The Republican voted 75 Saturday compared with 139 a year ago.

In the statewide picture, the local Democrats were with the rest of the State by giving approval to over Robert Baker for Congressman - at - The Republicans, on the other hand, differed the remainder of their party by voting almost for Cox, while the state GOP favored Bush very ER local election has been... it took two run-off elections to elect a three-commissioner county tax assessor-collector to determine who would fill the positions. Congratulations to Carl J. Payne on winning the two very important and condescending to J. K. West, who showed... but not enough.

He opened the absentee list and it was evident that it was a close race on the tax assessor office as each party had 27 votes.

Interesting to note that in the run-off election the Republican side of the County had 22 followers. He received 22 in the primary and 12 in the run-off.

of loyal followers. He mentioned that he always received votes in the Good... and this proved to be a doctor? I am St.

Tech Professors Differ In Identifying "Whatsit"

Detailed studies of white fragmentary material deposited by the "Whatsit" which fell - or struck - a cotton field on the Doolittle farm 2 1/2 miles east of Plainview, May 11, have produced different opinions among Texas Tech science professors called in on the enigma.

Dr. William T. Parry, assistant professor of geo science, stated that to date no positive identification of extra-terrestrial (outer-space) material has been made.

If the occurrence on the Milton farm was the result of a meteorite impact, Dr. Parry explained, the meteor "burned completely up."

Dr. Parry stated that an alternative opinion, which he supports, is that the mysterious holes were produced by lightning striking the ground, called a "fulgerite."

"However, he continued 'Most fulgerites are smaller than those on the Milton farm.'

Dr. Parry added that a geophysicist, Dr. Sherbert, who has been working on the tests, was of the opinion that the "Whatsit" was a meteorite. "But I don't agree with him," Parry said. "I believe it was a fulgerite."

When questioned as to whether or not he would continue to pursue tests for identification of the object, Dr. Parry answered, "I have concluded by studies, but there may be others here (Tech) who are interested in making further tests."

Evidence of the visit of the "Whatsit" was found by an employee on the Milton farm.

"Something" left a peculiar hole in the field, 18 inches in diameter, surrounded by smaller holes which gave the appearance of having been drilled.

Only evidence left for study and identification was a fragmentary white residue clinging to the sides of the holes. Poking into the holes with long wires revealed nothing at their termination. Digging and turning side channels or cracks produced no evidence as to what brought about the phenomena.

Whatever the "Whatsit" was, it left no identifying marks and did a thorough job of destroying evidence identifying the culprit; and, in this case, there is not much possibility of criminal's returning to the scene of the crime.

At Della Plains it approved an increase in the size of principal Wilson's office by using part of the adjoining typing room. Wilson will do the work. The board also granted purchase of metal library shelving, new desks for Mrs. Taylor's room, 75 lockers for the high school students, curtains for the stage and tables for the cafeteria and library at Della Plains.

At the grade school the board continued study of the need for six more classrooms and will have a called meeting next Monday night to give more consideration to a decision on this big problem.

Wheat Fires Extinguished On Two Farms

Two wheat farms caught fire Tuesday morning that were eventually extinguished by the local fire department, in a relatively quiet week for the department.

The first occurred about 9:00 a.m. and was on the Large Bender Farm about 7 miles south of Floyd.

Whatever the "Whatsit" was, it left no identifying marks and did a thorough job of destroying evidence identifying the culprit; and, in this case, there is not much possibility of criminal's returning to the scene of the crime.

Council Works Through Light Agenda Here

The city council at its regular meeting Tuesday night in the City Hall waded through a relatively light agenda, although it was time consuming.

One of the most time consuming items was the appearance of three members, Fire Chief Elvis Warren, Jerry Finley and Bob Giles of the volunteer fire department who wanted to make it known that the appointment of a fire chief by any city official, or the city council is in conflict with their by-laws, which are approved by the State Board of Fire Underwriters. The fire department charter specifically states that a fire chief shall be elected "from the department by a majority vote of the department."

