1,210 Floyd Farms Enter 1963 Federal Feed Grain Program

Sixteen Farm Gain Over 1962 Feed Grain Program

Some 1210 Floyd County farms were signed into the Federal feed grain program with 116,976 acres scheduled for planting under the program by deadline for the sign ups Friday afternoon, according to Tom Hutchins, manager of the Floyd office of the Agricultural Stabilization program.

This was a 16 farm gain over last year's feed grain program. Another 42,744 acres were scheduled for diversion from feed grain production in the program, which requires farmers to divert from 20 to 40 percent of their feed grain acreage, based on plantings in the 1959-1960 crop year.

Producers who did not sign up under the program may plant grain sorghums without regard to their planting history, but will not have federal price support of the grain produced. It will be sold on the open market. Approximately 100 did not sign up in the county.

The farmers who joined the program, which is in its second year, will be guaranteed about $1.68 per hundred weight for feed grain, at required moisture content, before storage.

In addition, they will receive a new and separate payment based on their 1959-1960 production history that will average about 29 cents per hundred of their yield for the two base years, Hutchins explained.

This payment is not based on their 1963 production, and will not affect the $1.68 support price, and is not expected to affect the market price for the 1963 crop when it is sold to livestock feeders

REPORTS ON AREA HOSPITALS

Hospital Group To Work On Plans Tuesday Night

A committee of some 50 interested persons will meet in the community room of the First National Bank in Floydada at 7:30 Tuesday night to begin work on the city's biggest problem . . . that of building a new hospital. The effort is led by the Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the board of directors of People's Hospital.

Chamber officials said that although a committee has been selected, that any resident of the city or this area who is interested in working on the project is invited to attend the meeting.

A hospital architect will be on hand to explain building costs. Three committees will report on hospitals they have visited in Spearman, Anson, Ballinger, Throckmorton and Albany.

It is thought by the leaders of the effort that the Tuesday night program will be devoted to determining approximate cost of a new hospital and size (amount of beds) will also be discussed.

After plans, cost and location of the new hospital have been determined, the group will go into plans of how to finance the project.

The above mentioned hospitals were financed with county, hospital district bonds and Hill Burton money.

It is estimated that it will take at least six months to get architect's drawing, bids of construction and facilities, and secure financing for the project. Actual construction time will be determined at time bids are opened and approved or rejected.

Eldon Fortenberry Elected Fat Stock Show President

Eldon Fortenberry of the Cedar Hill Community was elected President of the Floyd County Junior Fat Stock Show Association for 1963 at the March 21 board meeting. According to H. T. Davison, County Agent, Fortenberry has served as vice president for the past four years and has contributed much to the success of the show.

Earl Edwards, Jr. of Lakeview was elected vice-president and Harold Ellison of Lockney was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Several of the board members three year terms were expiring, these elected as new members were Precinct 1, Jim Simpson; Precinct 2, Albert Scheele; Precinct 3, Gerald Lackey; Precinct 4, Ray Lloyd; Lockney, Raymond Rucker; and Floydada, Alton Higginbotham.

Secretary Harold Ellison presented the bills incurred during the show and suggested fee for each of the judges who helped with the show, all of which was approved by the board.

Several suggestions were presented for the 1964 show. One was a 4-H and FFA judging contest. It was approved and referred to the Vo. Ag. teachers and County Agents to work out. Darrell Smith, Assistant County Agent proposed a rule change in the lamb classes. These rules were approved and read as follows:

1. FINEWOOL - A finewool lamb may be a Rambouillet or Merino or a cross between these two breeds.

2. FINEWOOL CROSSED - A finewool crossbred will be a typical first cross of a finewool with a Suffolk, Hampshire, Corriedale, or Columbia.

3. MEDIUM WOOL - All other breeds or crossbreds not eligible in class 1, 2, 4 or 5 will be shown in this class.

4. SHROPSHIRE - This class is for purebred or grade Shropshire lambs.

5. SOUTHDOWN - In this class all Southdown, Montadale or Cheviots, purebred or grade or any cross of any of these breeds will be shown together.

Brucellosis Lab No. 4 will move into Floyd County to begin testing cattle on April 22, 1963, states H. T. Davison, County Agricultural Agent.

During 1962 year petitions for the brucellosis program were circulated, submitted to the State Livestock Sanitation Commission and just recently the county was declared ready for testing.

Drs. John Evans and Tom Montgomery will be in charge of the work here in the county. Dr. Evans stated that the Mobil Lab would be located in Floydada. Four "bleeders" would take

Laymen's Revival Set For First Christian Church

Plans are formulated and preparations are being made for the pre-Easter Laymen's Revival at the First Christian Church in Floydada. The Evangelism Committee, headed by Preston Watson, is enthusiastic in announcing the evenings of service at 7:30 p. m. through April 22nd at 7:30 p. m. The Sunday evening service will be at 8:30 p. m.

Ray M. Turner, pastor of the First Christian Church, has referred the value of a Laymen's Revival as being "an opportunity for laymen to speak the word of God to their families and to other laymen in language they can understand." The first "preachers" were all laymen — the twelve disciples — and what a difference they made!

Assisting the speakers for each evening will be five other laymen who will conduct the order of the service, read the scriptures, and welcome visitors.

Speakers, their topics, and lay leaders are: Sunday night, Ed Westler speaking on "Confronted With God Through Faith"; Monday night, Lee Davis, Jr. speaking on "Come Home to God Through Faith"; Tuesday night, Preston Watson speaking on "Confronted With God Through Love"; with E. J. Withers assisting Wednesday night, Kinder Farris will speak on "Come Home to God Through Decision" and Bob Dyer will conduct the service Thursday night. The pastor will preside over the Maundy Thursday Communion Service. Friday night, Tom Sneed will bring the closing message, "Committed Unto God For Eternity," with J. C. Westler as assistant lay leader.

