$1 Million Snowfall Brings Good Moisture, Hazardous Roads

OOOOPS SLIPS — In some games slips don't count, but when driving on a slippery hi-way, slips DO count. Such was the case Monday afternoon when Vic Green of Plainview was approaching Floydada from the northwest, when his produce truck slipped, hit the shoulder of the road, slid across the road and turned over about five miles from here. The vehicle came to rest on its side headed toward Lockney and frozen chickens and eggs were scattered over a large area. Mr. Green was not hurt.

County Poll Tax Receipts Total 3,415

According to T. T. Hamilton, Floyd County Tax Assessor-Collector, 3,415 Floyd County residents paid their poll taxes from October to January of this year. This is the largest number recorded since the 1963 election year, when 3,652 paid the tax, and the second largest amount Hamilton can remember in his 16 years as Tax Assessor-Collector.

Even though the U. S. Congress revoked the poll tax as a requirement for voting in Federal elections, the people paid the full amount.

Weather Boost To Area Wheat

A wet cold front that moved into the Panhandle South Plains area Monday morning is leaving its mark on the local area. The snow and icy conditions caused the closing of the Floydada schools Tuesday and Wednesday and the Lockney schools Wednesday.

The roads in the local area have stayed open during the entire time but all driving is hazardous. The moisture in the front has been a life-saver for the dry land wheat farmers, as well as good sub moisture for the coming summer crops.

Gas Users Meet Reset For Tonight

Due to the inclement weather, the Floyd County Irrigation Gas Users meeting that was previously scheduled for Tuesday night was reset for tonight, (Thursday) at 7:30 p. m. in the District Courtroom in Floydada.

The purpose of the meeting is to hear a report on the recent meeting of representatives from the Gas Users Association with Joseph C. Swidler, Chairman of the Federal Power Commission in Washington, D. C. on January 21.

The purpose of the January meeting was to see whether or not the Federal Power Commission could afford any relief to irrigation gas users. One or more of the representatives of the Association who attended the meeting will report to the local county group on the outcome of the meeting.

All members of the organization, and other interested persons, are urged to attend the meeting.

The Floyd County ASCS Office recorded 51 of an inch of the snow, which is the first noticeable amount the young county wheat crop has received.

The electric companies reported that a number of lines were weighted down in the rural areas, causing the disconnection of power for a while. One employee of the company also said that the lines were "whipping" in the wind and causing the lights in the farm homes to flicker, and go off and on. However, no one was without power for any noticeable length of time.

The roads were quite hazardous from Monday noon through Wednesday, and a number of minor accidents were reported. One was a produce truck driven by Vic Green of Plainview, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Green of the Center community, which overturned and scattered eggs and frozen chickens over a large area.

Throughout the area, groups of children, normally found in school during the day, could be seen on the roads.

Tank Explodes At Foote Butane

George Stephens, owner and manager of Foote Butane, is a mighty lucky man this week to escape serious injuries or possibly death Monday morning, when the end of a butane tank exploded throwing pellets of steel in his face.

Stephens had the pick-up exhaust attached to the butane tank with the motor running in order to counter-act the fumes from the tank with carbon monoxide of the exhaust, while he was welding on the tank. He said he heard a puffing noise and started backing away from the end of the tank just before it exploded. Three-fourths of the end was blown and bent from the tank. Small fragments from the steel embedded in his face but his glasses kept any from getting into his eyes.

Stephens was treated at a local physician's office where some of the fragments were removed. He was told by his doctor that other particles of steel would work to the skin surface while some would remain until removed surgically.

Young Farmers Meeting Set Thursday Night

A meeting of the Floydada Young Farmers will be held tonight (Thursday) at 7:30 in the high school agriculture building, according to Carl Brock chapter reporter.

Purpose of the meeting is to elect a new Secretary-Treasurer and a new Vice-President for the organization since these positions have been vacated.

Also on the agenda is further discussion and possible action the chapter will need to take to become affiliated with the State Young Farmers Organization.

All persons interested in the future of agriculture are urged to attend the meeting.

Demo Executive School Board Hires Eaton Committee Meet As Tax Assessor-Manager

The announcement was made by Ben Ayers this week that a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Floyd County Democratic Party will be held in the Jury Room of the District Court Room at 10:00 a. m. Monday morning, February 10.

According to Mr. Ayers, the purpose of the meeting will be to outline the upcoming Primary, which is set for Saturday, May 2. All members of the committee are urged to attend this most essential meeting.

In an afternoon meeting Tuesday the Floydada school board employed Dave Eaton as tax assessor-collector and business manager for the school district. Mrs. Lorin Lubfried will remain with the school administration as secretary of the district.

Eaton is teaching science in the high school at present and driving a school bus. He will continue his teaching position until school is out and then begin full time work as tax assessor and business manager for the schools.

He will resign from the bus driving job and begin assessor work after school and on Saturdays. He will be officed with superintendent of schools, A. E. Baker and Mrs. Lubfried in offices yet to be selected by the board.

Eaton moved here from Littlefield last August. He was business manager for the schools.

Let's Grow Cucumbers

Representatives of Dalton's Best Maid pickle company visited with a few of our farmers Wednesday morning and are interested in contracting 3000 acres of cucumbers in the Floydada area in the next two weeks.

