

Silverton Man Loses Life In Wreck At "Y"

FIREMAN FIGHT FLAMING WRECKED GASOLINE TRUCK ON THE WYE

***** AFTER EXPLOSION Deckers Began "Moving Out"

"When we heard the explosion, saw the fire, and saw that burning gasoline was running down the gutter on the highway south of our yard, we began moving our belongings out of our house."
These are the words of Mrs. Lane Decker, who with her husband and children, live at the corner of Third and Houston Streets. The back of the Decker's yard was just a few feet from the point the truck came to rest after an accident early Monday morning.
Their yard, also joins the former Western Wear Shop, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Mount, that was completely destroyed in a fire that resulted after the wreck.
When asked about her reactions to the accident she said she was "frightened to death."
She went on to say "We were already up when I heard the truck, knew something had happened and ran outside, but I couldn't see because the building was in my way. About that time I heard gas pouring, but at the time I didn't know it was gasoline. As I turned to go back inside the house, and just got to the back door, the gasoline exploded."
"I heard people say that flames shot from 75 to 300 feet into the air."
"I ran inside to try to call the fire department. I just got the operator and said 'Floydada Fire Department, please', and then the line was dead."
"When I saw burning gasoline running down the gutter of the highway just beside our yard fence, I got the kids up and we started carrying out our belongings. We got pictures, TV, clothes, and silverware out, with the help of our neighbors who pitched in to help, and at about that time the Fire Department got things under control."
"The fire ruined our yard fence, a hedge is gone, and a willow tree is damaged. There was smoke all over the lawn, but no smoke or water damage inside the house."
She said she felt the family was very lucky for the home was not hurt, nor was any member of her family hurt.
"The Lord must have been guiding me all the time," she said, "for if I had been able to see the truck when I ran to the back of the yard I probably would have gone to the truck and been caught in the explosion."
She concluded with the statement that the neighbors were awfully nice, for they immediately saw their plight and pitched in to help.

Danger Of Explosion Remains For 3 Hours

A 65-year old Silverton man, F. M. (Rusty) Arnold, was killed here when the gasoline transport truck he was driving overturned at the "Y", the junction of U. S. 62 and 70 in Floydada early Monday morning.
According to those living near the wreck scene, soon after the crash, a series of explosions that shot flames as high as 100 feet into the air followed, and a fire started that consumed the tractor unit, set fire to the Western Wear building, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Mount, and scorched the south side of Powell's Super Market.
It is believed Arnold was dead before the fire broke out.

Dog Show Here October 2 3rd

Saturday and Sunday is "Dog Day" in Floydada for on those days, October 2nd and 3rd, the West Texas Toy Fox Terrier Association and the Texas Toy Terrier Association will be bringing a show to this city. Emery Cox, who is a raiser and shows terriers, is local sponsor.
The event will be held in the VFW building on the Lockney Highway and admission is free. Refreshments and eats will be sold by the 1962 Jr. Study Club of Floydada.
Cox said he expected entries from the states of Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, Arkansas, Michigan, Missouri, Ohio, and California. Entry fee is $2 per dog and they must be registered from 10 a. m. until noon each day. Judging will follow at 12:30 until 1 p. m.
The Sunday Show will be by the Texas Toy Fox Terrier Association for the fall UKC Licensed Championship Point Show. Points, trophies and ribbons will be given at both shows. Judges are Dr. Anderson from Texas Tech and Mrs. G. F. Gideon of Big Spring. Dr. Tom Theford of Floydada is veterinarian.

According to reports, the explosion came when gasoline began to spew out of the front compartment of the trailer and burst into flames. The back two units did not catch on fire.
A truck from Sparks and Wylie and one from Carthel's 68 Station were pulled alongside the transport and the remaining fuel was pumped out of the transport.
Arnold had filled the transport at Lubbock around 5 a. m. and was enroute to Silverton at the time of the accident.
Later, fire fighting units from Lockney, Hale Center and Plainview arrived to help in the battle. A truck from the City of Tullia was sent to help erect the damaged utility poles.
Funeral services for Arnold were held yesterday in the First Baptist Church of Silverton.
He is survived by his wife and two daughters, Mrs. Betty Ruth Roberts of Plainview and Mrs. Glenna Morehouse of Montana.

Wylie, Brown, Simpson Head Airport Drive

The kick-off for the $25,000 needed for a new airport in Floydada will begin with a meeting tonight at 7:30 in the community room of the First National Bank here.
Bill Brown, Junior Simpson and Arthur Wylie, Jr. will head the fund drive effort.
The overall cost of the airport, which is to be located on the Silverton highway, will be a little over $100,000. The expected money from the state and FAA, plus the work supplied by the county and city maintainers and man power should make up the difference in the $25,000 and the total cost of the project.

School Tax Office Explains 1963 Tax Statements

There appears to be some confusion in the minds of taxpayers of Floydada Independent School District concerning notices now being mailed as to taxes due the District for the year 1963. In view of the welter of lawsuits in which the District and its taxes have been involved for the past two years, the confusion is understandable, and the following is submitted to clarify the situation and refresh the recollection of everyone concerned.
The school tax officers give this explanation:
"The District was enjoined in September 1963, in Cause No. 5057, J. M. Willson et al vs. Ralph C. Johnston et al, from completing the District's 1963 tax roll, which injunction prevented the District from proceeding with normal collection of taxes on its regular 1963 tax roll. While the injunction remained in force, and to avoid the necessity of closing the schools for lack of funds, the District set up a plan of voluntary payments on taxes, under which those taxpayers who wished to do so could pay, as a credit upon their 1963 taxes, the amount of their 1962 taxes; a great many taxpayers made such voluntary payments, and received temporary or provisional receipts for such payments.
In January 1964, the Court released the regular 1963 tax roll of the District, authorizing collection of taxes thereon, and the District proceeded with collection of 1963 taxes on such roll, allowing credit for any voluntary payments theretofore (SEE TAX PAGE 4)

Winds Down Bobcats 26-0 For First Win

The Floydada Whirlwinds, putting forth one of their best efforts of the season, ran away from the Childress Bobcats in the second quarter here Friday night as they scored three touchdowns in the second period to lead 18-0 at halftime.

Kerry Bearden scored three of the touchdowns, and Steve Marler brought in a John Cantrell pass for the other tally. Joe Christian scored the only extra points for the locals after the final counter in the fourth period.

The Childress Bobcats threatened a couple of times, but their deepest penetration came on a punt return that carried to the Floydada seventy-yard line. Bearden hauled the ball carrier down from behind after the sixty yard run.

The first and third quarters were filled with the ball changing hands on punts, fumbles or intercepted passes. No team seriously threatened the other's goal in these two periods.

The Whirlwinds put up their best defensive effort of the year by holding the Bobcats to only 45 yards, and 36 of these came on aerials.

Childress won the toss of the coin and elected to receive the football, and Floydada chose to defend the south goal. Ronnie Sims received Clinton Fawcett's kick on the 15 and returned it to the Childress 35 to get the game underway.

On the first play from the line of scrimmage Larry Moore exploded through the Floydada defense for 11 yards and the first first down of the game.

However, two plays later a Childress fumble, recovered by Floydada on the Childress 41 gave the Winds the ball.

After picking up a first down on the Childress 28, a plunge by Marler moved the ball only one yard, and an incomplete pass, a carry by Bearden that went for no gain, left the Winds facing fourth and nine. John Cantrell tried to get off a pass but was caught back on the Childress 31 by a host of Bobcats.

