Month Of New Home Building Sets Pattern

Building permits in Floydada for the month of May, spurred principally by proposed construction of new homes, have soared close to the quarter million mark, city records disclose.

As of Tuesday the permit record showed upward of $200,000 in dollars and cents with at least one large home not estimated as to cost.

Accounting for $28,300 of the total are three business and industrial building permits. Of these one is a $1,500 metal warehouse with concrete floor 32 by 90 feet for A. L. Wylie on Lot 16, Block 142.

A masonry addition for an office at Fieldon Motel is covered in a permit to Menard Field, estimated to cost $1,800.

Permit issued to Plainview Production Credit Association covers the construction of a business office facing on South Fifth estimated to cost $25,000. It will be of masonry and brick with a light weight concrete roof, located on south 50 feet of Lot 19 and the west 25 feet of the south 50 feet of Lots 20, 21 and 22, in Block 71. Work was started on this building Monday morning. Raymond Jamison has the contract.

The association outgrew their old quarters adjacent to the new building and have contracted to sell the building they now occupy to a new organization, a corporation to be known as Caprock Cotton Marketing Association, now in process of being formed.

Permits were taken out last week for twelve new residences on South Wall in Block 6 of the Bartley Heights Addition by Floyd K. Cantrell, for a total of $109,900. Cantrell filed the plat of the new block Tuesday of this week. He said that many detailed requirements which had to be complied with had slowed down this new construction he has planned. The houses will meet Veterans Administration specifications and are to cost the buyers $9,950 each.

Other new homes in process of construction include:

Residence of J. W. Day Jr., in Block No. 9 of Western Annex Addition, on 30 feet of Lot 13 and all of Lot 14; $15,000;

The pattern of the Pioneers Reunion set in prior years will be followed rather closely. Registration begins at 9 o'clock and the organization formalities will be done with before the entertainment and the fun begins.

When the old settlers are called to order at 10 o'clock the election of officers for next year will be held and the memorial service will be held for pioneers who have passed since the meeting one year ago.

A novel part of the morning's program will be presentation of "The Old Sod House," by Mrs. John Hughes of Lubbock. District Judge L. D. Ratliff of the 110th District, of Spur, will be the featured speaker for the old settlers morning session preceding the noon-day lunch. The judge is a native West Texan, born at Decatur and reared at Haskell. He has been a resident of Floydada for several years.

Mrs. Baird Has Narrow Escape From Rattler

To the fact that she was wearing a pair of Levis one late afternoon recently may be attributed the saving of Mrs. Edward Baird's life from a rattler snake bite. She was struck at by a rattler Sunday, May 14.

Although suffering after effects of the venom and painful swelling in her leg for several days, Mrs. Baird is getting along nicely now, she says.

The incident occurred near the Baird home. Mrs. Baird, her children and neighboring children were in a pasture near the house. Previously attending to outside chores in shorts, Mrs. Baird said she had decided to change to levis. Back in the pasture again, the youngsters ran ahead and Mrs. Baird stopped to slap a mosquito bite just as the rattler struck.

She said she jumped back at the precise moment avoiding a direct strike by the serpent which was later killed. Mrs. Baird said she went on about her work knowing her leg had not been penetrated by the snake's fangs but she didn't realize the venom was on her levis, and eventually penetrated the skin. The snake had six rattles.

Around 9 o'clock that evening she became ill and her leg up to her hip joint started stiffening. Neighbors checked on her and work started March 14. Under the supervision of the resident doctor, the route follows a road that has been in general use since the early after the establishment of the county.

Rev. Paul Fullerton, pastor of the First Christian Church, will speak.

A firing squad and color guard will be made up of members of the organizations.

Ladies of the VFW Auxiliary will assist in the ceremonies and will pin flowers on those present from the families of the honored dead.

In case of unsettled weather the service will be held at the Christian church.

Floydada Rotary Club will have two representatives at the International Convention at Miami beginning Sunday.

President-elect A. L. Wylie Jr. and Mrs. Wylie, and Mr. and Mrs. Newell Burk will leave in Wylie's private plane for Miami Saturday morning. Outstanding Young Farmer Wins Acclaim

Eddie Fortenberry has been named the outstanding young farmer of the area and is winner of a new electric range to go along with this outstanding honor.

