4 MILLION BU. HARVEST NEAR END

Yesterday, despite hampering rains and the attrition of hail... County Agent Lewis said if the wheat crop had had a good two-inch rain early in April he is confident the yields would have averaged another 15 bushels.

Dougherty, Wheat Capital of the Plains

This caption certainly looked true last Saturday afternoon when a Hesperian photographer visited the east Floyd County community to find 150 or more loaded wheat trucks backed up waiting to dump at the three elevators there.

The top picture is looking south from the office at Henry Edwards elevator across the railroad tracks at the long line of trucks.

The middle shot is several hundred yards to the west and looking south from Producers elevator at Dougherty.

In the lower scene trucks are backed up in two directions from Dougherty Grain Company. This shot was made looking east down the highway.

The pictures do not tell the entire story as double lines of trucks were unloading at all three of the elevators and the camera just wasn't big enough to take in all the impressive sight.

FREE TRADE AND COTTON INDUSTRY

A ghost of the Old South has come back to plague us. It is the matter of free trade in the cotton industry.

Once upon a time the planters of the Old South ruined themselves and depleted their rich soils battling for the principle of free trade. While northern partisans imported cheap labor by the millions of human souls—Irish, Scotch, German, Scandinavian—hired them cheap and sold the produce of their labor behind a barrier of high tariff, the ex-Confederates still would have none of it.

COTTON MILLS IN NEW ENGLAND

The northerners bought cotton cheap from the southerners, sold it high. In New England, of all places, cotton mills flourished. Hundreds of present-day fortunes in that barrenland were built on this outlandish state of affairs.

It was not until depleted soils, low prices and the boll weevil had the southerners whipped to their knees, that they finally came around to the idea that since they couldn't whip 'em, they'd better jine 'em.

THE GHOST RIDES AGAIN!

Now the question of what protection against foreign imports may do to the cotton man is facing Texans again.

At least one state agency—The State Highway Commission—has banned the use of cotton tarpaulins for highway "curing" covers, if the cotton is manufactured abroad, despite the fact that it might have been—probably was—raised in Texas.

The Cotton Digest, strongly for the free movement of cotton in U. S. markets, brands the movement to ban foreign cotton products as stupid. But the "Buy Texas" and "Use Texas" ideas continue to multiply. As for instance the small but vocal steel industry has lobbied a ban of foreign steel into life at high cost to such municipalities as Floydada.

Texas cotton won't be able to move freely and unimpeded in the world markets if we maintain this attitude, says The Cotton Digest.

We have no idea where The Cotton Digest is published, but it is undoubtedly the voice of American cotton mills striving to keep a place in the sun.

THE MIDDLE COURSE

Foreigners need the right to earn American dollars if they are to continue to buy Texas cotton. Unbridled protection comes too high. On the other hand totally free trade is impossible, the way the rules have been written. There must be a middle course for the Texas people to follow.

Our grandpas rode Free Trade to hell in 50 years, and left the south impoverished, the butt of cruel canards. So we can't go all the way. But we can and must meet facts of international movement of trade in a factual manner instead of following silly slogans thought up for greedy men with axes to grind.

AN EXAMPLE OF UNFAIRNESS

Union stations of railways are not what they used to be, for the traveling public, but for taxing purposes, they are the same old standby.

A railroad pamphlet we have received calls attention to the Union Station in the national capital. It cost the railroads $32 million to build. It pays to the District of Columbia $397,320 in property taxes a year. Two miles away is the National Airport. It also cost $32 million. But it was built with taxpayers money and it is tax free.

The railroads could give the Union Station to the District and be better off by far. Railroads in dozens of cities in the country have offered their union stations to the cities for free. But they are caught in a trap. They still keep title to the stations and still pay taxes on them!

A Powerful Man. Sirgie minded James E. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, is making it rough on the railroads, now trying to get back some of the automobile business they lost to highway transport. Mr. Hoffa has strong pressures at work in the national capital in an effort to keep the railroads from using the Piggyback service. In three decades the truck people took a lot of jobs away from the railroads in the competition for the distribution of automobiles over the nation. They hate to lose it back. Mr. Hoffa's idea is to "get a law passed." He may do it, too.

Country Editors. In particular, have been critical of Mr. Hoffa. Most of them are of the opinion he should be in the penitentiary. He operates fast and loose, the young U. S. attorney general claims. His power is such that he can have a general, nation-wide strike of transportation workers at any time he feels justified. The rank and file of the unions didn't intend for it to be that way, but they have signed away their rights for stronger bargaining position, and now another teamster's union man is just a nother pawn in the game.

New Records. 1961 will go down in the agricultural history of Floyd County as another one of those ringers. The sorry wheat on dry land is making 20 bushels, and the yields are ranging upward from that to 40 bushels. And the irrigated land is yielding from 40 bushels upward to 70. Lots of 60-bushel wheat crops on irrigated land.

5-Grain Meshes. Last crop year in Floyd County to produce any four-grains - to - the - mesh wheat, we venture to say, was in 1937, when dry land in southeast Floyd County "turned to wheat." Now we have verified reports of wheat crops with some five-grain meshes. How that fifth one got on there and hung on to mature we don't know.