Moore was held for no gain by the Wind defense, but on second down Bobby Rowland moved the ball across midfield to the Floydada 45 before he was hauled down.

Moore was held to no gain again then a pass from Moore to Rowland set Childress up in business on the Floydada 26.

That was as far as the drive would go, however, for Rowland fumbled on the next play, and Marler, Gary Lyles, and Kerry Bearden had a share of the ball when the pile was unstaked.

Three plays netted only two yards, so on fourth down Waldo West kicked to the Childress 40.

The Bobcat offense didn't get much of a chance to move, for on second down Jeffery Cordell fumbled and Mac Baker fell on the ball on the Childress 23.

Bearden moved the ball to the 16 for the first penetration of the game, but the drive was stopped by a penalty against Floydada and two incomplete passes, one near the goal line.

Once again, Childress was allowed two plays, for on second down a Childress fumble was recovered by Larry Hunter on the 19.

This time the Whirlwinds were not to be denied, for Bearden moved the ball to the 15, Lyles drove to the 10 and Bearden picked up the first down on the 7.

A pass from Cantrell to West moved the ball to the four, Bearden picked up one, then on third down Bearden went in for the score. The attempted kick was blocked so Floydada had a 6-0 lead, with just over 10 minutes remaining in the second quarter.

On the kickoff, Floydada received another break as Sims took the ball on the 15, moved it back to the 28 and fumbled at which time Dayne Golightly fell on the ball for the locals.

A Cantrell to Marler aerial moved the ball to the 13 where the Winds had a first down. Bearden moved the ball to the four. Bearden was trapped behind the line on the next play, pitched out to Cantrell and he was downed on the 10. But a holding penalty against Floydada moved the ball back to the 19, where Floydada had second and goal to go. This didn't hamper the Winds for on the next play a pass from Cantrell to Marler was good in the end zone and the score stood 12-0, Floydada.

A pass from John DeLeon to Tommy Weathersbee, was incomplete, although Weathersbee made a diving attempt for the ball, so the score remained 12-0.

Both teams were offside on the kickoff, so Sims runback from the ten to the 25 stayed good. Sims moved the ball to the 29 but on second down the Whirlwind defense stood firm, and Mac Baker hauled Moore down back on the 26.

The Bobcats fought back, however, for a pass from Gary Smotherman to Billy Cannon moved the ball to the Childress 47. The drive was halted two plays later, for a Smotherman to Cannon pass was picked off by Joe Christian on the Floydada 35, and he was finally stopped at the mid-field marker.

Floydada couldn't move the ball, so West kicked out of bounds on the Childress 29. After four plays, Childress, too, chose to punt but Moore's kick was blocked and recovered on the Childress 30 yard line.

A Cantrell to Weathersbee pass fell incomplete on the 18 and a second pass attempt by Cantrell was intercepted by Moore on the two, and he got back to the 13 before he was stopped.

Waldo West returned the favor on the next play for he picked off a pass on the 20, and picked up enough blockers by running laterally to get back to the seven before he was stopped.

On the next play Bearden went around left end for his second TD of the night. A DeLeon to Weathersbee pass was intercepted by Childress so the score remained 18-0, Floydada.

Four plays later Childress moved the ball to the 29, and two plays later a clipping penalty set the Winds back to the 34. On the next play a Marler fumble was recovered by Rowland of Childress on the Childress 30.

Four plays later Childress kicked out of bounds at midfield. The Winds tried to get in for another counter, picked up one first down and on fourth and three, West kicked into the Childress end zone.

The Bobcats moved the ball to the Floydada 42, but three incomplete passes later the game ended with the score 26-0, Floydada.

It was the first win of the season for the Whirlwinds and the fourth loss for the Bobcats, who have yet to cross the goal line this year.

Next week the Whirlwinds travel to Tulla in another non-conference tilt.

FROM THE SPORTS DESK
BY JEDD BLESSING

How about that, Sports Fans? That is the performance the Whirlwinds turned in last Friday night.

Overall, the team looked good. The boys worked together, they kept alert, they were ball hungry, they gang tackled, they sharpened up their pass defense, they won a game that, by some sources, had them picked as the underdog, they had spirit, and they enjoyed playing the game.

The team seemed to respond very well to the Single Wing, the first time the Whirlwinds have encountered that style attack. Childress had some good

After taking the kickoff and running back to the Floydada 45 Childress moved the ball from the Floydada 45 to the Floydada 47 on a pass from Smotherman to Rowland. But the next three passes fell incomplete, so Floydada took charge of the ball on the Floydada 47.

Two plays later Moore picked off a Floydada pass and was downed by West on the Childress 33. After three attempted passes the half ended with the score 18-0, Floydada.

The two teams played a seesaw ball game after the intermission, exchanging punts, fumbles and pass interceptions. The only drive of the quarter came on the part of Childress when they moved from their own 16 to the Floydada 30, but a clipping penalty against Childress moved the ball back to the 45.

Three plays later, the drive was stopped when Moore fumbled the ball and Floydada recovered.

On the first play Christian moved to the 40 and a pass from Cantrell to Bearden set the Winds up in business on the 13.

Marler picked up four to the nine, and Roland Adams carried through the Bobcat line to the 2, then on the next play Bearden carried for the score. Christian circled left end for the two points and Floydada led 26-0 early in the fourth period.

Childress returned the ball to the Floydada 33, but on first down a host of Whirlwind tacklers trapped Moore back on the 24. The Bobcats were unable to gain the original line of scrimmage, and on fourth down, an attempted punt was blocked and recovered by Weathersbee on the Childress 24.

A penalty against Floydada moved the ball to the 29, and two plays later a clipping penalty set the Winds back to the 34. On the next play a Marler fumble was recovered by Rowland of Childress on the Childress 30.

Four plays later Childress kicked out of bounds at midfield.

The Winds tried to get in for another counter, picked up one first down and on fourth and three, West kicked into the Childress end zone.

The Bobcats moved the ball to the Floydada 42, but three incomplete passes later the game ended with the score 26-0, Floydada.

It was the first win of the season for the Whirlwinds and the fourth loss for the Bobcats, who have yet to cross the goal line this year.

Next week the Whirlwinds travel to Tulla in another non-conference tilt.

material, also, but the Bobcats were never able to get a drive going and keep it going against the Whirlwind defense.

One thing that looked odd during the game was the fact the Childress punter stood only seven yards behind the line of scrimmage. However, Friday night was the first time anyone had blocked any of the Childress punts. Two were blocked by the Whirlwinds Friday night.

The team is still playing without the services of Zeke Robertson or Derrell Monday. Both these are expected to be back in action by the time the team starts through the conference schedule two weeks from tomorrow.

Steve Marler was back on the team, after missing a week and turned in another good performance at his defensive position and also showed up well when he caught a John Cantrell pass for six points.

Good effort was showed by most of the Winds in their victory. Dennis Gotcher was in the midst of the Childress team at times when they didn't want him there, Tommy Weathersbee and Larry Hunter showed a lot of finesse in the linebacker slots and Weathersbee put forth one of the best efforts of the night in attempting to catch a John DeLeon pass for two extra points. The pass went incomplete, but he was making a diving attempt for the ball before it hit the ground.

The pass defense of the Winds has suffered in the past. This showed up against Canyon when the Whirlwind defense virtually halted the Eagles ground game, but allowed the visitors to move the ball through the air.

Most of the Childress drives were stopped by the Winds last Friday night, not on a fourth down effort, but by a pass interception or a recovered fumble. There were just a few times that the pass defense leaked an aerial.

