Six cases of check forgery were cleared over the weekend with the apprehension of two Mexican men picked up in Floydada Saturday morning.
The checks amounted to $456 and all were cleared through the First National Bank in Lockney, according to information from the Sheriff's office Monday.

Bernardo Casanova and Macelino R. Gonzales were charged Saturday before Justice of Peace Ed Griffin and were placed in jail.
The two confessed to the forgeries after being picked up here by Deputy Foster Amburn, on questioning of possible forgery.

Casanova and Gonzales attempted to pass a check Friday at the Pote Grocery in Lockney made out to a Lester Ferguson. The manager informed them he would have to verify the signature and went to the phone to call Mr. Ferguson. As he did the two men bolted from the store and ran to their car but not before the description of them and the vehicle was taken.

Their car was spotted here Saturday by Amburn and the two were taken into custody.
During questioning they related they had spent the night in Floydada and had also given six other checks to businesses in Lockney. All were forged on Carl Ferguson of that city.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The Peoples Hospital wishes to announce its intention to a policy that requires a deposit upon admission of any patient, exception of those carrying hospitalization insurance. This practice conformance with the policies of over 90% of hospitals in the United States and is brought about by ever increasing costs. Obstetrical patients are required to deposit $125.00 cash upon admission. This is the delivery fee and the majority of the time will cover the hospital stay. Surgical patients will require a deposit of $100.00 and medical will require $75.00 upon admission. This in no way reflects the cost of the hospital stay. In some instances a refund will be repaid that portion of the deposit not used by hospital charges. It is certainly possible that the total charges will be greater than the deposit. This will, of course require settlement upon discharge. Commercial insurance coverage paying so-called loss of time benefits will be acceptable in lieu of deposit.

The hospital would like to point out that an insurance policy contract between the insurance company and the individual, charges not paid by the insurance policy are the responsibility of the patient.

Kitchen And Field Report

from Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, Inc. by Nancy Morckel, Home Economist.
Back to work after spending the holidays in Springfield, Missouri, with Harry's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Holland, and my brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Buchanan, and other relatives and friends.
And now, may we take this opportunity as we enter into a new year to say "thank you" to the most sincere expression we know to convey our appreciation to our many friends and members we have enjoyed serving during the past year. Among all the gifts bestowed in 1962 our most valuable one is your friendship and good will.
May the New Year hold for you abundantly, the things that make life worth while.
With our New Year's resolutions made - the black-eyed peas, or the other traditional dishes, served the family and friends on New Year's Day to bring luck throughout the coming year - we are ready to start doing some thing about those well-laid plans for 1963. A New Year's resolution that every family can profit by is observing home safety rules during the coming year, keeping up to date on safety information is especially important for homemakers these days when there are more young people and more elderly people in our population and many new hazards within our range.
The old rule about keeping all medicines on a high shelf - out of sight and reach of children still holds good; but other items to keep out of their reach are: cleansers, powders, cleaning fluids, insecticides for the garden and farmstead, lighter fluids and all painting and finishing materials - as well as many others.
Mr. and Mrs. Buck Marric and boys and Buck's father, E. J. Marric spent Sunday in Lubbock with Mr. and Mrs. Carl Shipman and family.
J. W. Clary of Paducah came over the weekend to visit with his daughter, Mrs. Wiley Rogers and family.
Wiley Rogers and J. W. Clary went to Tulla Sunday afternoon to visit with Mr. Clary's son, Eugene and family.
Delbert Smith, Power Use Advisor at the Lighthouse, attended the Young Farmers State Convention in Fort Worth last week.
Our congratulations to Eddie Joe Fortenberry, State President of the group for 1963.
Mrs. J. H. Hutchins of Ralls spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hutchins, David and Dale.
Troy Watson, Lubbock, Job Training and Safety Instructor with A. M. College Extension Service, was here Monday morning to conduct the monthly safety meeting for Lighthouse linemen.
David Hutchins returned to Abilene Sunday where he is a student at McMurry College. He had spent the holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hutchins and his brother Dale.
Betty Peterson is back at work after a nice holiday vacation. She, with her husband Joe and daughter Sharla visited in Los Angeles with Joe's mother and enroute home they visited with her father, N. E. Bryant, in Santa Fe, New Mexico.
Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bourland returned to Abilene Sunday afternoon after spending some time here during the Christmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hickerson.
Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Patterson and family of Gallup, New Mexico, visited over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Doyce Smalley; Mrs. Smalley is Gordon's sister.
Mrs. Woodrow Hill of Floydada and her sister, Mrs. Inez Barton, of Earth, were co-op visitors Monday afternoon. They came by to pick up some recipe sheets on "Candy making" and one of the Lighthouse cook books.
First Aid for Stains:
After the fun and festivity of holiday entertaining, table linens are often left with stubborn stains and soils. Here are some suggestions that might prove helpful for pre-treating some of the more common ones prior to washing them:
Candle Wax - Scrape off excess wax with a table knife. Place the stained spot between white blotters and press with a hot iron. Then rub the spot with cold lard or turpentine and wash with warm suds.
Coffee and Tea - Stretch the stained fabric taut over a bowl and pour boiling water through it from a height of several feet. Then wash in hot suds.
Gravy, Meat Juice or white Sauce - Soak in cool water, then wash in hot suds. After the spot has been treated, proceed with normal washing procedure.
You probably ushered in the New Year and January with a gala party with fun and friendship which gave promises of hospitality throughout the whole year. Nice affairs for this time of the year are just informal ones. Sometimes it is nice just to let guests visit, enjoy friendly chatter and delicious refreshments. Keep the decorations including minimum wage rates as provided by Law are available at the office of Sam A. Fowler, Resident Engineer, Floydada, Texas, and Texas Highway Department, Austin. Usual rights reserved. 51-2tc simple. Plan refreshments that are easy-to-prepare in advance. You may serve anything from snacks and a beverage to an elaborate buffet meal.

