Bill Ware Remains Critical

Bill Ware, 38 year old Floyd County farmer, who was critically injured Tuesday of last week when he was struck by a drive shaft, remains about the same in intensive care at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock. Ware underwent emergency surgery Saturday night to relieve pressure on the brain, friends said. His color was same better yesterday and some of the swelling in his head had gone down, however he is still unable to breathe under his own power. Ware has not regained consciousness since the injury.

Injury Ridden "Winds Take On Post Antelopes Friday

"Injuries or no injuries, we'll field a team, and promise a game," said Coach Bill Carry in reference to Friday night's contest against the highly rated Post Antelopes of District 4-AA. Throughout the three weeks of practice the members of the Whirlwinds have constantly been plagued with injuries, some serious, some not serious, that has slowed practice, and made the building of the team difficult. During the first week of practice Mac Wilson and Bill Potts, both prospective starters and all-district contenders, were injured and were not able to take part in the second week's workout when the physical contact was being developed. In a scrimmage game with Hale Center on the Floydada practice field last Thursday afternoon, Johnny Cantrell, the second string quarterback, received a broken neck. The Post team is rated to finish second in their district, just behind Denver City. Post has big experienced backfield and an even bigger line. The one lineman expected to deal the locals the most misery is 265-pound Bill Mitchell, who stands 6-6. Another good defensive lad, Charlie Brown, tips the scales at a respectable 203.

School Enrollments Set All-Time High Mark

Football Contest Begins In This Week's Hesperian

Something new begins in this week's Hesperian. A contest in which you may win $7.50, $5.00 or $2.50, each week. In today's paper can be found a page covered with footballs. Each of the footballs is being sponsored by one particular merchant. Also inside the football is a game that will be played this coming Friday night. To participate in this contest, a person circles the team in each of the footballs that he thinks will win that particular game. He will do this in each of the twenty-five footballs found on that page. Also in the box shown on the page he will guess the number of points to be scored in the Floydada-Post game here Friday night. The person guessing the correct outcome of the most games is termed the winner. The persons guessing the second, and third most correctly win second and third place prize money, respectively. The deadline for entering the contest is 5 p.m. Friday, the day after each paper is published. One may bring the entry blanks into the Hesperian office or mail them in, but be sure they are in the office or post marked by 5 p.m. Friday. Last, but not least, sign the entry somewhere on the page so the editorial department may know whose entry is the winner. The editorial department of the Hesperian will judge the contest and the decision of that department is final. The contest will run for eleven consecutive weeks. The Hesperian urges you to take part in this contest. It's interesting, it's fun, and it can be profitable. The Hesperian also urges you to trade with the merchants sponsored by the contest. 203 Students More Than Last Year's Total

According to Superintendent of Floydada Schools A. E. Baker, the enrollment at the Floydada Schools this year has hit an all-time high. Tuesday afternoon 1,922 students had enrolled in the school system for the 1964-65 school year. Several more students can be expected through October, while the transient labor is coming through the South Plains during the harvest season. The enrollment at Andrews Ward was 855 Monday, however by Wednesday morning that figure had jumped to well above 865 and is expected to continue to grow. Last year's enrollment at that school was 758, and during the peak season almost 1,000 students were at Andrews Ward. As many as 1,200 are expected to be enrolled there during the peak season this year. According to Mr. W. P. Nicholson, principal at Andrews Ward, the school is definitely overcrowded, and the teachers, having almost 30 pupils per class are overburdened. During the noon hour, the students are shuffled through the cafeteria in such a way, that a child who may be a slower eater will get up and leave when his friends finish, and will not complete his own meal. Tuesday afternoon, Della Plains had enrolled 282 students, which is 30 more than last year's figure. According to Faris Wilson, principal of the school, at least 16 more can be expected to enroll. Wilson said he knew of that number. (See SCHOOLS, Page 2)

Lyles Return From Family Reunion In Farmington

By C. M. Lyles

I would like to give a little report on our family reunion which was held at Farmington, N. M., August 1. Some of the family was there are about two and one half weeks and some only about a week.

Our biggest day was the first Sunday in August. Our son, Clay, and his family of Abilene, Texas, came on Saturday and left Monday. They had to go to Galveston to the John Sealy Hospital there for a check up for Teresa their youngest daughter.

Albert, Virginia and two young boys came from Thermal or 100 Palms, Calif. and our two granddaughters and families from Portales, N. M.

The LaPlatt River also comes out of Colorado from the LaPlatt Mountains. (Some summers the snow never completely melts off the mountains.)

The three rivers all merge about a mile west of Farmington. We visited the Choco Canyon Indian Ruins sixty miles south of Farmington. This is a sight almost beyond description. One just has to see it to know about it.

