July 19-25 Designated As County Farm Safety Week

County Judge J. D. McBrien has officially proclaimed July 19-25, 1964, as FARM SAFETY WEEK in Floyd County, according to David S. Battey, Jr., president of the local county Farm Bureau. The local farm organization is coordinating activities for the special farm safety campaign. President Johnson and Governor Connally have previously designated that week on national and state levels as a period to call attention to worthwhile safety practices that can reduce disabling injuries and death. The county farm leader said that farm accidents have been reduced in the past few years; however, farmers cannot afford to let down their guard against accidents. He emphasized that farming remains one of the most hazardous occupations in America today.

Boll Weevil Infestation Found In Floyd County

Early this week it was reported by Ralph Johnson, who farms just out on top of the Caprock in the Dougherty Community that he had found several squares punctured by Boll Weevils. However, this is two weeks later than they have been found the past three years that the Johnsons have contended with the pest. In connection with the invasion of the Boll Weevils, three area Boll Weevil meetings will be held with the purpose being to inform and educate every farmer and businessman in the country of the facts pertaining to the Boll Weevil situation and the program for combating him on the High Plains of Texas, according to Richard E. Miller, county agricultural agent.

School Board Lets Contract For Three Classroom Houses

The Floydada school board let a contract with Builders Mart to build three 24' x 48' wooden classroom buildings to house six more classes at Andrews Ward grade school at their regular monthly meeting Monday night. Builders Mart was low bidder with a bid of $3,750 for each building. Consumers Fuel Association was the low bidder on service for the school's buses and the board approved their bid. The Hamilton Roofing Company of Lubbock was low bidder on repairing the high school roof and their bid of $5,652 was approved by the board. A new intercom system for Andrews Ward and the transfer of its system with some improvements to the Della Plains school was also approved. This will

REDBED COULD HOLD SECRET Deep Wells May Be Solution To Problem Of Declining Water

A number of test holes have been drilled in Floyd County and a few pumps put on other wells that could be a solution to the problem of the declining underground water table on the South Plains. These are being referred to simply as "Deep Wells" and are drilled through the first strata of sand, through the redbed and into the west sand strata which begins between 400 and 500 feet below the ground surface. Of course it varies from farm to farm as does the depth of other wells. A few days ago a "test" well was drilled on the Raymond Merriwether farm at Barwise. After the crew had gone through the redbed, the pressure of the water underneath the redbed forced the water to within 55 feet of the surface of the ground. Several successful "deep wells" are in operation in the Happy area. All looks good on the surface, but a number of problems can be confronted by using the wells. Within the last three years, at least three wells, that were drilled in the Cedar Hill area, had to be sealed off because the salt content was too high for the water to be used on any of the crops. The water would actually

Difference Of $12,000 Separates Agreement

At a regular City Council meeting held Tuesday night, the members of the Council and W. A. "Bert" Massie failed to reach agreement on the annexation of a strip of land owned by Massie running almost the length of the city on the west side of Floydada. Only about $12,000 separated the two on agreement of annexation. The City Council proposed that Massie should pay to bring the main water lines from existing lines inside the city limits, and bring the sewer lines from existing lines inside the city limits, and pay for the paving and curbing of all streets except the intersections on the streets and alleys. Massie contended that two weeks ago when he met with a special session of the council, he told the council he would pay only for the three-inch service water lines that would be laid in his alleys, and pay for the sewer lines laid in his alleys, and pay for the paving as proposed by the Council.

Jim Lackey Returns To Floydada PCA Manager

James "Jim" Lackey, a former PCA assistant manager returned to Floydada last week, but this time to manage the firm. When Lackey left, last October, he was replaced by the present assistant manager, Bill Black.

JAMES "JIM" LACKEY

Lackey went from the office here to the home office in Plainview where he has been working for the last eight months. He plans to move his family here from Plainview as soon as he can find a place for them to live. Lackey is driving back and forth to work. He was born and reared at Bledsoe, Texas, close to the New Mexico line, where he graduated from high school. Immediately after graduation he entered the Navy and served in the South Pacific during World War II, assigned to an LST.

Floydada and Lockney shared honors Thursday night when a young lady from each city was named Miss Floyd County Farm Bureau and alternate, respectively. Miss Cheryl Rucker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rucker of Lockney, and a sophomore at McMurry, was named Miss Farm Bureau at the annual affair and Vicki Gregory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gregory of Floydada, junior in Floydada High School was selected alternate. Second Clinic Set Saturday

The second monthly clinic for migrant children will be held in the Community Room of the First National Bank beginning at 2:00 p.m. Saturday, July 18, according to Mrs. Wesley Carr. Purpose of the clinic is to give the children, who parents can't afford to have the Polio, Diphtheria, Whooping Cough, Tetanus, and Small Pox shots or vaccinations. This is a perfect opportunity for those who haven't yet had their pre school shots to get this done, for it is necessary before the children can enter school. The State of Texas is furnishing the vaccine, and it is being administered by Mrs. Geneva Shropshire of the Texas Health Department. All registered nurses in the area are urged to be on hand to help with the job.

South Plains Homecoming Set Sunday

There will be an annual homecoming for the former students of South Plains and the Old Sunset School, Sunday. Each family is requested to bring a basket lunch and eat immediately after the preaching services at the church are dismissed. The group will assemble at the school house for the basket lunch.

not done it your way for any of the other developers who have brought their areas into the City, and we can't do it any other way."

An ordinance passed by the city council August 9, 1961, states that a developer of a residential area must pay all the development cost of bringing the area into the city limits. The city will pay for any over-size lines or materials necessary for future developments, and will pave the intersections in the area. The remainder of the cost is to be borne by the developer.

