Amarillo Court Dismisses Appeal In Local School Suit

City Council Approves Purchase Of Water Chlorination System

The City Council approved the purchase of a water chlorination system for the city water supply at a special called meeting of the council Monday afternoon.

The step is deemed necessary to get a Hill-Burton grant of $25,000 for the proposed hospital to be built in Floydada. It was noted at the meeting that the chlorination system is necessary whether a hospital is built here or not for the health and welfare of the citizens of the city. However, the city must get the state health department to approve the city water supply before the hospital can be built.

The system decided upon by the council was recommended by the city engineer, Clarence Cooper of Parkhill, Smith and Wallace and Tiernan, Inc.; and the proposed cost, including installation would be $5,830.00.

It was mentioned at the meeting that any purchase made by the city totaling more than $2,000 requires that the city advertise for bids. However, when the health and welfare of the city is at stake, and a purchase is made out of current funds, the city need not advertise for bids.

Cooper said that if the city did advertise for bids, Wallace and Tiernan, Inc. would bid the same as the price quoted for the chlorination system alone of $3,797.00 that was submitted to the council. "Some firms may get below that bid, but we could not recommend some of them, for we've seen their merchandise operate in the past," Cooper ad-

Board Votes To Buy Temporary Classrooms

The Amarillo Court of Civil Appeals handed down a decision of dismissal this week of Cause No. 7403, which concerned an appeal by a group of Floydada school tax payers who contended that Judge E. A. Bills could not lawfully release the 1963 tax roll for collection in his decision here of November, 1963.

The letter of decision, which was received by the district clerk Tuesday morning stated:

"Gentlemen, . . . will you please take notice that the court this day made the following disposition of Cause No. 7403, styled D. M. Cordell, Jr., et al vs Ralph C. Johnston et al from the district court of Floyd County, to wit: Appeal dismissed."

The opinion was signed by Associate Justice E. O. Northcutt and addressed to the attorney for the plaintiffs, W. C. Hancock and attorney for the defendants, Ben P. Ayres.

A complete transcript of the Court of Civil Appeals opinion is on file at the district clerk's office.

Although the dismissal of the appeal does not settle the suit, it does clear the way for a quick decision by Judge Bills on how to terminate the suit.

The suit and appeal has held up the selling of bonds voted by the school's tax payers almost a year ago. The school board had hoped to have ready a new grade school and cafeteria and make other improvements on the school's facilities by the time school started this fall.

It is evident now that the suit will not allow the building of the needed school rooms and cafeteria in time for use this school term, and with this in mind the school board voted in a special called meeting Monday night to purchase three more houses for temporary classrooms at the grade school.

The board also voted to let bids for a repair job on the roof of the High School and hired some more school teachers.

Jimmy Boyd from McLean was employed as band director, his wife as fourth grade teacher.

Preston Watson was hired to teach social science in the Junior High School.

Water Usage Tops Last Year's Peak

The water used per day in Floydada during the "hot days" of last week was more than any of the peak days during the summer of 1963.

According to Charles Horton, Superintendent of the Water Department, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of last week, the city residents used a total of 1,600,000 gallons of water per day. The most on record for the peak days last year (during June) was around 1,400,000 gallons per day.

At the meeting it was also noted that a number of dogs are still at large, and owners are reminded that if they want to keep dogs, they must be contained inside a fence, or enclosure, or on a leash.

The first mosquito dusting program was completed Sunday night. The city employees attempted the operation Saturday, but the rain caused the work to stop.

Encephalitis Threat Can Be Slowed By Clean Up

A threat that gives people in the high plains area the creeps, Encephalitis, is one of the many diseases whose threat can be slowed merely by Cleanup campaigns such as the City of Floydada has set for next week, June 22-27.

Any place that forms a breeding place for mosquitoes certainly invites disease carrying organisms, particularly the mosquitoes. Encephalitis has become one of the diseases most common in this area in the past few years, causing a number of people to become seriously ill and the deaths of several people.

A pamphlet received recently by Dr. Tom Theford from The Texas State Department of Health gives a few facts about origin of the disease, cycle, symptoms and prevention.

Men and horses are what are known as "dead end hosts."

The mosquito that is primarily responsible for the spread of "western equine encephalitis" commonly bites near sundown, from approximately one hour before to one hour after sunset. It lays its eggs in small potholes, grassy edges of permanent ponds and in irrigation seepage areas.

The normal range of the mosquito is 3 to 5 miles, unless caught in a brisk wind.

Fortunately not all persons bitten by Culex tarsalis, the carrier mosquito, are affected. In fact, only a small percentage show signs of illness. Sometimes the illness is passed off as a slight case of the flu.

Harvest Of Values Set

Floydada merchants are preparing for one of the biggest sales events of the year, June Harvest of Values, June 26, 27, 28, and 30. A number of the merchants have ordered special purchase values, and the Floydada trade area shopper will have the opportunity to buy big values at bargain prices.

The items of merchandise offered will be appropriate for the season, the Floydada merchants are going all out to show the shoppers of this area that they appreciate their business. Make your plans now to attend the big event!!!

Frizzell Named Delegate To National Convention

Hubert Frizzell, of Lockney, was named as a Texas State Delegate to the National Democratic Convention, at a 19th Congressional District Caucus in Houston last Monday afternoon.

From the district will be four delegates, two alternates and one presidential elector.

In an unofficial caucus, presided over by Ralph Brock, Lubbock County Democratic chairman, it had been decided that Rep. George Mahon of the 19th Congressional District automatically would be one of the delegates.

The other six names were to have been put in a hat and drawn out as either delegates, alternates or the elector.

Attorney John Stapleton, 110th Texas District Attorney, said that Frizzell had been "promised a delegate spot, and if he asked to draw, he might draw the elector's slip."

The names to go into the hat were Sam Richardson, Lamesa; Hubert Frizzell, Lockney; State Sen. H. J. (Doc) Blanchard, Lubbock; Judge Charles Thompson, Colorado City; Calloway Huffaker, Tahoka, and Rep. Bill J. Parsley of Lubbock.

Frizzell had previously said, "I'm putting my heart into this campaign because I'm a life-long Democrat and am convinced Lyndon Johnson is the only man for president on the Democratic ticket."

The national delegates selected at the state Democratic convention in Houston will attend the national convention that will be held in Atlantic City, N.J. in August.

Floydada To Have Walking Blood Bank

The Walking Blood Bank, project of the Floydada Hospital Auxiliary, is off to a good start, according to Mrs. Jack McIntosh, chairman of the committee in charge. Over 80 men have volunteered to have their blood typed and to be on call from People's Hospital as donors if the need arises anywhere in the area.

Mrs. McIntosh is now working with W. C. Stivers, administrator of People's Hospital, on setting up actual dates for the volunteers to come in for blood typing.

The procedure for using the Blood Bank is simple and could be a definite life saving service. All potential donors will be listed with blood type, and anyone needing blood may go through the files and find not only the type needed but possibly the name of a friend who would be especially pleased to donate his blood to that particular person.

Since there are virtually no facilities for storing blood at the local hospital, the Walking Blood Bank could save precious time now required in getting blood to Lubbock, and the value of such a set-up in the event of a tornado or similar disaster is obvious.

Any man who is interested in being a donor but has not been contacted may call Mrs. McIntosh, Mrs. Ed Wester, or Mrs. Evelyn Johnston.

All men who have signed up as donors will be notified of the date for the blood tests to be taken at the hospital laboratory, and further publicity will be in the Hesperian and on the local radio station.

Floyd Fair Directors Discuss Fall Plans

Directors of Floyd County Association met Tuesday evening, June 9, at the First National Bank in Lockney for a monthly session.

Contract was let for printing the catalogue and is due to be completed around July 15.

Ladies Day committee reported that Mrs. Roy Bass, Christian Homemaker and lecturer from Lubbock, has been secured as guest speaker. Some 20 door prizes will be awarded during the afternoon.

Mrs. Max Marble, chairman of Floyd County Queen Contest, reviewed contest rules and encouraged directors to seek entries.

Conrad Henderson was named chairman of a committee to contact Santa Fe Railway about building a fence along the north side of the railroad adjoining the fair grounds.

Henderson discussed the possibility of a match roping to be held in connection with the Quarterhorse show.

An Old Fiddlers' Contest will be conducted as in the past and over $400 in prize money is being offered.

Present were Hubert Frizzell, John Dorman, Mrs. Sam Jones, Kenneth Broeseh, Joe Reeves, Conrad Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. Max Marble, C. L. Mooney, Weldon Smith, Ned Bradley, and Alton Higginbotham.

Some Garbage Containers Not Accepted

Some of the containers being used for the disposal of garbage are not acceptable, according to city ordinance passed some years ago.

The ordinance states that the containers must . . . be of not more than 30 gallons capacity and have a cover . . . to keep out the insects and of course to help keep the odors in.

This was mentioned some months ago but a few residents still are using the 50-gallon oil drums, or barrels of some other type, not covered.

Those containers that are not acceptable will not be picked up by the city garbage service, because of difficulty of handling, and because of the type of garbage truck used.

Presently the garbage trucks are making two pickups in the residential areas of town per week. The trash pickup truck is working its way around about once every two weeks.

