Among other things the engineer told the council is that their rates are slightly high in some brackets and slightly low in others. He also reported to the city that about 19 per cent of the electricity produced is not metered and, therefore, a part of it may be going to waste.

The council received the report favorably and is likely to be governed by it when adopting a new electric rating ordinance, if they do adopt new rates, the mayor said.

The consulting engineer told the council that their power plant, after depreciation charges are made has a value of $411,690 and its distribution system is worth $174,662 for a total net worth of $586,352.

If the electric system changes in rates are made as proposed by the engineer, this change will be in addition to the water rate change, which the council has under study, and most likely will adopt.

Plans of the city for nearly $100,000 worth of additional supply lines and water wells to be installed this summer must await a session on Monday of next week. Financing, which they hope to do, must await favorable action by the attorney general's office.

FEEDING THE WORLD'S MILLIONS

In addition to the many other worthy undertakings to which our successive congresses and presidents have pledged the American taxpayer and his posterity, it is now proposed in at least one important AFL-CIO union that we internationalize our school lunch program.

The estimate is that there are 650 million children who suffer from malnutrition. Already voluntary sources are caring for 30 million of these. It is argued that this program will make an outlet for much of our "surpluses", and give our farmers a chance to prove they could produce much more. It would be called, possibly, "Food for Peace."

From where would the money come? Simply quit spending 50 billion on national defense; also quit wasting money on stockpiling and on nuclear tests, says the union writer.

Thinking of it in terms of saving money with which to do things, we probably also would have saved the expense of distributing the surplus commodities if we quit spending money for defense and stockpiling. The Soviets would quickly come to our "rescue" and distribute the surpluses for us.

WATER DESIRABLE FOR USE

It is quite a time away when all the available water can be used to good advantage. Considering that much of the water in the streams and underground in this state are too brackish for use for irrigation or for domestic purposes, it is not to be wondered at that the Interior Department is concerned with ways to make good water out of bad.

Brackish water that comes from underground in much of West Texas probably has the same sources as many of our streams which rise in salt or gypsum beds or flow across them before their waters travel far toward the sea.

The Red is pretty salty even at the Denison Dam, the waters of the Brazos are impregnated with gypsum and other salines by nature and such streams as the Navasota and others are polluted by salt water from below the surface of the earth where men are mining for oil.

SALT SPRING AT ESTELLINE

Hydrologists and geologists are likely to learn from experience considerably more than is now known about the sources of salines and how to handle the waters that are polluted by them. An experiment in containing the salt spring at Estelline in eastern Hall County illustrates.

One never knows until he experiments whether a theory will work. The idea was hit upon at this tremendous deposit of salt, to build a dike high enough that the weight of the water above ground would be so great the spring would quit bubbling up through it. The fact disclosed that they would have to build a higher dike or find some other way to stop the salt spring, which has been pouring tons of salt every month into Red River since ages ago when the waters cut a path through the red soil on to the sea.

BRAZOS HAS PROBLEMS, TOO

Down around Waco, so they say, they can tell by the way the fish act when the Salt Forks of the Brazos are at flood stage. They bring down so much saline mixture it makes the fish sick. Not only does one fork of the river have its source adjacent to a tremendous salt deposit, but also the river flows across one or more big deposits of salt and gypsum.

To this, then, add a great amount of brackish water raised from under the ground in oil well operations and flushed into the sea, and there really is a problem in pollution.

ABSENTEE VOTING RIGHTS

Any time now for several days an elector may vote absentee. In doing so one does not have to guarantee anybody that he will be out of his voting precinct on primary election day. If you think that it is likely you will be away from home and want to exercise your franchise, that comes under the head of your business. The fact that somebody thinks somebody else is violating the law in connection with absentee voting has nothing to do with your exercise of your rights under the law, so long as you go by the rules.

CLAIMING HOMESTEAD EXEMPTION

Claiming one's homestead exemption for the record at taxpaying time is the property owner's option in the same manner as paying a poll tax for voting. What you think of as your homestead is not listed on the tax records automatically. It is your duty to designate it. Reminder of this fact came home to some "chattel mortgage signers" in connection with the Billy Sol Estes affair recently.

While indicating your homestead on tax records and elsewhere would have ought to do with your rights under the homestead law, it might be worthwhile, in addition to the tax value, in avoiding annoyance and necessity to establish a homestead claim when and if litigation arises.

ECONOMIC HINDSIGHT

The trouble with today's individualists is that it's getting more and more difficult to tell them apart. — The News, Midsboro, Illinois.

Gardeners: Every good gardener knows it is a rule that one must plant something on Good Friday. Beans or English peas, most anything, will do, but plant something. One can be reasonably sure what ever it is will be killed by later cold weather, but it seems to be a fact that some spring or other Good Friday plantings will be spared. Then, how one can brag!

