Newspaper Reading On the Rise Despite Counter-Bid

they would be supplanted by radio and TV.

No other media, on the contrary, has been able to present the news as completely or to make it possible for the reader to select what he wants to read when he wants to read it. As a consequence, says Editor and Publisher, the newspaper today provides the surest with the best audience.

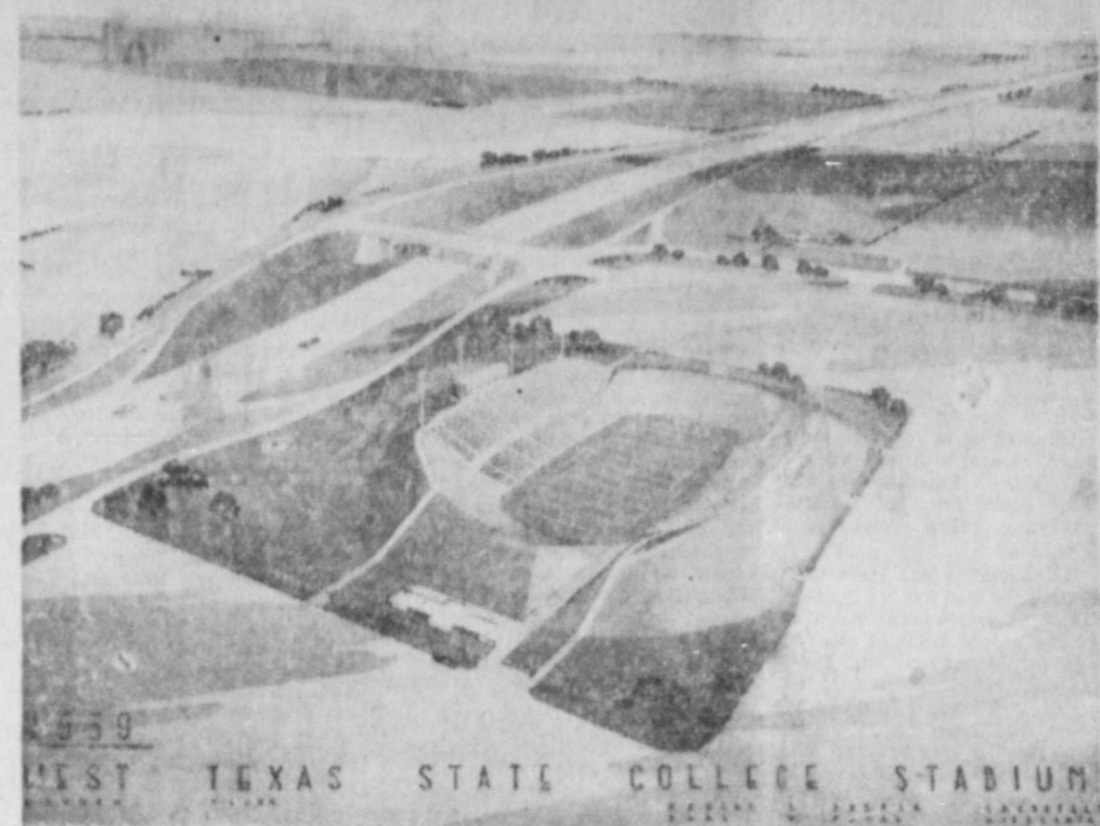

Although newspapers had gross receipts last year that were somewhat higher than in 1956, the increase was more than offset by bigger operating costs, the report shows. The result, for most publications, was a smaller profit margin than the year before.

Hereford, Tex., Man Reports— 2 Bale Per Acre Cotton Using Phillips 66 Ammonia

J. F. Martin, who farms 1,720 acres near Hereford, Tex., says: "I put down Phillips 66 ammonia pre-plant on my irrigated cotton and made 2 bales to the acre. I also use Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia on my wheat and maize land with good results."

Other Southwestern farmers have discovered that 82% nitrogen from top quality Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps them get more profit per acre through higher yields. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain and ensilage are increased... more marketable vegetables are harvested... and profits on wheat are increased through better forage and higher yields of grain.

Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia contains 82% nitrogen and gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of commercial fertilizer available.

DATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

First drought, then that some federal assistance might be obtained.

Cox Appeal Denied — Ex-Rep. James E. Cox of Conroe has lost another round in his fight against a two year-prison sentence.

Court of Criminal Appeals, by a 2-1 decision, upheld the trial court conviction on charges of consenting to accept a bribe. Cox's attorneys have one more recourse left — filing a motion for a re-hearing. Since the appeals court recesses June 27, this could not be considered until it reconvenes next October.

Cox's troubles rocked the state last Spring, during the 1957 legislative session. They began when Howard Harmon of San Antonio, onetime head of the Texas Naturopaths, made public a tape recording of a hotel room conversation with Cox. Harmon and state's attorneys contended that the conversation reflected an effort by Cox to shake down Harmon in return for killing an anti-naturopath bill which Cox had introduced in the legislature.

Judge's Opponent Out — One election contest has already been settled, some six weeks before Election Day.

Texas Supreme Court ruled Dist. Judge Graham Purcell of Wichita Falls not eligible to run for the Court of Criminal Appeals against Judge K. K. Woodley. Reason: Judge Purcell has had only nine years experience as a lawyer and judge.

An 1891 amendment to the Constitution requires that Criminal Appeals Court judges have the same qualifications as Supreme Court judges. At that time the requirement for the high court was seven years experience. In 1954 the Constitution was amended to require 10 years experience for Supreme Court judges.

Despite the time lapse, the effect of the two amendments is to require 10 years experience for Criminal Appeals judges, according to the ruling in the Woodley-Purcell case.

Result is that Woodley will be unopposed in the primary and win automatic re-nomination for another six-year term.

Line-Jumping Threat — Another Supreme Court ruling on an election dispute poses an Election Day dilemma for Dallas voters.

It held that Grover Cantrell, Dallas labor official and self-styled "Stevenon Republican," is entitled to oppose Cong. Bruce Alger on the GOP primary ballot.

Cantrell's candidacy is interpreted as a move to inconvenience Dallas conservative voters. Election results for 1956 indicate a good percentage of "Big-D" voters threw their strength behind conservative Democrats at precinct conventions and primaries, but supported Republican nominees for national offices in the general election. Presumably, unless conservatives are on hand to vote, Cantrell's friends might scratch GOP-favorite Alger in his own primary.

But it's a two-edged sword that applies equally to Dallas liberals. If they go to the Republican primary to help Cantrell, they can't vote for liberal Democratic contenders for state office nor fight conservatives for Democratic precinct control.

Like A Jury? — Defending the State Board of Health's closed door meetings, Comm. Henry H. Holie said:

"The Board is like a jury. You get the verdict, but you can't get in on their comments."

State Health Board has authority to allocate federal funds under the Hill-Burton Act to match local funds for hospital building. Its policy has been to announce names of hospitals approved to receive funds, but not those rejected or why.

Newsman had been openly critical of the Board for barring the press from its meetings. Holie said minutes of Board meetings were available to the public after formal approval at the next meeting — three months later.

More Money For Land — Texas Veterans Land Board has made its third $12,500,000 sale of bonds to finance land purchases by veterans. This brings to $37,500,000 the bonds sold since last December. Land Office spokesmen say it gives the program enough money to carry $200,000,000 in bond issues was it until August 1959. A total of authorized by voters in a recent constitutional amendment.

For a time the program was at a standstill because the Board was unable to find bond buyers who would accept the 3 per cent or less in interest which the state is allowed under the constitution to pay.

Try, Try Again — Texas Supreme Court is again being asked to referee the battle of appointments that has brought the state insurance liquidation to "utter chaos."

Latest deadlock developed when Insurance Commissioner William A. Harrison fired Liquidator James M. Williamson (in office only 10 weeks) and replaced him with C. M. Landeau, formerly first deputy. But Dist. Judge Charles O. Betts, one of three Austin judges handling insurance receivership cases, refused to accept Landeau as receiver for the cases in his court. He named another attorney. Other two judges accepted Landeau.