The Big Push. Farmers have dodged showers, rain and hail, in a game of hide and seek with the elements the past several days, to gather a record crop. The hail caught some and left barren stalks. But for the most part the crop is now harvested and in the bins and elevators. The weekend, elements smiling, will see 80 per cent of the wheat and practically all of the barley harvested.

Big And Simple. How can the Washington big wigs who have taken the known world under wing to re-do the peoples into another image, expect ordinary mortals to react in a sensible manner when so many unnatural things are being done, and so many unrealistic conversation comes out of Washington?

Now we find that, having passed up the right time to intervene in Cuba, we are guilty of having had a part in the abortive effort of the "patriots" to breach the beach near Havana. Probably we are officially in a mess, also, of ransoming the 1,200 prisoners with 500 tractors. We solemnly swear to the belief that Andy Gump could have done better than we have done the past eight years and a few months. Why can't our officials act like we are in the habit of seeing Americans act? They say we don't understand. They sure are right!

Shooting And Cutting Fray Livens N. 8th

Shot three times with a .25 calibre automatic pistol, in the stomach and the right and left breasts. J. C. Collier, a Negro boy, is said to be in fair condition in a Plainview hospital this week.

His injuries did not appear to be serious Sunday night when a fracas occurred with Willis Walker as his antagonist, but an operation was indicated early this week on account of the stomach wounds.

J. C. was a busy man while he was being shot. He was wielding a knife and cut Walker up so badly he was hospitalized at Peoples Hospital. Walker told the sheriff that Collier also had a pistol but missed his shots with it.

J. C. Collier is now out of the hospital and in custody in county jail.

The affray took place about 10:30 Sunday night at the White Front Cafe, 301 North St.

Both will be charged with infractions of the peace.

Pick Up 4 at Lockney

Saturday night Police Chief Lowell Bilbrey and Officer Connie Reed picked up four boys in Lockney and have charged the boys with possessing narcotics. The boys had eight marijuana cigarettes the officers charge. A narcotics charge will be filed.

Friday night local city officers, Chief Alton May and Officer Bill Taylor picked up an old-fashioned rover and charged him with driving while intoxicated. He is Bullet Wright. He is laying out a fine of $200.

FORD UNVEILS DREAM CAR

Two running wheels instead of the usual four, together with a unique delta shape, mark the Gyron as a novel experiment in possible future automotive styling. Shown above in three views, the full-size dream car was developed by Ford Motor Company advanced stylists under the direction of George W. Walker, Ford vice president and director of styling. The stylists assumed that the vehicle could be stabilized by means of a gyroscope mounted just behind the passenger compartment. Two small outrigger wheels at the rear would retract when the gyro was in operation. A steering dial between two contoured seats replaces the conventional steering wheel and makes it possible for the car to be steered from either seat.

No Regular Meeting Held By Council

If the rain slowed the members of the council down enough Mayor Ross and City Secretary Feuerbacher yesterday hoped to get a called meeting of the city council late yesterday or last night, long enough to give attention to routine business of the city.

When regular meeting time came Tuesday night four of the five members of the council were tied up by the wheat harvest and couldn't turn loose.

Broadway News

By Mrs. T. E. Thornhill

Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt McClure received word Saturday that their son, James B. McClure of San Antonio was in a hospital there, suffering with a light heart attack. We truly hope James will soon be able to return to his home.

Sunday School and church attendance was fair Sunday.

The commencement exercises of Bible School which were to have been Wednesday night of last week were postponed due to the bad clouds and rain that night. They were held Friday night instead.

Mr. and Mrs. Duane McClure and girls Rhetta and Terri, came over to the Hoyt McClures Thursday, June 8th bringing a birthday cake for Rhetta so the grandparents could help her celebrate. Others there were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McClure and children Rhonda, Brenda and baby Doug. After supper Mr. and Mrs. Ronald McClure and Doug and Mr. and Mrs. Duane McClure and Terri attended a show in Lubbock. While the other girls, Rhonda, Brenda and Rhetta, visited with grandparents.

Miss Billy Cornelious visited with the Janice Wentwood and Arney then they went home with Mrs. Cornelious for awhile. R. M. Spence was a Tuesday night supper guest of his nephew, Ed family, Mr. and Mrs. Elvis Marley and Yvonna.

Robert Winegar visited Tommy Thornhill Tuesday night and Wednesday of last week.

Mrs. Shadie Woods of Houston came by bus Monday night to be at the bedside of her sister, Mrs. R. M. Spence of Floydada, who underwent surgery in the Crosby-Hospital Tuesday morning of last week.

During Monday night's rain storm, Mr. Russell Edinburg was safe within the cellar at the Beckham place. Mr. Edinburg came over on the tractor to plow and as the cloud came over here much sooner than at McAdoo.

Mrs. Edinburg didn't realize she needed to come after him until it had been raining for quite a while. We received about an inch of rain here at our house Monday night and some more Wednesday night.

The community received a nice rain Monday night of last week, and again later in the week. The Monday morning of this week the tractors are humming once again, some are planting over as they didn't have a good stand of cotton and also we for one had some land that had been too dry for planting.