Floyd County Cotton Lint Production High

According to a recent release by the Plains Cotton Growers comparing cotton production of the 23 high plains counties, Floyd county's per acre lint production ranked second only to Parmer County in 1963. Floyd's average was 610 pounds per acre and Parmer's was 618.

The release shows the 1963s acre planted, acres harvested production, average yield and compared with the 1962 average yield.

The twenty-three High Plains counties produced 2,077,750 bales of cotton (500 pounds gross) from 2,073,600 harvested acres in 1963 for an average of just over a bale to the acre, including bagging and ties. In lint count, however, the average came to only 654 pounds, which compares with the 1962 average of 483 pounds, lint per acre.

The report taken from Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service in its annual "Texas Cotton Statistics" bulletin shows Floyd planted 88,000 acres of which only 94,000 were harvested. The final bale count showed 52,600 bales produced or an average lint yield per acre of 610 pounds. (Bale weight based on 500 pounds.) This figure compares with 578 pounds of lint per acre in 1962.

It was interesting to note that the average yield per acre for the twenty-three counties was 64 pounds, well above the Texas average of 362 but below the U.S. average of 516.

Mrs. W. Luther Fry, longtime resident of Floydada, died in Peoples Hospital Sunday afternoon following a stroke suffered on Old Settlers Day, May 28th. Mrs. Fry had been in failing health since suffering an earlier stroke in 1960. She was affectionately known to her many friends as "Bill."

Registered Nurses Needed For June Immunization Clinic

According to Dr. James Jordan, County Health Officer, there will be an immunization clinic in the Community Room of the First National Bank Building Saturday, June 20, from 2 until 5 p.m. Another will be held a month later and each month through November.

All the registered nurses that are available are urged to attend the clinic and render their services.

The purpose of the clinic is to vaccinate, mainly, the migratory workers children of the community who have never had any form of vaccination. However, no one will be turned away if they desire the medication.

The shots to be given include Diphtheria, Pertussis (Whooping Cough), Tetanus, (DPT Series), and Smallpox.

On hand to help with the vaccinations will be Dr. Jordan, and Mrs. Geneva M. Shropshire of the Texas State Department of Health. She specializes in the Texas "State-Wide" Migrant Health project.

All volunteer help available is requested for the project. The Hospital Auxiliary is being asked to help.

Dr. Jordan asks that every farmer, or other person working a migrant hand, give him this information, and if at all possible see to it that his family can get into town and go to the clinic.

Although migrants are the ones sought, any county resident is eligible.

The State of Texas will be furnishing the vaccine.

Age groups are those from infancy through 10-12 years of age.

According to Mrs. Wesley Carr, the Sabin Polio Vaccine will also be available. There will be 2 doses taken 2 months apart that include vaccine types 1, 2 and 3.

Mrs. Carr said that a number of people have taken only type 1 or type 2, and think they are immune to all types. However, they are not, for each type of vaccine immunizes a person against a certain type of polio, and there are three types.

A number of the migrant workers, and Floyd County has its share of them, have never had any form of immunization. Neither the Sabin Polio Vaccine or the DPT shots, which is a series.

The next clinic will be held July 18, and the next to last Saturday of each month after that.

IN EXPORT COTTON PROGRAM

Good Participation By Floyd County Farmers

According to the Floyd County ASCS Officials, about 351 County farmers signed for the Export Cotton Acres Program, which is a relatively high percent for the new program. About 1,645.0 acres were signed through Monday afternoon, the deadline for signing for the program.

Those who participate may plant cotton acres up to 5 percent in excess of their normal allotment and sell this cotton on the open world market through exports.

Most of the cotton buyers either now have export connections or surely will have before any of the cotton in the county is harvested.