For a snack you might try making some of the left-over fruit cake into Fruit Cake Balls they are delicious served with steaming hot coffee or a cup of tea.
A cheese ball is nice for snacking -
Cheese Ball:
1 8-oz package cream cheese
1 jar Old English Cheese
1 jar Blue cheese
3 tablespoons onion juice
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
Ground pecans
Have all cheeses at room temperature. Mix cheeses and juice and sauce and let stand in refrigerator. When thoroughly chilled and solid, roll in ground pecans.
This makes a large cheese ball. Store unused portion in tightly closed container (so odor does not affect other foods in refrigerator) when using the remaining cheese, reshape into a ball and roll in more ground pecans.

This new beauty salon is located just back of the Clifford Helms home west on the Lakeview Highway. Mrs. L. D. Golightly were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fawver and Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Daniels. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Howard, of Goree were Monday afternoon visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jones. Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Johnson and family were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hamilton and boys.

Pick-Up And Trailer Flips Both Damaged

Calvin Poteet escaped injuries Tuesday but his 1962 Chevrolet pick-up and his trailer loaded with cotton sustained heavy damages when the vehicles overturned in a bar ditch.

The mishap occurred late in the evening just west of Highway 82 about 400 yards, as Mr. Poteet was bringing to the gin approximately three bales of cotton.

He said the trailer got to whipping on him causing him to lose control of the pick-up. The trailer and pick-up turned over on its side, dumping the cotton.

Approximately $250 damages resulted to the pick-up. The cotton was re-loaded yesterday morning with pitchforks and taken on to the gin, but in another trailer.

Mrs. Curtis Poteet, a daughter-in-law, saw from her kitchen window, the turned over vehicles and was the first to reach the scene. She said by the time she arrived her father-in-law had crawled out through a window of the pick-up and seemed to be alright other than being shook-up. Mr. Poteet received a cut hand but did not require medical attention.

VFW To Sponsor Dance Tonight

Beginning tonight the Floydada VFW will sponsor a dance each Thursday night as well as each Saturday night. Johnnie Miller and his band will be featured tonight. Hoyt Edwards and his Western Playboys will be here Saturday night. Dances begin at 9 p. m. each evening. Everyone is invited to attend.

Mrs. Wayland Jones met in the home of Mrs. Arlie Fewell in Crosbyton, Monday night to make preparations for the Senior Harmony Club which will meet January 21 in the home of Mrs. J. W. Woods, of Crosbyton.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Johnson are going to Oklahoma this weekend to take Shirley through the Allergy Clinic.

Caprock Chat

And while I'm on the subject, did I ever tell you that Floydada needs more houses — both rent and for sale?

"I suppose this new pen is a surprise?" the clerk asked. "It certainly is," the customer answered. "It's for my son who's graduating. He's expecting a convertible."

POLL TAX time is fast approaching and failure to pay yours by January 31 this year could be the last time you ever miss such a deadline.

