Hospital Board Meets With State Board Last Sunday

Four members of the Caprock Hospital Board met with the state representative for Hill Burton grants last Sunday for discussed the districts application for funds to match funds voted here to build a new hospital in Floydada.

Dr. A. E. Guthrie, local physician who is very much interested in the project accompanied the group at his own expense.

Board members making the trip included Polk Goen, L. T. Wood, Travis Jones and Hollis Bond.

Goen said that 24 groups from all over the state met with the state group and that it is possible that word would be received as early as this week or as late as December on the grants for the various groups whose applications have been accepted.

Goen said that the board very much appreciated the around-the-clock efforts of the Mayor of Floydada and other city officials and workmen who were able to get the new water system installed before Sunday.

The state board would not have accepted the board's application without state water supply approval.

The people of the Caprock Hospital District have voted bonds for $395,000 and the application to Hill Burton seeks an additional amount to be used in constructoin of the new hospital.

Large Crowd Attends Bush For Senator Dinner Here

Approximately 200 Floyd county and area people attended the dinner in honor of State Senator candidate George Bush here last Thursday night.

Local Republican David Battey, Jr. was master of ceremonies for the event and Mrs. Battey introduced the guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Battey are co-chairman of the "Bush for Senator" campaign in Floyd County.

Kinder Farris gave the invocation.

Battey read a telegram from U. S. Senator John Tower in which he expressed his best wishes to the group and to Bush.

Bush said in his speech that he was hopeful of ridding Texas of its "liberal left winger senator" and that he would bring sound, responsible, and dignified representation to the state of Texas.

In outlining the key issues of the race Bush said that National Beauracracy is not the answer to all our problems, that the poverty package won't answer the poverty problem, that conservatives have a philosophy of solving poverty by supplying more jobs to people . . . and jobs . . . not the federal government.

He spent a considerable amount of time exposing the fact that Ralph Yarborough did not vote on the beef import bill and he said that the people of Texas did not like federal intervention as displayed through the civil rights bill.

He said that education must not depend upon federal aid . . . that he favors an improved educational system geared to the needs of Texas.

"The people of Texas are fed up with the Bobby Baker and Billie Sol Estes scandals" he continued "and the FBI has been used as a political wheel by the justice department."

Whirlwinds Host A Quick Ralls Team Friday Night

The Floydada Whirlwinds, fresh from two victories, one over another AA team and one over a tough AAA team will host the class A Ralls team here Friday night at Wester Field. Game time is 8:00 p. m.

Ralls has thus far defeated Kress and O'Donnell, both class A teams, to boast a 2.0 won-loss record, as do the locals.

Ralls is returning 12 men who lettered last year and were on the team that the Whirlwinds defeated 20-7. Although Ralls is a quick team, they will not be a fast team.

Again as the past two weeks, the Whirlwinds will face a team that has a weight advantage. The Ralls lineup will be sever pounds per man heavier than the locals. The 'Winds average about 160 pounds per man, and Ralls weighs around 167.

The probable starting lineup for Ralls will be: Sonny Hicks (22), a 160 pound halfback; Kenny Jones (24), a 150 pound end; Mike Stevens (42), a 135 pound halfback; Jim Parks (44), a 170 pound quarterback; Davey Abell (52), a 160 pound center; Dwayne Phillips (60) a 195 pound guard; Billy Binder (62), a 170 pound guard; Jerry Holley (63), 198 pound fullback; Wesley Philips (75), 210 pound, tackle; Butch Moore (82), 135 pound end Mel Ryan (83) 160 pound tackle.

Facing the above team will be the Whirlwinds consisting of: the backfield; James McNeill, Sammy Watts, Keith Teague, Steve Marler, and Kerry Bearden; the line; Gary Campbell, Bill Potts, Zeke Robertson, Ronnie Eubanks, David Lutrick, Phil Wylie, Waldo West, and possibly Mac Baker at the end position. Coach Bill Curry says this lineup is subject to change at any time, if anyone not mentioned here outplays one of the regulars during practice this week.

The Whirlwinds last Monday were a bit sore after having to come from behind and down a tough Canyon team in the closing seconds of the game, but the only serious injury suffered was the torn cartilage on one of Mac Willson's knees.

Outside of that, the Winds should be ready to make it three in a row.

GETTING HELP — Just a little late, James McNeill (22), comes up and throws a block a little late to be of help to Keith Teague (44) in Friday night's contest at Canyon. Bill Potts (62) comes up at right. Floydada won the game 9-7 with a field goal in the last ten seconds.

Speaking of good recipes . . . here is one that Helen Bertrand, Route 2, Floydada, copied from a cookbook published in 1915 by the W.M.S. of the Union Avenue Baptist Church, N. Y. City, and sent to us.

RECIPE FOR A GOOD HUSBAND:

"Be careful in your selection. Do not choose too young, and take only such as have been reared in a good, moral atmosphere.

Some wives insist on keeping husbands in a pickle while others keep them in hot water. This only makes them sour, hard and sometimes bitter. Even poor varieties may be made sweet, tender and good by garnishing them with patience — well sweetened with smiles and flavored with kisses. Then keep them warm with a steady fire of domestic devotion, and serve with three good meals a day.

When thus prepared they will keep for years."

Single copies of HG-98 may be obtained by mailing a postcard request to the Office of Information, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250.

Grain Smothers Latin Youth At Lockney Monday

LOCKNEY — Jesus Sepulveda, 17, Mexican national, smothered to death Monday beneath milo in a bin at Lockney Cooperative Elevator.

The youth's body was recovered from beneath five or six feet of grain by a rescue team of more than 20 about an hour after the cone-shaped stack of grain gave way as Sepulveda slid down it, according to other news sources.

Marvin Walls, one of the elevator crew attempting to move the hard-packed grain from the bin said he and the other crewmen had tied ropes about their waists as a precaution against falling and being covered by the grain in case it suddenly gave way. No others were injured.

A physician and respirator were on the scene when the youth's body was recovered but efforts to revive him were in vain. He was pronounced dead at the scene.

Among his survivors are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Encarnacion Sepulveda, Lockney. Several brothers and sisters also survive.

The father was working in the Texas valley at the time of the mishap.

Senator Yarborough Cancels Visit To Floyd County Fair

Local Floyd County Democratic Party members learned about 10:30 p.m. Tuesday night that Texas' Senior Senator, Ralph Yarborough, has canceled his previously scheduled visit to the Floyd County Fair.

It was learned in a phone call that the Senator will introduce Senator Hubert Humphries, the vice-presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket, at a meeting in Wichita Falls. Yarborough had mentioned this before, thus cancelling a breakfast planned for him in the Colonial House in Floydada Friday morning.

However, Senator Yarborough does plan to attend the opening assembly of Wayland College where he is to be a featured speaker.

At around 2:00 p.m. this afternoon, the Senator and Mrs. Yarborough were to land at the Plainview Airport and be taken to Lockney where he was to be the featured speaker at the dedication ceremony of the many new Lockney buildings, including those at the Fair Grounds. The dedication program is part of this year's Floyd County Fair activities which are being held in Lockney.

As it now stands, Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith or Attorney General of Texas, Waggoner Carr will be in charge of the ceremony.

The Senator was to spend the night here tonight and begin his activities at 7:30 a.m. in the Colonial House at which time a breakfast in his honor was slated.

From 8:30 until 9:15 he planned to be in the Colonial House and visit with anyone who wished, over a cup of coffee.

He was scheduled to leave Plainview at around 2:30 p.m. Friday and make stops at Hart, Dimmitt, Olton and Littlefield while in the South Plains Area.

Yarborough, who is author of 35 Legislative proposals enacted into law during his seven years in the U. S. Senate, iis being opposed in his bid for re-election by George Bush, strongly conservative Republican candidate from Houston, who visited Floydada last week.

by missing eight games also, but he predicted a total of 38 points would be scored in the Canyon - Floydada game and Moore predicted 8. A total of 16 was scored.

Third place winner was a repeater, Lee Webb, who missed nine games, as did six other people. Webb predicted however, that 13 points would be scored, missing the actual points scored by only 3.

Others missing only nine were: Clarence Young, Charley Edwards, Sammy Hale, Andy Hale, W. O. Hewberry, and Mrs. W. M. Hambright.

This proved to be a much more difficult contest in which to predict the winners for there were four ties, and several upsets. The upset nobody predicted was Morton's 6-0 win over Muleshoe. It was one of those upsets that "just isn't supposed to happen." Another one frequently missed was Andrews upset victory over Snyder, ranked 4th in the state.

Four games ended in ties that again threw those playing the contest off the track. Hale Center and Dimmitt tied. Happy and Turkey fought to a draw, as did Seminole and Levelland, and the Clovis Wildcats were deadlocked with Albuquerque Valley at 13-13.

Ties can be marked on the contest page, for a number of people have done it in the past two weeks. To designate a tie, one should simply circle both teams, or write the word "tie" underneath that game in the football.

This weekend the college games start so a few of these games will be seen inside the footballs.

Resolution To The Memory Of G. W. SUGGS

We, the representatives of the various organizations of community, civic, educational and official life in Lockney propose this resolution as an expression of our deep loss in the untimely death of G. W. Suggs.

G. W. Suggs was a devoted Christian layman, a respected attorney, a faithful community servant far beyond the call of duty, a wise counselor and a friend of all men.

His passing leaves a shocked and bereaved community. We had come, in his three years among us, to depend upon him both personally and officially for professional and volunteer help.

To his family, Barbara, Carla, Lyle and Clay; to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Suggs; to his sister, Mrs. Sue Haven, and to his other relatives we express our deep sympathy.

Therefore, be it resolved that we express to all these our deep sympathy, and that we place a plaque with proper inscription to his memory in the new City Hall.

