

To 75th. Anniversary

WELCOME OLD SETTLERS

Although the entire week in Floydada has been termed Old Settlers Week, the official pioneer celebration isn't held until tomorrow, at which time around 600 pioneers are expected to register for the day's events. A total of 567 registered at last year's celebration.

A full day's program awaits those who will return to Floydada for the celebration and those pioneers who still live in the Floyd County area. Everything from a memorial service to a variety show is on the agenda.

A larger group is generally expected this year for it is the 75th anniversary of the county. The county was organized May 28, 1890.

Western Attire Parade

Throughout the "Old Settlers" celebration, the residents of the city are urged to be dressed in western attire. This should help those attending the celebration get in the "spirit" of the event. In the past a ducking in a water tank has been the consequence of those not in compliance with the dress.

Another added attraction that will be seen on the streets will be the number of beards grown for the celebration. Several local residents have not shaved during the past two months, and quite a mop has grown on their countenances.

Rodeo

The Floydada Rodeo Association is sponsoring a three-day rodeo May 27 through May 29. The Old Settlers Association has nothing to do with this event, however; it is in addition to their plans. The finals for the rodeo are slated for the Saturday night session.

Thirteen young ladies from Floyd County are vying for the Rodeo Queen title this year. She will be named Saturday night, May 29 at the Rodeo Grounds.

will be named Saturday night, May 29 at the Rodeo Grounds.

These girls will ride in the Old Settlers Parade Friday afternoon.

Carnival

A Lions Club sponsored carnival got underway Monday on the west side of the square in Floydada.

Seven rides are there furnished by Lone Star Amusements from Amarillo, a Lions concession stand with hot dogs, candy, snow cones, etc., is being manned by the Lions Club members.

A portion of the profit will go toward building the rest rooms for the Baseball Park, according to Olin Watson, Jr., president of the Lions Club.

The carnival will continue through Saturday night.

Jeanne Brewer Wins Contest

Jeanne Brewer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Brewer, was winner of a recent local essay contest written on "Socialism Versus Free Enterprise."

The eighth grade student won a three day schooling in the republican workshop in Lubbock.

The award was presented by local senior republicans.

Jeanne's essay reads as follows:

Socialism Versus Free Enterprise

Socialism is both a doctrine and a movement which seeks to place in the hands of the people, either directly or through government, the ownership and control of the principal means of production and distribution, or by cooperatives. For example, the city ownership of an electric power plant is no less an example of socialism than the ownership of railroads by a national government.

The Socialist party began in America in 1890. By 1904 its membership had reached 400,000, by 1912 it had reached 900,000, and 920,000 in 1920. In 1924 the Socialists ran the candidate Robert M. LaFollette for president, but lost.

The Socialist party platforms have included demands for (1) the socialization and democratic control of natural resources, money, banking and credit, and monopolies and seminopolies; (2) better protection for workers and their families, such as higher wages and shorter hours, health and accident insurance, and old age and mothers' pensions; (3) the extension of free public education; and (4) various political changes, including the direct election of the President and Vice-President, and some device by which, in case of deadlock between Congress and the President, an appeal can be taken to the voters.

At the beginning communism started out in Germany as socialism, but today Socialists and Communists disagree bitterly.

Socialism is an economic system not a political one. Many people believe in both a democracy, a political one, and socialism, an economic one. Then they are called democratic socialists. Many people considered Franklin D. Roosevelt and Eleanor, his wife, who had a great deal of influence on him, as democratic socialists. Today vice-president Hubert H. Humphrey is considered by many Americans as a democratic socialist also. Many Americans consider President Johnson's war on poverty a socialist act. The following are considered as social organizations also: Rural Electrification Organization, Tennessee Valley Authority, Social Security, Medicare, Old Age pension plans of states, and Workmens Compensation.

Many acts passed today such as the Tennessee Valley Authority might be an example of modern socialism in practice. It is carried on by experts who also have been freed from political influence. The United States has adopted much social legislation and established many controls over industry. But the major parties have avoided the term socialism for fear of arousing possible prejudice from United States citizens.

Are we losing our free-enterprise system to a socialist way of life? In the eyes of many American citizens, the answer is YES, definitely. What does it mean for our economic system, a system which has always supported itself? Our industries will become one, run by the government. Although it appears to be the farmers' best friend, it is actually burying him, and it is doing the same in industry. First, they appeal to the farmer in all ways, then once he joins - he is allowed only so many bales of cotton per year. If he raises more, then it is wasted for the government wants only so many. Again, he must limit his bushels of grain, his poultry, and his dairy products. His life is run by a chart which the government provides for him. The same is true in industry. If the government says, for example,

"We expect you to produce three thousand cars this year," then you produce three thousand cars, no more, no less. In a social government the American citizen has no say so; he only lives to work for his government.

Socialism for an ordinary person is like running, or moving his legs as if he were running, but never leaving the same spot. Every person has the same things in the principal means of production and distribution. Although he may work hard all his life he may never make a larger income.

You would not sell your life to someone. Yet, everyday millions of Americans are selling their freedom by voting for certain acts about which they know hardly anything about. Americans today vote for a candidate for president, not for the person and what good he can do for them, but because of his party. For example, if my dad were a democrat (republican) then I guess being a democrat (republican) is good enough for me. It is like going into a booth to vote, and then coming out and saying, "Say, what was So 'en So running for any way?"

What is life without freedom? How long can freedom last if free-enterprise is no longer allowed? These are two big questions. How you answer them may change your life and the life of your children.

sending charges into a number of homes.

Families reported damages to television sets and electric washing machines which were operating at the time of the storm. Matador received a half inch of rain mixed with small hail. Roaring Springs also reported a half inch.

Damaging hail was reported in the late afternoon storm in the Crosbyton area and more moisture was received in a second storm about 10 o'clock Tuesday night. Extensive damage from the hail to windows and roofs were reported from the afternoon storm. Several plate glass windows in downtown Crosbyton were also knocked out.

High winds which have raked this area for the past week were to diminish yesterday. An upper low pressure system was expected to move through yesterday touching off additional thunder storms.

some of the erroneous publicity concerning the school bond sale. The office of the Attorney General refers to the certificate that was signed by the school officials as a no-litigation certificate instead of referring to it as a "so-called" no-litigation certificate as you did in your letter.