Southwestern Public Service Company presented the handsome prize to the farm family.

Fortenberry is a member of the Lockney Chapter of Young Farmers of Texas. He was judged on his background as a farmer, his equipment and use of this equipment, diversification of farming, livestock in the farm operation, records to show exact returns from phases of the operation, and multitude of practices that are counted on to improve the lot of the farmer.

Also considered was community work and activities outside the farm that are participated in.

The Fortenberrys farm, 32 acres in the Barwise community in extreme western Floyd County. Some 20 acres of this is in pasture and the balance in cultivation. His crops are wheat, milo, cotton and native grasses for seed and for grazing. He was recently recognized as a soil conservationist for his work with irrigated grasses and harvesting of grass seed.

Fortenberry got his education in the Lockney public schools and started dry land farming in northeast Floyd County during the early drought years of 1950. Five years ago he moved to the present farm home at Barwise which is irrigated.

Thousands of youngsters will walk down auditorium aisles this week, to the solemn beat of "Pomp and Circumstance." With academic robes flapping and mortar boards set on aslant, they look eagerly to a future of free choices on their own.

For this one week, at least, they are important as individuals. Their status as graduating seniors has made them the envy of all the juniors, sophomores, and freshmen. Teachers and principal give them special recognition, now that they are no longer subject to classroom discipline. Their parents are proud. They have been cited for school honors, received gifts, been party honorees.

Let them enjoy their brief moment in the sun, because Brother they have work to do! What a strange world they are entering this week as young adult citizens. Is it civilized or primitive? Friendly or hostile? Half of its inhabitants of which they are a lucky part take comfort and plenty for granted, the other half accepts half-hunger as the status quo. With one hand, modern technology increases their life span; with the other it reduces the need for manpower.

Yet despite the contradictions, it's an interesting and exciting world into which this year's harvest of new citizens moves. And the graduates are right — they are important as individuals. The more surely they cling to this conviction, the sooner they may bring the bigger questions of satellites and missiles and jet-propelled submarines into focus for people in all lands.

Let's hope this year's graduates remember that all nations are made up of individuals. All can be friends and neighbors if only they learn how to touch the common chord of human understanding.

We make just enough Gladiola Flour for our near neighbors—in Texas and a little bit beyond. These ladies are the best home bakers in the U.S.A.—and the sharpest judges of flour quality.

That works out fine for us. We know precisely what our customers want, and precisely how to make it. That's why snow-white Gladiola Flour outsells every other brand, every day, every year.

The women-folk in Kissimmee, Fla., just can't bake biscuits, cakes and pies like yours. They don't have Gladiola Flour. Only you and your neighbors can buy it. And, for the average family, it costs only about 1/2¢ a day more than the cheapest flour made.

Driver-less Auto Blasts Brick Wall

A driver-less car, already practically wrecked, from an intersection collision earlier with a half-ton pickup, jumped through a hedge and slammed into the car garage attached to the DeWitt Seago home late Tuesday on South Fifth Street.

Miss Ina Jean Noland, was driver of the 1959 four-door Emu, and the pick-up was being driven by Johnny Stutts. The two vehicles crashed in the south part of the intersection of 5th and West Kentucky.

Perry Smith, city police, who investigated the unusual accident, said Miss Noland was driving along Kentucky street headed east. Stutts was driving south of 5th, and failed to yield right-of-way at a stop sign.

Miss Noland, seeing the pick-up was not going to stop, started braking her car and pulling to the right of the street. Her car and the right front fender of the pick-up hit.

Miss Noland said she found herself partly falling out of her car. Thinking the vehicle had come to a stop, she stepped out just as it started gaining momentum.

The Chevrolet went through a thick hedge on the corner and side of the Seago home and then gained added speed just as it went through the front end and south wall of the Seago garage. Garage men said the throttle of the car undoubtedly hung on the first impact causing the burst of speed.

