

Parole Will Be Sought For Linaweaver

The fugitive from justice from Kansas, arrested here on Feb. 5 by Federal Bureau of Investigation, agents, and Briscoe officials, and returned to Salina, Kas., to answer to charges of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution, is to appear in district court there soon to make answer to the charges.

He is Delbert H. Linaweaver, 30, who was living here under the assumed name of James Edward Thomas. He escaped from prison at Salina on July 8, 1960, along with two other prisoners.

To make his escape, it is alleged, he and two other prisoners overpowered the sheriff and a deputy, beating the sheriff over the head with a sack full of glass, back where he was booked on the charges.

The arrest was made with considerable fanfare, the FBI giving a detailed story to regional newspapers. Two Floydada men are credited with furnishing the tip that resulted in Linaweaver's arrest and return to Kansas. Sheriff Johnny Lanham of Briscoe County aided the FBI agents in working at the West farm when Linaweaver changed employers.

The crew boss recommended him as a good worker. Linaweaver lived in Floydada and drove to his work daily during a 13-month period before he was apprehended. In that time the 36-year-old farm worker and the Wests became fast friends. "Linaweaver's credit was good and he was a nice, quiet man," the family said. He occasionally took meals in the Johnny West home.

John K. West said last week he had considered the seriousness of the charges might result in a long sentence for Linaweaver. "He was a good man, our family thinks, and we hated to see him go into court without a fighting chance, so I went up to investigate," said West.

Linaweaver's counsel is Richard E. Blackwell, of the firm of Smither and Norton. Blackwell advised West that he intends to ask for a parole for Linaweaver. West will go back to Salina and will support the effort of the lawyer, he said. The lawyer will base

New ASC 'Trend' Outlined

At the Farmers Union fish fry Monday night at American Legion Hall, Lockney, Emory E. Jacobs, deputy administrator of the ASC division U. S. Department of Agriculture, went into details of the department's proposals now before congressional committees, which would govern feed-grain production and marketing in the year of 1963, and likewise the wheat program.

Corn, oats, barley and grain sorghum will be combined into one group for the purposes of the act, if the congress acts favorably.

Jacobs was heard by an audience that numbered 350 persons or so, many of them ASC county officials and administrators from over the plains, a large number of Farmers Union members and a sprinkling of business men and members of the Farm Bureau.

His talk was frankly political and he blamed Farm Bureau policies followed by the Eisenhower administration for the "continuing decline of farmer income and rise of the cost of the farm program to the nation."

Quered before the meeting at a conference with the press and radio as to the avowed political hue given the department's present activities, Mr. Jacobs said that "anything of a public nature has to be more or less political."

Mr. Jacobs' address to the ASC county officials and administrators from over the plains, a large number of Farmers Union members and a sprinkling of business men and members of the Farm Bureau.

effective for the year 1963, and the amount of wheat that will be subsidized. Any over-production of this figure will have to be sold on the free market.

Reversing the trend

Mr. Jacobs said the program, they hope, will reverse the trend during eight years of the Republican administration, during which costs went up, surpluses went up, farmers income went down, he said.

The event was an "old home day" for many members and officials of the Farmers Union. State officials present including Jay Naman, of Waco, State president, J. J. Berg of Amarillo, state vice president, and Richard Alexander, district field man, who, it was announced, would leave Tuesday for Washington to take a place in the Department of Agriculture.

Also present was Donald Wooten, of Crosby County, who is a member of the "national advisory committee" and Mrs. Wooten.

John B. Stapleton was master of ceremonies for the evening. The program followed a sumptuous fish fry served by the members of the Farmers Union.

The opening number on the program was a rendition of the national anthem by Mrs. Douglas Dege, whose accompanist is the piano was Mrs. C. L. Record.

Mayor O. C. Bailey welcomed the guests.

Among the notables singled out for recognition by the master of ceremonies were J. B.

Wheat Allotments Mandatory

The wheat program, if adopted by the farm operators, also will be mandatory as to allotments and other regulations. It will be the farmer's program.

Consolidation Vote Set For Saturday

Vote of citizens of Lakeview Common School District and Floydada Independent School District on the question of consolidating the Lakeview District with the Floydada District is set for Saturday.

Sentiment in Lakeview District, where one of the oldest schools in the county has been operated for many years, appears to be pretty well divided and a big vote there is anticipated.

In Floydada District the vote will be at the county court room with O. P. Rutledge as election manager. At Lakeview the vote will be held in the school house with Holt Bishop conducting the election.

Willson Lecturer Addresses Rotary

Willson lecturer this week at Wayland Baptist College is Ralph T. Overman, a scientist at Oak Ridge, Tenn., who came to Floydada yesterday and addressed the Floydada Rotary Club.

With him was President A. Hope Owen and Tom Parrack of Wayland.

The Willson Lecturer at Wayland, whoever he may be, is an annual visitor with the local service organization.

Dr. Overman is a "young man who has gone many places in a hurry, but has not left a deep Christian faith behind." His theme yesterday was man in a world of science.

'Get Your Town Ready First,' Advice Given Industry Seekers

Chamber of Commerce Manager John W. Reue returned last week-end from an industrial development conference held in San Angelo more impressed than ever with the expressed opinion:

First, that most industrial development is home-grown, "comes from within" as he puts it; and second, that to promote industrial development "you must get your town ready first."

Reue was accompanied by Don Pemberton, manager of Southwestern Public Service Co., to the conference sponsored by the Industrial Development Committee of West Texas Chamber of Commerce. It was a day-long session, with more than 200 representatives of communities of West Texas present, including delegations from practically all the cities from Fort Worth to Del Rio northward.

Reue said the assembly was told their communities should "study their geography," see what type of industry would fit in with the economy and go from there. Some protection for prospective industry also needs to be offered.

Many towns are organizing local industrial foundations which are in position to help the prospect with site proposals, financing and guidance otherwise, such as accounting controls.

Solution of proper medical and hospital care as well as housing problems are among the foremost needs in a community like Floydada, Reue suggests, and the industrial foundation that could go along with a sound prospect would be invaluable here, he believes.

Election To Name Three Councilmen In Tuesday Vote

O. P. Rutledge was named by the council as presiding judge. E. E. Cardinal will be a judge of the election, with Mrs. Jeffrey Smith and Mrs. G. Scott King as clerks.

BAIN NAMED CHAIRMAN CARR'S LOCAL CAMPAIGN

AUSTIN - Waggoner Carr this week announced the appointment of Kenneth Bain Jr. as chairman of his campaign for Attorney General in Floyd County.

Mr. Bain is a Floydada Attorney.

"I'm glad to have a citizen of Mr. Bain's standing and ability helping me in this campaign," Carr commented. "Thanks to the efforts of my friends, I have gained a commanding lead over all my opponents, as reflected in the public opinion surveys by the Texas Poll."

