

Struggle For Power on School Board Brings 'Write-In' Vote

2-Vote Margin Given Porter; Teeple Winner

A write-in campaign, industriously carried on for two days prior to the trustee election Saturday turned a hum drum formality of selecting two county trustees into a battle for power on the county board of education and resulted in the defeat of Bill Beedy of Precinct No. 3 for a place on the board by Leighton Teeple. Also it fell short only two votes of defeating Tom Porter of Starkey as county trustee-at-large.

Basis for this report is the unofficial count, completed Monday when returns from South Plains voting precincts were received. According to these figures Tom Porter, incumbent, had a lead of two votes -- 384 to 382 -- over a "write-in" opponent, Herschel Carthel of Lockney, for trustee-at-large; and Leighton Teeple, "write-in" opponent, had defeated Bill Beedy, son of South Plains, for Precinct 3 representation on the board 39 to 34.

T. Wood, third man in this race, received five votes.

P. M. Covington of Dougherty was elected to the board without opposition by 126 votes, to succeed himself as trustee for Precinct No. 4.

A total of 776 votes were cast in the election.

The unofficial figures for the vote in the county-wide race between Porter and Carthel was as follows:

District	Porter	Carthel
South Plains	18	38
Lakeview	8	39
Dougherty	5	64
Providence	0	17
Lockney	4	217
Floydada	349	7
Totals	384	382

Less than a fourth of the county vote is represented in these figures but the interest was intense among those who participated.

The "write-in" campaign apparently was triggered by the action of the county board last year in annexing Sand Hill School District to Floydada Independent School District; after a brief hearing. Considerable sentiment for the annexation, considerable opposition to it, and also sentiment for annexing part of the district to Lockney Independent District, was indicated at the time the official action was taken.

Patrons of Lakeview, Dougherty and South Plains schools view their positions as vulnerable to consolidation and opponents of such consolidations whipped out the heaviest vote they could muster within the short time the campaign was on.

Porter and Beedy had voted for the annexation of the Sand Hill District to Floydada along with Milton Evans, Precinct One member of the board, Covington of Precinct Four, and Ewald Quebe, hold-over in Precinct Two, against.

Beedy, who apparently is defeated for the trustee's post in Precinct Three, by Leighton Teeple, in the write-in campaign, has been a member of the board since August of 1949, when he was appointed to succeed C. W. Burton, resigned. He had been elected every two years since without opposition.

In the common school district elections L. N. Johnson and Sterling Cummings were chosen as trustees, with Don Probasco a third in the voting; Lakeview named Louis Pyle to fill the trustee's post there; Providence chose Helmut Quebe; and at Dougherty Henry Hinton, S. J. McInstry and Joy Ward were elected.

SEVEN SENIORS ARE CHOSEN National Honor Society Is Chartered at Floydada High

Seven members of the Floydada High School Senior Class have been chosen by the faculty as the charter members of the National Honor Society. They are:

Janis Roberts, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. I. Roberts; Snow Drop Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dunn; Billie Anne Goode, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Goode; D'Ann Newberry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Newberry; Roger Trapp, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Trapp; Jerry Cardinal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cardinal; and Lourie Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Johnson of the Lakeview community.

To be eligible for membership in the National Honor Society, students must maintain a scholastic average of 90 or above while taking at least four of the basic subjects. They must also excel in leadership, character and service. Fifteen per cent of the senior class and ten per cent of the junior class are eligible for membership each year. The society is sponsored by the National Association of Secondary School Principals of the N. E. A.

The charter members were inducted into the society by A. E. Baker, high school principal, at a luncheon in the Homemaking Department, April 3. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. I. T. Graves and Mrs. A. E. Baker. Assisting the faculty sponsor, Mrs. Ruth W. Adams, as hostesses were Mrs. Jessie Pritchard, homemaking teacher, Wren Patterson and Sara Carey, junior class students.

The decision to establish a local chapter followed a request by the Student Council of P. H. S. Realizing the national urgency for scholastic improvement, the council felt the need for such an organization in the school. A committee made up of the faculty and top scholars seniors drew up a constitution, which was approved by the National Association of Secondary School Principals and the Texas Education Agency.

Officers of the National Honor Society will be elected this week, and eligible members of the junior class will be selected by the faculty and the charter members later in the month.

Wrong Side Up. In another 30 seconds this pretty Piper Tri-pacer would have been safely moored at Floydada Airport Friday afternoon. A quick gust of wind did this trick as the pilot, Keet Cargill, with Fred Martin at one wing, was inching the plane into position for a tie-down. The gust flipped the plane completely over on its back in seconds. Tail, wing, strut and nose damage are evident. Cargill was extracted from the wreckage unhurt. (Photo by Kenneth Rimmer)

Meek March Followed by April That Brings Dust and Bluster

March 1958 was the least windy month in the modern history of Floyd County without a single high wind or a duster, but often meek April turned into a blustery Amazon on the very second day of the calendar, and really demonstrated high wind and dust over the week-end. Friday the wind was most tempestuous and damaging.

Incidents in all parts of the county were high-lighted by heavy damage to one plane at Floydada Airport, flipped on its back by a 60-mile gust. And a beauty parlor, Girlie's Beauty Shop, on the turn of the highway on Second Street, had a big front plate-glass window smashed to smithereens while several customers were in the shop. No one was injured in either of the incidents.

Several minor bumps and fender incidents were recorded as the high winds made visibility difficult on the highways, but there was no serious injuries nor property damage reported. One Floyd County man lost his life in the storm further east, when his car smashed into the rear end of another vehicle two miles west of Benjamin. He was Walter Wood, veteran stockman of South Plains. His wife was hospitalized by the same wreck that claimed her husband.

The airport incident occurred when Keet Cargill, a commercial pilot of Oklahoma City, attempted to park and tie down a borrowed Piper Tri-Pacer there.

Fred Martin was helping the pilot inch his plane up to the tieing ropes at the privately-owned airport and landing strip. Martin, said they had the plane within inches of the spot they wanted it. Martin was holding one wing as the pilot gently moved the plane forward into position. A heavy gust of wind picked up the plane by the wing opposite to Martin and quickly flipped the Piper on its back.