I believe it was understood at the meeting to which you refer that the purpose of such meeting was to determine if any violations would or could result from the execution of the no-litigation certificate, and I believe you pointed out that regardless of differences of opinion as to the truth or falsity of the certificate that there was no provision for any penalty since it was not executed under oath. There were and still are differences of opinion between you and our attorneys and others as to the interpretation of this certificate. Our attorneys have been able to find no other provision for the payment of the bonds and interest coupons except the levy of a tax on the property in the district and no security except the lien created by the levy of a tax on the property in the district. I think you will agree that the values placed on this property, the failure to tax all property, and the right of the school officials to levy an illegal tax and place an illegal lien on our property have been and still are the disputed issues in these lawsuits.

We would like to say in regard to the clause in the certificate that states that no-litigation is threatened that a statement released to the Hesperian (April 22, 1965) is the best indication of their knowledge and belief about threatened litigation. The officials of the district have told us in effect that it was their conviction (fixed belief) that if security was not observed in the issuance and sale of the bonds that another suit or suits would have been filed further delaying issuance of the bonds.

I notice that you made no comment concerning the threatened litigation. Probably no comment was necessary since they have told us what they believed.

The school officials stated that this no-litigation certificate was executed in the "light" of a "ruling" by the Attorney General. Since there was no such ruling and no such "light" then maybe this certificate was signed in the dark. Maybe this is the explanation.

We paid particular attention to the indications you made that the Attorney General's office was familiar with this entire matter. Possibly you have been reading the local paper since articles appearing therein mention "lengthy consultations" involving the Attorney General and the bond attorneys for the district. An article in the local paper states that the Attorney General said if bonding companies would buy, he would approve their sale.

The Attorney General had this to say about that statement and we quote: "I acknowledge receipt of your letter of April 26th and the enclosed newspaper from Floydada dated April 15, 1965. You direct my attention to the statement in the newspaper that, 'The Attorney General said if bonding companies would buy them, he would approve their sale.'"

"No one, other than you has spoken to me about these bonds. I have not personally made this statement to you or to anyone else. I am assured by members of my staff working on this matter that they have made no such statement. As a matter of fact the Attorney General, in the performance of his responsibilities, is not concerned with the marketability of the bonds.

The members of my group and I believe the Attorney General has made it very clear that there would not even be any reason for him to make the statement that he was accused of making since it is no concern of the Attorney General as to whether or not the bonds can be sold.

The legal phase of the situation is the concern of the Attorney General. The no-litigation certificate which was signed by these officials was a necessary prerequisite to his issuance of an approval. We can see no good reason to attempt to implicate the Attorney General in their decision to sign and file the no-litigation certificate.

I notice that in your letter that you make suggestion as to the responsibilities of all of us toward the building of better schools and a better America. The members of my group and I would like to express an opinion about this. We do not believe that either better schools or a better America will ever be built on a policy that ignores our laws and our constitution. We do not believe that the acceptance of dictatorial decisions by public officials will contribute anything beneficial to this country. We believe that schools are built for the purpose of education. We think that the children in these schools should be taught the contents of the constitution of this state so that maybe they will be able to understand the cause of this trouble.

America was built by people who left the old countries to keep from bowing their heads to despotic decisions by public officials. They came here and established a constitutional government. This is the foundation on which this country was built. It will not be made better but worse by disobedience to our laws and our constitution.

We have never petitioned the courts to require the officials of this district to do anything more than obey the law. It is unfortunate they have not chosen to do so.

The members of my group and I would like to express our appreciation for the time you spent with us in the discussion of this matter.

I hope this correspondence has helped to clarify and correct some of the questions that have arisen since the beginning of this controversy.

Sincerely yours,
Edd Muncy

rodeo arena each night. Floydada's merchants and employees will be dressed in western attire and there'll be lots of fun for every member of the family.

The Hesperian extends a big "welcome" to the old timers and we'll be on the street interviewing and taking pictures of them. These interviews and pictures will be used in our big 75th Anniversary edition on which we are now working and should be published about the middle of July.

"COULD I see the man who was arrested for robbing our house last night?" the man asked the police sergeant. "This is highly irregular," he replied. "What's the reason?" "I want to ask him how he got into our house without awakening my wife."

I'VE ALWAYS taken my hat off to the fellows who give of their time to the youth baseball program... and I still do. However, now that I'm involved as a coach in the league, I'll have to be honest and admit that I'm thoroughly enjoying it.

For years I have given the program some money and they would leave me alone... as far as giving some of my time. This year, I have a boy old enough to play, so the league officials were fast to put me to work.

No doubt about it, the fellows who give of their time and money enjoy it, or they wouldn't be doing it.

Of course, I've had to re-schedule my entire life around the baseball program. I've given up Saturday afternoons to baseball practice, two nights a week to play, and last week I re-scheduled my vacation until after the baseball season is over!

Each year, a considerable amount of work is involved in getting enough money to run the program. For years the merchant has taken the brunt of this cost.

A good friend of mine came up with what I believe is a good idea for financing the program next year. It is a very simple suggestion, simply charge $5.00 registration fee on each player.

This makes sense. It isn't the merchant's responsibility to keep the program going. True, the merchant who sponsors a team gets some reward in the form of advertising... but the responsibility for the costs of operating the league should be taken by the parents of the boys who play.

True, some will not be able to pay the $5.00... and it will be necessary for the profits of the concession stand to carry these boys.

A MARRIED couple reminisced about the "old days." "By the way," mused the husband, "I wonder what ever became of the old-fashioned girls who fainted when a man kissed them?"

"What I'd like to know," retorted the wife, "is what happened to the old-fashioned men who made them faint."

Cotton Is Sick

The spring meeting of the Crosby County Cotton Organization will be held May 31, at 7:30 p.m. in the Lorenzo High School Auditorium. This will be the last meeting until fall.

Lowell Richardson will give slides from the Cotton Producers Institute for the program. Also on the agenda will be a demonstration by a 4-H team on "Cotton Is Sick". Interested residents in Floyd County are urged to attend.

