

Absentee Voting For General Election Underway

Over 3,400 Eligible Voters In County

While the 1964 General Election is still almost two weeks away those persons who will be out of this county during that time may vote by absentee ballot some time between now and October 30, according to Margaret Collier, Floyd County Clerk.

Something has been added to this year's election, never seen before in an election in the state of Texas. There will be people voting for candidates seeking county, state, and national offices, and there will be people voting only for those seeking national offices.

ABSENTEE BALLOTS

According to Margaret Collier, there have been a total of 75 applications received by her office requesting ballots and about 30 have been received in the County Clerk's office. From this and other indications, November 3 should show one of the largest turnouts of voters in the county and in the nation.

Although the U. S. Congress ruled last year that poll taxes were not required for voting on candidates running for Federal offices, the voters in Texas overruled an amendment to the state constitution that would eliminate the poll taxes in all elections.

Therefore, poll tax receipts or exemption receipts will be required for voting in local and state offices in the general election. Two exceptions will be those just turned 21 getting to vote for the first time and those over 65 who are also getting a free vote. A receipt must be presented by those who are 21, but no receipt is required to be produced at the polls by those who are over 65 (in towns of less than 10,000).

3,459 Eligible Voters

According to records in the Tax Assessor-Collector's office there were 3,227 poll taxes paid this year. 56 exemption receipts given to those who are getting "free" vote for having turned 21 since January 1, and a total of 37 who purchased the Poll Tax Exemption Certificate.

All these make a total of 3,459 eligible voters in Floyd County for the year 1964.

There will be only one type ballot printed. When a person passes through the line at the polls and shows his Poll Tax Exemption Certificate, the election judge will in turn mark through all candidates listed on the ballot except those vying for Federal offices.

There are five Federal offices listed on the ballot. They are President of the U. S., Vice-President, Senator, Congressman-At-Large, and Congressman (representative).

Split Tickets

In spite of what several people are told, a person can split his ticket in the General Election. That is he can vote for candidates in the Republican party and candidates in the Democratic party.

In the past it has been believed by a number of people that if a person voted in the Democratic Primary, he had to vote for all Democratic candidates in the General Election. This is false. No matter which Primary a person votes in, he can vote for whoever he desires in the General Election, as long as that person for whom he votes, is an eligible candidate.

U. S. Mourns Hoover's Death

The American flag will be flown at half mast the next thirty days in mourning for the Nation's 31st President who died Tuesday, Herbert Clark Hoover.

The late President was the son of a blacksmith who rose to serve his nation as president and the world as one of the great humanitarians.

He died at the age of 90, in New York. He was in a deep coma . . . a merciful sleep that shielded him from any final agony. A massive internal hemorrhage occurring last Saturday began his final illness.

Local School Has Troubles, But, Look At Cone's Delima

The local school board and school district has had, and is having, its share of trouble in constructing a new building and improving the old buildings, but these problems don't quite mount as high as Cone's school problem.

It seems that not long ago the State Department of Education, Accredited Division told the Cone school board that several improvements had to be made in the Cone System, or the school would have to be closed.

The school board went to work immediately, set an estimate at what it would take to bring the school building and courses up to the State's standards. Bonds were prepared and are ready for sale. A date for the vote by the residents in the school district was set.

Last Saturday those voters went to the polls to decide whether the school would be improved, or closed and the district consolidated with another district.

After the votes were counted, the school board didn't know any more than it did before it started, for the vote came out a tie, 26-26.

When asked what the next action would be by a Hesperian reporter, Harvel Riley, principal of the school, said, "There is nothing definite, yet. It is possible we'll set another voting date and try that route again. If it fails, the school will have to close and the district will consolidate with another school."

In case of consolidation, the children would be sent to Ralls, Floydada, or possibly some of them to Petersburg. Or the district could be split sending students to each of these schools.

There is just one thing wrong with this idea . . . the voters in Ralls, a school feeling growing pains as is Floydada, just turned down a $500,000 school bond in an election last Saturday. And the problems that Floydada is having getting any new schools needs no explanation.

Riley mentioned that he would like to keep the school, for he likes children and he loves teaching school. He said that he had other opportunities to go to other schools, but he liked that particular school and he is there by choice.

The fate of the Cone school, as with several other rural schools, will be decided in the near future, perhaps by vote of the people, and perhaps merely by a decision of the school board.

BLACK AND LACKEY CHAIRMEN

Salvation Army Fund Drive Kickoff Dinner Held Here

The annual Floydada Salvation Army fund drive got underway Tuesday with a noon luncheon at the Colonial House with about sixty workers in attendance. Gil Muddell, a Salvation Army representative from Amarillo was in charge of the program and he was introduced by John Reue, chairman of the local Salvation Army Service Unit.

Jim Lackey and Bill Black were introduced as the chairman and rural chairman of the drive respectively. Both are employees of the Floydada branch of the Production Credit Association. In Muddell's speech he expressed his thanks to the group for efforts in the past that had driven each year's quota beyond the limit set by the Army.

He also brought to mind the numerous services rendered by the Salvation Army. Some of these include: Youth Centers, Boys Camp, Services to Inmates, Aid to Unwed Mothers, Disaster Work, Street Services, and others. The goal for Floydada this year is $2,500. The local campaign was divided into four parts—employee, school, business, rural. The business drive was to have been completed by Wednesday afternoon.

The retail merchants council of the Floydada chamber of commerce will put the final touches on their "Christmas Gift Bonanza" set to begin December 4th, at a meeting next week. Tentative plans indicate a giant give-away of gift certificates from Floydada merchants amounting to $500. Bill Hale is chairman of the committee working on the promotion which will allow the shoppers to register in all participating stores, with four big drawings for the valuable gift certificates during the next two weeks after opening day of December 4. Of course Santa Claus will be in town December 4, there'll be a parade, and the Christmas lighting committee headed by David Kirk reports that new Christmas lights will decorate the entrance ways from Lockney, Matador and Ralls Highway. The lights will spell out the word "Noel". The lights on the west side of the courthouse and the manger scene will be up as usual. A five year plan was launched last week which will bring Christmas lights to several blocks coming into the courthouse square. Louis Anderson, chairman of the retail group will announce the time for the final meeting on the Christmas plans next week.

PTA CARNIVAL COMMITTEE . . . above, is making headway for the annual event to be held on Thursday night, October 29. The date was set up from October 30 due to the conflicting date of Floydada Homecoming. The Carnival, sponsored by PTA of Andrews Ward, promises a good evening of fun and frolic for young and old alike. On the committee seated right is Mrs. Roy Teague, general chairman, Mrs. Wayne

Commissioners' Use Of County Equipment Being Questioned

The County Commissioners' use of county owned equipment is being questioned by a local dirt contractor, Coy Murray.

It seems that Murray feels that the Commissioners' allowing individuals to use the county equipment, or machinery, or use of county owned equipment, of the Commissioners' using the machinery and equipment for the benefit of private parties is unlawful and he is seeking a petition to see that it is stopped. On October 12, Murray filed a Petition For An injunction in 110th District Court here against the Commissioners Court and individually against: Judge J. K. Holmes; John Fowler, commissioned of precinct 1; Bob Jarrett, commissioner of precinct 2; Carl Plumlee, commissioner of precinct 3; and Bill McNeill, commissioned of precinct 4.

The injunction states: "Through their officers, agents, servants, employees, attorneys, and other persons acting in concert with them, the defendants have now and have in the past and will continue, unless restrained by an order of this court, unlawfully use and permit use of equipment, machinery, labor and materials owned by Floyd County for purposes other than public use, that is, for private use by and for benefit of individuals other than those authorized by law.

"This conduct is contrary to law and in violation of law but they will continue to do so unless restrained by order of this court; for Plaintiff has no remedy by law.

