

City Plans Addition To Electric Power Plant

Bids Asked On 1,100 KW Unit

In a called meeting of the city council last Friday afternoon the council gave the go-ahead for Light and Power Commissioner M. H. Martin to integrate plans for expansion of the power plant generating facilities by 1,100 kilowatts.

Accordingly the council issued a call for bids on an engine generator unit and generator to be submitted on February 17. If the bids are within the figures the city is willing to pay a contract will be signed after consideration, according to the plans being made.

Financing the added power unit is expected to be done by the issuance of light and power revenue warrants. A favorable market for the securities is in prospect, said Mr. Martin.

Expectation is that the additional unit will be completed and put on the line not later than September 1. No additional building will be needed and is not contemplated in the plans of the council.

Industrial growth of the community has been such as to make the new power unit a necessity, said Mr. Martin. "We have a capacity load already and have in firm prospect additional demand that we'll have to take care of or turn down," he said.

Present generator capacity of the city's plant is 2,200 KW, and peak loads have already exceeded 1,800 KW. The new generator would increase the total capacity of the city's plant to 3,400 KW. The expanded plant would be expected to take care of foreseeable demand for the next eight years.

"All of the present engines are doing a perfect job. All our engines are delivering their full rated capacity," Mr. Martin said. "We have had checks made by competent engineers who tell us we have an efficient power plant in operation, but they all agree that we do need more capacity."

Growth of the demand on the city's power and light system is indicated by the records to have been steady. Figures for the year 1953 shows 4,589,400 KW generated, with a peak load of 1,140 KW.

In 1954, the figures are 4,802,900 KWs and 1,180 KW peak load.

In 1955, the total passed the 5 million mark with total KWs generated at 5,278,100, and peak load 1,275 KW.

In 1956 the total jumped another million KWs, with 6,378,800 KWs generated, and a peak load of 1,450 KWs.

For the year of 1957 the total production was 6,441,200 KWs and the peak load was 1,620 KWs.

Martin said the city had obtained the best advice obtainable both in engineering and financing. The city's favorable balances in its debt-retiring fund, and its demonstrated ability to show a profit, make the city's securities look good in the eyes of the investing public, he pointed out.

More Farm Credit Is Available In County

Additional farm credit in the form of initial emergency loans is now available to Floyd County farmers. Walter T. McKay, State Director, today advised Delbert L. Kassahn, local County Farmers Home Administration Supervisor.

The designation to authorize the making of initial emergency loans in Floyd County was made by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson as a result of damage and losses sustained by local farmers from excessive rains, freeze and other adverse weather.

Loans to finance 1958 operations are available to farmers who suffered actual production losses, who have a good record of past operations, and who are unable to obtain the credit they need from private or cooperative credit sources.

Loans may be made for normal farm and home operating expenses, the interest rate is 3 per cent and loans are repayable annually, Delbert L. Kassahn, advised.

"This credit assistance is in addition to credit services already available from Farmers Home Administration," Kassahn further stated. "Other credit services include subsequent emergency loans to farmers who suffered losses due to drought, and all loans authorized under the agency's regular lending activities."

Eligibility for all types of loan assistance is determined by the local County Committee and applications are now being accepted at the local Farmers Home Administration office. W. Earl Edwards, Hubert E. Frizzell and Malcolm J. McNeill are now serving on the Floyd County FHA Committee.

Feb. 1 Is Deadline For County's Few Aliens Who Must Register

(Special to The Hesperian)

NEW YORK, Jan. 20 — Under the law, all aliens living in Floyd County must register before February 1st, reporting their current addresses to the Government.

Similarly affected are 2,850,000 other aliens, distributed throughout the United States.

With but few exceptions, all foreigners who have been admitted for permanent residence and who have not been naturalized, must keep the Government informed of their whereabouts. This is required under the 1952 Immigration and Nationality Act.

In Floyd County, however, the alien population is relatively small and fewer people are affected, proportionately, than in most parts of the West South Central States.

The most recent Federal count showed only 10 aliens over the age of 21 in the local population.

This was equivalent to nearly 2 adult aliens for every 1,000 local residents over 21 years old. It was lower than the regional average of 16 per 1,000.

Since the founding of our nation, more than 40 million immigrants have entered the United States, the records show. The great majority of them became citizens eventually.

Since 1921 admission to this country has been by quota, based on the particular nationality's share of the United States population in 1920.

Thus, at present, Britain and North Ireland have the largest quota, 65,361 a year. Following are Germany, with 25,814, Ireland, 17,756, Italy, 5,645, and France, 3,069. Less than two-thirds of the overall number authorized come here, however.

In the Floyd County population are 36 who were born in foreign countries. Of these, 21 have become naturalized citizens, the count shows.

First-preference quotas have been made available for persons "urgently needed in the United States because of high education, technical training or specialized experience."

Although the law permits 75,000 such entries a year, only 1,600 were brought here in 1957, according to Joseph M. Swing, Commissioner of Immigration. He said this "reflected the failure of the business community" to take full advantage of its opportunity to acquire valuable scientific and other skilled personnel from abroad.

Will No Agent Judge Is Told

Floyd County women have been trying on for several months about a County Home Demonstration Agent. They have a well-named program under way for 8 and their first county meeting has been held. Local clubs also have been holding successful meetings for the need for an overall director of the various activities. It is being to be felt, said Mrs. J. T. Mars, new county chairman Monday.

There is no acceptable applicant for the place available yet, but by way of the telephone Saturday she queried District Agent Mrs. Aubrey Russell. The District Agent told the judge she had not time to get an agent of the extension service for women's clubs in the county.

In the county has a big enrollment of women in home demonstration activities. Baseball Player Accident Victim

Roy Campanella, famous baseball player, was injured in an auto accident early this week and is in critical condition. From reports received he is suspected as having a fractured neck which is producing pressure against the spinal cord nerves. Doctors fear that paralysis may result from this pressure.

Altho, a tragic thing to happen, it brings out the point that chiropractors stress everyday, how serious spinal cord pressure is and what can and does result from pressure. In Roy's case, it is essential he have medical attention now for the fracture, however in most cases of sickness, the pressure on the spinal cord nerves are not from fractures but from a spinal bone being shifted out of its normal position sufficiently to produce the pressure.