Music for the evening is being arranged by Mrs. Ed Westler, assisted by Mrs. Ed Westler, church director, and will include special music by the youth choir, Miss Sylvia Ferguson, a duet by Miss Kathleen Turner and Mrs. Kinder Farris, and a solo by Roy M. Turner. On Thursday evening the church choir will render the music. Mrs. Lee Davis, Jr. will be at the organ each evening, and congregational singing will be conducted by the pastor.

A very warm invitation is extended to members of the First Christian Church, friends and visitors in the community, to attend the Laymen's Revival April 22nd through 25th.

"It WILL make a difference — to those participating in the service and those attending," said the pastor, Roy M. Turner.

Mr. Wendell Tooley, Publisher, 212 South Main St., Floydada, Texas. Dear Mr. Tooley:

Am sending my check to pay for the subscription of the Floyd County Hesperian for another year beginning Apr. 3rd.

I entered the business world with the Hesperian when type was set by hand, many years ago. The years have gone by, and I was 75 years of age the 17th inst., but I don't feel that I am that old. The Lord has been so good to me and I can still be active in church work.

The Old Timers there will remember me as Stella Tubbs and I still have so many pleasant memories of my old time friends. Best of wishes, Stella Lee Nevins Mendocino, Calif. 3-22-63.

Mrs. George Sparks was taken by Harmon ambulance Tuesday to West Texas Hospital in Lubbock after apparently suffering a heart attack in her Floydada home. Mrs. Sparks rested fairly well Tuesday night and at last report was doing satisfactory.

PLANT THE SORGHUMS THAT DO BETTER UNDER PANHANDLE AND SOUTH PLAINS GROWING CONDITIONS

Year after year, Northrup King hybrids continue to get a bigger share of the available sorghum acreage in the Texas Panhandle and South Plains area. There are many reasons for this increasing popularity, but they can all be summed up very simply: Northrup King hybrids are out-performing other sorghum varieties.

NK Sorghums combine bred-in potential with area adaptability....Northrup King varieties do better here in the heart of the Texas sorghum country because (1) they have the bred-in ability to produce, and (2) they are particularly well adapted to local growing conditions. This combination of yield potential and wide-range adaptability is especially important in the Panhandle and South Plains where conditions vary so greatly from farm to farm and even from field to field. This year, plant NK sorghums—the hybrids that are doing better under local conditions.

MORE FROM EVERY
ACRE... THROUGH CREATIVE SEED
RESEARCH

This dramatic photograph shows NK sorghum plants emerging from soil that a hard rain has hardened and cracked. This kind of extra vigor means more plants that come up during stresses, more plants to produce grain and build yields.

NK SORGHUMS START BETTER

Getting a good sorghum yield depends, first of all, on getting the proper plant population established. NK hybrids have an outstanding reputation for providing thick, vigorous stands, often under adverse conditions where other sorghums would fail. Farmers report that NK sorghums show excellent germination in hot, dusty seedbeds and in cold weather. They push through problem soils that would stop less hardy varieties. This thicker stand and early vigor mean, of course, a field with more capability to produce a big yield.

Gene Fletcher (Fletcher Bros.), Gruver

"My NK sorghum got about five inches of rain right about the time it started to come up. Plants that had emerged were covered so badly with washed soil I gave up on the field. I was all set to replant when the sorghum started to emerge strongly... and it went on to produce a good stand!"

A. G. Williamson, Route 3, Plainview

"I never saw anything come up like my NK sorghum did after two hard rains. I don't believe corn would do as well. I had started to replant when I noticed it was beginning to come up... it made a good stand."

Only Northrup King provides the benefits of Green Treatment

The exclusive Green Treatment process gives NK sorghum seed added protection that means more dependable germination, uniform emergence, and healthy early growth. During the critical days immediately after planting, Green Treatment acts as a protectant against many kinds of harmful soil-borne fungi and seed-damaging insects. Green Treatment is another extra benefit you get when you plant NK sorghum seed.

Determined NK hybrids yield better because they grow better. They avoid much of the damage caused by weather stresses, especially when they're carefully selected according to the expected growing conditions.

NK SORGHUMS GROW BETTER

Sorghum growers like the way Northrup King hybrids show steady growth and proper development at every step of the way from emergence to maturity. Because NK varieties have this bred-in vigor and additional stamina, they're better able to resist stresses which might occur. They adjust to periods of abnormal growing conditions, avoid permanent setbacks. And because they pull through these stresses in better condition, they go on to make a bigger crop.

H. G. Watts, Route 3, Floydada

"I'm really sold on NK sorghum. I planted on June 10th... the crop grew faster than I expected and headed out with minimum cultivation!"

Visit a Northrup King demonstration plot this summer

Supporting Northrup King's nationwide network of experimental and breeding farms are sorghum demonstration and test plots located throughout the Panhandle and South Plains. At these locations both established and experimental sorghums are constantly being evaluated to find the best varieties for local conditions. Your NK dealer probably has a comparison plot on his farm; if not, he can direct you to one nearby.

This Northrup King sorghum has been left in the field well into late winter as part of a continuous test program to find better standability. Despite the completely dried out stalks and heavy snow cover, practically all of this crop is still standing erect—proof of bred-in stalk strength and deep root systems.

NK SORGHUMS STAND BETTER

Some sorghum breeders, in their haste to get bigger yields through bigger heads, have neglected other parts of the sorghum plant. Not so with the Northrup King experts! NK varieties have been developed on the basis of total performance, on their ability not only to produce but to deliver. NK hybrids recommended for the Panhandle and South Plains have deep-reaching root systems that anchor plants securely in loose, sandy soil... stalk strength that resists breakage in high winds... all the characteristics necessary to avoid lodging.

Jon Appling, Box 1249, Levelland

"I'm well pleased with NK sorghum. It stands better than other sorghums I planted this year... I'll plant NK again next year."

Every year thousands of farmers visit NK demonstration plots, such as this one at Lubbock, for firsthand information about sorghum performance.

