Attention Pioneers

All old settlers, or Floyd County pioneers, should be trying to recall some of the tales they know about the settling of Floyd County and this area.

Also, they should be gathering the old pictures they may have that would depict life in this county in years past.

All this will be needed when The Hesperian prints its giant 75th Anniversary edition later this year.

In this edition the history of the county from its founding to modern times will be told, with the help of the people who have lived during this time, including some of the county's first settlers.

So get out that old trunk and dig out those pictures that you would like to see appear in the Hesperian when the Anniversary edition comes off the press, and give us a call at YU 3-3237.

Council Sets Public Hearing Of 1965-66 Budget March 9

The city council, in its regular session this week, voted unanimously to accept the proposed city budget for the 1965-66 fiscal year. A public hearing of the budget will be held at city hall on March 9 at 6:30 p.m.

The new budget calls for an increase of $16,000 in spending, but projects the city will receive almost $38,000 additional revenue. The total of funds on hand after expenses and transfers in the 1964-65 budget called for $37,682, and the new budget pro-

Heart Sunday And Coffee Day Set By Local Organization

The wheels of Floyd County Heart Fund Drive were put into motion last Saturday morning when a group of the Floydada 4-H Club members had a downtown street solicitation for funds.

The next step will be a coffee day given by local merchants to help raise funds for the organization, and the bulk of the funds are expected Sunday afternoon when 80 volunteers will make a door-to-door solicitation for the Heart Fund.

These participating in the coffee day include: Rogers Restaurant, Mrs. Nora Munnert; Leonard's Cafe, Leonard Matsler; Winn's, Mrs. Virginia Lindsey; Merry-Mac's, John Selman; Travel Center, Ray Theoford; Goen's Drug, Bud Goen; Arwine Drug, J. A. Arwine; Johnson's Pharmacy, Ray Johnson; Spudnut Shop, Luther Scales.

These firms listed above will be giving all money received for coffee Friday to the Heart Fund.

The Heart Fund workers urge everyone's patronage of these businesses and they stress it will help Heart help your heart. Have a cup of coffee with these public spirited merchants on Friday.

On Sunday, February 21, from 2 until 4 p.m., the women under the sponsorship of the Floydada Hospital Auxiliary will canvass the town.

The rural communities will be solicited by the following volunteers: McGee, Mrs. E. M. Jackson; Lakeview, Mrs. F. O. McIntock; Antelope, Mrs. W. J. Ross; Dougherty, Mrs. Tate Jones; Baiser, Mrs. C. O. Lyles; Campbell, Mrs. A. C. Pratt; Center, Mrs. Charles Horican; Mincey, Mrs. Herman Graham; Sandall, Mrs. Weldon Smith.

Mrs. Harold Ellison, president of the Auxiliary, said recently, "We request that if your community is not being canvassed, please leave your contribution in one of the containers in the downtown stores. Welcome your heart fund volunteer."

Senior League Organization Meeting Held

At a meeting held Monday night in the PCA building, representatives of Kress, Lockney, Matader, Petersburg, Crosbyton and Floydada began organization plans for the 1965 baseball season.

Coach Ted Viramonte was host with Claude Estes, representative of State Teenage Organization, and Orville Marler, president of Floydada Baseball Association co-hosts.

It was decided at the meeting to formulate final organizational plans at a future meeting to be held sometime in March.

Marler is calling a meeting on Monday at 7 p.m. of all boys of the Floydada area between, and including the ages 16-18, who are eligible for the Senior League.

All boys in this age group are urged to attend this meeting for it is possible that there can be two or more teams organized from the Floydada community in the Senior League.

In the near future baseball workouts will begin, and before school is dismissed a number of games may be played by the league, according to Viramonte.

Help!

Help is needed at the show barn this Friday to get the place ready for the Annual Floyd County Fat Stock Show that begins in less than two weeks.

A number of people have helped during the past few weeks, but generally response hasn't been very good on the work days.

According to Jim Simpson, a large number is needed for the jobs that need to be completed. "The pay is real good for those working at the barns," he added.

Anyone who possibly can, and would like to see the Stock Show continue in Floydada should be on hand early Friday morning at the show barn.

School Board Candidates Number Four

Last week Shirley Irwin announced his intention to run for the school trustee position and filed his application with the school office.

This brought the number of candidates seeking three vacancies to four, for the three positions that will become available this year.

Irwin is a former Floydada business man and is now a farmer in the Fairview community.

Those who have filed include: Irwin; Dennis Dempsey, who is running for re-election, at his present residence; Newell Burk, an accountant; and Tom Porter, a farmer in the Starkey Community.

Those whose terms are expiring are Dempsey's, Ernest Lee Thomas', and Buster Simpson's.

Anyone interested in filing for the school trustee position should contact Ben Ayres for an application, and he or the person seeking election should file that application with the school office.

The final date for filing is March 3, 1965, and the election will be held Saturday, April 3, 1965.

New Cotton Uses Bright Spot On Horizon, Farmers Told

A group of farmers that at least half filled the high school auditorium here last week, heard three speakers from out of town each mention that the new uses developed by the cotton industry is the brightest spot on the horizon for the cotton farmers.