"Plaintiff wants court to issue injunction restraining defendants and all persons in participation with them from using county owned machinery, equipment, defendant to pay costs of suit and for general and special relief, both in law and equity such as the pleading and proof (See COURT, Page 2)

Steve Craig Wins First In Grid Contest

Steve Craig, son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Craig, waded through a contest page filled with upsets and missed only four of the games to be the winner of the first place prize in last week's contest. A. W. James missed only five of the games to capture second, and W. M. Hambright tied with six others by missing six, but he guessed closest to the actual score of the Floydada-Abernathy game to win third.

Others who missed only six, and the points they guessed were: J. D. Nash, 24; S. E. Sparks, 27; Bennie Edmonds, 28; Jill Stansell, 29; Eugene Beedy, 34; and Mark Estes, 35. Hambright's guess was 31 and the actual total points scored were 32.

Almost everyone missed the Arkansas-Texas, and the Idalou-Petersburg upsets. Several guessed the Oklahoma-Kansas game correctly, however. Bonnie Phillips was the only one guessing the Arkansas-Texas game correctly, but she missed a total of 13 games. Sue Higginbotham predicted that Idalou would beat Petersburg, but she missed 9 games. Court

(Continued from Page 1) show plaintiff is entitled to receive. J. Farris Fish, Matador is attorney for the plaintiff. Tuesday, October 20, the commissioner's court of Floyd County filed an answer to the injunction entitled "Defendants First Original Answer", in which the court and the individuals deny the charges of Murray. The answer states: "The defendants deny every one and all allegations in the plaintiff's petition. "Deny allowing use in past, now or in future of equipment, machinery, labor and material owned by Floyd County for private use by and for benefit of individuals other than those authorized by law. "Defendants pray that the injunction asked by plaintiff be denied and that on hearing the plaintiff take nothing and have no relief by his suit. Kenneth Bain, Jr., County

Attorney of Floyd County, is attorney for the defendants. According to Judge Holmes, the only "private use" of the equipment has been for digging slush pits at the request of individuals. The commissioners feel that the equipment belongs to the taxpayers and it is used for their benefit. When such work is done the individual pays for transporting the machinery, or equipment, and pays for the labor used in running the machinery. No hearing date has been set for the hearing.

During the first quarter Della Plains scored 14 points, Slaton 11; second quarter, Della Plains 18, Slaton 16; third quarter Della Plains 13, Slaton 13 and in the fourth quarter Della Plains leaped ahead with 21 points scored and Slaton 6.

Last Sunday, following morn-

Republican Rally At Lockney

A good crowd of young and adult Republicans attended a rally in the high school auditorium Tuesday night and heard Republican candidates Ralph Nafziger, Joe Phillips and Gore C. Applewhite.

Phillips is seeking the office in Congress now held by George Mahon. Nafziger seeks election to the state legislature and Applewhite is a write-in candidate for Floyd County Judge.

Two young Republicans, Joe Cox and Olen Dege were master of ceremonies. Around 40 members of the Young Republicans club were in attendance.

First speaker was Nafziger, who outlined his life's history and said that he sought the office because he was a concerned citizen for better government. He said he was opposed to government handouts, government controls, Communism, socialism, federalism, and that it was time to do an about face to the increase of the now $309 billion national debt.

"We are on a direct road to socialism and it's time to take a right turn," Nafziger continued.

He said he believed in states rights, right to work law, good education, stricter law enforcement, economy in government, and urged everyone to go to the polls and vote their hearts, not their pocket books.

Applewhite introduced Phillips who said the people of West Texas are worse off than they were ten years ago... income is down, costs up.

He said the Republican stood for peace and prosperity... peace through strength and opportunity for all citizens.

He said his opponent supported giving money to 100 foreign countries, some of which are Communist, some better off financially than West Texas.

He said the economy of the 19th District should come first... and that we need a representative on the agriculture committee in Washington.

He said our oil counties were falling apart, because of too much imported oil. He said this was not true in California which has a two party system.

"Germany has more jobs and opportunity than in West Texas," he continued.

He said that our Congressman voted for the wheat bill to sell wheat to Russia. He said Russia sent some of the wheat to Cuba and it was manufactured into ethyl alcohol.

"Can a country sustain and fight another country at the same time?" he asked. "Let's stop, this aid to foreign countries, especially Communist countries," he added.

Phillips concluded by enumerating his belief in separation of church and state, time to stop trading with the enemy, that he joined with Goldwater in a strong consistent foreign policy.

He said the Republican party is the party of peace. There have been four wars since 1930, all under the Democratic rule, according to Phillips.

In conclusion he said, "we don't want to do away with social security, we want to stop raising the social security tax... we don't want to drop the agricultural program, we're not against REA, but we're for free private enterprise."

Whirlwinds Seek District Win Number 2

The Floydada Whirlwinds, fresh from conference win number 1 will travel to Dimmitt tomorrow night to test the upcoming Bobcats in another district tilt.

Although the Dimmitt team has not won many games, the team is young, and has been built from scratch this year. With each game the team seems to get a little bit better.

The Dimmitt crew earlier in the season fought to a 6-6 deadlock with Hale Center, who lost by only one point to Lockney and beat Olton one point.

Against Friona last Friday night, in a game that ended 28-6, the Dimmitt team, due largely to inexperience, gave Friona one touchdown, and was not as alert as they should have been in letting the Chiefs make another. Friona took the opening kickoff back 78 yards for a touchdown. Another time, Dimmitt had the ball on their own 14 with a fourth and one situation and attempted a pass that fell incomplete. When the half ended, Dimmitt was knocking on the Friona goal line, winding up a sustained drive.

The Dimmitt team has a good passing quarterback, and has a good passing halfback. The team has been compared, by the coaches, with Childress. The team is about the same size as Childress, but the backs are not quite as fast. The Dimmitt quarterback could be compared with Mike Reeves of Childress, although not quite as good.

The Winds will have the services of Bill Potts this week on a full time basis, which they did not have last week. The pass defense of the Winds was improved quite a bit last week, over the previous weeks, although still far from perfection.

This defense should, however, contain the passing game of the Bobcats.

By all ratings, the Winds should come out on top tomorrow night, and look for win number three homecoming night against Olton.

Dr. Carleton In New Position

Dr. Aisie H. Carleton, superintendent of Dallas Northeast District of the Methodist Church, has accepted the position of director of field education at Perkins School of Theology and professor of church administration. Dr. Carleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Carleton, attended Floydada public schools, received a B. A. degree at McMurry College and a B. D. degree from Perkins School of Theology.

He succeeds Dr. Marvin T. Judy who remains at Perkins as director of the newly created program in research and planning and as professor of sociology of religion.

President Willis M. Tate of Southern Methodist University said: "Dean Joseph Quillian of Perkins has been in negotiation with Dr. Carleton for several months, and we are delighted that he decided to join us."

"He is an esteemed alumnus of SMU and Perkins and is a most capable churchman. He will give additional strength to an already outstanding seminary."

Bishop W. Kenneth Pope said: "It is with great expectation that I join with President Tate in the appointment of Dr. Carleton to the faculty of Perkins School of Theology."

"I regret to lose him as District Superintendent of the Dallas Northeast District, but his going to Perkins provides a step toward one of my greatest concerns, the strengthening of the Methodist ministry in this part of the country."

"Dr. Carleton has a great sense of calling and dedication concerning his new work. All of us are to be congratulated — Perkins, The Methodist Church, and its ministry — in this new assignment."

Born at Oglesby, Texas — he holds the doctorate of divinity honorary degree from Texas Wesleyan College, Fort Worth, and has done graduate studies toward a Ph.D. at Boston University and the University of Chicago.

He pastored University Park Methodist Church from 1953 to 1961. He served several other pastorates including Big Spring and Lubbock.

In the two conferences where he resided, he held the presidency of the conference Board of Education, was speaker in the Willson Lectures, a lectureship on college campuses.

HELPFUL HINTS
Take a wooden hanger and screw in six or eight cup hooks, then when taking off belts, just hang them on the cup hooks. The hangers keep your belts handy and straight.

When cooking beans and you burn them, place them in cold water without stirring for 15 minutes. Remove to a clean pan and finish cooking. They will not taste burned.

