'Winds Take Third Place In Regional Track, Field

Coaches Charles Tyer and Bill Curry and their green and white whirlwind track team brought home a third place from the regional track meet in Lubbock last Saturday afternoon. In winning this high honor the 'Winds' posted some of the highest marks in the history of Floydada High School and set one class AA regional record.

Ted Allen ran a blazing one-minute fifth-eight and five tenths second 880 yard dash to take first in the event, and set the new regional record. Local track fans say this is by far the fastest half mile mark in the history of the school.

Tommy Ogden is the other first place winner and a jump of six feet and one-fourth inch won him the high jump crown.

Both of these boys and their coaches will go to Austin next week to enter the state meet in the above named events.

Other Marks Are Good

Two other marks that were equally good as times go brought home only a third place in one event and fifth in another because of the extremely fast field and keen competition.

The Floydada 440 yard dash team ran a 43.8 second race but finished behind Stamford and Fort Stockton. Stamford won the race with a 43.5 to set a new regional record. The Floydada team of Richard Marler, Tommy Watts, Charles Christian and David Hutchins did set a new mark for the local school which had never run below 45 seconds in the race to the knowledge of any local track fan contacted or by check of the incomplete record books.

The mile relay team time was equally impressive but earned only a fifth place. The whirlwind team ran a 3:29.5 finishing behind Fort Stockton (3:24.3 - new record), Hamlin, Stamford and Perryton. Members of this team are Rodney Teague, Larry Orman, David Hutchins and Ted Allen. Previous best time in this event for the school before this year is believed to be 3:38 in 1953.

Rodney Teague took fourth place in both the high and low hurdles and Richard Marler got a fifth in the 100 yard dash to round out the scoring.

Fort Stockton took the class AA division of the meet with 76 1-3 points. Stamford was second with 58, Floydada third with 46 and Denver City fourth with 40. Other teams in district 2AA did not fare so well but Abernathy did make 18, Morton 10, Muleshoe 7 and Lockney 6.

Freddie Walker of Spur ran a 48.7 second quarter to set a new regional record and post a time that looked more like a university mark than that of a high school meet.

Tyer Will Start Record Book

Coach Charles Tyer said this week that he is starting a school track record book. At present he is posting the best times he knows in each event. These will be published in a week or two for the public. Fans who know of great past performances of Whirlwinds should let Coach Tyer know.

Mrs. Teeple Has Eventful Sunday

Mrs. R. I. Teeple, long time resident of Floyd County, observed her 79th birthday at the family home Sunday with a dinner given by her children and grandchildren. Present for the Sunday's celebration were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Teeple, Mr. and Mrs. Gaines Teeple, Mrs. Terry, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. Hamm and Arline, Mrs. Allen Gross and Terri, Addie Adkins and James Hartline.

Mrs. Teeple was born Nellie Oliver at Stephenville, Texas on April 22, 1882. She was married to Robert Irvin Teeple on November 12, 1901 in Waco, as they were seated in a buggy. The couple moved to Floydada in the year 1917 on a place three miles south of Floydada. In 1919 they built a new home one-half mile further south and sold the home place in 1947.

They moved into the city on California Street at that time, where Mrs. Teeple has resided since the death of her husband, Nov. 10, 1957.

Prior to his death the couple celebrated their Golden Wedding Anniversary on Nov. 11, 1951 with an open house.

What Wealth Is Average In County?

(Special to the Hesperian)

NEW YORK, April 25 — How wealthy is the average family in Floyd County? What assets has it accumulated in the way of savings, insurance, real estate, automobiles and equipment over the years?

Few families have more than a vague idea of how much they are worth. They are more concerned about their weekly incomes and the amount that has to come out for food and for general overhead. As to their total assets, they never took the time to add them up.

Some help in this direction, as it applies to the median family, is contained in studies made by the National Industrial Conference Board, by the Federal Reserve Board and by others. Their findings have been adjusted to reflect 1960 conditions.

They show that there is a direct relationship between income and net worth. Families with bigger earnings, year after year, have been able to set aside more. On the average, net worth is about 78 per cent of annual income.

Considering the level of income in Floyd County, as reported, the median local family is presumed to have a net worth of approximately $4,725.

This represents the market value of all its physical possessions—its house, its car, its furniture, its appliances and tools, the cash value of its life insurance, stocks and bonds and all the rest.

The figure is a net one, after subtracting mortgages, consumer debt and other obligations.

As to farm families, they have assets in addition to the usual ones in the form of land, buildings, livestock and farm equipment.

The net worth of $4,725 per family in Floyd County compares favorably with the average in the West South Central States as a whole, $4,230 per family in the State of Texas it is $4,400.

The answer is to be found, chiefly, in the fact that local residents have been enjoying incomes running 11.7 per cent above the sectional scale.

According to estimates contained in the Conference Board's Economic Almanac, updated to 1960, the national wealth of the American people is over $1,800 billion, not far from the fantastic sum of two trillion dollars. It includes government-owned property.

Judges were undecided as to the correct grading of Miss Barker's paper because of faulty spacing by the typewriter she was using. The paper was forwarded to Austin for the final decision and the possibility that she might have a first or second place that would allow her to go to Austin instead of the Alpine student, is presently in question is regarded as a mechanical failure rather than a personal error.

Other Floydada entries found the going a bit rough but did manage to salvage a few points. Helen Whitfill took a fifth in shorthand, Jay Holmes took a third in poetry reading, Chick Owens got a third in number sense, and the one-act play was judged second with Fort Stockton taking first and getting the best actor and best actress awards as well.

Grain Feed Law Sign Up Expected To Be General

Ready Monday Is Word From Office of ASC

Floyd County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee is taking a final look at their work sheets this week on the new Feed Grain control program, and were estimating yesterday that the office force will be ready to begin taking contracts by Monday of next week.

Yesterday the committee members were of the collective opinion that 75 per cent, possibly 80 per cent, of the growers will go along with the new regulations.