Participating farmers are required to post a bond of about $100 per bale, based on their normal yield, for acres they will grow for export. The bond will then be refunded when growers furnish proof that the extra cotton was sold to an export buyer.

Bonds are required within 15 days after the application for acreage.

The South Plains cotton growers are taking to the world market plan with purpose, contrary to the farmers in smaller, less productive areas. In these, quite often the full allotment allowed the farms is not used and is turned back to the government for re-appointment. Each year the Floyd County farmers pick up several hundred acres of unused allotments from other Texas growers, to whom cotton growing is not a primary business.

At present the world market price for cotton is 24 cents, and those selling on the world market are taking quite a chance, but Floyd farmers are vying for that chance.

This year they are limited to 5 percent, a figure set arbitrarily because the cotton program was late being approved. In 1965 the date for excess acreage sign-up is expected to be advanced early enough to determine how many farmers the nation over want the added acres.

The amount not used will be apportioned the same as excess acrea allotments are re-distributed. South Plains farmers stand to double the number of export acres in another year.

The export acres will be measured along with the farmer's regular allotments, and will not be separated by fields or any way in growing. When the production records for all the 1964 crops are brought into the ASCS Office the export percentage will be figured in exact pounds. This amount must be sold into direct export channels. When proof of this sale is furnished, the producer's bond will be released to him.

The bond actually is set at 20 1/2 cents per pound for the export acres, based on past yields of the cotton area on which the acreage is grown.

Farm Bureau-Farmers Union Battle Looms On The Horizon

WASHINGTON — Farm interest in the national capital is centering on what is taking on the character of a campaign by rival organizations to weaken the influence of the American Farm Bureau Federation among farmers and congressmen.

