Street Signs Arrive; Installation Begins

Street signs for which the city has been working for nearly 75 years ago. The newer residents wanted some systematic means of designation for the streets.

Finally, a compromise was reached. The street signs bear both the names of the streets and a systematic means of numbering every street.

The street signs will be erected on the most visible corner of each intersection. Normally there would be a definite corner of the intersection designated, but the city could run into problems such as having a tree in the way, a hedge or some other obstacle.

The signs will be put up by the city employees can work the job into their regular schedules of work. Presently, the city is awaiting the arrival of more posts before continuing the erection job.

ADMIRING LOOKS — Jimmie Stewart and Jessie Booth, city office employees, are shown admiring the new street sign. The green and white signs arrived in Floydada last week and one has been erected. The city is awaiting the arrival of poles before they can continue putting up the signs.

Cotton - Wheat Democrat, Republican Balloting Separate

A county wide meeting to explain the confronting cotton-wheat government programs will be held Thursday, April 30, 1964 (tonight) at 7:30 p.m., in the Floydada High School Auditorium, states H. T. Davidson, County Agent.

The entire session will be used to present the cotton-wheat programs and to answer questions concerning local farmers, ASCS manager Tom Hutchins will be on hand to present the program and make the interpretations.

Various farm organizations and the many businesses connected with the cotton and wheat industries, encourage all cotton and wheat producers to attend the meeting and hear the facts.

According to Hutchins, a large number of the wheat growers have been confused about the sign-ups. Some seem to think when they came into the office and reported their plot(s) of wheat, they thought they were signing up for the program. Actually they were not, for the sign-up began only last Monday. About 140 farmers signed for the program Monday.

The farmers are advised to keep in mind they have only until May 15 to sign for the new wheat program. After that date they may begin signing for their choices of the cotton program.

According to Hutchins, if every wheat grower in the county signed for the wheat program, it would mean an additional $1,308,000 income for the county.

The State and County balloting primaries will be held throughout the county at various boxes Saturday, May 2. Voting will begin at 8:00 a.m. and the polls will close at 7:00 p.m. If Floydada were a town of 10,000 or more, the polls would open at 7 and close at 7, as they are in Lubbock.

This year will be the first time in history the Republicans and Democrats will ballot separately with the Republicans having their own precinct boxes. Two years ago the Republicans held their first separate primary.

During the last month, since the Hospital, School and City elections, the interest on the national, state and local political scene has gathered momentum.

Stolen Car Wrecked

A 1964 model Ford car was wrecked in Blanco County, about eight miles south of Floydada early Wednesday morning, and upon investigation by the Sheriff's department was found to be a stolen car.

According to Sheriff Walter Hollums a 15-year old boy had stolen the car in Earth about 9:00 p.m. Tuesday night and the boy was picked up in Floydada by R. C. Starks, night patrolman for the city. He told a story about being kidnapped, put out in the Canyon and seeing the wrecked car as he was coming back into town.

The boy was not hurt in the wreck, although the front end was knocked out from under the car. He was released to the officers at Earth about 4:00 a.m. Wednesday morning.

In the county four races are drawing the most attention because of the number of candidates in each. These are the sheriff's race, the race for tax assessor-collector, and the races for Commissioners of Precinct 3 and Precinct 1. Most of the candidates have been quite active in their campaigns during recent weeks.

DEMOCRATIC BALLOT Walter Hollums is seeking reelection to the sheriff's post and is being challenged in this race by Connie Reed and Duane Robinson. Reed is a former Lockney resident, and served there as city officer and later worked at Floydada in the same capacity. Robinson is a farmer from the Dougherty community.

The incumbent in the tax assessor-collector's office, T. T. Hamilton is being contested by C. J. Payne and Carl Jarrett. All three men live in Floydada, and have been campaigning intensively.

Four candidates are vying for the office of Commissioner. Pre-See ELECTIONS, Page 5

Castor Bean Meeting Here Monday Night

Bill Price of Western Farm Supply announced this week that the Western Farm Supply and Wylie Grain Company in Floydada are now representatives of the Baker Castor Oil Company in Plainview for the Floyd County trade area.

Price said the seed are now available for planting and that a guaranteed price and market is offered the area farmer who wants to plant castor beans.

A castor bean meeting has been set for Monday night at 8 p.m. in the Colonial House for all farmers seeking more information about the raising and marketing of castor beans.

Representatives of the Baker Castor Oil Company will be on hand to explain the advantages of growing castor beans. Doughnuts and coffee will be served.

Price reports that new markets are being developed every day for products of castor beans. Besides castor oil, plastics, and many other items, the oil is now being used in the operation of jet aircraft.

Groves is a senior at Lubbock High School and his parents are school teachers at Lakeview school.

Group Meeting Friday Morning To Consider Storm Warning, Action

Anyone who is interested is invited to attend a meeting in the Community Room of the First National Bank building in Floydada Friday morning at 10:00 to consider, among other things, a suitable signal that would warn the city of an approaching storm.

Not only a signal is to be considered, but also ways the city officials may have confirming that a tornado, or other violent storm is approaching the town.

Among those things considered, will be what type of siren system will be used. Perhaps a different signal on the regular fire siren, or different law officials diving up and down the streets with the sirens on their vehicles going, will be the end solution.

Representatives from several organizations that would be involved, in case a disaster should hit this town or surrounding area will be at the meeting. Persons representing the Texas Highway Department, Department of Public Safety, Rural Electrical Association, Radio Station, Sheriffs Office and Newspaper will meet with the group.

Officials have mentioned before that the city has no organized means of handling a disaster of any kind. For example if a tornado should strike a part of town, whether there was loss of life, or injury or not, there is no group that has the responsibility of preventing "looting" or pitching in to get the area cleaned-up.

One way of confirming an approaching tornado has been mentioned as this: set a law official on each of the major highways entering the city, that is the Rails Highway, Lockney Highway and the Matador Highway. This would give the persons on look-out a panoramic view of the city and of the weather approaching the city.

In the event a tornado was seen approaching the town, the one sighting the storm would radio to the city hall, which incidentally does have a two-way radio, and then the fire siren, or whatever devised signal is to be used, would be sounded in time to give the residents ample time to seek shelter.

This is just one idea that has been expressed. If you have others or would like to know first-hand how the city will be warned in the event of a tornado, you are urged to be in attendance at the meeting Friday morning

The new Distributive Education program which the school will begin next fall, will be the topic of discussion at a meeting of the Retail Merchants Association, Thursday morning, April 30 at 9:45 in the high school cafeteria. This was erroneously reported as being set for April 23, last week.