To show you actual cases of such instances here is a couple actual case findings that came to our clinic in Floydada. A man complaining of a gall bladder condition came to us. He couldn't eat many types of food. Medical doctors told him that his gall bladder wasn't secreting enough bile due to muscular weakness in the gall bladder. A chiropractic examination revealed the nerves leading to his gall bladder were under pressure from a misaligned spinal bone resulting in a mild type of paralysis. Thru proper adjustments, the bone was realigned which removed the pressure from the nerves. Case showed complete response. Another is a case of a man who had sciatic rheumatism as it was called by the medical diagnosis. Upon entering our clinic and having the proper spinal examination, it was again revealed that this man had pressure upon the spinal nerves leading to his hip and leg. His pain was severe due to the sensory nerves being pinched. He was gradually getting weaker in this leg due to the muscular nerves being pinched and the long standing of the case. Thru proper chiropractic care this man is now completely free of pain and has regained the use of his leg to normal.

In most cases of spinal cord pressures, the person does not realize anything is wrong until the pressure has existed long enough to allow a breakdown of the tissue cells in the region to which the spinal nerves are going to and coming from. A proper spinal examination reveals everything that is wrong at the present time in the patient plus what is beginning to go wrong in their body. A normal spine means normal health. Is yours normal?

Nine year old Sharon Vernon informed me Saturday that we all formed me Saturday that we all eat breakfast in the mornings, lunch about 12 noon, and dinner in the afternoon after five o'clock. Supper is a meal eaten outside in the late afternoon. I'm sorry Sharon, it's still breakfast, dinner and supper to me. Lunch is usually a light snack at noon or something carried in a sack. It's not that I'm too old to learn, it's just that I've lived in the country too long, and eaten too many suppers in the house. (I apologize to all the people who have eaten dinner with their friends this week, for as usual I called it supper.)

Food Sense — Not Nonsense

Why Bear B Vitamin-Short Fare?

Baby Bear had good reason to howl when Goldilocks ate his porridge. He was crying for his crib harder had he known that cereal foods are an important source of thiamine . . . the B vitamin he needed to change food energy into the frisk-and-play kind. Nature is stingy with thiamine. Because many of us don't eat enough of the foods that supply this vitamin, we share Baby Bear's fate: To drag at work and play.

To get enough thiamine each day, it is not necessary to eat "high off the hog." Best sources are among the least expensive foods—enriched and whole grain breads and cereals, peas and beans, potatoes, and pork.

pockets, Dr. Faith Clark, food economist for the U.S. Department of Agriculture, has called attention to this present-day trend: When people have more money to spend for food, they are likely to shift their purchases from grain products and pork—leading sources of thiamine—to other foods that do not have this high B rating.

No one can afford to short-change himself on thiamine. It is needed not only to tune up the nervous system and prevent irritability, but also to keep the digestive tract healthy. For dieters, there is this added boon: As thiamine-rich foods help level off over-hoisty appetites, dieters become better satisfied with their lot.

Usually every owner of an outboard motor boat faces this problem: Should I leave my boat in the water, or should I buy a trailer?

Let's exactly the question that is asked by one of the readers in this column. And I'll try to answer it.

Leaving the boat in the water usually calls for the monthly rental of a stall-lease fee. It's either that or ownership of a dock. Owning one is far more expensive than renting. But there are other angles to consider, besides the docking cost.

The fellow who keeps his boat in water all the time always has available for immediate use. He is not time launching and loading, to mention the cost of buying a trailer. Something else too-- he avoids the problem of where to store the boat and trailer. Also the problem of transporting trailer boat from home to lake.

Loading and unloading a boat, at best, is no easy matter. It requires at least two persons to do the job, even for the smallest runabout. And usually it necessitates leaving your car in a not too desirable location -- with the added possibility of theft or damage to car and trailer.

Also well worth considering is the possibility of damage to the boat while loading and unloading, as well as in transportation to and from the boating locale.

Time Element is Important

Important to most of us is the fact that it takes far more time to get aboard -- from the moment you decide to go boating -- if you have to be bothered with hitching and unhitching a trailer, and unloading and reloading the boat. A boat already in the water is ready for instant use -- or almost so -- depending on whether you first have to remove a tarp and tidy up a bit.

Then there's the maintenance problem of the trailer -- small but ever present.

Finally, and as important as any feature to most of us, is the matter of finance... the cost of buying a trailer, an annual license, and insurance.

Now, let's look at the other side of the picture... the advantage of having a trailer... and not keeping the boat in the water all the time.

In the first place the cost of building a dock, or the expense of stall rental eventually would pay for the trailer.

Another mighty important point to consider is the advantage of moving the boat from one lake to another. In Texas with its many lakes and rivers and the Gulf Coast area, available for fishing or boating, this is a highly important point in favor of trailer ownership.

I kept a 14-foot, fiberglass Fleet-form boat in the water for a year before buying a Little Dude trailer, so I speak from some experience when I say that keeping a boat in a public dock has its worries, even though the dock be well guarded. While there isn't as much fear of someone stealing your boat or your motors from a public dock, as from a private dock located in some remote spot on the lake, there is the ever present worry about pilfering.

If you are going to have your boat readily accessible so that you can take your friends and business acquaintances boating on a moment's notice, you must leave in it all the necessities of boating. Namely gas tanks, a battery, several life preservers and a couple of oars.

In addition, a fellow should take along a few extras. For instance, I never go out day or night without an emergency spotlight with a built-in red blinker -- a Burgess Radar-Lite -- and I've been mighty glad on more than one occasion that I had it along. Ever present is an extra long coil of rope, and anchor with rope attached, several bumpers, and at least two mooring snubbers.

In toto that's not much. But they are "loose" items, and they can be stolen. All of which adds up to the fact that pilfering items from a boat is a constant worry unless the dock is well guarded. I have heard of more than one person who has lost a motor, not to mention the smaller items.

Beware of "Borrowers"

Then there's another problem. The temptation to joy riders. Every so often reads of thrill-seeking kids who, only out of sheer devilment, "borrow" a boat. Some are not too careful with them either. It was only last year that four boys commandeered a brand new runabout and, after a wild midnight ride finally sank it in Lake Austin. The boat was less than 24 hours old, and the kids were less than 21 years.