You get the best yield growing conditions will allow when you plant the proper Northrup King variety. NK hybrids yield more in their maturity class because they have bred-in yield potential and better adaptability.

NK SORGHUMS YIELD BETTER

Specific, bred-in characteristics such as length of time to maturity, stress tolerance, and insect and disease resistance determine how well a sorghum will yield. No single variety, regardless of how skillfully it is bred and developed, can be the best yielder under all circumstances. That's the reason Northrup King offers three distinctively different grain hybrids for the Texas Panhandle and South Plains. Each of these varieties is well-qualified in its own way to produce a big yield under the varied growing conditions found in this area. This year, get a Northrup King-size yield—local adaptability and bred-in yield potential make the difference!

Calvin Robertson, Route 3, Plainview

"I tried 13 acres of NK sorghum in 1961 and it cut right at 10,000 lbs. per acre. I upped my acreage to 100 acres in 1962!"

Billy Bob Jackson, Route 2, Hale Center

"My NK sorghum was the best feed I had last year... I expect good yields again this year."

Farm Bureau Facts & Faces

WACO — (Sp1) — The president of the Texas Farm Bureau has announced that a series of informational meetings will be conducted by the state organization later this month to discuss the forthcoming wheat referendum. C. H. DeVaney of Coahoma, TFB president, said the purpose of the meetings, which will be held in six areas during the period of March 19-29, will be "to discuss the real issues involved in the referendum."

Qualified wheat farmers will have an opportunity to vote sometime this spring in a referendum according to provisions of the Food and Agriculture Act of 1962. The choice on the ballot will be whether to vote "yes" or "no" on a multiple-choice certificate plan for wheat. If two-thirds or more vote "yes," the proposed plan will go into effect, beginning with the 1964 crop; if more than one-third vote "no," it will not. The Secretary of Agriculture has indicated unofficially that the referendum may be held the latter part of May or the first of June.

The Texas Farm Bureau has requested county FB organizations to establish Wheat Referendum Committees to carry the full facts on the wheat issue to all eligible voters in every county. Local FB officers and members of the Referendum Committees are being urged to attend the area meeting nearest them. DeVaney said the Texas Farm Bureau staff and officers have been collecting data, doing research, and studying all phases of the referendum proposal in preparation for an educational campaign on the issues involved. Voting delegates at both the state and national Farm Bureau conventions last year registered strong opposition to the plan.

Garden Club Continues With Park Fund

INTERRUPTED WHILE AT WORK TUESDAY — were Mrs. J. R. Wilson Sr. and grandson, Terry, just long enough to give their contribution to the Florida Park Fund to Mrs. Grace Walker, finance chairman of the project. Terry, two-year old son of the Junior Wilson Sr., is handing the check to Mrs. Walker in behalf of the Wilson family. Terry's father is owner and manager of Builders Mart and his grandfather owner of one of the oldest businesses in Florida, Wilson & Son Lumber.

Mrs. Wilson is an active member in the Garden Club, sponsor of the Park project. She is handing down some of her experience in the way of gardening to Terry, who seems to have no objections whatever to the shovel he is using.

FILLING THE CALICHE PIT — a bulldozer pushes dirt into old caliche pit on the southwest edge of Florida to bring it back to level with the rest of the park that the Garden Club will soon begin to beautify.

Martha Summer Is Bride Michael Fayne McKinnis

The bride of the Baker bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert McKinnis of Abilene, Texas. The wedding ceremony was held at the home of Mrs. Michael Fayne McKinnis on March 9 at 3:30 p. m. The bride was given away by her father, Dr. Jack Freeman of Nashville, Tenn. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Daak Sumner of Nashville, Tenn. The bride's veil of imported silk illusion fell to shoulder-length from a tiara of lace and pearls. She carried an orchid surrounded by stephanotis and alencon lace accents in a cascade arrangement.

SERVICE TEAM ELECTS MRS. F OWLER CHAIRMAN

At a meeting last Monday night at the Girl Scout Hut, members of the Floydada Neighborhood Service Team elected Mrs. C. N. Fowler as chairman to fill out the unexpired term of Mrs. Tom Sneed. Mrs. Fowler is a resident of the Center Community.

Camp registration blanks may be obtained through Troop leaders. Gunn Brother stamps may be used for the tuition fee.

Mrs. Arwine presented a film for the evening about what represents a true bargain in tent selection. On display from New York were miniatures of the various kinds of Girl Scout tents. It was announced at the meeting that Troop One had recently purchased three light-weight wall tents, the results of saving the profits from cookies and nut sales over the past three years. The next meeting of the Neighborhood Service Team will be a call meeting sometime in April.

Caprock

This is a good indication of spring and evidently this particular Mockingbird likes the Irwin home because this is about the fifth year he has returned for the summer.

IF YOU want to know how to travel the correct road from Spearman to Floydada, I suggest you ask Carl Minor. . . he knows the way. Coming back from our hospital visit last week, Tommy Assiter, John Reue and I all maintained that we should turn to the right when we got to what we thought was the Rock Creek road. Carl told us very nicely that we were on the wrong road and he hoped that we had some business in Tulsa, because that's where we were headed.

About the time we hit Vige Park we realized how right Carl was and turned back to the correct road. . . apologizing profusely to Carl and our faces were mighty red. However you can certainly appreciate Carl at a time like this. . . he didn't say, "I told you so."

TRUMAN Dunavant was busy planting sugar beets when I visited him Monday afternoon. Believe he's planting 45 acres. A neighbor stopped by and said that all of Truman's neighbors were looking forward to borrowing some money from him about sugar beet harvest time.

Truman said, "Yes, and I'll bet very few of them turn up when it comes time to get the weeds out of the beets!"

Well, the price of sugar is going up according to the New York market report — the nickel candy bar, already a ghost of its old self — will shrink still more, candy makers say.

The soda pop bottlers also are hit, but so far they are not considering reducing the size of pop bottles.