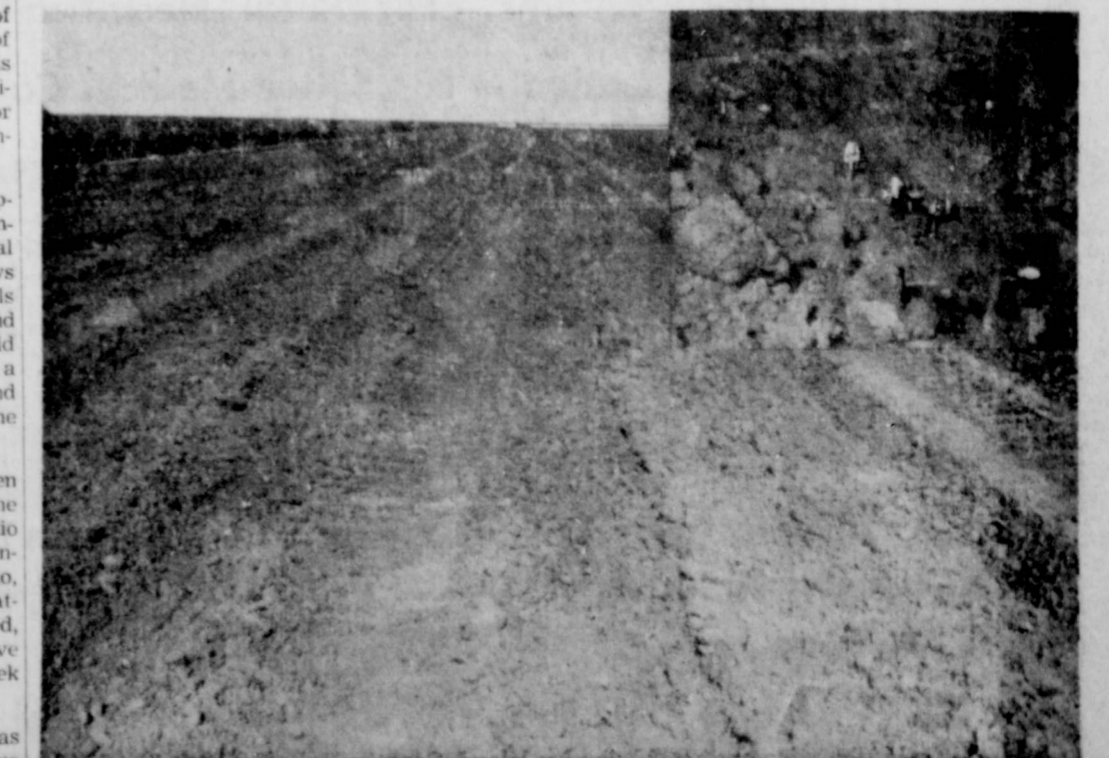

Charles Tyer, high school principal, will give the merchants all the information he has concerning the new program. Anyone who may be interested in taking part in this program is urged to be in attendance at the meeting.

According to Tyer, after school begins next fall, those students who are taking the DE course will be through with other classes at 1:30 p.m. at which time they will report to their DE job. The students will work whatever weekend hours their employer requires.

Coach Bob Shields will be the DE instructor, and will visit the students on their jobs, and their respective employers at least once a week. Shields will have the DE program as his primary duty, but may teach another class or two as well.

The DE program is designed for those students desiring to go on to college, as well as for those students who feel they must work to pay for part of the family's expenses.

Tyer reports that already 40 See DE COURSE, Page 6

 COUNTY AGENT Tom Davison has a good fishing story to tell, about catching a three pound bass and it's probably true because his wife was with him when he caught it. In fact, believe she caught some nice bass also.
 Tom had a good way to keep his youngsters occupied while he was fishing. He gives them a pole with nothing but a line and a cork on it. Occasionally he'll pull in a fish next to the youngster's cork . . . and then allows the youngster to pull in the fish that Tom has caught!

 stration clubs who will be in enjoy your visit here and we commend the Floyd county clubs on

IN OUR NEWS coverage of United News's Open House showing last week we went into some explanation of the history of both Dallas & Mavis Forwarding Company and the beginning of the auto transport companies coming to Floydada.

It is very noteworthy that the Q&P railroad folk were very instrumental in working out the details and property purchases for the two transport companies.
 We take this means of expressing this community's appreciation to Q&P for helping Floydada to grow through the transport companies as well as the many transportation outlets for our prosperous agricultural needs.
 It can be told now that Q&P worked very diligently with several of us on the Chamber of Commerce trying to work out a plan for a Cystor bean plant here
 . . . and this we appreciate.

POLITICS will come to a climax this week end and then we'll have time to take into consideration some of these other little problems like three day measles and Elm tree seeds blowing all over the place.

In meeting 1,283 persons in this Commissioners race for Precinct 1, here are some of the most frequently asked questions. Can you find your Question?

WHAT PRECINCT AM I IN?
WHO IS OUR COMMISSIONER NOW?
WHY HAVEN'T THE OTHER CANDIDATES STATED THEIR VIEWS PUBLICLY?
WHO'S RESPONSIBILITY IS IT TO KEEP THE COURT HOUSE IN REPAIR?
WHY ARE THE PRECINCT LINES ALWAYS BEING CHANGED?
WHY DO WE HAVE TO RELY ON RUMORS TO BE INFORMED OF WHAT IS GOING ON?
WHY CAN'T WE, IN RURAL AREAS, GET VOTING BOOTHS LIKE THOSE IN THE COURT HOUSE?
WHY ISN'T HOSPITAL WELFARE BUDGETED IN ONE LUMP SUM INSTEAD OF $50.00 HERE, $100.00 THERE, SO THE HOSPITAL COULD DESIGNATE THE AMOUNT IN ITS BUDGET?
WHAT IS BEING DONE ABOUT HABITUAL WELFARE?
WHY HASN'T PRECINCT BUSINESS AND REPAIRS BEEN SHARED BY ALL QUALIFIED MERCHANTS IN THE PRECINCT?
WHY DO I PAY MORE TAX ON A $4,000.00 TRACTOR THAN ON A $4,000.00 CAR?
WHY ISN'T A CAR OR TRUCK PUT ON THE PERSONAL PROPERTY TAX ROLL WHEN IT IS LICENSED?
WHY AREN'T TAXES ASSESSED PRIVATELY IN OUR HOMES AND NOT IN PUBLIC PLACES IN THE PRESENCE OF OTHERS?

I cannot promise any of these things can be changed or should be changed because they are also in the hands of three other Commissioners. I will promise to have an answer to these questions and inform you by Press and Radio of changes proposed and made. I will not be muzzled by anyone

NOW I HAVE A QUESTION:
Would you consider voting for a younger, educated man who stands for his convictions even if it hits his own pocketbook?

IF ELECTED I WILL NOT ASK FOR A 3RD TERM OF OFFICE IF 2 OR MORE QUALIFIED MEN ANNOUNCE BY JAN 15TH.

ess, Williams Repeat As Winners and weary, Max Dyess of Floydada and Jack Williams of Plainview, battled their way through gale winds, sometimes gusting up to 50-miles-per-hour, to repeat as the champions of the annual Floydada Country Club Partnership Golf Tournament.

The team of Dyess and Williams won the event last year. Tom O'Kelly, of Lubbock, added a little color to the tournament by sinking a hole-in-one on No. 2 Friday afternoon, but he and his teammate were eventually eliminated.

The championship pair was hard pressed by Ray Walker of Floydada and T. C. Hamilton a Texas Tech student from Tyler, who pressed the defending champions until the 17th hole before they were eliminated.

In the championship flight, Walker and Hamilton won the first hole, but after the defending champions evened the score on the third hole, they were never behind again.

Williams and Dyess had a two-up margin at the turn, but a birdie by Walker on 10 evened the match again.

Dyess gave his team a two-point lead on 11 as he won low ball with a par and the twosome had the low total. They made it three on the next hole and added another to the lead on 14.

Williams gave the team a five-point lead by paring the 535-yard No. 15, which was right into the blast of the wind.

It looked like the champs had it made, until Walker and Hamilton picked up-birdies and won two points on 16 as Williams' tee shot hit a tree and ruined his team's score total.

The defending champs had Walker and Hamilton three down going on 17 and picked up another point to close out the match.

Walker had the best score with a two-over par. Hamilton was next with a three-over par for the day while Dyess was four-over and Walker six-over.

Covington and Edwards, Canyon, def. Brock and King, Lubbock, 3 and 2.

Bobby Westfall said the club had hoped for 80 teams, which is all they could handle and received 79. Therefore, 158 golfers took part in the third annual tournament.

Research Foundation Due Credit for Boom In Flame Cultivation

Flame cultivation isn't a new method of reducing farmers' problems; in fact, the first cultivator was patented in 1852 and another half dozen their way into the Washington registry by 1926 according to Parks, assistant agricultural engineer in charge of the Plains Research Foundation at Halfway.

Lemore became the man of the hour in the flame cultivation world when he mounted a weed burner on a Georgia stock on the Mississippi Delta.

Those early days of flame cultivation were rough ones. Before World War II the usual fuel was kerosene, necessitating hand pumps and other cumbersome paraphernalia. The process was hard to sell to the average farmer.

