

Floydada Must Plan For Census of 1960

Game Warden Calls Meeting

A meeting here to discuss the game laws for 1959 for Floyd County was called this week by Weldon Fromm, of Matador, state game warden.

Date for the meeting is June 22 at 7:30 o'clock, the place the county court room.

Sportsmen and land owners are being invited to attend.

Fromm will be accompanied to the meeting by Dick DeArment, a Wheeler, Texas, biologist, who will discuss the status of Floyd County with local people as regards game laws and regulations.

Heretofore Floyd County has been under the general laws of the state as regards game. With general approval of local sportsmen and landowners Floyd County was put in the regulatory authority of the Game & Fish Commission of the state by the legislature at its general session last spring. Hale, Swisher and Bailey Counties were added to the list at the same time.

The county is now a part of a 32-county block which extends east to include Childress, west to the New Mexico boundary and north to the Oklahoma line.

As a result of the enactment by the legislature Fromm said it is desirable to go over the rules and regulations so as to have general understanding of the new status. Deer, turkey and quail are the principal wild life species with which the new regulations will deal, he said. Rules as regards migratory fowl, which come under federal jurisdiction are not to be affected by the change.

Campaign to restore wild life in numerous counties of the big block to which Floyd County now has been added, has been remarkably successful, Fromm pointed out. Prairie chickens, quail, deer and wild turkeys have thrived in many areas. Floyd County has quail, wild turkey and a few deer as well, in limited numbers and areas.

Fromm said in addition to discussions of the new status and the regulations which have been promulgated for the district by the State Commission, a wild life film will be shown at the Monday night meeting.

Garvin McCaskill, the genial pro of Floydada Country Club, is handling the details of the club tournament, which began last week-end in match play and will continue into July. Seventy-four players have been matched in five flights. The rains have left the grounds in deep green and the fairways and the greens are in excellent condition. McCaskill expects the golf season to be a highly successful one at the club. (Photo by Betty Henry).

Important To City's Growth

Throughout West Texas, towns are taking a good look at their population figures this year, and planning for the census which will take place, nation-wide, in 1960.

Floydada must do the same, says the civic improvements committee of The Chamber of Commerce. The committee points out that Floydada's census count must be at the highest possible point next year because of the ten-year influence which the U. S. census has upon the growth of a community.

In an informal meeting with the city council on June 9, representatives of the committee discussed with the council the possibility of asking as many property owners as practical who own property on the edge of the city to petition their property into the city limits.

T. L. Holland Jr., Chairman of the committee, with Edward H. Wester, E. A. Williams and O. M. Watson Jr., gave the council these reasons for the need for a higher population figure:

1. A larger population, especially if the community reaches the 5,000 mark, will put the local home builder and businessman into a better position to secure loans and business loans from The Federal Housing Administration and the National Insurance Companies. Local lumber dealers say that "Home Building Loans from Federal housing is non-existent in Floydada at the present". It is also the policy of insurance companies to make few loans in a town under 5,000 population.
2. For ten years after every census, industry and expanding business check the census before establishing new businesses in a town or build new plants. National advertising firms also make their decisions based on the census figures when awarding advertising contracts to advertising media. This can mean an important gain or loss to the businessman looking for new business and to the community looking for...

Re-Do Of Football Field Ordered By School Board

Football fans who attend the first game at Wester Field this fall won't recognize the place when they get a look see from the outside. Inside, except that the overall perimeter will be less, and not noticeably less, the scene will be the same. The field was laid out and built in 1935, as J. C. Wester recalls it. He was a member of the board at the time.

In the past week several yards of dirt have been moved from outside the fenced area to the playing field and spread over the grass lightly. The playing field will be plowed lightly. The week of the big anniversary spectacle left the grounds in sad shape, too sad to be used without re-leveling, hole filling and nail moving.

It is expected that the grounds and the playing field will be in attractive condition before the first game is played on the football field.

At its last meeting the board adopted a rule on hazing that intended to meet increasing boldness by upper classmen with the younger students the butt of cruel jokes, intimidation and a sort of blackmail. How extensive the practice has become was not indicated, but it at least has reached the point where the board is taking official notice.

Under the resolution adopted

Harvest of Values Next Week Will Push For More Business

The Retail Trades committee of the Chamber of Commerce has announced general agreement among retailers of the city to repeat last year's Harvest of Values, merchandising event deluxe, which proved popular with the public.

Dates for the event have been set for June 25 through Monday, June 29.

A big out-pouring of values is being planned and the story of it will be told to residents of an almost four county area through the mails, in addition to the residents of the Floydada territory proper.

Importance of Floydada as a retail center will be stressed. Merchants and dealers in practically every line will participate with new styles, new merchandise of 1959 accented, as well as the price incentive.

