Miss Helen Poe, left, and Mrs. Thos. B. Broad, will fill speaking date in Floydada October 24.

Helen Poe's Talks Scheduled Oct. 24

Last year Helen Poe profound colleges, the Dallas Convention in the August 1959 issue of "American Mercury". Mrs. Broad is vice-president of the Dallas Symphony League and a member of the Dealey Award committee. Her professional career is concentrating professional and nationally but at present time her audience, as the news spreads of some of the Middle East concern is over the Russian her masterful discussions. — Ed. Triest. Their first article appeared threat and the world situation.

Miss Helen Poe, noted popular lecturer, inspirational speaker, and book reviewer, will speak in Floydada Saturday, Oct. 24, at 3 p. m. in the High School auditorium. The speaker will appear with Mrs. Thomas B. Broad, wife of a well known Dallas architect, who has traveled with Miss Poe in Central America, the Caribbean, Canada, Europe and behind the Iron Curtain in Russia.

The engagement to be filled by Miss Poe will be the woman's second appearance in Floydada. The general public, including all organized clubs, of the county, civic organization, schools, church and other study clubs are extended a special invitation.

"The Satellite Countries" will be the subject of Miss Poe's and Mrs. Broad's talks. It will be illustrated by slides taken in the satellite countries during June and July of 1959. These are among the first recent pictures of Hungary, Romania, Poland and Yugoslavia. Eleven summers in Europe gave Miss Poe the opportunity few people have to see and evaluate first hand what is happening in our world today.

Miss Poe is a graduate of Southern Methodist University and has continued her education through graduate work at Columbia University and The Julliard School of Music in New York City.

Her travel talks are equally exciting to those who may match her experiences and to those who must remain at home. Her penetrating observation of people and places is informing and entertaining.

In the field of the theatre she is a constant student and player. Her literary studies and reviews reveal careful research and insight, and her criticisms are valid.

Miss Poe, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Floyd Poe of Dallas, is much in demand by adult educational groups, national and regional conventions and other social organizations, therefore it is through a fortunate turn of circumstances that she is returning to Floydada, her local sponsors feel.

Mrs. Broad will be making her first appearance in Floydada. Also a noted speaker, she has filled engagements for civic groups.

The convention started Monday and will come to a climax today. Members are expected home by tomorrow noon.

Delegates there representing Floydada are James Ray Cagle and Gary Matsler. Cagle is the holder of a State Farmer's degree.

Herrington Trial Postponed Again

The postponement of the theft trial of former Crosby County Sheriff J. T. (Slim) Herrington was made Tuesday on the order of Dist. Judge Truett Smith at Lamesa, after a request from Herrington's attorneys, Carroll Cobb and Karl Clayton.

The judge ordered the postponement after both Cobb and Dist. Attorney George Gilkerson took the stand to enter their statements into the record concerning impounded public records in the case.

This is the second postponement of the trial since it was scheduled for September. Judge Smith granted a delay until Nov. 9. The case was moved to Lamesa on the change of venue last month.

Herrington resigned as sheriff in Crosby County early this year after an order for an audit of county funds.

WILL POSTON HERE

Will Poston, the Mineral Wells merchandiser, has been here this week, guest of a long-time friend, J. M. Massie.

Enlarging Two Buildings On South Side

The two buildings at the southeast corner of the square on south side, housing Collier Home Supply the Arthur B. Duncan Abstract Co., and Bill's Trim Shop will be re-built and the ground floor increased by almost a third in the ensuing three months, Mrs. Maud E. Hollums, owner of the buildings said this week.

Foundation work has already been undertaken to increase the floor space, adding 45 feet to the length of each of the buildings. When these additions are completed the buildings now standing will get a complete going over, inside and out.

Mrs. Hollums said that not only will the buildings have a re-do on the interior, but that the exterior brick in the front and on the side adjacent to Wall Street will be peeled off and new brick take their places.

Need for more room for the electric supply house, and more room for the trim shop has been left for sometime, as well as need for more room in the abstract office. When the buildings are completely re-done, within a matter of three months, the trim shop will occupy the rear 45 feet with front facing east and the abstract office will have been enlarged to include the area of the trim shop's present quarters, Mrs. Hollums said.

The additional room in the abstract office will make room for enlargement of filing area for the abstract records, which call for more room annually, and as well will make possible the orderly arrangement of the papers of the late Judge Arthur B. Duncan.

"I have not had room to take care of my father's accumulation of historical documents and papers properly and have had them stacked around all these years," Mrs. Hollums said.

The work contracted to be done is estimated to cost in the neighborhood of $20,000.

Getting Basic At Ft. Ord, Calif.

Cecil J. Payne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil P. Payne of Fairview, who, until recently entering the military service, was assistant manager of the Consumers Fuel Association, is stationed at Ft. Ord, Calif.

Story from the public information center there, says that Cecil is undergoing the first cycle of basic infantry training, after entering the army on Sept. 10. At present he is listed as a member of Co. "C", 11th Battle Group, 3rd Brigade, but will be definitely assigned at a later date.

A graduate of Floydada High School in 1954, Cecil was engaged in farming with his father before taking up work with Consumers.

STARKEY AND MCCOY TO ORGANIZE 4-H

All prospective 4-H members and parents of the community are welcome to attend.

COTTON HARVEST DUE FAST TEMPO IN AREA

Damp Weather Interferes As Gins Eat Up Offerings

It appeared yesterday, sky and weatherwise, that the cotton harvest, interrupted in its early stages by wetness and damp, should get into high gear in Floyd County this week.

Shower clouds and overcast vanished late Tuesday afternoon, and the anticipated frost failed to develop in a clear, cold but moon-lit night, as temperatures dropped to a low 38 degrees.