Several refiners raised sugar another 15 cents a 100 pounds last week. Poor crops of beets in Europe and of cane in Cuba and other countries have caused a steady advance in sugar prices in the past year to the highest levels since the early 1920s.

YOU JUST can't set all your coons up one tree. This week the Baptists are serving noon lunch for the convenience of the revival church goer. . . Week after next the Methodists will be serving breakfast while their meeting is in progress. If they could both hit in the same week next year it would be better — we could sorta make both meetings and wouldn't have to worry about groceries except at supper time!

THE OLD Settlers are getting ready for another big celebration come May 28. I enjoyed visiting with one old Lockney settler Monday night when we were making plans for this year's "round-up". He's C. L. Anderson (believe he's more of a Floydada settler than Lockney though. I know he said he lived here first).

When the meeting was over Mr. Anderson gave me a card on which was printed a very interesting little poem: I'll share it with you.

YOU TELL ON YOURSELF
You tell on yourself by the friends you seek;
By the very manner in which you speak.
By the way you employ your leisure time.

By the use you make of dollar and dime.
You tell on yourself by the things you wear.
By the spirit in which your burdens bear.
By the kind of things at which you laugh.
By the records you play on the phonograph.
You tell what you are by the way you walk;
By the things of which you delight to talk.
By the manner in which you bear defeat.
By so simple a thing as how you eat.
By the books you choose from the well-filled shelf.
In these ways and more, you tell on yourself;
So there's really no particle of pretense.

—C. L. Anderson.

SOME DAYS a fellow just can't win. Homer Steen tells me that the night a Lubbock TV station flashed the picture of the Steens' twin sons on the 10 o'clock news — he happened to be tuned in to the other TV station. Homer says his wife is still reminding him that he should have been watching the other station!

and other grain users.

This will keep the price of grain that goes into the federal program at a level where it can be bought by consumers and probably will put most of it into immediate use without going into government storage for any length of time if at all, the ASC official explained.

The diverted acres may be planted in cover crops for which Floyd County farmers will receive from $15 to $90 an acre, again depending on their production history in 1959-1960.

Daivison concluded by saying that additional education meetings would be set up to give a refresher course on the program.

power mowers since 1947 without injuries but his wife said "guess there is always that time". He lost the ends of two fingers in a mishap shortly after noon Tuesday.

Mr. Kries had the motor on the mower going and reached underneath to retrieve caught particles. His two fingers on his left hand were severed, one at the tip end and the other nearly to the first joint from the end of the finger.

He stayed overnight in Peoples Hospital after being treated by a local physician. He was back home yesterday, reportedly doing nicely and suffering little pain.

Another mishap Tuesday caused the loss of the end of a thumb for Coy Smith, Smith, who is employed at Tye Drilling, got his thumb caught in a pump base, pinching the end off. He was treated at the doctor's office and is off work until the thumb heals sufficiently.

Fire Damages Alexander Residence

A fire damaged the two story home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Alexander in the Lakeview community Tuesday.

Floydada firemen answered a call for help about 11 a. m. and were able to extinguish the fire after most of the foundation was burned away.

Cause of the fire was probably due to a yard fire that may have blown under the structure. Mr. and Mrs. Alexander were outside in the yard when the fire started.

Methodist Men Hear Frank Peery

The Floydada Methodist Men organization heard the Rev. Frank Peery, pastor of the Muleshoe Methodist Church tell of his trip to Russia at their regular dinner meeting Tuesday night in the church's Fellowship Hall.

Rev. Peery showed colored slides of his trip and displayed sign, magazines and newspapers from Russia.

He said everywhere there were signs of "we want peace" and it appeared that the Russians were fast gaining a better way of life.

He said he was vitally concerned about the Russians gradual disband in a God because of the government control of censorship that there were still some Baptist churches allowed to stay open in Russia.

GUEST EDITORIAL

(FROM FOARD COUNTY NEWS)

R. Wright Armstrong, a strong opponent of the proposed Trinity Canal from Fort Worth and Dallas to the Gulf Coast, was the principal speaker at the Rotary Club meeting Wednesday.

Mr. Armstrong called the proposed canal a fantastic comic opera scheme to throw away your money.

"You people in West Texas will help to pay for this pipe-dream water highway if it is ever built, because the whole idea is based on the use of money taken out of the pockets of every taxpayer in the United States.

"Maybe you haven't been brainwashed on this canal deal like the people in Fort Worth and Dallas have. The newspapers in both cities are strong for the canal, and they're doing everything they can to sell it to the people. It has been that way for more than thirty years, and some of my friends think I'm fighting a losing battle in an effort to head off this terrific waste of tax money to build something that is not needed in the first place.

Mr. Armstrong stressed the fact that the barge lines will not pay one cent for the use of this canal, and the railroads and other forms of transportation will be taxed to give these barge operators a free ride.

He cited a statement made by Will Rogers back in the 1930's. Will made a classic remark about the Trinity River when he heard all the ballyhoo about making this doubtful steam into a canal from Fort Worth to Dallas and on to the Gulf. He said he had looked at the Trinity, and he thought the best thing to do would be to pave it.

Mr. Armstrong further stated, "Some of you may have read or heard about the famous report of the Army Engineers, published last June. The canal lobbyists and the newspapers in Fort Worth and Dallas will tell you that this report proves beyond a doubt that the Trinity Canal is a must, not only for Fort Worth, Dallas and the Trinity basin, but for a great portion of West Texas and Oklahoma, including your own county. We have a copy of that famous report — we paid $25 for it. It's in five volumes. It's nine inches thick. It cost you and the other taxpayers about a half million dollars. That figures roughly $2,000 an ounce just for the report! The last I heard, gold was only $35 an ounce!"

