stations during the last week of the inspection period. More than a million automobiles were caught in the last minute rush, resulting in a loss of even more millions of manhours for the owners of those vehicles.

Garrison called upon the motoring public to adopt a "shop early" policy in this year's inspection program as a means of saving time and to afford better convenience for the vehicle owners involved.

Sulphur Is Element Of Diversified Uses

WASHINGTON—The all-pervading element — sulphur — is being brought to the surface by ingenious wells in Texas and Louisiana, where a new major source has been found under water. Sulphur is the element of thousands of uses. Rubber is vulcanized with the use of sulphur. Gasoline is refined with it. Paper, textile, leather, ivory, plastics, fertilizers, medicines, wool, disinfectants, explosives, sheep dip and soap contain sulphur, as do some 32,000 other articles in common use.