Somewhat of a shortage of harvest workers has been aggravated by the dampness of early mornings on clear days of the past week. Pullers got into the fields in limited numbers Thursday, and tapered off work as the week-end came on. Some nationals were in the fields Sunday but a large part of the transient harvesters did not go to the fields Saturday or Sunday.

Ginners who had hoped to have 24 hour shifts going, were doing more ginning at night than in the day time early this week. Tuesday a shower fell over most of the county to run the workers out of the fields.

Wednesday the harvest was resumed only after a big dew fall of the night before had dried out up in the morning.

Crowding The Maize Crops

Maize crops have been crowded and much of the crop that has come to town has been heavy with moisture. But all elevators report some receipts. Some late crops are going to have to wait for a frost.

Maize stalks are standing up good where the crop was heavily watered. Fields which had scant water are having some falling stalks. Dealers are doing a good business in "fingers" and other mechanical appliances to pick up heads that are below the level of the cycles.

Some fantastic production reports are coming through where a combination of good operation, fertilization and hybrid maize seed have been used.

Wheat Planting Good

A considerable acreage of volunteer wheat that is being left and wheat that was "dry sowed" is coming through this week after the big rains.

Where the drills are entering the fields for the first time this week operations are going good, putting the seed into the ground in an ideal way. Wheat growers last week, for the most part, found the ground too wet to work good.

WHD Council Officers To Be Elected

The election of officers and presentation of the annual report will feature the Saturday afternoon meeting of the Women's Home Demonstration County Council, Mrs. E. G. Norrell, chairman, said this week.

Reporting the meeting to be held at 2:30 o'clock in the council room, she said it is highly important that the meeting be well attended.

MR. AND MRS. J. T. MCLAIN

J. T. McLain Recalls Forgotten Events In History Of County

(By Betty Henry)

J. T. McLain is one of the oldtimers left who spent almost all of his life on the Plains of Texas. He and his family, snow storm came up and blew came to Floyd County three years before the county was organized, and he really settled in the center of the dirt floor, to be called pioneers in their own right. Another outstanding thing about Mr. McLain is the fact that they owned a nice, warm, comfortable dugout.

They had obtained their land when it had been patented to J. McLain by his uncle in 1856. Promoters of the town were T. J. Braidfoot, from Seymour and Tom's great uncle, J. R. McLain, who had promoted the town of Seymour also. Mr. Braidfoot had purchased several sections of land located in what was thought to be the geographical center of the county. He then discovered that he did not have sufficient funds to carry through with the complete founding of a town.

There by himself. So he sold all except six to a doctor and Mr. McLain, who saw that the town was properly advertised as a good place to live in West Texas.

People began moving in, and they also moved into Lockney and Floyd City. J. F. Lockney and a Mr. Gunn from the north were publicizing the other two towns. All were growing rapidly, so on May 29, 1890, 98 votes were cast in the election of the county seat. C-C Campaign Launched For More Members

The fall membership campaign of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce opened this week when 100 Floydada business firms, farmers and ranchers received invitations to become members of the local organization.

In a letter from Chamber of Commerce President, E. A. Williams, residents were urged to join their neighbors in planning community and county building projects.

Early in April the Chamber of Commerce signed thirty additional members to bring the total membership to 225.

Yearly projects of the Chamber of Commerce include cosponsoring the Floyd County 4-H and FFA Junior Fat Stock Show, the Floyd County Soil Conservation Farm Tour, Christmas activities and decorations, community modernization programs, and other community improvement projects.

One change in Floyd County sheriff's department and one in the City of Floydada police department have been made the past two weeks, according to information received from Sheriff Walter Hollums, and Chief of Police Perry Smith, this week.

The change over in the county office is the appointment of W. F. (Cap) Carthel, of Lockney, to the position of deputy sheriff. Carthel started his duties on the first of this month.

Here in Floydada, the resignation of John Marsh, night patrolman, has been handled in His employment terminates tonight. Smith said at this time no new man for the night job had been secured.

MACK SHURBET MEMBER OF HIGH JUDGING TEAM

Mack Shurbet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Shurbet of Petersburg, was a member of the Tech Live Stock Judging Team which made a good showing in judging at Mid-South Fair, Memphis, Tenn.

The Texas boys placed second in the contest.

Clement B. McDonald Seriously Hurt - Crash Near Pampa

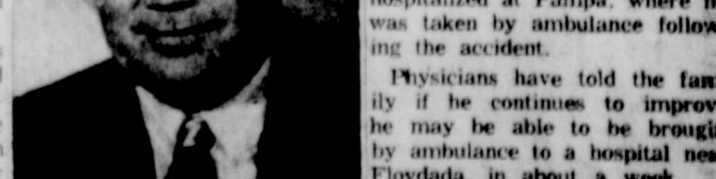

Clement B. McDonald, Floydada implement dealer, was injured seriously about noon Thursday when the 1953 Pontiac he was driving went out of control and overturned several times about eight miles northeast of Pampa.

The Floydada man was returning home from South Dakota where he and his mother and two sisters were in the house when he had been on farming business. He was driving when the car, which belonged to his father, was traveling on a new gravel road. It started into a skid, hit a culvert, turned over several times, throwing McDonald out some 60 feet. Had he remained in the car, death would have been certain he said. The car was a total loss.