'MIND WAS SICK' Madcap Youngster Leads Law Officers In Chase Over Town

A 15-year-old Mexican girl, who drove an aunt's car (the family told officers) from an onion field nearby, gave city and county officials a merry 10-minute chase Monday evening about 6:30 o'clock. The family tried to catch the girl. When they couldn't they asked the officers for help.

The child's "mind was sick," the family said. Intending to recover the automobile and get the youngster off of the streets and highways before she hurt herself or somebody, the officers were not long learning she had other ideas.

For 10 minutes or so she whipped right and left through traffic, ran 23 blocks, turned corners without slowing, paid no attention to sirens and rammed the officer's car when Alton May attempted to stop her.

She cleared a lane through brisk traffic on Highway 70 in one of her passes. Bill Taylor, city officer, and Deputy Foster Amburn joined in the chase.

Alton finally whipped ahead of the car and threw on his brakes to end the madcap's antics.

Damage to officers cars was upward of $70 which members of the family paid.

Appreciations also went to Elmer Thornton, general chairman of the arrangements committee. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Fowell, Homer and Joe Berg, of Amarillo, all associated in one way or another with the Farmers Union.

FHS Players Win District 2-AA Contest

Young actors from Floydada High School, coached by Mrs. I. T. Graves, placed first in the District Interscholastic League one-act plays division held here last Thursday. The Floydada Thespians presented scenes from their three-act play, "A Roomful of Roses", given here two weeks ago.

Taking second honors was Lockney High School with "The Taming of the Shrew", coached by Kerry Moore.

Sue Jonson of Floydada was named best actress, and Tom McCready of Lockney, best actor.

An all-star cast was named for the meet. Members were Denny King and Sue Johnson, Floydada; Tom McCready, Arlene Purcell and Jerry Johnson, Lockney; and Sandy Cunningham, Morton.

Receiving honorable mention were Nancy Holmes and Wesley Johnson, Floydada, and Robert Garlington, Muleshoe.

Plays were presented by Floydada, Lockney, Muleshoe, Abernathy, Morton, and Olton high schools.

The winner will represent District 2AA in the regional contest to be held in April at Lubbock.

Local Coop Has Favorable Report

What at mid-fall appeared would be one of the bleakest years in the history of Farmers Cooperative Gins in Floydada, turned out to be a pretty good year after all, it was revealed in the report of the management Monday afternoon, when the stockholders held their annual meeting.

The stockholders, meeting in the district court room, attended by about 300 persons, were told by their auditor in a complete report that the net margin from the operations available for allocation to patrons was $57,817.78. The net margin was equal to about $6.71 per bale ginned, he said.

That the gins are in sound financial position, with only a nominal repair cost entailed before the coming of the new year, was indicated in this report and the report of Manager L. Fulton.

Regional visitors who were welcomed by the gathering and made talks included Roy B. Davis, manager of the Plains Cotton Cooperative Oil Mill, C. E. Bowles, Secretary of the Plains Cooperative Association, Tom Brown,

Judge Mathews To Address Old Settlers May 28

Although quite a busy man, engaged in the practice of law at Brownsville, Judge L. G. Mathews has promised Duncan Hollums, president of the Floyd County Pioneers Reunion Association, that he will be here for the May 28 event this year, and will address the gathering.

Formerly a resident of Floydada for years, Judge Mathews has been asked to return for the annual gathering of the old timers a number of times to address them, and renew old acquaintances and friendships, but has had commitments every year that prevented.

This year, Hollums says, the judge has promised not to let anything get in the way and will be here.

Saturday Last Day To Register Automobiles Without Penalty

Deadline for renewal of motor vehicle registration is April 1 and this does not mean that, as April 1 comes on Sunday re-registration can be made on April 2.

This is the news that Assessor-Collector T. T. Hamilton gives from the Motor Vehicle Division of the State Highway Department, which quotes the provisions of the statute.

Only manner in which a car owner can get a re-registration of registration license for any motor vehicle registration year shall be made not later than April 1 of such year.

The department has notified all police agencies of the state that enforcement should begin on April 2, Mr. Hamilton was advised in the letter.

"The year for the purpose of registration of motor vehicles advised in the letter, shall be April 1 to March 31 of the next succeeding calendar year," is the way one paragraph of the statute reads, and another would be open all day Saturday to accommodate late comers.

THE NEW STATE ARCHIVES BUILDING

The governor's courtesy in inviting newsmen of the state to attend the dedication ceremonies incident to the opening of the Texas Archives and Library Building in Austin, is a reminder that the past two legislatures have made extensive development possible on Capitol Hill.

The new library building, a much needed one to gather together and preserve the state's history, is the third or fourth important building which has been added in four years.

The capitol building itself, which the builders thought would house all the governmental activities for all time had been over-full for a good many years when the present construction work began.

Only provision which may have been overlooked in the planning is that for parking space. We have heard some complaint, of which we have no personal knowledge.

THE TEXTBOOK WARS

This week the investigating committee of the legislature resumes its public hearings on the adoption of text books for the schools of the state. This session is in or is to be in San Antonio.

While some doubt the usefulness of the hearings the general public, one must conclude, will be interested to know what are the real facts about the histories in particular and the geography texts, under fire. Seems to us the readers also are of more than passing interest—on what kind of reading children are cutting their educational teeth.

We doubt there is as much fire as there is smoke. But it does no injury to find out if the captive minds of the children of Texas are being subverted into channels of commie softness and one world isms.

CHOOSING THE TEXTBOOKS

While the state authorities have under consideration the textbook matter, textbook selection resolves itself into a local affair when final selections are made by the school district committee. That is, of the various texts which the state adopts which shall be chosen in the district as required and which as context or additional reading.

In Floydada and the other districts the choices already have been made in most of the texts. Various teachers are called upon to read and consider the books and say which are best. In some communities the matter is a touchy one, and in some districts the boards have made laymen members of the committee.

We had rather risk the judgment of the teachers as to what texts are best, as has been done in Floydada School District. Laymen should mix up in school affairs, authoritatively, as little as possible. On the state level, where the one-worders and the John Birchers have had a field day, the water has been muddied considerably.

ON BEING A TEXTBOOK SELECTOR

We would not like to have the responsibility of choosing the children's texts, although we would not mind having a part in naming the people who did do the job. A trained mind, applying common sense, will no doubt come up with common sense selections, if any are available.

A fellow who makes the selections lays himself liable, however. The critics are going to scan every paragraph for an offending sentence. If, reading one nod for a moment and ends up with a history book that casually mentions the Alamo, or obliquely apologizes for the men who fought there, he has made an error he knows he can't defend. This is only to illustrate. There are many angles. We read recently of a text that gave Billy the Kid a play of 187 words, and told the story of the Alamo in less than a hundred. We doubt that this is true, but it gives an idea of how a textbook selector could lay himself open to criticism.

COMPLAINT ABOUT SCHOOL MENUS

We hear of some complaints by our over-fed youngsters about the menus at schools, where the children are fed the best balanced meal that many of them get all day.