However, the coming of age of liquefied petroleum gas after the war was portentous of a new day dawning for flame cultivation. In 1950 the High Plains Research Foundation opened the door to new vistas for the process. That year, as a result of severe weather conditions and a thin cotton stand, the weed crop couldn't be controlled adequately by accepted methods. It was suggested that the Foundation try flame cultivation.

The suggested resulted in pilot studies which indicated to the Foundation that flame cultivation deserved more attention as a means of weed control. Sponsored by the LP gas industry and the Texas Butane Dealers Association, a three-year program of research was initiated.

Results of the program are evident on countless farms on the High Plains today. Subscribers to the Foundation gleaned the data from the research reports and put the information to work in their fields almost immediately.

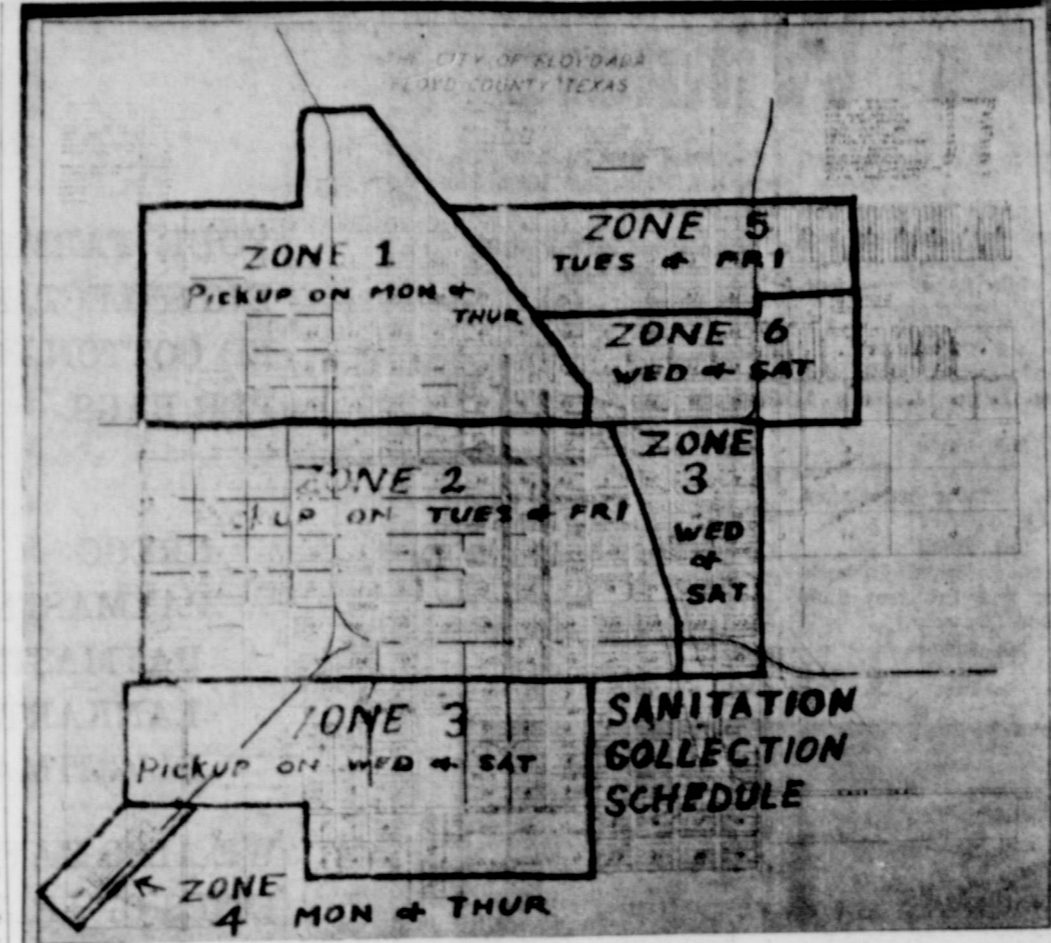

Today the Foundation is recognized as an international authority on flame cultivation methods. Requests for information have come from distant countries such as England, Africa, Holland, Israel, Australia, Venezuela, Mexico and Brazil. Foreign visitors to farm at Halfway invariably inquire about flame cultivation.

A second three-year program of research was instituted in 1963 to refine the methods of weed control in cotton, grain sorghum, soybeans, and castor beans. Some vegetables are also included in the program.

It has also been further expanded to include research in other phases of crop production such as pre-emergence flaming, as a harvest aid, and in field drying and desiccation of grain sorghum.

The Foundation's progress in three areas has caught the eye of farmers all over the country, especially in the Rio Grande Valley where with Foundation supervision a full-time technician is helping Valley farmers in a research program in crops peculiar to that area.

Foundation research has thus far indicated that, properly used, flame cultivation results in a variety of benefits to the farmer in addition to continued high yields and quality. The elimination of root pruning has meant increased yields in many instances, and the elimination of turned earth does away with the problem of burying lower bolls in cotton and the lower seed pods in soybeans. In castorbeans the risk of introducing Alternaria leaf spot through damaged roots is reduced by flaming away weeds rather than eliminating them by sweep cul-

SANITATION COLLECTION SCHEDULE — Since the city has taken over the sanitation pick-up service for the city the first of April, the workers have been able to work out a systematic pick-up schedule. Shown on the map are the various zones of the city and when persons living in that zone can expect garbage service.

Trash Barrels Not To Be Used

Beginning Monday, May 4, all trash that is to be picked up by the city's sanitation department must be in garbage, or appropriate cans, that have lids, tightly fitting, and not in 55-gallon oil drums.

This is not a new ordinance, but has been on the city record for a number of years. An excerpt from Ordinance No. 285 reads as follows:

"It shall be the duty of every person, firm or corporation owning, managing, operating, leasing or renting any premises or any place where 'kitchen garbage' accumulates, to provide portable garbage cans constructed of galvanized iron, tin or other suitable metal, with two handles and a tight fitting cover of a capacity not less than five gallons nor over thirty gallons and the daily accumulation of kitchen garbage and dry kitchen refuse."

Parks has given much study to pre-emergence flaming, the elimination of weeds just before the crop emerges from the ground, and also to the flaming off of grain sorghums before the terminal bud breaks ground.

On Monday, May 11, the sanitation department will begin hauling off the barrels that are in the alleys. If someone has a barrel in the alley now they wish to keep, they should store it elsewhere, for if it is in the alley on that day, the city employees will assume it is to be hauled off. If there are large particles of trash, such as the limbs of a tree, they should be placed in the alley, and the sanitation department will get to them, probably within a week.

According to Glen Petty, city manager, last week there was not one call received at the city hall concerning the poor garbage pickup service.

O. K. Davis Honored On Retirement

O. K. Davis, inspector with the plant Quarantine Division of the U. S. Agricultural Research Service, and former principal at Andrews Ward and Floydada High School, will retire April 25. Davis, who will be 65 in May, has been in government service for 21 years.

He came to Laredo on April 20, 1943, as a U. S. Immigration inspector, and on Aug. 26, 1945, transferred to the Plant Quarantine Division. Prior to coming to the border, he spent 21 years as a school teacher.

Mr. Davis and his family lived in Floydada for 11 years. Fellow employees of the Plant Quarantine Service gave a retirement barbecue for Davis Thursday evening at the Central Power and Light Co. picnic grounds. Approximately 80 persons, including representatives of Customs, Immigration, Public Health, the Animal Inspector Quarantine Division and Liquor Control Board attended.

Crawford D. Babb, inspector in charge of the Plant Quarantine Service, presented gifts to both Mr. and Mrs. Davis on behalf of government employees in all the services. "Mr. Davis is a wonderful person," Babb stated. "He is a very loyal, intelligent and efficient employee, and we hate to lose him."

He pointed out that Davis has a very unique record. During his entire career, both in school work and with the government, he had never until this year taken a day of sick leave, nor had he ever been late for work.