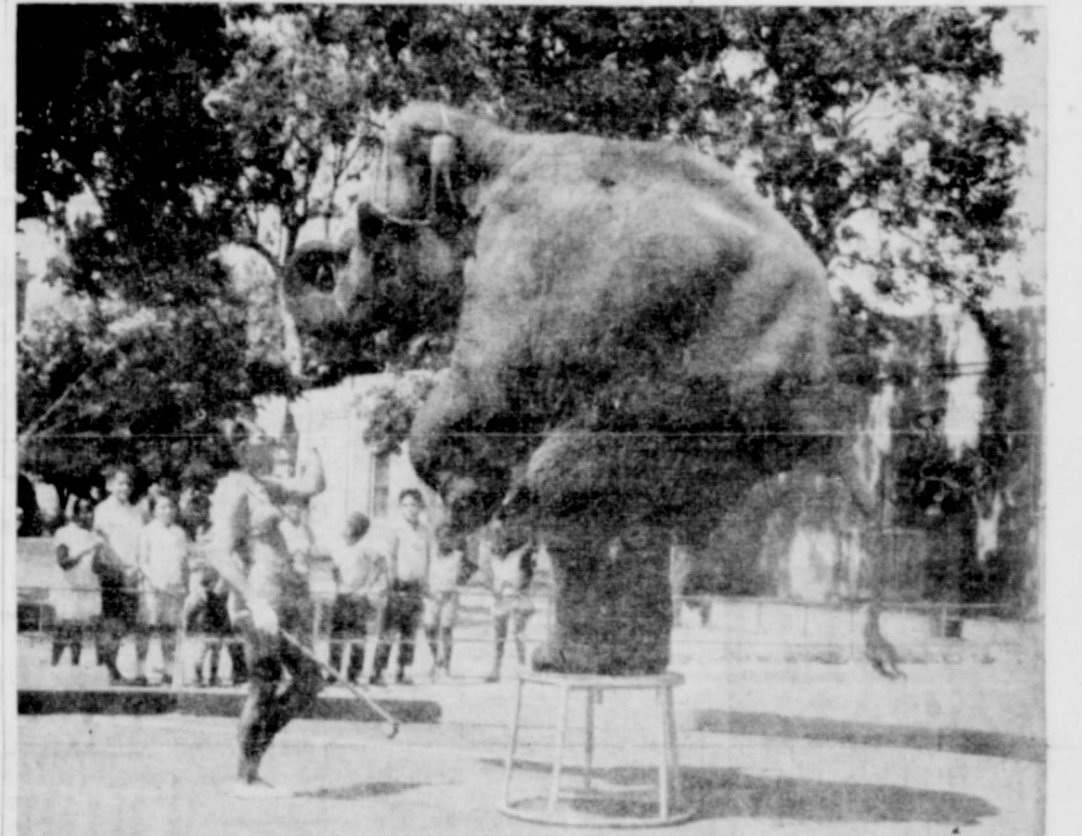

The effort started during the congressional battle over the administration's recently enacted wheat and cotton bill and has continued since. The Farm Bureau fought the legislation which had the support of most other national general farm groups.

Young Crops

Normally, one would welcome the hot "cotton" weather the area has been receiving lately, except that the young crops are too young and tender to stand the intensive heat long, especially when coupled with fifty mile-per-hour winds that literally burn the plants.

The last week has been particularly hard on the crops because of the wind and temperatures that have soared into the 95-100 degree area.

 It was interesting to note in the Republican race for U. S. Senator between George W. Bush, and Jack Cox that, although Bush lost in the County, he had 22 faithful supporters. In the May 2 primary Cox was favored in the county election 102 to 22. Last Saturday Cox lost some support but Bush didn't gain any. The tally showed in the June 6 balloting Cox 53 and Bush 22.

Statewide, however, it was a different story on the Republican scene for Bush won an overwhelming majority over his opponent for the Senate seat.

In the local Assessor-Collector's race the absentee ballots were split 31-31.

 no balance from day to day, and allowed you to keep no cash in your account, and every morning cancelled what ever amount you had failed to use during the day, what would you do?

Naturally, you would draw out ever cent everyday. It would be the only good business principal to follow, wouldn't it??

There is such a bank and it's name is "Time". Every morning it credits you with 86,400 seconds. Every night it cancels the number of seconds you have failed to put to good use. It carries no balances. It allows no overdrafts. Each day it opens up a new account for you, and each night burns the records of that day. If you fail to use these deposits by the time it is yours alone. There is no going back and there is no drawing against tomorrow. You have to live on today's deposits. Be sure you use it wisely so that you can receive the ultimate in success.

IT IS REPORTED that a farmer by the name of J. B. Robertson, who lives out on the other side of McCoy is harvesting wheat that is making 57 bushels per acre! I am sure that this kind of yield compares very nicely with cotton profits, or may even be better.

Any reports of a better wheat crop than this?

JUST WHEN a fellow thinks he knows a few things, along comes the report of coin operated wash and grease business coming to Floydada and he does not know how one works.
 Fact is, I haven't even been close to one of these coin operated car wash businesses, but I have seen a few at a distance. I did visit with a fellow by the name of Randy Hollums this week though, who has used one and he said they're pretty nice when you need a quick car wash and don't mind doing the job yourself. I believe he said you put in your quarter for a period of five minutes you can wash your car with this highly pressured soapy and rinse water.

I understand they are highly successful around college campuses and apartment houses where no back yards and water hoses are available and the motorist finds the coin operated system pretty handy.

"YES, but what hat?"
 Lubbock's Sylvan Dunn made the featured speech for the Old Settlers and returned to his home. In a few days Maude Hollums wrote him a letter expressing her thanks for his coming to Floydada and asked, "how did you like the hat?"

Sylvan wrote back and asked, "what hat?"
 It seems that Mrs. Hollums had bought the hat for the speaker, then became ill and when Old Settler's day came along she was in the local hospital . . . and no one presented the hat to Sylvan.

Well, Sylvan was back in Floydada Tuesday and Mrs. Hollums went to the back of her abstract office and found the hat she had purchased and gave it to him.