I have visited the Ruins at Aztec and Mesa Verde National Park, but have never seen anything like these Ruins.

There the largest one, called Pueblo Bonito, had eight hundred rooms, with walls ten to twelve feet high, and was used by various groups as a ceremonial center, council rooms, etc.

The people were farmers, made beautiful pottery, their hand, tools, clothes, etc. Some of the cloth is cotton, probably from Arizona.

When the Navajo tribes moved there they would not live in the Ruins, but built their own mud huts on top of the ruins.

The trip of my life was the trip from Durango to Silverton on the little narrow gauge mountain railroad. The eleven car trains are pulled by steam engines.

The railroad winds up the canyon beside the Animas River. It is about a forty-six mile trip and takes about three hours to make the run each way.

When the mines at Silverton were in full operation the city had a population of around 5,500 and is now about 3,000.

The people, water wise, are doing things in a big way in our great north and west country. Here we have been content with our water wells. Now some of them are dry and the water level is way down in some.

The Navajo Dam is two hundred feet deep in water. They are going to drill two sixteen feet wide tunnels to the lake put a canal down south of Bloomfield and water 15,000 acres, there for the Indians then build the canal on west to Shiprock.

Later they plan to divert some of the water in the Rio Grande at

CAMPBELL BABY NOW HOME

The 17 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Campbell of Floydada, who is suffering from leukemia, was brought home Saturday week ago from Methodist Hospital where he has been under treatment for the past month.

The baby seemingly is improved, friends said.

Life is an instinct for growth, for survival, for the accumulation of forces, for power.

icide, for this program will be tremendous.

Farmers in areas above the Caprock that have weevil-infested fields can do a lot now to increase chances for the program's success. Rummel says they can spot spray areas in cotton fields which are weevil infested.

Where the infestation is scattered throughout the field, Rummel recommends spraying the entire field. This will serve to knock out the weevil infestation.

If you haven't signed a spray permit, get one and sign it today. This is the biggest contribution you can make right now to assure success of the Boll Weevil Control Program.

Texas Department of Agriculture officials will be in the county for the next several days. If you haven't signed your permit to spray, they will be contacting you. Regardless of where you get the permit form, get one soon—and get it signed.

There are three teams in the county now, each team covering one-third of the county, trying desperately to get the permits signed before the spraying begins. The people are conducting a door-to-door canvass to contact every farmer in the county.

If there is any question about the contracts, these can be answered by anyone at the county agent's office.

Local Artist To Host Art Show Sunday

A local artist, Ric Burrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burrow will host an art show of his paintings at the home of his parents at 1021 S. Main, Floydada. The date of the showing is Sunday, September 6, from 2 until 5 p.m.

The paintings that will be on display at his show will be for sale. Although this is Ric's first show, he has sold a number of his paintings in the past.

The purpose of the show is to help finance his trip to France, where Ric plans to study at Academie Julien, an art school in Paris. Most of his work in France, which he will be about one year, will deal with impressionistic paintings.

Ric will leave around September 11-14, at which time he will board a ship in Houston for the ten day journey to Europe.

After a year in France, Ric plans to return to Dallas and become a commercial artist.

He said, in an interview recently, that to his knowledge he has been interested in art all of his life.

He started studying art about six years ago, and took lessons from Miss Henrietta Ludeman of Plainview for about three and one-half years.

After that he attended Texas Tech where he took several art courses, and last year he attended the Dallas Art Institute for further instructions in his preferred occupation.

Although Ric is capable of handling art work from line drawings through oil paintings, he lists his favorite work as being pen and ink.

Ric said, "I would like to become an artist that lives only by selling his paintings, but I like to eat too much to go into that phase of the profession."

Marshall Home Near Aiken Is Burglarized

The J. S. Marshall home west of Aiken was burglarized recently according to Floyd County officials. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall were in Dallas at the time and discovered the break-in upon returning home Tuesday of last week.

Entrance was gained by breaking in a back door which led into the garage. Missing is a 12 gauge pump shot gun, 22 bolt action rifle, a trouble light which was taken out of a car parked in the garage and coins amounting to some $60 to $75 dollars.

The Marshalls told investigating officers about $20 of this amount was in silver.

Deputy Sheriff Foster Amburn said from the looks of the house the burglars, believed to be two, were looking for some particular thing. Papers from a file cabinet were scattered along with insurance papers and the such, every drawer pulled opened and searched and two cars parked in the garage were gone through.

The culprits stopped in the kitchen long enough to have a soda pop each.

Officers are still investigating the break-in.

The young fellow was new in the store business. "Have you an account here, ma'am?" he asked.

"No," the lady replied, "but I would like to see the manager."

He led her into the manager's office and announced: "A no-account lady to see you, sir."

