Farmer Reunion Sept. 3 To Be First In 69 Years

By Mrs. J. D. Travis... The idea came from Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Leverett who live in Ft. Worth. Putting words into action they called Mrs. Joe Jackson, the former Miss Hortense Nance, by telephone. Mrs. Jackson contacted Edmund Crump of Plainview and Clayton Thornton of Falls and others in the Farmer Community. Then the ball started rolling and "where it stops nobody knows".

Every one contacted is very enthusiastic about the event, set for September 3, 2 o'clock p. m. with the Farmer Community outreach is very great, considering its size. Farmer school "girls and boys", including the teachers and County Superintendents, as well as former residents, scattered over Texas, New Mexico, Colorado and perhaps other states, are being contacted.

Name Honors Early Trustee... This Community started as the Sonora school but later the name was changed to Farmer in honor of one of the first trustees. The first building was a one room building built by donations from the people of the Community, and not only used for school but community gatherings and church. Mrs. Lizzie Ellis was the first teacher.

In 1893 the Baptists organized a Sunday school and had preaching one Sunday a month and the Methodist circuit rider came once a month. Rev. G. D. Jones, grandfather of Mrs. J. J. Spikes, was Baptist pastor for a year. Among the first weddings was Miss Eula Spikes and Mr. Bunch Fullin-gim, both now deceased.

1918 - 1919 Farmer had the first nine months school term. In the spring of 1919 Farmer had its first graduation exercise. Diplomas were given to two graduates, Misses Ida and Ada Wright, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Wright. Mr. and Mrs. Wright are now deceased. There has been a graduation exercise every year since that time.

Miss Ida Wright, now Mrs. B. F. Priddy, with her husband and son Joe reside on the old home place and occupy the same house where she was born. There will be pupils of the said.

FINISHES NURSES SCHOOL... Miss Barbara McCAda, daughter of Mrs. A. O. McCAda and the late Mr. McCAda, was among a class of 18 presented diplomas of the 1961 Nursing class of the Methodist Hospital School in Lubbock Monday night.

Graduates will take state board examinations in nursing in October after which they will become registered nurses.

FIGHTING BREAKS OUT... After a reasonably quiet week officers of the city Saturday night and Sunday had a hectic 30 hours, answering calls principally to quell fights and drunk and disorderly conduct.

Corporation court Monday ground out 17 such cases, based on complaints of officers. Eight of the charges filed were for fighting, Officer Alton K. May said.

Band Boosters Club Has Big First Meeting

Floydada Band Boosters Club had one of the largest turn out of members in that organizations history on Tuesday night of this week. Club president Paul Fullerton brought several matters of business before those assembled.

The membership voted to sell minstrel show costumes and divide the proceeds with the study club with which they have been associated in this project. Also it was decided to send thank you letters to local merchants who have been so faithful in helping the club to pay off the debt of new uniforms for the band.

This matter has now been taken care of and band boosters will not stage the usual business membership drive as in years past. The club will operate concession stands at the home football games again this fall. The stand under the east stadium and the one on the north end of the field will be operated at all home games. In event of an unusually large crowd the west stand may also be opened. Senior class band parents will work at the Spu games here on September 1.

The Whirlwind marching band will enjoy a picnic outing on Saturday when they go to Mackenzie Park.

Individual membership cards will again be sold by club members and band members this fall. The club needs this income to keep band projects going and to sponsor trips, replacement fund for suits etc.

Soil Tour Set For Sept. 14

The Annual Soil Tour of the Floyd County Soil Conservation District has been scheduled for September 14, according to Joe J. McEntire, Work Unit Conservationist, in charge of the local Soil Conservation Service office.

This tour which for many years has been well attended will include stops to view new farming operations, conservation irrigation systems, protective crops for diverted acres, conditioning land that has been land levelled with soil improving and high residue crops and other items of general interest.

Those who make the tour are guests of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce and Paymaster Farms at a barbecue dinner at a high noon at Paymaster Farms headquarters.