Floydada is developing as one of the leading implement centers of the plains area, its big dealerships in machinery, matching the efforts of the department stores, furniture houses, household appliance emporiums, and specialty shops in widening the area which the business community serves. The same is true of fertilizer and insecticide establishments, grain dealerships, cotton processors and machine shop service.

All of these developments are serving to make Floydada's importance grow in service value to an ever-widening sphere.

Floydada Upgrades Light Spots $15 Per Bale

on the Tex-High Plains crop sometimes white cotton and a Middling inch of 355 points for his light spotted brought 34.06 in the loan.

is going to be averages as much as 50 percent spotted or light spotted bale was cotton this year, whereas last year Midling 31-32 inch light spotted cotton is worth 29.48 cents a pound to the "A" farmer, an indication of how much actual money this might mean 500,000 bales - the amount of cotton produced last year - equals approximately $6,875,000.

Since all spinning records and experience show that cotton is practically equal to white cotton in value and the physical difference in classing is often quite small, this difference of $36.25 per bale has become ridiculous," Pfeiffer stressed.

Recognition of light spots in the government loan this year guarantees the farmer a loan on light spotted cotton 355 points a pound in the loan if it was spotted or spotted, whereas Middling 31-32 inch white cotton would be the same as a

BIBLE BAPTIST CHURCH

THIS WE KNOW. The Modern day Churches of our time seem to be competing with this world with all its sinful pleasures and activities. The Lord Himself said in Matthew 21:33 "It is written, My house shall be called a house of prayer but you have made it a den of thieves." In Matthew 28:18, 20 Jesus gave the Great Commission to the Church, which was made up of the eleven apostles. (Mark 3:13, 14 — 1 Cor. 12:28).

So the Great Commission to the Church was to first, preach and make disciples and second they were to baptize the disciples and third they were to teach them to observe all things the Lord had commanded and fourth they were to be sent out as missionaries. (Matt 28:19.—Acts 1:8).

But the Churches have even altered and changed the Great Commission to suit their own selfish desires, and saying by their own actions and ways that they do not believe that God's way is good enough. (Prov. 14:12).

The Lord never asked the Church to sponsor sports, such as baseball clubs, etc., because they are worldly pleasures. (1 John 2:15; James 4:4). The Church was to expound the Scriptures (Heb. 10:25; 2 Tim. 4:1, 4) nor to give book reviews. The House of the Lord is not a place to have socials (parties, Bingo, swimming, dancing, card games or the gossip parties. (Matt. 15: 7, 9; Rom. 1:25) but the Lord's House is a place to worship the Lord.

The Church of today is also competing with the cafe business by their breakfasts, luncheons, and suppers. If they want to draw a crowd they don't use the Word of God as bait, but they use a worldly and fleshly thing such as their big advertised suppers.

Any person with one eye and half a brain knows it is wrong, but what does God think about it? (read 1 Cor. 11:22 also verse 34).

Most churches of today have centered their churches around programs, social events, sports and just any thing to draw a crowd. The Lord walked in the midst of the early churches (Rev. 2:1) but as a whole, Christ has been crowded out of the churches by their many programs and activities.

Instead of Christ being in the midst of the churches today He is outside begging and knocking for admittance to get where He belongs, inside. (Rev. 3:20).

We of the Bible Baptist Church will not promise to fill your empty stomach with physical food, but we promise to feed your soul with Spiritual food. (Acts 20:28).

Instead of the Church being separated from the world as commanded (2 Cor. 6:11, 18, 7:1) they have incorporated the world into the Church. Think it over.

1500-pound Increase on Grain Sorghum

Frank Stanton, successful young Hale County farmer, says: "By chiseling in 85 to 100 pounds of Phillips 66 Ammonia as a side dressing, I increased my maize yield 1500 pounds per acre. This represents a $4 profit on every $1 invested in ammonia."

"This proved to me that using Phillips 66 Ammonia is profitable. I am using it on both my cotton and grain sorghum land this year. There are not many investments I know that will return 4-for-1."

Other successful Southwestern farmers have discovered that they make more profit per acre, using Phillips 66 Ammonia. They get more cotton that classes higher at the gin... yields of sorghum grain or ensilage are increased... profits on wheat and small grains are increased through higher grain yields and improved forage... more marketable vegetables are harvested.

Phillips 66 Ammonia can be easily applied as a side dressing either by you or your distributor. See us today for your supply of Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia... it gives you more nitrogen per dollar than any other form of fertilizer—a full 82%.

(By Nancy Morckel) Home Economist

Freezing food is the modern way to better eating. Having a well stocked freezer means new convenience in meal planning and preparation, greater variety in the family's meals and better year-round balanced diet. Foods, when properly packaged, frozen and stored, will be as delicious and attractive when served after a few months storage as they would have been had they been served fresh. Be sure when freezing foods to package correctly, so they will not dry out, lose color and flavor and become unpalatable.