The accident occurred about 4:30 Friday.

Cargill and his wife, who live at Edmond, Okla., were on their way to Alamogordo to spend the Easter week-end with friends. They had a weather report of 30-mile winds, Cargill told Martin.

When they ran into the storm they looked for the Martin field but Muncy said Carthel was standing on a draw bar between the tractor and plow that Muncy was driving. Carthel either fell or was blown off by the high winds. He sustained five broken ribs, broken pelvis in six places, a broken jaw and bruises. He did not fall under the plow, Muncy said.

The injured man was taken to the Lockney hospital by Muncy.

Shrubs, Flowers Principal Topics At Club Meeting

SHRUB SAND FLOWERS—18
The home of Mrs. Roy Crawford was the scene of a most enjoyable meeting about gardening, held Wednesday, April 2.

The roll call on new ways to get rid of insects, developed some unusual suggestions such as using red pepper to keep rabbits away, planting moth balls to keep insects away and using snuff on pot plants.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. Doris Drysdale gave the club a beneficial talk on cancer and how there is new hope for a cure of cancer in the form of drugs they are experimenting with.

After Mrs. Drysdale's talk, Mrs. Roy Crawford gave an interesting talk on shrubs. She illustrated that it is best to begin with a plan by drawing a picture of your house and then drawing in various shrubs. She explained that shrubs come in four heights and that you should use low shrubs under low windows. Mrs. Crawford also said that it is best to use shrubs in clusters.

The club also enjoyed a demonstration on flowers given by Mrs. C. A. Caffee. She began by telling the club that despite weather conditions in this part of the country, you can still have flowers blooming all year round. She named the various types of flowers which bloomed in each season. Also she gave various flowers to plant together to give beautiful color combinations. Flowers of each month of the year were given next.

Garden Club Suggests

Spade up your beds if you haven't already done so. Work organic fertilizers and humus (Peat moss, compost, or leaf mold) into the soil while spading it. Spade deeply.

Thrusting the spading fork into the ground to the end of the lines will bring to the surface underground soil. It will be enriched by exposure to the sun and air and will receive seeds at planting time. Prune early flowering shrubs as soon as they have finished blooming but not before.

Keep pansy blossoms picked. Buds will open as the old flowers are removed. Give plants plenty of water and an abundance of plant food.

Strengthen irises, lilacs, and crape myrtles with an application of superphosphate a few inches from the stems, well watered in.

Cut all daffodil flowers before they go to seed and thus weaken the bulb. Leave foliage to store for next year's blooms. Keep bulbs watered until after they bloom, then let them rest.

Set aside a small plot in which to grow herbs: sweet basil, sage, thyme, mint and parsley. They add zest to simple dishes. They thrive in poor soil, but like frequent waterings.

LIPSTICK LOGIC
LUCK ALLEN

Rummaging through some childhood belongings the other day, we found a history note book that dated back to high school. In neat, meaningless, outline form, it reflected clearly what we never learned about civilization, ancient and medieval. It set us to thinking about how education has changed.

History, or literature, or language (Latin wasn't supposed to be enjoyed. It wasn't aimed at a teen-ager mind and interest level. It just "was," and you could take it or leave it.

So we read about the rise and fall of the Roman empire, mostly as a series of dates to try to remember. No tulle we visited Italy thirty years later did we get the tremendous "feel" of history as places and people, cities and rivers and ideas. It was only dates, and unpronounceable names, and pink or green splashes on a map when we "was," and you could take it or long ago.

And instead of the "sampling" books of readings nigh spool kids get nowadays, we pined through "The Heart of Midlothian" or "Middlemarch" or "Tess of the d'Urbervilles" before we were able to understand. And we never realized the broader horizons of learning to read for enjoyment as well as because we should.

As to Latin, it was Caesar and Cicero (Kiekerro to you), and Vergil's Aeneid. The latter did come alive, probably because the teacher made an adventure of it, not just a daily chore.

No doubt modern high schools do leave a lot to be desired. Maybe they do coddle the young, and pre-empt their homework for them. But by golly, today's youngsters know what the textbook is talking about. The subject matter is at least related in some way to them, here, now. And they don't have to guess why they're being asked to learn history, English, science and math.

Center News

(By Mrs. James E. Green)
CENTER, April 8 — We had a beautiful Easter, but today there is a cold wind from the east and the sky is overcast. It forebodes falling weather.

We had a good crowd at church Sunday and a good time. We had several of our former young people with us. We are always glad to have them back. Our attendance equaled our Sunday School enrollment, the several of our members were absent.

The flower Mrs. Hodges brought for the table was a beautiful, fragrant Easter lily, and a pink one to the piano. These were backed up by an impressive Easter sermon.

Bro. and Mrs. Hodges ate Sunday dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Warren. Other guests were Mrs. Warren's sister and husband Mr. Warren, and Mrs. W. H. Workman of Lockney.

We were glad to have Mr. and Mrs. Smith and Janice from the Huckabee place in our morning service.

Margaret Dunn of Lubbock spent the week-end with homefolks, the Frank Dunns, and accompanied them to church.

Plains Cotton Growers Draft Grower Manual

LUBBOCK — The Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. in cooperation with the Texas Extension Service and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station has drafted a "Plains Cotton Guide."

Personnel of the Extension Service, Experiment Station and other organizations have met with the PGC and planned a coordinated educational and promotional program for the High Plains area. The new guide will be used for the educational program, which is to be aimed at helping High Plains farmers grow quality cotton and have it processed and marketed for greater profit.

The guide is divided into three sections, production, processing, and marketing. It is to be made available to county agents and others who work with farmers throughout the High Plains. All members of the PGC will be mailed a copy. The guide analyzes the Plains Cotton situation and sets forth steps to help producers in the production of higher quality cotton that has more uniformity and good character and in the marketing of such quality cotton for greater profit.