"While most of the operators view control of the grain feed crops unfavorably they realize that the mounting surplus has become a major problem, and that the new law may be the solution," said Thos. J. Hutchins, administrative officer of the committee.

Dollar-wise there is no doubt that the law will be beneficial in almost all cases where the grower goes along with the program, members of the committee think, and more than half of those who sign up will take the 40 per cent reduction.

In addition to giving the operator as much or more cash as he would get by planting and harvesting the acres, the rest for the land will be valuable. The farmer can summer till, he can raise a green crop to turn under, or he can turn out an infested field to rid it of noxious weeds, and still be in compliance, it is pointed out.

Only four marketable crops may be grown on the land left out of feed grain. Of these three are Castor beans, safflower and sunflower.

The program also is not due to work a hardship on local feed buyers. Committee members believe. Many Floyd County fields are expected to raise more than the official county average of 3,707 pounds. This excess yield will have to go on the open market, and the live stock feeder is likely to find all the feed he will need available through the usual trade channels.

Mr. Hutchins said this week that, contrary to expectations, the new activities would be handled by the present clerical force. "We may add one more employe, not more," he said.

However, the outside work, measuring the land, will be more than doubled this summer. In addition to the usual cotton acreage they will have to measure, some thing more than 100,000 acres, the outside work force will have to measure about 160,000 acres of feed grain land.

More room for the ASC clerical force will be put into use soon. Yesterday the Commissioners Court approved plans to incorporate part of the hallways into floor space for ASC by a re-arrangement of the openings for this force and the Soil Conservation Service. The new Feed Grain Law is not expected to call for more help it does call for more space for the office to carry on the additional job.

Meeting Tonight Will Map Boys Summer League Baseball Plans

Doyle Moore, president of Boys League Baseball in Floydada, re-announcing the sign-up meeting for tonight (April 27) said this week it appears there will be more interest even than in previous years among the boys.

Present indications point to forming four teams in the T-Shirt League, 8 to 9 years old, seven 15-boy teams each and furnish teams in the Junior League (10-11-12) and four teams of Freshmen boys (13-14-15).

"We want to get the boys together tonight at 7:30 at the Community Room of the First National Bank. Since we have to have a father's signature before we can assign a boy to a team we are anxious to have the fathers of prospective team members come out," said Mr. Moore in revealing plans for the season.

"A registration fee of $1 will be asked from boys who join up, but we do not want a youngster to stay at home merely because he does not have the dollar", Mr. Moore continued.

New Suits for Juniors

The boys in the Junior League (10-11-12 year bracket) will blossom out in new suits this year.

Savings Bond Sales For March $30,000

U. S. Savings Bond sales in Floyd County for the month of March were $30,925, and the total for the first three months of the year was $92,783, said Don Pemberton, County Savings Bonds Chairman this week.

This represents 26.2 per cent of the county's goal of $200,000 for the year.

The state record as of March 31 was at 25.7 per cent of the total goal of $165,100,000, Mr. Pemberton said.

Floydada Girl Is Seminary Graduate

MILL VALLEY, CALIF. — A former resident of Floydada will be among the 85 graduates receiving diplomas from Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary, Mill Valley, Calif., at commencement exercises April 28.

Mrs. Carolyn Kiker Barrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Kiker, Route 1, Floydada, will receive the master of church music degree from the seminary located at Strawberry Point, a suburb of San Francisco.

Mrs. Barrett is a graduate of West Texas College and has been active at the seminary in the Chapel Choir, Oratorio Choir, and Seminary Wives organization.

SOMETHING FOR NOTHING NOT PROBABLE

There is a legitimate place in the business world for such institutions as the New York Stock Exchange. They serve a useful purpose for investors. If there weren't any somebody would start one. However, the facilities of such an organization can be used harmfully. Note this from the president of the stock exchange recently quoted: "There is disquieting evidence that some people have not yet discovered that it is impossible to get something for nothing, and they are attempting to make improper use of the facilities of the investment community." He means that the crop of suckers is growing. The climate is right for a poor man to be tempted to take a flier. Better resist the impulse unless you can afford to lose what you put up.

DANDY PLACE TO PLAY

The hundreds of members of Floydada Country Club will find their playgrounds a delightful place to take the family and play during the late afternoons and on week-ends. The natural place of beauty on Blanco has shade trees, swimming pool, loafing places and everything.

LET'S MAKE IT PAY OFF

Floydada Rodeo Association has the backing of J. W. Harrison Post Veterans of Foreign Wars in staging another rodeo at their arena in East Floydada this year. The post needs $2,000 to make the grade on expenses and assure the success of the venture. They are selling advance tickets at $1 in an effort to get a backlog against untoward weather, or other mishap. The business community should help see that the event is not a financial loss this year. It's been a long time since a rodeo was a successful financial venture in Floydada. Just not a rodeo town, "they" say. But there are enough rodeo-minded people in the community that they are going to keep on trying. Why not give them a good round of support for a change? For instance, buy one of the VFW's tickets during their advance sale. Remember this suggestion when the post's solicitors come to see you.

Somebody had to be the low man in the recent senate sweepstakes. It turned out he was a Houston lawyer, who tried unsuccessfully to withdraw from the race. He got 99 votes. We'll let somebody else mention his name.

HOW THEY SOLVED THE PROBLEM

The tax problem, like many another, is a perpetual one. How to get the money and who to take it off of. In neighboring states, one "warmed up the educational fund by adding a little to the income tax." (New Mexico), another simply added some more to the sales tax, (Arizona), and the other added some to both the sales tax and the income tax. In view of the fact that Texas is getting into the general sales tax business these are interesting illustrations. The income tax will be next, when a succeeding legislature finds there is not enough money in the jackpot.

THE NEW YORK YANKEES

The story is going the rounds that the New York Yankees of the American League have enough power and baseball ability to run away with the lead in that league. Broadly hinted that the Yankees must lose enough games to keep up the competitive interest of the public. Our opinion is that you can't "fix" a whole club that way. There are too many men of too much personal integrity involved, to make it possible.