Councilman Lon Davis mentioned to Massie, "Since you propose to sell about 100 residential lots, the additional cost per lot would only be $120 and this is little increase in the cost of a lot."

Massie replied, "When a person builds a house he usually takes on all the expense he can stand, and before it's over the cost of his plan has increased from 20 to 25 percent."

As he left the council room, Massie took the sheet of paper on which Cooper shows the breakdown of costs for both he and the city and mentioned he would take it home and "study some of his homework."

It had been understood that the city had spent several thousand in engineering costs in anticipation of the area being annexed in the future. However, according to City Manager Olen Petty, no engineering fees have been charged in making plans for bringing the area into the city.

At the council meeting the group accepted bids for 90,000 square yards of seal coat to be put on city streets for repairs and for repair of the concrete curbing adjacent to such paving. The low bidder was L. A. Purteff of Lubbock with a bid of $11,210 and the council decided to let a contract to the firm not in excess of $10,000.

The council also discussed the requirements for annexation with Foster Amburn, who owns land on Ollie Street he wanted to bring into the city limits. After hearing requirements, he did not request annexation.

Equalization Board actions on city tax rolls was accepted by the members of the council.

The council voted to raise for Olen Petty, city manager in accordance with the agreement when he was hired.

ruin the land for any productive use whatever.

However, according to Curtis Sanders, whose firm had drilled some of the holes recently, the farther west they drilled the less salt content has been found. And Hubert Frizzell in the Lone Star Community is now in the process of drilling an 18 inch hole "deep well", plans to set a pump and begin using the water for irrigation.

In such a case, he will need to keep an accurate record of salt content of the water. To do this he will probably need to sample the water every time he starts using it for an irrigation and every two or three days during the use of the well. The samples can be sent to Texas Tech for analysis.

Rites Conducted Saturday For Mrs. Lela Lloyd

Mrs. Lela Lloyd, 90 year old former resident of Floydada, died in England, Ark., July 1. Her body was returned here by Moore Funeral home for rites which were conducted Saturday in the Chapel of the First Baptist Church.

Rev. Floyd C. Bradley, pastor, officiated. Interment was in Floydada cemetery.

Palbearers were Parnell Powell, Bill Hardin, W. L. Hale, C. M. Leatherman, C. E. Leatherman and Bill Daniel.

Mrs. Lloyd was a native of Texas and had made her home in Floyd County for many years. She moved from here to Arkansas some three years ago, and was in a rest home there at the time of her death.

The deceased was a member of the First Baptist Church in Floydada. She was preceded in death by a son, Rev. L. J. Floyd.

Survivors include one son, Bill Lloyd of Mississippi, former resident of Floydada and one daughter, Mrs. Bonnie Moore of Kansas City, Kan., several grandchildren and great grandchildren.

now is pumping a 4 inch stream of "good" water.

Test samples were taken every 20 or 30 feet as the well was being drilled and the samples were sent to Tech for salt analysis.

The results showed that the highest salt content appeared as the bit was passing through the redbed.

Whether these wells prove to be beneficial or not remains to be seen and only testing and trying will give the answers. One fact remains, however, that in the face of a falling water table, in the first strata, Floyd County farmers will continue to seek, experiment and find solutions to their problems as they have in the past to make the South Plains the top agriculture producing area in the world.

GRADING THROUGH PIPE — The picture above shows grading being applied in gradings thru gated pipe. The slope was small allowing a large volume of water to be applied without any erosion taking place.

Of Irrigation Water Becoming More Important

Underground irrigation pipe from the well will usually be needed. The underground pipe will eliminate water losses due to seepage and evaporation. It carries the water when and where it is needed without erosion. Valves spaced at periodic intervals on the underground line permit portable gated pipe to be used.

The water intake rate of soils varies with each particular soil. Deep sands absorb the water rapidly while heavy clays take water very slowly. To be able to manage the water, the length of run, the amount of water to apply and the time of set should be fitted for each type of soil. A conservative estimate is that 50% or more of the water applied on the South Plains does not add to crop production. This loss is caused by poor distribution, water running off the field and excessive evaporation through frequent light applications. Permeable soils such as sands are often irrigated using the same length of run and time of set as for heavy clays. This causes loss of water and the leaching of plant nutrients. Some land with steep slopes are being irrigated with more of the water lost as tail-water than is absorbed by the soil. Excess erosion is also taking place, removing valuable top soil.

The slope of the land may need to be changed. Field leveling or bench leveling may have to be done for better distribution and more efficient use of irrigation water. The slope and the type of soil may be such that a sprinkler system is needed.

Even though the above factors have been met other knowledge is required before irrigation water management can be attained. This knowledge includes the consumptive use rate for the crops grown. The amount of water needed by the crop and the amount of water delivered to the area. The normal time needed for the soil to absorb the required amount of water and how to detect changes in intake. It may be necessary to adjust the stream size to compensate for the changes in intake.

The Soil Conservation Service, working thru your local Soil Conservation District, will be happy to help you. They will work with you in obtaining the best and most efficient system for your particular soil.

Last June's call a year ago, it is in line with other banks of this area. Floyd's neighbors to the west, Hale County, often boasting of being the number one agriculture producing county in the state, showed an increase of 8 per cent in deposits. However two of the three banks in Plainview showed losses when compared with June of 1964 and only showed any gain. It was a new bank, so had no records last year.