They guarantee a market and price for the cucumbers.

According to farmers present who have grown cucumbers before, it is an easy crop to raise, it is a short term crop, cost of raising the crop per acre is similar to cotton. Main hazard is in the harvest process.

United Transport Names New Terminal Manager

Grover Prince, formerly of Tulsa, Okla., has been named the new terminal manager at United Transport in Floydada. He assumes his duties Friday, and replaces Jim Williams, who was the previous manager.

Although he and his wife are moving from an Oklahoma town, Grover is a native Texan, but "just barely," he said, for he was reared and attended school in Texarkana, Texas.

Grover and his wife, the former Maria Goltra of Texarkana, have not found a house and are presently living out of a "suitcase."

The tremendous amount of time required in his business doesn't allow Mr. Prince to be very active in a number of civic clubs. Grover, and Mrs. Prince list their religious preference as Baptist.

Caprock Hospital Board Meets With Citizens; Discusses Hospital

Area communities and ministers of the city.

Questions were directed to members of the hospital board, Joe Smith of the First Southwest Bonding Company, and the architects.

The architects explained the construction, arrangements, and cost of the hospital and its equipment and explained the requirements of Hill-Burton grants for construction of hospitals.

Mr. Smith explained that the proposed $395,000 bond issue would be paid out in a 20 year period and the method of taxation through the county's tax roll now on property in the three precincts in the Caprock Hospital District would be used.

He explained that all land was valued at approximately $12 per acre and that personal property would also be assessed at the rate of 40¢ per $100 evaluation. It should be noted that land off the caprock in precincts 3 and 4 is valued from $3 per acre to $10 per acre. Valuations of best irrigation wells is approximately $500 and best automobiles at $700.

Smith explained that the most exact way for the tax payer in the district to understand what his taxes would be for the new hospital would be to take his 1963 county statement and multiply his rendition by 40¢.

To the question of election of the hospital board, Smith read

A big hint . . . from Park Florist

The annual chamber of commerce banquet this Friday night, give her a "big prize" by having a beautiful corsage de- voted to her to make her evening just a more enjoyable.

A corsage that will compliment any and please any personality place your early!

Deliver!

Everybody who wants a Wildcat, please stand up.
Everybody who wants a Skylark, please stand up.
Everybody who wants a Riviera, please stand up.

Now that everybody's standing, let's all go to the Buick Sports Car Rally.

Really.

It would be a shame to waste this chance to drive one of Buick's lively sport models, wouldn't it? Especially consid- ering your Buick dealer's so close, and the price is so nice. Let's what the Sports Car Rally is all about. And they're luxurious enough to make you wonder why anybody'd settle for a two-seater. A finely tuned production 340 hp Wildcat with a skilled driver scored the highest miles per gallon in the economy test of Class I—high performance V-8's—at the Pure Oil Performance Trials at Daytona Beach Florida. (So who's surprised? Not Wildcat owners.)

a big labor force is necessary . . . cucumbers picked every day. Representatives of Best Maid said that Olton area farmers had been netting from $200 an acre. Best Maid is a reputable company, it is the largest business in the south west of "green stock." They say that this is a good opportunity for our area farmers to go into another cash crop. The farmers present Wednesday morning in Olton they would take some of the acreage. Best Maid would prefer to have 15 farmers take 20 acres each.

If your neighbor is interested in learning about this cash money crop, make your plans now to attend the Lighthouse Electric Community Room on Wednesday of February when representatives of Best Maid will contract the 300 acres.

from the state legislation which created the district to the effect that an election would be called for the first Saturday in April and any qualified resident of the district could seek election to the hospital board. Five directors would be elected.

The present board of directors composed of Hollis Bond, A. H. Pries, M. P. Goen, M. S. Robertson and L. T. Wood was appointed by the county commissioner's court and they may seek re-election in April if they so desire.

Mr. Goen explained that the bond election of $385,000 was for half the cost of the hospital and its equipment and that an application would be made in April for Hill-Burton funds for the other half. He said that the Hill-Burton grant approval was expected in September and that contracts for bid would be about February 1, 1965.

Mr. Goen said that the Hill-Burton grant did not share in the cost of a site for the hospital. When asked if a site were available and how many acres were necessary for the hospital he replied that two very good sites were available and a 3 to 5 acre plot was desirable.

Goen also explained that the size and type of hospital was decided upon through many conferences with other hospital administrators and specialists from the state health department.

When asked about the cost of operating the hospital and whether it could be expected to operate in the black he said that the board had visited several area hospitals and they were all operating in the black. One person asked if profits could be applied to the bond indebtedness. Mr. Goen said that any profits would be applied to a bond sinking fund for expansion of the hospital.

One question concerned the cost of the equipment. One of the architects replied that the hospital building would cost $845,000 and the equipment $150,000.

To the question of Hill-Burton's requirements concerning operation of the hospital, one of the architects said that using Hill-Burton money was similar to building an FHA home and certain building requirements must be made, but Hill-Burton had nothing to do with the operation of the hospital once it was built.

It was pointed out that Hill-Burton grants required that there be no racial discrimination in admittance. Discussion centered around admittance of charity cases. It was explained that the district did not have to accept charity patients from outside the district.

