Development Comes Work, Planning and Money

Industrial activity by keeping the residential and business section clean and modern, and all facilities such as schools, hospitals, churches, parks, streets, railroads and highways must be "ready" for industry and a growing population.

Building sites should also be available to new industry without profiteering by local residents, Richardson pointed out.

After the planning, community residents should continue to work their plan with enthusiasm. Every citizen can play an important part in the industrial program by pointing out business opportunities to friends and business associates.

"A community industrial program takes money too," the speaker said. Citizens must be ready to invest in their home town to improve their own property and also have finances available to cover any expense involved in contacting and locating industrial prospects.

"Industrial development will not happen overnight," Richardson said. "It may take years."

He also said that the Floydada area had the potential for good industrial expansion for the future.

Program chairman Mitchell Parrish introduced the Q. A. and P. vice president to the lions industry day audience. Gene Collins, Jr., Lions Club President, presided at the meeting.

"One Nation — UNDER GOD"

(Martha White Farris)

I am the mother of three sons! For this reason the peace and security of America is of much importance to me; and always as we approach Independence Day, it becomes uppermost in my mind. I realize that unless this nation is safe and strong, my three sons may not enjoy the inalienable rights granted to them on July 4, 1776.

From the year that my oldest son could understand, I have tried to instill in him the principles of moral and democratic thinking; respect for the rights of others, the necessity of being firm in his convictions. I have tried to teach him that humility and integrity increase the stature of a man, that independence and freedom of choice are precious privileges to be treated wisely and never taken for granted.

Our ancestors first sought the soil of this land in order to free themselves of ruler-controlled religion, and to gain the right to share in the governing of themselves. They paid a price in war and hardship for their freedom, but they declared that the price was not too great. Through the toil, courage, and vision of those individuals, America became great; and the blessed heritage of that greatness was willed to us.

The responsibility of accepting and protecting such a rich gift from our forefathers has been shouldered with humility and gratitude down through the years. Their blood has been spilled in order to assure a future for our sons that will mean independence of speech, of thinking, of religion, and education.

In studying the history of America's beginning, and in seeking to answer a boy's questions as to what makes our land great, I have understood why freedom, religious and political, is the foundation and backbone of this land we love so well. I have realized, too, that freedom must be under God before it can be truly of the people, by the people, and for the people.

Let There Be Peace

I dreamed last night I stood with aching heart, March proudly by; Young shoulders, strong support for heavy guns, Young hearts with one desire—"to do or die"; They did not see the tears in "Mothers' eyes," Or hear the prayers, "God, send him back to me," They only saw the flag and heard the drum, And thought of victory across the sea.

I dreamed last night I saw the battlefield, The trenches, bloody graves, the shell-torn holes; I heard the screaming bombs, the cannon roar, The cries of thirst and pain from dying souls. Strong shoulders now were stooped, tall bodies gaunt, Young faces pinched and old, eyes dull with pain; Proud hearts, once bold and gay, were stilled by death, Keen minds, a nation's hope, now far from sane.

I dreamed last night I stood upon the wharf And watched the ships—how slowly they did come— As if they knew the heartbreak they would bring When Mothers learned their sons were not brought home. The flag was there, I heard again the drums, And saw the tears, and felt that I must flee, Oh, God, I pray, let this remain a dream, And not repeat its grim reality.

Baker News

Dougherty News

(By Mrs. W. J. Ross) DOUGHERTY, June 25—This area received rain on Saturday night, reports range from one-half to three-fourths in Dougherty to one inch in the extreme south district. The area nearer the site of the former Antelope school reported up to 1.6 inches. Much hail is reported ranging from unofficial estimates of .25", .50" and up to a total loss of wheat and cotton.

The wheat harvest has begun but was interrupted by the rain. The only report received about the area wheat delivered to the elevator was 11% moisture and test 60%; estimates as to yield per acre vary possibly as high as 25 or 30 bushels, but everyone expresses the opinion that wheat will be difficult to combine and a high possibility much wheat will be lost. There appears to be a shortage of combines. Several combine crews pass daily but they appear to be headed for other areas.

The National Safety Council suggests these hazards to "weed out" when gardening:

- 1. Take frequent rests and ease into the work.
- 2. Space projects over a number of week-ends, not just one.
- 3. Keep tools sharp and in good repair.
- 4. If more than one person is working in a small area, be extra careful of how you swing your tools.
- 5. When putting tools down, place them where they can't be tripped over, and turn the points and edges down.
- 6. At the end of the day, clean tools, store in shed, garage, or basement. Have racks or hooks on which to hang them.
- 7. When lifting heavy objects, get help if the load is too heavy for one person.
- 8. When pruning branches, never get your head below your work. Falling twigs and flying bark may injure eyes.

10. Avoid the bad habit of chewing on a leaf or stalk. There are more than 100 common plants which are poisonous—some of them lethal.

11. Exercise special care when handling, mixing, or applying poisonous insecticides or plant foods. Wash hands and exposed parts of body after working with them.

Dave Sherrill, Extension Service Irrigation Agent and W. L. (Bill) Broadhurst, Geologist for the Heb Plains Water Conservation District, with headquarters in Lubbock; and Bill Rogers, Floyd County Agricultural Agent, spent Tuesday morning at the co-op office with Melvin Henry, discussing the possibilities of re-charge wells in Floyd County. They state that it is possible to return 35 to 50 million gallons of water per month, per well, from the surface lakes to the underground sands. If all the lakes in Floyd County could be drained back to the ground, it seems that underground water would last many years longer.

Pony Leaguers Push Schedule For Play-Offs

Baseball schedules in three local leagues are at the halfway point and many nip and tuck battles are being reeled off four nights a week at the two parks. Favorites are being named in every circuit, but there is still plenty of time for the underdogs to do a lot of damage to the league leaders if they are right any given night.

As of last Saturday it looked like VFW in the pony league, the Giants in the national league and the Braves in the Texas league. With the exception of the VFW all were being pushed very closely however and this could be changed by press time.

Play this week will start with VFW vs. Lighthouse, Tigers vs. Braves, and Indians vs. Gains tonight. Friday it will be Farm Bureau against First National, Red Sox against Cardinals. Monday will see VFW take on Farm Bureau, and Indians battle Dodgers. Tuesday night card is for Lighthouse to play First National, Red Sox to play Braves, and Giants to go against Cardinals.