Details and the itinerary will be forthcoming at a later date. Everyone is urged to mark this date on their calendar and to make the tour.

The noon program will be in charge of the Floydada Lions Club at which time the outstanding Conservation Farmer for Floyd County will be chosen.

Richard F. Stovall, Floydada lawyer, has been named to a key committee of the State Bar Assn. Committee.

Appointment of Stovall as vice chairman of the Committee on Public Relations was announced by Bar president William L. Kerr of Midland. Stovall is a former member of the State Bar's governing board of directors representing the 19th Congressional District.

Stovall is a member of the State Bar Assn. Committee.

WHEAT VOTE TODAY IMPORTANT

The Department of Agriculture says the wheat referendum vote today is on a different kind of program to that for which Floyd County farmers and those of the nation have voted in previous years.

USDA says it is important that they have a larger percentage of the farmers passing on the programs. When fourteen per cent of the eligible voters determine the policy for all the people affected directly, and indirectly the whole population of 180 million, the percentage is just too low. Farmers, it is assumed, will want to remedy this situation.

THE NEW RAILROAD COMMISSIONER

Ben Ramsey, the perennial lieutenant governor of Texas, is going to change jobs. Shortly he will become a member of the Texas Railroad Commission filling the vacancy caused by the death of Olin Culbertson. His appointment by Governor Price Daniel was announced last week.

Since Ramsey talks less than most anybody that ever got into Texas politics he will be something new in the role of railroad commissioner. The job is a considerable one in which he, presumably, has had no experience. But he is able and should get his feet on the ground quickly.

BEN RAMSEY WAS HERE

The only time Ben Ramsey was in The Hesperian office he was in company with an auto load of backers who were voluble enough but the lieutenant governor said three words twice:

"I'm Ben Ramsey," he said, as he bent over a news man who was concentrating on a story and didn't so much as realize there was important company in the office.

"I'm Ben Ramsey," he repeated, extending his hand. Following the handshake he walked out of the office and paced the sidewalk while his cohorts finished their stint.

ALWAYS A RAILROAD CRISIS

With government and labor so deeply involved in the management of the railways there seems little likelihood the railways will ever be back in the saddle, running their own businesses. Half a dozen major railway companies are on the brink of financial disaster, with controls wound so tight they "can't turn in their hides" to meet their own problems. The regulatory complex is so strict that the government not only dictates how much but also how little a railway can charge for its services.

DANGEROUS DAYS ARE HERE

The Texas Department of Public Safety lists some of the problems that the motoring public will encounter during the last days of August and the first part of September, all adding up to pandemonium.

School vacation ends, the long Labor Day weekend and back-to-school scramble add up to the long word made up from Greek and Latin. The first part is Greek for "all." The second is simply demon, while the third and last part is a Latin suffix for "any general state or situation."

Put together with their original meanings and you have a "state of all demons." This sort of panic leaves the door wide open for all kinds of accidents, not traffic accidents alone but also house accidents as well.

Keep calm during this attack of the demons.

THE TEACHERS PAY RAISE

The teachers pay raise finally has become a part of the law of the state. The teachers apparently will not collect beginning at once unless the school districts can come up with a way to furnish the money for awhile.

Most of the districts which can afford to do so have already given raises. In the others it is likely the teachers will have to wait for a time. That's an opinion, not an attempt at stating a fact or announcing a policy, so far as Floydada is concerned.

MAKING ONE MORE TRY AT IT

We'd like to make another try at making ourselves understood about raises for people who are working for the public — teachers, officials, et cetera.

The only reason we can think of for a raise is simply a matter of fairness. They have to have a raise to keep up appearances, to pay their bills, and the like.

We do not expect to get better service from the teachers. We will be hiring the same people and their like and there is no reason to expect them to do a better job than they have been doing. All the teachers we know have been going all out all the time.

We said, or intended to say about the same thing when the county officers were getting a raise a year or two ago. We will be voting for the same men or some of their neighbors and we won't have any better service than the best they can do when they get into office. Public servants need to be paid adequately period. We need not expect them to be much smarter or better than the people they serve. And certainly not because they got a raise.