Banks in Hale County, Abilene and Pecos also showed losses in deposits when compared with last year. The new bank in Plainview, The First National, showed deposits of $12 million, which is all gain of course, and which took up the slack lost by the other Hale County banks.

Several Ways To Can Onions Told Recently

According to L. A. Marshall, local inventor and self made philosopher there are a number of ways a person can keep onions for long periods of time. In the following statement he proposes some of these. In addition to adding to the versatility of the food it would help the area onion grower.

His statement follows. "There is no doubt about it. Floyd County raises the finest, sweetest, juiciest onions found anywhere and these irrigated onions are especially fine this year. "Let's help these farmers sell their products. I offer plans of processing some of these onions. "First they are nice to chop and freeze. "Clean and wash and quarter the onions and run them through a sausage mill using the coarse cutter. This chops them into about one-half inch pieces. Sprinkle lightly with sugar, put about a pint in plastic bags, place in half gallon milk containers and freeze, leveling each bag so when removed from the milk carton they will stack evenly. These are fine for salads and for cooking. Be sure to add the juice to each bag. "Another plan is to clean and wrap the onion in foil and freeze. "If onion rings are desired, slice these before they are thoroughly thawed. Try these and I think you will be delighted. "Another idea is to place the small onions or boliers in water and can them. This is easy and they are beautiful. "Let's buy a few sacks of these onions and put up enough to do you a year. You'll be glad you did. "Personally I feel inclined to try to help these boys sell their onions, because the farmers helped me make a living most of my life here in the grain business. "It is claimed that Floyd County raises the finest onions in the state, I think this is true."

Local Pastor, Family Accept Canyon Post

A local pastor and his family will be moving to Canyon around the last of August where he will assume duties as pastor of a church there.

They are the Herman Alexanders. He has been pastor of City Park Church of Christ for the past year and a half and assume his duties at the Central Church of Christ in Canyon the last of August or the first of September. The family moved from Pine Bluff, Ark. where he was pastor of a church.

Alexander said that it is the church that has the Bible Chair serving the youth of West Texas State University. It has a congregation of about 300 people and a large percentage of this figure is young people.

Presently the director of the Bible Chair is Gordon Downing, who was pastor at City Park for about five years. Downing has been in the Middle East this summer studying at a Hebrew University and his wife has been in Madrid, Spain studying.

incapacity, and greatly effect the economic well-being and progress of our agricultural population in our county, state and nation.

"Throughout this special week, a statewide farm accident prevention and educational program will be undertaken by the Texas Farm Bureau, the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the Texas Safety Association and the Floyd County Farm Bureau with the theme "Safer American Families Everywhere."

County Farm Bureau President Battey said that a different phase of safety would be emphasized each day during the week: Sunday—reverence for life; Monday—safety begins at home; Tuesday—agricultural chemicals; Wednesday—prevent falls; Thursday—rural highway safety; Friday—farm machinery; Saturday—recreation safety.

The general public is invited to attend any or all of these receptions and to meet candidates Phillips and Nafziger.

Home Demonstration Club Hears Beauty Suggestions

The Dougherty Home Demonstration Club met July 9th in the home of Mrs. A. C. Pratt.

The local teenagers in and around Dougherty were invited since Dougherty doesn't have a 4-H Club.

Mrs. W. J. Ross opened the meeting with Mrs. Pratt giving the devotional, Proverbs 22:6, "Train up a child in the way he should go, and when he is old, he will not depart from it. Roll call was answered with "Something I have learned from a teenager."

Mrs. R. H. Crawford introduced the speaker, Mrs. Pratt, who presented a program on charm hints, and teenage fashions.

According to Mrs. Pratt, "You don't have to be beautiful to be charming, Beauty comes from inside, always be friendly, courteous, and smiling, and you do not have to have fine clothes to be well dressed. Be neat, clean, and carry yourself well. Exercises are a must in keeping well groomed."

Hats of various shapes were tried on by the women. Mrs. Pratt stated, "Your diet is important, and helps determine your complexion. Start using good cosmetics now, and you'll have a good complexion when you are older."

Misses Gale Emert, Jackie Crawford and Judy Emert won the prizes. Refreshments were served to the guests and to club members. Mrs. W. J. Ross, Russell Crawford and Mrs. Claude King.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. Howe Hines July 23, at 2 p.m.

Beef Import Decrease Brings Increased Price

Brady, June 25 - Events during the past three weeks have dramatically demonstrated the need for legislation establishing reasonable beef import quotas, the president of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association declared here today.
Fred Wulff of Brady said an Associated Press article pointing out the substantial increase in fed beef prices over the past two and one-half weeks, coupled with newspaper reports of a substantial decrease in imports of foreign beef and veal during the first part of 1964, dramatically emphasizes the direct correlation between beef and veal imports and the price received for domestic beef.

"The ability of the importers to increase and decrease their imports at will under the so-called voluntary agreement so favorable to the importing countries points out more clearly than ever the absolute necessity of legislation providing reasonable import quotas," Wulff said.
"The tremendous potential increase in beef and veal production which some of these countries are capable of obtaining in the future and the fact that they have no place to go with their increase except into the export trade can bring ruination to the U. S. beef producer unless the imports are curbed by law," the cattlemen added.

Wulff also strongly condemned the Secretary of Agriculture for statements attributed to the Department of Agriculture in an Associated Press article this week.
He said that if the article were true, then cattlemen know no help can be expected from that quarter. Wulff referred to the news article which stated in part, "matrilial being distributed by the Agriculture Department stresses an Administration contention that Congressionally-imported barriers to foreign beef would have wide-spread harmful repercussions on exports of U. S. farm products."