Last week saw a lot of action with two games being rained out on Monday night. Both are to be completed. In one contest Farm Bureau was leading First National 2-2 after three innings with Christensen pitching for the leaders and Martinez for the trailing bank crew. The other game was a 5-5 deadlock when the rain came and six innings had been played.

Tuesday saw VFW take Lighthouse 11-3 behind the winning pitching of Hernandez. Teague got three hits for four trips to the plate and scored 3 runs for the winners. The Red Sox downed the high riding Braves 16-6 with Becker the winning pitcher and Marler the loser. Winding things up it was the Indians 8 and the league leading Giants 5 as Contee pitched and hit for the winners getting 3 for 3 at the plate. Thursday First National fell before Lighthouse 7-12 with Martinez the losing pitcher and Morren the winner. Campbell and Minner each hit 3 for 3 in leading the Lighthouse to victory. The winless Tigers rose in fury to devour the White Sox 14-3 with Oden the winning hurler. In the nightcap at Sherrill field the Giants hit their stride again to down the Cards 11-0 with Gardner doing the pitching and Amburn leading the batters at the plate getting 2 for 2.

Friday night's game found VFW on the long end of a 8-4 score over Farm Bureau. Teague pitched for the winners and Richardson for the losers. Marler led the VFW attack with 2 hits on 4 at bats while Batley hit 2 for 2 and scored twice in the losing cause. The Braves ran away with the White Sox 18-8 behind Marler's pitching. Upton pitched for the losers. The Indians won a close 11-10 victory over the Dodgers with Wilson pitching for the winners. Wilson hit 3 for 4 and scored twice in helping to win his own ball game.

Unofficial standings through last Friday night's games are as follows:

Monday night the Pony League started playing double headers of five innings each in an effort to complete their schedule in time to enter the playoffs at Lubbock on July 28.

This practice will be continued for a time if players and managers can hold out so that the all-star team can be selected in time to practice some before the playoff date.

This week Russell King was checking for the playoff in order not to overlook any league requirements. This is the first year the Floydada Pony League has been affiliated with the national organization and eligible to enter in the national playoff.

This Week's Scores

developed a store front sales program which was presented throughout the nation. The Keweenaw company also published a booklet, "The Floydada story," which pictured a dozen new store fronts of Floydada business firms and was distributed nationally to lumber dealers.

Now the civic improvements committee of the chamber wants the business property owners and businessmen to continue their good work of modernizing Floydada into a town to be proud of.

This week's letter signed by committee chairman, Mrs. Dorris Jones, and approved by committee members, points out to property owners that "too many" Floydada buildings have been neglected "too long," and that Floydada cannot hope to compete with other cities unless the town keeps working each year to improve its facilities. The local business man in an old building is also at a disadvantage and must look for a new building if he wants to keep his business.

Empty buildings and empty towns do not produce rent checks," property owners were told.

The committee would like to see Floydada businessmen and the owners of business property get together on another town-wide modernization program and put at least ten new store fronts and interior improvements into business buildings this year.

young members who have moved away to employment in other cities. Among the club's fund raising projects in the past has been the sale of sanitary garbage cans, annual broom sale for the blind, old settlers day publicity stunts and some shows and other activities. The club in its public service work has aided the boy scouts and cub scouts which they sponsor, is helping some in sending the scouts to the national jamboree; has aided in park improvement and with the little league program, maintains a fund for aiding needy children with poor eyesight, and annually contributes to the maintenance and operation of the Lions Texas Crippled Childrens Camp at Kerrville.

The club meets each Thursday noon at the American Legion Hall.

Lawrence Auld, Lockney, Victim Of Auto Crash

Lawrence Milburn Auld, 24, a recently married Lockney compress employee, and Harlay Aulse, a Negro believed to be a resident of the Plainview area, were killed Sunday in a flaming two-car collision between Matador and Paducah.

Injured were Mrs. Jean Auld, 20, 19, who was riding with her husband, and two Negro men, who were riding with Aulse. A highway patrolman stated the accident occurred about 1:30 p.m. at the top of a hill nine miles west of Paducah on U. S. Highway 70, east of the Motley-Cottle line.

Both Auld and his wife were thrown from their car. Auld's body was found about 100 feet from the point of collision and his wife was thrown about 150 feet.

Funeral service for Lawrence Milburn Auld was conducted Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Baptist Church of Lockney with Rev. Self, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Paducah, officiating. Burial was made in Lockney Cemetery under the direction of Carter Funeral Home.

Mr. and Mrs. Auld were married Feb. 10 in Lockney, and were enroute to Paducah to visit friends.

Auld's survivors, in addition to his wife, include his mother, identified by friends as Mrs. Mary Jetter of Paducah, two brothers and six sisters, names unknown.

Mrs. Auld was taken to Richard Memorial Hospital in Paducah for treatment and is reported to be in fair condition.

Crops Battered

Barwise area had the fifth hail on his onions and other crop damage. Two miles north of Sand Hill the hail was in evidence. Around Pleasant Valley the hail was highly destructive. R. C. Mitchell was pondering as late as Tuesday whether to leave his cotton to see if it would "come out," County Agent Bill G. Rodgers said. Damage was severe on many farms. Hailfall up to 2.5 inches was reported.

Hail pecked at crops for a mile or two on up past Lockney. Best news is that water-soaked row crops have not been subjected to blowing sand while the crust has dried.

Walter Tasck's place was one of the hard hit ones at Lick. The roof was battered off his residence and his crops are seen as total losses. He will not attempt to replant cotton, he is quoted by a neighbor as saying.

North of Floydada two miles Malcolm McNeill had heavy rain but only slight hail damage, and he had heard of little damage at McCoy where he also farms.

J. B. Belt Jr., in the southeast part of the Aiken Community, had considerable hail and wind damage, and Lighthouse Electric had their heaviest loss on the south side of his place, where they had 11 poles to replace following the storm.

Lighthouse also had two poles to replace at Harmony after the Saturday night blow.

