Johnson Forecasts New Election Year; Candidates Announce

Global War or Easter in 1960

As I am just back from Berlin, my first visit since World War II, what will happen in 1960 is difficult to predict. My answer is definitely "nothing will happen." I will make no more peace talks, der drugs" and other chemical products.

The demand for most food products will increase during 1960. This should especially help the United Fruit Company, as bananas give the most nourishment, at the least cost, of any known food.

The above also applies to suburban real estate. I forecast that new suburban zoning laws will require houses to have vacant lots adjacent to them, making parking lots and municipal garages much more plentiful.

The demand for modern stores and for centrally located apartments will continue to increase during 1960.

The Republican slogan in 1960 will be "It is always dangerous to go back to the future." I therefore forecast that the Republicans will have a 50-50 success in 1960.

The survey, which takes in every part of the United States, is for the 12 months ending July 1, 1959. It was produced by the Standard Rate and Data Service.

With the coming of election year to Floyd County, along with all the other counties in Texas, question arises:

What offices are to be filled this year? Who are the candidates?

So far as state offices are concerned practically all of them are to be filled. Except for some of the higher courts, where terms are longer, the tally list for state offices will range all the way from governor down.

But for district, county and precinct offices approximately half are to be filled, notably:

District Attorney, Sheriff, County Attorney, Assessor-Collector, County Superintendent, Commissioner Precinct, Commissioner Precinct 3.

Hold-overs are the district judge, the county judge, district clerk, county clerk, the treasurer, commissioners of Precincts 2 and 4 and all justices of the peace.

Announcements today:

Stapleton To Be Candidate For DA Office

Since his election, he has twice defeated opponents for the office. During his tenure, Stapleton has handled the prosecution of a number of notable cases.

District Attorney John B. Stapleton this week announced his candidacy for re-election. Stapleton serves the 110th Judicial District of Dickens, Matley, Floyd and Briscoe Counties.

He was first elected District Attorney in 1946 and began serving January 1, 1947. At the time of his election, Stapleton had just returned from four years service in the Army during World War II, 30 months of which was spent overseas in the Pacific.

am capable. I have gained invaluable experience in dealing with the problems of the office, and if I am re-elected, this experience will not be lost. I will continue to give the District Attorney's office my very best.

I will appreciate your vote and your influence in my behalf.

Sincerely Yours, Walter Hollums

Fowler Asks Re-Election

To the voters of Floyd County Commissioners Precinct No. 1

I am a candidate to succeed myself as commissioner of your precinct, running for the second term.

Working with the other commissioners I have tried to handle the business affairs of the county in a way that would meet with your approval.

I would be glad to have any interested tax-payer check records of the county and Precinct No. One, and will appreciate an opportunity to talk matters over with any of the voters at any time.

I will see all the voters possible before primary time, and will appreciate your consideration and votes.

John B. Fowler, Commissioner Precinct No. 1, Floyd County.

T. T. Hamilton, Assessor-Collector of Taxes, Floyd County.

Kenneth Bain, Jr., County Attorney.

Winds Go To McAdoo Jan. 5

Floydada Whirlwind basketball teams will go to McAdoo on Tuesday, January 5 as they swing back into their regular schedule of play.

It will be the third try for the boys team which has fallen before the Eagles twice this season already. The girls also lost to McAdoo when they came here early in December.

The boys team of Coach Bob Shields won their first game in the Holiday Tournament in Lubbock this week, but lost the second encounter to drop from contention.

In the first round match the Winds downed Tom S. Lubbock B team 55 to 37. Then in the semifinals they drew McAdoo and could not stay with their pesky neighbors and dropped out 43-63.

Post, another member of District 3AA turned in a game that surprised many observers when they downed Dimmitt in the semifinals and advanced to meet McAdoo last night in the small school finals.

The outcome of this game should shed some light on the relative strength of district teams. Floydada and Post tied for the district crown last year.

REV. and MRS. PHIL H. GATES

Open House to Honor Rev. and Mrs. Gates On 50th Anniversary

A reception in the First Methodist Church parlor to honor Rev. and Mrs. Phil H. Gates Sunday afternoon from 3 to 5 o'clock, is being announced by local friends of the couple, to honor their fifth anniversary.