For many years the personnel of the Lubbock Experiment Station have worked on problems to give better quality cotton. However, sometimes these farming tips and suggestions are not as widely published as they might be and too many farmers do not know of their importance. In our educational program we hope to spread this type of information throughout the area and help our farmers in producing better quality cotton.

Directors of the PGC approved the educational and promotional program at the last board meeting and appropriated necessary funds to carry out such a program. By cooperating with the Extension Service personnel and members of other organizations, we hope to eliminate duplication of effort and help one another on an overall educational program.

W. H. Jones, district Extension Service agent, Lubbock, pointed out that production practices in general govern quality and yield. Processing procedures are problems of the farmer in harvesting and of the gin-

About the general economic picture—Senator Anderson told Bernard Baruch a balanced budget is no help to an unemployed man. Baruch replied, "Neither is a tax cut. Write them and suggest how you'd like or your money to be spent."

UNDER PLASTIC Want to Raise Trial Crop of Early Melons?

If five or 10 farmers want to raise some watermelons this season now is the time to plant. By placing plastic half circle caps over them at planting time, early melons may be raised. These caps keep the ground and plants warm and keep out cold and insects.

We could add melons to our variety of things to sell if as many as 30 acres of melons are raised. Yours truly will help to sell them by advertising 30 to 50 days ahead of harvesting time.

I would try the truck sales route and go heavy on the advertising, giving date of first melons.

There is on market this season a new melon called Bush Melon. The vine grows about five feet long and some 18 inches high. It is a yellow meat and a small melon around 20 pounds.

Also the Charleston Gray and Mexican Peacock are popular melons. They are smaller than our old standby, Black Diamond.

An early melon brings several times as much as later ones. A few cantaloupes would sell to each trucker.

If you are interested, contact me and we will talk things over.

With winter over and spring here (it may be just around the corner), maybe we should do some thinking about the needs of our family, especially speaking with the proper vitamins and nutrients in our diets the cases of "spring fever" might be less severe.

Here are some Vitamin C suggestions taken from "Food and Home Notes" released weekly by the United States Department of Agriculture.

How to step up the vitamin C in family fare is the worth the consideration of many homemakers, because this essential vitamin, needed every day, is apt to be short in American diets. The recent U. S. Department of Agriculture's household food consumption survey showed that one family in every four was not getting enough vitamin C.

To make sure of enough vitamin C, it's worth knowing which foods rate high in this vitamin. Most eating potatoes that citrus fruits are rich sources. An orange or a half grapefruit a day can supply the full daily quota. Though unfavorable weather in Florida this winter has affected the supply and price of some fresh and processed citrus, canned grapefruit and citrus combination juices are expected to continue selling at reasonable prices. Strawberries, another fruit rich in vitamin C, will soon be coming into their peak marketing season. Later in the season there will be cantaloupes which also rate high in this vitamin.

"Many vegetable as well as fruits may be counted on to contribute this vitamin. In May large quantities of a variety of fresh vegetables are due on markets. Many green leafy vegetables contain large amounts of vitamin C, especially the deep green leaves - - - spinach, kale and collards, if properly cooked. Canned tomatoes and tomato juice are notable inexpensive sources of this vitamin the year around. Potatoes, sweetpotatoes and cabbage are good buys for vitamin C much of the year.

"Vitamin C is the most fragile of vitamins. Because it can be destroyed by exposure to air and is soluble in water, careful preparation and cooking are necessary to save it. Here are some vitamin-C-saving suggestions from nutritionists: Try to pare or cut up vegetables just before you cook them, because the longer their cut surface is exposed to air, the more vitamin C is lost.

"Cook vegetables only until just tender and use as small a quantity of water as possible. Remember that boiling potatoes in the skins saves vitamin C as well as time, and that generally each time you reheat a vegetable, more of the vitamin is lost. As much as possible, use vegetables raw in salad or as relishes, and serve them while they're fresh and crisp.

Emphasis on vitamin C is important, say the nutritionists, not only because many families have too little, but also because several trends in American eating patterns are leading toward lower intakes. We're eating fewer potatoes, which have been important source of C in American meals, and we're eating less cabbage. Home gardening is not as common as it was up to 10 years ago - - - thus families are not eating as many fresh, succulent young vegetables at the peak of their vitamin C content.

"Though figures show that tonesto consumption is up, it is up in the increasing quantities of catsup, chili sauce, tomato paste and tomato sauces were using. All those processed products contain some vitamin C, but usually in such small quantities that they contribute little to the diet."

UNDER PLASTIC Want to Raise Trial Crop of Early Melons?

If five or 10 farmers want to raise some watermelons this season now is the time to plant. By placing plastic half circle caps over them at planting time, early melons may be raised. These caps keep the ground and plants warm and keep out cold and insects.

We could add melons to our variety of things to sell if as many as 30 acres of melons are raised. Yours truly will help to sell them by advertising 30 to 50 days ahead of harvesting time.

I would try the truck sales route and go heavy on the advertising, giving date of first melons.

There is on market this season a new melon called Bush Melon. The vine grows about five feet long and some 18 inches high. It is a yellow meat and a small melon around 20 pounds.

Also the Charleston Gray and Mexican Peacock are popular melons. They are smaller than our old standby, Black Diamond.

An early melon brings several times as much as later ones. A few cantaloupes would sell to each trucker.

If you are interested, contact me and we will talk things over.

St. FM Paving Will be Pushed By Committee

Four important projects planned for City and County development were approved last week for future action of the Chamber of Commerce Civic Improvements Committee, according to Dr. W. F. Patrick, chairman of the committee.

The most important project for the year is to support the city council on a proposed street paving project for the Community.

Recent spring experiments of Floydada residents who live on unpaved streets and found themselves isolated because of the mud have pointed up the need for a paving program as soon as possible, the committee feels.

There are many streets in Floydada which need paving and curb and gutter, not only to get the residents out of the mud but also to provide the city with a master drainage plan. This, with provision made for repair to present and future paving, and providing curb and gutter on the streets which now have only the ribbon paving, is favored by the committee.

The second project of the committee will be to sponsor a clean up, fix up, paint up campaign during the summer. The campaign will probably open the first week in June and continue through August, Dr. Patrick said.