(Floyd County Commissioner's Court approved about $2800 worth of hospital charity for county residents in 1963.)

Mr. Goen answered one question in regard to an administrator for the hospital . . . that he would be highly trained and experienced man and would probably begin work about the time construction began on the hospital so that he could help select equipment and begin organization of staff.

It was also explained that no doctor would be officed in the hospital or hired or fired by the board. Any medical doctor who desires to enter practice in Floydada or this area may do so with offices of his own and refer his patients to the hospital.

Board members also said that if the bond issue passed and no grants were available, the bond would not be issued.

In conclusion Mr. Brown urged all present to support the approval of the bond election and help spread the correct facts about the method and amount of taxation and the plans for the hospital's operation.

A complete legal notice of the bond is published in another page of this issue of the Hesperian. It should be noted that persons who previously voted in different boxes in the city of Floydada will all vote in a box at the courthouse.

Residents of the district who will be away on bond election day are urged to vote absentee now. Tuesday five absentee votes had been cast at the county clerk's office.

City In Best Shape In Years, Mayor Tells Rotary

Following is a report by Mayor S. W. ... to the Floydada ... Although few peo- ... the Hesperian feel ... in the Floydada ... should know, and ... thought to its con- ... many things per- ... affairs which I ... tizen should be in- ... formed about, for this is YOUR ... city, and if you are not concerned ... and do not take any interest in ... its affairs, I candidly say to you ... that you are shirking your duty. ... Government is only as good as the ... people want it to be. I believe ... every person owes to his com- ... munity not only his financial but ... also his moral support.

City government, when all the ... complexities of its organization, ... management and bureaucratic ... tendencies are stripped away, is ... nothing more, or less, than the ... people it serves. At the mini- ... mum, a representative govern- ... ment is the barometer of the ... needs, hopes, dreams and cour- ... age of the people who comprise ... it. It is also in a sense, a barom- ... eter of the weaknesses, their fail- ... ures, good or bad, efficient or ... inefficient, responsive or un- ... responsive. Government at local ... or state or national level is a ... product of the people, in a real ... and positive sense, the direction ... that government takes relies upon ... how involved the people dare be- ... come. What demand they wish ... to make upon themselves and ... government officials, upon how ... much they really care about basic ... values.

Those of us, whether elective or ... appointive officials, must be con- ... cerned, of course, with the ac- ... tual operation of the government, ... being charged as we are with ... the actual management of public ... affairs in the public interest.

In the complex world of today, ... taxation, budgets, appropriations, ... controls, development, employ- ... ment are some of the every day ... problems of your city officials. ... How well we cope with these ... problems, how well we plan to ... meet them is a job that, at best, ... is for men with courage and vi- ... sion. We cannot afford to be ar- ... bitrary in meeting the problems. ... We cannot afford to be inflex- ... ible for change is often a very ... difficult thing to accomplish in ... city affairs. Change demands ... not only is an examination of ... procedures, programs and poli- ... cies, but an examination of our- ... selves as people, and our atti- ... tudes. It requires inquisitive ... thinking, the kind of thinking that ... is courageous enough to question ... whether existing patterns, meth- ... ods and concepts are adequate. ... Courage to do this is one of the ... primary responsibilities of gov- ... ernment officials whether he be ... a Mayor or other government of- ... ficial.

I have been disturbed for sever- ... eral years at the lack of interest ... some people take toward civic ... affairs. We do a great deal of ... talking about things that are ... happening to our city, school, ... county, state and national gov- ... ernment, and most of the time we ... gripe and complain because ... something is done that we do not ... like.

But, we are all to blame. We ... have brought the kind of condi- ... tions we are in now on ourselves. ... We do not exercise the privilege ... we have of letting our voice be ... heard. The paralysis of uncon- ... cern has been gradually creep- ... ing up on us for a good while and ... all of a sudden we wake up to ... find that another of the rights we ... once had are gone.

It is shameful the lack of in- ... terest most people show toward ... nearly any vital civic question ... that comes up to be voted on. ... And I believe city government is ... closer to the people than any ... other form of government.

John Bordeaux, formerly of Brownfield, has joined the Hesperian staff as mechanical foreman. John and his family moved to Floydada recently and he assumed his duties at the paper Jan. 20.

John said that he has been in the paper business all his life, but as a child at Arlington he just did clean-up jobs. He began his actual work with the newspapers in 1954, just after his release from the navy, where he served during the Korean campaign.

An active civic worker, John has served as secretary-treasurer of the Chamber of Commerce at Mansfield, a charter member of the Civitan Club in Arlington and is presently an officer in District 7 of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. THE ANNUAL MEETING PLANNING COMMITTEE had their first meeting last Friday afternoon at the Lighthouse.

The Co-Op area is divided into seven voting districts; each district has one director. Each director names a couple from his district to serve as members of the annual meeting planning committee. They plan the meeting in its entirety, and are hosts and hostesses for the annual meeting.

Electric cords which are dust collectors, and switchplates which attract fingerprints are parts of the home lighting system which need care. An unplugged cord should be pulled taught through a cloth wrung out of warm suds, then rinse the same way and wiped dry.