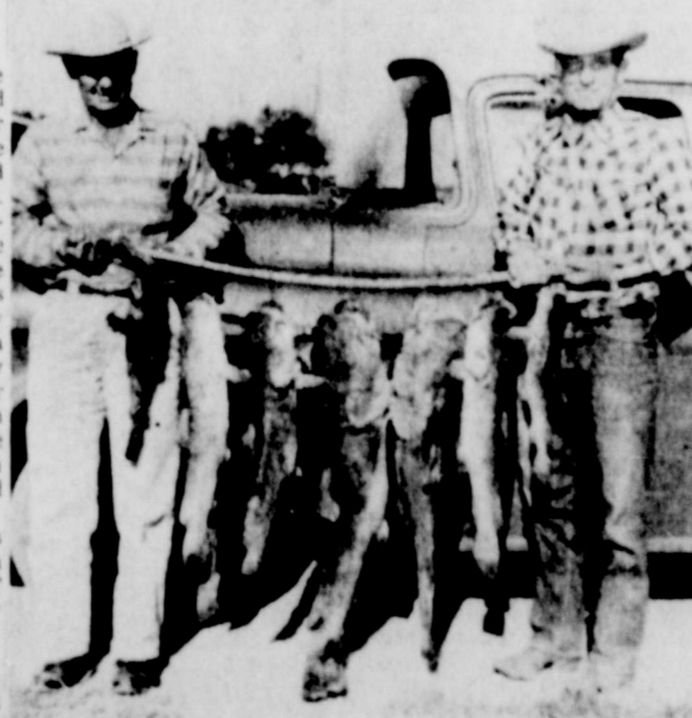

McDonald is suffering from a broken back and pelvis and numerous cuts and bruises. He is hospitalized at Pampa, where he was taken by ambulance following the accident.

Physicians have told the family if he continues to improve he may be able to be brought by ambulance to a hospital near Floydada, in about a week.

Mrs. McDonald, wife of the injured man, left immediately for Pampa, upon receiving the news. She is with him at this time.

CLEMENT B. McDONALD

O. H. Brown, left and Doyle Mount hold the catch of fish they caught at Lake Kickapoo, 30 miles south of Electra, last Wednesday. They had gone fishing on Monday and returned home Thursday with their prize catches. The largest fish in this group weighed 36 pounds and was not measured. Next in size was 26 pounds, and next two were 17 pounders. The sixth one weighed in at 13 pounds. (Staff Photo).

Tulia Breaks Goose Egg But Floydada Wins the Game 33 - 6

The Floydada Whirlwinds literally hit the line 22 times for a net tally ran into a hornets nest at gain of 230 yards and 24 points. Tulia Friday night but regained the 'Winds' passing game brought their composite in time to go 101 yards on 8 completions of 20 on and win 33 - 6. The 'Winds' attempts, but they suffered three were never behind in the game.

The Hornets were as fired up as if it were a regional playoff and shot for the goal line on every play. They managed to hit pay dirt once as the clock was running out at the half and scored on a short pass from Vandergriff to Dick in the end zone. The conversion failed and the score at the half was 13 - 6 for Floydada.

Actually the team and the fans from Floydada settled down after the Tulia score as the building tension of the uncrossed goal line was over and the boys could again take the field with the same attitude as their opponent. This time they did in the second half and Tulia collected only two first downs in the last two quarters.

The Whirlwinds were as uneasy as a bunch of junior high boys in the first two periods and couldn't seem to find themselves. After the intermission, however, it was just another ball game with a lot of incomplete passes.

The Floydada defense looked good against the Tulia running game and allowed Tulia a net of 36 yards rushing. Poague got 17 yards on 12 tries. Vandergriff got 19 on 8 and Dick got 15 on 9 to lead the Hornet attack. Tulia passed 21 times, completing 8 for 125 yards and this was the weapon on which they scored and relied on even when it was held down and less than two yards to go to the goal. Tulia collected seven first downs and made two penetrations.

The Floydada attack was led by bulldozer Don Vickers who Outstanding on defense most of the game the stop 'em unit was led by Bill Gilliland, Danny Shipley, Richard Graves, Henry Self, Van Stovall and Bobby Christian who recovered a pair of fumbles for the green and white cause. Shipley also got one. Stovall made a fine tackle on Billy Dick on at least one occasion when it appeared he was going to burst into the clear.

The scoring plays were a nine yard run by Vickers and a conversion kick by Shipley in the first period. A pass Teague to Larry Orman in the second stanza for nine yards, the conversion failed. Vickers plowed over from the one in the third period and Shipley's kick was wide. Then in the final canto Vickers hit front in a 128 yards out and again from 67 yards out with Teague scoring on the roll out for the final conversion. When the horns quit blowing it was Floydada 33 - Tulia 6.

Willson Lectures at McMurry Scheduled for October Date

Willson Lectures, usually held in the spring semester, have been combined with Religious Emphasis Week and will be presented October 20-22 at McMurry College.

Dr. Gordon Bennett, president, said, however, that the lectures will continue to be held during the spring session.

"We have been considering for some time the possibility of dividing the lecture series," he said. "We think it will be better to have one Willson Lecture during the fall semester and another in the spring," he added.

The Willson Lectures were established at McMurry in 1946 by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Willson, of Floydada, with a permanent endowment gift of $25,000 to the college.

Dr. Robert E. Luccock, minister of The Church of the Redeemer, New Haven, Conn., will be the speaker for the Willson Lectures and Religious Emphasis Week. The theme of his sermons will be "Christ and the Hazards of Modern Living."

A graduate of Yale College, 1936, he received his Bachelor of Divinity degree from Union Theological Seminary, New York City, in 1941. At Sand Hill where Tom was attending school, a rain and storm hit the community afternoon. That morning he ridden a pony to school that had been ridden twice in its life.

The McLains were living about two and one half miles from school at that time and his sister and a cousin who was staying with them walked to school that morning. School had been out for three or four minutes when it began to rain. Tom had a difficult time trying to control that horse in the outside corner opposite Van Stovall. Charles Christian continued to improve and may get to split time with Richard Marler at right half. Don Vickers and several of the boys are suffering from colds, but have been bound by these most of the fall.

Probable starting line-ups appear on another page of this paper.

On defense this would move Vickers to inside line backer along with Shipley and Larry Orman would take the outside corner opposite Van Stovall. J. T. McLain votes Floyd City way.

Tom's father had a great interest in Della Plain, naturally, and voted for it as the county seat. He and a lot of others were disappointed when Floyd City won. The population of Della Plain soon began to drift to Lockney and Floyd City, leaving the town almost desolated.