Local Trucker Seeks Permit

Floydada trucker Buck Hickerson went before a representative of the state Railroad Commission in Lubbock Tuesday seeking a permit that will allow him to transport Plains Vegetables in the state.

He is opposed by trucking companies in San Antonio and Lubbock.

Hickerson has five truck tractors and six trailers, one of which is refrigerated.

Mack Hickerson . . . also Harold Smith of the H & S Produce Company in Hart.

Hickerson said the commission's decision probably won't be handed down for about a month, which means he'll lose some trucking on the cucumber harvest which will begin here next week.

Hickerson has five truck tractors and six trailers, one of which is refrigerated.

Connally Sought For County Fair

Governor John Connally is being sought by the Floyd County Fair Board to be the guest speaker for the opening day, September 17, according to Hubert Frizzell, president of the board. This announcement was made at the regular monthly meeting of the group in the PCA building in Floydada Tuesday night.

Frizzell said, "When I talked to him (Governor Connally) he talked very favorably. Of course a lot of problems would enter into such a situation—security guards and any number of other things could enter into the act."

Silverton, Petersburg and Lockney schools will be turned out that afternoon, pending the Governor's ability to appear.

"If he can come," Frizzell added, "we can expect from 10-15, 000 people on the opening day of the Fair."

The Governor is scheduled to lead the parade, and then speak in the Bodley Grounds if he does come for the event.

Other business discussed at the meeting was the Queen's Contest, committee reports and the expected need for 8-10 beehives to feed the crowd at the free barbecue.

Continual Expansion, Perfect Records Are Key To Success In FFA

Perfect records won't be perfect, even if they can ruin the engine," stated a 1963 Floydada Farmer Degree winner. He will receive his degree in the first of the FFA holds its annual Convention. Craig intends to attend, but some-thing a per-centage a per-centage of $150 to Kansas City, he doesn't. Farmer Degree point of achieve-ment attained by a very careful and very perfect record. On top of a strong belief in doing, and of enthusiasm, an example stood in the present market is around 18c per cwt. He has an is a real estate broker and has a number of clients. Not a bad barbeque for the wealthiest and of course the tenderness of the beef and several began to get more. He will sell it to you on the hoof, or package it for people didn't want the butchering so price. He had that if an animal at 55%, which is seldom get under, he makes money by selling them slaughtered. Craig has attained the degree with projects that started from a two cow and two calf operation, an investment of about $500 when he was eight years old. When he reached school and started keeping records in his project book his operation included about 13 animals. At a time about two years ago, his Hereford herd was worth $10,000. He has carried these animals as projects through his FFA program, and at times has added the feed he uses for the silage, and has also used crops to pay for the rent on his pastureland. Craig mentioned that everything done with his herd or to his herd had to be shown on his records. At one time he borrowed a neighbor's bull. This couldn't go in the record book, as "borrowed." There was transportation that had to be shown, rent that had to be shown, feeding of the animal had to be shown, and all these added up to costs. These costs in turn had to be balanced in the book. All of Craig's animals aren't registered, but he could get the papers on more than 50 per cent of them. Recently he went to Houston and bought a cow and a bull calf, both from the FO Ideal Intense line. The bull will eventually grow to sire his herd which Craig intends to be all registered. He wants to eventually sell the project calves to the FFA boys in Floydada. In addition, he is seeking a name, or reputation, for his cattle with schemes such as were mentioned about Lubbock. A point Craig made about the butchering of his cattle was not. In addition to not feeding as much salt as most cattle growers think is necessary, he always makes sure his cattle aren't excited on the day he intends to butcher. If they are nervous, Craig waits another day. Proud as he is of his achieve-ments in the FFA, Craig is more proud of another item around the place. That is his wife, Betty, his bride of about 2 months. She is the former Betty Shore of Petersburg. Just before they married, a number of the neighbors came to the house, which was a farm hand house, and tried to help them fix it up a little, Craig said. "At one time I looked in here in the living room and there were seven women trying to hang wall paper, and each had a different idea about how it should be done." In addition to his cattle and crops on the 137 acres of land he is renting, Craig has been doing custom fertilizing to get enough money to go to the National Convention. He also plays the organ, and was left in the dark last Thursday night at the Farm Bureau Queen's Contest trying to keep the audience entertained during the intermission. Craig's application for the American Farmer degree was filed last April and came up for the District Check in May. The Area Checking followed also in May and the State Committee approved it in June. This was as far as his records went, but his application went on to the National Committee and were just recently approved there. Floyd County has two other American Farmers, Stanley "Teen" Burleson, and Billy Ware. Burleson received his degree through the Floydada Chapter, and Ware received his through the Plainview Chapter.

1964 Predicted As Most Deadly Traffic Year Yet

The Highway Patrol investigated eight rural traffic accidents in Floyd County during the month of June, according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Patrol Supervisor of this area. These wrecks accounted for eight persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $8,647.00. The rural traffic accident summary in Floyd County for the first six months of 1964 shows a total of 33 crashes resulting in no persons killed, 24 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $31,612.00. "As of July 3, there had been a total of 1,063 fatal crashes in Texas taking the lives of 1,288 persons," the Sergeant stated. This is 174 more traffic deaths than for the same period of 1963. If traffic deaths continue at the present rate, 1964 will become the most deadly year in Texas history for traffic fatalities, not only exceeding the 1963 all time high of 2,739 deaths but going over the 3,000 fatality mark. The veteran Patrol Supervisor stated, "This is not just a probability, but a possible reality, unless the motoring public be-

DIVIDED TIME — The time spent on projects when one is seeking the American Farmer Degree in FFA is pretty well divided between keeping records, (top photo) and looking after the herd, or project (bottom photo). Betty and Craig Edwards try in the top photo to bring the records up to date and Craig looks over his herd in the bottom photo. The Santa Gertrudis shown in the picture belongs to one of the neighbors and is not part of Craig's all Hereford herd.