Two Injured In Collision At Sandhill

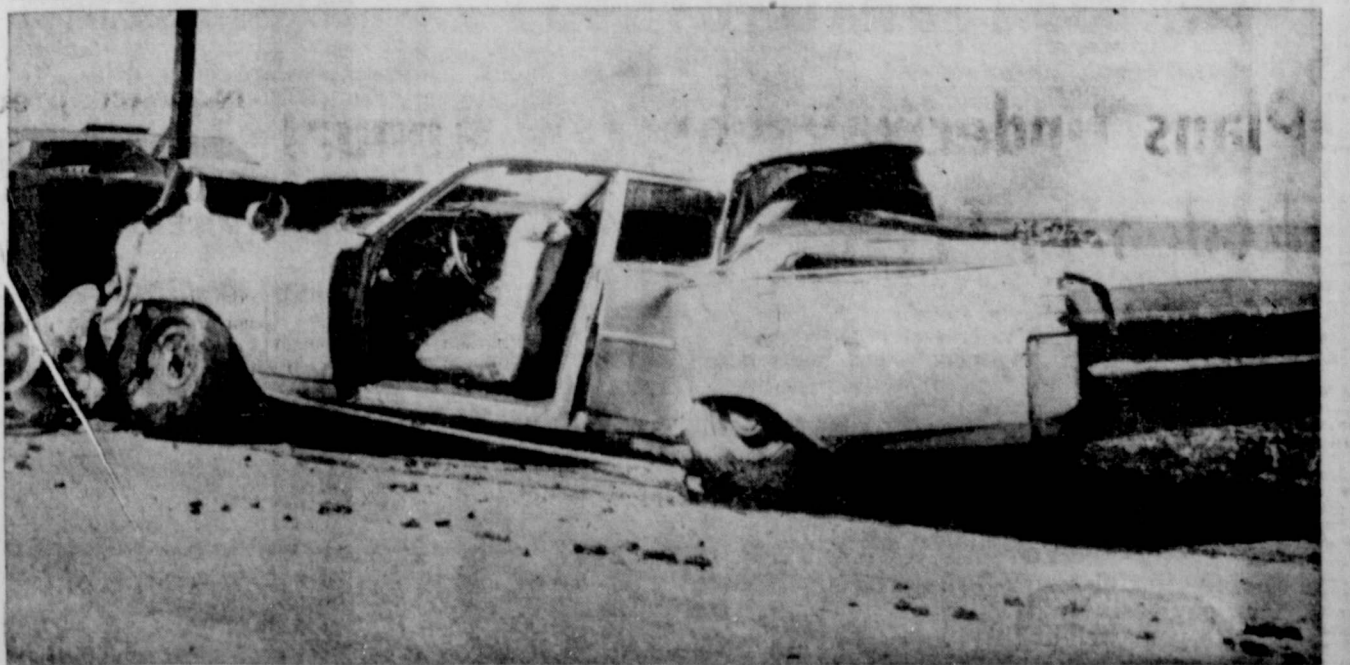

Two men were injured, neither seriously in a collision at the intersection of Highways 784 and 378 in Sandhill last Friday morning about 8:00. The two injured were Jerome Pemberton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Pemberton of Floydada, and Bob Davis, a coach at Lockney.

Pemberton was brought to the Floydada hospital for treatment and was then taken to Lubbock. Davis was taken from the scene of the accident to a Lubbock hospital.

Pemberton was driving west on 784 on his way to Barwise and Davis was going south on 378 en route to Lubbock when the two cars collided, according to Car Carthel of Lockney. The north-south traffic has the through street, and the east-west traffic is to yield.

According to Carthel, the '64 Pontiac driven by Davis, traveled on down the road a few yards then came to rest wrapped around a telephone pole. The Pemberton vehicle traveled on west and stopped in a field on the southwest side of the intersection. According to Carthel, two wheels were found several yards out in the field ahead of where the Pemberton vehicle stopped.

In the mishap, Pemberton suffered slight cuts, bruises, possible fractured ribs, and a possible concussion. Davis has a broken . . . (See WRECK, Page 6)

SANDHILL COLLISION — These two vehicles, the top one belonging to Jerome Pemberton of Floydada and the one in the bottom picture belonging to Bob Davis, a coach at Lockney, collided at the Sandhill intersection last Friday morning about 8:00 a.m. Davis was taken to a hospital at Lubbock and Pemberton was brought to the Floydada hospital then transferred to Lubbock. Neither was believed injured seriously.

Help Found For Immunization Clinic Scheduled Here June 20

According to Mrs. Wesley Carr, there has been enough volunteer help here for Dr. Jordan to successfully accomplish the Immunization Clinic that has been set for this Saturday, June 20 from 10 until 4 p.m. in the Community Room of the First National Bank Building.

The purpose of the clinic, as was previously stated, is to vaccinate the children of the migrant workers in Floyd County who have never had any form of vaccination. No one will be refused the medication, however. But those who are able to pay are asked to do so at the clinic or go to a hospital or medical clinic for the shots.

The shots to be given include Diphtheria, Pertussis (Whooping Cough), Tetanus, and Smallpox. The first three are what is known as the DPT shots and are usually given in a series for the most protection.

The ages included are infancy through 12 years. All parents are asked to bring birth certificates for the children, or a list of the names of all children with the date of birth of each child shown.

It will help in filling out the forms at the clinic to be able to look up another sheet and see how to properly spell the names without having to ask a number of times, or go through an interpreter to get the proper names and dates.

On hand to help with the vaccinations will be Dr. Jack Jordan, the Floyd County Health Officer, Mrs. Geneva M. Shropshire of the Texas State Department of Health, who specializes in the Texas "State-Wide" Migrant Health project, and a number of volunteer workers.

Included on the committee helping the clinic are Mrs. Irma Miller, president of the Hospital Auxiliary, Mrs. Charles Craig, Jack Jordan, Mrs. Ed Bayouth and Mrs. Carr. Dr. Jordan asks that every farmer, or other person working a migrant hand, give him this information, and if at all possible see to it that his family can get into town and go to the clinic.

Although migrants are the ones sought, any county resident is eligible.

The State of Texas will be furnishing the vaccine.

Age groups are those from infancy through 10-12 years of age.

According to Mrs. Wesley Carr, the Sabin Polio Vaccine will also be available. There will be 2 doses taken 2 months apart that include vaccine types 1, 2 and 3.

Mrs. Carr said that a number of people have taken only type 1 or type 2, and think they are immune to all types. However, they are not, for each type of vaccine immunizes a person against a certain type of polio, and there are three types.

A number of the migrant workers, and Floyd County has its share of them, have never had any form of immunization. Neither the Sabin Polio Vaccine or the DPT shots, which is a series.

The next clinic will be held July 18, and the next to last Saturday of each month after that.

Merchants Will Give Host Of Gifts To Lucky Father

Eight Floydada merchants are sponsoring a Father's Day contest in this issue of The Hesperian and offering the father of the winner of the contest several wonderful prizes.

The contest is open to any boy or girl twelve years of age or younger except employees of this newspaper or sponsors of the contest. Contestants need only finish the sentence, "My Daddy is the best Daddy of all because..." in 25 words or less.

Contest entries should be cut from this issue of The Hesperian and either brought or mailed to the Hesperian office not later than Monday, June 22. Judges' decision is final.

A picture of the winner and his or her father will appear in next week's Hesperian.

Sponsors of the big contest include: Builders Mart, who will give a three-cell Sportsman Flashlight; Daniel Automotive, a choice of fishing lures; Kings Fire Company, a wheel balance; Aratine Drug Co., a $5.00 bottle of new Monsieur Lamer Fleury After Shave Lotion; Pay-

Clean-Up

(Continued from Page 1) Severe infections have a high fever, stupor, mental confusion, coma, tremors and sometimes convulsions in infants.

Some effective preventive measures are:

- 1. Destruction of mosquito breeding places.
2. Destruction of adult mosquitoes.
3. Complete screening of residences and/or sleeping quarters, to remain inside during sun-down hours or wear protective clothing and use insect repellent.

There is an effective vaccine for the prevention of encephalitis in horses, but so far routine immunization of humans has not been considered practicable. There is no specific treatment available as yet.

Fortunately most cases of encephalitis fully recover with bed rest and supportive therapy. This should always be administered under the supervision of a physician.

This threat of encephalitis is just one of the many reasons for a city-wide cleanup campaign. As well as the health of the community, the general appearance and the pride of the city are at stake, according to the cleanup committee.

Those who have equipment or who wish to work in the campaign are asked to be at the City Hall at 7:30 a.m. on Friday and Saturday mornings, June 19 and 27. The city hall will serve as a dispatch center.

Small Businessmen's Loans Now More Available Through SBA

The very small businessmen — chiefly operators or retail shops or service establishments — many of whom have had a hard time obtaining financing in the past — will now find it much easier to qualify for a Government loan, Jack Teddlie, Lubbock Branch Manager of the Small Business Administration, said today.

The new, liberalized loan program was announced by President Johnson at White House ceremonies in Washington, May 26, which Mr. Teddlie attended, along with SBA Administrator Eugene P. Foley, Cortland J. Silver, Chairman of SBA's National Advisory Council, and other businessmen and Government officials.

The White House ceremonies, in connection with National Small Business Week, were the climax of a trip to Washington by Mr. Teddlie along with other SBA regional directors and branch managers to review the Agency's activities.

"President Johnson's Administration is very definitely concerned with the welfare of small business," Teddlie said. "He assured us that he has small businessmen very much in mind every day and his interest was clearly demonstrated by his willingness to take time out from a very busy schedule personally to greet the SBA representatives."

The SBA's new small loan program reflects a new emphasis on helping the very small businesses, Teddlie said.

SBA Administrator Foley has frequently expressed the view that the Agency in the past has not done as much as it should to help the businessman at the lower end of the small business scale, he said. Yet they are often the businessmen most in need of financial help, and those who have the most difficulty in obtaining it.

The new small loan program was designed to meet this need, Teddlie said. Under this program SBA will make loans to small firms up to a maximum of $15,000 for as long as 6 years under greatly liberalized terms.

Primary emphasis will be on the character of the applicant and his past record of meeting obligations, and no applicant will be turned away merely because he lacks collateral to pledge as security for the loan.

"SBA believes that you have to take a chance on people," Teddlie said, "and we will take a calculated risk in cases where we believe the applicant has a favorable earnings potential sufficient to repay the loan."

"We have simplified our procedures and requirements for these loans. We believe it is important to help the many thousands of struggling small firms, as a means of creating new jobs, and stimulating the Nation's economy."

"It is clear," Teddlie said, "that the SBA will have an important role in President Johnson's war against poverty. More and more it is becoming apparent that a thriving small business community can do much toward taking up the slack in unemployment."

He said that top SBA officials in Washington are also concerned with the large number of business mergers, which may be a threat to small business and the problem of industrial conversion from defense to commercial production.

Teddlie added that SBA officials are giving serious thought to the effects on small business in the future as the Government cuts back on defense production and the economy converts primarily to provide for civilian needs.

Expect Brown Wheat Mite Damage In Cool, Dry Time

The brown wheat mite, which commonly occurs on wheat in the Panhandle, is causing concern to farmers in some areas now according to former Floyd County agent, H. T. Davison. Damage by this mite usually occurs during cool dry weather, and somewhat resembles drought damage. Young mites are bright red, changing to a metallic dark brown or black when fully grown.