AID FOR "IMPACTED" SCHOOLS

Senator Ralph W. Yarborough reports that one-third of all children in public schools of America today attend schools where part of the financing comes from the federal government under the "impacted area" program.

"Impacted" is the term that has come to be used for school districts that have felt the impact of the armaments program, where large numbers of federal personnel are suddenly moved into one area to be near missile bases, air bases or similar installations.

Amarillo school district is one of the school districts receiving federal public funds to carry on their schools. People there are having to reconcile their strong antipathy toward federal spending with their desire for more money to build more schools to take care of more personnel for more federal installations.

The philosopher who said that work well done never needs doing over certainly never weeded a garden. —The Monitor Monee, Illinois

It is Difficult for the average citizen to arrive at a clear-cut decision on what he should do for himself and his family in connection with self-protection, under the Civil Defense program. The federal civil defense office has put into circular form many ideas, some of which no doubt are practical for one type of family, others for other types. Some people have more to do with than others.

Also, for those who are trying to whip out from behind the wall of lethargy, indifference and ignorance on the subject of self-help for themselves and their families in case of national or local disaster, local Civil Defense authorities are arranging for "schools" at which much may be learned about what to do. Most families need to know what the cost will be to follow out suggestions that will be made. These schools, which will be announced along, will be for all the people on a first-come, first-served basis. The need may never become real, but on the other hand we never know which "school" will be too late, either.

In Re Teachers Pay. We have been haunted, probably because we date back so far, by the possibility that we might have teachers walking the streets with $600 vouchers we can't pay like they did with $60 vouchers once upon a time. Things that have happened can happen.

For a state with as diverse industry and great wealth as Texas, it is a shame to have a sales tax imposed on the people. A complex one, hard to comply with.

How many millions it will cost Texas retailers to come up with the tax answers and keep from getting called up on the carpet by the state comptroller is to be found out. Everybody is waiting for a bulletin or something that will tell them what the law means. They still will be waiting a year hence, most likely. A law never means what it says but what a high court says it says.

As usual the retailer has got to collect the tax and report it to the state beginning Sept. 1. Computer people and cash register dealers "went into high" the day after the tax was signed into law by the governor, and bookkeepers all over the state began at the same time to develop "butterflies in the stomach."

Unfair To Children. It may be that the child labor law was necessary because children were being imposed on by heartless employers. We recall seeing pictures of little boys and girls with pale cheeks, shrunken chests who had to work in the mills at slave labor wages. We do not know how many children were mistreated in those days. But we do know there are many youngsters being raised in idleness with no sense of responsibility these days because the law says they must not be hired.

The remedy may well be worse than the disease. Or, it could be that a median between the two evils should be reached. Whatever else is to be said, it is a crime against childhood, the way things are being done these days.

Better Red than dead, somebody has said, to which another answered: If you fall, death in the cause of liberty and humanity is not cause for shuddering.

Orman Family Has Reunion At Lorenzo

(By Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Orman)

What a wonderful reunion we enjoyed last weekend with the descendants of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lee Orman. We all gathered at the spacious Community House at Lorenzo for the great day. Basket lunches were brought and the day spent in visiting, picture taking and plenty of eating.

Many went to church and Sunday School before the group assembled for dinner.

We were all so impressed by the beautiful Community House that the little town of Lorenzo has built. It has two large rooms and a large kitchen which is well equipped with stove, refrigerator, roaster and other utensils including dishes and silverware. There are chairs and tables for games or for serving meals which would accommodate as many as a hundred guests or more.

We wonder if Lorenzo can do this why can't Floydada have a Community House? The people there say hardly a day or night passes by without having some group or organization to rent either one or both party rooms.

First Time At Lorenzo

This was our first reunion to be held at Lorenzo but we were so impressed with the facilities there that we plan to have our reunion there again next year.