(The above inscription will be printed on a plaque and placed in the new City Hall at Lockney and signed by the presidents of leading Lockney organizations.)

their minds about taking them or were frightened away before loading them.

Monday night United Machine and Threadgill's Texaco Station, both on the Lockney highway were entered.

At United a 22 automatic rifle with scope sight, belonging to an employe, Roy Teague, was taken from the building. Also missing were coins from the coke and cigarette machines.

The coke and cigarette machine at Threadgills were also broken into but nothing else was reported missing. Entry was gained by taking out a door glass pane to unlock the door from the inside. The glass pane was found leaning up against the wall inside the station unbroken.

Four occupants of a car sought treatment at Peoples Hospital about 1 o'clock Saturday morning when the car overturned near Barwise.

Officers said the vehicle was traveling toward Barwise wher the driver spotted a train crossing the track on the highway. In attempting to stop the car the driver lost control. The vehicle turned over at least three times it is believed.

Treated and released at the local hospital were Otha Jackson and Bobby Jean Johnson. Held for observation overnight was Ruby Pearl Johnson. Mary Lee Johnson, the third passenger, remains hospitalized. All are Negros.

This figures out to a little more than 2 such well-to-do persons per 1,000 taxpayers (the exact figure being 2.24 per thousand) or roughly one fifth of 1 per cent.

Dallas just nosed out Houston in this kind of rich people. Dallas had 1,561, while Houston had 1,543. Fort Worth had 504, San Antonio had 403, El Paso had 153.

THE TWO MILLION dollar expenditure to rid the plains of the boll weevil quite possibly won't completely exterminate him . . . maybe he can be controlled. If he is completely exterminated it will probably be the first time in history.

I was visiting with Marion Tucker the other day and like most farmers, mentioned boll weevis. He said he could remember back when a farmer would rig up a two wheel implement with brushes quipped to wheels . . . and hook two good fast mules to it and head down the rows of cotton. The brushes knocked the boll weevils off into two round pans of kerosene mounted on the rig. Every so often the farmer would stop at the turn row and drop the dead weevils from the pans.

This wasn't 100% effective either.

To select a tender steak, consider two things—the cut and the grade. The most tender are porterhouse, T-Bone, sirloin and club steaks—and any of these in U. S. Choice grade should assure satisfaction.

Consider Wheat Program Provisions Carefully

Farmers will want to consider carefully several new provisions of the 1965 Wheat Program. Several provisions in the new voluntary program can be used as "risk-reducing" factors, according to County Agent Richard E. Miller.

Under one new provision, farmers signing up in both wheat and feed grain programs may substitute wheat for feed grain or feed grain for wheat. This could be considered a risk-reducing advantage since wheat can be planted on both wheat acres and feed grain acres this fall, and possibly grazing obtained from this wheat. Next spring (probably in February or March) if wheat prospects look good, both wheat and feed grain acres can be left in wheat. If wheat prospects are not good, the wheat can be plowed up and wheat and feed grain acres put into feed grain—or any combination of the two.

If oats or rye produced in 1959 and 1960, you can apply for an oat-rye base, for base is established, wheat can be substituted for oats or rye—or vice versa.

Another change permits wheat farmers signing up in the 1965 Wheat Program to over-plant their 1965 allotment by as much as 50% and store excess production under bond. By storing the excess wheat under bond and carrying out other program provisions, farmers will be eligible for marketing certificates and price-support loans. The excess or stored wheat can be sold in a later year. Election of this option makes the producer ineligible for the substitution provisions of wheat and feed grain acreage. This can be a "risk-reducing" facet especially for dry land producers. Overplanting of 1965 wheat allotments will not affect wheat acreage history in determining future allotments.

Producers taking part in the program who plant as much as 80% of their allotments for harvest well be eligible for full amount of certificates. When fewer acres are planted for harvest, the amount of certificates will be reduced. Any reduction in the amount of certificates will first be made in the lower-valued export certificates.

Wheat:

Producers who elect to participate in this program and comply with its provisions will:

(a) Sign-up in County ASCS office between August 24 and October 2, 1964

(b) Receive a price support of $1.25 per bushel (national average) on farm production. (1964 price support was $1.30 national average.)

(c) Receive Domestic Marketing Certificates at 75c per bushel on maximum of 45% normal production of the farm allotmen. (1964 was 70c per busthel on 45% of normal production.)

(d) Receive Export Certificates at 30c per bushel on a maximum of 35% the normal production of the farm allotment. (1964 was 25c per bushel on 45%.)

(e) Receive Diversion Payments for diverting below the farm allotment based on 50% of county price support loan rate and normal yield for the farm. (Farmer will not receive diversion acre payment on the minimum qualifying acres, but will on the additional diverted acres up to 20% of the 1965 allotment.)

Producers who use the substitution provisions and divert feed grains instead of wheat, will receive the diversion payment rate the crop actually diverted below the feed grain base or wheat allotment. Where wheat is planted on feed grain acreage, producers will not receive additional marketing certificates for this added acreage.

To qualify for price support and certificates under the 1965 wheat program, you should:

2. Have an acreage [illegible] longer than your allotment you plant to use the [illegible] bond provisions or the [illegible] privileges.

Kitchen Window Popular Feature At State Fair

Now in its third year, the Texas Kitchen Window has proved to be one of the most popular features of the Women's Department at the State Fair of Texas.

That is the opinion of Mrs. Leah Jarrett, who has directed the State Fair cornerstone since 1948. the 1964 exposition in Dallas will run October 10 through 25.

The Kitchen Window will feature demonstrations by food-related associations of recipes based on their respective products.

The Meat Board again will present its demonstrations on the first two days of the fair in cooperation with the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

New to this year's list of demonstrators are the North Texas Producers Association and the American Dairy Association of Texas. They will present their program October 12 and 13.

The Kitchen Window will run the full 16 days of the fair in the air-conditioned Women's Building with 9 food-related associations demonstrating recipes.

Showings are scheduled for 11 a.m., 1, 3, and 5 p.m. daily with each program about 45 minutes long.

Additional state groups and associations cooperating to present the Kitchen Window are, in order of their appearance, Dallas County Home Demonstration Clubs, Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association, Texas Turkey Association, Texas Egg Council, Texas Broiler Council, Dallas County 4-H Club girls, Texas Pecan Growers Association, Texas Beekeepers Association, Texas Lamb Council with the Woman's Auxiliary to the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association.

Completion Of Land Leveling Jobs Shows Increased Project Interest

By Truman Gregory
Soil Conservationist

Continued interest in the practice of land leveling in the Floyd County Soil Conservation District is encouraging. Several large jobs have been completed within the last year. Land leveling is adapted to most soils in the district and is considered to be economically feasable.

When land leveling is carried out it results in conservation of moisture and prevents damage caused by water erosion. It also aids in the even distribution of moisture in the soil. The peretration of moisture is also greater on leveled land as compared to sloping land. This is very significant since on an average it takes more than 75 percent more moisture to produce the same amount of cotton, sorghum or soybeans on sloping land than on leveled land.

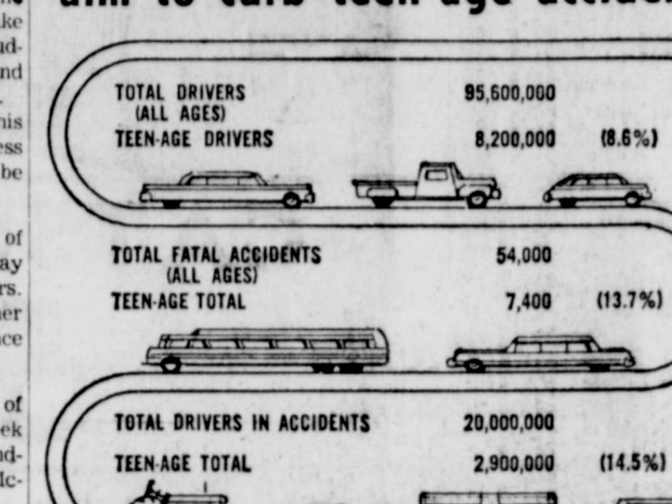
Land that has been leveled shuld be "conditioned" by growing fertilized high residue crops or a mulch of cotton burrs added to the land to bring it back to full production. This normally requires about two years depending on the depth of cut that has been made. Also the farmer who plans to level that "spot" needs to make some definite plans as to when and how he plans to get the job done. Whatever your needs are, technicans from the Soil Conservation Service will be glad to assist you free of cost.

Although some progress has been made in the past there still remains a big job to be done. There is a need for thousands of additional acres to be leveled. Federal cost-share is available through the Great Plains Conservation Program to assist in the design and installation of land leveling work.

Farmers completing land leveling on their farms during the past year are Claude Ring, Lynn Miller, Orba Miller, C. M. Lyles, Gene Bloys, Oscar Golden, Carey Snodgrass and Jewell Norman.

Food spending by consumers in the first half of 1364 topped that of a year earlier by about 4 percent, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has just announced. Substantial income gains, population growth, increased per capita food consumption, and slightly higher retail food prices contributed to the spending increase. Considerable gains were recorded in sales in away-from-home eating places. Food spending is expected to continue about 4 percent above last year. Consumers, at this rate, would spend about 18½ percent of their disposable income for food this year. Per capita food consumption in 1964 should rise about 1 percent, the largest increase in five years.

4-H drivers aim to curb teen-age accidents



MOTOR VEHICLE ACCIDENTS are the leading cause of death among persons under 25. Young drivers have the highest accident and death rate of any other driver age group. These appalling statistics are the concern of 4-H boys and girls enrolled in the National 4-H Automotive program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Exhibition Material Should Receive Careful Attention

by N. S. ABBOTT

Selecting and preparing material for exhibition should receive careful consideration. Ample time must be allowed for selecting, curing, preparing, and proper culling for a creditable exhibit.