AVOID ACCIDENTS, SAFETY PAYS OFF!

FARM SAFETY WEEK

JULY 19-25

BE WISE FOLLOW THESE SIX SAFETY SUGGESTIONS

1. Keep all equipment in good repair . . . know and use the safety rules in operating machinery on the farm and highways.
2. Many accidents can be eliminated by keeping your farm clean and neat. Keep buildings in sound condition, too.
3. Treat animals with caution . . . always speak to an animal as it is being approached. A frightened animal can be deadly.
4. Be careful around water holes, wells, and lakes. Learn how to swim and never go out in or on water by yourself.
5. Eliminate all fire hazards around your farm . . . and be aware of fire dangers at all times. Don't smoke in barns!
6. Learn the methods of first aid . . . keep a kit handy . . . and always apply first aid promptly when an accident occurs.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Knowles of Houston, cousins of Mrs. Vinson, stopped by the Vinsons Thursday for a short visit on their way home from a two week's vacation in Colorado — including Colorado Springs.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Huckaby and children of Stephenville came by Sunday for a brief visit with her parents, the Vinsons. Jerrold Vinson and family of Harmony were also present, and all had a good time — then the Huckabys went on to Lockney to another Reunion, and returned to Stephenville via the parental home late Sunday.

The J. E. Greens visited Mrs. Joe Evers Friday evening. So did Mr. and Mrs. Fred Batley and Mrs. Charlie Batley. Mr. and Mrs. Shelby Cook of Amarillo also dropped in for awhile on their way somewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Warren and children, also the Bob Alldredges, left last Tuesday for a vacation trip to Colorado. Some places toured were Gunnison Park, Colorado Springs and Royal Gorge. Wonderful country to go to escape some July and August hot weather in Texas. They reached home late Saturday.

Mrs. Doyle Sandifur came home Friday after a week's stay in a Quanah hospital. We hope she'll soon be alright.

Visitors in the Sandifur home Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Sellers; Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Crump of Turkey, Mr. and Mrs. B. P. Sandifur of McCoy and Mr. and Mrs. Felix Martine of Harmony.

Monday morning Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Wagoner of Plainview, formerly east of Center, came by to see the Sandifurs.

Remember, young people, the youth Baptist camp in Blanco Canyon. Such a nice inspiring way to spend two or three days with young people your own age. And not so far from home you'd get home sick. And fun, too.

Some Grain Shows Stress From Lack Of Moisture

It's grain sorghum watering time. Some grain sorghum is already showing signs of moisture stress and should be watered immediately.

County Agent Richard Miller says grain sorghum uses very little water up to the seven leaf stage. However, some grain sorghum is past this stage. He also stresses grain sorghum requires the most water at boot and bloom stage. . . no benefit is gained from irrigation when grain is past the soft dough stage.

Grain sorghum at the seven leaf stage uses about one tenth inch water daily. From this stage through blooming, water use rises rapidly. At booting stage, the crop is using over four tenths inches water daily. Water use drops sharply after blooming is completed.

Water stress at any time during the growing season through soft dough stage will reduce yields. Examine soil for moisture conditions often. Keep moisture at least to the 50% available moisture level, especially during boot and bloom stages. Most plant roots are in the top two feet so this area must have the moisture replenished.

Water stress at the boot stage can easily cut production 25%. Stress at bloom stage can cut yields as much as 50%. But, Miller warns, excessive moisture after soft dough stage delays harvest and causes tillering or suckering, which complicates harvest and lowers quality.

Plains soils will hold from one to 2.5 inches of moisture per foot of depth, depending on soil types. The more clay and organic matter present in the soil, the higher the water-holding capacity. Total water requirements during the season will run from 16 to 24 inches a year — depending on the year.

LOCKNEY FIRE Destroys Auto, Damages Motors

Several Lockneyites were affected by a fire which broke out at 4:40 p. m. Monday, July 6, at Johnson and Johnson Auto Parts and Garage at Lockney.

An El Camino pickup under repair, belonging to Paul Cooper, was destroyed. The vehicle was parked near the fire's starting point and could not be removed.

Damage was done to seven irrigation motors which were the property of Clark Harris, Ray Acton, Hershel Cartmel, Max Marble, Elmer Griffith, Floyd Dorman and Dale Laceywell.

The building, the rear portion of which was heavily damaged, is located on East Locus St. near the Lockney Fire Station, and was reached quickly by Lockney Volunteer Fire Department who extinguished the fire as the tin roof was beginning to cave in.

Flames erupted in the rear of the four-stall garage when the pit began overflowing and fire spread from beneath a vat.

Co-owner and manager, Lavon Johnson, arrived in Lockney from a Fort Worth trip while the fire alarm was sounding.

The two owners, Lavon and Ike Johnson, gained an edge on the emergency by the fact that two of their employees are firemen. However, bad luck plagued the proprietors. Another employee, Kenneth Murdock, was "in the country" on a call, less Conservative, Liberal, Moderate?

As politics shift into high gear, we see, read, and hear more and more people who declare . . . "I'm a conservative . . . liberal . . . moderate."

It's getting to the point that Republicans or Democrat parties are not nearly as important, since both parties have a major split of liberals and conservatives. The day may come when we split into a conservative and liberal party.