Air To Host Army Exhibit

STORMING A BEACHHEAD 170-STYLE — Bloody beach assaults will eventually be a thing of the past, as displayed in this new U.S. Army exhibit now on a nationwide tour. This panel depicts warfare in the 1970's, when commanders will have to think in terms of miles and "kilotons" rather than yards and rounds-per-minute. Troops will be projected into battle zones using three-dimensional transport devices to surprise the enemy with force and suddenness never before known.

Admission is free of charge. Art Department Increases Number of Premiums Divisions A through E in the catalogue will be divided into more premium numbers, allowing exhibitors to enter more paintings in the Floyd County Fair. All paintings in these divisions will be divided into three classifications: 1. Landscape or marine. 2. Fruit, flowers, or still life. 3. Head or figure (Human or animal). Pastel and watercolor paintings will be divided into the same classifications as the oil paintings. Drawing of any subject, will be judged under one premium number in each division as in the catalogue. Superintendent of the art department, Mrs. Francis Montandon, urges all people in the area, who do art work, to have their pictures framed and wired for hanging and enter them in the fair.

This is expected to be the largest art exhibit the Floyd County Fair has had. Frozen Food Changes Women who plan to enter items in Division E, Frozen Foods, under the women's division of the Floyd County Fair, are asked to bring the food on September 7, opening day of the Fair, instead of September 8, as indicated in the Fair Catalogue. Mrs. Charlie Boedeker, director of the Women's Department, said the entries would be received on the 7th up until 1 p. m. All must be the work of exhibitor and must have been made since Jan. 1, 1960. Foods should be wrapped or in containers in which they have been stored in freezers.

Quarter Horse Show Persons with entries in the Quarter Horse Show which is an additional attraction for the Floyd County Fair this year are reminded that entries will not be accepted after 9 a. m. September 9, said Lon Davis, chairman of the show, and Jack Johnson, superintendent this week. The event is being sponsored by the Fair Association and is the first to be held here. All requirements and rules were carried in last week's Hesperian. Trophies and other awards are being furnished by 18 business donors. They are: Western Farm Supply, Farm Bureau Insurance, Lon Davis Grain, Farmers Co-op Gons, Bishop Motor Co., Oden Chevrolet Co., Shirley Irwin Machine Co., Plainview Production Credit Association, Floydada Livestock Sales Co., Carthel Fertilizer and Oil Co., Dougherty Grain Co., Staniforth Grain, Wilson Grain and Fertilizer Co., Poole Automotive Service, Patterson Grain Co., Lockney W. WHEAT VOTE

Board as follows: The public now has about $3 billion invested in wheat. The estimated carryover is in the neighborhood of 1,400 million bushels. Total disappearance of wheat in the last crop year is estimated at 1,271 million bushels.

— 606 million for domestic use, and 665 million exported. Exports were at an all-time high, exceeding for the first time the quantity used domestically in the United States.

The carryover is about 100 million bushels above the carryover of a year ago. It is 5 1/2 times larger than the carryover of 25 1/2 million bushels 9 years ago.

However, under the legislation being enacted recently government-owned stocks of wheat were likely to keep on increasing. Previous

Bill Norman Sees Cattle Down Under

Bill Norman returned last week from an extended trip to South America, generally to see the kind of cattle business is operating in the nations below the equator, and particularly to see the types of Aberdeen Angus herds there.

Mr. Norman made stops at Panama City and Lima, Peru, en route to Rio de Janeiro, Argentina, where the big cattle show was held. In that country he saw the cattle operations at first hand.

Norman said he got the impression that about the same time Scotch and other syndicates from the old country were setting up their cattle empires in the states of the Argentine pampas in particular. No doubt that is now one of the world's great cattle empires.

Norman paid a visit to Sao Paulo and Buenos Aires, Brazil, before he came home. He talked briefly with Olin Harris at Sao Paulo and got the impression that Harris is moving from South America to the west coast of the United States to handle some of the Clayton Anderson operations in that part of the country.

Norman is in the Angus breeding business and was pleased to note that Angus cattle predominated in the part of South America where he visited.