When the McLains came to Della Plain they had no neighbors at first, even when they moved to the dugout their closest neighbors were about 15 miles away. They got all their water from the town well and hauled it three-fourths of a mile home. Later the families of Seg, Braidfoot, Tom Bradford, Bud Davis, Tom Loring, Lee McLain, Farmer, Brunson, Vanderslice and widowers by the name of McCracken moved in. After Della Plain lost the election, Mr. Braidfoot moved his family to Silverton, where he resided until his death. One daughter of his still lives there. Her given name is Gertrude. She is married to John Arnold.

One night when Tom, his mother and two sisters were in their dugout at Della Plain, they had a terrible scare. Being used for the bottom of a door was an old chicken coop. The top part was an old blanket to keep the wind from blowing in. This was the only entrance to the dugout. They kept hearing noises on the door, like the clawing of an animal. Each time it would get a little closer to the top of the wooden part, and they knew at any minute a wild animal would be in the room with them. They were all pretty scared. It never got through it almost got over the top a few times. Tom figured it was a lion or a bear, but that had wandered over the breaks and onto the plains looking for something to eat.

In 1888, the second year after the McLains came to Della Plain the first school was opened. Trustees were T. J. Braidfoot, A. V. McCracken, and J. S. McLain. The first teacher was Miss Emma Lewis who earned $30 a month and board for teaching 15 pupils. A four months school was opened in the following year, the teacher being W. M. Massie. He lived two miles from the school and received $40 a month and board with 20 students.

The Big Indian Scare

The big Indian scare came in 1890 in the winter. Indians in this area were reported to be on the warpath, killing everything in sight. People all over that area were pretty torn up over the thought. Near Childress (supposedly) Indians had attacked and killed a number of people as well as cattle. They were reported to be moving toward this area. One man kept his team harnessed on up day and night for fear of an attack. Around the hotel in Della Plain men were sitting and talking of wild Indian raids. Tom commented here as they were passed through Indian Territory that he had never seen any signs one year of Indians on the warpath.

Made 200 On Algebra

His teacher had been helping Tom get caught up on the fundamentals that he had missed, and when the time came for the exam, he took the test, handed it in, then glanced up to see the board where he saw the other pupils test. He took it, too, finding that it was easier than the Della Plain to Sand Hill one the teacher had made for him. Mr. McLain said that was the first time in his life that he had made two hundreds on algebra.

Forty years later the students at Sand Hill made a homecoming. Many memories like these were recalled. The method used by the farmers in planting crops was using a rod plow to break the soil. A wash pan with holes carried and a half structure built of frame. It still stands at Sand Hill as the McLain place. Water was furnished by a well and windmill at the place.

Mr. McLain stated that he came into town about every two months for supplies. The rest of the time his father brought things to cover them.

Mr. and Mrs. McLain are the parents of seven children. Six of them are still living, one girl, Melba Barley died suddenly in 1935. Their names are Audrey (Mrs. Roy N. Tyler of Amarillo), Lorraine (Mrs. Don Wallace of Woodland Hills, Calif.), Clifton McLain of Memphis, Tenn., Cleta (Mrs. John E. Brown of Lubbock), Hollis McLain who occupies the homestead at Sand Hill, and Ovelene (Mrs. Tommy Atchison of Woodland Hills Calif.).

He served as a school trustee at Sand Hill for about 10 or 15 years and after his resignation, he was on the board of the county school. Eleven years ago, Tom and Katie moved to town from the farm, turning it over to Hollis. They now reside at 514 South Third. They are the only children members of the Nazarene Church left here.

Harvest With Pocket Knives

Harvesting at first was done with pocket knives or with one-handed knives. At one time Tom had his father gathered by hand 185 tons of sorghum that was hand headed with pocket knives. A farmer from Harmony had headed his grain also and sold it in the fall for $4 a ton. The McLains waited until early spring and summer and sold their Indian corn were planted by those in early day farmers.

In the spring of 1900 Tom was farming with his dad and did so until the summer of 1901 when he accepted the post offered him by Uncle Charlie Smith of Lockney, turning it over to Hollis. They now reside at 514 South Third. They are the only children members of the Nazarene Church left here.

Lockney Christian College

The latter part of Tom's education was received at Lockney Christian College. He began his college career in 1897, two years after the founding of the college by two promoters, S. W. Smith and C. W. Smith. At the time Tom attended, G. H. P. Showalter was president of the school, remaining in that position for three or four years. When the staff of a Christian publication, "Firm Foundation" as editor in Austin.

Some of the McLain's neighbors at Sand Hill were the families of B. P. Merrill, L. C. Darrell, John Pickle, John Wilson, S. B. McCleskey, W. A. Trowbridge, J. S. Fox, E. C. Fullingim, and several Mickey families.

The first car that Mr. McLain ever remembers seeing was owned by E. P. Thompson of Lockney. Tom saw him one day driving through Sand Hill to Petersburg from Lockney. The first telephone Tom ever talked on was in 1901 when his brother-in-law called him at Lockney from Floydada. Mr. McLain said that people had water running in their homes as a new idea in 1899.

Mr. McLain was familiar with two Billy Merrills in the county. One was the son of Ellick Merrill in the north part of the county and a brother to a Merrill that lived at Sand Hill. The Merrill at Sand Hill also had a son named Billy. Probably the most well known of these two was the one who was a rancher in the north part of the county at the time that Tom McLain knew the famous John Smith of Floyd County. Mr. Smith was working on the F Ranch.

In the latter part of the month of December 1908, Tom was standing in one of the fields when he saw a buckboard going toward his father's home. The buckboard was carrying a boy and his 14-year-old sister. This was Tom's first glimpse of the girl he was later to marry.

Meets Katie Bell Hart

Later when he was both attending the same church, Tom and the girl were formally introduced. Her name was Katie Bell Hart and she had just moved with her family to a farm near the McLain place. Tom also found out that they had wanted a bigger farm.

