Winds Hit Gridiron Tomorrow Night

Close Game With Post Expected

"We'll get experience in a hurry."
 These are the words of Coach Bill Curry concerning the game tomorrow night when the Whirlwinds invade Post Antelope territory and try to hold onto a winning streak over the host team.

The last two years has seen very close games, and last year at Wester Field the locals had to come from behind and win the game by one point in the final quarter of the game.

Football Contest Begins This Week

The Hesperian Football Contest Page that received so much response last year will begin again this week. The first of the pages can be found on page 6, of Section B of today's Hesperian.

The rules are simple and easy to follow. A person will merely circle the team he thinks will win in each of the 25 games listed on the page. He will also guess at the total points to be scored in the game indicated and in the space provided.

The contest pages must be in the Hesperian office, or postmarked prior to 5 p.m. Friday afternoon. Some pages are not received until Saturday morning but were postmarked in time to be counted in the contest.

The Hesperian staff asks that you patronize the merchants making this contest page possible and show your appreciation for it.

The sponsoring firms are McDonald Implements, Builders Mart, First National Bank, Oden Chevrolet, Daniel Automotive, Norrell Tractor Parts, Caprock Motor Parts, Rucker's OK Tire Store, South Plains Co-op Gins and Elevator, Parker Studio, Piggly Wiggly Wylie Petroleum, Martin and Co., Moore Funeral Home.

Hasley Motor Service, City Auto, Inc., W. M. Tye Drilling Co., United Machine and Supply, Collins Implement Co., Carmack Feed and Seed, Floydada Implement Co., Sanders Pump and Drilling, Floyd County Co-op Gins, Ponderosa Meat Co., and Farm Bureau Insurance.

After the Antelopes encountered the Whirlwinds last year the team dropped into a slump and never did fare as well as was expected in pre-season. However, the Post team lost two of its top quarterbacks as a result of the game here and were never able to develop another signal-caller with the leadership ability needed to make the team move.

Several lettermen will return from last year's 3-7 season. Four of the returnees saw some starting action last year and will likely provide the mainstay of the Post attack this year. However, the Post team is having difficulty with depth for only 16 or 17 boys will be expected to see much action this year, according to Glenn Gregg, head mentor for the Antelopes.

This year's Antelopes will be slightly lighter than last year's when the visiting Post team outweighed the locals almost 20 pounds per man.

The Whirlwinds will be calling on a lot of "B" team experience during the encounter and through the first half of the season. By the time conference play starts it is hoped the young team has gained enough experience and confidence to tackle the district teams in Whirlwind style.

Presently injuries are hurting the Winds, as is the usual rule this time of year. The Hale Center scrimmage game took care of one of the quarterbacks, Darrell Monday, for the first half of the season.

Presently barring injuries and unexpected improvements in certain positions the starting line-up Friday night should read:

The Winds second game will be against the Canyon Eagles here Friday night, September 9.

Voting On Constitutional Amendment Set

The balloting on the first of eleven Constitutional amendments to be approved or disapproved by the voters of Texas is set for next Tuesday, September 7. Voting places are listed below.

Ten additional amendments will be decided November 2 at another special election.

The amendment to be voted on September 7 has to do with raising the membership of the State Senate from 31 to 39, while retaining the present membership in the House of Representatives. The amendment would further provide that the State Senate be apportioned on the basis of population, and the law limiting each county to not more than one Senator would be repealed.

The amendment is brought about because of the U. S. Supreme Court's recent ruling that both houses of the State legislature must be apportioned on a population basis. The increase in the membership is due to the efforts of the Senate to prevent some of its members from opposing each other in subsequent elections, following the re-apportionment of the districts.

Also, with both houses selected on a population basis the control in both the State House of Representatives and the State Senate would shift virtually all the controlling power in the state legislature to the urban and suburban areas. The rural areas would have less voice than previously, unless the membership in the Senate is increased. (See Editorial on page 4 of Section B in today's Hesperian.)

The polling places for Floyd County in Tuesday's vote are: precinct 1, First National Bank; 2, Club House at Starkey; 3, Allmon Gin; 4, Sandhill Community Center; 5, Lockney City Hall; 7, Providence School; 8, Lone Star School house; 9, south Plains School; 11, Cedar Hill Baptist Church; 13, Baker Community Center; 15, Lakeview School; 16, Harmony Community Center; 17, Fairmont Baptist Church; 18, Lockney First Method; 19, City Hall of Floydada; 20, Dougherty School; 21, Sterley Community Center; 22, McCoy Gin; 23, North end of hallway in Court house. The special canvassing board will meet in the County Clerk's Office.

Pickup Train Wreck Slightly Injures Two

A pickup-train collision on east Highway 70 in Floydada left the two occupants of the pickup with slight injuries. The accident occurred around 11 p. m., according to investigating officers.

Alonzo Gonzales was driving a late model pickup and his son, Oscar Rene Gonzales, age 7, was a passenger when the two vehicles collided. Reports were not complete according to the local Police Department as to whether the train hit the pickup or vice versa.

However, the right front side of the pickup suffered heavy damage. The two occupants were taken to the local hospital and were released early this week.

Engineer of the train was C. C. Hunter of Slaton.

The polling places for Floyd County in Tuesday's vote are: precinct 1, First National Bank; 2, Club House at Starkey; 3, Allmon Gin; 4, Sandhill Community Center; 5, Lockney City Hall; 7, Providence School; 8,

Mackenzie Water Authority Board Makes Progress At Tulia

Outgoing president of the board Lon Davis of Floydada presided at the meeting which was attended by the following board members: Bill Brown and S. W. Ross of Floydada; Tom Moore and O. C. Bailey of Lockney; Milton Dudley of Silverton and John Ziegler of Tulia.

Some Firms To Close Labor Day

According to the Retail Merchants Committee of the Chamber of Commerce next Monday, Labor Day, is not an official holiday, however, several firms will be closed in recognition of that day.

Most of the retail business will continue to operate as usual but government offices, utility firms, the bank, court house offices and schools will be closed that day.

The five recognized holidays by the committee include Christmas, New Years Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day and Thanksgiving. Most businesses close on these days, but this is of course, optional with the manager of the firm and is never meant to be dictated by the committee.

Friday, Saturday and Monday are Dollar Days in Floydada for most retail merchants.

zel Wofford, 44 year old Lockney beauty operator.

According to the local sheriff's office, no new evidence has been turned up in the slaying. Officials were in Plainview Tuesday questioning a man but interrogation was routine and no specific link to the Lockney case was indicated.

The body of Mrs. Wofford was found in the hallway of her home in Lockney August 23. An autopsy performed showed she died of "death by strangulation."

There also was evidence that she had been criminally assaulted.

District Atty. John B. Stapleton said that officers interviewed other people after the last suspect washed out.

"The people we've talked to now are probably all in the clear," he said, adding "we felt like we had some real good prospects. We're still working, but we don't have anything that looks as good as something we had in the past."

School officials said that after two weeks school registration would increase substantially.

which are all but forgotten, and certainly are never enforced, and probably never were. Some prize examples of odd laws include the following:

In Maryland, the law states that six visits to the home of a girl are equivalent to a proposal of marriage.

In Portland, Me., it's against the law to tickle a girl under the chin with a feather duster.

In the state of Washington, you can't carry a concealed weapon more than six feet long!

Oysters are regarded as animals in Maryland, and you can go to jail there for being cruel to an oyster.

One of the oddest of all the odds is this gem from Kentucky: "No female shall appear in a bathing suit on any highway within this state unless she is escorted by at least two officers; or unless she be armed with a club." A later amendment stated: "The provisions of this statute shall not apply to females weighing less than 90 pounds nor exceeding 200 pounds; nor shall it apply to female horses." (Did you ever see a horse wearing a bathing suit?)

THE BIG barbecue at the Bill Poole home at Dougherty last Friday night was interesting and enjoyable to me from several points of view. It is certainly symbolic of the flavor of "Western Hospitality". It is characteristic of the great state of Texas because it was big. It was big from the standpoint of over 300 pounds of beef barbecued in an open pit and from the over 350 persons who attended from several area cities. There was also the feeling of a host who had a big heart. This was evident from the many who attended and the warm friendships that were renewed.