More and more outboards are coming equipped with keys. But a youngster bent on borrowing can short one out in short order. Sort of like locking your motor to your boat. If they are going to steal it, a lock won't make much difference.

There is another kind of "borrowing" too. The honest kind. Some people think nothing of asking you to loan them this or that. How valuable it is makes no difference. No man likes to loan his boat. But your borrowing friends are more likely to ask for the loan of your boat if it's already in the water.

A regular problem of all motor boat owners is "gassing up." You gotta have the petrol to percolate. Some of the lakeside gas stations are virtually inaccessible to all but the expert boatman. Far too many are in difficult to reach locations.

With our trailer, however, we just drive up to a Humble station, gas up the car, tell 'em to put white gas in the boat's tanks (along with outboard motor oil) and roll on our merry little way. Sure lots easier than trying to fill up while in the water.

Not all stations carry outboard oil and white gas. But most Humble stations do. If not, they best to have regular gas. It's next best,

GRANDSONS ARE REPLACING RETIRING ARMY SERGEANT

PORT BENNING, Ga. -- A father in the Army Uniform is not very unusual, but when a private can call a master sergeant "Grandpa" eyebrows are apt to be raised.

Master Sergeant Vidas Poshkus has been assigned to the 147th Ordnance Company here and is getting ready to retire to a home in Fort Myer, Fla. after 30 years service.

The Army's not worried about a qualified replacement for him. His two grandsons, brothers of Monticello, Fla., and both privates, Donald A. Lester, stationed at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and Thomas Lester, at Fort Gordon, Ga., have decided that the career that was good enough for Grandpa is good enough for them.

Poshkus, who soldiered in Panama and China, served in Africa and Italy during World War II, and spent 18 months in Korea, says he had nothing to do with the youngsters' choice of a career. "It was their decision entirely."

MRS. ALLEN GROSS (Miss Gloria Adkins)

Adkins-Gross Nuptial Vows Said Saturday

Miss Gloria Adkins, daughter of Mrs. Milton Terry, was wed Saturday, January 18, to Allen Gross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gross, in a quiet ceremony in the First Methodist Church in Floydada. The Rev. DeWitt Seago performed the single ring ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride chose a light brown sheath dress with harmonizing accessories.

The couple's attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Dan Gross of Floydada.

Following a short wedding trip the couple are at home in Floydada.

The bride is employed at Radio Electric. The groom is employed by Floyd County Soil Conservation as an equipment operator.

Bob Montgomery and family of Abernathy were here Saturday evening visiting with his mother, Mrs. W. M. Dorsey, who is ill with the flu.

HALF MINUTE INTERVIEWS

W. D. Johnson: "So far Texas has had more winter than South Dakota."

One of the few women in the business of teaching others how to drive an automobile lives in California. She stated recently that women are easier to teach than men, but men make better drivers. It's the male's self-confidence, she added, that makes him better on decisions. The woman, on the other hand, believes her wish is parent to the deed — she signals a left turn as she make it. Her theory seems to be that all on-coming traffic will sit down on its haunches and wait for her to execute the impossible: i. e., turn into a busy lane of traffic at will.

We've never taught women how to drive; in fact, some folks question that we ever learned ourselves. However, we'd say it isn't woman's lack of self-confidence that cuts down on her efficiency — she has plenty. It's her sincere belief that her own time is more important than anything else in the world.

Not long ago, the spouse and I, a little late, were trying to park near a public building where he was to make a talk. We found an "almost place" on the corner across the street, but it was too short for our small sedan. He hesitated, measured with his eye, and drove around the block to find another. As we got out and hastened toward the meeting place, we heard a "wham" across the street.

A portly woman, driving a large car under full sail, had decided to "make-do" with the spot we had rejected. By the simple device of pushing she had shoved two cars down enough to get hers in, leaving the center one hopelessly blocked in. As she dismounted, rearranging her fur stole, the spouse muttered softly, "Women drivers!"

For once, we had no comeback.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Waller returned to Canyon Saturday the 25th of January. They are entering West Texas State College for their second year.

Mrs. Bill Walker Named Honoree At Morning Coffee

Mrs. Bill Walker, the former Ella Eaves of Petersburg, was honored with a morning coffee in the lovely home of the recent bridegroom's mother, Mrs. W. G. Walker, Tuesday.

Mrs. Tate Jones received guests and presented them to the honoree, her mother, Mrs. Howard Eaves, Mrs. W. W. Barnes, aunt of the bridegroom, of Vernon, and Mrs. Walker.

The bride's chosen colors of brown and turquoise were used through out the receiving rooms.

Mrs. Ernest Carter presided at the bride's book. A bud vase holding turquoise carnations was on the registering table and centering the coffee table was a milk glass vase holding an arrangement of turquoise carnations.

Mrs. O. G. Glassmoyer poured from hand painted china. Centering a brown linen covered table was bronze and crystal epergne surrounded with turquoise candles and an array of huckleberry.

Others assisting in hospitalities were Misses Bill Norman, Jack Deakins, A. B. Keim, Charlie Lewis, Woodrow Wilson, Pike Hanna, Hays O'Neal, Sam Fowler, Conner Oden, A. E. Guthrie and Mrs. Walton Hale.

Suggestions on How to Reduce Your Light Bill—

It is figured that folks waste about 15% of the electric power they pay for.

Here are some suggestions on how this needless waste may be stopped or at least cut down.

1. Use large wire to haul the power around your buildings. In small wires, it wastes itself trying to crowd through.
2. Check your wiring and be sure that it does not come in contact with water pipes, eave spouting, lightning rods, windmill, trees or roofs of buildings. We find that many high bills are caused by leaks or faults in the wiring system. Why not have that wiring checked over by a good electrician and brought up to date? Good wiring is one of the requirements of an "All Electric Farm."