Chinese Elms. Although Chinese elms are the only trees we have had any success growing, we enjoy feuding with them. At the moment they are showering our place with thousands of seeds, everyone of which will come up and have to be dug up, cut up, chopped off, clipped, barked or poisoned. Our guess is the reason a Chinese elm is called a Chinese Elm is because it multiplies so fast.

Different Viewpoint. While most West Texans are in agreement with the U. S. Attorney General that Mr. Hoffa should not be running loose on the country, the viewpoint in some segments of the economy is quite different. The Teamster, largest labor publication in the world, records that Laundry Dry Cleaning and Dye House Workers International voted 52,664 to 610 recently for affiliating with the Teamsters Union. Teamsters have been adding many union workers to their affiliate list not in the hauling business. This their enemies in labor and the press call "raiding."

Swiped—Someone asked a man one day how many were in his family and this is the answer he gave them: "I have just as many brothers as I have sisters, but my sister has twice as many brothers as she has sisters." How many children are there in the family?—Answer at the bottom of this column.

Too Many. We have been thinking that a school house (one building of the school plant) could be too large, so large that teachers would be up to their ears in school kids. So big that it would be unwieldy and create nervous tension. We note, however, that one of the high schools where the teachers struck in New York City the other day was listed as having an enrollment above 3,000.

Misplaced Words. What becomes of those words that fail to appear in a printed piece to make it look so ridiculous? Recently a magazine of considerable importance in Texas had a sentence read: "William Jennings Bryan defended John Scopes for teaching evolution." Naturally a flood of mail ensued. Checking the publishers found four words that got away from the printer and proof reader, inserted in correct place in the sentence would have it read: "Williams Jennings Bryan (prosecuted and Clarence Darrow) defended John Scopes for teaching evolution."

Five Dollars Each. It is an actual fact that automobile makers are paying $5 per unit on every vehicle hauled piggy-back. The money goes into some kitty of the teamster's union. Mr. Hoffa can really throw his weight around.

Love betters what is best. Even here below, but more in heaven above. — Wadsworth.

THE MAGNOLIA - The Federal steamer Magnolia appeared off the west and about 30 miles of Galveston Saturday noon. She hoisted the Confederate flag and fired a gun.

A boat was sent out from the fort at San Luis with a white flag but as the steamer did not show one she returned, after reaching the bar when the steamer fired another gun.

Lieut. Edwards and Mr. Alexander Tolett then went out with eight men in a boat and boarded the steamer where they were treacherously detained no doubt under the excuse that the steamer had never shown a white flag.

Tow boats with 30 men arrived with carbines, cutlasses, revolvers and boarding pikes, boarded the schooner Columbia, which was lying inside the bar with 275 bales of cotton. Capt. Davidson, of the Columbia arrived from Galveston in a small sloop, and was fired on by the Federals, from his own vessel, as he approached. They did not injure him but mortally wounded one of their own men on the Columbia. When Capt. Davidson got aboard, the Federals urged him to take the schooner over the bar.

The Federals then attempted to wrap her out, but failing they took the captain, crew and passengers aboard their boats and set the schooner on fire. The boats together, with a small boat of Capt. Davidson were taken to the bar where they remained all night.

About 9 o'clock the flames burst out on the schooner and lit up the whole horizon. She burnt all night and in the morning fragments of cotton were afloat in the vicinity.

After they had parted from the enemies boats, two guns were fired upon the latter from the fort at San Luis. They were answered by two from the steamer and two were then fired from the fort on the Montgomery, but all appeared to fall short. The Columbia is reported to have been burnt within less than a mile from the fort.

Her papers were demanded from Capt. Davidson but he had prudently put them out of reach. The federals told Capt. Davidson that they were from the Bazaar where they left 80 vessels destined to operate in New Orleans. They said the obstructions on the Mississippi were to be removed on Saturday night in order to attack Fort Jackson, THE GALVESTON NEWS

SOUND OFF

By Beth Pratt

CONVENTIONALLY YOURS - It was with pride that the Floydada club members wore their identification badges at the annual convention of the Caprock District Texas Federation of Women's Clubs in Plainview last week. Not only did the individual clubs bring home numerous awards, but also Mary Alice Craig of the 1950 Study Club was named Clubwoman of the Year from the Caprock District, and Clair Edwards placed second in the Vogue contest.

If I were to try to describe these conventions in a few words, I believe I would say they are "tiring but inspiring." Unique is the only word that could describe Dr. Walter Kerr from Tyler, who was speaker at the evening banquet. How very much we enjoyed his address.

YES OR NO - There are so many controversial viewpoints concerning the building of fall-out shelters. In the final analysis we must decide individually what our responsibility is to ourselves and our families. Mrs. J. Howard Hodge, Chairman Civil Defense, General Federation of Women's Clubs, advanced this thought in her address. We had almost every kind of insurance available without any intention of using it. The accident always happens to the other fellow. Why then, do we not consider building a fall-out shelter as one of those insurance policies that we don't think we'll ever need?