Reading the menus makes you hungry, but one never hears of the school kids being enthusiastic about the food they get. You do hear of them being critical. Old-timers who were sent to school with a piece of ham or bacon between slices of bread and a fried apricot pie for dessert, still rub their eyes at the wonders of the new era, when mamma does not even have to worry about the school lunch and knows her kid is going to be so well-fed that he complains about it.

GONZALES WARM SPRINGS

In dire peril of being closed is The Texas Rehabilitation Center, operated by the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation. Lack of funds, of public support, is the immediate cause. Backers of the project have not been able to arouse sufficient interest from the general public.

Announcement that the center would be closed was made early in February, but heroic efforts to stave this off were successful, temporarily. Those who may want to help can address the foundation at Box No. 58, Gonzales.

There is every reason to believe that the operation is worthy and that any money sent will be properly used and accounted for.

SOLVING THE FARM PROBLEM

We have listened to so many solutions of the farm problem that another one seems old hat. However, the new administration plan, we venture, mouse-like, to say, does sound good. The rest of them have too. We keep hoping the right one has come along.

For that reason we enjoyed listening to Mr. Jacobs Monday evening and prying into the way he and his cohorts expect to get the ball started to unraveling—in particular getting the farm surplus off the minds of the metropolitan residents. They keep reading in the slick magazines and the big newspapers about having to carry the farm burden.

Also we can't help but believe something drastic—like mandatory quotas—must be voted on themselves by the farmers, before they can pry loose too much of the surpluses in storage.

We shall see what we shall see. Meanwhile, do not assume we approve or disapprove. We do not know enough about it to do either.

Blessings on Thee!

Reading where teachers have been called upon to choose textbooks for the local schools reminds us to say "blessings on thee" to teachers generally and to the teachers on the local level in particular. Unlike many highly trained people they are inclined to be less critical of their fellow humans, more appreciative of the contacts they have. Newspaper people in particular ought to appreciate the broadmindedness of the average man or woman of the teaching profession. Teachers believe in free speech and the right of every man to have his say.

Ham Radio Stations.

Chester Hidalgo's plaint has considerable merit that the number of ham operators in the county should be augmented against the possibility of a disaster when they could be of some communication to gather together relief units, inform the authorities and advise the outside world. It happened that way in some communities when Hurricane Carla hit. Besides being fascinating, ham radio stations keep a young mind preoccupied by interesting things. One does not get involved in a highway crash, for one thing, while trying to "get through" to a ship at sea.

He Walked Out.

General Walker, the Texan who commanded the army at Little Rock and made the people there like it, is a candidate for governor of Texas. The general got unhappy with the interviewers at a recent press conference and walked out on them. We shouldn't charge the general with the Little Rock thing, probably. He had the yokels bayoneted at the order of the commander in chief.

Consolidate?

We would not want to "take sides" in the consolidation vote between Floydada and Lakeview School Districts this week-end. Formerly we did take sides in such matters rather pointedly as an "aginer." We almost got run over by the wheels of the changing times.

Inevitable?

It is an unfortunate (or fortunate, according to the point of view) fact that communities are not going to be allowed to continue to run their own school affairs in the way they have been accustomed to doing. Unless the people of a district are willing to put a lot more money into their school operations than formerly loss of self-rule is inevitable. If the state furnishes the money the state will have the say. If the district furnishes the money they can have the say. It would be a costly operation, the way the rules are made now, but no doubt would be gratifying to those who oppose the change.

Formby For Governor.

A bus load of plainsmen are down - state this week—Fort Worth, Dallas and around—to whip up interest in the candidacy of Marshall Formby for governor. The intent is to show solidarity among the home people in the belief that Formby is a logical man for the governorship. Less than 40 days remain for Formby supporters to do what they are going to do. On May 5 it will be up to the voters of the state. The McAdoo-Floydada-Plainview man has surprising strength in many parts of the state. Don't sell Formby short just because he is a home boy.

Single Ring Marriage Vows Read Saturday

Miss Alene Warren, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Warren and Y. E. McAdams Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Y. E. McAdams of McLean, were united in marriage last Saturday morning at 11:30 at the home of the bride's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon N. Hambricht.

The Rev. F. C. Bradley, pastor of the First Baptist Church, read the single ring ceremony before the immediate family.

The bride wore a street length dress of turquoise silk linen featuring a round neckline and elbow length sleeves and her matching straw hat had a short veil. Her only jewelry was a single strand of cultured pearls and earrings. Miss Warren carried a bouquet of white roses atop a white pearl Bible, borrowed from her matron of honor.

For something old, a 60 year old lapel watch that belonged to her grandmother, the late Mrs. T. M. Noland, was placed in the bridal bouquet. For something blue the bride wore the traditional blue garter, and for good luck she wore a penny in her shoe.

Lipstick Logic

Even we little people learn to think big these days. The course of events (and the speed with which we hear about them) requires it. Every day newspaper front pages bombard us with world news brought down to size: Dean Rusk talks with Gromyko in Geneva; the U. S. expands its outer space program; defiant Algerians leer at Western imperialism. Nowhere on the face of the earth — and now off the face of it — can we feel that what happens is no concern of ours.

This brings the world closer together, makes everyone realize that people everywhere are just persons facing similar problems and engaged in similar activities to their own. While this tends to belittle the importance of any one man or woman, it need not. What Astronaut John Glenn did proves that man is still superior to animals or machines; and that one right-thinking man or team, disciplined to the facts, can accomplish what seems impossible.

Any high school or college basketball team in a successful season proves the same thing. Five oddly assorted youngsters, with a will to win and an ability to work together, can overcome unbelievable odds in skill, height and speed of their opponents. And often victory is sparked by one player who believes his team can do it.

In these exciting times we little people need to remember that individuals are important. Any single person who wants to, and who works sincerely, can indeed affect the tide of human activities. Our only real concern should be in directing our efforts into worthwhile lines.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Earl Edwards enjoyed Sunday dinner with the Ham Smiths in Floydada.

Roland Adams and James Williams were members of the winning 7th grade relay team Friday afternoon at the Junior High entered were Lockney, Ralls and Petersburg. Rodney Bunch was on a relay team that ran second.

They were delighted to learn their son, Wesley, and other ones act play members had placed first in district for the 18th consecutive year for Floydada High School. Wesley won an honorable mention award among twenty boy contestants.

The Lakeview Home Demonstration Club were guests of the Dougherty Club Thursday afternoon in the Mac Ward home. The party "Went into Orbit" in a dressing game for their trip to the moon. Mrs. W. Earl Edwards and partner won for being the quickest dressers. Homemade ice cream, cookies, and lemonade were served. Local members included Mmes. Roy Fawver, Louis Pyle, W. Earl Edwards, Duane C. Plumlee, live in Floydada.