A clean community will be the goal of the committee, but repair and painting of homes and rent property, New Store Fronts and Business Improvements, Sidewalk repair, and the removal of eyesores will be a part of the three-month campaign.

Two other projects adopted by the committee were to work with the Floyd County Commissioners Court to secure needed Farm to Market Roads for Floyd County rural residents, and to continue work on the development of Floydada Park. Committee members hope to provide the community with a Master Park

Plan for the City Avenue East of the Senior High School.

The Committee also voted to recommend to the city council that Street Markers using the present names be purchased immediately and put in place as soon as possible. Committee members present were W. F. Patrick, Sam Fowler, Mrs. Alma Holmes, Claude Weatherbee, W. G. Baker, Don Barlow and Rev. R. D. Seago.

Other members of the committee included Mrs. I. H. Parks, Orvis Phillips, T. L. Holland Jr., George Spears, Cecil Ragood, John B. Fowler, Mrs. Dorris Jones, Leonard Metalar, W. P. Nicholson, Mrs. E. E. Hinson, Mrs. J. D. Parks, and Mrs. Tom Sneed.

plane tied down. Cargill was held in the plane upside down by his safety belt, and Martin jerked off a door to extricate him. The motor was running when the plane flipped, but it did not ignite. Cargill was not injured.

The plane belonged to a brother of the pilot, Martin was told. Later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Martin drove the couple to a bus station in Plainview where they left to journey back home.

The blow hard Friday did quite material damage to the huge new Winder building going up at South Plains for W. C. Graham, reportedly under contract to lease to Harvest, Queen-Mills.

The building which is going up on the site of the elevator that was destroyed by fire last year, was badly "breathing" with the successive gusts of wind.

On the west end several feet of the formed steel cover on both the north and south side of the building had been ripped loose when the day was over.

The new steel flat storage house, when completed, will cover an area "as large as a football field," 100 feet by 300 feet.

In the fields of the county many spots were reported blowing and lawn operators were out with various types of rigs trying to stop the moving soil.

In some instances the ground was still too wet to get cultivating machinery through the fields and the farmer found himself bogged down in the swirling dust. W. R. Puckett reported an instance of a small field where the ground was being prepared for early planting. A pickup, a truck, and two tractors were bogged down at the same time.

Young barley, oats and late wheat was reported to have enough cover on the ground to hold the soil and keep it from blowing. Cold winds hit this area late Tuesday evening dropping temperatures some 10 to 15 degrees.

And Mrs. J. W. Clonts Are ing, Tulia Report Says

After spending most of her lives serving the public, Mrs. James W. Clonts of Tulia is retiring this year. Mr. Clonts has held his long tenure of 44 years as a rural mail carrier for the postal department. Mrs. Clonts will complete her public school teaching at Tulia Public Schools close to a number of interested parties to take up their time. She is an outdoor type. A member for 33 years of the American Legion, she has been indicative of his ability as he was champion of the Country Club for three years and won the Texas cup of the West Texas Association at Stamford in 1935.

Not a trained musician, Mrs. Clonts loves to play his harmonium, which he finds relaxing. She spends some time in the winter months downstate in the resort. Mrs. Clonts came to the Plains and settled in Floydada, Texas, in 1914. She devoted 30 active years to the life of a teacher. On Dec. 2, 1948, he received a Life Certificate for his service in the war. He served as Worshipful Master of the Florida Lodge, No. 1234, in Waco, Texas. Mrs. Clonts transferred in the postal service to the post office at Bosque County in 1945. She is a first grade teacher in the public school. She has been teaching in the Floyd County, teaching at schools at Harmony, Pleasant Valley and for 13 years at Sand Hill. She has taught at Tulia for nine years.

Like her husband she is not without hobbies, one of which is painting. Mrs. Clonts was an art major in college and has continued the hobby through the years, studying with Louis R. Neugebauer. She also wood carves.

The Clonts are members of the Baptist Church. She holds membership in the Eastern Star, Gamma Iota Chapter of Delta Kappa Gamma, and in professional organizations for teachers.

News of Harmony

(Mrs. Chloma Williams)
HARMONY, April 7.—There's a new report on the job this morning so if things are not up to par you can understand why. People and what they do, make the news; so if you would like this column to be more interesting, just call me and tell me where you have been, where you are going, and what you are doing, and we will try to get it in the paper. In this fast era of living, about all we know of our neighbors is what we read in the paper so let's visit a little more even if it is only by what we read about each other.

Easter Sunday! Did you enjoy it? I did for a number of reasons. One of them was the beautiful weather we had. I could not help but compare Friday, Saturday, and Sunday of the past week with those same 1900 years ago.

I can imagine that Friday, when Christ was crucified, was one of the darkest and most disheartening days the world has ever known or will know; so this Friday, all the dirt and trash of the country seemed to be around us everywhere. Things were so dark and depressing.

Saturday things had not improved to any great extent. Then Sunday morning, there was still a trace of the last two days left in the early morning atmosphere. Sandstorms always leave traces even after they are gone.

The sun rose, as did God's son rise on that Easter morning many years ago, and with it new life, new hope and joy that it was such a lovely day. I think we have to have those terrible days and experiences to make us appreciate more fully the many good things we do have around us all the time but fail to recognize.

We had a good attendance at Sunday School and Church Sunday morning. Lorin Leibfried of Floydada filled the pulpit at the 11 o'clock hour. Visitors in our church Sunday morning were: Mrs. Lawrence and three children and Martha, Beverly, and Iwana Smith. We were glad to have these worship with us and welcome them back.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service met April 1, in the home of Mrs. M. D. Ramsey. The topic of the program was "Youth and Missions." Following the program and business meeting the hostesses served refreshments carrying out the Easter motif to: Mrs. Marvin Smith, Mrs. Sherwood Ramsey, Mrs. Chloma Williams and Mr. M. D. Ramsey.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gray returned home Monday from Quanah, Kirkland, and Wellington, after visiting friends and relatives several days. Pat Tucker spent Tuesday night with Sue Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Miller, Mrs.