Elimination of the poll tax, as recommended by an election law study committee, is expected to come up for serious consideration and, in all probability, action at the upcoming session of the Texas Legislature.

Yes, this is an "off" election year, but it will qualify us to vote in the city and school trustee elections — and any special elections that may arise.

MY BUSINESS neighbor Mark Martin and I were visiting and I told him I was going out and take some pictures of some wild rodeo stock that is being wintered near here — I suggested that he go along and hold some of the wild horses while I shot their picture.

Mark said that he decided to quit having anything to do with animals — especially mules — several years ago. He said he remembers very well the time he made up his mind to quit milking cows. It was just after a brother of his had turned a half full pail of milk over his head while he was milking!

FOLK in Floyd county should be well read — I believe we have the most outstanding library here in Floydada and I understand that there is a branch library in Lockney.

Head librarian Mrs. A. T. Hull reports that reading activity is up at the library with a total circulation of books in 1962 amounting to 31,562. She said this was an increase of 1,403 over 1961.

She also reported that 1,471 new books were added in 1962. That's progress — and we like it. In fact I would recommend that everyone settle down to a good book in the evenings.

ASK JOHNNY Harris if you want ads work — I understand he sold out of pups in a hurry after running a "for sale" advertisement in The Hesperian — it's just like the man said, "Sleep While Your Want Ad Works!"

IT'S JANUARY Clearance time in Floydada as some of the city's merchants announce their annual clearance of Fall and Winter apparel.

Since there are still three cold months ahead, you might as well plan to come into town this week and next — load up on a lot of good winter clothing — at bargain prices.

It's hard for me to understand why a merchant sells at a reduced price when merchandise he puts on the bargain rack is still very desirable for that particular season.

They probably wonder why I run a newspaper like I do also, so I won't argue with them — I like to buy new clothes at a bargain, too.

We do know this — new spring apparel is already being displayed in windows and stores — and it's already selling — more arriving daily — so same fashion still knows what sells best and when it sells!

COUNTY AGENT Cecil Lewis called early Wednesday morning and said tell the farmers that the new 1962 Farmers Tax Guides are in his office — write in and he'll mail you one or go by Cecil's office and he'll give you one. Okay, Cecil? — that'll cost you another cup!

The Committee wishes to thank Judge McBrien for appointing a Historical Survey Committee in this county.

Dr. Richardson pointed out that every county has a unique history and Floyd County is no exception. The County Committee will be concerned with historic buildings, museum pieces, markers and records of the county.

The Texas State Historical Survey Committee works to coordi-

Will You Share Your Home With A Foreign Exchange Student?

Foreign exchange student Sigurd Waage of Norway will be leaving Floydada and the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Charles Lutrick when school is out this Spring.

Sigurd has learned much of the American way of life and he in turn has revealed much of Norway to his many friends in this community during the past semester.

The time has come to make application for another foreign exchange student for next year and the student body desires the fellowship of another. Deadline to make application is February 1, 1963.

If you would be interested in supplying food and shelter for next year's exchange student you are invited to call or write Mr. Charles Tyer, principal of the Floydada High School or Miss Ann Sweptson, sponsoring teacher.

Home for the exchange student should present a good attitude of the American way of life, student should have a bed of his or her own, should be a teenager of the same sex in home, average income home.

The student council pays $700 of exchange student's travel expenses. Foreign student is not allowed to drive a car while in the U. S.

ate the historical preservation work accomplished on the local level with programs carried on the state level. Currently County Historical Survey Committees are locating and making graves of Civil War Veterans and sponsoring Historical Building Medallions to be placed on historic structures.

Hospital Board Meets

Four board members attended the regular monthly meeting of the Peoples Hospital Tuesday night.

Chairman H. O. Cline presided over the meeting which was attended by Aaron Carthel, B. A. Robertson, and J. B. Smitherman.

Several items of business were discussed including the approval by the State Board of Health to accept patients receiving old age assistance grants.

The board also reviewed its entrance policies which are as follows:

"The Peoples Hospital will adhere to its policy of requiring a deposit upon admission of any patient, with the exception of persons carrying hospitalization insurance."

"This practice is in accordance with the policies of over 90 percent of hospitals in the United States and is brought about by ever increasing costs. Obstetrical patients will be required to deposit $125.00 cash upon admission."

"This will cover the delivery fee and the majority of the time

Floydada Needs More Rent Houses

Which comes first, the hen or the egg? . . . likewise, which comes first, the house or the people? Obviously newcomers can't move to Floydada if there are no homes to rent . . . and very few to buy.