It was an enjoyable event to me, not simply for the good food, but from the pleasure of visiting with the people who attended. I'm sure I've seen the biggest back yard I'll ever see. . . I suppose it was big enough for a football game.

Our thanks again to Mr. Poole for his hospitality and the memory of a very enjoyable evening.

THE LATE F. M. Dougherty and Bill Poole had long planned the barbecue that was held last Saturday night. However, Dougherty passed away before the plans ever materialized.

They were life-long friends and they certainly would have enjoyed hosting the event together. This was the message that Mr. Poole wanted to deliver to the gathering Saturday night.

Although Mr. Dougherty could not be present, he was certainly present in the heart of Mr. Poole.

I ALWAYS looked forward to school when I was a "youngun" with mixed emotions. Back-to-school time meant that I usually got some new coveralls and shoes. . . and I always looked forward to new school supplies.

There was a lot of security in having a brand new pencil to go in that slot in the bib of the coveralls. . . and later on a $1.98 pocket watch which I received for Christmas to go in that watch pocket also in the bib.

And of course attitudes change in regard to attending school as children grow older.

This year it was interesting to note that our children in the grade school were still concerned that Mary Tom or I help them on registration day. However, our teenager over in Junior High was quick to tell us that parents wouldn't be needed in her room on registration day!

In other business the board adopted an official seal. Brown and Long were appointed to secure design for letterheads and other correspondence needs of the board.

Senator Andy Rogers was present and Davis praised him and representative Ralph Wayne for their work in getting the authority bill through the state legislature.

Representatives of the Tulla and Floydada papers, H. M. Baggary and Wendell Tooley, were present; Don Bookout, attorney for the authority; the mayor and city manager of Tulla; and city attorney of Lockney.

The program will be Delbert Downing of Midland. The meal will be served by a catering service.

Downing is a native West Texan - born in Stephens County and moved to Midland in 1938. The Downings have three married children and five grandchildren.

Downing is a former businessman, former overseas field director for Red Cross, former Chamber of Commerce manager and now devotes practically full time to lecturing and writing.

In recognition of his services to others he has been honored with the Silver Beaver award from Boy Scouts of America; honorary member of the state organization of Future Homemakers of America and a State Farmer. He is an honorary member of Lions, a past president and active member of Rotary and a Life Member of the Jaycees.

The First Christian Church receives a great deal of the Downing family time and talents. He teaches the largest Sunday School Class in Midland and is active in Christian Men's Fellowship activities both locally and on a State level.

A newspaper woman dubbed him "The Perry Como of the lecturing platform", claiming he was the most relaxed storyteller that she heard.

Adding to his already imposing list of accomplishments Delbert Dean Downing is now an author. His book titled "On the Dark Side of Midnight", is in book stores, according to the Carlton Press of New York, its publisher. Downing, himself, describes the book as "scraps of things that I have written and said down through the years. It is a pot-pourri of whimsical humor and curbstone philosophy".

Perhaps the best insight into the character of this unusual man can be gained through the off-hand remark he made to his Sunday School Class when he said: "insofar as possible I try to do everything that anybody asks me to do."

Everyone should enjoy this humorist - philosopher - not because he is a humorist nor because he is a philosopher; but because his faith in his neighbors and in his country is so evident that it becomes contagious and flows out to his audience.

It is hoped that greater attendance can be obtained soon. Sunday School services were not held on July 25, Aug. 15, and Aug. 22, though there was a worship service on the middle date. There was fine attendance on Aug. 8. It was found later that had all who came or were in a position to come, done so at one time, the first two dates there could have been both Sunday School and church. With such a small number to begin with, it is highly important that as many as possible come. But with about 30 miles separating some of the members, communication is not easy. A fair number came for the two services on Sunday morning, the first in Kingdomtide. In Protestantism in general this season ends the Christian year, and is filled with significant dates and themes, such as "Festival of Christ the King", and emphasizes on world peace and order, United Nations Day, Reformation Sunday, Laymen's Day, education, etc. The first Sunday in October is rich with meaning as "Worldwide Communion Sunday." The promotional record made available features Andy Griffin and his son, Opie, solving a spiritual question, with Bishop W. Andie Smith also telling of the valuable work being done with the offerings taken then, for "The Fellowship of Suffering and Service."

Candlelight Ceremony Unites

Ruby Cumbie, Tommy G. Barker

A candlelight ceremony Saturday evening in the Lone Star Baptist Church united in marriage Miss Ruby Faye Cumbie and Tommy Lynn Barker. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Weldon Cumbie and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin A. Barker all of Route 1, Lockney.

Rev. Burl Yates read the double ring vows at 7:30 before an altar appointed with candelabra bearing yellow Cathedral tapers, enhanced with greenery and yellow bows. Baskets of yellow gladioli and bronze chrysanthemums completed the setting.

Nuptial music selections of "Twelfth of Never" and "The Wedding Prayer" were sung by Vernon Norris accompanied at the piano by Mrs. L. G. Rhine.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of imported nylon organza over net and taffeta. The controlled silhouette was trimmed with appliques of re-embroidered Alencon lace, with lace bordering the hemline which swept into a chapel train and attached to the waistline with a small bow. The fitted bodice was fashioned with a bateau neckline, delineated with lace motifs and long tapering sleeves.

Her veil of silk illusion was held to a queen's crown of tiny pearls and crystalized tulle braid. She carried a bouquet of white roses atop a white Bible.

She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from the groom, and a penny in her shoe bearing her birth date.

For something old she wore a wedding ring belonging to her late maternal grandmother, Mrs. Sam Caldwell; something new was her wedding attire; and something blue was the traditional garter, a gift from Cindy Day of Floydada.

Miss Cecile Cox of Plainview was maid of honor and cousins of the bride, Mrs. Jack Dunlap, Hale Center and Mrs. Phil Morgan, Fort Worth, were bridesmaids. They wore yellow steeple length dresses of polished cotton and yellow wristlets. They carried bouquets of bronze mums. Their gowns were designed with bell shaped skirts, rounded necklines and elbow length sleeves. They wore headpieces of matching fabric in cabbage rose design which held short veils.

Miss Cindy Day, Floydada and Donnie Proctor, Brownfield, were candlelighters.

Harlan Crume of Lockney was best man. Ray Grant of Lubbock and Ted Wimberly of Hereford were groomsmen. Ushers were Jack Dunlap of Hale Center, Phil Morgan of Fort Worth and Bruce Horton of Floydada.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Cumbie selected a parakeet blue imported Italian silk sheath with black accessories, white hat and gloves. Mrs. Barker wore a beige linen sheath with lace covered bodice and brown accessories.

For the reception which followed, the bride's table was laid with a white cloth appointed with crystal, bronze candelabra and yellow candles. The attendants bouquets and a three tiered colonnade cake completed decorations.

Members of the houseparty included Miss Nadine Cumbie, Lockney, cousin of the bride, who registered guests and Misses Sue Pigg, Kress and Janice Lewis, Silverton, who served.

For a trip to points in New Mexico and Colorado, the bride changed to a blue silk knit suit, black patent accessories, white hat and kid gloves. After September 5 the couple will live in Canyon at Lynetts Apts.

The bride is a member of Phi Gamma Nu honorary business sorority. She and her husband are both 1963 graduates of Plainview High School and both will be juniors at West Texas State University this fall. The groom previously attended Texas Tech.

A rehearsal party at Raymond's Restaurant in Lockney was hosted by the groom's parents.

MRS. CARL LYNN JACKSON (nee Carolyn A. Franklin)

Carolyn Franklin Is Bride Of Carl Lynn Jackson

Miss Carolyn Ann Franklin became the bride of Carl Lynn Jackson in a double ring ceremony read at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, August 27 in the First Baptist Church in Floydada. Elder Joe Jackson, father of the groom, officiated at the ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Neil of Floydada and Elder and Mrs. Joe Jackson of Cone.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of delustered satin with long tapering sleeves. The fitted bodice featured a cummerbund and large fabric bow at the back center waist with tiny covered buttons down the back and on the sleeves.

The bell shaped skirt fell into a chapel length train. Her tiered veil of illusion was attached to a pearl crown, and the bridal bouquet was a large white Cattalaya orchid atop a white Bible, a gift from the groom. Streamers of white satin showered with white feverfew blooms cascaded from the Bible arrangements.