3. Oil motors and equipment. The squeaky wheels needs more kilowatts.
4. Learn to cut off the units of your range before the food is completely cooked, finish the job with "free heat" left in the unit.
5. Don't leave unnecessary lights burning when you are not at home.
6. Place your waterheater as near the sink, wash bowl, and bath tub as possible. Use small pipes and insulate well on long runs.
7. Stop all faucet leaks.
8. If you are blowing fuses, find and correct the shorts right away. Never put a penny behind the fuse. This will not only waste electricity, but will probably cause a fire.
9. Place your refrigerator or freezer in areas where they are not in direct blast of your heating system. Also check to be sure your door latch and gaskets of your refrigerator prevent loss of temperature around the door.
10. Attend the church of your choice on Sunday. The church's electric bill won't be any more if the church is crowded and yours will be less. Put your savings in the plate and be thankful you are an American and able to go to church.

We have been told —

"You can't make a place for yourself in the sun if you keep sitting in the shade of the family tree."
"The only ones we should try to get even with are the ones who have help us."

Helpful hints —

A tablespoon of butter or margarine added to the boiling water will keep macaroni or spaghetti from sticking together; and it will also prevent it from boiling over. Left over meat (diced or ground up) and added to scrambled eggs will make a tasty supper dish.

Willie Wirehand's Farm Safety Tip Of The Week

FARM SAFELY! Weed Accidents Out . . . Just a few seeds of carelessness can bring a staggering crop of misfortune, pain and medical bills.

FIRE PREVENTION: Lives are snuffed out when fires are not. Rid your farm and home of fire hazards. Don't turn them into giant tinder boxes.

FIRST AID: Ignored today — infected tomorrow. Unless you have more time and money than you know what to do with treat even the slightest cut, burn or abrasion promptly.

HOME: An unlabeled bottle is poison. People invite trouble. Once they allow labels to become illegible (See Peoples Hospital, page six) or destroyed. Safety requires clear identification on every bottle or jar now.

F-O-I-S-O-N: Beware unless you are absolutely sure. Human machinery needs special care. The parts are irreplaceable. Misuse can cost a lifetime of misery.

Any Corner in Any Home Can Hold A Sewing Center

Whether a homemaker lives in a ten-room house or a small apartment, she can sew more efficiently on an electric sewing machine — especially if all the necessary materials can be kept together in one spot.

Few are fortunate enough to have a small dressing room or a similar extra room in which to set up a permanent sewing center. It is easy, however, to devise a sewing center in a corner of the dinette or kitchen, concealed in some dual-purpose piece of furniture or even in a storage closet.

Decorator-styled modern sewing machine cabinets make it possible to locate a sewing machine almost anywhere in the house, even the living room. These cabinets come with extension leaves and ample drawer space for equipment. A kitchen or dinette is frequently large enough to accommodate one of these cabinets. Kitchens are preferred by many since the floors are easier to sweep clean of threads than carpeted areas.

A "bookcase" housing a sewing center can be built easily and economically. Cabinet doors conceal sewing machine and other equipment when not in use. When homemaker is ready to sew, unit swings out on casters, reveals drop leaf in the back for sewing machine. The cabinet doors themselves are fitted with spool racks, hooks for scissors, tape measure and similar accessories.

Good lighting is important. Small machine lamps, used alone, often cast annoying shadows across work. Ideally, for perfect lighting, a wall lamp with bowl should be placed so that the lower edge of shade is 14 inches above the table and centered about 12 inches to left of sewing needle and some seven inches behind it. If a floor lamp is used, the lower edge of the shade should be between 49 and 47 inches above floor.

As a change from the rolls and baking powder biscuits you might normally serve for dinner, you might like to try a basket of feather-light muffins — crisp on the outside and tender on the inside. Oatmeal and buttermilk team up to make these a muffin that is a bit different — yet most delicious.

Oatmeal Muffins

1 cup buttermilk
1 cup quick-cooking rolled oats,
1/2 cup brown sugar,
1 egg,
1/2 cup shortening,
1 cup flour,
1/2 teaspoon salt,
1 teaspoon baking powder,
1/2 teaspoon soda.

Pour the buttermilk over the rolled oats and let stand one hour. Add the remaining ingredients and mix until just blended.

Fill greased pans two-thirds full. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees) for twenty minutes.

Mrs. W. K. Hartley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Woods, of Pampa, and her family, and Mrs. H. N. Jonas, sister of Mrs. Woods, also of Pampa, were guests here over the week-end with the Roy Woods.

City Council Sounding Out Sentiment on Paving

What, if anything, do property owners of Floydada, resident and non-resident, want to do about undertaking a paving project?

The answers given this question will govern the city council in their attitude toward paving streets of the city, development of the plan and the direction it will take, if any.

The question is being posed to more than 1,200 property owners in a letter and questionnaire that is due to go out this week-end or the first of the next.

While it is being done officially the big clerical job is being hauled out of the Chamber of Commerce office, on a voluntary basis. Mailing the letters and questionnaires along with a reply envelope constitutes considerable chore but the city is working on the theory that a broad knowledge of the desires of property owners is needed.

The letter addressed over the signature of Mayor J. M. Willson Jr., follows as well as the form of the questionnaire which property owners are to be asked to fill out.

Dear Floydada Property Owner:

Your Floydada City Council has been considering a city wide paving program for 1958.

With a city wide program every street in the city could be paved and guttered, the present strip pavement could be widened and a new topping applied. Property owners who cannot pay cash for their paving would sign a lien on their property and a program of time payments worked out to fit their budget.

The estimated cost of paving a thirty foot street with curb and gutter would be $3.50 per front foot of each property owner. This amount could be less if the paving is let on a contract basis. If the streets which are strip paved now can be salvaged they would also be less expensive.

The council has two programs under consideration at this time:

- (1.) A voluntary basis with each property owner making his own arrangements for his payments for paving.
- (2.) A city wide program with an assessment ordinance under which owners of property other than homestead property would be required to curb and pave their lots on blocks where a majority of other owners wanted paving. Under this master plan a better drainage plan for the entire town would also be prepared for the city and future paving projects.

Enclosed is a series of questions which are most important in planning the paving project for next spring. Please answer the questions which apply to you and your property and mail the questionnaire in the enclosed stamped envelope by February 17. This is a survey of the paving needs of Floydada property owners and is not a contract for paving.

What you say on this questionnaire will guide your City Council in making plans for the future growth of Floydada.