This year Davis finally had to take off several days because of the flu. He turned back to the government over 1,900 hours of unused sick leave.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis will leave soon to make their home in Synder. Their only daughter there. Their son, O. Kimball Davis, is a doctor at Boulder, Colo., where he is working toward a doctorate at the University of Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Davis are members of the First Baptist Church. Davis is a Mason and master of the lodge at the town of Hamilton.

Originally from Ames, Iowa, Davis studied at the University of Colorado at the town of Hamilton.

Electric cooking doesn't guarantee that busy fingers won't splatter food but it is a nicer way to cook. Flameless electric cooking means no soot, no dirt, no pilot light, no obnoxious fumes and no smoke. Electricity is safer — cooler — cleaner. It's the modern way to cook. Start them early at your house, Miss Homemaker of 1980 deserves the best. Cooking with dependable, efficient, economical electricity from the Lighthouse Electric Cooperative means cooking at its best.

"Profit With Price"

There have been lots of discussion of the yellow onions with a yellow color on the older blades, but the new blades have good color. Jay Hale and I gathered several plants and carried them to Lubbock last week. We had quite a long discussion with Dr. George Elle on the onions. He said it was due to static electricity and the damage from the wind and dust.

The thrip are still present. Check your patches regularly, for if they get to doing too much drainage you should be ready to spray.

In talking to Dr. Elle, the onion market should be strong by the time the Floyd County onions are ready for harvest.

The number of acres first planted is under the original number of acres first published.

In covering the country there are large amounts of grain being planted, and this is good so the grain can be past the bloom stage before "Mr. Midge" is normally due to begin working in our area. Of course these March winds—which are a month late—are sure sapping the moisture out of the ground.

I hope the "fishing" farmer had good luck last week and this coming week too, for it's still a little early to be sticking those cotton seeds in the ground. Of course I know everyone has plenty of seed, but there is no use wasting them. There is still plenty of time left to have a good case of ulcers over this crop without getting a running start. I once heard there are more ulcers at planting and harvest time than any other time of the year.

If you are going to plant any Castor beans this year and if you haven't already signed up, you should be doing so before long, to make sure you can get the amount of seed you want.

For the people working around in your yard, check all the young tender plants for thrips, check your trees and shrubs to see if the bag worm is making any early arrivals, its possible with the warm days.

WONDERFUL WORLD OF EVERYTHING:

"So, for a wonderful world of flavor, try Munchies — today! — You've heard that kind of persuasion on radio and TV, urging you to poke your head into a "wonderful world" of something or other that you've been missing out on, up to now. Seems like so many advertisements nowadays are talking up a "wonderful world" of this and that: a wonderful world of leisure, comfort, pleasure that's all ours along with the price of suds, spuds, duds, and what have you! The folks who write and talk about safety are trying to sell you on a wonderful world — period! They point out that our world is a pretty good and interesting place, and that it would be quite a shame for you to exit in the middle of the first or second act, rather than play out your entire part.

It is a wonderful world We'll be all the more aware of this soon when the grass greens up, trees start leafing out, the sun's smile grows warmer, and unseasonal lakes and lands beyond the horizon start sending out magnetic currents.

It's a reasonably safe world, too, for those who live, work, drive and play wisely. Thanks to all that human intelligence has discovered about protection from danger and disease, life's risks have been greatly minimized — and they'll be thinned down even more in the years ahead.

The dullest of the safety preachers are always saying: "Don't do this — don't do that." They're right, but their negative harangues don't build any kind of a fire in anyone. Perhaps we need even more than a deep-seated sense of caution, a deeper-seated sense of appreciation for the wonderful world we live in.

Then, even through the blue Mondays of life, we'll keep renewing our determination to stick around just as long as we possibly can — with eyes to see, ears to hear, hands to reach and grasp, all our faculties to sense and savor, all our abled-bodiedness to swing eagerly through the WONDERFUL WORLD OF EVERYTHING!

A HERITAGE OF VALUES —

Even when he was past seventy, Edison had the flame of the future in him. At that time of his life, he remarked, "My desire is to do everything within my power to further free the people from drudgery, and create the largest possible measure of happiness and prosperity." And this after he had already contributed some 1000 patented devices and machines. Each great invention of his launched new manufacturing enterprises, giving employment to thousands of people. He opened the doors to transcontinental communications, listening and seeing. Imagine, listening to music reproduced from past performances — at your bidding — enjoying concerts, plays, and movies in your own home. "Bell Telephone Hour" has been known to reach an audience larger than the total number of persons who have at-

Official Memorandum

By JOHN CONNALLY Governor of Texas AUSTIN, TEXAS

GREETINGS:

The right to vote is a treasured instrument of a democracy, and a solemn responsibility on the part of every American citizen of voting age. Unfortunately, it is a responsibility that is often treated lightly, for many eligible voters consistently fail to exercise their right and duty to cast their ballot.

Texans will vote in the primary elections on May 2 to select their nominees for public office at the local, state and national level.

On the same day the party precinct conventions will be held to select delegates to the county conventions and to consider resolutions affecting state and national policy. These conventions are the genesis of our entire political and governmental structure.

It is vital to our state and nation that as many persons as possible participate in these essential functions of representative government.

THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate Saturday, May 2, 1964, as

and urge all eligible voters to participate in the primary election and precinct conventions of the party of their choosing.

In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 29th day of April, 1964.

John Connally
Governor of Texas

tended concerts at Carnegie Hall during the past 18 years.

Whole new worlds of industry have been born because Edison opened the doors for other creative men. The meager beginning of moving pictures has progressed to fulfill and go beyond Edison's prophecies. In addition to entertainment, films have provided vast educational benefits. School children can actually watch nature unfold a full life cycle in a few seconds. They can see the people of other nations and learn of their customs. Medical students can watch and learn surgical techniques.

In our brightly lighted world we tend to forget that at one time people lived by sunlight and candlelight. Edison's lone electric light bulb helped the universe blossom into our present world of light, hours and hours beyond the setting sun. The added hours of light invited searching minds to study and explore, bringing us to our present intellectual status.

None of Edison's accomplishments were easy. The incandescent light took many years not only of concentrated thought but also world-wide research. His storage battery took eight years to perfect, and it took even longer to perfect the phonograph. The costs in time and effort were high — but the magnanimous benefits we have derived are ever-increasing. The man of vision and effort truly left us a heritage of value.

The work of preparing meals is no longer done at a big kitchen table, located in the center of the room. Meal preparation has now moved to the perimeter of your kitchen and this is where the light belongs. Have a center ceiling light if you will. However, remember where you are going to be working and where you will need the most light.

There are as many ways to light a kitchen as there are kitchen designs. One way of bringing light out to the perimeter of the kitchen is to expand the size of the center area by using preassembled luminous ceiling panels.

Fluorescent channels mounted above a complete ceiling of translucent plastic provides shadowless light throughout the kitchen by this technique, through excellent, is frequently too costly for the average kitchen.

Completely shielded fluorescent fixtures can be butted at the corners of the kitchen ceiling to conform with the plan of the kitchen in a most attractive manner. Obviously light sources mounted nearer to wall cabinets will make it easier to select things inside the cabinet when the doors open. For a cheery and work inspiring kitchen, a ceiling of light gives a "sunny day" lift to the spirits.

Gloria Sparks, Gary Shrum, and Mr. and Mrs. Mike Fowler, went to Palo Duro Canyon and Buffalo Lakes, picnicking last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Higginbotham, Kelly and Bryant, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. John Stapleton and Sandra.

Mrs. J. H. Hutchins, of Ralls, spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hutchins and boys.

Guests in the Claude Wethersbee home on Sunday were Mrs. Wethersbee's mother, Mrs. C. W. Terry, of Post, and her sister, Mrs. Reece Bivens of Sutton.

Melinda Goen is home from Lubbock; she plans to be here until summer school starts in June.

We wish to take this opportunity to express our deep appreciation to all who helped save the precious items from our home during the fire and to all who helped in any way, and especially to the men who risked their lives to pull our butane tank away from the house and to the fire boys.