The mothers were attired in royal blue dresses with matching accessories. Both wore shoulder corsages of pink Sweetheart rose buds.

Mrs. Eddie Verett of Ralls served the bride as matron of honor. Other attendants were Miss Bennie Galloway of Floydada, maid of honor; Miss Susan Simpson, Floydada and Mrs. Don Sanders of Earth, bridesmaids.

Feminine attendants wore steeple length yellow delustered satin dresses fashioned identically to the bride's gown. They carried cascade bouquets of yellow and white feathered carnations accented with yellow satin and net to complement each dress. Their bouquets were later placed around a five branched candelabra to form the wedding reception centerpiece.

The groom's uncle, Beck Nance of Cope, Colo., was best man. Other attendants were Jimmy O. Daniels, Levelland; Eddie Verett, Ralls; and Spike Wideman, Cone.

Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Bob Copeland, organist; Miss Bennie Galloway and Miss Susan Simpson, soloists. The selections were "Whither Thou Goest" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Miss Lory Pierott of Ralls was the bride's flower girl and Steve and Kevin Verett of Ralls served as candlelighters.

Guests were registered by Miss Carol Ann Doss of Lubbock.

Conley Bradford and Clinton Fawver of Floydada, Larry Bice of Happy and Elvin Verett of Lubbock were ushers.

The wedding scene was formed with a large tree-type candelabra in the background holding votive candles in crystal cups. Spiral candelabra bearing lighted tapers flanked the setting. Floor baskets of mixed white and yellow gladioli and brass stands holding palms of woodwardia ferns completed the scene.

A reception in the chapel parlor followed the ceremony. Guests were served by Miss Beverly Helms and Miss Janice Kraushar of Littlefield. A three tiered wedding cake featured the traditional miniature bride and groom.

For travel to points of interest in Texas, the bride chose a white two piece cotton suit accented by the orchid taken from her bridal bouquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackson will reside at 1512 26th St., in Lubbock. Both are graduates of Floydada High School. Mrs. Jackson attended South Plains College of Levelland and is currently employed by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce. Her husband is a student at Texas Tech.

ON FARM TOUR

Group Views Progress Resulting From FHA

An interested group of businessmen and farmers saw what resulted on farms after the Farmers Home Administration made possible working and improvement capital on a farm tour conducted by the FHA last Friday morning.

The five-stop tour showed the improvements made in farming operations through home buying through FHA.

The first stop was on the O. C. Vinson farm operated by Jerrold Vinson. Vinson is cooperating with the Halfway Research Foundation in the use of interplanting cotton and milo in a skip row pattern. Vinson planted two rows of milo, skipped a row, planted two of cotton, etc.

With such a planting pattern the operator can irrigate the entire field with only one-third the water normally required and still give most of his crops sufficient moisture for every row of the crops less than 20 inches from moisture during irrigation. Capillary action of the water usually will saturate the soil for a greater distance than necessary to reach the crop.

The second stop was at the Albert Galloway, Jr., farm where a sound livestock program was observed. Other features of the Galloway were the recharge system of an irrigation that has been in operation for about six years, and weed control by flame cultivation.

At the home place of Jerrold Vinson the group saw what progress can come out of home loans through the FHA. The family has a very modern brick farm home that was completed only this past year.

At the Steve Trowbridge farm in the Harmony community several varieties of cotton and milo were observed. A row crop program plus a sound livestock program make a good diversified farm program.

The fifth stop was at the Craig Edwards farm where water conservation and crop rotation are being carried out. Edwards is planning to almost double his last year's production on the farm this year.

Alfred Harrison, local Farmers Home Administration supervisor said of the tour, "We here at the FHA wish to express special thanks to the four gentlemen for allowing us to tour their farms and for explaining their operations to the people. We also wish to thank those who attended the tour for showing an interest in FHA and what it is doing."

Two improvements made to Floyd County farms through the Farmers Home Administration are shown in the photos above. In the top photo Al Galloway and Harrison look into the return of a

Many Attend Barbecue At Poole Home

Over 350 persons from this community, area towns and some from out-of-state attended an old fashioned barbecue in the back yard of the Bill Poole home near Dougherty last Saturday night.

Around 300 pounds of beef were barbecued in an open pit with Fred Cardinal, Dr. Warren Poole, Billy Stanforth, and Robert Ward in charge of the barbecuing. Dale Goen and Dan Hagood assisted in the slicing of the barbecue.

Guests were entertained by Jim and Velma DeWese and their three daughters Jeanine, Roxie and Bennie who played and sang during the evening.

Instrumental numbers were played on electric guitars by Jim DeWese and Fred Cardinal. Henry Hinton and his three sons James, Ray and Dean sang during the evening also.

There was plenty of time for everyone to eat and visit during the evening and the renewal of acquaintances was the highlight of the event.

Wind - Hale Center Scrimmage

The inexperienced Whirlwinds traveled to Hale Center last week, suffered the usual injuries, ran up against an almost unmovable defense and an explosive offense, but came home in good spirits and ready to meet Post tomorrow night.

During the scrimmage the Owl's great halfback, J. D. Davis, was unable to see action due to an injury in practice. He is expected back with the Owls for the district contests.

Although Hale Center is in Class A this year, in 1966 and 1967 the Owls should be in district 3-AA with the Whirlwinds.

On the Hale Center roster are the names of every team in 3-

AA except Floydada.

When the first teams of the two schools clashed last week, Hale Center came out on the long end of the game with two touchdowns to Floydada's none.

The B teams then clashed and the Whirlwinds came out on the long end of that contest by one counter.

During the scrimmage Darrell Monday hurt a ligament in his leg that should sideline him until conference play begins.

Presently three of the five experienced secondary men are not in condition to play in Friday night's contest.

During the scrimmage the locals, weighing around 160 pound average, were outmanned by about 10 to 15 pounds. Most of the teams the locals meet this year will have this edge also.

and accepted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Southern Administrative Division business office in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Terms of the contract call for multiple applications of ultra low volume, undiluted malathion to cotton in a control zone now estimated at 250,000 acres. Aggregate acreage to be sprayed is set in the contract at one million, plus or minus 25 percent.

The Boll Weevil Control program, a project of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. is an all-out effort to prevent the dread insect from spreading westward across some two million acres of High Plains cotton located above the Cap Rock. It is financed by cotton producer and State funds matched by money from the Federal government. High Plains producers in 1964 contributed 50 cents per bale to the effort, but PCG's Area-wide Boll Weevil Committee has reduced this figure to 40 cents per bale for 1965.

The increased spray cost from about 13 cents per acre in 1964 to this year's 26.7 cents is said to be largely the result of improvements made in the 1965 program. According to D. H. Russell, District Plant Pest Control Supervisor, Lubbock, Roane will be required to furnish a minimum of 24 aircraft this year with 7 more on standby as compared to 12 aircraft specified in last year's contract. Accounting for this increase is the fact that the first three sprayings this Fall will be made at from 5 to 7 day intervals instead of 10 to 14 day intervals as in 1964.

Other requirements added to this year's contract include on-site mechanics to assure continuous operation of aircraft, pressure gauges in booms to improve control over the volume of material being applied, and additional flagmen and loading equipment.

NEW FOR '65
60 SERIES BASKET ATTACHMENT with air system and boll separator
FOR JOHN DEERE 77 AND 277 COTTON STRIPPERS

Now, John Deere offers a new harvesting convenience and a simple, low-cost means of reducing field labor for owners of 77 and 277 Cotton Strippers.

The new 60 Series Basket Attachment is available as optional equipment for these two strippers when mounted on "3020," "4020," "3010," or "4010" Tractors. It eliminates the burden and extra labor generally associated with trailer-type harvesting, and it makes cotton stripping strictly a one-man operation.

Mounting is simple and easy. The 2,000-pound basket and frame are attached with eight bolts. The exclusive air-delivery system mounts on the stripper cross auger and is driven by a single V-belt from the tractor PTO.