Mrs. Shadie Woods spent Saturday night in the home of a sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Givens and boys, Teddy, Preston, and Mickey. She also attended church with the Givens Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Givens and boys were visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Wall and Don Sunday night. Mickey was walking the palling fence and fell, falling on a palling. He received a very painful injury. Monday morning he was going in high so we truly hope he will soon be fine again.

Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Starrrett of Lubbock came down Saturday evening and visited with Mrs. Spence at the hospital until bed time then spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Thornhill. Enroute back to the hospital Sunday they visited with Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Starrrett and girls.

There seems to be no medicine better than a baby, as no matter how rough our mother, Mrs. Spence has felt, when Mrs. Tookie Maize brings her infant son, Corda Howard to visit, Mrs. Spence truly enjoys him. Of course the young man is her great nephew.

Well "Welcome Neighbors", at long last we have some neighbors down at the Beckham place. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Leatherwood and Arney Gail are living there, having moved in Saturday.

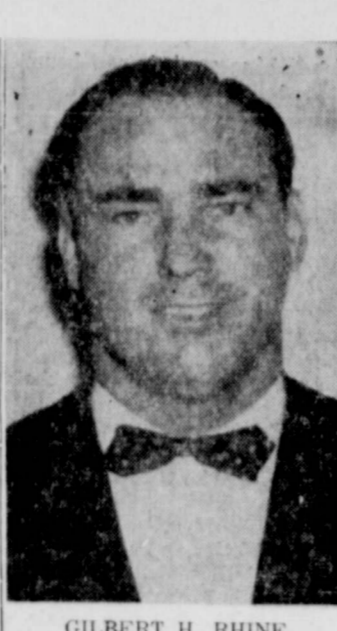

Even though we have not visited with them it is good to see them going in and out up there.

A. B. Wall went home from the Crosbyton Hospital the last of the week, we surely hope it will not be long before he is able to be up.

Rhine Resigns Pastorate At Bible Baptist

GILBERT H. RHINE

Gilbert Rhine, pastor of the Bible Baptist Church for the last two years and eight months has resigned as pastor and will bring his last two sermons this Sunday, July 1, to the local church.

Since September 1958 the local church, under the ministry of Mr. Rhine has had seventy (70) professions of faith and over eighty going through the baptismal waters, and one hundred and two (102) additions to the church.

The average Sunday School attendance has more than doubled and at times even tripled, and the preaching services have had even a better record. There have been as many as 42 visitors in one preaching service and more than sixty in one Sunday.

Mr. Rhine reports that he does not want to pastor a church the next two months, but do evangelistic work in the Fort Worth and Dallas area until the middle of August. Mr. Rhine had a chance to pastor a church in Fort Worth area but declined for personal reasons. He said he could never pastor a church anywhere that he could not preach or teach his strong convictions.

Mr. Rhine said that he has enjoyed his stay in Floydada more than any place he had been and that he hates to leave his many friends in and around Floydada as well as those in the church.

He plans to move sometime next week to Roanoke, Texas which is 22 miles out of Fort Worth.

Youngsters Make Impressive Talks At Rotary Club

Rotary Club members are finding it interesting to listen to young men just out of high school talk.

Last week they had Randy Holms as their speaker, and this week a youngster from Norway who has been an exchange student in Petersburg High School who graduated with the class of 1961 there.

He is Alf Lyngera, from a little city near Oslo. He talked in interestingly of Norway's geography, industry, government, religion and customs. His humor was an effortless sort. He has made his home this year with Mr. and Mrs. Grady Kelley at Petersburg.

Randy's talk was based on his recent attendance at Freedom Forum sessions. He says the young people are aroused over the threat of Communism. He said Communism is on the march in the world and, according to the time table are only 90 months from taking over in America.

"When they do you leaders are marked men," he said, adding that the young people are "ready" when their elders furnish the leadership.

Boyce House Says I Give You Texas

Tradition says that, at one time, the largest town between Fort Worth and El Paso was Thurber.

Now a "ghost town," Thurber, in its heyday, was the center of a district which gave employment to several thousand coal miners. So important was the Thurber mining industry that Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for president, spoke there; and, on one occasion, a young leader of the national miners' union, John L. Lewis, conferred with officials of the Texas Pacific Coal Company, which owned the Thurber mines.

The town began to decline about the time that oil was discovered at Ranger in the fall of 1917. This flush field, and other oil fields, provided a cheaper fuel for the T. & P. Railway, which had been the chief customer for Thurber's coal. A strike, too, at about this time aggravated the situation and mining came to a halt, never to be resumed on a scale of any importance.

In 1921, when this writer went to Eastland to edit the Daily Oil Belt News, Thurber (25 miles to the east) was still a sizable and active place. The town continued to be the headquarters of the company, renamed Texas Pacific Coal and Oil, and this concern conducted extensive oil operations in Eastland, Stephens and other counties. Also the company was operating a large brick plant at Thurber. The annual golf tournaments of West Texas and the Thurber baseball team were probably the best in all its region. The team was composed of young college stars, who were provided jobs by the company in order to maintain their amateur status, and by older players good enough for "pro" ball. I used to attend the games. They were played on Sunday afternoon before a crowd of a thousand or so and there was a brass band that performed before and, sometimes, during the game.