It doesn't take a very good mathematician to figure that it isn't profitable to go out and build some new two or three bedroom homes and rent them out.

Most investors can make just as much profit by placing their money in a savings account of some sort and won't have nearly as many headaches.

What is the answer to Floydada's rent house problem? The half million dollar 40 home housing project will alleviate some of the need for rent homes. However, many newcomers will not be eligible for federal housing rent homes.

More rent homes may logically be expected to become available in Floydada as present residents of older homes move to new homes . . . thereby making the older homes available for rent property.

More new homes for Floydada will come when more building sites are offered for sale.

Mona Lisa Nonsense

The overly-famous painting "Mona Lisa" has been the center of quite a ruckus in the French press. The painting has been sent to the United States to be put on tour and the pros and cons of letting the famed painting go outside France has stirred the Latin temperament (not difficult to do) to a high pitch.

Some American writers, even art critics, have noted that the Mona Lisa painting is really not anything to scream about. There is absolutely no doubt, however, that it is a worthy painting and done by one of the world's great all-time, all-round citizens, Leonardo de Vince.

But it's reputation is mostly the result of a tremendous publicity build up, the like of which no other painting, perhaps, has ever enjoyed. To actually look upon the Mona Lisa, in Paris, at the Louvre, is a sad disappointment to most Americans.

It's good to have the famous painting put on display in the United States. For one thing, it will dispell the over-selling which has been done on this singular work. It will disappoint many, who will be expecting something really quite beautiful in today's sense of the word. And, as one art critic recently wrote, the brutally frank American is going to say, automatically, upon seeing it: "Gee, it's green."

GUEST EDITORIAL

Glenn Shelton, whose "Hired Hand" column is a popular daily feature of the Wichita Falls Times and Record-News, is an "old pro" in the newspaper business . . . and a good one. As managing editor of the Wichita Falls newspapers, he is responsible for considerably more than the column for which he is best known to the general public.

Not long ago, Glenn penned an answer to a reader who had complained that the Wichita Falls newspapers devoted too much space to obituaries . . . and it was one of those little gems which is going to make a lot of editors think, as I did, "I wish I'd written that."

"The obituaries," editor Shelton wrote, "are among the most important stories in any newspaper. One of the first lessons a young reporter learns is that they are stories that are clipped from the paper and kept for many years afterwards. A mistake in a normal news story is soon forgotten, but an error in an obituary remains, ordinarily, for a long time.

"For some strange reason, a young reporter is often put on obituaries. He gets the idea, consequently, that his stories are relatively unimportant. Soon, however, his editor will put him wise. They are among the most important stories he'll ever write."

An old-time editor who tried to teach me a thing or two about the newspaper business when I was breaking in said much the same thing. He was Homer Steen, for more than fifty years editor of the Floydada newspaper and one of the best in the business.

Trying to impress me with the importance of the "little" story, Homer used to tell me "If John Jones out at Fairview steps in a posthole and breaks a leg when he's coming in from milking you may think it's not important, but old John has got kids and grand-kids and neighbors and friends, and all of them are interested . . . and I want you to get out there and get the story." And I did, too.

What Glenn Shelton and Homer Steen are both saying is simply that everybody is important to somebody . . . and a good newspaper man always recognizes that simple fact and never ignores a story because it's too "little".

And the obituary, of course, is one of the "big" stories in every man's life. He won't be reading it, of course, but his kids and his grand-kids and his neighbors and friends will be . . . and it will be important to them. That story will be carefully clipped by some loving hands, neatly folded and filed away in a family Bible or scrapbook or bureau drawer . . . and if there are errors in it, they're going to be preserved too.

There's an old saying in the newspaper world that every man is entitled to have his name in his hometown paper on at least three occasions . . . when he's born, when he marries, and when he dies.

Here at The Record, we try to see to it that everybody's name gets into the news columns a little oftener than that . . . and we put pictures with the names whenever we possibly can. Our constant aim is to record, not just the big events which affect our community, but the little ones too . . . as many of them as we can.

You see, we think that the people who read our newspapers are all important folks. You're important to us because if you didn't exist, we wouldn't either for very long. (Canadian Record)

Floyd Philosopher Says 1963 Is Fraught With Dangers, But So Was 1962, 1961, 1800

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm maps his plans for 1963. Dear editor:

According to an article by an expert on world affairs which I read last night to rest my mind after mopping my plans for 1963, you can spin a globe of the earth and point your finger at it and regardless of where it comes to a stop, there'll be a crisis there.