Sunday Evening Marks Opening Revival at Methodist Church

Revival services of the First Methodist Church will begin at 7:30 o'clock next Sunday evening. Dr. Jordan Grooms, pastor of Amarillo Polk Street Methodist Church is the revival preacher. John Fraser, director of music and youth of First Methodist Church, Lamesa, is the leader of the singing for the revival.

Services are scheduled both morning and evening. The morning service is scheduled for 7:15-7:50 Monday through Friday, with breakfast being served by the Methodist Men from 6:30 to 7:00 in Fellowship Hall.

The evening services are to be held at 7:30. The prayer Fellowship will be kept each evening at 7:15 p.m. in the Willson Chapel prior to the main service in the sanctuary. This period is for personal meditation and prayer, a time of preparation for the worship services, and a time of prayer for the revival.

Spiritual Life Clinic

An added feature of the revival activities will be the Spiritual Life Clinic to be conducted Tuesday through Friday mornings. The Spiritual Life Clinic will be a study and discussion of the personal spiritual life, the Christian disciplines, exploring the meaning of prayer, adventuring in prayer and consideration of the central concerns of the Christian's faith and life.

The clinic is for all who are interested in this area — both men and women. The clinic is set up on an informal discussion approach under the leadership of Dr. Grooms. The meetings will be held in the informal atmosphere of the Senior High Sunday School class room on second floor of the church.

The clinic is not another preaching service. Child care will be available for all preschool children of those parents who wish to attend.

Attendance Plan

An attendance effort will be carried out by using the "Fill-A-Pew" plan for the evening services. This plan provides for "pew captain" for each of the pews in the sanctuary. The pew captain has the responsibility of inviting his friends, church members, and neighbors to "Fill his pew" for the evening. A different person will serve as pew captain each evening.

Fred Stewart is general chairman of the attendance program for the evening services. The following are evening captains: Sunday, M. J. McNeill Monday, Mrs. W. L. Davis; Tuesday, Mr. and Mrs. Print Rice; Wednesday, Mrs. Diane Gresham; Thursday, Joe Fulton and Van Trapp; Friday, Guy W. Gunn. All these persons are members of the Commission on Membership and Evangelism.

Youth Night

Youth Night for the revival services has been set by the youth group for Thursday evening. The Youth will sponsor the attendance and share in efforts to reach all youth. Members of this youth group will be serving as pew captains for the evening on Thursday.

Child Care

The church is providing child care for the small children for the evening services. Nurses will be open with attendants for children 4 years of age and younger.

Child care will also be available for the Tuesday through Friday morning sessions of the Spiritual Life Clinic. All preschool children will be cared for.

firm with yourself, you'll feel better, look better, be happier and perhaps live longer.

Many look for a quick and easy method, only to be discouraged later by a rapid return of pounds. Fad diets can even be dangerous to health. Actually, the more normal the diet, the more likely you are to find it satisfying and effective.

The average person who totes around extra pounds needs to re-pattern his eating practices, even after the weight loss. In reducing, it's important to cut calories, but not nutrients. Your daily need for protein, vitamins and minerals must be met.

High-Protein Diet

Nutritionists agree that the protein-rich diet is the safest, most satisfactory way to reduce. Protein is essential for proper functioning of the body, plus resistance to disease. Foods high in protein have stick-to-the-ribs quality to keep away hunger.

This places meat in a key position in your diet plan. Meat is a favorite food and is high in complete protein, B-vitamins, iron and other minerals.

Weight watchers take note! Home economist Reba Staggs states that the latest research has proven meat to have more protein than previous charts give credit for, fewer calories and less fat. Also, leaner cattle and hogs are being produced and the meat man is trimming the fat more closely.

Meat, as we eat it today, has an average of 26 per cent fewer calories, 46 per cent less fat and 23 per cent more protein than previous charts give credit for. Also, leaner cattle and hogs are being produced and the meat man is trimming the fat more closely.

So. Plains News

By Mrs. Chester Hidalgo

SOUTH PLAINS, March 26 — More dusty, windy weather again this week. Housewives barely have time to get the dust from one storm cleaned out before the next one hits. Some days it isn't fit out for man or beast. I think everyone will be glad when or if we get some moisture.

Seventy attended Sunday School at South Plains Baptist Church Sunday but others came in time for church services. Eldon Karr of Plainview was a visitor. This was the first Sunday for the choir to wear their new robes.

April 1 marks the beginning of Youth Week at South Plains Baptist Church. All positions normally held by adults will be filled by the young people of the church. A revival will start April 6 with Brother E. M. Treadwell of Albuquerque as the evangelist.

Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Johnson and family went to Pampa last Sunday to visit L. N.'s sister.

Mrs. Grooms is the daughter of the late Reverend A. A. Collier, who at one time was pastor of the local Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

Visiting in the Bryant Higginbotham home Sunday was Ruby's sister, Mr. and Mrs. James Magnuson and Judy, Mr. Magnuson's mother, Mrs. J. F. Webb, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Yearly, Jennifer, Max, and Rex.

Bud Higginbotham went to Lubbock Saturday to spend the night with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Higginbotham.

Mrs. Leighton Teeple, Rhonda, and Jeri Sanford left at noon Friday for Dallas and Fort Worth. They plan to go from there to Waxahachie to visit Sherlene. Sherlene is attending the Bible Institute there.

Casey and Mike Hidalgo accompanied their grandfather, Roy at Childrens to Pettit this week-end where they visited their grandmother, Mrs. Roy Childress who teaches school at Pettit.

Mr. and Mrs. Arby Mulder went to Amarillo Sunday to visit Mrs. Mickey McDonald. The occasion was a joint birthday party for Arby and Mrs. Nell McGuffee.

Sunday visitors in the Eugene Beedy home were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jackson. The Beedys visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beedy near Claude from Tuesday until Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wells attended a Sunday School Social last Monday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Rose of Lockney. Approximately thirty persons attended the party.

Mrs. Sylvia Yearly has announced that her Spring Music Recital will be held at the South Plains Baptist Church April 3 at 8:00 P. M.

Mike Bean celebrated his third birthday Monday with a party in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Don Bean.

Bruce Julian and Alan Adams went to Hale Center Saturday to a track meet. The meet was called off however because of the high winds and was to have been held Tuesday.

Time Has Made Changes

There were no telephones, electricity and no public roads.
Most all of the country was grassland and you would angle across the country in the direction you wanted to go. At that time they opened 22 gates in the to Hereford for supplies.

Now they enjoy hard surface roads to within five miles of their home and a graded road to their front door. Also the joy of using telephone service and electricity.

The Fortenberrys enjoyed having all of their children present except one daughter, Mrs. Jack Dowd and family, of Hamilton, Ohio, who started and had a car wreck which prevented her attending.

Those attending were Miss

Plug-In Picnic

This modern electrical age we enjoy has made living simpler and pleasant; makes savory food for a crowd quick and easy to prepare. One of the great American entertaining pastimes is the picnic, and it can be a fall football game follow-up as well as a summer delight with the aid of an electric grill.