As was stated last year, a fair team will win a few ball games and lose a few, but a good team will pick up after a defeat or a series of defeats, gather their steam and go ahead with a will to win.

This is a hard week for a team to pick up and begin to move ahead when facing a team like Tulla, however, the Hornets won't be beaten by a team that believes Tulla can't be downed.

I'm not saying that the Winds will beat Tulla, but there is no reason why there won't be some respect for Floydada on the part of the Tulla team after Friday night. If the team hits for four quarters like it did for two against Canyon, and for four quarters against Childress, there will be a ball game tomorrow night in Tulla.

Tulla is strong, and ranked very high, but the locals seem to hit their hardest against teams such as that.

Remember what happened to Friona last year, when the talk around Floydada was that "Maybe we have a chance to beat them." When the game ended Friona didn't control the scoreboard.

Let's follow the Whirlwinds to Tulla. From all indications the team is anxious to hit the Hornets and just see if they will bend a little bit.

To accomplish this, the team members must realize that Floydada must take the initiative tomorrow night and keep it, or Tulla can run away from them.

WHERE'D IT GO? Two Floydada defenders Steve Marler and Kerry Bearden and a Childress receiver seem to have completely lost the ball in the action at Wester Field Friday night. The pass went incomplete. Floydada won the encounter 26-0.

White River Lake Opens For Public Use Tomorrow

According to a report from the directors of the White River Municipal Water District directors voted to open the lake as a bank-fishing area tomorrow, October 1.

No trotline fishing will be permitted nor will boats be permitted on the lake as yet. Permits for lake fishing cost $1 per day and may be secured at the district's office in the filtration plant near the damsite.

At a recent meeting considerable time was spent discussing development of commercial recreational facilities at the new lake. These would include such facilities as a grocery store, restaurant, motel, marina, and possibly a filling station.

The group favored letting contracts to one builder for the facilities, rather than to the individuals, thus not having the piece-meal appearance around the lake that is seen around similar facilities.

CRYSTAL BALL Q.B.

A terrible record - missing 10 of 24 predictions.

Iowa Park and Hirschi played on Thursday last week, so the game was not counted on the contest page. Iowa Park won the game, nevertheless.

This week it looks like Tulla over Floydada; Morton will scalp Dimmitt; Muleshoe will down Friona; Kress will sadden Happy; Silverton, after two defeats will bounce back and beat Memphis; Levealand will win over Hereford; Denver City will dull the claws of the Littlefield Wildcats; Childress will fall to Canyon, and probably will make it five in a row without a score; Dumas and Lawton, Okla., will fight it out as usual, but Dumas should take this one; Ralls and Crosbyton will probably decide the district championship, and Crosbyton is a pre-season favorite, but the Jackrabbits have too much power this year, so give the game to Ralls; Idalou will down Spur.

Post, a team that has proven to be very tough this year (in fact, one of our coaches said he was glad we played them when we did after watching them beat Abernathy last week) will blast Plains; Tahoka should down Frenship; Lubbock will win over Caprock; Monterey will top the Golden Sandstorm of Amarillo; Claude will pluck Turkey and Plainview will fall to Borger.

On the college scene; Arkansas will dispose of TCU; Baylor will hand Florida State it's second loss of the year to a Southwest Conference team; Rice will overcome Duke, SMU will fall to Purdue, the team that knocked Notre Dame out of the number one slot last week; Texas, sporting one of its best teams in years will take Indiana; Tech and A&M should battle it out in Jones Stadium, but Tech should control this game; and Texas Western will take New Mexico State.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ Curtis Carlisle Has Been Working Guns For Past Five Years

"I've been interested in guns all my life, but I just started working with them about five years ago."

These are the words of Curtis Carlisle, a local gunsmith that will work on about 30 guns between the first and last of September.

"I first started with bluing guns, and worked on into the repair of the mechanisms and now I work with refinishing, and making the stocks for the guns", he went on to say.

Carlisle continued with explaining that the bluing process takes about 2 to 4 hours, depending upon the degree of finish one desires, after the gun has been prepared for bluing.

Actually it is an oxidation process, but controlled, to keep the gun from rusting for several years, under normal conditions. However, some people expect a bluing job to last for several years even if the gun is left out in the weather for several days.

Before the gun is placed in the bluing vat, every piece of the gun is taken apart, buffed to a high finish and placed in the bluing tank. The mixture is heated to around a 350 degree temperature.

The only two parts left together are the barrel and receiver. "Our special tools are required to separate the two and then put them back together."

"This is why I started repairing guns. If they had to be taken apart to be blued, it would be very simple to find any defective parts and replace them while the parts are laying out before you", he mentioned.

The latest process Carlisle is trying is on refinishing stocks for custom built guns, or for old guns that people want new stocks, or custom built stocks put on.

The rough finish is bought, and he finishes the stock, fits the pieces into the stock, which requires accuracy to the 1/1,000 of an inch.

One particular stock that he has just completed when interviewed recently required about 200 hours to refinish. There were 30 coats of finish applied to the stock. The new fiberglass method will cut the process by 10 coats.

Although his business has increased in the years he has been working with guns, he says it will never be a full-time business, for the demand in this town is not great enough to support one full-time. In a larger town, one might could make a living at this work.

Carlisle does his work in his home, "but", he says, "the area is strictly off limits to the children, Dennis, age 6 and the twins Keith and Karl, age 4."

Although there isn't a qualified gun smith in this area, except for one in Lubbock, most of his work comes from people right here in Floydada.

When asked what his family thought of his work, he said, "They think it is too time consuming, and I have to agree with them. I don't spend the time with the family I would if I didn't have the business."

TAX

In the meantime, one of the principal ostensible purposes of Cause No. 5057 having been to require the District to tax for 1963 certain types of personal property, such as stocks, bonds, bank deposits, etc. not appearing on the above mentioned regular 1963 tax roll, the Court appointed a master in chancery, Sid Hopping, to procure renditions of such types of personal property not appearing on the regular 1963 tax roll. The master completed his work, and his report was approved in December 1964, at which time the Court directed the District to prepare a supplemental 1963 tax roll showing the personal property, rendition of which had been procured by the master, and which did not appear on the regular 1963 tax roll of the District; the District was further directed to collect the additional taxes shown by such supplemental 1963 tax roll.

The 1963 tax notices now going out concern the taxes shown by the above mentioned supplemental tax roll, and are taxes on the personal property, rendition of which for 1963 was procured by the master; such taxes are no part of the taxes shown upon the regular 1963 tax roll.

The 1963 tax notices now going out concern the taxes shown by the above mentioned supplemental tax roll, and are taxes on the personal property, rendition of which for 1963 was procured by the master; such taxes are no part of the taxes shown upon the regular 1963 tax roll.

The hearing is set for October 25 at 10 a.m. by Judge James Ellis, of a Lubbock County District Court, acting in place of Judge L. D. Ratliff who disqualified himself in the original suit.

The case stated that on January 3, 1964 and December 9, 1964, the court rendered orders requiring the School District officials to add to its tax rolls, for the year 1963, all property found and described by supplemental renditions of property for taxation as found by the Master in Chancery appointed by the court and acting on court orders.

The plaintiffs allege "The above described judgment and order were prepared by counsel of record for defendants, and announced in open court by the presiding judge; and each of said defendants is upon actual and constructive and legal notice of their terms and requirements. Said judgment and order of the court has been in full force and effect since their rendition and they are now the judgment of the court."