Roy Faulkner, of Plains Cotton Growers, Wilmer Smith, of Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman's Cotton Advisory Committee, and Don Anderson of Crosbyton each spoke to the group and gave their views on the cotton situation and particularly the proposed 1c per pound cut for this year.

Faulkner told the group that the Plains Cotton Growers has gone on record in favor of the one-price system for cotton and are against the price cut, primarily because the cost of the production has constantly risen for the past few years, and there is no relief in sight. He mentioned that the members of the PCG organization are concerned about the problem, and he personally is concerned.

Wilmer Smith said that during the past few years the synthetics had been replacing cotton on the dry goods counters, but in the last year or two new uses of cotton have made the domestic crop more desirable for spinning, and new products from cotton have resulted.

He cited the example of the cotton stretch socks and mentioned that during the past few years the synthetics had been replacing cotton on the dry goods counters, but in the last year or two new uses of cotton have made the domestic crop more desirable for spinning, and new products from cotton have resulted.

Today Is Final Entry Date For County Fat Stock Show

The twenty-first annual Floyd County Junior Fat Stock Show will get underway here Monday, March 1, and continue through March 3. All entries must be in the County Agent's office by 5 p.m. today, February 18, 1965.

The animals will be weighed in and sifted on Monday, judging will take place Tuesday, and the auction sale will conclude the show on Wednesday.

The annual Recognition Banquet for all 4-H and FFA exhibitors and parents will be held in the high school cafeteria at 8 p.m. Tuesday. The event is sponsored by the Floyd County Farm Bureau, First National Bank, Floydada, and First National Bank, Lockney.

The show barns will open at 7 a.m. March 1 and entries will be taken beginning at that time. All animals must be in place by 12 noon.

NEW FLOYDADA INDUSTRY

New Printing Corporation To Open For Business In April

Agreement was made this week by Wendell Tcoley, publisher of the Hesperian that a new printing corporation, E. Goss Offset Printing, Inc., has been created. The new printing company will be in business at 212 S. Main Street, April 1, 1965.

The corporation will be in business in the area of printing area by the offset method of custom printing.

The plant will be similar to offset printing companies in Friona and Hereford who print up to 30 area newspapers and news magazines each.

A new Goss offset press has been purchased for delivery April 1 and all other facilitating equipment, such as camera, dark room and plate making equipment, has also been purchased.

The business will begin printing the following papers as soon as equipment is ready to go: Crosbyton Review, Floyd County Hesperian, Lockney Beacon and Slaton Slatonite.

Tcoley said the printing company would be able to print color advertisements and features and the offset method would produce extremely clear pictures.

The Slaton and Lockney newspapers are already being printed by the offset method in the plant at Friona.

The Hesperian will "go offset" February 25 and print at Hereford until the press and equipment arrive in Floydada.

Stockholders of the new corporation are: Edgar Hays, Willis Reynolds, Jim Reynolds, all of Lockney; Hubert Curry and Wayne Dodson of Crosbyton; O. G. Nieman of Slaton; John Edd Blessing and Tcoley of Floydada.

Has Five Rural Farm Accidents in January

April 15 is the deadline to have your motor vehicle inspected. During the first five and one-half months only 1,800,000 or 40% of the 4,500,000 registered vehicles in Texas have been inspected. This leaves 2,700,000 vehicles to be inspected in approximately two months. If the number of uninspected vehicles were divided evenly among the 3,200 official inspection stations in Texas each would have approximately 840 vehicles to inspect in about 49 working days, or 13 vehicles per day. The stations in heavily populated areas will have many more than this average number to inspect. In areas where there are only a few stations you may have many miles to travel.

The Sergeant urges motorists to have their vehicles inspected without delay to avoid the inconveniences of waiting lines. Remember—no extension of the Safety Inspection deadline, April 15, 1965.

Letters To The Editor

The beauty of art, skills of sort, and the earnest efforts of mankind are seldom, if ever, praised, except these attributes are spotlighted by publicity or special achievements of human interest of value or oddity. This gesture on the part of our fellow citizens of the Floydada school community, to a great degree, transcends the perplexities of traditions and brightly gleams the minds, character, and the fervent desires of those tried by the fires of time and the gold of their minds.

James R. Lowell once said, "It is by presence of mind in untried emergencies that the native metal of a man is tested."

Fellow citizens, you have met such an untried emergency in our community. Our boys and girls can no longer say, "We did not have the facilities, we did not have the background" for now you have opened the educational doors, and so the opportunity is present.

Mr. and Mrs. Fellow Citizen, you did more in this emergency for us, than we could do ourselves. It is with deep and earnest gratitude, that the teachers of our small segment of this community should be congratulated for their considered silence, they could have possibly retarded mental progress. The same earnest, noble, and profound medals given to national heroes should be given to the official school citizens, for their far sightedness into and for our children's future.

Troubles are flaring all over the nation and the world alike. You, Fellow Citizens, are to be given praise and humble thanks from those of us who shall be the benefactors. Thank goodness, the native metal of your mind is pure and strong.