On behalf of the Insurance Department, Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has petitioned the Supreme Court for permission to file a writ of mandamus voiding Betts' action. His petition charges Betts with usurping powers assigned the Insurance Department. It says the "divided responsibility" of two receivers in one office "creates utter chaos."

In a previous effort to get a ruling that would unsmear authority over liquidation, the high court held the judge could not appoint a receiver if the Insurance Department failed to do so.

Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Trapp, Van and Roger, accompanied by Kelly King, and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Assister and children, returned home Sunday from a week's vacation at Grand Lake, Colo.

TEAM PLACES SEVENTH

Last week's issue of the Hesperian carried the entomology team of Floyd County as placing 6th in the annual Texas 4-H Club Round-up at A&M recently. The records show the team placed 7th, out of 17 teams competing.

Robert Overstreet led this county with the high score of 193 out of a possible 200. Top score in the state was 195.

Jimmy Huckabay and Tommy Ogden scored 185 and 180 respectively.

Widow's Re-Marriage Ends Security Checks

As a reminder to a widow that her social security benefits on her deceased husband's account must be stopped if she remarries, her social security check is made out to "Mary Smith, unmarried widow."

The fact that a woman's entitlement to social security widow's benefits ends with the month before the month in which she remarries was pointed out by John G. Hutson, manager of the Lubbock social security office.

"A widow's remarriage, however, does not affect her right to receive benefits payable on behalf of her children," Mr. Hutson said. As long as she has the children in her care, she can continue to receive benefits on their behalf until they reach age 18 or until some other event occurs to end their entitlement.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Floydada on June 30, at 9:30 a. m. at the Courthouse, Room 196.

A white linen cloth covered the table which held a cake made in the form of an open bible bearing the couple's names and their wedding date. This arrangement was flanked by brass cross candle holders of silver holding silver candles entwined with white caisses.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

MARK ALLEN

Age is no longer important. Most of us are sold on the philosophy that we're only as old as we feel. Hence, many a grandmother can keep pace in looks and activities, with women half her age.

There are, however, a few unmistakable signs of creeping years. One has to do with dress. Refusing to wear pointed-toe shoes is a dead giveaway that a woman is no longer bound by fashion; that, in turn, is admission that she's getting older.

Ignoring the chemise and sack styles simply can't be done by the young in heart; yet a few hard-headed women of the middle generation hang on doggedly to clothes that preserve whatever semblance of waistline they may have, at the expense of high fashion.

Insistence on conventional dress for church services; refusal to wear shorts or slacks outside the confines of their own home and garden; and a liking for hats, as such, are also marks that a woman belongs to a past generation.

Another sign of giving in to the years is holding to an old-fashioned attitude toward open windows. Given a choice, only the die-hard cling to out-moded habits of fresh versus refrigerated air in the dead of summer. Wind and dust and changing temperatures can be laughed at by the modern whose home is equipped with a refrigerated air cooler.

But the woman who loves the feel of wind in her face, the smell of pine trees and honeysuckle as it drifts through an open window, will agree with a friend of ours who called her newly air-conditioned home "a pleasant little prison."

So age is a state of mind, maybe. But it's also a matter of preference. And some folks had rather be attractive oddballs than displaced or overgrown kids.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Higgins and daughters of San Diego, Calif., will leave this Friday, to return home after spending two weeks here with her father, H. J. Nelson and other relatives.

Local Druggist Is Introducing Gifts By Wire

Yesterday Hays O'Neal of Floydada Drug Co., 116 West California St., became a member of the new Gifts By Wire network of bonded quality retail merchants.

This association is being formed so that the public can choose a gift from a selection of nationally advertised gift items and have it sent anywhere in the nation so that it arrives on the exact date intended in perfect condition, and delivered by the recipient's neighborhood drug store.

Floydada Drug Company specializes in a fine selection of gift items, and, according to Mr. O'Neal "the new Gifts By Wire service will insure that the gift arrives on the exact date intended. For example, a person likes to receive a gift on his birthday, not a few days after or even a day or two before the birthday. In receiving a gift on the exact date intended, the recipient knows that the sender is a thoughtful person."