Extension Entomologist Don Rummel says chemical control of most cases. Parathion at 2 pounds per acre will give fair control of the mite. However, the value of controlling this pest is questionable since experiments show yields have not been increased by controlling the mite. Heavy rains or irrigation will usually lower populations. Brown wheat mite populations have also been found to be much lower on summer-fallow wheat than on continuously cropped land.

Greenbug infestation counts should also be made by producers now, says Rummel. In general, greenbug populations have been low so far. Before applying insecticides, consider the number of greenbugs present, size and vigor of plants, temperature, time of year, moisture conditions and presence or absence of beneficial insects. Wheat six inches tall during April may tolerate as many as 300 greenbugs per linear foot before treatment is required. Irrigated crops will withstand larger populations of greenbugs than dryland. The appearance of small deadened areas caused by greenbugs feeding is a good indication treatment is needed.

Clear Skies Seen After Crop Boosting Rain Falls

According to those who attempt to predict the weather, clear skies are ahead for a few days at least after a very welcome crop boosting rain fell over the area the last few days of last week.

The amount of rainfall recorded over the county varies considerably but counting Wednesday through Saturday night most areas caught from 1.5 to 3.0 inches. In Floydada the four-night total was 1.86 inches.

This seemed to be the moisture the dryland crops were longing for before some of their crops. Most of the grain sorghum was already in the ground but extra needed a little more sub-moisture before the farmers planted.

During the rainfalls, very little damage was reported in the form of wind or hail. However, a small water did hit the net place Wednesday but the rain (see story page 4 B.), and lightning on lights on the screen of the Drive-In Theatre for 45 minutes Wednesday.

The wheat harvest is very little by the cause most of the crop has been cut and the little later maturing about ready by now. Some sources the harvest is over 50 percent complete. The rest of the county reports less than that because of irrigation.

According to the Employment Commission, land wheat was less than 100, and irrigated expected to be normal.

Group Meets To Consider Local Airport

A Chamber of Commerce committee met last week to discuss the possibility of a municipal airport for the city of Floydada.

In the past it had been mentioned that if the town has any desire to continue growing, it should create some means of handling the air traffic that passes over Floydada, and lands at some other town merely because there isn't a decent airport here.

The possibility of flight instruction was also mentioned. Also noted was that there are about twelve farm air strips in the county, which indicates there are a number of flyers residing in the area that would be using the airport.

A committee was selected to study possible sites and see about the purchase of land suited for an airstrip.

According to the Federal Aviation Association, an airstrip 3,500 feet in length, with a 1,000 foot approach on each end will handle all single engine craft and the lighter twin-engine aircraft.

Sorghum Midge Control Measures Being Increased

The "recreational" activities of the sorghum midge are under close scrutiny by Texas A&M University scientists.

James Harding, Texas Agricultural Experiment entomologist, has taken 113 grass samples to date from fields over the South Plains. These samples are being held in the laboratory at the South Plains Research and Extension Center, Lubbock. Harding checks the samples constantly for possible early midge emergence from the plant heads.

Willing cooperation of electrical power companies on the South Plains has allowed placement of 28 sticky, insect traps on power poles in a nine-county area. Counties are: Lamb, Hale, Floyd, Hockley, Lubbock, Crosby, Terry, Lynn, and Garza.

Harding says weekly grass samplings, along with checking of the insect traps on power poles, will give an insight into "why" and "how" the midge attains such damaging numbers to reduce yields of August-blooming grain sorghum.

A few adult midge began emergence during the middle of May and are suspected of depositing their eggs in available grass hosts. Study of the grass samples will determine this in the near future. In contrast to early reports of midge activity, it is believed these are the first midge out. They are several orange, "midge-like" creatures on the High Plains that are not sorghum midge, but greatly resemble them, says the entomologist.

Several "allies" in the fight against the sorghum midge have been found this year. Two wasp-like parasites of the dispersing midge larva have been obtained from midge-infested sorghum florets. An external mite has also been found living on adult sorghum midge. Up to nine mites per fly has been observed.

Green Leaves For Far East

OKINAWA (FHTNC) — Marine First Lieutenant Jerry M. Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Green of Roaring Springs, Tex., left this month for the Far East aboard the Navy Transport General Mann for San Diego, Calif. He will serve a 13-month tour of duty with the Third Marine Division, Okinawa.

Okinawa, the center of American activity and interest in the Far East, is an island within the Ryukyu chain. These islands stretch about eight hundred miles along the coast of the Asian mainland. The northernmost islands approach the southernmost Japanese main island, and the southern part of the Ryukyu chain is just 40 miles east of Taiwan.

The island is only 65 miles long and varies from two to 17 miles in width. It is about 960 miles from Tokyo and 900 miles from Hong Kong, China.

The battalion, about 1,000 strong, commanded by Major Edward G. Dering, will stop in Hawaii and Japan for liberty while on the way to Okinawa.

Time To Start Control On Elm Leaf Beetle Is Now

Time to start control measures for the elm leaf beetle, a pesky insect caused severe damage to elm trees in many areas last year — and can be expected to do the same this year.

County Agent H. T. Davison says the insect overwinters in many places, such as plant debris, buildings where it can get protection from the winter weather. In the spring, they emerge to lay eggs on the leaves of elm trees. Here they feed and lay eggs. When the eggs hatch, larvae emerge and begin feeding on the leaves.

The destructive insect can be controlled if chemicals are used at the proper time. Chemicals that can be used include Dieldrin, Sevin, chlordane, Dieldrin, lead arsenate, DDT, and others. The safest ones to use are Sevin and Dieldrin — especially if used on the home.

Chemicals should be applied in order to prevent tree damage. Also early application is essential for good larval kill. Young worms are much easier to kill than old worms. When using chemicals, use them rather than dusts when possible for better overall chemical coverage. Spray the base of the tree, in addition to the foliage, to eradicate worms coming down the trunk to pupate in the ground.

For additional information, call or come by Davison's office. Ask for a copy of Extension publication L-199, "Texas Guide for Controlling Insects on Oriental Plants."

Farmers Union Meeting Set

The Farmers Union will have an important meeting for all members June 22 at 7:00 p.m. at the Lorenzo Country Club, according to Debbie Farris.

All Junior members 14 to 18 years of age are urged to attend to discuss plans for Farmers Union Junior Camp to be held at Bailey, Colo., August 2-8. The Junior Youth are also urged to attend so they can get organized.

There will be swimming, recreation, and refreshments for all ages.

Grass Yields Depend On Management

Don't rob yourself by overgrazing — whether it be an irrigated pasture or dryland pasture.

Grass yields and production is in direct proportion to the way it is managed. Grass plants must have sufficient growth above the ground surface (this will vary depending on the species) for the leaves to act as a factory for the manufacture of food for the plant. Approx. 95% of the plant food is taken from the air and only 5% of the plant food is taken from the soil. Thus it becomes doubly important to understand how the plant grows. Once the top surface is clipped short the root system is also directly affected.

Stocking rates should be based on the amounts of grass available and not on what it should carry or has carried in past years. This is especially true of dryland pastures where moisture is a variable and limiting factor many times. Keeping the grasses healthy is just good insurance and good planning for the present as well as the future.

With proper stocking two things can be achieved: 1. More forage available for livestock at all times 2. better ground cover for erosion protection and for holding more moisture where it falls.

Management of pastures might be influenced other ways such as fertilizers, cross-fencing, location of watering and feeding areas. On irrigated pastures it has proven more desirable to divide the acreage into at least 3 separate pastures (usually with a hot-wire fence) where a fertilizing and watering can be carried out on one pasture, while one is drying and resting and the third is being grazed.

"Profit With Price"

Mr. Farmer I have for the last three weeks been trying to tell you the insects are bad, in fact, I think they are worse than they have been since 1952. I've got one or two tell me they don't remember when they were this bad. But, nevertheless, if you haven't started doing something about your cotton, let's get started. Never say die.

In checking the fields you just name it and you find it, everything from Thrip to False Cinch Bugs. Average farmer is saying he just can't figure out why his cotton looks so sorry and ragged, due to the amount of sand burn getting it in a run-down condition. Then all these insects working on it, the plants just had a chance.

It is too wet to run your ground rig, have it sprayed to help this little cotton get started going, after it dries up then if it needs a repeat job your ground rig.

saw the first little squares on cotton yesterday. sure looked good.

In checking the maize, I found lots of lice working on it. If they aren't headed off they can get your maize in a run-down condition and it will be looking like the cotton.

With your wheat off you should be thinking in terms of what you are going to do with that piece of land. Now would be a good time to put down your fertilizer and let it be working on decomposition of the fertilizer and tearing down possibly some of the trace elements that are bonded up in your soil.

Be sure to keep your turn rows, fence rows, and the well house clean to prevent those weeds from using up any moisture, also to prevent a harbor for insects.

Methodists Get Appointments At Conference

Numerous appointments were received by several Floyd County residents at the Northwest Texas Annual Conference of the Methodist Church in Amarillo recently.

Those appointed on the various boards, commissions and committees for the next four years include Jack McIntosh of Floydada, Board of Christian Social Concerns; James T. Carter, Lockney, Board of Education; J. M. Willson Sr., Board of Education, Pension Foundation and trustee of Mt. Sequoyah.

Joe Foster, Lockney, Board of Evangelism; Melvin Mathis, Sterley, Historical Society; J. M. Willson Jr., Floydada, chairman of the Commission on Minimum Salary and Committee on Conference Permanent Headquarters Building.

Charles Lutrick, Floydada, chairman of the Board of Ministerial Training and Qualifications.

Area Residents Attend Home-Makers College

Those from this area attending the Homemakers College at the New Mexico University have returned home after an enjoyable four days at the Eighth Annual session. Attending from Floydada and the county were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Motckel, Mrs. Harriet Schuppert, Mrs. B. A. Robertson, Mrs. Tom Porter, Mrs. Henry Scarborough, Mrs. Neil Bertrand and Mrs. R. C. Ratheal, the latter of Crosby County.

Theme of the gathering was "Heart of the Home."

The program began with assemblies and other events which continued throughout the day and into the evening with a dinner. Tuesday was another full day of activity and in the evening a musical program was presented in the ballroom of Milton Student Center at the University.

On Wednesday the general assembly was held followed by the luncheon, one in honor of past students of which Mrs. Marjorie is a member of the class. In the evening an international dinner and program featuring "Italy" was held on the lawn of NMSU campus.