"In direct and knowing violation of such orders of the court, the defendants have failed and refused to add to the taxable property of the school district the property contained in the described supplemental renditions and the report of the Master in Chancery herein, and they have further failed and refused to refund or rebate excessive collections. To the contrary, the defendants have ordered and are now in the process of collecting taxes upon the original tax renditions and tax roll without regard to the additional property and without adjustment of the tax rate for the year. Defendants have had full opportunity to comply with the order of the court, and such action is without legal excuse.

Plaintiffs allege that by reason of the facts said defendants, and each of them, are now guilty of contempt of court for violating the said judgment and order of the court and that hearing should be held herein and said defendants adjudged in contempt.

WHEREFORE, PREMISES CONSIDERED, Plaintiffs pray that the defendants, and each of them, be cited to appear and show cause, if any they can, why they should not be held and punished for contempt for violation of said judgment and order of the court; that such punishment be conditioned upon putting into effect the orders of this court and be sufficiently severe to prevent any repetition of acts of contempt; and that plaintiffs recover their costs."

Hambright Wins Grid Contest

Bob Hambright waded through a number of upsets, and turned out to be the one with the most football knowledge (or best guesser) in the fourth Hesperian Football Contest.

Hambright missed only five of his predictions, and guessed the total number of points that would be scored last Friday night as 22. Twenty-six were actually scored in the Winds 26-0 win over Childress.

Doyle Moore missed seven of his predictions, but this was close enough to be named second place winner, as he guessed 26 points would be scored in the game. David Holland, the third place winner, also missed only seven, but said the number of points that would be scored would be 30. Steve Craig missed seven games also but guessed the scoreboard would total 36 points when the game ended.

Several people missed eight of the games, to miss prize money by only one game. They were: Edward Hartman, Jim Reynolds, Claude Weatherbee, A. W. James, Wiley Rogers, Allen Bingham, Bob Alldredge, Joe Noland, and Eugene Edwards.

Last week an error was called to the attention of the staff in the North Texas and Texas Western game. The first results showed that North Texas won the game, but later in the week it was announced that Texas Western won heavily over North Texas.

However, upon going back and correcting this error, it didn't change the final outcome of the contest.

MAKE THE MOST OF IT---Richard Nelson and Larry Puryear make the most of a lake created by the recent rains. The pair built a raft, placed a chair on it and had a leisurely outing on the raft Sunday afternoon. A raft was found on the lake a little later the day. The body of water is located south of the Y Motel.

The fifth contest can be found in Section B of today's Hesperian.

(Special to the Hesperian)
NEW YORK, Sept. 20 - How important have government dollars-Federal, state and local-become in the financial affairs of Floyd County residents?

How much of the personal income of the local population comes from these sources?

On the strength of a state-by-state breakdown of Commerce Department data, made by the Tax Foundation, 20.4 cents of each dollar of income in Floyd County's overall region is from public funds.

Taken into account in the study, which covers 1964 disbursements, were payments of wages and salaries to civil employees, social security, unemployment compensation, pensions, interest and public assistance.

For the Floyd County area, applying the state average locally, the 20.4 cents comprises 12.6 cents from the Federal government and 7.8 cents from state and local agencies.

Throughout the United States as a whole, 19.8 cents of every dollar of personal income received by Americans comes in the form of government checks, reports the Tax Foundation. In the West South Central States it averages 21.5 cents.

The Federal government contributed $57.2 billion, or 11.6 percent of all personal income in the country. State and local governments furnished another $40.2 billion, or 8.2 percent.

The ratio of government payments to personal income was highest in the District of Columbia, because of the heavy concentration of public employees there. It was 46 percent.

Virginia, with 31 percent, was the next largest. The smallest ratio, 13 percent, was in Connecticut.

From state and local funds alone, Louisiana showed the highest proportion, with an 11 percent contribution toward personal incomes. Delaware was lowest, with 6 percent.

In Floyd County, where the after-tax income amounted to $25,121,000 last year, approximately $5,125,000 of it came from Federal, state and local sources, the reports indicate.

With government programs and expenditures expanding steadily, public funds are providing a larger and larger portion of personal income.

METHODIST CHURCH

Painter Of "Disciples", "Women of The Bible" Due Here

Mrs. Sune Richards, a well-known photographer and minister, believed there are men now living whose physical appearance and personal characteristics may be called counterparts of the disciples of Jesus, devoted fourteen years of their lives to finding and painting them. Under the title, "My Search for the Disciples," she will lecture and display her paintings at the First Methodist Church at 7:30 p. m., on October 8.

and how she pursued her search and produced the paintings is a fascinating story, even one with a touch of the supernatural. It is a moving one, for it is a little known fact about the disciples, who each came from a different background, and what became of them after the close of the last testament record.

Her forth-coming lecture, which is a carefully prepared, historically correct, and brilliant in photography and oil colors, are: Andrew and Simon Peter, James and John, Bartholomew, Thomas, Matthew, Phillip, James the Less, Jude, Simon the Zealot and Judas Iscariot. Climaxing all the disciples, of course is Mrs. Richards own photo-painting of Jesus of Nazareth.

Behind each of these paintings has been many weeks of intensive Bible study, research into many historical and literary sources, consultation with Bible and church authorities, painstaking search for a model to pose acceptably as one of the disciples, and long production work at camera and easel. Each painting was made only after prayer by the artist herself and also by the model. How well Mrs. Richards had succeeded in each painting is evident in the spiritual experience shared between her and all who listen while they are held by the deep appeal of her paintings.

These disciples paintings, followed by another group of paintings of the women of the Bible, and a third group just completed of the children of the Bible, won for Mrs. Richards, a "Master's Degree in Photography," by the Professional Photographers of America, at its recent annual awards banquet at its convention in Chicago. This degree is one of the highest honors that can be awarded a professional photographer by his profession. Under the rules of the 82-year old Association, only slightly more than 500 persons have been granted this award during the 29 years since its inception. There are 25,000 professional photographers in America.

Other recognition, too, has come to Mrs. Richards. More than 500,000 copies of her photo-paintings of the disciples have been printed and circulated in most of the countries of the world. Recently the publishers of the Encyclopedia Britannica and the publishers of three different editions of the Bible have made arrangements to include reproductions of her paintings and descriptions of the disciples in their newest editions. Also, a life-sized painting of one of the disciples, Andrew, hangs in the foyer of a large church in Washington, D. C.

A group of Milwaukee churchmen, organized as Community Associates, Inc., has underwritten the cost of Mrs. Richards paintings. It is a non-profit organization. Reprints of her paintings are now obtainable in her books, "Jesus and the Twelve", and "Women of the Bible". "Children of the Bible" will also appear in book form. Income from the sales of books and printed sets of the paintings provides not only a regular income for Mrs. Richards, but it also helps to provide scholarships for seven young men studying for the ministry.

Mrs. Richards is a graduate minister. She used her training only as a background, as knowledge of what she is doing, and she says "her ministry" is opening the pages of the Bible and finding the people that have been out of sight and out of mind for so long, and making them live again. In using the medium she is using, photography combined with art, she finds the perfect way to accomplish this, for she says, "As an artist I did what was my conception of what is behind the eyes to portray the soul; but with the camera, I really find it." This is what makes the portraits so acceptable... behind the eyes of these photo-paintings, there is a human soul.

Her "Disciples", "Women of the Bible" and the "Children of the Bible" pictures hang in the Churches and Sunday School rooms of Churches of all denominations. Her lectures are non-denominational.