"They are going to fix it so you can haul your grain down to Fort Worth and then load it in barges to go to the Gulf. Won't that be wonderful! But those canal ballyhoo artists don't say too much about how long it will take that barge to get from Fort Worth to the Gulf. We've been studying this report for several months, and we can't even find a schedule from Fort Worth. But from Dallas, the Army Engineers say it will take 84 decimal 40 hours to go downstream to Houston. That means that a barge leaving Dallas at noon on Monday would arrive Houston at 12:24 a.m. Friday. That's an average of 3.68 miles per hour downstream. No telling how long it would take for these creeping barges to climb up the stairway of locks from sea level to Fort Worth—a lift that would be equal to a 60-story building. And they don't say anything about what it would cost to transfer the grain from trucks or box cars to the barges at Fort Worth or how long the transfer would take.

"These canal people say that Fort Worth and Dallas will wither on the vine without this ditch. But look at the first page of your fact sheets and you will see that Dallas and Tarrant counties have grown faster than all the Gulf Coast counties—and much faster, percentage-wise, than a number of metropolitan areas in other states where water transportation is available. If water transportation is all it takes, why isn't Galveston the largest city in Texas. It has a wonderful harbor—probably the best on the entire Gulf Coast. It's connected with the Gulf intracoastal canal. And yet Galveston is smaller than Lubbock, and its rate of growth is much less.

"The Army Engineers estimate that the entire comprehensive plan for development of the Trinity River basin will represent a cost of some 900 million, 747 thousand of your tax dollars. And bear in mind that this figure is an estimate. To show how these estimates have worked out in the past, they just missed the cost of the U. S. portion of the St. Lawrence Seaway by 95 per cent—it cost nearly double their estimate.

"This 900 million dollars includes a lot of things besides navigation, such as flood control, recreation, fish and wildlife, etc. The Engineers estimate that the first cost chargeable to navigation will be only 505 million, 331 thousand of your tax dollars. They also estimate that the annual cost for operating and maintaining the canal will be 21 million, 610 thousand dollars.

"These people have looked into the crystal ball and come up with some fantastic figures on the tonnage that will be handled on this 370-mile ditch. They plan to handle more than 72 million tons of freight in the year 2070—a mere 107 years from now. Keep these figures in mind—72 million tons a year on a 370-mile canal, with barges moving downstream at less than 4 miles an hour. Now compare that 72 million tons a year with the actual tonnage handled on the entire Santa Fe systems in the year 1961. The Santa Fe operates about 13,000 miles of railroad from Chicago to the West Coast and the Gulf of Mexico, and runs long-high-speed freight trains 24 hours a day. But in 1961, the Santa Fe handled only 66,253,768 tons. That's nearly 6 million tons less on 13,000 miles of high-speed railroad than the Army Engineers say they will handle on this muddy monstrosity only 370 miles long 107 years from now.

"There are some downright amusing things in this report of the Army Engineers. They have every kind of figure you can imagine. For example, in Table 6 on page 15 of Appendix III of Volume 2, we learn that in 1954 the 148 Texas counties and the 30 Oklahoma counties in the so-called 'traffic area' had 10,181,580 chickens, four months old and older. I don't know what that has to do with the feasibility of the Trinity Canal, but it's wonderful to have that priceless bit of information. And did you know that in these same 178 counties there were only 35,622 mules and mule colts in 1954? That's nine years ago, but it must be important, or it wouldn't be in the report.

"All of us are interested in government economy. The more the government spends, the more it has to take out of your pocket and mine. Please remember that only people pay taxes. You hear a lot about taxing the oil companies, the public utilities or some other industry. But in the end the people who buy the goods and services pay the taxes, because the taxes are figured in on the price. And remember, too, that there ain't no such thing as a free lunch! These so-called free government hand-outs for such things as the Trinity Canal aren't free at all. Somebody has to pay the bill, and that somebody is you and the other taxpayers in this great country of ours.

"There are a number of railroads between Fort Worth, Dallas and Houston, and I know that none of them has all the business it can handle. It is my firm belief that these railroads could contract to haul all the freight that is offered between these points for the $21,610,000 a year which the Army Engineers say it will cost just to operate and maintain the Trinity Canal. That would save the taxpayers the first cost of $505,331,000 for the Trinity navigation. The customers would get faster service, and this would provide employment to a lot of railroad people who would pay taxes and buy consumer goods. In addition, the railroads would make a profit on the deal, and would pay taxes on that profit.

"These canal boosters will tell you that their scheme is a sound business proposition. In every speech I've made, I've included a proposition to see just how much they believe what they say. Here's my proposition: Let's get the law amended so that the Trinity River Authority can issue revenue bonds, just like the Texas Turnpike Authority did to build that fine-toe road between Fort Worth and Dallas. Then let's float a bond issue and build the canal, with all the dams and locks it will take to bring these creeping barges up-stairs from Houston to Fort Worth. Then let's have these barge operators pay a toll large enough to retire the bonds, with interest, plus the actual cost of operating and maintaining the canal, plus a few cents for the working fund.

"If this Trinity Canal scheme is really a sound business deal, these canal bonds ought to sell like hotcakes. The president of the Trinity Improvement Association is also the president of a large and successful insurance company in Dallas. Let's let his company in on the ground floor for a few hundred million dollars' worth of these bonds. If this is a sound business deal, this 'fine gentleman should jump at the chance to make such a wonderful investment for his policy-holders'.

"But if it isn't a sound business deal with private capital, it isn't a sound business deal with your tax money and mine!

"I've made another proposition to all my banker friends in Fort Worth and Dallas. I've said many times that I will borrow all the money they will let me have with these canal bonds as security. If it's a sound deal, these bankers should be anxious to get in on it with some of the money of their depositors. But somehow they don't seem interested in my proposition.

"The fate of the Trinity Canal will be decided in Congress. Your Congressman won't know how you feel if you don't tell him. If you think it's a good idea—tell him! If you think it's a wasteful pork-barrel scheme, tell him that!"

Medallion Award To Be Presented Carr's Chapel

The Texas State Historical Survey Committee has announced the award of a Historical Buildings Medallion for the Carr's Chapel Methodist Church.