Cut SOS pads and/or steel wool pads in half with scissors, use and throw away pads eliminating that leftover pad that rusts and falls apart and at the same time sharpens your scissors and saves pennies.

A new bottle of catsup can be made to flow easier if you stick a soda straw into the catsup to let air in.

I save time by saving the foil wrappers off margarine and using them to grease cake pans and cookie sheets.

Haitian workers carry rock on a "bouret" to construct a roadway which connects remote villages in Haiti to a main thoroughfare. The men were paid for their labor in food — some of it beans from CROP.

He has served as dean of the Conference for Youth for eight states. At present he is the state chairman of the Texas Methodist Student Movement executive group.

He served in various official capacities in his denomination, including his designation as a delegate several times to the General Conference of Methodism, and as a representative to the Ecumenical Conference in Oxford, England.

Dr. Carleton is current president of the Texas Methodist Planning Commission, a statewide church administrative planning group.

"Never has the demand been greater for well-trained and dedicated ministers," said Dr. Carleton. "Perkins School of Theology is destined to fill a larger place in the life of the Southwest and I consider it a real challenge to be a part of this."

Dr. Carleton considered this position several weeks, but he had to await the arrival of the new bishop for approval. He began his new duties in September.

Dr. Carleton is married to the former Artha Blair Crutchfield who is a graduate of Southern Methodist University. She holds an M.A. degree from Perkins School of Theology.

The Carletons have three children: Tom, a graduate of Harvard University, now a senior at Southwestern Medical School, Dallas; Jon, who is a senior at Yale University; and Carolyn, a junior in Highland Park High School.

Company Benefits From World's Fair Gas Exhibit

C. L. (Stoney) Wall, president of Pioneer Natural Gas Company, said today that the New York World's Fair has been a major milestone in establishing natural gas as "the energy of the future."

He also announced that Pioneer Natural would take part in the local celebration of Gas Industry Week at the World's Fair, October 12-17.

"Almost without exception," Wall said, "exhibitors at the World's Fair have chosen natural gas to cool and heat their pavilions, and to cook at their restaurants. We expect this overwhelming preference for gas to be extended to our community."

"The Fair is the most progressive place in the entire world," Wall said. "Exhibitors have done everything possible to put their best foot forward and to project their future. We think their selection of gas to cool, heat, and cook is a prediction of future gas and gas appliance sales."

According to Wall, natural gas is used for 80 percent of the Fair's air conditioning, 90 percent of its heating and water heating, and 99 percent of the cooking.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Baker of Vernon announce the arrival of a son, born in Christ King Hospital in Vernon Tuesday, Oct. 20. The baby weighed eight pounds and 13 ounces and has been named Glen Wayne. The mother is the former Linda Kinard.

Grandparents are Mrs. Lavada Kinard of Floydada and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Baker of Vernon.

Eye Injuries Sustained By Bill Price

Bill Price, who is employed at Wylie Butane, was taken to Lubbock yesterday afternoon where doctors will examine his eyes to find out the extent of damage caused from Uran chemical.

Arthur Wylie, owner of the firm where Price was injured, said he would more than likely remain in the hospital at Lubbock for several days.

Price got the chemical in his eyes unloading a tank, Wylie said. He has been receiving treatment by his family doctor until referred to specialists.

only 26 finished. The race is 100 miles long.

Incidentally, Ted doesn't have a Floydada sign on his racer, but it's called "The Whirlwind."

I KNOW how I want to ride... I just wish November 3rd would hurry up and get here.

FOR YEARS news media have been required to print "paid political advertising" at the bottom of advertisements concerning political races. Now we receive an enforcement of Federal Law Section 12 that we must also put the name of the person placing or handling the advertisement for the group.

In fact the law says if we don't do this, we shall be fined not more than $1,000 or imprisoned not more than one year, or both... and Wendell "ain't about to go to jail for either party."

FIVE FLOYD county residents had the good fortune to visit with Lady Bird Johnson last week; Mr. and Mrs. M. J. McNeill, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Frizzell and Mrs. J. H. Barnard.

The Frizzells and McNeills enjoyed a barbecue dinner at noon Sunday on the LBJ ranch, and of course would have visited with the president, but he was calling back to Washington to prepare the Sunday night message to the nation.

Mrs. Barnard saw Lady Bird at Austin as they shared in the observance of the University of Texas Distinguished Alumnus Awards Banquet. The Barnards weren't honored, but their brother-in-law, Charles I. Francis was. Others honored were Walter Cronkite and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Mrs. Barnard has a very interesting story about the trip... a series of consequences... all related to Floydada or Floyd County.

While downtown she met a clerk who said that she had an aunt, Della Dagle, who lived in Lockney, at the reception in the Governor's mansion she talked with a Mr. Millard K. Neptune and mentioned she was from Floydada. He brightened up and said, "let me get my wife over here to talk to you!" His wife was the former Helen Blythe, who taught fourth grade in Floydada in 1934 and 1935.

On the official program was Richard M. Morehead, son of the Moreheads here, who had the honor of presenting the award to Walter Cronkite.

And later in the reception she visited with an old friend from Wichita Falls, Mr. Harry Weak who is now a lawyer in Fort Worth. He mentioned that he was working on a law case for some people in Floyd County! Friday morning Mrs. Bernard saw Mrs. Glad Snodgrass in a restaurant at Mineral Wells.

Hubert and Flora McNeill have a lot of interesting things to tell about the LBJ ranch, the secret service, and Lady Bird... and they also visited with a special guest... and the Johnsons, "Hoss Cartwright". Of course the Governor and a lot of other high state officials were also at the barbecue.

Applause is the spur of noble minds; the end and aim of weak ones.

Spray At Time Of Defoliation Weevil Control

A valuable assist to Boll Weevil Control Program can be given at this time.

Cotton farmers can give the diapause control program a helping hand by using methyl parathion at the time of defoliation or desiccation. Don Rummel, Area Extension Entomologist, explains that when a weevil infested field is defoliated the weevils will move into other fields adding to the already high population pressure. He said there is also the chance weevils already in diapause will move directly from defoliated fields into ground trash for hibernation instead of seeking other fields.

The Extension entomologist recommended insecticide be added to the harvest-aid chemical at the following rates: Methyl parathion—1/2 pound per acre; Guthion 1/4 to 1/3 pound per acre. Rummel said Methyl parathion and Guthion can be mixed with phosphate-type compounds or with arsenic acid. However, he warned against mixing them with borate-Chlorate type chemicals. Such a mixture results in an explosive mixture.

"REMEMBER THE ALAMO" -- the cry that fanned Texas' defeat to victory!

On March 1, 1836, thirty men from Gonzales broke through the lines of Mexican Army Commander Santa Anna to increase the Alamo's defenses to 187. This little band of heroes held the Alamo against overwhelming odds for five more days in one of the most heroic struggles to be found in the annals of man.

On March 6 Santa Anna with over 4,000 troops stormed the Alamo, and the last of the heroic band of Texans died fighting. Names like William Barret Travis, James Bowie, Davy Crockett and James B. Bonham became immortal.

The massacre at the Alamo inspired General Sam Houston's men at the battle of San Jacinto. Crying "Remember the Alamo!", the Texans sprang upon Santa Anna's soldiers and in a swift bloody fight won Texas its freedom.

DR. SPOCK SPEAKS OUT ON GOLDWATER

Dr. Benjamin Spock, whose books on child-rearing are household necessities for millions of American mothers, last week encouraged all parents to reject the candidacy of Senator Goldwater because of the Senator's vote against the limited nuclear test ban treaty.

"I am horrified that a man who can make such wild, irresponsible statements is a serious contender for the presidency of the United States," Dr. Spock said in Cincinnati, Ohio, just prior to Goldwater's visit there.

Pointing out that he had great respect for children's capacity to resist and recover from diseases, Dr. Spock said, however, that "they are helpless against the man-made dangers of the twentieth century. One of these is the danger from radioactive fallout from nuclear tests, which may cause cancer and leukemia in children, and mental or physical abnormalities in the unborn."