DO NOT EXPECT IT

Now that some kind of a sales tax is definitely in the scheme of things for Texas, barring the governor's veto of a measure (and he won't veto the final draft of it, after he bargains with the legislature so far as he can)—now that a sales tax is certain to come, do not expect it to cut your other taxes materially and do not expect the measure adopted to meet all the bills. Anticipate, rather, more things to come to be paid for. When the sales tax reaches the limit, then the income tax, first for corporations, which have no friends, then individuals, too. Meanwhile, retailers had as well sharpen their pencils and make ready. Events at Austin last week furnished the proof.

WESTERN HEMISPHERE WAREHOUSE

Events of the past week in Cuba gave evidence of the long-suspected fact that that unhappy island has become a warehouse for Communist armed power and a jumping off place for further exploits of the Communists in other South American countries. A shame that shilly shallying over a period of years must bring American authorities to face up to their responsibilities at this late date. There are things that another billion won't buy. One of these is peace at the hands of an adversary that will have peace only at his own price. It is not Fidel Castro we are facing. The time may be here when Fidel is not even needed for a front.

Tourism Way Down. The number of tourists from out of state who came to Texas for vacations and sight-seeing was down another million in 1960, says a report from the State Highway Department. Eight and six-tenths million vacationers and business visitors traveled an average of 1,105 miles in Texas this year against ten and three-hundredths million traveling about the same distance in the year of 1957. Aggressive competition from other states for the tourist dollar is credited with causing the loss.

Average Visitor stayed six days in Texas, spent at the rate of $8.91 per day. Two out of three were on vacation. Tourists spend millions in direct taxes in addition to the money they spend along the highways for the other things they want.

Flame Cultivation. While one can imagine that flaming would be a disastrous way to cultivate a cotton crop, results of experiments since 1959 have furnished proof at Halfway farm that "there is something to it." In experiments careless weeds, goatheads, seeding johnson grass, crab grass up to three inches tall were successfully killed in experiments at a cost of about one-third to one-half as much as hand hoeing, without damage to cotton.

Benefits Crop. Flame cultivation evidently calls for know how, but Dr. Longnecker's report has something here for a cotton grower to chew on: "Where the midge burner was used early, beginning when the cotton was about four inches high and use of the standard burners later, cotton yielded 102 lbs. more than the unflamed plot. It is believed that early flaming may have helped kill thrips and fleahoppers which were difficult to control in wet weather experienced and permitted the cotton to grow off better."

Senator Blakley. (Learn how to spell it) Texas' tall senator is "further to the right" than we like but one will note his press interviews are precise and make sense, whether or not one agrees. You admire that about a man. Many a man with good ideas can't express them well.

Fast Mail. Many complain that the Post Office Department "charges a lot more and gives poorer service" and one thinks the complaint at times is justified. However, we are mailing some Hesperians overseas by air mail and they make pretty good time. Greer Christian's son, Robert, in Germany is reading the Floydada news on Mondays.

Pedestrians crossing the street didn't make it on more than 170,000 occasions during 1960. Dead after being struck down by a car were more than 5,000 persons, while 165,000 were injured.

We read the other day of a grain elevator operator who had an ambition to "become a good citizen." We wondered what would constitute a good citizen if running a good elevator on the right principles didn't qualify a man, and still wonder.

A Handicap. It may not be a handicap too difficult to overcome but our Mr. Kennedy is the son of a rich man who made his "Before Income Tax." The son of such a father might not realize there are those of us who failed to make the grade BIC, and that others now coming on would like a try at it.

Building Plan "Laid Aside" For Meeting

Paper work on the plans for remodeling the Calvary Baptist Church is done, the bonds have all been sold, and work on the project is expected to start before too long after the reading and accepting of bids which is under way this week, according to members of the building committee.

Included in the program will be the expansion of the auditorium and partitioning and furnishing the education building to accommodate 320 persons. A paved parking lot is also to be provided. The first job to be undertaken it was indicated. The program was financed through the sales of bonds headed by Harry Reeves. The sanctuary which now seats some 200 persons will be expanded and will connect the education building. The remodeling also calls for new air conditioning and heating units, new furnishings throughout, interior and exterior painting and a general clean-up campaign around the building.

There have been 30 members added to the church roster since Rev. Vance Zinn accepted the pastorate, and inspiration to the church membership. There has also been a complete re-organization of the Sunday School and Youth departments and new teachers added.

At present the building project has been "put aside" so to speak until after May, in order that full attention can be given to the big revival coming up next month.

Film Unfolds Story of Unhappy Wedded Lives in Feature

Jack Deakins at Palace Theatre in Floydada this week announced an outstanding feature attraction on the Sunday and Monday bill starting April 30. The film "Look in Any Window" stars Paul Anka, Ruth Roman and Gigi Perreau in a story of an unhappily married couple, their son, and neighbors, another unhappily married couple and a daughter. Paul and Gigi are the teenage lovers who see the delinquent actions of their parents and become sickened with them. The plot is built around how the bad example of the parents affects the lives of the children. Anka stars and sings in one of the most gripping teen-age dramas of the year, says Deakins and he and Gigi Perreau wind up as the teen-age lovers in bad trouble.

County Agent News

By Cecil Lewis

Feed Grain Program
We have a form made up in the County Agent's office that will help give a producer an estimate of returns that he might expect from the feed grain program. This takes into consideration the 20 per cent rate of retired acreage, the 40 per cent rate for retired acreage and for non-compliance. The individual can use his own figures and can come up with an estimate of how each phase of the program will affect him. If you would like to have a copy drop by the County Agent's office.

Grain Sorghum Seed Treatment
The use of insecticides such as dieldrin, Heptachlor and lindane have given good control to wireworm, false wireworms and grub worms on planting seed. This seed treatment is profitable practice here on the High Plains. Seed treatment alone has increased yields considerably when these insects are present.