Neither driver was hurt seriously. Miss Noland was taken to Lockney Hospital for x-rays and treatment of twisted ligaments of her back. Miss Noland is secretary of District Attorney John B. Stapleton.

Estimate of damage had not been made late yesterday.

Mrs. Hill did not know what route the party would take on their return to Midway, but it normally up in the morning Tuesday as they made preparation to resume the trip. Overnight they had had a new engine installed, and had been most kindly treated by the people of the community.

"All of us, teachers as well as members of the class, are much impressed with Floydada," said Mrs. Roy Hill, who is English teacher in the school and wife of the principal. "We were treated so cordially by everyone that we hope, if we must have a break down on the way home it will be in Floydada again."

The party made Fieldan Motel their headquarters overnight. In the party with the seniors (every member of the class made the trip) were Superintendent and Mrs. M. T. Rice, Principal Roy Hill and Mrs. Hill, as chaperones. Mr. Hill is sponsor of the class.

By Cecil Lewis Cotton Insect Situation There have been many questions about insects cutting holes in the cotton leaves. This is caused by an insect called a Springtail. This is a greyish colored insect that hops like a flea. Their main source of food is decaying organic matter. This hole in the leaves is usually done before the cotton comes up. They work mostly in the soil. Control applied after the cotton is up for Springtails is not economical in most cases.

Thrips are moving out of wheat fields into small cotton and in some cases are doing damage to young cotton. The new cotton insect control guide which is available in the County Agents office has been changed for 1960. The use of our common insecticides for thrip and fleahopper has been changed. The addition of DDT or malathion is necessary for thrips and fleahopper control. Thrips have built up a resistance to Toxaphene, dieldrin, Endrin, Heptachlor and Strobane and for best results a combination of D D T or malathion should be used with the listed insecticides.

Grasshopper Count Low The grasshopper survey has just been completed in Floyd County. The count appears to be low in most areas except in some soil bank land north of Floydada. Some counts are found in fence rows, but the count there is not a very high infestation. Damaging infestation of grasshoppers would have to count 40 nymphs per square yard. It is estimated that about one-third of these newly hatched grasshoppers will reach maturity.

New Minister Of Local Church Is Fresh From Mission Field

Henry Ewing, a missionary for nine years in Africa and only 11 months in the United States, returned to the United States in March. He is the new minister of City Park Church of Christ, succeeding Richard M. Williams who resigned in April to take a similar post with a Snyder, Texas, church. Ewing with his wife, Elizabeth, four daughters and two sons, reached Floydada Wednesday last week, and took up residence in the minister's home on West Georgia. The returned missionary preached for the congregation Sunday morning and evening.

Before going overseas (to Africa) Mr. Ewing was minister at Natalia, Texas. His ministry in Africa was at Bulawayo in Southern Rhodesia. He worked with the natives in that area. Since his return in March, Ewing has been on a lecture tour that has taken him to speak to many congregations. The Ewing family is an interesting one. The children are in school.

passed in a buggy, wagon or hack. Then as if through looking at newcomers which did not have feathers in their hair and with painted faces, the antelope turned and ran with their white tails making moving blobs on the green prairies.

I have had the pleasure of seeing acres and acres of white daisies nodding over the green grass, the same acres of ones of pure gold. I saw the sun creep up over the very edge of the land in a frame of pink and yellow and blue: I have seen the same sun go down in the splendor of sunset, this time framed in the brilliance of gold and purple, red and orange. I have heard the rustle of wings of mother quail and her young as they slipped into the bushes, the lonesome howling of the lobo at night and the yapping of slinking coyotes.

I have smelled the fragrance of white plum blossoms, the burnt smell of the prairies after a big prairie fire had passed over the land leaving it a blackened land.

I have enjoyed steaks of the antelope, the delicious baked prairie hen with rich dressing seasoned with sage and onions; the chess pies made for special occasions.

I have slept on the good old soft featherbeds with their shuck undermattresses. I have slept on a few saggans covered with a tarpaulin under the stars and watched with awe and wonder as my folks would point out the small red star called The North Star and one could use for a guide on the endless prairies if lost at night. There was Jacob's coffin of four stars, the Milky Way which we were told was when an old woman spilled her milk as she walked along while in Floydada.