Just at home from Pampa where their children honored them on December 29, their actual wedding day at the home of a son, the couple settled down last week. But many friends are anxious to add laurels at a reception in which south-plain friends will have an opportunity to participate.

Invitation to attend is extended to everyone who would like to have a part in honoring the couple.

Building, Improvement Sets Fast Pace In 1959

Name Change Is Announced By Loan Assn

The National Farm Loan Association of Floydada, Texas, which has changed and serviced Federal Land Bank loans in the area for more than 40 years has a new name effective December 31, 1959.

Another change permitted by the new law which is of interest to Farmer's and Ranchers is the removal of the $200,000 loan limit. Also, the new law provides that sums loaned to purchase capital stock in the Federal Land Bank Association can be over and above the present loan limit of 65 per cent of the normal agricultural value of the farm or ranch mortgaged.

Mr. Watson stated that the association is now servicing $66 million of local American Legion officials in their call issued this week for a meeting of eligible women to re-organize and activate the Women's Auxiliary of McDermott Post, American Legion.

This was pointed out by Sam A. Fowler, commander of McDermott Post this week.

The meeting is called for Monday night of next week, Jan. 4, at the American Legion Hut. The only sponsorship that can be provided for a girl from a community to attend Girls' State is through the Women's Auxiliary of the Legion, Fowler said. The invitation to attend the meeting is extended to all ladies who are wives, sisters or mothers of veterans of World War I, World War II or of the Korean Conflict, he said.

BOWLING LANES TO OPEN JANUARY 16, SAYS YOUNG

Pat Young, manager of Floydada's new Cotton Bowl Lanes, announced this week that he is shooting at a January 16 opening date for the eight lane bowling center.

Early last week loads of material were arriving at the site and workers have been swarming in the new building since that time except for a brief lay-off for the holidays.

This week the lanes were going down rapidly and the interior layout is fast taking shape. Mechanical parts and equipment are on no later than Jan. 13 and with no hitches the management will make the opening as planned.

The bowling center will sport a snack bar, and eight modern bowling lanes equipped with AMF pin spotters, Magic Circle Ball Return, Magic Circle Pin-Dicator and Telescope Projected Score Screens for league bowling. The management is pointing for eight team bowling leagues.

Opening hour will be 9:00 on week days and 1:00 p. m. on Sundays. Cotton Bowl Lanes promises to furnish recreation to all ages, says Young, who reports the sport is equally popular with the ladies and young folks as with men. The new center is located just north of King Tractor Co. on the Lockney highway.

Outlook Good For New Year Advancement

Outlay in the year of 1959 for new construction and improvement in the business and residential district of Floydada exceeded a million dollars. Commercial building accounted for $22,000 in this program, and a $20,000 was put into new homes.

Of the construction in the business district the First National Bank's new banking quarters, the Farmers Cooperative Gin Company's immense cotton gin in the industrial district and the Fieldan Motel on South Second Street accounted for more than $450,000. One of the major improvements, also, was the reconstruction and modernization of the Stapleton buildings.

But to get the full picture of expanding activity in the community to this must be added the new construction enlarging facilities of the Panhandle Compress & Warehouse Company, the Brown Gin on outlying acreage, the $50,000 acid delimiting plant of Farmers Acid Delimiting Co., and the Quahab Railway Company's piggyback installation, constructed at an estimated $50,000.

Not counting in these totals are the new Cotton Bowl Lanes of Texas bowling building and equipment at $150,000, the Hollums Block on East California Street at $30,000, both of which are now in process of completion. Also added to the building credit for 1959 will be the Masonic Home on West Mississippi at Fifth, cost of which has not been publicly estimated.

The city's outlay on improvements and extensions of water and light facilities was commensurate with the demand of new customers, completed at a cost of $25,000. A new well, not put into service, is due to help take care (See Outlook Good, Page 8).

Water District Vote January 12

Elections for directors and county committee men will be general over the counties of the High Plains Underground Water District on Jan. 12.

In Floyd County the name of J. R. Belt Jr. will appear as the candidate for director of Precinct No. 5, which is comprised of this county.

The county committee men candidates will be Chester Mitchell of Lockney, and Forrest Mickey of Aiken.