HONOR OR FEED? Jerry writes home from the University of Texas saying that he appreciates the recognition the University bestows upon its honor students in the special ceremony, but he would be just as happy if they would just feed him for a month. As he notes, though, words come easier than money.

DECEASED - Thursday was a sad day at our house. Kerry cold-bloodedly murdered Speedy, the turtle. However, at the tender age of two years he is still a juvenile and will not be held accountable. Punishment will consist of withholding all delicate pets under twelve inches in height until said juvenile is considered more responsible.

LIPSTICK LOGIC

Grandparents whose "child-raising" is strictly homespun sometimes have trouble adjusting to the "book" generation. Used to be, a child was naughty because he was: 1) hungry, 2) sleepy, 3) bored and wanted attention, or 4) was about to come down with whooping cough. Now it's much subtler.

One goes to the book for the correct age group, reads there that "if Tommy robs the coffee table, kicks the dog, and yells at Mummy, he is suffering from a guilt complex because he is jealous of his little brother, or is unhappy because he misses his Dad, so his pent-up feelings crop out in these unpredictable acts."

We once kept a youngster from a "book" family for a summer. He had the unpleasant habit of crying loudly and suddenly at what seemed no provocation. We were advised to read the book about two-year-olds, and read it. But we didn't find what seemed the obvious key to this problem: namely, that his parents didn't listen till he yelled; so he yelled. Within a week, he learned that he got quicker action if he didn't yell, so the yelling stopped.

Another "Symptom" we looked for in the book was the cause and cure of boredom. It may have been there, but the short cut was going for a walk, visiting a park, or a nearby pasture where horses and cows were kept. These things took "parent participation," but to the homespun grandparent they beat sitting and fretting any day.

Such answers may be too simple, and they may cause complex later on. But they worked for earlier generations and it seems to us they work now.

Federal Tax Take From Floyd County To Exceed $3 Million

(Special to the Hesperian)
NEW YORK. — How much were Floyd County residents tapped for by way of Federal income taxes due for 1931.
The Government counts on their contributions being larger than they were last April, when local collections of personal income and withholding taxes totaled some $2,965,000.
That is the approximate amount that was turned in by the county during the first quarter of 1932, the official reports of statewide collections, announced by the Internal Revenue Service, and from an unofficial breakdown of the figures, based on local earnings.
What they show is that Floyd County residents are paying about 0.14 percent of the $2,132,000,000 collected in Texas as a whole.

Because incomes rose in most areas of the nation during the past year, the Government expects that the goal of $46 billion in personal taxes, which was set in the previous budget, will be realized by April 16.
That figure will be $1.2 billion more than was turned in by individual taxpayers last April. The grand total at that time was $44.9 billion.
In Floyd County, on the basis of preliminary figures on 1931 earnings locally, the current tax returns are expected to be nearly $3,049,000, a rise of $64,000, which the economy moving forward at a fairly brisk pace in the first quarter of 1932, the Administration is relying on this being a fine business year — one that will produce overall revenues that will top the 1931 total by 13 percent.
Its estimates are made on the assumption that the gross national product will rise from $320 billion to $370 billion and that personal incomes will go from $147 billion to $188 billion.
If incomes in Floyd County move upward no faster and no slower than the general average for the country, figured at 6.9 percent in the budget, local residents will have proportionately more to pay in taxes when April, 1932, rolls around.

Additional tax revenue is also expected by the Government as a result of automated auditing methods that are being put into use.
They will spot errors in arithmetic, failure to file previous returns and other mistakes and irregularities.

HEALTH HINTS FOR THE FAMILY

Don't Live in the Medical Middle Ages
by Margaret Little*

In times past, little children had a great many serious diseases — smallpox, diphtheria, whooping cough, yellow fever and lots more. Some of these little people became so sick they didn't pull through and death rates were very high. But nowadays we know how to protect our children against all sorts of serious diseases. We have so many "shots" to give them that doctors know how to give them. Be very sure every one of your children is protected against smallpox, diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough and polio when he is a baby and also given "booster shots" as often as your doctor tells you it is necessary. You would never forgive yourself if a child of yours became seriously ill with a disease we know how to prevent.

Would that we had a way of protecting little children against colds. But doctors know how to give them. Be very sure every one of your children is protected against colds. But doctors know how to give them. Be very sure every one of your children is protected against colds. But doctors know how to give them.

When the tell-tale drip on the upper lip shows up, put your youngster to bed, or at least keep him quieter than usual. Give him extra liquids to drink, use a medicated spray vaporizer to ease his throat and open up his nasal passages. Give him a simple cough syrup if he needs it.

Broadway News

By Mrs. T. E. Thornhill
BROADWAY, April 16 — Once again it is almost Easter Time, even tho we have a very late Easter this year. Our Revival Meeting will begin at Pansy, Easter Sunday morning. Every one come and let's be much in prayer for the services.

Monday night of last week Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Cambell of Roscoe spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Marley. Then Tuesday they and Mrs. Kelton Winegar and Mrs. A. L. Winegar were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Thornhill.