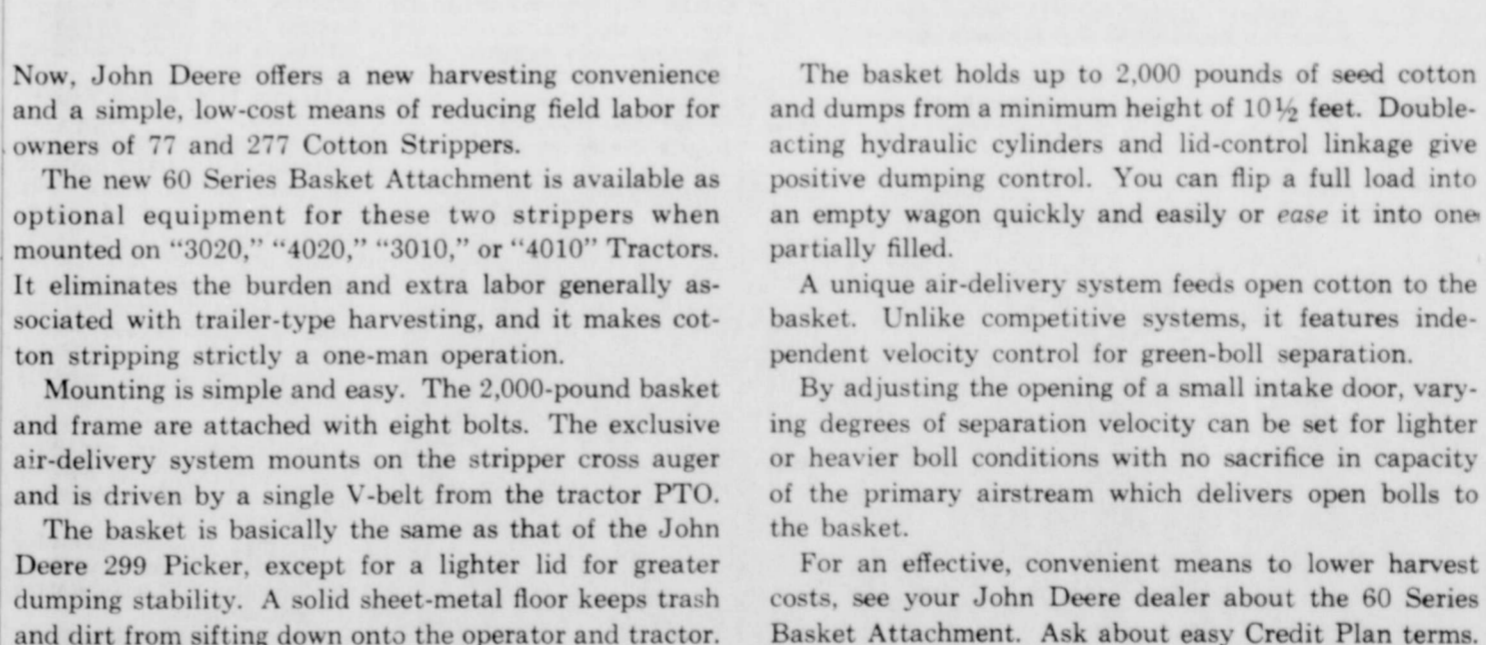

The basket is basically the same as that of the John Deere 299 Picker, except for a lighter lid for greater dumping stability. A solid sheet-metal floor keeps trash and dirt from sifting down onto the operator and tractor.

The basket holds up to 2,000 pounds of seed cotton and dumps from a minimum height of 10½ feet. Double-acting hydraulic cylinders and lid-control linkage give positive dumping control. You can flip a full load into an empty wagon quickly and easily or ease it into one partially filled.

A unique air-delivery system feeds open cotton to the basket. Unlike competitive systems, it features independent velocity control for green-boll separation.

By adjusting the opening of a small intake door, varying degrees of separation velocity can be set for lighter or heavier boll conditions with no sacrifice in capacity of the primary airstream which delivers open bolls to the basket.

For an effective, convenient means to lower harvest costs, see your John Deere dealer about the 60 Series Basket Attachment. Ask about easy Credit Plan terms.

FLYING SERVICE LOW BIDDER
Boll Weevil Spray Contract Let
 The Plant Pest Control program at a price of $2.14 per gallon, or about 26.7 cents per acre.
 The contract was let on competitive bids and went for the second year in a row to Roane's Flying Service of Jeanerette, Louisiana. Roane's bid was eight cents per gallon below Clark's Aerial Service of Brownfield, Texas, second low bidder. A third company seeking the contract, Mueller Flying Service of South Huron, Michigan, bid $2.38 per gallon. The low bid was declared official.

and accepted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Southern Administrative Division business office in New Orleans, Louisiana.

Terms of the contract call for multiple applications of ultra low volume, undiluted malathion to cotton in a control zone now estimated at 250,000 acres. Aggregate acreage to be sprayed is set in the contract at one million, plus or minus 25 percent.

The Boll Weevil Control program, a project of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. is an all-out effort to prevent the dread insect from spreading westward across some two million acres of High Plains cotton located above the Cap Rock. It is financed by cotton producer and State funds matched by money from the Federal government. High Plains producers in 1964 contributed 50 cents per bale to the effort, but PCG's Area-wide Boll Weevil Committee has reduced this figure to 40 cents per bale for 1965.

The increased spray cost from about 13 cents per acre in 1964 to this year's 26.7 cents is said to be largely the result of improvements made in the 1965 program. According to D. H. Russell, District Plant Pest Control Supervisor, Lubbock, Roane will be required to furnish a minimum of 24 aircraft this year with 7 more on standby as compared to 12 aircraft specified in last year's contract. Accounting for this increase is the fact that the first three sprayings this Fall will be made at from 5 to 7 day intervals instead of 10 to 14 day intervals as in 1964.

Other requirements added to this year's contract include on-site mechanics to assure continuous operation of aircraft, pressure gauges in booms to improve control over the volume of material being applied, and additional flagmen and loading equipment.

"All of these things," Russell said, "contribute to higher costs for the contractor, but at the same time should give us a much more effective program."

Entomologists believe that beginning 1965 sprayings about 10 days earlier and making more frequent applications will break the reproductive cycle of the weevil. If so, the overall effectiveness of the program could be increased nine-fold.

Donald A. Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., has indicated that 40 cents a bale from producers together with a carry-over from 1964 should provide adequate funds even at the increased cost of aerial application. He commented that this is largely due to the high percentage of producers (over 97 percent last year) who contribute to the program.

NEW FOR '65
60 SERIES BASKET ATTACHMENT
 with air system and boll separator

FOR JOHN DEERE 77 AND 277 COTTON STRIPPERS

Now, John Deere offers a new harvesting convenience and a simple, low-cost means of reducing field labor for owners of 77 and 277 Cotton Strippers.

The new 60 Series Basket Attachment is available as optional equipment for these two strippers when mounted on "3020," "4020," "3010," or "4010" Tractors. It eliminates the burden and extra labor generally associated with trailer-type harvesting, and it makes cotton stripping strictly a one-man operation.

Mounting is simple and easy. The 2,000-pound basket and frame are attached with eight bolts. The exclusive air-delivery system mounts on the stripper cross auger and is driven by a single V-belt from the tractor PTO.

The basket is basically the same as that of the John Deere 299 Picker, except for a lighter lid for greater dumping stability. A solid sheet-metal floor keeps trash and dirt from sifting down onto the operator and tractor.

The basket holds up to 2,000 pounds of seed cotton and dumps from a minimum height of 10 1/2 feet. Double-acting hydraulic cylinders and lid-control linkage give positive dumping control. You can flip a full load into an empty wagon quickly and easily or ease it into one partially filled.

A unique air-delivery system feeds open cotton to the basket. Unlike competitive systems, it features independent velocity control for green-boll separation.

By adjusting the opening of a small intake door, varying degrees of separation velocity can be set for lighter or heavier boll conditions with no sacrifice in capacity of the primary airstream which delivers open bolls to the basket.

For an effective, convenient means to lower harvest costs, see your John Deere dealer about the 60 Series Basket Attachment. Ask about easy Credit Plan terms.

Here's how the exclusive air system works...

In the delivery system, a jet airstream is created by a powerful 16-inch fan, mounted above the cross auger opening. The fan forces air upward through a tapered jet nozzle, causing a low-pressure area. Air rushes into this partial vacuum from the cross auger opening, the green-boll discharge opening, and through the air-adjustment door to form the necessary airflow for green-boll separation.