Fire prevention has also received some emphasis, and these fifth graders know something about getting rid of "clutter" around a house, the limited types of persons who have any business being at a fire in its early stages, and something of what causes accidents of various kinds.

They are also enthusiastic followers of the newspapers. As might be expected, the grid sport has attracted considerable following. The general consensus seems to be that Jody Southerland is one of the finest backs in the school. No objection has been heard when sports get considerable attention in the phonics work, and to the familiar sports such as baseball, basketball, and football there are added treatments one ice skating and hockey.

Even a few of the fifth grade girls have caught the spirit, and of the half-dozen seen playing together two were from 5-A. Arithmetic seems to be the hardest subject, with spelling presenting the fewest obstacles. All in all, it was a busy but enjoyable first six weeks for 5-A.

"REMEMBER THE ALAMO"

-- the cry that fanned Texas' defeat to victory!

On March 1, 1836, thirty men from Gonzales broke through the lines of Mexican Army Commander Santa Anna to increase the Alamo's defenses to 187. This little band of heroes held the Alamo against overwhelming odds for five more days in one of the most heroic struggles to be found in the annals of man.

On March 6 Santa Anna with over 4,000 troops stormed the Alamo, and the last of the heroic band of Texans died fighting. Names like William Barret Travis, James Bowie, Davy Crockett and James B. Bonham became immortal.

The massacre at the Alamo inspired General Sam Houston's men at the battle of San Jacinto. Crying "Remember the Alamo!", the Texans sprang upon Santa Anna's soldiers and in a swift bloody fight won Texas its freedom.

Spray At Time Of Defoliation Weevil Control

A valuable assist to Boll Weevil Control Program can be given at this time.

Cotton farmers can give the diapause control program a helping hand by using methyl parathion of guthion at the time of defoliation or dessication. Don Rummel, Area Extension Entomologist, explains that when a weevil infested field is defoliated the weevils will move into other fields adding to the already high population pressure. He said there is also the chance weevils already in diapause will move directly from defoliated fields into ground trash for hibernation instead of seeking other fields.

The Extension entomologist recommended insecticide be added to the harvest-aid chemical at the following rates: Methyl parathion—½ pound per acre; Guthion ¼ to 1/3 pound per acre. Rummel said Methyl parathion and Guthion can be mixed with phosphate-type compounds or with arsenic acid. However, he warned against mixing them with borate-Chlorate type chemicals. Such a mixture results in an explosive mixture.

A letter to our Congressman from JOE B. PHILLIPS

The Hon. George Mahon
Congressman, 19th District
1211 New House Office Building
Washington 25, D.C.

Dear Mr. Congressman:

This is another letter to acquaint you with my views concerning issues in this year's Congressional Campaign. Whenever it is convenient, I would be delighted to discuss publicly our opinions in an open forum.

I am unalterably opposed to our government's aiding communistic countries which are openly dedicated to burying us as a nation. Selling wheat to the Russians, was in my opinion, a very serious mistake. By extending credit to the USSR to buy wheat, we have turned our backs on the patriots in Cuba who burned their crops in an effort to bring about a collapse of the communist government in their country.

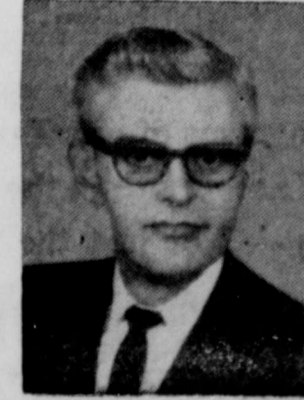

It is my conviction that we must not give any foreign aid to those nations which are communist or communist dominated. In my opinion, we need to develop a realistic foreign policy to serve our interests and those of our allies. We need to help our friends, but we must stop aiding and abetting an enemy dedicated to our destruction.

Very truly yours,
JOE PHILLIPS

FOOD IS A BARGAIN

SAYS INDUSTRY LEADER

Food Is A Real Bargain

Grand Rapids, Mich. (Special) — Every day is a bargain day for Americans when it comes to buying food, says Joseph G. "Joe" Foy, Chairman of a United food industry committee established to bring public attention to the fact that Food Is A Bargain during a two-week celebration October 19-31. Mr. Foy is the son of a retail grocer in Quincy, Massachusetts and now runs a $100,000,000 food distributing company as executive vice president of Spartan Stores, Inc.

Food is a bargain, Mr. Foy states, because an entire year's supply for the average American family costs only $1,400 or 19 cents out of each spendable after-tax dollar. These figures have been compiled from the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Market Basket analysis and include both meals eaten at home and those eaten away from home.

Says Mr. Foy: "Nowhere else in the world do people eat nearly as well or as economically as we do in this country. In England, food costs 29 percent; in France, 31 percent; in Italy, a big 45 percent; and in Russia, a huge 53 percent. And not only that, but their choice of items, the convenience of quality products can't come anywhere near ours."

The low cost miracle which the food industry has achieved starts at the farm where each worker today grows more food for more people than ever before in history. It continues all along the food production, processing and distribution line right to the consumer's table. The efficiencies making this possible are going on all the time. In the 1947-49 period we spent 25 cents of our take-home dollars for food, seven cents more than we do today.

"When we hear that in 1963 Americans spent 67 billion dollars for food, it sounds like a bill that must be too high," says Mr. Foy, "but when we stop to think that we are figuring on food costs for nearly 190,000,000 people, three meals a day, 365 days a year, the bill doesn't seem so bad. We're talking about somewhere in the neighborhood of 280,050,000,000 meals, and even at $67 billion, that's only an average of 22-2/10 cents per meal."

When consumers think about bargains, they think in terms of how much time it takes to pay for the product. Here again, food is a bargain. Today's U. S. factory worker earns the cost of his monthly grocery basket in only 37 hours. During the 1947-49 period it took 60 hours.

"We who are in the food industry are proud of our record of bringing the American people continually greater variety and improved quality of product, more convenience and a wide choice of products and brands at a lower and lower price," Mr. Foy concluded. "This is all made possible through efficiency that starts on the farm and continues all the way to the consumer's table. Farmers today produce more with fewer man-hours. Manufacturers continually modernize equipment, improve packaging, and speed up food processing lines to produce better quality products at lower cost. Warehousing and distribution operations are more efficient than ever before. Retailers now offer consumers up to 10,000 different product choices in modern stores that make shopping fun. And because super markets today sell food in large quantities they can exist on only one cent of profit for each dollar of sales, another substantial reason why food is a bargain for the consumer."

oters Will Find Three Proposed Amendments on November 3 Ballot

It has used this authority 12 times.

The permanent school fund of $355 million is invested in government bonds and some corporate stocks and bonds. The interest and dividends go into the available school fund. Increases in the investments value and mineral income such as oil and gas royalties from school lands—are not subject to automatic transfer to the available fund. They increase the permanent fund which has been growing since 1948 at an average of $26 million a year.

Advocates of the proposed amendment say it will prevent depletion of the permanent fund by removing from legislators temptation to dip in the fund to avoid new or higher taxes which might be politically unpopular. They argue that mineral income is declining and the day may come when the fund will no longer be growing.

Opponents contend the legislature has used prudently and reluctantly its authority to draw on the permanent fund. They say the lawmakers should be allowed to retain the power for emergency use and such revenues as oil and gas royalties should be treated as income for the available school fund anyway.

The second amendment obscure in its wording on the ballot, requires newspaper publication of a legislator's intent to introduce a bill creating or substantially changing a conservation and reclamation district 30 to 90 days before the measure is submitted.

Also required would be delivery of the proposed bill to the governor for submission to the Texas Water Commission for its recommendation which would go to the governor, lieutenant governor and speaker of the House.

Included in the scope of the amendment is legislation adding land, altering the taxing authority or bond issuance authority and amending the qualifications or terms of office of the governing board of a district.

Those favoring the amendment say it would be a safeguard against creation of new units of government with taxing powers before those affected can prepare and argue a case against it. Requiring the water commission's opinion will provide expert advice on whether er the proposed district would harmonize with the needs of the area and benefit the statewide water program.