A NEW business is open in Floydada. It is the Ponderosa Meat Company. Partners Johnny Harris and Parnell Powell are to be congratulated for their new venture.

Now, there's no need to go out of town for custom slaughtering and processing of your meat. The business opens with some special in this week's Hesperian and we join the owners in your invitation to come by and see the new place of business.

MC COY FARMER Willie Eakin has joined with Powell's Super Market here to bring the price of canteloupes down. Willie hauls them into Powells and in order to help Willie sell his canteloupes, Parnell has marked the price "way down."

We predict that the day will come when our local grocers are buying much of their produce through the summer months from local farmers.

Signups are now nearing completion of the ONLY PROGRAM NOW KNOWN THAT CAN STOP THE BOLL WEEVIL. We know of no way to emphasize more clearly or emphatically the IMPORTANCE of this program, for if we ever intend to stamp out the weevil menace than we need to get behind this program 100 percent right now! It really should make no difference whether we have had weevils on our places or not—for many in this area ALREADY have, and they can tell us that even $20 to $30 per acre in spray bills during the growing season won't do the trick. THIS PROGRAM WILL; it has been proven in extensive tests. Besides, everyone will still have to share the nominal costs of the program whether their field is sprayed or not; so it is hoped that EVERY COTTON FARMER will cooperate in this concentrated effort. Here is a brief recap of the program as brought out at a recent meeting:

(1) The primary purpose of the program is to keep weevils from OVERWINTERING under the Caprock, thus halting their spread westward. Beginning Sept. 10th, all of the cotton fields will be sprayed every 2 weeks until frost along the Caprock from Quitqua to Dickens.

(2) The program will be paid through public and private funds. Every cotton farmer in a 23 county area will pay 50¢ a bale extra in receiving charges at the compress to finance the program, and in turn, the Federal Government has agreed to match this with A MILLION DOLLARS in funds.

(3) Only cotton fields will be sprayed, and Entomologists tell us that this will not affect the buildup of beneficial insects next spring. Most beneficial insects breed in other fields, then migrate to cotton.

(4) Every precaution known will be utilized. It is believed a powder spray will be used, thus eliminating drift problems; special care will be afforded those who have ponds or wildlife; all pilots will be bonded for liability; and walkie-talkie units will be used between pilots and scouts on the ground below.

Life is a wave which in no two consecutive moments of its existence is composed of the same particles. —John Tyndall.

Lockney Church Honors C. A. Strickland

LOCKNEY (Special) — The Rev. C. A. Strickland of Floydada, founder of the Lockney Assembly of God Church, and his wife, were honored by the church at 11 a.m. Monday with a "Strickland Memorial Day" ceremony.

In 1930, the Rev. Mr. Strickland organized the church, which he pastored for 12 years. Since his retirement, he and Mrs. Strickland have resided in Floydada.

Several other former pastors, including the Rev. Olan Beauchamp and the Rev. Joe Stone, "pamper" briefly.

A fellowship dinner followed the memorial ceremony.

New State Game Law Requirement

According to Jerry Noles, a new Federal and State law requirement regarding doves and ducks is now in effect, since the 1964 Dove Season opened Tuesday.

The law now requires that the hunter leave one wing fully feathered on any migratory game bird that they may kill. This includes Morning Dove, all ducks, geese and shore birds.

The Dove Season is open September 1 through October 30 with hunting hours from 12 noon until sunset each day. The limit is 12 birds per day with a maximum of 24 in possession.

The 1964-65 Duck Season will open November and continue through January 30.

The reason for leaving the wing fully feathered is for identification purpose, and so a person can tell the difference in the various species of doves or ducks.

FARMERS CO-OP GIN IN FLOYDADA

WE OFFER MANY SERVICES

Again in 1964, as in each year of the past 28 years, every cotton grower is invited to take advantage of the services and benefits that have been offered cotton producers since this gin was founded.

YOUR COTTON

through gin

When You Gin at the
FARMERS CO-OP

The farmers Co-op Gin has always maintained insurance to insure against loss by fire the cotton of its customers while the cotton was in the process of being ginned.

This year we offer protection from the time the first boll goes into the trailer.

The gin also carries a "floater" which insures the seed of its customers while in transit from the field to the gin and on gin premises.

SERVICE FIRST

The rebates you receive at the end of the season are not the only benefits you receive when you bring your cotton to the Farmers Co-op Gin. There are others that are more immediate.

MODERN MACHINERY

As most of you know, we have one of the most modern gin plants in the entire southwest, especially designed and constructed to serve the needs of producers of this area. Every part of our equipment has been completely overhauled during the summer months to provide our customers with the very best service possible.

2-PLANT CAPACITY

Two of the most modern gin plants - housed in the same building - give us the capacity to turn out the cotton without keeping our customers waiting. The gin was designed to get the top dollar out of your cotton by doing a better job on every bale.