A New Diet Control

In the realm of physical fitness emphasis is placed on weight control. It is fashionable to be concerned with muscle tone, body structure and chemistry. However, we are equally concerned with our spiritual diet. I have yet to hear of a man who has died of heart disease to any great length.

Some, today, suffer from inflammation or spiritual "FLEEBITUS". The spiritual heart - the source of all conduct - is inflamed with hate, one is seriously ill, (1 John 3:15-16).

Many church members have a "WEIGHT PROBLEM" and they "wait" for others to do their work. Then there is the "HOOF-IN-MOUTH" Disease so epidemic in this part of the country. Weak members - to the phone and mouth classified material to others should never have been repeated. (Lev. 19:16).

Some suffer from "FLEEBITUS". As soon as the word is said, they "flee before someone bites us." Many have suddenly taken ill with "HYPOCHONDRIA" or a morbid anxiety about health. They imagine themselves mistreated, persecuted or neglected and this is usually difficult to overcome. (Heb. 5:12).

All these chronic conditions and ailments may be cured by fever (an abnormal amount of temperature) in a "hot-head", (James 1:19), or by chills (a cool head) which causes shivering and cold shoulders.

The best remedy for these is activity, proper long talk with the Great Physician, who is on call 24 hours a day every day of the week.

Autograph Party Held For Author, Mrs. Lon Smith

On Wednesday evening of last week in the chapel of the First Baptist Church, Mrs. Lon V. Smith was honored with an autograph party. The occasion was the publication of her book, "Twenty-two Devotional Talks".

The short program opened with a tribute to Mrs. Smith as a civic leader and friend by Mrs. J. M. Willson, who mentioned that Mrs. Smith was Chairman of the Floyd County Red Cross during World War I, helped to organize and was first president of the 1922 Study Club which started the first library in Floydada, was president of Floyd County Federation of Women's Clubs and served as Floydada Postmaster during the strenuous years of two wars. A further tribute to Mrs. Smith as a Sunday School teacher was paid by Mrs. Ted (Carol) Bell. She spiced her tribute with the humor of telling about Mrs. Smith's pausing at the entrance to a restaurant to ask if alcoholic drinks were served there, as she did not wish to patronize it if they were. But the porter, not knowing Mrs. Smith, replied, "No, Lady. If you want your liquor, you has to go 2 blocks further down the street."

Then a final tribute as a church member was paid by Mrs. Smith's pastor, the Rev. Floyd Bradley. Among other things he mentioned that Mrs. Smith always listened to his sermons without going to sleep and that Mrs. Smith's prayers were an inspiration to a pastor. He praised her as possessing a "soul-winning quality."

The guests then passed to the church parlor where Mrs. Smith autographed books for men, women and children. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Smith's Sunday School Class, the Women's Missionary Union, and Mrs. Ralph Johnston.

The serving table was laid with an exquisite, imported cut-work cloth. It had as a centerpiece beautiful white glads, a gift from Mrs. Smith's sister-in-law, Mrs. H. F. Hawkins. The glads were effectively arranged in fan-shape with one of Mrs. Smith's books attached at the center. Mrs. Smith greeted all guests and expressed appreciation of their presence.

FLOYD PHILOSOPHER WONDERS:

Should College Students Picket Farm Where Fences Are Weak?

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm this week discusses college students or foreign affairs, we aren't sure which.

Dear editor:

I noticed in a copy of a newspaper I was reading last night in between gun fights on a western that a bunch of college students have been picketing the White House, protesting the U.S. policy in Viet Nam and the Dominican Republic, on the grounds it's wrong.

I kept on reading but never did find out what they thought would be the right policy.

What they don't know, but what me and Secretary of State Rusk and the other foreign policy experts have known for years, is that the right policy generally can't be determined till years later.

Handling foreign policy is like raising a child. You try to do what you figure is right at any given moment, but whether you were right or wrong doesn't come out till the kid is grown and half the time, whatever it was you did, you can't remember what it was.

In fact, lots of times, the kid will turn out all right, regardless of what you do. Lots of kids grow up in spite of their parents, and I have a notion foreign policy operates along the same lines. Of course to be fair, it ought to be brought out too that lots of parents turn out all right despite their kids.

Also, I have a notion that college students protesting foreign policy is about like high school students picketing a university on the grounds the college students aren't studying hard enough, and grammar school pupils picketing high schools, and kindergarten kids picketing grammar schools. Since there's nobody left, this leaves the kindergarten kids free to act on their own, but you never hear much out of them on foreign policy.

When a crisis turns up in foreign affairs, if you're going to wait till you're absolutely sure you're right, you won't get much work done, which is why I wouldn't be interested in the job.

Foreign affairs is like a doctor - patient relationship. When a man's sick, he wants a doctor, whether the doctor knows what's wrong with him or not. The least the doctor can do is prescribe something.

By the way, if those college students find out about how I run this Johnson grass farm, they'll find so many things I do wrong they could picket this place from now on, which wouldn't be a bad idea, if they'd stand where the fence is weak, to turn my cows. Mine isn't as good as the White House's. Yours faithfully, J.A.

SIGN WILL HAVE TO GO - The sign shown above T. J. Coleman, Jr., and the cemetery east of Floydada will have to be changed. During the recent improvements the new archway was put up and the sign painted, however, it has been found that the name pictured is a patented name. The cemetery has been named For-Rest Lawn Cemetery. (Staff Photo)

Work At Cemetery Still Progressing

Although countless improvements have been made in the appearance of the colored cemetery work still needs to be done. One of the things that would improve the looks most is for the individuals who have relatives, or friends at rest there to clean up those graves.

T. J. Coleman, Jr., is chairman of the clean-up group under the auspices of the Interested Citizens Organization. Carl Plumlee and Bill McNeill were instrumental in the work done with the use of their equipment in getting the roads in better shape.

According to a spokesman, about $300 - $500 worth of work and improvements have been completed on the grounds. One of the next steps will be to put gravel in the drive-ways and add some more trees. Some of those were put out last week.

One of the big drawbacks at the cemetery is the lack of water to keep what plants are out there green and growing.