Manager Melvin Henry said the maintenance crews had service reconnected on all their lines before the end of the day Sunday. Lighthouse has lost 23 poles since the beginning of the unusual weather in late April. Two weeks ago they had considerable damage in the area along the county boundary line northeast of Petersburg. Southwestern Public Service Company got by without any severe losses or interruptions of service, Joe Gidden, manager, said.

Southwestern Bell Telephone Company got three poles knocked out Saturday night and had some interruption of service in the vicinity of Pleasant Valley but had service restored on all the reported outs by Sunday night.

The other side of the picture includes reports of heavy-yielding grain crops. At Dougherty Tuesday Claud Ring had four combines harvesting on the Pitts farm. At Lakeview W. G. Collins was harvesting a 35-bushel crop.

One local elevator was receiving grain from 16 fields Tuesday, and the harvest will hit its stride today as moisture content lowers.

Another Floydada elevator reports receipt of two carloads of barley by Monday night.

Grote Has Moved To Brownfield As Farm Bureau Mgr.

Oliver Grote, who has been field representative for the Texas Farm Bureau in an 18-county area, with headquarters in Floydada, has moved with his family to Brownfield to take a place as Terry County Farm Bureau office manager.

The Grotes' regret leaving such a friendly city as Floydada, they said, and left word to express their appreciation to the people of Floydada for all their kindness and thoughtfulness.

This week the local Farm Bureau office had not been informed if a replacement as field man for Grote has been named.

They are more noticeable in a rainy season because they stir around more generally. They are present in all dry lake lands, however, as can be attested by operators of lake pumps, who ever so often have to clean the axolotl off the screens over the intake pipes.

The Hesperian had specimens of the salamander brought to the office in 1941 and in two or three other previous rainy seasons. Between times people forget what they are and think of them as a strange new creature.

Gidden US Bonds Ahead

Joe H. Gidden, Floyd County Commissioner, reports that sales in this county during the first five months of the year were $140,000 over the year's goal.

Sales in Texas during May were $260,000 over the goal. The State of Texas 27.5% of the 1937 goal.

I feel that Floyd County will do better than the state in this year. Savings Bonds are being sold and interest is being paid by our people. Bonds now are being sold in eight years and Chairman Gidden

Ronnie Dandridge of Floydada High School, left Sunday, to attend the National Savings Bond Convention in Dallas.

Wives Vows Gound, Barnes

Miss Joyce Elaine Gound, bride, and Mrs. H. Verdain Barnes, groom, in the wedding ceremony at the Methodist Church.

MRS. H. VERDAIN BARNES (Miss Joyce Elaine Gound)

not, given especially for the bride by Mrs. W. R. Douglas. Additional tradition was followed in the wedding band, which had belonged to the bride's paternal grandmother, the late Mrs. Walter A. Gound. This was worn attached to her garter, which was blue. Gold entwined, cultured pearl earrings were borrowed from her mother, and the bridal ensemble was new. A penny, worn in her shoe, had been given to the bride by her fiancé during their courtship days.

The couple knelt on a bench before a background of calla lilies and tapers. A Grecian column holding cathedral tapers was on each side of the large cross, to which a bouquet of calla lilies was attached.

From the columns extended a row of cathedral tapers in candelabra of graduated heights, decorated with greenery and lilies. Each row terminated with a palm concealing the door to the choir room.

Silk roping and candles outlined the altar rail; ropes and lilies marked bows, with the roping and candles making a pathway to the altar.

Attendants

Virginia Davis of Panhandle, college roommate and club sister of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a yellow sheath fashioned on empire lines. A sash of yellow chiffon marked the high waistline and floated to the skirt hem in back. The bateau neckline extended close to the tiny sleeves.

She wore a yellow hat bearing a brief veil which circled the head-dress. Goldlocks roses with foliage and ribbon streamers formed a crown on a white Bible which the attendant carried.

Bridesmaids, all attired in an identical style to the maid of honor were Mary Ella Bigony, Mrs. John L. Davis of Midland, Shirley Wheat and Charlene Williams of Abilene.

Feminine attendants' hats had been made by the bride and they wore white lace gloves, a gift from the bride.

Jack Gravit of Phillips attended the bridegroom as best man. Guests were seated by Joel Kirkpatrick of Phillips; Keith Wiseman of Dumas; Don Yarbrough of Westaco; Gene Tucker of Andrews; and Charles Mays of Maracaibo, Venezuela, a cousin of the bridegroom. Also serving as groomsmen were Wiseman, Yarbrough, Tucker and Mays. Tapers were lighted by Gloria Muirgrave of Phillips and Norman Gound, brother of the bride.

Fellowship Hall of the church was the scene of a reception when the couple received guests, assisted by their parents and feminine attendants.

On the bride's table, an off-white cutwork cloth of Maderia linen was placed over a floor length skirt of ruffled yellow net. Above the table, white wedding bells hung at the junction of four yellow streamers.

The centerpiece was a silver five-pronged candelabrum, swathed in foliage Goldlocks roses and lilies of the valley. A garland of the same flowers, looped around the center arrangement, connected the punch bowl at one end of the table to the cake, at the opposite end. The wedding cake was made in four tiers, which were separated by tiny columns.

When the couple left for a trip to points in South Texas, the new Mrs. Barnes wore an Italian silk suit in evening blue, made with a slim skirt and cape coat. Two triple pleats added interest to the back of the skirt. Her white hat was sprinkled with seed pearls and rhinestones, and she carried a pearl cluster bag with matching shoes.

The couple will make a home at 1144 Amarillo in Abilene, where the bridegroom is a ministerial student at McMurry College. The bride will teach in the Abilene Public Schools.

McMurry Students Mrs. Barnes is a graduate of McMurry, where she was a member of Delta Beta Epsilon Sorority, the Wah Wahaysee and Future Teachers of America. She was included in Who's Who in American College, 1956-57.

The bridegroom was graduated from Phillips High School and attended Baylor University. He is now president of the Texas Methodist Student Movement in McMurry; a member of the Christian Foundation and of Die Deutschen Indischer, German club, Ko Sari Fraternity and Sigma Tau Delta, honorary Engineer.