First award to be made for a Floyd County edifice. The Medallion has been delivered to the Floyd County Historical Survey Committee to be presented to the Carr's Chapel Methodist Church in ceremonies on a date to be set sometime this spring, possibly on Memorial Day.

The medallion is an attractive cast aluminum piece finished with a Swedish steel effect.

The church building is well cared for by people of the Harmony Community, where it is situated on the paved cut-off between the Harmony FM Road and FM Highway No. 54, due north of Allmon. Wesley Carr, chairman of the board of trustees for the church, who signed the application for the medallion, is a grandson of Rev. W. H. Carr, organizer of the church, for whom it was named.

Carr's Chapel Methodist Church was organized in 1904, with seven members. It was in 1911 that the church edifice was completed. It was dedicated on Nov. 29 of that year, when S. J. Upton was pastor. Only one of the original seven charter members is still attending church at Carr's Chapel. She is Mrs. Mather Carr. The other six have succumbed.

Other Buildings Cited
The Floyd County Historical Survey Committee, in its monthly sessions, has discovered at least two other buildings of marked interest which should be recognized, in the judgment of members of the committee.

"These," Homer Steen, chairman, points out, "are the Lockney Christian College Building, which was constructed in the 1907-1909 period, and a really old ranch property on the banks of the Quitaque. This is the F Ranch headquarters house now owned and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blair. Mrs. Blair is a daughter of John Henry Hughes, who at one time worked for the F's and before that for the J's. The house was built in the eighties."

Floyd Philosopher Riled Up Over Example Of Washington Interference With Local Affairs

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm seems to be championing state's rights this week, but we're not sure.

Dear editor: People are always denouncing Federal interference with local affairs, except when they're after a special appropriation, and I would like to cite an example of this type of Washington meddling which I read in a newspaper last night.

According to it, a United States Senator was out in the country trying to confuse state's rights with state's debt.

Everybody in Washington ought to cut its spending, but like everybody else who says it, I'm too busy a man to be telling where.

The Federal debt has gone up 15 per cent in 15 years, he admitted, but he added, "State and local governments raised their gross debts a whopping 332 per cent in the same period. Here is where the real problem arises."

This is what I'm talking about. It's not any of Washington's affair how much money we're spending. Don't be trying to change the subject, Senator. What we do down here is none of Washington's business. Don't be trying to confuse state's rights with state's debt.

Why did the voters of Texas favor the repeal of the ten per cent legal interest rate? Was it done for the benefit of the Loan Sharks or for the people of Texas?

I have watched the press for the answer. So far it must have been for the Loan Sharks. Nearly all the articles coming out of Austin are slanted for the Loan Sharks. They try to show why the Loan Sharks should get an interest of over ten per cent on the safest of loans and on up to 36 per cent and more.

Why hasn't someone come to the rescue of the poor fellow who has to borrow this money? I don't think we owe the lender so much protection for he is able to protect himself. He has money to spend and no doubt he is spending it in Austin. The poor fellow is unorganized and without funds so without the support of the public, he doesn't have a chance.

We hear a lot today about helping the underprivileged. Is a law that permits a Loan Shark to charge 36 per cent interest as even 15 per cent a good law for our country?

I realize a much higher rate is being charged today but why not pass a law prohibiting it. The 10 per cent rate should never have been repealed.

You will hear it argued that these small loans must bear more interest. They may have a point where payments are spread out but not anything like 36 percent. Furthermore, a small loan as termed should be small. To me I consider two or three hundred dollars a large loan.

I would like to read in "The Hesperian" where our Representative or our Senator stands on the Loan Shark Bill. The people are entitled to know.

TEXAS COTTON GROWERS REPORT:

Entire Season Control of Thrips, Aphids and Mites...

Untreated plant at four weeks

Di-Syston treated plant at four weeks

Di-Syston Treated Plants Are Stronger, Straighter... Produce More Squares Earlier

West Texas and New Mexico cotton growers now have a new way to control thrip damage and early-season stunting... with Di-Syston granular insecticide. Di-Syston is placed in the soil with the seed or side dressed after planting. The chemical is then absorbed by the growing roots and carried to all parts of the plant through the sap stream—as soon as the plant emerges. No part of the plant is unprotected—even tender new growth as it is formed.

The result? With Di-Syston, your early crop grows faster, has stronger, straighter stems, and vigorous foliage. Squares form earlier and the plant produces more of them. Many growers in the Lubbock area have reported full season control of thrip with just the one application. You get high yields because of the good Di-Syston start. This year, get your crop off to a good start with Di-Syston. Complete instructions for use are printed on the label on every package. Use Di-Syston.

As each crop season rolls by and a new one comes up it seems that we are confronted with additional insects and plant diseases. Somehow we have to learn about these new "bugs" and learn to recognize them because they certainly reduce the earning power of a crop. It then behooves each of us to learn all we can about insects and diseases or hire a professional man to do the work. To help the ordinary farmer and agriculturist, the Agricultural Extension Service has provided helpful publications which give step by step methods a check for insects, inspect for disease, how to recognize them, and suggest treatments to treat the insect pest.

Other new publications available are: Guide to Vegetable Disease, Guide to Controlling Weeds, Vegetables Crops Recommended Practices for Small Grains.

SAND HILL NEWS by Mrs. James Jeffress

Millers And Huckabay Host Community Meet

SAND HILL, Mar. 18 — Planting time is just around the corner and you can feel it in the air. Some are watering wheat, some are watering beds and you see onion fields scattered around. Everyone is beating his head against the wall trying to understand the feed program and some are hoping for a raise in the cotton allotments.

We are happy to report Mrs. William Mayo is home from the hospital after her surgery and doing as well as can be expected. Mr. Mayo went to McCally Sunday and brought Mrs. Mayo's mother, Mrs. Curtis home with him to stay awhile. Visiting Mrs. Mayo Tuesday afternoon were Mrs. Cleo Fulton, Mrs. James Jeffress and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Billington.