As a Farm Woman Thinks

By Nellie Witt Spikes

THE WORLD
 O. Earth! thou hast not any wind that blows
 Which is not music; every weed of Thine
 Pressed rightly flows in aromatic wine.
 And every humble hedgerow flower that grows,
 Hath something greater than itself and bears
 A living word to everything. Albeit it holds the message unaware
 All shapes and sounds have something which is not
 Of them; a Spirit broods amid the grass;
 Vague outlines of the Everlasting Thought
 Lie in the meeting shadows as they pass;
 The touch of the Eternal Presence thrills
 The fringes of the sunsets and the hills.

Thank you for your kind invitation to come in and visit a world in plow, the clear blue lakes of water, the grazing herds. The has been a wonderful place to me. My first memories are of golden ripples on lakes, the tall evergreen oak trees, fruit trees of red ripe peaches and plums and apples, of blackberry and strawberry vines full of delicious fruit

I can recall the tree shaded streets that led to the stately courthouse in Weatherford Texas where I was born. I remember a little girl on a brown horse that rode down the streets in a gallop by Grandma Hunter's home. The hoof beats still come clear to my mind as I think how I envied that little girl with the flowing riding skirt and the gloved hands that held the bridle reins.

I see the Jones family, my mother's people moving West, leaving the old familiar home and scenes with a bit of heart ache for a new life farther west. The ox teams slowly pulled the heavy loaded wagons while the small herd of cattle were guarded on the trail. The trees became smaller and finally played out, the cedars hung on the sides of the blue hazed hills but wood could always be found to make camp fires.

I remember the long steep hill up the caprock after we left the scrubby cedars and the tall cottonwoods along the streams whose leaves whispered and waved to us to stay and live among them.

The beautiful lovely land on top of the cap, unbroken with the our good coffee. The world in-plow, the clear blue lakes of water, the grazing herds. The has been a wonderful place to me. My first memories are of golden ripples on lakes, the tall evergreen oak trees, fruit trees of red ripe peaches and plums and apples, of blackberry and strawberry vines full of delicious fruit

NOW LOOK WHAT CORVAIR'S GONE AND DONE!

The same Corvair that tallied a thumping 27.03 miles per gallon* in the Mobilgas Economy Run . . . went right on to climb Pikes Peak earlier in the spring than any car has ever tried!

We wanted to show you what the fabulous traction of Corvair's rear-engine design and the sure-footedness of four-wheel independent suspension really mean. So the identical Economy Run car went right on to 14,110-foot Pikes Peak—and right up to the top of that savage mountain, on April 15, still deep in winter's snow and ice. No other car—even specially equipped—had ever been able to conquer that nightmare alpine road so early in the spring. But Corvair (with United States Auto Club officials aboard to certify that not one nut or bolt was changed) purred right to the summit without chains or even snow tires! That just underscores the fact that Corvair is totally unique. But you'll find that out the first five minutes you're at the wheel!

THE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Even the total goal is near the same. In 1959 the Legislature passed a bill aimed at raising $185,000,000 in new money. Governor Daniel estimates 1961 new-money needs at $193,000,000. This is to cover an expected deficit of about $68,800,000 and increased annual spending of about $62,527,000.

To raise this money, the governor suggests revising the corporation franchise tax formula and increasing the liquor tax, gross receipts tax on utilities and the auto sales tax. He also suggests passing the abandoned-property act (allowing the state to take over unclaimed bank accounts, property, etc.) and putting a tax on beer and cigarettes sold on military bases.

Governor Daniel also told the Commission of four other tax ideas which he said had been suggested by others.