Field selection is to be desired in exhibition material. It affords greater uniformity, varietal purity, and freedom from foreign material.

Fruits and vegetables should be selected from large numbers so that they may be as ideal as possible for the variety and its use. Fruits should be ripe for exhibition purposes. Both fruits and vegetables should be in good market condition.

Growers should select high quality, attractive exhibits of vegetable which have consumer appeal. To win prizes in shows, exhibitors must select good uniform material, and it must be exhibited in an attractive manner. Excellent products that are well prepared are sometimes exhibited to poor advantage by using a paper bag for example, to exhibit green beans. Paper plates, flat pans, etc. allow more of the products to be seen when displayed than do tall containers.

Vegetables entered for competition in a show should be U. S. Grade No. 1 or better. The exhibits should be composed of specimens of similar varietal characteristics; uniform in size, shape and color; free from blemishes caused by rough handling, insects or disease and of a size acceptable to the trade.

Vegetables and fruits should be selected that are efficient in food value from the preparation standpoint.

I realize that time is short, but you still have time to select and prepare many of the products listed in the catalogue. Use good judgement, and the Floyd County Fair Catalogue as your guide for the number of products, etc. All field crop exhibits must be mature or cured if you expect to win with them. Green grain sorghum heads, for example, do not have a chance to win a prize.

State Fair Of Texas Set October 10-25 in Dallas

Whether it's a pig show or a fashion revue, you'll find it among the 24 major events that Texas rural youth will stage at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas October 10 through 25.

The youngsters will produce their most spectacular event on Saturday, Oct. 17, when 50,000 Texas 4-H Club boys and girls, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers observe Rural Youth Day.

Arriving by school bus, truck and private car from more than half of the state's 254 counties, they'll have all Fair Park objectives under control by dawn. They will hold a fashion show, take part in a grass judging contest and show broilers — all on that day. Then at noon they'll be special guests of Dallas businessmen who will serve a picnic luncheon of hot dogs and pop for them on the State Fair's big parking lot.

The fashion show will be the annual State 4-H Dress Revue, where club girls from all 12 agricultural extension service districts in the state will model clothes they have made. The revue will be presented at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. in the Women's Building.

The Junior Grass Judging Contest starting at 8:30 a.m. in the Swine Arena will attract more than 100 Future Farmers and 4-H boys who'll be called upon to name different grasses and weeds.

Other boys and girls will display birds in the Junior Market Broiler Show in the Poultry Bunlding, where judging will begin at 9 a.m. The juniors will sell the broilers at auction at 10a.m. on October 20.

Actually, the juniors will begin their shows before Rural Youth Day, with a Junior Market Turkey Show on State Fair's opening Saturday, October 10. They will sell the turkeys at an auction at 10 a.m. on October 14. Also on the opening Saturday, they will hold their Junior Delaine-Merino and Junior Rambouillet sheep shows.

Exhibitors in the Junior Livestock Shows will bring in heifers, steers, lambs and barrows on Sunday and Monday after Rural Youth Day. The market animals will be tagged and sifted on Tuesday, October 20.

At 8:30 a.m. on Wednesday, October 21, the juniors will present four dairy heifer shows — Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Holstein-Friesian and Jersey. Judging is scheduled at 1:30 p.m. on the same day for Angus, Brahman, Hereford, Santa Gertrudis and Shorthorn beef heifers.

Other shows set for the same Wednesday will be Junior Steer Show and Junior Lamb Show at 8:30 a.m., and the opening of the Junior Barrow Show at 2 p.m.

At 8:30 a.m. on Thursday, October 22, the youngsters will start the Junior Market Steer Show and continue the Junior Barrow Show. They will end their shows with a Junior Negro Barrow Show at 8:30 a.m. on October 23.

The climax of junior activities at the 1964 State Fair of Texas will fall on Friday and Saturday, October 23 and 24, during the Junior Livestock Auction Sale. All steers, including grand and reserve grand champions, will be sold in the Livestock Pavilion at 9:30 a.m. on Friday. All lambs and barrows, including champions, will be sold in the same pavilion at the same time on Saturday.

Plaque Will Honor Matador Ranch Founder

MATADOR — A cast aluminum plaque is to be erected just south of US Highway 70 a few hundred yards east of the Floyd and Motley Counties line. It will honor a great pioneer and the founder of the Matador Ranch empire, Henry H. Campbell, father of native-born Harry H. Campbell, pioneer Matador resident.

The marker originally honors Henry H. Campbell, the first judge of Motley County, as a veteran of the Confederacy. It will be the only marker of this type erected in the county. The contract for the marker has been let, according to information received by the Tribune from the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. The contract was let by the State Building Commission, composed of Gov. John Connally, Attorney-General Waggoner Carr and Charles S. Coates, chairman of the State Board of Control.

The Confederate Memorial Information Marker for Henry H. Campbell is 18" x 28" in size and will be erected 12 miles west of Matador, Texas, on US Highway 70.

The following information appears on the inscription: "Henry H. Campbell (1849-1911) came from North Carolina to Texas in 1854. In the Civil War he served with the Twentieth Texas Cavalry Regiment. In 1878 he moved to a buffalo hunter's dugout 10 miles southeast to start the Matador Ranch. He obtained Scottish capital to fence, stock and improve the brand. As superintendent, he ran 100,000 cattle on the 450,000 acre range. He made Scotsmen feel at home with afternoon tea on his ranch.

"He later moved cowboys to Matador to meet the legal requirements for county organization. He was elected the first Motley County judge. His home ranch is located at this site."

The erection of Confederate Memorial Information Markers is part of the Civil War Centennial Commemoration in Texas. The markers are designed to interpret and commemorate the role of prominent Texas Confederates, battles, frontier outposts, coastal fortifications, manufacturing plants, and military supply centers.

This marking program is part of a comprehensive five-year plan of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee to record, appreciate, mark, preserve, and survey Texas history. "RAMPS," as the plan is called, seeks to place 5,000 historical markers over the state in this five-year period. These markers are to be sponsored through joint efforts of the state, counties, cities, civic groups, and individuals.

The Civil War in Texas is a part of the vast program to mark historical sites in Texas from archeological finds to modern industries and statesmen. Since the beginning of the centennial marking program, 509 Texas Confederate Memorial Information Markers have been submitted for erection.

Appraisers And Managers Needed On Modern Farms

COLLEGE STATION — A cattle futures market. Ridiculous, you say? Maybe not, according to Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

The Chicago Mercantile Exchange has hired a private consulting firm to study the possibility of such a market. Although most segments of the livestock industry feel there is a need for a futures market on livestock, they do not fully understand how it can best be used, says Uvacek.

There are many problems in establishing a livestock future market because of the nature of the product. In live cattle trading, there is difficulty in establishing specifications, carcass beef contracting isn't very appealing to either producers or buyers and boneless beef normally doesn't have the price variation needed for attractive speculation.

Early investigations show that live cattle contracts, combining the best solution.

Another problem with establishing a futures market is the large amount of educational work that must be done to insure a full understanding of the program by cattlemen.

However, eventually the difficulties will be worked out and the thing that couldn't work, a futures market on live cattle and beef, will be a reality, says Uvacek.

Senator Yarborough Cancels Visit To Floyd County Fair

Local Floyd County Democratic Party members learned about 10:30 p.m. Tuesday night that Texas' Senior Senator, Ralph Yarborough, has canceled his previously scheduled visit to the Floyd County Fair.

It was learned in a phone call that the Senator will introduce Senator Hubert Humphries, the vice-presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket, at a meeting in Wichita Falls. Yarborough had mentioned this before, thus cancelling a breakfast planned for him in the Colonial House in Floydada Friday morning.

However, Senator Yarborough does plan to attend the opening assembly of Wayland College where he is to be a featured speaker.

At around 2:00 p.m. this afternoon, the Senator and Mrs. Yarborough were to land at the Plainview Airport and be taken to Lockney where he was to be the featured speaker at the dedication ceremony of the many new Lockney buildings, including those at the Fair Grounds. The dedication program is part of this year's Floyd County Fair activities which are being held in Lockney.

As it now stands, Lieutenant Governor Preston Smith or Attorney General of Texas, Waggoner Carr will be in charge of the ceremony.

The Senator was to spend the night here tonight and begin his activities at 7:30 a.m. in the Colonial House at which time a breakfast in his honor was slated.

From 8:30 until 9:15 he planned to be in the Colonial House and visit with anyone who wished, over a cup of coffee.

He was scheduled to leave Plainview at around 2:30 p.m. Friday and make stops at Hart, Dimmitt, Olton and Littlefield while in the South Plains Area.

Yarborough, who is author of 35 Legislative proposals enacted into law during his seven years in the U. S. Senate, iis being opposed in his bid for re-election by George Bush, strongly conservative Republican candidate from Houston, who visited Floydada last week.

urday night and planned to continue through the duration of the Fair. However, since the cold front moved in a week ago, the likelyhood of being bothered by mosquitos is slight.

Moore

by missing eight games also, but he predicted a total of 38 points would be scored in the Canyon - Floydada game and Moore predicted 8. A total of 16 was scored.

Third place winner was a repeater, Lee Webb, who missed nine games, as did six other people. Webb predicted however, that 13 points would be scored, missing the actual points scored by only 3.

Others missing only nine were: Clarence Young, Charley Edwards, Sammy Hale, Andy Hale, W. O. Hewberry, and Mrs. W. M. Hambright.

This proved to be a much more difficult contest in which to predict the winners for there were four ties, and several upsets. The upset nobody predicted was Morton's 6-0 win over Muleshoe. It was one of those upsets that "just isn't supposed to happen." Another one frequently missed was Andrews unset victory over Snyder, ranked 4th in the state.