The stores were company-owned, in fact, the whole town was owned by the company, including the hotel, country club, baseball park, a lake, residences occupied by executives and cottages tenanted by workers. The business buildings were of brick, giving the downtown a handsome appearance, and the stores were well stocked. On Saturdays, the business section was busy. And there was plenty of activity in Thurber on Saturday nights, too. At least a thousand persons still lived in the town at that time. The miners had come from half a dozen countries, chiefly in Southern Europe, and many of them were residing in Thurber in 1921, and even for some time after that. They spoke the languages, they maintained the customs, sang the songs and danced the dances of their native countries. Festivals were frequent and colorful. And those Saturday nights were gay occasions, too, with the celebrants having fights, or a knife-or, even, now and then a killing.

For, despite the fact that national prohibition then was the law, they were able to obtain wine and beer by the simple process of making their own. The wine was called "grappo" and the brew was known as "choc" beer. These products, especially the beer, were sold to visitors from Ranger, Eastland, Cisco and other towns. That choc beer was quite powerful — so I was told.

The Thurber country club was

American Bike Month will be observed nationally in May. During May, the American bicycle industry urges all cyclists to make certain their bikes are in sound running condition. To achieve this, a detailed self-inspection diagram, similar to that above, is being made available to all cyclists in an 8-page games booklet which you can pick up at no cost at your nearest bike store. Maintenance points indicated above should be regularly inspected for wear and repaired when necessary. Since "There's Nothing Like a Bike—When It's in Good Repair," technical adjustments should be made by experienced repairmen.

CD Forces Boosted

Added help for hard-pressed State and local civil defense staffs is being provided under a new federal program to build up the nation's non-military forces. The result, Civil and Defense Mobilization Director Frank B. Ellis points out, will be better preparation for civilians to survive enemy attack.

"I am asking the governors and all other city and county officials of every State to impress upon their people that they have a spiritual obligation to prepare for their survival and for the survival of others."

A typical new employee under the program is Lt. Col. Robert S. Ritz, 42, who retired after 20 years in the Army and now serves as training officer for the Illinois Civil Defense Agency in Chicago. He went to work Feb. 1, 1961.

His varied Army career included radiological training which would help qualify him to instruct civil defense radiological defense courses.

RITZ WAS HIRED under an Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization grant to Illinois of $240,000. This is part of $6 million authorized under Public Law 85-606 and made available by Congress starting Jan. 1, 1961.

The program now enables State and Federal governments to split 50-50 the cost of hiring additional staff members, and their added operating expenses such as travel, office space, communications, and similar items. Hitherto, State and local governments received no Federal financial aid to help cover civil defense administrative or salary costs. One of the principal requirements under the program is that States and localities must expand their civil defense capabilities and not merely shift to the Federal Government some of the costs of maintaining the status quo of local civil defense.

IN AUTHORIZING OGDMS go ahead with the program, Congress also stipulated that Federal Government funds for the system personnel policies.

Among improvements to be seen under the shared-cost program are improved readiness State and local governments had with enemy attack and more coordinated and unified civil defense under national guidance.

Tools of Survival

Tools of survival are checked over by Robert S. Ritz, new training officer for the Illinois Civil Defense Agency, who joined the staff under a new law permitting the States and the Federal Government to share equally the cost of additional civil defense staff employees. Purpose of the law is to build up undermanned State and local civil defense units to meet their responsibilities in preparing the public for survival from nuclear attack. One of Ritz's duties is to develop new training courses in cooperation with specialists in the various civil defense fields to indoctrinate CD workers and the public on survival measures. (OCDFM Photo)

Rescue Demonstration

RESCUE DEMONSTRATION is put on by the Chicago Civil Defense Fire and Rescue Service for Robert S. Ritz (left), new Illinois Civil Defense Agency training officer, who is gathering material for a new civil defense rescue course. The demonstration shows how a man caught under a heavy object can be rescued. With Ritz is Charles J. Johnson, volunteer chief of the Fire and Rescue Service, which is on call 24 hours a day. The CD workers frequently go into action with the Chicago Fire Department. Ritz's salary is paid 50-50 by the Illinois and Federal governments under a new program to strengthen State and local civil defense for greater effectiveness. (OCDFM Photo)

Radio Monitoring

RADIOLOGICAL MONITORING is one of the principal courses stressed today by most civil defense organizations as a preparation for saving life from radioactive fallout which could follow a nuclear attack. A corps of citizen specialists is being trained to measure fallout and forewarn the public. New laws allowing the Federal Government to assume half the costs of hiring more State and local civil defense workers are now speeding this and other CD programs. In the top picture, Robert S. Ritz (far right in audience), new Illinois Civil Defense Agency training officer under the shared-cost program, sits in on a monitoring course in Evanston taught by Mrs. Laura Nissen, the city's training, information and radiological defense officer. She also has recently become a paid employee, selected to devote full time to civil defense under the financial aid program. Ritz later worked the material obtained at Evanston into a similar course at the underground Du Page County Civil Defense control center near Wheaton, Ill. (bottom). (OCDFM Photo)

CD FORCES BOOSTED

Added help for hard-pressed State and local civil defense staffs is being provided under a new federal program to build up the nation's non-military forces. The result, Civil and Defense Mobilization Director Frank B. Ellis points out, will be better preparation for civilians to survive enemy attack.