This was supposed to convince you that times are serious, the world's in a ferment, and the days ahead are uncertain.

All this proves to me however is that this expert's not very familiar with the world's record.

There never was a time when you couldn't point your finger at any spot on the globe and show up a crisis. Even if you missed a country's capital and got only a farm house or an apartment in town, there'd still be a crisis there, and nine times out of ten it'd be financial, the same as it is in the major trouble spots around the globe.

What this expert ought to realize is that if most individuals can live with crises all their lives, the world ought to be able to also. A majority of crises can be solved by money, but there never is enough money to whip them all at one time.

But what I started out to say was that I have now mapped my plans for the 1963 farming year. What most people don't realize is the number of gambles a farmer faces. Oh sure, everybody knows a farmer has to gamble with the weather, insects, and the market, but what some people don't seem to realize is that a farmer has to gamble with himself. Just because the weather is pretty and the tractor is ready to run, is no sign I am. How can a man predict that he'll be ready to fight when the insects are? Who wants to go fishing when it's raining?

My plans are all made, but they consist mostly of doing what I feel like each day after I've carefully weighed the prospects.

Sure, 1963 is fraught with uncertainties. So was 1962, or 1961, or 1960, or 1800, or the year 1. Let her rip.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

SAND HILL NEWS by Mrs. James Jeffress

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Starkey Hosts To The Annual Starkey Reunion Last Sunday

SAND HILL, January 7 — The cotton harvest is moving along with her family, Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Miller and Ronnie. Since this is the beginning of a new year I would appreciate all new items for the Sand Hill column, as it is hard to find out what's going on in the community without your help. Thanks for your cooperation during the past year. May this be a happy and prosperous one for each and every one of you.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Bloys attended a Caprock supper and 42 party at the Colonial House in Floydada Friday night.

The Sand Hill Baptist Brotherhood were hosts to Family Night at the church Thursday night. Entertainment was from Floydada. Refreshments were served by Tom Pierce and Jimmy McGuire. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Miller and Randy. Brother and Mrs. Jimmy McGuire and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Stringer and Stinson, Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Swanner, Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Slater, Jr. and family and Mrs. Carl Turners and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stringer and family.

Fifty were in attendance at the Sand Hill Baptist Sunday School Sunday morning. With the holidays the attendance has been rather low for the past two weeks.

W. R. Billington suffered a painful accident Saturday morning when he got his foot in a cotton stripper. He was caught about ten minutes before he was finally able to take his cap and release the lever so the pressure was taken off his foot.

James Jeffress was stripping in the same field but didn't realize Mr. Billington was signalling for help until later. X-rays showed no broken bones but so much skin was taken from the bottom of his foot and heel doctors say skin will have to be grafted to his foot. He is home but very uncomfortable.

Mrs. Dale Stringer is on our sick list this week. We wish her a speedy recovery. Several have reported colds also.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Holmes, of Midland, and Mr. and Mrs. William Mayo visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Billington Saturday night.

Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Jeffress and family were Mr. and Mrs. Jim Holmes, of Midland, Mary Starkey and Norma Hollums.

VETERANS ASK

Q — I see the VA pays pension under a heading "Civil War Pensions". I thought all Civil War veterans were dead?

A — Pensions for Civil War dependents are paid to widows and helpless children of Civil War veterans. There are about 3,000 on the rolls.

Q — If a wife is a veteran, can she obtain a VA loan for a home even if her husband is not a veteran?

A — Veteran's benefits draw no line between the sexes thus a woman veteran is eligible for a home loan guaranty. However, many women veterans might be unable to obtain loans because of low annual income or doubts concerning long term employment. Your nearest VA office could advise you on this matter.

Q — Can I allow my annual GI insurance dividend to remain on deposit to meet future premiums?

A — Yes, you may. Notify the VA office where you pay your premiums of your intention to allow your dividend to remain on deposit.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Snell and family of Lubbock visited here Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Snell and other relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Snell, also of Lubbock visited in the home of her sister, Mrs. G. M. Armstrong and Mr. Armstrong, and in the Snell home during the weekend. Floydada Takes Second & Third At Hale Center

The green and white cagers of Floydada High School found themselves playing against a stacked deck at the Hale Center tournament last weekend but still managed to bring home a second and a third place from the meet.