Steps To Be Followed Carefully: 1. Gather vegetables in the cool of the morning. Gather only choice vegetables and only quantities that can be handled.

2. Wash and sort vegetables carefully.

3. Scald or steam according to the directions for each kind of vegetable.

4. Cool and drain quickly.

5. Pack in Airtight containers.

6. Label and start freezing at once.

In freezing vegetables, steaming, scalding or blanching is a must, never to be omitted. It retards enzymatic action, thus stopping deterioration. It saves vitamins, and improves the color.

Scald or blanch approximately one pound of any vegetable at a time. Steam will penetrate even through larger amounts if may not, thus making an inferior product.

STILL UNTOLD

Robert Wilkinson Pueblo, Colo., June 1923
Warren R. E. Warren

The brief story of the missing years Robert told to Glad Snodgrass and W. U. White, among others one night in February that he, his wife, son and daughter spent in Foster Courts. He telephoned both Snodgrass and White to come down to see him. He insisted he owed each of them a small amount of money and insisted that they accept the money he proffered. Neither recalled from the last years any money he may have owed them. Both had been in business the half a century Robert was missing to Floydada people, however, and he as well as many others may well have owed them forgotten accounts.

Robert's wife and children were cordial toward Robert's old friends here. It was a congenial family that the local people met. Robert's background in Floydada included a few first years as a member of the business of Sand Hill. Later his father became the second county and district clerk of Floyd County, succeeding R. T. Miller. They moved to town and made their home for several years at the corner of Missouri and Fifth Streets where the Commercial Hotel now stands.

Robert's mother died in April of 1902, the records disclose, and was buried in Floydada Cemetery. Shortly thereafter he went to Dallas as a teen-ager to make his way.

The Floydada friends left the story of Robert's varied experiences untold, hereabout, and if they have revealed since February the secret of his life history, previously known only to his family, it has been only in private conversations.

So far as is known this is the first revelation that Robert Wilkinson was among the living during the many years Floyd County people had wondered about his strange disappearance from the land of the living, that death, in some strange manner, had swallowed up the little boy who left Floydada 55 years or more ago to make his way in the big city. And why? This is the secret that went to the grave with groceryman R. E. Warren.

Country Club Elects Three New Directors

Three new directors were elected at the annual meeting of the stockholders of Floydada Country Club Thursday night, prior to the note burning ceremony. They finished paying off a $100,000 improvement debt this month.

Aaron Carthel, president of the organization at the time the note was made had the honor of setting flame to the paper, while the 35 other members present applauded.

Retiring the note gives the club now a chance to study construction of a new swimming pool.

A committee will be chosen to work on the project, Claude Weatherbee, secretary-treasurer of the club said. They will be authorized to study plans, the financing of the pool and other details.

The program for the evening included the outgoing president's talk by Alva Sparks and a report from the treasurer.

Members elected Dennis Dempsey, B. J. Darden and W. B. Winn as new directors of the club. They are replacing Joe Golden, Alva Sparks, and Jack Stansell. Holdover directors of the board are Claude Weatherbee, T. W. Battey, Sam Fowler, and Jake B. Watson.

The directors met Monday night for the election of new officers and to name committees of the club.

The directors chose Jake B. Watson as president of the board, Sam Fowler, vice president, Claude Weatherbee, secretary-treasurer.

They named W. B. Winn and Dennis Dempsey as the golf committee, T. W. Battey, chairman of the finance committee, Bill Darden, chairman of the house and grounds committee, and Sam Fowler, chairman of the Swimming Pool committee.

Homemaking Hints

(By Phyllis Rogendorf County Home Demonstration Agent)

The way you decorate and furnish your home may affect your family's health.

A group of patients in the tuberculosis ward of a mental hospital all began to gain weight at the same time. The surprised hospital staff investigated and found the weight gains began shortly after the patients were transferred from an old building into a tastefully furnished new ward with a cheerful color scheme. Other factors such as food, staff and medication had remained unchanged.

I don't think anyone would advise that you live in dark draughty surroundings if you want to lose weight, but this example helps prove that colors and atmosphere are important in furnishing your home. The warm colors—red, orange, yellow—give a lively atmosphere. The cool colors—blue, green, purple—make the atmosphere of the room more restful. You may want to consider this when planning color schemes for rooms with different activities.

Melda Jo Ramsey with a team-mate of the Harmony Community 4-H Club participated in the safety demonstration and Yvonne Karr and Sue Wilson of the South Plains Community 4-H Club participated in the Vegetable Preparation and use demonstration.