Community meeting night was held last Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Huckabay as hosts. A film was shown by Douglas Diggs of Lockney of his trip to Mississippi. Games of progressive 42 were enjoyed by the adults and the young people enjoyed playing volley ball.

Refreshments of coffee, punch and cookies were served to Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Carmack, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kinard, Mr. and Mrs. Gen Bloys and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Jeffress and family, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Hollums, Mr. and Mrs. Arlon Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Cox, of Floydada, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Pruitt, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Huckabay and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Miller and Ronnie and Mrs. H. F. Jackson of Floydada.

Neighbors never cease to be wonderful, says Mrs. H. F. Jackson, formerly of the Sand Hill Community and now of Floydada. When Mrs. Jackson's house was moved to town the inside was messed up. Mr. Jackson had no insurance, so her friends and neighbors decided to do something about it. Friday night at the Sand Hill community meeting the names of those that helped a friend and wonderful person was presented to Mrs. Jackson along with a corsage of the money. Her house is all finished and she is enjoying it very much. How could we live without our friends and neighbors.

A big thank you is extended to Mr. Norman of the bank in Floydada, Mr. Duncan Hollums, M. B. Swanner, William Mayo, W. R. Billington, D. D. Tate, Jim Holmes, Coop Gin, J. W. Becker, Muncy Elevator, Chester Mitchell, Gene Bloys, Leroy Durham, Tom Pierce, Chuck Holmes, T. C. Hollums, J. T. Huckabay, Orba Miller, Vernon Gross, Weldon Smith, Fred Jackson, Arlon Miller, James Jeffress, Lynn Miller, and Mrs. W. E. Miller. This was given from the hearts of all those listed and we hope Mrs. Jackson enjoys her home as much as we enjoyed doing it.

Mr. and Mrs. James Jeffress visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Turner and family in the Providence community last Tuesday night.

The Sand Hill 4-H Club met Monday night in their regular meeting with the vice president, Beverly Pierce calling the meeting to order in the absence of the president, Neil Mitchell. Roll Call was answered with "My Favorite Sport". The year books will be ready very soon says Mrs. Arlon Miller, adult leader. H. T. Davison and Darrell Smith met with the group and showed a film on Winter Olympics.

Everyone was asked to have their milk carton money in soon as possible. Leaders present were Mrs. Lynn Miller, Arlon Miller and Tom Pierce, Jimmy, Timmy and Beverly Jeffress,

The next meeting will be April 8 at 7:30 p. m.

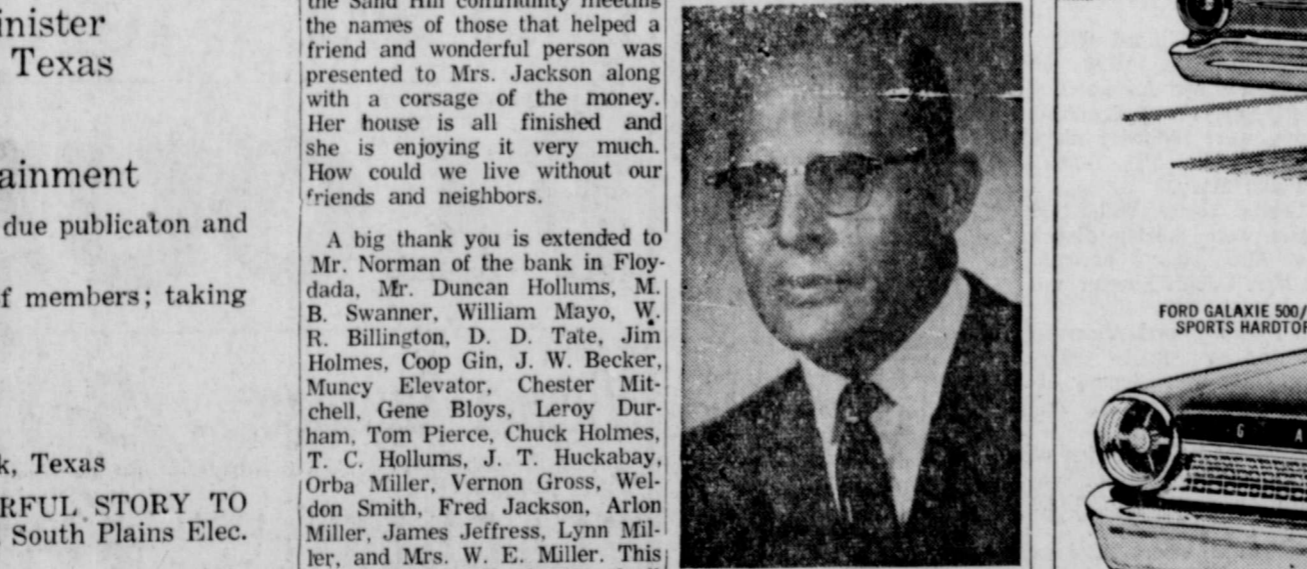

W. R. Billington is home again for a few days after more repair work Wednesday on his foot. The doctor will be trying to get his foot ready to be tied together as none of the grafting has held. It will take about three weeks to get it ready and then will be tied together from three to six weeks. We hope all goes well from now on and he will be off his crutches before too long. It has been about twelve weeks since the accident.

Beverly Jeffress spent Friday night visiting in the home of Fern Sissney in Lockney. Saturday Beverly and Mary Starkey spent the day in Lubbock at the FHA meeting.

It's time to start thinking about the Sand Hill Baptist Spring Revival. The date is April 14 through April 21. Rev. Chester Sasmann of the Bethel Baptist Church in Spur will be the evangelist and Brother Jim Nance of Floydada will be in charge of the music. Let's all keep these dates in mind.