Katie was born on March 8, 1894 in Archer City, Texas, the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Hart. She attended school in Martin County until she moved to Floyd. She attended school at Harmony until she reached the sixth reader until her marriage, Katie and the older children cared for their sickly mother, cooked and tended household matters, as well as working in the field with their

In the year of 1909, Tom and Katie began dating. On November 22, 1910, the Harts moved from their farm of 300 acres to a larger one in Hale County. Thus Tom had to cross the county line when he went to see her. On the 30th day of June in the year 1912, Tom, who was 31 at this time, married a bride of 18. C. J. Menefee performed the ceremony in the home of her parents. The bride was attired in a white embroidered dress, and the groom in a grey suit. They had no wedding trip, but the custom was then, they married in the morning, ate the wedding day dinner with the bride's parents and on the following day, feasted with the groom's parents.

Their First Home

At the time of the wedding, the house which was to be their home at Sand Hill was still under construction by Walter Gound, a contractor from Floydada. For about a month after the marriage, the couple lived with the bride's parents. Their new home was a story and a half structure built of frame. It still stands at Sand Hill as the McLain place. Water was furnished by a well and windmill at the place.

Mr. McLain stated that he came into town about every two months for supplies. The rest of the time his father brought things to cover them.

Mr. and Mrs. McLain are the parents of seven children. Six of them are still living, one girl, Melba Barley died suddenly in 1935. Their names are Audrey (Mrs. Roy N. Brown of Lubbock), Hollis McLain who occupies the homestead at Sand Hill, and Ovelene (Mrs. Tommy Atchison of Woodland Hills Calif.).

He served as a school trustee at Sand Hill for about 10 or 15 years and after his resignation, he was on the board of the county school. Eleven years ago, Tom and Katie moved to town from the farm, turning it over to Hollis. They now reside at 514 South Third. They are the only children members of the Nazarene Church left here.

Chief Justice James G. Denton

A new chief justice of the Seventh Court of Civil Appeals, which serves this county and 45 others in the Panhandle and South Plains areas, was sworn in at Amarillo last week.

He is Chief Justice James G. Denton, for the past six years judge of the 99th District Court at Lubbock.

Governor Price Daniel named Denton last week for the appellate post to replace Chief Justice E. L. Pitts, who died last month. Denton also named Howard Davison, Lubbock attorney, to replace Denton on the 99th district bench.

Mr. and Mrs. McLain are the parents of seven children. Six of them are still living, one girl, Melba Barley died suddenly in 1935. Their names are Audrey (Mrs. Roy N. Tyler of Amarillo), Lorraine (Mrs. Don Wallace of Woodland Hills, Calif.), Clifton McLain of Memphis, Tenn., Cleta (Mrs. John E. A farm home belonging to the Stringer estate was completely destroyed by fire about mid-morning yesterday, along with the household furnishings of the building, starting at 10 a. m. and continuing until 4 p. m.

The house was located two miles west and one mile north of Barwise. How the blaze started was not known at a late hour yesterday. Mrs. Latham, who was home at the time with her small son, said she opened the door to the bath and found it ablaze.

There was no phone in the house to summon aid. By the time the alarm was called in, the fireman made the run, the building was leveled. Also lost were six rooms of furniture, household goods and clothing of the family. The father has been hospitalized in Lubbock.

At present Mr. and Mrs. Latham and her family are residing in a small house back of Barwise Elevator.

A farm home belonging to the Stringer estate was completely destroyed by fire about mid-morning yesterday, along with the household furnishings of the building, starting at 10 a. m. and continuing until 4 p. m.

The house was located two miles west and one mile north of Barwise. How the blaze started was not known at a late hour yesterday. Mrs. Latham, who was home at the time with her small son, said she opened the door to the bath and found it ablaze.

There was no phone in the house to summon aid. By the time the alarm was called in, the fireman made the run, the building was leveled. Also lost were six rooms of furniture, household goods and clothing of the family. The father has been hospitalized in Lubbock.

At present Mr. and Mrs. Latham and her family are residing in a small house back of Barwise Elevator.

Cattle Border

Little known facts about Texas boundaries.

This is the sec war between Texas and the United States.

Texans were so mad they threatened secession and war.

Wilson is right now fighting another battle for Texas boundaries—the tidelands suit before the Supreme Court of the United States.

Background for the Texas-New Mexico fight began with the 1819 treaty which settled the western limits of the United States, establishing the eastern boundary of Texas at the Sabine River.

Many people at the time, including Thomas Jefferson, thought this a bad bargain.

They believed the boundary should be the Rio Grande.

As it turned out the treaty featured built-in headaches brought out later in an Oklahoma-Texas dispute.

In 1821, Mexico revolted from Spain, falling heir to the Spanish hands south and west of the United States. This included Texas up until 1836 when Texans won their independence at San Jacinto.

One of the first acts of the new Republic of Texas was to draw up a declaration of its boundaries, fixing three leagues in the Gulf of Mexico, which is now being fought out in the tidelands case, and claiming the Rio Grande to its source in present day Colorado.

This gave Texas the eastern half of present New Mexico and a large part of southern Colorado.

U. S. Senator Thomas Hart Benton of Missouri voiced Mexico's complaint by saying the Texas boundary was "an act of unparalleled outrage on Mexico."

"It is a seizure of 2,000 miles of her territory without a word of explanation to her," he raged.

Kingpin of Missouri politics, Benton used his rugged strength to fight Texas to the end—his end as it turned out to be the size of Montana) with the right to divide it into two states of 75,000 square miles each.

"This bitter stand on the Texas question eventually defeated Benton after he had served 20 years in the Senate," Wilson points out.

Wilson, who has an extensive library on Texas history, likes to quote a description of Benton.