Being forced to play two tough games on the final day of the meet the locals gained the respect of their followers with a fine performance.

Leading off on Friday night the girls downed Bovina and the boys won 62-55 over Petersburg. Then coming back on Saturday morning the girls fell before the tall Cotton Center entry and the boys managed a narrow one goal margin over Ralls to make the finals.

Saturday night the girls team clobbered Hale Center 63-37 with freshmen and sophomores playing for the most part in the game. The Whirlwinds made a gallant stand on Saturday night against a rested Hale Center team and one of their hand picked officials and all but pulled out the championship, but there were one or two too many whistles blown and two of the Whirlwind starters spent most of the game on the bench. Scoreboard read 76-75 Hale Center when it was all over.

Shown above is a burr truck spreading cotton burrs on the E. W. Walls farm north of Fairview. This is part of his conservation cropping system that he is carrying out under the Great Plains Conservation Program. He is using this practice to help conserve moisture, improve fertility, prevent wind erosion and maintain organic matter. Below is Truman Gregory, Soil Conservationist, and Mr. Walls examining results of applying burrs. Walls received an increase of 1500 pounds per acre on grain sorghum land in 1962 on land where a mulch of cotton burrs was applied, as compared to areas in the same field that did not receive any burrs.

Cotton Burr Mulch Is Aid To Cropland

Farmers in the Floyd County Soil Conservation District are applying cotton burrs more and more each year. It's a proven fact that this is a paying practice. Cotton burrs are valuable from several different standpoints. Recent studies have been made on the value of cotton burrs applied at various levels and left on the soil surface. Marked increases in the penetration of moisture following rains were observed where the burrs were left on the surface. Where the burrs were plowed under little or no increase was observed. Where 4 tons were applied, average depth of moisture penetration was 32 inches as compared with 17 inches on listed land. This difference is attributed to a partial elimination of surface sealing due to raindrop splash and to a reduction in runoff, allowing more time for moisture to penetrate.

Surface application produced sizeable increases in cotton yield. On dryland where burrs were applied and cotton was flat planted, 169 pounds of lint was produced as compared with 103 pounds where land was listed then planted. The fertilizer content in cotton burrs is worth about $8.00 per ton. A normal application of 3 tons per acre would be worth about $24.00 in fertilizer value alone. According to figures from the Lubbock Experiment Station this amount of burrs will increase the lint production of cotton for 5 years at the rate of 71 pounds per year.

Wind erosion is virtually eliminated where cotton burrs are applied and left on the soil surface through the blow season. This also reduces evaporation of moisture from the surface.

A mulch of cotton burrs has the value of a high residue producing crop for returning organic matter to the soil. Organic matter has a far reaching effect on all processes which go on in the soil.

Moisture penetration, protection from wind erosion, addition of organic matter, and return of plant nutrients as enter into the picture when you consider the real value of applying cotton burrs to the land.

Cotton harvest is almost complete but there is still time to get cotton burrs from most of the gins in the county.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Floyd County farmers are about to complete the harvesting of a near record cotton crop. This cotton was produced under both dryland and irrigated conditions from approximately 105,000 acres of cropland. Since cotton is a low residue crop it is important that land planted to cotton be rotated at least once each three years with a fertilized high residue producing crop such as small grains or sorghums.