PAVING SURVEY FLOYDADA, TEXAS

Please answer the questions below which apply to you and mail this questionnaire in the enclosed stamped envelope by February 17. This is a survey only and not a contract for paving

Circle (yes) or (no)

1. If your property is on an unpaved street, would you be interested in paving your street with curb and gutter at an estimated maximum cost of $3.50 per foot per side? (yes) (no)
2. If your Floydada property is on a street with strip paving, would you be interested in a complete new street with curb and gutter at an estimated maximum cost of $3.50 per foot per side? (your present strip paving would be salvaged if possible) (yes) (no)
3. Would you pay cash for your paving? (yes) (no)
4. Is the property which you own in Floydada on a street which is already paved and curbed? (yes) (no)
5. Would it help you to pave if you could sign a mechanics lien or note at 7% interest or less and payable over a five year period? (yes) (no)
6. Would you support a city bond issue which would pay for the city's portion of paving street intersections and alleys and also seal coating and repairing the streets now paved? (yes) (no)
7. Would you prefer a city wide paving program with an assessing ordinance which would require owners of property other than their homestead to pave and curb (if other owners on that block wanted paving), would provide a master drainage plan for the city, and would give all property owners an opportunity to pay for their paving over a five year period? (yes) (no)
8. Would you prefer a paving program on a voluntary basis as past programs have been? (yes) (no)

School Census Closes Friday

Parents and guardians of children within the scholastic age limits of six to 18 are reminded this week by school authorities that the period for scholastic enumeration closes Friday, January 31.

Any parent in Floydada District who thinks it possible or probable that a child in the family has been overlooked should contact Mrs. Bob Copeland, enumerator, whose telephone number is YU3-3479, or superintendent I. T. Graves.

At Lockney a parent could contact Supt. Nicholas and in common school district a member of the teaching force.

In particular the possibility is indicated that a parent might overlook a six-year-old. If a child is to be six before September 1 the parent and the school district are losers by failure to enumerate.

For an 18-year-old the test is that the child must be 18 after the first day of September. Eighteen year olds who become 18 before September 1 are not eligible for enumeration.

County Supt. Clarence Guffee said reports from the common school districts will be tabulated and checked and the totals made public when that job is completed.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT

Producers of certified hybrid sorghum seed have taken another step in producing the best quality seed they can produce. If you were dissatisfied with rogue stalks in your field you can now choose planting seed that has been tested in Mexico and the Rio Grande Valley showing the per cent of these rogue stalks.
We will always have some off type stalks in hybrids due to the way they are produced. However, experience and testing should prevent much off type stalks this coming year.
If you are planning on sowing spring barley the variety that has proven to be the highest yielding and most adapted to spring sowing is Cordova. In tests conducted in Floyd County it has been first in yields. However, Cordova sown in the fall has winter killed more than the other varieties.
The use of 2-4-D and cropping systems can be a valuable asset in the control of bindweed. If infestations are in small enough areas the use of soil sterilant should be used for complete control. For larger areas the use of 2-4-D twice a year can control bindweed.
The applications should be applied early enough to prevent damage to cotton and late enough in the fall when the cotton is mature and before frost. Three years of this practice at the Bushland Experiment Station gave about 75% control.
Summer fallow and cultivation gave 89% control over a three year period. The cultivations were about 25 days apart and about 5 to 6 cultivations were required during each growing season.
The use of combinations of 2-4-D and cultivation gave about a 85% control.
For large acreages of bindweed this would probably be the most economical means of control. For wheat land the use of a rotation of wheat and fallow with sweep cultivation during the fallow has given good results in controlling bindweed.
Do not forget the vegetable meeting in Floydada at 2:00 P. M., Friday in the District Courtroom.
Be sure and mark your calendar for the Soil Fertility day meeting in Lockney, February 21, 1958. Further details will be given as plans are worked out.

Starkey Club Met January 17, Mrs. Shipley Hostess

The Starkey Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. John Shipley January 17. Mrs. L. T. Dyus gave an electric skillet demonstration. Mrs. Sarah Hunter was to give a demonstration on a new way to fry chicken but sickness in her family kept her from coming.

Roll call was answered by "My favorite one-dish meals." Those answering roll call were: Mmes. Tom Porter, S. L. Holmes, Keller Holmes, L. T. Dyus, Paul Sparkman, George Smith, John Fowler and the hostess, Mrs. Shipley. Mrs. Clinton Denning and Mrs. Sid Waller are two new members. We also had two visitors, Mrs. Porter and her sister from Afton, Tex.

Our next meeting is February 7, with Mrs. Tom Porter hostess. This is an all day meeting, starting at 10:00 a. m. Bring a covered dish. The husbands are invited to lunch as guest, or bring someone.

Dougherty Club's January Report

What is your favorite one-dish meal? This was the roll call question when the Dougherty Home Demonstration Club met in the home of Mrs. G. W. Smith, Wednesday, January 22. The favorite dishes consisted mostly of dishes containing ground meat, although a dish of roast carrots, and potatoes followed as a close second. An answer of good old-fashioned vegetable soup was also given.

A very good candidate for a favorite dish might well be the crusty fried chicken which was cooked in a demonstration given by Mrs. Ned Bradley. This demonstration illustrated the use of an electric skillet and led to a round table discussion on electric skillets, also conducted by Mrs. Ned Bradley.

Earlier, the meeting had begun when Mrs. G. W. Smith read the inspiring story of Hanna. The same Mrs. G. W. Smith also gave the council report, in which she was happy to report that all of the ten clubs in Floyd County were represented at the last council meeting.

Recommendations for the club committees and the club by-laws were read, discussed, voted on, and accepted by the members.

The recreation period began when Mrs. C. A. Caffee asked members to ponder for a moment on what recreation really is and the importance of recreation in our daily lives. This recreation period also included two games, which gave members a chance to exercise their knowledge and memory, as well as their ability to think quickly. The game prizes went to Mrs. Howe Hines and Mrs. Claude Ring. Mrs. Troy McNeill received the attendance prize.