Webster says a liberal is, "befitting a man of free birth, not restricted; as a liberal manner or education . . . bestowing in a large and noble way, generous, bounteous, openhanded . . . not narrow or contracted in mind, not bound by orthodox tenets or established forms in political or religious philosophy, independent in opinion, not conservative."

Webster gives this definition of conservative: "conserving, preservative, disposed to maintain existing institutions, or views, opposed to change, also adhering to sound principles; believed to involve little risk."

Maybe you're a moderate . . . Webster says this about moderates; "kept within due bounds, observing reasonable limits, not excessive, restrained, temperate, reasonable, calm, not extreme in opinion, in partisanship."

Today's politics classifies a person by how he wants to spend or not spend tax money. The liberal likes to spend more than is incoming in taxes . . . and our country continues to go into debt, indicating that the liberals are in majority control.

The conservative is classified as one who does not want to spend or collect much tax money for anything.

The moderate likes to take a good look at government spending . . . sometimes he'll spend some money . . . sometimes not . . . he's in the middle of the road. He may be opposed to spending more social security money for medicare, yet be in favor of a federal rent house project when he realizes that private enterprise will not get the job done. (as in the case of the federal rent house project here in Floydada)

There is an ultra-right wing group who considers conservative Republican Barry Goldwater in left field. They don't want to use tax money for the United Nations or other countries, etc.

If the truth were known, if we are really honest with ourselves most of us like to consider ourselves conservative, but we enjoy some of the advantages of the liberal element.

A newspaper man says that he is a conservative, yet continue to take government subsidy in the form of cheaper mail privileges.

Life magazine writes a series of articles about how awful the farm subsidy is, yet doesn't mention the millions of dollars it receives in government mail subsidy.

A farmer . . . may say he is conservative yet keep voting for government price supports . . . at least he doesn't turn them down.

The business man in a farming area may say he's conservative, but he's mighty glad when that farm subsidy money comes to town.

The Amarillo Globe News has an editorial policy that is "way out right . . . all government spending is simply terrible. On the other hand they would cry their eyes out if the government moved that air base out of Amarillo . . . or if the government decided to pull out the money it has put into the Canadian river project so Amarillo can have some drinking water."

There is no doubt that our government has been going in a liberal trend for many years . . . an honest effort to balance the budget . . . quit spending money we don't have would be most desirable, yet the platform of many a "conservative", if carried out in default would bring this country into another depression like you've never seen.

What we say we are . . . and what we are, are many times two different things . . . and it is very likely that most of the people of the U.S. prefer some of both . . . liberalism and conservatism . . . No doubt about it . . . this country is full of moderates when it comes down to a real interpretation of basic beliefs.

Disregard of Sabbath

By ROGER BABSON
BABSON PARK, Mass. — Nothing demonstrates more clearly the materialistic world which America is becoming than our misuse of the Sabbath. Instead of using this day for spiritual regeneration, we all too often try to cram into the hours between sun-up and bedtime all the worldly activities normally followed on a holiday or a day of vacation.

In a great many areas of the country, supermarkets and department stores, realty offices and nurseries, nearly all types of retail outlets, are open, and doing a big business on Sunday. This is especially true in the Mountain and Pacific Coast states, where the almighty dollar is pursued even more avidly than it is in my own New England. Here, Blue Laws still put some curbs on Sunday selling.

I have talked with many merchants and service workers in various sections of the country who support the idea of Sunday business. For the most part, they speak of today's intense competition and claim that staying open on Sunday means the difference between profit and loss. They say that selling on the Sabbath has resulted from changing times and attitudes. In essence, the consensus among such operators is a matter of survival.

Many readers can probably remember the days during the war when the old 5-to-9 business pattern began to change. Defense workers on round-the-clock schedules flocked to stores that first started to stay open evenings. Next came the exodus out of the cities and into Suburbia, bringing with it a postwar transformation in consumer buying habits. People preferred to stay at home and shop in the suburbs, especially where retailers kept open evenings.

The rat-race for the consumer dollar then developed such rivalry, both cities and in rural communities, that the next move from evening openings to Sunday openings seemed almost natural to buyers still following with the emergency conditions that prevailed during the war. Even Sunday Blue Laws, there they existed, were woefully weak or got only token enforcement. To me this mistreatment of the Lord's Day seems deplorable, and I will try to explain why I feel this way.

If any proof is needed to reveal how worldly our culture has become, it is the very fact that so many of our good citizens favor Sunday business. Just recall how many cultures through out history were destroyed because spiritual development was neglected — then ignored. Some people were shocked a few years ago when I expressed my feeling against the matter of Sabbath selling, but if shocking them will make them think about it some more, I am willing — and proud — to repeat what I said: The place for us and for our families on the Sabbath is in the Lord's House, not in a Discount House.

Our labor leaders and many progressive employers have helped us shorten our working hours radically in recent years; so our time for leisure is greater than ever. Should we not then be able to find time on the Biblical Day of Rest to reflect upon matters of the spirit, upon morality, upon simple right and wrong? I say we should. Parents, educators, and law enforcement authorities — all of whom work with young people — are concerned with maladjustment symptoms like juvenile delinquency, divorce, dishonesty, even disregard for human life. I say that many of these problems would be prevented if Sunday were used by the family for renewing spiritual standards and deepening basic values.