Generous Husband
 "I believe my husband is the most generous man on earth."
 "How's that?"
 "Well, I gave him a dozen of the loveliest ties for Christmas, and he took them right down and gave them to the Salvation Army."

Floyd County Farm Bureau Queen's Contest Set July 9 In Floydada

The annual Farm Bureau Queen's Contest will be held in Floydada July 9 in the high school auditorium. The deadline for all entries is July 1.

Those wishing to sponsor a girl in the contest, or any girl needing a sponsor, should contact Mrs. Jerry Williams, in Lockney, or Mrs. Don Probasco, in Floydada. All entries will be submitted at the Floyd County FB Office.

Last year's entry from Floyd County, Miss Judi Shurbet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Shurbet of Petersburg, went on to win the state title and attended the National Farm Bureau Convention in Chicago. Judi recently clipped publicize June as National Dairy Month in newspapers and magazines across the state of Texas. She will also attend the State FFA Convention in San Antonio, July 16, 17, and 18.

All clubs and businesses are encouraged to sponsor a candidate in this contest. Sponsors are asked only to lend encouragement and support to the contestant . . . no flowers or gifts.

To be eligible for the contest a girl must be the daughter or sister of a Farm Bureau member, actively engaged in agricultural production and membership should be in the county of participation.

She must be single and at least 16 by September 1, 1964 and not over 22, September 1, 1964. Previous state winners are not eligible.

The girls are to be judged on grace, poise, charm, vivaciousness . . . and all the other qualities that go to make up winsome Texas future homemakers.

Ralph Johnston Jr. And Mac Willson At Boys State

Ralph Johnston, Jr., and Mac Willson are among the 718 high school boys from Throughout the state who began registration June 4 at the University of Texas, Attorney General Waggoner Carr, chairman of the youth program, has announced. The boys are sponsored by the local American Legion Posts.

Upon arrival at the University of Texas Campus, each citizen was assigned to one of two political parties—the Longhorn or Pioneer. Each citizen then functions as a member his party; he attends its conventions, caucuses and votes in its primary.

In Boys State, The American

Legion provides the type of program where the young citizen has the opportunity to learn for himself that the government is just what he makes it. The boys "learn to do by doing."

The winner of the County Contest will then compete at Lubbock in district competition and, if successful, will enter the state contest.

"I Disqualify Myself"

Much could be said about the American system of justice and one very important phase of the trial by jury element of justice is the questioning of the prospective juror by both attorneys.

The prospective juror is asked, "do you have any opinion one way or the other concerning this case?" In this manner the person on trial has a better chance for a fair judgement by a jury that has no preconceived ideas about his guilt or innocence and will honestly hear the case in its full detail and make a decision on this basis.

Floyd county people have witnessed two such instances in the past year. District Judge L. D. Ratliff disqualified himself from hearing the Floydada school suit. Judge Alton B. Chapman who is now on the court of civil appeals in Amarillo disqualified himself from hearing an appeal on the same suit.

No doubt each judge has been criticized for disqualifying himself. Yet, it should be remembered that if a judge honestly believes that he already has a preconceived idea as to the judgment of the suit . . . or if he is biased for or against either of the parties, he should not be sitting in the seat of judgment in fairness to everyone concerned.

There is some similarity between being a judge and an umpire at a baseball game. A judge makes his decision and no explanation is forthcoming as to why he decided as he did. The umpire makes a decision and there's no explanation necessary . . . he calls the play as he sees it, and his decision is law . . . in fact a judge has often been referred to as a "referee!"

Perhaps the persons who have criticized both of the above mentioned judges for disqualifying themselves can now better understand their reasons for such decisions.

Irresistible Urge Of Man Still Remains Unexplainable

The tragic deaths in the Speedway Memorial Day race raise the question in the minds of many: What's gained by the deaths of the racers? How is science advanced? What good comes from it all?