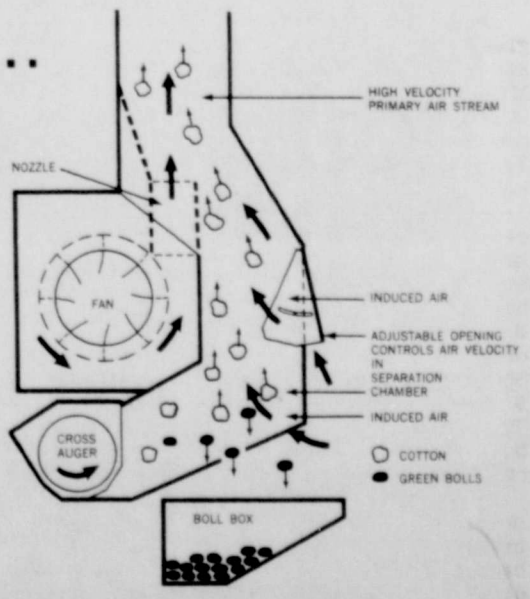

Nozzle velocity and primary airstream remain relatively constant, according to fan speed. However, velocity in the separation chamber can be finely controlled by simply adjusting the opening of the small intake door (see diagram).

If green bolls are especially light, and too many are being discharged into the basket, the operator can bleed more air through the intake door and reduce airstream velocity in the separation chamber. If, on the other hand, too much open cotton is falling into the green-boll box, he can shut down on the opening for increased velocity and optimum separation.

Cotton touches no moving parts in the delivery system. There are no elevator or auger conveyors, and no material passes through the enclosed fan. Therefore, seed crackage, green-boll cracking, cotton staining, and embedding of pin trash are held to a minimum.

The green-boll box has a 10 cubic-foot capacity and dumps like a clamshell. A lever, close to the tractor seat, allows the operator to dump bolls while the tractor is standing or moving.

Floyd County Six-Year Cotton Production 113,715 Bales

According to a report released by the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. Floyd County production has averaged 18,952 bales for the past six years. This is somewhat above the county's average of 18,000 bales to produce this year. The total for 1965 is 113,715 bales. The breakdown is: 1964 - 120,174; 1963 - 112,908; 1962 - 113,080; 1961 - 105,149; 1960 - 107,416; and 1959 - 123,564.

The production came on an average of 103,457 acres of planted cotton. In 1959 the county had a 107,106 cotton acreage and last year after reapportionment the county had 102,297. On the High Plains the 1-913,100 bale cotton crop in 1964, while smaller than the 1963, registered slight quality gains over 1963 in most categories.

In grade, the crop was 57.3 per cent White as compared to 37.5 per cent in 1963 with a drop also noted in the percentage of Light Spotted and Spotted cotton. Staple average for the season came out 301. thirty-seconds of an inch, three-tenths of a thirty-second over last year's average of 29.8 thirty-seconds.

Also, there was more cotton grown in the 23 counties with staple length of one inch or more. Only 2.7 per cent of the 1963 crop fell in this category, while in 1964 5.8 per cent of total production measured one inch or longer. This indicated, perhaps, that more farmers tried producing longer stapled cotton in 1964 through changing varieties or cultural practices.

No Drought Here Farmer Catches Nine Inches Rain

Up until the last few days the Floyd County area had been suffering from a drought. And with only slightly more than seven inches of moisture recorded in Floydada this year it is safe to assume that the area is in quite a dry spell. However, such is not the case at the L. N. Johnson farm northeast of South Plains. His rain gauge has registered a total of nine inches moisture in the last two weeks. Five inches of this fell last Monday.

Mrs. Bryant Higginbotham also reported plenty of moisture on her place with seven inches recorded in the last two weeks. Three and one-half of this fell also Monday afternoon.

Rainfall around South Plains varied from the amounts just mentioned down to .2 of an inch. South Plains proper caught 4 1/2 inches in Monday's deluge.

What appeared to be a heavy shower just after noon yesterday between Floydada and Lakeview dumped amounts of up to one inch on some farms.

Floydada received .33 of an inch in Monday's shower. This brings the August total rainfall to 1.05 inches and the year's total to 7.12.

Co-Founder Of Lockney Celebrates 98th Birthday

One of Lockney's beloved senior residents and a co-founder of the town - Mrs. Alice Baker - celebrated her 98th birthday last week.

Most of Mrs. Baker's 11 children and numerous descendants visited her at the Lockney Convalescent Home, where she now resides.

Seventy-four of Mrs. Baker's 98 years have been spent in Lockney.

Secret Is Hard Work

The secret of her longevity is said to be "hard work."

Until about four years ago when her health failed, the pioneer woman managed the Baker Mercantile Co. here. Two of her daughters, Mrs. Dimple McGavock and Mrs. Lee Seaman operate the store. Mrs. Baker still owns it.

Baker Mercantile Co. Is believed to be the area's second oldest business. The oldest is said to be White and Kirk, Amarillo, established more than 70 years ago and just before Baker Mercantile Co. came into existence.

Both still are operated under the original names.

Van Zandt Native

Mrs. Baker is the former Mrs. Alice Ratliff. She was born Aug. 25, 1867 in Van Zandt County, and was married at age 18 to J. A. Baker. From their home in Hamilton, Baker came to "Promised Land" on the Plains of Texas. They staked claim to a section of land, 5 miles south of the present town of Lockney in Floyd County.

In June 1890, he moved his family west. They camped six weeks on the courthouse lawn at Floydada, while lumber was being freighted from Amarillo to build a house.

Mr. and Mrs. Baker were instrumental in founding the town of Lockney. Baker Mercantile Co. was established there in 1894. Mrs. Baker served as storekeeper, banker and postmaster while her husband was busy freighting. He died in 1917.

Dillard Love Reunion Held

The 19th annual Dillard and Love Reunion was called to order Sunday, August 22nd in the Childress Fair Park by its President, Rev. Horace Reeves of Plainview.

A short song service was led by Jess Bowen of Wichita Falls, followed by the congregation standing in silence in memory of the late Orville Love and Harry Leach, who had died since the last meeting.

Recognition of the eldest and those attending from the farthest distance was made by presenting them with corsages. Rev. Lonnie Bowen of Baytown, Texas, gave a very interesting extemporaneous speech, relating comical family incidents. Joe Fortenberry gave the invocation. A large number enjoyed the basket lunch served at the noon hour and an afternoon of visiting.

TRANSISTORS BANNED

BERLIN - Communist border guards are no longer allowed to patrol the Berlin wall with transistor radios. East German refugees report. The regime banned the pocket radios when it found that many of the guards were tuning to stations in the West.

Philosopher Considers New Idea For Additional Tax Source

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson-grass farm won't get far with his idea this week, we predict.

Dear editor:

As important as every new break-through in science is, none of them can hold a candle to anybody who thinks up a new source of tax revenue.

I have thought up several in the past, like taxing rainfall in a drought area and sunshine in a rainy area, so the government would have tax money coming in, rain or shine, but haven't gotten very far with them. Yesterday I thought up another one.

According to the newspapers, the U. S. mint is now making a quarter without any silver in it, but it does have a copper band around its edge so it'll have the proper electrical properties to work in the nation's 12 million coin-operated vending machines. Money that wouldn't be worth much nowadays.

At the same time, I read that four and a half million young people will be in college this fall.

I don't know why somebody hasn't thought of it before, but why don't colleges and universities set up some coin-operated machines in the hall outside every class room door furnishing answers to examinations?

Where is the student who wouldn't at one time or another give two-bits an answer for questions on an examination?

With over four million students as a prime market, the colleges could collect a million dollars on every examination. Any time a college needed to add a few books to the library or a few seats to the stadium, ask the faculty to give a special examination.

With a graduated scale, say two-bits for weekly exams, four-bits for monthly exams, and at least a dollar for finals, the coin-operated answer on Monday morning. Mrs. Spence came to Floydada to spend the day with her sister, Mrs. Charlie Wright and family.

Floyd County Fair time is coming again soon - hope everyone is getting things ready to enter in order that again it may be "one of the best". If you haven't gotten a catalog, be sure and pick up one and check carefully to see what you have that will be ready for the three big days - September 23, 24, and 25.