Opponents say adequate notice already is given. They also argue that the amendment would add to the load of an already over-burdened water commission.

The medical care proposition has gotten the most attention. It would expand Texas' participation in the federal-state program of medical assistance to the aged under the Kerr-Mills Act of 1960.

Texas already participates in a portion of the act that raised the amount of federal matching funds available for medical care to recipients of old age assistance. Since 1962 the state has paid a monthly group health insurance premium for each recipient plus direct payments to nursing homes.

Program Costs
The program costs about $30 million a year, with three-fourths of the money coming from Washington and the rest from Austin.

Medical services authorized by the proposed amendment include fitting of glasses.

The amendment is strongly supported by the Texas Medical Association which says privately purchased health insurance and the old age assistance program already take care of the medical needs of 72 per cent of Texans 65 and over. The association says the Kerr-Mills program is preferable to medicare under social security.

Opponents say the program would place a heavier tax load on Texas citizens and is not needed. Some argue also that adoption of the amendment would be a step toward socialized medicine.

Barry Goldwater, GOP Presidential candidate:

"We pledge a farm program good for the farmer, good for the rancher, good for the nation."

Floyd County Has 6 Rural Accidents

The Highway Patrol investigated six rural traffic accidents in Floyd County during the month of September, according to Sergeant D. S. Lawson, Highway Patrol Supervisor of this area.

These wrecks accounted for two persons injured and an estimated property damage of $3,530.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for Floyd County

WATTS MEMBER OF PHI ETA SIGMA

Thomas Edwin Watts is one of twenty-eight University of Texas students who have been elected members of Phi Eta Sigma, national honorary scholastic fraternity. The membership is based on freshman grades.

from January through September shows a total of 51 crashes resulting in 1 person killed, 35 persons injured, and an estimated property damage of $45,377.00.

"Accidents go up when the sun goes down" is not just a mere slogan but the truth. Why? Because darkness hides danger. That is the reason traffic accidents increase during October's shorter days and longer nights. The Sergeant stated, "Sixty percent of all Texas rural traffic deaths occurred during the hours of darkness last year."

The driver who boasts that he can see as well in the dark or even better than he can during the sunlight just doesn't exist. The hospitals and morgues will attest to this fact. We have news for that driver who still says he has "cat eyes" because science has now proved that even "Tabby" does not see as well after dark as she does in the daylight.

WHAT IS BARRY GOLDWATER FOR?

These are the views of a man who has stood almost alone in the Senate of the United States at times, and whose judgement has been proven right by the test of time in case after case. He is a man who has had the courage to speak up for grassroots America and against the powerful pressure groups in Washington that seek special privilege over their fellow Americans. He cannot be bought or intimidated. For these reasons he has been the prime target of the vicious big-lie and smear technique of the Communist Party, USA. Unfortunately, some of this has been parroted by socialists, liberals and just plain political "yes men". So we are proud to present his views on the critical issues of today.

Barry Goldwater is a courageous American in our finest tradition, a trusted friend to all who know him, a man who carries his home state heavily even through the registration of a Democrat, a man who is admired even by his political opponents for his sincerity and sense of humor, his total lack of conceit and ego. Barry Goldwater is a family man, a radio operator, author of books, a skilled photographer, horseman, a sports car enthusiast, a major general in the Air Force Reserve, a patriot who wants his country to lead through morality and justice. Nobody is for Barry Goldwater except the people who know him and what he stands for. We invite you to cast the prejudice which has been so carefully implanted by the forces of the left aside and investigate for yourself.

Barry Goldwater is your kind of man. He is fighting for US in this campaign, for the future of government under our Constitution.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Barry Goldwater has been accused of favoring the abolishing of social security. But to read what Barry Goldwater has said—not what interpretation somebody else puts on his words—tells a different story. The Senator has at times advocated a reversal of Federal welfare but rather a restraint on its headlong expansion. Only in this way can individual liberty and initiative be advanced. I favor a sound Social Security system and I want to see it strengthened. I want to see every participant reap all the benefits his system provides. And I want to see these benefits paid in dollars with real purchasing power.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING

Barry Goldwater, a businessman, Senator Goldwater knows from experience that no enterprise can ignore the methods of management—least of all, the world's largest enterprise: the U. S. Government. He has always run on a policy of fiscal responsibility, even when it was "unpopular", as in his vote against the tax cut. While he has expressed the wish to cut taxes, in the absence of a corresponding cut in government spending he could consider the move fiscally irresponsible and dangerously inflationary in the long run.

More than lip service and more than reduced light bulbs at the White House are contained in these statements of fiscal responsibility by Barry Goldwater . . . the first fiscal responsibility of government is to conserve the value of the dollar. I can do this by prudent budgeting, by living within the means of the people who pay the bills, and by encouraging individual enterprise.

INCOME TAX

Should we abolish the graduated income tax? No practical alternative has been experienced in government and its operation could be better—least of all Senator Barry Goldwater. But the nation's income tax structure urgently calls for serious study and reform to make it equitable and to keep it from becoming a means for penalizing individual success.

We must stop the steady engulfment of our economy by government, particularly at the national level. We need a government of compassion, leadership, and responsibility. This means reforming a tax structure that steadily shifts an increasing share of the nation's product to the government and stifles the private sector.

FOREIGN TRADE

Hand in hand with his belief in active cooperation with our friends and allies abroad is Senator Goldwater's conviction that vigorous international trade is vital to the well-being of the United States. It helps raise both our living standards and the standards of those whom we buy. It is part and parcel of America's role as leader of the Free World.

"The best way to achieve a favorable position in world trade is to increase our own competitive ability and build better systems and machines for production in the free enterprise system. Given the tools, Americans can more than hold their own in the world markets, and in free markets at that."

NATIONAL SECURITY

As an active and serious student of history, Senator Goldwater knows that mankind has learned one outstanding lesson through the ages: only the strong can be free. Our strength must keep the peace. He also recognizes that we cannot do the job alone.

"Republicans know that strength and the resolute will to use that strength are the surest deterrents to aggression and the surest way to avoid war. But we should not try to do this job alone. Our leadership must bind up the torn and tattered alliances in which all other freedom and peace loving nations can join together in mutual security and defense."

UNITED NATIONS

An abrupt withdrawal from the United Nations? Barry Goldwater has never urged such a drastic step, but towards the U.N. he has consistently recommended for the United States a policy of realism. He has also been appalled to see our foreign policy being dictated by representatives of foreign nations. In a nutshell, Senator Goldwater feels that the foreign policy of the United States is our responsibility, not the U.N.'s. And, above all, he recommends that we use the U.N. rather than let it use us.

"I support, unconditionally, the purpose of the United Nations was originally intended to serve—peace among nations, based on mutual tolerance, respect for the sovereign independence of all nations, and a common sense of justice."

CIVIL RIGHTS

Senator Goldwater's personal feelings on the racial question are best demonstrated by his own acts. As Chief of Staff of the Arizona Air National Guard after World War II, he brought about its complete integration. He also contributed to the desegregation of restaurants and other facilities in Phoenix by local option. The Goldwater businesses have long been desegregated.

As in all areas of his political beliefs, Goldwater holds that individual efforts, not simply laws and edicts, will tip the balance and eliminate the stigma of discrimination from American society.

"I am unalterably opposed to discrimination or segregation on the basis of race, color, or creed, or on any other basis; not only my words, but more importantly my actions through the years have repeatedly demonstrated the sincerity of my feeling in this regard."

EDUCATION

Do the states and the local communities need Federal government guidance to solve their problems in education? Senator Barry Goldwater thinks not and, what is more, points out that federal aid inevitably means federal control of education. For the most part, he points out, federal aid simply substitutes the expensive and wasteful tax collecting facilities and the Federal government for the more efficient means of local government. Federal aid, once you take off its false disguise of "free" money—which it isn't and can never be—shows through in its true character as one more act of compulsion through centralized government. As a father and grandfather, Barry Goldwater has spoken out strong and clear on this subject . . .