The kindness and generosity shown us since by your lovely gifts to help replenish our loss, has given us a greater love for our fellowmen. To all these, the churches and other organizations, we thank you from the depths of our hearts.

I wish to thank my many, many friends for the nice things they did for me while I was in the hospital at Lubbock. The phone calls, flowers, and so many other nice things. May I take this means of thanking everyone who has been so kind and thoughtful to me and my husband during my stay in the hospital. Boll Weevil Hibernation Topic For YFA

The results of the recent experiment with the hibernation of boll weevils will be the featured topic when the Young Farmers hold their regular monthly meeting in the high school agriculture room at 8:00 p.m. Thursday night, May 7.

Don Anderson, of Crosbyton, and president of the Steering Committee in Plains Cotton Growers "Diapause" program will be the speaker for the night.

In recent weeks a number of the results of the experiment have been released, but the full story is yet to be told, and Anderson is perhaps, one of the most qualified in this field to explain all the results.

Also, Anderson will be expected to go further into the proposed program and possibly into the spraying phase of the program that is to be financed jointly by the Federal Government and by the farmers, and other interested persons, of the High Plains Area. There are more than 250,000 acres that are scheduled to be sprayed a number of times under the program. All interested persons are invited to attend the program fully.

To the Voters of Floyd County

I have been unable to make an active campaign of the County due to the duties of this office. I am taking this opportunity to ask the voters of Floyd County for their vote and support in the coming election Saturday, May 2nd, 1964.

Thank you in advance for your vote and support.

To The Precinct 3 Voters

I have made an active campaign in the precinct and there are a lot of things I have failed to see.

However, I take this last opportunity to ask for your vote.

paid for by Uncle Sam. And why not, for they once owned it all, or in other words, all of the USA. A couple of years ago the states of Arizona, Utah, and New Mexico built a $3 million power plant 20 miles southwest of Farmington, with a lake stocked with fish. If one wants to fish, there are plenty of places on the rivers and lakes here. Most of the fish are trout and catfish.

The Aztec Ruins, a mile west of Aztec, is really worth your time to see. The keepers told me that it can be dated back to 600 AD.

It is wonderful to see what people back in that age could build and how perfectly it was done. They even air conditioned a part of their buildings. Two and one-half stories have been unearthed. Another ruins one-half mile west has not been unearthed.

The Aztecs brought in tons and tons of rock on their backs and on burrows to build with.

The Mesa Verde Ruins and National Park about 30 miles west of Durango, Colo. is another place that is worth your time to see. Both of these places have museums.

This little mountain narrow gauge railroad is also another of this country's wonders. It's now the only railroad in the USA that still uses steam engines.

Freight trains come from Durango two or three times per week with oil drilling and other supplies. The passenger trains run daily from Durango to Silverton, Colo. For a while, it did go on to Cortez, but they discontinued that part of it.

I could go on, and on, and on, but enough for now.

With Best Wishes

Wofford Honored At Sorghum Masters Club Meet Recently

10,000 lbs per acre yields were honored by top sorghum producers in 1963. Four members of an exclusive club of top sorghum producers exceeded the 10,000 pound mark.

B. J. Wofford of Floydada, Texas is a Sorghum Masters Club Member. His entry field of F-63 produced 7694 pounds per acre. Wofford was honored at a Sorghum Masters Club banquet at Lubbock, Texas.

The highest yield was made by Charles Friemel of Canyon, Texas. Friemel actually combined and weighed across the scale 76,000 lbs. of grain at 15.8 per cent moisture from 6.96 acres for a grain yield of 10,700 lbs. per acre at storage moisture of 14 per cent.

Following Friemel were Wayne Grimes, Wilcox, Ariz., 10,364 lbs. per acre average from 4 1/2 acres; Francis Wilhelm, Nazareth, Texas, 10,221 lbs. per acre average from 5.38 acres; and L. E. Eastes, Wilcox, Ariz., 10,145 lbs. per acre average from 5 acres.

All four are members of DeKalb's Sorghum Masters Club. The Club began in 1963 and had a membership of 275 leading sorghum producers in seven states. The common goal is to produce top economic grain yields under practical farm conditions.

How Are These Top Yields Accomplished?
Friemel prepared his field with a preplant irrigation and by plowing down 240 lbs. of nitrogen per acre. He planted 12 lbs. of

Planting Dates Influence Weevil Population Size

Weather conditions during the spring and early summer will to a large degree determine the size of the boll weevil population in the infested areas below the Caprock. However, farmers in infested areas should be aware of the factors involved in both late and early planting as far as weevils are concerned.

Early plantings — in some cases — gives time to set a crop before large weevil populations develop, points out Don Rummel, Extension Entomologist. Early plantings will also attract early emerging weevils and actually serve as trap crops. April cotton provides early food and breeding sites and allows for extra generations.

If farmers in weevil infested areas would avoid planting until May 10-15, some early emerging weevils would die from lack of food. If planting takes place over a long period — early to late — acres October 30 at 11.7 per cent moisture. His grain yield at storage moisture of 14 per cent was 10,145 lbs. per acre.

The Sorghum Masters Club has attracted many leading sorghum producers. 371 of the 275 club members exceeded 5,000 lbs. per acre in 1963. The top nineteen yields were all over 88,000 lbs. Perhaps one of the reasons for the club's success has been the emphasis on practical harvesting techniques. The high economic yields reported are under normal conditions and represent in-the-bin results without gleaning the field.

JOHN FOWLER Seeks Re-Election

FOR COMMISSIONER OF PRECINCT 1

ON THE BASIS OF HIS

PAST RECORD OF SERVICE

The following statement in regard to re-election as your commissioner is made by John: "The county business is a big business, and it is a full-time job. I devote my full time to the job. The county is in good financial condition and with the help of the other commissioners and the county judge we have all the precincts out of debt. Everyone pays cash for everything they do. The county has been out of debt about three years. Ever since I have been your commissioner I have tried to give the taxpayer a little more for his tax dollar . . . better service than before and I feel like I have done this. The county was borrowing money when I took office, and through a cooperative effort with the commissioner's court we have been able to operate in the black without a tax increase."

★ HE BELIEVES FLOYD COUNTY CAN CONTINUE TO OPERATE IN A GOOD BUSINESS-LIKE MANNER WITHOUT A TAX INCREASE.

★ HIS EXPERIENCE AS YOUR COMMISSIONER AND HIS PERSONAL INTEREST IN THE PROGRESS OF THIS PRECINCT AND FLOYD COUNTY QUALIFY HIM FOR RE-ELECTION.

"Diapause" Boll Weevil Control Plans Are Mapped

Operational plans for carrying out next fall's giant "Diapause" boll weevil control program on the High Plains were laid in Lubbock April 16 at a meeting of the boll weevil Steering, Area-Wide and Technical Advisory Committees, sponsored by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., of Lubbock.

Entomologists at the meeting reaffirmed their statement that such a program is an urgent necessity for the Plains area, and discussed plans on extensive surveys this summer for determining the extent of acreage to be sprayed this fall. Forty-five persons attended the meeting, including entomologists and other top officials from both State and Federal levels. The boll weevil experts have recommended the Diapause program to the Plains as the best known method to keep the weevil from invading the entire High Plains as he has other areas, and they are working closely with area committees and Plains Cotton Growers to assure the program's success.

In a report on the progress of weevil overwintering research, W. L. Owen, Entomologist at the Texas Agricultural Research and Experiment Center, said a total of 35 live weevils have been recently collected from the weevil "cages" that were installed last fall. Of the total, 16 were found in Crosby County, seven in Garza, nine in Dickens and three in cages on top of the Caprock near Close City. According to Owen, research so far has given the definite indication that Shinnery Oak is the habitat in which most weevils hibernate below the Caprock.

New Principal Is Elected For Lockney School

Superintendent H. H. Nicholas announced this week that Joe King, McCamey, has been elected principal of Lockney Junior High. He has served as head football coach and athletic director at McCamey for the past two years.