Mrs. Roy Bledsoe, Organization leader of South Plains also went with us and added life to our party. We needed it in those wee hours of the morning when we had to crawl out.

Sue and Yvonne demonstrated a tasty dish called "Chicken in a Garden." Many that saw their demonstration or sampled the results wanted the recipe. I thought you might like it, too, and as the girls brought out in their demonstration, it is easy to prepare, economical, and very tasty. The recipe is as follows:

On a 20 inch piece of heavy duty aluminum foil (or 40 inch doubled of regular weight) place to one side:

2 pieces of a cut up fryer;
1 medium sized potato;
1 carrot;
1 onion;
2 Tablespoons precooked rice;
2 slices green pepper;
Three-Fourths Tablespoons Worcestershire sauce;
1 teaspoon salt;
dash of paprika;
dash of pepper;
dots of butter.

Fold the aluminum foil over and seal the three sides with folds. Place it in a shallow pan. Bake in 350 degrees F oven for one and one-fourth hours turning about every 25 minutes. This may also be cooked outdoors over hot coals.

It's delicious Try it.

'Finest Gin' Aim of Coop For Floydada

As sure as wasps and bumblebees are the pop stands that spring up in neighborhood yards during June. Last week we found a hand-written 'ad' in the front screen of an opening enterprise on the next street over. Pencilled on ruled notebook paper, it proclaimed: "COMING SOON Monday, 1:00 p. m., A & B Kool-Aid Stand. Buy Kool-Aid. It's the only 25th person gets a free glass of Kool-Aid. Flavors: Strawberry, Raspberry, Cherry, Grape. Fit for a King." It was illustrated with a small comical face topped by a crown, colored with red crayon, and a kool, kool red crayola drink with ice cubes pencil-drawn it.

A few days later a more finished notice from the block below appeared in the door. Done on pale green mimeograph paper, a fourth-sheet in size, it featured a line drawing of snow cones. "Opens Thursday, 3 to 6 p. m., 5 cents & 10 cents. Orange, Strawberry, Lime, Grape."

We passed this house the next afternoon and the entire front was outlined with bright-colored pennants. The snow-cone stand was set up in the carport. It's a lawyer's home, which reminds us that parents must have a good sense of humor to last out one of these commercial flurries during vacation time.

The first stand may not have survived till the first free glass was won. But some kids had a wonderful time preparing those ads. These little Americans, whether their business instincts on money-making ventures during the summer, probably won't make a cent. Indeed, their parents stand to lose, what with wear and tear on the deep freeze, purchase of cones and drink mix. But the youngsters have gained experience they'll never forget. At least it's a wholesome change from gunplay and tormenting the cat.

Nedra Fern Jarrett And Eddie Childs Take Wedding Vows

An arch decorated with pink and white roses and greenery prevailed for the wedding of Miss Nedra Fern Jarrett to Eddie Childs, Friday evening at 6:30 in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jarrett. Mrs. J. C. Sanders and Edward Childs of Floydada are parents of the bridegroom. Elder Dennis Taylor of Crosbyton performed the double-ring ceremony. Organ selections were played by Sharon Edmiston, who also accompanied Miss Mary Jo Britton as she sang, "I Love You Truly," and "The Lord's Prayer". The bride, dressed in original white, was given in marriage by her father. She wore a street length white lace dress, accented by a shirt waist and three-quarter length sleeves. She wore white lace gloves and hat, and carried a nosegay of feathered carnations. Her blue garter was borrowed from her sister-in-law, Mrs. Jack Jarrett. Miss Shirley Ginn attended as bridesmaid. She was attired in yellow nylon, a white dress-length to take up a collection to fill the hole. Meanwhile anything that can be poured in or on the stagnant burrs to kill the odor is being sought. The "caliche pit" is just what the name implies. The city in depression days found the big deposit of caliche and worked up on the streets to give employment to several scores of men for a year or more. Several thousand yards of caliche were removed from the location. Later came the floods of 1941, 1954, and now 1959, to make the big hole of water with slick sides an attractive nuisance to little boys. One little boy drowned and several have had close escapes. And although hundreds of yards of debris have been dumped into the hole in the expectation of filling it up eventually it still is the deep, treacherous temptation waiting a perfidious finger at little boys. And on top of that now, the stench.