"It is interesting and significant that the demands for federal aid to education have grown louder and more insistent as the need for expanding our school facilities diminishes. It is fully apparent that many of those promoting the idea of federal aid to education are interested only in the element of centralized control and, consequently, refuse to recognize that the states and local communities have been rapidly solving the backlog of problems."

FOREIGN POLICY

Along with the vast majority of the American people, Senator Goldwater believes in international cooperation, not in isolation. Above all he has pledged to give the nation a clear-cut dynamic strategy aimed at victory over Communism, not mere accommodation with it. Summing up his convictions, he has said:

"We should adopt a discriminating foreign aid policy. Aid should be furnished only to friendly, anti-Communist nations that are willing to join with us in the struggle for freedom. Moreover, our aid should take the form of loans or technical assistance, not gifts. And we should insist that such nations contribute their fair share to the common cause."

LABOR MANAGEMENT RELATIONS

Throughout Goldwater's thinking on the vital subject of relations between the working man and his employer, one consideration is forecast: concern for the employee as an individual. Dangerous to these individual rights is the growing practice of the Federal Government of injecting itself into both major and minor labor disputes.

"In our complex modern economy, industrial peace is a major bulwark of the free enterprise system. To achieve industrial peace, we must maintain a balance among the rights of employees, employers and the public. This balance is best assured when laws are clear and fairly administered, and when government does not inject itself in a partisan way into dealings between employers and employees."

HUMPHREY: An Excellent Choice

EDITORIAL -- SATURDAY EVENING POST -- SEPTEMBER 26, 1964

Of this century's 12 Presidents, four have been Vice Presidents who succeeded a President who died in office—Theodore Roosevelt, Calvin Coolidge, Harry Truman, Lyndon Johnson. This high frequency of presidential fatalities should make it clear that no party ought to nominate a man for Vice President who is not of sufficient caliber to serve as President. In this vitally important duty, the Republicans have been just as remiss as they were in choosing Goldwater himself. Rep. William E. Miller of New York is an obscure and totally undistinguished Congressman who had resigned himself to retirement until Goldwater pushed him forward for two discreditable reasons. The first reason was to reward him for using the position of Republican national chairman, whose ethics required him to be impartial, as a hidden base for Goldwater. The second reason was to use Miller's religion (Catholic) as an effort to force the Democrats to choose Robert Kennedy and alienate the South. By contrast to Miller's glaring mediocrity, the Democrats have chosen in Senator Hubert Humphrey a distinguished legislator who is fully worthy, on his record, to succeed to the highest office in the land.

The word that best sums up Humphrey's 16 years in the Senate — four of them as Democratic whip — is "growth." From the time he left the mayor's office in Minneapolis until he heard the magic words at Atlantic City, Humphrey has never stopped growing. It is this capacity for growth which the Presidency, above all, challenges in a man, and turns a doggedly competent President like Harry Truman into a great one. It has been doing the same with Johnson. If the need arises, the probability is high that it could do the same with Humphrey.

Humphrey is hardly the same man at all as the glib, doctrinaire, self-righteous and indeed arrogant "liberal" who barged into the Senate in January of 1949 (the same time as Johnson) determined to reform it overnight. He immediately recognized a kindred spirit in Paul Douglas of Illinois, and time after time they jointly backed some heartfelt, high-minded but hopeless crusade, and seemingly rejoiced in a kind of masochistic delight when, time after time, they went down to crushing defeat.

Humphrey's arrogance showed itself when, as a very junior senator, he attacked Harry Byrd, one of the Senate's most senior leaders, and — to make it even more galling for the old economizer — for "extravagance," of all things. Byrd answered not a word, but a dozen senators, totally ignoring Humphrey, rose in succession to pay tribute to Byrd. Thenceforward any Humphrey measure was doubly doomed. He was worse than an upstart; he had fouled the Senate's unwritten rules of reverence for its Wise Old Men.

Douglas went right on enjoying his defeats, but Humphrey, after all, had come to Washington to get things done. He began cultivating the Wise Old Men, particularly Georgia's veteran Walter George. He sought George's opinions, often took his advice. Soon George himself was telling fellow southerners that Hubert was the ablest debater the Democrats had. Other southerners began to accept him — a fact all the more remarkable since it was Mayor Humphrey's attack on the whole concept of state's rights, as opposed to human rights, that caused the southern walkout at the 1948 Democratic Convention and the Dixiecrat rebellion.

Lyndon Johnson also had spotted Humphrey's rare abilities. Johnson, who became Democratic whip in 1951 and majority leader two years later, found Humphrey invaluable in the cloakroom wheeling and dealing where Johnson worked his legislative muscles. Humphrey had golden assets: an incredible memory for facts, a powerful gift of persuasive argument, closely reasoned logic. Humphrey found himself getting things done. He had not stopped being a "liberal," but he was no longer a mere pedagogic logue. He had become a pragmatist who had discovered the hard way what Johnson knew instinctively — that all progress is compromise, that true statesmanship is not to lose nobly but to win what can be won, at a given time, by the art of the possible. Johnson was already showing his powers to achieve a true consensus that would stand him in good stead as President. Humphrey was his good right arm. When seniority moved Mansfield up to majority leader in 1961, Johnson saw to it that Humphrey became

In that role he helped the Democratic leadership put out "liberal" fires which have been ardently spreading a decade before, invoking cloture to put down the Kefauver-Gore filibuster against the Communications Satellite Bill as a giveaway to big business. He invoked it again, against his southern friends, to get the Civil Rights Bill through with Senator Dirksen's great assistance. Yet, curiously, his personal acceptance was such that the southerners did not hold this against him.

Humphrey was performing much the same role at Atlantic City when he moved into the thick of the Mississippi credentials fight. The emotional issue — the black pressed against lily-white oppressor—would have set the earlier Humphrey at bay as a bloodhound. The wiser Humphrey took the lead with David Lawrence in finding a solution that would prevent the fight from going to the floor and perhaps becoming a giveaway that would smash the Democratic Party's chances in 1964—and with them the last hopes of the Negro disfranchised. Yet no principles were sacrificed; instead, the compromise achieved puts the South on notice that no delegations can be seated in 1968 unless chosen by a full and free electorate.

In urging the election of Lyndon in this space last week, we were motivated in small part by our concern for the nation's future should his opponent, Barry Goldwater, prevail in November. Similarly, the strong case for Hubert Humphrey for Vice President is buttressed by the disquieting foretaste of Congressman Miller's department should the country's second highest office come his way. Before his nomination, Miller firmly established his reputation as a political hatchet man in three years as national chairman. His behavior since the campaign began has assured us he has no intention of abandoning the low road. Miller's snide remarks impugning the wartime patriotism of Johnson and Humphrey were typical of the grubby political wares he peddles.

On his own, Hubert Humphrey is an admirable candidate. In view of his opposition, he is an exceptionally welcome one as well.

Whirlwinds Defeat Abernathy Antelopes, 26-

Locals Ease By First Of Conference Tilts

By Gordon Hambricht

Near perfect weather dominated the game as the Floyd County Whirlwinds took their first conference game over the Abernathy Antelopes. The Whirlwinds used their second string team in the third and fourth quarter. Sammy Watts ran 162 yards on seven carries making an average of 23 yards per carry. Antelope halfback Pat Hale was held to 6 yards in 10 carries. Floydada won the toss and elected to receive. Abernathy chose to defend the South goal. Marler took the kickoff on the ten and ran it back to the twenty one yard line. Teague carried for four yards and Perez went in for two yards. Watts took over the running with a carry of nine yards. The quick running of Perez allowed him to slip through the center of the Antelope line for a gain of twenty yards. Watts broke around end to pick up yardage on a 44 yard scamper and Floydada's first TD of the night. PAT was good off the toe of McNeill with 9:21 remaining in the first period.

Pat Hale received the kickoff on the fifteen and carried it back to the twenty yard line. Hale picked up two yards. A penalty of five yards was stepped off against Floydada for off sides.

Abernathy went to the thirty nine yard line when they were stopped. Tannahill punted on fourth down.