Mrs. Richard Higgins, nee Miss Gladys Parkey, was honored with a miscellaneous shower Friday afternoon, between the hours of 4 and 6 o'clock, in the home of Mrs. D. S. Battey of the Harmony Community. Floral arrangements of roses and baby breath decorated the rooms and the bride's chosen colors of blue and white were carried out in other decorations.

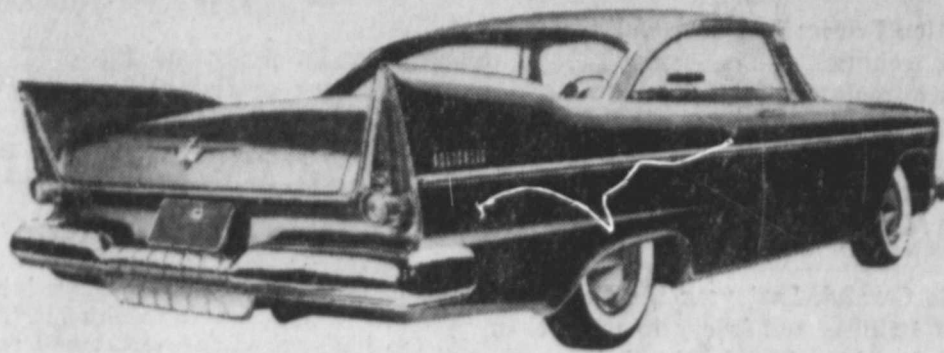

Guests were received by Mrs. Battey and presented to the honoree and her mother, Mrs. D. J. Parkey. Out-of-town guests present for the occasion were Mrs. C. E. Hukill, Mrs. Dewey Parkey, Mrs. Lennie Nienast, Mrs. Homer Hukill and Mrs. Paul Hukill, all of Littlefield.

The refreshment table was laid with a white cut-worked cloth and featured crystal and silver appointments. The blue motif was carried out to complete the table decor.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

Please Be Careful. Last year the Fourth of July cost 12 lives and injury to more than 300 in Texas alone. The day has become one of tragedy. And the tragedy is compounded a great deal by the fact that most of the deaths are due to violations of the law. Thus, last year 58 per cent of the highway killings were due to speed too fast for conditions. Driving while drinking accounted for 29 per cent. Then came improper passing, followed by crossing prohibited lines. Few accidents were due to faulty machines, bad road conditions. So when we say please be careful, we mean be careful to obey the laws of the road. You're almost sure of returning home safely if you do. Otherwise, you court tragedy, the loss of your own life or that of loved ones.

Tight Money Policy. We have never known, and probably never will, about money. For instance, how officials of the Federal Reserve Board and the U. S. Treasurer eight months ago knew that money would be "tight" in 1957. Tight money was to be a check on inflation and higher prices. Apparently something went wrong with the calculations because tight money has not brought less inflation, it has compounded the problems of the government in its own financing and made the cost of doing business much greater for most everybody who had to go to the public or to a private financing place for borrowed money. Probably the formula does not work the same way at all times. This time reverse and adverse effects are being seen. We have to rely on such men as Senator Byrd, who now is conducting an investigation for congress, for what may be the answer. The Treasury Department seems to be in a morass over the nation's money affairs and certainly no person in the ordinary walks of life has found that the way has been made easier by tight money, whatever that is and however it may have come about.

Bright, New Idea. We are pleased to report that the vegetable experimenters are having a lot of fun, and the chance of making money, too. A new idea, like that, a sort of pioneering project, seems to put new fire into a fellow. Wheat, cotton and maize is a cut and dried sort of thing, with the government and everybody else having a hand in what you do and how you do it. With onions, cabbage and the like, you do on your own and you make it or not and that's that. The fact that some people occasionally make cents of money puts a little more pep into the thing.

Acre of Parsley. We heard a fellow, who farms a section or two of land, talking somewhat to himself and to anybody about that was interested to the general effect he planned to plant an acre of parsley. He was one of the fellows the vegetable bug had bitten. Parsley is just one of several things he will plant on the chance that it will go out profitably in mixed shipments of vegetables to the dinner tables of the nation. More interesting than amusing, come to think of it. This land is too high-priced for wheat and cotton, to tell the truth. Furthermore the way things are going the competition is getting so keen you can't get enough acres of what you want to plant of the staples that you can sell at a price you'd be willing to take. When you hit production and market at the same time on 10 acres of something good in the vegetable line you make more money than you'd make on a 100 acres of the cotton, wheat or maize. Intriguing to say the least.

Brothers and sisters—The Brown family had just moved into a new community, Jenny Brown was a very talkative little girl, but bright as a new silver dollar. One day a neighbor lady called to pay her respects, but Jenny was the only one at home.

"How many brothers and sisters have you, Jenny?" asked the kindly neighbor.

"Well," answered Jenny, slowly, a twinkle dancing in her eyes; "You see it's like this: us girls each has the same number of brothers as sisters, but each brother has twice as many sisters as brothers."

The neighbor lady went home and tried to figure it out, but to this day nobody ever heard that she did.

(Answer below)

We didn't know, until we read about it, that while onions and other types of vegetables are new to the plains, the fact is that Texas is the nation's No. 1 producer of onions. Texas A. & M. Extension is responsible for the statement that for the five-year period 1949-53 in the state was four and a half million fifty-pound bags, 11 per cent of the nation's total. Just privately, if onions catch on as the easy crop to raise, the south plains will produce enough onions to swamp the boat within a year or so. Don't bet it all on onions.

HELPFUL

A Greyhound bus driver was making his usual run north from Ashcroft, B. C., on the Caribou highway. Along the way he tossed bundles of newspapers to be picked up later by distributors.

Suddenly an American car pulled alongside, honking furiously. "Don't know what's the matter," the motorist called, "but you seem to be losing papers. I've been picking them up for the last couple of hours." And he handed over the bus driver's entire morning delivery.

... whoever could make two ears of corn, or two blades of grass to grow upon a spot of ground where only one grew before, would deserve better of mankind, and do more essential service to his country, than the whole race of politicians put together.

—Swift Gulliver: Voyage to Brobdingnag

There were in the Brown family four sisters and three brothers.

Many Varieties Cotton Testing

HALFWAY, TEXAS: Research on cotton varieties at the High Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation at Halfway, will consist of observation plots, test plots and variety comparison in acreage plots.