King has a B.A. degree from McMurry College and a M.A. degree from Sul Ross College at Alpine. He has served as coach at Petersburg and Lubbock and was re-elected to his present position; but King chose to turn to the administrative field.

The new principal, his wife and two daughters will move to Lockney in the late summer. He has a summer program that will prevent him from moving sooner.

Growers said PCG is laying plans for an educational and informational campaign in this area that will touch as many people in as many ways as possible.

Committee members also discussed some of the details of contracts that will be made for chemical suppliers and applicators with Archie Geiser, Chief Pilot for the Plant Pest Control Division, Agricultural Research Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture. Geiser stated that contracts would be let on a competitive bid basis and that the area would be divided into units, with contract applicants being allowed to bid on one or more units. He said the method and time for bidding would be widely publicized when details were complete.

Ralls Brother, Sister Crowned Fiesta Royalty

A brother-sister team from Ralls were crowned "King and Queen" at the 18th annual Fiesta Pan American at Lockney Saturday.

They were Reyes and Loly Cortez. Named "Duke and Duchess" were Van Moore and Margarita Rodriguez of Plainview.

The fiesta is sponsored by the Llano Estacado chapter of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish and Portuguese. More than 200 Spanish students across the South Plains attended.

Beef cattle feeders will be interested in a new bulletin from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. "Finishing Beef Cattle," Farmers Bulletin 2196, discusses feeding systems, kind of cattle to feed, when to buy cattle, roughages and pastures, finishing feeds, supplements, additives and balanced rations. A copy can be obtained from the Office of Information, USDA, Washington, D.C. 20250.

New Bidrin Insecticide lies in wait inside cotton—knocks out thrips, fleahoppers, aphids, mites, lygus wherever they attack tender foliage

Above: magnified cross sections of cotton leaves (above) show how one application of new Bidrin keeps working 7 to 14 days, rain or shine.

Bidrin has entered leaf tissue (picture right). Insect attacking from below where spray didn't reach—sucks up Bidrin with juices. This systemic action keeps protecting 7 to 14 days.

Magnified cross sections of cotton leaves (above) show how one application of new Bidrin keeps working 7 to 14 days, rain or shine.

Bidrin is the new phosphate insecticide that kills cotton pests with both contact and systemic actions.

• It kills all major cotton insects on contact, at time of spraying—even weevils and worms.

• It enters and spreads through plant tissue, makes cotton deadly to thrips, aphids, fleahoppers, mites, lygus.

When insects attack, they die—even if they pierce bottom of leaves where spray doesn't reach. This is systemic action. It keeps working 7 to 14 days.

Proven by growers

New Bidrin's amazing two-way action paid off for thousands of cotton growers in '63. They grew more cotton. And, thanks to early insect control with Bidrin, a higher percent of their crop was early, high-quality, bottom cotton.

Weather resistant—economical
Soon after spraying, Bidrin enters your cotton plants. Once inside, rain can't wash it off. Sun can't break it down. Bidrin has practically eliminated weather as a cause for respraying.

Bidrin costs little compared to insecticides that can't begin to do the same kind of job. Bidrin's long-lasting effectiveness means fewer sprays. With Bidrin you avoid buying early insect control at seeding before you know whether or not insects will come. Bidrin gives you systemic control, yet it lets you wait and see. Result: maximum insect control at minimum cost.

Get Bidrin from your pesticide supplier. Many brands available.

Always read and follow label directions. For more information write: Shell Chemical Company, Agricultural Chemicals Division, Post Office Box 2099, Houston 1, Texas.

Maintain control with endrin-methyl parathion

During squaring and fruiting, stay ahead of insects with endrin-methyl parathion. It knocks out boll worms and weevils plus many other insects—quickly and surely. Gives you maximum length of control per spray, minimum number of sprays to do the job. Send for free, full-color booklet.

Let's Talk Politics

Every qualified tax payer in Floyd County should take time from household chores, business tasks... or get off the tractor, come into the various voting boxes this Saturday and indicate his interest in local, district and state government.

By now, it's pretty easy to see what each candidate stands for... either by his past record, or the platform set up by a proposed platform if elected.

In looking at the county sheriff's job, we have often wondered why in the world a man would seek this office. There is much risk of life involved, there is much responsibility to the people, there are many unhappy situations to be settled.

If you know much about the sheriff's job, you know that the salary is not especially enticing. So, it is evident that the man who seeks this office and honestly desires to be of service must have more in mind than the pay. We would hope that he feels a dedication to the job, and feels the need for a good man to protect the citizenry of this county.

Now, let's take a look at the commissioner's office. We would like to remind the voter that the person who seeks this job is most important for his business management ability in working with other county commissioners and the county judge in handling a considerable sum of tax money that is to be disbursed in a business like manner in behalf of the citizens in not just one precinct, but the entire county.

Many a voter will vote for a particular commissioner candidate because "he needs the job", because he is likeable, or because he knows how to grade roads. Of course we want a commissioner who can understand our problems on the precinct level and keeps the roads in good shape, but this is only a small item in the big job of being a part of the management of the entire county's business.

The county tax-assessor collector must operate an efficient office and because he is in an unpopular spot of collecting taxes, attempt to be personable and friendly with each customer. Every tax payer goes into his office with nothing in mind except, "Well, it's time to buy new license tags, and I can't afford it," or "this tax collector is getting the last of my fishing money. So, the tax assessor-collector has a big responsibility and problems to no end, yet he must be courteous and do his best to take care of the tax payer when he does show up with very little delay and plenty of good dependable clerks.

It should be noted that the county is in the best financial condition it has ever been in and has the most reasonable tax assessment for its residents of any county in this area of Texas. In fact, by 1972 almost all bonded indebtedness will be paid out.

We look at the governor's race in Texas and we see John Connally for another term. Under Governor Connally's administration, Texas has achieved important milestones of progress: control of loan sharks, health insurance for aged, plans for better education, new tourism program, better state parks, more training for jobs, protection against livestock screwworm, crusade against illiteracy, water resources development, a balanced budget with a surplus in the general fund for the first time in five years, and conduction of a businesslike legislative session.

The growing organization of the Republican party in this county and the state of Texas is good. Although we've never voted for a Republican we've got enough horse sense to realize that a better selection of qualified candidates is being developed at all levels of government as the people have a choice of party principles along with the qualification of the individual.

It is the "switch voter" (independent) who elects many of our public servants. This voter selects the man instead of the party and two strong parties in the state means a better selection of candidates.

For the first time the State Republican party has a full slate of candidates for Congress; a presidential preference poll; primary elections in all 254 counties; and possibly the highest number of voters in a GOP primary.

The Democrat party offers 27 candidates for 15 statewide contests.

No matter how you vote, the important thing is that you take time to show an interest in who represents your desires in government and so cast your vote Saturday. It has often been said, "if you don't vote you have no right to complain about what goes on in government."

An estimated 2,960,000 Texans are qualified to vote. The turnout is expected to total a record 1,800,000.

Our Future and Water

Distillation of sea water at a reasonable cost through the use of nuclear energy should be regarded as an essential investment for the future.

A recently concluded study dispels any doubts that the salty waters of the world's oceans can be converted at a cost which compares favorably with that of obtaining potable water from other sources.

That such efforts are needed can be seen by the growing requirements for water and the substantial drop of ground water tables in almost every part of the country.

The study, made by the University of California for the Office of Science and Technology, shows that a publicly financed nuclear powered plant with a daily capacity of 620 million gallons per day can produce water at a cost of 30 cents per thousand gallons, including conveyance to a reservoir.

The plant could also provide 1.4 million kilowatts of electricity daily, sufficient power to meet the needs of nearly two million people at the cost of 2.4 mills per kilowatt hour.

Cost of constructing such a plant is estimated at $840 million. But the future saving and critical need for such plants make such investment a necessity for the country's future growth.