"—all the Senate knew that Thomas Hart Benton was a rough and tumble fighter off and on the Senate floor—no longer with pistols but with stinging sarcasm. He himself was immune to the sounds of these political clashes from which his adversaries reared bleeding and broken. For his great eye and vigorous health had him thick skinned mentally as well as physically."

Wilson particularly likes this part: "The leathery quality of his skin was in part the result of a daily brushing with a horse-hair brush—when asked if the brush was truly rough, Benton would roar: 'Why, sir, if I were to touch you with that brush, you would cry murder, sir!'"

The next article will describe how the Federal government bit off a large chunk of the territory and paid Texas fifteen cents an acre for it.

Funeral rites were conducted in the First Baptist Church in Lockney Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Charles Broadhurst, pastor, officiated. Interment was in Memorial Park at Plainview under the arrangement of Carter Funeral Home of Lockney.

Survivors include a son, Kelton Shaw of Lockney, a daughter, Mrs. Tabor Alford of Dallas; six sisters, Mrs. Ida M. Bowden and Mrs. Minnie M. Bowden, both of El Reno, Okla.; Mrs. Lucy Pitkin and Mrs. Ella Humphreys of Fort Worth; Mrs. Ethel Hughes of Petersburg and Mrs. Nellie Oliver, Vernon; also a brother, Everett Smith, Wichita Falls, and four grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Hubert Frizell, Barry Barker, W. D. Nance Jr., Harmon Handley, Leslie Ferguson, John Butler, Dee Taylor and Bill Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Snell and children of Lubbock visited here over the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Snell, J. J. McKinney and other relatives. Mr. McKinney in company with his Plainview daughter, Peggy, left Sunday for Paris, Tex., to attend funeral rites for his brother, Walter McKinney on Monday. The brother died following a long illness.

Mr. and Mrs. John Reese and daughters, Bobby and Sue visited in Abilene during the week-end with their daughter and sister, Joellen, who is attending college.

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Watson Jr. and daughter spent the week-end in Paradise visiting with members of Mrs. Watson's family.

Band Will Do New Routines Friday Night

The 1959 Whirlwind Band under the direction of newcomer, Dan Whitaker, has been performing every Friday evening for football fans with their precision drills. Planned for the Floydada-Slaton game half-time show tomorrow night is something in a different style from previous shows and not related to anything done this season.

Marching from a company front along the south end of the field has been the usual procedure used by the 70 member band. This show, however, will be begun with a double width across the field. Mr. Whitaker commented that this will be an experiment of something new for the band. They will march onto the field, form a diagonal while playing the traditional "Green and White" entry song written by former band director, Maurice Jones.

All Over Playing Field

Next formation will be the Butterfly Countermarch, which spreads members of the band all over the green playing field, and has the resemblance of huge fingers of a hand. They will be marching north at this point. "King Size March" will begin the three variations of the 7 - 8 Drills, where the band splits into two or more sections. A box flank, split front and back and the split into four parts will constitute this drill. They will march north and then be given the regular countermarch signal.

The double staggered countermarch file forming the shape of a parallelogram will be next on the program. Another staggered cut short her trip due to the countermarch will be begun from the center of the band, giving the impression of an arrow with attention in Lubbock.

pointed head and indented back forming the feathers.

To the Rear March will be the signal next called. The band members will each make a 180 degree turn, stomp their feet twice, a variation of the Monkey Drill called Bellhop to the Rear. They will then march off the field to the sidelines with the traditional Block Letter F playing "Bye, Bye Blues".

Much Practice Required

Members of the band gather in class from 12:30 to 1:30 each day for the purpose of rehearsal. They receive one half credit for this period which counts toward graduation. There are 73 members in the band, 70 of these being in the marching band. Six of the 70 march as the band front as majorettes.

Two weeks before school began, a marching school was held before the Abernathy game, which was the first of the season, 14 hours of practice was put into the halftime show. Each member now spends five hours a week on practice.

Shirley Gregory heads the band this year as drum majorette. She is responsible for the conduct of the band while they are performing. Her assistant is Carolyn Dillard whose responsibility is to see that the majorette routines are in order and ready to go by game time.

Other officers of the band are Bob Dempsey, Captain; Dennis Walker, First Lieutenant; and Dempsey, Second Lieutenant, and Sargent at Arms, Darryl Lindsay.

Mrs. E. I. Durham was met in Lubbock last Thursday by her son, Mrs. Bob Durham, on her return plane flight from Birmingham, Ala., where she had been for two weeks visiting her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Irwin. Mrs. Durham's program, another staggered cut short her trip due to the sudden illness of her husband, who this week is receiving medical attention in Lubbock.

Durbins Report Heavy Snowfall At Canon City

Rev. Carl Durbin is safely home from Canon City, Colo., where he bucked a terrific snowstorm while in that city with his wife, her brother and family the last week in September.

Rev. Durbin said approximately 30 inches of snow fell in the short time he was there. In a recent letter from his wife, she said more snow had fallen the week-end following his departure from Canon City, on Thursday, Oct. 1.

Heavy damage to cars, shrubs, and some homes occurred in the city, but other than trees, torn down by weight of the snow at the home of Mrs. Durbin's brother where she resides, no damage was sustained by the family. The total amount of snowfall and for Canon City after the second snowfall amounted to 36 inches, according to Mrs. Durbin's letter. In Fremont County, near there, they had received some five feet of snow in places. As in Denver and other places Canon City residents suffered the loss of power as well, and schools were shut down for several days.

Rev. Durbin is expecting his wife in Floydada this week for a visit. He said her health has improved greatly since her move to Colorado.

APPRECIATES HER FRIENDS

Mrs. G. M. Bullard said this week she is grateful for the visits and encouragement of her good neighbors.

Dollars For Democrats.