TRUE RELIGION VS. FALSE RELIGION

The New Testament not only describes true religion, but contrasts it with false religion. For example:

In true religion, Christ is the only head of the church, with all authority in heaven and on earth (Matt. 23:18; Eph. 1:22). In false religion, a man is the head of the church. See the remarkable description of false religion in 2 Thess. 2:1-12 of a "man-sitting in the temple of God - exalting himself, setting himself forth as God."

The true religion of Christ is the oldest, starting with Christ and the apostles. False religion is almost as old, starting even during the lifetime of Paul (2 Thess. 2:1). Both shall endure to the second coming of Christ (2 Thess. 2:8).

True religion has few followers. False religion has many followers. (Matt. 7:13, 14; 2 Peter 2:1, 2).

True religion esteems the Bible to be a complete and perfect guide (2 Tim. 3:16, 17). False religion considers the Bible incomplete and adds to it the opinions of men (Matt. 15:9).

True religion teaches that marriage is honorable in ALL (Heb. 13:4). False religion teaches celibacy (1 Tim. 4:1-3).

True religion teaches that meats are to be received with thanksgiving. False religion forbids meats (1 Tim. 4:1-5).

True religion has no titles of distinction for men. False religion abounds in titles of distinction (Matt. 23:8, 9. "Call no man father").

True religion honors Christ by wearing His name (1 Peter 4:16). False religion wears other names. Paid Adv.

Results of Fertilizer Tests On Wheat at Halfway Given

The highest yield of wheat in combinations failed to increase the wheat fertilizer tests at the yield. Phosphate alone in High Plains Research Foundation increased yields by 5 bushels per acre from a preplant application of 80 pounds of nitrogen and 80 pounds of phosphate. The yield of 78.5 bushels per acre gave a profit over the non-fertilized wheat of $16.36.

Very close, with a yield of 78 bushels received from an application of forty pounds of nitrogen and 80 pounds of phosphate, was a profit of $18.41 per acre above the non-fertilized wheat. The non-fertilized wheat yield was a surprising 60.3 bushels per acre.

Nitrogen, phosphorus and potash were used in various combinations. These included 40, 80, and 120 pounds of nitrogen, 80 pounds of phosphorus and 40 pounds of potash.

All fertilizer combinations were applied in preplant applications on October 5, 1960. Tascosa wheat, used in the tests, was planted on October 14 and harvested on June 24. The wheat was not winter grazed.

The yield was figured at 60 pounds of wheat per bushel at the price of $1.75 per bushel. Rainfall received during the growing season, October 1960 to June 1961 totaled 21.9 inches. Irrigation water was applied in the amount of 4.4 inches on April 14, 4.2 inches on April 28, and 3.6 inches on May 15.

Center News

By Mrs. J. E. Green

CENTER, August 21 — This is a cool, partly cloudy, pleasant afternoon for August. During the last week there have been good rains in nearby communities, but Center has only had a trace. Maybe it will come here soon.

We had a good crowd at Calvary Sunday and two great messages. Brother Zinn is to be in Lubbock this week preaching in a revival at South Side Baptist Church and next Sunday we will again have in our pulpit that Lubbock laymen's quartet, "Word on the Wing" which we had recently. Everybody come.

People are still canning like win Brewer, at the home of Mrs. mad and still we have some week Noble Hunsucker, in Crosby County absentees. Prettyson school will begin. What a short summer with Mrs. Morckel and Mrs. Bremer. The cannery is full every day, even Saturday and no doubt through another kind of shower the over-worked supervisors are— a real downpour.

ELECTRIC CO-OPS ARE BUILDING A BRIGHTER TOMORROW

Ask Mom, Dad, Brother and Sister what the electric cooperative has brought. Mom will vote for running water and an all electric kitchen. Dad might say air conditioning and refrigeration. Brother probably lists Television and his Radio. Sister likely will choose her hair dryer and, much as she hates to use it, the vacuum cleaner. But there are many, many other appliances and work saving devices each could choose, all made possible by the electric systems of which they are member-owners. Rural people borrowed money to build their own electric systems and they are proud that their efficient low cost electric service is Building a Brighter Tomorrow.