Thursday and Friday the days were climaxed after general assemblies and classes, by a Fine Arts program and the Homemakers College buffet and banquet on Friday evening.

Lockney Couple Celebrate 50th Anniversary

LOCKNEY (Special) — A pioneer Lockney couple, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Sams, recently celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at a dinner in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Floyd W. Jackson, in the Lone Star community.

Members of the family and friends attended the event. Sams, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sams, was the first white male child born in Floyd County. His wife's parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Thompson, also were early settlers in this county.

Miss Ruby Thompson and Buck Sams were married in Olton. They have resided in Lockney most of their married life.

The couple has one daughter, Mrs. Jackson; a son, Marvin Sams, Lockney; three grandchildren and one great-granddaughter.

Janice Smith Leaves For World's Fair

Janice Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith, who has spent the past two years teaching in the public school system, will be spending a part of the summer visiting her parents.

Miss Smith left Sunday by train for Chicago, Ill., where she will be met by a teaching friend, Miss Ellen Ansoorge of Frosta, Ill. From there the two will drive to Hammond, New Jersey where they will be housed by former Colorado friends. From there they will visit the World's Fair, Atlantic City and other Eastern points of interest.

They plan to return to their respective home in July. Miss Smith and Miss Ansoorge, accompanied by Miss Patty Perkins of McKinney, will leave the middle of August for Portland, Ore., where they have accepted teaching positions for the coming year.

We have several Farmall 400 Butane and Diesel tractors on hand. These make excellent "extra" tractors for you to use in cultivating, etc. This fall, you could mount your stripper on one of them and have the advantages offered of a Live Power Take Off, Live Hydraulics, and Torque Amplifier. You know without being told how handy it is to have these features on a cotton stripper tractor.

We would sell these tractors worth the money now!

Drop by and talk about it with us.

Caprock

found the folks in Toronto, Canada mighty friendly. Jimmie was at the Rotary convention there last week and took a little time to visit with the folks downtown and he said they were especially courteous and "good every day friendly folk."

BASEBALL is in high gear in the Floydada youth league now and if you're wanting a little excitement about dark each evening, I suggest you go out to the ball park and sit in on a game or two. It looked like the baseball season would get off to a slow start as much difficulty was encountered in getting enough coaches for the many boys who wanted to play... but finally enough "volunteers" came through.

Looks like you retired fellows... and semi-retired would enjoy working with a baseball team... most of you are big league fans and could apply that baseball "insense" in helping our youngsters learn the game.

I MENTIONED that a farmer out McCoy way was making over 50 bushels of wheat to the acre last week and asked had anyone heard of a better yield.

Well, by Monday morning I did receive a report of a farmer that was making 136 bushels to the acre! On further questioning of the report I learned that he lived in Canada.

I RECEIVED this nice letter from former county agent Tom Davison and I'll pass it on to our readers who knew and I'm sure appreciated Tom and his family while they served here in Floyd County.

June 12, 1964
710 Williamson Dr.
Bryan, Texas

Dear Wendell,
I have been meaning to drop you a note every day the past two weeks but our household has been rather stirred up. I just wanted to say thanks to you for your personal cooperation while I was county agent, and for your appreciation of the extension service.

I suppose that through you I could well convey my thanks to the people of Floyd County for the way in which I and my family were received. The cooperation toward the extension program was excellent, and it was most pleasurable working in an atmosphere where people are constantly trying to better themselves and their way of life.

Our address is shown above and we will expect you and Mary Tom to visit us if you ever have occasion to visit the "twain-cities" or Texas A&M—Gig Em! With Best Regards,
Tom Davison

Wonder what Tom meant by that last "Gig Em"!... must of been something he learned at the University of Texas.

THE FOLKS over at the Don Pemberton home have experienced a lot of pain, worry, excitement and problems the past week. Like they say, "when it rains it pours"... and they have experienced a cloudburst.

However, it appears now that the Pemberton boys are both on the road to recovery... thanks to the good Lord and some doctors. Donald Gale, nine years is recovering from a very serious leg operation and is home from Methodist hospital at Lubbock with a cast on his leg and won't be able to walk for 14 weeks.

The older boy, Jerome, was in an auto accident at Sandhill early this week and he too, is home now from Methodist hospital.

Wrecks

Shoulder bone, bruises, and slight lacerations. No citation has been issued in the occurrence.

Both cars were total losses. Pickup Mishap
A second mishap occurred Tuesday afternoon at the intersection of Missouri Street and the Silverton Highway involving two pickups.

Neither Warren Oliver Goltra nor Samuel Reue Irwin, the drivers of the vehicles was seriously injured in the collision.

According to Will Taylor, investigating officer, Goltra driving a 1963 Chevrolet pickup failed to yield the right-of-way to Irwin who was driving a 1961 Chevrolet pickup. Goltra received a citation for failure to yield right-of-way.

Twister Hits Barn On Harold Bennett's Farm

The twister is believed to have struck Harold Bennett Farm about 10 miles west and two miles north of Floydada, Wednesday night, June 10.

A number of people in the area thought that only strong winds, which were reported to be of the cause of damage after a closer investigation, were obvious that a twister must have hit the farm.

Bennett lost a stack of steel pipe, sheet metal covering and suffered damage to a tractor and a butane tank.

The twister was about 25 feet by 25 feet in size, he said, hitting the ground and coming to rest about 100 yards from where the twister struck. Sheet metal from the roof was scattered over a large area of the field on the Bennett place.

The building was moved in a southerly direction. Other noticeable damage was done when the building came to rest on top of the tractor, bending the engine covering and moving the butane tank back toward the driver's seat. If there was further damage to the tractor it was not noticeable.

The butane tank that was damaged was setting on a four-wheel trailer when the building came down to the ground. The rear wheels of the trailer spread out at the bottom and moved in a bit at the top, dropping both the bed of the trailer and the tank. A valve was knocked loose on the butane tank, and the gas was still escaping the following Friday morning.

Upon first surveying the damage, Bennett said he didn't stay around long because of the escaping gas, so when he was interviewed he didn't know about the extent of the damages.

Left Tires
A cotton trailer was parked at the east end of the place where the barn had been, a four-row planter was placed on the south side of the barn position, and a stack of tractor and trailer tires were stacked inside the barn, before it was moved. All these items were left intact by the storm. The only noticeable damage was that part of a plastic spout on the planter was broken.

Also, inside the barn, on top of the tires was placed a canvas tractor comfort that was not moved.

Results such as these described indicate definitely a twisting wind had to do the damage. No straight wind would move the barn and leave the other items untouched.

Two other tractors and farm equipment were setting within a few yards of the barn, and they too were untouched by the wind.

A hole between the place the barn was, and where it came to rest indicated that a corner of it hit the ground while it was in the air.

The building was a total loss. The framework was bent completely out of line, some was broken, and some was torn loose. Several sheets of the siding were torn loose and carried several hundred feet before falling to the ground.

Twenty-five Rural Wrecks In Floyd County In May

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated four accidents on rural highways in Floyd County during the month of May, according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for one person injured and an estimated property damage of $3,050.00.

The rural accident summary for Floyd County from January through May of 1964 shows a total of 25 crashes resulting in no persons killed, 16 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $24,965.00.

The Sergeant expressed serious concern over the increase in fatal motor vehicle traffic accidents and deaths throughout the state. "For the first five months of 1964, 1025 persons have died in traffic, compared to 871 for the same period of 1963," the Sergeant stated. "This 18 percent increase is very alarming and when you realize our heavy volume traffic months are still ahead, we must anticipate increasing problems in the accident picture. There is an increase in all types of accidents throughout the state and it is something that merits our greatest concern," he said. "The driving public must assist in the reduction of this trend."

From all indications this report of damage is all that was done by the twister, for even neighbors didn't know about the wind until the next morning.

See TWENTY-FIVE, Page 8

SOUTH PLAINS NEWS by Mrs. Murray Julian

VBS Resumes Monday - Wednesday

SOUTH PLAINS, June 15 — Vacation Bible School is resuming this Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday mornings, with commencement exercises scheduled for Wednesday night at 8, and Rev. Sealy Smith will address the group of workers and students and guests at that time. VBS was cancelled on Thursday and Friday of last week due to the passing of H. S. Callahan, Sr. of Lockney on Wednesday morning, after a long illness.

Many of his relatives were working VBS, and many live in this community.

Most of our community attended services for H. S. Callahan Sr. of Lockney at the First Baptist Church in Lockney on Thursday afternoon, June 11, with Rev. Roy Clayton of LaVerne, Okla., and Rev. R. C. Guest, both former ministers here at South Plains when Mr. Callahan lived here, assisting Rev. Hawkins in the last rites. Our sympathy is extended to the family, and especially to Mrs. Callahan in Lockney.

Mrs. Earl Craig and girls of Clovis, New Mex., who came with Karl for the funeral of her grandfather Calahan, spent the rest of the week with her parents, the Raymond Uptons, and Karl helped Ronnie Upton in the Upton Grocery on Thursday. Ronnie and family returned back to their home in Amarillo on Thursday night.

Mrs. Steele Deavenport of Boulder, Colorado, flew down with Steele and friends as far as Dalt, Thursday morning, where Loyd Deavenport went and brought her here for the Calahan rites.

Mrs. Deavenport stayed until Sunday morning, her brother, Elton Karr of Plainview and her father flew back to her home in Boulder, then they were home in time for Sunday dinner. The trip down was stopped at Dohart because of adverse flying weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Leighton Teple and Rhonda spent this Monday in Lubbock where Dr. Shannon reported Rhonda could have the cast off her broken arm in two more weeks, as she is doing fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Garvin Beedy, La Tonia, Rise and Larry went to Plainview Sunday to have dinner with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Beedy and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Smitherton attended on Saturday night the beautiful wedding of Miss Toni Rhodes and Jimmy Jenkins of Spur, which took place at the First Baptist Church in Silvertan at 8 o'clock. Rev. Jenkins is pastor at the First Baptist Church in Cottonwood, which is near Sisco. Other guests there were Mr. and Mrs. Owen Thornton and Miss Noriko Nakayama, their foreign exchange student of Lockney, and the Silvertan foreign exchange student was Masako Nakabe, who lived with the parents of the bride, and was one of the attendants at the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Britton and son and her parents spent the weekend down on Possum Kingdom Dam Lake where Bobby caught a good bunch of fish while they were gone.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Karr and their daughter, Mrs. Steele Deavenport had Saturday night supper with Steele's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Deavenport.