Four games ended in ties that again threw those playing the contest off the track. Hale Center and Dimmitt tied. Happy and Turkey fought to a draw, as did Seminole and Levelland, and the Clovis Wildcats were deadlocked with Albuquerque Valley at 13-13.

Ties can be marked on the contest page, for a number of people have done it in the past two weeks. To designate a tie, one should simply circle both teams, or write the word "tie" underneath that game in the football.

This weekend the college games start so a few of these games will be seen inside the footballs.

Resolution To The Memory Of G. W. SUGGS

We, the representatives of the various organizations of community, civic, educational and official life in Lockney propose this resolution as an expression of our deep loss in the untimely death of G. W. Suggs.

G. W. Suggs was a devoted Christian layman, a respected attorney, a faithful community servant far beyond the call of duty, a wise counselor and a friend of all men.

His passing leaves a shocked and bereaved community. We had come, in his three years among us, to depend upon him both personally and officially for professional and volunteer help.

To his family, Barbara, Carla, Lyle and Clay; to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Suggs; to his sister, Mrs. Sue Haven, and to his other relatives we express our deep sympathy.

Therefore, be it resolved that we express to all these our deep sympathy, and that we place a plaque with proper inscription to his memory in the new City Hall.

Monday night United Machine and Threadgill's Texaco Station, both on the Lockney highway were entered.

At United a 22 automatic rifle with scope sight, belonging to an employe, Roy Teague, was taken from the building. Also missing were coins from the coke and cigarette machines.

The coke and cigarette machine at Threadgills were also broken into but nothing else was reported missing. Entry was gained by taking out a door glass pane to unlock the door from the inside. The glass pane was found leaning up against the wall inside the station unbroken.

Four occupants of a car sought treatment at Peoples Hospital about 1 o'clock Saturday morning when the car overturned near Barwise.

Officers said the vehicle was traveling toward Barwise when the driver spotted a train crossing the track on the highway. In attempting to stop the car the driver lost control. The vehicle turned over at least three times it is believed.

Treated and released at the local hospital were Otha Jackson and Bobby Jean Johnson. Held for observation overnight was Ruby Pearl Johnson. Mary Lee Johnson, the third passenger, remains hospitalized. All are Negros.

This figures out to a little more than 2 such well-to-do persons per 1,000 taxpayers (the exact figure being 2.24 per thousand) or roughly one fifth of 1 per cent.

In the entire nation, there were 139,754 individuals who reported $50,000 or more income. That works out to 2.20 per thousand.

Dallas just nosed out Houston in this kind of rich people. Dallas had 1,561, while Houston had 1,543. Fort Worth had 504, San Antonio had 403, El Paso had 153.

THE TWO MILLION dollar expenditure to rid the plains of the boll weevil quite possibly won't completely exterminate him . . . maybe he can be controlled. If he is completely exterminated it will probably be the first time in history.

I was visiting with Marion Tucker the other day and like most farmers, mentioned boll weevis. He said he could remember back when a farmer would rig up a two wheel implement with brushes quipped to wheels . . . and hook two good fast mules to it and head down the rows of cotton. The brushes knocked the boll weevils off into two round pans of kerosene mounted on the rig. Every so often the farmer would stop at the turn row and drop the dead weevils from the pans.

This wasn't 100% effective either.

To select a tender steak, consider two things—the cut and the grade. The most tender are porterhouse, T-Bone, sirloin and club steaks—and any of these in U. S. Choice grade should assure satisfaction.

Consider Wheat Program Provisions Carefully

Farmers will want to consider carefully several new provisions of the 1965 Wheat Program. Several provisions in the new voluntary program can be used as "risk-reducing" factors, according to County Agent Richard E. Miller.

Under one new provision, farmers signing up in both wheat and feed grain programs may substitute wheat for feed grain or feed grain for wheat. This could be considered a risk-reducing advantage since wheat can be planted on both wheat acres and feed grain acres this fall, and possibly grazing obtained from this wheat. Next spring (probably in February or March) if wheat prospects look good, both wheat and feed grain acres can be left in wheat. If wheat prospects are not good, the wheat can be plowed up and wheat and feed grain acres put into feed grain—or any combination of the two.

If oats or rye produced in 1959 and 1960, you can apply for an oat-rye base, for base is established, wheat can be substituted for oats or rye—or vice versa.

Another change permits wheat farmers signing up in the 1965 Wheat Program to over-plant their 1965 allotment by as much as 50% and store excess production under bond. By storing the excess wheat under bond and carrying out other program provisions, farmers will be eligible for marketing certificates and price-support loans. The excess or stored wheat can be sold in a later year. Election of this option makes the producer ineligible for the substitution provisions of wheat and feed grain acreage. This can be a "risk-reducing" facet especially for dry land producers. Overplanting of 196[illegible] wheat allotments will not affect wheat acreage history in determining future allotments.

Producers taking part in the program who plant as much as 80% of their allotments for harvest well be eligible for full amount of certificates. When fewer acres are planted for harvest, the amount of certificates will be reduced. Any reduction in the amount of certificates will first be made in the lower-valued export certificates.

Wheat:

Producers who elect to participate in this program and comply with its provisions will:

(a) Sign-up in County ASCS office between August 24 and October 2, 1964

(b) Receive a price support of $1.25 per bushel (national average) on farm production. (1964 price support was $1.30 national average.)

(c) Receive Domestic Marketing Certificates at 75c per bushel on maximum of 45% normal production of the farm allotmen. (1964 was 70c per busthel on 45% of normal production.)

(d) Receive Export Certificates at 30c per bushel on a maximum of 35% the normal production of the farm allotment. (1964 was 25c per bushel on 45%.)

(e) Receive Diversion Payments for diverting below the farm allotment based on 50% of county price support loan rate and normal yield for the farm. (Farmer will not receive diversion acre payment on the minimum qualifying acres, but will on the additional diverted acres up to 20% of the 1965 allotment.)

Producers who use the substitution provisions and divert feed grains instead of wheat, will receive the diversion payment rate the crop actually diverted below the feed grain base or wheat allotment. Where wheat is planted on feed grain acreage, producers will not receive additional marketing certificates for this added acreage.

To qualify for price support and certificates under the 1965 wheat program, you should:

1. Sign up to take [illegible] program.
2. Have an acreage [illegible] longer than your allotm[illegible] you plant to use the [illegible] bond provisions or the [illegible] privileges.

Kitchen Window Popular Feature At State Fair

Now in its third year, the Texas Kitchen Window has proved to be one of the most popular features of the Women's Department at the State Fair of Texas.

That is the opinion of Mrs. Leah Jarrett, who has directed the State Fair cornerstone since 1948. the 1964 exposition in Dallas will run October 10 through 25.

The Kitchen Window will feature demonstrations by food-related associations of recipes based on their respective products.

Returning to open the series this year will be Ruth Hogan, home economist and specialist in School Food Service for the National Livestock and Meat Board. The Meat Board again will present its demonstrations on the first two days of the fair in cooperation with the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association.

New to this year's list of demonstrators are the North Texas Producers Association and the American Dairy Association of Texas. They will present their program October 12 and 13.

The Kitchen Window will run the full 16 days of the fair in the air-conditioned Women's Building with 9 food-related associations demonstrating recipes.

Showings are scheduled for 11 a.m., 1, 3, and 5 p.m. daily with each program about 45 minutes long.

Additional state groups and associations cooperating to present the Kitchen Window are, in order of their appearance, Dallas County Home Demonstration Clubs, Southwestern Peanut Growers' Association, Texas Turkey Association, Texas Egg Council, Texas Broiler Council, Dallas County 4-H Club girls, Texas Pecan Growers Association, Texas Beekeepers Association, Texas Lamb Council with the Woman's Auxiliary to the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers' Association.

TOWERING OVER THE GREATEST!

Completion Of Land Leveling Jobs Shows Increased Project Interest

By Truman Gregory
Soil Conservationist

Continued interest in the practice of land leveling in the Floyd County Soil Conservation District is encouraging. Several large jobs have been completed within the last year. Land leveling is adapted to most soils in the district and is considered to be economically feasable.

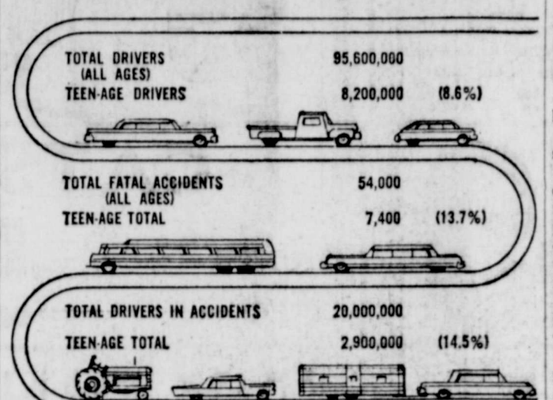
When land leveling is carried out it results in conservation of moisture and prevents damage caused by water erosion. It also aids in the even distribution of moisture in the soil. The peretration of moisture is also greater on leveled land as compared to sloping land. This is very significant since on an average it takes more than 75 percent more moisture to produce the same amount of cotton, sorghum or soybeans on sloping land than on leveled land.

Land that has been leveled shuld be "conditioned" by growing fertilized high residue crops or a mulch of cotton burrs added to the land to bring it back to full production. This normally requires about two years depending on the depth of cut that has been made. Also the farmer who plans to level that "spot" needs to make some definite plans as to when and how he plans to get the job done. Whatever your needs are, technicans from the Soil Conservation Service will be glad to assist you free of cost.

Although some progress has been made in the past there still remains a big job to be done. There is a need for thousands of additional acres to be leveled. Federal cost-share is available through the Great Plains Conservation Program to assist in the design and installation of land leveling work.