Sixty-one varieties have been planted in observation plots 22 feet long. Each of these 61 varieties is new or untried in this area.

Thirty four varieties have been planted in one hundred foot plots with four rows to the plot. The tests will be made from two center rows. The outside rows will not be used because the results might be influenced by the fertilization or irrigation program conducted on the adjoining plots. Each variety plot will be repeated four times. The research results to be determined by the average of the center rows in the four plots.

Eight leading varieties of cotton have been planted for comparison in acreage blocks. These varieties are those now in common use in the High Plains Area. A prominent farmer visiting the Station and observing the planting in process said, "I now understand better than ever why we must all join in this project. The planting, cultivation, irrigation, fertilization of all these varieties in so many plots is quite beyond what any individual could possibly afford to do alone."

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

(Taken from the files of the Hesperian, issue dated July 1, 1943.)

The last 15 per cent of the Floyd county wheat acreage to be harvested will wait at least until this afternoon for sunshine to soften up the tough stalks, after fog and drizzle, with spotted showers about, put a complete stop to harvest work Tuesday morning.

Estimates are that around Dougherty and Floydada territories the wheat was 90 per cent finished before the drizzles set in. In the north part of the county possibly 20 to 25 per cent of the crop is still unharvested. Mostly small fields and fields of growers who do not own combine harvesters are the ones not yet harvested.

Miss Maurice Burton was honored Wednesday of last week with a surprise birthday party when friends gathered at her home on South Main Street. The group enjoyed games before refreshments of ice cream and cake was served the guests.

Miss Gertrude Huckabee became the bride of F. C. Nohn Brand in a quiet ceremony Wednesday night at 10:15 in the home of Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Knop of Lockney. Rev. Knop, pastor of the First Methodist Church, performed the marriage ceremony.

W. H. Smith Jr., who has been at school in North Texas State College, Denton, spent a 24-hour visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Smith, here the first of the week, leaving Wednesday for Ruston, La., where he takes up an assignment in the Marine corps.

Mr. and Mrs. Joy Wright of Los Angeles, Calif. were visitors the first of this week in the home of his grandmother, Mrs. Clara Pace, 302 South Fifth Street. The Wrights visited in Wichita Falls with her parents before returning to California.

COTTON AT THE CROSSROADS

The cotton industry of Texas and the nation has a vital decision to make in the next few years. It must decide whether to accept more and more controls and restrictions or meet the challenge of modern technology. The first path leads to virtual extinction of the small farmer in a decade or so — the other opens up vast new fields in marketing and demand.

The key to a successful future for cotton lies in greater research towards developing new uses and wider markets for the product. We have a number of research projects now — but they have been directed mainly towards increasing production, or per-acre yields. We have gone about as far as we can go in that direction under the present economic demand.

It is cold, hard fact that almost every bale we produce over the 9-million bale mark each year must be either stored, subsidized or dumped at a loss in countries abroad. Once our domestic consumption exceeded 12-million bales. But synthetic fabrics have cut deep inroads in cotton markets at a time when our main goal were to get more cotton from less acres!

Today, the industry and government agencies must develop a new approach. The surface hasn't been scratched on all the potential uses for cotton. Only a vast research program will bring them into being.

There are several immediate goals which could create a market demand to equal and eventually surpass our previous 12-million bale consumption. But the cotton industry, and the government, have been guilty of letting many opportunities slide away.

As an example, a vast quantity of jute is imported each year to make binding cloth for cotton bales. Using even poor grade cotton, a competitive fabric could be manufactured to wrap cotton bales and increase consumption by about $5,000 bales annually — right on the cotton industry's doorstep.

Other outlets can be developed by producing superior quality in cotton fabrics such as:

1. Flame resistant cloth which would open a demand for an additional 1 1/2 million bales each year.
2. Cotton garments that require no ironing would utilize some 1 million bales.
3. Rot and weather resistant cloth — 300,000 bales.
4. A superior but competitive cloth for auto seat covers — 100,000 bales.

These are just a few examples of new possibilities in cotton marketing.

Of course, our present controls and regulations cannot be immediately abandoned until demand comes closer to the supply. But restrictions should be regarded as emergency measures, not permanent institutions.

News of Harmony

(By Mrs. Mather Carr)

HARMONY, June 24 — Mrs. Walter Hanna has had the pleasure of two visiting nieces with her for several weeks. One is from Corpus Christi, the other from El Paso. Miss Johnston returned to her home Thursday. Her father, Warren Johnston, was once a resident of our community.

Leon Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Williams, underwent surgery Wednesday at West Texas Hospital, Lubbock, for a nose injury he received several months ago in a football game at school. He was brought home Sunday and is doing fine.

Several met at the church Wednesday to clear the church grounds of some of the weeds, and clear they did. There were three tractors, two shredders and one disc, and hoes and rakes. They really changed the look of things.

This clean up was sponsored by the young people of the church. When we were ready to go into the tree row we discovered someone had already hoed it out. We want to take this means of expressing thanks to Milton Evans for having this work done. Mr. Evans has helped to keep this tree row clean ever since it was put out and the church wants to thank him for being so nice to us. He takes an interest in making the church grounds look better.

The Community Center folks had their regular monthly meeting Thursday, with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Pool, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Haggett, and Zani Scott as hosts at a "Hobo Supper". Each one was supposed to come dressed like a hobo and some really did. A good supper was enjoyed by a good crowd.

Mrs. R. B. Gary was declared the best-dressed "hobo" and Chiama Williams the best dressed man. It is fun to have these parties.

After all had eaten, Glenn Pool, the president, called the house to order for a business meeting. Several things were discussed. One thing they did was to appoint a committee to see about the air conditioner for the building. Mr. Stanton, Walter Hanna and Roy Hale were appointed to see about it.

Other committees were read for hosts for the remainder of the year. Mrs. Rachel Ivy, of Graham, Texas, was a guest in the Everett Miller home Sunday.

Wesley Carr attended the funeral of Dr. J. T. Hutchinson at Lubbock Sunday. Vetrus Heard of Petersburg was also among those who were there from this section for the rites. Dr. Hutchinson passed Saturday in Methodist Hospital.