We all need a philosophy of life that brings a sharper focus on the needs of others, and less on your own wants. Your church will help you and your family develop working standards of right and wrong. It may be cruel to say, but I'm afraid that most of your youth are what their homes have made them. Right here is where the church must come in strong. In the church of your choice and in the church-inspired home are the places where the average young man or woman is going to build sound moral and spiritual fiber. In conclusion, let me say that I fear Sunday businessmen may be creating more spiritual losses than material gains.

Drug and Cosmetic Quackery Concern of Food & Drug Adm.

There have been more medical advances made in the past 50 years than in all the previous years of recorded history. Many diseases have been conquered and many more brought under control. Yet even in this "Golden Age of Medicine" the American public is still being victimized by fakes and swindles in the health field. The older American makes up a substantial proportion of that part of the general population which is duped in this manner.

It's easy to believe in medical fakes when you're sick, frightened, or alone. And it's just as easy to fall for phony cosmetics that promise to restore youth and beauty.

The Food and Drug Administration, whose mission it is to enforce the Federal Food, Drug and Cosmetic Act, has this to say about the phony remedies promoted for some of the ailments which affect older people.

Arthritis and Rheumatism
The severe pain of these diseases makes the sufferer an easy target for the charlatan. Early treatment by a competent doctor is a "must", since it can help prevent crippling. The doctor will also prescribe the most effective pain relievers. But there are, as yet, no drugs which truthfully can be labeled as a cure. Be wary of weasel-worded promises that don't actually promise a cure — but nevertheless imply it.

A source of authoritative information: The Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, 19 Columbus Circle, New York 19, New York.

Cancer
Surgery, X-Ray, and radiation cure many cases of cancer when it is diagnosed and treated in the early stages. Loss of time can have tragic consequences.

Cancer research is making great progress — but beware of unproved remedies. Beware, too, of the phony who promotes his product to the public and claims the medical profession is against it and him. He will lead you only to blasted hopes, wasted savings, and disaster.

Your doctor keeps up with what is being done in cancer research and will refer you to a specialist if necessary. An authoritative source of cancer information is: The American Cancer Society, 219 East 42nd Street, New York, New York, 10017.

Heart Disease
There are many kinds of heart disease — now often called cardiovascular disease. Proper diagnosis is essential to proper treatment for all heart conditions. One good rule for preventing a heart attack is to avoid overweight. Your doctor will help you choose a diet suited to your needs. Garlic is not good for high blood pressure, nor are safflower oil capsules a preventive for heart diseases and strokes. An authoritative source of information is: The American Heart Association 44 East 23rd Street, New York, 10, New York.

"Lost Manhood"
This type of cure has been with us as long as sex, and is one of the oldest swindles in the book. Vitamin E is an example of one type of worthless product that has been promoted for sexual rejuvenation. Here again your best bet is to consult your doctor.

Wrinkles
These are an unwelcome but inevitable gift of time. There are many good, inexpensive creams and lotions on the market today to help lubricate the skin and alleviate dryness. But, there are no creams, lotions, masks, or plasters that will prevent, correct, or remove wrinkles. Beware of products that have such extravagant names — or slogans — as "Eternal Youth Oil", "Magic Wrinkle Remover", or "Miracle Hormone Cream for an Ageless You."

Baldness
The most common form of baldness is hereditary. There are no drugs or treatments that can bring dead cells back to life — or that "feed" hair roots and scalp. Be particularly skeptical of advertisements that present

Floyd Philosopher Says Politicians Out Of Touch With People When It Comes To T.V.

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm advises politicians about television this week.

Dear editor:
Successful politicians as I understand it are supposed to be men who figure out what the people think before they know it themselves and then let them in on it, but I'm not sure this is always true.

Also, a politician is supposed to keep his ear to the ground, and maybe he does, but this may not be very helpful these days when half the people live above the ground floor.

I was thinking about this after I read an article telling about how the politicians, both Republican and Democratic, had been worrying about what they could do to live up to their conventions, in order to hold the television audience.

Here we are, they said, with two or three days and nights of nation-wide, exclusive television time and how can we be sure we can hold our audience? This shows how out of touch with the people the politicians are.

Don't they know the people

FLOYD DATA
Mrs. Jimmy Willson Jr., and children have returned from Raleigh, No. Carolina, where they have been visiting Mrs. Willson's mother, who is hospitalized at Chapel Hill.

don't expect them to put on a lively show when not even the professional television people can do it? We might wish they could, but we don't expect it.

If politicians had kept their ears off the ground and their eyes glued to their T.V. sets, they would have realized the people have not come to expect constant gripping excitement on the screen.

Take the average baseball game on T.V. Maybe ten per cent of the time something really exciting happens, and the rest of the time is about on the same plane as a second-the-nomination speech at a convention. One home-run and one interesting speech per show is about average for either type of production. The people understand this and they expect no more.

With some speeches, the last thing the speaker needs is an attentive audience. There are times when losing your crowd can be more beneficial to the party than holding it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

How do you recognize quackery? Here are some pertinent questions to guide you:

Is the formula or treatment something "exclusive" or secret?

Does it promise a quick cure? Is it advertised by case histories or testimonials?

Does the sponsor clamor for medical investigation and recognition?

Does the sponsor claim medical men are persecuting him or fear his competition?

Are recognized treatments belittled?

If the answer to any of these is "yes" — be wary! Investigate before you invest! Save your money — and maybe your life!

Second Annual TAAF Track And Field Meet July 24-25

The second annual Texas Amateur Athletics Federation Track and Field Championships have been set July 24 and 25 at the Abilene Christian College Track on the ACC Campus.

All divisions from 11 and under through all men out of high school will be open for competition.

The only cost to the participants will be a TAAF card which can be purchased after arrival at ACC for 50c.