One of the many fine features of this new service is that both the purchaser and the recipient are doing business with their friendly neighborhood merchant. Therefore, in the event that the recipient wants to exchange the item because of a choice of a different color or fragrance, for example, the person is going back to the merchant who has made the delivery.

Prominent druggists all over the nation are joining this network, so that by this Christmas Season a gift can be sent anywhere in America and "pin-point delivery" will be assured.

KEEP YOUR TEMPER COOL

Household chores such as washing and drying clothes, cooking, and all the jobs that go with keeping things about the house can be unpleasant on hot summer days.

And those hot days and unpleasant chores can make your temper rise too if you are using out-moded appliances.

On the other hand, if you are one of those who is taking advantage of modern electric appliances then you won't notice the weather so much.

Electricity can cool your home with the use of air conditioning — it can cook your food without getting the house hot — and it can do that washing and drying in jig time with the modern electric appliances of today.

If you are not making full use of this economical electric servant in your home, then you are missing one of the biggest bargains being offered.

See your local appliance dealer and give "Willie Wired-hand" another job at your house. You will be glad that you did.

Former Pupils Write Praises Of Mrs. Clonts

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Clonts of Tulla, both of whom retired this year from duties of school teacher and mail carrier, are now enjoying the pleasant luxury of retirement. Mrs. Clonts does art work and Mr. Clonts is spending more time with his golf.

Upon her retirement as school teacher, Mrs. Clonts completed thirty years in the public school systems, nine years of that at Tulla 15 years at Sand Hill, Pleasant Valley, Harmony, in Floyd County, and in Floydada.

Mrs. Clonts is the former Ola Hanna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hanna of Lubbock, and sister of Mrs. Hilery Shurbet of Floydada.

Recently a number of appreciation letters appearing in the Tulla Hornet from various students and parents complimenting Mrs. Clonts were forwarded to the Hesperian.

Following are excerpts from the letters:

Dear Mrs. Clonts:

As a key teacher in our school these past nine years, you will be sorely missed.

Because you love children and enjoy teaching, you have had outstanding results as has been shown by the progress of your pupils. Even now those students with whom you worked in the Tulla system recall with pride the time spent under your capable direction.

Since the work and influence of a teacher goes beyond the classroom and is reflected in the lives of those who have been touched, you will continue to reap the joy and satisfaction of a job well done.

W. V. Swinburn

Dear Mrs. Clonts:

As one of many parents whose lives you have touched during your dedicated years of teaching, may I say how deeply grateful we are to you.

We are grateful for the Christian principles you have instilled into our children, for your fervent desire to impart knowledge and understanding, and for your unselfish love and devotion.

As you observe "your children" maturing into adulthood, surely you can feel an overwhelming sense of joy and pride, for you can know, as we know, that you have given of your very best.

Most sincerely,
Mrs. Fred V. Richards.

Dear Mrs. Clonts:

In the first grade a child doesn't know where to begin. That was the way with me. You helped me so much to get started. Some of the things I remember most are your sweet smile and how patient and kind you always were.

You taught me to read, write my name and my first number work. They certainly seem easy now but they weren't in the first grade.

When I was sick and couldn't come to school you would call and

Kent Creek Vote Set For July 12

QUITAQUE — According to a legal notice in this week's Post, an election to confirm the Kent Creek Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 will be held on Saturday July 12th. E. F. Payne will be the presiding Judge for the election, which will be held at the American Legion Hall east of Quitaque.

Another proposition that will be listed on the ballots will be passed authorize the Director of the District to issue bonds for the purpose of defraying expenses connected with the organization of the District in the sum not to exceed $2,000.00.

A lot of people from Quitaque have done a lot of work to get this far along toward the construction of the proposed Kent Creek Watershed. The recent rains that washed out two of the Kent Creek bridges South of the Highway, again brings out the fact that a watershed to control the rampaging waters that descend from the breaks is urgently needed. A good turnout is expected as well as a near unanimous favorable vote.

She will have her foot in a cast for at least five weeks, but hopes to be fully recovered in time for her son's wedding in August.

NORTHFIELD ROAD FINISHED

MATADOR — Paving on the last 11 miles of the FM road to Northfield has been completed and it is now possible to drive the entire distance on all weather surface.