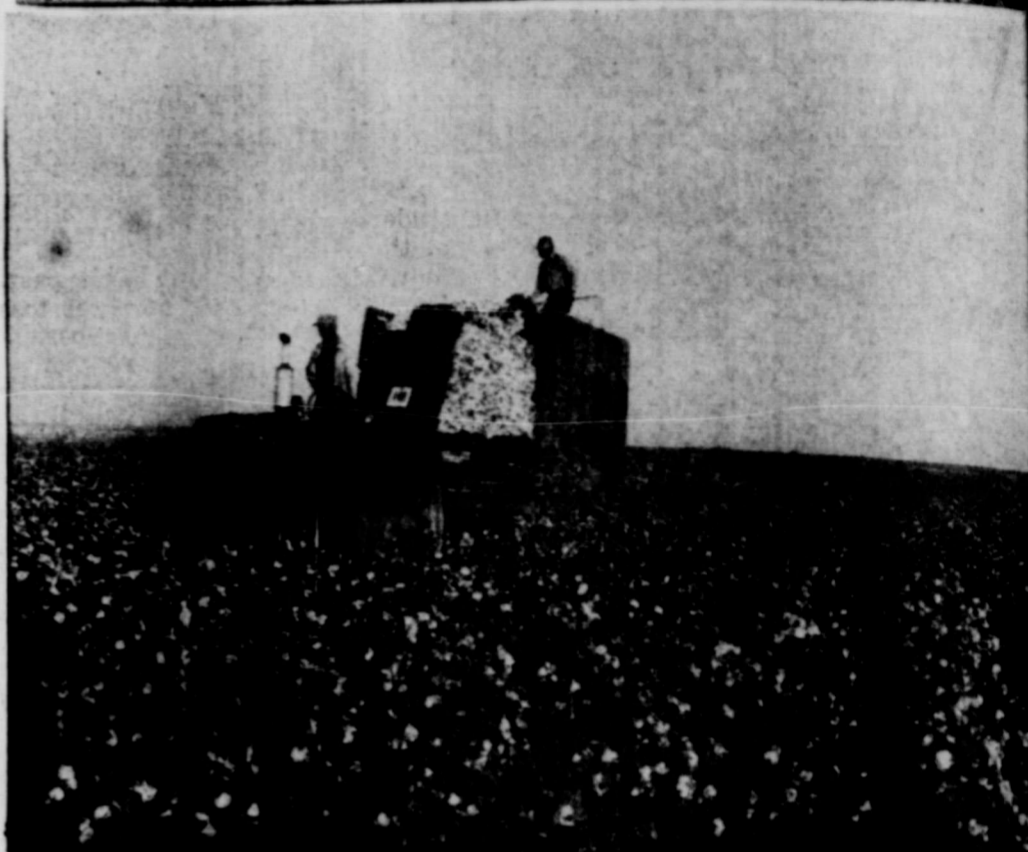

A rotation such as this will help to maintain the fertility level and organic matter content at desired levels. Soil structure is also maintained, enabling rainfall and irrigation water to be absorbed at desirable rates. Here on the High Plains another important factor is wind erosion. Soil cropped for long periods of time with low residue crops does not have the protection it needs in times of high winds to prevent wind erosion.

Where necessary to continuously crop land to cotton or other low residue crops and a cover crop or high residue crop can not be worked into the crop rotation an alternate treatment may be applied that still meets the needs of crops and soils. This would consist of applying a mulch of cotton burrs at the rate of at least three tons per acre to the land. The burrs will provide the same benefits that could be received from the high residue crops without double cropping the land.

If you have land that needs the addition of organic matter check on the possibility of cotton burrs very soon as the supply will not last for many more days. Cost-sharing from the Agricultural Conservation Program is available at the rate of $1.00 per acre for each ton of burrs up to 5 tons per acre. This is a good conservation practice that is recommended for all soils in the Floyd County Soil Conservation District.

The individual may use the land as a source of food, and wealth, and well-being. But he may not consume the land if mankind is to continue.

A country's resources are the gift of nature to an entire people. They do not belong to this generation, to the last, nor to the next. No single man or generation can ever earn the right to use them wastefully.

The top picture shows a shock of sesame on Fred Carthel's farm north of Lockney where Mr. Carthel has had a high producing crop for the last several years.

Both cotton and sesame are low residue crops and need to be rotated with high residue crops or with land that has been mulched with cotton burrs at least once each third year in order to maintain high yields and protect the soil from wind erosion.

The lower picture shows a field of cotton on the J. S. Hale, Jr. farm south of Floydada that is being stripped by Verlon Wright. Mr. Hale's fields have maintained high yields with a good conservation cropping system being carried out on each one that includes mulching with burrs or the growing of fertilized high residue producing crops.

Show Troupe Winters Near Floydada

OK TAME . . . but just try to ride one! Pictured above are a few of the bucking rodeo stock "Hoss" Inman of Lamar, Colorado. The horses and Brahma bulls will continue to be pastured near Floydada until the 18th, when they'll be hauled to the Fort Worth rodeo which begins the 25th.

There's a large group of actors and actresses wintering ten miles northeast of Floydada in preparation of a big show that begins the 25th of this month.

They have been here for the past two or three months, resting up for another round of shows all over the country. They open this season at the Fort Worth annual livestock exposition January 25 through February 3.

They've been practicing running, in fact just about all kinds of capers . . . many are practicing some mighty dangerous acts . . . some are killers.

Sixty-five wild Brahma bulls and some of the buckinest, saltiest horseflesh in the country are on wheat pasture and will be loaded up about the 18th, hauled to Fort Worth, where they'll attempt to throw some of the nation's best cowboys.