AMPLE PARKING

There will be ample parking space for those who bring their cotton to the Farmers Co-op Gin.

With spacious parking lots we can keep your cotton moving in good order even during the peak ginning season.

MURRAY GIN STANDS

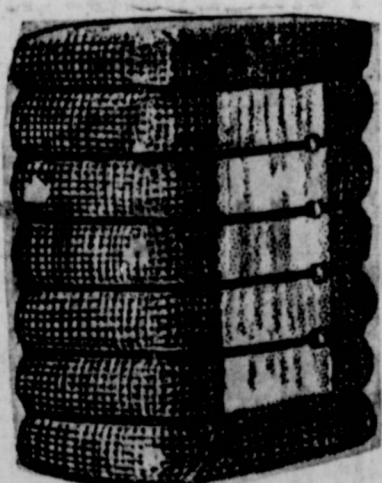

Farmer's Co-op offers the farmer the quality and efficient ginning supplied by eight big Murray gin stands. We invite you to come in and watch them in operation.

3/4 MILLION IN REBATES

We consider these our most beneficial services; but it should be remembered that Farmers Co-op Gin has paid over a million dollars to its customers in rebates since it was founded. It is easy to become a member - just gin one bale and you are entitled to all benefits in proportion to the amount of cotton you gin.

MARKET YOUR COTTON THROUGH A COOPERATIVE MARKETING ASSOCIATION

We will also process your loan papers right here at the office. Your papers will be handled here and you will not have to wait for your money.

IT'S YOUR GIN ... IF YOU USE IT!

Latin American Baptist New Life Crusade Now Underway In Texas

Dallas, Texas — August 30 through October 11 represents an historic time in Texas. By Official Proclamation of the Governor, Texas Baptists will dedicate this period to a state-wide Crusade known as LA CRUZADA BAUTISTA NUEVA VIDA (The Latin American Baptist New Life Crusade). In 1962, when statistics revealed that 38% of the Latin American residents of the state were without church affiliation, the Baptist General Convention of Texas voted to actively direct their spiritual and financial support to this campaign designed to invite and welcome these people into the fellowship of the church.

Today there is a state within the State of Texas. This is comprised of our 2 1/2 million Latin Americans, and is reflected in their vast influence on our way of life. Their culture is evident in the names of towns, cities and streets; in our Spanish architecture; in the directories of professionals, businessmen, politicians and educators; and in the origin of most of our "Texas food" and "Texas music." According to the 1960 census, there has been a 50% increase of Latin Americans in the state during the past ten years, and experts predict the state will be predominantly Latin American by the 1980's.

All of this is what has prompted Texas Baptists to conduct this Crusade, and research into these areas has provided the material for the NUEVA VIDA REPORT. This 25-minute documentary film features nationally known authorities in each of these fields, and will be presented by the major television stations throughout Texas during the next month. The actual Crusade, which will be a combined evangelistic effort of the 4,000 Anglo and 475 Latin American Baptist churches throughout Texas, is divided into four week long segments. The first, a week of Area Central Campaigns with five to eight churches cooperating in joint tent revivals; the second, a week of personal witnessing and visitation; the third, a week of Local Revivals with 2,000 preachers, singers and laymen participating in the 475 local Latin American Baptist churches; and the fourth, a week of Major Central Campaigns, conducted in large auditoriums by outstanding Spanish-speaking evangelists in the twenty-five major Latin American areas of Texas. On the Floydada scene, the area revival will be held at the Plains Baptist Assembly Grounds, September 14 through 18. The revival at the local Latin American Mission on the Silverton Highway will be held September 28 through October 2. During the week separating the two revivals the Latins at the local Mission and the Anglos from the First Baptist Church will team up and spend the time visiting together in all prospects homes.

According to Rev. Floyd Bradley, pastor of the First Baptist Church, prospective participation of the members of the church appears to be good. During the revival, the Anglos will act as ushers, serve refreshments and be available as counselors to give spiritual and material help to those requesting it. W. F. Vanderburg of Dallas, will be the evangelist during the Latin American revival. A song leader has not been named but will probably be a local man. Many prominent Baptist laypeople are visiting the state during the build-up preceding the Crusade. Felipe Allu, outfielder for the Milwaukee Braves, has been addressing local Baptist Churches in the state, and the Monterrey Baptist Choir, under the direction of Dr. Luden Gutierrez, presented a series of concerts last week in San Antonio, sing groups throughout the state, and appearing in the larger metropolitan areas in person and on television are: Professor Alicia Muller de Treilles, Professor of English and Literature at the University of Saltillo, Mexico; Austin, Fort Worth, Dallas, Corpus Christi and Houston. Address: Octavio Menduett, internationally known television producer and director from Mexico City; Carlos Sanchez, member of the City Council and civil defender of Alicante, Spain during the Spanish Civil War; Ricardo Ramos, popular bullfighter from Mexico City; and Evelio Hernandez, Cuban pitcher for the Monterrey Sultans Baseball Team.