Farmers completing land leveling on their farms during the past year are Claude Ring, Lynn Miller, Orbe Miller, C. M. Lyles, Gene Bloys, Oscar Golden, Carey Snodgrass and Jewell Norman.

4-H drivers aim to curb teen-age accidents



MOTOR VEHICLE ACCIDENTS are the leading cause of death among persons under 25. Young drivers have the highest accident and death rate of any other driver age group. These appalling statistics are the concern of 4-H boys and girls enrolled in the National 4-H Automotive program conducted by the Cooperative Extension Service.

Exhibition Material Should Receive Careful Attention

by N. S. ABBOTT

Selecting and preparing material for exhibition should receive careful consideration. Ample time must be allowed for selecting, curing, preparing, and proper culling for a creditable exhibit.

Field selection is to be desired in exhibition material. It affords greater uniformity, varietal purity, and freedom from foreign material.

Fruits and vegetables should be selected from large numbers so that they may be as ideal as possible for the variety and its use. Fruits should be ripe for exhibition purposes. Both fruits and vegetables should be in good market condition.

Growers should select high quality, attractive exhibits of vegetable which have consumer appeal. To win prizes in shows, exhibitors must select good uniform material, and it must be exhibited in an attractive manner. Excellent products that are well prepared are sometimes exhibited to poor advantage by using a paper bag for example, to exhibit green beans. Paper plates, flat pans, etc. allow more of the products to be seen when displayed than do tall containers.

Vegetables entered for competition in a show should be U. S. Grade No. 1 or better. The exhibits should be composed of specimens of similar varietal characteristics; uniform in size, shape and color; free from blemishes caused by rough handling, insects or disease and of a size acceptable to the trade.

Vegetables and fruits should be selected that are efficient in food value from the preparation standpoint.

I realize that time is short, but you still have time to select and prepare many of the products listed in the catalogue. Use good judgement, and the Floyd County Fair Catalogue as your guide for the number of products, etc. All field crop exhibits must be mature or cured if you expect to win with them. Green grain sorghum heads, for example, do not have a chance to win a prize.

State Fair Of Texas Set October 10-25 in Dallas

Whether it's a pig show or a fashion revue, you'll find it among the 24 major events that Texas rural youth will stage at the State Fair of Texas in Dallas October 10 through 25.

The youngsters will produce their most spectacular event on Saturday, Oct. 17, when 50,000 Texas 4-H Club boys and girls, Future Farmers and Future Homemakers observe Rural Youth Day.

Arriving by school bus, truck and private car from more than half of the state's 254 counties, they'll have all Fair Park objectives under control by dawn. They will hold a fashion show, take part in a grass judging contest and show broilers — all on that day. Then at noon they'll be special guests of Dallas businessmen who will serve a picnic luncheon of hot dogs and pop for them on the State Fair's big parking lot.

The fashion show will be the annual State 4-H Dress Revue, where club girls from all 12 agricultural extension service districts in the state will model clothes they have made. The revue will be presented at 10 a.m. and 11 a.m. in the Women's Building.

The Junior Grass Judging Contest starting at 8:30 a.m. in the Swine Arena will attract more than 100 Future Farmers and 4-H boys who'll be called upon to name different grasses and weeds

Other boys and girls will display birds in the Junior Market Broiler Show in the Poultry Bunlding, where judging will begin at 9 a.m. The juniors will sell the broilers at auction at 10a.m. on October 20.

Actually, the juniors will begin their shows before Rural Youth Day, with a Junior Market Turkey Show on State Fair's opening Saturday, October 10. They will sell the turkeys at an auction at 10 a.m. on October 14. Also on the opening Saturday, they will hold their Junior Delaine-Merino and Junior Rambouillet sheep shows.

Exhibitors in the Junior Livestock Shows will bring in heifers, steers, lambs and barrows on Sunday and Monday after Rural Youth Day. The market animals will be tagged and sifted on Tuesday, October 20.

At 8:30 a.m. on Wednesday, October 21, the juniors will present four dairy heifer shows — Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Holstein-Friesian and Jersey. Judging is scheduled at 1:30 p.m. on the same day for Angus, Brahman, Hereford, Santa Gertrudis and Shorthorn beef heifers.

Other shows set for the same Wednesday will be Junior Steer Show and Junior Lamb Show at 8:30 a.m., and the opening of the Junior Barrow Show at 2 p.m.

At 8:30 a.m. on Thursday, October 22, the youngsters will start the Junior Market Steer Show and continue the Junior Barrow Show. They will end their shows with a Junior Negro Barrow Show at 8:30 a.m. on October 23.

The climax of junior activities at the 1964 State Fair of Texas will fall on Friday and Saturday, October 23 and 24, during the Junior Livestock Auction Sale. All steers, including grand and reserve grand champions, will be sold in the Livestock Pavilion at 9:30 a.m. on Friday. All lambs and barrows, including champions, will be sold in the same pavilion at the same time on on Saturday.

Plaque Will Honor Matador Ranch Founder

MATADOR — A cast aluminum plaque is to be erected just south of US Highway 70 a few hundred yards east of the Floyd and Motley Counties line. It will honor a great pioneer and the founder of the Matador Ranch empire, Henry H. Campbell, father of native-born Harry H. Campbell, pioneer Matador resident.

The marker originally honors Henry H. Campbell, the first judge of Motley County, as a veteran of the Confederacy. It will be the only marker of this type erected in the county. The contract for the marker has been let, according to information received by the Tribune from the Texas State Historical Survey Committee. The contract was let by the State Building Commission, composed of Gov. John Connally, Attorney-General Waggoner Carr and Charles S. Coates, chairman of the State Board of Control.

The Confederate Memorial Information Marker for Henry H. Campbell is 18" x 28" in size and will be erected 12 miles west of Matador, Texas, on US Highway 70.

The following information appears on the inscription: "Henry H. Campbell (1853-1911) came from North Carolina to Texas in 1854. In the Civil War he served with the Twentieth Texas Cavalry Regiment. In 1878 he moved to a buffalo hunter's dugout 10 miles southeast to start the Matador Ranch. He obtained Scottish capital to fence, stock and improve the brand. As superintendent, he ran 100,000 cattle on the 450,000 acre range. He made Scotsmen feel at home with afternoon tea on his ranch.

"He later moved cowboys to Matador to meet the legal requirements for county organization. He was elected the first Motley County judge. His home ranch is located at this site."

The erection of Confederate Memorial Information Markers is part of the Civil War Centennial Commemoration in Texas. The markers are designed to interpret and commemorate the role of prominent Texas Confederates, battles, frontier outposts, coastal fortifications, manufacturing plants, and military supply centers.

This marking program is part of a comprehensive five-year plar of the Texas State Historical Survey Committee to record, appreciate, mark, preserve, and survey Texas history. "RAMPS," as the plan is called, seeks to place 5,000 historical markers over the state in this five-year period. These markers are to be sponsored through joint efforts of the state, counties, cities, civic groups, and individuals.

The Civil War in Texas is a part of the vast program to mark historical sites in Texas from archeological finds to modern industries and statesmen. Since the beginning of the centennial marking program, 509 Texas Confederate Memorial Information Markers have been submitted for erection.

Appraisers And Managers Needed On Modern Farms

COLLEGE STATION — A cattle futures market. Ridiculous, you say? Maybe not, according to Ed Uvacek, Extension livestock marketing specialist at Texas A&M University.

The Chicago Mercantile Exchange has hired a private consulting firm to study the possibility of such a market. Although most segments of the livestock industry feel there is a need for a futures market on livestock, they do not fully understand how it can best be used, says Uvacek.

There are many problems in establishing a livestock future market because of the nature of the product. In live cattle trading, there is difficulty in establishing specifications, carcass beef contracting isn't very appealing to either producers or buyers and boneless beef normally doesn't have the price variation needed for attractive speculation.

Early investigations show that live cattle contracts, combining the best solution.

Another problem with establishing a futures market is the large amount of educational work that must be done to insure a full understanding of the program by cattlemen.

However, eventually the difficulties will be worked out and the thing that couldn't work, a futures market on live cattle and beef, will be a reality, says Uvacek.

Food spending by consumers in the first half of 1964 topped that of a year earlier by about 4 percent, the U. S. Department of Agriculture has just announced. Substantial income gains, population growth, increased per capita food consumption, and slightly higher retail food prices contributed to the spending increase. Considerable gains were recorded in sales in away-from-home eating places. Food spending is expected to continue about 4 percent above last year. Consumers, at this rate, would spend about 18½ percent of their disposable income for food this year. Per capita food consumption in 1964 should rise about 1 percent, the largest increase in five years.

George Bush To Kick-Off TV Campaign Thursday

U. S. Senate Candidate George Bush will officially kick-off his senate campaign with a rally and state-wide telecast live from the Music Hall in Houston at 8:30 p. m., Thursday (Sept. 17).

Bush, 40, a Houston oil businessman, commented:

"This will be the kick-off to the most aggressive, far-reaching campaign the voters of the State of Texas have ever seen. I pledge all my efforts to a hard-working campaign because I believe the voters of Texas deserve to know they have a responsible conservative that opposes the left-wing policies of radical Ralph Yarborough.

"It will be a hard-fought campaign because it is difficult to unseat a man already in office, but I believe the people want a U. S. Senator who thinks and votes like a Texan. And I pledge to give my best to give Texans this voice."

His campaign officially begins on Thursday, but Mr. Bush has already hit a hot campaign trail. Since the primary run-off June 6 he has visited most sections of the state. From Sept. 3-11, Bush campaigned in a "Bandwagon for Bush," hitting about 40 cities and towns throughout Central and North Texas and the South Plains. With him then was his wife, Barbara, and son, George, "Bush Bluebonnet Belles," and a country music band called "The Black Mountain Boys."