Delicious refreshments were served to Mesdames Ned Bradley, G. A. Caffee, Johnny Cates, R. H. Crawford, Howe Hines, Troy McNeill, R. W. Overstreet, Claude Ring, W. J. Ross, Bill Smith, Dale Smith, G. W. Smith, Bob Vickers, Mac Ward, Robert Ward, Roy Crawford, Raymond Jones, and Bill McNeill. The club is proud and happy to welcome the latter three as new members.

Mrs. Ned Bradley will be hostess at the next meeting on Wednesday, February 3, at which members are looking forward to learning about wall decorations, polishing furniture, and arranging living room furniture.

HARMONY H. D. CLUB HAS CHICKEN DEMONSTRATION

The Harmony Home Demonstration Club met on Thursday, January 23, in the club room with Mrs. Roy Hale as hostess.

Mrs. Truman Dunavant gave the devotional. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Elmer Williams. The council report was given by Mrs. Glenn Pool.

Mrs. Marion Tucker read the recommendations of the Sunshine committee and these were voted on. Mrs. Roy Hale had charge of recreation and the program which was a new kind of fried chicken. Roll call was answered with "my favorite one-dish meal."

Refreshments were served by the hostess to Mmes: Monroe Schulz, Elmer Williams, Mather Carr, Walter Hanna, Truman Dunavant, Bob Hopper, R. B. Gary, Chioma Williams, Zant Scott and Marion Tucker.

Two other members were present, but had to leave early, these being Mrs. Glenn Pool and Mrs. Sherwood Ramsey.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

Ex-Farm Laborers. The fallacy of the federal government's effort to move people off the farms, decrease farm population and get farm operators into some other sort of employment, is already beginning to be evidenced in the labor market. Ex-farmers, in a period of slackening business in industrial centers, are finding themselves the first to be laid off. Be it said for the Texas farmers who went to town to get work in factories, they did it in desperation. The most unusual weather conditions in a hundred years left them broke. They didn't leave the farm because they wanted to, mostly they did it as a means to meet dire need. Far from trying to get people off of the land and the able-bodied ones into the unnatural labor pool, the government is most likely in a few short years to about-face and work out some kind of a "program" to get people out where they can fend for themselves with their feet on the good earth.

Speaking of programs reminds us that this is another thing the country's leaders have borrowed from the Bolsheviks—now called communists. Every time you turn around it is a "program" of some kind, headed by a new agency with carloads of filing cabinets, a new set of offices, sub titled dignitaries and what not. We wonder sometimes if there is a likelihood of running out of alpha-beta letters to describe them.

Suits The Ducks. It fits in fine with the waterfowl, the way things are going for them in Floyd County. A million ducks — at least more ducks than one can count — are on Floyd County lakes in the day-time and in the farmers' fields at night. They are gathering the fall down in the maize fields. Until farmers begin turning the ground under there'll be plenty for all. Well protected from harm by game laws the creatures are having it so good there is no reason to move on to the coast.

Thunder In January. Monday night's display of lightning, accompanied by spring-time thunder and no freezing temperature with it, means to an old-timer that a late April freeze is in the offing. New-comers and others interested, who usually pay little attention to such things, might keep this in mind and see how nearly right the old-timers come to the eventualities.

Business Getting Better. Notice in the public prints this week indicates the city light and power plant is planning for taking care of an increased load. They say the demand is already here. Far from having to replace worn out machinery with new, the engineers say the city's present plant is doing a better job than any of it was guaranteed to do. People in a growing community adding more gadgets, motors and whatnot, are expanding their demands for service. If you stay in business under these conditions you have to expand your facilities. Simple story, not a complex one.

Texas people elect their state officers in 1958 and half of their county posts are to be filled this year. Persons who would like to have a voice in these selections are reminded that tomorrow night at the close of business is the deadline to qualify by paying the poll tax. Possibly it should not be the law, but it is, adopted by the people of the state in fair elections. Contrary to the trend of thought, we are inclined to the opinion that a poll tax or some similar device is a good thing for the country. At any rate qualify to take part in the elections. It does make a difference. You have a responsibility that you should not dodge nor excuse yourself with a cynical quip.

Minds of Texans are being conditioned for a change. Some of the cleverest political work is being done. It is based on the old human weakness to dwell on the ills of the state, never any of the good. Straw men are being set up and then knocked down. And a well-organized minority may well be seen running the state's affairs before many years. They will have to dupe the majority of the people but that is an easy task, if you'll work at it hard enough and long enough. Among other things the state before too long may be scoffing at the tidelands claim, the claim of the farmer to the water under his land, and the right to sell the natural gas which flows from his own wells. This effort of the federal government to undermine property rights has the backing of many of those aspiring to political control in Texas. Property rights are basic to liberty.

Don't Overlook This: Good season in the fall, ample moisture in January has always meant a good year following. Make your plans that way. Don't look back.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(Nellie Witt Spikes)
O Earth! thou hast not any wind that blows.
Which is not music; every weed of Thine
Pressed rightly flows in aromatic wine.
And every humble hedgerow flower
And every little brown bird that doth sing,
Hath something greater than it self and bears
A living word to everything.
Albeit it holds the message un-awares
All shapes and sounds have something which is not
Of them; a Spirit broods amid the grass;
Vaude outlines of the Everlasting Thought.
Lie in the meeting shadows as they pass:
The touch of an Eternal Presence thrills
The fringes of the sunsets and the hills.
—Richard Realf.

The world indeed has been a wonderful place to me. My first memories are of tall evergreen oak trees, fruit trees of ripe red peaches and plums and apples, of strawberry, blackberry and raspberry vines. I can recall the tree shaded road that led the Jones Family on to the setting sun, or so it seemed in old Parker County where I was born, the town of Weatherford being where mother and father lived at that time.

The ox teams walked slowly with the big loads under the covered wagons. The trees became smaller and less in numbers but wood could always be found to make the camp fires.
I can recall the steep road up the long cap after we had gone through an almost treeless land with the exception of scrubby cedar on the hills and cottonwoods along the streams. The beautiful lovely land, unbroken with the plow, the clear blue lakes of water, the grazing herds, the sun high in the sky shining in golden ripples on the lakes, the moon and stars using the lakes at night as a mirror in which to behold their beauty.