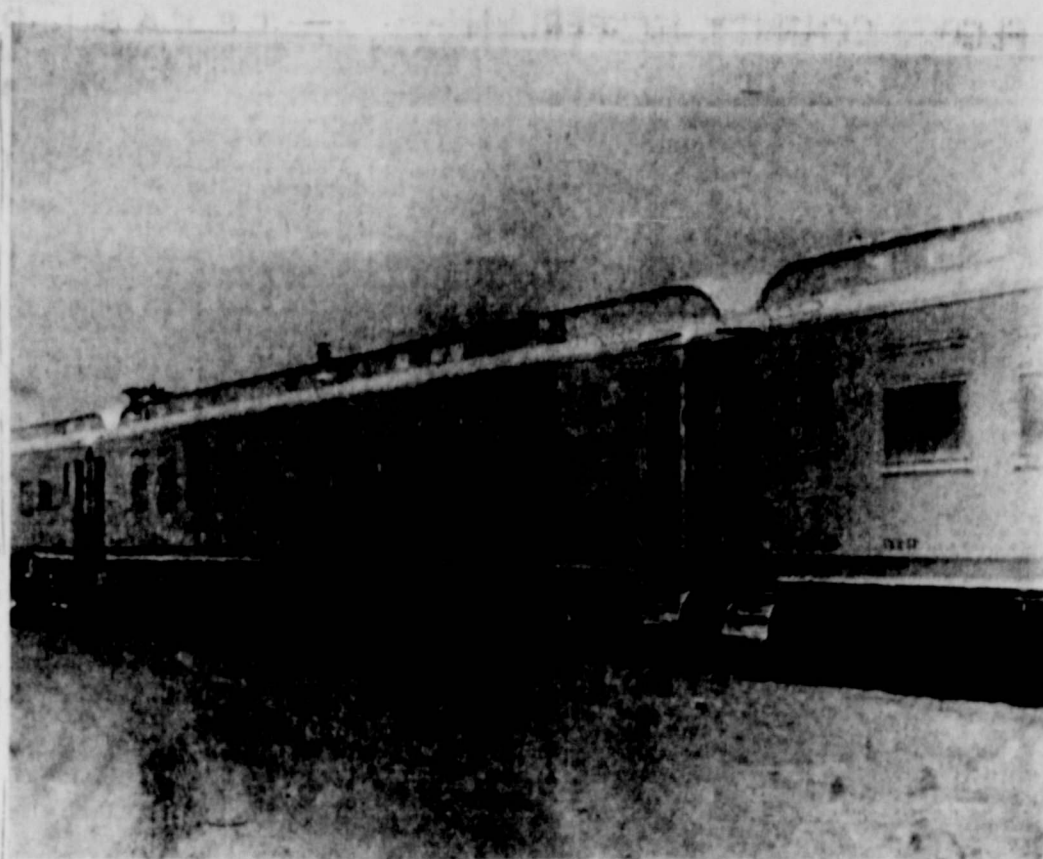

- These include:
1. A 10 per cent increase on all items in the Omnibus Tax Bill except cigarettes, tobacco and franchises.
 2. A 1-cent-a-gallon increase in the gasoline tax.
 3. A tax of 1 cent per thousand cubic feet on the processing of natural gas.
 4. A 3 per cent tax on gross receipts of gas pipeline companies.

Governor Daniel said he knew his proposal would be criticized as "riding the same old horses." But he said the affected tax sources would not be taxed any heavier than those in neighboring and competing states.

Finance Commission is to begin committee work this month and hold another joint session of its 34 members — all leaders in their fields — in June.

TAX EXEMPT SALES JUMP — Texas apparently is losing some tax revenue through sale of tax-exempt cigarettes on military posts, reports State Comptroller, Robert S. Calvert.

Calvert told the State Finance Commission that since the state tax increased to eight cents a pack last year, cigarette sales at federal installations have jumped almost a million packs a month. He said sale of tax-exempt cigarettes in March, 1960, was up by 1,500,000 packs over what it was in March, 1959. Military officials denied that non-taxed cigarette-selling privileges had been abused.

HOME IS WHERE THE HEART IS but for eight Slaton men with the crew now in Floydada working on new drain boxes in the Santa Fe yards their home is temporary and on wheels. The crew moved in on the tracks near the Texaco warehouse in the north part of the yards Monday of last week and are expected to complete their job here sometime this week. The work being done by the men will help give a better drainage system for the town.

DEMO HOUSING PROBLEM

Austin hotel and motel facilities will be stretched beyond capacity when an estimated 3,000 come here June 14 for the State Democratic Convention.