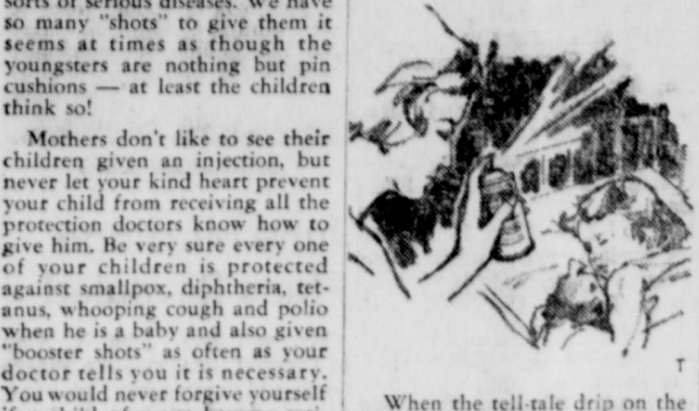

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Givens were quite busy Tuesday of last week as that was the day they were spraying their apple and cherry trees. Seems they had too much spray mixed up for their trees so they came on over to the D. D. Thornhills and sprayed their trees and had dinner with them.

Several of us visited with the S. P. Starrett's at the site of the new irrigation well on the Starrett farm last week. Seems as if the well is now drilled if only they will get a pump on it to pump it out. We do so hope it will be a very good well.

S. P. Starrett had a birthday this Monday but several of the family enjoyed an early birthday dinner with him Sunday. Besides Mrs. S. P. Starrett and the daughter, Cheryl, were the other two daughters, Miss Sammie Starrett of Canyon, Mrs. Linda Hicks and husband, Bill of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Thornhill and George Brakebill. Afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith and Bessie and Mr. Jessie Smith all of Crosbyton.

The Willing Hands Club met Thursday in the Memorial Building in Crosbyton. Mes. W. H. Rathel and Mrs. Cecil Berry were hostesses. Mrs. C. H. Moore of Crosbyton and Mrs. Robert Kendrick were honored with a surprise birthday party. Others attending were Mrs. Nancy Moreck and Mrs. R. M. Spence of Floydada, Mrs. Parkhill and hospital Sunday morning. The Junior-Senior banquet was held last Saturday night. The seniors from our community are Teddy Givens, Marshall Berry, Tommy Thornhill. Seems they all had a very good time.

Monday afternoon of last week callers in the T. E. Thornhill home were Mrs. Jack Pierce and son, Jack of Lubbock, Miss Ann Barnett of Crosbyton, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Spence of Floydada, and Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Cambell of Roscoe.
Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Rainbolt and children, Marcia, Doug and Jan were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Spence, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Thornhill and Georgia Ann Winegar.
Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Starrett and daughter Valene of Lubbock returned home from Dallas where Valene underwent surgery on her eye lid Monday of last week. Mrs. D. D. Thornhill and Mrs. T. E. Thornhill visited in the Starrett home while Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Webb also of Lubbock but former members of our community returned to their home with the Starretts. The Webbs have been in Temple for several weeks where Mrs. Webb was in the hospital. Before returning home they all visited in the home of Mrs. Nadine Murphy and children in Garland.
H. L. Starrett visited while Monday of last week with his mother, Mrs. H. R. Starrett in a nursing home in Lubbock. He reported she seemed doing some better.

When the tell-tale drip on the upper lip shows up, put your youngster to bed, or at least keep him quieter than usual. Give him extra liquids to drink, use a medicated spray vaporizer to ease his throat and open up his nasal passages. Give him a simple cough syrup if he needs it.

Mrs. Helen Darden is Student Teacher in Denton School

DENTON - Mrs. Helen Darden of Floydada is among 467 North Texas State University students serving as student teachers in Dallas - Fort Worth - Denton area schools this semester.
Included are 309 students preparing for secondary teaching positions and 158 for elementary.
Each student teaches under one of five training plans for the semester.

Mrs. Darden, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill L. Powell, 424 White St., Floydada, is teaching at Denton's Lee Elementary School.
J. M. Willson, Jr. returned this week from Waco, Texas, where he had been since last week-end at a session of the Masonic Grand Lodge committee on grievances and appeals.
Mrs. E. F. Stovall is reported to be up and gaining strength at the home of her daughter in Wichita Falls. Mrs. Stovall is recovering from an eye operation.

Mr. and Mrs. Duwayne Brewer have been quite busy the past ten days or so as they have just gotten moved into their new home. As most of you will remember their home was destroyed by fire the last of December.
Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy Rathel were among those attending the Coop Gin Meeting and dinner in the Crosbyton Memorial Building Saturday night April 14 and were also among the lucky ones as their name was drawn for the beautiful all cotton bed spread.