"I am asking the governors and all other city and county officials of every State to impress upon their people that they have a spiritual obligation to prepare for their survival and for the survival of others."

A typical new employee under the program is Lt. Col. Robert S. Ritz, 42, who retired after 20 years in the Army and now serves as training officer for the Illinois Civil Defense Agency in Chicago. He went to work Feb. 1, 1961.

His varied Army career included radiological training which would help qualify him to instruct civil defense radiological defense courses.

RITZ WAS HIRED under an Office of Civil and Defense Mobilization grant to Illinois of $240,000. This is part of $6 million authorized under Public Law 85-606 and made available by Congress starting Jan. 1, 1961.

The program now enables State and Federal governments to split 50-50 the cost of hiring additional staff members, and their added operating expenses such as travel, office space, communications, and similar items. Hitherto, State and local governments received no Federal financial aid to help cover civil defense administrative or salary costs. One of the principal requirements under the program is that States and localities must expand their civil defense capabilities and not merely shift to the Federal Government some of the costs of maintaining the status quo of local civil defense.

IN AUTHORIZING OGDMS go ahead with the program, Congress also stipulated that Federal Government funds for the system personnel policies.

Among improvements to be seen under the shared-cost program are improved readiness State and local governments had with enemy attack and more coordinated and unified civil defense under national guidance.

C of C Drive Report Slated This Morning

Farnell Powell, chairman of the membership campaign committee of Floydada Chamber of Commerce, yesterday said the indications point to a successful culmination of the enlistment program, but he was able to report only an actual 30 new members added to date.

The combination of the harvest and weather conditions calling for so much of their time made it difficult for most of our workers to get out and see their prospects, Mr. Powell said.

"We have scores of prospects we haven't seen yet, but we will get around to them soon." Powell said a report meeting is scheduled for 10 o'clock this morning at the PCA office, 103 South Fifth St.

Successful effective Chamber of Commerce operations are dependent on three principal factors — a plan of work, adequate financing and leadership.

Duncan Addresses Meeting Ralph W. Duncan, Abilene, veteran manager of Membership Relations, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, told this to a gathering of local enthusiasts who gathered for a breakfast Thursday morning in Rogers Restaurant.

The breakfast was attended by practically all the membership committee members and board of directors. They thus kicked off one of their campaigns to increase the membership in the organization and its income in proportion.

Last weekend Chamber of Commerce Manager John W. Reue expressed gratification over the prospect of material increase in effective membership.

Mr. Duncan's 20-minute address was preceded by a brief talk by Shirley W. Irwin, of the C of C membership committee.

Duncan was presented by Ralph Mardis, Floydada WT C of C director.

Farnell Powell, chairman of the membership committee, conducted the early-morning session. Invocation was said by Rev. Ed B. Bowles.

ATTEND FAMILY REUNION Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Wilks were in Melrose, N. Mex., this past weekend attending a family reunion of Mr. Wilks.

There are ten children and the mother, Mrs. B. W. Wilks, of Melrose. Nine of the children were present. Sixty-five enjoyed a beautiful meal Sunday.

Big Harvest

Community are mopping up, so to speak, after last Monday's torrential rains and hail storm. Most farmers were in the fields in that area Friday replanting cotton which was wiped out in an hour and a half hail storm.

"Town Rain" Hits Floydada Most rural communities were missed in the hard downpour which struck the city of Floydada Thursday afternoon. Reports vary on the amount of moisture from 95-hundredths to three inches. Temperatures tood a tumble from 84 to 60 degrees in a matter of an hour.

Shingle Business Picks Up Considering that this is a big, wide open country the areas of hail damage are viewed as few. But a look-in on the window glass and shingle business at the building suppliers places indicate that the hail ranged about as far and wide as the country is.