The farm census in an area of six counties, for which James S. Green is responsible as crew leader, has been hampered by bad weather and heavy rains, which have prevailed since mid-December.

With clearing weather this week progress is expected to be more pronounced. In fact, it is hoped the week-end will see practically all of the work done, Mr. Green said.

Should We Send A Floydada Girl To Girls State?

Qualifying the community to send a girl to Girls' State this year is uppermost in the mind of local American Legion officials in their call issued this week for a meeting of eligible women to re-organize and activate the Women's Auxiliary of McDermott Post, American Legion.

The meeting is called for Monday night of next week, Jan. 4, at the American Legion Hut. The only sponsorship that can be provided for a girl from a community to attend Girls' State is through the Women's Auxiliary of the Legion, Fowler said. The invitation to attend the meeting is extended to all ladies who are wives, sisters or mothers of veterans of World War I, World War II or of the Korean Conflict, he said.

At the same time Fowler extended an invitation to all local veterans to become members or renew membership in American Legion Post No. 118.

Westfall, Widener Nuptial Vows Said Tuesday Afternoon

Mrs. Gladys Westfall, daughter of Mrs. P. F. Bertrand of Plainview, and Ernie Loyd Widener of Floydada, were united in marriage in a simple impressive ceremony, read in the parlor of the First Methodist Church in Plainview at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. J. H. Crawford, pastor, officiated at the wedding.

Mrs. Widener was attired in a warm brown street length dress, brown feathered hat, lizard accessories, and a shoulder bridal corsage.

The couple's only attendants were Mrs. William F. Bertrand of Floydada, and Buddy Widener of Snyder, son of the bridegroom.

Among the wedding guests were the couple's children, a son and daughter of the bride, Monte and Darlene Westfall of Plainview, and Ann Widener of Floydada. Another son of Mrs. Widener's, Gene, who is stationed in Virginia, was unable to be here for the ceremony.

Following a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Widener will return to his farm home north of Floydada to reside. Mrs. Widener has been employed with the Bell Telephone company in Plainview for a number of years.

Couple Wed Sunday Make Home Here

Miss Sandra Ann Carver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Carver of Floydada, was united in marriage with Jesse Robert Jenkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Jenkins of Brownfield, in a double-ring ceremony read Christmas Eve.

Richard Williams, minister of the City Park Church of Christ, performed the evening ceremony in the home of the bridegroom's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Shami.

The couple's attendants were the bride's sister, Mrs. Corley Jarrett of Floydada, and the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Sam Shami.

now, return a lot of nutrition compared to cost. Plenty of apples, oranges, raisins and cranberries also are in prospect. Vegetable bins will be loaded with sweetpotatoes, onions and Irish potatoes. Lamb is the only meat on the January list. Then, there'll be an abundance of rice, for economy dishes, and vegetable fats and oils, for salad dressings and all cooking. That's the 11-item list that can help you hold down the cost of feeding your family in January. Keep them in mind all through the month. Serve them often.

This week, as we study the blueprints of 1960, we're wondering what kind of home we'll build for our hopes and dreams next year.

Will the house in which our hearts are to reside be one of many rooms, open with warmth and friendship to all we know? Or will we build an "efficiency" apartment, to enclose ourselves and leave no room for disappointment and hurt? Will our dispositions have a southern exposure toward the sunlight? Or will the cold northern light, the "true light of the artist," fill our lives during the year?

In many ways we can improve on the blueprints of 1959. Some features are good, yes; but the old plans won't quite serve again. Those shelves on which memories are stored; we'll need them in the new home. And the double sink, to wash away worries, they rinse them out to dry. We'd best keep the recessed ironing board, too, where we can smooth out the wrinkles of daily cares.

In planning our new shelter, we'll profit by past mistakes. There will be less space for the false gods that have cluttered our lives, more for quietness and repose.

Moving to the new house will do us good, whether we have more room or less. For we'll clear out some of the unfulfilled promises, the boarded ladders, the stored-up regrets. Forgotten treasurers will be brought to light, and perhaps put to use.

As we make ready the blueprints of the new year we see again; it's not the kind of house we live in, it's the kind of "we" that goes into the house that determines what happens to hopes and dreams in 1960.