The improvements started in the latter part of March. The cemetery has been officially named the For-Rest Lawn Cemetery. This will be painted on the entrance arch.

FLOYD DATA

ATTENTION PATRONS OF THE FLOYDADA SCHOOL DISTRICT

We invite your attention to some of the statements that have appeared in various issues of the Floyd County Hesperian concerning the School Bond sale.

One of which is this: "The Attorney General said if bonding companies would buy them, he would approve their sale". This is contrary to what the Attorney General stated in a letter to one of the plaintiffs attorneys. He stated, "I have NOT personally made this statement to you or to anyone else". NO ONE other than you, (the attorney for the plaintiff) has spoken to me about these bonds".

A release from the "District" appeared in the April 22, 1965, issue of the Floyd County Hesperian stating - The District through its bond attorney took up the question with the ATTORNEY GENERAL as to whether the two suits pending were litigation of such a nature as would prevent approval of the bonds by the Attorney General. After lengthy conversation with the District's bond attorneys, the Attorney General ruled that neither of such suits was of such a nature as to jeopardize the bond issue or to prevent him from approving such bond issue.

We again invite your attention to the statement of the Attorney General in a letter written to an attorney for the plaintiffs - "NO ONE OTHER THAN YOU HAS SPOKEN TO ME ABOUT THESE BONDS." (The conversation to which the Attorney General refers took place after Ralph C. Johnston and L. D. Simpson signed a no-litigation certificate, had the certificate filed with the Attorney General, and secretly sold the school bonds.)

The "Extra" issue of the Floyd County Hesperian dated April 10, 1965, stated that these bonds were sold March 19, 1965. (The no-litigation certificate was not signed until April 5, 1965, and information from the purchaser indicates they would not buy bonds until they were approved by the Attorney General. This approval would come AFTER THE NO-LITIGATION certificate was filed by the officials of Floydada School District. (The no-litigation certificate was dated April 5, 1965. The news of the sale reached the Hesperian April 9, 1965.) (The bond sale resulted from the willingness of Ralph C. Johnston and L. D. Simpson to sign a no-litigation certificate.)

This information brings up several interesting questions. Some of them are: Why did the people responsible say the Attorney General said "if bonding companies would buy them, he would approve the sale?" (He did not make this statement.)

Why did the Hesperian state that the bonding attorneys for the District had lengthy conversations with the Attorney General concerning the suits and bonds? (The Attorney General said he talked with NO ONE CONCERNING these bonds except the attorney for the plaintiffs.) (This conversation was after the certificate was signed and the bonds were sold.)

Why the school officials did not reveal in the "extra" issue of the Hesperian that L. D. Simpson and Ralph C. Johnston had signed a NO-LITIGATION certificate.

Why the two school officials would sign a NO-LITIGATION certificate and thus certify (attest to the truth) that there was no litigation pending which would affect the provision for payment (levy of tax on taxable property) or the security (property in the district) when there were two suits pending and a 1963 Court Judgment that has not been complied with.

Why would they sign a statement that so far as they know and believe no litigation was threatened and then later in a release in the Hesperian (April 22, 1965) say that it was their conviction that if the bonds were not sold in secrecy that another suit or suits would have been filed delaying issuance of the bonds? ? ?

Whether or not all the members of the Board know the facts concerning the bond sale. (We understand that Mr. Tooley of the Hesperian was present at the meeting of the Board of Trustees when Mr. Johnston stated the Attorney General said if Bonding Companies would buy them he would approve their sale. (The Attorney General has made it very clear that he made no such statement to ANYONE ! !).

Anyone who wishes to see a photostatic copy of the letter from the Attorney General concerning this matter may do so by contacting one of the plaintiffs on the School Tax Suit.

Red Sox Take Braves In Season Opener

The Red Sox and the Braves fought for the first two innings of the season opener Monday night with the Red Sox slightly leading 2-1, but in the third the Sox broke the game open with a four-run rally to pull ahead 6-1 and stay in the lead throughout the game.

The Sox iced the game with a three-run inning in the fifth. Steve Puckett was the winning pitcher as he allowed only 1 run on two hits. The run was unearned so, does not count against his record. Biggs was the losing pitcher as he allowed 9 runs on 10 hits. Five of these were earned runs. The Red Sox left a total of 9 men on base and the Braves left 4 on base.

Greer Becomes Odessa ME Mentor

Nick Greer, who has been with the Floydada school system only one year, has resigned to become head mentor at an Odessa school.

Pirates Down White Sox

The Pirates of the T-Shirt League, after leading the White Sox for most of the game, had to come from behind and overcome a 9-7 deficit to pull a victory out of the game. The Pirates downed the White Sox 10-9.

At the end of the first inning, the Pirates led 3-0 and went on in the second inning to move ahead 7-2. The White Sox came alive in the third and got another three runs and in the fourth added four to lead after four complete innings 9-7.

The Pirates rallied during the fifth to pull ahead 10-9 and stay there.

Baptist Teen Time To Feature Mike Bourland, Baylor Captain

Mike Bourland, '65 Baylor Bears Captain, will be one of the special speakers for the Teen Time Program which will be held at First Baptist Church, Floydada May 31 through June 4.

MIKE BOURLAND

Captain Bourland is a graduate of Paschal High School of Fort Worth. He is the President of the Baylor Chapter of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the largest chapter in the nation. He is, as one of the coaches says, a fine leader, not only on the football field and in class, but also in spare time activities.

Mike first distinguished himself with his blocking in 1963 which was one of Baylor's finest seasons. No one ran over him or whipped him all season regardless of the fact that he faced several 225 and 230 pounders; which is saying a lot since he weighed only 195 pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lyles will be here on one night to help both the ladies and the gentlemen with their personal appearance problems. Mrs. Lyles, the former Linda Rodgers, was first runner-up in the Texas Miss America Contest in 1963 and then went to Chicago where she won first place in the contest among all the First Runner-up candidates.

Other program personalities for the week will be Ann Swepston, Bible teacher; Bobby McGuire, with slides and stories of a trip around the world; Elizabeth Ramos, a Cuban refugee enrolled at Wayland Baptist College; and Sgt. Fred Marshall who is with the Department of Public Safety.