It's more people than Austin can accommodate. To ease the problem a little, the State Democratic Executive Committee has ruled that no room reservations will be made for persons living within 75 miles of the Capital City.

Also in preparation for the big day, SDEC has named a credentials committee whose job will be to decide which delegates shall be admitted.

Four counties had "rump" conventions and will send two rival delegations to Austin. Governor Daniel, pooh-poohing the "rump" groups, said they were all too small to be a threat to the official delegations.

BEAUTIFUL MAPS READY

Texas' new 1960 official highway map, illustrated with 11 dramatic full-color pictures, now is available for the asking.

It's not only handsome, but informative. It shows the 1,933 miles of multi-lane divided highways not completed. Also, 29,278 miles of state and U. S. highways and 20,000 miles of farm-to-market roads.

Lakes, state parks and roadside parks are indicated. Texas' history, geography, and present opportunities are summarized.

In line with the state's tourism-seeking policy, it is headed, "All of Texas Welcomes You."

To get the map, write the Texas Highway Department, Austin 11, or drop by a highway district office and travel bureau. County tax offices have cards on hand to request maps.

MED. SCHOOL MONEY SOUGHT

A new money request awaiting the Legislature next year will be that of the University of Texas for $100,000 for planning of a new medical branch in San Antonio.

UT Regents said the money would be used to get specialists in medical center planning to estimate what would be required. With this information the board could draw up plans and a request for funds for the center itself from a later Legislature.

Old Settlers Celebration Crowned With School Roll Call

Peals from the same little hand bell with which Sam Kelsey, Floydada's first school teacher, assembled his pupils one September morn nearly 46 years ago rang out clear and sharp again today as the veteran teacher called nearly 400 pioneer settlers of the county to order in the observance of the forty-third anniversary of the founding of Floyd County.

Lifting the shades of time from the scenes of nearly a half century ago, old settlers, some of them near the century mark, lived again in the olden days as they hallowed the anniversary of the county's organization on May 23, 1890.

"Call to Books"

School Master Kelsey, 76, now of Sweetwater, brought to Floydada, the bell he used in calling his first class together, and its mellow tinkle today was heard by seven members of that frontier class.

The "call to books" at 10 o'clock this morning officially inaugurated the anniversary celebration under the sponsorship of the Floyd County Old Settlers' Association.

Members of the first class who answered present were Silas Duncan, Claude Burrus, G. L. Snodgrass, Tom Young, Glad Snodgrass, Neda Baker, and Claude V. Hall, professor of history at the East Texas State Teachers College at Commerce who was principal speaker on the anniversary program.

Basket Luncheon Held

Highlights of today's celebration included the opening ceremonies, morning speeches, a basket luncheon, memorial service, the executive business session and the climaxing parade and square dances.

Officers of the pioneer group who were named to serve during 1953 are George L. Fawver, president, R. E. L. Muncy, re-elected vice-president; Tom W. Deen, re-elected secretary and Glad Snodgrass, Mrs. Aura Adams Hollis, Dr. C. J. McCollum, Miss Anna Sims and R. E. Fry, members of the executive committee. Glad Snodgrass is the retiring president of the association.

Traces County's History

In the anniversary speech delivered this morning, Professor Hall traced the history of the early Floyd County days in which he refuted the idea that early days were "hard times." New experiences and new adventures, he said, made life in the West Texas environment a pleasure.

The land was and is, he said, an empire of opportunity. Pioneers visualized the county's potentialities, blazed the trail and saw ultimate realization of their dreams, the historian pointed out.

Professor Hall discussed present conditions and prophesied future growth, achievement and development in Floyd County. He praised the fertility of soil and gave opinions of scientific holdings that agricultural lands in the area will endure for a century to come without fertilization processes being necessary.

Texas Laws Lauded

The educator also lauded the Texas laws, saying the state jurisprudence, taking the best based its legal code upon heritages from English and Spanish elements of each.

Among the human interest features evident in the anniversary celebration today were yarns of frontier days recounted by the remaining pioneers.