Broil juicy hamburgers and frankfurters, basting them with a beer-drenched barbecue sauce kept warm on the grill shelf. Serve with a hot, German-style potato salad, buttered buns, and mugs of chilled, refreshing beer.

Beer Barbecue Sauce

1/2 cup beer 2 tablespoons lemon juice
2 tablespoons vinegar 1 cup chili sauce
2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce

Combine all ingredients in a small saucepan. Keep hot on griddle shelf of broiler, using to baste hamburgers and frankfurters during grilling. Yield: Approximately 2 cups.

Hot Potato Salad

6 medium potatoes (about 2 pounds) 1 tablespoon sugar
1/2 cup beer or ale 1/2 teaspoon Tabasco
6 slices bacon 1/2 teaspoon celery seed Butter or margarine 1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1/4 cup finely chopped onion
2 teaspoons salt

Cook potatoes in skins until tender. Peel and slice. Cook bacon in skillet until crisp; drain and crumble. Measure bacon drippings and add butter or margarine, if necessary, to make 1/4 cup.
Sauté onion in drippings until tender, but not brown. Stir in salt, flour and sugar; stir to a smooth paste. Gradually add beer and Tabasco. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture thickens and comes to a boil. Pour over potatoes; sprinkle with celery seed and parsley; mix lightly with fork. Serve hot. Yield: 6 servings.

Outdoors In Texas

By Vern Sanford

Fishermen are a peculiar lot!
They are individualists, to say the least. Get a half-dozen of them together and they will give you six different views on the same subject—if it's fishing.

The following ideas, opinions, habits, procedures, rules—whatever you want to call them, came from a tape recording of a discussion between three of Central Texas' top-notch, black bass fishermen.

Jim Roddie, former head of the TIPS Fishing Club (better known as the Texas Inveterate Piscatorial Sportsmen), has one very definite belief. He feels that hooks play a far more important part than most fishermen realize. Especially when it comes to landing big, lunkersize bass.

Jim is a stickler for French Crown or Eagle Claw hooks. He maintains that they are the sharpest, by far. Because of their brown or bluish color they are not as visible to the fish as are the silvery hooks.

Jim keeps dozens of these hooks on hand and even substitutes them for the treble hooks on brand new baits. Always he adds larger hooks. He likes 'em big!

As for lures— if Jim had to use but one lure, day in and day out, year in and year out, his choice would be the quarter-ounce Pico-type Jig, which he makes himself. It has a BIG hook, at least 4-0 and no weed guard. Color: black.

Attached to it he'll add a pork rind or a 5-inch eel. Sometimes a 3-inch—or a 9-inch eel cut in half. Prefers to use the tail section. Again, black is his choice of color.

A plain black jig alone is real good, says Jim. "But the addition of an eel or a pork rind gives it more lifelike action, and I believe attracts the larger fish."

Two points to bear in mind, according to this Austin angler, are to:

- (1) Keep the jig on the bottom, where the lunkers lie, and hit the tail of the jig.
- (2) Remember that the bass
hit the tail of the jig.

So—jig off the bottom and give him time to run with it.
Then when the big black stops (to roll the bait over in his mouth, preparatory to swallowing it head first)—SET THE HOOK, and set it HARD.

As for top-water lures, Jim says they more often than not, catch the smaller fish. He repeats: "Nine times out of ten, you'll find the big ones down deep."

Kinda hard to argue the point with a guy who lands them in the four to eight pound class rather consistently.

But there are chugger-poppers who will challenge him.
One such is Roddie's own fishing buddy, Clyde Graham, present head of TIPS.

Clyde prefers light colored baits. His favorite top-water lure is the pure white, transparent plastic Heddon Spook chugger. For a bucktail he'll take yellow.

Early in the morning, however, Clyde will try the black baits first. Then he'll switch to his transparent Spook, which, incidentally, looks more like an unfinished bait.

If no luck, then Graham's next choice is the same kind of clear plastic lure to which he has added some touches of green paint. Sometimes he paints the head of the green bait red.

All this doesn't mean that Clyde Graham doesn't use the jig and eel. Far from it. In fact he makes his own weedless jigs as well as the bottom-bouncing, spinner-type. Clyde will tell you frankly that he prefers the top-water lure mainly because he likes to see the fish rise out of the water to take the bait.

But let Jim Roddie latch onto a four or five pounder and watch how quick Clyde Graham switches to a black jig and eel!

Meanwhile, Gordon Wallace, another TIPS'er, will have been fishing the jig and eel all along.

"UNCOMMON VALOR WAS A COMMON VIRTUE"

Seventeen years ago, on February 23, 1945, a company of Marines began a tortuous climb up the side of a mountain named Suribachi on the small volcanic island of Iwo Jima lost somewhere in the far reaches of the Pacific. These war men engaged in the deadly task of war.
The battle for Iwo Jima had blazed furiously for four days; the taking of this mountain was but another chapter in this grim and costly battle.

Shortly after noon on that day, five Marines and a Navy Corpsman stepped forward to raise against the smoking sky our American Flag — and with that act became immortal. The click of a camera held by a War Correspondent captured for all time this single moment in a long and bitter conflict.
Today, a magnificent bronze statue of the Marine Corps Memorial overlooking our Nation's Capitol commemorates this historic event. By Presidential Proclamation our flag flies from its staff 24 hours a day.
By the will of the American people, this statue has become a symbol, not only of six individuals fighting for their country, but of American spirit and determination.
Seventeen years from the instant of its birth, the Iwo Jima flag-raising silently tells the world of the dedication of the Marine Corps and the strength of a Nation.

He prefers the pork rind to possible to fish the area more he casts on top of the moss. Lots of fishermen just don't

Recent Discovery Expected To Aid Fight Against Screwworm

COLLEGE STATION, Dec.—A new discovery may prove of great value in future efforts to control or eradicate a very expensive livestock parasite, the screwworm fly. Normal black screwworm fly larvae are blue-green.

The first black screwworm fly was found by Dr. Leo E. LaChance, insect geneticist of the USDA's Agricultural Research Service at Kerrville, in a laboratory colony obtained from Orlando, Florida. Since these flies had not been irradiated, the black one is believed to be the result of a naturally occurring mutation. Several generations of the black screwworm fly have been produced by LaChance and his associates.

The black color is important as a genetic marker (a distinguishable physical characteristic that is heritable) and could prevent a problem which delayed the eradication in the South east, a quick, effective way to identify the released flies.

Irradiation does not alter the appearance of screwworm flies, and they are not radioactive when recovered in traps. Dye or other markings are not sufficiently permanent for accurate identification. An easily distinguishable marker, such as the black color, could eliminate this problem and speed progress in future eradication programs.