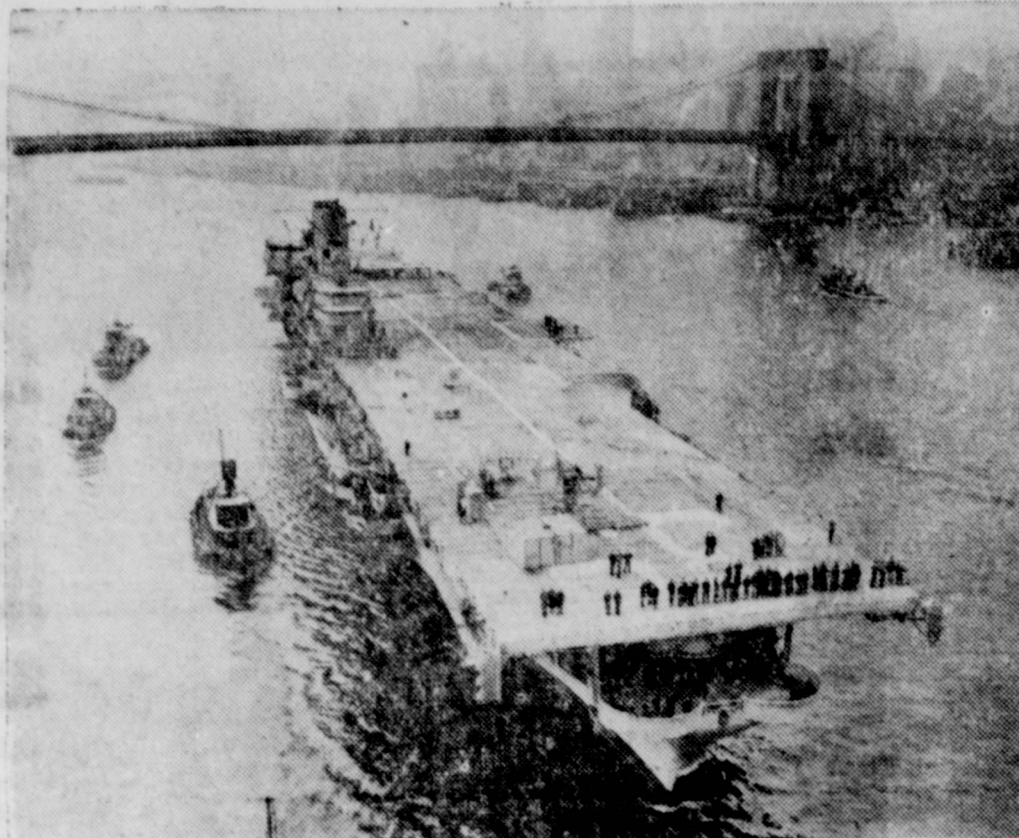

Tuesday the suppliers were barely keeping ahead of the demand for shingles in parts of the country as wide apart as South Plains and Cone. In the area from Harmony in a wide-sweeping bend south to straddle the county boundary between Floyd and Crosby, seems to have been the area of worst damage.

Crews of roof workers have been operating on an emergency basis and construction crews have been robbed of all possible help to get roofs back on the residences and windows in their openings. How many scores of buildings need some kind of attention due to hailstorm damage is a matter of conjecture.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Oliver, Waco, and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Oliver, Houston, visited their sister, Mrs. R. I. Teeple last week. Fate Morris and wife, of Bushland, visited Saturday and Sunday with Mrs. Morris' mother, Mrs. Ethel Hendrix and aunt, Mrs. W. H. Seale.

Mrs. J. M. Murfe, McAllen, spent Thursday with her girlhood friend, Mrs. W. W. Trapp.

Floyd's Cities Eye Canadian Water Supply

Floydada and Lockney are prospective customers for water from the reservoir of the proposed Canadian River Municipal Authority, the respective mayors told the CRMWA board of directors while the board was in session at Plainview Monday morning.

The two cities are not now eligible to join the Authority, but their status as possible customers will be kept in mind. The Authority is making progress but has a long way to go before a dam will be built and after that the pipelines.

Mayor S. W. Ross of Floydada said that Floydada is now using a million gallons of water daily and is eyeing all possible sources of additional supply.

Floydada and Lockney, along with other municipalities on the high plains, depend on underground water supply for their needs at the present time.

Mayor O. C. Bailey said the situation is not critical at Lockney at this time but is concerned for the future.

Delivery date is too far away and the amount of water that will be available above membership needs is so uncertain that additional commitments at this time cannot be made, the mayors were told.

Meeting Called To Discuss F B Bond Sale

A special meeting of the Board of Directors of the Floyd County Farm Bureau has been called for Thursday, June 15, to discuss the sale of bonds to finance the purchase of a building on July 20 at the Floydada High School auditorium has created much interest among the talented and attractive daughters and sisters of Farm Bureau members.

The directors, members and other interested persons think that the county organization has grown in membership and services to the extent that they are in need of their own home with increased office space in order to increase interest in the Bureau's activities and improve the services that can be rendered to the county membership.

The announced plan of the board is to sell the building bonds to the county Farm Bureau membership. These will be in one hundred $100.00 dollar denominations and will bear interest at six percent.

Numbered and purchasers will know from the numbers on their bonds whether they will be short term or relatively long term investments.

Announce New Asst. Manager At Piggly Wiggly

L. C. Jordan has been named new assistant manager of the Piggly-Wiggly store in Floydada. The announcement was made Tuesday by manager Dean Davis. Jordan replaces Frank Webb who has been transferred to Amarillo where he will continue with the Shop Rite chain.

Jordan comes to Floydada from Levelland where he served as assistant store manager. He is a young man and single, though he has been with Piggly Wiggly eight years.

Jordan is a member of the Methodist church. He has been active in JayCee work at his former post, and is an avid football fan.

Tuesday he was already on the job here and anxious to meet a few customers as soon as possible.

Contest Creates Interest

The County Queen Contest being sponsored by the Farm Bureau School auditorium has created much interest among the talented and attractive daughters and sisters of Farm Bureau members.

Any eligible young lady between the ages of 16 by September 1 and 22 years may enter this contest by registering at the local Farm Bureau office. It is required that each entry submit a billboard size photo of herself.

Mrs. Hollis McLain, chairman of the contest committee, reports that Raymond Akin, auctioneer of Plainview, has consented to serve as master of ceremonies for this event.

Refrigerate all vegetables except potatoes and dried onions as soon as possible after harvesting. Exposure to air and light causes wilting, and a great loss of essential nutrients.