Rev. Gates preached two more good sermons at the chapel Sunday. He returned home for dinner as they were having their two doctor sons and families from Pampa to spend the day with them. Also visiting in the Gates home is a sister of Mrs. Gates, Mrs. Elsie McVade of Magnolia, Arkansas. Mrs. McVade attended church at the Chapel Sunday night.

Mrs. Walter Hanna and Mrs. Zani Scott received word that their nephew, Mr. Farris had been killed in Tokyo. His home was in Corpus Christi.

Mrs. Ward, who has been making her home with the Stantons, has returned to Lubbock to make her home.

Miss Carleta Reeves spent Sunday night with Margaret Dunn of Center.

The young people of the McCoy Baptist Church had a party at Plainview Thursday night. They had supper and went skating afterward.

Let's all come to Church Sunday. It's very important that we go.

She'll Get Your Number

Is your personal list of out-of-town telephone numbers complete and up-to-date?

If it isn't, we'll be glad to get any new numbers you need — free of charge, too. Just call Long Distance and ask the operator for the numbers you want.

As always, you'll find Long Distance service is much faster and more convenient when you keep a list and call by number.

Long Distance is a real bargain, too. You can call from Floydada to Dallas for only 95c (station-to-station after 6 p.m. and all day Sunday.)

I Like My Phone Because . . .

If you were asked to name the one "main" reason why you like having a telephone, what would it be?

Time-saver, maybe? Housewives, especially, get so much more done during the day by using their telephone as an errand boy.

Business aid? The phone is an essential tool for most business and professional people.

Companion? Folks who have to stay close to home because of illness or family responsibilities find the telephone a reliable friend. Frequently, it's their number one means of keeping up with friends they don't often get to see.

Others find it reassuring, just to have a telephone close by, knowing they can use it to call for help in an emergency.

But most of us, I imagine, like having a telephone simply because it's an easy, pleasant way to visit the people we enjoy and want to talk to.

Telephone service means a lot of different things to a lot of different people. For whatever reason you like having a phone, you can be sure we're always searching for new and better ways to make it even more useful, convenient, and economical.

Not Out Until You Count Ten

Remember this old saying? "Don't lose your temper. Count to 10." Still pretty good advice, I guess.