No trophies will be given at the meet, for this is considered an award and can run an amateur's eligibility.

Each track team may enter only 3 persons in each event and only one relay team in each relay event.

A boy or girl may move up to a higher age division if they so desire, but must then remain in that division. No participant can compete in two age divisions.

Each participant may enter five events — 3 running and 2 field or 2 running and 3 field.

Coach Bill Carmack has noted that two Floydada boys have better times and distances than some of the records held by even the AAAA division. Sunny Watts has bested the record shown in the 130-high hurdles, and Bill Potts has tossed the shot a greater distance than the record shown in that event.

Any Floydada athlete interested in entering the meet should contact Coach, Bill Carmack.

Monday Night Senior League Game Under Protest

The Floydada Senior League Baseball Team traveled to Silverton last Monday night and played a game that ended under protest.

According to Ted Viramonte, manager of the club, several plays were questioned. However, the call that broke up the game was like this:

Jerry Allen was at bat with a man on second and one on third. The count was 2-2. The score was 3-5. Silverton the man on third was told to steal home when the pitcher started his pum. He did, Allen swung at the ball, and missed and the catcher dropped the ball and the man on third made it home.

The catcher then picked up the ball in an effort to catch the man advancing from second to third, but failed. The third baseman threw the ball to first to put out Allen and did so. But the umpire said the score made by the man coming from third did not count.

At that point the protest started.

PICNIC TIME IS HERE AGAIN
Who doesn't love to eat out doors? The tantalizing aroma of sizzling chicken or steaks, the mellow glow of the coals, the hum of happy voices — it all adds up to FUN FOR EVERYONE. And the setting can be porch, patio, park, seashore, or stream — or maybe just a grassy spot under your favorite shade tree.

The very word, picnic, carries a special enchantment to nearly everyone. It brings back memories of childhood's happy adventuring into the country with food turning up as if by magic at the end of a long ride, of tablecloths spread in the cool shade, of hampers bulging with the cold foods so appetizing on a hot day, and the lovely informality of grass for seats and sky for roof.

Every year sees more picnic areas set up in public parks, along highways, and in State and National Forests. Every year more families entertain at picnics that are closer to an elaborate buffet supper than the sandwich lunch the word so often meant in the past. Whether the picnic is carried in a knapsack or in a hamper complete with vacuum bottles, plates, cups, and silver, it is the advance preparation that makes it a success. Here are some proved picnic rules to remember:

Take drinking water if there is the slightest doubt that it will not be available near the site you have chosen — there might not be a house within miles! (Take enough for washing hands, too.)

Keep hot things hot and cold things cold.

Collect ice cubes in advance. Store them in the freezer. Take them to the picnic in an insulated bucket.

Chill bottles of soft drinks for 24 hours in the refrigerator and protect them in the same way.

Chill salads in heavy pottery casseroles for easy serving and appetizing coldness.

A steaming pot of chili beans will hold heat for several hours if wrapped first in foil and then in newspapers.

Make chicken or potato salad and chill thoroughly; take to picnic in refrigerator containers. Omit raw vegetables, but carry washed lettuce, radishes, and green onions in a plastic bag, sliced or quartered tomatoes in jars. Sliced cucumbers and carrot sticks are double good if put right into the French dressing and allowed to marinate on the way.

Individual portions of cottage cheese, cold baked beans, and salads of chicken, tuna, macaroni, or potato are conveniently served if placed in waxed paper cups.

Cakes transport best in the pans which they were baked. Pies travel well between paper plates taped together.

Much last minute flurry can be saved by making sandwiches of meat, cheese, or any non-leaky filling the night before and storing in the refrigerator — but if this is done be sure to use butter or margarine instead of myonaise which soaks into the bread and makes it soggy if left setting too long. The butter acts as a sealer and makes the sandwiches so much more delicious. Allow the butter to reach room temperature then cream it in the mixer — it spreads easily and evenly, and does not tear the bread.

In hot weather avoid cream-puffs or anything else containing a mixture of milk or cream with eggs unless you have a portable refrigerator. A few hours is enough, under certain conditions to make these foods dangerous. There are so many other tempting desserts that it doesn't pay to take a chance and risk food poisoning.

AND DON'T FORGET THE SALT AND PEPPER.

Little Chris Fulton is a guest this week in the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Sparks and his aunt Gloria.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Henry visited with Mr. and Mrs. Bol Morris in Amarillo last Sunday.

Americans spend only 19 percent of their take-home dollar on food. Compare this to 30 percent by the British, 50 percent by Russians, and up to 90 percent in some under-developed countries. Research on more efficient production and marketing, and better ways to control insects and diseases helped keep food costs down.

Water Distribution Loans Aid Economy Of Community

L. J. Cappelman, State Director of the Farmers Home Administration, Temple, Texas, announced to the Press, "The 100th Water Distribution Association Loan has been made to the rural people of Texas."

The Green Valley Water Supply Corporation received this loan for $336,000. This water system will service 518 families; over 2,000 individuals.

Mr. Cappelman stated, "These 100 loans totaled $9,537,770. Over 9,047 families are now enjoying good water for home use and for livestock, gardens, etc. This number of families includes over 36,000 individuals."

These loans have had a great impact on the economy of the community and the county. The installation of bathrooms, kitchen facilities, landscaping of lawns and the building of new homes has increased business for merchants, increased tax payments, added to school tax payments, and contributions to churches. One community, since turning on the water, has 20 new homes financed by Private Enterprises; 7 homes moved into the community. It has completed construction of the first new church building in 60 years at a cost of $30,000.