Wash and clean vegetables carefully because dirt may hasten spoilage. Drain off any excess water, but store while moist for a better crisp texture. Trim away bruised or spoiled areas to prevent rapid spoilage.

All leafy vegetables and broccoli, cauliflower, peas, beans, carrots, celery, green onions, radishes and cucumbers, should have moist cold. Store them in the crisper pan of the refrigerator in moisture-vapor-proof wrapping such as aluminum foil, cellophane, or plastic.

Never pare or cut vegetables before storing. Peas or fresh lima beans retain more vitamins if stored in the pod. If they must be shelled in advance, store them in a tightly covered jar or plastic bag in the refrigerator.

TASK FORCE FOR TAXES—Gov. Price Daniel has named a 19-member committee to study Texas tax problems and recommend a plan for raising some $350,000,000 for the next two years.

All the 19 appointees are in positions causing them to have a strong interest in seeing sufficient money raised for coming state appropriations. They include the chairmen of the governing boards of the state's educational, welfare and hospital systems and officials of a number of school-connected associations.

Their report is to be ready prior to July 10, opening date of the special legislative session.

WHAT'S IN A NAME — Pro-sales tax legislators declare that Governor Daniel is merely calling "a rose by another name" in his labeling of what is and what is not a sales tax.

Sen. Wardlaw Lane and four House members presented "their side of the story" in a formal answer to the governor's report to the people on the regular session failure to pass a tax bill.

Any $350,000,000 tax program, including the governor's, will have to run heavily to sales taxes, whatever they're called, said the lawmakers. They recommended "Telling the truth about it."

Governor Daniel announced he had received a heavy volume of mail since his talk, with the sentiment running 6-to-1 in favor of his program.

Several legislators said this was contrary to the way their mail was running.

TROUBLES ALL OVER — To make matters worse, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reported that some of Texas' prime sources of tax revenue seem to be dwindling.

Oil production taxes for the nine months ending May 31 were $92,110,769, down by $3,000,000 from the same period a year ago and down $12,000,000 from the year before that.

Gasoline taxes, which have spiraled up at about 5 per cent a year, have hit a slow-down. They are expected to be about $129,000,000. This is identical to the same nine months period of a year ago.

Corporation franchise taxes were also down to $51,542,964 for this year, a drop of about $7,000,000 from last year.

One bright spot was in "sinning in the House, but never got taxes." Cigarette taxes brought in $7,821,931 during May compared with $6,310,562 for April.

Several legislators said this was contrary to the way their mail was running.

YOUTH TAKES OVER—On the heels of the Legislature's departure, the Capital was invaded by two new contingents of politicians—the youngest and most vigorous it sees from one year to the next.

They are the delegates to Boys State and Girls State, outstanding high school juniors who come to Austin each summer to gain experience in government. Each group (separately) forms political parties, nominates candidates, holds elections and sets up a state government—all with realistic zeal.

American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary sponsor the activity.

Short Shorts—Car-jammed Texas cities are getting sympathy and an offer of help from the Texas Highway Department. Commission announced that cities may use the space under elevated expressways for parking lots — to be operated by the cities or under contract by private parties.

Noting that the number of 1961 polio cases in Texas is up 9 per cent above the same period last year, State Health Department is launching a new campaign for inoculations — especially for "babies and breadwinners."

"Moonshining" is not just a part of the colorful past. Texas Liquor Control Board reported that it seized eight illegal stills and confiscated 2,970 gallons of mash and 34 gallons of liquor in April.

Texans launching an insecticide war against garden pests should take care that it doesn't backfire: warns the State Health Department. Among tips: (1) Read labels carefully; (2) Keep Sprays away from children and pets; (3) Don't smoke while spraying; (4) Don't inhale insecticide or get it on your skin; (5) Avoid contaminating food or water supplies; (6) Throw away leftovers.

Fort Worth Has the Time — Texans have a big time. They also have a big timepiece.

Fact of the matter is, it's the world's largest. It's the clock that's atop the 30-story Continental Bank Building in Fort Worth. Time is controlled by a micro-wave radio from the U. S. Observatory in Washington, D. C.

The clock itself is five stories high. It weighs 77 tons and the high and nine feet wide—that the clock can be read from a distance of five miles.

In the case at issue, the defendant was sentenced to 10 years for theft. He sought his freedom on grounds that, because of failure to pay dues, was not a member of the State Bar of Texas.

Appeals Court ruled that the judge was qualified for his office under the requirements of the Texas Constitution and the conviction was upheld.

Postpone Operation For Three-Year-Old With Heart Ailment

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Jackson returned home last mid-week from Denver, Colo., with their young son, Blake. The Floydada couple had taken the youngster to Denver for possible surgery, which was postponed to a later date.

Mrs. Jackson said the report indicated that whereas normally the blood circulates from one side of the body to the other, Blake's returns to the wrong side, where still another opening is hampering heart function.

At present the Jacksons were told there was no cause of alarm. One defect is balancing the other. Surgery however is another matter, Mrs. Jackson said, and the doctors wanted him as old and as strong as possible before operating.