The work of this artist has been so universally accepted

TO LECTURE HERE--Mrs. Sune Richards, the Bible", will be at the First Methodist painter of "Disciples" and the "Women of Church Friday, October 8, at 7:30 P.M.

that she is invited to lecture everywhere. As an example, on her last trip to Hawaii she lectured for the Presbyterians, but their Church was too small to hold the crowd, so she held the meeting at the First Baptist Church. A teacher from the First Congregational Church brought his entire class over to the lecture. She held a lecture for the Unity Church, in cooperation with the Seventh Day Adventist.

Her hobby is taking her lectures into the prisons to speak for the men and women; and to schools for the young people.

Dramatic styling — including a new 2-door hardtop roof line — is shown in these photos of the Ford Galaxie 500 2-door hardtop, top, and the Ford Galaxie 500 7 Litre 2-door hardtop, bottom. The "7 Litre" is an entirely new series available in 2-door hardtop and convertible models. It features a new 428-cubic-inch V8 engine and front-wheel power disc brakes as standard equipment. Both the disc brakes and the new 428-cubic-inch engine are optional on all other Fords. Other features include unique 7 Litre identification, distinctively styled steel wheelcovers, and special "dual accent paint stripes." All 1966 Fords will be in Ford dealer showrooms October 1.

The third series of changes since it was introduced as a 1965 model 17 months ago mark the debut of the Mustang as a 1966. New styling touches — shown on the hardtop model above — include a new grille, simulated magnesium wheel covers and side ornamentation. A five-dial instrument cluster and new safety features also are standard for all 1966 Mustangs. New Mustang options include a Stereo-sonic tape player — shown below — that provides up to 80 minutes of true stereo music or the equivalent of two long-playing records. The tape player is incorporated into the car radio which may be used at any time for news or information simply by removing the cartridge. With three Mustang options introduced in April, the 1966 Mustang represents the second enhancement of the Mustang in five months.

Ford Division of Ford Motor Company launched the 1966 automotive model year with the announcement of a completely new line of four-wheel-drive vehicles called "Bronco." The new Ford Bronco is available in three body styles—a sporty roadster (top), a roomy wagon (center and bottom) and a short roof sports utility model. With standard two- and four-wheel drive, the Bronco is designed for use either on or off the highway. Equally at home on a steep grade or on a run to the shopping center, the Bronco combines ruggedness with economy, performance and comfort to make it a ready companion for work or play.

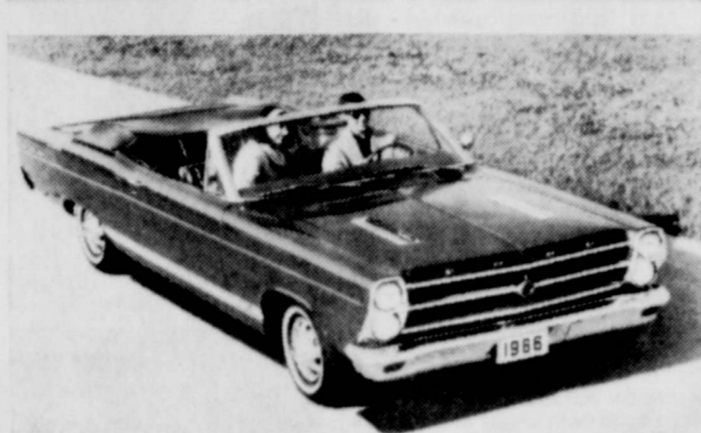

The new Ford Bronco will be in Ford dealer showrooms in September.

deck lid and front fenders. The paint stripes follow the sculpturing of the bodysides, enhancing the look of movement. Massive rectangular tail-lamps create a strong rear-end identification. The car has a broader-looking stance, with the fender tops pulled down slightly to match the top of the broad deck lid. Series differentiation is accomplished with deck lid appliques and model insignia.

Door and seat trim designs are new for all series. Among other significant interior changes is the embossed strap application in the all-vinyl Galaxie 500 trim option.

Entirely new styling of the 1966 Fairlane is dramatically displayed in the photo of the Fairlane 500/XL 2-door hardtop, above, and the Fairlane GT convertible, below. Indicative of the broadened family and sports appeal of the 1966 Fairlane is the new model selection — four series instead of two and 13 models instead of eight. The two new Fairlane series — the Fairlane 500/XL and the Fairlane GT — are available in convertible and 2-door hardtop models designed for sports- and luxury-oriented customers. Simulated hood louvers and the famed Ford GT racing stripes above the rocker panel are among distinguishing features of the Fairlane GT. All 1966 Fairlanes will be in Ford dealer showrooms beginning October 1.

Matic automatic transmission remains an option with all engines except the 427 high-performance. The three-speed manual all synchromesh transmission is standard with the 240-CID Six and the 289 two-barrel V8. A four-speed manual all synchromesh transmission is optional with the 390 four-barrel V8, 428 four-barrel V8 and 427 high-performance engines.

DISC BRAKES

Power-operated disc brakes — standard on the 7 Litre series and optional on all other Fords for 1966, employ the design proven on the Thunderbird. Ventilated cast iron discs are 11.87 inches in diameter. Each of the two oblong brake pads

Key features of the two most successful cars ever introduced — the Falcon and the Mustang — are combined in the 1966 Falcon. The Mustang styling influence is readily apparent in the long hood, short rear deck, rear quarter "hop-up" and round wheel openings of this 1966 Falcon Futura Sports Coupe. The 1966 Falcon has new roominess, outstanding economy and technical innovations. Lengthened wheelbase and wider tread improve riding comfort. Reversible keys and keyless locking, curved side glass and integrated air conditioning are among other customer comfort and convenience features in the 1966 Falcon. The 1966 Falcons will be in Ford dealer showrooms October 1.

that grip the discs is operated by two hydraulic cylinders and has a pad area of 10.03 square inches.

When brakes are applied, the pads clamp equally on the discs to provide smooth, straight-line stops. Air circulating both inside and outside the braking surfaces provides maximum heat dissipation for optimum fade resistance under repeated braking or when stopping from high speeds.

STATION WAGONS

The five Ford station wagons for 1966 have a unique convenience innovation — a new dual-action tailgate/door. It is an outgrowth of the exclusive Ford "Bear-Hug" latch design in which two fingers grip a striker pin. Gripping the pin, the fingers act as a hinge and permit dropping the tailgate. Unlatched, they permit the unit to be swung aside as a door for access without the necessity of crawling over a conventional wagon tailgate. This convenience is further enhanced by optional new bumper steps that provide a handy and safe means of entry.

OTHER FEATURES

A new safety option for 1966 is a deluxe seat belt package that includes a seat-belt warning light which automatically extinguishes after 30-40 seconds. This feature also is included in the safety-convenience control package, retained as an option in 1966. Rear seat belts, thicker laminate windshields and padded dash panels are safety features standard on all 1966 Ford models.

A Stereo-sonic tape system located conveniently under the dash is another new option for 1966. The system uses multiple speakers and eight-track tape cartridges to provide stereo music.

Transistorized ignition is now standard with the 427 high performance engines.

A new option for Galaxie 500/XL models is a six-way power bucket seat. The six-way full width seat previously available is retained as an option for 1966.

UNITED MACHINE & SUPPLY INC.

Industrial Committee Visits Local Industry

The Industrial Committee of the Floydada chamber of commerce made its first visit to local industries last week, as it visited United Machine & Supply, Inc. on the Lockney Highway.

The committee, led by Ray Reed, chairman, visited with Andy Anderson, manager and learned much about the operation of the business.

It is the aim of the industrial committee to visit with existing Floydada industries and work with them in helping them to expand.