A tremendous impact is expected to be felt throughout the state during this Crusade as demonstrated by Governor Connally's proclamation. This document reads in part, "This program will constitute a united effort to accelerate church stewardship and better understanding between Anglo American Baptists and Latin American Baptists in Texas. It is fitting that special attention be called to this collective endeavor of fellowship and brotherhood, which should bring about an improved understanding among the people of our state. Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate August 30 through October 11, 1964, as LA CRUZADA BAUTISTA NUEVA VIDA."

Labor Day Traffic Will Take Lives Of 36 Texans

AUSTIN—Col. Homer Garrison, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety announced today that "Operation Motorcade," the grim tabulation of Labor Day traffic deaths as they occur, will go into effect at 12:01 a.m., Saturday, September 5. The Department has estimated that 36 persons will be killed on Texas streets and highways during the 72-hour holiday period, which will last until 11:59 p.m., Monday, September 7. Garrison called upon the driving public to join in a "crusade of common-sense driving to lessen the toll of tragic holiday deaths caused by motor vehicles."

when traffic tragedy appears to be outstripping that for 1963, when an all-time high of 2,729 deaths were tabulated. He reported that more than 1,700 persons have been killed already this year for an increase of over 12 percent, adding that if the trend continues the toll for 1964 will exceed 3,000 traffic deaths. The Department of Public Safety will continue in their all-out effort to curb traffic accidents and to stop reckless and illegal driving on the highways, Garrison said. Officers from other DPS uniformed services will be assigned to Highway Patrol duty during the holiday period to add to the enforcement effort. Garrison noted that several public and private agencies are carrying on programs to supplement the safety emphasis effort for the Labor Day Holiday. The Texas Safety Association will conduct a public information program stressing the need for courtesy and caution. TSA Vice-President W. F. (Bill) Leonard will coordinate the efforts of over 12,000 members of the Junior Chamber of Commerce over the state in operating some 200 "rest stops" for fatigued drivers to whom free coffee will be served. The Texas Highway Department will carry on a continuing information and education program instructing drivers in freeway driving and the need for caution near highway construction areas. And the Texas Council of Safety Supervisors and the Texas Motor Transportation Association will sponsor a fleet of 35 to 40 cars which will be used to assist stranded motorists over the state. This "Holiday Road Patrol" will be manned by the safety director, safety supervisors and safety engineers of the trucking industry who comprise the membership of the Council. Its primary purpose is to help relieve highway patrolmen for enforcement work by aiding motorists in distress. Garrison listed several items for positive action in his appeal to all drivers. He urged each person driving during the holiday to:

- Make sure the car and all its equipment (tires, brakes, lights, etc.) are in proper working order at all times.
- Be sure the driver is in good physical and mental condition.
- Be considerate toward other travelers.
- Be alert for unexpected actions on the part of other drivers.
- Be alert for unexpected road hazards and dangerous road conditions.
- Avoid improper passing and maintain control of the car at all times.

Some Maize Being Cut Here

SANDHILL, Aug. 24 — Some patches of maize have been cut in the past few days. Mostly where it wasn't watered good and is trying to fall. Some are trying to decide whether to shut the wells off the cotton. With the cool nights and hot days, it's a hard decision, but Monday most of the wells were still running and you could still see water down the cotton middles.

So far in the community the insects are still under control. Last week insect reports were even lower than the week before. The revival at the Sand Hill Baptist Church will begin Wednesday, August 26th and last thru Sunday, August 30th. Morning service will be at 9:30 a.m. and evening services will begin at 8 p.m. Rev. Dale Dozier, the new pastor will be doing the preaching and Bro. Bill Gilbreath of Floydada will be in charge of the music.

Due to conflicting dates, Bro. Vance Zinn will be unable to be here and we are so happy that Bro. Dozier has consented to hold the Revival. Everyone is extended a special invitation to attend any or all of the services. Let's help make this one of the best Revivals Sand Hill has ever had. Our hearts were deeply saddened to hear of the tragic death of Bro. and Mrs. Bill Rowland. Everyone for miles around loved the Rowlands and missed them so very much when they left Sand Hill. May God comfort Linda and Kathy in their hour of sorrow. All our prayers are with them. Several from the community attended the funeral at Clovis Friday afternoon.