Freezing Fruit—How to Freeze It
 One of the greatest pleasures in owning a food freezer comes from the enjoyment of fresh, delicious fruits, out of season—without a strain on the family budget.
 Fruit is such an essential part of a healthy diet that it behooves every good homemaker to spend the time to determine the best methods of preserving fruit by freezing—determining the ways in which fruit best fits into the program of daily living for her own family.

We all know that freezing fruit is far simpler than canning fruit—and also much easier than freezing vegetables. By planning ahead and organizing your work before you start a quantity of fruit can be prepared, packaged and placed in the freezer within a couple of hours or such time.

Since we feel that fruit is a daily "must"—if we feed our families well nutritionally speaking—be sure to allow ample space for a nice variety when you are planning your freezer program for the year.

Simple Tools Do The Work— Little special equipment is needed—just the everyday things you use in your kitchen are in most cases all you will need.

Just as in any food preservation method there are essential steps which must be followed, carefully, to produce satisfactory results. Freezing, itself, does not improve flavor or quality—so extreme care must be exercised in the selection of the fruit you are going to freeze.

In case you have your own fruit gather it at the height of maturity when it is fully ripe, well colored and fully sweet. Gather fruit in the cool of the morning. Sun heated fruit, as a rule, bruises easily from handling and an inferior product results. Rain-soaked fruit also produces a poor product. Washing fruit is one of the important steps in preparing fruits for freezing—do not allow it to stand in the water—drain thoroughly.

 Peaches, apples and pears oxidize and discolor quickly after the peeling is removed. To prevent this place these fruits, immediately after peeling, in a solution of 3 tablespoons lemon juice to a gallon of water, or $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoons citric acid to a gallon of water. Fruit should remain in the solution only a minute, so do only a package at a time. Remove from solution, drain and package.
 Cherries should be seeded before freezing. Other fruits with pits, such as plums, and prunes are cut in half and the seed removed with a knife. Many fruits retain better flavor if sweetened before freezing (if someone in your family is diabetic, or for some reason cannot have sugar you can freeze them nicely with the sugar substitutes—use whatever they are allowed in their diet).

After sugar or syrup has been added, fruit should be packaged, sealed, labeled and freezing started immediately.

"Today's Home — Tomorrow's Destiny" was the theme for the 5th Annual Homemakers' College held at New Mexico State University, University Park, New Mexico, June 7, 8, 9. More than 900 homemakers attended this college. Students ranged from June brides to those who had reared their families, but were still seeking information on new developments in modern homemaking. Outstanding speakers with experience in many parts of the world appeared on the program, along with faculty members of the various colleges and the university.

There was a wide variety of subjects from which to choose your classes: nutrition, clothing, money management, home furnishings, family life, landscape gardening, parliamentary law, communications, public affairs, story telling, travel talks, flower arrangements and others.

Special features, spiritual, inspirational and just plain fun rounded out the program. A vesper service under the stars—get acquainted party, an informal reception at the home of New Mexico State University's president, Roger B. Corbett. Wheat Stubble
 The use of wheat stubble in a farming rotation is very important for both dryland and irrigated fields of wheat.
 One ton of straw will contain 10 pounds of nitrogen, 5 pounds of phosphorous and 20 pounds of potassium after decomposition. In most years we will have anywhere from one ton of stubble to three or four tons of stubble produced. In yield increase, the straw would be worth 2 to 3 bushels under good conditions.
 Best results have been obtained when the straw has been worked into the soil. Straw will increase the wind and water erosion prevent the soil from baking and crusting.

Wheat Stubble
 The use of wheat stubble in a farming rotation is very important for both dryland and irrigated fields of wheat.
 One ton of straw will contain 10 pounds of nitrogen, 5 pounds of phosphorous and 20 pounds of potassium after decomposition. In most years we will have anywhere from one ton of stubble to three or four tons of stubble produced. In yield increase, the straw would be worth 2 to 3 bushels under good conditions.
 Best results have been obtained when the straw has been worked into the soil. Straw will increase the wind and water erosion prevent the soil from baking and crusting.

FREEZE PRESERVE

For Good Eating and Economy

THRIFTY TWO...

Two of the best money saving appliances in the modern home are the electric home freezer and the electric refrigerator. These "Thrifty Two" work for the homemaker round the clock as they make food preparation and preservation a snap for the housewife.

Freezing of fresh vegetables, fruits, meats as well as prepared foods makes them readily available and once these foods are prepared and put on the table the saving is only half complete for the left-overs not used in the first meal can go back to the refrigerator or back to the freezer and they will be just as good for the next meal.

All these savings are possible through the use of dependable — low cost electricity and are just another way you can "live better electrically."

FROZEN FOOD

THE THRIFTY TWO
 (Electric Refrigerator and Freezer)
CAN WORK FOR YOU

Yes the electric refrigerator and the electric freezer (or combination) can be the real thrifty two in your home.

Electricity is low in cost and high in dependability and in addition to these big advantages electric refrigerators and home freezers put the homemaker in a position to do bargain food buying in greater quantity and use the "thrifty two" to preserve this food at its freshest.

With the cost of living what it is today the wise homemaker is missing a good bet if she is not making use of the electric home freezer and refrigerator to save money on the family food budget... and at the same time the family can eat better.

This is just another example of how you can —

LIVE BETTER...Electrically