4-H Club Work
4-H members are busy preparing demonstrations for the county and district contest. The Dougherty 4-H club is inviting all demonstration teams to participate in a practice meeting Thursday, April 27, at the Dougherty school. The meeting will start at 7:30 and all 4-H members parents and other interested people are invited to attend and see what the boys and girls are doing.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

Just one manufacturer of casuals sells a million pair of women's pants annually! An appalling statistic. His fashion coordinator has issued an approved dictionary of pant lengths to assist pant-wearers in buying new outfits. It should also help conscientious objectors document their criticism of the leggy look, the hippy look, the sexy look, etcetera.

There are, she says, eleven trouser lengths for women. Five, described as pants, descend from knee pants, deck pants (also cabin pants), pedal pushers, and capris, to slacks. The other six, all classed as shorts, rise at a alarming two-inch intervals from bermudas, to nassaus, jamaicas, regulation, intermediate and shorty shorts. The latter are defined as "just as high on the leg as modesty will permit."

Not being the pant-type ourselves, we wonder if this definition should vary from woman to woman. We've seen some stout pioneers from whom a quarter-inch above a nassau would fit the description. Also, shouldn't the boundaries be outlined both vertically and horizontally? How broad a beam is acceptable, say, for jamaicas? What about the leg shape? The degree of sun-tan? The wearer's age? Wouldn't these have as much effect on what appears modest as actual pant length?

Another factor we'd like to see considered in a fashion dictionary on women's trousers would be appropriateness for the place they're worn. We favor such fine distinctions as front-yard versus backyard; housework versus coffee calls; picnics versus automobile tours to distant spots. But most of all, we'd like to see more women aware of old-fashioned feminine vanity. If they look well in pants, we'd say wear 'em. If they prefer comfort to good looks, let 'em accept the adverse comments that are sure to come their way.

West To Drill Outpost Well On Crump Land

For the first time in several years Floyd County is to have an oil well project going.

W. W. West, Midland, who has been interested in developing leases East of Petersburg, in Floyd County, has spotted a test on Section 23, Block K, T11R1. It will be known as the No. 1 Francis M. Overstreet. Overstreet is one of the heirs of the late Francis T. Crump.

The site is 13 miles southwest of Floydada. It is one-half mile east of the near production in the 13-year-old Arrick field. The test will be 990 feet from the north and 330 feet from the west lines of the section.

The field pay zone is slightly below 6,000 feet and West, yesterday's reports said, intends to dig to 6,200 feet to test the formation. He will use a rotary rig.

The field was discovered in 1948. Six wells were brought in in the area, two of which are still producing.

North Central Motley County

Motley County also is drawing another test this week. It is to be a wildcat to 8,000 feet seven miles southeast of Turkey, half a mile south of the all-Motley County and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. line. It is 15 miles northeast of Overstreet, and Max Rucker, Floydada sophomore, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rucker. The well is 10 miles south and west lines of Section 4, Block S-5, E1&R2 survey, Haines District.

The blaze was believed caused from burning trash which was set earlier Sunday morning.

The family left home for church and did not know of the fire until told later in the afternoon.

The barn was believed to have burned about 1:30 according to neighbors of the Welborns.

The Floydada fire department kept the fire from spreading.

Nat'l VFW Week Celebration By Local Post

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post No. 5616 has announced that it will join with the National organization of the V. F. W. in celebrating National V. F. W. week April 30 - May 6.

This special period of celebration our friends and neighbors might also be interested in what we do as an organization on a national level. For instance, how many know that during last year, the Veterans of Foreign Wars performed more than 650,000 individual community service projects. Or how many people know that the V. F. W. sponsors more than 1,400 Boy Scout troops?

the touch (not just warm) while it is in use, it is time to replace the outlet.

MAYOR'S PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, a patriotic organization comprising some 10,000 individual Posts with a million three hundred thousand members, will observe its 62nd anniversary during 1961, and

WHEREAS, this organization was Congressionally chartered by, and remains as a group of, America's finest fighting men who have undergone unusual hardships in every war or expedition in which the Nation has participated since the Spanish-American war, and

WHEREAS, the V.F.W.'s more than half century of service to its disabled Comrades-in-Arms, the widows and orphans of deceased veterans and service men, and its efforts to keep America strong from within and without to deter foreign aggression, is indicative of its love of fellow man and country, and

WHEREAS, this overseas veteran fraternity is today serving its country in peace as it did in war, by sponsoring and successfully concluding more than 600,000 different community service projects annually, all aimed at improving communities, states, and Nation, and

WHEREAS, the V.F.W. has in recent years won eleven consecutive Freedoms Foundations Awards, for its untiring and diligent Loyalty Day and similar Americanism programs, seeking to rid this country of all Communists and other un-American groups and philosophies, now

THEREFORE, I, S. W. ROSS, Mayor of the City of Floydada, in the State of Texas, do hereby proclaim and designate the entire week of April 30 - May 6, 1961 as National V.F.W. Week, and respectfully ask the entire citizenry of this community to render a special tribute to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and wish it godspeed in all its future endeavors.

Done at the City Hall of Floydada, this 25th day of April, 1961.

We met with the Sterley Club last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Roy Tinsley. Table top cookery was the topic for discussion. Electric stew pans were demonstrated. A complete meal was cooked in an electric roaster — barbecued pork, green beans, baked potatoes and peach cobbler. Nearly all members and a number of guests attended.

A demonstration was given Friday afternoon at the homemaking department in Crosbyton High School for a group of girl scouts on "Cooking Eggs Three Ways". There are twelve girls in the class and Mrs. Q. D. Williams is their sponsor.

Brad and Janie Hagood were weekend guests in our home. Hazel Bradley accompanied Mrs. Ed Wester, Mrs. Dan Hagood, and Mrs. Arnold Schuppert to Lubbock on Monday night where the group attended a Christian Women's Workshop at the Westmont Christian Church.