Cotton Burrs Make 'Caliche Pit' Stench

Old Helpful Henry, by whatever name he went, when he dumped cotton burrs in to the city's "caliche pit" right up in the southwest part of the city last fall, certainly stirred up a stink for residents of the community this spring. It took the big rains to pour water 10 to 20 feet deep into the big hole in the ground three weeks ago and a period of about two weeks for the burrs to ferment, to get results. People in that part of town are hot as a pistol about it. They can't even turn on their air conditioners when the breeze is blowing off the pit. They can hardly stay around. It smells to high heaven. All kinds of rumors were afloat the first of the week. One of the residents was reported ready to take up a collection to fill the hole. Meanwhile anything that can be poured in or on the stagnant burrs to kill the odor is being sought. The "caliche pit" is just what the name implies. The city in depression days found the big deposit of caliche and worked up on the streets to give employment to several scores of men for a year or more. Several thousand yards of caliche were removed from the location. Later came the floods of 1941, 1954, and now 1959, to make the big hole of water with slick sides an attractive nuisance to little boys. One little boy drowned and several have had close escapes. Wheat Quotas Vote July 23

COLLEGE STATION — Market quotations for the 1960 wheat crop were proclaimed on June 18 by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson. This seventh successive proclamation of wheat marketing quotas is required by a wheat supply that is 99.6 percent above the normal supply level. The Texas share of the 1960 allotment will be 4,092,251 acres, which is nearly 7,000 acres less than the 1959 allotment of 4,099,094 acres. Benson proclaimed a national wheat acreage allotment of 55 million acres, the minimum permitted by law, and announced State shares of the national allotment. He also set July 23, 1959 as the date for a referendum to determine producer approval or disapproval of quotas and announced a 39-state commercial wheat-producing area for 1959. If producers approve marketing quotas, under the proclamation announced June 1, the national average support price available to eligible growers in the commercial area will not be less than the minimum support to be announced before the referendum. On the basis of the present supply of wheat and present legislation, the legal minimum wheat support price for the 1960 crop would be at 75 percent of parity. Individual farm marketing quotas will be the normal production or the actual production from the farm acreage allotment, whichever is larger. The 1960 national wheat acreage allotment of 55 million acres is the minimum fixed by law and is the same as for the 1958 crop. If the allotments had been determined solely on the basis of the law's supply formula, the 1960 allotment would have been zero acres. At least two-thirds of the producers voting in the referendum on July 23 must approve quotas for the 1960 crop if they are to be in effect. Growers who will have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1960 in any one of the 39 commercial wheat States come under the regulation of quotas and will be eligible to vote in the referendum. Streets in Bagdad are so narrow that two horses can scarcely ride abreast.

Bible Baptist Minister And Family Home

Rev. Gilbert Rhine and family returned last Friday from a two weeks vacation during which they visited their relatives and friends in Dallas, Tarrant and Wise Counties. Bro. Rhine said he had the privilege of preaching at three different churches while he was gone, including the church he helped organize and pastored before coming to Floydada in September of last year. Bro. Rhine said that he went fishing several times during which he caught fifty-two crappie one Friday night in just four hours in the Grapevine Lake. He also fished several times in the Bridgeport Lake and caught some nice size channel cat. He said one day at the Bridgeport Lake that his fishing cost him about sixty or seventy dollars. The reason it cost so much was that he lost a tool box full of tools. While fishing in the Bridgeport Lake he met a man, A. L. Winegar, that also lives near Floydada. In Bro. Rhine's absence the Bible Baptist Church had three different speakers. The first Wednesday night the young preacher also spent Thursday of that church, David Taylor brought the message, On Sunday the 7th, Rev. Jimmie Johnston of the Victory Baptist Church of Wichita Falls brought both messages, and on Wednesday night June 10th, Cecil Taylor, their song leader and teacher of the Young Married Couples class brought a lesson on the subject of Faith. This Monday June 22, Bro. Rhine and family and about fifteen others of the Bible Baptist Church are going to the Youth encampment which is located at the Woodlake camp between Sherman and Denison, Texas. ## 1960 Census

Industrial development. At the meeting the council members expressed the opinion that all new property and new citizens would be welcomed by the city and that the city provided numerous services which the new residents would be entitled to.

The council pointed out, however, that no promises could be made newly annexed areas that city sewer could be provided immediately. The best way for property owners to get city sewer service would be to become a part of the city and put themselves into a favorable position for future sewer expansion, it was stated.

The civic improvements committee also stressed the fact that property owners would probably have no extra expenses by coming into the city limits as local insurance firms had informed the committee that the decrease in fire insurance rates on homes within the city often offset the city taxes which the property owner might pay.

"For the future of our town, Floydada needs to count every person in its population in 1960. We hope that property owners on the edge of Floydada will favorably consider coming into the city when contacted in the near future," committee representative said.

Floyd County Families More, Spend More on Average

(Special to the Hesperian)
NEW YORK, June 10 - Prosperity is again on the march in Floydada County, with families earning more and spending more than those in most sections of the United States. The resiliency of the local economy, after a year of strong recession, is to be seen in the final figures for 1958, now in.