G. L. Snodgrass, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Manning, and Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Miller and children, were dinner guests Sunday in the Carrick Snodgrass home.

Mrs. Wesley Carr and son, Bill, went to Damon Sunday afternoon to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bailey.

Chloma and Sue Williams were named honorees at a birthday dinner Sunday at the community center. Chloma's birthday was Sunday and Sue's was Saturday.

A large three-tiered cake, decorated with pink roses formed the dressing, ham, and all the trimmings for the table. Turkey, dressing, ham, and all the trimmings with cake and ice cream was enjoyed by those attending. The honorees received many pretty and useful gifts. Those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Freeman and La Denia from Amarillo; Mrs. Ted Samples, Sandra and Cynthia, and Miss Carolyn Williams, Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Williams, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Williams, Linda, La Nell and Dean of Floydada;

Mr. and Mrs. Mather Carr, and Horace, Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Carr, Charles and Bill, Elmer Dean and Leon Williams, Harvey Allen, Doug Walding, Martha Smith, Beth Scott, Judy Wilson and Mr. and Mrs. Chloma Williams and Sue.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Williams were guests of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. H. Nelson and Dirk, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Gray were in Lubbock Wednesday for a check up with a doctor. They ate dinner with Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Turner, former residents of this community but now of Lubbock.

Everett Miller made a business trip to Fort Worth Monday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Zant Scott, Nita Karen and Larry, and Beverly and Iwana Smith enjoyed Easter with a niece of Mr. Scott's, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Ellerd and family of near Petersburg.

Mary Jean Davis is ill with measles. Others on the sick list Sunday were Judy Smith and Patricia Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stanton visited in Littlefield Sunday. W. C. Clubb visited in the Floyd Trowbridge home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Pool visited relatives in Dallas, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Tucker, Pat and Ronnie visited her parents in Hart, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Joyce Davis and Mr. R. G. Morris attended a Vacation Bible School training meeting Floydada Tuesday of last week. They reported an interesting and informative meeting.

Ladies, don't forget the Cancer film that will be shown at the community center Thursday afternoon, April 10, at 5 o'clock. This hour was set so those attending the recreation training school in Floydada would have time to get back to the community. This film will only take about 30 minutes of your time and might help you in detecting cancer.

Visitors in the Marvin Smith home Sunday afternoon were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Schrader of Petersburg and Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Morris, Jack, Roger, and Venoka.

EASTER SUNDAY GUESTS

Visitors during Easter Sunday in the V. D. Turner home were Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Irwin and Kim, Muleshoe, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Olin Turner, Lubbock, Eugene and Margie Turner, Mrs. and Mrs. L. W. Queen and children, Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Warren and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Medley and children, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Turner and son, Mrs. Leroy Burns and children, Mrs. Bud Turner and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Vick and family, Mrs. John Burns, Miss Darlean Laminack, Linda Smith, and Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Turner.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Tinnin of Glenrose, spent Easter Holidays here with their daughter, Mrs. Everett Perry and family, and son, John R. Tinnin and family.

CHAT with PAT

I guess everybody had a swell time over the Easter Holidays! Since we got to miss one day of school, that added to the excitement of the holidays.

A different assortment of things happened and here are a few of them:

Bobby was in the hospital because he had a leg operation; Pat Allen looked like Little Lulu because she had the mumps; A lot of kids ate dinner together Easter Sunday Richard couldn't get something off of his face;

Dale Brown got a new car --- it is really pretty; Billy Gilliland (Uncle Willie) was zooming around town in his cousin's car from Fort Worth; all of the college kids were home; Henry bought Sue a big Easter Bunny; Johnny Fred was puttin' around on his motor cycle; Randy Ring was here visiting; Frank has something that attracts little kids attention; Leora discovered that Joe loves cows and horses; Addie and Norman took a wild ride on a big ole horse; Cliff Jones had a leg operation.

Concerning the Beauty Pageant, Edwina Overstreet was crowned "Miss Floydada", Marjorie Burleson was alternate and Sue McClung was runner up. Congratulations, girls!

Other girls in the contest were Mary Cogdell, Judy Jackson, Neida McCarey, Sue Reese, Carolyn Cates, Sharon Edmiston, Shirley Gregory, Billie Holmes, Leora King, Mae Bell Johnson, June Marble, Kay Robertson; Jane Tye, Jerry Walker, LaJuana Wemack, Carol Lawson, Joy Sparks, and Pat Hickerzon. The seniors put in a lot of hard work to make the contest a success.

I want red, no never --- we want green! Finally the Juniors got together and agreed on getting green zones in the standard cars. The rings cost $2.32 and 69 Juniors have put in their orders, hoping to receive them at the first of next year. Of course, there were some kids who still wanted red rings, isn't that right Arlis and Dale? Oh, well, that's life.

Just think, there is only six more weeks of school left! This year is flying by. Why is it seems like only yesterday that we were starting this school year off. During these next few weeks there will be a lot of things happening, such as:

Regional One-Act Play at Lubbock, the Band Banquet, District Meet here on April 12, Band Concert in April, Graduation Exercises and all of the other things that help wrap up another school year in F. H. S.

During the holidays, the following kids were sent together:

After a short stay in Fort Worth he will journey on to Floydada to visit with his mother.

Mrs. Fred Cardinal was returned home from Albuquerque, N. Mex., where she had been for some time at the home of a cousin, Mrs. Ralph Donelson, recovering from surgery. VIEWSON COMMENT Troubles of Airlines. Last week we solved the problems of the report card for the public schools. This week we turn to the airlines which serve the country in a way which we earth-bound hardly realize. The bureaucrats are after them. Having put the railroads on the skids (which the public aided and abetted) the same federal government, to which we all pledge allegiance, but which apparently is not pledged to us, is having the airlines completely change their book keeping systems. The new rule makes the airlines keep a set of books that show a profit that is non-existent. We make that statement flatly on the word of the heads of the American and the Eastern Airlines, two of the country's most successful operators. Neither of these lines has asked for nor received any federal subsidy of any kind for years, the Eastern for 18 years. But they are being parlayed into a corner and will have to get on their knees in the course of a few years if the government has its way.