The telecast may be seen over KCBD-TV, Lubbock, Channel 11 from 8:30 until 9:00 p.m., Thursday, September 17.

Social Security Representative Here Monday

Whether you've decided to retire or not, you should visit the social security office three months before you reach retirement age. The social security representative can help you in many ways. For one thing he can find out how much your retirement payments will be when you're ready for them. Though he won't give you advice as to when to retire, he can give you valuable information to help you decide for yourself.

If you've decided to retire, he'll help you in claiming retirement benefits for yourself and members of your family who might get benefits on your record. He'll help you get whatever proofs are needed to go with your claim. For example, you'll probably need proof of your age. He can tell you whether any of the documents you now have will do for proof of age.

You should check with your social security office even if you plan to keep working. You don't have to quit work entirely to get social security. Many people think they do, and are losing social security payments. Some of them depend on neighbors and friends for advice. Often this kind of advice is wrong, and when it's wrong, it's usually expensive.

A representative of the Lubbock Social Security Office will be in Floydada on Monday, Sept 21 in the Courthouse, Room 106 at 9:30 a.m.

Stapleton Gets Band Scholarship

CISCO, Sept. 16 (Spl.) — A tuition scholarship has been awarded to John Stapleton Jr. of Floydada by Cisco Junior College for participating in the Wrangler Band Program for the 1964-65 school year.

Stapleton will be one of some 25 students in the band that will stage special half-time shows and provide music for Wrangler football games and other college events during the coming year.

Director of the band is Earl Hesse, now in his second year, who is a graduate of H-SU and well known in music circles of this region. He came here from Crowell where he compiled a good record as a high school band director during some four years.

Farm Bureau Facts and Faces

THE STATE RESOLUTIONS Committee of the Texas Farm Bureau will convene in the Rice Hotel, Houston, Texas, November 4, 1964. It will be their responsibility to process and summarize the hundreds of recommendations that will be received from County Farm Bureau. Robert Lee Smith, J. R. Turner, and Hollis McLain make up the Resolutions Committee for Floyd County. Tentative plans are to send questionnaires to each Farm Bureau Member in order to learn the preferences of each member. The resolutions will be compiled from these recommendations and presented at the County Convention, October 10.

THE AMERICAN LEGION Hall in Lockney will be the site for the Barbeque at 6:30 p.m. October 10. About five door prizes will be given this year. Resolutions may be introduced from the floor in addition to those presented by the committee. New directors will be elected and the Seminar Students, Janet Holmes and Olin Degge, will speak to the group.

MANY FARM BUREAU members have been helping prepare for the Floyd County Fair as it gets underway at Lockney this week. This is a good time to meet the neighbors and see what others in the county are doing.

HELP! Two young people members of Floyd County FB, ages 17-30, interested in thinking and talking about "WHAT ARE THE KEYS TO OUR FARMING FUTURE", are needed to represent Floyd County in October at the District Discussion Meet. Young Farmers, this is an opportunity for you to exchange ideas with others in this area concerning problems with which you are familiar. Contact Mrs. A. C. Pratt, Floydada or Marvin Wells if you are interested. Marvis participated in a demonstration meet at a District Board Meeting and can tell you how easy it is. It is not a debate, but a discussion!

...ber 16, the long-term study of over-wintering habits of the sorghum midge was put into effect at the Foundation. The object of the study, according to Langford, was to find conditions which the midge over-wintered so that the habitat for winter survival could be destroyed by sorghum farmers.

It has been thought in the past that the High Plains weather conditions were too cold and dry for over-wintering; for an infestation to occur, the midge would have to migrate each spring from the South and Southeast. Through the laboratory procedures at the Foundation, it has proven over-wintering does occur in the fields. Under what specific conditions and where over-wintering occurred was not known prior to the study.

At the beginning of a test, beginning in November, sorghum heads containing midge were subjected to different conditions. Heads were buried at 2, 4, 6, 8 and 10 inches depths in the soil. This put the heads at various levels to correlate with various residue management practices.

Another group of heads were placed in the refrigerator at 20 degrees and 30 degreesF. for a test of cold tolerance.

The check plot was a field of grain sorghum planted July 15, and was left standing in the field without shredding or tilling until February.

Samples of Sorghum florets containing the midge were placed in culture plates and held at a constant temperature. Purpose of the culture plate was to increase the humidity which keeps the larvae moist without which the larvae would die. The midge were activated and emerged even in total darkness.

Length of time required for emergence varied, depending on the number of days after dormancy occurred. The longer the dormancy period the shorter the time required for emergence. This shows that a time factor is involved as to when the larvae are activated under natural conditions.

Adult midge emerged from heads taken from the field on December 10. On February 1, heads which were stored at 20 degrees F produced adult midge in two weeks under controlled conditions.

Tests started March 4, required 12 days to hatch midge from culture plates and held at a constant 33 degrees F and 18 days at 20 degrees F. However, at this date, no midge hatched from heads left unprotected in the field.

Samples buried were checked for the first time April 9. Adult midge emerged in 13 days from heads buried 2 to 10 inches deep. On the same date the check field was sampled and again no midge emerged.

A similar test was started May 28. By June 2, approximately 404 midge had emerged from samples of grain sorghum heads buried at 2 and 3 inch levels.

Again, no midge emerged from sorghum heads left in the field exposed to natural conditions and checked on June 2.

Since the time required for emergence had decreased to only 6 days under controlled conditions, sorghum heads were checked in the greenhouse under natural conditions. Only 5 days were required for hatching. By June 2, over-wintering midge emerged over night from head which had been buried at 2, 4, 6, 8, and 10 inches in the soil. The adult midge were continuing to emerge from these heads by July 13.

Throughout the winter and spring, no midge emergence occurred from infested grain sorghum heads which were left standing in the field exposed to the elements. But in every test, midge emerged from sorghum heads buried at different depths in the soil. The soil served as protection from adverse conditions allowing the larvae to over-winter and emerge in the spring.

Since discovery (in 1961) of the midge on the High Plains, entomologists have recommended plowing under or destroying all refuse where grain sorghum is threshed. This was to be done before the midge emerged in the spring.

It appears from the Foundation's replicated tests that the turning under of sorghum residue furnishes the midge ideal conditions for over-wintering. Thus, farmers are raising their own crop of midge for the coming year.

Over-wintering can be inhibited by leaving sorghum residue on top of the soil until February. This exposes the tiny larvae to fluxuating temperatures, and dry winds. The larvae actually dry up and die.

Research has shown that the ideal way to control the over-wintering of the sorghum midge is to shred the stalks. Use a tillage tool to sever the roots of the plant. This leaves the residue as surface mulch. If a farmer feels that he cannot follow these recommendations and must use a tandem disk, he should be aware that he will not receive full benefit of this control practice.

Disking or plowing in any method will cover the midge with enough protection to allow over-wintering.

Langford recommends that the mulch be left in the field until February for the best results for control as shown in Table 1. After this date, it is recommended that the farmer prepare his land for the following crop.

Donnie Ray Woolsey, three year old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Woolsey was the victim of an unusual gunshot accident Wednesday at the Woolsey home, one mile north and east of Floydada. The child was playing in the yard and Mrs. Woolsey was inside the house when she heard him scream. She ran out and found blood on the baby's arm and side. After reaching the hospital in Floydada it was discovered the child had been hit with a 22 calibre bullet which passed through his arm and entered the child's side. It is believed that someone was hunting birds or rabbits in a nearly pasture and fierd in the direction of the house, the stray bullet striking the child. Doctors said the wound is quite painful but not believed to be serious as the bullet passed between the bones of the left arm.

Whirlwinds Down Canyon, 9-7 To Win First Game In Buffalo Bowl

McNeil's Toe Was Accurate In Final 10 Seconds of Game

by GORDON HAMBRIGHT

The Whirlwinds kept up their usual team spirit and determination to down the Canyon Eagles in a thrilling finish. This was the first game credited to the locals as a win in the Buffalo stadium. It is a great credit to the local team coming from behind in the last ten seconds of the game to beat the AAA Eagles. The Winds' defense could not be discouraged except on one occasion and that was after an interception that went to the four yard line, giving Canyon a first and goal from that point. Dennis Haley, playing for the Eagles, a hundred eighty pound half back, broke through for Canyon's only TD.

The rugged defense of the Winds held the Eagles at four different occasions within the locals fifteen yard line. This exhibits the fine coaching and the hard training the boys have received, and also the determination of the entire team. Again Floydada was out weighed, which at times makes a great difference but it did not phase the "Mighty Whirlwinds".

In the first quarter of play, it was a seesaw battle between the two clubs as neither seemed to get plays going in their favor. The only large gain occurred on the first play when the Eagles had possession of the ball and Quarterback Lair threw a twenty yard pass to Randy Buttrill.

The Winds made one drive which went to the thirty two yard line. Then there were two passes, one to Bearden and the other pass attempt to Mac Willson. The 'Winds lost the ball on a fumble on the thirty two yard line.

Teague punted thirty yards to begin the second quarter. On third down, Tommy Sanford skampered on a twenty eight yard gain. Haley picked up eleven more yards to put the Canyon Eagles on the thirteen yard line.

Here the "Mighty Winds" put up a brick wall only allowing a two yard gain on first down. Teague came in to take out Haley for no gain. On third down, Lutrick cracked the Canyon line to drop Lair for a five yard loss. Canyon attempted a pass which was blocked by Teague to give Floydada possession.

Nine yards was picked up by Watts and Marler, but on third down, Killingsworth intercepted a pass which put the Eagles on the Winds' four yard line. Halfback Haley broke into the scoring column when he went in for the TD from two yards out, with 3:42 remaining in the second quarter. Colling kicked the extra point to put Canyon out in front 7-0.

