Convention At El Paso Was Harmonious

Floyd County Democrats came home last week from the State Democratic Convention held in El Paso. Mrs. J. H. Barnard headed the county delegation which included Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Frizzell, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. John B. Stapleton and J. H. Barnard, Elmer Thornton, ninth member of the group, was unable to attend due to a last minute change in plans.

At the convention Glenn Batson of Littlefield was named as Democratic District Chairman, and Mrs. Wyle Bullock of Muleshoe was elected as Democratic Committeewoman. Mrs. Barnard served on the Credentials Committee

Rains over the county early this week brought farming operations to a halt and left cotton men eying the sky for a break in the clouds and a return of warm and windy days.

Moisture reports that were spot checked over the county show the rainfall to be general and fairly heavy. In Floydada the radio station recorded 1.16 inches. Mc Cov Gin reported from one and one half to two inches to be the average there. Roy Bledsoe at Clubb Grain at South Plains said his customers were reporting two to two and one half inches of rain

From Lakeview Store, a gathering place for farm operators on wet days, came a report of as low as .7 to as high as two inches of moisutre.

Lakeview has some of the ear iest crops in the county and the in there had turned out 40 bales before the wet spell. Farm oper ations of every kind were in pro gress when the weather moved Some were hoeing, pulling weeds, pulling cotton, cutting maize, plowing, sowing wheat. and some wheat is already up to a stand

The rains in September have been ideal for the wheat and grazing land. The good moisture in the earth is expected to get the wheat crop off to a flying start. Even with clearing conditions today farm operations are not expected to get going again on price of doing business and staying in business has increased many times since that date and it is an accepted postulate that your cost on practically every item you purchase has gone up substantially in the past 23 years.

A new electrical rate is now in effect to all users of electrical energy in the City. This rate has not been revised since 1939 when the old schedule was adopted. The

It is no longer realistic that the two electric utilities operating in the town can operate or break even on deficit operations. Officials of the Southwestern Public Service Co. and the Municipal Power and Light met and agreed that an increase in rate was needed and justified. Therefore a large and respected consulting firm was employed by the city to study the rate schedule and make recommendations. The representatives of this firm agreed that the electrical rate was substantially too low in Floydada and considerably lower than any surrounding towns in the area.

They formulated new rates which basically would produce an increase on residential users of 9.9%. The old industrial rates were revised and some categories received increases and others decreases in order to ascertain that no one particular class of user would be subsidizing another subscriber's fair share of necessary revenue. We admit that certain users of electrical current were being sold power at a price lower than the cost of production because their power requirements had not been studied in many years. This was certainly not fair to the majority of subscribers and the consulting firm strongly urged the installation of new type demand meters on most business firms to eliminate this discrepancy. This has now been done by both utilities serving the LI I SAMARA town.

The new rate schedule submitted by the consulting firm was studied and accepted as being a fair and moderate increase. Even with this increase your bill for electricity will still be cheaper in most instances than like users in your neighboring towns in the plains area. With these thoughts in mind these new rates were adopted by the City Council of Floydada and ordained that these should be the minimum rate charges for any firm selling electrical power in this city.

'63 CHEVY I NOVA SPORT COUPE

Hard as it may be to believe, this year's Chevy II is better, better than last year's and better than anything in its class. It combines the new easy-care features of the big Chevrolet with its own wonderful attributes of parkable size, four- or six-cylinder fuel economy and interiors that would do justice to cars that cost twice as much.

Change it? Calm yourself, nobody's going to mess with a winner like this one! We did add self-adjusting brakes and a fully aluminized muffler; interiors are refined a bit, and you'll notice some trim changes, but the rest is pure untampered-with Corvair. Oh yes, we changed the taillights so all those people you pass will know you're driving a '63.

Increased uses of electricity and the heavier loads that result, make system improvements in rural areas a continuing job. The experts who operate the rural electric cooperatives are on the job today, anticipating tomorrow's demands and preparing for them. New poles, heavier lines, and improved equipment are constantly being installed to serve you better. Thanks to improved tools and techniques, these system improvements are most often accomplished without interrupting electric service.

The dedicated men who operate the locally owned, locally operated, locally controlled electric cooperative, can point with pride to more than a quarter century of experience in rural electrification. With this experience and dedication they are furnishing an efficient electric service today, while building a brighter tomorrow.

Exchange, has issued an appeal to producers of cotton in this South Plains area. Mr. Hanslik asking producers, for their own benefit, to exercise caution in the use of defoliants and desiccants prior to harvest this Fall. Mr. Hanslik explained that most of the central Texas crop has suffered from lack of moisture and is therefore poor character cotton. Due to this, the cotton textile mills probably will be in need of cotton of good character and he urges producers in this area to use caution in the use of chemicals that might affect cotton quality.

Your Experiment Station tests show that cotton should be at least 60 per cent open under dryland conditions and 80 per cent open in irrigated fields before desiccants are applied. It has been suggested that before producers use assiccants that they ask themselves if they are ready for a killing freeze tomorrow

Immature fibers last year cost area growers several million dollars. We can't afford to damage a crop that shows promise of good character (high micronaire) with the premature use of de foliants and desiccants.