Not generally squeamish about a little blood-letting, bruised muscle and broken bones, in an inexplainable degree the deaths of this Memorial Day race have put a damper on this scribe's buoyancy and zest for the happiness to be found in any and every day. Downhearted, depressed are good terms in this connection.

When we read of a young father with young children, a life snuffed out, in the dangerous competition, we wonder anew.

The daring of a young nephew, who had to explore unknown caves, guide with an armed party exploring scientists in wilds of South America, climb mountains, stunt with airplanes and parachutes, "knife" fish in swift races of a power plant, ride bulls in his university rodeo, and finally be washed to pieces in a test flight of a one-man glider, falling at the feet of his father, and two younger brothers, is recalled.

How the preacher said: "Mornin' for Charles. He was following an irresistible urge. He was doing what he most wanted to do. One moment in ecstasy and the next in eternity."

These young men generally take calculated risks, as they see it. The veterans are those who survive, who have calculated correctly and have learned by trial and error the "safest" way for them to engage in the daring, the spectacular.

Some do the daring from an irresistible urge; some build themselves up to it, and enter with trepidation and the misgivings.

One who has not felt the irresistible urge to do the daring, doesn't know what an impelling force it is.

Why did a young soldier, hearing from a returning patrol of a young "poulet" seen in a desert village in World War I, simply have to have that poulet in his skillet?

Why crawl out into no-man's-

Future Facing Dropouts

We can't vouch for the accuracy of the figures, but there are available estimates of normal lifetime earnings of people with variable educational attainments. The estimates are unimpeachable, but, too, they are backed by enough dependable statistics that one may be assured they are valid for the purposes of demonstrating that there is some difference in the earnings.

There is a great difference. To this scribe, the monetary value of a good education is of lesser importance than the aesthetic values, the satisfaction one has in attaining this status, and the more challenging life.

A high school dropout faces prospects of unemployment, a low-paying job, and a lifetime of meager income, according to the Economic Research Service.

Getting a good job without a high school education is practically impossible.

To educate the dropouts from 14 to 19 years of age who have already completed one year of high school would be very expensive. In 1960 one and a half million of our youths were in this category. If the average figure of $472 per year for educating a high school student is applied to that number, the cost figure of $1.4 billion would be required.

Dropouts generally seek employment in the centers. With poor qualification the dropout is likely to be hired on a low-paying job. Let's look at the monetary angle. U. S. Bureau of the Census studies indicate that additional education sharply increases lifetime earnings. Based on these studies, the table below shows the estimated earnings during the working year of a normal lifetime for people of various educational levels.

Education	Estimated earnings
4 years of college	$38,000
1-2 years of college	30,000
4 yrs. of high school	16,000
1-2 yrs. of high school	13,000
8th grade education	11,000
5-7 yrs. elementary	8,000
1-4 yrs. elementary	7,000
No education	5,000

There's no use preaching to the dropouts. But, if the average youth with intelligence enough to complete high school, were presented with the figures of $165,000 as likely earnings with 4 years of high school and $116,000 with an 8th grade education, he'd be willing to sacrifice a bit and to dig hard for that 46,000 difference.

And, that $103,000 lifetime difference between high school diploma and college diploma would buy a lot of creature comforts and quite a bit of luxuries, to say nothing of the satisfaction, pride and self-respect.

How About That?

In testimony before a Congressional committee hearing on the proposal to link medicare with the social security program, a government planner inadvertently divulged the real reason why government planners are for such socialistic legislation.

A member of Congress asked this witness why it was necessary to tie the medicare package into social security when many senior social security recipients are well able to afford to pay for their own medical care.

After evading the issue several times, the government planner was finally pinned down, and gave this answer: because people don't know how to spend their own money wisely!

Floyd Philosopher Claims Two Easiest Jobs Are Poll Taking And Weather Predicting

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass reflects on certain job opportunities in his letter this week.