If you are of the Democratic persuasion you are reminded again that the campaign is on for funds to boost the national committee's treasury. To side-step the bickering that has been going on over state leadership it has been agreed all around that all the funds raised will go to the national treasury. In Floyd County Ben P. Ayres, county chairman of the party, is handling the campaign. You can help.

Late Cotton Opening.

Favorable progress has marked the progress of the late cotton since October 1. It is now October 15 with seven days of grace already and another twenty-some-odd to come if we hold the right thought and stay lucky. A few late fields are white enough already to get pullers in the fields but there are a lot of bolls that need to get finished maturing and dried out yet. Lowest temperature to date has been below 50 degrees. Some of the stalks show the effects of the slight nip that comes with temperature that low.

Floydada Live Stock Sales Company

will be ready with their first sale sometime soon. The owners have put a lot of money and effort into this enterprise. They're good operators and ought to have a rousing good sale for their opener sometime the latter part of the month if they get ready that soon. Watch for opening date. Encourage your buyer friends to be there.

Community Goes Wet.

Nazareth precinct in Castro County has "gone wet." Package liquor sales will be permitted as soon as the provisions of the local option law goes into effect there. In Dickens County where the Dickens Precinct tried for an enabling election the "wets" lost. The vote stems from a recent decision of the State Supreme Court that communities in the county which have voted dry can have legalized liquor sales if the majority of the people in the subdivision want it. Herebefore it has been thought that the smallest unit of government that could vote on the whiskey question was the county. A good many precincts dotted over the state are most likely to legalize package purchases for off the premises consumption.

Must Not Go Wrong.

Precautions to see that the upcoming paving program is done well and on a basis that will please the majority of the affected citizenship have been taken by the city council. Cooperation in eliminating, at least greater, drainage problems, has been secured. The completed job calls for the city and the property owners to put about $450,000 of their money into the improvement program. It will be the best money spent in Floydada in many a day. Be sure of that. Let's go along with the city authorities. They are planning well and are entitled to hearty cooperation.

The Public Pays.

The steel laboring man and the steel mill manager alike should be apprised of the fact, if they are not already aware, that the public believes steel prices should come down at the same time the mill workers should resume their jobs. It is no longer a matter of steel workers, who are ahead of the rest of us, being exploited. It is the public which is intended to be the goat. Long before there was any strike or even talk of one, steel mills in foreign lands were filling orders for steel in thousands of American communities, tired of being mulcted.

Never a tear bedims the eye.

That time and patience will not dry.

TAX-MAN SEZ

One of Internal Revenue Service's problems that has been around for several years is that of deducting educational expense on the income tax return.

After a considerable delay Internal Revenue Service has now established definite rules and guidelines for allowing the deduction of educational expense. School teachers are probably more interested in this deduction than any other group. However, the educational expense deduction applies to any business as well as the teaching profession and there are a lot of claims for others.

Cline & Rainer Begin Showing Edsels Today

Another new car model for 1960 is being shown today at the Cline & Rainer showrooms. It is the 1960 Edsel, with completely new styling, new wide-tread, long spring ride and a price that is competitive with top models of the "Popular three."

Edsel's third year on the market represents its third year of distinct appearance changes. It also marks the lowest, widest, most spacious Edsel in the car's history, the makers claim.

The Edsel has been completely redesigned for 1960, and is one inch lower, almost three inches wider and five and a half inches longer than the 1959 model. The tread has been widened by more than two inches at the front, wheels and 3.6 inches at the rear. The wheelbase is 115.5 inches, 1.5 inches longer than the 1959 model. The front overhang is 24 inches, 1.5 inches longer than the 1959 model. The rear overhang is 24 inches, 1.5 inches longer than the 1959 model. The wheelbase is 115.5 inches, 1.5 inches longer than the 1959 model. The front overhang is 24 inches, 1.5 inches longer than the 1959 model. The rear overhang is 24 inches, 1.5 inches longer than the 1959 model.

two and four-door sedans, the two and four-door hardtops, and the convertible, and the Villager six and nine-passenger station wagons. Both wagons are four-door models.

Edsel has a new body for 1960 and the styling changes are more than skin deep. For example, the "dogleg" has been eliminated by moving the windshield post forward 10 inches.

Visibility has been increased 17 per cent in the front windshield and 63 per cent in the back window.

Wheelbase of the station wagon has been increased two inches to equal the passenger car 120 inch wheelbase.

Basic engine for all Edsels is the 292 cubic inch 185 h. p. Ranger V-8. This engine operates on standard gasoline and incorporates a number of improvements for greater economy.

The hood of the new Edsel is wider and five and a half inches longer than the 1959 model. The tread has been widened by more than two inches at the front, wheels and 3.6 inches at the rear. The wheelbase is 115.5 inches, 1.5 inches longer than the 1959 model. The front overhang is 24 inches, 1.5 inches longer than the 1959 model. The rear overhang is 24 inches, 1.5 inches longer than the 1959 model.

Edsels are offered in two series for 1960 - the Ranger and the Villager. They include the Ranger six and standard V-8 engines operate efficiently and economically on regular gasoline.

FRESH STYLING AND ROOMY INTERIORS characterize the Edsel for 1960. The Ranger four-door sedan, above, is one of seven low cost models which also include a two and four-door hardtop, two-door sedan, convertible and two Villager station wagons. Wide tread design with extra long springs assure a smooth, stable ride. Edsel's six and standard V-8 engines operate efficiently and economically on regular gasoline.

BIBLE BAPTIST CHURCH

FALSE RELIGIOUS DOCTRINES

SUNDAYS RESULTS: 1 Saved and 1 addition by baptism. First time Visitors: 16. Total number Visitors: 28.

I. These false religionists teach that we will not have eternal life until we reach Heaven.

A. But the Bible teaches we have eternal life now: 1 John 3:2; 1 John 5:10,13; John 3:18; John 5:24; John 10:27,30; Do you believe God or these false teachers?