Shop The Plentiful Foods List in 1960

College Station — "I resolve to eat better and more economically in 1960." That could well be the No. 1 New Year's resolution for every Texas homemaker. It makes sense.

How? Here's an idea that will help: Follow the U. S. Department of Agriculture's monthly list of plentiful foods, suggests the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Lower prices usually accompany in-season and abundant food supplies. Wider selection for quality also enters the picture. And when crops are large, quality usually runs higher.

USDA's monthly list is determined by the Agricultural Marketing Service on the basis of expected availability. When the list, Mrs. Jim Aldridge and Miss supply of any farm-produced food Kit Lee of Austin, Miss Joyce exceeds normal trade needs, that Ray Johnson of Newgulf, Miss food is eligible for listing. News-Judy Greenway of Houston; Miss papers, radio stations and the Ann Robinson of Plainview; Miss food trade, in general, then co-Marcia Brickey of Kansas City; operate with growers and the Miss Paula Harbour of Mt. Plea-USA in nation-wide promotion. Special prices often accompany these efforts.

Hostess for the bridesmaids' luncheon was Mrs. Gibson Battle, and Mr. and Mrs. R. R. English of Plainview, the bride's grandparents, were hosts for the rehearsal dinner at the Driskill Hotel Maximilian Room.

After a wedding trip, Lt. and Mrs. Chapin will be at home at 1600 Pease Road in Austin.

Guests here for the wedding included Mrs. E. J. Morehead of Floydada, Mr. and Mrs. R. R. English and the Lucian Morehead family of Plainview.

But 1959 was an eventful year. Some of the biggest Texas headlines centered on these happenings:

SPEAKER'S RACE — Suspense became almost unbearable in a hard-fought, down-to-the-wire speaker's race. Waggoner Carr won a second term, 79-71, over challenger Joe Burkett. Now the race is on again with Reps. Wade Spilman of McAllen and James Turman of Goliad contending for the job in '61.

TAX BILL — It took a marathon meeting of the Legislature from January until August before agreement could be reached on a $185,000,000 new tax bill. Lawmakers faced, not only the need to cover a $2,418,000,000 budget for the 1959-61 biennium, but a dismaying $65,000,000 deficit.

Biggest bones of contention were two of Gov. Price Daniel's key proposals: the abandoned property tax, which did not pass; and the severance beneficiary tax on natural gas, which did. Three-fourths of the new revenue comes from selective sales taxes. A number of old sales levies, on autos, cigarettes and liquor, were upped. New ones, including fur, jewelry, air conditioners, phonographs, hotel and motel rentals, were added.

SIGNALS CHANGED — Though it was primarily a "tax session," Legislature passed a number of other laws with wide public effect. Political primaries and conventions will be held in May and June, instead of July and August. Boat owners must register their craft, observe certain safety regulations. City firemen and policemen won shorter hours, and city administrative officials grumblingly juggled their budgets to meet the extra cost. Truckers finally passed a bill they'd been pushing for some years to raise the truck load limit from 38,400 to 72,000 pounds.

TEACHER PAY — Question of whether a fourth special session should be called to raise money to increase teachers' salaries was posed but not answered in '59. Governor Daniel said he would leave it to the people to decide. Thus far the decision is not known, except that the governor said if he calls a session, it will not begin until after the Feb. 1 filing deadline for public officials.

TIDELANDS — Texas officials went before the U. S. Supreme Court again to fight for state ownership of the tidelands. Texas claims it owns the submerged lands for ten and one-half miles out. U. S. Attorney General says state ownership extends only three miles. High court's decision is awaited.

NEW BUILDINGS — A big part of Texas government picked up and moved this past fall from rented quarters scattered over Austin into three new state buildings. Texas Employment Commission Building, State Office Building and State Courts Building were completed within a few months of each other. Earlier the Health Department expanded into a new building. A State Archives Building is in construction, and an Insurance Building is on the drawing board.

AUTO INSURANCE RATES — State Board of Insurance announced new auto insurance rates designed to put the burden of expense on the drivers who have the accidents. Plan has stirred up a beehive of controversy. But it is to go into effect, as scheduled, Jan. 1.