Some of those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stringer and Simon Stringer, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Mayo, and Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Swanner and possibly others. Our deepest sympathy to the Lawrence McCain family of Lockney on the loss of their father. Mr. McCain was involved in a car wreck two weeks ago near Ft. Worth and has been in the hospital ever since. He was brought to Lockney General Hospital last Monday so he would be closer to his children. He passed away Sunday morning about eight o'clock. The funeral will be at Grapevine, Texas Tuesday, May God be with all his children in their hour of sorrow. Several of the McCain children are very dear friends of ours. The John McCains of Amarillo were here over the week end at the bed side of his father. Another terrible accident has hit our community and our deepest sympathy goes out to the colored family that lives on the Fred Jackson farm. The father of the family was hit and killed on the Sand Hill highway out of Floydada Saturday night by a hit and run driver. May God be with them in their hour of sorrow. Miss Norma Hollums is back home again after living in Lubbock and attending Beauty School. Norma received her License about ten days ago and is now employed at Betty's Beauty Shop and I know she would enjoy seeing all her friends again. We are so happy to have her back home. Mr. and Mrs. Gene Bloys and family are in Oklahoma City this week, while their son, David, is going through the allergy Clinic. They are expected home about the middle of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kinard returned home Monday after a few days in East. They attended the funeral of Mrs. Wayne Workman after a few days with her Mr. and Mrs. James while Mr. Workman is in ma City on business. Mrs. Ludie Sanderson leave the end of the week about three weeks to Springs. She plans to boy have appointments with legy Clinics.

Savings Bonds sales for the first 7 months of the year totaled $83,650.83 which is 59.7 per cent of the state program. The School Savings Program is still one of the effective instruments of thrift and citizenship. It should make this program able to their statements man Pemberton stated.

They'll Both Be Here

One of the most exciting political races for the office of U. S. Senator is fast developing in this state and Floyd county area residents will have the opportunity to visit with both candidates in person this month.

Ralph Yarborough, now in office, will be one of the honored guests at the county fair and Republican George Bush will be speaker at a dinner here on September 10.

No doubt about it, both will be good drawing cards. Persons from a wide area will attend the fair to see the Senator and come over for the special dinner in Bush's honor.

The Hesperian welcomes Senator Yarborough to Floyd County and extends to him all the courtesies due the man and the office . . . it also welcomes candidate Bush who is gracious enough to add Floydada to his busy schedule of campaigning.

Another September

There are many wonderful things about the month of September. It marks the real beginning of a new season. This means a time of harvest in West Texas as farmers look for a reward for hard work through the summer.

The merchant sees September as a time for weight and style of dress for all members of the family to change. Football is a highlight of September.

We're happy that every year brings a September. September is the month when schools open and young minds tackle new problems of the three R's (even modern math) . . . and older minds combat the barriers, the road blocks of life.

September is certainly a month that marks progress. We lay our plans for a better "next year". Utopia is not a result but a promise. Our plans for the better tomorrow must include the business man, the farmer, the transport worker and all of the army of silent workers who faithfully "deliver the goods."

That is why we welcome September . . . the month of promise. Many of those youngsters who started to school this week will become great industrialists, master builders, renowned scientists, even a few may grow to be great statesmen.

What Do You Know About Coffee?

Did you know that the coffee bean isn't a bean at all, but the seed of a fruit? That it takes five years to nurse a young plant to a bean-producing tree? That the people of the United States drink more than half of the coffee exported by the coffee-growing countries of the world?

Coffee has been the American drink for longer than there has been a United States. In fact, the nation was born over a pot of coffee. The Merchant's Coffee-house, established in New York in 1737 is claimed as the "birthplace of the American Union."

Today, about 662,000 jobs and three and one-fourth billion dollars in wages and farm income are created in the United States by our trade with the coffee countries of the world. And coffee is second only to oil as the most important commodity in world trade.

Each year Americans spend $250 million on coffee from Colombia alone. A total of more than 220,000 Americans are employed in the processing, packaging, distribution and sale of coffee. Over 1146 United States cities, towns and communities in all fifty states benefit from coffee's contribution to American prosperity and economic well-being.

The average American drinks three cups of coffee each day. These cups add up to 41 million cups of coffee consumed every day by Americans. To keep the coffee pots of America percolating and brewing, United States importers pay around $92 million each year.

Coffee was originally an Arabian drink. The Turkish armies took the drink back to Turkey with them after invading Arabia. It came to the New World abroad the "Mayflower."

Coffee first became really popular in the coffee houses of London, which were centers of political, social and literary influence. The first London coffee house was opened in 1652 in Cornhill. Soon all the wits, philosophers and writers of the day were warming their hearts and loosening their tongues over the steaming cup.

In the major cities of North America—Boston, New York and Philadelphia—coffee houses became popular from about 1689. The first license to sell coffee in the United States was issued to Dorothy Jones of Boston in 1670.