R. E. Smith has been confined to the Crosbyton Hospital since about Wednesday of last week. He fell from the back of a pickup as he was trying to reach the pipe on the head tank to unstop it. Seems he put a ladder in the back of the pickup in order to be able to reach the pipe and the ladder and all came tumbling down. He did not receive any broken bones tho he is very badly bruised up and at the last report we had was still in the hospital.

Clevie Maize of Crosbyton is also still in the hospital and not improving as he should be.
Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Thornhill were among those who visited at the hospital Thursday night of last week. Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Starrett visited while at the

Council Studies Ways Of Helping Retarded Children
The High Plains Council for Retarded Children held a meeting on Friday, April 13 at 7:30 at the Plainview Chamber of Commerce building where all members enjoyed a barbecue and covered dish supper.
The High Plains Council serves a five county area.
Doe Blanchard, of Lubbock, former State Representative, gave an interesting talk on retarded children and on ways of helping them. Mr. Blanchard thinks we should all work together and help them as much as possible. Retarded children need to be better educated so they can go out in the world and make a living for themselves.
The next meeting will be on May 11 at the Chamber of Commerce Building in Plainview.

Retired Ranch Man Succumbs At Rosenberg

Harold Allen, 48 year old retired rancher of the Rosenberg area, died April 13, after a lengthy illness. Mr. Allen was the husband of the former Marie Lewis, daughter of Mrs. G. B. Lewis of Floydada, and sister of Mrs. Felt Patterson and Carl Lewis of this city.

Another sister is Johnnie Mae Lewis of Plainview, formerly of Floydada, who was at the Allen home at the time of Mr. Allen's death.

The deceased was the son of the late J. V. Allen of the Baker community in Floyd County. His mother now resides in El Campo.

Allen and his wife were married in Clovis, N. Mex., September 28, 1933. The couple resided in Floyd County until moving from here in 1936 at the same time his parents moved away. They lived in the state of Missouri for a time and in Alaska where the deceased was in civil service, before moving to Rosenberg. Mr. Allen was in the ranching business until ill health forced his retirement about a year ago.

He was preceded in death by two children.

Funeral rites were conducted in the Calvary Baptist Church in Rosenberg. Masonic rites were held at graveside.

Survivors in addition to his mother and wife are two sons, Bobby and George of Rosenberg and one grandchild; one sister, Mrs. Hattie Brown of Colorado; four brothers, Slim, Ray, Lester and John Allen all of the Rosenberg area.

Attending the funeral from here were Mr. and Mrs. Felt Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Lewis, Wren Patterson, Mrs. Truitt Hartsell and Pat Patterson, the TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

Two For The Show

Two's company when you're serving a crowd. Two broiler-fryer chickens, nicely packed with an aromatic stuffing and roasted to a glistening golden-brown, will give everyone a real company dinner, fit for the grandest guests. What's more, they'll give you no trouble, because you can roast two chickens together, as quickly as you can roast one.

Broiler-fryers, always a bargain in fine flavor, also offer a bargain in price and nutrition. Their price stays dependably low, even at a time when other food prices have soared, and their protein stays dependably high—ounee for ounee, they provide more protein than other popular meats. Because they are young and tender, they roast quickly and emerge from the oven moist and full of flavor.

As a colorful bonus, add cling peach halves to your roasting pan 20 minutes before the chickens are done.

Twin Roast Chickens

2 2 1/2 to 3-pound broiler-fryer chickens	2 tablespoons melted butter or salad oil
1 package (8 ounces) prepared stuffing mix	8 canned peach halves
	Pickle relish, optional

Prepare chickens for roasting. Prepare stuffing according to package directions. Stuff and truss chickens. Place chickens on rack in shallow oven roasting pan; brush with melted butter or oil. Roast in a moderate oven (375°F.) 30 minutes per pound. Last 20 minutes of roasting, place drained peaches, cut side up, around chicken. To serve, place chickens on heated platter; garnish with pickle halves. If desired, fill centers with pickle relish. Yield: 8 servings.

4-H Demonstration Contest

4-H Members in Floyd County are really busy this week getting ready for the County Contests which are to be held next Tuesday evening in the Lockney High School.

The County demonstration contests are held each year in preparation for the District 11 4-H Elimination Contest in Lubbock. Winners in local contests will represent Floyd County in the district contest to be held May 5.

Floyd County 4-H Council Chairman, Paultette Kropp of Lockney, has announced plans for the contests to begin at 6:30 p. m. Some of the contests that teams are entering are Dairy Foods Demonstration, Electric Demonstrations, Public Speaking, and Share the Fun, a Recreation contest.

We are expecting entries from each of the nine 4-H clubs in the county. A plaque which was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hopper of Harmany will be given by the 4-H Council to the 4-H Club with the largest percentage of its members entering the county contests.

The clubs are all working toward receiving the plaque and hoping that they may be able to attend the District Contest at Texas Tech. Some are even hoping to represent the district in the state contests at 4-H Round-up at Texas A. & M. College in June.