Best wishes to Miss Betty Wright of Floydada and Barry Scott Kinslow who were joined in holy matrimony Wednesday night at 4 p.m. in Canyon at the pastorate of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Downing, of the Church of Christ, who formerly were residents of Floydada. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ferguson were the couple's only attendants. Betty and Barry plan to work in Canyon this summer, and he will attend WT College in the fall. Saturday night they were here as guests of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kinslow and boys.

Mrs. Tommy McCown from California came here for the funeral of her grandfather, Mr. Price, 86, whose funeral was held in Floydada at 3 p.m. Saturday. She brought her 5 year old twins, Michael and Michelle, with her, and they spent Saturday night and Sunday out here in the home of Mrs. Walter Wood with her and the parents of Tommy, the Jack McCowns of Lake Whitney, who brought Mrs. Walter Wood home Thursday night after she had visited in their home several days. The Jack McCowns left this Monday for their home at Whitney. While in Whitney last week, Mrs. Wood had visited in Waco, Fort Worth and attended a family reunion of the McCown family on June 7.

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Deavenport spent Sunday down in Wichita Falls where they visited their son, Dennis, who is attending summer sessions at the college there.

Teen time at the South Plains Baptist Church was enjoyed by all the young folks and Teen Aegers last week with Mrs. Roy Burks and Mrs. L. T. Wood working with the youngsters, and Rev. Sealy Smith teaching Bible study each night. Monday night Rev. Longoria spoke to the group; Tuesday night they saw a film, "Grow in Creation"; Wednesday a highway patrolman gave a talk, Thursday night a game warden spoke to the boys, and Mrs. Alexander spoke to the girls on youth problems. Friday night Dr. Jerry Dawson of Wayland brought an evangelistic sermon. 30 were enrolled for Teen Time, and each night after services refreshments were served, and tables of ping pong were enjoyed.

4-H members met at the schoolhouse Saturday morning at 9:30 for an all-day Record Book Workshop led by Sherry Mullins, Home Demonstration agent. Rhonda Teple, Sharon Smith, Katie Taylor and Phil Kinslow met for the mornings work, and others present were Mmes. Leighton Teple, E. J. Kinslow, Roy Burks and J. P. Taylor.

Rev. Sealy Smith will teach the WMBU book, "Spiritual Life Development" at the church June 23, from 8:30-10:30. Everyone is welcomed for the book review, and refreshments will be served.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Mulder arrived home from Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., Saturday and spent that day and Sunday with his folks here, the Arby Mulders, and attended church services with them. Kathy is taking a Home Making Course in Floydada this summer, and doing twenty hours work there, and one hundred twenty hours at home in cooking and home keeping chores.

Mr. and Mrs. LaVoy Kinslow and her mother, Mrs. N. G. McCain of Tulsa spent Saturday and Sunday with the John and the Clifton McCains in Amarillo and were guests in South Plains of Mr. and Mrs. John Kinnebrugh and children.

Best wishes to Miss Marilyn Kinnebrugh and Teddy Horne who were united in marriage at the First Baptist Church in Gilliland on Friday, June 12, at 3 p.m. Rev. Hollis Shewmake performed the ceremony, and attendants of the bride were her sister, Miss Beth Kinnebrugh, and his sister, Miss Paula Horne. Felix Westman. A reception following the wedding vows, and it was held at Fellowship Hall. Attending from here were Marilyn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sylvain Kinnebrugh, her uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Kinnebrugh, and her aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dillard, and Rev. and Mrs. Hollis Shewmake. The young couple left for Houston and is enroute to Galveston on a wedding trip, and they plan to be home Tuesday. They will be at home in Plainview at 706 Lexington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Hurt of Plainview visited here Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Sealy Smith and family at the parsonage, and visited Sunday night at the South Plains Baptist Church. Other guests at the Baptist Church were Miss Patty Moore of Seminole with Price Pritchett, Miss Janet Moore of Floydada with Bruce Julian and Miss Bobbie Reue of Floydada with Jimmy Upton.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fortenberry and her mother, Mrs. N. G. McCain of Tulsa spent Saturday and Sunday with the John and the Clifton McCains in Amarillo and Endrin-methyl parathion can deliver the bollworm kills you need (see above) but it must be applied on schedule. For best control, worms should be sprayed soon after hatching and must be hit before they're 1/2-inch long.

Endrin-methyl parathion kills bollworms fast. Spray on a 4 to 5 day schedule and you'll have your cotton made.

Endrin-methyl parathion gets weevils too, resists weathering, protects your crop through the critical fruiting period.

LET'S FACE IT: bollworms are tough. There just isn't any magic bollworm killer.

Yet you can get excellent bollworm control with endrin-methyl parathion if you apply the right amount in a regular program, and get thorough coverage.

You will automatically control and stay ahead of boll weevils, including resistant strains.

And you will stop cabbage loopers, leafworms, plant and stink bugs—a total of 9 other insects that attack your cotton.

Protects two ways:

1. Methyl parathion gives you fast action. Just hours after application, you'll find the ground littered with dying worms and weevils methyl parathion knocks off your cotton.

2. Endrin gives endrin-methyl parathion its long lasting quality. It resists weathering. Pounded for pound, it's the longest-lasting chlorinated insecticide you can use on cotton.

Endrin puts a chemical barrier on your cotton that helps protect it until the next spray in your schedule. That's why you can expect 4 to 5 days' protection from each spray.

Cuts spray costs two ways:

1. Because endrin-methyl parathion has staying power, you can lengthen the intervals between sprays in your regular program up to a total of 5 days. Result: you will probably apply fewer sprays—yet you'll get excellent control of bollworms and other insects. By keeping down insect populations, you will slow down reinfestation. You may eliminate one or more costly, late-season sprays altogether.

2. Low dosages do the job. By applying sprays regularly you won't have to use extra-high dosages to "catch up" with bollworms and other insects. Result: you save money.

A regular endrin-methyl parathion schedule also increases your income by helping you grow more, early cotton.

THIS ONE OUGHT TO LAST 20 YEARS!

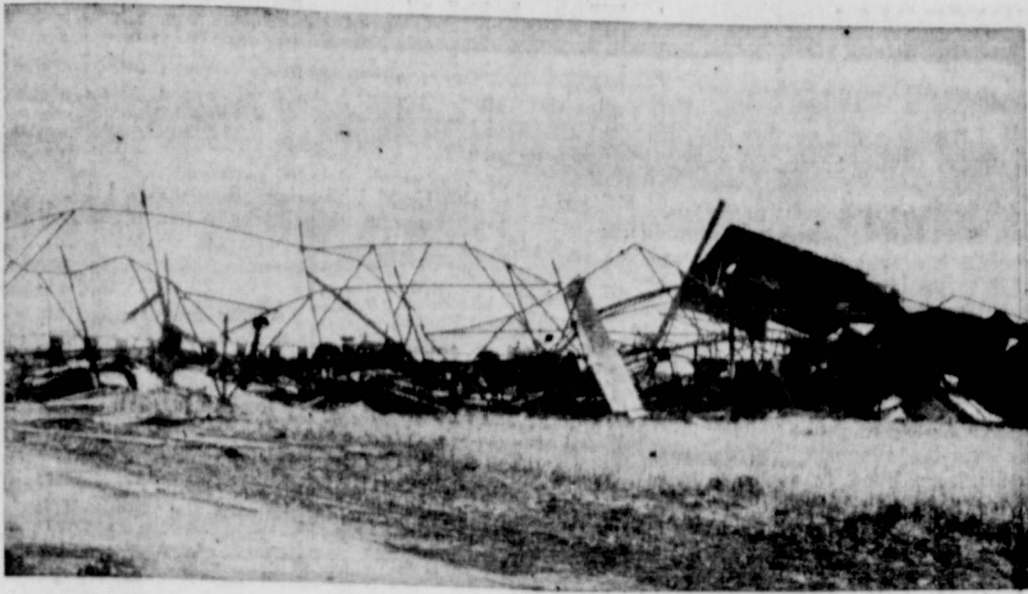

That was what we thought ten years ago when we set the other pole. But increased demand for electricity calls for bigger poles and heavier lines to carry more electricity to rural areas.

This new pole is just one example of the many ways in which the member-owned Lighthouse Electric Cooperative is keeping ahead of demand, furnishing an efficient, dependable, economical electric service.

When no one else would do the job, Lighthouse Electric Cooperative was the first to bring electric service to this rural area. They're still the best. Rural electrification is good for all Texans.

NOT MUCH BARN LEFT—What is shown in this photo is the remains of the barn that was destroyed by a small tornado on the Harold Bennett place Wednesday night. The barn was moved about 50 yards from its original position to the place it came to rest.

FAIRVIEW NEWS by Mrs. Clyde Bagwell

Two Inches Of Rainfall Received

FAIRVIEW, June 15 — Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Goodman and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Perry and Jan. Jan Perry spent Monday night with Elaine Warren. The past week we had a nice rain each night for 4 nights, over 2 inches in all fell on most of the community, crops are growing, grass, shrubs and trees have taken on a new look. Most of the folks have finished wheat harvest and are busy with row crops now. Some say they will have to plant feed over and a very few will have to plant part of their cotton over but for the most part crops are doing good since the rains.

Lee Rushing and his grandson Ray Brides went to Lubbock Sunday for the day and visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rushing while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Thompson of Matador came Sunday afternoon to visit Mr. and Mrs. Galen Holland, they all went on to Tulsa and visited Mrs. Thompson's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cooper, they returned to the Holland home and had supper with them before going on to their home at Matador.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wilson were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Allen. In the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Wilson visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Pruitt.

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Mize were dinner guests Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tye and Jim. The Mizes were returning home from a three weeks vacation trip.

Mrs. W. W. Payne moved to her own home the first of the week after staying in the home of her son Cecil Payne while her house was being re-done. Her daughter, Mrs. George Graham will stay with Mrs. Payne.

TRACTOR AND TANK BURIED — The butane tank was resting on the four wheel trailer before the barn, moved by a tornado on the Harold Bennett place Wednesday night, landed on top of it. The tractor in the background received some damage from the impact. The trailer and wheels were damaged, and a valve was knocked loose on the butane tank. Gas was still escaping Friday morning from the tank.