Already the railroads have been so completely hamstrung by the rules of the Interstate Commerce Commission that the independence of even the strongest is being threatened. The public and in particular the unions have had to do with this unhappy situation, the public through indifferent hostility and the union through the enforcement of featherbedding and similar practices. Meanwhile the ICC has had a continuous field day from the time the memory of man runneth not to the contrary. And still at it. We believe it is untrue to state that the president of the Santa Fe has to get a pass slip from a federal coordinator to go to the rest room. Any other statement in regard to the mismanagement of the railways by the ICC probably can be substantiated.

A well run city government pays off, declares an authority. It pays off because good city government is a civic asset that attracts industry and population. If this is a correct premise, and we believe it is, it points up the need for sympathetic attention to city affairs by the citizenship to uphold the authorities and help them get a better job done.

Automobile Safety Belts. Much talk was heard a year or so ago about safety belts for front seat riders in automobiles. We haven't kept up to the minute on their popularity but get the impression that the idea did not get over too well. We predict, however, that a change is going to come about in the thinking of automobile users and that the safety belt is going to gain favor with the passage of time. Too many people in automobile accidents have been lost who would be living and engaged in useful occupations had the safety belt been in use when their time for a crash came. The great value of the safety belt is being demonstrated over and over in air accidents. Safety belts are accepted by air travelers.

Rights of Policyholders. The current investigation by the Texas senate committee into the operations of the State Insurance Commission has brought into focus the fact policy holders of shaky or defunct insurance companies were not being given preferential consideration at the hands of commission heads and liquidators. In fact it came to light that the policyholder was put at the bottom of the list, below stockholders and other creditors in liquidation procedures. This is a peculiar attitude for the state body to take in view of the circumstances. Policyholders should in all fairness be at the top of the list. It is good that the investigators brought this unholy situation into sharp focus. It should result in getting the purchaser of insurance better protection in instances of fraud or bad management.

Fortunately the main body of the insuring companies, several hundreds of them, are good, substantial people, with honest policies, honest methods of operation. They are working with the insurance commission, at least willing to work with them, to see that the good name of Texas insurance companies is protected, along with their policyholders.

No Money Down. A new law on the federal statute books is going to make it easier once more for people in the cities to build houses. Towns like Floydada will help furnish the credit which the government will use in this arrangement, but such towns will not get any of the benefits. A lot of young people who had jobs in Floydada, first and last have gone elsewhere to live because the family could get a brand new home to live in and a job equally as good as offered here. Perhaps we need to convince somebody that we live in the United States, too.

Sugar Beet Country? How do you get an allotment for growing sugar beets? No doubt the key to the beet sugar industry lies in the sugar beet mills, through which contracts must be made. In the course of the years sugar beet handling has become a mechanized process in the same way as cotton. Sugar beet growing is like cotton growing, too, in that a responsible person can get financed to handle the crop if he needs to do so. Floyd County farm operators, casting about for something to put their lay out acres into, might profitably investigate. A rough fall harvest period does not mean anything to a sugar beet.

The Unlicensed Driver. Despite the fact that the drivers license law has been on the statute books for 22 years, the claim is made by the Texas Department of Public Safety that "thousands of Texas motorists are operating motor vehicles on expired driver's licenses or have never been licensed at all." This statement, which will be surprising to the average citizen, is supplemented by the claim that "sixteen per cent of all rural fatal accidents in Texas during 1956 involved an unlicensed driver." A campaign to eliminate the unlicensed driver from operating on the highways is one of the logical things, and that is what the department says it intends to institute. This will be another surprise to the average citizen—surprise that the department has not been on the job in this respect all the time.

School Patron Has Say About Report Cards

(Paragraphs last week in The Hesperian relative to school report cards got varied reactions from various quarters. Below is one of the well-expressed opinions from one of the patrons of Andrews Ward School.)

Dear Mr. Steen: I'm sure you remember my phone call of last Friday morning. I had just read your editorial in last week's Hesperian and I know that I made one point rather clear. I don't agree with you. As usual, however, I spoke hastily and heatedly. My convictions are the same, but after a cooling off period I hope that I can express them with some coherence.

Your reference to the report card of "many lines" was the thing that triggered my temper. I was under the impression that you were finding fault with the new report cards that are in a trial period at Andrews Ward School.

When I talked to you I found out that you hadn't even seen them and that you were speaking in a general way. This soothed me a bit, but I would still like to tell you about our new report cards.

First, because I find them to be such an improvement over the old ones and also because that editorial of yours still leaves me feeling defensive. The report card could not be more simple. (Now, about this word "simple". I don't care for this word. When you say it about people it's sort of insulting and when you say it about things it really isn't descriptive. I use it only because you used it in your editorial. I judge it to be a favorite of yours.)

Our new report cards among many other good features have a complete definition of the elusive "S". With the definition of "S" as given on the report card it becomes as descriptive as the 80's and 90's with which you and I are familiar. The many lines serve further to simplify the card. A parent need only to read it to know in what phases of a subject his child needs help.

For example, a child who receives an "S" in reading may be checked above average in comprehension, oral reading, and below average in phonics. The obvious procedure is to help the child with phonics. Have you ever had a card that was more helpful to the teacher, parent and the child?

I now anticipate your rebuttal. You will say that some "simple" parents with low I. Q.'s, poor educations and lack of horse sense may feel incapable of helping their child with phonics so what are they to do. In my reply to you, I would like to say that the parent, no matter how incapable he feels, can always help the child.

If he doesn't know phonics, he and the child can learn them together, the child learns phonics, shares companionship with the parent and also learns that it isn't wrong not to know... but wrong not to learn. The parent has only to ask the child's teacher what method to follow in helping. And don't worry about that teacher... I know that bunch at ward school... Say that you want to help your child and their response is as warm as a sweet embrace.

Since years pass without me having the golden opportunity of making public my sentiments I have another matter to bring to your attention. The tone of your editorial I thought to be just what I needed. I have always felt that it was the unfortunate lot of teachers, ministers and editors to be publicly criticized and privately complimented.