Woman's Footwork is Never Done

How much do homemakers walk today? Recent pedometer tests have shown that homemakers walk eight and three quarters of a mile each day — or just about the same distance traveled by a cross country runner.

The runner wears specially designed shoes to provide maximum foot efficiency, as his feet and legs must be in peak condition. What does the woman do about her shoes? She gets out of bed into a pair of frilly bedroom slippers, prepares breakfast and does the morning's work wearing these or an old pair of loafers. She goes down town shopping and to a luncheon — so she puts on high heels and steps energetically along.

She arrives home just in time to prepare dinner for the family — she wears the same high heels or steps out of them and works either without shoes or in ill-fitting house shoes. If she plans to go out for the evening, she dons even daintier shoes with less support. Is it any wonder that her feet hurt when the day is done? It is probably this pattern that causes women to suffer from foot trouble in a ratio of about five to one over men.

When I was editor of the Pig-gott Banner in 1920, Arkansas had a wide-open race for governor. There were seven or eight entries with the high man the winner — (in other words, no runoff).

The best bet in the early stages appeared to be an able lawyer who had master-minded two or three successful campaigns for the governorship for other candidates.

But there was one entry who apparently was running with no hope of winning but just to keep the favorite from finishing first.

The other candidate devoted almost all of his speech to an attack upon the "lead buck," a big, broad-shouldered man who walked with steady tread. His appearance caused the rival to refer to him in contemptuous tone as "the proud peacock-Napoleon of the Ouachita."

The vitriolic one finished well down the list.

Tom C. McRae had been in Congress 30 years before and was reputed to be 70. Furthermore he was a banker — which meant, to the average voter in Arkansas in those days, that he was rich — yet so effective was the

Control Brush For Better Rangeland

50,000 Acres Of Brush In Eastern Floyd

(Material on this page prepared by Joe McEntire and the staff of Floyd County Soil Conservation District.)

Brush control work may not be considered a major conservation practice to many people of Floyd County because most of the area needing it is located along the edge of the "Caprock" in northeastern Floyd County. Actually we have approximately 50,000 acres of rangeland on which brush control is needed.

Brush control eliminates competition of woody plants and allows the re-establishment of desirable grasses for soil protection and forage production. The type and density of the brush usually determines the methods of control used. The most common types of brush that we have in Floyd County is redberry cedar and mesquite.

Control of mesquite is very effective with either mechanical or chemical methods. Where it is mixed with cedar it is usually easier to use mechanical means to remove both types of brush at once. In nearly pure stands mesquite is easy to control by chemical means and cost is about $3.00 per acre for the aerial spraying as compared with about $10.00 per acre for mechanical control.

Also there is no disturbance of the soil as a result of chemical spraying. It is restricted to a short period of time during the year when this practice should be carried out. Most effective results have been obtained 40 to 90 days when sprayed with 1/2 pound of 2, 4, 5-T in 1 gallon of diesel fuel and enough water to make a 4 gallon solution applied to each acre.

Control of redberry cedar is best accomplished in this area by tree dozing or grubbing. This consists of using a special digging blade on the front of a dozer so that it can go under the roots and lift the whole tree free of the ground. Red berry cedar like mesquite has a bud zone that extends 6 to 10 inches below the soil surface and must be completely lifted out or else re-sprouting will occur. This operation disturbs the soil and creates pits on the range. This may be objectionable in some cases but with proper range management and average rainfall the area disturbed will respond very quickly due to the removal of the moisture stealing brush. Deferment during the growing season allows new grass seedlings to come up and become established.

During the last two years participants in the Great Plains Conservation Program have tree dozed approximately 6,000 acres of rangeland in the Floyd County Soil Conservation District. Those who have carried out this work with good success are Vaughn Hall, Jane and Harry Blair, R. W. Overstreet, Charlie Lewis, L. R. Bain, Mrs. May Garrett, Wanda Jacobson and J. S. Hale, Jr. Federal cost sharing is available for this work at the rate of 50 percent of the cost not to exceed $5.00 per acre for the brush work on needed areas under the "Caprock." Contact the local Soil Conservation Service office for information or assistance in planning your brush control work.

Cleared Land Needs Months Of Protection

Brush-infested rangeland usually has grass of reduced vigor even if grazing has not been too heavy. When brush is removed, further damage is inflicted to the grass. Taking these things into consideration, it is easy to see why deferment can be very beneficial.

Deferred grazing means excluding all livestock for a given period of time, preferable for the entire growing season beginning about April 1 extending to frost.

Deferment promotes natural revegetation by increasing the vigor of the forage stand and permitting desirable plants to produce seed, and protecting grass seedlings until established. Increased vigor means that the root system is improved, enabling the plant to produce more forage and to prepare for periods of drought. On areas disturbed by the removal of brush, weeds will take

Management Of Grass Is Most Important

Grass is the rancher's crop. To utilize grass properly by grazing with livestock calls for close observation of these plants. As a rule of thumb he could take half of his annual growth and leave the other half. He could also understock his pasture 25-35 percent to allow for periods of drought. A majority of "Old Time" ranchers are carrying out programs similar to this.