LIBI FOR PRESIDENT — State politics was almost swept aside after Speaker Sam Rayburn announced a Lyndon Johnson for President campaign. Texas party leaders took up the banner, and Johnson clubs spread across the state, covering, at last count, 191 counties. Senator Johnson says he is not a candidate for president. But he has criss-crossed the state in an energetic "re-election" campaign.

ELECTION CAMPAIGNS — Pollicking was rampant as the year ended, but very few candidates have paid their filing fees for statewide offices. Some put off filing until January to avoid competing with Christmas for public attention. Others are awaiting for Governor Daniel to say whether he will seek a third term before they decide whether to stay put or try to move up.

OIL STILL TRICKLING — Texas oil wells will flow only 10 days in January. This production pattern, the same as during December, was ordered by the Railroad Commission after major purchasers' requests ranged from 9 to 11 days.

THREE MILLION JOBS — Texas will enter the 'sixties with more than 3,000,000 employed in non-farm jobs. Employment gained 7,000 over November to push the total at mid-December to 2,999,000, the Texas Employment Commission reported.

Attainment of the 3,000,000 figure was expected by late December, the report said.

ANOTHER TAX STUDY — State taxes will undergo another study by a nine-member legislative and layman committee. Particular attention will be directed at property taxes and the new taxes adopted in the recent sessions.

Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria, who was chairman of the tax study committee for the past two years, was named to head the new effort. Rep. Frates Seelig, son of San Antonio will again be vice chairman as before. A layman, John McKee of Dallas, will also serve again in his previous role as secretary.

Other members of the committee are Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas; Sen. Louis Crump, San Saba; Rep. Gordon Bristow, Big Spring; Rep. V. L. (Bo) Ramsey, Beckville; Hugo Lorvenstein, Amarillo; Dr. John R. Stockton of Austin.

Hearings will again be heard over the state as during the past two years. They will begin early in 1960.

TEXAS CITIES SELF-RELIANT

If Senator Lyndon B. Johnson decides to run in the 1960 Presidential Derby, he has a horse for the purpose. This four-year-old quarter horse was presented to the Senator by Tarrant County supporters at a recent appreciation dinner. Senator Johnson lifts his western-style hat in responsive appreciation.

T. H. Boedeker Passes After Long Illness

An early-day pioneer of Floyd County died at 1:05 a. m. Dec. 23 in Lockney General Hospital after a long illness. He was theodor Herman Boedeker, 85, who had been in the hospital for 14 months. Boedeker had been a resident of the county since 1900. Born Nov. 14, 1873 in Gay Hill, Tex., he married Miss Emma Schmidt in 1905 at Anderson, Tex. The couple moved to Channing the same year where he assisted in construction of the Hartley County courthouse. Later the family moved to the Providence community, near Lockney, where Boedeker farmed until ill health forced his retirement.

Funeral rites were conducted Thursday in the Providence Lutheran Church. The Rev. A. K. Windecker, pastor, and Rev. Charles Broadhurst of the Lockney First Baptist Church, officiated. Burial was in Plainview Cemetery under the direction of

Battle Border

Little known facts about Texas boundaries.

A PUBLIC SERVICE OF THE TEXAS ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE.

This is the ninth corner of Texas. But where was the northwest corner? On paper, the compromise of 1850 said the top of the Panhandle was the parallel line of 36 degrees 30'. To the west it was set at the 103rd meridian as it ran north and south. Ostensibly the northwest corner was where these lines met.

However, it wasn't easy to locate these things on the good earth. Texas' Governor E. M. Pease appointed Commissioners William R. Scurry, representing Texas, and John H. Clark, U. S. Representative, to mark the boundary between Texas and the territory of the United States.

They were working east along the 32nd parallel, north latitude when they got into a political argument, the North v. the South. The Texans got so mad they quit the camp.

Clark and party proceeded with the survey, going north along the 103rd meridian to a point he thought to be the northwest corner. He dug a circle in the ground, placing a large cedar post in the middle.

Then he turned southward to a point above the Canadian river where he had camped the winter before. Before he could finish that survey the Greer County controversy flared anew and he left the 103rd meridian for the troubled 100th meridian.

In the meantime a survey of over 5,000,000 acres of land in Dallam, Hartley, Oldham, Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro, Lamb, Bailey, Cochran and Hockley counties was made so the Capitol builders could pick their three million acres.