Lockney's Tom Moore Signs With Rice U.

State 440-yard champ, Tommy Moore, Lockney, signed recently with the Rice Owls, the 1964 Southern Conference team champions.

Moore received a four-year scholarship and plans to major in engineering at Rice.

According to a news release issued by Bill Whitmore, Rice publicity director, "The spring graduate of Lockney High set the state meet AA record of 48.6 in the open 440 — rated a tremendous prospect with great potential in that his school did not have a track and he had to work out on the football field, but won a fabulous five first place in district competition. He had only three hurdles for workouts so he could not run the full 120-yard distance over 10 hurdles until actual competition in district, and still had a 15.1. He ran only the 440 at state, but set that record."

Moore was among seven Texas schoolboys track standouts who signed with Rice. The other scholarship signees were: Bob Thompson, Saginaw; Jeff Smith, Brownwood; Fred Cloud, San Antonio Highlands; John Brim, Hawkins; Bob Alexander, San Antonio McArthur; Greg Peters, South Houston.

Lockney Boy Winner Of Two Scholarships

Carey Page, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Fox and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Thomas, all of Lockney, has been granted two scholarships as a pre-med student at Baylor University. Page is the son of former Lockney residents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Page, Alpine.

The freshman was granted a $1,000 scholarship for the 64-65 school year by Baylor University College of Medicine. He also received a Fellowship totaling $650 for the 1964 summer by the National Institute of Health as one of the pre-freshman Research Orientation Fellowships. The six-week course is being offered to only four of the freshman class of 1964.

He and Mrs. Malone had visited in all our homes many times.

Mrs. Walton Wilson visited her daughter of Mrs. Harvel Allen Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Beedy and sons of South Plains were Friday and Friday night visitors in the home of their grandmother Mrs. W. B. Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Graham and Mrs. Jewell Teague spent Saturday as Lovington New Mexico in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Graham.

Silverton Coach Accepts Post At Petersburg

The athletic director, head football and track coach at Silverton has accepted the job of assistant football coach at Petersburg. He is Robert "Bob" Wheelchel.

He will assist Coach L. A. Niles, who was promoted to head coach when James Odom resigned. Wheelchel will also teach and coach in the junior high.

Supt. J. S. Hinds of Silverton said the Silverton school board accepted Wheelchel's resignation with regret. He praised Wheelchel's coaching and teaching abilities. Wheelchel was born 30 years ago in Claude. He and his wife have two adopted children, Bob Ann, two, and Gregory Paul, two months. The couple belongs to the Baptist Church. They will move to Petersburg sometime during the summer.

Wheelchel has coached for five years at Silverton. He holds a master's degree from West Texas State University, Canyon.

There were about 29 applicants for the Petersburg position.

Catholics Gaining

If the Catholic Church continues to grow in the United States at its present rate Catholics will eventually outnumber Protestants. Recent figures show Catholics increasing in the United States three times faster than Protestants.

The Catholic growth rate is 2.3 per cent, the Protestant 0.8 per cent, according to the latest reliable estimates.

There are several reasons Catholics are gaining on Protestants in the United States. One is that the Catholic Church gains more members through births, by instructing following against the use of modern birth-control devices.

Another is that Catholic refugee and immigration agencies and organizations have succeeded in bringing into the United States far more Catholic refugees and immigrants. And practically all Cubans and Puerto Ricans entering the country are Catholics.

The number of Catholics in the United States today is estimated at 44 million. The largest Protestant Church, the Baptist Church, claims less than 22 million members.

The total of all Protestant church memberships is approximately 64 million.

Love & Automation

There is a growing fear in some circles that automation and computerization are about to take over our private lives.

That is not to be lightly brushed aside, especially now that one push-button scientist reports he has steered 10,000 couples to the altar with an electronic computer.

The idea simply is to feed into the machine the desired ingredients for the perfect mate.

For one it might mean a blonde, 19, blue-eyed, five feet six, 35-25-35, well-to-do, unselfish, understanding beautiful, and with a jet engine.

Computerized mating, they say, is scientifically sound.

But then there is also that June night, a moon and a garden with an inevitable moment of romance, and two people, who fall in love.

Can that be put into a machine? Can it take into account that chemical reaction between people, if scientists achieve that, we'll soon be falling in love with machines.

And the girls will have an automation problem, which serves them right!

Free Services

Publisher J. Claude Wells, writing in The Memphis Democrat, recalls the story which first circulated several years ago.

"During the dry Thirties, many remember well a publisher of a weekly newspaper who ran an item which he published and declared to be true: 'Please mail me a few copies of the paper containing the wedding story of my cousin; also publish the enclosed clipping of my dear cousin's election as a school custodian back in Virginia, and I wish you would mention in your local column, if it doesn't cost anything, that I have two good milk cows for sale. As my subscription is out, please stop the paper as times are too hard to waste money on newspapers.'

"This story tends to remind us of the services, free services if you please, which newspapers and radio stations perform in a community . . . and which are seldom appreciated or not seen in perspective by many people.

"If a person bought a gift in a store, asked that it be gift wrapped, then returned the gift to be re-wrapped because 'I don't like the way you wrapped it the first time,' we can imagine that somebody's patience might wear a little thin.

"If a person asked his neighbor to come over and mow his lawn for him, then complained that it wasn't a good job of mowing, that he missed a small strip of grass back of a hedge, the neighbor who did the mowing probably would 'tell him off!'

"Yet almost every day a paper or radio station performs free services, such as running stories

Court Ruling Slows Fight

It is obvious that the American people, as well as their government, sustained a serious setback in an action taken by the Supreme Court early last week.

The high court refused to review—and thus let stand—a U.S. Court of Appeals decision of last December 17. The latter reversed on technical grounds, a $120,000 fine against the Communist Party for failure to submit details of its membership and finances.

The three-judge lower Federal Court had upset the Party's conviction on two major grounds: (1) Party leaders who might sign the registration demanded by the Justice Department could not be forced to do so on the grounds of possible self-incrimination; (2) The Government had not proved its contention that a volunteer is available to sign on behalf of the party.

The lower court said it was expressing no opinion about the Party's duty to submit the data demanded. That included naming the Party's officers and members, listing the amounts and sources of income and expenditures and giving the location of its printing presses.

The Supreme Court, in 1961, had upheld the validity of a 1953 order by the Subversive Activities Control Board under the 1950 Internal Security Act directing the Party to register. And the high court set a November, 1961, deadline.

Apparently, we have no such law on the books at the present time. (Lubbock Avalanche Journal)

Floydada Boys Attending West Texas Baseball Camp

These boys from Floydada, Texas, are currently enrolled in the first session of the West Texas Baseball Camp being conducted at Lubbock Christian College in Lubbock. They include Miles Davis, Louis R. Cardinal, Tim Aster, and Kent Hale. The camp, first of its kind in West Texas, is under the direction of Bobby Moegele, head baseball coach at Monterey High School in Lubbock.

"We are well pleased with the turnout for the first session," Moegele commented. "We have about 45 boys, which is an ideal group with which to work. We hope to have covered every phase of the game by the conclusion of the session on June 20."

Veterans Ask

Q—Can I allow my annual GI insurance dividend to remain on deposit to meet future premium?

A—Yes, you may. You should notify the Insurance Service of the Veterans Administration Office where you pay your premiums to hold future dividends to your credit, at interest, to meet premiums if you should fail to pay when due.

Q—I served less than a year in the Army between 1942 and 1943 and was honorably discharged at my own request to accept employment in essential industry. Will I be entitled to a pension when I become 65 years old?

A—Pensions may be granted at any age if a veteran has the requisite honorable service and is unable to follow substantially gainful employment due to disability.

Q—I had service during both World War II and the Korean Conflict but I have heard that the later period would be used in determining my deadline for a GI Loan. Is this true?

A—Ordinarily yes. However, if the computed time based on a long period of service during World War II would establish a later deadline than a short period of service during the Korean Conflict, the World War II period may be used.

Floyd Philosopher Sees Day When Political Speeches Won't Be Necessary On TV

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher, a Johnson grass farm apparently has heard about the computer machines the television industry is using, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

As I understand it, a lot of people are complaining because the television companies' computer machines are now announcing the results of elections before the elections are over.

"They say this is unfair, that a man starting to the polls late in the afternoon and hearing that somebody has already been declared the winner, will stay at home, although I doubt this, as he knows good and well there won't be anything else on television that evening anyway except more election returns.

None the less, some Congressmen want to pass a law prohibiting the machines from announcing their verdict until the polls have closed.

This is an issue which I find it had to get involved with.

Prayer In School

Clayton Stanhope, Republican nomination candidate for the state assembly post now held by Democrat John P. Quimby, favors an amendment to the U. S. Constitution to permit prayer and Bible in the public schools. "This Constitutional right of freedom of religion was removed by another 'warped' decision of a suspect U. S. Supreme Court," he says.

We appreciate Mr. Stanhope's forthrightness, but we think he is terribly mistaken on one thing. We either have not read the Constitution, or the Supreme Court ruling on prayer in school, or both. If he has, he has chosen to ignore some of the pertinent points of both.

He is obviously bitter against the court, stating that it is "warped" in its decisions.

The Supreme Court is established by our Constitution as one of the three branches of government. It is the only one not elected, but is subject to the appointment of the President, with confirmation by part of the second branch—the Senate. The appointments are subject to the feelings of the American Bar Association, as well as Congress.

This does not set the court above criticism. But it should set above an effort to destroy it. Such an effort seems to be the goal of many archconservatives, on the ground that the court has been too liberal in its decisions.

In the New York school case, the Court said basically that the state could not require all students to participate in a prescribed prayer. The Court did not say that we had to take "Under God" out of our pledge of allegiance if school children are to repeat it; it did not say they couldn't study the Bible in the classroom; and it did not say that teachers could not teach Christian ethics and morals in the classroom.

The people of the United States should be very careful about tampering with their Constitution. The first thing you know, we might create a problem greater than the one we're attempting to cure.

As for "Constitutional right of freedom of religion being removed by decision of the Court," Mr. Stanhope is all wet. He can still practice religion in any way he sees fit, as long as he doesn't force us to do it the same way.