Food Sense □ Not Nonsense

In Parts, This Put-Together World

You even can have breakfast part by part in the continental manner—juice, toast, and coffee when you get up, more hearty fare later. Such a put-together breakfast has won support through the research of leading nutrition scientist, Dr. Helen Clark. Her studies at Purdue University refute a popular belief that all the parts of protein—the amino acids—have to be present at one meal. She found that amino acids work as efficiently whether parts come assembled or knocked down for assembly in your body in any 4- to 16-hour period.

Dr. Clark fed groups of animals a nutrient-rich diet that barely met their need for calories. Missing was only one part: the nutrient amino acid, lysine. This was added to the diet of one group at mealtime. It was furnished, by itself, at 4- to 16-hour intervals to the other groups. All the animals thrived. Total food for the day was what counted in promoting growth.

This research bolsters a trend in America toward breakfast in parts—one part at arising; a second at coffee break. Because food for the day is what counts—and not balancing meals—the research opens up opportunities for more flexibility in meal planning. And it underscores the wisdom of fitting all the nutrients together on a daily basis by following this foodway:

Selecting minimum servings from the four food groups—▲ 4 servings of enriched or whole grain bread or other cereal food ▲ 2 servings of milk or cheese ▲ 4 servings of fruits and vegetables ▲ 4 ounces of meat, fish, poultry, nuts, dry peas or beans.

Adding more of these or other foods as needed for energy, nutrients, ideal weight, and satisfying meals.

Assembling any do-it-yourself project takes know-how. What you eat every day is no exception.

his request on the belief "that a parole should be granted if it can be established that the individual is capable of rehabilitating himself, or has in fact, been rehabilitated through his own efforts."

Background Against Him

Linaweaver's home life and background was not too good, the lawyer said. However, "once he had become dissociated from his background and became associated in a new environment, where he was treated as an individual, and given an opportunity to prove himself, he made every attempt to conform to the rules of society."

In view of the unusual notoriety the case has been given both here and at Salina, Mr. West said he was surprised that the counsellor had hopes of getting a parole.

West added that he was going to go help all he could. "He's the kind of a man Johnny and I need and I believe that he may need us," West said.

Linaweaver's wife, a Paducah woman, whom he met and married while living in Floydada in 1957, said she was operating a cafe in Floydada at the time. The couple took a three weeks trip to California, then returned and he went back to work for West, only to have his past record catapult him back into trouble.

Boyce House Says I Give You Texas

By Boyce House
Jan. 11, 1962

More reminiscences of the 1920's as editor of the Eastland Daily Oil Belt News:

Still practicing law but more active with the management of his business properties was a man who had been elected county judge by the Populists in the 1890's. At the age of 75, he negotiated a thirty-year lease on one of his buildings and was highly elated, evidently forgetting the fact that he could not hope to reap the benefits for more than a few years.

Another lawyer, who likewise did little law practicing but managed his landed holdings, was a Sacred Harp singer and he and his colleagues sang at funerals. The music was extremely doleful, so much so that, as one irreverent individual remarked, "It would reconcile a fellow to being dead because then he can't hear it."

Dean of the Eastland bar was a man so slender that it would seem a puff of wind could blow him over. Yet, 30 years later, he was still practicing law and was able to comment, with a dry chuckle that he had been refused insurance along time ago but had outlived the agent and the doctor who rejected him.

Eastland was visited by a man who had seen Lincoln. The visitor was the father-in-law of the cashier of the bank. When a lad he had lived in Springfield. One day he and other boys were playing hide-and-seek. A very little lad was "it" and, in his search, he opened a closet door in a doctor's office but immediately ran at the sight of a skeleton. Soon after, the little fellow met the cadaverous Lincoln and asked him, "How did you get out of Dr. Blank's closet?"

One of Eastland's most interesting establishments was Majestic Cafe, owned by three naturalized Americans who were born in Greece. Everyone kidded Sam, the almost bald mid-

Lightening Speed—A Timely Tale

Lightening-quick, taut, rhythmic, superb technique action to Russian dancers on tour. To make Russians in the same lightening way, scientists at the Moscow Nutrition are hard at work. Through diet, they hope man's intellectual activity. Their research is pointed diet high in carbohydrate as a means.

In a study of Soviet nutrition, Dr. Josef Brand University has reported that Russian scientists are differing in their ratio of carbohydrate to fat. One was carbohydrate, 15 percent fat. The second was 20 percent carbohydrate, 60 percent fat. Interpreting responses of brain activity, the Soviets compared responses of subjects with controls. They found that diets high in carbohydrate heightened brain activity. In contrast, diets slowed down brain activity.

Western science has not yet tried to manipulate intellectual response. In our pattern, we have carbohydrate, indulged in more foods rich in fat. But American nutritionists are urging a change in our way of interest of heart disease control. They recommend:

That Americans turn first to selected sources of fat rather than to foods high in fat after proteins are selected. Carbohydrate comes from enriched bread and other cereal foods, skim milk, fruits and

SOUND OFF

BY BETH PRATT

AREN'T THEY CUTE? A little four year old friend has recently been learning to gather the eggs. He has one problem—the hole that he crawls through to get in and out of the chicken house is just big enough for him to squeeze through. He carries the eggs in his pockets and well you can guess the result. He comes in and says "Mmmmm! what happened?"

GASSED—Our little one is having his first experience with open flame heaters, and it is frightening to say the least. This morning he tried to use one of the heaters for a rocking chair—fortunately, when it became a little warm he got up. He has turned the gas jets on several times too. It I don't watch him very closely he will be riding his tractor down Main Street—the almost made it yesterday. He can really make that little tractor fly on this concrete, and the expression on his face as he rolls along is one of pure joy!

APPLIANCE AFFLICTIONS—Not long ago an article came out in a leading magazine urging appliance users to please, please read directions and then follow them. The service calls on most appliances are usually made necessary by misuse or failure to follow the manufacturers directions. I'll admit that those directions are sometimes obtuse, but most of us just don't take time to read them over or refer to them.

After all the research that has gone into washing machines to make care of different types of washday problems no problem at all, many women might just as well have bought a wringer type washer for all the use they give their highly automatic machines. One look at dials and buttons seems to give many of us a severe inferiority complex, and we find one button that we know will work and leave all the rest alone.

Wake-up ladies... this is the age of the push-button... gather your courage and try some of those features which originally attracted you to your particular machine. You'll be ashamed to find how simple it is. One reminder—read the directions FIRST and then start pushing buttons and turning dials.

FROM MARCELEME COX—If there has to be a bomb shelter, then before stocking anything else, put a Bible there. This best seller has soothed more souls than any other book. You will not understand it all, but you can trust it. An archaeologist can dig with his spade where the Bible says something was, and find it.

Since this is true, how much more so is it that all of our questions are answered truly in its pages. There is much digging to be done on the spiritual level, and one requires only a sincere heart and a desire to know the truth.