Dear Editor:

For two of the easiest jobs I can think of, I'll nominate public opinion poll taking and long range weather forecasting.

Take public opinion surveys. Out in California last week these experts, after going through their complex soundings, were predicting how the Californians would vote in a presidential preferential election, and they said that considering only the voters who had made up their minds, Rockefeller would beat Goldwater.

As everybody knows, it was the other way around when the votes were counted, but the public opinion pollsters were left untarnished because they'd already said they weren't predicting how the undecided voter would vote.

On this basis, I can sit here on this Johnson grass farm and take a public opinion poll of any place on earth, and can predict for example that Cassius Clay will be elected dictator of Cuba, excluding the 89 per cent of the voters who haven't made up their minds yet.

Or take long range forecasting. I just forecasted a drought. I don't know if you and one of the other will be better than me. If I could get a key for one and you know I could be pretty fair to you. In half a year you'll have to predict for next year for the next any time I see you in half a day. I'm not even better than you to do a half year's forecast.

If I could get a key for one and you know I could be pretty fair to you. In half a year you'll have to predict for next year for the next any time I see you in half a day. I'm not even better than you to do a half year's forecast.

HIS THIRD CADILLAC... HIS FIRST NEW ONE!

This man is enjoying his first brand-new Cadillac—after becoming acquainted with the car's unsurpassed value by twice buying used Cadillacs.

He learned that a late model used Cadillac gave him more standard equipment and engineering advancements than most new cars.

First of all, while Cadillac's styling was continually refined, it never lost the clean, dignified look that says Cadillac and Cadillac alone. The smooth, quiet performance and complete reliability of his used Cadillac was a constant source of enjoyment. Then, too, he and his family enjoyed luxury and comfort to a degree reserved exclusively for Cadillac owners.

The pride of ownership of so distinctive a car is never-ending pleasure, for he had the satisfaction always—of knowing he drove the finest.

When it came time to trade his previously used Cadillac for a later model, he found its value had remarkably high . . . and returned a substantial part of his original investment.

So what could be more natural—or wise—than make the eventual move to a new Cadillac?

New or used, there is no finer motoring investment than a Cadillac. And new or used, your authorized dealer has one to fit any budget. There's never a better time to invest in the finest of them all.

Dairy Products Head June Plentiful List

COLLEGE STATION — "June is bustin' out all over." And milk and dairy products are "bustin' out," too, for "June Lairy Month," reports the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The normal seasonal abundance of such items as cottage cheese, cream and milk is expected again this year. And both cheese and milk production rank above last year.

Also look for plentiful supplies of beef; early summer vegetables, especially onions; and canned pink salmon.

Beef in abundance is expected to continue into June, with about 6 percent more fed cattle reaching marketable weight during this quarter, than in the same period of 1963, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture whose Marketing Service compiles the monthly plentiful foods list.

Seasonal increases of vegetable supplies from commercial producing areas also are anticipated. Such items as onions, leafy greens, green beans, radishes and sweet corn are expected to be plentiful.

Unusually good catches of pink salmon in Alaska, Washington and Oregon during the last three years have enabled processors to accumulate large supplies of canned salmon. Retail prices are particularly favorable now.

Grandchild Of Pascal Sterling Dies In Wreck

(Editor's note: The Hesperian received a note and news clipping from Mrs. Wanda Ashby, daughter of Pascal Sterling, telling of the death of her 6 year old son. It is the second child she has lost in car wrecks.)

Charles Roger Ashby, 6-year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon W. Ashby of 1101 A Avenue M in Plano, was killed in a two-car collision at the intersection of Dallas North Parkway and the West Service road in Plano. The accident occurred about 8:30 a.m. Wednesday morning.

Young Ashby was riding with Mrs. Helen Brazil, a teacher in the day school south of the accident site, when the youth was in collision with a car driven by Mrs. Annette Flowers of 5236 McShann, Dallas. The driver of this car was going west. Young Ashby was thrown from the car and was pronounced dead on arrival at a local medical clinic.