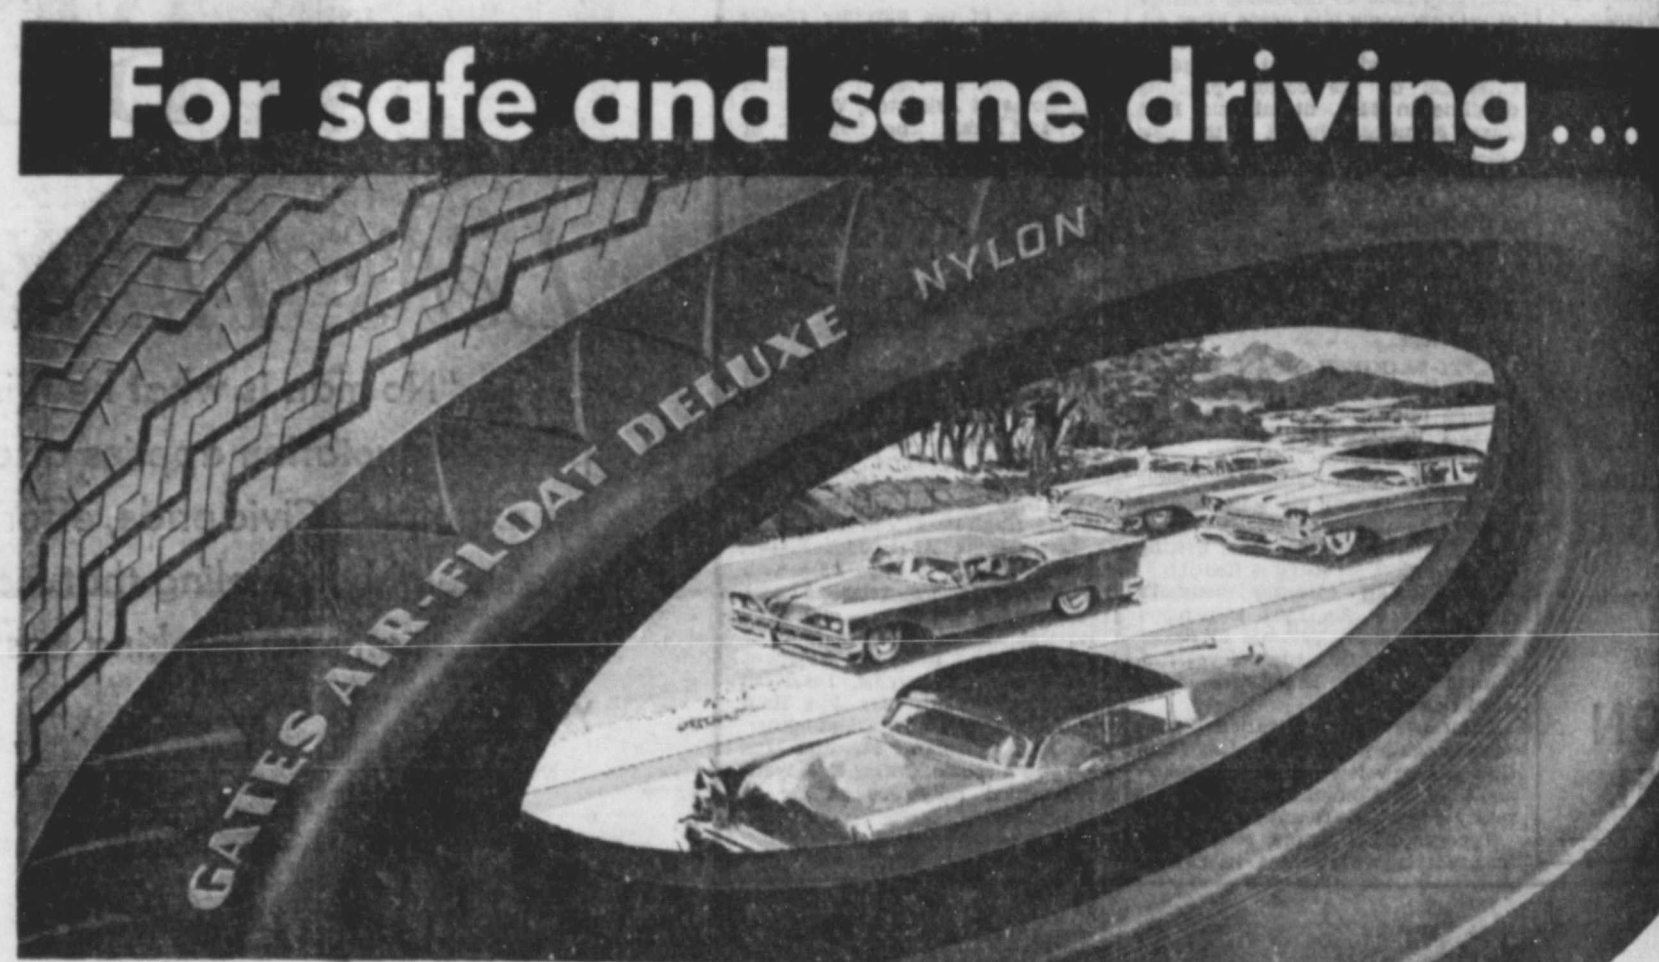

And 10 can be a magic number for saving your telephone temper, too.

When you make a call and don't get a quick answer, a good rule of thumb is to wait at least 10 rings before you assume no one's there.

Especially during the summer—when people are out in the yard so often—it's a good idea to allow them some extra time to reach the phone.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

Maggie and Milly and Molly and May

Went down to the beach (to play one day)

And Maggie discovered a shell that sang

So sweetly she couldn't remember her troubles, and

Milly befriended a stranded star

Whose rays five languid fingers were;

And Molly was chased by a horrible thing

Which raced sideways while blowing bubbles; and

May came home with a smooth round stone

As small as a world and as large as alone

For whatever we lose (like a you or a me)

It's always ourselves we find in the sea.

I am grateful to Maude Hollums for the above poem. She found it in the New York Times and copied it exactly as it was. I like it. Do You?

The place is looking somewhat better altho the trees, the shrubs and roses are very sick looking. But we go around with renewed hope and faith, planting seed and cutting away the dead limbs as much as we can.

Looking back for ninety years, enjoying the present, and looking forward with hope to a good future, Jeff sits in his easy chair by the big window, reads the paper, looks at TV, or plays dominos with Billy, Dale and little Johnny.

Born in Kaufman County just after the war that took away the negroes from his grandfather's plantation, days of hard work for a little boy who followed old John down the rows which were long for a boy. Walking barefoot, calling out and haw to the faithful old horse. Picking cotton and pulling out each leaf and bits of stalk, riding his pony in the woods to see after the cattle and horses which ran free. Sitting still while his father and old man Reed who said "I law, I God" for a by word) fought the battles of the war just over.

Then with a money belt around his slim waist at the age of twenty, Jeff went to East Texas with his brother-in-law, Andy Paschall to buy the cattle to drive to the new home in West Texas, landing in Crosby County with the family and the ticky East Texas cattle in the summer of 1890.

Jeff began the life of a cowboy on the ranch in Lubbock County, the IOA's. For ten years he followed the herd, laying on the ground at night under his tarpaulin, standing the graveyard guard, always taking the dusty side of the roundups, flanking the yearlings to be branded and riding hard and enjoying the stampedes.

In the year of 1906 we married and moved to the farm northwest of Cone. Jeff ran a few cattle and farmed with mules. Callie and Fidy pulled the plow and then the buggy when we went to town, running away most every time we drove the roads to town, but always keeping straight down the road.

Whiteface cows curried their babies hair with their long tongues, baby colts ran by their mother's sides, baby mules flipped their long ears at the flies. A busy, happy life with three children, Wilson, the twins, Wilda and Wilma.

Then came the drouth, the white-faces were sold, and the J branding iron was hung on the wall of the big barn. Jersey cows chewed their cuds as they lay in the lot at night after being milked, another era began. Sheep ranged over the section, leaving narrow trails on the mesquite grass baby lambs cried like human babies, the sheep bell tinkled.

Then one day Jeff stood with tears in his eyes as he watched the last of his horses loaded up and sold. A tractor chugged down the cotton rows and pulled in the loaded trailers of feed for the winter's supply.

The curry comb and the shears for trimming up the mules' tails and manes were hung by the branding iron. A milking machine was installed, electricity took over on the farm. The children married and their childhood treasurers were put in the old trunk in the attic. Then one day Jeff fainted and fell from his tractor. The milk cows were sold, Jeff's busy days were over.

One day our things were loaded on trailers. We lived in Floydada two short happy years. Now we are near our children in Crosby County and Jeff's cake could use ninety candles if they could be put on.

I try to be as good as I can,

Meriwether of Lockney. Co-hostess with Mrs. Meriwether was another daughter of Mrs. Dagley's, Mrs. T. B. Hill of Wichita Falls.

After a century of living, Mrs. Dagley still plants a sizeable garden and keeps her own weeds out, and says she is in excellent health except for hearing.

Mrs. Dagley, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Dodd, was born at Little Rock, Ark., June 22, 1857. The Dodd family moved to Lone Oak, Tex., when she was 5 years old. There, she was reared, and in 1874 she married John Thomas Dagley. The couple moved to Bosque County in 1876 and moved on to Floyd County in 1890. They filed on a section of land in the Erick Community where they lived in a dugout for several years.

The couple moved to Lockney in 1895 and later bought land. Mr. Dagley died in 1909 and Mrs. Dagley took over the responsibility of raising a family. She has three children living of the eight born to her and her husband. The third daughter, Mrs. J. H. Baker lives in Glendora, Calif.

Mrs. Dagley, who still lives in the same house she built in 1902, insists on doing her own yard work and maintaining her household. In recent years, however, someone has usually lived with her.

Mrs. Dagley has a brother living, Ed Dodd of LaHabra, Calif., who is 90 years old. Illness prevented him to Texas for his sister's celebration.