Switchplates can be unscrewed for washing and polishing if needed. Incandescent bulbs and tubes attract dust and soil. It has been estimated that up to 40 percent of the electricity you pay for can be wasted if bulbs or tubes are dirty.

Many a light source has been replaced needlessly, when the cause of dimming was merely film of ordinary household oil. After you remove each bulb or tube from its socket, wipe the surface with a soft cloth wrung out of suds, but avoid wetting the metal "neck". Then dry carefully before replacing in the socket.

What could be better than a bowl of steaming hot chili for supper on a cold winter night! Melvin Henry brought us a recipe last week that really makes a real meal . . .

CHILI
1/2 Pound Pinto Beans
5 cups canned tomatoes
1 pound chopped green pepper
1 1/2 tablespoon salad oil
1 1/2 pounds chopped onion
2 cloves garlic, crushed
1/2 cup chopped parsley (parsley flakes may be used)
1/2 cup butter
2 1/2 pounds ground beef chuck (coarse chili ground)
1-3 cup chili powder
2 tablespoons salt
1 1/2 teaspoons pepper
1 1/2 tea-spoons oamin
1 or 2 dried red chili peppers

Wash beans and soak over night in water two inches above the beans. Simmer, covered in same water until tender. Add tomatoes and simmer five minutes. Sauté green pepper in salad oil five minutes. Add onion, cook until tender. Stirring often. Add garlic and parsley. Be sure to have meat coarsely ground as for chili. Melt butter in large saucepan and saute meat for 15 minutes. Add meat to onion mixture; stir in chili powder and cook 15 minutes. Add this to beans and add spices. Simmer covered for 1 1/2 hours. When chili is done add chili peppers, broken up, with seeds.

This produces a meaty, full-bodied chili without a trace of fat.

Husband Of The Former Beverly Thomas Killed

Harry B. (Jinx) Farnall, 41 year old husband of the former Beverly Ann Thomas Wiggins of Floydada, died Sunday morning in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, of injuries sustained in a one-car turnover near Sudan Saturday night.

Services were held Tuesday in the First Christian Church in Plainview, with the Rev. Arthur Digby, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. James Mock, pastor of St. Mark's Episcopal Church. Burial was in Resthaven Mausoleum, Lubbock, under direction of Wood-Dunning Funeral Home.

Cotton Exports Up For First Quarter

COLLEGE STATION, Jan. 30 — United States cotton exports are up, J. E. Kirby, economist-marketing and policy for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, says exports of the fleecy staple for the first quarter of the current cotton year more than doubled those of a year ago.

Exports of all types of cotton amounted to 1,019,000 running bales for the August through October period. This volume was 34 percent greater than the average for the same period in the preceding five years. This, points out Kirby, is good news for Texas producers since a good percent of their crop is exported.

The specialist says that Japan was the top buyer during the first quarter. It took 22 percent of the total or 221,000 bales. Total shipments to Europe amounted to 481,000 bales, an increase of 290,000 over the same period a year ago.

U. S. exports of cotton liners, mostly chemical qualities, totaled 81,000 bales for the three-month period. West Germany imported 65 percent of this total—an increase of 45 percent over a year ago.

The U. S., during the three-month period, imported 46,000 bales of liners, mostly felting quality, for an increase of 77 percent over year earlier figures. Mexico supplied just under 50 percent of these liners while smaller amounts were imported from Brazil, El Salvador and USSR.

Some people think we should not be in the power business and do not patronize us, which is their privilege, but if we were not we would be paying more than 100 per cent more taxes than we are now. Our rates are reasonable and if you do not think so examine some of the rates some of our sister cities have.

We should be boasting of this facility, not criticizing, for this plant has never cost the citizens any tax money. All the bonds voted for this plant must be paid from revenue. Also, the last two years, we have put aside a considerable amount of money in a fund to be used for depreciation which we have invested in government securities. These securities are now working for us. This had never been done before, but by watching our budget we are able to do away with many expenses which we thought were necessary.

We made a major expansion to our water system last year which enables us to furnish the citizens with their needs and enables us to keep the water storage at a safe level for fire protection.

Last summer we metered a round one and one half million gallons of water per day. All old water meters have been replaced and all the water is metered that is furnished to the various departments of the city. Every household uses around 200 gallons of water per day, minimum, and at this rate you can see that it doesn't take long to use a lot of water.

We get the blame at city hall for the amount of water or electricity that is used in a home, and the people often don't care they have added a new appliance that is using more water or electricity.

People are constantly asking for more service and when told that funds are not available, they ask where the money goes.

Early in this administration we secured an accounting firm that gave us a complete set of new accounting procedures, which allows us to know exactly what every department procedure in revenue and exactly what expenditure it takes to keep the department running. The records are public property and any citizen can examine them.

I have no idea how much time previous councils have spent in looking into the city's affairs, but I do know that we have spent many hours examining revenue and expenditures. Too, we have taken a good look at our payroll; now think it is in line with most other lines of labor of a similar nature. Some of our employees are employed in a special kind of work and can demand a little better wage than some others. Now we have established a policy whereby each employee knows exactly what he can expect after he has worked for the city a certain length of time.