I now take my pen in hand to say some very complimentary and very public things about the principal and teaching staff of our local ward school. Our Mr. Nicholson is the most outstanding ward school administrator that I have ever known. He is a gentleman with a strong mind and firm hand. He has progressive ideas about learning and old fashioned ideas about discipline (an ideal combination I think).

When I read all the articles concerning the sad plight of education on a national level, I think of Mr. Nicholson and feel complimented. As long as we have him we're dollars ahead. (This sentence may have double significance... he may be underpaid as well as overworked. I don't know.) He encourages his teachers in cementing firm teacher-parent-pupil relationship and is his own best example.

He has a genuine respect for the few teaching aids at his disposal, such as projectors and record players, and keeps this material as well closeted and locked when not in use that it would challenge a safe cracker. I appreciate his custodian attitude. It seems only good sense that when you don't have much, it's much more important to keep good care of it.

A kind word also for his teachers. While I've known many of them for years, it seems that your own best friend becomes another person when she becomes your child's teacher. So far, I've only had two teachers at ward school, Mrs. Colley and Mrs. Potts, and those teachers have done wonderful things for my daughter... things that I consider to be above the call of duty. More than teach... they have inspired. You can't pay enough for that either.

I mentioned that I read a lot of articles lately in national publications concerning the plight of our educational system. Some of them... especially the interview published not too long ago in U. S. News and World Report by Milton Eisenhower... have impressed me very much. Some of them seem to be sort of scare talk. But all of them agree on one point. The thing that is wrong with our system in general is (may I borrow your phrase?) that for too long we have kept it "simple enough for the simple ones."

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Dougherty, April 7

To The Hesperian:

The folk in the Dougherty community were disappointed in the write-up on the County Spelling Bee. We were especially disappointed as our daughter, Judy, won the junior contest.

She spelled down 12 where as Eric had only five.

We think our children at Dougherty are as important as Floydada children.

I am sending for the Lockney paper for the write-up, as they had a nice one.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Maurice Campbell

Floydada, April 6

Dear Sir:

Anyone who could read and understand your editorial is capable of understanding the most complex report card.

The new report cards issued by Andrews are not complex. They are the best ones we have ever had, because they are simple yet informative.

Have you seen one?
Yours truly,
Mrs. John Kimble.

NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORIES

The new Telephone Directory will be delivered June 27th to your home by mail.

I would like to remind you to call our Business Office, YU3-2891, if you have any changes you wish to make, or any additions, such as listing your business a different way or you might wish to list some member of your household such as a mother-in-law, aunt, children, etc.

This will insure the receiving of telephone calls that you or they might otherwise miss.

You have until June 5th to do this, after that it will be too late.

SPRING HOUSE CLEANING

Is spring house cleaning under way at your home? And are you planning to do a little redecorating, too? I have a suggestion that will help add a little color to your home whether you're cleaning or redecorating. It is this: Put some color telephones in your home.

We now have nine attractive colors plus black. The colors are: white, cherry red, pastel yellow, ivory, moss green, rose pink, aqua blue, light beige, light grey.

From this variety you can choose one or several to blend or contrast with any colors in your home.

Color extension telephones are practical, too. You'll be surprised at the steps they save: No more running from one end of the house to the other to answer. And, an extension telephone will give you more privacy on calls.

Color extension telephones are economical, too. Here in Floydada they cost only $10.00 (one-time charge) plus a small installation charge. The monthly extension charge is only $1.00 a month.

GOING SOMEWHERE?

Some people I know have started planning their vacations because they know planning ahead can make a vacation more fun.

They've found, too, that calling ahead makes a vacation even more fun. No worry whether you'll find accommodations. No guessing as to whether the people you want to visit are home. Calling ahead on your vacation trip or any trip makes it more fun, gives you more peace of mind.

And, don't forget that the people at home like to hear from you, too. A telephone is a personal, easy way to keep in touch.

Next time, call. Take the worry out of travel.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

YOUR COUNTY AGENT

Many of you will be using fertilizer to increase your yields of grain sorghum for more net return per acre. Research as well as demonstrations on tightland soils have shown increase in yield by the use of nitrogen.

The increase in yield from 30 pounds to 20 pounds of actual nitrogen go up as the amount of nitrogen we use.

However, in figuring net return per acre the most profitable amount of nitrogen to use has proven to be about 30 pounds of nitrogen. This returns more net income per acre than any other amount of nitrogen.

Cotton fertilizing however, does not follow the same pattern as grain sorghum. One year fertilizer looks good, the next year you may get an actual decrease in yield. The fertilizing of soybeans with 60 pounds of phosphorus per acre gave a six bushel increase in some tests carried on. Soybeans if properly inoculated have the ability to produce all the nitrogen they need.

To those of you who are interested, Western Cotton Oil Co. Paymaster Farms, and the Texas Extension Service are sponsoring a soybean production contest. Rules and entry forms are available in the County Agent's office.

You should watch your small grains for infestation of green bugs and be ready to control them for maximum yields.

Plains Cotton Growers Inc., Agricultural Experiment Station & Extension Service

CAN MAKE YOU MONEY WITH HIGHER QUALITY COTTON IN 1958

Production practices govern quality and yield. Do your best to see that your land preparation is adequate. Check your soil fertility needs now so that maximum production of quality cotton will not be hampered by lack of nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium or organic matter. Sub soil moisture may be adequate — but check to be sure.

Planting time is almost here. Optimum planting dates on the High Plains are May 5-20. Later planting usually results in lower quality. Before planting be sure the minimum soil temperature averages 60 degrees for 10 days at an 8-inch depth from the top of the bed. Use delinted, treated seed and check for germination. A uniform stand of approximately four stalks per foot in 40-inch rows is recommended. The method of harvest to be used should help determine the variety planted.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

It's a comparatively quiet time at the State Capitol but the only noticeable "stir" is generated by the Legislature's chambers and new state structures nearby.

At this time the Capitol building is a turbulent arena. Law-making debates, electric and close votes kept the committee rooms busy.