Anderson told the group that the main work conducted by his company was that of irrigation pump repair and that it also sold the Simmons irrigation pump. The pump is named after C. E. Simmons, Sr., of Lubbock, owner of the business.

Anderson said that the pumps featured both water and oil lubrication and that wood line or bronze bearings, either could be ordered in the oil lubricated pump.

A huge parts department and ten major machines housed in a 50' x 150' building, plus modern offices make up the physical facilities of this Floydada industry.

Anderson said that the business also did all sorts of machine work, especially for implement houses, welding, including welding of aluminum pipe.

He said that he is going into the slow season now, as irrigation is slowing down, and that business would increase about January. In the slow season the machines are utilized in making impellers, pump bowls, shafts and tubing for the next irrigation season.

"We employ around eight men in the busy season," Anderson told the committee.

United Machine has been in business here for about two and a half years and it's business continues to grow, according to Anderson.

Industrial committee members who visited United included Clay Henry, Reed, O. M. Watson, Jr., and Anderson is a member of the committee. Not present was Claude Estes,

We are glad to report that Dee Ann Wilson, who is a patient in Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, is improving. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, are staying with her.

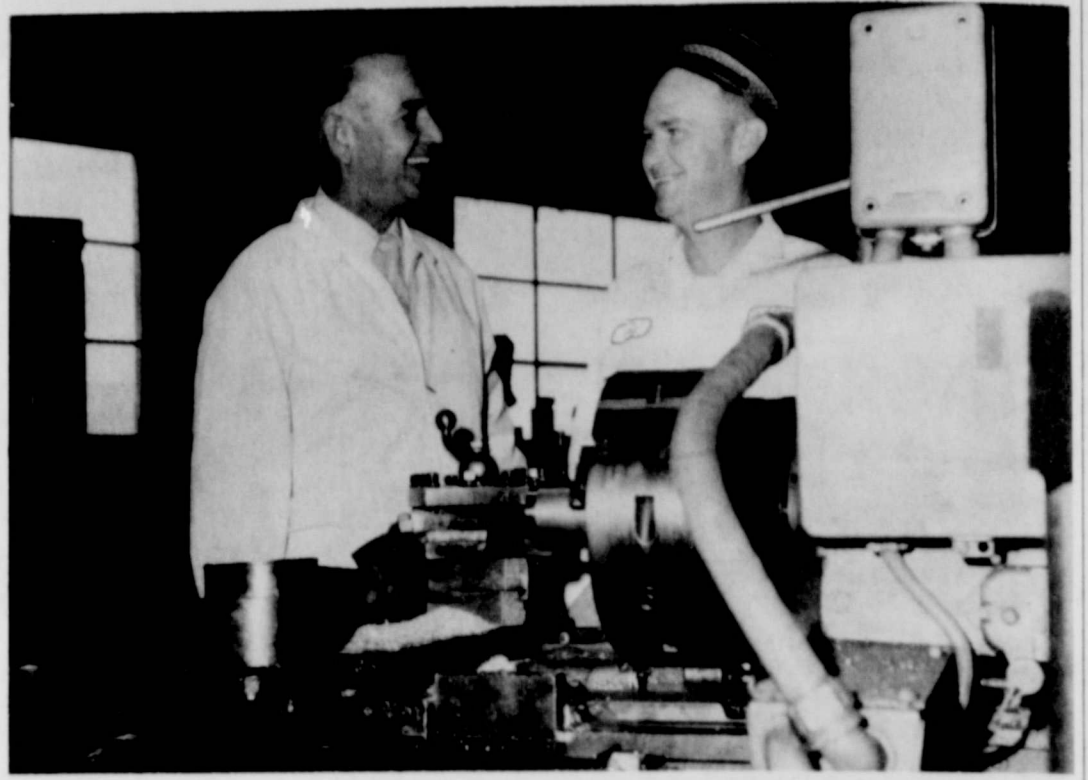

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Yeokum visited Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Payne Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wilson and Brenda of New Home and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Allen and Mike and Norman of Floydada spent the day Saturday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wilson.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Shirley Irwin and family went to Lubbock where they spent the day in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Irwin. While there the members of the Irwin family all called in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Irwin to see their new home that they had recently moved into.

Mrs. Harvey Allen and sons visited Monday morning with her grandmother, Mrs. W. B. Wilson.

also a member of the committee. Chamber manager John Reue was present.

The industry committee will visit the Ponderosa Meat Company next month.

Harry Clark, much sought after speaker of the Texas Industrial Commission will speak here on December 17 at Rogers Restaurant. Several boards and firms will be invited.

Second Set Twins Born To Calif. Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy McCown of San Jose, Calif., are parents of twin boys born Saturday, Sept. 11 at 3 a.m. at Lockney General Hospital. This is the second set of twins for the former Floydada couple.

John Mark made his Saturday debut weighing seven pounds, three and a third ounces and measured 19 inches in length, while his brother, Jack Mitchell, weighed only four pounds, twelve ounces and was 17 inches long. The babies and mother were released from the hospital Sunday and are all getting along fine at the home of Mrs. McCown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Hammond, Floydada.

The paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Jack McCown of Whitney, Texas. Mrs. Walter Wood of South Plains is the paternal great-grandmother.

The couple's other twins are a boy, Michael and a girl, Michelle, 6½ years of age. Mrs. McCown, Michael and Michelle have been staying with her parents the past three months awaiting the birth of the newest members of the family. The six-year-olds had to return to California, first of Sept., however, with their paternal grandmother in order to start school. Mrs. McCown and the new twins expect to return to San Jose in about two weeks. The mother is the former Roy Nell Hammonds, Floydada.

Guest Editorials

THIS WILL be a surprise to her, I'm sure, but for the last two or three weeks I've thought from time to time about Joyce Sneed. I'm pulling for her. I'm in her corner. She wants to reach a difficult goal and I have a hunch she's going to do it.

Joyce is 16 or 17 years old, a senior at Dunbar High School. I met her accidentally when I walked across The A-J newsroom the other Saturday morning and saw her sitting there, apparently waiting for somebody. I introduced myself, asked if I could help her, discovered that she was about 20 minutes early for an appointment and was just waiting. Joyce is the Dunbar correspondent of the Teen Page which runs in the afternoon editions of the paper.

I was struck by Joyce's personality, by her friendliness, her quick smile and her neat appearance. So I asked her if she planned to go to Tech next year, after finishing high school.

Joyce said no, she didn't plan to go to Tech. She hoped to go to a college in Detroit and study medicine. Knowing the difficulties thrown in the path of everybody who even thinks about studying medicine these days, I asked her if her grades had been good.

"I don't want to brag," she said, "but I'm in the National Honor Society." That's about as good as students of her age can get.

THAT'S WHY I've thought about Joyce from time to time recently, why I'm in her corner, pulling for her to aim high and hit the mark. Her race in particular and the whole country in general need youngsters like Joyce who prepare for the best as they go along, hence have every right to seek it.

I suspect there are a lot of young Negroes, boys and girls, in the country who, like Joyce, have their chins up, their eyes on the stars, and are quietly going about the business of getting ready to take advantage of better, broader opportunities.

More power to them. They already have learned and are demonstrating it, that along with rights go responsibilities and they don't mind facing up to them.

gine the Chamber of Commerce manager in any of those 361 cities can give you a good story about how there's a desperats need for smashed atoms right there, although I don't think it would be a good idea to try to pin any of them down on the details of what you do with an atom once you've got it smashed.