Justice of the Peace E. L. Sherrill, who made the inquest, returned a verdict of accidental death.

Both ladies received only minor injuries.

Charles Roger Ashby was born in Dallas December 30, 1957 and at the time of his tragic death was six years four months and 13 days old. He was a son of Vernon W. Ashby and Mrs. Wanda N. Sterling Ashby.

Surviving are his parents; sister, Mrs. Jimmy Fry of Plano and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Kirby Ashby and Pat Sterling, all of Plano, and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Roland of Lubbock.

THE DEPENDABLES: SUCCESS CARS OF '64

Not all leaders are born some are made

The rather handsome car above is what you might call a two-time winner. Dodge led the nation in percentage sales increase last year and continues to set and smash these lofty sales marks in 1964. It's also called a 1964 Dodge. Or the low-priced car that doesn't look like one or feel like one. People who have bought one, and who, incidentally, are trading in all kinds of other cars in record numbers, say they like: 1. The looks. 2. The roomy and rather posh interiors. 3. The extra savings of its famous Slant Six.

4. The lively V8 that goes on regular gas. 5. The self-adjusting brakes and 32,000-mile interval between major grease jobs. 6. The solid way it's put together — with a fully unitized, rust-protected body. 7. The price (right with Ford and Chevy).

If these seem like pretty good reasons for buying a car, join the swinging trend-setters who are changing the look and feel of the low-price field. You'll find them at your Dependable Dodge Dealer's.

Assist Low-Income Family Farmers, Cut Aid To Corporate Farm, RAD Says

The Rural Areas Development (RAD) Advisory Committee has recommended that the Federal Government extend more help to the family-type and low-income farmers and provide less assistance to "industrialized or factory farms."

For low-income full and part-time farmers, the Committee recommended that Federal agencies expand (1) job-training for off-farm employment, (2) better and more complete education for the children, (3) assistance in developing other land uses, such as farmland recreation, and (4) "grants and loans of sufficient size" to enable the farmer to earn a satisfactory income. For the subsistence farmer, the Committee recommended greater educational opportunity for children, the Food Stamp Program, welfare and service programs, training programs, and grants.

Turning to RAD's role in the war on poverty, the Advisory Committee said it was "pleased to note that the anti-poverty bill" now before Congress contained many features the Committee recommended Last February.

During a brief electrical storm at Lockney about 3 p.m. Thursday, lightning struck the highest point on the First Baptist Church, with damage done only to ornamental structure, according to Rev. Gene Hawkins, pastor.

The incident occurred during a hard half-inch rain which fell in a matter of minutes.

Floyd County Noxious Weed Control News

During the month of May the Floyd County Noxious Weed Control District treated 94.25 acres of weeds; 50.15 of this was treated with soil sterilants; 15.4 highway and 8.6 A of county rights-of-way were included in the above treatment.

Douglas Degge, Supervisor of the District, reports that Dr. Allen F. Wiese, Agronomist of the Texas A & M, took the final analysis on the bur ragweed tests on May 13 which were conducted last year and they are well pleased with the results.

Of eight different hormone-type herbicides tested the low-volatile ester at 2 and 3 pounds per acre gave the highest percentage kill (88 percent). Dacamine-Dacamine and Amchem's Emulsamine gave the next best kill, being 77 percent at 2 pounds per acre. Other herbicides used were either too expensive for the results obtained or the percentage kill was too low to be recommended.

Both Wiese and Degge feel that if farmers will set up a spray program where the bur ragweed can be sprayed for three successive years that they can be eradicated. The Dacamine and Emulsamine are recommended for this area for they are not volatile. The District is behind in its spray program this year due to the extremely high winds, but since the weather has begun to settle some they are beginning to make some progress.

The annual auditor's report has been filed with County Clerks of office, also copies are available at the weed district's office.