There are dozens of services which we have to maintain and all of them cost money. People continually ask us to do this or that, and I will admit that many of the things are sorely needed and would be of great benefit to us all, but they never seem to bother about where the money comes from.

State and national government are gradually creeping into city affairs and we frequently find ourselves hamstrung.

We are facing in the very near future a raise in the valuations on real property for water and electrical departments are carrying all the load that they can and more revenue must be found from some source. I don't know how much more taxes can be collected from our people, for we all feel keenly the burden of taxation. Federal state governments have stripped cities of almost every source of revenue, except tax on real property and utility revenue. It is possible that we now have about all the public services we can expect and will do well to maintain what we have. I hope some avenue may be found that would be satisfactory solution to the citizens for obtaining more money in the near future.

At the next session of the state legislature a strong fight will be made to give cities authority to collect a sales tax. Just how the proposition will be worked out, no one knows at this time, but it is a known fact that real estate cannot keep on bearing the burden and if towns and cities are to keep operating, some source of revenue must be found.

I think government, whether city, state, or national, should live within its means. I am a strong advocate of progress, but I also believe in sound financial policy and I believe public office should be looked on as a sacred trust.

Most city officials feel a keen sense of responsibility and try to the best of their ability to sit out things which they think are not needed and would be a needless expense to the people.

MORE IMPROVEMENTS — Workers are shown in the Caprock Residential Development in the process of curbing the streets. The work is being done in conjunction with the paving and curbing of the Steen addition. The two additions are the newest residential developments in Floydada. (Staff Photo)

Every household uses around 200 gallons of water per day, minimum, and at this rate you can see that it doesn't take long to use a lot of water.

We get the blame at city hall for the amount of water or electricity that is used in a home, and the people often don't care they have added a new appliance that is using more water or electricity.

People are constantly asking for more service and when told that funds are not available, they ask where the money goes.

Early in this administration we secured an accounting firm that gave us a complete set of new accounting procedures, which allows us to know exactly what every department procedure in revenue and exactly what expenditure it takes to keep the department running. The records are public property and any citizen can examine them.

I have no idea how much time previous councils have spent in looking into the city's affairs, but I do know that we have spent many hours examining revenue and expenditures. Too, we have taken a good look at our payroll; now think it is in line with most other lines of labor of a similar nature. Some of our employees are employed in a special kind of work and can demand a little better wage than some others. Now we have established a policy whereby each employee knows exactly what he can expect after he has worked for the city a certain length of time.

There are dozens of services which we have to maintain and all of them cost money. People continually ask us to do this or that, and I will admit that many of the things are sorely needed and would be of great benefit to us all, but they never seem to bother about where the money comes from.

State and national government are gradually creeping into city affairs and we frequently find ourselves hamstrung.

We are facing in the very near future a raise in the valuations on real property for water and electrical departments are carrying all the load that they can and more revenue must be found from some source. I don't know how much more taxes can be collected from our people, for we all feel keenly the burden of taxation. Federal state governments have stripped cities of almost every source of revenue, except tax on real property and utility revenue. It is possible that we now have about all the public services we can expect and will do well to maintain what we have. I hope some avenue may be found that would be satisfactory solution to the citizens for obtaining more money in the near future.

At the next session of the state legislature a strong fight will be made to give cities authority to collect a sales tax. Just how the proposition will be worked out, no one knows at this time, but it is a known fact that real estate cannot keep on bearing the burden and if towns and cities are to keep operating, some source of revenue must be found.

I think government, whether city, state, or national, should live within its means. I am a strong advocate of progress, but I also believe in sound financial policy and I believe public office should be looked on as a sacred trust.

Most city officials feel a keen sense of responsibility and try to the best of their ability to sit out things which they think are not needed and would be a needless expense to the people.

Many times it is hard to persuade a man to assume the duties of a councilman, because of the criticism he may receive for some decision. Therefore, a number of people are elected to the council who are not qualified to serve, but are popular. Some system should be devised whereby candidates should be chosen who have business qualifications and are pledged to work for the betterment of the city and are well grounded in business principles. Any person who serves should make up his mind that he will be subjected to much criticism. But when sound decisions are made that are in the best interest of the city, those making the decisions should stand fast, no matter what criticism is laid against them.

I find that many people with good sound ideas hesitate to come before the council, for they think the city council will do what it wants to about city affairs. This is wrong. This council, as did previous ones, welcome anyone at our meetings, and will give a courteous and careful hearing to what anyone has to offer.

Often the council is faced with problems, and doesn't know how the city people feel about it. The council is bound by laws and regulations which we must abide by and many times those who ask for something do not know why it cannot be granted. But, if we could explain our inability to grant the particular thing it would clear many misconceptions.

As you know, we now have a man whose job it is to coordinate the affairs of the city, to whom you can take your problems. I don't say that he can solve all the problems, but I can assure you that he will give you an answer or will take your problem under advisement and find the answer for you. And may I add that the answer may not be just the one that you expect for he must carry out the laws and regulations which he operates under.

The average citizen has no conception of the many things which a city government is faced with. The dog situation is a constant thorn in our sides, the garbage problem is a constant complaint, street cleaning is a constant problem, mosquito control in the spring and summer, vacant lots are a problem. I can enumerate dozens of services people ask for and which the council realizes would be a benefit, but takes man power and lots of dollars which we don't have enough of.