It may do us all well to remember the words of Mark Twain, when he said, "A habit cannot be tossed out of the window; it must be coaxed down the stairs a step at a time."

Thank you, Fellow Citizens.
New Citizen,
Rev. W. H. Cleveland, Jr.,

Any really active church has a number of projects to which it devotes its attention. This is particularly true in the Methodist Church where, except for July and August, there are quite a few special days. Among the recent ones have been Golden Cross Sunday and Race Relations Sunday. The offering connected with the first goes to charity work at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock; the second to Negro colleges, particularly Huston-Tillotson in Austin. The range of service of the first goes to people of all denominations and of none; that of the latter is not limited to Negroes at all.

 Floydada 4-H club met on Feb. 4 with Lindsey Lovell calling the meeting to order. The motto and pledge were led by Dan Roberts and roll call was given by Doris Fawver.
 George Finley gave a report on the 4-H Council meeting and Kay Russell gave the treasurer's report.
 Mrs. James Lovell discussed the demonstration and urged members to begin work now to avoid the last minute rush.
 Because of the crowded schedule the March meeting will be held on the 11th at the Community Room of the First National Bank.
 It was voted the club send a card and a book to Wayne Funder who is in the hospital in Dallas, also a card to Joe Jones who has had the mumps.
 Randy Jordan was appointed calling committee chairman and Donna Hadamek appointed co-chairman.
 It was announced the Favorite Foods show would be held March 19. All members must be turned into the office by March 18. It was announced by Lindsey Lovell that pins would be awarded to members with perfect attendance this year.
 Ralph Renfro of the Heart Association spoke to the group about the Heart Drive in Floydada, which is one of the club's projects. He then showed a film pertaining to heart research done by the association. Mrs. Forrest Micky, Lockney Heart Drive chairman, also spoke briefly to club members.
 Billy Finley led recreation. Refreshments were served by Retha Jordan, Joy Joiner and Tom Lovell. Lindsey Lovell and Teresa Calston were host and hostess for the good number attending.

this group handles the concerns of hospitals and homes.
 The Vacations Conference for youth is to be held at Cota Canyon Camp the weekend of Feb. 26-27.
 A letter to pastors from his area from Bishop Eugene Slater tells of his concern for two bills now pending before the State Legislature. One is HB 26, the same as SB 8, permitting the packaging of whiskey in small bottles to be sold in restaurants. The second is HB 49, which leads to pari-mutuel betting on horse racing. Church people should take a positive stand against these bills. Our state representative has stated his opposition to the first. Usually a person is either for both, or against both, as they go pretty well together. There's an old saying something like this: "The church could get rid of the liquor business if it would. The liquor industry would get rid of the church if it could."

ly Wind Storm Brings eral Serious Problems

dusty spring has been living in the sprawling Texas and states to the northeast.

Wind storm, coming north and west on Jan. 15, caused short circuits and interrupted service during this period a Big Springs hospital had to put its emergency power unit into operation.

Patients with dust-aggravated bronchial infections took all available beds in many hospitals, and overflowed into the halls and even the maternity rooms. Many had to be turned away.

The county health board at Big Springs reported that the dust aggravated sinus conditions, colds, all-ages and other health problems for many people who made no report.

Wind-blown soil poured into many ponds and reservoirs, reducing their capacity. Filtration costs for municipal water supplies will be higher as long as the sediment remains in suspension.

The cost of cleaning out all buildings, public and private, is high. Housewives say you just can't keep the gritty dust out.

Damage to the land was moderate to severe, with the greatest damage done on cultivated fields not protected by stubble, crop residues or cover crops.

"In spite of the fact that range grasses produced less than one-fourth their normal growth last year because of dry weather, there was little blowing on grass land," said State Conservationist H. N. Smith of the Soil Conservation Service in Texas. "Good range management made the difference."

The greatest damage occurred in a triangular area with corners roughly at Odessa, Abilene, and Tulia. Snow on the ground in the Texas panhandle reduced blowing in that area.

The Avalanche-Journal at Lubbock editorially called for wider acceptance of conservation practices to control "blowing toned soil, that stuff that city people loathe on rolling dust." The editor concluded that "Every dust storm should serve as a reminder that wind erosion can be held down."

"A storm as severe as this, so early in the season is a warning of damages that may yet be expected," Smith said. "The winds which ranged far from the limited area of the most severe damage, has tended to dry out the soil and 'soften' it for wind storms sure to come this spring."

"The choking dust recalls vividly the big blows of the 1930's," Smith continued. "It was on such a day in 1935, when dust from the Plains darkened the sky in Washington, that Congress created the Soil Conservation Service with out a dissenting vote. Since that time, changes in land use, grass planting and conservation practices promoted by the Soil Conservation Service have tied down millions of acres that won't blow this year."

But because of the conservation work done by farmers and ranchers throughout the Great Plains Smith thinks it unlikely that there will be storms this year of the magnitude of those that came during the great depression of the 1930's.