Another way to manage livestock grazing is by proper cross fencing of pastures and proper distribution of livestock water. Several Floyd County ranchers have carried out this practice. Among those carrying out these practices are Harry and Jane Blair and Vaughn Hall of Quitaque, Bill Norman of Dougherty and others.

Sometimes it is necessary to apply "shock treatment" on a ranch in order to be able to obtain proper use of the key grasses. Brush control is considered by some to be a shock treatment. When brush has covered 10 percent or more in a pasture it is time to use some recommended method of control. The brush competes with grass plants for moisture and must be removed to get the production desired from grazing. Technicians of the SCS have found that pastures that have been properly grazed in the past have very little on them. An example of this can be seen of the Campbell ranch west of Floydada. In some instances brush control is not the only shock treatment needed. Some areas have no seed source at all of the key grasses. When this condition exists it may be necessary to reseed areas or even whole pastures with the more desirable grasses to obtain the needed recovery. Reseeding of pastures in this area has been successful.

In this area where we have limited rainfall dry weather is not the only limiting factor in the production of grass. Proper management of all the rancher's physical properties, his grass, competitive plants, location of water and fences all enter into the picture. SCS technicians can assist you in arriving at a safe stocking rate on your ranch. The individual must apply proper management practices to allow for all adverse weather condition and price fluctuations of livestock.

"Conservation is a sustained effort to make good the mistakes of our pioneer forefathers, who were content to take all they could get out of their immediate environment and then move on to fresh fields for exploitation." —Dr. Glenn Frank, former president University of Wisconsin.

CONTROL BRUSH WITH CHEMICALS

Aerial brush control with chemicals has been used on thousands of acres throughout the Southwest. 2, 4, 5-T Special Air Spray Formula not only kills undesirable brush, but also kills a major part of the broad leaf weed population hidden in cover. This is a necessary requirement of any chemical used to improve land. Must remove broad leaf weeds as well as the brush.

Methodists Begin Prayer Vigil Tonight

Today is Maundy Thursday and in observance of this date in the week preceding Easter at the Methodist Church will be a worship service this evening at 7:30, in keeping with the institution of the Lord's Supper.

And following the service the congregation will keep prayer vigil through the remainder of the night and until 3 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Durning, Seeking Legislative Post, Tells Views on Problems

C. V. (Charlie) Durning, candidate for State Representative 89th district, makes the following statement, so all the people of the district may become better acquainted with him. The information is submitted with full appreciation of the basic principle that the local voter is the last and final authority as to a candidate's integrity, reputation and ability to represent the interests of his district as those interests merge with the interest of the whole State.

C. V. (Charlie) DURNING

I think government should be kept at the most local level possible consistent with constitutional functions of National, State and Local Government. I will discourage government meddling in functions best left to individual initiative. Texas educational, eleemosynary, public safety and other services should be as good as the best and should be subject to State and Local as opposed to National control.

I honestly believe a frequent tightening of the belt is a worthwhile virtue. Solvency of the State and pay as you go is possible by preservation and improvement of the broad base income the State now has. No economic or social segment should be favored with preferential power, privilege or immunity for political expediency where it is contrary to sound philosophy of Government.

Some of the things I find in asking for an elective office and traveling the district which I hope to be able to lend a corrective hand is, a fair distribution of farm to market roads, increased speed limit on justifiable highways, vehicle insurance, improvement of hot check law and most certainly the limited sale tax.

Of course problems of State are many, too many to discuss here, but you can depend on me to be fair and try at all times to make the right decision for where I will stand firmly.

This is my first time to ever vote and influence in the Dem-

By Mrs. Clyde Bagwell

FAIRVIEW, April 16 — The Easter season is here and warm spring weather is just around the corner, we hope. So far this spring we have had a few warm days, then cold winter weather comes again.

This Monday morning we have clouded skies and a high, cold wind blowing from the south. Another rain would be wonderful. Farmers, on the most part, are getting everything ready to start spring planting as soon as the time comes or if and when they get another rain. The farmers that have irrigation wells, of course, do things somewhat different.

Last week visitors with Mrs. Clyde Bagwell were Mrs. Arel C. Rainer and Mrs. Henry Willis who called on Wednesday and Mrs. E. W. Walls who visited Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Walls and children, Larry, Roy, Deanna and Eileen, of Plainview, came down Saturday night and had supper and visited for the evening with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Walls.

Mrs. E. Walls made a business trip to Plainview Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Payne went to Muleshoe Thursday where they attended the wedding of their grandson, Ronnie Payne and Miss Linda Monroe. # STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

The hundreds of Lack of parking facilities on the Capitol grounds causes a maddening game of musical chairs - or musical cars - at each legislative session. Speaker of the House James A. Turman says the problem is "growing more acute each day."