Catholics Gaining

If the Catholic Church continues to grow in the United States at its present rate Catholics will eventually outnumber Protestants. Recent figures show Catholics increasing in the United States three times faster than Protestants.

The Catholic growth rate is 2.3 per cent, the Protestant 0.8 per cent, according to the latest reliable estimates.

There are several reasons Catholics are gaining on Protestants in the United States. One is that the Catholic Church gains more members through births, by instructing following against the use of modern birth-control devices.

Another is that Catholic refugee and immigration agencies and organizations have succeeded in bringing into the United States far more Catholic refugees and immigrants. And practically all Cubans and Puerto Ricans entering the country are Catholics.

The number of Catholics in the United States today is estimated at 44 million. The largest Protestant Church, the Baptist Church, claims less than 22 million members.

The total of all Protestant church memberships is approximately 64 million.

Love & Automation

There is a growing fear in some circles that automation and computerization are about to take over our private lives.

That is not to be lightly brushed aside, especially now that one push-button scientist reports he has steered 10,000 couples to the altar with an electronic computer.

The idea simply is to feed into the machine the desired ingredients for the perfect mate.

For one it might mean a blonde, 19, blue-eyed, five feet six, 35-25-35, well-to-do, unselfish, understanding beautiful, and with a jet engine.

Computerized mating, they say, is scientifically sound.

But then there is also that June night, a moon and a garden with an inevitable moment of romance, and two people, who fall in love. Can that be put into a machine? Can it take into account that chemical reaction between people, if scientists achieve that, we'll soon be falling in love with machines.

And the girls will have an automation problem, which serves them right!

Free Services

Publisher J. Claude Wells, writing in The Memphis Democrat, recalls the story which first circulated several years ago:

"During the dry Thirties, many remember well a publisher of a weekly newspaper who ran an item which he published and declared to be true: 'Please mail me a few copies of the paper containing the wedding story of my cousin; also publish the enclosed clipping of my dear cousin's election as a school custodian back in Virginia, and I wish you would mention in your local column, if it doesn't cost anything, that I have two good milk cows for sale. As my subscription is out, please stop the paper as times are too hard to waste money on newspapers.'"

This story tends to remind us of the services, free services if you please, which newspapers and radio stations perform in a community . . . and which are seldom appreciated or not seen in perspective by many people.

If a person bought a gift in a store, asked that it be gift wrapped, then returned the gift to be re-wrapped because "I don't like the way you wrapped it the first time," we can imagine that somebody's patience might wear a little thin.

If a person asked his neighbor to come over and mow his lawn for him, then complained that it wasn't a good job of mowing, that he missed a small strip of grass back of a hedge, the neighbor who did the mowing probably would "tell him off!"

Yet almost every day a paper or radio station performs free services, such as running stories publicizing events which may or may not be considered news, and if the story doesn't appear in the best location of the paper, if its headline isn't as large as might be desired, if the story isn't as lengthy as expected, it often happens that the newspaper is rebuked by the person asking the free service. Of course, if everything is all right, no reaction is registered.

Recently we were asked to publicize an event which we did via radio news. After the story was submitted and read, the sender wanted to change the word "celebration" used in the original story, to "observance." Reading it on the radio the second time from the original copy, we failed to change the word. Suddenly realizing we had not complied with the request of the one who submitted the story, we ad libbed: "The event is really an observance rather than a celebration."

Hardly were we off the air until the phone rang and the person snapped that she didn't appreciate "your snide remarks about my story."

Oh, well, one might become a little bitter if such experiences weren't crowded out of one's mind by the kindnesses of other people.

For example, that same day, we received a note of appreciation through the mail in which the writer expressed thanks for one gesture in general. She wound up her note with, "I'm glad you're a citizen of Tula."

To borrow a worn-out, threadbare expression . . . "it takes all kinds of people . . ."

Court Ruling Slows Fight

It is obvious that the American people, as well as their government, sustained a serious setback in an action taken by the Supreme Court early last week.

The high court refused to review—and thus let stand—a U.S. Court of Appeals decision of last December 17. The latter reversed on technical grounds, a $120,000 fine against the Communist Party for failure to submit details of its membership and finances.

The three-judge lower Federal Court had upset the Party's conviction on two major grounds: (1) Party leaders who might sign the registration demanded by the Justice Department could not be forced to do so on the grounds of possible self-incrimination; (2) The Government had not proved its contention that a volunteer is available to sign on behalf of the party.

The lower court said it was expressing no opinion about the Party's duty to submit the data demanded. That included naming the Party's officers and members, listing the amounts and sources of income and expenditures and giving the location of its printing presses.

The Supreme Court, in 1961, had upheld the validity of a 1953 order by the Subversive Activities Control Board under the 1950 Internal Security Act directing the Party to register. And the high court set a November, 1961, deadline.

Apparently, we have no such law on the books at the present time. (Lubbock Avalanche Journal)

Veterans Ask

Q—Can I allow my annual GI insurance dividend to remain on deposit to meet future premium?

A—Yes, you may. You should notify the Insurance Service of the Veterans Administration Office where you pay your premiums to hold future dividends to your credit, at interest, to meet premiums if you should fail to pay when due.

Q—I served less than a year in the Army between 1942 and 1943 and was honorably discharged at my own request to accept employment in essential industry. Will I be entitled to a pension when I become 65 years old?

A—Pensions may be granted at any age if a veteran has the requisite honorable service and is unable to follow substantially gainful employment due to disability.

Q—I had service during both World War II and the Korean Conflict but I have heard that the later period would be used in determining my deadline for a GI Loan. Is this true?

A—Ordinarily yes. However, if the computed time based on a long period of service during World War II would establish a later deadline than a short period of service during the Korean Conflict, the World War II period may be used.

But back to the voters. If the machine can announce out fail predict the election, just by an isolated vote, why newspapers predict what the machine will predict about what back and forth, and informed how to come out five year held.

Obviously, with pre-determined and set, there'd be no sign speeches on TV. I don't know what could turn on a wagon train when it's supposed to be body fields be big speech, look them up and let them puter and let them.

Prayer In School

Clayton Stanhope, Republican nomination candidate for the state assembly post now held by Democrat John P. Quimby, favors an amendment to the U. S. Constitution to permit prayer and Bible in the public schools. "This Constitutional right of freedom of religion was removed by another 'warped' decision of a suspect U. S. Supreme Court," he says.

We appreciate Mr. Stanhope's forthrightness, but we think he is terribly mistaken on one thing. He either has not read the Constitution, or the Supreme Court ruling on prayer in school, or both. If he has, he has chosen to ignore some of the pertinent parts of both.

He is obviously bitter against the court, stating that it is "warped" in its decisions.

The Supreme Court is established by our Constitution as one of the three branches of government. It is the only one not elected, but is subject to the appointment of the President, with confirmation by part of the second branch—the Senate. The appointments are subject to the feelings of the American Bar Association, as well as Congress.

This does not set the court above criticism. But it should set it above an effort to destroy it. Such an effort seems to be the goal of many archconservatives, on the ground that the court has been too liberal in its decisions.

In the New York school case, the Court said basically that the state could not require all students to participate in a prescribed prayer. The Court did not say that we had to take "Under God" out of our pledge of allegiance if school children are to repeat it; it did not say they couldn't study the Bible in the classroom; and it did not say that teachers could not teach Christian ethics and morals in the classroom.

Those who are seeking the new Constitutional amendment are evidently anticipating that these rulings are next. We don't think so. What the Court has done is to make sure that government does not impose a religious belief on individuals against their desires.

It has not said that our children may not be taught that belief in God played and does play an important part in the life of our country. This is an historical fact, and can and should be taught in the schools.

The Supreme Court may have gone to the brink in its ruling on prayer in school, but it has not done so to protect individual rights under the Constitution. Many liberals probably feel the Court 'went to the brink' in its ruling in the New York Times case that newspapers have the right to harshly criticize public officials, even if it is false, as long as no malice is involved. In fact, some justices felt it didn't matter where there was malice or not, as long as the criticism involved a public official in connection with his duties.

The people of the United States should be very careful about amending their Constitution. The first thing you know, we might create a problem greater than the one we're attempting to cure.

As for "Constitutional right of freedom of religion being removed by decision of the Court", Mr. Stanhope is all wet. He can still practice religion in any way he sees fit, as long as he doesn't force us to do it the same way.

Sunday dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. R. C. Guest were their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nutshell, Jan, Bob, Kim and of the body tissues are chiefly made of protein and minerals. The chief sources are fruits and vegetables; especially citrus fruits and colorful vegetables, leafy, green, yellow and red. Protein foods as milk, eggs, lean meats, and dried beans and peas are also rich sources of certain minerals and vitamins and also serve in this capacity. Water and carbohydrates are also necessary to help regulate the body processes. The foods for heat, energy, work and play are necessary, too. Every food eaten supplies some calories — some more than others. The chief sources are starches, sugars and fats.

A good guide in setting up single meals is to choose as many as possible foods from each of the groups that are highest in protective elements — minerals, vitamins and animal protein. Neutral colored foods are: White — white breads, potatoes (baked, creamed, mashed), white rice, macaroni, spaghetti, fish poultry (creamed or stewed), cottage cheese and other white cheese, white sauce, white cabbage, cole slaw, turnips, onions and parsnips. Brown — Dark breads, toast muffins, waffles, pancakes; fritters, potatoes, (browned, baked, fried), meats, fish and poultry (baked, broiled or fried), baked beans, kidney beans, brown gravy.

Warm colored foods are: Carrots, sweet potatoes, winter squash, pumpkin, tomatoes, red apples, beets, cranberries, radishes, corn, wax beans, cheese, eggs, lemons and oranges, jams and jellies. Cool colored foods are: Peas, asparagus, broccoli, brussels sprouts, green beans, fresh and frozen lima beans, green cabbage, spinach, kale, leaf lettuce, parsley, water cress, other greens, green pepper, pascal celery, green onions, pickles and olives. Be sure to combine food colors for attractive meals: Use at least one warm or cool colored food on each plate or platter. Use warm or cool colored foods to garnish neutral (brown or white) colored foods. Combine warm and cool colored foods in the same dish or same plate frequently. Prepare all foods to keep the bright, clear colors. As to texture something crisp and crunchy in the meal to contrast with softer foods add interest. Some combinations are traditional; such as: crackers with soup, cabbage slaw with baked beans and crisp thin cookies with ice cream or sherbet. Serve buttered vegetables with creamed or scalloped potatoes, and creamed vegetables when potatoes are baked, plain boiled, fried or mashed. As a rule, one

Breakfast — means "to break the fast." It is the first meal after a long rest (a good night's sleep). It usually consists of foods simple to prepare, mild in flavor, and which will give a generous supply of the substances necessary to keep the body in good condition. Contrary to some thought, there is no pattern of the day, the choice of food depends upon what we like — what we produce at home or can buy in our local markets — what we are accustomed to eating. Nutrition specialists tell us that breakfast should provide between 1/4 and 1/3 of our day's food needs.