Marler took the pigskin on the eight and returned it to the thirty yard line. Teague picked up fifteen yards around end, but then Floydada was thrown for a couple of losses.

Using an added advantage for our squad, the wind, Teague booted a booming punt to the Canyon five yard line, a fifty yard kick. Time ran out before Canyon could move the ball. At the half time the score board showed Canyon 7, Floydada 0.

The Floydada Whirlwinds came back in the third quarter with renewed fight to prove they are the "Mighty Winds." After the kick off, the favored Eagles lost the ball on a fumble. The Whirlwinds recovered the pigskin with Potts coming into the Canyon backfield.

Teague passed to Bearden for six yards, Marler was then able to pick up first down. Later, on third down with six to go, Quarterback Teague's quick thinking enabled him to reverse his field run to the naked side and rack up, for his team mates, a TD from eighteen yards out. An attempted kick for extra point was blocked.

Remaining time in the third quarter was 8:46.

The Canyon Eagles, after receiving the kick-off put on a drive. Haley came through with a fifteen yard run, then Lair passed to Sanford for thirty nine yards, and he appeared to have a TD cinched, but tripped on the six yard line.

Again the Winds defense line could not be broken through. In four downs, Canyon lost 6 yards. They picked up four yards on first down then lost ten yards on the remaining three downs. End of the third quarter, the score read Canyon-7, Floydada-6.

The Eagles' fast backs could not battle their way through the "Mighty Winds" defense.

The ball went over to the Whirlwinds on downs at the twenty four yard line. Teague, on second down, stepped back to pass, trying to hit Marler, but Kerbel intercepted, carrying it back to the Winds twenty four. A fifteen yard penalty was walked off against the Winds, putting the ball on the eleven yard line. The Winds again held the Eagles by throwing them back to the fifteen yard line.

At this position the Winds took over. Several plays later, Teague's pass was intercepted by the Eagles.

Canyon picked up a first down placing the ball on the fifteen yard line. The Eagles could not break through to pick up enough yardage for another first, however, and the Floydada team took possession on the twenty five yard line on a fumble from Canyon.

The clock showed forty five seconds remaining in the game. Teague went to the air, passing to Watts for a twenty yard gain. Watts then picked up four on the ground on a draw play, hoping to catch the Eagles off guard. Quarterback Teague dropped back and heaved a long pass to Watts for a gain of forty one yards. Teague then carried around end for a five yard gain to put the ball on the Canyon five. With only ten tense seconds remaining, the sure toe of James McNeill proved to be accurate put the pigskin through the uprights for a field goal, adding three points for his team and putting Floydada out in front 9-7. Only four seconds remained in the game. McNeill's kick was an on side kick that was covered by Canyon on the forty three yard line. In the last play, Canyon fumbled, Floydada recovered, putting the final touches on a well played clash between two fine ball clubs.

FROM THE SPORTS DESK

by JEDD BLESSING

A goal post has been termed a couple of uprights a foot too close together, with a cross-bar inches too high. A place kick is a kick that goes any old place. However, when the goal posts are 25-30 yards away and the football is propelled by the accurate toe of James McNeill with 10 seconds left to play in the game, and Floydada is one point behind, then the uprights are just wide enough and the cross-bar is plenty low.

An Amarillo sports writer was overheard to say Friday night, "They sure live up to their name. Did you ever see such a WHIRLWIND finish?"

We have all seen exciting games in which the tide of the game was reversed in the last few seconds, however, it's doubtful that many have seen high school teams move the ball 70 yards in four plays and win a game on a field goal all in less than 45 seconds.

The Floydada ball club beat Post mainly because Post was out of shape, and the locals were, therefore, able to get the upper hand around halftime. But Friday night, the Eagles were not out of shape, and they were a sharp ball club. The Whirdwinds merely played at about 150 percent efficiency to down the AAA Canyon team.

Coach Curry said the Whirlwinds played a much better game against Canyon than they did against Post. "We just had more people doing the right thing at the right time", he said.

It was hard on the local fans Friday night to see Mac Willson carried off the field on a stretcher, but not near as hard as it was on Mac, who is suffering from a torn cartilage (membrane connecting bones) in his knee. Mac will be out at least six weeks, and perhaps will be out of athletics for much longer, depending on the extent of injury.

The locals host Ralls this Friday night at Wester Field. The class A team always gives the Whirlwinds a good fight and never allows the locals to drop their guard. All sports fans are urged to go out and support the Whirlwinds who are now boasting a 2-0 won-loss record for the year.

It's interesting to note that the locals have won their two games this year by a total of three points.

CRYSTAL BALL QB

The Hesperian Football Contest proved to be a little more difficult this week than the one was before. There were four ties, which can be indicated in the contest by merely circling both teams or writing "tie" in the football, and at least three upsets. Twenty new players filled out the page and turned it in to the Hesperian.

The winner of the contest, Vernie Moore, missed eight of the games and this quarterback missed eleven.

The ones most frequently missed were: of course, the four ties; Dimmitt and Hale Center, Seminole and Levelland, Albuquerque Valley and Clovis, and Happy and Turkey; Seagraves and Springlake, Muleshoe and Morton, and Andrews and Snyder. No one predicted that Morton would defeat Muleshoe. That is one of those things that just isn't supposed to happen.

There are a few college teams on the page this week which should make the game even more difficult, for no one can tell how the teams will make out yet. There is nothing by which to measure the teams.

Lockney Longhorns Top Kress Kangaroos 27-0 Friday Night

The Longhorns from Lockney, playing on home ground, got wound up after the first drive of the game, put on by Kress, was stopped and went on to shut out the Kangeroos 27-0 before a capacity crowd.

The first time Lockney had the ball, they received a 15-yard penalty that looked as though it would stymie the first would-be drive of the game. However, Galloway connected with a 38-yard pass play to end Paul Barker to keep the drive alive.

After a few short plunges netted short yardage, the Horns found themselves on the Kress four, and from that point, Galloway faked a handoff up the middle, then sneaked into the end zone to put Lockney out in front early in the game. Galloway's kick for the extra point was good, and Lockney led the visitors 7-0.

Kress received the kickoff and drove eight yards in three attempts to set up a fourth-and-two situation. On a gamble, Lockridge, of Kress, plunged for the first, with inches to spare and the Kangeroos were on the move.

However, the Longhorns would not yield another first down on that drive, so the Kangeroos kicked.

After Lockney picked up a couple of first downs, the Kangeroos refused to give up any more territory and held the offensive dive forcing Galloway to punt.

The Kangeroos cranked up a good offensive drive with Larry Fields, 155 pound junior quarterback, leading the attack. With determined blocking and hard running, the Kangeroos moved for a first down.

In the next twelve plays, the Kangeroos moved the ball almost the length of the field, but on the thirteenth, Lockridge fumbled just as he turned the corner, five yards from the goal line, and Galloway of Lockney covered the elusive pigskin.

From that point the Longhorns moved the ninety-five yards between them and pay dirt in twenty plays. Galloway added the extra point and the Horns were leading the visitors 14-0 at halftime.

After the intermission, Kress put on a devastating air attack but to no avail against the alert Lockney crew.

Lockney received the kick-off after halftime, for the first time of the evening and immediately put forth a more determined effort than they had done before to lengthen their lead.

In eight plays, Lockney moved to the Kangeoos goal line, only to have Galloway fumble. The ball rolled into the end zone and an alert Kangeroo fell on the ball for a touchback.

From their own twenty, the Kangeroos moved upfield and reached scoring position a few plays later. On a touchdown attempt, Fields passed to end Bradley Burk in the end zone who reached out, and took the ball, only to have Roger Dorman of Lockney knock it out of his hands.

The ball went over to Lockney, but the Kangeroos failed to give up any ground and Lockney kicked.

Four plays later, after two passes fell incomplete, and a running play lost three for the visitors, Kress punted.

It took the Longhorns twelve plays to move the ball into scoring position, only to have a fourth and eight scoring attempt fail. However, the Longhorns regained the ball on an interception by Eugene Mathis.

Four plays later, Neil Mitchell broke through and scored on a thirteen yard scamper and Galloway added the extra point. This gave the Longhorns a 21-0 lead.

A few plays later the Longhorns blocked a Kress punt to regain possession of the ball. Galloway mixed his plays well, switching from short passes, to plunges, to end sweeps to put together a sustained drive that was climaxed by an eleven yard run by Dorman. Galloway's conversion attempt was blocked so the score remained 27-0 Lockney.

With 18 seconds remaining in the game, after an alert pass defense had halted Kress, Longhorn Bobby Webster, was dropped on the one after a fifteen yard run. The Kangeroos held for the six seconds remaining and the game ended with the scoreboard reading, Lockney 27, Kress-0.

Tomorrow night Kress hosts a powerful Idalou team, and Lockney tests its strength against defending state class A champions, Petersburg at Petersburg.

B Team Downs Post 6-0 Here

Though thoroughly unorganized at first, the Floydada B football team managed to contain the visitors from Post, finally gather momentum and cross the goal line once to down the Post team 6-0 here last Thursday night.

According to Nick Greer, one of the team's coaches, it was definitely a defensive ball game, with no one outstanding player being named. "It was just a team effort", Greer said.

1965 Chevrolet Trucks On Display At Odens'

To meet the increasingly specialized needs of its customers Chevrolet has expanded its 1965 truck line to 327 models, 131 more than in 1964 and the largest number in hostory.

"For the past several years, there has been a growing trend toward assembly line customizing of trucks," James E. Conlan, Chevrolet's assistant general sales manager for truck and fleet sales, said in announcing the new line. "The expanding and changing economy and the rising pressure of costs has created a demand for the most efficient possible truck tailored for specific load requirements and operating conditions.