So, Turman appointed a committee which may have the longest title in the history of the statehouse: The Interim Committee To Study State Owned Lands Around the Capitol Concerning the Possibility of Converting Such Into Parking Lots.

Rep. Obie Jones of Austin was named chairman. Two other Austin members, Reps. Wilson Foreman and Charles Sandahl, will serve on the interim study committee.

Watt's Going on in your Home?

(An Electrical Quiz)

In this age of modern electrical conveniences, even though we use more and more electricity, it is estimated that four out of every five homes are from low HOUSEPOWER (not enough wiring, switches and outlets).

Do your fuses blow often? Appliances take too long to heat up? Does your TV picture shrink when other appliances are started? Are you annoyed by endless feet of unsightly extension cords and double sockets plugged into double sockets? If you're afflicted with any of these symptoms you should have an electrical contractor examine your electric system and make a complete HOUSEPOWER rating for your home.

A little quiz may give you an idea of the watts (electricity) needed to operate the appliances in your home. Match the appliance in column one with the correct wattage in column two.

APPLIANCES	WATTS	APPLIANCES	WATTS
Conditioner room		14. Heating Pad	n. 60

ANSWERS

1-a, 2-b, 3-c, 4-d, 5-e, 6-f, 7-g, 8-h, 9-i, 10-j, 11-k, 12-l, 13-m, 14-n, 15-o, 16-p, 17-q, 18-r, 19-s, 20-t, 21-u, 22-v, 23-w, 24-x, 25-y, 26-z.

If you're right! The correct answers are directly opposite. How do you do.

There is an even more important method of scoring: pick out from the list of appliances you now own and add up their total watts from the list. If the total is 20,000 or less, you should have a three wire, 100-amp service. If over 20,000 you need more than 100 amperes. If you have more than one of these appliances, don't forget to multiply. If you have any other electric appliances, compare them with a similar type appliance listed above in determining the total wattage.

POWER & LIGHT DEPT.

CITY OF FLOYDADA

The Texas Commission on State and Local Tax Policy - has been mulling the possibility of state abandonment of the property tax. Texas Research League has helped with the study.

The committee should have recommendations ready for legislative action in the January session. Outcome may rest on voter pressure between now and the November general election.

Under the current system, schools get 42 percent of the property tax dollars; cities take 29 percent; counties, 18 percent; and the state government and special districts only get five percent each.

Texas Municipal League has urged the state to abandon the ad valorem tax and let the cities increase their property taxes.

Hale - Aiken committee asked the state to abandon the tax and let the schools levy it.

Tax experts often have declared that county assessors might place higher values on property, if they felt more of the ad valorem tax dollar would stay in the county.

COLLEGE FUNDS SHORT

Presidents and business managers of Texas' 19 state - supported colleges and universities were stunned this week when Texas Commission on Higher Education reported they will only get 54 percent of the funds they requested to meet increased enrollment in 1963.

Administrators had set their future needs at $2,770,951. But the Legislature only appropriated $1,509,000 to supplement teaching salaries for enrollment increases. So the commission's staff prorated the fund among the 19 schools.

Dr. F. L. McDonald, president of Lamar State College of Technology in Beaumont, didn't take the news quietly. "This is one of the reasons why we are never able to raise salaries," he protested. He said the colleges are never allotted enough money, and "have to dig it up."

While the 19 presidents are trying to balance their budgets, Commission on Higher Education will be studying requests from three more colleges which want to join the state system: Odessa, San Antonio and Laredo junior colleges.

Recommendations will be made when the 59th Legislature convenes.

NEW SHELL GAME

Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler predicts that Texas never will yield control over any part of Padre Island to the federal government. He charged that some Texans have been "deceived" by talk of an 88-mile-long national park there.

He said the U. S. Senate did not approve a park, but a National Seashore Area.

"This status," says Sadler, "would keep Padre Island and Laguna Madre in an undeveloped state."

Sadler urged Attorney General

New Innovation In Seating Sponsored This Year by Carson & Barnes Circus

One feature of the Carson and Barnes big three ring circus was the new and attractive policy of informing the public of the PRICE of all tickets before attending the show, and allowing the public to pick the area they desire to sit in.

Carson and Barnes Circus has adopted the policy used by the major football and baseball stadiums and have made all of their seats reserved. A diagram of the seat location and the three price ranges can be seen in their news advertisement and on the circus ticket wagon. Remember, at the CARSON AND BARNES CIRCUS you select the area of the circus tent you desire to sit, purchase ONE ticket for the seat of your choice.

In addition to revolutionizing the seating policy of the circus, the Carson and Barnes Circus has modernized their performance to appeal to the adult as well as the children. Realizing that the television spectacles like International Showtime, Ed Sullivan and the Dupont Hour, have been received by the adult audiences the Carson and Barnes Circus has obtained some of the best acts appearing with International circuses.

These acts can be seen at both performances, afternoon and night at the local showgrounds.

The Fire Department is sponsoring the one day performance in Floydada, Thurs., April 26.