We have been quite disturbed for some time at our traffic problem and we are hoping that we can remedy this situation some by STRICT enforcement of our traffic laws. We have been fortunate that we have not had a fatality in several months, but there has been entirely too many near serious accidents in the city because some one has disregarded traffic regulations.

Some people say we have too much regulation and some say we do not have enough. May I urge you to cooperate with our enforcement officials before it is too late for some one.

I don't want to take up a lot of your time with statistics but these things are important and you are the owners of the city and are entitled to know how we are spending your money.

We have made a number of changes in city hall. The building was erected in 1928 and very few changes have been made in it until recently. Repairs had to be made, electric heating and air conditioning have been installed, new office space for the corporation police has been provided, the police department has been enlarged, the ceilings in the office space have been lowered, new and modern office equipment has been installed for efficient book-keeping. This has cost $4,000.00.

The oldest overhead storage tank developed a leak that was fast deteriorating the tank and the repairs cost $5,100.00. A new warehouse has been built east of the power plant. The warehouse was badly needed for storage of electrical, water and sewage supplies and office space for the water superintendent, and in this building, we have the booster pumps that lift the water to the overhead storage and the water mains. The state health inspector informed us that this must be remedied and that this building must be cleaned up as contamination of water might be caused at this place, so this new warehouse was built.

We don't have an approved water system, but a system must be installed very soon and this will cost $8,000.00.

A repair department for the repair of water meters, a wash rack for the washing of city vehicles and storage of vehicles when the weather is bad is needed. This has been done at a cost of $13,000.00.

We have bought 9 new pieces of equipment, pickups, trucks, cars, etc. This equipment replaces old equipment that was so badly worn out that the repair bill to keep it in operation was out of reason. All this cost $17,815.00. The new building for the power plant is being built at a cost of $25,000.00. All this has been paid for out of money which was accumulated out of revenue from the electric and water departments. And this is just a few of the expenditure made. The $100,000.00 bonds and the issue for the light paid for out of water and electric.

It has taken time these things and their present financial position is what it has ever been in this administration. I intend to keep it that way.

I have people who say, "You are Mayor, you want to," but I always been that way, pertaining to all matters for the city. We are a little slower than in coming to some of the problems, but we have tried to get the mind of all our citizens, expect to do money wisely and advantage of all the money we can get.

I can assure you that you are much wiser when you are finished. I am sorry that I have also found some things I am not sure that I may be able to do after my time has some small contributions to the city.

May I remind you this is your city, and it is as good as yours to be. It takes the cooperation of all to achieve the government which we want.

National Engineers' Week Heavy Math, Science Background Needed For Engineering Career

Almost everybody knows that prospective engineering school students need a good background in math and the physical sciences. But it is not nearly so widely recognized that high school youngsters must begin to plan for engineering school by at least their sophomore year if they are to be adequately prepared for college-level engineering courses.

It is in the first two years of high school that basic math and science courses must be taken if the student is to build the foundation for the more advanced math and science needed to qualify for entrance into engineering school. A strong foundation in algebra, geometry, physics, and chemistry is necessary, along with a considerable familiarity with more advanced mathematics up to the calculus.

The engineering schools have generally raised entrance requirements for freshmen in recent years. Some educators have stated that today's engineering school freshman begins his studies at a level where the freshmen of only a few years ago were at the end of their first college year. The University of Illinois freshman requirements for its College of Engineering last fall included these increased high school unit figures: English, up from 3 to 4 units; mathematics, up from 3 1/2 to 4 1/2 units; science, up from 2 to 3 units; social studies, up from 2 to 3 units; and language, up from 2 to 3 units.

To earn 4 1/2 units of high school math and 3 units of acceptable science, a student must begin no later than his sophomore year to take the proper course sequences. The youngster who makes a decision for engineering as a career late in his high school program and who has not taken the necessary background courses in math and science faces a real problem in terms of making up these courses in a way that will satisfy engineering school admittance officers.

In his undergraduate years in engineering school, the student can look toward a four-year program including an assortment of advanced math subjects, science, and engineering courses in the special field of his choice. Of course, he will also be required to take a number of liberal arts subjects along with laboratory courses in chemistry and physics.

Engineering education is cur-

An engineer's educational needs range through high school, college, graduate work, and on-the-job study as engineering applications involve nuclear and space era technology.

rently going through a period of intense change in scope and direction. The problem of the educator is twofold: One aspect is that of the impact of contemporary developments in science and technology on the traditional four-year sequence of science and technical courses; and second, the fact is that today's engineering schools must be prepared to train engineers whose active professional careers will extend to the year 2000.

What kind of world we will have by then is unforeseeable from 1964. But it is certain that it will be a world in which science and technology have an even larger role than today. The engineer in the year 2000 will be concerned with practical applications of physical science developments just as he is in 1964.

To help answer the question of what kind of education is best suited for engineers who will be working through the rest of this Century, the National Science Foundation is supporting a $300,000 study by the American Society for Engineering Education. The study will examine graduate and undergraduate engineering education with the objective of establishing guide lines for the design of future engineering school curricula.