Teague took the punt on the twenty five, carrying it back to the thirty five. Watts rolled on for seventeen yards. Perez picked up three yards through the center. Abernathy drew a five yard penalty for off sides. Teague rolled around end for eleven yards. Perez picked up five yards. The ball was put on the nine yard line after Watts rolled around end picking up seventeen yards. McNeill carried it down to the one yard line. On next play a fumble cost the squad three yards. Watts carried it in for the TD. PAT failed with 1:05 remaining in the first quarter of play.

Hale returned the kick off to the twenty five. Tannahill was thrown for a loss by Baker and Green. McNeill and Teague came in to throw Knight for a four yard loss. Hale was then thrown for a ten yard loss by Baker. Tannahill punted on fourth down.

Floydada was held on the next few plays not being able to move the ball. Teague's punt went into the end zone on fourth down. The ball was brought out to the Antelope's twenty yard line.

Hale was caught in the backfield by Teague for a loss of three yards. Thomas broke through the Winds line for a twenty nine yard gain. Thomas was thrown for a loss and was unable to hold the ball. Latrik recovered the fumble for the Whirlwinds. Two plays later Floydada fumbled with the Antelopes recovering and taking possession of the ball on their own thirty two yard line.

The Antelopes then started a drive going for two first downs. Tannahill was able to recover his own fumble. Floydada held the opposing team for two more downs. Antelopes found themselves with fourteen yards to go on fourth down. Hale passed to Paxton but Bearden intercepted on the one yard line where he was downed.

Three plays later the half ended with the scoreboard showing Floydada 13 and Abernathy 0.

Floydada kicked to the Antelopes. Hale took the ball on the eighteen yard line and returned it back to the thirty seven yard line. With no room to move, Tannahill punted on fourth down to the Winds twenty five yard line.

Watts took the hand off from Teague, and with a couple of red blocks, he ran seventy yards for his third TD of the night. PAT was made from the toe of McNeill.

Tannahill returned the kickoff to the Antelopes thirty three. Three plays later the Antelopes fumbled and Mac Baker recovered for the Winds.

The second squad went in for the local varsity. Marler made a first down in two carries, two plays later Osborn rolled around end from the forty one yard line, making a TD with 5:45 remaining in the quarter. PAT failed.

The Mighty Winds defense went to work on the Antelopes, throwing them back on three carries, breaking through their line for an eleven yard loss. Tannahill punted on fourth down. Floydada took over on their own forty seven yard line.

The Winds were stopped on three carries so on fourth down Teague punted with Lyles returning the punt to the twenty yard line.

The Winds again went to work holding Abernathy for a five yard gain on three attempts. Tannahill punted on fourth down and Watts returned it to the Antelopes thirty eight yard line.

Two plays later, the Winds fumbled, losing the ball on the twenty nine yard line. Barton came up with the ball for Abernathy. The Antelopes tried their running game, but the Winds could not be broken through, throwing Abernathy for a loss each time. On fourth down Abernathy punted.

The Winds picked up one first down. Adams carried twice for a gain of six yards. Munday carried for three more yards. The attempt for a first down failed, the ball then went over to the opposition on downs.

The Antelopes went to the air, with Hale passing to Addison to pick up twenty four yards. Tannahill then ran for an eleven yard gain. Johnson passed to Paxton for seven yards. Thomas broke through for eight yards. Then the TD pass went from Johnson to Preston for seventeen yards with only twenty two seconds remaining in the game. PAT failed. Floydada was able to get off one play, Lyles gained seven yards, when the time ran out, ending the gridiron clash. Floydada 26-Abernathy 6.

"B" Team Breezes By Olton, 26-0

Ross Miller, Joe Christian and Randall Moore crossed the goal line last Tuesday night when the local "B" team played Olton and beat them 26-0. Miller scored twice in the contest.

Throughout the year, the defensive unit has been consistent in not allowing the opposing team to cross its goal line. In fact, only six points have been scored against the B squad and that was when the locals were deadlocked by Freshup, 6-6.

The team has downed Olton, Lockney, and Post, lost none and has been tied by Freshup and Olton. The record stands 3-0-2.

Seven Freshmen are playing on the squad, but according to Coach Greer, they have learned they can hit those older boys and they will move the same as others will. Last week the "B"

TOUCHDOWN BOUND — Sammy Watts broke loose on about the sixth play of the game and scampered 44 yards for the first of his three TD's of the night, with a beautiful exhibition of running on the part of Watts and blocking on the part of the rest of the Winds. Clipping — A friendly pat on the back. Floydada gave two Abernathy boys "pats on the back" last Friday night and received the only two fifteen yard penalties given during the entire game. There were several given for offside and illegal procedure but other than that the yardage made, or lost, by either team was unquestionable. It was one of the most penalty-free games seen this season.

Neither of the 15-yard penalties hurt the locals, for they were stepped off "from the point of infraction" and the infraction each time was well ahead of that original line of scrimmage. One of the 15-yard penalties cost the locals a total of three yards. The Whirlwinds made a real comeback after losing to Tullio. From the kickoff until the final gun, the locals had control of the game.

Although the Winds were playing without the services of several of the key defensive linemen and linebackers, the forward wall of the Whirlwinds did whatever it pleased with the Antelope line.

Zake Robertson walked the sidelines, out of uniform, and Bill Potts spent most of the game yelling encouragement to his teammates on the field, from the sidelines. Both these players, guards, had pinched nerves. Bill should be ready to go against Dimmitt, but Zake will be out for several weeks.

One of the best executed plays one will ever see came when Friday's game was about six plays old, and Sammy Watts started from Abernathy's 44-yard line and zig zagged back and forth across the field, running to the clear, getting cut off, picking up a key block and finally crossing the goal line after running nearly 100 yards.

The entire Whirlwind team looked particularly good on that play by blocking, getting up, going to the action, and finding an other opponent to cut down. Playing like that the Floydada team could go a long way.

The next scheduled game is against Hale Center, there, October 29.

It appeared from the sidelines.

First Place In 3-Way Tie In District 3-AA

Presently the battle for first place in district 3-AA still looms and, as is reasonable since there are six teams, that position is in a three way tie.

The three teams coming out on top in the first conference tilts, played last Friday night, are Floydada, Friona and Olton. Those losing are Abernathy, Dimmitt and Lockney.

The only thing different in this district, is that those presently standing with 1-0 records, and leading the district, should, after tomorrow's games stand at 2-0, and still be in a three way tie.

Last Friday night as the Whirlwinds were pouring it on the Abernathy team, 26-6, Olton was demolishing Lockney 21-7, and Friona was easing by Dimmitt 28-6.

This week, the three strong teams are again pitted against the three weaker teams of the district. Floydada goes to Dimmitt. Friona plays at Lockney, and Olton takes on Abernathy. However, any team in this district is capable of beating any other team, on any given night. The standings that follow are:

based first on whether the team won or lost Friday night, and since there is a three-way tie for first, and last in the district at the present, the ratings are based second on points scored and points allowed opponents.

Olton Kicks Longhorns For 21-6 Conference Victory

The Olton Mustangs moved up a notch in Dist. 3-AA here Friday night at the expense of the Lockney Longhorns with a 21 to 6 recording.

Halfback Richard Hall foretold Mustang power with a 20-yard pass to Earl Charles Church for a TD in the first quarter. The Ponies moved 25 yards in 6 bursts. Joe Priest kicked extra point. This was the first stanza.

It rocked along that way until the third quarter when the Oltons took the second half kickoff and drove 71 yards in a half dozen tries. Priest passed 30 yards for another Mustang TD. Priest converted by kicking. Joe Castello, fullback, began to make noises for Olton and rammed 4 yards for a TD with Mustang label on it. He had set it up with a 55-yard scamper. Priest kicked extra point.

The Longhorns and rang up a TD. Melvin Stacey, fullback, made it yard gallop. After from center on a pass try for extra, but failed to cross. The visitors got the ground and 88 yards had 123 yards 68 passing.

The Ford Motor Company has announced the appointment of Reed Ford Sales in Floydada as authorized dealer for Mercury automobiles and the new models will be displayed at Reed's this morning.