Lawmakers are scattered, some are being decided, some are undecided.

Next year's legislators talking with the people to they feel.

at the church suppers, civic club luncheons, and cemetery "work-days" feeling out support, sessions, making commitments in your town.

they get and committees make now will, in large measure, determine how the close of this time next year.

Turnover Possible — Prospects are mostly familiar to the legislative desks next November — after the primaries, a sudden rash of announcements, at least two-thirds of house members and nearly 90 per cent of senators will be old hands.

Latest statewide survey by the Texas Legislative Service shows only three senators -- Otis Lusk, Seary Braacewell and Carlos Ashley -- bowing out of politics. There'll be a scramble by House members for the seats.

Of the 12 senators up for re-election only one, at last count, had an opponent. Remaining 16 in the upper house are having a "breather," since only half of the senate runs each two years.

House of Representatives generally has a large-scale assault on incumbents every election, and about a 30 per cent turnover.

Less upheaval seems likely this year. Only about 20 representatives are not seeking re-election, including those running for the senate. Of those running for the house again, or still undecided, only about 30 have announced opponents.

A question mark enters into race decisions this year. Whether or not legislators will have annual sessions and annual salaries will not be decided until the constitutional amendment is voted on next November -- after the primaries. For some the prospect of $7,500 yearly is a lure. Others don't like the idea of having to be away from homes and businesses a good part of every year.

At last -- Spring has finally sprung in Texas employment, bringing the long-awaited seasonal pick-up in jobs.

Texas Employment Commission's latest report, for the first time since Dec. 30, showed a significant decline in the number of unemployment compensation claims. Drop was from 92,435 to 80,326.

TEC said some 14,974 claimants had exhausted their benefits during January and February. Maximum allowed is $28 a week for 26 weeks.

Grow With Us -- Some 3,000 major new factories will locate somewhere in the South within the next 10 years.

In reporting this prediction, Gov. Price Daniel urged the state's new Industrial Commission to get in and pitch for a Texas-sized share of the incoming wealth and job-making industries.

Chairman E. B. Germany of Dallas said the commission would accept the challenge. He said the commission would study industry-attracting techniques of other states and prepare a brochure on Texas' advantages.

Chief among these, said Germany, head of Lone Star Steel, is a "healthy attitude" among Texans toward industry.

Commission members serve without salary and without state funds to pay for projects. Several hundred dollars in donations have been received.

If voters next November approve an amendment removing the ban on state-financed advertising, the legislature can appropriate money for this purpose.

"Make It Plainness" -- Tax talk towers over other topics in the build-up for the 1959 legislative session.

West Texas Chamber of Commerce has added a new idea to the stacks of proposals and counter-proposals being presented to the State Tax Study Commission. It suggests making available for general use some of the unused balances tied up in the state's more than 100 special funds.

AFL-CIO says stricter application of present property tax laws might solve the problem without enacting new levies.

"Proper enforcement," said a labor spokesman, would tax not only real estate, but bank deposits, boats, bank shares, stocks, etc. AFL-CIO had previously suggested a corporation income tax to meet the state treasury's expected need for more than $100,000,000 in additional revenue.

Business groups, generally, have opposed the corporation tax, saying it will hamper Texas' industrial development. Some have proposed a general sales tax.

Tax Study Commission already has issued two of a series of 8 to 10 research reports to lawmakers for tax decisions. A third report, on how tax money is used and what future needs will likely be, is due later this month.

Though taxes are a prime campaign issue, legislative candidates are treading delicately around the subject. One said in his announcement that he opposed a general sales tax and a state income tax and that "if additional taxes have to be levied, let's make it as painless as possible."

Good Roads Ahead -- State Highway Commission has given approval to final phase of a 1959-60 state highway building program to cost $319,000,000.

It calls for immediate spending of $9,200,000 for right-of-way buying under the new 50-50 cost-sharing plan between state and local governments.

First phase of the advanced planning program was approved in February. Second phase covers 1,630 miles of roadway in 13 districts at a cost of $140,000,000. This does not include future work on farm to market and interstate highways.

Short Shorts -- State Selective Service Headquarters has asked local draft boards to send up 4,247 men for pre-induction physical exams during May. It will be second successive month of high quotas -- highest since Korean War -- to replenish pool of potential military manpower. Price index of Texas farm products rose 2 per cent from February to March, reports U. S. Dept. of Agriculture. Crops rose 3 per cent, livestock 1 per cent.

Egg Market News - A New Service For Texas Poultry Men

Sometime in April, thousands of Texans connected with the state's mammoth egg industry will benefit from a new and important Texas Department of Agriculture service -- regular reporting of prices and conditions on Texas eggs.

Since the recent inauguration of the Texas Egg Law made possible more uniform egg marketing conditions over the state, the need for such a service has been voiced from every direction. The main problem facing the Market News Section of the TDA is setting up an egg market report to make certain all areas of the state benefited equally when reporting began. And that was a lot of territory to cover.

It was determined that no less than six areas should have individual price reports, at least at the beginning, in order that regional differences in prices and conditions would not be overlooked.

Therefore, present plans are to report a Texas six-area market including the Lubbock, South Plains Area, Dallas-Fort Worth Area, Tyler-East Texas Area, Houston Area, Corpus Christi-Rio Grande Valley Area, an Austin-San Antonio Area. The report is tentatively scheduled for bi-weekly release, on Monday and Thursday of each week. Prices will be given at first on five grades -- AA Extra Large, AA Large, A Large, A Medium, and B Large -- with possibly other classifications to be added later.

Sources for price information in each of the six areas will be bona fide egg buyers who directly purchase the producers' eggs. They will be contacted directly by personnel from each of the TDA's regional offices.

The Texas Egg Market will be made available to all interested persons through the press and radio as well as through the Texas Poultry & Egg Market News bulletin, mailed free of charge on request.

Requests for information should be addressed to John C. White, Commissioner, Texas Department of Agriculture, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas.

The Floyd County Hesperian, Floydada, Texas, Thursday, April, 10 1958