Outdoor Recreation in National Forests

"More families went to the National Forests for recreation in 1960 than ever before, with visits totaling 92 1/2 million, Secretary Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has reported. This is an increase of 13.5 percent over 1959 recreation use, and shows that more families are seeking and enjoying recreation opportunities in the public National Forests.

Freeman noted that the Forest Service built 3,000 new family camp and picnic units under its Operations Outdoor Program last year to meet rising demands. This brings the total number of such units to 53,700 but use of picnic and camp grounds continues to exceed facilities. Additional sites are needed and will be developed under a broad program to develop facilities which encourage balanced use of forestry resources.

Reports from Forest Field Service offices show that the visits for fishing, hunting, hiking and riding increased more than those for other kinds of recreation.

All of this tends to remind us that vacation time is here again — or maybe just around the corner, and that we do need to make plans for such in order that things will run smoothly at home while we are away and that we will get the maximum amount of pleasure and rest from our vacation trips.

There are four basic principals that should not be overlooked in cooking and dish — proper and accurate measurements, proper cooking temperature, proper length of cooking time and proper time of serving.

Here is a good French Dressing recipe given me by my sister-in-law when we were in Missouri at Christmas time:

1 cup salad oil
2 cups catsup
1 cup sugar
1 cup vinegar
1 cup onion (ground)
1 tablespoon salt
1 tablespoon pepper
1 tablespoon garlic powder

COLLEGE STATION — Tender, young chickens — broiler-fryers — head the May list of plentiful foods, reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Chicken are abundant for many months, but the volume of broilers going to market in May is expected to be about 15 percent more than a year ago. So count on plenty at budget prices.

Other foods on the list of plentiful for this area in May are cabbage, potatoes, turkeys, canned freestone peaches, and milk and dairy products.

Sports Afield

By Ted Kesting
Twenty-foot boats are a lot more like 14-footers than they used to be. What's the significance of that? It means the sportsman who is going to shift from river and small-lakes angling to larger lakes or coastal fishing, has much less to learn about operating the new boat he buys for the new waters. It's easier and quicker to become a safe bigger-waters skipper.

Twenty-footers used to weigh perhaps ten times as much as the 14s; they had a heavy inboard engine in the center. They were handled by means of a rudder, and were vastly different from the narrow, often rowed, lightweight 14-footer with its outboard and steering handle at the stern. Today, the average 14-footer is much wider, has more power on the transom, and is wheel-controlled from forward—the same words can be used to describe a 20-footer of the Sixties. Even a 20-foot inboard, if it has an outboard drive, handles and steers like an outboard, and is like it in other ways, as in location and weight of engine. Willard Crandall, Boats Editor of Sports Afield Magazine, suggests that the prospective buyer of a bigger boat make the following considerations.

First, when thinking about a larger boat, play down the lightweight angle that's always to the forefrown with the smallest boats. You won't be doing any lifting of the new boat. You can get a good trailer to handle the heaviest, best-constructed boat.

Durability must be emphasized when you get a larger boat. Not only because you'll bang the boat on larger waves, but because you'll be doing it more often. Why? Suppose waves get bad or the wind begins to blow when you're on sheltered waters. You can turn a bend in a minute or two to where it's a lot less rough, or you can go ashore quickly. But once you're out on big waters, you will have to ride out the waves.

Beam is important. Lots of it. Check what the beam is all along on the boat you're considering, not just at the widest point. It's the most important factor in size, and so in seaworthiness. The smallest boats are sometimes narrow, for maneuverability afloat as well as to make them light and portable. For a bigger-waters boat, this doesn't work. Waves you'll meet now cannot be trifled with. You cannot take the risk of one of them outmaneuvering you, no matter how nicely you may have maneuvered by tiller and throttle work through the preceding hundreds that rolled at you. It's much better to depend on stability and size.

There are certain species of fish that are almost unknown to most anglers, although they are widely distributed; almost anybody may chance to catch one of them, and some are sought a

On the table, the eel is well ahead of any bass or hatchery-reared trout, and at least right up with the best wild trout from a cold Rocky Mountain stream. Few anglers fish purposely for burbot, but great numbers are often caught in larger lakes when fishing through the ice for other species. Almost invariably, they are thrown away as useless by white men, chiefly because a burbot could be guaranteed to come in last in a beauty contest for fishes — but Indians know better.

In reality the burbot is nothing but a fresh-water codfish, and just as good eating as his relatives from the sea. So it's foolish not to take one home, skin and eat him. Suckers of one sort or another are widely distributed and are very common in many places. Some are so prolific and hardy that catching even great numbers of them seems to make little difference in how many will be found. The different species vary widely in edibility, ranging from quite poor to delicious.

School Board Meeting Tonight To Consider Building Contract

The school board of Floydada Independent School District will meet in special session tonight to discuss the prospects of entering into a contract with South Plains Steel Buildings for a new school building in northeast Floydada.

1961 EVINRUDE 40 hp Lark III America's Favorite!

This Evinrude model, since its introduction, has outdistanced all other models of every make. If you've experienced its fast-stepping, load handling versatility you know the reason why.

Now, added to its smooth running, thermostat controlled engine efficiency is a new fixed jet carburetor. Its automatic choke assures instant starts and its Cruise-Throttle fuel saver stretches miles per gallon.

For sporty runabouts, fast fishing boats, or compact family cruisers, nothing in its power class can match it.

Best Trades Ever!

THE SPORTSMAN East Houston St. Phone YU 3-3222

Superintendent I. T. Graves said yesterday that Mr. Donahue will be present to represent the aforementioned company and attorney Ben Ayres will represent the school. A contract has been prepared but needs a few details ironed out before it will meet the needs of the school.

Taxpayers voted a $125,000 bond issue several weeks ago for the purpose of building the new school. It is to be a steel structure attractively finished and is to furnish class rooms and a combination gymnasium - stage auditorium for physical education and school program and gatherings.

Board members are hopeful of getting the kind of building they need at a figure a little below the total bond issue to leave them some funds to take care of property purchased and sidewalks and other trimmings that go along with such a building program.