Mrs. Travis Jones, Director of the Teen Time program, invites all of the youth of the community to be present each night at 7:30 p.m.

Selman Blasts First Homer Of Season

Andy Selman, pitcher for the Mets, of the Freshman League, blasted the first home run of the year Monday night as his team tied the Cardinals after eight innings 9-9. There were two men on base at the time of the connection, giving the Mets three runs with one blow.

The two teams fought to the tie after eight innings and it was agreed by the managers to call it a tie, giving each team 1/2 game won and 1/2 game lost. Therefore, there was no winning pitcher and there was no losing pitcher.

Selman went all the way for the Mets, but the Cardinals threw Dyson, DeLeon and Southern against their counterparts. Dyson went for 2 2/3 innings, DeLeon 3 1/3 and Southern 2.

Selman gave up nine runs on seven hits. Four of the runs were earned. The three Cardinals pitchers gave up nine runs on eight hits and four of these were earned. The Mets left nine on base and the Cardinals abandoned only two of their players on the bases.

Petersburg And Floydada Split 3

The Petersburg and Floydada Senior League teams completed a three-game series Monday night with each team taking 1 1/2 games.

During the past two weeks the teams have played match games with Floydada winning the first, the second was called a tie after 11 innings and the one Monday went to Petersburg by a 7-6 margin.

John DeLeon, Weldon Emert, and Danny Medley were the pitchers for the locals. Emert was the losing pitcher.

DeLeon started the game and looked very good, according to Coach Ted Viramontes. Emert, who has not pitched before relieved DeLeon, gave up two hits, walked one and struck out 5. Medley came in to finish the game for the locals and he too looked good on the mound.

Kerry Bearden led at the stick getting three hits out of four trips to the plate. Wilmer Bonner and Ronnie Hill backed him up with two hits of four trips. The team did not work out last week, due to final exams at the schools, so it was around the fifth inning before the locals began to play at their regular good pace.

Next Tuesday the team will play Abernathy or Hale Center in another practice game. The first conference game will be played at Lockney against Lockney 1 in the new $12,000 park. The first home game will be against Matador June 7.

Reduction Of Excise Tax On Automobiles Expected

The House Ways and Means Committee has approved legislation which, if enacted into law, will reduce the excise tax on automobiles. According to a leading car manufacturer, the effective dates and the excise tax rates proposed are shown in the following table:

| July 1-December 31, 1965-7% |
| January 1-December 31, 1966-6% |
| January 1-December 31, 1967-4% |
| January 1-December 31, 1968-2% |
| Effective January 1, 1969 - No excise tax. |

It is also proposed the reduction to seven per cent be made retroactive to cars delivered on or after May 15. This means that, if the excise tax cut becomes law, anyone who takes delivery of his car between the period May 15 and the date the legislation first becomes effective will be eligible for a tax refund of approximately three per cent of the wholesale price. It is important to note, however, that no reduction in the excise tax on trucks has been proposed or is anticipated.

Although the legislation has not actually been passed, it is important that auto companies be prepared to handle the tax refund when such legislation becomes effective. One company plans to issue checks directly to the first legal owner of the vehicle sold at retail, using the retail delivery card as the primary device for validating the customer's claim for a refund. The local car dealer's responsibility is to make sure that the "date" item on the retail delivery card is the exact date of retail delivery, defined as follows:

"The date of retail delivery will be the date the retail customer actually accepts delivery of the vehicle by taking physical possession of it either directly or through his agent. Thus, the date of the sale may or may not be the same as the date of the dealer invoice to the customer or the date of actual payment by the customer."

This definition of date of retail delivery applies only for the purpose of determining eligibility for excise tax rebates and is not intended to change the definition of date of sale for accounting records or other purposes. It is important, however, that auto dealers have a uniform definition to be used during the period that may be covered by the retroactive feature of the excise tax legislation.

Hesperian Introduces Community Writers

Mrs. J. E. Green has been writing Center News for the Floyd County Hesperian for some 15 years and prior to that was reporter for the Center Home Demonstration Club. She is a pioneer of Floyd County, coming to the Plains in the early 1890's with her parents, K. J. and Margaret Bolding Matthews. They settled east of Mt. Blanco in Crosby County and for several years made their home in a dugout as it did most in those days. Mrs. Green's sister, Nannie, was born the second year after their arrival and Mrs. Matthews did not survive the hardships and died a brief time after. Mrs. Green's paternal widowed grandmother came from Alabama and helped raise the Matthews children.

Mrs. Epsie Dillard Matthews resides in Borger. The two girls, Fannie, (Mrs. Green) and Nannie taught school for a number of years, mostly in Crosby County. Nannie was married to Will Latta both now deceased. Mrs. Green's brother, Tarp, lives in Hillsboro. In 1921 Mrs. Green's teaching career ended when she married. Her husband also lived in Mt. Blanco before entering the Navy in World War I. The couple lived northeast of Floydada and in the Center Community on the D. I. Bolding farm for over 30 years. Their five children finished school at Center, then Floydada High and later Wayland College. The boys did graduate work elsewhere from California, to Australia, and Germany. All became members of the Center Baptist Church.

The oldest, a son, Jimmy, lost his life in the South Pacific during World War II. Victor lives at Plainview, Clyde at Peralta, N. Mex., Don Clark at Big Spring, and Margaret, Mrs. J. M. Ryman Jr., lives in Texas City. Mr. and Mrs. Green also have ten grandchildren.

Senator Rogers Believes Women's Equal Rights Bill To Be Harmful

Much interest has been generated during our current legislative session over a proposed amendment to our State Constitution. This is usually referred to as the "Women's Equal Rights Bill" or S.J.R. 6 or H.J.R. 6. This amendment, if passed, would place men and women in the same legal position in ALL matters. The legal status between the sexes provided for in a good number of our laws need changing and updating. Many do not. I take this opportunity to outline to you some of the reasons why I cannot, in good conscience, vote to add such an amendment to our State Constitution.

presently a presumption in a divorce case that the custody of a minor child should always go to the mother. By making men and women equal, would the mother have to spend unnecessary time and money in fighting for the custody of her children? Under this amendment, I think she would. Second, the Criminal Law of Texas makes it a crime to falsely slander a woman's virtue. But, under H.J.R. 6, since the woman would be equal to a man, she would be fair game for every four-mouthed individual, and she would have no legal protection.