The upward climb in the last quarter of the year brought retail sales volume for 1958 up to $15,349,000, actually passing the previous year's $15,323,000. The data is revealed in Sales Management's new, copy-righted Survey of Buying Power, covering every part of the nation.
It shows that the volume of business done by the local stores was more than should have been expected for a community of its size.

On the basis of population, retail activity should have been only 0056 percent of the national average. Instead, it amounted to 0077 percent.
The credit for the recovery is given to consumer confidence and optimism, bolstered by continued good earnings.
The survey shows that Floyd County families had a net income in the year, after deduction of personal taxes of $17,007,000 compared with $16,027,000 in 1957. Per household, it was equivalent to $6,074, an average obtained by dividing total income by number of households.

This was more than was earned on the average in the United States, $6,005 per household. It was $5,267 in the West South-Central States.
Business was much better in some parts of the country than in others. This is brought out in the survey through an "index of sales activity," which takes into account such factors as population and per capita retail sales.
For Floyd County, the index rating is 138, or 38 percent above the national average.

All signs point to the fact that the way back from recession is in sight. # Families of Agriculture Favors Plan to Halt Brucellosis

More on Agriculture Favors Plan to Halt Brucellosis

...the means for routine re-testing as required for brucellosis-free, recertification. When blood tests reveal reactors among the cattle, it will then be possible to trace and eliminate the infection in herds of origin.

Trials for the past three years in eight states showed that slaughterhouse testing of dry and cull cows effectively discloses the brucellosis status of a range area and that the coding system is the most practical of several satisfactory ones tried.

This is how the recertification plan works.

When blood testing for three years representing at least 15 percent of the breeding cows in particular range areas shows that not more than one percent of the animals and 5 percent of the herds have brucellosis, that area can be approved for recertification for three years. Other requirements to be met include vaccination of heifer calves and semiannual milk-ring testing of all dairy herds.

When slaughterhouse blood tests reveal reactors, Federal state officials will assist owners by helping to free their herds of brucellosis. The method thus provides constant vigilance on the brucellosis status of a range area.

Individual states will work out details of their own procedures but, in general, tagging is done by ranches or other designated persons as cattle move from ranch to market. The tag is a durable but tough plastic tag which will be glued over an animal's ribs and must stay put long enough for the animal to reach the most distant market.

Blood collection procedures will be worked out cooperatively by local, state and federal officials with individual plant management to meet each slaughterhouse and should be quite simple.

Cooperation of range cattlemen will be a major factor in the success of this plan, but from an industry which has so long been anxious to stamp out costly disease this cooperation is virtually assured.

EDITORIAL VIEWS AND COMMENT

Study the Paving Map. In this issue of The Hesperian is the "paving map," which appears to the council and the engineers as the streets which should be included in the paving program. If your property is not on the list of streets to be included do not give up hope but rather get out among your neighbors and get a petition to the council to include your street. Undoubtedly there'll be some property owners who will be "agin" the paving, the same as they're usually "agin" anything else that represents change. Possibly you can get a "switch." There is hardly any reasonable doubt that the improvement will make your property more valuable. A principal reason why good, well-located improved property in Floydada but not on an improved street, is not moving as you think it should, is the fact that people do not want to buy a hassle over whether the street will be paved and proper drainage provided by curbs and gutter. They want the question already settled when they lay their money down.

Thursday One Year from today the second Democratic primary in Texas will have been over and done with a week and four days. We have an idea there will be somewhat of an uproar about it. That's the provision of the revised election law, however, and there's nothing to do about it but to go vote early. What people in an agricultural country like ours will do to fritter away the hot days of July and August we don't know unless they take off for the mountains or the seashore. Traditionally, hot summer days are hot political days. We were for a change from July and August to June and July for what appear to us to be administrative reasons. But early May and early June, my goodness!

New Election Dates: In terms of the Texas Election Law next year the deadline for filing for Democratic nomination for office will be Monday, February 1, moved up from May 15. The first primary will be Saturday, May 7. On the same day the precinct conventions will be held. Then the second primary comes on Saturday, June 4. Meanwhile the county convention will have been held on Saturday, May 14. The state (presidential) convention will hit on Tuesday, May 14. The state (governor's) convention will not come up until Tuesday, September 20. The same delegates who are elected in May for th presidential convention will be the delegates to the governor's September convention.

Plot to curb the power of the state convention to elect the State Executive Committee, a well-laid plan of the power-mad manipulators of Big Labor group, has been foiled temporarily under the new law. It can be assumed that pressure will continue. The effort, backed by many liberals who have the wool pulled over their eyes, is to have senatorial district caucuses elect their senatorial district representatives on the state committee. This won't do. The committee is to have the responsibility for policy. It should also have the authority. It's as simple as that. Any other course would lead to splits and rump caucuses. This confusion would be right down the plotters' alley.