The use of high-speed electronic computers for engineering work has brought about another major change in engineering education. Computers have made it possible for one engineer to do work which would have taken a dozen or more engineers before the computer era. As recently as a decade ago, computers were more or less experimental devices used in only a few advanced research areas. Today, computers are involved in practically every phase of science and engineering.

The engineering student can expect to hear a good bit about computer theory and operation during his undergraduate years. Although computers have removed much of the laborious hand computation of past years, the engineering student will find that the use of computers for complex engineering problems actually calls for more, rather than less, understanding of mathematics.

This week, February 16-22, is National Engineers' Week, a time when high school students will have a chance to meet professional engineers at career conferences and on guided tours through industrial firms and consulting engineering offices. One piece of advice the students will surely hear from the engineers is to "dig into math and the physical sciences as though these areas will be with you for life." They will be.

Hoffa, Teamsters Union head, has in power once again. One of the largest lo-Communications Workers of America voted quit the AFL-CIO parent body in favor of the Teamsters.

It is almost monotonous to say that Hoffa's power should concern the American people. Hoffa can deprive people of their right to choose. But this is a situation in which Mr. Hoffa's tremendous power over the American in transport and communication. There are fear his power is excessive — and without restraints.

Smoking Problem

What we've been told again of the smoking-link, it might be well to ponder what effort will have on our tobacco habits. Great Britain's cigarette-cancer report two years ago, British tobacco consumption reached new heights through the population increase was figured in statistics.

Some occurred in this country after a similar, somewhat milder report, eight years ago. It would seem therefore, that the government's important task is to push for more remedial re-strictions in the tobacco industry to develop a "clean" and have warnings printed on every package.

Time has come for decisive leadership. In speeches to the problem — for it is obvious leaders will not be able (or wish) to give up the strength of the government report alone.

Scouts And The Future

The Boy Scouts of America observes its 54th anniversary during Scout Week, February 7 to 12. Since 1910, more than 36 million Americans have been identified with its work. There is scarcely an American family that has not felt its influence.

In 1916 Congress recognized that Scouting's development and promise of usefulness to the future of the country warranted federal protection. The Federal Charter it granted gave a legal function for Scouting and stated that its purpose "shall be to promote, through organization and cooperation with other agencies the ability of boys to do things for themselves and others, to train them in Scoutcraft, and to teach them patriotism, courage, self-reliance, and kindred virtues."

How well Scouting has measured up to the expectation of Congress may be seen in some comments of the late President Kennedy and America's first astronaut. Former President Kennedy, himself a former Boy Scout in Eronville, New York, for two years, once said, "Training and associations of Boy Scout life are invaluable to the individual."

Some People Eligible For Raise In SS

People who work after applying for social security old age benefits may often qualify for higher benefits because of their additional work. If you have earned over $1200 in any year since retirement, there is a possibility that your check can be increased. Anyone who became entitled to social security old age benefits before 1959, and who has earned $4,800 a year since that time can definitely get a raise.

To have your benefit amount recomputed, you must apply for the increase. You may also need proof of your income. If you work for someone else, your Form W-2 (Withholding Tax Statement) will be proof. If you are self-employed, your federal income tax return, Schedule C (Schedule F if you are a farmer), and a canceled check or money order stub as proof of your tax paid will be needed.

A brief visit to your social security office will help you determine whether or not your benefit can be increased. The office in Floydada is located at Room 106, Courthouse, and is opened at 9:30 a. m., Monday, February 17.

Troops will be taking our places, and the legacy we pass on to them will determine whether America as we know it will live or die.

"Sure Scouting is fun and in tune with the times; it teaches many skills—all in preparation for that great skill—the skill of living."

Astronaut John H. Glenn, Jr., an Advisor to an Explorer Post, feels, "We must have even finer people to show us the way and to be the leaders of tomorrow. The mental, moral, and physical aspects of our lives that Scouting has given you I hope never leave you as you grow up. I hope you will carry on these high standards into your adult lives. Along with this if you keep in your lives a spiritual center which gives you a direction and purpose, we certainly need to look no further for leaders of tomorrow."

In this area we have over 13,000 boys and leaders in the South Plains Council of the Boy Scouts of America who find that Scouting is a game, but that it is also preparation for adulthood and participating citizenship. We wish the Boy Scouts a happy 54th Anniversary.

Floyd Philosopher Mulls Over Unexplored Problem Of Who's Qualified To Be A Senator

Editors Note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm gets into a discussion this week which is his responsibility, not ours.

Dear Editor: Since I'm not acquainted with politics in Ohio—I'm not even up on politics right here in this part of Texas—I'm not assuming to tell the people of Ohio what to do, just in case the Hesperian has a wide coverage of that state, but I was interested in some things I read after that astronaut.

News From Soil Conservation

Considerable interest has been evidenced this year by the number of landowners and operators making application for conservation practices under the Floyd County Agricultural Conservation Program. The Soil Conservation Service Office has received 223 applications from the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office after approval by the County Committee.

These requests for conservation work include, irrigation pipeline, land leveling, diversion terraces, field terraces, and Floyd County Agriculture Conservation Program officers additional practices for cost-sharing such as brush control, grass seeding practices, and others. 40-50 percent cost-share assistance is available to be applied to the total cost of installing these practices.