The 1965 Mercury, three inches longer and more luxurious than in 1964, presents the most extensive change in the 26-year history of the car.

Conceived, developed and crafted in the Lincoln Continental tradition, the new Mercury brings to the medium-priced field new standards of comfort and engineering excellence.

Even in its styling, the Mercury for 1965 resembles the Lincoln Continental with its clean, classic look of elegance and formality.

The new Mercury has a 123-inch wheelbase, is 218.4 inches in over-all length and features new frame design, front and rear suspension, and rigid body construction.

"Lincoln-Mercury is the only division offering products in the medium-price field that also has long experience and acceptance in the luxury field," said Paul F. Lorenz, Ford Motor Company vice president and division general manager.

"With the new Mercury, we now are offering the same successful concepts that were developed for the Lincoln Continental in the luxury field."

The Mercury will be available in a broad selection of 15 models in three series, Monterey, Montclair and Park Lane. There will be six roof lines, including the Breezeaway four-door sedan, again unique in the industry. Other roof lines are the conveniential two-door and four-door sedan, a formal four-door hardtop, a two-door fastback hardtop, plus the convertible and the station wagon.

The appearance of the Mercury, which is unlike any predecessor model, is dominated by slim blade-like front fenders and flat, uncluttered side panels, similar to the Continental. Slender parking lights at the extreme edge extend from bumper to fender top. Tall, vertical taillights frame the wide, clean trunk lid, so that the crisp rear appearance complements the frontal styling character.

Mercury's reputation as an outstanding road car is strengthened for 1965 with important engineering advances in body, frame, suspension and steering. The over-all design nests the body deep into the new torque box frame, increasing the floor space and the body interior height, while the over-all height of the car is decreased. The torque box frame is lighter and absorbs more of the road shocks preventing them from being transmitted to the passenger. More interior spaciousness is gained in the driver's compartment, too, with a reduction in transmission tunnel and a recessed instrument panel.

Better balanced road stance is obtained by increasing tread to 62 inches, up one inch in front and two inches in rear. New front and rear suspensions improve road-ability. The drag strut front suspension permits compliance fore and aft when the front wheels encounter uneven road surfaces. The rear suspension is a new coil spring cushion-link design which gives a softer ride than the leaf spring formerly used in the Mercury.

Important improvements in steering include a reduction in over-all steering ratio and a new power steering system with integral gear design and new power steering pump. Wheel diameter is increased from 14 to 15 inches, contributing to better braking and longer brake lining life. Low-profile tires lengthen tire life.

A new emergency signal system, which puts front and rear parking lights on a flasher cycle, is available for all models. Another safety feature is a mechanical switch mounted on the brake pedal arm which turns on the

Lions Hear Of Farmers Home Admin. Work

"The Farmer Home Administration is designed mainly for two purposes — to help young farmers get started in the business, and to extend credit to those who are already in the business, but can't get money from other credit sources", the Lions were told Thursday at their noon luncheon. Alfred A. Harrison, Farmers Home Administration chairman serving Floyd and Motley counties, was the guest speaker at the meeting.

Harrison told the group that the loans are divided into several categories. They include crop loans, rural housing, soil and water, senior citizen (over 62), recreation and association loans.

"During the past 15 months, I have made loans amounting to over $911,000 in the 2 counties. According to economists this money will turn over from seven to ten times in a community," Harrison stated.

He concluded with, "one of the best things about the Federal Housing Administration is that it doesn't cost the taxpayers a penny, for it is completely self-supporting."

President Olin Watson told the group that their Carnival Assignments would be handed out next week, at which time Don Cheek, Carnival chairman would be back.

The club is in the midst of a membership drive designed to increase the total membership of the club by at least ten new members.

Just Cooked Our Christmas Dinner

"Turkey and all the trimmings" are going the freezer until Christmas Day. Then when company starts arriving, I'll be able to visit them somewhere besides the kitchen.

I love family gatherings on holidays, but used to be almost more work than it was now. Now, I make all the preparations in advance and enjoy the day.

My electric freezer makes this possible, and the Lighthouse Electric Cooperative makes the freezer possible. Our electric service is dependable and low in cost. Not only are holidays more enjoyable but the Lighthouse Electric cooperative has added pleasure to every day of life. I'm proud to be a member."

games. Wednesday, Pepitone hit a grand slam home run, and Mantle and Maris hit homers, back to back, to help in the 8-3 victory. In the final game homers by Boyer and Lutz for the Yanks narrowed the Cardinals' lead to two runs.

Bob Gibson proved to be one of the pitchers of the century by striking out 31 Yankees in the seven game series. It erased the 61-year old record set by Bill Dinneen of the Boston Red Sox in 1903 in an eight game series.

FORT HOOD, TEX. (AHTNC) —Army Pvt. Jimmie L. Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Zennie Q. Carter, Route M, Lockney, Tex., was assigned Oct. 5 to the 1st Armored Division at Fort Hood, Tex.

Weldon Becker's Mother Buried In Slaton Friday

Mrs. Elsie Becker, 67, longtime resident of Slaton and mother of Weldon Becker of Floydada, died in Slaton Wednesday after a week's illness.

Funeral rites were conducted Friday morning in Grace Lutheran Church.

Survivors include four daughters; two sons; two brothers; three sisters and nine grandchildren.

Burial was in Englewood Cemetery in Slaton.

Whether you're a Cardinal fan or a Yankee fan, or favor some other ball club, you have to admit that the St. Louis Cardinals are truly the "Wonder" team of 1964. With only eleven games left to play in the regular season, the Cardinals were five games out of first place. It was a real accomplishment for them to gather enough momentum to go ahead and win the pennant and then the series.

This momentum, we mentioned, is a force that is hard for a team to gather, whether it's in baseball or football. However, when a team gets it, it seems to keep it for awhile.

Floydada, for about 10 years or longer, has had it, in that they have not had a losing season in many years. A couple of other good examples are Denver City, who has had a winning team for several years, and Petersburg, that seemed to just be getting started on a winning run that could last several years, when they met Idalou. However, they should pick it up again. It seems that each year's team wants to be just as strong as the one the preceding year.

Crystal Ball QB
What happened?
This certainly wasn't the weekend to predict the outcome of football games. Just to mention a few, Petersburg was upset by Idalou, Seagraves, a class A power, lost to Wink, Tech was upset by Baylor, Arkansas upset Texas and Kansas upset Oklahoma.

One person said regarding the Kansas-Oklahoma battle, "Oklahoma just quit playing one play too soon". The last play of the game carried for 26 yards and a TD for Kansas.

Steve Craig came through with the least number of wrong predictions in the contest. He missed only four of the games in spite of the upsets. Nine were missed by the Crystal Ball.

This week the high school games should go like this:

Floydada will skin the Dimmitt Bobcats; Friona will scalp the Lockney Longhorns, but this could prove to be an upset for our neighbors to the northwest will have three starters back this week that missed service last week; Olton will roll over Abernathy; Crosbyton will top Roosevelt; Post, although down somewhat, will stop Morton; Tulla will sting Perryton; Canyon will stampee the Whitefaces from Hereford; Springlake will drop Kress; Hale Center will edge Farwell in one of the best games on the Plains; and Idalou, in spite of the Spur scores, will beat Rails.

Spur will overcome undefeated Lorenzo; Matador will ease by Sundown; Pampa will take Plainview; Tascosa will beat the Sandies; and Monterrey will level Caprock.

On the college scene:

Tech will corral the Ponies from SMU; Trinity will down West Texas; Texas will come back and blast Rice; Arkansas will ease by Wichita of Little Rock; Baylor will keep the Aggies out of step; Oklahoma, fresh from two defeats, will overcome Kansas State; TCU will drop Clemson; LSU, a consistent climber in the ratings, will roll over a tough Tennessee eleven; Kansas University will drop Oklahoma State; and Eastern New Mexico University, at Portales, will down Texas Lutheran.

See you here next week, and remember Homecoming is Friday week.