The century-old celebrity, who has received congratulations from President Eisenhower and Governor Price Daniels, has 40 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

Ben Beckham were Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Beckham and Barbara Kay of Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Thornhill.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Howard were callers one night last week in the D. D. Thornhill home.

Mrs. Preston Weeks accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Doris Weeks and Ship to Corpus Christi on Sunday of last week for several days vacation.

Pete Richardson visited Wednesday and Wednesday night with Lonnie White in Lubbock. Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Ben Beckham took Lonnie to Coopterton, Oklahoma where he has employment.

They spent Thursday night with their daughter and family, the Walter-Laberges.

Preston Weeks was a Thursday night supper guest of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sudduth and Diane.

Marshall Berry visited with Tommy Thornhill Thursday afternoon of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Thornhill were visitors with the M. R. Givens on Tuesday of last week.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Goode and girls, Susan and Sandra, of New Orleans, La., came Saturday morning to visit with Mrs. Goode's parents and sister and family. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bennett and Mr. and Mrs. Willard Richardson and children and Mr. and Mrs. Goode returned Sunday. The girls stayed for a visit. A grandson of the Bennetts, Ronald Davis, and Donnie Autrey of California, are also visiting relatives and friends this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Beckham and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Thornhill were Sunday afternoon callers in the Charlie Beckham home. Then they went to the Kelton Winegars to get Tommy Thornhill.

Mrs. Dan Newman of Dumas, Robert and Georgia Ann Winegar were Saturday afternoon callers in the T. E. Thornhill home.

On Monday night of last week the rain and wind storm was pretty rough here. Of course we only received 4.3 inches of rain. The fields washed and poor little cotton looked awful the next day. Some looks pretty good now but some didn't make it. However on Saturday night and Sunday morning several farmers lost their cotton from sand when the wind was up.

During the cloud Sunday morning, a little after 12 o'clock, it was quite dark except when the lightning flashed so bright and the cloud looked quite rough, rough enough for quite a number of folks to seek shelter in the cellars. The Bennetts were already in the cellar and here came Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt McClure and Duane. We, the T. E.'s were not in the cellar but were up watching to see if we had better go when Mr. and Mrs. Conda Starrett and Mary Ann and grandmother Hardin came over just in case the funnel kept coming our way.

Only GAS water heaters give you

2 water temperatures from one tank

The revolutionary Duo-Temp water heater gives you hot water automatically right for every need

No more "juggling" the hot and cold water taps to get the right blend for bathing. No more pallid grey sheets from wash water not hot enough! The Duo-Temp feeds water from two separate outlets into bathroom and kitchen faucets...and into washer and dishwasher. Water for laundering holds to the temperature required for the whitest washes...yet water from the top never exceeds a temperature that is safe to the touch. Additionally, your gas water heater vents to the outside as recommended by safety engineers. For details, call us, or visit a gas appliance dealer.

The Big Job is under way

Santa Fe is now loading thousands of cars of grain and grain products on its lines

Santa Fe has been serving agriculture since 1874, when we sponsored the migration of the Mennonite farmers who established the Kansas wheat belt, and brought with them from Europe the ancestors of the better varieties of wheat grown in America today.

During harvest time, Santa Fe has a big job to do. At the country stations and terminal elevators along the line, as agriculture's "hired man," Santa Fe loads over 121,000 boxcars of grain a year—the total production of over 9,000,000 fertile acres. We also load over 34,000 cars of grain products on our line annually.

An important part of this job is done in advance by our own agriculture department, by collecting data on planted acreage, weather, crop damage and other factors that affect yield.

These statistics provide useful information for farmers, elevator operators and others interested in grain movements, and assist us in spotting grain-tight boxcars at strategic points at harvest time.

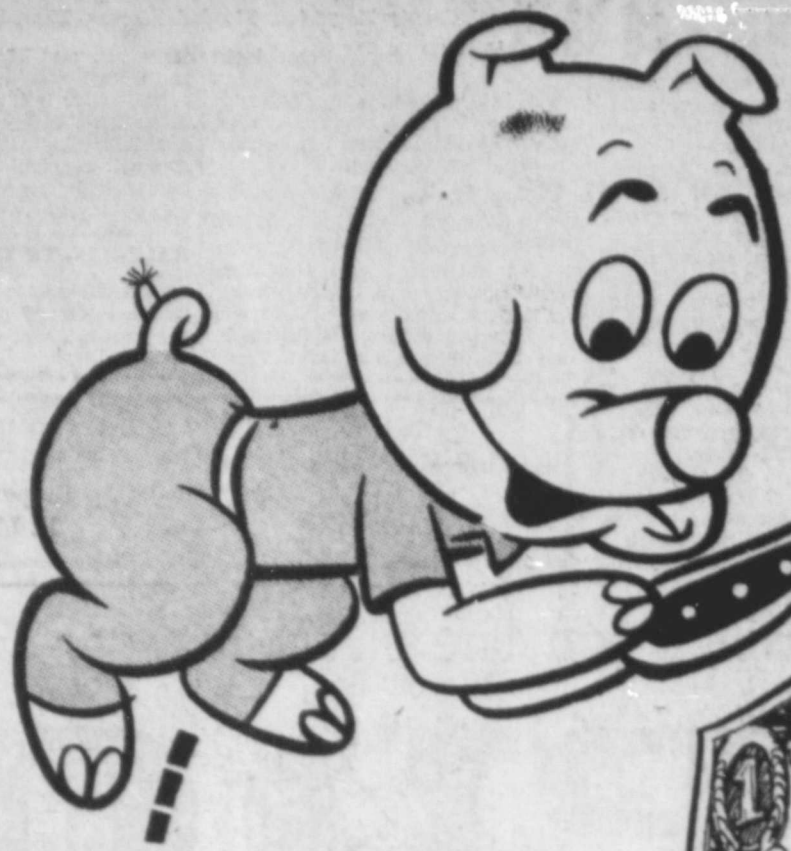

Our agriculture department works with the Federal and State agriculture departments, land grant colleges, and county agents in fighting destructive insects and plant diseases.

We are also privileged to award university scholarships annually to many farm youths in our territory.

We of the Santa Fe are proud of the part we have in serving the farmers of the West and Southwest in their essential task of feeding the Nation.