Party Affiliation Required. Next year when the man at the door, as has all of a sudden become the custom, meets you and checks to see if you are eligible to participate in the convention (Precinct) it will not be sufficient that you have a poll tax receipt. The fact that you have a receipt is not sufficient to entitle you to take part in your precinct convention. The new law makes voting in the primary a requirement to participate in the convention. Your vote in the primary automatically affiliates you with the party of your choice. The primary election judge will stamp the voter's poll tax receipt with the words "Democrat" or "Republican" at the time he votes in the primary. The new law specifically prevents those who don't vote in the primary from taking part either in the convention affairs or being elected to party office.

Although little publicized the new law is designed to curb the abuses in absentee voting. These abuses have been uncovered mainly in votes that come in by mail. We have seen no signs of such in Floyd County, but in the bigger counties the "solicitation" of absentee ballots has grown to scandalous proportions. Whether a way will be found to get around the new law is to be seen, but theoretically only sick or disabled voters will now be able to receive absentee ballots by mail within the county of their residence. Voters absent from the county can still vote by mail provided they make application from outside the county of their residence.

(Nellie Witt Spikes)
We cannot know the grief That men may borrow; We cannot see the souls That love can shine upon the way. But love can shine upon the way Today, tomorrow. Let us be kind. Upon the wheel of pain so many weary lives are broken. We live in vain who give no tender token. Let us be kind.

Good morning, seems I am a bit early this morn'g but let me come inside and drink a cup of coffee with you. I am bringing you a copy from my diary written in 1936.

"Eleven o'clock," exclaims the city wife as she reaches for the telephone. "I must hurry for my husband will be here at twelve sharp."

"Can you bring some groceries right up?" she asks her grocer. Then please send me one can of English peas, a loaf of bread, two pounds new potatoes, one pound butter, one head lettuce, bunch of radishes, one can lard, one box strawberries, one box shortcakes, one pint whipping cream, and one dressed chicken. Thanks.

The woman gets her order, dinner is started. The telephone rings, the baby runs into the street, has to be brought back, is given some toys but when Mr. Husband gets in there is a meal fit for the gods on the table. Words of appreciation bring a glow to the face of Mrs. City-Wife.

"Nine o'clock," says Mrs. Country-Wife. "I must begin my preparation for dinner." She hurries to the chicken yard, catches fat fryer, off comes his head. The eyes of the dead chicken look reproachfully at the woman as the head lies separated from the body.

"It is too bad," sighs the woman as she thinks of the many times she has fed and cared for the chickens, they are more like pets. The chicken is dressed, put in a pan of cool salted water.

Mrs. C. then goes to the garden, hoes a row of beans, then gathers her vegetables for dinner. New potatoes are dug, how easy the tender jacket comes off with scraping. Tender lettuce, crisp radishes are gathered and washed. A basket of English peas. What a nice sound is made as the pea pods rub together in the basket. The fat little peas jump from the hull as skilled fingers break their prisons open.

The woman thinks of the hard work, most of it in the heat of the day after the morning work is done and before the chores of the evening begin.

The men have been too busy in the field to help with the garden. But what a pleasure to gather the red strawberries.

The cows are up from the pasture for water, are turned in and the woman waits as they fill up on water, how long a time it takes them. On old hen and her chickens are scratching up a flower bed. The woman flaps her apron and shoos at them. An old turkey hen with her twenty babies have to be driven off where they can catch bugs.

Ten thirty, eleven. Time to get dinner on. The oil tank is filled and the stove lighted. Easier than bringing coal and kindling. The lard bucket is empty—a trip to the cellar for more. The woman remembers the cold day the lard was rendered. A bucket of fresh water has to be carried from the well. "Running water in the house," laughs the woman "but I do the running after it."

Butter has to be churned. Easier though than the old churn and dash method. Thick cream from the separator is soon golden butter when beaten with an egg beater. The shortcake dough is made and the strawberries are a mound of snow with dots of rich red berries. A pan of biscuits, brown and tender, another of cornbread, mainly for supper with plenty of cold milk. The chicken fries a golden brown. Peas and potatoes lie in a blanket of white sauce.

The men are washing up for dinner. Long hours they have worked hard, dinner is eaten with such keen relish the woman needs no other praise.

Senate, which heard a long string of witnesses on the dangers of shutting prosperity-making industries out of Texas, changed the ratio in its version, natural gas and corporations pay about 18 per cent of the tab; selective sales taxes, 82 per cent.

Senate voted a 15-15 tie on its bill, with Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey breaking the tie in favor of the bill.