Until the end of the seventeenth century the world's supply of coffee was almost entirely from the province of Yemen in southern Arabia. But propagation of the plant spread with the growth of coffee's popularity. It was introduced into South America in the late eighteenth century.

Today, more than 200,000 independent coffee growers are the very backbone of one South American country's economy. They are the second largest coffee producers in the world, and the flavor of their coffee is as distinct as the small, picturesque farms they work on the steep mountain slopes of the Andes.

Cultivation begins in the nursery. There the finest seeds are planted. Within a year, when eighteen to twenty-four inches high, the seedlings are transplanted to rows ten to twelve feet apart. Shade trees are planted between the rows of seedlings to act as "sun hats". They grow to great heights, filter the tropical sunshine and keep the air around the growing coffee trees uniformly warm and moist.

After the third or fourth year, clusters of white flowers—rather like small orchids—bloom. A few days later, the blossoms, wither and fall, but within nine months clusters of red ripe coffee berries have grown in their place.

Coffee trees are not allowed to grow to their full height of twenty feet. They are pruned to a maximum height of six or seven feet. This results in fuller branches with larger, richer berries and a harvest more uniform in ripeness and flavor.

Harvesting is the busiest time of the year. It begins with the first light of dawn and continues until darkness. The whole family takes part, carefully picking only the choicest deep red berries by hand.

Inside of each berry are two beans. The pulp around them is removed and the beans washed and dried. Later the tough parchment hull and silver skin covering each bean are milled away to reveal the distinctive, rich olive-green coffee bean itself. The beans are exported green and roasted to their well known dark brown color at coffee roasting plants in buyer countries.

A prime coffee tree yields just over a pound of coffee each year. It is this coffee that is the rich, full-bodied flavor in all good brands sold throughout the world. (Christian Observer)

Yarborough Newsletter

My appointment to the Senate Aviation Subcommittee, which has jurisdiction over civil aeronautics legislation, gives Texas representation in Congress in the growing commercial private aviation industry.

This subcommittee post, formerly held by the late Senator Clair Engle of California, became available to me on the basis of my seven years' seniority. Here is why it is important to Texas:

In 1963, 3,405,000 passengers embarked on commercial airplanes in Texas. In 1958, only 2,679,462 embarked in Texas. There were 209,518 departures of commercial airplanes from Texas in 1963. Texas now has 8,000 private aircraft, second only to California. There are 703 civil and joint use airports in Texas.

Our civil airports more and more are seeking to build up their facilities and improve air service in keeping with the progress of our metropolitan areas, and the increase in use of planes as a means of travel. Texas needs representation in the Senate in this growing field.

The Aviation Subcommittee has complete investigatory authority over the Civil Aeronautics Board and the Federal Aviation Agency. The CAB is responsible for subsidies to local service carriers, investigates air traffic accidents, looks into profits and losses, economic rights, operating air routes, air rates and schedules. The Federal Aviation Agency is a service organization concerned with air safety—rules, regulations, equipment and facilities.

HEARING HELD ON BILL TO CONTROL DANGEROUS DRUG USE

The Senate Health Subcommittee has completed hearings on a bill I am co-sponsoring with Senator Thomas Dodd of Connecticut (S. 2628), the Psychotic Drug Control Act of 1964, known as the Dangerous Drug Control Act. I presided over these hearings as chairman of the committee.

Testimony showed that more than 4½ million of these addictive pills, amphetamines and barbiturates were sold on the black market, possibly more than are sold legally. S. 2628 would provide that manufacturers, producers and sellers, retail and wholesale, keep a record of these dangerous drugs to prevent this illicit trade, which is the cause of many traffic accidents and crimes of violence.

These pills have been peddled on a massive scale to teenagers, causing many youngsters to become addicted to the stronger narcotics, heroin and marijuana. They have been used by drivers on the highway trying to stay awake longer, resulting in tragic accidents.

Dear Fellow Texan: The Senate has passed the Economic Opportunity Act of 1964, commonly called the Anti-Poverty Bill. I was a co-author of this bill, a member of the Special Senate Subcommittee on Poverty which held hearings on it, and I am pleased to see this bill go to President Lyndon B. Johnson to be signed into law.

Its purpose is to help people help themselves. It is to help some of the 36 million people in families with low incomes, particularly young people, to cast off the chains of despair, to obtain proper training for our technological civilization.

This country has always been known as the land of hope for a (See YARBOROUGH, Page 8)

John Tower Newsletter

Senator John Tower today characterized the present Congress as one that "enlarged the powers of government and set the stage for higher taxes on our people."

"All in all," he said, "this was not a session we can boast about."