Let me begin by saying that I do not nor will I ever advocate the oppression or subjugation of women. I strongly believe that the community property law of Texas is good law, but that certain archaic statutes need revising in order to improve the legal rights of women. Under the new amendment, women could be forced to work as many hours as are men. There would be no reason to differentiate between working conditions. Or, the situation could go the other way with men demanding the same protection as women; thus, driving many employers out of business.

Most of the support for this far-reaching constitutional amendment comes from a group of respected and generally well organized women's clubs. In this instance, I am convinced some one has sold these fine ladies "a bill of goods" that could do harm to many of them as well as jeopardize the interests of the vast majority of women and mothers, their homes and children, who do not belong to these clubs.

There is a law which excuses mothers of young children from jury service. Under the "Equal Rights" amendment, mothers could be forced to serve on a jury while the care of your children is left to others. Here you can see an example of why men and women should not always be treated equally. In most of these laws, there is an over-riding social policy in favor of the sanctity of our families and homes. Again, this equality could boomerang and the fathers of young children could demand to be excused from jury service thus severely hampering our most precious judicial heritage. Under this amendment, there would be no reason for the wife to join in the sale of a couple's homestead. Presently, she is protected from losing her home due to an unscrupulous husband selling the house out from under her.

Compliments, Senator Andy Rogers

HUMPY'S CHUCK WAGON DINNER

(Reported by Janice Rhine)

A chuck wagon style dinner was served in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Marquis by the greatest chuck wagon cook, Humpy Briggs last Friday night. Briggs, better known as Humpy has chucked on some very big ranches, such as the Matador Ranch. He has retired from full time chucking, but for special occasions he still cooks and he loves it very much. He lives now with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Marquis.

The entire meal was cooked out in the backyard. The special guests were Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Guthrie. Others present were Rev. and Mrs. Gilbert Rhine and Janice; Mr. and Mrs. Travis Corley; Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Parkey; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Marquis, Sherree, Kim and little Billy.

The menu consisted of fried chicken, french fries, pinto beans, salad, green onions, peach cobbler, tea and coffee, and of course Humpy's famous sour dough biscuits. The meal was certainly enjoyed by all that were present.

After the meal everyone enjoyed the Hymns and Western songs sung by Billy and Betty Marquis. Then as Billy played the guitar all the group sang many songs of different types.

Spray new Caparol after cotton is 6 inches high to control weeds.

Control most annual broadleaf weeds and grasses in cotton with new Caparol* herbicide. Simply apply as a directed spray to the base of your cotton when it is six inches or higher.

You'll get good knockdown of weeds and grasses that are less than two inches high... plus some killing action through the roots of later-germinating weeds.

The cost of this treatment, when Caparol is applied in a 10 inch band, can be as little as 85 cents per acre. Compare this with the per acre it would cost you for hoe hands.

Later on in the season, you can go in and make a layby application of new Caparol to control weeds until the cotton is high enough to shade them out.

With new Caparol, you'll have no reason to worry about soil residue carryover to harm next year's spring-seeded crops.

Ask your supplier for new Caparol.

Tribute

Walter Mack Travis

(Editors note) The following is a memorial tribute to young Walter Mack Travis, who attended schools in Floydada and who died recently in Houston. His father, Walter, was superintendent of Floydada schools and his mother, Ruby, taught school here, before they moved to Dumas then to Houston.

The following was taken from the "Intercom" magazine, published by and for the personnel of St. Luke's Episcopal and Texas Children's Hospital in Houston.

For six months, handsome, twenty-nine-year-old Walter Mack Travis made St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital his home. Because of kidney failure, Mack was a patient in the Roderick Duncan MacDonald Renal Unit where his blood could be cleaned at regular intervals by means of the artificial kidney. Approximately once a week for the entire period of his hospitalization, Mack would be connected to the artificial kidney by the two tubes, or cannulae, which had been implanted under the skin of his arm to withdraw his blood. Waste materials were removed from the blood by the machine, using the same principle as the kidney itself. Disposable cellophane coils immersed in a specially prepared solution allowed molecules of undesirable substances to be withdrawn from the blood and molecules of needed substances to be added. This process, hemodialysis, kept Mack Travis alive for six months. It was hoped that a kidney transplant might eventually restore him to health. Before this was possible, however, Mack lost his long fight for life. He left behind a wife and small son, mother, father, grandmother and many friends at the hospital who had come to love him during the months he was in their charge.

The pupils from the Dougherty district who are graduating from the Floydada High School this Friday began their school careers with Mrs. Tiner as their primary grades, Mr. Tiner was their teacher until they went to Floydada at the beginning of the eighth grade.

Mr. and Mrs. Darcy Cage of Los Angeles, Calif., were weekend guests in the home of his uncle, J. G. Cage. They are enroute to Baltimore, Maryland.

Roxie DeWese accompanied a choral group from Plainview High School to Dallas over the weekend.

A large number of parents and friends from our community attended the Baccalaureate sermon and reception at Floydada Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Davenport and son were guests in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Overstreet last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Smith and sons visited relatives in Amarillo and Sherman last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ross and Tommy were weekend guests in the home of her brother, Darrell Blasingame of Levelland.

Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Holly returned home Sunday night after attending the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. Dora Campbell. The deceased, age 87, passed away Friday morning after an extended illness. The funeral services were at 2:30 p.m. Sunday in the Eastland Funeral home chapel. Interment was in the Eastland Cemetery.

Mrs. Gene Alexander, 40, of Lubbock, died at 9 p.m. Friday at the Goodnight Hospital. She had been critically ill several weeks and her mother had been with her constantly. Other relatives had been most faithful in their attendance at her bedside. She was well known and loved in this community. She actively participated in the activities of the youth of her church in Lubbock.