Now is the time to put some peppers into the freezer for a special treat next winter of STUFFED PEPPERS:

Cut large peppers in half lengthwise, remove seeds and stem. Scald in boiling water for two to five minutes. Chill. When thoroughly cooled package and freeze. Several halves may be packaged together, separated by cellophane or waxed paper, or the pepper halves may be spread on trays and frozen, then packaged while frozen. When ready to stuff remove from freezer and stuff while still frozen - place into the oven for cooking. These are as delicious as fresh peppers.

If you prefer the peppers may be stuffed before freezing - use your favorite stuffing recipe - then when ready to use remove from freezer and bake as fresh peppers.

SOMETHING TO THINK ABOUT: "Few of us get dizzy from doing good turns."

machines would do a land-office business. I'm not suggesting this, but it's well also to bear in mind that there will be nearly 13 million high school students this fall and 36 million elementary

Floyd Fair Group Plans Caravan

LOCKNEY - Plans have been made for a caravan to precede the 11th annual Floyd County Fair.

The caravan, slated Sept. 16, will leave Lockney about 8:30 a.m. and visit surrounding schools and towns. A similar caravan is scheduled to leave Floydada one day during that week. Balloons furnished by Southwestern Public Service will be distributed during the caravans.

President Hubert Frizzell announced plans for another special meeting scheduled Tuesday at Lighthouse Electric in Floydada at 8 p.m. He is urging all superintendents, chairmen, exhibitors and other persons associated with the fair to attend. Topic of discussion will be trophies, judges and passes.

Present were Mr. and Mrs. Weidon Smith, Mrs. Max Marble, Kenneth Brosch, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Reeves, Don Henderson, Boyce Mosley, C. L. Moonsey and Mr. and Mrs. Frizzell.

ANNUAL HODGE REUNION HELD

The annual Hodge Family reunion was held in the Klapp Party House in Lubbock with the day spent visiting, picture taking and enjoying a wonderful meal at the noon hour.

Seventy-five members of the family attended last year but illnesses and many other circumstances kept many home from this reunion.

Mrs. C. E. Bartlett of Floydada, who was a Hodge before her marriage, attended the event and said she visited with a niece that she had not seen in some 28 years.

Among others at the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Mayes, Sherman; Mr. and Mrs. Kyle Holloman, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Barnett, Mr. and Mrs. Don Cage and son, Mrs. Cherry Pierce, all of Lubbock;

Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Hodge all of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Truman Barnett, Ann and Sue of Crosbyton; Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Fowler, McGargel; Mrs. Beulah Reeves, Plainview; and Mr. and Mrs. Mark Hodge of Clovis, N. Mex.

students, and the field there for coin-operated answer-machines is vast, in case it costs more to get to the moon than we figured.

Of course though, about the time they got these machines going and bringing in the money, somebody in Washington would think up the idea of federal aid in quarters to help students keep paying for the answers, and everybody would be back on the same merry-go-round.

I doubt if this idea will work. Yours faithfully, J. A.

THE REPUBLICAN

Mr. and Mrs. David Battey, Jr.

LOCAL: The Floydada Young Republicans met August 2, at the First National Bank Community Room for a short business meeting concerning delegates to the Texas State Teen-Age Republicans Workshop in Dallas. Those attending the workshop August 6-8 were Cheryl Campbell and Jeanne Brewer, president and secretary, respectively, of the local group. They were accompanied by Mrs. Vance Campbell.

STATE: The lawsuit concerning redistricting of the new congressional districts will be heard in Houston by a three-judge federal court Sept. 9. Both Republicans and Democratic state officials are included as defendants in the suit. Another suit pending concerns the districts designated for members of the Texas House of Representatives.

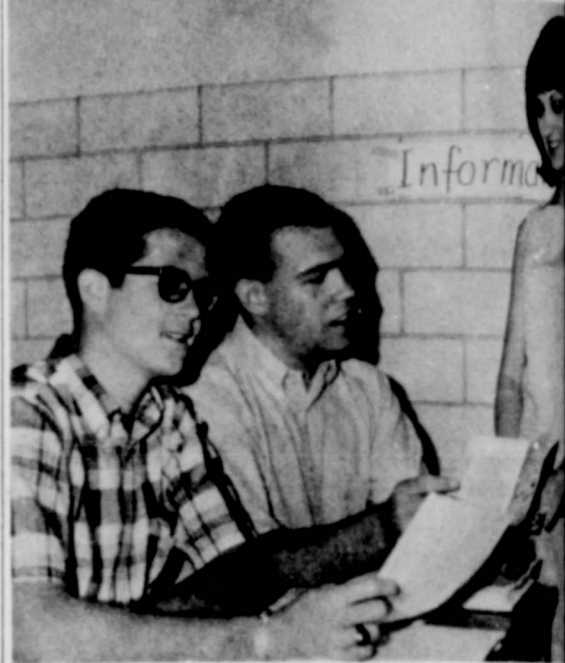

VIETNAM: In recent correspondence with Sen. John Tower, his opinion concerning the president's Vietnam policy was expressed. He said in part, "I continue to believe that the President is pursuing a correct course which when completed will do far more to assure future peace than would an abject U.S. pullout. An American withdrawal now would have staggering consequences. Quite simply, much of the modern world order rests on the knowledge that the U. S. keeps its word to its friends. If the Chinese Communists, through their tough talk and threats, can force the U. S. to retreat, then the whole world will doubt America's word and resolve. If that doubt existed, dozens of nations would waver before Communism. America ultimately would have to do more militarily, rather than less, to recover the initiative for the free world. I unalterably reject the view that if Americans defend themselves and their friends we are endangering world peace and order. I do not believe there is a compromise to be reached here between right and wrong, and American is right." John Tower

Mrs. Barnard Tells Of Trip To Asia

Mrs. J. H. BARNARD and a traveling company in China. Note the hats worn by some of the women. These people are from an old tribe and they wear the hats even while working. The picture was taken near the border between Hong Kong, new Territory and Red China.

Mrs. J. H. Barnard has returned to Floydada from an extended Asian trip which took her to Hawaii, Japan, Hong Kong, Thailand and Singapore. She was accompanied as far as Tokyo by Linda Willson who visited a granddaughter and family of Mrs. Barnard, the M. W. Vineyards, who were there vacationing. After several days visit there including numerous distant sightseeing trips, Mrs. Barnard continued her tour.

Mrs. Barnard said her air flight over was nothing compared to her luxurious return trip aboard the American President Lines, the USS Roosevelt.

What she found more confusing was the time change. She said after setting her watch ahead 24 hours upon reaching Japan, she didn't bother to change it again until reaching home.

Her tours in Japan included a visit to the Imperial Palace Plaza, Meiji Temple, Asakusa Kannon Temple, and luncheon in the gardens of the Chinzan-so Restaurant. The following day she enjoyed a full day excursion by train to Nikko and by motorcoach she visited the gorgeous Toshogu Shrine, with its intricately decorated Yomeimon Gate and Inner Shrine. She had tea with the tour group in the home of the celebrated print maker, Mr. Yoshida in Tokyo, and in the evening attended the Kokusai Theatre.

The following morning the group departed to Kamakura via Yokohama. They visited the Giant Buddha and lunched at the Hotel Fujiya in Miyanosita. By private motorcoach they enjoyed a drive through Hakone National Park, seeing Mt. Fuji and Lake Hakone and then on to Kyoto.

They had a morning tour of the Imperial Palace, Nijo Castle, Ryoanji Temple's famous rock garden and in the evening attended the festival performance of Noh plays by torchlight in front of the Heian Shrine.

On the following day the tour took them on a morning excursion to Naru, ancient capital of Japan. They visited the Todaiji Temple, Kasuga Shrine and Deer Park returning to Kyoto for lunch and the Tea Ceremony in the Doll Temple. Their dinner was at a Japanese inn.

Leaving Kyoto by private car for Osaka the group left there by plane for Taipei, Taiwan (Formosa). Upon arriving they drove to the Grass Mountain for tea at the noted hot springs resort. After a morning tour of the city they left for Hong Kong and upon arrival dined in the Roof Garden of the Hong Kong Hilton Hotel, which commands a magnificent view of the city and its harbor.

They visited New Territories, ancient walled Chinese village and burial grounds, had a border view of Red China and lunched at Shantin Heights Hotel. They had a tour of Hong Kong Islands and a sunset sail on a junk to Aberdeen seeing the fishing village, its people and life on the water boats.