II. These false religionists teach that after a person has believed, repented, and is baptized that he MAY be saved at last in Heaven. IF they hold out faithful unto the end. (They take Matt. 24:13 and teach it for us today. BUT if they will study it carefully they will find this is talking about those during the Tribulation period. Read Matt. 24:21 and verse 3).

A. But the Bible teaches we are KEPT BY THE POWER OF GOD, not by our holding out. 1 Pet. 1:5; 2 Tim. 4:18; 2 Tim. 1:12; Jude 24; Phil. 4:7; Psms. 37:28. Do you believe God or these false teachers?

III. These False religionists teach that MANY who have known their Lord in the remission of sins will be CAST OFF at the last day.

A. But Jesus said unto those who CLAIM to be children of God (but are not) in Matt. 7:23 "I NEVER knew YOU; depart from me, ye that work iniquity." (A person cannot lose something he never had.) Compare with paragraph II. Do you Believe Jesus or these False teachers?

IV. A Copy of "The Testimony of Alexander Campbell as to the History of Baptist Church from Christ Time" may be had by contacting the Pastor or any member of the Bible Baptist Church. (Free). It was taken from the Campbell-Walker debate.

Floydada

Mercury for 1960, being introduced in Floydada for the first time by Cline & Rainer, manufacturers of its distinctive functional design.

The suspension, engine, transmission are provided to provide a new feeling comfort.

Mercury's three design changes have given greater economy, give greater operation, quieter operation, and two engines which save the engines are maximum performance gasoline.

Mercury's unique tandem-action windshield wipers are improved and include a three-speed electrical wiper control.

The new heater has 14 per cent greater capacity.

Mercury's 13 models for 1960 are topped by the Park Lane series in a two-door cruiser (hardtop), a four-door cruiser (hardtop) and a two-door convertible. The Monterey series consists of a four-door sedan, a two-door cruiser and a four-door sedan, a two-door and a four-door cruiser and a convertible.

Continuing a feature introduced to the industry by Mercury last year, the 1960 models have a low transmission and driveshaft tunnel.

"Mercury engineers have succeeded in completely insulating the body of the car from the running gear, resulting in an exceptionally smooth ride," said Ben D. Mills, vice president of Ford Motor Company and general manager of the M-E-L Division.

Mercury's exterior styling is completely new and is characterized by softer lines in its new hood, fenders, quarter panels, rear deck and doors.

The broad front bumper serves as a foundation for the air-gathering grille with bright concave vertical bars. The body side moulding includes the door handle as a contained part.

The upper body features a big, full-visibility windshield. Hardtop "cruiser" models have a sloping roof, and sedan models have a flat, crisp roof with rear overhang.

Interior trim schemes are all new. New fabrics — all with 100 per cent nylon face — are offered.

Mercury's unique tandem-action windshield wipers are improved and include a three-speed electrical wiper control.

The new heater has 14 per cent greater capacity.

Mercury for 1960 is both distinctive and functionally clean in design. The car's soft smooth ride is the result of the bleeding of body frame suspension engine and transmission into a completely road-tuned car. Two-barrel carburetors increase economy of the low-friction V-8 engines. Two of the engines offer added economy by using regular gasoline. Mercury's spacious interiors with lowered transmission and driveshaft tunnel afford comfort for six passengers. Thirteen models in four series all on 126-inch wheel-base are available. Pictured is the Monterey four-door cruiser (hardtop).

DEADLINE EXTENDED

The Cook Book Committee met last Tuesday for an all day meeting. Mrs. John Smitherman and I were joint hostesses for a buffet luncheon at noon. Mrs. Riley Teague, Mrs. Herman King, Mrs. Odell Breed, Mrs. Maurice Campbell, Mrs. Smitherman and I attended this meeting to further plans for making cook book No. 2 - which is to be completed early next spring.

Ten of the committee members were unable to attend - Mrs. Henry Scarborough and Mrs. R. C. Rathall.

Please send in your favorite recipes - help to make this book one of the best!

The Nation's livestock industry is directing consumer attention to an autumn bounty of Pork and Pork Products through a national promotional campaign.

"Eating high on the hog" is an expression denoting good living, originating probably because the always popular pork chops and loin roasts come from the upper part of the animal. But there's more to a hog than chops and roasts, and in these days of plentiful supplies of all pork cuts, food shoppers will find very economical meat buys among the so-called "lesser-cuts" - cuts that provide just as delicious and nutritious eating as those from "high on the hog".

The old saying that "everything but the squeal is used" is still true. Hocks, feet, knuckles, shoulders and spareribs all lend themselves to tasty budget meals.

A wide selection of luncheon meats, sausages and variety cuts also offers endless opportunities to meal planners.

As with any meat, the aim in cooking pork is to bring out flavor, juiciness, and texture with minimum shrinkage and maximum retention of nutrients. Fresh pork must be thoroughly cooked, always.

Sweet Potatoes Rate For Vitamins

Sweet potatoes in plentiful supply this fall, deserve attention of family food-shoppers, not only for the color and distinctive flavor they contribute to meals but also for vitamin values, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Sweet potatoes of the soft-fleshed, orange-yellow varieties, the predominant type on our markets, have an exceptionally high vitamin-A value. It is said an average-size (6 oz.) sweet potato of this type supplies more than twice the amount of vitamin A an adult needs daily.

 WITH IMPORTANT PRICE REDUCTIONS

Prices importantly reduced on all Mercury models! Popular Monterey* now $136* lower. Now you can own a new Mercury for a very few cents a day more than a car with a low-price name.

* Competition based on manufacturer's suggested dealer price for a Monterey 4-door sedan, 1960 v. 1959. Excludes Federal motor tax and suggested dealer preparation and handling charges.

You'll be glad you bought a Mercury every time . . .

Why pay a medium-range price for a car with a low-price name? For this year, Mercury is in a new lower-price range. You'll be glad you didn't settle for less . . .