The Capitol Company dispatched Col. A. C. Babcock to Texas to make an on-the-ground inspection. The colonel proved to be a real dude, traveling to Buffalo Spring in a four-mule "ambulance," bringing his own canned food delicacies. He refused to eat anything fixed by the camp cook because he used cow chips for fuel.

"The colorful colonel left his mark on the country. Cow chips became known as "Babcock coal" in the high plains country," Wilson said.

Babcock found two monuments—Clark's and the one made by U. S. surveyors Richard O. Chaney and William W. Smith when they were doing work in territory north of the Panhandle.

In the event the Chaney-Smith location should be established as the correct 103rd meridian, the ownership of the strip of territory two miles wide and 310 miles long would jump from Texas to New Mexico.

However, to the vast relief of Texans, Clark's lines were confirmed by an Act of Congress in 1891.

Then other trouble jumped up. The line drawn by Clark was one-half mile west of the true 103rd meridian. Clark had first started his line on the south, stopped, and began anew from the north.

The two lines would never meet if projected from there to eternity.

The New Mexico constitutional convention in 1910 raised a howl of protest and tried fast, sly footwork. They said the eastern boundary was not on the true 103rd meridian and laid claim to the land between the two lines.

In the act of admitting New Mexico to statehood there was buried in fine print a leeper clause that set New Mexico's eastern boundary at the true 103rd meridian.

The Capitol Company and the powerful XIT ranch mounted defense that proved disastrous to the claims of New Mexico. John V. Farwell was a college chum of U. S. President William Howard Taft. He briefed Taft on the history of the boundary dispute and Taft decided "it was an outrage for New Mexico to attempt to get this land from Texas."

Congress passed a joint resolution in 1911 making null and void this sleeper in the New Mexican constitution.

As writer J. Evetts Haley says: "The old school tie had really helped."

This same resolution authorized the President to act in conjunction with Texas and set up the Scott-Cockrell commission to remark the boundary between the state and the territory on the line run by Clark for the 103rd meridian to the southeast corner of New Mexico, and then west with the 32nd parallel to the Rio Grande.

This was done. Texans figured that finally their border was pegged down with New Mexico. They were wrong.

Colonel Babcock was a real dude," Will Wilson says. "He refused to eat anything fixed by the camp cook because he used cow chips for fuel."

Whenever a part of the boundary of the City of Floydada is upon or along any street or avenue, the City Council will have the power to levy assessments against such abutting properties and against the owners thereof, as provided herein and in the prior proceedings of the City Council hereinafter referred to. No assessment will be made against any abutting property or the owner thereof by the City of Floydada, Texas, unless the special benefits to be derived therefrom are shown to be necessary or advisable, and the City Council shall have the power to close such hearing, and by the same or by a later ordinance or ordinance to levy such assessment before, during or after the construction of such improvements, but no part of any assessment against abutting properties shall be made to mature prior to acceptance by the City by ordinance of the improvements abutting the property for which the assessment is levied. It shall not be necessary to levy all of the assessment at one time or by a single ordinance, and aid hearing may be closed as to each portion of a street or avenue constituting a unit of improvement (as such units are designated below), after a fair opportunity for hearing has been afforded to all desiring to contest the assessments proposed to be levied against the owners and their properties abutting on the portion of each such street or avenue constituting a unit of improvement; and the City Counciling, grading, filling and permadistinct improvement units. These units are stated in connection with the listing of each street and avenue or portion thereof within and outside the limits hereinafter defined constituting such improvement units. The estimated amount or amounts per front foot to be assessed against the owner or owners of properties abutting such street or avenue or portion thereof and such properties; the estimated total cost of the street improvement in each improvement unit and the width of paved surface to be attained from back of curb to back of curb.

In each unit, except in those units in which there is existing curb and gutter, there is included in the estimated amount per front foot proposed to be assessed, approximately $1.75 per linear foot for curb and gutter.

There is included within the estimated amount to be assessed against the abutting properties and the owners thereof a proportionate part of the engineering costs, as well as a proportionate part of all other incidental costs in the construction of the improvements, including Engineer's fees and Fiscal Agent's fees.