--------------------------------------	----------------------------------	--------------------------------------	-------------------------------------

In a total performance test of brakes, suspension and steering on the twisting Riverside sports car course, Dan Gurney drove a Ford hardtop to victory over 43 other stock cars. The 500-mile grand demonstrated Ford's superior stamina and road-holding.

The '63 1/2 Falcon V-8 Sprints made their debut with a fantastic showing in the 2,500-mile Monte Carlo Rallye. Through Europe's worst winter weather they placed 1st and 2nd in class. Besides this... one Sprint defeated every entrant in the Rallye's six special stages.

In a competition designed to test all-around performance, Fords were overall winners in Class I and Class II in the Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona. Their total performance design added up to most total points in gas economy, acceleration and braking events.

Daytona "500" history was made when '63 1/2 Fords blazed into the first five places! Since Daytona is the toughest track in the world, this was eyewitness proof that Ford's total performance design can endure the maximum in automotive punishment.

... and here are the 63 1/2's that gave total proof of Ford's durability and handling!

You may never see a competitive auto event. But at 30 mph on rain-slick blacktop, in the close-packed rush of 5 o'clock traffic, on a twisting mountain road, the results are important to you.

On every slippery surface you need the kind of roadability that placed five Fords out front in the Daytona "500." On every busy cross street — you want the brakes that won on Riverside's sports car circuit. Your engine will hold up better through years of turnpike use because it's as beautifully balanced as Falcon's Monte Carlo V-8's. The winning competition car is bound to be a great road car — and Ford is the big winner!

Probation Officer Saves People . . . And Saves Money

"I want the people of the 19th Judicial District to get their money's worth under our Adult Probation Officer Law," observed R. A. Conner of Spur, Adult Probation Officer under District Judge L. D. Ratliff in a recent interview, "and I think the system is paying off for them."

"The cost of keeping one man in the penitentiary one day is $1.47, and we can keep that same man on the outside under supervision and supporting himself and his family, with the cost of that supervision about 25 cents per day per man. With between 50 and 60 cases on hand the year around, this is a saving to the people of the 19th District of about $25,000.00 per year, and I estimate that about an equal amount would be required to feed the families of these men and injured party through the Probation Officer. "It is of interest to know that which means a saving of a like amount on this account," Conner said. "When the Adult Probation and Parole Law of 1907 was passed, the people of Floyd County were interested to learn that the possibilities for saving Sheriff Walker Hollams and District Attorney John B. Stapleton every case possible and are operating with me to make this program a success, and their efforts are quite helpful in selecting these persons put under the program," Conner said. "One other phase of this work," Conner said, "is the collection of restitution payments from probationers. They are required to pay for their misdeeds such as destroying property or swindling by worthless check, and I think it is a good object lesson to anyone to have to pay hard earned money on account of such acts. One case that comes to mind is the 3 boys who broke into a 'walkie-talkie' radio, and took it out into a field and broke it open trying to make it work. The radio was a total loss after they finished with it, and they had quite a time paying several hundred dollars to the railroad to cover the damage, however, these boys paid every cent of it and are still on probation. Another case that happened in a neighbor county was the 3 probationers who stole a large number of bond instruments from the high school and they are presently engaged in paying for the instruments not recovered by regular monthly payments through my office," Conner said.

"I know the people of the District will be glad to know that about 9 out of 10 of our probationers will successfully complete their terms of probation, while the remaining 10 per cent will wind up in prison. We work hard with that 10 per cent trying to salvage those we can reach, but some of them just will not listen to us, and it seems almost as if they were trying to break into prison," Conner said.

Adult Probation is designed so that it applies only to those persons who have never before been convicted of a felony, and these first time offenders are given a second chance under the probation law. They are actually sentenced to a term of years in the penitentiary, but that sentence is not carried out in fact but is held in abeyance during their good behavior. Probationers are required to report regularly to the Probation Officer, must refrain from using drugs or alcohol, must stay out of low dives and similar places, must support their dependents, and in cases where they have defrauded someone by their illegal acts, they are required to make restitution by paying the money back to the owner. Conner is paid a salary for his work by the four counties involved, with each county paying a share of the cost in proportion to its population as compared to the population of the four counties as a whole. In this way, the cost is divided about like the case load among the four counties. "I am not a penitentiary agent," Conner said, "and if I had to be one I would not have the job. I am trying to help my probationers stay out of the penitentiary and remain on the outside as useful citizens, and it is only the one in ten who cannot seem to grasp the meaning of right living who goes to prison. Perhaps as we learn more about this work, we can lower that figure to where only an occasional person will fail to make probation a success."

Probation is not to be confused with "parole," for parole is a program of rehabilitating prisoners after they are released from the penitentiary, while probation deals with those who have never been to the penitentiary.

The parole system in Texas is separate and apart from the probation system.

"The letters I receive from probationers come in every variety of writing from the most beautiful script to the worst scrawl and even some that are crudely block lettered," Conner said, "and some of these letters must have taken hours of time to write, and in every case having to write these regular written reports serves to remind these probationers that they are expected to obey the laws and act as good citizens. Some of these letters are written in Spanish, and I have to spend quite some time figuring out what they are trying to tell me, but with a little help from some of my Mexican friends, I can generally read and understand them."

WILL YOUR HOME HAVE ENOUGH HOT WATER THIS SUMMER?

Heat, humidity and a more active life make frequent bathing and showering a must in the months ahead — this in turn means an increased use of hot water.

This, of course adds to the strain placed on the water heating equipment during warm weather. Also added are large family washings resulting from vigorous outdoor activity and the fact that most summer apparel can be worn only once.

As a result the inadequacy of much of the existing water heating equipment becomes evident during the summer.

Not too many years ago a 20-gallon water heater was considered big enough for the average family. More recently, 30-gallon water heaters have become the minimum size.

Today, with the increasing demand for hot water in the typical American home; with larger families, and more bathrooms, the 30-gallon heater is generally not big enough for the job in many homes.

Now 40 and 50-gallon heaters are more common, especially in those homes using automatic washers.