Tower was particularly critical of the Civil Rights bill, the Mass Transit bill, and the so-called anti-poverty bill, all of which were given final approval by Congress during the current session. Tower opposed all three measures.

"This Congress did pass some constructive legislation however," Tower said. "For instance, the Senate passed, by an overwhelming vote, my amendment to the foreign aid bill that cuts off aid to Indonesia, and terminates the program by which military training is given to Indonesians in this country."

"We have poured millions of dollars of aid into Indonesia and in return President Sukarno sides with our enemies throughout Asia. It seems inconsistent and unwise, in my opinion, to furnish foreign aid to a country that opposes our policies at every turn."

The text of Senator Tower's remarks follows:

In my opinion the second session of Congress just ending has not been overly productive of wise legislation.

Under the prodding of the Administration this session of the 88th Congress passed legislation that will cost all our citizens many millions of dollars in additional taxes. For example, it passed the Mass Transit Bill, under which citizens on our farms and ranches, and in our small towns and some of our large cities, will be taxed to provide transportation systems in a few large urban areas.

This session of Congress also passed the so-called anti-poverty bill, under which the Administration is given authority to spend nearly a billion dollars on vote-buying schemes in areas of its own choosing. This bill will do nothing to cure the real causes of isolated pockets of poverty in our land. But it will give the Administration a powerful tool in swaying the political opinions of voters.

This session did pass much legislation that will ultimately add to the tax burdens of our people, but what is worse, it acquiesced in the granting of still more power to the executive branch of government. In short, the Congress, again under the prodding of the Johnson Administration, allowed the executive branch of government to assume vast new powers, despite the fact that already far too much power has been assumed by the executive branch.

The poverty bill is a good example. It sets up what in essence will be a "poverty czar" with powers to spend vast sums of money. A great deal of that money will be spent in establishing and training of a new government bureau, which in turn will establish training camps for persons whom the bureau decides needs the type of training that the program will offer.

Once this bureau is established it will become a vested interest, just as hundreds of other bureaus and commissions, and boards, and what have we in Washington. It will have a vested interest in poverty, for if poverty is eradicated

Floyd Philosopher Comes Out With Idea Holding Both Conventions At The Same Time

Editor's Note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm takes a second look at the conventions in his letter this week.

Dear editor: After spending nearly two weeks watching both national political conventions this summer, a friend of mine said he'd been studying the problems carefully and the way to eliminate all the argument and trouble over seating delegates and trying to write a platform that'll please the conservatives, the moderates, and the liberals is to operate three parties.

This has some merit, since to a conservative a moderate is a liberal and to a liberal a moderate is a conservative and to a moderate both ends are wrong, but it won't work.

It wouldn't make a good television show. You get a convention hall full of people who all think alike and agree on everything, and there'd be nothing left for them to do but listen to speeches, and anybody knows half the delegates can't ed the bureaucrats would then be out of a job, and they, in turn, would be looking for work. So they will always be able to find areas, or people, with incomes lower than they determine to be acceptable by some bureaucratic yardstick. Thus, until Congress completely abolishes the bureau it will continue to consume tax dollars that must be provided by all who pay taxes. Indeed, some of the tax dollars that will be consumed by the anti-poverty bureaucrats will be provided by persons that are now declared eligible to receive benefits under the poverty program.

The Civil Rights bill is another example of bad legislation passed by this Congress. We have discussed it so thoroughly in the past that I do not feel we need to go deeply into it here. But we must certainly list it among those bills that give vast new powers to the federal government, particularly the executive branch and the courts. At the same time, it restricts the property of our citizens and imposes a new set of federal officials as overseer of the lives and actions of our citizens.

This Congress did pass some constructive legislation, however. For example, the Senate passed, by an overwhelming vote, my amendment to the foreign aid bill that cuts off aid to Indonesia and terminates the program of military training given to Indonesians in this country. We have poured millions of dollars of aid into Indonesia and in return President Sukarno sides with our enemies throughout Asia.

It seems very inconsistent and unwise, in my opinion, to furnish foreign aid to a country that opposes our policies at every turn. I am happy to report that the Senate agreed with me and my amendment was adopted 62 to 28. But all in all, this was not a session we can boast about. It enlarged the powers of the government, and set the stage for higher taxes on our citizens.

bring themselves to listen half the time.

Television has long since discovered that keeping its cameras on the speaker's stand is the best way to lose its rating, and the only way to keep things lively is to send its reporters around the hall with portable gear to get in on the squabbles, and if they can't find one, stir up something anyway.

I tell you, a football game where the spectators spend most of their time running up and down the aisles crying eligibility of a third-year and speculating on who was going to send in what terback, wouldn't that be a national sport.

Actually to make the vision show, two people enough and they both hold their conversations at the same time in the same hall. Things would get so gassy.

Yours truly,
J. A.