Wallace's Vote

The amazing vote received by Governor George Wallace in Wisconsin reveals there is currently a groundswell of conservative sentiment in the country. It was apparent a major conservative trend was present in 1960, when the late President John Kennedy barely managed to squeak in, with all his campaign eloquence, organization and charm.

And it should be remembered that in 1960 the complexion of Congress turned more conservative in the election, not the reverse. Yet since that time all the emphasis in Washington has been on liberalization, more and more liberal legislation.

Is the nation in step with those pushing the trend? The Wisconsin vote causes one to doubt it. In spite of denials that the vote means something, quite obviously it was a bombshell and is significant.

The fact that a Dixie Governor, one not even a good image in more sophisticated Dixie States, could poll this outstanding number of votes (30 per cent) in a State like Wisconsin is almost unbelievable.

Had anyone wanted to bet on this, he could have obtained 100 to one odds prior to the voting Wallace himself said he would be tickled if he got 25,000 votes. He got more than ten times this number, more than a quarter million!

Conservative strength in the nation must be stronger than some politicians have assumed.

Frantic Drive For "Success"

Some thoughtful observers of the current scene are convinced that "the drive for success" is the greatest menace to the lives and health of modern Americans, particularly men. Pointing to the high mortality rate of American men, and to the vast number who suffer nervous breakdowns, the social analysts note that the majority are victims of ailments which, directly or indirectly, are related to the "rat race" in which most of us are involved. All too many Americans, they say, drive themselves so strenuously in their efforts to "get ahead" that they go to early graves, or else suffer nervous collapses which leave them permanently physical wrecks. Ask any one of these pushers what he is seeking and he invariably will answer: "Success."

The attainment of success has become a fetish with the American people. Our society penalizes those who fail to achieve what it calls success. Those who fall behind in the "rat race" are looked upon with pity, if not contempt. Or so the average man believes. And so he drives himself relentlessly, and either achieves "success" — which, more often than not, fails to make him happy—or ends up on the scrapheap, a broken and disillusioned individual.

This picture, drawn by many philosophical persons, may not be altogether true to life. Certainly, there are many who do not seek this false goal, but who lead lives of simplicity which are wholesome and rewarding. But there is enough truth in the theory advanced by the critics of our cul-

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

Dallas paper pointed out that the successful way of life does not necessarily involve the acquisition of wealth or the winning of power. Whether one who accumulates wealth is successful depends on how the wealth is used. And as for power, many who in the past have held great power, now are forgotten.

"The truly successful, or worthwhile life," says the News, "was described best by New York's famed minister, Harry Emerson Fosdick: 'If your neighborhood, your town or the world, if those around you are better off for your having lived on this earth, then you are a success'."

Then the newspaper sums it up in these words: "The truly great, those who are remembered for distinct contributions, had one thing in common: They did something for the good of others. They did the best with the talents and resources God gave them—but what they did in a constructive way was shared."

It would be difficult to find a better definition of success than is expressed in these words by Doctor Fosdick and the News. And it's a goal any sincere person can attain, irrespective of his material accomplishments.

Rains in the week since Wednesday night of last week that were most practical but also most welcome, helped to moisten and loosen up the soil of Floyd and other West Texas Counties in a four day period that lasted through Sunday night. At Floydada the rain measured 1.53.

After a month of work with men and machinery during which many tons of brick, steel and rubble have been removed from the old building, the new court house for Floyd County seems more realistic. It will be more so within the next week when men will start building instead of tearing down. The job is to be completed by the end of the year or early in 1965.

L. L. Jones and Lane Decker reached home Monday night from Rochester, Minn., where they have spent the last ten days. At their leaving Mrs. L. L. Jones was rallying satisfactorily following surgery at Mayo Clinic. Mrs. Decker remained with her mother until Mrs. Jones is able to make the trip home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Britton attended funeral rites in Fort Worth last Thursday for Mrs. Britton's uncle, Dr. N. C. Purcell, former resident of Floydada.

Martin Seeks Election To Amarillo Court Of Appeals

I ask you to elect me Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo. I make this request in the knowledge that the best interest of the Court and of the citizens of the district requires a change in the personnel of this Court.

I am a graduate of Lubbock High School and hold an LL.B. degree from the University of Texas School of Law. I have been actively engaged in the practice of law 29 years — 22 years in Lamb County and the South Plains area and 7 years in Amarillo and the Panhandle area. By diligence and loyalty to my clients' interest, I have built an excellent law practice in both areas. My clients and my record in the Courts of this District are my best recommendations. I also served on the Court of Civil Appeals and as Associate Justice wrote 176 opinions of which less than 7% were reversed. These opinions reflect the character of my judicial ability.

The Court of Civil Appeals is composed of a Chief Justice, a Senior Associate and a Junior Associate Justice. The Chief Justice and Junior Associate of the Court, no matter how diligent and capable, cannot carry the case work required of the Court if the other Associate devotes a large portion of his time to outside diversions. I served on this Court until December 31, 1956 and the docket was in good condition during that time. The docket of the Court was not only kept up to date but the Court disposed of many cases transferred to the Amarillo Court from the Dallas Court of Civil Appeals. Although the number of cases before the Court have not increased, this condition no longer exists. Instead other Courts are having to assist the Amarillo Court — thirteen cases were transferred from the Amarillo Court to the Waco Court of Civil Appeals on January 11, 1964.

More important than the mere number of cases disposed of by the Court is the type of justice under the law as reflected by the Court's opinions. In 1956, while I was on the Court, the majority of the Court, the then Chief Justice and my present opponent as well as the other Associate Justice, wrote an opinion styled "Stanley vs. Stanley, 294 S. W. 2d, Page 132". This case reflects that a 40-year-old career army sergeant married a former school teacher who had been successful in the finance business. The sergeant contributed nothing to the marriage but the undisputed record discloses, in six years squandered $84,044.63 of the profits earned by his wife's business. He also squandered $41,911.13 of the dissolution of the marriage. It was the sergeant's theory the wife had mingled her earnings, as community property, with her separate capital, he was entitled to one-half of all remaining property owned by his wife. In the judgement of divorce, the trial court awarded the sergeant an additional sum of $29,881.89.

The wife appealed from the trial court's judgement and on appeal the Chief Justice and the other Associate Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, such Associate being now a candidate for election to the Court, agreed with the sergeant's theory and affirmed the judgement of the trial court awarding him the additional sum of $29,881.80. This opinion of the majority of the Court was directly contrary to the undisputed audit of a Certified Public Accountant who traced all funds and proved that all the wife's earnings had been squandered by the sergeant and a largely, Karrie, the oldest granddaughter, has chicken pox.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Graham made a trip to Lovington, N. Mex. Saturday week.

Come to church Sunday.

ge part of her original capital and that her earnings were not mingled with her capital. As an Associate Justice of the Court, based on this audit and the applicable law, I wrote a dissenting opinion holding that the sergeant was only entitled to his equity in a 1955 Station Wagon owned by him at the time of the marriage.

Other similar and equally inequitable opinions were rendered by the Court acting as a majority and on which I dissented, but the above opinion is discussed here because the same reflects clearly and unequivocally the opposite points of view on the duty of the Court as held by me and my opponent for Associate Justice. The most essential element of every judgement of the Court of Civil Appeals should be justice under the law and facts. If the citizens of this district will take a few minutes' time to go to a lawyer's office and read the Stanley opinion, I am confident I will be elected to the Court of Civil Appeals by an overwhelming majority vote.

As a member of such Court, I never have and I never shall subscribe to the proposition that justice under the law and a citizen's property rights should be bartered for political favors. No Court judgement should dissipate an elderly person's savings of a lifetime where the basis of such judgement is strained and superficial ruling under a highly technical theory not supported by the evidence. The personal rights of every citizen and the property rights of every citizen have always been a sacred trust of the Courts. This essential and vital element of our judicial system should not be lightly cast aside in order to favor a friend or political supporter. Chief Justice James Denton and Associate Justice Alton B. Chapman were not members of the Court when the Stanley case was determined. I am certain they subscribe to the principles I have set forth herein.