The designation of such streets and avenues or portions thereof and such other information is as follows:

The streets and avenues or portions thereof to be improved within the limits designated by this notice are listed below, as approved by the City Council of the City of Floydada, Texas.

The nature of the improvements to be made within the limits designated by this notice relates to the excavating, grading, filling and perma-

So now we come to the end of one of the best production years Texas agriculture ever had - but net farm income is dropping down a full 15 per cent below 1958, says John C. White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, discussing agricultural affairs of the state.

The 1959 Texas cotton crop is estimated at around 4,500,000 bales, compared with 4,300,000 bales in 1958. Sorghum grain production is figured at about 277,000,000 bushels for 1959, a little up from the 273,065,000 bushels harvested in 1958.

Rice production for the year is running at 3,136,000 hundredweight against 1,936,000 cut in 1958. The corn crop is due to exceed 41,366,000 bushels, also up from 1958. The Rio Grande Valley is well under way with at least a nine million box citrus season, up two million from 1958, and the first real bumper season since the disastrous freeze in 1951.

Ranges and livestock in general are in their best condition in the past 10 years. There were an estimated 8,510,000 cattle on Texas ranges at the beginning of the year, along with 5,335,000 sheep, and there are more now.

But cotton is the cheapest for any December in a decade. Corn is bringing $1.12 a bushel, compared with $1.21 a year ago. Overproduction and cheapness of corn is going to have its effect on the vital Texas sorghum grain market - if not this year, certainly next year. Livestock markets, seldom robust and always highly sensitive, are showing signs of weakening in the face of heavy production.

There is a drastic squeeze in the parity ratio - in relation to the prices they pay, the prices received by farmers in 1959 are the lowest in 19 years. The farmer's share of each dollar spent by the consumer has dropped to 38 cents, lowest since 1942. The most authoritative sources agree that farm income is due to fall somewhat lower next year - in other words, things are liable to get worse before they get any better.

Shooting Victim Was Sister Of Lockney Women

Alice Lou Haun, 40, a beauty operator of Clovis, N. Mex., a sister of two Lockney women, was killed Thursday in a double-shooting in a park at Clovis. Mrs. Haun was killed instantly by a head wound, and a male companion, Sgt. John Alderson of Indiana, died a few minutes following the shooting.

Investigating officers said the two were in an automobile parked in a park at Clovis. Both were slumped over in the car, and both suffered gun shot wounds in the temple. Mrs. Haun's two sons, Melvin Lee and Lendell Wayne of Alton, Mo., were visiting in Clovis at the time of the shooting.

Funeral rites for the woman were conducted in Clovis Monday and interment was in Lockney Cemetery.

Survivors in addition to the two sons are a daughter, Mrs. Wilma LaHue of Clovis; four sisters, Mrs. W. C. Wisdom and Mrs. A. L. Vernon of Lockney; Mrs. W. A. Sparks of Portales, N. Mex.; and Mrs. Evelyn Bashore, Covington, Ky.; five brothers, Joe E. Jackson, with the armed forces in Africa; Sam L. Jackson, Muleshoe; J. T. Texas Production Bursting Barn Door But Income Down

So now we come to the end of one of the best production years Texas agriculture ever had - but net farm income is dropping down a full 15 per cent below 1958, says John C. White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, discussing agricultural affairs of the state.

CENTER, Dec. 28 - Today is a beautiful day and still part of the holidays, although Christmas has come and gone. Christmas with its solemn meaning, the uncertain weather, the homecomings, feasting and Santa Claus. Today the exodus began, some of it began yesterday afternoon. We hope most people had a happy holiday season. But we sympathize with those for whom it brought sorrow and grief. So many fatalities in wrecks etc.

Our pulpit was filled by another fine young ministerial student of Wayland, Ronald Ledbetter of Silveston. He was accompanied by Franklin Hunt. We heard two very fine sermons. Other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Green and children of Peralta, N. Mex. Mr. and Mrs. Doc Ryman and children of Sweeney, Tex., and Don Clark Green of Big Spring.

All the Greens and Ryman were holiday guests of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Green. Mrs. Don Clark Green and son, Donnie, were also present for Christmas dinner. They were at Halls with her grandmother for part of the week-end.