Dinner is the main meal of the day, (may be served at noon or in the evening). It contains more different foods than are served at breakfast — usually consists of meat, vegetables, bread, butter or margarine and a beverage. It contains more different types of dishes, soups, stews, casseroles, salads, desserts, and beverages. It requires more time in planning and requires more time in preparation and also takes the highest percent of the food dollar, and goes along with the other meals of the day to round out the food needs of the family. A reliable food guide, such as the Basic 7 or the Essential Four makes all this simple and easy. SUPPER — usually a lighter meal than dinner. It may be left-overs from the main meal, or a simple, easily prepared one-dish meal, like a sandwich or a salad.

Planning meals for the whole day rather than a meal at a time will help you to know that the food requirements of your family are met and help you avoid monotony in meals and make the meals more interesting. It will give you better use of your time, energy, equipment and save you kilowatts in cooking. It will also cut down on the time in food preparation and clearing up and if well planned will make a real family get-together. Foods for building and repair

Weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Barnhart were David Barnhart, Miss Cindy Belew and Mrs. Sherry Barsch, all of Abilene.

A Sunday afternoon visitor to the home of Mrs. Roxie Travis was Mrs. Earl Martin.

Vacation Bible School is in progress this week at the Methodist church beginning at 8:30 in the morning and going until 11:00. Closing exercises will be held Sunday night.

Elder and Mrs. Joe Jackson and Miss Rachel Nance visited patients in Crosbyton Hospital on Sunday afternoon including Mr. J. F. Robertson, Mrs. Lynn Campbell and infant daughter Patti; and Mrs. Donald Neff and baby girl, Dwanna Denise.

Mr. and Mrs. Haney Wideman, Spike, Mark, Mel and Mardie were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Kirby and boys, Sunday night after church service and Jill, Jan, who had visited two weeks with her grandparents, returned home with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Yeakum, Patti and Roger were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mara and Mollie.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Wideman visited in Ralls on Sunday evening with Miss Gladys Tomlinson and Mr. Elbert Harris. Elder and Mrs. Joe Jackson visited in the Tomlinson home on Sunday evening.

Miss Darlene Kirkes, Oklahoma City, arrived a week ago Saturday to visit for some time with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shrum and Guy Len. Other guests present in the Shrum home during the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Shrum, Lubbock.

Difference in size and shape of foods add interest to the meal. Picture a meal of fish sticks, french fried potatoes, whole green beans and carrot sticks. Every thing looks about the same doesn't it? Compare it with fish sticks, mashed potatoes, cut green beans and carrot sticks — small change but they do make the meal more interesting, and attractive.

Try varying the shapes of vegetables. For example, you can serve carrots, whole, in halves, quarters, of eighths, or cut cross-wise, straight or diagonally or into cubes. There are other vegetables, too, that lend themselves to different shapes — potatoes, beets, rutabagas, etc.

Bland foods need to be highlighted with more flavorful foods. For example serving fish with lemon or tomato. Strong flavored vegetables go with meats of pronounced flavor—such as liver and onions, corned beef and cabbage, wieners and sauerkraut. A second vegetable with these combinations should be a mild one; potatoes are a natural with the above three. Dinner usually consists of a meat dish, potatoes, and one or two other vegetables. One of these vegetables may be a salad or raw vegetable relish. Bread of some kind is usually served throughout the meal.

Dried beans and peas can take the place of meat now and then. They are most often used as a vegetable with meat cooked in them instead of in place of meat. They go together nicely as the protein dish, especially if the beans are used to extend the meat.

When dried beans are used in a meatless meal, we are told to serve with a glass of milk, a dessert such as custard, or cheese with fruit to keep the protein value of the meatless meal as high as in one with meat. Potatoes can be eaten every

Area Beet Growers Seek Some Legislation Changes

Residents from the High Plains Area attended a meeting of Sugar Beet growers representing 17 states which formed a sugar beet committee to seek legislation changes to the Sugar Act.

Homer Garrison of Plainview was named chairman of the sugar group, at the meeting which was attended by Billy Sylvester, president of the Hale County Sugar Beet Growers, Harvey Milner, president of Swisher County Association, Kenneth Bean representing Floyd County and Garrison.

According to Garrison, the committee will seek an amendment to the Sugar Act whereby new growers in new areas will be able to receive acreage allocations from the national sugar beet acreage reserve.

He said the committee expects to have a hearing with the House Agricultural Committee on June 25.

In the hearing the sugar beet and cane growers will seek increased allotments and new growers will ask for the amendment.

Rites Held For Mrs. Bethel

Funeral rites for Mrs. Lucy T. Bethel, 77, former resident of Floydada and daughter of a pioneer Floydada family, were held in Lamesa Saturday at the First Methodist Church. Burial followed graveside services at 2 p.m. in the Floydada Cemetery. Brannon-Phillips Funeral Home of Lamesa were in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Bethel died at her home in Lamesa last Thursday. She had resided there for the past six years where she moved upon leaving Floydada. Mrs. Bethel had made her home here for the past 50 years and was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Smith. She formerly taught school here in the old grade school. Her husband, W. H. Bethel died in 1906.

Survivors include a son, Reed Bethel of Lamesa; one brother, Charles Smith of Wichita Falls and a grandson, Donald Bethel of Lamesa. Ray Smith of Floydada is a nephew of the deceased.

Out of town relatives attending the funeral included nieces and nephews and their families and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Julia Smith, Fort Worth, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Smith, Hurst; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rutherford, Freeport; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Young, Seminole; Mr. and Mrs. Ira Taylor, Lubbock and Mr. and Mrs. Mangum and sons, Littlefield.

Attending the funeral from Floydada were Bill Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bullock, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McNeil.

day without the family tiring of them because they can be prepared in so many ways. They contain a good assortment of vitamins and minerals. They are said to contain full calories and not empty ones.

The second vegetable may come from your garden or from the supply you have in your food freezer—if they have been properly processed they have almost the same food value as the fresh vegetables.

There is a variety of breads which along with butter, can supply the extra calorie needs of hard working men and the rapidly growing teen-agers who need extra food. However, bread should not be eaten instead of the other necessary foods.

In many families, the dessert tends to take the spotlight of the meal. The dessert should be planned to supply its share of the food needs. If the dinner meal has been rather hearty, serve a light dessert such as fresh, frozen or stewed fruit. If the main part of the meal was light a richer dessert may be used, such as cake, pie or ice cream that provides extra calories. If you have "weight-watchers" to consider go lightly on these foods.

It was my privilege to attend the Eighth Annual Homemakers College last week at New Mexico State University, University Park, New Mexico, along with a group from this area. "Heart of the Home" was the theme for this year's meeting. One thousand seventy-one homemakers registered for classes this year, the largest group they have ever had attend. Well-planned programs capable instructors, beautiful weather and the large group of interested homemakers seems all that is needed for a successful Homemaker's College.

Mrs. W. C. Hutchins of Cushing, Oklahoma, is here visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hutchins and boys. Mrs. Mabel Scott and Mrs. Gladys Gross of Petersburg were co-visitors on Monday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Alton Higginbotham and children were dinner guests on Sunday, of his mother, Mrs. Ruby Lee Higginbotham, South Plains.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Henry visited in Borger, Sunday, with Mr. and Mrs. Loran Nixon and girls. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John Cline of Plainview.

Melinda Goen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Goen, started summer school classes at Texas Tech on June 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Barclay Chesnut visited in the C. B. Lyles home Sunday afternoon.

Primary Day Camp Friday

All Primaries, 6, 7, and 8 of the First Baptist Church who are planning the Sunbeam Day Camp Friday, June 19th at Plains Baptist Assembly, are asked to meet at the church in Floydada by 9 o'clock Friday morning in order to be at the Camp by 9:45, deadline for registering for the day's activities.

Each member attending is asked to bring a sack lunch and girls may wear jeans or slacks. Also each are asked to bring 25 cents to be covered by insurance for the day.

As many adults and teen-agers as possible are asked to attend the camp in order to have enough for leadership and care of the children.

The program and camp will climax at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon and each Primary will be returned to the church where parents are asked to pick them up.

WMU Retreat begins with a Justice prayer retreat at 8:30 June 25, and conference during day, and Thursday afternoon district leaders will meet for different departments, and Mrs. Clark Estes and Mrs. Lon Smith will be the main speakers at night. WMU camp goes on from June 25 through noon June 26.

Camp for Latin-Americans will be held Aug. 10-12. Miss Patty Moore of Seminole was a dinner guest with Mr. and Mrs. Early Pritchett and boys Sunday at the noon hour.

Sunday dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Wood were Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wood, Russ and Lynn, Mrs. Walter Wood and Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCown of Lake Whitney.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Newman and his mother, Mrs. R. W. Newman of Snyder came Tuesday and stayed through Wednesday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure, and Wednesday they all had lunch in Plainview with the McClure daughter and family. Sunday night the McClures visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Weast with other guests Mrs. Robt. Lee Smith, Robin Ann and Sandra of Sterley.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Magnusson of Amarillo came Sunday to have dinner and the afternoon with her sister, Mrs. Bryant Higginbotham and Bud. Other guests at dinner were the Alton Higginbothams, Kelly and Bryant of Floydada. The group visited that afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Yeary, and guests with them were Mr. and Mrs. Orby Beard.

Kenneth Bean returned Wednesday from Washington, D. C. where he had been since Sunday attending a Sugar Beet meeting. He flew from Lubbock Sunday.

Mrs. Kenneth Bean and Mrs. Donald Bean worked at the First Methodist Church in Floydada all last week in the Vacation Bible School, and took their children, Diane and Carla, and Mike and Judi. Kelly Smitherman also went with them.