The story of WILLIAM ALLEN WHITE and The Church Bell

"I don't need to advertise," an established merchant in Kansas once told William Allen White, renowned publisher of The Emporia Gazette. "Everybody knows me and knows what I sell."

"In that event," replied the thoughtful publisher, "we can dispense with the oldest advertising medium for the oldest institution in the world. See that church down the street," continued Mr. White, pointing to one of Emporia's oldest and most beautiful structures, "That church has been established here for many years. Everyone knows what it is and what it does. In the tower of the church is a bell and every Sunday it rings out to remind folks to come to church."

"Shoppers go where they are invited and stay where they are well treated," concluded the publisher.

"Regardless of how well established a firm may be, newspaper advertising is a repeated invitation and a reminder to come and do business with that store."

Boys State Great Experience

Two Floydada Boys Relate Experiences

Five hundred and seventy-three boys were welcomed on Sunday, June 7, to Boys State on the University of Texas campus. This mythical 51st state with its own constitution, statutes, and ordinances constructed by its citizens at Austin existed for one week.

As citizens and politicians, these boys organized, operated, and studied a functional government comparable in all respects to the government of Texas. Facing many of the same duties, problems and privileges which our state leaders face, they contended with and solved them by using their own intelligence and ingenuity. The knowledge gained during the week prepared the boys for better citizenship in the future.

The true purpose of Boys State was stated briefly by Dr. Firman Haynie, Director, when he said that "meeting people, campaigning, and learning to do by doing are the three main factors of this week's work."

Two of the privileged 573 boys to attend the week's experiences were Charles Holland and George Farris from Floydada. Immediately upon arriving in Austin they discovered one of the outstanding characteristics of the Boys' Staters: friendliness.

"Complete strangers meet in the hall or in the cafeteria, say 'hello' and introduce themselves and start a conversation in a couple of minutes a casual observer would think that they were life-long friends — as they may be."

George and Charles saw Ron Downing and renewed acquaintance quickly. Ronnie was a Junior Counselor at Boys State again this year. Each day was filled with running over with planned activity. First call came at 6:15 every morning, and from then until late at night, the boys were busy every minute, with meetings, caucuses, assemblies, recreation, planning

Some of the speakers the boys heard were: Dean H. Y. McCown, Zollie Steakley, Judges Robert Calvert, Meade Griffin, W. A. Morrison, Chief Justice J. E. Hickman, Hon. Walter Long, Will Wilson, and Rep. Waggoner Carr.

June 12 was the big day for Boys' State officers, for this day they went to the State Capitol to "take over" the offices of the regular officials.

Both Charles and George were in the "thick" of things from the time they arrived on campus. Boys' State was divided into two political parties, the Pioneers and the Longhorns. George was elected Chairman of the Pioneer Party, and the battle was on. After election day, the Governor, "Butch" Wade, appointed George State Banking Commissioner.

George was one of 14 nominees from the Boys' Staters to attend Boys' Nation in Washington, D. C. The two boys elected to go were "Butch" Wade and Don Seamster.

Charles Holland Reports (By Charles Holland)

Boys' State started at 3:30 for me at our first city meeting. My city was one of 14 and was called Smith City. We had 43 members. I was elected temporary major at the city meeting and I presided at all city meetings until Wednesday when we elected permanent city officials.

Every day except Saturday and Sunday we had two assemblies, usually with very prominent speakers.

We got up every morning about 6:00 and had flag raising and calisthenics until 6:55, then we cleaned up and got ready for breakfast which we ate at 7:15.

We had inspection at 8:00 and our morning assembly at 8:15. We had different activities every more boys each year to represent Floydada.

Each citizen has to be sponsored by an American Legion Post. The post can appoint an auxiliary unit to send or contribute to the sending of a boy.

We had our party meeting for selecting our candidates for state officials on Sunday and Monday. On Tuesday we voted for state officials. Wednesday we elected county and district officials. On Thursday we took over the offices we had been elected to and on Friday we went to the Capitol and took them over there.

I was elected to be a Senator on Tuesday and it was a very interesting office that taught me a lot about the government of Texas. All the boys at Boys' State were the friendliest that I have ever associated with.

A return trip from South Dakota found the J. B. Bishops leaving cool comfortable weather there only to find Floydada residents sweltering in hot humid temperatures. The Bishops were accompanied on their visit to Wall, by Eddie Parks, of South Plains, nephew of O. G. Shearer. Bishop is in business with Shearer in South Dakota. The cattle looked good and wheat and grass beautiful, the Bishops reported.

The L. W. Queens are in Floydada this week on a short vacation from their work in Andrews. They arrived Sunday and will depart for home over the week-end after visiting with relatives and friends in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Warren and children spent the week-end in Amarillo, and were accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Bessie Banks. The family were guests of their son and brother, Carl Lee Banks and family.