The Clyde Green family returned from Dallas and Fort Worth Saturday, where they spent some of the week visiting other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dunn, Mary and Joe Lee spent Christmas day in Lubbock with their son, Jimmy and family and daughter, Margaret.

Saturday they left to spend the weekend in Alva, Okla., visiting Frank's mother and other relatives.

Christmas day the J. D. Wellborns had all their children home for dinner. They were Mr. and Mrs. James David Wellborn and baby of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Arney and Steve of Floydada and Jo Ann, Donna and Bobby Mack of the home.

Sunday James David and family returned to Canyon accompanied by Jo Ann.

FROM THE FOLKS AT

Battle Border

Little known facts about Texas boundaries.

This is the ninth corner of Texas. But where was the northwest corner? On paper, the Compromise of 1850 said the top of the Panhandle was the parallel line of 36 degrees 30'. To the west it was set at the 103rd meridian as it ran north and south. Ostensibly the northwest corner was where these lines met.

However, it wasn't easy to locate these things on the good earth.

Texas' Governor E. M. Pease appointed Commissioners William R. Scurry, representing Texas, and John H. Clark, U. S. Representative, to mark the boundary between Texas and the territory of the United States.

They were working east along the 32nd parallel, north latitude, when they got into a political argument, the North v. the South. The Texans got so mad they quit the camp.

Clark and party proceeded with the survey, going north along the 103rd meridian to a point he thought to be the northwest corner. He dug a circle in the ground, placing a large cedar post in the middle.

Then he turned southward to a point above the Canadian river where he had camped the winter before. Before he could finish that survey the Greer County controversy flared anew and he left the 103rd meridian for the troubled 100th meridian.

In the meantime a survey of over 5,000,000 acres of land in Dallam, Hartley, Oldham, Deaf Smith, Parmer, Castro, Lamb, Bailey, Cochran and Hockley counties was made so the Capitol builders could pick their three million acres.

The Capitol Company dispatched Col. A. C. Babcock to Texas to make an on-the-ground inspection. The colonel proved to be a real dude, traveling to Buffalo, Spring in a four-mule "ambulance," bringing his own canned food delicacies. He refused to eat anything fixed by the camp cook because he used cow chips for fuel.

"The colorful colonel left his mark on the country. Cow chips became known as 'Babcock coal' in the high plains country," Wilson said.

Babcock found two monuments, one made by W. C. Trowbridge, Amarillo, and U. S. surveyors Richard O. Chaney and William W. Smith when they were doing work in territory north of the Panhandle.

In the event the Chaney-Smith location should be established as the correct 103rd meridian, the ownership of the strip of territory two miles wide and 310 miles long would jump from Texas to New Mexico.

However, to the vast relief of Texans, Clark's lines were confirmed by an Act of Congress in 1891.

Then other trouble jumped up. The line drawn by Clark was one-half mile west of the true 103rd meridian. Clark had first started his line on the south, stopped, and began anew from the north. The two lines would never meet if projected from there to eternity.

The New Mexico constitutional convention in 1910 raised a howl of protest and tried fast, sly footwork. They said the eastern boundary was not on the true 103rd meridian and laid claim to the land between the two lines.

In the act of admitting New Mexico to statehood there was buried in fine print a leeper clause that set New Mexico's eastern boundary at the true 103rd meridian.

The Capitol Company and the powerful XIT ranch mounted defense that proved disastrous to the claims of New Mexico. John V. Farwell was a college chum of U. S. President William Howard Taft. He briefed Taft on the history of the boundary dispute and Taft decided "it was an outrage for New Mexico to attempt to get this land from Texas."

Congress passed a joint resolution in 1911 making null and void this sleeper in the New Mexican constitution.

As writer J. Evetts Haley says: "The old school tie had really helped."

This same resolution authorized the President to act in conjunction with Texas and set up the Scott-Cockrell commission to remark the boundary between the state and the territory on the line run by Clark for the 103rd meridian to the southeast corner of New Mexico, and then west with the 32nd parallel to the Rio Grande.

This was done. Texans figured that finally their border was pegged down with New Mexico. They were wrong.

"Colonel Babcock was a real dude," Will Wilson says. "He refused to eat anything fixed by the camp cook because he used cow chips for fuel."