The reason we don't want the 350 million dollar plant out here is that we take a progressive attitude toward science. As we understand it, the ultimate purpose of science is to benefit mankind. We're making. We'd like to sit here and be benefited without being bothered.

Mercury Shows Friday At Reed Ford Sales Here

The 1966 Mercury moves forward again as a premium car in the medium price field with tasteful styling changes, a new two-door hardtop roofline, new engines, a sporty S-55 series, and an extended list of luxury options. The new Mercury goes on sale October 1.

"Mercury is gaining a reputation in the medium-price field similar to that established in the luxury field by the Lincoln Continental," said Paul F. Lorenz, Ford Motor Company vice president and general manager of the Lincoln-Mercury Division.

"This is reflected not only in sales increases, but in improved owner loyalty, greater conquest sales and outstanding owner satisfaction.

"For 1966, we are continuing Mercury in the Lincoln Continental tradition with evolutionary styling changes, plus luxury car standards of top quality design and assembly, superiority in comfort and performance, and a wide choice of options for the custom touches demanded by owners in this premium car market."

The new Mercury features a completely fresh front end appearance, with new hood, fenders, bumper, grille and lights. Rear appearance is changed with new taillamp assemblies and rear bumper arms which increase the overall length by two inches to 220 inches. Two-door hardtops have a new roofline with a concave fastback blending smoothly into the rear deck.

Other new styling features are revised side ornamentation, new instrument cluster facing and trim styles. The wastegate on the front fender can be replaced with an optional cornering light. The overall result of these styling changes is an even longer, well-proportioned silhouette.

Mercury's big change for 1966 under the hood includes an exclusive new 410-cubic-inch engine, a new optional 428-cubic-inch engine, and two improved and more powerful 390-cubic-inch engines.

Mercury also has an exciting new product offering in the S-55 two-door hardtop or convertible, sporty performance models with bucket seats and console, special S-55 ornamentation, and the new 428-cubic-inch engine with dual exhausts.

Mercury's stature as a car offering extra values is enhanced for 1966 with new optional disc brakes, cornering lights, and stereo-sonic tape entertainment system. In addition, Mercury station wagons have as standard equipment a new dual-action tailgate which opens either from top to bottom or from the side to provide improved third seat access and rear flexibility for loading requirements.

Mercury's 1966 engine program provides significant performance improvements. The unique new 410-cubic-inch 330-horsepower V-8 becomes standard equipment on Park Lane models and is optional at extra cost for other Mercurys. It utilizes a new heavy-duty dual-range automatic transmission for extra smoothness, and a new low-ratio heavy-duty rear axle for improved economy.

The new optional 428-cubic-inch 345-horsepower V-8 features hydraulic valve lifters, new "deep breathing" design, and is teamed only with the new heavy-duty automatic or the fully synchronized four-speed manual transmission.

Higher power and efficiency result from the "deep breathing" design borrowed from the new 410 and 428-cubic-inch engines for Mercury's well-proven regular fuel 390-cubic-inch engines, offered with 265-horsepower for manual transmission Monterey, Montclair and station wagon models and 275-horsepower for models with automatic transmission.

Refinements have been made in Mercury ride and handling and fuel tank capacity is increased by four gallons to 25 for additional cruising range.

Mercury's new optional front disc brakes, already proven on the Lincoln Continental, result in less fade, superior straight line stopping stability, negligible water effect, longer lining life and smoothness. Special fade or wear-resistant conventional brakes also are available as Mercury options, as well as heavy duty suspension.

A nine-inch TV set which plugs into the cigarette lighter is available as an accessory.

Besides the inherent safety and the sturdy Mercury frame and body, additional safety features are made standard equipment on all Mercurys for 1966. These include padded instrument panels and padded sun visors, back-up lights, windshield washers, emergency flasher and outside rear view mirror. Every Mercury also will have front and rear safety seal belts as standard. Windshields are double thickness vinyl laminated safety glass.

Mercury for 1966 again moves forward as a premium car in the medium-price field with tasteful styling changes, new engines and important additions to the option list, including disc brakes. Standard in top-of-the-line Park Lane series (above) and optional in other Mercurys is an exclusive new 410-cubic-inch 330-horsepower engine. The new Mercurys will go on sale in dealer showrooms October 1.

Completely restyled for 1966, Comet features a new larger body, a host of luxury appointments and a wider choice of engines. Overall length has been increased by eight inches and wheelbase is two inches greater at 116 inches. Two Mercury 390-cubic-inch engines are added to the power offerings. Sportiest of the new Comets is the Cyclone GT model (above) which offers a high performance 335-horsepower V-8 engine and a unique fiberglass hood with simulated air scoops. The 1966 Comet goes on sale October 1.

Yarborough Newsletter

Dick Cherry, a member of the Texas Legislature from Waco and a professor of political science at Baylor University for the past ten years, has been appointed my new Administrative Assistant.

Alex Dickie, my Administrative Assistant for the last four years now holds an appointment in the State Department as a liaison officer with the Agency for International Development.

Another of my staff members, Charlie Johnston, who has been Counsel for my Veterans Affairs Subcommittee for the last two years, has moved up to an important position in the executive branch of the government. He is now a special assistant in the General Counsel's office of the Veterans' Administration.

In my 49th General Newsletter of August 4, 1965, a typographical error in one digit resulted in an erroneous report of eligibility dates under my GI Bill. The correct dates would extend eligibility benefits to any veteran who served more than 180 days on active duty between January 31, 1955 and July 1, 1967.

The House Veterans Affairs Committee, chaired by the Honorable Olin Teague of Bryan, began its hearings on the Cold War GI Bill on Tuesday, August 31.

I was privileged to be the lead-off witness in the hearings and urged the Committee to follow the Senate's action in passing the bill by a vote of more than 4 to 1. Over 3 1/2 million veterans need these educational opportunities now.

The Higher Education Bill which passed the Senate this week gives new hope for many high school graduates who can now go to college this fall. With the new bill, a student now has several ways to go to college, such as:

(1) Scholarships: The new bill provides for $70 million of scholarships for the first year, with $4,162,430 for Texas students.

(2) Loans: To supplement the National Defense Education Loan program, the new bill insures student loans from private sources and pays 3% of a 6% interest rate.

(3) Work-Study Program: The new bill authorizes $129 million for students who work part-time and go to school, with $7,670,763 for Texas students.

(4) Graduate Teacher Scholarships: The bill provides $34,200,000 for these graduate fellowships.

(5) Other methods include private loans; scholarships from colleges themselves; work opportunities and private scholarships.

Higher Education Cotton Bills Congress is moving very quickly now as attempts are made to wind up the session so members may return home to visit and confer with their constituents.

Of course, there still is the possibility an extended debate may develop over Administration efforts to repeal right-to-work laws. If our state's right-to-work law is challenged on the Senate floor, I will join wholeheartedly in a long defense of the issue. In that event, congressional adjournment may not arrive until Santa comes down the chimney.

Meanwhile, many other important measures are being considered.

The Senate has approved a five-year program of assistance to higher education. The plan is designed to help colleges meet the rising enrollment crush and to help needy students stay in school.

I was particularly pleased when the Senate included in the Higher Education bill my proposal that greater flexibility be left to state officials. Junior colleges and community colleges will be particularly benefited by this flexibility which ends strict federal regulation of how funds are allocated among the colleges of a state.

I have long felt that the federal government can, at best, be a junior partner in support of education and that control over education must remain at the state and local level.

This Higher Education bill provides more state and local control than any previous education measure, and I was glad to vote for its adoption.