When the contract is signed work is expected to start almost immediately on the school construction. The location is the northeast corner block of the original town section where the North Ward School plant will be moved to get away from the surface lake that has overflowed the school campus several times in past years. Original plans called for having the building ready for use in the fall.

Kit Zimmerman Loses in Semi-Finals

Kit Zimmerman, the lone Floydada High School entry in the regional tennis matches was eliminated in the second round of regional play last weekend in Lubbock.

Kit won her first round match defeating Lee Crain of Anson 6-0, 6-0. In the semifinals she drew Sharon Campbell of Wellington and went down by scores of 0-6, 5-7. Miss Campbell went on to win the regional crown in girls class AA singles.

In the finals the Wellington entry won sets with scores of 6-4, 9-7, and the right to advance to the state meet.

Mighty MACE Maneuverability

One of the most versatile of the Air Force missiles in today's arsenal of defense is the MACE. Equipped with an inertial guidance system, this air-breathing sub-sonic weapon is capable of a low level attack, avoiding radar surveillance with combined flight program deviations to slip by mountainous terrain or other earth obstacles.

Perhaps the toughest reliability and guidance system requirements have been placed on MACE. These far exceed those placed on its ballistic missile brothers because its guidance system must operate up to two hours while guidance system operation in ballistic missiles is measured in seconds.

To eliminate costly trial and error flight testing, the Air Force instituted a unique innovation. The MACE inertial guidance system is placed in the nose of a twin jet B-57 bomber, functions under actual flight conditions without loss of highly complex electronic components.

Mrs. Cozby has done special nursing at Crosbyton Hospital and is also a former nurse at Lockney General Hospital.

Her husband is the son of Mrs. Leonard B. Cozby of Lubbock, and the late Mr. Cozby.

How To Conduct A Meeting Told To Rotary Club

An interesting talk on parliamentary procedure was made at Floydada Rotary Club yesterday by Hal W. Kirchoff, a Plainview engineer.

Ralph Mardis was program chairman for the day.

Cecil Lewis, vice president, presided in the absence of Arthur L. Wylie Jr., president of the club. Last week the club had Rex Webster, a Lubbock advertising executive and past district governor presenting the program.

GLASSMOYER CONTINUES TO SHOW IMPROVEMENT

Ott Glassmoyer is able to be up and about some this week although it will be several days before he will be able to resume activity as before. Mr. Glassmoyer recently underwent surgery and is convalescing satisfactorily.

Emergency Surgery For Emert Baby Performed Tuesday

Danny Emert, year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Emert of Dougherty, underwent a delicate, emergency operation in Methodist Hospital Tuesday night.

The child took ill Monday morning and was taken to the Stanley Hospital at Matador. X-ray Tuesday showed that one of the intestines was telescoping back into itself. Dr. Stanley said this is the first case of this kind he has seen in 26 years.

The baby was rushed to Lubbock where about half of the large intestine and part of the small one was removed in about an hour's surgery.

At 10:30 p. m. reports came from the operating room that the job had been satisfactorily completed, and that Danny had withstood the ordeal fine and every-

Boyce House Says I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

C. P. J. Mooney, who was editor of the Memphis Commercial Appeal when I entered newspaper work, had been an editor in New York City. He remarked to us reporters that New Yorkers regard people from anywhere else as hicks, while as a matter of fact, New Yorkers are the biggest hicks in the country.

Any happening, however small, will draw a crowd in New York, he said. In fact, sometimes something needn't happen at all and he told about two men, who were walking along, when they suddenly stopped and began to gaze upward. Two or three others stopped and looked — then eight or ten; and, in a little while, the sidewalk was blocked by people gazing into the sky, trying to see something which wasn't there.

Then the first two resumed their walk.

Mr. Mooney was a master in coining clever descriptions. There was one Memphis politician who was placed in office by the anti-Crump forces (of which the editor was a leader). After getting in power the man changed sides and Mr. Mooney wrote an article referring to the politician as "Flapjack Charley", adding, "They don't build political fences too high for him to jump."

Did you ever hear of a snipe-dunt?

It is the Old South's equivalent to a West Texas badger fight. The greenhorn is told to take his place in the woods with a lantern and a sack—while the others explain that they will go on the other side of the woods and drive the snipes toward him. The lantern—it is night—will attract the snipes and it will be simple for him to put them in the sack, his friends explain.

Then they leave and soon are back in town by a fire while the novice shivers out in the cold till daybreak—unless he figures out, before then, that he has been "sold."

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — House members as to put on amendments to make finished many observers by giving the bill for the first time in recent memory, a favorable vote to a general sales tax.

A 2 percent retail sales tax by Rep. Charles N. Wilson of Trinity was approved 75-46, on second reading and 78-42 on final passage. It is now in the hands of the Senate.

Food, feed, farm machinery, seed, fertilizer, medicine and medical needs are exempt from the bill. Its tax yield is variously estimated at from $127,000,000 to $140,000,000 a year.

Before the bill was given preliminary passage, Wilson staved off efforts of sales tax opponents to amend the bill to include a corporation income tax, graduated income tax and graduated oil revenue tax.

Governor Daniel announced his opposition to the Wilson bill before it came up on the House floor. After the House vote, the governor refused to say whether he would veto the measure if it should be finally passed by both Houses.

NEW TEACHER PAY APPROACH — A teacher pay raise plan designed to offer more incentive for heads of families and career teachers has been proposed by Rep. Jack Woods of Waco.

Woods' bill would provide a lower raise in the basic minimum than is recommended by the Texas State Teachers Association, but it would offer higher increments (increases for experience) than TSTA asks.

Woods' bill would provide an across-the-board raise of only $234 a year compared to TSTA's $810. But under the Woods bill, a teacher with 10 years' experience would make $4,950 a year compared to $4,554 under the TSTA schedule. Woods bill would also make special provision for teachers, either men or women, responsible for the support of a household.