They left Hong Kong the following day for Bangkok, Thailand where they toured the Royal Palace, Temple of Emerald Buddha and the Marble Temple. In the evening they attended the exciting Thai Boxing Matches. In Singapore they saw the unique waterfront, Colonial Buildings dating from time of Sir Stamford Raffles, the Municipal Building where the Japanese surrender document was signed Sept. 13, 1945, Queen Elizabeth Walk, Aw Boon Haw Villa with its beautiful collection of jade, and the Hindu Temple of Mariaman Kovil.

They departed for Ceylon the morning after where Mrs. Barnard left the group to return to Tokyo for a visit and to pick up her traveling companion.

Mrs. Barnard said she felt the highlight of her trip was at Guam and Wesley Village in Hong Kong. She said Guam was some 225 square miles in area with the total population of more than 75,000. Of this number approximately 31,000 are Guamanians. The climate is warm and humid with distinct wet and dry seasons and the average rainfall is 70 inches.

Mrs. Barnard said only small family farms were at Guam due to the thin layer of top soil. No mechanized farm implements are in abundance and carabao are the work animals. She said the Guamanians are adopting aspects of the American way of life in their dress, homes and occupations. Mrs.

Barnard's son-in-law, Com. Vineyard, is stationed at Guam at the Navy Base.

Mrs. Barnard said she thoroughly enjoyed visiting Wesley Village which was built in 1955. It is the first of three Refugee Villages built by the Methodist Church in Hong Kong. There are 80 cottages, each including a small kitchen. Monthly rent is HK $15. (US $2.50) There is a Community Center, local church, clinic, primary school, library, handicrafts company, five handicrafts factories and four noodle factories.

Mrs. Barnard continued that Wesley Village Production Company is a part of the total program of the refugee village. It is comprised of people living in the village who use portions of their small cottages for work space and contributing in a fine way to much of the progressive spirit of the Village.

The traveler said these were proud people, proud of being able to work, proud of the chance to use their talents and happy to be sharing in such efforts.

The Chinese are renowned the World over for their handicraft skill and Mrs. Barnard was able to bring back to the States many items showing their talents. Just a few articles include embroidered linens, blouses, Sweaters, robes, hand painted pictures, knitted wares, stationery and a lovely china tea set.

Mrs. Barnard said the village left her with the feeling of the testimony of St. Paul "All things work together for good to them that love God".

A book, entitled "Tales of Old Japan" was brought back by Mrs. Barnard and donated to the Floyd County Library.

39-Member Senate Merits Approval in Sept. 7 Vote

On Sept. 7, Texans will vote on a state constitutional amendment to increase the membership of the Texas Senate from 31 to 39.

A thorough analysis of the proposition leads HESPERIAN to recommend its passage.

At the same time, the newspaper urges that citizens interest themselves in the amendment and take the trouble to vote. This lone amendment — this critically important amendment — will be the only thing drawing people to the polls on Sept. 7, and a pitifully light turnout is in prospect.

The present size of the state Senate was set when the present constitution of 1876 was drawn.

As Texas' population has grown in the 20th century, the League of Women Voters points out, the Texas House of Representatives has grown in number from 90 to 150. Our congressional representation has also grown accordingly, as the state's population increased.

Not so the Senate. It is this newspaper's opinion that the size of the Senate should be increased for these reasons:

1. A 39-member Senate would lighten the work load on the Senate and should thereby increase its efficiency. The Senate works through committees. Each member now must serve on from 10 to 14 committees. As a result, he can't attend all meetings, can't inform himself fully on all legislation he must act on.

2. A small membership in any legislative body is more susceptible to lobby control. Influencing a 20-senator majority would be much more difficult than influencing the 16 now required to control the Senate. The 39-member Senate would not be so susceptible to bloc voting control as the present smaller body.

3. Likewise, under the Senate's two-thirds rule, any 11 members can now block consideration (and ultimate passage) of any bill at any time they choose. Under the 39-member plan, 14 votes would be necessary to block a bill, thus making it harder for a minority to hinder the wishes of the majority.

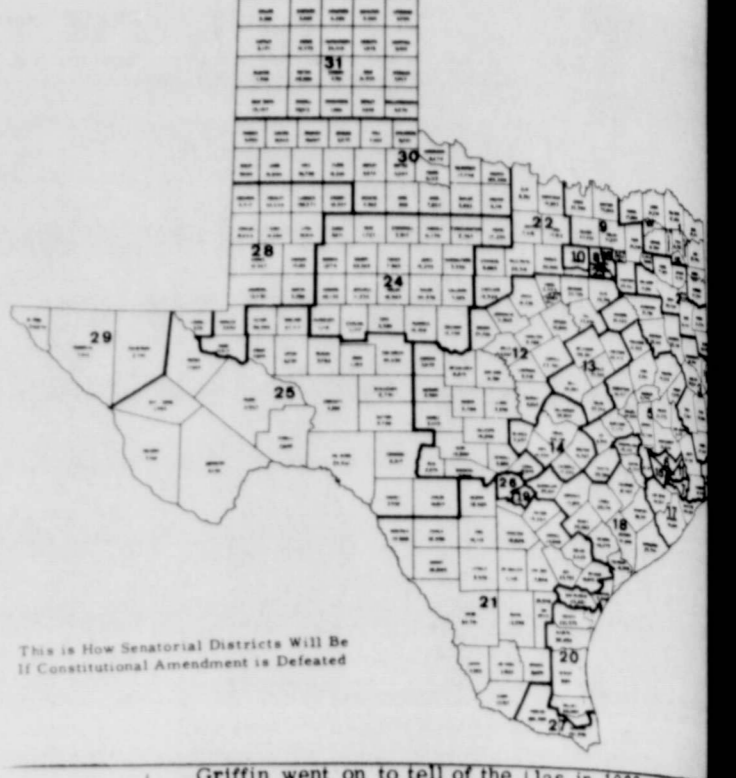

4. The legislature in the last session redistricted the state Senate according to the one-man, one-vote formula. Some districts of incredible geographic area resulted, and will be in effect, if the 39-man Senate amendment is not approved. Under these jumbo districts, it was not possible to preserve community of interests. Dist. 12, for instance, stretches 300 miles from Ellis County (Ennis) to Real County (Leakey) some 30 miles from the Mexican border.

5. Finally, and the factor of most direct concern to West Texas, the larger Senate would best preserve a voice in the Senate for rural Texas in this area of urban sprawl. Our present districts in this area could be preserved largely as they are, while the cities are given the representation the federal courts say they must have.

This amendment is a constructive proposal for better government that is in the best interests of the state at large. It calls for no partisan cleavage. It is a valid and necessary action to keep Texas government representative and responsive in this era of greatest growth.

SAYS DISTRICT GOVERNOR

LIONS OFFERS OPPORTUNITY TO SERVE OTHERS

At the regular noon luncheon of the Floydada Lions Club, District Governor Alton Griffin told the local group that one of the outstanding traits of the organization is the fact that it offers its members the opportunity to serve. Griffin is District Attorney in Lubbock County.

The governor spoke to the club on his routine tour of the clubs in his district.

In speaking the Governor

Floyd 4 H Books In State Contest

Three youths from Floyd County will have their 4-H club record books in statewide competition this year. They are Doris Fawver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Fawver of Floydada; Pete Gibson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gibson and Ricky Kellison, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kellison all of Lockney.

There are 49 books from 13 counties selected for state competition. Winning records from the South Plains area will be sent to the state 4-H office at College Station for judging in competition with winners from 11 other districts.

mentioned that not until he attended the Lions International Convention in Los Angeles did he realize that the Lions is such a grassroots organization. During his year as District Governor, Griffin intends to stress attendance. He noted that only one member of the local club was not accounted for last Thursday. Membership will also be stressed to get and keep good members. Projects and activities should keep the members interested in what the club is doing. Through inter-club visitations the local members can learn what the clubs in other locations are doing.

He concluded with the fact that all members must keep working for momentum will not carry a club through a year.

What was done by the group a year ago does not make it any better this year, he noted.

HESPERIAN GUEST EDITORIAL

Should Society Help Samaritans?