Survivors include the husband, a son, David, two daughters, Claudia and Judy, all of the home; two brothers, Henry Hinton, Dougherty and William, Happy; two sisters, Mrs. Lois Hughes, White Deer, and Mrs. John Lyles, Hale Center; her mother, Mrs. Ada Hinton, Dougherty and her father, J. P. Hinton, Tahlequah, Okla.

Among the friends from our community planning to attend the funeral of Mrs. Alexander are: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Morris-son, Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Cage, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Covington, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Poole and Mrs. J. T. Poole.

For various reasons some of the Mothers Day celebrations were not reported last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Foster complimented his mother, Mrs. E. S. Foster with a turkey dinner May 9. Her son, Bill Foster of Santa Fe was present and visited with her 2 or 3 days. Also the Earl Foster's daughters and families were present.

Jacque Crawford participated in the National Piano Guild Audition in Plainview Sunday. She is a pupil of Mrs. Kirk. At this time she has not received her rating.

Kenneth, Sue, Mary and Bill Ring and Richard Rogers visited Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ring Sunday.

Two minor wrecks near Lockney in the past week caused only minor injuries in only one of the wrecks. The occupant of the vehicle in the second mishap was not injured.

Last Thursday, around 5:25 p.m. in a rain storm, a collision involving a '53 model truck and a '65 Dodge Dart caused only slight scratches from pieces of glass.

Hansford Smith Flippo of Tulla was traveling south in the truck about 6 miles north of Lockney when his truck stalled as a result of the heavy rainfall. Moments later the auto, driven by Joe Derrel Phillips of Lockney came upon the truck. Phillips tried to pass the truck but was meeting traffic and in his attempt to stop drove the right front window into the rear of the truck.

About $720 damage was reported done to the car.

Sunday afternoon Joe Epitaco Previno, of Lockney, driving a 1963 Plymouth sedan missed a curve about 1 mile southeast of Sterley and flipped his car 1-1/2 times. The vehicle came to rest on its top.

Previno was given a citation for driving at an unsafe speed.

The family requested that in lieu of flowers, donations in Mack's memory be given to the Renal Unit at St. Luke's Episcopal Hospital. The response was overwhelming. Contributions poured into the fund in unprecedented numbers, totally unlike memorial remembrances ever received for another patient. Since Mack's mother, Mrs. Ruby Travis, is a Supervisor of elementary schools for the Houston Independent School District, contributions came from many of these schools. Also there were some from Bible classes and women's groups, industrial firms and individuals. There was a check for $50.00 from friends in Houston, and one for $33.00 from friends at a pipeline company in Kansas City, Missouri. $50.00 more came from the Trunkline Gas Company where Mack had been employed. Each day brought its dozens of checks, some for $5.00, others for $10.00, $12.00, $15.00, and $20.00. Many were from Houston, but others from Sugarland, Alice, Dallas, San Angelo, Amarillo, Madisonville, Fort Worth, Dayton, Perryton, Eagle Lake and White Deer in Texas, as well as from Tulsa, Oklahoma and Independence, Kansas. Officials of the hospital had never witnessed such an outpouring of love and esteem for any patient as that shown in memory of Walter Mack Travis. As this issue of INTERCOM goes to press, the money is still coming in. The total at present is over $1300.00, an unprecedented amount from spontaneous widespread memorial donations. The money will be used to help other patients who need treatment in the Renal Insufficiency Unit.

Time To Plant Irrigated Pastures

Now is the time for planting irrigated pastures. The past few weeks have seen several farmers and ranchers start preparation for planting irrigated pastures. It has been determined that as many as 20,000 acres of steeper slopes in Floyd County need to be established to permanent grasses to protect the land from wind and water erosion.

Midland bermudagrass and switchgrass are best adapted for irrigation on the High Plains of Texas. Considerably more Midland bermudagrass has been established in Floyd County.

The best time for planting Midland bermudagrass in this area is from March 15 to August 1. Switchgrass should be planted between December 1 and August 1. Time of planting within these ranges depends on the availability of irrigation water and the amount of ground cover desired the first growing season. These grasses require irrigation and fertilization for satisfactory production. This should be considered when other crops are also to be grown under irrigation, because the peak use of moisture by these grasses comes at the same time as for crops such as cotton and grain sorghums.

The Soil Conservation Service, working thru your local Soil Conservation District, will be happy to help you. They will assist you with your grass plantings and management problems.