Couple Travels 'Back East' On Extended Trip

New faces and new places were on the agenda for the J. T. Huckabays, who have returned from a two-weeks trip to Alexandria, Va., where they stayed with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Simms.

The new face was that of the Huckabay's 6-month old daughter, just returned from Germany with her mother, Mrs. Gary Huckabay.

The Huckabays brought their daughter-in-law and grand-daughter back as far as Valley Mills, Tex., where they stayed with her parents. They plan to visit here in a few weeks, and Gary, who has been with the Army in Worms, Germany, for two and a half years, will receive his discharge the last of April and will be in Floydada.

The Simmons are also due for Army release, and will be home about April 11. Their plans call for Simms to attend Tech.

The Huckabay's took the Southern route to Virginia, and on the first Sunday, took a "nice day's drive" through Maryland, Delaware, and Pennsylvania. They also flew round trip to New York City, and took a tour through Washington, D. C., seeing the president's caravan carrying some foreign dignitaries.

Returning by the Northern route, the Huckabays visited in Missouri with Mrs. Huckabay's brother, an Army career man, whom she had not seen for 10 years.

GIVING UP INTERVENTION—The Richmond Dispatch surmises that the English Government, which is charged with urging on the "abolition crusade that is culminating in this war, and then coldly left the South to meet it as it could." The offense of the English is a compound nature. They should, in the estimation of the rebels, break the blockade, and should not have insulted, incidentally, Messrs. Mason and Sill, through their leading Press.

There is, perhaps, some reason for this indignation, not that the English Press is especially partial to the North, but because of the length discovered the misrepresentations under pressure of which their Government is urged to break the blockade. The falsehood of the inefficiency of the blockade is expressed by the London Times, and by citations of facts to the contrary, which no reputable Southerner virtually embargoed in London, because of the want of all facility for reaching home, through the blockade, dare deny. — THE RICHMOND DISPATCH (Reprinted in Texas Newspapers)

DEPARTURE OF AMERICANS FROM PARIS — The American exodus still continues. The timorous return to the states, and the wealthy, who are not afraid their fortunes will greatly suffer by home events, take contrary route to home. A piece of news last night was transmitted to me by a Southerner, which should not be omitted. The person alluded to received by the latest mail a letter from a young friend, in which it stated that he had applied to Gen. McClellan for a passport, in order to proceed to Richmond. The General at once granted it. But when it was presented to Mr. Seward, he refused to countersign it, giving as his reason for not doing so that he expected in the course of three weeks everyone who pleaded would be free as formerly to leave and enter Richmond. — THE LONDON HERALD (Reprinted in Texas Newspapers)

Training of this nature is designed to maintain a constant state of combat readiness essential to a modern Army deployed to maintain the defense of the free world.

ONCE WAS OKEY

Tom McLain Irked By Mis-Use Of Term Pioneer At Reunion

Well here I am after several weeks of flu, and what goes with it and the Good Lord has seen fit to let me pull to what seems to be about over it. Is now far enough along to think something about Pioneer Day again.

One thing that those planning for this occasion know what I think about, and I would like for others to know also - and that is the free dinner for special ones.

Most of us Old Timers did not have much but if our neighbors happened to be around at meal time they were welcome to part of what we had. And if one came along that we never heard of before and did not expect to ever see again he was welcome to a portion also. Might not have been so fancy but so far as I know the appetite of all was satisfied and if some one had refused to eat it would have been considered an insult but I never heard of such being done.

Now what I am thinking about is our selfish way of serving dinner on Pioneer Day. That drawing a line and saying you on one side of this line eat a beautiful meal and those on the other side of the line do without or hustle for your self. This was not the spirit of The Pioneer. It has been demonstrated to our satisfaction that we can not throw the door open and say everyone come and get a bountiful feed. Just why this is I won't try to explain. And another thing that will perhaps stir up more sand than anything else is where this line be drawn. There was a time that fifty years was a fair line to settle on. I just wonder who that one was who came here in 1912 and at the time considered himself a pioneer. That time we had railroads at both Lockney and Floydada, daily mail, many business establishments in each town. Public roads laid out and even a few spots graded.

Even if we recognized those who came here in 1910 and 1912 does that make them really pioneers? Now when we place you on the free meal side of the line I do not at all blame you for doing so. Really consider it an insult if you did not. What I would rather do is give me a sandwich and a glass of water, and throw the door open and say every one come and be served the same way.

If we could see our way clear to add a cup of coffee or a glass of tea or something else. Okey. But what is done for me let it be open to every one regardless of where, when or how.

Now if some of you are so modern that you cannot be content to have such as this then go get what you desire, eat it and pay for it. Who Cares! I do not expect to change our plan of feeding some and leaving others out nor where the line is drawn but would like for people to know where I stand. So long as we draw this line and I am on the eating side don't worry about me not eating. I have not refused nor do I expect to do so.

There is a thing that we hear a lot about these days and that is fallout shelters. About all I see to this is for us as a people and a nation to finish spending ourselves to death and to show the Russians how scared of them we are. I do not expect many to agree with me on this line, either, but would like for to be granted the privilege of having ideas and trying to express them.

J. T. McLain

GOVERNOR PRICE DANIEL recently presented his personal contribution to patients of the Texas Rehabilitation center at Gonzales to help keep the Center in operation. The Governor urged all Texans to join with him in assisting the state's disabled citizens by mailing contributions to TRC, Box 58, Gonzales, Texas. Directors of TRC have said they will be forced to close the rehabilitation center unless sufficient funds are received within the next two weeks.

Lakeview Mother Urges Vote For Consolidation

Saturday, March 31, is an important date. It gives the adult members of the Lakeview Community an opportunity to vote for the consolidation of an antiquated method of educating the youth of the community.

Everyone for miles knows that the little two room school is failing to serve the purpose it was dedicated to many years ago.

Times have changed since there were a hundred students enrolled there. No longer is it the center of the community affairs. No longer do all roads lead to the school house. No longer are the activities of every home affected by the "doings" there.

Members of the community long believed in religious freedom and for years attended the church of their choice. Many students enrolled in country school were members of Sunday School in town, churches of many denominations. Parents were wise and accepted the fact that a small community church no longer gave the blessings, the training, or the opportunity to serve.

Grow-up Times Change Lakeview has been a very good place to live. Yet many of the children reared there leave to make their homes and find their life's work in other places. All the children reared there could not possible remain there to grow and prosper and make a living for their families. The children grew up times changed. They made livings in many ways other than farming.

Fathers and grandfathers adopted mechanized farming. Homes have been remodeled or rebuilt. Homes are as modern as farming methods.

The Lakeview road is now paved and leads to any town one wishes to shop or market their produce in. Farmers no longer have their repairs made in Lakeview. Housewives no longer do the majority of their shopping at the country store.

Many children drive past the two room school and in a matter of minutes are in an ultra modern high school located in town. All Lakeview parents will be quick to agree that it is the best education available for the high school age students of the community. They go into college prepared to do as much as each individual desires to do or is capable mentally, to do.