Leading the parade this afternoon were Centenarian Isaac Willhoit, 101 years old, and his wife, who is 91 years old, both of them natives of Texas and now residents of Floyd County. The couple have been wedded 71 years.

Uncle Wash Is There

Prominent in the ceremonies was Uncle Wash Nichols, 91, now of Lockney and early settler of Floyd County. Col. Massie, one of the early day school teachers, told the story of his first school experience in the county. He said he received $40 for the first two months teaching of a four-month term, and that for the last two months work he was paid with "a load of cedar posts and a lot of cedar firewood."

John Kerlin, another pioneer recounted how he had mowed prairie hay growing three feet high on the present site of the Floyd County Courthouse.

Congratulations were extended to Maude Duncan Hollums, first white child born in what now is Floyd County and who had resided in the county all of her life. She was prominent in anniversary rites.

Gold Badge—45 Years

Length of residence in the county was distinguished by different colored badges worn by association members. Gold badges were pinned on those residing in the county for 45 years or more. Blue symbolized residence of 35 years or more, and white of 25 years or more.

Shortly before luncheon on the county lawn at noon today, the schedule included the report of the memorial committee headed by Mrs. John L. West, chairman of the names of 15 pioneers for whom a ten-minute memorial service was held were read to the assembly. Community singing of old religious hymns in tribute to those who passed away during the past year featured the service.

Inspirational one-minute talks by many of the prominent old settlers presented stories of early day experience in the county.

Old Timers in Parade

The program followed the address of welcome delivered by Mrs. Lon V. Smith, of Floydada. Prominent on the afternoon program was the old timers' parade led by Mr. and Mrs. Willhoit. Covered wagons and other types of transportation in vogue in 1890 were used in the procession. Many of the participants donned the frontier garb of a half century ago.

Following the parade, old time square dances were held on an especially constructed stand in the downtown district. Gold, blue and white badgers were allowed to dance in order of their residence. Music was furnished by old time fiddlers accompanied by banjo, guitar and French harp music.

C. E. Finley And Two Sisters Reunited Here After 44 Years

A reunion last week in Floydada brought together for the first time in over four decades two sisters and a brother. The happy affair took place in the home of Mrs. C. E. Finley with the arrival during the mid-week of Miss B. Rea Finley of Hollywood, Calif., and Mrs. D. F. Beene of Winnsboro, Tex.

The last time Mr. Finley saw Mrs. Beene was just two days prior to her wedding date some 44 years ago. It had been 40 years since he had seen his sister, B. Rea.

The get together of the three and other members of Mr. and Mrs. Finley's family, brought to mind memorable occasions of their childhood days and much reminiscing over the past.

Asked why the delay in visiting one another, Mrs. Beene said it seemed they were busy raising their families earlier in life, and later other problems arose. Letters and pictures of course kept the family in contact all these years.

A reunion of the family, including two other brothers were planned while the visiting sisters were in this part of the state, but a freak snowstorm in Missouri kept one brother away, and another brother was called to another part of the state on business.

The Finley children, C. E., Miss B. Rea, Mrs. Beene, W. O. Monahan and G. M. of Dex-while here," the visiting women, Mo., are descendants of Mr said

A small reception was held in the Finley home during their visit here to acquaint them with neighbors and members of the Finley children's families they had never met. The Earl Coopers and the Leonard Finleys of Lockney were among those calling.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Finley, who have resided in Floydada since 1928, said the visit of the sisters much too short, but all have hopes of getting together again soon, including the other two brothers also, next time.

Brother Of Mrs. Dean Davis Dies In Auto Crash

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Davis were in Lubbock Friday for funeral rites of William R. (Bud) Stout, 43, who died in Wickenburg, Ariz., hospital Monday of last week from injuries sustained earlier in a car accident. He is the husband of Mrs. Vivian Stout, sister of Mrs. Davis.

Services were conducted in the Franklin-Bartley Funeral Home at Lubbock. Burial will be in City of Lubbock cemetery.

Stout, advertising salesman, had lived in the South Plains area for some twelve years. He was a WW II veteran and a member of Lubbock View Christian Church.

Survivors include the wife, and eight year old son, and one sister of Michigan.