"The number of different engines, transmissions, wheelbases, axles, springs and other components has grown steadily, along with the introduction of whole new chassis and body designs to give the customer the best possible combination of performance, load carrying ability, and economy for his particular operation.

"For example, ten years ago we offered two basic engines, four transmissions, six rear axles, 11 wheelbases, and 127 standard options. In 1965 we will list 13 basic engines, 26 transmissions, 28 axles, 24 wheelbases and more than a thousand standard options."

Largest expansion of the 1965 Chevrolet line is in the steadily developing diesel field. The new diesel lineup will include 148 models, an increase of 126 from last year, and extend down into the 1½-ton class for the first time.

To keep pace with the trend toward diesel power in city pick-up and delivery service, the division will offer a medium duty model with an economical in-line 3-cylinder, two cycle 159 cu. in. engine developing 94 hp. It is especially well adapted to stop-and-go operations with high idling time because of its exceptional fuel economy.

Also new to Chevrolet are three four-cycle, V6 diesel engines, named the Torq-Flow line. One is 351 cu. in. displacement and develops 130 hp. The others are 478 cu. in. displacement with ratings of 150 and 170 hp.

The engines are proved power plants offering the fuel economy and low maintenance of a diesel, but with only a moderate weight and cost differential. Because of their short-stroke design, piston speeds are reduced and friction power loss is low. Short, high-swirl inlet manifold passages, short exhaust manifolds, and a high pressure fuel injection sys-

In line with the trend toward a higher ratio of load space to overtem contribute to high efficiency. all truck length and better maneuverability in metropolitan traffic, Chevrolet has more than tripled the number of tilt-cab models for 1965 to a total of 71, of which 47 are diesels. Low-cab-forward models also are increased —to a total of 52, with 31 of them diesel powered.

To meet customers' need for metropolitan delivery trucks with greater load capacity, Chevrolet is introducing two new forward control chassis. Available in 157 and 175 inch wheelbases, they will accommodate large van bodies for hauling bulky and heavy cargoes and are poweerd by a 140 hp. six cylinder engine with a 170 hp. six optional.

For the important economy truck market, Chevrolet will concentrate on the successful Chevy-Van, introduced early in 1964. New for 1965 in the Chevy-Van is an optional 140 hp. six-cylinder engine of 230 cu. in. displacement which replaces the 120 hp. six formerly offered as an option. The four-cylinder 95 hp. engine remains standard. The Corvair 95 commercial line has been discontinued. Also new this year is a much wider choice of Chevy-Van window options. Customers now may specify six different combinations for body windows ranging up to a total of ten windows all around the vehicle.

Along with the expansion of models and equipment options, Chevrolet has added many improvements and refinements throughout the truck line. New synthetic rubber front wheel bearing seals provide greater protection against moisture and contaminants and together with improved steering knuckle finish, make possible extension of the lubrication interval to 6000 miles across the entire 1965 line.

Other improvements include self-adjusting brakes on one-ton models, heavy duty chassis wiring on light-duty forward control Step-Van and chassis models, and important revisions in front spring hanger and rubber bushing design for longer life and easier steering in medium and heavy-duty series.

Of particular interest to buyers of trucks for camper body use are a new more favorable optional 4.57 axle ratio and new front stabilizar equipment for improved performance and handling.

FAIR CARAVAN — This group pictured above left Floydada last week to make a swing through the southern and eastern parts of the county, and into other counties to publicize the Floyd County Fair which gets underway today at Lockney. A similar caravan left Lockney a day or two later on the same mission in the northern and western trade areas. (Staff Photo)

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

I noticed in the last issue of your paper you mentioned how you tried to be fair and impartial in printing articles about each political party prior to the coming election. That, I agree, is as it should be — but, I notice that you have not used the same principle in the much discussed, controversial school-tax issue. I have also noticed that the majority of the people do not even know what the issue is about and the means by which it could be settled — and it could be settled. Couldn't land values be lowered and the percentage raised with still the same results? Why doesn't the school board even consider this? Or is it their intention to start raising the percentage each year until it is from 47 percent to 100 percent. What taxes would people be paying then? Isn't it easier to raise land values than to lower them?

I suggest it would be a good, worthy project of this community newspaper to bring the facts to the people—all I have read have been one sided. No one denies the fact that we need a new school, for I have a child in the over crowded grade school, but $800,000 to me is a lot of money to go into debt for. Would you buy a $30,000 house when you could only afford a $15,000 house? Why must it cost this much? Is the school board the only one to say what kind of schools we should have? This comes under big business — spending our money to educate our children. Is it being spent properly? Our teachers are equal to any in the state and their methods very satisfactory. Credit should be given in this respect. But what about the building done in the past 10 or 15 years? Was the Junior High Gym properly built? Was the Senior High School properly built? Repairs on it have been done and isn't it overcrowded and insufficient? What is the present debt on it? Has any principal been paid? What are the outstanding debts in our school district? Are there any boads which haven't been paid? Has $4,000 been wasted on the printing of proposed bonds which are now invalid and can no longer be used? Must we sacrifice thrift for progress? Why should the people be kept in the dark about this? Aren't we entitled to know what is going on? Can people understand, discuss wisely and reach an honest agreement if these facts are left covered up?

As your Guest Editorial said — honesty should come natural with people—and that should mean being honest in informing the people they serve in all forms of public duties as well as private enterprise. Floydada business, and the people as well, are being hurt by this issue. As our county newspaper editor, what can you do to help solve this problem? Or do you think it is worth solving? An informed community is an intelligent community. Don't you think so?

Sincerely,
Mrs. Charles Hamilton

P.S. I have never found anyone who knows why the Grade School has a candy machine available for the children to spend their lunch money on. Maybe you could enlighten us on this problem also?

Editor's Note: You have made some pretty serious charges Mrs. Hamilton, and I'll do the best I can to answer them in the order you've made them. First, I want to say that I appreciate your letter . . . and your interest in our school system. Because you like myself have children in school, you can afford to be concerned about our problems.

1. In regard to the high property valuations: We stated in several editions of the Hesperian last year quotes from the school board and the bonding attorneys that the bonds for new school buildings and improvements could not be sold on the low evaluations of 1962 . . . so property valuations were raised.

2. As to what percentage the school board will set on property evaluations in the future I cannot say. True, they have the power to increase or decrease these percntages. If you fear they will raise it to 100 percent, you should be electing a new board. However, it is evident that the majority of people have faith in this school board as they continue to re-elect them.

3. As to the $800,000 cost of the school and improvements, we have only the architect's estimate of 1963. It is possible that the longer the building project is delayed that it will be higher than this . . . building costs aren't going down.

4. I agree with you that we have good teachers.

5. Beginning in the 5, 1963 issue of The several articles de school district wa the $800,000 bonds just a grade schoo

Veterans Ask

Q—I have a policy loan on my World War II life insurance policy. Can payments on this loan be made in any amount, or are there restrictions?

A—The only restriction is that the payment be at least five dollars. Any payment of five dollars or more is acceptable.

Q—I have been receiving $75 compensation because of my son's death in service. Has this rate been increased lately?

A—A new law provides graduated rates to parents, depending upon other income which must be estimated and reported each year. Rates have been increased about 10 percent.

Q—Will the VA let me know who is listed as beneficiary on my government life insurance?

A—Yes, the VA will give you that information upon request. However, if you are not sure who the beneficiaries are, it is preferable to make a new designation the way you want it now. This will cancel all previous designations.

Letter

science classrooms, a long detail of repairs and several departments of equipment.

6. From the looks of the cracks in the High School I would say that the construction was poor. Architects tell us that the basic structure of the Junior High school building is excellent . . . and that money spent in repairing it would be well spent. True, Junior High like the grade school is overcrowded. A new grade school would include grades through the six grades (which are now in Junior High) and relieve that crowded situation.

7. In 1963 we published a detailed budget and school operation budget . . . outlining the school's operation . . . it's indebtedness. On the front page we urged the school's tax payers to attend a budget hearing for a full explanation of the school's operation. How many attended? . . . the entire sum of no one. This year we urged our people to attend a budget hearing of the 1964 budget . . again no one attended.

8. The outstanding debts on our school system are as follows:

Indebtedness on Junior High and Andrews Ward ..... $220,000 (Most of this is for additions to both buildings)

Indebtedness on High School $532,500.

Paving Bonded indebtedness ... $33,000.

Della Plains School Debt ..... $121,000.

There is also an assumed indebtedness of $1,750 from the Sand Hill school consolidation.

9. Since I have three children who eat in that fire trap of a cafeteria each day. . . I am certainly concerned about the school's problems. I have four reasons for wanting good schools and for editorializing in their favor the last year of tax hassels, etc . . . They are: Wendelyn, in Junior High; Karla, Brad and Keith in the grade school.

10. In the meantime . . . while the suits continue against the school board, tax assessor-collector, board of equalization . . . the community is being hurt . . . but your children and my children are the victims of the circumstances of same.

11. In your comparison of buying a $30,000 house when you can afford a $15,000 house, I believe it is evident that this school district can afford a new school building, cafeteria, etc., as outlined in the bond issue.

12. No $4,000 has been spent for printing of the bonds which can't be sold as long as there is a suit against the school officials. I believe there is an extreme waste in temporary classrooms that have been built to house the increasing enrollment . . . but where are you going to put these children if you can't sell bonds for a permanent type building?

13. I talked to the principal and superintendent about the candy machines. The profits of the machines go to the candy company and to the operation of the schools. The machines are locked up until after lunch each day. Some parents prefer that their children buy candy on the school grounds instead of downtown. Some parents don't want their children to buy candy and don't give them any money to do so.

Again, let me say that I appreciate your letter . . . and your interest in our schools. When more of our people become concerned perhaps the problems can be settled.