To Classes in Town There are many parents in Lakeview who have seen the results of a deteriorating elementary education on their children, the very young, impressionable, easily trained youth of the community. Thus many elementary students are being driven past the old two room school house to classes in town. There they make quicker adjustments, and receive the best education available.

Yet many adults in Lakeview fall to see that progress has left their school behind. Students leaving its class rooms no longer go into schools elsewhere prepared to carry on without a great deal of painful study and adaptation to newer methods, ideas, routines and regulations.

Consolidation will come eventually as one parent and then another takes their child from and sister respectively of Mrs. Lakeview. It will just take longer, because some one failed to understand our problems.

Candidates for gov- they had 1,362,173 voters. It was a presidential year. However, restricting — which declines are reported for 1950 in the metropolitan cit- elections in all of the 12 big-city counties except Travis, where the State Capitol is located. One notable thing about the poll tax figures is the growing number of those with exemptions from the poll tax because they are 21 years of age and vote free — or they are over 65 and don't have to buy a poll tax in order to vote. Indications are that there will be more exemption certificates this year (those in cities of 10,000 or more) than ever before, even in record-setting 1950. Another fact to consider is that rural people go to the polls regardless of the weather, while inclement weather keeps many city folks home.

MOTORCIDE INCREASES — Texas Department of Public Safety statisticians figure an accident occurred in Texas traffic every 97 seconds last year, with someone killed every three hours and 47 minutes. When the department closed its 1951 "death book," it reported a motorcicle total of 2,314 — 60 more traffic deaths than 1950 held. Drivers of 324,149 motor vehicles sustained 132,570 injuries. December 22 was the most deadly day — 23 people were killed in 15 fatal accidents. Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the DPS, remarked, "It is a sobering thought to realize that the number of persons killed on Texas streets and highways was greater than the populations of most Texas towns."

LETTER OF THE LAW — The State Comptroller declared oil, gas and related well services are responsible for collecting a two percent sales tax when service involves any taxable, tangible, personal property sold or rented by a firm. Comptroller Robert S. Calvert further stated that receipts from the sale of tangible personal property to a common carrier are exempt from the sale and use tax if the property is shipped out and used out of the state.

WEL-KNOWD CAMEL CART-DRIVER — The State Highway Department is pondering a mysterious postcard that carries a request for a copy of the new 1952 highway travel map. The return ADDRESS reads: Bashir Ahmed Sarban (Wel-Knowd Camel Cart-Driver) 27, Corner Chambers, 181, Me-Leod Road, Karachi, Pakistan. Folks at the highway department are wondering if this is the same Bashir Ahmed who visited Texas and the U. S. last year as Vice President Lyndon Johnson's guest. There was quite a furor when that "Bashir" retired his camel and accepted a gift of a new Ford. Could he be planning to return to America and motor through the Lone Star State. HOPES RISE FOR HISTORIC PARK — Lawson Knott Jr., deputy administrator of U. S. General Services Administration, informed Gov. Price Daniel that the government has granted his request for Lorenzo de Zavala's burial site to be bid on separately when San Jacinto Ordnance depot is put on the sale block. Property contains the grave of de Zavala, a Mexican-Texan who signed the Texas Declaration of Independence and served as vice president of the republic. General Antonio Castillo, "a gallant foe" who died at San Jacinto, also is buried there. Governor Daniel has been urging that the de Zavala homestead and cemetery acreage be set aside for state or county park purposes. He believes this bidding provision will delay the sale of this tract to give time for Sen. Ralph Yarborough to pass a bill transferring the 142 acres to the state or county, or pave the way for some other park arrangement.

MISREPRESENTED REPRISAL REVOKED — Governor Daniel revoked a one-year reprieve for Johnny Will Ford after C. V. "Buster" Kern, sheriff of Harris County, revealed some new information about the case. Ford had served one year of a three-year sentence in the Harris County jail for unlawfully carrying a pistol, as an habitual, when the Board of Pardons and Paroles made the customary recommendation for a reprieve and failed to get any objections from local officials. After the reprieve was granted on March 9, Sheriff Kern advised the governor he hadn't had notice of the pending clemency application, and would have protested it if he had received it. He said Ford was pursued for two years before he was forced to surrender, whereas the board had been told surrender was voluntary. Daniel stated his action did not reflect on the board, "because they acted upon factual representations made on behalf of the applicant and in the absence of protests from local officials."

WAR ON SCREW-WORMS — Governor Daniel promised to fund $25,000 from emergency funds to the Texas Animal Health Commission to buy materials and employ personnel for the fight against the screwworm fly. Contract has been signed for construction of a plant at Mission, where up to 75,000,000 sterile flies will be produced each week for use in the eradication program of the commission and the Southwest Animal Health Research foundation.

PARK REPAIRS APPROVED — Emergency repairs will be made to Caria-damaged San Jacinto Monument by San Jacinto Day, April 21. A $3,500 appropriation from the governor's emergency fund will be added to $5,000 from the San Jacinto Park commission and $3,000 from the San Jacinto Museum and History Association to meet the most urgent repairs of the estimated $157,000 damage done by the hurricane. Short Snorts Speaker James A. Turman named Representatives Murray Watson Jr., R. H. "Dick" Cory, Virginia Duff, Forrest Harding and Reed Quilliam to the House Interim committee on special districts. Sixteen individuals and organizations already have been told they may appear at the March 30 hearing on proposed changes in the new sales tax, to be held in Dallas.

PANHELLENIC FORUM FOR HIGH SCHOOLS ARRANGED — The Annual Panhellenic Forum sponsored by the Lubbock City Panhellenic and Texas Tech College Panhellenic will be held Sunday, April 8, at 2:30 P. M., in the Student Union Building ballroom on the Texas Tech campus. High school girls interested in entering any college having sororities are urged to attend this event. The program is designed to acquaint the senior girl with various phases of rush week, and is handled by the sorority girls. Mothers of graduating senior girls are also invited to attend.

NO PARALLEL TO SABINE PASS A state is only as good as are its inhabitants. Considering the status and accomplishments of the state of Texas, this is a compliment to all Texans. Perhaps that's why Texans take such pride in the historical events that have occurred on Texas soil. To quote Jefferson Davis of one such Texas event: "There is no parallel in ancient or modern warfare to the victory of Dowling and his men at Sabine Pass, considering the great odds against which they had to contend." What happened at Sabine Pass? Lt. Richard Dowling and 47 men in the Texas heavy artillery, Confederate States of America, fighting from a mud fort, repulsed an attack of four warships and twelve hundred men of the Federal Army. They not only repulsed them, they captured approximately three hundred and fifty prisoners and two gunboats mounting thirteen guns of the heaviest caliber. He also stated that a physician who is a notary public can acknowledge an application for an absentee ballot, and then, as a physician, issue a disability certificate for the absentee.