The bucking stock is owned by "Hoss" Inman of Lamar, Colorado. Inman is a well known quarter horse breeder and also owns some racing stock.

Local grain elevator man, Lon Davis, Jr., has been watering and feeding the stock for Inman. They have been friends for several years. Davis has found the stock to be reasonably tame as they follow his pickup when he's passing out the cake to them each day, however he sticks pretty close to his pickup when the big Brahmas come around.

The famed bucking horse Jesse James is in the bunch and it is reported that he has never been rode. At the time he was purchased for some $2500 he was a very vicious animal, but he has mellowed some in the past year or two . . . of course not in the bucking game.

"HOW ABOUT AN AUTOGRAPH JESSE?" This is the famed bucking horse known to rodeo cowboys all over the U. S. His name is Jesse James and it is reported that he's never been rode. He looks pretty tame here after Floydada's Lon Davis Jr. gave him some cake . . . but Lon didn't try to get very close to him.

1962 Good Market Year For Southwestern Cattle Feeders

A good stable market was the outstanding feature of the fat cat market in the Southwest in 1962, and with the possible exception of early in the year, prices for fed cattle were considerably above prices paid in 1961.

Most feeders reported satisfactory profit margins throughout the year, even though feed prices were higher, according to the latest monthly summary published by the Cattle Feeders Division of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association. A record consumption of beef played an important role, with consumption per capita estimated at 89 pounds for 1962.

The December fed cattle market in Texas reflected the normal seasonal decline in demand for beef, and prices paid for fed steers looked steady to 50 cents lower, compared to November. Choice steers continued in very good demand.

Fed heifers also sold steady to mostly 50 cents lower in December. There was some increase in the available supply of fed calves, but again prices were mostly steady during the month.

Lloyd Bergsma, director of the TSCRA Cattle Feeders Division, said there is an air of reserved optimism in the cattle feeding industry at this time. "There seems to be little doubt that the excellent demand for beef will continue in 1963, and that the consumption of grain fed beef will continue its upward trend," he explained.

On the supply side, the nation's cattle herds are reaching record levels. It is expected that the supply of feeder cattle and feed grain will be ample to continue the upward trend in cattle feeding.

However, price supports for feed grains for 1963 have been increased by the USDA, and this increase in feed price levels will have a tendency to hold down the expansion of livestock feeding.

According to the summary, if cattle feeders are to avert serious price declines in 1963, they must: (1) hold expansion to a reasonable level; (2) continue to move cattle to market at lighter weights; and (3) market fed cattle in an orderly manner and avert any bunched marketings.

Activity in the feeder cattle market was very limited during December, normally a period when receipts at markets are light. Unfavorable weather further restrained movement to market. Prices on feeders were generally about steady with some strength shown late in the month. Activity is expected to increase during January.

High Plains Underground To Measure Water Levels

The High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, in cooperation with the Texas Water Conservation Commission, has commenced measuring water levels in observation wells throughout the Water District.

Annual measurements are made each January when interference from pumping wells is at a minimum.

During the past year, additional observation wells have been selected at strategic points so that in the near future there will be at least one observation well for every 2 1/2 to 3 miles.

The water levels in wells show the extent to which water supplies are depleted by drought or by heavy pumping for irrigation.

will be publicly released by the District in the early spring.

Survey Shows Grocery Ads Offer 20 Per Cent Savings

STAMFORD, Calif. — Supermarket "specials" advertised in newspapers offer price reductions averaging 20 percent over non-special prices, according to a study in the current issue of Food Research Institute Studies, published at Stanford University. The advertised "specials" may reduce family food bills up to 19 percent, depending upon the store and the extent to which housewives shop for "specials" to meet their food needs, say authors Roger W. Gray and Roice Anderson. They note that advertised "specials" of an individual supermarket cover approximately one-third of a family's basic food budget. "The buyer who has room to store some items, and enough menu flexibility to accommodate the 'specials', can make an important part of her food purchases from the advertised specials," the authors say. "It pays, not only to shop the specials, but also to keep posted on which items are being most widely and frequently featured." The advertised "specials" may be traditional "loss leaders", items in abundant supply, or those where price competition between stores is intensive, they explain. Commenting on the importance of nationally advertised brands among the supermarket specials, Gray and Anderson say "the evidence suggests that the brands are being defended in the weekly specials, or even that a counter-attack on behalf of manufacturer's brands is conducted here."