UR BILL STIRS FUSS — An uncontested change in freight rates to go into effect without bearing and approval of the Railroad Commission.

It passed by a narrow margin on second reading but was voted down, 71-65, on the vote for final passage. In general, railroads favored the bill, and truckers did not.

RACING MEASURE STILL BREATHING — Rep. V. E. (Red) Berry's last-ditch effort to get the horse racing issue before the people survived opponents' efforts to kill it.

Atty. Gen. Will Wilson said he felt further court appeals would be useless. A district court, horse racing and parimutuel betting out earlier in the ses-

STATE SUPPORT ASKED — Despite the static over University moved the proposal be set back to committee where it was as-San Angelo Junior College, is bid-summed, it would die. Healy's ding for admission to the state-motored college system.

SAJC also would like to be raised from a junior to a four-year, senior college. Supporters say one is badly needed in the area.

SHORT SNORTS — A special committee of State Hospital Board officials reported to the Legislative Budget Board that 1,007 retarded children are awaiting admission to a state school. Report was made at the Budget Board's request.

House passed, 133-3, a bill by Rep. John Allen of Longview to allow persons falsely imprisoned to sue the state for damages. Limit would be $25,000.

bill to make the University of Houston part of the state-supported college system easily won its first vote on the floor of the House.

But in the Senate determined opponents filibustered to prevent the bill's coming to a vote.

House vote was 84-34 for the bill. In the Senate, Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center spearheaded the opposition with extended remarks. He protested the state could not take on another $10,000,000 a year for the University of Houston when the state treasury already had a deficit.

Lane was assisted by Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville who declared the state should improve the quality of existing state colleges before taking on any more.

To help fill up time, Hudson read recipes from a French cookbook.

BREWERY BILL VOTED — Senate finally passed a bill that would make it easier for the Carling Brewery to build a new $20,000,000 plant in Tarrant County.

Highly controversial, the bill has brought a pitched battle between "wet" and "dry" forces. All Tarrant County House members voted for the bill, but Fort Worth's senator, Doyle Willis, led the opposition.

Willis had little active help in the Senate, but after the bill was approved on second reading by voice vote, 14 of the 29 senators present asked to be recorded in the Senate Journal as voting "no." Final approval was by a slim 13-11 margin.

Bill would allow the brewery to continue to operate even if the area in which it is located should dry.

FREIGHT RATE BILL TUMBLES — In an about-face, House turned down on third reading the freight rate bill it had approved on second reading.

Proposal would have allowed uncontested changes in freight rates to go into effect without bearing and approval of the Railroad Commission.

It passed by a narrow margin on second reading but was voted down, 71-65, on the vote for final passage. In general, railroads favored the bill, and truckers did not.

North Woods Odyssey Give Lift To Hayes O'Neal

Goes All Doctor's Order

he pulled out the first of last week to come home. Meanwhile he had cut holes in 14-inch ice in the rivers and lakes to fish and had lived on the small game and the food he carried in with him.

Cuts Firewood at Midnight

The night he got there he was to have had some oil for a fire at the cross roads. It had been stolen and he cut wood at midnight for a fire — things like that. Asked who might have stolen the oil he said the Chipewyan Indians on an adjacent reservation generally get credit for any skulduggery that goes on in the area.

One night O'Neal was host to a game warden who operates in the north woods. The country has plenty of deer and other game, out of season while he was there.

The accompanying photos give an idea of the kind of country. The ice covered area is a creek which beaver have dammed. "A beaver can force a log under water and make it stay there, which is more than a man can do without machinery." The ice on the water is a foot or so thick and it is easier to travel on the waterways on foot than through the forests during the winter. In summer the practical method of travel is by canoe.

The primeval forests of Hiawatha's time long since have been ravaged by men and there are no big woods at this time. There is evidence of logging young trees for the pulp to go to the mills as well as of forest fires on every hand. There is no evidence of a conservation program that he saw.

The man pictured in the abandoned dug out is O'Neal. The dog at his heels accompanied him on excursions on the frozen water harnesses to a loaded sled. The landowner let O'Neal bring out an outdoor waffle iron he found in the abandoned dug-out. It is a reversible cooking piece so as to get waffles browned evenly on both sides over a camp fire.

O'Neal opined that a good many people would not like that kind of an excursion but it suited him good. The only thing he really found distasteful was the type of cussing he heard. Up there they know techniques that Texas people have never even dreamed of, he said. Asked for examples the druggist said he wouldn't even repeat it to prove it. Incidentally he fattened on the north woods experience.

SCENES near the camp site of Hayes O'Neal's North Woods Odyssey (See story in adjacent column).

LETTER FROM AUSTIN COUNTY
As the time approaches for the assemblage of the state Democratic convention, the question presents itself, is there any necessity for the meeting of such a body? The Democratic party, according to my thinking, having failed in its great mission to preserve the Union, is now dissolved and absorbed in the Southern Confederacy, and the latter party is not confined to, nor entirely composed of the old Democrats, but on the contrary men of all shades of opinion. I am therefore in favor of a convention of all the friends of Southern independence, entirely without reference to old and defunct party issues, and would be pleased to see members of every old party, not only in the Convention but on the state ticket. -Weekly Telegraph, Houston.

Ford saves you plenty when you buy...

Saves even more as you drive

Who else but Ford could bring you the lowest full-size wagon price* in America?
Listen—not only does this '61 Ranch Wagon cost even less than some so-called "compacts"—but it's beautifully built to take care of itself!
Just read about these self-service features on this page... then pop in and look for yourself. Look at that cavern of a cargo-hold. Look at that new roll-down rear window. Enjoy the sedan ride of new rear springs and Wide-Tread design.
Choose Ford's Mileage Maker Six, or the optional Thunderbird V-8. Take your pick of six handsome Ford wagons. Whatever you want in a wagon, we Ford Dealers have got. Today. Come and get it!