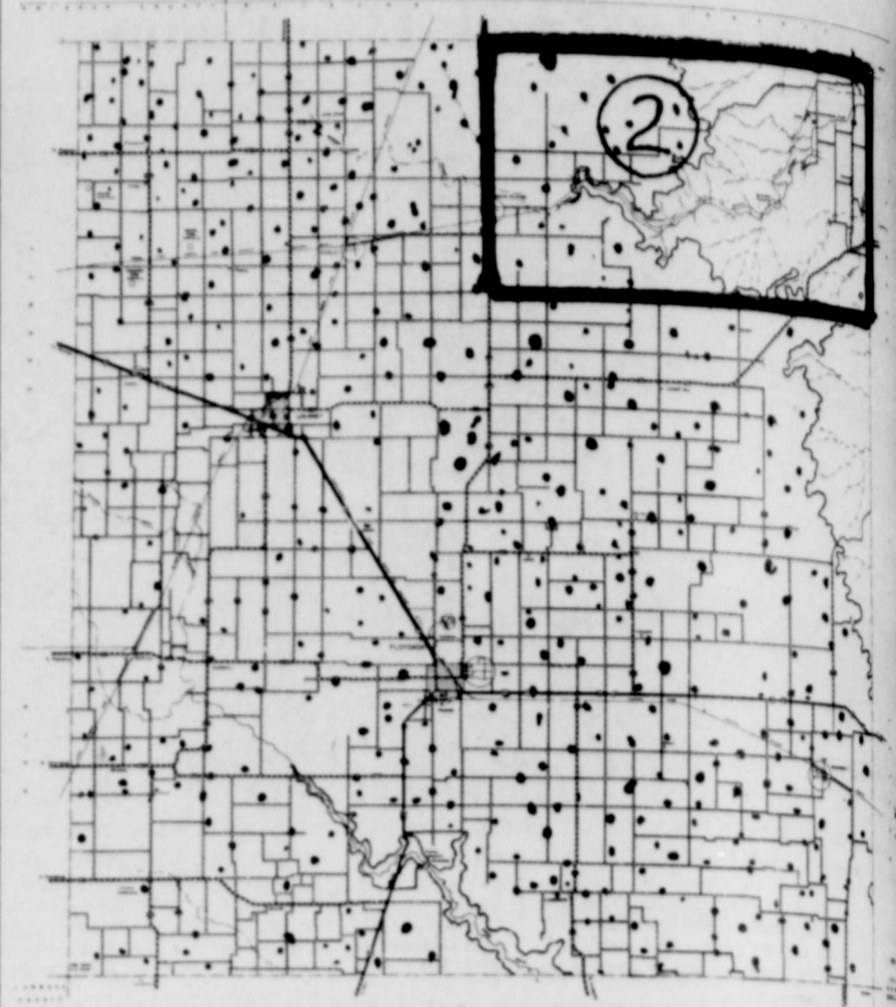

I know that only full participation by local school boards and state education agencies in the education crusade can do the job we want done for our children. I remain convinced that one of the best ways to provide more funds for support of education is by granting a federal income-tax credit for educational expenses. I expect strong effort to be made next year for such a tax credit.

In other action, the Farm bill has been receiving consideration this week. Although Texas farmers and consumers are concerned with all sections of the Farm bill—wheat, feed-grains, wool, rice, dairy—perhaps the most crucial portion for our state this year is the cotton section.

Cotton has been having its problems for several years. And, any cotton problem is a Texas problem.

Costs of cotton production are too high. Research is too limited. Methods of marketing are too complex. Government intervention is too confusing. Exports are down. Surpluses are up. Synthetics are booming.

ZONE 2 SCD - The election of a Zone 2 day, October 5 at the South Plains supervisor for the Floyd County Soil Conservation District will be held next Tuesday, October 5 at the South Plains. The zone is shown above.

For years, because of government intervention in the marketplace, cotton was under a "two-price" system. That meant it sold for one price here at home and for another price when exported. This artificial two-price system involved payment of subsidies at five points in the marketing chain.

The resulting confusion doomed cotton to chaos just at the time when competition from synthetic fibers was booming.

Last year, Congress took a short step toward a new day for cotton by acting to restore a one-price system. Last year's plan could have operated to move cotton into markets rather than into surplus storage; it could have allowed the private enterprise marketplace to operate with renewed vigor.

But, bypassing the intent of Congress, the Secretary of Agriculture made a basic mistake. He chose not to administer the 1964 Cotton Act so as to reduce surpluses and encourage free enterprise—instead he administered it in a way which increased government interference and increased costs.

This year, the Secretary's mistake became abundantly clear. Cotton's problems are worse, not better. So, this year the Administration joined in a serious attempt to establish and preserve a one-price plan for cotton. The House of Representatives approved that plan in its Farm bill.

Unfortunately, the Senate Agriculture Committee threw out the wisdom of the House and ignored the lessons of the past, reporting to the Senate a two-price proposal, which would give the farmer less for his cotton, make the mills pay more for it, and increase cotton costs so that competition in the marketplace would be impossible.

I joined this bipartisan Senate effort to correct this Committee's mistake. We must get the industry moving on to a new way of doing things, to stand up and but moving into the competitive price.

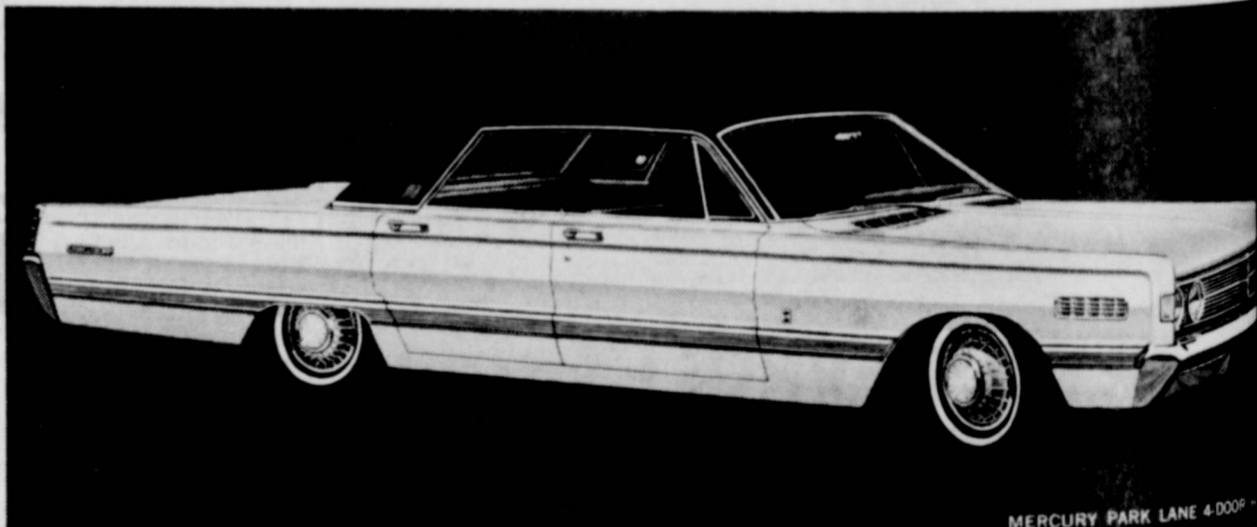

The hour is late. If we stay on the cotton is doomed.

Mrs. Wilson Kimble returned from Washington last week where she since the death of her husband, W. McGlinchey, were held Friday in Ford.

Survivors other than Kimble include a line of Aledo, Tex., and her mother, Mrs. Mary Collier.