Many a time big herds of antelope stood and looked at us as we passed in a buggy or wagon or hack or on horseback. Then as if through looking at the newcomers which did not have feathers in their hair and painted faces, they turned and ran with their white tails making moving blobs on the green prairies.
I have had the wonderful pleasure of seeing acres and acres of white daisies, the same of golden yellow ones. I saw the sun creep up over the very edge of the land in a frame of pink and yellow and blue; I have seen the same sun go down in splendor of the sunset, this time framed in the brilliance of gold and purple, red and orange.

I have heard the rustle of wings of the mother quail and her young as they slipped into the bushes, the lonesome howling of the lobo at night, the yapping of the slinking coyotes.

I have smelled the fragrance of white blossoms of the wild plum, the burnt smell of the prairies after a big prairie fire.

I have eaten the steaks of the antelope, the delicious baked prairie hen with rich dressing, the chess pies made for special occasions.

I have slept on the good old soft feather beds with their shuck under mattress. I have slept on a few saggans covered with a tarpaulin under the stars and watched with wonder as my folks would point out the small red north star that one could use for a guide if lost at night on the endless prairie.
There was Jacob's coffin of four stars, the Milky Way on which I was told a woman spilled her milk as she was walking along the sky-way. We knew the Big Dipper and the Little Dipper as well as the dipper we drank from. As we lay there on the ground we liked to see the shooting stars, too, and wondered why they never fell near us.

I smelled the good scent of the sawchips fires, the boiling coffee and the frying meal and sour dough biscuits. I knew the severe cold of hard winters, the heat of summer with mosquitoes in the sunscreened houses at night and the hated housefly by day.

But it was a good world, still is. But best of all has been the love and care of a kind Heavenly Father, the love of kindred and friends, the association of many people as I have gone on through life.

We knew Mrs. Foster when she was a young woman and with young children knew the bitter grief that they had when the young husband was killed by a disk plow as the horses ran away. Of all her family, we have known Hugh the best and we feel a sorrow for him and also for his brothers and the grandchildren at her passing. But there always comes this separation and we have to bear and accept it as the law of all nature. So we go on, trying to make the world a better place as did the ones we have just laid to rest.

Light Leads Our People

Each day a new door opens. What it reveals on the other side, for the people who must pass over its threshold, depends upon the conditions under which they lived their yesterdays.

Those in some countries look through the door upon a new day shadowed with oppressions, where there are few freedoms, tyrannies abound and living is hard and cold.

Those of us in America are more fortunate. Opening the door each day, we are met by the light of freedom which has led our destiny for many years. Protecting that freedom has been — and always will be — a Press that will not succumb to dictation or overpowering despotism.

For the light that leads to all freedoms is Freedom of the Press: Education . . . information of all kinds . . . news of all that transpires . . . and the open discussion of opinions and ideas that sharpens understanding.

Complete freedom of speech and of the press is the light that builds understanding, helping all mankind to advance onward and upward through the opening door of each tomorrow.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health.
HENRY A. HOLLE, M.D., Commissioner

If the people of the state were informed that there had been found that against traffic accidents... clinical tests and records demonstrated this accident... vaccine was successful... fool would fail to protect with a vaccination.

Anti-polio vaccine is available for everyone now, and the Texas State Department of Health strongly recommends that everyone be vaccinated, especially pre-school-age children and young adults.

The continued marked reduction in the incidence of paralytic polio is dependent on the immunization of the entire population.

Remember, it takes eight months to complete your series of three polio shots, but if you start now, you will at least have partial protection by the onset of the polio season in Texas this spring.

We don't have a vaccine against automobile accidents yet, but you can guard against the crippling effects of paralytic polio, if you act soon.

CHAT with PAT

Hello, Do you like to eat? Of course you do and there is nothing better than chili. The Student Council is giving a chili supper tonight from 6 to 8 in the high school cafeteria. It cost 75c for adults and 50c for students but you get to eat until your heart's content.

Ann Martin, a senior, was elected by the faculty and student council as Citizen of the Semester. Citizen for the month of December was Susie Nelson. Linda Welborn was P. H. A. Girl of the month for December. Congratulations to these girls, we're proud of you.

The number of students enrolled in F. H. S. has increased. Welcome all you new Students, Kenneth Jones, Margaret Carey, Jerry Hodges, Barbara Burrows, Wayne and Layne Poteet (twins). We are really happy to have you.

Our basketball team plays Slaton here tomorrow night. We have just gotta win! So come on out and yell for the "Big Green" team.

In the past two years Mrs. Graves has presented very serious and dramatic plays but this year it is a 3-act comedy entitled "A Date with Judy".

It will be presented February the 3rd and 4th in the high school auditorium. The cast includes:

This is indeed a hilarious and mixed up play. I know you will enjoy every minute of it - so don't miss it!

It is time to start thinking about who will fill the various offices next year. A nominating committee made up of students and teachers are making up the ballot.

In the future there will be campaigns and the voting on these.

"The Ambassadors" that's our high school Stage Band, gave an assembly for the student body, last week. Everyone enjoyed it! Back To The Farm
—And Off The List Of Unemployed

The old and uneasy sign of business and production let-ups—unemployment—has reared its unwelcome head once more, and once again our government planners begin to wonder how to get around this problem.

Operating on so tight a production and employment schedule as has American business in recent years, the least sign of downward adjustment invariably throws thousands of workers out of jobs and causes us to wonder just what is wrong with our economic system, employment-wise.

The most feasible resolution of many of our unemployment problems is to recall many of the jobless back to the valuable post they left during trying times—agriculture.

There appears to be a close connection between rural population declines and recent increases in unemployment. Those farmers who left the land in times of stress, such as our recent crippling drought, found unskilled jobs in the labor market at a time when production, business and government spending levels were high and when the slack appears between labor needed and labor available, it is exfarmers who are usually the first to be laid off.

In the past seven years, our farm population dropped from twenty-five million persons to twenty-two and a quarter million. This means a loss of nearly three million rural citizens in less than ten years—one of the most rapid declines in history.

If we could re-absorb into agriculture all these people, it would take a tremendous cut out of our unemployment roles.

In Texas, the ratio between farmers lost and unemployed persons is even higher in the closing weeks of 1957 we had 149,000 unemployed persons on the rolls. Since 1950, we have lost 231,000 persons off Texas farms. For that terrific loss, of course, we have the drought largely to blame.