HERE'S HOW THE '61 FORD TAKES CARE OF ITSELF
Lubricates itself—You'll normally go 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications (which cost only about $4.00 and take about 20 minutes) because Ford has replaced conventional grease fittings with a sealed-air lubrication system.
Changes its own oil—You'll go 4,000 miles between oil changes because Ford's Full-Flow oil filter gives you filtration through fibers... trapping more dirt than any other type of filter made.
Adjusts its own brakes—New Truck Size brakes adjust themselves automatically.
Guards its own muffler—Ford mufflers are double-wrapped and aluminumized to last three times as long as ordinary mufflers.
Protects its own body—All vital underbody parts are specially processed to resist rust and corrosion, even to galvanizing the body panels beneath the doors.
Takes care of its own finish—Just wash and clean Ford's new Diamond Luster Finish to make it glisten like new. It never needs waxing.

Now, who'd ever thought the time would come when a fisherman would stop at a bait house and order ONE MINNOW for a day of fishing? Well we did! We were kidding, of course. But don't laugh too loud because the two of us caught eight black bass, and used only three minnows each.

How'd we do it? It's an interesting tale.

It all dates back to a few months ago when Sandy and I heard about a Canadian firm called "Bait's Alive." All we learned was that the company manufactured a fish hook of unique design to which was attached what the makers called a "Minnow Sock."

Anyway we wrote Bait's Alive, asked them to tell us more about their new product, and ordered a few.

Remember when you were a kid and played with a wicker tube that often was referred to as a Japanese handcuff? Remember how you'd put one finger of each hand into opposite ends of the tube, and the harder you pulled the tighter you stuck?

Well, the Minnow Sock works on the same principle.

The boys at Bait's Alive have developed a "sock" made of monofilament line. One end is tied to the shank of the hook, right next to the eye. The other end is open. Into this open end you insert a live minnow.

Believe you me that minnow will stay alive throughout a full day of fishing—unless you snag your hook so often that you finally render the bait helpless.

Your minnow swims alongside the hook, in the sack, natural like. No hooking the minnow through the lips or under the dorsal fin or in the tail or through the eyes. Just slip the minnow inside the handcuffing sock and go about your still-fishing, trolling, or casting—as always.

My son and I gave this new invention a good test on Lake Travis as soon as the minnow socks arrived. We bought four dozen big Silver Shiner minnows—the kind they raise at Rockdale. Fishing wasn't so hot that day. In fact we didn't see anybody hauling in fish, even the several boats were out.

Sandy and I trolled for six hours. Total 12 hours of fishing. Total score: 8 black bass, 4 each. Total number of minnows used, six, or three apiece. Minnows not used, 42.

Nothing sensational about the haul—except that nobody else was catching fish . . . and the only minnows we actually lost were those snagged in deep brush where we had to snap the line.

Another interesting feature of the experiment was the fact that bass would attack the minnows three, four, sometimes five times, trying to free the bait . . . even scaling and skinning the tail of the big Shiners in an effort to take the bait from the sack.

We wrote Wes Rose of Bait's Alive in Toronto, and told him about our experience and ordered several of his minnow-socked hooks in each size. Wes makes them in large (8-0 and 10-0); medium (3-0, 4-0 and 5-0); and small sizes (4, 2, and 1-0).

Wes says that the "sock" is tied to a specially designed nicked hook, with a pan shaped shank, because it allows the minnows more freedom of motion.

His idea was developed with three main thoughts in mind.

First—by far the largest portion of a fish's diet consists of minnows.

Second—no device yet had been produced that would hold a minnow securely while still allowing it to swim and remain alive almost indefinitely.

Third—best position of minnow-to-hook is parallel.

For maximum hook exposure the sock and minnow should be on the left side of the hook.

Ordinarily the minnow is inserted into the sock head first. However, for certain conditions, some fishermen prefer the head at the point of the hook. In that event they insert the minnow into the sock, tail first.

I never could understand why Bait's Alive put such huge socks on 10-0 hooks. Now I find that the big socks are especially designed for fishing with live frogs. Another clever thought!

Next time out we'll try them with some small perch as bait. Minnow Socks should be equally as effective on the Gulf, using live shrimp as the tempter. For that matter, hunks of squid might be inserted in the sock, thus saving a man lots of re-baiting time. Anxious to try that too!

We also pointed out some other uses. For example—attaching the sock and its single hook to a spoon and trailing it in conjunction with any type of spinner or wobblers.

For still-fishing Wes recommends the use of a solid piano wire leader, bent into an "L" shape. With this rig and a 10-foot line the minnow will strug-

Famous San Antonio Fort

Teddy Roosevelt trained his famous Rough Riders in Texas in the same fort that housed such outstanding generals as Grant, Lee, Sheridan and Hood.

It's the 3,000 acre Fort Sam Houston, the greatest Army post in the United States. It is located within the confines of San Antonio.

Old "Fort Sam" dates back to the pre-Civil-War days and still is active today. Much of the old atmosphere remains.

It's a sight to see, whether you're interested in the activities of today or of yesteryear.

gle in a wide circle.

In fishing a heavy flowing stream a large sniker should be used on the end of the line, with the sock and bait attached at the desired distance from the bottom.

Another point Wes emphasized is to select a sock to suit the size of the minnow. Also while inserting the minnow into the sock, keep it upright and push the sock open with thumb and fingers—not with the bait.

When properly placed, the minnow should have its gills exposed and the pectoral and dorsal fins showing through the mesh.

Wish we could say that Wes has distribution outlets throughout the USA, but he hasn't. However, we'll wager it won't be many months before he does.

Enjoying Life?

If not, then perhaps a check-up is in order.

First off, what about your health? If you don't feel tip-top, check your living habits. What about food, the source of your energy. Are you eating three well-balanced meals each day? How about sleep? Are you getting eight hours of rest at night? Have you had a medical check-up this year?

What about recreation? You need time for something without any "mists" in it.

Every man, woman, and child, old or young, needs some family recreation, some neighborhood recreation, and some individual recreation. For happier living, develop more interests outside your job.