This is especially a good time of the year to get all dirt moving practices such as land leveling and terracing started and completed before crop planting time and also to take advantage of the dry soil conditions.

PLAN AHEAD with a coordinated soil and water conservation program and take advantage of the rain that supplies your soil with the cheapest source of water — DID YOU KNOW when an inch of rain falls on a 160 acre farm it delivers this quantity:

in volume - 4,356,000 gallons in weight - 36,300,000 gallons

Q—A veteran I know is going to school under the GI bill and also getting a GI loan to buy a house. How can he get double benefits?

A—There is nothing in the law that prohibits a veteran from receiving these two benefits simultaneously.

Q—As the widow of a veteran who died of a service-connected disability, I receive a monthly compensation payment. I have been thinking of going back to work. A friend tells me that I will lose the compensation payments. Is this so?

A—No. Compensation payments are made without reference to your income. Your friend is thinking of VA pension payments, paid to widows of veterans who died of non-service-connected causes. Income limitation do apply in these cases.

Q—Has the so-called "Long Bill" been passed by Congress to allow reinstatement of lapsed GI insurance policies?

A—No. None of the bills which would have allowed reinstatement of lapsed GI insurance policies have been passed by Congress.

Glenn, announced he was running for the United States Senate. What interested me was the claim by some Ohio papers that he hasn't the proper thinking to be a Senator.

This got me to thinking, what is the proper training for a Senator? and the more I thought the less I concluded. It is a field apparently nobody has explored, and if a young man came to you and said he was interested in training to be a Senator, what would you tell him? I'm not up on these matters, but I doubt if there's a college or university in the country offering a course in Senatorship. It'd be like trying to study for the Supreme Court.

Another thing the papers said about Glenn was that he shouldn't try to start at the top, he ought to run for some lesser office first. I can see how a Senator could think a man ought to run for Congress first, and I can see how a Congressman could think he ought to run for a state office first, and I can see how a state official could say he ought to run for a local office first, and how a local official could say he ought to stick a while longer with farming or barbering or whatever he's doing, and while if I had thought farming was the first step toward becoming a Senator I'd never have taken it, still I doubt if this is the right system. I don't know of anybody who took up farming in order to qualify for public office, but I know several who took up public office to avoid farming.

Yet getting back to the original subject, is Glenn qualified by training to be a Senator, I doubt it. When he was completing his third orbit of the earth and was getting ready to decide the split-second to pull the lever that'd return him to earth on target, what shape would he have been in if he'd had to refer the decision to a committee for ten months?

Yours faithfully,

A BOY AND HIS HEROES

One of the keys to a boy's character is his choice of heroes.

For a hero is more than a portrait on the wall. A hero is an ideal -- a blueprint of greatness.

And where does a boy find his heroes?

He finds them in books and on the playing field . . . in his school, his family, his Church.

The Church's contribution to a child's gallery of heroes is unique.

Bible study and religious education not only introduce him to the greatest lives ever lived . . . but they teach him how to build the same qualities of heroism into his own life.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL - ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Plains Takes Stand On Legislation

The legislative directors of Plains Credit Union, meeting in Lubbock, Texas, Tuesday, January 22, expressed their feeling that for the most part the present legislation is the best way to give cotton the price it deserves.

The directors voted to urge the Secretary of the U. S. Department of Agriculture to issue Payment in Kind on raw cotton to the domestic market, leaving the price to be worked out by the market.

Pfeiffenberger, POG Vice President, told the directors that the use of PIK on the domestic market is the only provision that is included in all of the five current legislative proposals. Other provisions of the proposals, he said, "vary widely and should be disregarded for the present in order to make cotton competitive at the earliest possible time."

These views, along with the Board's expressed opposition to the USDA's acreage diversion proposal, will be presented in Senate cotton hearings in Washington by Pfeiffenberger and John Pugh of Lubbock, POG farmer-director. Hearings are scheduled to begin January 28.

1964 Be Free of Screwworms?

Jan. 30 - Vigorous program by Texas and ranchers will be in the Southwest is to be worm-free in 1964.

Dr. J. R. Uvalde, Director of the Texas Department of Agriculture, said that the eradication of screwworms will be completed this year.

He urged livestock producers to watch their animals closely and treat cuts and scratches that could become infested. After several larvae have been collected from infested wounds and mailed to the Mission laboratory for positive identification, wounds should be treated with insecticide.

Have You Read At Your Library?

Have you read one of those dreamed of adventures that a person would like to attempt, but never has had the nerve or the money to make it come true?

The book portrays an exciting three year trip around the world, taken by an American family, all working with three Japanese sailors as crew members on their small sailing craft.

This book is a non-tourist view of countries and islands visited through the eyes of three children and two adults. Their thrills, anxieties, adventures and experiences are recorded as they changed from inexperienced landlubbers to full-fledged sailors.

Here they find that even extensive planning doesn't solve all the problems that a person will experience when undertaking something new.

The exciting and intriguing story is to be found in "All In The Same Boat" by Earle and Barbara Reynolds at the Floyd County Library.