I ask every citizen to support me on the principles enunciated herein. I particularly ask every citizen whom I have ever represented to give me in the coming campaign the same untiring loyalty and effort toward my interests that I have exhibited over the many years of my public life. I am a citizen that their party shall be supported. I shall reflect credit upon such Court.

Sincerely,

Jim Langdon Favors More Oil Production

AUSTIN — Land owners were assured this week by Railroad Commissioner Jim C. Langdon that he favors greater oil production in Texas.

Although the Railroad Commission cannot consider prices (only physical waste), he said, it was logical to assume that the greater the production the bigger the royalty checks for several hundred thousand land owners in the state.

However, if production exceeds demand, then the price of oil decreases. Any excessive now production, such as occurred in the '50's in East Texas when oil sold for 10 cents a barrel, will cut deeply into the checks received by owners of mineral rights in land from which Texas' oil and gas are produced, Langdon said.

"A market demand law prevents the production of more oil than can be sold," Langdon said. "This guards against economic waste by instituting a system of sound conservation."

Langdon repeated this week that he is opposed to excessive foreign imports, but unfortunately imports are controlled by the federal government, and not by the Texas Railroad Commission. He said he was against federal control of petroleum.

"The platform that my opponent in this race is advocating amounts to a program of deliberate waste. It is a program of anti-conservation that would depress oil prices and certainly have an economic effect in all parts of the state," Langdon said.

As for lower crude prices making gasoline cheaper to consumers, Langdon said the opposite effect would result. "Many independent operators are having a hard time staying in business at present prices," Langdon said. "We would have fewer and fewer companies controlling more and more of our oil, thereby creating a monopoly-type situation."

Experience is something to be purchased if it is to be worth having.

LAKEVIEW NEWS by Mrs. Warner Johnson

Interscholastic League Meets Change

LAKEVIEW, April 21 — How time is flying. School will be out before we know it. Those of us who have our last one leaving school are even sadder than when our first one started. Mothers, do you remember? How many remember when the interscholastic league meets were the big high light of the year. We all took our lunches and boarded the school bus and headed for Spar or Dickson or a bigger thrill was when the big to-do was at our home town of McAdoo. Guess you realize by now I am a McAdoo-ite. We competed in spelling, picture memory, declamation, story telling, music memory, etc. Each of those things were in several grade groups so it took a long hard day. We came home dead tired but up early and ready to go again the next day for the outside events. About the only thing I was in that day was baseball and the only reason I was on the team was because there wasn't enough girls without me. I'm sure they could have played much better without me.

KNOW YOUR INSECT ENEMY

MIGRATING WEEVILS

The boll weevil, most widely publicized and one of the most destructive insects, is a neorodent vagabond! Immortalized in the black bug came up from Mexico, just looking for a home, so it was claimed. But its insatiable quest for cotton showed it was no home-body. It marched through most of the cotton belt leaving a wake of hardship and famine, and proved to be a hopeless migrant.

A native of the New World tropics, where cotton first came into cultivation, the boll weevil meandered northwest through Mexico and crossed the Rio Grande River near Brownsville, Texas in 1892. By 1894, it had a foothold in six counties in the Lower Rio Grande Valley of Texas.

Fancy migratory footwork helped the scourge of the Old South's plantation economy to advance 40 to 160 miles a year until it had infested more than 85 percent of the cotton belt by 1922. The rapid advance caused the staple crop to fail, loss of farm credit and former aristocratic families to become needy following the collapse of the cotton economy. Farms were deserted, gins and oil mills closed, railroads were interrupted, merchants went bankrupt and banks failed.

The boll weevil today continues to spread and look for new fields to conquer as it slowly moves into the High Plains area of Texas and tries for a foothold in New Mexico. Long-range migration isn't this bug's only specialty. It also deals in short hops after hibernation. Adults overwinter in old cotton burs, under field trash, in cotton houses, barns and other buildings; and they are also fond of sleeping under loose boards and shingles, along edges of woods.

In Spanish moss on trees and many other protected places near the cotton fields. Adults begin to emerge from hibernation as the weather becomes warm. After emergence they may travel considerable distances to locate fields. They become established in the fruiting cotton and are contented weevils until late in the season when juicy squares become scarce. At this time, they spread out extensively, taking flight by short stages that may total 20 to 50 miles or more. As cold weather approaches, old Mr. Weevil goes back to bed to await the coming of spring. Migrating boll weevils no longer cast a shadow of gloom over the cotton grower's future. Today he puts the quietus on the weevil with insecticides like the new carbamate, called Sevin, that controls even the toughest ones that are developing resistance to some of the older pesticides. Growers report that Sevin insecticide gives long-lasting and safer control of boll weevils than many other cotton pests throughout the season. Cotton producers will continue to keep the weevil on the move with good cropping practices and effective control materials. F.N.S.

SOUTHWESTERN PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

New Prometryne herbicide works wonders for Texas cotton

Prometryne® 80W brings a new dimension to cottonweed control in the South Plains. It offers a one-herbicide program that will take care of most weeds from planting to picking. Apply Prometryne preemergence or post-emergence or at layby, or at all three times if weed conditions so dictate.

Gets tough weeds...including carelessnessweed

Three years of research by State and Federal researchers in Texas proved the effectiveness of Prometryne in controlling most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in cotton. It does an outstanding job, for example, in handling carelessnessweed (pigweed).

Versatility of application

Prometryne is extremely versatile. You can use it as preemergence spray at planting. You can use it as a directed postemergence spray after both weeds and cotton are up. You can spray it at layby to control weeds through the rest of the season. Use it once, twice, three times...whatever weed conditions dictate.

How Prometryne works

Applied preemergence, Prometryne is carried into the soil by rainfall or overhead irrigation. It is absorbed by germinating weed roots and soon after weeds break ground, they die. No need to work Prometryne into soil. Applied after weeds are up, Prometryne kills by direct action on weed foliage and through roots.

Safe to use

Prometryne is safe to cotton when used according to label directions. It leaves no residues in cotton seed. It is safe to handle and non-irritating to humans and animals. A fall seeded crop should not be planted in the same year following the application of Prometryne 80W.

Available this spring

Since this is the introductory year for Prometryne, only limited quantities are available. Plan to make a preemergence application to at least a portion of your acreage at planting. Then follow through with postemergence and/or layby treatments if necessary. See what outstanding, economical weed control you can have.

To order Prometryne, or for more information, contact your supplier, or: Geigy Agricultural Chemicals, Division of Geigy Chemical Corporation, Saw Mill River Road, Ardsley, N.Y. 10502

Floyd Philosopher Finds What He Thinks To Be The Solution To The Farm Problem

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm gets enthusiastic over a new farm bill in his letter this week. Dear editor:

After long years of reading every proposed solution to the farm problem that any of the experts ever brought up, not so much to see what their solution was but to see if they knew what the problem is, I have finally found what very easily could be the real answer to the farm problem. According to an article I read this morning while I was waiting to see if my tractor was going to decide to star, an expert in Washington has proposed that Congress pass two farm bills, one for commercial farmers and one for low-income farmers. The more money you make, the less help you get, and vice versa, especially the latter.

That's the answer, except that I'd like to see written into the bills the absolute guarantee that each farmer could decide for himself what category he comes under. I don't want any expert in an office in Washington telling me whether I'm a commercial farmer or a low-income farmer, and I don't want any complicated set of rules defining me.

Furthermore, and this is the most important provision I want included, a farmer shouldn't be required to classify himself until the year is over.

It's no trick at all to start the year off in January as a commercial farmer and wind up in December as the other kind.

You just can't look at a man's farm, the number of acres in it, the sort of house he lives in, the kind of car he drives, and tell for sure whether's commercial or low-income at the moment. About as many people drive to the bank in new cars as old to have their notes extended.

I hope you'll use your influence if you can find it somewhere there in the office to get these two bills passed, but understand I don't look for any action until the civil rights issue is settled. I hope we both live that long.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.