Kitchen & Field News

SCHOOL IS OUT! SUMMERTIME IS HERE! AND, IT'S PICNIC TIME AGAIN - - - But what is more fun for EVERYONE THAN A PICNIC-SO LET'S GRILL 'EM - FEED 'EM - AND FILL 'EM. - - - Speaking of picnics and picnic time I am reminded of the excellent article that came in FOOD NEWS AND VIEWS, by Martha Logan, May-June issue from Swift and Company, Chicago, Ill. a few days ago: "Due to the extreme popularity shown, here is an article that appeared in a previous issue of FOOD NEWS & VIEWS. The article was authored by R. A. Greenberg, Ph.D.; Chief Microbiologist, Swift & Company) Summer and the picnic season take the family out of doors for many meals. Hearty appetites cause tender fried chicken, combination meat sandwiches, and crisp salads to disappear like magic under the warm sunlight. Unfortunately, warm sunlight can also detract from the enjoyment of outdoor eating. Germs capable of causing severe gastrointestinal upsets thrive in picnic foods which have not been adequately refrigerated. Keeping foods chilled is a simple rule, as are other common-sense habits that add up to safe picnicking. The manufacturer of food products has good reason to ensure that any item bearing his label is pure and wholesome. A potent team of highly trained government and industry scientists is constantly on the alert to prevent any possible hazard in foods up to the time of purchase. FOODS ARE SOMETIMES MISHANDLED The overwhelming majority of food poisoning outbreaks are traceable to mishandled food in the home. One of the chief villains in the picnic picture is a golden-hued bacterium, impressively named: Staphylococcus aureus. This germ is found practically everywhere; for example, on the skin, in the soil, on dust particles, in the sprays from nozzles and coughs. Troublesome bacteria can easily find a way into your picnic lunch once the food packages are opened in the home kitchen. Under suitable conditions, the organism can multiply undetected in a food and produce a poison guaranteed to make life miserable for anyone unlucky enough to eat it. The trick is to keep conditions unsuitable. Our golden enemy needs a fairly warm environment in which to produce the poison. About 4 hours above 50 degree F. will produce the poison in food containing this bacterium. Thus, keeping the picnic basket out of the warm sunlight is a good rule. Make sure that susceptible foods - such as salads, cream pastries, cheese, cured and salted meats, sandwiches, casseroles, and other moist prepared foods - are kept properly chilled. Families who carry food any distance from home and the home refrigerator would do well to invest in an attractive modern cooler that is insulated to keep food cool. Some even have separate compartments for food and ice. OTHER TROUBLE MAKERS A group of bacteria called Salmonella is also potential cause of post-picnic distress. They produce a true gastrointestinal infection rather than a poison. Although the symptoms produced by Salmonella infection are not usually as severe as those caused by Staphylococcus aureus poisoning, they usually persist much longer, 3 to 4 days compared to 12 to 24 hours. The Salmonella may be introduced into foods by one of several routes. Obviously foods should not be handled by anyone suffering from nausea, diarrhea, or other gastrointestinal upset. However, many people are unwitting carriers of these bacteria. They harbor the germs in their bodies without having symptoms of the disease. Salmonella are often found in low numbers on the surfaces of uncooked food. The germ can be picked up easily by the hands while handling raw vegetables, meats and poultry, and subsequently introduced into sandwiches, salads, custards, and other prepared foods in which bacteria can thrive. GUIDES TO SAFE PICNICS 1. Keep processed foods such as custards, meat salads, egg or potato salads and moist sandwiches chilled or piping hot to prevent the growth of bacteria. Don't allow these foods to remain in the 50 degree to 120 degree F. range more than four hours. 2. Chill thoroughly such foods as fried chicken, baked ham, meat loaf, and fried fish before putting them in the picnic hamper, or better yet, into a cooler if the food will not be eaten for several hours. For hot service heat over the grill at the picnic grounds. 3. Don't handle foods if you have any gastric upset. 4. Wash your hands thoroughly and often. This is particularly important if you have handled raw foods and intend to prepare salads, sandwiches, and other foods that receive

no further cooking before being served. 5. Keep insects and animals away from foods during preparation. 6. Remove cooked chicken from broth immediately to cool before using in salads, sandwiches, and creamed dishes. 7. Wrap sandwiches and other prepared foods carefully before packing into the picnic hamper! The above article should prove helpful to any who are in doubt about the preparation and care of "picnic dishes".

Local Firemen Extinguish Two Blazes

The local Fire Department was called to three fires this past week and extinguished only two of those. The third report came Monday when the old dump ground was being burned off and an anxious neighbor reported a house to be on fire. Last Friday the Department was called to Barwise Elevator to put out a fire in a boxcar that was used for storage. Someone was burning weeds near the boxcar used to store onion sacks when the flames spread to the car itself. The sacks had to be removed before the flame could be extinguished. The second fire occurred Saturday morning at 619 E. Grover. It was learned that a mattress had caught on fire, which was removed from the house, and the only damage done was attributed to the smoke. One of the residents of the house thought a child was inside while the firemen were working there, but this proved to be untrue. Monday when the dump ground was being burned off, about four calls came to the department reporting the fire.

Rural Route Change Due August 14

The consolidation of two Lockney rural routes and two Floydada rural routes with the switch of some rural boxes from a Lockney route to a Floydada route is due to be made August 14, according to a letter to Senator John Tower which he released this week. The letter was written by Charles H. Ryan, deputy assistant postmaster general in Washington to Mr. Tower in explanation of the proposed change. Much opposition both here and at Floydada has been expressed to the change but apparently, unless county people raise a lot more opposition, the change will be made. The plan is to consolidate the eastern end of Lockney Route 2 with a Floydada route, meaning that those people in the Liberty and Cedar Hill communities will start getting mail out of Floydada instead of Lockney. Also part of Route 2 will reportedly be given to Route Q out of Lockney, which is a star route. The end result would be that there will be but one rural route out of Lockney and three star routes, while there will still be the same number of routes out of Floydada. Also it means that there will be patrons on all routes who will not get their mail until sometime in the afternoon. Ryan told the Senator that a "representative number of families were interviewed and only five objected." Petitions have been sent to the post office department opposing the move and bearing more than 100 on May 28th. Those not doing so stand a chance of receiving a water penalty, like a dunking in a tank on the Courthouse square, according to members of Retail Sales Committee. Wearing of the apparel and the penalty was agreed on at a regular meeting by the committee held last week. Bill Hale, Willie Bradshaw, Dan Haggood, Don Pemberton and Robert Turner are on the committee to advise merchants of these plans. Sidewalk tables will also be placed in front of business and are to be placed on the sidewalk on Friday, May 28th. The wearing of Western attire is to be worn both Thursday and Friday. The group discussed "Appreciation Day" for employees of United Transport and Dallas Mavis Inc. The Chamber of Commerce is planning a picnic for the two local companies which will probably be held in late June or July at the Floydada Country Club.

PLANT THE BEST COTTONSEED MONEY CAN BUY!!
Cottonseed costs 3 to 8% of all cotton production costs, depending on whether you buy the best field selected seed or higher priced seed from a breeder.
The production of seed that we have for sale has been supervised by experienced seedsmen and is the first year progeny from certified breeders seed. Varietal purity of this seed has been maintained through proper isolation, cleaning of harvesting equipment, ginning the seed in large lots and large batch acid delinting.
Our seed is climetized by Mother Nature to plains conditions as it is produced locally. This seed is selected from fields free of verticillium wilt that are mature at harvest. Mature fields produce high germinating seed that have good seedling vigor and resistance against seedling diseases. Our seed is cullled closely during the acid delinting process and treated with a mercurial type chemical which gives protection against seed borne diseases and fungus. The Texas Department of Agriculture runs germination tests on all our seed to insure that we know our germination percentage.
Your best cottonseed buy is Big 4 Seed at only 3% of your cotton production costs.
Ask about Big 4 seed at Delta, Inc., Crosbyton, Texas, Phone 2621.