But the prevailing attitude in higher governmental circles of "get rid of the small farmers" hasn't helped the situation any. If agriculture is to help relieve the unemployment situation—and it can—Washington has got to do an about-face and begin encouraging a return to the farm.

STIN REPORT Lands Fat In The Fire Over Again

STIN—From the Panhandle Valley, a good, safe topic for a speech right now is "The Lands -- They're All Ours." Texans haven't been stirred up by this issue since 1853. That was when Congress passed the Submerged Lands Act which recognized federal ownership of offshore lands to their "historic tidelands."

leagues (10 1/2 miles) from shore in its independence treaty with Mexico. Texans, at least, were convinced this was the "historic boundary." Hence, the state began operating in the three-league territory, leasing tracts to oil, gas and sulphur companies to gain money for the public school fund.

Now the fat's in the fire again. Last year outgoing U. S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell filed suit in the U. S. Supreme Court contesting Texas' claim to more than three miles of tidelands. Other 7 1/2 miles, he said, belong to the federal government.

Of this claim Texas officials have this to say:

ATTY. GEN. WILL WILLSON: "It was Louisiana who knocked over the coffee pot."

Things were going along fine after passage of the 1953 law, explained Willson, until Louisianians (limited to three miles of tidelands) decided that if Texans could have three leagues, so should they. Louisiana filed suit for the extra land. Federal government replied that "no state" owned more than three miles out.

"This," observed Willson, "struck Texas in a tender spot."

But neither Louisiana nor other coastal states have the same sort of case as Texas, he emphasized. At the time Louisiana entered the Union, the commonly accepted boundary of a country was the distance a cannon could fire from shore -- or three miles. Texas, however, said Wilson, won right to three leagues in 1836 War for Independence, and U. S. officials recognized this when the state entered the Union.

Today the value of the contested lands is estimated at $500,000,000. Ruelfully, Wilson noted he's been allotted only one hour before the court to argue for it.

Land Comr. Earl Rudder: If U. S. court knocks down Texas' claim to the 10 1/2 mile shoreline, then "Russia, Mexico or anybody else can claim it."

Rudder took note of reported discussion among Mexican attorneys. Their view: if Texas did not get title to the territory from Mexico in 1836, then Mexico still owns it.

Urging that the title not be clouded, Rudder pointed out that the land is not only valuable for its minerals, but vital to defense.

Gov. Price Daniel: "This lawsuit is another step in the process of chipping away the authority of the states. It seeks not only to repudiate solemn treaties by which Texas entered the Union, but to destroy the legislative intent of Congress."

"Their president has by every public act acknowledged this boundary. Yet his own attorney general has sued. . ."

Governor Daniel has expressed the belief that Brownell, who filed the Texas suit on his last day as attorney general, acted out of pure spite.

Ready for Business—A new state board has opened shop. It's business: to lend money for dams and reservoirs to hold some of the water that has been rushing wastefully into the Gulf.

Water Development Board instructed its executive secretary to notify some 1,000 cities and water districts that it's ready to start considering applications for funds. Board can lend up to one-third the cost (with $5,000,000 limit) of a water conservation project.

Newly organized Development Board met jointly with an older group, the State Board of Water Engineers. Members of the two boards promised to work harmoniously with no trespassing on each other's territory. Development Board will pass on the legal and financial angles of a proposed project; Board of Water Engineers will study from the engineering viewpoint.

New "Traffic Director"— Brad H. Smith, Rio Grande Valley newsmen, and past president of the Texas Press Association, becomes Texas' first state traffic safety director on Feb. 1.

Governor Daniel said that Smith will spearhead one of the most intensive traffic safety campaigns in the state's history. Daniel has made war on road deaths one of the prime goals of his administration.

Smith will work with Texas Traffic Safety Council created by the Legislature last spring to coordinate the safety activities of state agencies.

Krueger Concert Has Enthusiastic Small Audience

Approximately 100 persons were out Thursday night for the Krueger concert held at Floydada High School auditorium.

The noted baritone was well received as was his talented wife, who accompanied him on the new Steinway grand piano of the High School, used in public Thursday night for the first time.

Members of the High School and Junior High choral clubs have conducted a sales campaign for several weeks in order to provide them with the necessary funds for the music festival in Snyder this spring.

Mrs. L. H. Christensen, music teacher and coach to the club said Monday she felt a larger number of people would have been present at the concert but that several other activities were held the same night.

Those attending were delighted with the selections of Mr. Krueger. Several substitute songs were presented. One in particular was enjoyed. It was "Old Man River". Also several western songs highlighted the evening's program.

Mrs. Christensen said there was a probability of another project in the future for the remainder of funds needed for the club's trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Perry returned home Sunday from Fort Worth, where they attended the Fat Stock Show and visited with their daughter, Mrs. Brooks Chapman and her husband. They also visited in Glenrose with Mrs. Perry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tinnin.

W. U. White journeyed to Slaton last week and accompanied his son, Bob and wife, to Fort Worth where they attended the Fat Stock Show, returning home on Sunday.

Cooper, Brown Gain Regional Championships

Johnny Fred Brown and Grant Cooper continued their winning ways at the Golden Gloves boxing tournament at Amarillo last week and both brought home a championship.

Brown won the 147 pound (welterweight) title in the high school division and Cooper took the 175 pound (light-heavyweight crown) in the same bracket.

The boys used up little time in disposing of their opposition, taking three first round TKOs and winning one decision.

In the first round Brown won from Karo Riddle in a minute and 30 seconds. Cooper needed a minute and 29 seconds to get a TKO over Wesley Crites of Pampa.

In the finals Brown won a decision over Gene Weaver of Amarillo carrying the fight the whole three rounds and being in complete control for the last half of the third.

Cooper came out like a ball of fire at the opening bell and completely swarmed Sam Lilly of Stinet. The referee stopped the fight midway in the first with Cooper winning on a TKO.

Both boys have been impressive all season in their bouts, many times fighting in heavier competition than required. Cooper's only loss was in an open division fight against a 24 year old Air Force negro who took a three round decision. This was one of the two fights in which he was forced to go the full three rounds this year.