Americans several months ago were shocked by a rash of brutal crimes that occurred while witnesses stood by, refusing to aid the victims. Both fear and a "couldn't-care-less" attitude were credited as major reasons for bystanders' refusal to act while victims were robbed, raped or murdered.

The Dallas Morning News in a recent editorial explored the need for helping those who do come forth, saying "Crime prevention and preservation of law and order are in the best interests of society. We encourage every citizen to do his duty in this regard. Therefore it is only right and proper that society should compensate the citizen who does so and suffers injury and damages in the process."

At least one state already has adopted measures to do just that.

California legislators recently enacted a "Good Samaritan" law. Under its provisions the state will lend a helping hand to citizens who act to preserve law and order and are injured doing it. The law provides that a private citizen who suffers injury or damages while trying to stop a crime or apprehend a criminal can receive compensation from the state.

Although it is disgusting to read of innocent people being attacked while fellow citizens merely look on, it is easy to preach heroism while comfortably seated in a chair in the confines of one's office or home. Courage comes in different quantities; perhaps not everyone has that stuff of which heroes are made.

Nevertheless, it is sad indeed if the day has come when citizens must be promised reimbursement or compensation for doing what they are expected to do in the first place.

Those who perform the great service of helping their fellow man in time of peril almost without fail do so spontaneously. They see their duty and they do it. It is doubtful that anyone who would not act otherwise would do so simply because he knew he would receive help on his medical bill.

PRODUCERS WINNING Battle of the Boll Weevil!

BOLL WEEVIL CAN BE BEAT

The efficiency and effectiveness of the 1964 weevil control program, together with the continued support of producers strongly points toward a complete Plains victory over this most dreaded and costly of all cotton insects.

20% LESS REQUESTED FOR WAR CHEST

Economies effected in the first year's spraying, plus the fact that over 97% of producers helped finance it, make possible a substantial carryover of funds from 1964 to be used in 1965. This in turn has made it possible to reduce the requested producer contribution from 50 cents to 40 cents a bale. And there is hope this can be further reduced in 1966.

The following is a financial report from the Boll Weevil Steering Committee of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. to those who are so wisely investing in this vital program.

SAYS FB SEMINAR REPRESENTATIVE

"Freedom, Economic Stability Two Of Man's Greatest Wants"

Editor's note: The following article was written by Charles Overstreet, a senior at Floydada High School and one of the county representatives to the annual Farm Bureau Seminar. He and Myra Quebe of Lockney were the representatives from Floyd County. The article is titled "Preserve Our Heritage."

Aug. 11-14, Myra Sue Quebe and Charles Overstreet had the wonderful opportunity to attend the Texas Farm Bureau Seminar on Americanism. Four famous lecturers and authors gave talks concerning communism from their own experience and research.

Dr. Clifton Ganas, a native Texan and now head of the Department of History and Social Sciences of Harding College, gave lectures on his travels in European countries now living under socialism. Here are some of his ideas toward preserving our heritage:

"In order to combat communism we must understand ourselves and know our enemies. A man who does not know himself or his enemies is a fool many times.

"Man wants freedom and economic well-being more than anything else in life. That is why we have communism, because man sometimes unknowingly gives up one or more of his freedom or means of economic well being in order to better his surrounding conditions."

John Noble, who, prior to World War II lived in Presden, Germany, before being arrested by the Russian army as an American citizen, spent 9 1/2 years in Soviet slave camps. His story created a sympathy for the other 3,000 enslaved Americans still held in Soviet slave camps and have never hardened the desire for us as young Americans to keep America free. The lesson that he brought to us was that a smile does not change a communist.

Clear Skousen, a noted author who served for 16 years with the Federal Bureau of Investigation made an interesting lecture on the history, strategy, and the tactics of the Communist Party.

Where the Communists want and promise everything, they have no way of providing. The idea of the communists is to produce for use.

They want to take over the factories and farms in order to produce as much as they can. As a result everything would be free.

The communists say that profit could be stealing. Money should not be abundant, for money represents time, effort, and skill. In Russia today it takes 20 times the effort to buy products than in America.

Dr. Nyaradi received two Doctoral degrees from the Regal Hungarian University. Before he became an American citizen, he served as Hungarian Under-Secretary of the Treasury and the Minister of Finance.

He summed his points up in the following statements:

"Unemployment is a contradition to the American way of life. Social Security means we are not adequate and can not take care of ourselves. Medicare means that we can not pay our medical bills and choose our doctors and hospitals."

A last statement that he made was, "We must not be willing to give up our love for God and Patriotism."

TAX MAN SAYS:

We have reached the age of education in our country. As a Nation we demand that all our young people not only graduate from high school but also get a college degree. Many companies want most of their key men to have a Ph.D. My advice to every taxpayer is to get as near to a Ph.D. on your personal tax affairs as possible. Ignorance costs you - in getting better jobs and in saving on your taxes.

NEWSLETTER
U. S. - SOVIET RELATIONS:
WHAT IS NORMAL?

While our national attention has been directed across the Pacific at the aggressions of Asiatic Communism, there have continued in our State Department some rather frantic efforts to "normalize" our relations with the Soviet Union.

Our State Department says the United States must make overtures to Russia; that we must return our relations with Russia to something called "normality". And yet, in return we are not to insist that Russia normalize her relations with the world.

It is not normal that the Soviets refuse to pay their legal assessments for support of the United Nations, and yet we are about to permit that refusal.

It is not normal that the Soviets be given permission to place in our country special permission to place in our country special personnel immune from arrest on spying charges, yet the State Department wants us to do that, too.

We all recall that the Soviet Union has refused to pay much of what she owes the United Nations. And, we recall the U. N. Charter section saying nations that don't pay, can't vote.

Last year we served notice to the United Nations that we were going to insist on application of the Charter provisions. I believe most Americans felt a touch of pride when this firm U. S. position was announced. Most had grown a little weary of America's being badgered about in the U. N. by nations that consistently violated the spirit of the U. N. Charter.

Now, the whole thing has fallen apart. Less than one year after taking that "firm", legal, and morally-correct position in support of the Charter, our new U. N. Ambassador has apparently been instructed to back down before Red pressures.

There are indications that we American taxpayers may soon be asked to "voluntarily" contribute even more money to the U. N., for which we now provide more than half the finances. If we do, the Russians may agree to pay part of what they owe.

I think that once this nation embarks on a policy of paying the just debts of other countries to the United Nations, there will be no end to the process. The Russians could let us pay for everything the U. N. does and by their veto power tell us where and when we can spend our money.

This American retreat from principle and from legality can help neither the United Nations nor the cause of world peace.

The second abnormality our State Department requests involves the United Nations, but a bilateral treaty between the U. S. and the Soviet Union.

This is called a "Consular Treaty" because it would permit establishment in many more American cities of Russian diplomatic and trade offices. It was negotiated with Khrushchev a year ago and would be the first two-way treaty between America and Communist Russia - a fact not so surprising when we remember that the Soviets have a solid record of breaking 50 of their 52 major international treaties before the Test Ban Treaty. And, there is some evidence they have technically broken the Test Ban Treaty, too.

This Consular Treaty looks quite simple at first glance. It would allow the Soviets to set up offices in such cities as New Orleans, Chicago, San Francisco, and perhaps even Houston or Dallas. In return the U. S. could set up similar offices in key Soviet cities.

Right now, Soviet personnel operate only in Washington and at the U. N. in New York.

But, this treaty has a catch. It contains an unprecedented concession to the Reds.

Because a consular office is concerned principally with trade, its officials and employees normally do not enjoy diplomatic immunity from arrest. But, Khrushchev demanded and got from our State Department a section in this treaty providing for Soviet personnel, complete immunity from arrest and prosecution for crimes - including espionage.

Since 1946 there have been 38 major cases in which Soviet spies have been identified in America. In just the last year five Soviet government personnel have been expelled from the U. S. for espionage activities.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover pointed out last March that fully half of the Russians assigned to the U. N. in New York are agents or officers of Soviet intelligence.

This proposed Consular Treaty would open the doors of dozens more American cities to Russian spies that could not even be prosecuted if caught.

I must oppose this threatening treaty provision when it comes up for Senate ratification.

And, I continue to oppose the State Department's abnormal efforts to "normalize" U. S. - Soviet relations through the granting of special favors to Russia at the expense of American interests and security.
